

Book One - bAla KkANDa

Caveat 1: In the UTF version of this kANDa perfect proofreading is not yet done properly; uploaded to examine the experimental transposal of fonts to UTF-8 encoding.

Caveat 2: Some paragraphs in pratipadArtha and tAtparya sections may appear in RED colour, which has NO special meaning, but color tags have overspread them while transposing to UTF fonts.

These will be corrected soon. Please bear with us...

All 77 sargas posted with verses in UTF

1. nArada briefs vAlmIki about rAma & rAmAyaNa in a nutshell	sarga/chapter
2. vAlmIki gets divine guidance to compile the epic	sarga/chapter
3. vAlmIki gets divine guidance to compile the epic	sarga/chapter
4. Lava and Kusha assigned to sing the epic & rAma listens to it	sarga/chapter
5. City ayodhya detailed	sarga/chapter
6. Splendour of ayodhya city described	sarga/chapter
7. Estimable nature of king dasharatha's ministers	sarga/chapter
8. King dasharatha proposes Vedic ritual for progeny	sarga/chapter
9. Legend of Sage Rishyasringa	sarga/chapter
10. Rishyasringa enticed and brought from woods	sarga/chapter
11. dasharatha brings Rishyasringa to ayodhya	sarga/chapter
12. dasharatha readies to perform asvamedha ritual	sarga/chapter
13. ashva-medha begun; sage vashiSTa's arrangements	sarga/chapter
14. ashvamedha commenced as preamble to putrakAmeShTi	sarga/chapter
15. Rishyashringa officiates putrakAmeShTi ritual for	sarga/chapter
16. yajna purusha presents divine dessert as fruit of ritual	sarga/chapter
17. brahma orders gods to spawn forest-rangers, vAnarA-s	sarga/chapter
18. Rama, Bharata, Lakshmana and Shatrughna took births	sarga/chapter
19. Sage vishvamitra's arrival to take rAma along with him to	sarga/chapter
20. dasharatha's dissent to spare rAma's servicees	sarga/chapter

21. Ire of sage vishvamitra; vashiShTha appeases dasharatha	sarga/chapter
22. rAma, lakshmaNa travel with vishvamitra to his ritual place	sarga/chapter
23. Their sojourn at the confluence of the rivers ganga and	sarga/chapter
24. The legend of deomoness tATaka	sarga/chapter
25. The legend of deomoness tATaka - contd	sarga/chapter
26. Elimination of demoness tATaka	sarga/chapter
27. vishvAmitra endows rAma with supernatural missiles	sarga/chapter
28. vishvAmitra teaches rAma about annulment of missiles	sarga/chapter
29. Legend of vAmana narrated	sarga/chapter
30. Legend of siddha Ashrama	sarga/chapter
31. rAma safeguards vishvAmitra's vedic ritual	sarga/chapter
32. rAma'savel to mithila city	sarga/chapter
33. Legend of brahmadatta	sarga/chapter
34. Legend of vishvamitra's ancestry	sarga/chapter
35. Legend of River Ganga	sarga/chapter
36. Legend of Uma and her curse	sarga/chapter
37. Legend of kaartikeya	sarga/chapter
38. Legend of emperor sagara	sarga/chapter
39. sagara's sons dig earth in search of ritual hose	sarga/chapter
40. Sage kapila burns the sons of sagara	sarga/chapter
41. sagara's grandson amshuman's search for the horse	sarga/chapter
42. king bhageeratha's effort to bring river ganga ion to the	sarga/chapter
43. River ganga's descent onto earth	sarga/chapter
44. brahma commends bhageeratha	sarga/chapter
45. The legend of churning Milk Ocean	sarga/chapter
46. Lady diti seeks for a son to kill Indra	sarga/chapter
47. The legend of Seven-maruts, wind-gods	sarga/chapter
48. The legend of ahalya	sarga/chapter
49. Redemption of ahalya from her curse	sarga/chapter
50. Redemption of ahalya from her curse cont.	sarga/chapter
51. The legend of vishvamitra	sarga/chapter
52. he legend of Vishvamitra- contd	sarga/chapter
53. vishvamitra tries to gain kaamadhenu	sarga/chapter
54. Sacred-Cow creates forces to fightback	sarga/chapter

55. vishvamisra ruins vashistha's hermitage	sarga/chapter
56. vashista nullifies Vishvamitra's missiles	sarga/chapter
57. The Legend of trishanku	sarga/chapter
58. trishanku seeks shelter of vishvamitra	sarga/chapter
59. trishanku undertakes Vedic ritual	sarga/chapter
60. trishanku's ascension to heaven	sarga/chapter
61. End of shunashshepa	sarga/chapter
62. Legend of shunashshepa [contd.]	sarga/chapter
63. Legend of vishvamitra [contd.]	sarga/chapter
64. Legend of vishvamitra [contd.]	sarga/chapter
65. Legend of vishvamitra - concluded	sarga/chapter
66. Legend of shiva's bow	sarga/chapter
67. Rama breaks shiva's bow	sarga/chapter
68. Janaka sends message to Ayodhya	sarga/chapter
69. Dasharatha arrives at Mithila	sarga/chapter
70. Ikshvaku's lineage detailed	sarga/chapter
71. Janaka's lineage detailed	sarga/chapter
72. Marriage alliance to Bharata, Shatrughna	sarga/chapter
73. Sita's marriage with Rama	sarga/chapter
74. Parashu Rama's arrival	sarga/chapter
75. Legends of Shiva and Vishnu bows	sarga/chapter
76. Parashu Rama's pride is hurt	sarga/chapter
77. Happy days after marriages	sarga/chapter

Book I: bAla kANda oncludes here.

Book I : Bala Kanda - Book Of Youthful Majesties

Chapter [Sarga] 1

Verses converted to UTF-8: Sept 09

Introduction

Divine sage Narada arrives at the hermitage of Sage Valmiki in order to enlighten him and keep him informed of his duty to author the epic poem Ramayana. In the dialogue between these two sages, Valmiki elicits from Narada about most virtuous person on earth, namely Rama. In this opening chapter, while eulogizing Rama Narada gives an outline of Ramayana, truly highlighting those aspects that are the keynotes in this epic, like virtuosity, generosity, morality, chastity and the like.

Valmiki Ramayana is said to have been composed basing on each of the twenty-four letters of Gayatri Hymn, and a thousand verses are arranged into one book under the caption of each letter. Though that classification, or dividing verses into thousand chapters is unavailable now, the twenty-four verses identified with the 24 letters of Gayatri hymn, called as Gayatri Ramayana, is available and it is given in the endnote of this page. In tune with the scheme of Gayatri, Ramayana starts the first verse with letter ta an auspicious letter.

An Appeal to Readers

We have taken every care to present this translation truthfully, but when working with machines, they start to exhibit their talents on the very first key-stroke, like 'Auto Correct, Auto Complete, Auto Insert etc.,' and thus start correcting words like 'high souled one' to 'high-soled one...' and the like. So taking the maxim pramaado api dhiimataam 'even the diligent may make mistakes...' we appeal to the readers to kindly inform us if anything has gone wrong any where, typos, and 'is' becoming 'was', 'are' becoming 'were' and the like, so that they will be corrected, true to the text and spirit of Ramayana.

Verse Locator

तपः स्वाध्याय निरताम् तपस्वी वाग्विदाम् वरम् ।

नारदम् परिपप्रच्छ वाल्मीकिः मुनि पुंगवम् ॥ १-१-१

1. anvaya / parsing: tapasvii vaalmiikiH tapaH svaadhyaaya niratam vaagvidaam varam muni pumgavam naaradam pari papracCha

1. tapasvii = sagacious thinker; vaalmiikiH = Sage [Poet] Valmiki; tapaH = in thoughtful-meditation; and; sva adhyaaya = in self, study [of scriptures]; niratam = always - who is eternally studious in scriptures; and; vaak = in speaking [in enunciation]; vidaam = among expert enunciators; varam = sublime one - with Narada; muni pumgavam = with sage, paragon, with such a paragon sage Naarada; naaradam = with [such a sage] Naarada; pari papracCha = verily [inquisitively,] inquired about; [ellipt. sarva guNa samiSTi ruupam puruSam = all, merited endowments, composite, in form - about such a man.]

A thoughtful-meditator, an eternally studious sage in scriptures about the Truth and Untruth, a sagacious thinker, and a sublime enunciator among all expert enunciators is Narada, and with such a Divine Sage Narada, the Sage-Poet Valmiki is inquisitively enquiring about a man who is a composite for all merited endowments in his form and calibre. [1-1-1]

The efficacy of Opening Verse

The very opening word tapaH has diverse meanings. In a way it means j~naana acuity, and it is 'thinking' tap aalocane 'thinking on the Absolute, where that Absolute's thinking itself is tapaH - yasya j~naanam tapaH thus Narada is one who is a constant thinker of the Absolute. Or, he who always practises kR^icChrandraaayaNaadi vrataH - nitya naimittika karma anuSTHaana paraH the rigorous practises enshrined in Veda-s. It means the Absolute itself tapaH para brahma shabda vaca, brahmai tad upaastvai tat tapaH 'that which is contemplated upon that is tapaH, meaning Vedanta, Upanishads. Let many Veda-s are learnt and recited mechanically it becomes a rote learning, unless, a thought is given as for what it is being recited, an on whom. Thus Narada has no rote learning, but still trying to get full picture of that Absolute. And the swaadhyaya is Veda, and its regular practise, tapo hi swaadhyayaH. Veda itself is the Knowledge, that is why it is said svadhyaan na pramuditavyam - taittiriya upaniSad Then, it also means as the Absolute. Thus Narada being a complete embodiment of Veda-s, is the proper sage to clear the doubts of Valmiki

The Divine Sage Narada is the brainchild of god Brahma brahma maanasa putra. His name has meanings like naara =knowledge; da= awarder; naarada= the rain cloud. Any cloud rains on its own without any requisition from Mother Earth. So Narada is naaram dadaati iti naarada 'one who accords knowledge concerning the humans...' or, naaram dyati - khaNdati - iti naarada 'one who annihilates the ignorance...' or, 'one who accords knowledge about the Absolute, or Supreme Person. Though a Divine Sage, having all these attributes, Narada has no conclusive information about hari lilaa vibhuuti 'Supreme Person's playful acts...' hence he continuously and constantly ponders over that Absolute to get the real essence of that Absolute, or Supreme Person. This is for himself, and not in respect of his reacting with others.

Then this word vaak means: enunciator - as given above; This word also means Veda - anaadi nidhano hi eSaa vaak utshR^iSTaa Veda-s emerged from that Absolute, hence vaak is identifiable with that Absolute; and this is grammar - vaak yoga viddduSyati ca apashabde as such vaak is identifiable with grammar. And vaak vid vareNya is 'one who has complete information derived from Veda-s, or, one who elucidates and enunciates what he has learned from Veda-s to others...'

There are four epithets of Narada here: atha naaradasya catvaari visheShaNaani | tathaa - tapo nirati - iti anena visheShaNaana sarva saamarthyam pratipaaditam | sva adhyaaya nirata - iti anena yat ki~ncit vadati tat veda ukta dharma anuguNatayaa eva vadati iti suucitam | vaak vidaam vara - anena vaktR^itva~N pratipaaditam | muni pungava - iti anena atiindriya abhij~natvam suucitam | agre tri loka j~na iti anena visheShaNaana loka traya sa~ncaareNa pratyakShatayaa sat asat vastu abhisa~nj~natva~N pratipaaditam | etai visheShaNaiH - sarvaj~natvam - sarva jana maanyatvam - sarva utkR^iShTa mahaatmyam - ca suucitam | taadR^isham naaradam bhagavaan vaalmiikiH sarva guNa samiShTi ruupam pururaSham - papR^iccha - dharmaakuutam

'By these four epithets of Narada, viz., tapo nirata because he is a 'thoughtful-thinker evermore...' his all-expertise in knowledge is proposed... svaadhyaya nirata because he is 'eternally studious sage in scriptures [about the Truth and Untruth...]' whatever the least he says it abides by the everlasting canonical sayings of Veda... vaak vidaam vara because his sayings are rooted in canons he is the best enunciator and elucidator... muni pungava because he is such a sublime sage he is transcendental... and as a traveller among all the three worlds he is aware of Truth and Untruth... and with such Sage Narada, Sage Valmiki enquired about a man, on earth, who is a composite in his form, for all merited endowments...' Dharmaakuutam. This commentary is by Tryambakaraaya Makhi [1690's to 1728] and this can be called not just yet another commentary on Ramayana, but an Encyclopaedia of Indian Culture. This was published under the scheme of 'Editing and Publication of Rare Manuscripts, Govt. of India, Ministry of Scientific Research and Cultural Affairs' and it is available with Tanjore Saraswati Mahal Library, Tanjavore, Tamil Nadu State, India.

There are numerous and voluminous commentaries on Ramayana, bulkier than the epic itself, deciphering latent meanings of Ramayana as above. And to list a few of many commentaries on Ramayana: 1] kataka vyaakhya, by shrii katata; 2] raamayaNa tilakam - raamaabhiraamii : by shrīi naagojīi bhaTT; 3] raamaayaNa bhuuSaNam by shrīi govindaraja; 4] raamaayaNa shiromaNi by shrīi shivasahaaya; 5] raamaayaNa tattva diipika by shrīi maheshvara tiirtha; 6] raamaayaNa vyaakhya shrīi raamaanujaacaarya; 7] viveka tilaka by shrīi varadaraaja; dharmakuutam tryambakaraaya makhii; raamaayaNa kuuTa vyaakhya by shrīi raamaananda tiirtha... and many, many more... Hence due to paucity of time we confine ourselves to some references from some of the above, as it will be uncouth to go on dwelling on these intricate derivation obtained by these great commentators.

This stanza equally applies to Sage Valmiki, the taught, by way of the use of words tapaH, svaadhyaya, tapasvī, thus both of them are experts in their own sphere of teacher-student relationship. The word tapaH denotes Veda-s themselves, in which both the Sages are well-versed, svaadhyaya means, pondering over what that is learnt, i.e. japa. tapasvī= sharanaagati Total renunciation of their selves in the Almighty. Routine recitation of Veda-s will become futile if an iota of inclination in the Almighty and self-surrender to that Almighty is not there. tasmaannyeaasam eShaam tapasam atiriktam aahuH - taittatriiya naaraayaNam - 20 Hence, these two sages have commenced to deliver Ramayana, which itself is the epic of virtuous living, to this world.

That being so, Valmiki is asking the same Narada as to who is Absolute-like, Absolute-similar or comparable human, with some of many traits of that Absolute. For this, Narada starts his narration with an exclamation bahavo durlabhaa ca guNaaH kiirtitaa at seventh verse. Thus, there are bulky and voluminous commentaries on Ramayana, bulkier than the epic itself, hence due to paucity of time, and in eagerness to post the main epic firstly, let us take a pause in these declinations and niceties of verbiage, as it will be uncouth to go on dwelling on these intricate derivation at that staring itself.

However, the epic starts with the word auspicious word ta as said in ta kaaro vighna naashakaH, ta kaaro saukhya daayakaH...

Verse Locator

कः नु अस्मिन् सांप्रतम् लोके गुणवान् कः च वीर्यवान् ।

धर्मज्ञः च कृतज्ञः च सत्य वाक्यो धृढ व्रतः ॥ १-१-२

2. asmin loke = in this, world; saampratam = presently; guNavaan = principled person; kaH nu = who is, really; viiryavaan ca = potential one, also; kaH = who is; dharmaj~naH ca = conscientious, also; kR^ita j~naH ca = what has been done, knower of it [a redeemer,] also; satya vaakyaH = truth, speaker of [habitually speaking the truth = truth-teller]; dR^idha vrataH = determined in his deed.

"Who really is that person in this present world, who is principled and also a potential one, a conscientious one, a redeemer, and also a truth-teller and self-determined in his deed... [1-1-2]

In Sanskrit poems the poets are at liberty to use words at any place according to exigencies of their metric rules. So, the order of words used by the poet called pada vibhaaga , in this poem is like this kaH nu asmin saampratam loke guNavaan kaH ca viiryavaan dharmaj~naH ca kR^ita j~naH ca satya vaakyaH dR^idha vrataH

We have not shown this division of words for all verses in a separate paragraph, but separated them in the verse itself, [even if it gives a low-brow reading,] for fear of repetitive work.

These very words are to be reconnected by readers to derive a particular meaning called anvyaya krama. By this process the words in this second verse will be connected like this:

asmin loke saamprataam guNavaan kaH nu; viiryavaan ca kaH; dharmaj~naH ca; kR^ita j~naH ca; satya vaakyaH dR^idha vrataH; [ellipted]: kaH

Same words available in the verse but with changed placement. All the verses are provided with word-to-word meanings in anvyaya krama, i.e., words parsed according to Sanskrit way of reading and then meanings are given.

Further, we tried to give meanings in verse-by-verse in order to tell each on its own. But at times, the meaning rolls into next foots. Then it is inevitable to push and pull the feet of verses, up or down, to give a meaningful paragraph. Some of our readers are a little confused about this arrangement. Hence we request you to go by the verse numbers in such places, and there will be many such pulls and pushes as we go along.

The meter filling words like tu, hi ca, sma, ha, vai: paada puuraNe - amara kosha do not usually mean anything and they fit-in as meter fillers, hence will be dropped in word-to-word meanings. But if they are used specifically, they play havoc in rendering meaning. Here the word dharmaj~na is used, which means, 'knower of rightness...' but when coupled with ca it means 'also, the knower of wrongness...' where the ca assumes the character of 'either...' and the use of numerous ca-s here in these questions of Valmiki, is to denote that every questioned merit plusses itself into one human being. We are showing all the ca-s and tu-s throughout, giving their meaning as 'also...' and they may be dropped, if need be, in the gist of verse.

Verse Locator

चारित्रेण च को युक्तः सर्व भूतेषु को हितः ।
विद्वान् कः कः समर्थः च कः च एक प्रिय दर्शनः ॥ १-१-३

3. kaH chaaritreNa ca yuktaH = who is, conduct-wise, also, blent with [good conduct]; kaH sarva bhuuteSu hitaH = who is, in [respect of] all, beings, a benign one; kaH vidvaan = who is, an adept one; samarthaH ca = an ablest one, also; kaH ca eka priya darshanaH = who, also, uniquely, goodly, to look to.

"Who is he conduct-wise blent with good-conduct... who in respect of all beings is benign... who is adept and also the ablest one... also uniquely good to look to... [1-1-3]

The adeptness of that person is in his knowing all the knowable aspects in this world, and he must be able to retain that knowledge to translate into his deeds, not just to sit back with his bookish knowledge, but with utmost practicality. His conduct-wise character shall be acceptable i.e., by his lineage he shall be noble, by his education he must be well-read, by his actions they must be conducive to norms laid down in Veda-s, and thus given any area, he should conduct himself properly. And he must be benign not only to higher-ups but to lowly subjects, like Guha, Shabari et al., and he should deal with wrongdoers and right-doers conscientiously. Further, he in his mien he shall be pleasant, but not an unsightly one. The word eka also means 'unique' and thus his complexion, facial, physical structures etc., shall be unique and shall differ from ordinary beings. kShaNe kShaNe yat navataam upaiti tadeva ruupam ramaNiiyataayaaH 'which / what / who gets newness moment by moment, that alone is pleasant...'

Verse Locator

आत्मवान् को जित क्रोधो द्युतिमान् कः अनसूयकः ।
कस्य बिभ्यति देवाः च जात रोषस्य संयुगे ॥ १-१-४

4. aatmavaan = courageous; kaH = who is; jita krodhaH = one who controlled, his ire; dyutimaan = brilliant one; an asuuyakaH = not, jealous; kaH = who is; jaata roSasya = caused, in whom anger - when he is provoked; kasya = whom; saMyuge = in war; devaaH ca = gods, even; bibhyati = are afraid.

"Who is that courageous one, who controlled his ire, who is brilliant, non-jealous and even whom do the gods fear, when provoked to war... [1-1-4]

Here the word aatma is not the usual 'soul' but courage aatmaa jive dhR^itau dehe svabhaave paramaatmani - amara kosha and the word krodha is taken as the nominative of other six negative attitudes ari SaT varga upalakshaNa - kaama, krodha, lobha, moha, mada, maatsarya 'desire, ire, avarice, fancy, defiance, conceit...' and by the coupling of word ca with devaaH in devaaH ca it means that, 'not only the enemies like demons and others... but 'also' the friendly gods too are afraid of his ire...' The 'non-jealous nature' is the 'God's tolerance of disloyalty...' and 'unlike the heavenly gods like Indra and others, who will be intolerant of disloyalty...' this man in question shall be tolerant of disloyal persons, subjects, or demons and shall be intolerant of them who go against the established tradition.

Verse Locator

एतत् इच्छामि अहम् श्रोतुम् परम् कौतूहलम् हि मे ।
महर्षे त्वम् समर्थोऽसि ज्ञातुम् एवम् विधम् नरम् ॥ १-१-५

5. etat aham shrotum icChaami = all this, I, to listen [from you,] wish to; me kautuuhalam param hi = my, inquisitiveness; immense, indeed; mahaa R^irSe= Oh! Great Sage - Narada; tvam = you; evam vidham naram = [about] this, kind of, man; j~nnaatum = to know [of him]; samarthaH asi = competent [mastermind,] you are.

"All this I wish to listen from you, oh! Great Sage, as you are a mastermind to know this kind of man, and indeed my inquisitiveness is immense..." Thus Valmiki enquired with Narada. [1-1-5]

Valmiki wanted to know about that man - a man with godly qualities. Valmiki's thinking aloud, about the qualities of his prospective hero of this epic, is the very opening questions put to an Omniscient Sage Narada. Both the sages know of Rama and his deeds. Even then Valmiki asks Narada, "who is that man with godly qualities?" If Narada tells that Rama is Vishnu Himself, there is nothing left for Valmiki to compose his epic, because there are numerous mythologies, puraaNa-s, that have already adored God Vishnu. If Narada tells that Rama is so-and-so king, again Valmiki need not attempt to author about some king, however great that king might be. As such, Valmiki wanted to know about a human being with godly attributes, because many acts of Rama, like killing Vali, testing Seetha's chastity, deserting her at the end etc. are both conducive and contradictory puzzles.

The attributes of the hero of Ramayana, as required by Valmiki, are 16; sixteen in number. 1 - guNavaan 2 - viryavaan 3 - dharmaj~naH 4 - kR^itaj~naH 5 - satya vaakyaH 6 - dhR^idha vrataH 7 - caaritra vaan 8 - sarva bhuuteShu hitaH 9 - vidvaan 10 - samarthaH 11 - priyadarshana 12 - aatmavaan 13 - jita krodhaH 14 - dyutimaan 15 - anasuyakaH 16 - bibhyatidevaaH These sixteen attributes are attributed to the sixteen phases of the Full Moon, and Valmiki is about to picture Rama to be as pleasant as a full-moon.

Verse Locator

श्रुत्वा च एतत् त्रिलोकज्ञो वाल्मीकेः नारदो वचः ।
श्रूयताम् इति च आमन्त्र्य प्रहृष्टो वाक्यम् अब्रवीत् ॥ १-१-६

6. tri loka j~naH = three, worlds, preceptor of; naaradaH = Narada; vaalmiikeH = of Valmiki; etat vachaH shrutvaa = all those, words, on listening; shruuyataam = let it be heard; iti = thus; aamantrya cha = on beckoning [Valmiki,] also; pra hR^iSTaH = verily, gladly; vaakyam abraviit = sentence [words,] spoke.

On listening all those words of Valmiki, the preceptor of all the three worlds, Sage Narada, said "let it be heard..." and beckoning at Sage Valmiki to listen attentively, he spoke these words very gladly. [1-1-6]

The preceptor of three worlds, where the three worlds are bhuu loka, bhuvar loka, suvar loka this world, the intermediary heaven, the heavens themselves.

Verse Locator

बहवो दुर्लभाः च एव ये त्वया कीर्तिता गुणाः ।
मुने वक्ष्यामि अहम् बुद्ध्वा तैः उक्तः श्रूयताम् नरः ॥ १-१-७

7. mune = oh, sage Valmiki; bahavaH = many [or, infinite merits]; dur labhaaH = not, attainable, [unattainable by conscious development or effort]; ca eva = also, that way [for ordinary humans]; ye guNaaH = which, merits; tvayaa kiirtitaaH = by you, extolled; taiH yuktaH = those [facets,] one who has [the possessor of those merits]; naraH = [of that] man; shruuyataam = I make it clear; aham buddhvaa = I, having known [from Brahma]; vakshyaami = I speak on.

"Oh! Sage Valmiki, the merits which you have extolled are many, and unattainable even for great emperors, let alone ordinary humans, and also infinite are they... but, about such a man with such merits I will speak on... for I, having known from Brahma of such a man, will make clear about that man..." Thus Narada started to say. [1-1-7]

Narada came hither to impart the legend of Rama, as Brahma already imparted the same to him, and wanted him to impart these very attributes to Valmiki to compose Ramayana. It is a coincidence of interests Valmiki and those of Narada and Brahma.

Verse Locator

इक्ष्वाकु वंश प्रभवो रामो नाम जनैः श्रुतः ।
नियत आत्मा महावीर्यो द्युतिमान् धृतिमान् वशी ॥ १-१-८

8. ikshvaaku vamshaH prabhavaH = Ikshwaku, dynasty, as his birthplace [emerged from Ikshvaku dynasty]; raamaH naama = Rama, named; janaiH shrutaH = by people, heard [by that name]; niyata aatmaa = controlled, souled [conscientious]; mahaa viiryaH = highly valorous one; dyutimaan = resplendent one; dhR^ithimaan = steadfast; vashii = controller [of vice and vile [or,] senses.]

"One emerged from Ikshvaku dynasty and known to people as Rama by his name, and he is conscientious, highly valorous, resplendent, steadfast and a controller of vice and vile... and his own senses, as well... [1-1-8]

For the attributes explained by Narada there are some Vedanta imports. From niya aatma to vashii these are the attributes of the Supreme Being, Absolute of Brahman. swaruupa nirupaka lakshNaaH. This niyata aatmaa is 'immutable Absolute, this is the postulate of any Upanishad: ya aatmaa apahata paapmaa virajo vimR^ityur vishoko... 8-7-1, Chaandoj~na Upanishad. mahaa viiryaH = acintya vividha vicitra shaktivataH Absolute is Omniscient paraa asya shaktiH vividhaa iva shruuyate svaabhaavikii j~naana bala kriyaa ca 6-8, Shwetaashvatara Upanishad. The word dyutimaan is for the attribute of Self-Resplendent Absolute, or, Resplendence of Consciousness. tam eva bhaantam anubhaati sarvam tasya bhaasaa sarvam idam bhaati 2-11, Mundaka Upanishad. And the dhR^ithimaan is Sublime Bliss, according to Vyjanti dhR^itiH tu tuSTiH santoSaH and as said in aanando brahama - aanandaat eva khalu imaani bhuutaani jaayante 6, Taittiriya Upanishad. Next, vashii Absolute is the Omnipotent on the entire Universe. eko vahii sarva bhuuta antaraatmaa 2-5-12, Katha Upanishad and sarvasya vashii sarvasya iishaanaH and the like. The rest of the attributes of Rama as said by Narada are identifiable with the causative factors of that Absolute in Creation, and the process of Creation is the self-expression of the Absolute.

Verse Locator

बुद्धिमान् नीतिमान् वाङ्मयी श्रीमान् शत्रु निबर्हणः ।
विपुलांसो महाबाहुः कंबु ग्रीवो महाहनुः ॥ १-१-९

9. budhimaan = an adept one; niitimaan = moralist; vaagmii = learned one; shriimaan = propitious one; shatru nibharhaNaH = enemy, destroyer; vipula amsaH = broad shouldered; mahaa baahuH = great, [lengthy] arms; kambu griivaH = neck like a conch-shell; mahaa hanuH = high cheek bones.

"He is an adept one, moralist, learned, propitious, and a destroyer of enemies. His arms are lengthy, and his neck is like a conch-shell, and cheekbones high... [1-1-9]

The Absolute is an adept one in creating the Creation yat sarvaj~naH sarva vit. He is niitimaan one who maintains the rhythm of universe as said at eSa setuH vidharaNa eSaam loka naama sambhedaaya... He is propitious because shriiH kaanti sampadoH lakshmyaam... gleaming, glistening richness of prosperity emanates from him. The following stanzas describe the physical qualities an Emperor should have by birth, as per saamudrika shastra, the physiognomic treatise of astroloj~n.

Verse Locator

महोरस्को महेष्वासो गूढ जत्रुः अरिन्दमः ।
आजानु बाहुः सुशिराः सुललाटः सुविक्रमः ॥ १-१-१०

10. mahaa uraskaH = broad [lion-like,] chested; mahaa eSvaasaH = [one who handles] long, bow; guuDha jatraH = concealed, collarbones [thick shouldered]; arim damaH = enemy, subjugator; aa jaanu baahuH = up to, knees, his arms [lengthy armed]; su shiraaH = high

[crowning] head; su lalaaTaH = with ample, forehead; su vi kramaH = good, verily, pacer [lion-like-pacer.]

"He is lion-chested, thick-shouldered, knee-length are his arms, and his is longbow, an enemy-subjugator, and his emperor's countenance is with a crowning-head with an ample forehead, and his pacing is lion-like... [1-1-10]

When his physique is extolled, suddenly a weapon is said, in saying that 'his is longbow...' this is called prakrama bhanga doSa 'jump-cut in narration...' It is not so, his lengthy arms are said firstly and those arms can wield a great bow that can eliminate enemies, both physical and psychological ones like ariSaD varga shatru like desire, ire, avarice, conceit etc., as detailed in verse 4 above.

Verse Locator

समः सम विभक्त अंगः स्निग्ध वर्णः प्रतापवान् ।

पीन वक्षा विशालाक्षो लक्ष्मीवान् शुभ लक्षणः ॥ १-१-११

11. samaH = medium-sized [physically]; sama vibhakta aN^gaH = symmetrically, divided [distributed, poised,] limbs; snigdha varNaH = soft [glossily,] coloured [complexioned]; prataapavaan = courageous one [or, resplendent one]; piina vakshaaH = sinew, chested; vishaala akshaH = wide, eyed; lakshmiivaan = prosperous [personality]; shubha lakshaNaH = providential, features.

"He is medium-sized physically, with limbs poised symmetrically, sinew-chested, wide-eyed, complexioned glossily... he is a prosperous personality with all the providential features, and thus he is self-resplendent... [1-1-11]

Up to here the godly physical aspect bhagavad vigraha is explained that which is perceptible by the adherents as said in Chaandoj~na Upanishad: ya eSo antaraaditye hiraNmayaH puruSo dR^ishyate... 1-6-6. From now on, the features that are reliable for the adherers are said.

Verse Locator

धर्मज्ञः सत्य सन्धः च प्रजानाम् च हिते रतः ।

यशस्वी ज्ञान संपन्नः शुचिः वश्यः समाधिमान् ॥ १-१-१२

12. dharma j~naH = rectitude, knower, satya sandhaH ca = truth, bidden, also; prajaanaam ca hitaH rathaH = in subject's, also, welfare, concerned; yashasvii = glorious; j~naana sampannaH = in prudence, proficient; suchiH = clean [in conduct]; vashyaH = self-controlled; samaadhimaan = diligent one.

"He is the knower of rectitude, bidden by the truth, also his concern is in the welfare of subjects, proficient in prudence, clean in his conduct, self-controlled and a diligent one, thus he is glorious... [1-1-12]

Here to the compound satya sandhaH ca 'ca' is added, but here it means nothing special but to plus the features into one man. At such places this can be dropped.

Verse Locator

प्रजापति समः श्रीमान् धता रिपु निषूदनः ।

रक्षिता जीवलोकस्य धर्मस्य परि रक्षिता ॥ १-१-१३

13. prajaa patiH samaH = people's, god [Omniscient, Brahma,] equals; shriimaan = exalted one; dhaataa = sustainer [of all worlds]; ripuH ni SuudanaH = enemy [enemies,] complete, eliminator; jiiva lokasya rakshitaH = living beings, worlds, a guardian of; dharmasya pari rakshitaH = of probity, in entirety, guards.

"He equals the Omniscient, he is an exalted one for he is the sustainer of all worlds, and he eliminates enemies completely, thus he is a guardian of all living beings and he guards probity, in its entirety... [1-1-13]

'These features show the aspects of Rama's incarnation...' Govindaraja. 'These features are available only in the Supreme Person, but unobtainable in any other...' Maheshvara Tiirtha. These two, Govindaraja and Maheshvara Tiirtha, and another Tilaka are the three reputed commentators on Ramayana among many others.

Verse Locator

रक्षिता स्वस्य धर्मस्य स्व जनस्य च रक्षिता ।
वेद वेदाङ्ग तत्त्वज्ञो धनुर् वेदे च निष्ठितः ॥ १-१-१४

14. svasya dharmasya rakshitaa = of his own, righteousness [self-righteous, champion; sva janasya ca rakshitaa = his own, people's [adherents', welfare,] also, he is a champion of; veda veda aN^ga = in Veda-s, Veda's, ancillaries; tatvaj~naH = scholar in essence of [Veda-s]; dhanur vede ca = in the science of archery, also; niSTitaH = an expert.

"He is the champion of his own self-righteousness and also champions for adherent's welfare in the same righteousness, and he is a scholar in the essence of Veda-s and their ancillaries, too. He is an expert in dhanur Veda, the Art of Archery... [1-1-14]

These are the ancillary subjects of Vedas called anga part and upa anga sub-part. The main parts of Veda-s are siksha ritual rigor vyakarana grammar chandas prosody jyotish astroloj~n nirukta recital rules kalpa procedure rules. This apart, the dhanur veda science of archery, itself is treated as 'an exclusive Veda taught to warriors...' The danur Veda is not to be construed as simple bow and arrow and 'shooting the target' education. It is a 'scripture on missiles' that existed in those ages.

Down the memory lane, O. A.Vijayan, the eminent Indian journalist has reflected in The Illustrated Weekly of India, that the Soviet scholar Dr. A. A. Gorbovsky said in his article with heading Ancient India may have had N-arms, in the Statesman, with dateline Moscow, Sept. 8, 1986. Among other things, the scientist observes by the stanzas that describe the disaster caused by such astra-s, now loosely termed as a well crafted bow and sky rocketing arrows, as below:

'A blazing shaft which possessed all the effulgence of smokeless fire was let off... all directions were enveloped by darkness... the very elements seemed to be perturbed... the sun seemed to turn... the universe, scorched with heat, seemed to be in fever... the survivors lost their hair and nails... for years the sun and sky remained shrouded with clouds...'

Thus the narration goes on. This is the account of Brahma astra, as in Maha Bharata, the other Epic of India. Thus the Dhanur Veda may be taken as the canon of missile sciences, which fortunately has not been handed over to the successive generations, lest everything would have been annihilated by now. In Ramayana too, which is much earlier to Mahabharata, there are elaborate accounts of such astra-s in the coming chapters. Sage Vishvamitra, who is well-versed in warfare, gives many such weapons to Rama. For now, these bow and arrow references may not be taken as those of Robin Hood.

Verse Locator

सर्व शास्त्र अर्थ तत्त्वज्ञो स्मृतिमान् प्रतिभानवान् ।
सर्वलोक प्रियः साधुः अदीनाअत्मा विचक्षणः ॥ १-१-१५

15. sarva shaastra arthaH tattva j~naH = all, scriptures, their meaning, their essence, knower of; smR^itimaan = one with excellent memory; pratibhaanavaan = a brilliant one; sarva loka priyaH = all, worlds, esteemed by; saadhuH = gentle; a diina aatmaa = not down, hearted [level-headed even in severe trouble]; vichakSaNaH = clear-headed [in discriminating and distinguishing.]

"He is the knower of the meaning and essence of all the scriptures, excellent at memory thus brilliant, and an esteemed one in all the worlds, gentle, level-headed and clear-headed in discriminating and distinguishing... [1-1-15]

Verse Locator

सर्वदा अभिगतः सद्भिः समुद्र इव सिन्धुभिः ।
अर्यः सर्वसमः च एव सदैव प्रिय दर्शनः ॥ १-१-१६

16. samudra sindhubhiH iva = an ocean, by rivers, as with; sadbhiH = by clean-minded ones; sarvadaa abhigataH = always, accessible; aaryaH = reachable [or, reverential one]; sarva samaH ca eva = all, treats equally, also, thus; sadaa eva priya darshanaH = ever, thus [the same,] pleasant, in look [ever a feast to eye.]

"Like an ocean that is reached by many rivers accesbly, that reverential one too is always accessible and reachable by clean-minded ones, and he treats all equally, and ever a feast to eye... [1-1-16]

Here it is said 'he is reachable by all clean-minded ones...' sat pravartana, sad budhhi... and those that approach him with a sacrilegious intent, will meet their end at his hand. sarva samaH means, that he does not discriminate people by their caste, creed, or by that individual's philosophy etc., like tribal boatman Guha, low-birthed Shabari, and nihilist Sage Jaabaali et al. jaati guNa vR^itti aadi bheda a+bhaavaat And the word eva in saa eva priya darshanaH indicates 'always...' 'unvarying in his demeanour with anyone...' Govindaraja. And by the simile of ocean to Rama, for rivers there is no other course except an ocean; thus, the living beings, may it be humans or birds like Jataayu, have no other recourse than Rama.

Verse Locator

स च सर्व गुणोपेतः कौसल्य आनंद वर्धनः ।

समुद्र इव गाम्भीर्ये धैर्येण हिमवान् इव ॥ १-१-१७

17. kausalya aananda vardhanaH = Kausalya's [his mother,] happiness, one who betters; saH ca = he, also; sarva guNa upetaH = with all, [noble] merits, embodied with; gaambhiirye samudra iva = in profundity, ocean, like - his inmost heart is unfathomable like an ocean; dhairyeNa hima vaan iva = by fortitude, Himavanta, [Himalayan] mountain, like.

"He who betters the happiness of his mother Kausalya is an embodiment of all noble merits, and in profundity he is like an unfathomable ocean, and by fortitude he is unalterable like the kingly Himalayan mountain... [1-1-17]

At times Rama is said to be 'the son of Kausalya...' than the son Dasharatha, because the word Kausalya does not signify his mother alone, the daughter of King of Kosala, but it has meanings like kshema, kushala, saamarthyaa, puNya, nipuNatva 'safeness, soundness, capability, merit, expertise...' and this also signifies Queen Kausalya's worshipping of Vishnu. When dynasty, valour, braveness etc., are said, Rama's name will be attached with Dasharatha. An ocean is not a bottomless one but an unfathomable one. So also Rama's heart has a reachable bottom, where pearls, gems, and other treasures of virtues are abounding, and it can be reached with a heartily approach. For a hard-hearted one Rama's heart becomes an unfathomable abyss and he will get lost in it. girayoH varSha dhaaraabhir haryamaanaa na vivyadhuH | abhibhuuya maanaa vyasanaiH yathaa adhokShaja cetasa || 'true devotees do not get hassled though subjected to many problems, for they place their faith in the Supreme. Equally, mountains are unshaken though battered by storms or lightings...' So, like a mountain he is unalterable and constant for a true devotee. An icy-mountain is meltable by scorching sun, thus Rama also melts down when his adherents are scorched with their problems.

Verse Locator

विष्णुना सदृशो वीर्ये सोमवत् प्रिय दर्शनः ।

काल अग्नि सदृशः क्रोधे क्षमया पृथ्वी समः ॥ १-१-१८

धनदेन समः त्यागे सत्ये धर्म इव अपरः ।

18, 19a. viirye = in valour; vishNunaa sadR^ishaH = with Vishnu, comparable; somavat priya darshanaH = full-moon like, attractive, in look; krodhe = in anger; kaala agni sadR^ishaH = era [ending,] fire, matchable to; kshamayaa pR^ithvii samaH = in perseverance, earth, equals with; tyage = in benevolence; dhanadena samaH = Kubera [God of Wealth-Management,] identical to; satye = in candour; aparaH = here on earth [or, another]; dharma iva = like dharma = God Probit, like.

"In valour Rama is comparable with Vishnu, and in his looks he is attractive like full-moon, he equals the earth in his perseverance, but he is matchable with era-end-fire in his wrath... and

In benevolence he is identical to Kubera, God of Wealth-Management, and in his candour he is like Dharma itself, the other God Probity on earth... [1-1-18, 19a]

Here the 'valour' is to cause harm to enemy, while remaining himself unharmed... svasya a-vikaara eva parasya vikaara aapadanam Rama Tilaka. 'Though Rama is Vishnu, but by nature of his incarnation as human, he is different from Vishnu upaadhi bheda... Hence Vishnu has become another entity than Rama... Or, his valour is selfsame to Vishnu's valour because he is selfsame Vishnu...' Govindaraja. 'As there is none other in similitude, he is compared Vishnu, insofar as valour is concerned...' Maheshvara Tiirtha. Earth personally does not grieve when people tread on it, trample, dig, cut, or whatever is done to her. Likewise Rama personally gets unaffected, whatever harm is done to him, but he becomes wrathful, if that harm is committed to dharma.

Thitherto, the Bala Kanda is narrated by these narrations of sparkled in Ikshvaku dynasty 'Rama's incarnation...' highly valorous, enemy subjugator... 'elimination of demoness Tataka, subdual of the vanity of Parashu Rama...' propitious 'marriage with Seetha, knows Art of Archery 'receiving missiles from Vishvamitra...' From now poet tells the Ayodhya Kanda, and a gist of this magnum opus is given here itself. This narration is known as baala raamayana - samskhepa raamyana meaning that it is aimed at youngsters as it has been told in an abridged version. In the endnote, details about this version and still abridged version, called Gayatri Ramayana, are given.

Readers may find an inordinate use of ellipses in translation of the epic. But they are 'a must.' Pt. Satya Vrat, the author of Ramayana - A Linguistic Study says: "Ellipsis is the peculiarity of the style of the older works like Ramayana... their writings, as they stood, yielded incomplete sense which has to be supplemented by adhyaadhaara, viz., supply of words, that would fit in the context... Indeed, in most cases the ellipsis could be readily understood and would suggest the word or words that would make it up...' We therefore request the readers to go by the meaning of the context, than by the order of words, for there is a saying... paaTha krame artha kramo baliyaH... So, this adhyaadhaara, supply of words, may not be that faithful while rendering from Sanskrit to English.

Verse Locator

तम् एवम् गुण संपन्नम् रामम् सत्य पराक्रमम् ॥ १-१-१९
ज्येष्ठम् श्रेष्ठ गुणैः युक्तम् प्रियम् दशरथः सुतम् ।
प्रकृतीनाम् हितैः युक्तम् प्रकृति प्रिय कांयया ॥ १-१-२०
यौव राज्येन संयोक्तुम् ऐच्छत् प्रीत्या महीपतिः ।

19b, 20, 21a. mahii patiH dasarathaH = land, lord of - king, Dasharatha; evam guna sampannam = suchlike, merits, possessor of [Rama]; satya parakramam = truthfulness, is his courage; shreSTa guNaiH yuktam = best, intrinsic values, one who is embodied with; priyam = dear one [to Dasharatha]; prakR^itinaam hitaiH yuktam = people's, in welfare of, having [ever involved in]; jyeSTham sutam = eldest, son; tam ramam = such as he is, Rama be; prakR^iti priya kaamyayaa = country's, welfare, intending [to all intents and purposes of peoples welfare]; priityaa = affectionately; yauva raajyena = in young [crown,] prince-hood; samyoktum = to conjoin - to establish; icChhat = intended to.

"Rama being the possessor of suchlike merits, whose truthfulness alone is his courage, embodied with best intrinsic values, ever involved in the welfare of people, besides being the dear and eldest son of Dasharatha, and hence the king Dasharatha affectionately intended to establish such a Rama as crown prince to all intents and purposes of country's welfare...[1-1-29b, 20, 21a]

Verse Locator

तस्य अभिषेक संभारान् दृष्ट्वा भार्या अथ कैकयी ॥ १-१-२१
पूर्वम् दत्त वरा देवी वरम् एनम् अयाचत ।
विवासनम् च रामस्य भरतस्य अभिषेचनम् ॥ १-१-२२

21b, 22. atha = then; tasya = his - Rama's; abhishheka sam bhaaraan = anointment [as crown prince,] arrangements; dR^iSThva = on seeing; puurvam datta vara = once, she who is accorded, boons; bhaarya devi kaikeyi = [dear] wife, queen, Kaikeyi; raamasya vi vaasanam =

Rama's, without, place [displacement, banishment]; bharatasya abhiSechanam ca = Bharata's, anointment, also; varam enam = boons, from him [Dasharatha]; ayaachitaH = claimed.

"Then on seeing the arrangements for the anointment of Rama as crown-prince, Kaikeyi, the dear wife and a queen of Dasharatha, claimed boons that were once accorded to her by Dasharatha, which are the banishment of Rama and anointment of Bharata. [1-2-21b 22]

Verse Locator

स सत्य वचनात् राजा धर्म पाशेन संयतः ।
विवासयामास सुतम् रामम् दशरथः प्रियम् ॥ १-१-२३

23. saH raajaa dasharathaH = he, king, Dasharatha; satya vacanaat = truthfulness, of [his plighted] word; dharm paashena = righteousness, by halter of; samyataH = bound by; priyam sutam raamam = dear, son, Rama; vi vaasayaamaasa = started to displace - exiled to forests.

"Bound by the truthfulness of his plighted word and by the halter of righteousness that king Dasharatha exiled his dear son Rama to forests. [1-1-23]

Verse Locator

स जगाम वनम् वीरः प्रतिज्ञाम् अनुपालयन् ।
पितुर् वचन निर्देशात् कैकेय्याः प्रिय कारणात् ॥ १-१-२४

24. viiraH saH = brave one, he [that Rama]; kaikeyyaaH priya nkaaraNaat = Kaikeyi, to appease, by reason of; pituH vacana nirdeshaat = by father's, verbal, directive; prati~naam = promise - his own pledge to adhere to his father's word, or, promise of his father to Kaikeyi; anu paalayan = to follow through; vanam jagaama = to forests, repaired to.

"Such a brave one as he is, that Rama repaired to forest for the reason of appeasing Kaikeyi, and as directed by the verbal directive of his father, and to follow his father's word of honour. [1-1-24]

Verse Locator

तम् व्रजंतम् प्रियो भ्राता लक्ष्मणः अनुजगाम ह ।
स्नेहात् विनय संपन्नः सुमित्र आनंद वर्धनः ॥ १-१-२५
भ्रातरम् दयितो भ्रातुः सौभ्रात्रम् अनु दर्शयन् ।

25, 26a. vinaya sampannaH = humbleness, abounding; bhraatuH dayitaH = to brother Rama, fondly [to Rama]; priya bhraataa = dear [natural brotherly affection,] brother; lakshmanaH = Lakshmana; sumitra ananda vardhanaH = [his mother] Sumitra's, happiness, duly augmenting; saubhraatram anu darshayan = [ideals of] brotherhood, exemplifying; vrajantam tam bhraataram = who is going, him [Rama,] with brother [Rama]; snehaat anu jagaama ha = heartily, in tow, followed, indeed.

"In whom humbleness and the natural brotherly affection of a brother are abounding, such a fondly younger brother of Rama, namely Lakshmana, indeed heartily followed his forest going brother Rama, exemplifying the ideals of brotherhood, thus augmenting the happiness of his mother Sumitra. [1-1-25, 26a]

Verse Locator

रामस्य दयिता भार्या नित्यम् प्राण समा हिता ॥ १-१-२६
जनकस्य कुले जाता देव मायेव निर्मिता ।
सर्व लक्षण संपन्ना नारीणाम् उत्तमा वधूः ॥ १-१-२७
सीताप्य अनुगता रामम् शशिनम् रोहिणी यथा ।

26b, 27, 28a. raamasya dayitaa bhaarya = Rama', loving, wife; praaNa samaa = life, like, [alter ego]; nityam hitaa = ever, amiable one; jankasya kule jaataa = Janaka's, family, born in; nirmitaa deva maya iva = fashioned, by divine, marvel, as though; sarva lakshaNa sampannaa = all, qualities, possessor of [befitting to an ideal lady]; nariiNaam uttamaa = among ladies, the best one; vadhuu = daughter-in-law [of Dasharatha]; siitha api = Seetha, even; rohiNii shashinam yathaa = Lady Rohini, with Moon, as with; raamam anugataa = Rama, she followed.

"Seetha, the best one among ladies, a possessor of all best qualities befitting to an ideal lady, the one who is as though fashioned by a Divine marvel, born in Janaka's family and became Dasharatha's daughter-in-law, and she who is the loving wife and an ever-amiable alter ego of Rama, even she followed Rama to forests, as with Lady Rohini following the Moon... [1-1-26b, 27, 28a]

Here deva maaya refers to many concepts. Vaishnavaites tell that the word deva is ascribable only to Vishnu, but not to other gods. Thus, this is Vishnu maya, when He assumed an extraordinary female form called Mohini, when distributing amR^ita, the divine elixir, to gods and demons. Next is the form of Tilottama, a divine beauty to hoodwink demons called Sunda and Upasunda. The other is Vishnu's lilaa shakti, which is divinely fascinating. Yet another is grammatical connotation, maa yaa where, maa= Goddess Lakshmi; yaa= who that is; meaning yaa siitaa saa maa= 'who is Goddess Lakshmi... She is Seetha...' and this results in the saying: ati ruupavatii siitaa... ati muurkhaH cha raavaNa 'While Seetha is an extraordinarily beauty, Ravana is an eccentrically stupid...

The deities have their wives always with them. Chandra, the Moon has Rohini, a conspicuous star, while Surya, Sun has Prabha, Sunshine. Minus these wives, their glow and glitter is void. So also, Rama has an inseparable wife. Though Seetha and Lakshmana were not exiled, they followed Rama out of concept of 'togetherness...'

Verse Locator

पौरैः अनुगतो दूरम् पित्रा दशरथेन च ॥ १-१-२८

शृन्निबेर पुरे सूतम् गंगा कूले व्यसर्जयत् ।

गुहम् आसाद्य धर्मात्मा निषाद अधिपतिम् प्रियम् ॥ १-१-२९

गुहेऽन सहितो रामो लक्ष्मणेन च सीतया ।

28b, 29, 30a. [That Rama while going to forests]; pauraiH = by citizens; pitraa dasarathena ca = by father, Dasharatha, also; duuram = for a distance; anu gataH = followed; dharmaatmaa raamaH = virtue-souled, Rama; gangaa kuule = on River Ganga's, bank; sR^iN^giberapure = in [town called] Sringaberapura; nishhaada adhipatim = with tribal, chief; priyam = who likes Rama; guham = Guha; asaadya = on getting at; guhena lakshmaNena siitayaa ca = with Guha, with Lakshmana, with Seetha, also; sahitaH = teamed with; suutam = charioteer [Sumantra]; vyasarjayat = left off.

"The citizens of Ayodhya and even his father Dasharatha have followed that virtue-souled Rama for a distance when he started on his exile. Later Rama reached the tribal chief named Guha, who has a liking for Rama, on the bank of River Ganga in a town called Sringaberapura. And when Rama is teamed with Guha, Lakshmana and Seetha, he left off the charioteer and a minister of his father who charioted them thitherto, namely Sumantra. [1-1-28b, 29, 30a]

Here while saying guhena saH hitaH raamaH can also be cleaved as guhena saH hitaH = saH raamaH guhena hitaH 'he that Rama is sent, or sailed over Ganga by Guha...' apart from the above. The word Sringaberapura means a township where the replicas of stags with sets of antlers are prepared and placed at places in order to attract selfsame stags or deer, and then the tribals can catch those animals. The word Guha means guhaati it guhaH 'one who hordes/steals others' wealth by waylaying etc...' thus, though the tribal chief is a lowly subject by birth and caste-oriented activity, Rama has no aversion for such subjects, because Guha reposes love in Rama. Govindaraja.

Verse Locator

ते वनेन वनम् गत्वा नदीः तीर्त्वा बहु उदकाः ॥ १-१-३०

चित्रकूटम् अनुप्राप्य भरद्वाजस्य शासनात् ।

रंयम् आवसथम् कृत्वा रममाणा वने त्रयः ॥ १-१-३१

देव गन्धर्व संकाशाः तत्र ते न्यवसन् सुखम् ।

30b, 31, 32a. te = they [the trio, Rama, Lakshmana, Seetha]; vanena vanam gatvaa = from forest, to forest, on reaching; bahu udakaan nadiiH tiirtva = with much [plethoric,] waters, rivers, on crossing; anu = later, in consequence; bharadvaajasya shaasanaat = sage Bharadwaja's, by ordainment; chitrakuuTam praapya = Chitrakuta, on arriving at [its hillside]; ramyam avasatham kR^itvaa = handsome, cottage, on setting up; te = such as they are, [who have enjoyed every comfort in Ayodhya]; trayaH = three of them [trio]; tatra = there [at Chitrakuta]; vane ramamaaNaa = in woods, while exuberating; deva gandharva samkaashaaH = gods, celestials, similar to; sukham nyavasan = happily lived.

"That trio of Seetha, Rama and Lakshmana on treading forest after forest, and on crossing rivers with plethoric waters, reached the hermitage of Sage Bharadwaja, and by the ordainment of that sage they arrived at Chitrakuta, and setting up a handsome cottage there, they who have enjoyed every comfort in Ayodhya enjoyed every comfort here also in no less a degree and that trio lived happily and exuberated themselves in woods at Chitrakuta, similar to gods and celestials... [1-1-30b, 31, 32a]

In another way the meaning is: te avane 'they, protecting each other...' te ramamaaNaaH 'those two Rama and Seetha, frolicsomenely delighted, enjoyed the essence of forest-faring...' saMkaashaa similar to Vishnu or Narayana's enjoyment of kriiDaa rasa 'the essence of His playful acts...' and Lakshmana enjoyed the essence of his servitude sevaa rasa and where deva = devii ca devaH ca devau 'either goddess or god... it but the Almighty...' gandharva = gaanam dhaarayati iti gandharva - jiivan muktaH salved-soul, thus Lakshmana rejoiced with his singing of saama gaana of Sama Veda....' And they rejoiced without feeling any difference between city dwelling and forest dwelling... as every part of Universe is theirs.

In another way tevane vanam gatvaa 'playfully, to forests, they went...' It is a play for them to enter the forest to resolve the purpose of Ramayana and their incarnations.

Verse Locator

चित्रकूटम् गते रामे पुत्र शोक आतुरः तथा ॥ १-१-३२

राजा दशरथः स्वर्गम् जगाम विलपन् सुतम् ।

32b, 33a. raame = of Rama; tathaa = thus [tadaa = then]; chitrakuuTam gate = to Chitrakuta, on going; putra shoka aaturaH = for son, by grief, aggrieved; raajaa dasharathaH = King, Dasharatha; sutam vilapam = for son, while grieving; svargam jagaama = heavens, went to.

"On Rama's going to Chitrakuta thus, King Dasharatha is aggrieved by the grief for son and went to heavens grieving for son... [1-1-32b, 33a]

The word 'thus' is according to the text of Govindaraja. Maheshvara Tiirtha's text will have 'then'.

Verse Locator

गते तु तस्मिन् भरतो वसिष्ठ प्रमुखैः द्विजैः ॥ १-१-३३

नियुज्यमानो राज्याय न इच्छत् राज्यम् महाबलः ।

स जगाम वनम् वीरो राम पाद प्रसादकः ॥ १-१-३४

33b, 34. tasmin gate = his [Dasharatha's,] going [to heavens] - in the matter of Dasharatha's departure to heavens; bharataH tu = Bharata, but; vasiSTha pramukhaiH dvijaiH = by Sage Vasishtha, other prominent, by Brahmans; raajyaaya niyujoyamaanaH = in kingship, being [impressed on] for investiture; mahaa balaH = highly, mighty [even though, highly efficient to rule such a kingdom]; raajyam na icChat = kingdom, not, desired; viiraH = brave one [but here, a self-denying one]; saH = he [Bharata]; raama paada prasaadakaH = at Rama's feet, mercy, praying for; vanam jagaama = to forests, went.

"On Dasharatha's departure to heavens, though Sage Vashishta and other Brahmans have impressed upon him for his investiture in kingship, and even though he is highly effectual to rule such a kingdom, he that Bharata refused the kingdom, and that self-denying Bharata, for he is aloft the greed, grouse, and gripe, went to forests to pray for mercy at the feet of Rama... [1-1-33b. 34]

Verse Locator

गत्वा तु स महात्मानम् रामम् सत्य पराक्रमम् ।
अयाचत् भ्रातरम् रामम् आर्य भाव पुरस्कृतः ॥ १-१-३५
त्वम् एव राजा धर्मज्ञ इति रामम् वचः अब्रवीत् ।

35, 36a. aarya bhaava puraskR^itaH = by humbleness, by means of, reverential one [his humbleness is reverential or, he is reverential for his humbleness]; mahaa aatmaanam = great, souled one; satya paraakramam = by truthfulness, a vanquisher; raamam = to such Rama; saH gatva = he that Bharata, on going - on reaching; braataram raamam ayaachat = from brother, Rama, begged of; dharma j~naH = knower, of probity; tvam eva = you, alone; raajaa = [are the] king; iti vachaH abraviit = thus, word, said [avowed.]

"But on reaching that great-souled Rama, who is a vanquisher just by his truthfulness, Bharata humbly and reverentially begged of his brother, and the avowed word of Bharata is this, 'oh! Knower of Probity, you alone shall be the king...' [1-1-35, 36a]

Verse Locator

रामोऽपि परमोदारः सुमुखः सुमहायशाः ॥ १-१-३६
न च इच्छत् पितुर् आदेशात् राज्यम् रामो महाबलः ।

36b, 37a. raamaH = Rama; api = even though; parama udaaraH = really, benevolent one; su mukhaH api = readily, willing one, even though [but not 'good faced one']; su mahaa yashaH [api] = of very, greatly, reputed [endower,] [even though]; mahaa balaH [api] = highly, capable [in eliminating enemies with a single arrow, or, endower of whatever sought by his adherers,] [even though]; raamaH = Rama; pituH aadeshaat = of father, owing to directives; raajyam = kingdom; na ca icChat = not, also, desired.

"Even though Rama is a really benevolent one, even though he is a readily willing one, even though he is a greatly reputed one for endowments, even though he is a highly capable endower of whatever sought by his adherers, even then Rama did not desire the kingdom, to keep up his own pledge and also owing to his father's directives... [1-1-36b, 37a]

In the compound na ca icChat the 'ca' indicates that though he is disagreeing now, but said to have agreed to take up the kingdom after the period of exile as stipulated in the exilic terms.

Verse Locator

पादुके च अस्य राज्याय न्यासम् दत्त्वा पुनः पुनः ॥ १-१-३७
निवर्तयामास ततो भरतम् भरत अग्रजः ।

37b, 38a. bharata agra jaH = by Bharata's, elder, born [elder-brother of Bharata, namely Rama]; raajyaaya = for kingdom; asya = to him [to Bharata]; paaduke nyaasam datvaa = sandals, for custodial care, on giving; tataH = then; punaH punaH = again, again [persuasively]; bharatam nivartayaamaasa = Bharata, [Rama] started to turn him away.

"On giving his sandals to that Bharata for custodial care of kingdom till his return after the period of exile, then the elder brother of Bharata, namely Rama, persuasively turned away Bharata. [1-1-37b, 38a]

स कामम् अनवाप्य एव राम पादा उपस्पृशन् ॥ १-१-३८

नन्दि ग्रामे अकरोत् राज्यम् राम आगमन कांक्षया ।

38b, 39a. saH = he that Bharata; kaamam an avaapaya eva = desire, not, fulfilled, thus; raama paadau upaspR^ishan = Rama's feet, on touching; raama aagamana kaankshayaa = Rama's, arrival, with an expectation; nandigraame akarot raajyam = from Nandigrama [a village,] carried on, kingdom;

"Unfulfilled is the desire of Bharata in taking back Rama to kingdom, hence on touching Rama's feet and taking sandals, he returned from Chitrakuta, and without ruling from capital Ayodhya, he carried on the kingdom from a village called Nandigrama, with an expectation of Rama's return... [1-1-38b, 39a]

Verse Locator

गते तु भरते श्रीमान् सत्य सन्धो जितेन्द्रियः ॥ १-१-३९

रामः तु पुनः आलक्ष्य नागरस्य जनस्य च ।

तत्र आगमनम् एकाग्रो दण्डकान् प्रविवेश ह ॥ १-१-४०

39b, 40. bharate gate tu = Bharata, while departed, but; shriimaan = self-effulgent one [Rama whose self-effulgence is not marred by Bharata's arrival or by his incitement for kingdom]; satya sandhaH = truth, bound [for his truthfulness in following father's directives is undeterred even by the supplication of Bharata]; jita indriyaH = conquered, senses [for the lure of kingdom has not conquered his senses]; raamaH tu = Rama, on his part; naagarasya janasya ca = of citizens, of ordinary subjects, also - here the 'ca' indicates Bharata and others who came to Chitrakoota; punaH tatra aagamanam = again, to that place, their arrival; aalakshya = on foreseeing; eka agraH = one, targeted [determinedly, or decidedly]; daNDaka aranyaam = in to Dandaka, forests; pravivesha ha = [he] entered, indeed.

"On the departure of Bharata, that effulgent one, for his self-effulgence is not marred by the arrival of Bharata with an incitement; that truth-bound one, for his truthfulness is undeterred even by the supplications to return to capital by Bharata, Kausalya, and even Kaikeyi; that self-controlled one, for the lure of kingdom has not controlled his senses, such as he is, he that Rama foresaw the repeated arrival of citizens, other subjects, or even Bharata to that place. Hence Rama indeed entered Dandaka forest, determinedly about his plighted promise to undergo exile and decidedly about the elimination of demons... [1-1-39b, 40]

In this compound naagarasya janasya ca the 'ca' is indicative of Bharata, who may make habit of frequenting Chitrakuta, for one reason or the other.

Verse Locator

प्रविश्य तु महाअरण्यम् रामो राजीव लोचनः ।

विराधम् राक्षसम् हत्वा शरभंगम् ददर्श ह ॥ १-१-४१

सुतीक्ष्णम् च अपि अगस्त्यम् च अगस्त्य भ्रातरम् तथा ।

41, 42a. raajiiva lochana raamaH = lotus, eyed one - whose eyes are lotus-like, such Rama; maha aranNyam pravishya tu = vast, forest, on entering, but; viraadham raakshasam hatvaa = Viraadha, demon, having eliminated; sarabhaN^gam sutiikshNam ca api = Sage Sharabhanga, Sage Suteekshna, also, even; agastyam ca = Sage Agastya, also; tathaa = likewise; agastya bhraataram = Agastya's brother dadarsha ha = descried, indeed

"That lotus-eyed Rama on his entering the vast of Dandaka forest eliminated the demon Viraadha, and indeed descried Sage Sharabhanga, also even Sage Suteekhsna, also Sage Agastya and likewise Sage Agastya's brother... [1-1-41, 42a]

The name of Agastya's brother is Sudarshana, and he will never be called by his own name, but will be called as agatsya bhraata, brother of Agastya, a sage in name only and any person hanging on to his brothers or relatives will be nicknamed like this.

Verse Locator

अगस्त्य वचनात् च एव जग्राह ऐन्द्रम् शरासनम् ॥ १-१-४२
खड्गम् च परम प्रीतः तूणी च अक्षय सायकौ ।

42b, 43a. agastya vachanaat ca eva = by the word - on the advice of, of Agastya, only, thus; aindram sharaasanam = Indra's, great bow; khadgam ca = sword, also; akshaya saayakau = ever replenishing, with arrows; such a; tuuNii ca = quivers, also; parama priitaH = highly, pleased [to receive befitting weaponry]; jagraaha = has taken - from Agastya.

"On the advice of Sage Agastya Rama took a bow of Indra from Sage Agastya, which Indra once gave to Sage Agastya, along with a sword, and two quivers in which arrows will be ever-replenishing, and thus Rama is highly pleased to receive befitting weaponry... [1-1-42b, 42a]

Verse Locator

वसतः तस्य रामस्य वने वन चरैः सह ॥ १-१-४३
ऋषयः अभ्यागमन् सर्वे वधाय असुर रक्षसाम् ।

43b, 44a. tasya raamasya = his, of Rama; vane = in forest - of Sharabhangha; vasataH = while staying; sarve R^ishayaH = all, sages; vana charai saha = forest, moving humans - hermits, along with; asura rakshasaam vadhaaya = monsters, menacers, for elimination of; abhi aagaman = [sages] towards, approached - Rama.

"While Rama is staying in the forest of Sage Sharabhangha, all the sages and forest moving ascetics, vaanaprashta-s, have approached him for the elimination of monsters and menacers... [1-1-42b, 43a]

Verse Locator

स तेषाम् प्रति शुश्राव राक्षसानाम् तथा वने ॥ १-१-४४
प्रतिज्ञातः च रामेण वधः संयति रक्षसाम् ।
ऋषीणाम् अग्नि कल्पानाम् दंडकारण्य वासीनाम् ॥ १-१-४५

44b, 45. saH = he that Rama; raakshasaanaam vane = in demon's, forest - an abode of the demons; teSaam = their - of sages; tathaa = that way [saying, supplications of sages]; prati shushraava = in return, on telling them [promised, conceded to]; raameNa ca = by Rama, also; agni kalpaanaam = ritual fire-like, those in glow - sages; daNDaka araNya vaasinaam iSiiNaam = in Dandaka, forest, dwellers of, to sages; samyati = in combat; raakshasaam = of all demons; vadhaH ca = elimination, also; prati j~naataH = to them, made known - promised by Rama.

"Rama conceded to the supplications of those sages of that forest, which forest has become an abode of demons, and Rama also promised those sages who are the dwellers of Dandaka forest, and whose glow is like that of the Ritual-fire, to eliminate all of the demons in combat... [1-1-44b, 45]

Vividly: 'the sages whose resplendence is like that of Ritual-fire and who are capable of living in that deadly forest only by their calibre of sageship, and who by themselves can eliminate those demons just by their ascetic capability, they wanted some divine medium to undertake that task of elimination, as that so-called divinity alone perpetrated these demons proffering all boons on those demons. And they spotted this Rama, even though he is in a peaceable get-up of a hermit, and as a family man is with his wife. But sages are aware about the real reality of this Rama and requested him alone, because they know why and what for Rama came this far, that too with Seetha. Thus, the sages of Dandaka forest really aid and abet this Rama, the eliminator of demons, and thus they collectively lead Rama and Seetha to the real place of action.'

The word asura is declined as asuuna raati iti asura... asu = life; ra= taker; i.e., life takers - demons, while the word sura is nectar consuming one, the divine. In later chapters of this canto, accounts are given as how these were created and named.

Verse Locator

तेन तत्र एव वसता जनस्थान निवासिनी ।
विरूपिता शूर्पणखा राक्षसी काम रूपिणी ॥ १-१-४६

46. tatra eva vasataa = there, only, while living; tena = by him [Rama]; kaama ruupiNi = by wish, guise-changer; janasthaana nivaasinii = Janasthaana - a place in Dandaka forest, a resident of; shuurpaNakhaa = Shuurpanakha; raakshsii = demoness; vi ruupitaa = rendered without, shape - she is disfigured.

"While Rama is living there in Dandaka forest, a guise-changing demoness named Shuurpanakha, who is a resident of Janasthaana, a place in Dandaka forest, is disfigured... [1-1-46]

This is metonymy. Rama did not do it himself, but his brother Lakshmana does this act of cutting the nose and ears of this demoness, which is the twisting point of the story. She is so named as Shuurpanakha because her like fingernails are like winnowing fans, shuurpa tulya nakhaa iti shuurpanakha; shuurpa= winnowing fan; tulya = like; nakhaa = fingernails. She is the sister of Ravana, and she is the actual trouble-shooter in the epic.

Verse Locator

ततः शूर्पणखा वाक्यात् उद्युक्तान् सर्व राक्षसान् ।
खरम् त्रिशिरसम् च एव दूषणम् च एव राक्षसम् ॥ १-१-४७
निजघान रणे रामः तेषाम् च एव पद अनुगान् ।

47, 48a. tataH shuurpanakhaa vaakyaat = then, by Shuurpanakha, words [provokes]; udyuktaan sarva raakshasaan = rebellious, all [fourteen,] demons; kharam = Khara; trishirasam ca eva = Trishira, also thus; duuSaNam raakshasam ca eva = Duushana, named demon also, thus; teSaam pada anugaan ca eva = their, foot, followers [henchman-demons of Khara et al] also, thus; raamaH rane nijaghaana = Rama, in a combat, has eliminated.

"Then in a combat Rama eliminated all the fourteen demons who rebelliously came at him in the first round of combat incited by the provokes of Shuurpanakha, and then in second round Rama eliminated demon chiefs called Khara, Trishira, Duushana, who are none but the cousins of Shuurpanakha and Ravana, together with all of their hench-demons... [1-1-47, 48a]

Verse Locator

वने तस्मिन् निवसता जनस्थान निवासिनाम् ॥ १-१-४८
राक्षसाम् निहतानि असन् सहस्राणि चतुर् दश ।

48b, 49a. tasmin vane nivasataa = in that, forest, during his stay; janasthaana nivaasinaam rakshasaam = Janasthaana, inhabitants, of demons; catur dasa sahasraaNi = fourteen, ten, thousands - fourteen thousand; nihataani asan = eliminated, they have become - demons.

"During his stay in Dandaka forest Rama eliminated fourteen thousand demons in all, who are the inhabitants of that very forest... [1-1-48b, 49a]

Verse Locator

ततो ज्ञाति वधम् श्रुत्वा रावणः क्रोध मूर्छितः ॥ १-१-४९
सहायम् वरयामास मारीचम् नाम राक्षसम् ।

49b, 50a tataH = then; raavaNaH = Ravana; j~naati vadhham shrutvaa = cousins, slaughter of, on hearing; krodha muurChitaH = in anger, convulsed; mariicham naama raakshasam = from Maareecha, named, demon; sahaayam varayaamaasa = help, started to seek.

"Then on hearing the slaughter of his cousins, Ravana is convulsed in anger and sought the help of a demon named Maareecha... [1-1-49b, 50a]

Ravana is the supremo of demons and the main antagonist in this epic. His name is Dashagriiva, meaning that he has ten heads, whereby he can be called Decahedral demon, or a Decahedron, in a fanciful way. This name 'Ravana' obtains from the root ru - shabde raavayati iti raavaNaH 'one who makes people criers by his violent actions...' and it also means vishravasaH apatyam pumaan raavaNaH, vishravaso vishravaNa ravaNau 'the son of one named Vishravasa...' Govindaraja.

Verse Locator

वार्यमाणः सुबहुशो मारीचेन स रावणः ॥ १-१-५०

न विरोधो बलवता क्षमो रावण तेन ते ।

50b, 51a. saH raavaNaH = he, that Ravana; raavaNa = Oh! Ravana; balavataa = with that formidable person [Rama, for he cannot be defeated by the fourteen thousand clansmen of ours]; tena = with him [with such a Rama]; virodhaH = rivalry; te na kshamaH = to you, not, pardonable; so saying; su bahushaH = very, many times; mariichena = by Maareecha; vaaryamaaNaH = [Ravana is] deterred; [aabhuut = Ravana became - Ravana is deterred.]

"But Maareecha deterred Ravana telling him time and again, 'oh, Ravana, unpardonable will be your rivalry with that formidable Rama, formidable because fourteen thousand clansmen of ours could not triumph over him...' [1-1-50b, 51a]

Verse Locator

अनादृत्य तु तत् वाक्यम् रावणः काल चोदितः ॥ १-१-५१

जगाम सह मारीचः तस्य आश्रम पदम् तदा ।

51b, 52a. raavaNaH kaala chodita = Ravana, by time [of his own doom,] ushered by; tat vaakyam = that, sentence [of advise of Maareecha]; an adR^itya tu = not, heedful of, but; saha maariicha = along with, Maareecha; tadaa = then; tasya = his [Rama's]; aashrama padam = hermitage, to the threshold of; jagaama = advanced to.

"Then heedless of Maareecha's advice and ushered by the time of his own doom, Ravana advanced to the threshold of Rama's hermitage along with Maareecha... [1-1-51b, 52a]

Verse Locator

तेन मायाविना दूरम् अपवाह्य नृप आत्मजौ ॥ १-१-५२

जहार भार्याम् रामस्य गृध्रम् हत्वा जटायुषम् ।

52b, 53a. mayaavinaa = by trickster; tena = by him [Maareecha]; nR^ipa aatmajau = kings, sons [princes]; duuram = to a distance; apa vaahya = side, tracked - made to distract from hermitage; jaTaayuSam gR^idhram hatvaa = Jataayu, eagle, on killing - putting to the sword; raamasya bhaaryaam jahaara = Rama's, wife, [Ravana] stole.

"Ravana stole the wife of Rama, namely Seetha, by getting the princes Rama and Lakshmana distracted distantly from their hermitage through the trickster Maareecha, and after putting the eagle Jatayu, which came to Seetha's rescue, to sword... [1-1-52b, 53a]

Verse Locator

गृध्रम् च निहतम् दृष्ट्वा हताम् श्रुत्वा च मैथिलीम् ॥ १-१-५३

राघवः शोक संतप्तो विललाप आकुल इन्द्रियः ।

53b, 54a. raaghavaH = Raghava; nihatam gR^idhram dR^iSThvaa = killed [utterly gashed, almost dead] eagle, on seeing; maithiliim hR^itaam shR^itvaa ca = of Maithili, as stolen, on hearing about [from the same eagle,] also; shoka santaptaH = anguish, seethed with; akula indriyaH = with frenzied, senses; vilalaapa = wept over.

"On seeing the eagle Jatayu almost dead and on hearing from the same eagle that Maithili is stolen, seethed with anguish and senses frenzied Raghava bewailed... [1-1-53b, 54a]

Verse Locator

ततः तेन एव शोकेन गृध्रम् दग्ध्वा जटायुषम् ॥ १-१-५४

मार्गमाणो वने सीताम् राक्षसम् संददर्श ह ।

कबंधम् नाम रूपेण विकृतम् घोर दर्शनम् ॥ १-१-५५

54b, 55. tena shokena eva = by that, anguish, only; tataH = then; gR^idhram jaTaayushham dagdhvaa = eagle, Jatayu, on cremating; vane siitaam maargamaaNah = in forests, for Seetha, while searching; rupeNa vikR^itam = in looks, misshapen; ghora darshanam = monstrous, to look at; kabandham naama raakshasam = Kabandha, named, demon; samdadarsha ha = has seen, indeed.

"Rama then cremated that eagle Jatayu in that anguish, and while searching for Seetha in forest, he indeed saw a demon named Kabandha, who is misshapen in his look and monstrous to look to... [1-1-54b, 55]

Jatayu is a friend of Rama's farther Dasharatha and thus it is fatherly eagle to Rama and its death is as worse as his father's death. Secondly, an eagle is a highly sophisticated search engine. But it is dying. So an additional misery is bechanced.

Verse Locator

तम् निहत्य महाबाहुः ददाह स्वर्गतः च सः ।

स च अस्य कथयामास शबरीम् धर्म चारिणीम् ॥ १-१-५६

श्रमणाम् धर्म निपुणाम् अभिगच्छ इति राघव ।

56, 57a. mahaa baahuH = great, armed - he whose arms are highly powerful, Rama; tam nihatya = him, [Kabandha,] having eliminated; dadaaH = cremated; svargataH ca = heavenwards, also; saH ca = he [that Kabandha], also [when going to heaven]; raaghava = oh, Raghava; dharma caariNiim = a lady with righteous conduct; dharma nipuNaam = she who in rightness, an expert; shramanaam = ascetic lady; shabariim = to Shabari; abhigachchha = you proceed; iti = in this way; asya = to him [to Rama]; kthayaamaasa = started to tell.

"That Rama whose arms are highly powerful has eliminated and cremated that demon Kabandha, and Kabandha while going heavenward told Rama, 'oh, Raghava, proceed to the ascetic lady of right-conduct and an expert in rightness, namely Shabari...' and vanished... [1-1-56, 57a]

Verse Locator

सः अभ्य गच्छन् महातेजाः शबरीम् शत्रु सूदनः ॥ १-१-५७

शबर्या पूजितः संयक् रामो दशरथ आत्मजः ।

57b, 58a. maha tejaaH = great, resplendent one, Rama; shatru suudanaH = enemy eliminator; saH = that one, Rama; shabariim abhiaagachchhat = to Shabari, approached; dasaratha aatmajaH raamaH = Dasharatha's, son, Rama; shabaryaaH samyak puujitaH = by Shabari, thoroughly, venerated.

"He who is a great-resplendent one and an enemy-eliminator, that son of Dasharatha, Rama arrived close at Shabari, and Shabari venerated him, thoroughly... [1-1-57b, 58a]

By mentioning the name of Dasharatha it is indicated that the hospitality given by this ascetic lady Shabari is more satisfactory to Rama, than that which was accorded by his own father Dasharatha. Govindaraja. Next verse onwards the episodes in Kishkindha are introduced. Now Rama meets Hanuma, the Vaanara. Traditionally this character is taken as a monkey god. vanena= in forests, charati= moves about, iti= thus; therefore vaanara = 'forest-ranger' is the declination of the term. It neither means an absolute monkey-hood nor absolute god-hood, but these vanara-s are the great characters in this epic, humanoid forest ranging monkey-humans. These Vanara-s have their rich traditions, which we will come across in Kishkindha Kanda proper. For now they may be taken as great heroes, but hereinafter referred to as 'monkeys' or 'vanara-s' for an easy comprehension and in a customary way.

Verse Locator

पंपा तीरे हनुमता संगतो वानरेण ह ॥ १-१-५८

हनुमत् वचनात् च एव सुग्रीवेण समागतः ।

58b, 59a. pampaa tiire = Pampa lake, on its banks; hanumataa vaanareNa sangataH ha = with Hanuma, with a vanara, [Rama] met, indeed; hanumat vachanaat = Hanuma's, upon word, also; sugriiveNa ca eva = with Sugreeva, also, thus; samaagataH = reached - befriended.

"Rama met the vanara Hanuma on the banks of Lake Pampa, and upon the word of Hanuma Rama indeed befriended Sugreeva... [1-1-58b, 59b]

Verse Locator

सुग्रीवाय च तत् सर्वम् शंसत् रामो महाबलः ॥ १-१-५९

आदितः तत् यथा वृत्तम् सीतायाः च विशेषतः ।

59b, 60a. mahaa balaH raamaH = highly, dynamic, Rama; aaditaH = from the beginning; tat sarvam = that, all; [yathaa vR^ittam = as has happened]; visheshhataH siithaayaH ca = in particular, Seetha's [abduction] also; yathaa [vR^ittam] = as, has happened; sugriivaaya ca = to Sugreeva, [and to Hanuma] also; shamshat = detailed [in general.]

"That highly dynamic Rama detailed to Sugreeva, and even to Hanuma, all that has happened from the beginning in general, and the abduction of Seetha, in particular... [1-1-59b, 60a]

Here the use of 'highly dynamic...' to Rama is to indicate that though he himself is capable enough to resolve the riddle called Ravana, but as a human, he needs some agency since humans in such difficulties are usually in need of a helping hand for such resolves. As such, Rama has to befriend Sugreeva and it is necessary to narrate all sad episodes to his friend.

Verse Locator

सुग्रीवः च अपि तत् सर्वम् श्रुत्वा रामस्य वानरः ॥ १-१-६०

चकार सख्यम् रामेण प्रीतः च एव अग्नि साक्षिकम् ।

60b, 61a. vaanaraH sugriivaH ca api = vanara, Sugreeva, also, even; raamasya = of Rama; tat sarvam shrutvaa = that, all, on listening; priitaH = delightedly; agni saakshikam ca eva = by fire [flaring auspicious fire,] as witness, also, thus; sakhyam chakaara = friendship, made.

"On listening all that has happened from Rama, that vanara Sugreeva befriended Rama where the witness for that friendship is flaring fire, for it alone is auspicious... [1-1-60b, 61a]

Verse Locator

ततो वानर राजेन वैर अनुकथनम् प्रति ॥ १-१-६१

रामाय आवेदितम् सर्वम् प्रणयात् दुःखितेन च ।

61b, 62a. tataH = then; duHkhitena vaanara raajena = by the woeful, vanara, king [Sugreeva]; vaira anukathanam prati = [about his] feud [with Vali,] saga; prati = in reply [to Rama's query]; raamaaya = to Rama; sarvam = in entirety; praNayaat = in friendship aaveditam = informed.

"Then that woeful king of monkeys Sugreeva woefully informed Rama about his saga of feud with his brother Vali in reply to Rama's query, in friendship and in its entirety... [1-1-61b, 62a]

Verse Locator

प्रतिज्ञातम् च रामेण तदा वालि वधम् प्रति ॥ १-१-६२

वालिनः च बलम् तत्र कथयामास वानरः ।

62b, 63a. tadaa = then; raameNa = by Rama; vaali vadham prati = to Vali, eliminate, regarding [in retaliation to his misdeeds]; prati j~naatam = in turn, make known [solemnly promised]; tatra = in that regard; vaanaraH = vanara Sugreeva; vaalinaH balam ca kathayaamaasa = Vali's, sinews, thereto, started to tell.

"Then Rama solemnly promised Sugreeva to eliminate Vali in retaliation to his foul deeds in respect of Sugreeva and of probity as well, and then that vanara Sugreeva started to tell about the sinews of Vali... [1-1-62b, 63a]

Vali, the elder brother of Sugreeva, is another principle character of Ramayana. He is capable of rendering oblations to gods in the wee hours of a single day in four oceans on four sides of the globe, by his swinging from one ocean to the other. He is mightier than Ravana, the chief villain of the epic, and Ravana is subdued by Vali's strength. As a preamble to the incident of eliminating mighty Ravana in the last book of the epic, this episode of eliminating a still mightier monkey is the stepping-stone for the climactic victory.

Verse Locator

सुग्रीवः शंकितः च आसीत् नित्यम् वीर्येण राघवे ॥ १-१-६३

राघवः प्रत्ययार्थम् तु दुंदुभेः कायम् उत्तमम् ।

दर्शयामास सुग्रीवः महापर्वत संनिभम् ॥ १-१-६४

63b, 64. sugriivaH ca = Sugreeva, also; raaghava = in respect of Raghava; viiryeNa = about [Rama's] prowess; nityam shankitaH aasiit = always, doubtful, he remained; sugriivaH = Sugreeva; raaghavaH pratya artham tu = Raghava, to confide in, by reason of, only; dundubheH = Dundubhi's; uttamam = big one [massive one]; mahaa parvata sannibham = great, mountain, similar to; kaayam = body - dead body, remains; darshayaamaasa = started to show.

"Sugreeva always remained doubtful about the powers of Raghava and by reason of confiding in Raghava's prowess for himself, and by reason of making Raghava to confide in the powers of Vali, Sugreeva has shown him the massive remains of demon Dundubhi, which is similar to a great mountain... [1-1-63b, 64]

Verse Locator

उत्स्मयित्वा महाबाहुः प्रेक्ष्य च अस्ति महाबलः ।

पाद अंगुष्ठेन चिक्षेप संपूर्णम् दश योजनम् ॥ १-१-६५

65. mahaa baahuH = great, armed [omni-dextrous Rama]; mahaa balaH = very energetic [Rama]; asti = skeleton of demon Dundubhi; prekshya = having seen; utsmayitvaa ca = reticently smiled, also; paadaa anguSThena [anguSTa agreNa] = foot's, by toe [by the tip of big toe]; sampuurNam dasa yojanam = wholly, for ten, yojana-s lengths; chikshepa = flicked it.

That omni-dextrous Rama looked at the skeleton, smiled in aplomb, then that very energetic Rama flicked that skeleton with tip of his foot's big toe wholly to a ten yojana-lengths... yet Sugreeva's confidence remained apathetic... [1-1-65]

Vali is able to throw that body, with whole of his foot, only up to two hundred bow-lengths, where the length of bow is said as six to seven feet. But Rama could kick that heap to ten yojana lengths, roughly ninety miles, only with a flip of his foot-toe's tip. But Sugreeva continued his grumbling, 'in those days this skeleton was with flesh and blood, now it became weight-less, thus show me more of your show of strength...' One Yojana is an ancient measure for distance, where that distance is covered in one yoking. Chambers dictionary puts it as five miles, and it is disagreeable for it is British-Indian revenue measure. Traditionally it is four krosha-s and thus each yojana is nine to ten miles. This is amplified elsewhere in these pages.

Govindaraja cleaves the compound utsmayitvaa to ut smayitvaa and takes ut 'to up...' and fixes it to cikshepa to mean ut cikshepa 'up-heaved and hurled...' and smayitva comes to mean 'smiling self-assuredly, or smiling self-composedly...' And Maheshvara Tiirtha says that 'when all-wise-knowers are not able to know what I am, there is no surprise if a monkey in a remote forest doubts my capability... let him see a speck of it...' thus Rama smiled in aplomb...

And the often repeated epithet to Rama mahaa baahuH means not just 'yards and yards of lengthy arms...dangling up to knees..' but 'one who does unimaginable deeds...' and his arms are the unusual instruments to perform such unusual tasks, hence ambidextrous, or omni-dextrous...

Verse Locator

बिभेद च पुनः सालान् सप्त एकेन महा इषुणा ।
गिरिम् रसातलम् चैव जनयन् प्रत्ययम् तथा ॥ १-१-६६

66. tadaa = thus; punaH ca = again, also; pratyayam janayan = certainty [in Sugreeva,] to inculcate; ekena maha ishuNaa = with one, great, arrow; sapta saalaan = seven, sala trees; girim = a mountain; rasaatalam ca eva = nethermost subterranean of earth, also, like that; bibheda = [Rama] ripped.

"Again Rama ripped seven massive trees called sala trees with only one great arrow, which not only rived the trees but also rent through a mountain, and to the nethermost subterranean of earth, in order to inculcate certainty in Sugreeva... [1-1-66]

The rasaatala is deepest subterranean plane, and it forms the base of other planes of earth called, atala, vitala, sutala, talaatala, mahaatala, rasaatala underneath the surface of earth up to its core.

Verse Locator

ततः प्रीत मनाः तेन विश्वस्तः स महाकपिः ।
किष्किंधाम् राम सहितो जगाम च गुहाम् तदा ॥ १-१-६७

67. tataH = thereby; tena = by it - by that act of Rama; priita manaaH = gladden, at heart; mahaa kapiH = great, monkey - Sugreeva; vishvataH ca = confiding in [Rama,] also; tadaa = then; raama sahitaH = Rama, along with; guham kishhkindhaam jagaama = to cave like, Kishkindha, advanced to.

"Then Sugreeva's heart is gladdened by that act of Rama and also at the prospect of his own success, and then that great monkey confiding in Rama advanced to the cave like Kishkindha along with Rama... [1-1-67]

Verse Locator

ततः अगर्जत् हरिवरः सुग्रीवो हेम पिङ्गलः ।
तेन नादेन महता निर्जगाम हरीश्वरः ॥ १-१-६८

68. tataH = then; hari varaH = monkey, the best; hema piN^galaH = one in golden, hue; sugriivaH = such a Sugreeva; agarjat = war-whooped; tena mahataa naadena = by that, loud, shout; hariH iishwara = monkeys, king [Vali]; nir jagaama = out, emerged - came out of cave like Kishkindha.

"Then that best monkey Sugreeva whose body-hue is golden war-whooped at the entrance of cave like Kishkindha, by which loud shouting there emerged Vali, the king of monkeys, out of that cave like Kishkindha... [1-1-68]

Verse Locator

अनुमान्य तदा ताराम् सुग्रीवेण समागतः ।

निजघान च तत्र एनम् शरेण एकेन राघवः ॥ १-१-६९

69. tadaa = then; [vaali = Vali]; taaraam anumaanya = Tara, having pacified; sugriiveNa samaagataH = with Sugreeva, met head on; raaghavaH ca = Raghava, also; tatra = therein that [combat]; enam = him [Vali]; ekena shareNa nijaghaana = with one, arrow, eliminated.

"Vali came out only on pacifying Tara, his wife, who deterred Vali from going to meet Sugreeva in a combat, as she doubted that Sugreeva must have come with Rama, and then Vali met Sugreeva head on... and therein that duel Raghava eliminated Vali, only with one arrow... [1-1-69]

Verse Locator

ततः सुग्रीव वचनात् हत्वा वालिनम् आहवे ।

सुग्रीवम् एव तत् राज्ये राघवः प्रत्यपादयत् ॥ १-१-७०

70. raaghavaH = Raghava; sugriiva vachanaat = Sugreeva's, upon word; aahave vaalinam hatvaa = in combat, Vali, on eliminating; tataH = then; tat raajye = in that, kingdom; sugriivam eva = Sugreeva, alone; pratyapaadayat = [Rama,] established.

"On eliminating Vali in combat upon the word of Sugreeva, then Rama established Sugreeva alone for that kingdom as its king... [1-1-70]

Verse Locator

स च सर्वान् समानीय वानरान् वानरर्षभः ।

दिशः प्रस्थापयामास दिदृक्षुः जनक आत्मजाम् ॥ १-१-७१

71. saH vaanara R^iSabhaH ca = he, who among monkeys, a bullish one - an ablest monkey [Sugreeva,] also; janaka atmajaam = Janaka's daughter - Seetha; didR^ikshuH = to catch sight of, in search of; sarvaan vaanaraan samaaniiya = all, monkeys, on summoning; dishaH prastaapayaamaasa = to all directions, sent forth.

"Sugreeva being the ablest among monkeys summoned all of the monkeys and sent them forth in all directions in search of Seetha, the daughter of Janaka... [1-1-71]

Sugreeva is acclaimed to be a strict disciplinarian, as his orders are inviolable by any. Even now the proverbial saying exists that a "command by elders is to be followed like sugreeva aaj~na 'Sugreeva's order' which is to be implemented even at each other's throats, but can not be refuted, lest those throats will be nipped off.

Verse Locator

ततो गृध्रस्य वचनात् संपातेः हनुमान् बली ।

शत योजन विस्तीर्णम् पुप्लुवे लवण अर्णवम् ॥ १-१-७२

72. tataH = later; balii hanumaan = efficacious one, Hanuma; sampateH = [named] Sampaati; gR^idhrasya vachanaat = eagle's, upon word; shata yojana vistirNam = hundred, yojana, breadth-wise; lavaNa aarNavam = salty, ocean; pupluve = leaped forth,.

"Then, upon the word of Sampaati, the eagle and elder brother of Jataayu, the efficacious Hanuma leaped forth the salty ocean, which breadth-wise is in a hundred yojana-s... [1-1-72]

Verse Locator

तत्र लंकाम् समासाद्य पुरीम् रावण पालिताम् ।
ददर्श सीताम् ध्यायन्तीम् अशोक वनिकाम् गताम् ॥ १-१-७३

73. raavaNa paalitam = Ravana, ruled by; lankaam puriim samaasaadya = Lanka, city, on reaching; tatra = there; ashoka vanikaam gataam = in Ashoka, gardens, entered [lodged]; dhyaantiim = one who is meditating; siithaam = at Seetha; dadarsha = [Hanuma] saw.

"On reaching the city Lanka ruled by Ravana, Hanuma has seen Seetha, where she is lodged in Ashoka gardens and meditating on Rama alone... [1-1-73]

Verse Locator

निवेदयित्वा अभिज्ञानम् प्रवृत्तिम् च निवेद्य च ।
समाश्वास्य च वैदेहीम् मर्दयामास तोरणम् ॥ १-१-७४

74. abhij~naanam = mark of identification [remembrancer, emblematic ring of Rama]; nivedayitvaa = on presenting [to Seetha]; pravR^ittim ca nivedya ca = disposition of Rama, also, on delineating, also; vaidehiim samaashvasya ca = Vaidehi, on solacing, also; thoraNam = welcome-arch [of Ashoka gardens]; mardayaamaasa = started to smash.

"Hanuma on presenting the remembrancer, an emblematic ring of Rama to Seetha, also on delineating the sad disposition of Rama to her, thus on solacing Vaidehi, he started to smash the welcome-arch of that beautiful Ashoka gardens... [1-1-74]

Verse Locator

पंच सेन अग्रगान् हत्वा सप्त मंत्रि सुतान् अपि ।
शूरम् अक्षम् च निष्पिष्य ग्रहणम् समुपागमत् ॥ १-१-७५

75. pa~nca sena agragaan = five, army, chiefs; sapta mantri sutaan api = seven, minister's, sons, even; hatva = on wiping out; shuuram aksham ca niSpiSyaa = valiant, Aksha, also, kneaded down; grahaNam sam upaagamat = captivity, [Hanuma] duly, entered into.

"On wiping out five army chiefs, seven sons of ministers, and on kneading down a gallant demon named Aksha Kumara, Hanuma had to enter into the captivity of a powerful weapon darted by Indrajit, the son of Ravana... [1-1-75]

Verse Locator

अस्त्रेण उन्मुक्तम् आत्मानम् ज्ञात्वा पैतामहात् वरात् ।
मर्षयन् राक्षसान् वीरो यन्त्रिणः तान् यदृच्छया ॥ १-१-७६
ततो दग्ध्वा पुरीम् लंकाम् ऋते सीताम् च मैथिलीम् ।
रामाय प्रियम् आख्यातुम् पुनः आयात् महाकपिः ॥ १-१-७७

76. viiraH = valiant one; mahaa kapiH = great, monkey [Hanuma]; paitaamahaat varaat = by Brahma's, boon; aatmanam = for himself; astreNa unmuktam = from weapon [its captivity,] release; j~natvaa = though knowing; yadR^ichchhayaa = intentionally; yantriNaH = those who tied him [with ropes]; taan raakshasaan marSayan = them, the demons [and their making monkey of,] while tolerating; tataH = there afterwards [after an audience with Ravana]; maithiliim siithaam = Mithila's, Seetha; R^ite = leaving off, excepting [her]; lankaam puriim dagdhvaa = Lanka, city, having burnt; raamaya priyam aakhyaatum = to Rama, pleasant [news,] to narrate; punaH aayaat = again, got back [to Rama.]

"Though the release from the weapon's captivity is known to him by the boon of Brahma, and though he is valiant enough to pulverise all the demons, but to see and talk to Ravana, thus to gauge the strength of enemy, Hanuma is intentionally tolerant of the demons and their making monkey of him when they fastened him with ropes and dragged him to Ravana's court. After an audience with Ravana Hanuma burnt that city Lanka, except where Seetha, the princess of Mithila is stationed, and then to narrate the pleasant news of locating Seetha, he again got back to Rama, for he is a great monkey... [1-1-76, 77]

This is in sundara kaanDa. Hanuma sees Ravana and others in the court, creates a scene there, as a show of his side strength, and only to prove that the riches and wealth enjoyed at the cost others will burn down to ashes on some day, Hanuma burns everything down, except the place where Seetha is stationed, besides Vibheeshana's place, for he is the prospective adherer of Rama. This episode is to relegate the false pride of Ravana, and as a symbolic suggestion that pomp and effluence without virtue are short lived.

Verse Locator

सः अभिगंय महात्मानम् कृत्वा रामम् प्रदक्षिणम् ।
न्यवेदयत् अमेयात्मा दृष्टा सीता इति तत्त्वतः ॥ १-१-७८

78. ameya aatmaa = inestimable, intellectual [Hanuma]; saH = he that Hanuma; mahaa aatmaanam raamam = great, souled one, to Rama; abhigamya = m on approaching; pradakshiNam kR^itva = circumambulation [in reverence,] on performing [around Rama]; siithaa dR^iSTaa = Seetha, is seen; iti = in this way; tattvataH = in subtlety; nyavedayat = submitted.

"That inestimable intellectual Hanuma on approaching that great-souled Rama, and on performing circumambulation around him in reverence, subtly submitted that, 'Seen... Seetha...' [1-1-78]

Verse Locator

ततः सुग्रीव सहितो गत्वा तीरम् महा उदधेः ।
समुद्रम् क्षोभयामास शरैः आदित्य सन्निभैः ॥ १-१-७९

79. tataH sugriiva sahitaH = then, Sugreeva, along with; mahaa udadheH tiiram gatvaa = of great ocean, to shore, on reaching; aaditya sannibhaiH sharaiH = Sun, similar, with arrows/sunrays; samudram kshobhayaamaasa = Samudra, the Ocean-god, [Rama] started to put to turmoil.

"Then, Rama along with Sugreeva and other monkeys has gone to the seashore of Great Ocean, and when Ocean-god is unyielding to give way, then he started to put the Ocean-god to turmoil with his arrows, as with Sun-god who puts an ocean to turmoil with his sunrays... [1-1-79]

Rama became angry at the ocean for not yielding way to the crossover. In order to make way through the ocean, Rama starts depleting its waters with arrows, sharaaH and in Sanskrit this word synonyms with the rays of sun, and therefore the similitude of Rama with Sun-god.

Verse Locator

दर्शयामास च आत्मानम् समुद्रः सरिताम् पतिः ।
समुद्र वचनात् च एव नलम् सेतुम् अकारयत् ॥ १-१-८०

80. saritaam patiH samudraH = rivers, husband, ocean; aatmaanam darshayaamaasa = himself, revealed; and Rama; samudra vachanaat ca eva = Ocean-god, upon the word of, also, even; nalam setum akaarayata = by Nala, bridge, put up to build.

"The Ocean-god revealed himself and upon the word of that Ocean-god alone, Rama put up vanara Nala to build a bridge across the ocean... [1-1-80]

Nala, a Vanara engineer, had a boon from his mother. In his childhood he used to throw playthings into water, only to see them floating. But they were all submerged. His mother then gave a boon to him saying that

तेन गत्वा पुरीम् लंकाम् हत्वा रावणम् आहवे ।

रामः सीताम् अनुप्राप्य पराम् व्रीडाम् उपागमत् ॥ १-१-८१

81. raamaH = Rama; tena = by that - bridge; lankaam puriim gatvaa = to the city, Lanka, having gone to; aahave raavaNam hatvaa = in battle, Ravana, on eliminating; siitaam praapya = Seetha, on redeeming; anu = subsequently; paraam vriiDaam upaagamat = much, humiliation, came down with.

"On going to the city Lanka by that bridge and on eliminating Ravana in battle, Rama redeemed Seetha, but he subsequently came down with much humiliation, since redeeming Seetha in enemy's place might become controversial... [1-1-81]

ताम् उवाच ततः रामः परुषम् जन संसदि ।

अमृष्यमाणा सा सीता विवेश ज्वलनम् सती ॥ १-१-८२

82. tataH = thereupon; raamaH = Rama; jana samsadi = among people's, assemblages; taam = [with] her; paruSam uvaaca = harshly, spoke; satii = [being a] husband-devout woman; saa siitaa = she, that Seetha; amR^ishhyamaaNaa = intolerant [of the harsh words of Rama]; jvalanam vivesha = into burning fire, she entered.

"Then Rama spoke harsh words to Seetha among the assemblages of monkeys, demons, and others, but she that Seetha being husband-devout has entered the burning fire intolerant of those unkindly words of Rama... [1-1-82]

ततः अग्नि वचनात् सीताम् ज्ञात्वा विगत कल्मषाम् ।

कर्मणा तेन महता त्रैलोक्यम् स चराचरम् ॥ १-१-८३

स देवर्षि गणम् तुष्टम् राघवस्य महात्मनः ॥

बभौ रामः संप्रहृष्टः पूजितः सर्व देवतैः ॥ १-१-८४

83. tataH agni vachanaat = then, Fire-god, upon the word of; siitaam = about Seetha; vigata kalmaSaam = rid of, sins; j~natva = on realising; sam pra hR^isTaH = very, highly, gladdened; sarva devataiH = by all, gods; raamaH = Rama is; puujitaH babhau = revered, he became self-resplendent; mahaa aatmanaH = of great, souled one; raaghavsya = of Raghava; mahataa tena karmaNaa = by great, that, accomplishment - of eliminating Ravana; sa cara acharam = with, mobile, sessile beings; sa deva R^ishi gaNam = with, gods, hermits, observance; traia lokyam = three, worlds; tuSTham = became exultant.

"Then, upon the word Fire-god,, and Rama realised that Seetha is rid of sins and he is very highly gladdened. And when all the gods revered him for his great accomplishment in eliminating Ravana, Rama shone forth with his self-resplendence. Thus all the three worlds inclusive of their mobile and sessile beings, all gods with the observances of hermits have become exultant for this great accomplishment of the great souled Raghava... [1-1-83, 84]

अभ्यषिच्य च लंकायाम् राक्षस इन्द्रम् विभीषणम् ।

कृतकृत्यः तदा रामो विज्वरः प्रमुमोद ह ॥ १-१-८५

85. raamaH = Rama; vibhiishhaNam = Vibheeshana; raakshasa indram = as demons', chieftain; lakaayaam abhishhichya = in Lanka, on anointing; tadaa = then; kR^ita kR^itya = fulfilled, of his task; he felt so and; vi jvaraH = without, febrility [about any uncertainty of fulfilling his promises]; pra mumoda = highly, rejoiced [excepting for Jatayu]; ha = indeed.

"Enthroning Vibheeshana as the chieftain of demons in Lanka, then feeling that his task is fulfilled, Rama indeed rejoiced highly getting rid of febrility about any uncertainty of fulfilling his promises, excepting for Jatayu... [1-1-85]

Verse Locator

देवताभ्यो वराम् प्राप्य समुत्थाप्य च वानरान् ।
अयोध्याम् प्रस्थितः रामः पुष्पकेण सुहृत् वृतः ॥ १-१-८६

86. raamaH = Rama; devataabhyaH varam praapya = from gods, boon, on obtaining; vaanaraan = monkeys; sam utthaapya ca = really, got [dead monkeys] up, also; su hR^it = good, hearted ones; vR^itaH = around him; pushhpakeNa = by Pushpaka aircraft; ayodhyaam prasthitaH = towards Ayodhya, travelled;

"Rama obtained boon from gods to get all the dead monkeys up on their feet as though woken up from sleep, and he travelled towards Ayodhya by Pushpaka aircraft, with all the good hearted friends around him... [1-1-86]

Verse Locator

भरद्वाज आश्रमम् गत्वा रामः सत्यपराक्रमः ।
भरतस्य अंतिकम् रामो हनूमंतम् व्यसर्जयत् ॥ १-१-८७

87. satya paraakramaH = by truthfulness, a valorous one; raamaH = Rama; raamaH = one who pleases one and all; bharadvaaja aashramam gatvaa = Sage Bharadwaja's, hermitage, on going; hanuumantam = Hanuma; bharatasya antikam vyasarjayat = Bharata, to the near of, [Hanuma] is let off, is sent.

"Rama, the truth-valiant, has gone to the hermitage of Sage Bharadwaja en route, and he has also sent Hanuma to the near of Bharata beforehand... [1-1-87]

Verse Locator

पुनः आख्यायिकाम् जल्पन् सुग्रीव सहितः तदा ।
पुष्पकम् तत् समारूढ्य नंदिग्रामम् ययौ तदा ॥ १-१-८८

88. punaH = further; sugriiva sahitaH saH = Sugreeva, along with, he that Rama; tat pushhpakam sam aaruuhya = that, Pushpaka [aircraft,] well boarded; aakhyaayikaam jalpan = episodes, jovially telling; tadaa = then; nandigraamam yayau = to Nandigrama, went to.

"Then on boarding Pushpaka aircraft again after leaving the hermitage of Bharadwaja, and telling episodes jovially to Sugreeva and others about the events in the days of his exile in forests, while flying overhead of the very same places, Rama went to Nandigrama, where Bharata is available... [1-1-88]

Verse Locator

नंदिग्रामे जटाम् हित्वा भ्रातृभिः सहितो अनघः ।
रामः सीताम् अनुप्राप्य राज्यम् पुनः अवाप्तवान् ॥ १-१-८९

89. anaghaH raamaH = impeccable, Rama; nandigrame = in Nandigrama; bhraatR^ibhiH sahitaH = brothers, joining with; jaTaam hitvaa = matted hair-locks, removed; siitaam anupraapya = Seetha, on regaining; punaH raajyam avaaptavaan = again, kingdom, regained.

"That impeccable Rama rejoining with all of his brothers in the village Nandigrama removed his matted locks of hair along with them. Thus he, on regaining Seetha and on discarding hermit's role again became a householder, and he regained his kingdom also... [1-1-89]

Verse Locator

प्रहृष्टो मुदितो लोकः तुष्टः पुष्टः सुधार्मिकः ।
निरामयो हि अरोगः च दुर्भिक्ष भय वर्जितः ॥ १-१-९०

90. [tataH = then, when Rama is enthroned]; lokaH = world is; pra hR^isTaH muditaH = highly, regaled, rejoiced; tuSThaH = exuberant; puSThaH = abundant; su dhaarmikaH = rightly, righteous; niraamayaH = without, troubles; a rogaH = without diseases; durbhiksha bhaya varjitaH = famine, fear, free from.

"When Rama is enthroned then the world will be highly regaled and rejoiced, exuberant and abundant, also rightly righteous, trouble-free, disease-free, and free from fear of famine..." Thus Narada is foreseeing the future and telling Valmiki. [1-1-90]

Verse Locator

न पुत्र मरणम् केचित् द्रक्ष्यन्ति पुरुषाः क्वचित् ।
नार्यः च अविधवा नित्यम् भविष्यन्ति पति व्रताः ॥ १-१-९१

91. puruSaaH = men; kvachit = anywhere; kimchit = in the least; putra maraNam = son's, death; na drakshkyanti = will not, see [men are not seeing]; naaryaH ca = ladies, also; a vidhavaaH = without, being widowed; nityam = always; pati vrataaH = husband, devout; bhavishhyanti = they will become [women will be.]

"While Rama is on the throne men will not see the deaths of their children anywhere in their lifetime, and the ladies will remain husband-devout and unwidowed during their lifetime... [1-1-91]

When it is said that 'women are un-widowed and their husbands are ever living...' Dasharatha's widows can be pointed to contradict this statement. But it is said 'when a woman is with her son/sons living, though her husband dies, she is still a 'wife of somebody...' thus she is still un-widowed.

Verse Locator

न च अग्निजम् भयम् किञ्चित् न अप्सु मज्जन्ति जन्तवः ।
न वातजम् भयम् किञ्चित् न अपि ज्वर कृतम् तथा ॥ १-१-९२
न च अपि क्षुत् भयम् तत्र न तस्कर भयम् तथा ।

92, 93a. tatra = there - in his kingdom; agni jam bhayam = by, caused, fear; kimchit = in the least; na = is not there; jantavaH apsu na majjanti = cattle, in [flood] waters, not, drowning; vaata jam bhayam = wind, caused, fear; kimchit = in the least; na = is not there; tathaa = likewise; jvara kR^itam api = fever [disease] caused by, even; na = is not there; kshut bhayam api = hunger, fear, even; na = is not there; tathaa = likewise; taskara bhayam = thief, fear from; na = is not there.

"In the kingdom of Rama there is no fear for subjects from wildfires, gale-storms or from diseases, and there is no fear from hunger or thieves, nor the cattle is drowned in floodwaters, as well... [1-1-92, 93a]

Verse Locator

नगराणि च राष्ट्राणि धन धान्य युतानि च ॥ १-१-९३
नित्यम् प्रमुदिताः सर्वे यथा कृत युगे तथा ।

93b, 94a. nagaraaNi raasTraNi ca = townships, remote] provinces, as well; dhana dhaanya yutaani = wealth [coin,] grain, having [replete with]; sarve kR^ita yuge yathaa = all subjects, Krita era, as to how [people lived]; tathaa = likewise; nityam pra muditaaH = always, highly, gladdened.

"May it be a township or a remote province, it will be replete with coin and grain, and as to how people lived in high gladness during the earlier Krita era, likewise people will live in Rama's period also with the same gladness... [1-1-93b, 94a]

Verse Locator

अश्वमेध शतैः इष्ट्वा तथा बहु सुवर्णकैः ॥ १-१-९४
गवाम् कोट्ययुतम् दत्त्वा विद्वभ्यो विधि पूर्वकम् ।
असंख्येयम् धनम् दत्त्वा ब्राह्मणेभ्यो महायशाः ॥ १-१-९५

94b, 95a. mahaa yashaaH = highly, illustrious [Rama]; ashvamedha shataiH = Horse Rituals, hundreds; tathaa = like that; bahu suvarNakaiH = plenteous, gold [rituals in which plenty of gold is donated]; iSThvaa = on performing; gavaam koTi ayutam = cows, in crores [millions,] ten thousand; a sankhyaayam = not, countable; dhanam = wealth; braahmaNebhyaH = to Brahmans; vidvabhyaH = to scholars; vidhi puurvakam = customarily; dattvaa = on donating; [brahma lokam gamishhyati = to Brahma's, abode, he will proceed.]

"On performing hundreds of Horse-Rituals and rituals wherein plenteous gold is bounteously donated, likewise on donating millions of cows and uncountable wealth to Brahmans and scholars, that highly illustrious Rama will proceed to Brahma's abode, in future... [1-1-94b, 95a]

By the wording 'highly illustrious...' Govindaraja tells that 'for a small criticism from a small fellow, Rama deserted his wife... hence he is illustrious...' Then 'he will go to Brahma's abode...' a repeated expression, indicates that this epic is composed during Rama's time as he also gave an ear to it through Kusha and Lava, so his journey to heaven will happen henceforth from now.

Verse Locator

राज वंशान् शत गुणान् स्थाप इष्यति राघवः ।
चातुर् वर्ण्यम् च लोके अस्मिन् स्वे स्वे धर्मे नियोक्ष्यति ॥ १-१-९६

96. raaghava = Raghava; asmin loke = in this, world; sata guNaan = in hundred folds; raja vamshaan = king's, dynasties; sthaapaiSyati = will establish; chaatur varNyam = four, caste-system; sve sve dharme niyokhsyati = in their, their, probity, posit in.

"In this world Raghava will establish kingly dynasties in hundredfold and he will be maintaining the four-caste system positing each in his own probity, may it be caste-bound or provincial-kingdom-bound probity, in order to achieve a perfect social harmony... [1-1-96]

Verse Locator

दश वर्ष सहस्राणि दश वर्ष शतानि च ।
रामो राज्यम् उपासित्वा ब्रह्म लोकम् प्रयास्यति ॥ १-१-९७

97. raamaH = Rama; dasha varSa sahasraaNi = ten, years, thousand; dasa varsha sataani ca = ten, years, hundred, also; raajyam upaasitvaa = kingdom, on reverencing; brahma lokam gamishhyati = Brahma's abode, voyages.

"On reverencing the kingdom for ten thousand years plus another one thousand years, i.e. for a total of eleven thousand years, Rama voyages to the abode of Brahma... [1-1-97]

In rama raajyam upaasitvaa... the word used is upaasana is not ruling by sceptre but it is 'reverentially idolising the kingdom...' as one would regard or treat his personal god with reverence. Rama thus revered his kingdom as a devotee of his subjects and this is the concept of raama raajya. The brahma loka is not the abode of four-faced Brahma, but still higher abode, rather vaikunTha itself.

Verse Locator

इदम् पवित्रम् पापघ्नम् पुण्यम् वेदैः च संमितम् ।
यः पठेत् राम चरितम् सर्व पापैः प्रमुच्यते ॥ १-१-९८

98. pavitram = holy; papa ghnam = sin, eradicating; puNyam = merit-endowing; vedaiH sammitam ca = with [teachings of] all Veda-s, conformable, even; idam = this; raama caritam = Rama's, legend; yaH = who [whoever]; paThet = studies; sarva paapaiH pra mucchyate = from all, sins, verily, liberated.

"This Ramayana is holy, sin-eradicating, merit-endowing, and conformable with the teachings of all Vedas... and whoever reads this Legend of Rama, he will be verily liberated of all his sins... [1-1-98]

Verse Locator

एतत् आख्यानम् आयुष्यम् पठन् रामायणम् नरः ।
स पुत्र पौत्रः स गणः प्रेत्य स्वर्गे महीयते ॥ १-१-९९

99. aayuSyam = lifespan-enriching; aakhyaanam = narrative of actuality; etat = this; raama aayaNam = Rama's, peregrination; paThan = while reading - if read; naraH = a human; sa putraH pautraH = [will be] with, with sons, grandsons; sa gaNaH = with, groups [of kinfolk, servants etc]; on enjoying worldly comforts; pretya = after demise; svarge mahiiyate = in heaven, he will be adored.

"Any man who reads this lifespan-enriching narrative of actuality, Ramayana, the peregrination of Rama, he will be enjoying worldly pleasures with his sons and grand sons and with assemblages of kinfolks, servants et al., as long as he is in this mortal world and on his demise, he will be adored in heaven... [1-1-99]

Verse Locator

पठन् द्विजो वाक् ऋषभत्वम् ईयात् ।
स्यात् क्षत्रियो भूमि पतित्वम् ईयात् ॥
वणिक् जनः पण्य फलत्वम् ईयात् ।
जनः च शूद्रो अपि महत्त्वम् ईयात् ॥ १-१-१००

100. paThan = he who reads this Ramayana; janaH = that man; dvijaH syaat = a Brahman, if he were to be; he will be; vaak R^ishhabhatvam iyaat = in speech, bullishness [shrewdness, excellency] obtains; kshatriyaH [syat] = Kshatriya, [if he were to be]; bhuumi patitvam iyaat = on land, lordship, he obtains; vaNik janaH = Vyasya, person [if he were to be]; paNya phalatvam iyaat = by sale items, monetary-gains, he accrues; shuudraH api ca = Shudra, even, also, [if he were to be]; mahatvam iyaat = [personal] excellence, he acquires.

"A man reading this Ramayana happens to be a Brahman, one from teaching-class, he obtains excellency in his speech, and should he be Kshatriya person from ruling-class, he obtains land-lordship, and should he be Vyshya person from trading-class, he accrues monetary-gains, and should he be a Shudra person from working class, he acquires his personal excellence..." Thus Sage Narada gave a gist of Ramayana to Sage-poet Valmiki. [1-1-100]

gAyatri rAmAyaNa

In the first chapter of Bala Kanda the gist of Ramayana is imbibed and it called samkshepa raaamayana, or also called bala raamaayana . The youngsters are asked to recite these stanzas daily for longevity and a perfect personality like that of Rama. The summarised stanzas reflected here are from the main epic. The canto-wise summarisation is as below:

1. Bala Kanda [Book I] verses I-1-8 to 18
2. Ayodhya Kanda [Book II] verses I-1-18 to 28
3. Aranya Kanda [Book III] verses I-1-29 to 57
4. Kishkindha Kanda [Book IV] I-1-58 to 71
5. Sundar Kanda [Book V] I-1-72 to 78
6. Yuddha Kanda [Book VI] I-1-79 to 90
7. Uttara Ramayana [Book VII] I-1-91 to 97
8. Phala Shruti [Results of Recitation] I-1-98 to 100

Valmiki composed Ramayana according to the letters of Gayatri Hymn and they are identified with the following verses in all cantos:

श्लोकेन प्रति साहस्रं प्रथमे क्रमात् ।
गायत्रि अक्षरम् एकैकम् स्थापयामास वै मुनिः ॥

१. त -

तपः स्वाध्याय निरताम् तपस्वी वाग्विदाम् वरम् ।
नारदम् परि पप्रच्छ वाल्मीकिर् मुनि पुंगवम् ॥ १-१-१

२. स -

स हत्वा राक्षसान् सर्वान् यज्ञ घ्नान् रघुनन्दनः ।
ऋषिभिः पूजितः तत्र यथा इन्द्रो विजये पुरा ॥ १-३०-२४

३. वि -

विश्वामित्रः स रामास्तु श्रुत्वा जनक भाषितम् ।
वत्स राम धनुः पश्य इति राघवम् अब्रवीत् ॥ १-६७-१२ - बालकाण्डम्

४. तु -

तुष्टाव अस्य तदा वंशम् प्रविश्य स विशाम् पतेः ।
शयनीयम् नरेन्द्रस्य तत् आसाद्य व्यतिष्ठत ॥ २-१५-१९

५. व -

वनवासम् हि संख्याय वासांसि आभरणानि च ।
भर्तारम् अनुगच्छन्त्यै सीतायै श्वशुरो ददौ ॥ २-४०-१४

६. रा -

राजा सत्यम् च धर्मः च राजा कुलवताम् कुलम् ।
राजा माता पित चैव राजा हितकरो नृणाम् ॥ २-६७-३४

७. नि -

निरीक्ष्य स मुहूर्तम् तु ददर्श भरतो गुरुम् ।
उटजे रामम् आसीनम् जटा मण्डल धारिणम् ॥ २-९९-२५ - अयोध्याकाण्डम्

८. य -

यदि बुद्धिः कृता द्रष्टुम् अगस्त्यम् तम् महामुनिम् ।

अद्य एव गमने रोचयस्व महायशः ॥ ३-११-४४

९. भ -

भरतस्य आर्य पुत्रस्य श्वश्रूणाम् मम च प्रभो ।

मृग रुपम् इदम् व्यक्तम् विस्मयम् जनयिष्यति ॥ ३-४३-१८

१०. ग -

गच्छ शीघ्रम् इतो राम सुग्रीवम् तम् महाबलम् ।

वयस्यम् तम् कुरु क्षिप्रम् इतो गत्वा अद्य राघव ॥ ३-७२-१७ - अरण्यकाण्डम्

११. दे -

देश कालौ प्रतीक्षस्व क्षममाणः प्रिय अप्रिये ।

सुख दुःख सहः कले सुग्रीव वशगो भव ॥ ४-२२-२०

१२. व -

वंधाः ते तु तपः सिद्ध सप्तसा वीत कल्मषाः ।

प्रष्टव्याः ते अपि सीतायाः प्रवृत्तिम् विनय अन्वितैः ॥ ४-४३-३३ - किष्किन्धाकाण्डम्

१३. स -

स निर्जित्य पुरिम् श्रेष्ठाम् लंकाम् ताम् काम रूपिणीम् ।

विक्रमेण महतेजा हनुमान् मारुत आत्मज ॥ ५-४-१

१४. ध -

धन्या देवाः स गन्धर्वा सिद्धाः च परम ऋषयः ।

मम पश्यन्ति ये नाथम् रामम् राजीव लोचनम् ॥ ५-२६-४१

१५. म -

मंगलाभिमुखी तस्य सा तदा आसित् महाकपेः ।

उपतस्थे विशालाक्षी प्रयता हव्यवाहनम् ॥ ५-५३-२८ - सुन्दरकाण्डम्

१६. हि -

हितम् महार्थम् मृदु हेतु संहितम्

व्यतीत कालायति संप्रति क्षमम् ।

निशंय तद् वाक्यम् उपस्थित ज्वरः

प्रसंगवान् उत्तरम् एतत् अब्रवीत् ॥ ६-१०-२७

१७. ध -

धर्मात्मा रक्षसाम् श्रेष्ठः संप्राप्तो अयम् विभीषणः ।

लंकैश्वर्यम् ध्रुवम् श्रीमान् अयम् प्राप्नोति अकण्टकम् ॥ ६-४१-६७

१८. यो -

यो वज्र पाता अशनि सन्निपातान्

न चुक्षुभे वा अपि चचाल राजा ।

स राम बाणा अभिहतो भृश आर्तः

चचाल चापम् च मुमोच वीरः ॥ ६-५९-१४१

१९. य -

यस्य विक्रमम् आसाद्य राक्षस निधनम् गताः ।
तम् मन्ये राघवम् वीरम् नारायणम् अनामयम् ॥ ६-७२-११

२०. न -

न ते ददृशिरे रामम् दहंतम् अरि वाहिनीम् ।
मोहिताः परम अस्त्रेण गान्धर्वेण महात्मना ॥ ६-९३-२६

२१. प्र -

प्रणय देवताभ्यः च ब्राह्मणेभ्यः च मैथिली ।
बद्ध अंजली पुटा च इदम् उवाच अग्नि समीपतः ॥ ६-११६-२४ - युद्धकाण्डम्

२२. च -

चलनात् पर्वत इन्द्रस्य गणा देवाः च कंपिताः ।
चचाल पार्वती च अपि तदा आश्लिष्टा महेश्वरम् ॥ ७-१६-२६

२३. द -

दाराः पुत्रा पुरम् राष्ट्रम् भोग आच्छादन भाजनम् ।
सर्वम् एव अविभक्तम् नो भविष्यति हरि ईश्वरः ॥ ७-३४-४१

२४. य -

याम् एव रात्रिम् शत्रुघ्नः पर्ण शालाम् समाविशत् ।
ताम् एव रात्रिम् सीता अपि प्रसूता दाकर द्वयम् ॥ ७-६६-१ - उत्तरकाण्डम्

इदम् रामायणम् कृत्स्नम् गायत्री बीज संयुतम् ।
त्रि संध्यम् यः पठेत् नित्यम् सर्व पापैः प्रमुच्यते ॥

यावत् आवर्तते चक्रम् यावति च वसुंधरा ।
तावत् वर्ष सहस्राणि स्वामित्वम् अवधारय ॥
मंगलम् कोसलेन्द्राय महनीय गुणात्मने ।
चक्रवर्ति तनूजाय सार्वभौमाय मंगलम् ॥

इति गायत्री रामायणम् संपूर्णम्

इति वाल्मीकि रामायणे आदि काव्ये बाल काण्डे प्रथमः सर्गः ॥

Book I : Bala Kanda - Book Of Youthful Majesties

Chapter [Sarga] 2

Verses converted to UTF-8 - Sep 2009

Introduction

Sage Valmiki goes to River Tamasa for a bath and sees a couple of birds, of which a hunter kills one. Valmiki unintentionally utters a poem, which is rich in grammar and new in metre, of which he is very much confused as to why such a poem has come from his tongue. Brahma, the presiding deity of letters appears and ordains Valmiki to author Ramayana, excellent epic of Rama, for which purpose alone he gave such divine meter and grammar to him.

Verse Locator

नारदस्य तु तद्वाक्यम् श्रुत्वा वाक्य विशारदः ।

पूजयामास धर्मात्मा सह शिष्यो महामुनिः ॥ १-२-१

1. naaradasya tu= of Narada, but; tat vaakyam shrutvaa = that, sentence, on hearing; vaakya vishaaradaH = sentence-maker, the eminent [Valmiki]; dharmaatmaa = virtue minded one [Valmiki]; mahaa muniH = great sage [Valmiki]; saha shiSyah = along with, disciples; puujayaamaasa = started to revere [Narada.]

On hearing that sentence of that eminent sentence-maker Sage Narada, [that contains , or Ramayana in a nutshell, narrated in the previous chapter,] that great sage of virtuous mind, namely Valmiki, revered the Divine Sage Narada, along with his disciples. [1-2-1]

Verse Locator

यथावत् पूजितः तेन देवर्षिः नारदः तथा ।

आपृच्छैव अभ्यनुज्ञातः स जगाम विहायसम् ॥ १-२-२

2. deva R^ishi = divine, sage; saH = he, Narada; tena = by him [by Valmiki]; thathaa = that way; yathavat puujitaH = befittingly, when worshipped; apR^icCha eva = on seeking [permission to leave,] only; abhyanuj~nataH = having permitted [by Valmiki]; vihaayasam = heaven-ward; jagaama = went away.

That divine sage Narada is worshipped that way by Valmiki in a befitting way, and on seeking permission of Valmiki to leave, and having been permitted by Valmiki went away heavenward. [1-2-2]

Verse Locator

स मुहूर्तं गते तस्मिन् देवलोकम् मुनिः तदा ।

जगाम तमसा तीरम् जाह्नव्यात् अविदूरतः ॥ १-२-३

3. tasmin = he, that Narada; muhuurtam devalokam gate = in a moment [after,] god's world, heavens, having gone; tadaa = then; saH muniH = he, that sage Valmiki; jaahnavyaat avi duurataH = from Jahnavi river, not, far-off from [nearby to Jahnavi river]; tamasaa tiiram jagaama = Tamasa, riverbanks, proceeded to.

A while after the departure of Narada to heavens, Valmiki proceed to the riverbanks of Tamasa, which are not far-off from River Jahnavai [i.e., River Ganga.] [1-2-3]

Verse Locator

स तु तीरम् समासाद्य तमसाया मुनिः तदा ।
शिष्यम् आह स्थितम् पार्श्वे दृष्ट्वा तीर्थम् अकर्दमम् ॥ १-२-४

4. saH tu = he [Valmiki,] but; muniH tadaa = sage, then; tamasaayaa = of Tamasa; tiiram sam aasaadya = riverbank, drawing nigh of; a kardamam = not, filthy; tiirtham = strand [n. esp. poet. the margin of a sea, lake, or river, esp. the foreshore]; dR^iSTva = on beholding; paarshve sthitam shiSyam aaha = at his side, available, to disciple, spoke to.

Then Valmiki drew nigh of River Tamasa's riverbanks, and on beholding an un-filthy strand of that river, he spoke to his disciple available at his side. [1-2-5]

Verse Locator

अकर्दमम् इदम् तीर्थम् भरद्वाज निशामय ।
रमणीयम् प्रसन्न अम्बु सन् मनुष्य मनो यथा ॥ १-२-५

5. bharadwaja; san manuSyah manaH yatha = noble, man's, bosom [heart,] as with; a kardamam = not, filthy; prasanna ambu = with pleasant, waters; ramaNiiyam = heart pleasing; idam tiirtham = this, watery foreshore; nishaamaya = you behold.

"Oh! Bharadwaja, un-filthy is this watery foreshore, and with pleasant waters it is heart pleasing... like a noble man's heart... behold it... [1-2-5]

Verse Locator

न्यस्यताम् कलशः तात दीयताम् वल्कलम् मम ।
इदम् एव अवगाहिष्ये तमसा तीर्थम् उत्तमम् ॥ १-२-६

6. taata = my dear; nyasyataam kalasaH = be kept [there,] handy-vessel [kamanDulu]; mama = to me; valkalam diiyataam = jute loincloth, be given; idam = this; uttamam = best one; tamasa tiirtham eva = Tamasa, ford, only; avagaahiSyee = I will enter.

"Keep that handy-vessel there, and give me my loincloth... I will enter only this best ford of Tamasa River... [1-2-6]

Verse Locator

एवम् उक्तो भरद्वाजो वाल्मीकेन महात्मना ।
प्रयच्छत मुनेः तस्य वल्कलम् नियतः गुरोः ॥ १-२-७

7. mahaatmanaa valmiikena = by great-souled, Valmiki; evam uktaH = that way, when said; bharadwaajaH = bharadwaaja; guroH niyataH = to his mentor, humble one; tasya muneH = to that, saint; valkalam prayacChata = jute-cloth, gave.

When Bharadwaaja is said that way by great-souled Valmiki, himself being a humble one before his mentor gave that jute-cloth to that saint, that humbly. [1-2-7]

Verse Locator

स शिष्य हस्तात् आदाय वल्कलम् नियतेन्द्रियः ।
विचचार ह पश्यन् तत् सर्वतो विपुलम् वनम् ॥ १-२-८

8. niyata indriyaH = who controlled, his senses [self-controlled]; saH = he, Valmiki; shishya hastaat = from disciple's, hands; valkalam = loincloth; aadaaya = on taking; pasyan sarvataH = looking, everywhere; tat vipulam vanam = that, wide, of forest; vichachaara ha = ambled [towards waters,] indeed.

That self-controlled Sage Valmiki on taking loincloth from his disciple's hands, indeed ambled towards the river, looking everywhere at the wide of forest. [1-2-8]

Verse Locator

तस्य अभ्याशे तु मिथुनम् चरन्तम् अनपायिनम् ।
ददर्श भगवान् तत्र क्रौञ्चयोः चारु निस्वनम् ॥ १-२-९

9. bhagavaan = godly sage; tatra = there; tasya abhyaase tu = in its [in foreshore's,] vicinity, but; an apaayinam = not, leaving one another [or, not fearing any danger]; charantam = moving about, flying there about; chaaru nisvanam = charmingly, calling; krounchayoH = two krouncha birds [a lovely birds, not herons]; midhunam = a couple; dadarsha = he saw.

There godly sage Valmiki saw a couple of lovely krouncha birds, in the vicinity of that river's foreshore, flying there about in togetherness, [and of course, fearless of any calamity,] and calling charmingly [1-2-9]

Verse Locator

तस्मात् तु मिथुनात् एकम् पुमांसम् पाप निश्चयः ।
जघान वैरनिलयो निषादः तस्य पश्यतः ॥ १-२-१०

10. papa nischayaH = evil, in intent; vyra = enemy of; nilayaH = abode of birds and animals [foresters]; nishaadaH = a tribal hunter; tasmaat midhunaat tu = of them, but, of couple; ekam = one; pumaamsam = male one; tasya pasyataH = on his [Valmiki's,] while looking on; jaghaana = killed.

A tribal hunter with all his evil intent, as he is an enemy of foresters, killed the male one of them the couple of birds, while Valmiki is looking on. [1-2-10]

Verse Locator

तम् शोणित परीताङ्गम् चेष्टमानम् महीतले ।
भार्या तु निहतम् दृष्ट्वा रुराव करुणाम् गिरम् ॥ १-२-११
वियुक्ता पतिना तेन द्विजेन सहचारिणा ।
ताम्र शीर्षेण मत्तेन पत्रिणा सहितेन वै । १-२-१२

11-12. patinaa = with husband; saha chaariNa = along with, moving - together with husband; which husband is with; taamra siirSeNa = red, crested [hence, a proud male bird]; matten = lusty one; patriNaa = with good wings; sahitena = always has his heart for her; tena dvijena = from that, bird [male bird]; viyukata = separated; bhaarya tu = wife of, [female bird,] but; nihitam = slain; mahii tale = on ground, surface; ceSTamaanam = reeling; shoNita pariita angam = blood, covered, wings [or body]; tam dR^iSTva = him [male bird,] on seeing; karuNaam giram = with piteous, utterances; ru raava = lamented, made wailing sounds; vai = really.

She who is ever together with her husband, a lusty male bird with flighty wings and with a prideful red crest, and one who always had a heart for her, but she is now separated from him, and gone is that togetherness; and she, on seeing her slain husband whose body is blood-soaked, and who is reeling on the ground in the anguish of pain, bewailed with piteous utterances. [1-2-11, 12]

In this verse the gist of Ramayana through the bewailing queen of Ravana, namely Mandodari, is indicated. bharyaa tu wife [of Ravana,] Mandodari, but; taamra shiirSeNa from the one who is with red crest crown, which crown is decorated with red jewels etc - i.e., Ravana; patriNaa from the one who has winged vehicles, like Pushpaka aircraft etc - i.e., Ravana; mattena from the one who is intoxicated with Brahma's boons; sahitena one who is surrounded by Indrajit, Vibhishana, Kumbhakarna et al. tena dvijena = from such a Braahman, namely Ravana; viyuktaa = separated from; and one who is presently; nihitam = slain - i.e., Ravana by Rama; mahii tale = on ground, surface; ceSTamaanam = reeling; shoNita pariita angam = blood, covered, limbs; at such a Ravana; dR^iSTva = [Mandodari] having seen; she; karuNaam giram = with piteous, utterances; ru raava = highly, lamented. Govindaraja.

Verse Locator

तथा विधिम् द्विजम् दृष्ट्वा निषादेन निपातितम् ।
ऋशेः धर्मात्मानः तस्य कारुण्यम् समपद्यत ॥ १-२-१३

13. tathaa vidhim = that, way; niSadena nipaaitam = by hunter, felled; dvijam dR^iSTvaa = at bird, on seeing; dharma aatmaanaH = for that kind, hearted one; tasya R^isheH = to that, sage; kaaruNyam samapadyata = compassion, occasioned.

On seeing at that bird felled that way by the tribal hunter, compassion is aroused in that kind-hearted sage Valmiki. [1-2-13]

Verse Locator

ततः करुण वेदित्वात् अधर्मो अयम् इति द्विजः ।
निशाय रुदतीम् क्रौन्चीम् इदम् वचनम् अब्रैइत् ॥ १-२-१४

14. tataH = then; dvijaH = sage Valmiki; rudatiim krounchiim nishaamya = wailing, female bird, on seeing; karuNa veditvaat = compassion, haunting him; ayam adharmah iti = this is, unjust, thus thinking, thus apperceiving; idam vacanam abraiit = this, sentence, said, uttered.

Then on seeing the wailing female krounchi bird, compassion haunting him and apperceiving the killing of male bird as unjust, the sage uttered this sentence... [1-2-14]

Verse Locator

मा निषाद प्रतिष्ठाम्त्व । मगमः शाश्वतीः समाः ।
यत् क्रौञ्च मिथुनात् एक । मवधीः काम मोहितम् ॥ १-२-१५

15. ama = oh, ill-fate one; niSaada = oh, hunter; tvam = you; yat = by which reason; krau~Ncha mithunaat = of krouncha, couple; ekam = one; kaama mohitam = in lustful, indulged in; avadhiiH = killed; [tat = by that reason]; shaashvatiiH = ever lasting; samaaH = ages to come; pratiSThaam tu = reputation, but; maa gamaH = don't, get.

"Oh! Ill-fated Hunter, by which reason you have killed one male bird of the couple, when it is in its lustful passion, thereby you will get an ever-lasting reputation for ages to come..." [1-2-15]

'No fame be thine for endless time, /Because, base outcast, of thy crime, Whose cruel hand was fain to slay / One of this gentle pair at play!' Griffith.

'For endless years to come, O Hunter, never shall thy soul find peace /' Romesh C. Dutt.

All of these are just dictionary meanings. Whether a tribal hunter gets infamy or ignominy, it does not matter much, unlike a nobleman getting some disrepute or discredit. Then the word in the verse niSaada should have other meanings than just a tribal hunter.

This is a celebrated stanza of Sanskrit literature, and controversial too, in deciphering its meaning. We are told that this is the first verse of human origin with metrical rules and grammar. Earlier to this, only Vedic stanzas were available with their complicated compositional rules. This is the verse where this epic, Ramayana is said to have triggered off.

In one way the separation of compound tvamagama is like this tu, ama, gamaH. Then the parsing is:

ama niSaada= oh, ill fated, hunter; tvam= you; yat= by which reason; krau~Ncha mithunaat = of krouncha, couple; ekam= one; kaama mohitam= lust, indulged in; a-vadhiiH= you killed; [tat= by that reason]; shaashvatiiH= ever lasting; samaaH= ages to come; pratiSThaam tu= reputation, but; maa gamaH= don't, get.

This verse has many comports of which a few are given hereunder:

This verse is taken as ma~NgalaacaraNa to Ramayana, for any epic has to have ma~Ngala aadiini; ma~Ngala madhyaani; ma~Ngala antaani A good pious beginning, pious middle and pious ending.

Because this verse has the letter maa at its start and maa is lakShmii vaacaka in Sanskrit. It is aadi varNaH The first letter loka maataa maa ramaa ma~Ngala devataa thus amara kosha says for Goddess Lakshmi maa= Goddess Lakshmi; niShaada= Oh! Vishnu [for Goddess Lakshmi resides in the heart of Vishnu - niShadiiti asmin iti niShaada]; yat = by which act; krounca midhunaat = the couple of demons, namely Ravana and Mandodari; kaama mohitam= that impassioned one and stole Seetha; ekam= that one, Ravana; avadhii= you killed; by that act of yours; shashvatiisamaa= everlasting for ages; pratiShTaam= divine sanctity; tvam agama= you, get.

"Oh, the abode of Goddess Lakshmi, namely oh, Vishnu, by which act of your killing one male demon named Ravana, who in his passion abducted Seetha, and thus you eradicated the vice from the earth, for that you get an everlasting divine sanctity, as Rama, for ages to come."

2] Next niSaada is attributable to Ravana, because he is the one who tortures others for his benefit. itaraam saadayati piiDayati iti niSaada thus: Oh! Ravana; krounch midhunaat= from the couple, say Rama and Seetha, who are flying from forest to forest like nest-less birds; ekam= one is, Seetha is; avadhii =you almost killed her by your torture of abducting her; pratiSTaam= your glory in Lanka, at its zenith, as per the kindness of Brahma; ma agama= never get, hereafter. But this declination is not held right, for it is like a curse, shaapa, and no epic starts with a curse.

3] Next, this verse is said holding Rama in the perspective. Sage Narada gave the details of the legend to Sage Valmiki because Brahma ordered that the legend of Rama is to be recorded. But Ramayana is full of pathos, karuNa shoka rasa prathaana. If it is to be penned the writer too shall have heart that can outpour that mood. So when Valmiki is at the river banks, Rama, say Vishnu, came in the guise of a tribal, as with other mythological episodes like kiraataarjuniya etc., to test the capability of Valmiki in narrating pathos, and killed one bird. Valmiki reacted immediately and Vishnu's test is complete. But in exciting the mood of such holy sage, Vishnu / Rama gets a curse like separation from wife, as below.

nishaada= oh, tribal: Rama to Valmiki / Vishnu to mythology; for your killing one bird of the couple, to the misery of the female one; shaashvatii = as long as you live on this earth; samaaH pratiSTaam= togetherness, with your wife; ma agama= do not get.

Oh! Rama, as long as you are on earth, you do not get the love of being together with your wife, because you killed one from the bird couple... and you have to live with your wife departed [to Lanka,] come again, and then departed [to forests.]

But this is differed statement, since Vishnu does not require any personal testing of the capabilities of the writer of Ramayana. Brahma will look after such literary things.

4] The generally accepted meaning of this verse is this. Any epic's gist is to be said at the start or, at its commencement --- kaavya artha suucanam kascin aadyaam eva niruupyate--- Thus, the above verse included the meaning of whole of the epic, Ramayana.

i] maa niSaada= Goddess Lakshmi and Vishnu. Their marriage in their incarnations as Rama and Seetha, and Ramayana depicts this in Bala Kanda.

ii] pratiSTaam tvam agama= renown, you get, by following your father's orders you have repaired to forests, without any political upheaval, thus get an everlasting renown as an obliging son Ayodhya Kanda.

iii] shashavatii samaa= by dwelling in forest and eradicating demons and helping the saints and sages thus, you achieve an everlasting praise Aranaya Kanda.

iv] krounchayoH= from the [atrocious] couple; k-- krunca gati kauTilyaa alpii bhaavayoH; the atrocious Vali, and Tara couple; ekam kaama mohitam = one, passion, filled, i.e., Vali; avadhii= you killed, you killed Vali Kishkindha Kanda.

v] krouncha mithunaat= from the couple of lovely passionate birds here Rama and Seetha; niSaada that ruffian Ravana, kaama mohitam lustfully, ekam one [i.e., Seetha]; avadhii = almost killed, i.e., her residing in Lanka is as good as death Sundara Kanda.

vi] krouncha mithunaat = from the atrocious, couple Ravana and Mandodari; ekam avadhii one Ravana, you killed Yuddha Kanda.

vii] kaama mohitam= by desire, fascinated [kama also means a longing, desire, let alone lusting]; Seetha is fascinated by her desire to see sage's wives in utara Ramayana and thus she is sent to forests through Lakshmana. Hence seventh canto, utara Ramayana is also suggested.

Verse Locator

तस्य एवम् ब्रुवतः चिन्ता बभूव हृदि वीक्षतः ।
शोकार्तेन अस्य शकुनेः किम् इदम् व्याहतम् मया ॥ १-२-१६

16. evam bruvataH = thus, having said; viikshataH = while pondering; tasya hR^idi = in his, heart; asya shakuneH = for that, bird; shoka aartena mayaa = in anguish, annoyed, by me; vyahR^itam = uttered utterance; idam = this [verse, sentence]; kim = what is it; [thus] chintaa babhuva = cogitative [of the lines,] he became.

On saying thus, and pondering for a while in his heart, 'annoyed by the anguish for that bird, what is it uttered by me...' thus he became cogitative of those lines uttered. [1-2-16]

Verse Locator

चिन्तयन् स महाप्राज्ञः चकार मतिमान् मतिम् ।
शिष्यम् च एव अब्रवीत् वाक्यम् इदम् स मुनिपुङ्गवः ॥ १-२-१७

17. chintayan = on thinking; saH = he; mahaa praa~naH = eminently, astute one; matimaan = intellectual sage; chakaara matim = made up, his mind; saH muni pu.ngavaH = he, saint, the erudite one; shishyam = to disciples; idam vaakyam abraviit cha eva = this, sentence, spoke, also, thus.

On thinking, he that eminently astute and intellectual sage made up his mind, and he that erudite scholar also spoke this sentence to his disciples, thus as... [1-2-17]

Verse Locator

पाद बद्धः अक्षर समः तन्त्री लय समन्वितः ।
शोकार्तस्य प्रवृत्तो मे श्लोको भवतु न अन्यथा ॥ १-२-१८

18. me = while I was; shoka aartsya = by anguish, annoyed; pravR^ittaH = emerged; paada baddhaH = foot [of stanza,] arranged well; akshara samaH = letters, metrically posited; tantrii = [tuneful like] string [instrument]; laya = rhymed well [of syllables]; samanvitaH = having in it; slokaH bhavatu = verse, it shall be; na anyatha = not, otherwise.

"This utterance of mine has emerged out of anguished annoyance, and it is well- arranged with letters metrically posited, tuneful and rhythmical to be sung with string instrument, and hence, this shall be a verse, not otherwise..." [1-2-18]

This verse he uttered is in four quarters, each quarter with equally posited eight syllables. This is called anuSTubh metre in Sanskrit poetry. The eight syllables are, -- maa ni Shaa da pra ti ShTaa~N tva | ma ga ma shaa shva tiiH sa maa -- Each quarter is paada in Sanskrit, pede in Latin; with two quarters in first stanza, and two stanzas one verse. This apart there are other rules like caesura yati ; alliteration praasa ; and other compositional rules. It has come out of shoka sorrow, so the format is named as sloka. And, shloka also means yashas, kiirti renown.

Verse Locator

शिष्यः तु तस्य ब्रुवतो मुनेर् वाक्यम् अनुत्तमम् ।
प्रति जग्राह संतुष्टः तस्य तुष्टोअः अभवत् मुनिः ॥ १-२-१९

19. shishyaH tu = disciple, even; bruvataH = what is articulated; tasya muneH = by that [Valmiki's,] saint; santuSTaH pratijagraah = felt happy, received; vaakyam aunuttamam = word [verse,] unique one; tasya = by that; tuSTaH abhavat muniH = happy, became, saint.

Even the disciple happily received what that is articulated by the saint, a unique articulation, by which the saint too, became happy. [1-2-19]

Verse Locator

सोऽभिषेकम् ततः कृत्वा तीर्थे तस्मिन् यथाविधि ।
तम् एव चिन्तयन् अर्थम् उपावर्तत वै मुनिः ॥ १-२-२०

20. tataH = then; saH muniH = that, saint; tasmin tiirthe = in that, ford; yathaa vidhi = as per, custom; abhishekam kR^itva = bathing, on performing; tam ardham eva chintayan = its, purport, alone, on thinking; upa aavartata vai = back, he came, really [returned to hermitage.]

Then that saint on performing his bathing in that ford according to custom, and still thinking on the purport of his utterance, he returned towards his hermitage. [1-2-20]

This is mid day bath for these hermits. tato madhyaahna snaanaartham mR^idam aaharet | - - prekShya sa omkaaram aadityam triH nimajje jalaashaye - - vyaasa smR^iti The word abhisheka refers to ceremonial showering of waters on deities or on kings in his coronation. At the beginning Valmiki arrives at the river for a daily bath, which he would do by usual dipping in river waters. But here it appears that waters are showered on him, abhishekam kR^itva meaning that waters showered on him are on the analogy of poetic verses of Ramayana.

Verse Locator

भरद्वाजः ततः शिष्यो विनीतः श्रुतवान् गुरोः ।
कलशम् पूर्णमादाय पृष्ठतः अनुजगाम ह ॥ १-२-२१

21. tataH viniitaH = then, obedient one; shrutavaan = one who listened many scriptures, [erudite scholar]; shishyaH = disciple; Bharadwaja; puurNam kalasham = filled, handy-vessel; aadaya = on taking; guroH = mentor's; pR^iSTataH anujagama = at behind, followed.

Then Bharadwaja, the obedient disciple and an erudite scholar, for he heard and learnt many scriptures by listening, on taking handy-vessel full with water followed at the behind of his mentor. [1-2-21]

Verse Locator

स प्रविश्य आश्रम पदम् शिष्येण सह धर्मवित् ।
उपविष्टः कथाः च अन्याः चकार ध्यानमास्थितः ॥ १-२-२२

22. dharma vit saH = dharma, knower of, he [Valmiki]; shishyeNa saha = disciples, along with; pravisya aashrama padam = on entering, hermitage's, threshold; upaviSTa = having seated; anyaN kathaaH ca chakaara = other, topics, also, made - spoke about; dhyaanam aasthitaH = [but in] cogitation, preoccupied in.

He that knower of dharma, Valmiki, having entered the threshold of hermitage along with disciples, and having seated spoke about the day-to-day teachings and also other things, but he himself is preoccupied in cogitation on the verse. [1-2-22]

Verse Locator

आजगाम ततः ब्रह्मो लोककर्ता स्वयम् प्रभुः ।

चतुर् मुखो महातेजा द्रष्टुम् तम् मुनिपुङ्गवम् ॥ १-२-२३

23. tataH = then; loka kartaa = worlds, maker of [creator of 14 worlds]; prabhuH = almighty; chatur mukhaH = four-faced one; maha tejaH = great resplendent one; brahma = Brahma; draSTum = to see; tam muni pungavam = him, that sage, the eminent; svayam = on his own; aajagaama = arrived.

Then, the great resplendent Four-faced creator of fourteen worlds, almighty Brahma, arrived there on his own, to see that eminent saint Valmiki. [1-2-23]

Comment; The deities do not usually arrive on their own, but reveal themselves after a great penance, or on raising hue and cry as is done by demon devotees. Here Brahma, one among the Trinity of Hindu mythology, arrives on his own, to execute a divine deed through Valmiki, i.e. authoring the epic, Ramayana.

Verse Locator

वाल्मीकिः अथ तम् दृष्ट्वा सहसा उत्थाय वाग्यतः ।

प्रान्जलिः प्रयतो भूत्वा तस्थौ परम विस्मितः ॥ १-२-२४

24. atha = then; prayataH = pious one; Valmiki; tam dR^iSTva = Him [Brahma,] on seeing; parama vismitaH = highly, surprised; sahasa uthaaya = quickly, on getting up; pra anjali bhuutvaa = humbly adjoining palms; vaagyataH = spellbound; tatsthau = stood aside.

Then that pious saint Valmiki is highly surprised on seeing Brahma, and on quickly getting up from his seat with his palms adjoined humbly, he stood aside, as he is spellbind. [1-2-24]

Verse Locator

पूजयामास तम् देवम् पाद्य अर्घ्य आसन वन्दनैः ।

प्रणय विधिवत् च एनम् पृष्ट्वा च एव निरामयम् ॥ १-२-२५

25. tam enam devam = him, such a one, at that god; praNamya vidhivat ca = on making obeisance, customarily; pR^ishhTvaa ca eva niraamayam = on inquiring, also, thus, well-being; paadya = water for washing the feet; arghya = water for drenching the thirst; aasana = seating on a high seat; vandanaiH = with adorations; puujayaamaasa = started to venerate.

Valmiki venerated Brahma, on inquiring into his well-being, washed his feet, drenched his thirst, seated him to rest, and adored at best with customarily obeisance. [1-2-25]

Comment: Brahma is one in the Trinity of Brahma, Vishnu, and Shiva. Brahma is pictured to have four faces, each representing one Veda, where Vedas are four in number. He is the creator of worlds, while Vishnu maintains them, and Shiva dissolute them. The concert of Brahma is Saraswati, the presiding deity of speech, who was earlier requested by Brahma to be on the tongue of Valmiki to utter the poem, [as at 1-2-15] as an intuition to Valmiki. Thus Brahma now arrives to ordain Valmiki to author Ramayana.

Verse Locator

अथ उपविश्य भगवान् आसने परम अर्चिते ।

वाल्मीकये च ऋषये सन्दिदेश आसनम् ततः ॥ १-२-२६

26. atha upavishya bhagavaan aasane = then, seated, god, on [high] seat; parama archite = very, highly, worshipped [by Valmiki]; vaalmiikaye ca R^iSaye = at Valmiki, also, Sage; sandidesha aasanam tataH = beckoned, to a seat, then.

Then god Brahma, who is seated on a high seat, very highly worshipped by Valmiki, also beckoned at Valmiki to take a seat. [1-2-26]

Verse Locator

ब्रह्मणा समनुज्ञातः सोऽपि उपाविशत् आसने ।
उपविष्टे तदा तस्मिन् साक्षात् लोक पितामहे । १-२-२७
तत् गतेन एव मनसा वाल्मीकिः ध्यानम् आस्थितः ॥

27-28a. saH api = he [Valmiki,] even; brahmaNaa sam anuj~naataH = by Brahma, duly, permitted; aasane upaavishat = on seat, entered [sat]; tadaa = then; tasmin loka pitaamahe = that, worlds, Grandparent of; saakshaat = manifestly; upaviSTe [sati] = seated [before him, though]; Valmiki; tat gatena eva = those, happenings, only; manasaa dhyaanam aasthitaH = mentally, brooding, recurred.

Even though Valmiki sat on his seat when duly permitted by Brahma, and though the Grandparent of the worlds is manifestly sitting before him, but the same broodings on those happenings occurred on that day have recurred on his mind. [1-2-27-28a]

Verse Locator

पापात्मना कृतम् कष्टम् वैर ग्रहण बुद्धिना । १-२-२८
यत् तादृशम् चारुरवम् क्रौन्चम् हन्यात् अकारणात् ॥

28b-29a. yaH = he who, tribal hunter; taadR^isham = that sort of; chaaru ravam krauncham = cutely, calling, krouncha bird; a kaaraNaat hanyaat = without, reason, kills [killed]; vaira grahaNa buddhinaa = enemy [kill,] capturing, intending to; paapa aatmanaa = by evil, souled one; kaSTam kR^itam = hardship, is caused.

"He that tribal hunter, who killed a cutely calling krounch bird for no good reason than intending to capture the kill, is an evil souled one that caused hardship..." [1-2-28b-29a]

Verse Locator

शोचन् एव पुनः क्रौन्चीम् उप श्लोकम् इमम् जगौ । १-२-२९
पुनर् अन्तर्गत मना भूत्वा शोक परायणः ॥

29b-30a. shoka paraayaNaH = melancholic mood, one in [Valmiki]; antargata manaa bhuutvaa = depths of, mind, on turning in; punaH = again; kraunchiim shochan eva = about krouncha bird, on thinking, only; shlokam imam upajagau = verse, this [verse,] [involuntarily]sung.

Remaining in melancholic mood Valmiki turned his mind to the depth of thinking, and again thinking only on the krouncha bird he sung the same verse, involuntarily. [1-2-29b-30a]

The word jaguH is singing; gai= shabde; liT; prathama bahu; jagau - jagatuH - jaguH; variant of gaay; c.f. Raghuvamsha of Kalidasa, verse 20, in fourth sarga; aakumaarakathoddhaata.m shaaligopyo jaguryashaH

Verse Locator

तम् उवाच ततो ब्रह्मा प्रहसन् मुनिपुंगवम् । १-२-३०
श्लोक एवास्त्वयाम् बद्धो न अत्र कार्या विचारणा ॥

30b-31a. tataH = then; brahmaa prahasan = Brahma, smilingly; tam muni pungavam uvaacha = to him, that saint, the eminent, spoke to; shloka eva tu = verse, only, but; ayam baddaH = that one, composed; na atra kaaryaa vichaaraNaa = not, there, need to, think through.

Then, Brahma smilingly spoke to that eminent saint Valmiki, "But, what that is composed is a verse only... and there is no need to think through... [1-2-30b-31a]

Verse Locator

मत् छन्दात् एव ते ब्रह्मन् प्रवृत्ते अयम् सरस्वती । १-२-३१

रामस्य चरितम् कृत्स्नम् कुरु त्वम् ऋषिसत्तम ।

31b-32a. hè brahman = oh, Brahman; te ayam sarasvatii = your, that, speech; mat cChandaat eva = at my, wish, alone; pravR^itte = sprang forth; hè R^iSi sattama = oh, sage, the eminent; raamasya charitam k R^itsnam = Rama's, legend, in entirety; tvam kuru = you, render.

"Oh, Brahman, that speech of yours sprang forth at my wish alone, hence oh, eminent sage, you shall render the legend of Rama, in its entirety... [1-2-31b-32a]

Verse Locator

धर्मात्मनो भगवतो लोके रामस्य धीमतः ॥ १-२-३२

वृत्तम् कथय धीरस्य यथा ते नारदात् श्रुतम् ।

32b-33a. dharma aatmanaH = virtue, souled one; loke bhagavataH = in world, godlike; dhiimataH = an intellectual; dhiirasya = intrepid one; raamasya vR^ittam = Rama's, legend; tè yatha srutam naaradaat = by you, as heard, from Narada; kathaya = narrate.

"You shall narrate the legend of Rama, the virtuous, intellectual and an intrepid one, and a godlike person in this world as well, as you have heard it from sage Narada. [1-2-32b-33a]

Verse Locator

रहस्यम् च प्रकाशम् च यद् वृत्तम् तस्य धीमतः ॥ १-२-३३

रामस्य सह सौमित्रे राक्षसानाम् च सर्वशः ।

वैदेह्याः च एव यद् वृत्तम् प्रकाशम् यदि वा रहः ॥ १-२-३४

तत् च अपि अविदितम् सर्वम् विदितम् ते भविष्यति ।

33b-35a. dhiimataH = of valorous one; saha SoumitreH = with Sumitra's son, [Lakshmana]; tasya ramasya = of his, Rama's; [vR^ittam = adventures]; raakshasaanam ca = of the demons, also; [vR^ittam = misadventures]; rahasyam ca prakaasam ca = unknown, or, known, or; sarvasaH = in every detail; yat vR^ittam vaidehyaa ca eva = which is, the plight, of Vaidehi, also, even; prakaasam yadi va = revealed, either, or; rahaH vaa = unrevealed, or; yat vR^ittam = whatever, legend happened; tat ca = that, also; a viditam api = un, known, even; sarvam te viditam bhaviSyati = all, to you, known, it will be.

"The adventures of valorous Rama along with Lakshmana, and the misadventures of demons, known or unknown in every detail, and even the plight of Vaidehi which is either revealed or un-revealed so far, and whatever legend that has happened, all that will also be known to you, even if it were to be unknown, as yet... [1-2-33b-35a]

Verse Locator

न ते वाक् अनृता काव्ये काचित् अत्र भविष्यति ॥ १-२-३५

कुरु राम कथाम् पुण्याम् श्लोक बद्धाम् मनोरमाम् ।

35b-36a. atra kaavye = in this, epic; te vaak = your, word; kaachit = any one [word]; a nR^itaa = un, founded; na bhavishyati = not, it results in; punyam = merit-yielding; manaH ramaam = heart, pleasing; raama kathaam = Rama's, legend; sloka baddhaam kuru = verse, bound, you make.

"You shall versify the heart pleasing and merit-yielding legend of Rama, and not a single word of yours will be unfounded in this epic... [1-2-35b-36a]

Verse Locator

यावत् स्थास्यन्ति गिरयः सरितः च महीतले ॥ १-२-३६

तावत् रामायण कथा लोकेषु प्रचरिष्यति ।

36b-37a. girayaH = mountains; saritaH ca = rivers, even; mahii tale = on earth's, surface; yaavat = as long as; sthasyanti = there will be; taavat = so long; raamayaNa katha = Rama's, legend - Ramayana; lokeSu = in the world; prachariSyati = will flourish.

"As long as the mountains and even rivers flourish on the surface of the earth, so long the legend of Ramayana will flourish in this world... [1-2-36b-37a]

Verse Locator

यावत् रामस्य च कथा त्वत् कृता प्रचरिष्यति । १-२-३७

तावत् ऊर्ध्वम् अधः च त्वम् मत् लोकेषु निवत्स्यसि ।

37b-38a. tvat = by you; kR^itaa = authored; yaavat = as long as; raamasya katha = Rama's legend; pracharishyati = flourishes; taavat = till then; tvam = you; uurthvam = heavenward; athaH ca = in netherworlds, even; mat lokeSu = in my abode [Brahma loka]; nivatyasi = you will be dwelling, [flourishing].

"And as long as Rama's legend authored by you flourishes...till then you will flourish in heavenly, in netherworlds, and even in my abode, namely Abode of Brahma... [1-2-37]

Verse Locator

इति उक्त्वा भगवान् ब्रह्मा तत्र एव अन्तरधीयत ।

ततः स शिष्यो भगवान् मुनिः विस्मयम् आययौ ॥ १-२-३८

38b-c. bhagavaan = The Divinity; Brahma; iti uktvaa = thus, saying; tatra eva = there only; antaradhiyata = vanished; tataH = then; saH shiSyaaH = along with, disciples; bhagavaan muniH = godly, sage; vismayam aayayau = astonishment, came upon [wondered.]

On saying thus that Divinity Brahma vanished then and there only, and then that godly sage Valmiki came by astonishment, along with his disciples. [1-2-38b-c]

Verse Locator

तस्य शिष्याः ततः सर्वे जगुः श्लोकम् इमम् पुनः ।

मुहुर् मुहुः प्रीयमाणाः प्राहुः च भृश विस्मिताः ॥ १-२-३९

39. tatha = then; tasya = his; shishyaaH = disciples; sarve = all of them; muhuH muhuH = again, again [time and again]; priyamaaNaaH = very delightedly; punaH = again; slokam imam = verse, this one; jaguH = sang; bhR^isha vismitaaH = much astonished; pra aahuH cha = reciprocally recited, also.

Then all of the disciples of Valmiki sang this verse time and again very delightedly, and muchstonished they also recited this verse, reciprocally. [1-2-39]

Verse Locator

समाक्षरैः चतुर्भिः यः पादैः गीतो महर्षिणा ।

सः अनुव्याहरणात् भूयः शोकः श्लोकत्वम् आगतः ॥ १-२-४०

40. yaH = that which is; sama aksharaiH = equally, lettered; chaturbhiH = four; paadaiH = footed; maharSiNaa = by great sage; giitaH = articulated; saH slokaH = that, verse; anuvyaharaNaat = by recitation; bhuuya = again, further; slokatvam = prominence of verse proper; aagaataH = attained.

Equally lettered, four-footed is that verse when great Sage Valmiki articulated it, and when repetitively recited by one and all, it attained prominence as verse proper. [1-2-40]

Comment: A poet never says poetry to satisfy his own instincts, but to imbue an involuntary imagination or passion in others when read or heard by the so called others. It is the empathy of that poetry. For Kalidasa it is shR^ingara, passion, for Bhavabhuti it is pity 'eko rasaH karuNa...' for Valmiki it is pathos, shoka. For this Kavi Kalidas says: niShaada viddha aNDaja darshanotthaH shlokatvam aapadyata yasya shokaH -- raghu va~Nsha 14-60 There are two texts for this one is, shlokaH shlokatam aagataH... meaning that the verse originally structured metrically can now can be sung. Second is shokaH shlokatvam aagataH... the pathos of the poet attained the status of verse that is now being sung by the disciples, thus anyone can recite it.

Verse Locator

तस्य बुद्धिः इयम् जाता महर्षेः भावितात्मनः ।
कृत्स्नम् रामायणम् काव्यम् ईदृशैः करवाण्यहम् ॥ १-२-४१

41. aham = kR^itsnam raamaayaNam kaavyam = entire, Ramayana, epic; iidR^ishaiH = this sort of [in suchlike verses]; karavaaNi = I will compose; iyam buddhiH = this kind of, intuition; bhaavita aatmanaH = for that contemplated soul; tasya maharSeH jaataa = to that, great sage, born.

Born is an intuition in that great sage and contemplated soul asserting that "I will compose entire Ramayana, the epic, in suchlike verses..." [1-2-41]

Verse Locator

उदार वृत्त अर्थ पदैः मनोरमैः
तदा अस्य रामस्य चकार कीर्तिमान् ।
सम अक्षरैः श्लोक शतैः यशस्विनो
यशस्करम् काव्यम् उदार दर्शनः ॥ १-२-४२

42. kiirtimaan udaara darshanaH = celebrated, magnanimous, seer; tadaa = then; yashasvinaH = of that highly renowned one, Rama; asya raamasya = of that, Rama; yashas karam kaavyam = renown, furthering [extolling,] epic; udaara vR^itta artha padaiH = free-flowing, prosody, semantically, yielding meanings; manoramaiH = heart-pleasing one; sama aksharaiH shloka shataiH = with symmetrical, letters, verses, in hundreds; chakaara = authored.

That celebrated sage and magnanimous seer Valmiki then authored the highly renowned Rama's legend extolling Rama's renown, with symmetrically worded verses, and words versified to yield meanings semantically, prosody free-flowing, and with hundreds of such verses. [1-2-42]

Verse Locator

तद् उपगत समास सन्धि योगम्
सम मधुरोपनत अर्थ वाक्य बद्धम् ।
रघुवर चरितम् मुनिप्रणीतम्
दश शिरसः च वधम् निशामय अध्वम् ॥ १-२-४३

43. upagata samaasa sandhi yogam = included, compound, conjunctions, conjugations; sama madhura upanata artha vaakya baddham = evenly, sweetly, led, expressive, sentences, well-knit; muni praNiitam = sage, said; tat raghu vara charitam = that, Raghu's, best [one from,] legend; dasha shirasaH vadham ca = ten, headed one's, extermination, also; nishaamaya adhvam = behold, this way.

That epic contains uncomplicated compounds, conjunctions and conjugations, and has expressive sentences that are well knit and led evenly and sweetly, and that legend pertains to the best one from Raghu's dynasty, namely Rama, which also includes the extermination of the Ten headed evil named Ravana, and further, it is said by the sage, hence this may now be listened... [1-2-43]

This is balladeers bidding to the audience. The word muni praNiitam reminds that a non-saint cannot tell an epic; na anR^ishi kurute kaavyam and hence it is to be listened attentively.

इति वाल्मिकि रामायणे आदिकाव्ये बाल काण्डे द्वितीयः सर्गः

Thus, this is the 2nd chapter in Bala Kanda of Valmiki Ramayana, the First Epic poem of India.

Book I : Bala Kanda - Book Of Youthful Majesties

Chapter [Sarga] 3 Verses converted to UTF-8, Sept 09

Introduction

The scheming of the composition of epic Ramayana is described here. Whole of the epic is rendered in its quintessence, as to how Sage Valmiki scheduled the narration of important milestones of the epic.

Verse Locator

श्रुत्वा वस्तु समग्रम् तत् धर्म अर्थ सहितम् हितम् ।
व्यक्तम् अन्वेषते भूयो यद्वृत्तम् तस्य धीमतः ॥ १-३-१

1. dharmaatmaa = virtue-souled one, Valmiki; dharm artha sahitam = probity, prosperity, abounding in; hitam = propitious one [too]; tat = that; vastu samagram = essence of the epic, in its entirety; shrutvaa = on hearing; = tasya dhiimataH vR^ittam = of that, dexterous [Rama's,] that which has happened; yat = that which is there; [tat = that]; vyaktam bhuuyaH anveSate = that which is known [in detail,] further, searched for.

On hearing the essence of Ramayana from Sage Narada, which is abound with probity and prosperity, and a propitious one too, that virtue-souled Valmiki started searching for further known details in the legend of that dexterous Rama. [1-3-1]

Verse Locator

उपस्पृश्य उदकम् संयक् मुनिः स्थित्वा कृताञ्जलिः ।
प्राचीन अग्रेषु दर्भेषु धर्मेण अन्वेषते गतिम् ॥ १-३-२

2. muniH = that saint; praachiina agreSu = eastward, having apices; darbheSu = sacred darbha grass [and its mat]; sthitvaa = on abiding, on sitting; udakam upaspR^ishya = water, on touching; kR^ita a~njali = making palm fold in reverence; dharmeNa = yogaja dharmeNa - [dharmaakuutam] = by yogic dharma; samyak = comprehensively; anveSate gatim = is searching, for course [of Ramayana.]

Valmiki sitting on a sacred grass mat, whose apices are towards east, touched waters, and made his palms adjoined in reverence, and then by his yogic insight started to search comprehensively, for the narrative course of Ramayana. [1-3-2]

Comment: Touching/sipping waters aachamana, pariSechana, before undertaking any auspicious work, including daily meal, is customary, because water cleanses the internal system, both mind and body.

Verse Locator

राम लक्ष्मण सीताभिः राज्ञा दशरथेन च ।
स भार्येण स राष्ट्रेण यत् प्राप्तम् तत्र तत्त्वतः ॥ १-३-३

हसितम् भाषितम् च एव गतिर्यायत् च चेष्टितम् ।
तत् सर्वम् धर्म वीर्येण यथावत् संप्रपश्यति ॥ १-३-४

3-4. raama lakshmaNa siitaabhiH = of Rama, Lakshmana and Seetha; raaj~naa dasharathena ca = by king, Dasharatha, also; sa bhaaryeNa [raameNa] = along with, wife - Rama along with his wife; sa raaSTreNa = along with, kingdom - when Rama was in State; yat praaptam = what, bechanced; tatra [yaa] gatiH = in that, [which,] course is there; yaavat ceSTitam ca = everything, [they] have done, and; hasitam bhaaSita ca eva = their smiles, their conversations, also, thus; tat sarvam = that, entirely; tatvataH = veritably; yathaavat = as it is; dharma viiryeNa = by the power of his asceticism, or by the power given by Brahma; sam pra pashyati = wholly, clearly, seen.

Of Rama, Lakshmana and Seetha, also of King Dasharatha and his wives, and what bechanced on Rama when he was in kingdom Ayodhya; Valmiki veritably discerned all that. Their smiles, their conversations, their deeds and the succession of events as well, all of them the sage saw wholly and clearly by the yogic power conferred by Brahma... [1-3-3-4]

Verse Locator

स्त्री तृतीयेन च तथा यत् प्राप्तम् चरता वने ।
सत्यसन्धेन रामेण तत्सर्वम् च अन्ववेक्षत ॥ १-३-५

5. strii tR^itiiyena ca = lady, as third [partner in forests,] also; vane charataa = in forests, while trekking; satya sandhena raameNa = truth-abiding, by Rama; tathaa yat praaptam = then, that which, bechanced; tat sarvam ca = all, that, also; anvavekshitam = by him discerned.

Then, that which bechanced on truth-abiding Rama, while he is trekking in forests, with a lady being the third partner, where Lakshmana is the lone male aide, Valmiki visualized all that. [1-3-5]

Verse Locator

ततः पश्यति धर्मात्मा तत् सर्वम् योगमास्थितः ।
पुरा यत् तत्र निर्वृत्तम् पाणाव आमलकम् यथा ॥ १-३-६

6. tataH = then; dharmaatmaa = virtue-souled sage; yogam aasthitaH = while in yogic, exaltation; tatra = in there [in story]; puraa yat nirvR^ittam = earlier, what, has happened; tat sarvam = that, all; paaNau amalakam = in palm, citric fruit [myrobalan]; yathaa = as though; pashyati = saw.

Then that virtue-souled sage saw what all that has happened earlier, by his yogic exaltation, as though it is a citric fruit in his own palm. [1-3-6]

Verse Locator

तत् सर्वम् तात्त्वतो दृष्ट्वा धर्मेण स महामतिः
अभिरामस्य रामस्य तत् सर्वम् कर्तुम् उद्यतः ॥ १-३-७
कामार्थं गुण संयुक्तम् धर्मार्थं गुण विस्तरम् ।
समुद्रम् इव रत्नाढ्यम् सर्वं श्रुति मनोहरम् ॥ १-३-८

7-8. mahaa matitiH = highly intellectual [sage]; saH = he; tat sarvam = that, all; tattvataH = in actuality; dharmeNa = by yogic prowess; dR^iSTvaa = having discerned; kaama artha guNa samyuktam = pleasures, prosperities, their qualities, abounding with; dharma artha guNa vistaram = probity [alone,] its meaning, [and its] qualities, elaborately; ratna aaDhyam = with gems, replete; samudram iva = ocean, like; sarva shruti manoharam = for all, listenable, delightfully [or by all Veda-s acceptable, or in any kind of listening, a pleasing one; abhiraamasya raamasya = one who delights all, of such a Rama; sarvam kartum udyataH = that, all, to author, pioneered

Discerning all of Ramayana in its actuality by his yogic prowess that highly intellectual Valmiki pioneered to author all of the legend of Rama, for Rama is a delighter of all in all worlds, and whose legend is abounding with the real functional qualities of earthly pleasures and prosperities, and which clearly elaborates the meaning of probity and its operative qualities, and thus this legend is like an ocean replete with such gems called thoughts, and an ear-pleasing legend, as well. [1-3-7, 8]

Comment: The pleasures and gains of the humans are puruSaartha -s, in its axiological meaning. Hindus have four such puruSaartha -s [namely human values,] dharma probity artha prosperity, kaama pleasures, and finally moksha , blessedness. Of these four only the first three, dharma, artha, kaama are usually referred, and they are called tri-varga . The final one moksha is not often quoted. Dhrama is the driving force. chodanaa lakshaNaartho dharmaH - Jaimini. Hence dharma is the prescribed conduct, either by scriptures or by the society, and it does not entail any merit or demerit, but just an obligatory conduct or duty or, say 'categorical imperative' of Kant. And the other two, artha, kaama , are the means of dharma, and all leading to moksha. These two great epics Ramayana and Mahabharata are structured on these puruSaartha -s alone. Thus though Ramayana is abounding with the accounts of richness and glory of all kinds of wealth, which is secondary to human values, its main import is the virtuosity of human living. The ocean, though abounding with other less valuable items like conch shells, mother-of-pearl shells etc., its gems beneath all these peripherals are of high value. Thus this is an ear pleasing by its musical melody and heart pleasing by its meaningful wording. Further, it is pleasant for its import is in accordance with all the scriptures.

Verse Locator

स यथा कथितम् पूर्वम् नारदेन महात्मना ।
रघु वंशस्य चरितम् चकार भगवान् मुनिः ॥ १-३-९

9. bhagavaan saH muniH = godly, he, that saint [Valmiki]; mahaatmanaa naaradena = by Divine Soul, Narada; puurvam yathaa kathitam = earlier, as to how, narrated; [in that way only]; raghu vamshasya = one who is born in Raghu's lineage - of Rama; charitam chakaara = legend, made [composed.]

That godly saint Valmiki composed the legend of Rama, the legatee of Raghu, exactly as the divine-soul Narada narrated it earlier. [1-3-9]

Verse Locator

जन्म रामस्य सुमहद् वीर्यम् सर्वानुकूलताम् ।
लोकस्य प्रियताम् क्षान्तिम् सौयताम् सत्य शीलताम् ॥ १-३-१०

10. raamasya janma = Rama's, birth [incarnation]; su mahat viiryam = very, great, valour; sarva anukuulataam = to all, gracefulness; lokasya priyataam = universal, cordiality; kshaantim = perseverance; satya shiilataam = truthful, conduct; saumyataam = courteousness; [Valmiki described.]

The birth of Rama as an incarnation of Vishnu, his very great valour, his gracefulness to all, his universal cordiality, perseverance, courteousness, and his truthful conduct, Valmiki described them all. [1-3-10]

Verse Locator

नाना चित्र कथाः च अन्याः विश्वामित्र सहायेन ।
जानक्याः च विवाहम् च धनुषः च विभेदनम् ॥ १-३-११

11. anyaaH naanaa chitra kathaa ca = other, very many, amusing, stories, also; vishvaamitra ahaayena = Viswamitra, with help of; jaanakyaaH ca vivaaham ca = with Janaki, also, marriage, and; dhanuSaH ca vibhedanam = great bow's, breaking of; [are narrated.]

Narrated are very many other amusing stories, Rama's breaking the great bow; his marriage with Janaki after with the help of Sage Vishvamitra... [1-3-11]

Verse Locator

राम राम विवादम् च गुणान् दाशरथेः तथा ।
तथऽभिषेकम् रामस्य कैकेय्या दुष्ट भावताम् ॥१-३-१२

12. raama = Rama; raama = Parasuraama; vivaadam ca = dispute, also; guNaanaan = merits of; daasarathe tathaH = Dasharatha's son [Rama's]; tathaa = that way; tathaa abhishhekam raamasya = likewise, [preparations for] anointing, of Rama; kaikeyyaa duSTa bhaavataam = Kaikeyi's, vicious, intentions.

Dispute of Rama and Parashurama; the merits of Rama, the son of Dasharatha; and the preparations for anointing of Rama as crown prince; Queen Kaikeyi's vicious intentions... [1-3-12]

Comment: Rama is shrī raama one who delights in shrī, where shrī is Goddess Lakshmi. Where as Parashurama delights in his axe parashu axe; and Balarama, the brother of Krishna delights in his own bala might.

Verse Locator

विघातम् च अभिषेकस्य राघवस्य विवासनम् ।
राज्ञः शोकम् विलापम् च पर लोकस्य च आश्रयम् ॥ १-३-१३

13. vighaatam ca abhishhekasya = disruption also, royal unction; raaghavasya vivaasanam = Rama's, exile; raaj~naaH shokam vilaapam ca = King Dasharatha's, grief, bewailing, and; para lokasya cha aashrayam = into other, world, also, taking shelter [demise.]

Disruption in royal unction of Raghava; his exile to forests; King Dasharatha's grief and bewailing, and thus his departing to other worlds... [1-3-13]

Verse Locator

प्रकृतीनाम् विषादम् च प्रकृतीनाम् विसर्जनम् ।
निषाद अधिप संवादम् सूतोपावर्तनम् तथा ॥ १-३-१४

14. prakR^itiinaam visaadam ca = of subjects, grieving, also; prakR^itiinaam visarjanam = people, leaving off; niSaada adhipa samvaadam = tribal, chief, conversing with; suuta upaavartanam tathaa = charioteer, returning of, thus.

The grief of the subjects; Rama leaving them off; his conversing with tribal chief Guha; returning the charioteer Sumantra to kingdom from forests, leaving the trio at the banks of river Ganga... all these elements are well- described. [1-3-14]

Verse Locator

गङ्गायाः च अपि संतारम् भरद्वाजस्य दर्शनम् ।
भरद्वाज अभ्यनुज्ञात् चित्रकूटस्य दर्शनम् ॥ १-३-१५

15. ga.ngaayaaH ca api samtaaram = River Ganga, also, even, crossing over; bharadvajasya darshanam = of Sage Bharadwaja, seeing; bharadvaja abhyanuj~naanaat = on Bharadwaja's advise; chitrakuuTasya darshanam = of Chitrakuta, seeing [visiting.]

Crossing over River Ganga; looking up Sage Bharadwaja; their look up at Chitrakuta on Sage Bharadwaja's advise... [1-3-15]

Verse Locator

वास्तु कर्म निवेशम् च भरत अगमनम् तथा ।

प्रसादनम् च रामस्य पितुः च सलिल क्रियाम् ॥ १-३-१६

16. vaastu karma nivesham = architectural, work [construction of hermitage,] dwelling in; bharata agamanam tathaa = Bharata's, arrival, then; prasaadanam ca raamasya = for graciousness, also, of Rama; pituH salila kriyaam = to father, water, oblation.

Construction of a hermitage and dwelling therein; Bharata's arrival at that place for the graciousness of Rama to take back the kingdom; Rama's denial of it; Rama's offering water oblations to his father on hearing the demise of his father... [1-3-16]

Verse Locator

पादुका अग्न्य अभिषेकम् च नन्दि ग्राम निवासनम् ।

दण्डकारण्य गमनम् विराधस्य वधम् तथा ॥ १-३-१७

17. paadukaaH agrya abhishhekam ca = sandals [shoes,] high, enthroning, also; nandi graama nivaasanam = in Nandigrama, village, living of Bharata; dandaka araNya gamanam = Dandaka, forests, going; viraadhasya vadham tathaa = Viradha's, killing, thus.

Enthroning shoe-sandals of Rama by Bharata; Bharata's living in a village Nandigrama; Rama's going to Dandaka forests; killing the demon named Viradha... [1-3-17]

Verse Locator

दर्शनम् शरभङ्गस्य सुतीक्ष्णेन समागमम् ।

अनसूया समाख्या च अङ्गरागस्य च अर्पणम् ॥ १-३-१८

18. darshanam sharabha.ngasya = seeing [visiting,] Sage Sarabhanga; sutiikshNena samaagamam = with Sage Suteekshna, meeting; anasuuya samaakhyaa ca = Anasuya, the hermitic lady, smooth, speaking, also; a.nga = body; raaga = applying cream; ca = also; arpaNam = giving.

Rama's visit to Sage Sarabhanga and Suteekshna; their visiting hermitic lady Anasuuya, and her smooth speaking with Seetha and also her giving a body cream to Seetha...[by applying which cream Seetha will not wither away in the rough weather of woods. These details are incorporated with great care.] [1-3-18]

Verse Locator

दर्शनम् च अपि अगस्त्यस्य धनुषो ग्रहणम् तथा ।

शूर्पणखाः च संवादम् विरूपकरणम् तथा ॥ १-३-१९

19. darshanam ca api agastasya = seeing, also, even, Sage Agastya,; dhanuSaH grahaNam tathaa = a great bow, taking, likewise; shuurpaNakhaaH cha samvaadam = with Suurpanakha, also, palaver; viruupa karaNam tathaa = defacing, likewise.

Also even Rama's seeing the Sage Agastya, and likewise taking a great bow from that sage... also the palaver of Surpanakha, the demoness, and defacing her, likewise... [1-3-19]

Verse Locator

वधम् खरः त्रिशिरसः उत्थानम् रावणस्य च ।

मारीचस्य वधम् च एव वैदेह्या हरणम् तथा ॥ १-३-२०

20. vadham khara trishirasaH = killing of, Khara, Trisirasa [the demons]; utthaanam raavaNasya ca = upsurge, of Ravana, also; maariichasya vadham ca eva = of Maariicha's killing, also, thus; vaidehyaa haraNam tathaa = Vaidehi's, abduction, like that.

The elimination of demons like Khara, Trishirasa and the upsurge of Ravana thereby; elimination of demon Mareecha, and Ravana's abduction of Vaidehi, likewise... [1-3-20]

Verse Locator

राघवस्य विलापम् च गृध्र राज निबर्हणम् ।
कबन्ध दर्शनम् च एव पंपायाः च अपि दर्शनम् ॥ १-३-२१

21. raaghavasya vilaapam ca = Raghava's, anguish, also; gR^idhra raaja nibarhaNam = eagle, mighty, slaying; kabandha darshanam ca eva = Kabandha, the demon, is seen, also, thus; pampaayaaH ca api darshanam = Pampa, the lake, also, thus, seeing.

Raghava's anguish at the loss of Seetha; Ravana's slaying the mighty eagle Jatayu; Rama's seeing Kabandha, and also Lake Pampa...[1-3-21]

Verse Locator

शबरी दर्शनम् च एव फल मूल अशनम् तथा ।
प्रलापम् च एव पंपायम् हनुमद् दर्शनम् ॥ १-३-२२

22. shabarii darshanam cha eva = Sabari, the hermitic lady, seeing her, also, thus; phala muula ashanam tathaa = fruits, tubers, eating, thus; pralaapam cha eva = bemoaning, also, thus [of Rama]; pampaayam hanumat darshanam = at Pampa Lake, Hanuma, sighted at.

Rama's seeing Shabari, a hermitic lady and eating fruits and tubers given by her in utmost adoration; Rama's bemoaning for Seetha; his sighting Hanuma at Lake Pampa... [1-3-22]

Verse Locator

ऋष्यमूकस्य गमनम् सुग्रीवेण समागमम् ।
प्रत्ययोत्पादनम् सख्यम् वालि सुग्रीव विग्रहम् ॥ १-३-२३

23. R^ishyamuukasya gamanam ca = to Rishyamuka, going, also; sugriiveNa samaagamam = with Sugreeva, meeting; pratyaya utpaadanam sakhyam = confidence, generating, making friendship [with Sugreeva]; vaali sugriiva vigrahaam = Vali, Sugreeva, duel of.

Also going to Mt. Rishyamuka, meeting Sugreeva and generating confidence in Sugreeva, befriending him and the duel of Vali and Sugreeva... [1-3-23]

Verse Locator

वालि प्रमथनम् च एव सुग्रीव प्रतिपादनम् ।
तारा विलापम् समयम् वर्ष रात्र निवासनम् ॥ १-३-२४

24. vaali pramathanam chaiva = Vali, elimination, also, thus; sugriiva pratipaadanam = Sugreeva is established; taaraa vilaapanam = Tara, [wife of Vali,] grieving of; samayam varSa raatra nivaasanam = consented, rainy, nights [and days,] stopover.

Also thus Vali's elimination and establishing Sugreeva on throne of monkey kingdom, grieving of Tara, the wife of Vali and empress of that kingdom, and as consented Rama's stopover during the days of rain... [1-3-24]

Comment: This raatri usually means night. But it includes day also. When saying triraatra, dasa raatra, in conducting rituals it includes daytime also. On the whole it is total rainy season that is admirably narrated in Kishkindha Kanda.

Verse Locator

कोपम् राघव सिंहस्य बलानाम् उपसंग्रहम् ।

दिशः प्रस्थापनम् च एव पृथिव्याः च निवेदनम् ॥ १-३-२५

25. kopam raaghava simhasya = wrath of, Raghava, the lion; balaanaam upasa.ngraham = troops, foregathering; dishaH prasthaapanam ca eva = to quarters, sending, also, thus; pR^idhivyaaH ca nivedanam = earth's [topography,] also, description.

The wrath of Raghava, the lion, at the delay caused by Sugreeva, and Sugreeva's foregathering of all troops, and sending them to all quarters, and Sugreeva's description of earth's topography to monkey-troops... [1-3-25]

Verse Locator

अङ्गुलीयक दानम् च ऋक्षस्य बिल दर्शनम् ।

प्रायोपवेशनम् च अपि संपातेः च अपि दर्शनम् ॥ १-३-२६

26. a.nguliiyaka daanam ca = ring of his finger, giving, also; R^ikshasya bila darshanam = Riksha's cave, seeing; praayopaveshanam ca api = fasting unto death, and, even; sampateH ca api darshanam = Sampaati, also, even, seeing.

Rama's giving his ring to Hanuma as a token for Seetha's recognition... and the monkeys thus searching see Riskha cave, bear-cave, and their fasting unto death for their quest remained unsuccessful, and their seeing Sampaati, another mighty eagle and the brother of slain Jatayu, who guides the monkeys to the destination where Seetha is held captive. [1-3-26]

Verse Locator

पर्वत आरोहणम् च अपि सागस्य अपि लङ्घनम् ।

समुद्र वचनात् च एव मैनाकस्य च दर्शनम् ॥ १-३-२७

27. parvataa aaroHaNam ca api = mountain [Mt. Mahendra,] climbing, also, even; saagarasya ca la.ngghanam = of ocean, also, leaping out of; samudra vachanaat ca eva = Ocean's, advise of, also, thus; mainaakasya ca darshanam = of Mt. Mainaka, also, seeing.

Hanuma's climbing Mt. Mahendra to leap over the ocean, and on the advice of the Ocean, Mt. Mainaka's coming up from under waters to give rest to Hanuma, and Hanuma's seeing that mountain are depicted. [1-3-27]

Verse Locator

राक्षसी तर्जनम् च एव छाया ग्राहस्य दर्शनम् ।

सिंहिकायाः च निधनम् लङ्का मलय दर्शनम् ॥ १-३-२८

28. raakshasii tarjanam ca eva = demoness', killing, also, thus; Chaayaa graahsya darshanam = seeing, Simhika, the capturer by shadow, seeing her; simhikaayaaH ca nidhanam = Simhika's, killing, also; la.nkaa malaya darshanam = Lanka, mountain's, seeing.

Hanuma's killing the demoness Surasa, and his seeing of Simhika, a rapacious creature of gigantic origin, which captures its prey by the shadow, and Hanuma's killing that Simhika, and his seeing the mountain of Lanka, called Mt. Trikuta, on which the state of Lanka is built, Valmiki described them all. [1-3-28]

Verse Locator

रात्रौ लंका प्रवेशम् च एकस्य अपि विचिंतनम् ।

आपान भूमि गमनम् अवरोधस्य दर्शनम् ॥ १-३-२९

29. raatrau la.nkaa pravesham ca = in night, Lanka, entering, also; ekasya api vichintanam = lonely, even though, thinking over; aapaana bhuumi gamanam = liquor consuming, place, going to; avarodhasya darshanam = of secure place, [the palace chambers,] seeing.

In night Hanuma's entry into Lanka, for being lonely his thinking over the course to search for Seetha, and his going to the liquor consumption place, and also his seeing the palace chambers of Ravana... [1-3-29]

Verse Locator

दर्शनम् रावणस्य अपि पुष्पकस्य च दर्शनम् ।
अशोक वनिकायानम् सीतायाः च अपि दर्शनम् ॥ १-३-३०

30. darshanam raavaNasya api = seeing, Ravana, also; puSpakasya ca darshanam = of Pushpaka [aircraft,] also, seeing; ashoka vanikaayaanam = in Ashoka, gardens; siitaayaaH ca api darshanam = Seetha, also, even, seeing.

Hanuma's seeing Ravana, and also his seeing Pushpaka, the divine aircraft, and in Ashoka gardens, his seeing Seetha also... [1-3-30]

Verse Locator

अभिज्ञन प्रदानम् च सीतायाः च अपि भाषणम् ।
राक्षसी तर्जनम् च एव त्रिजटा स्वप्न दर्शनम् ॥ १-३-३१

31. abhij~nana pradaanam ca = credential, presenting, also; siitaayaaH ca api bhaaSaNam = with Seetha, also, even, talking; raakshasii tarjanam ca eva = demoness', scaring also, thus; trijaTaa svapna darshanam = Trijata, the demoness', dream, witnessing.

Presenting his credential, the ring of Rama, to Seetha and his talk with Seeta, and also his witnessing the demonesses scaring Seetha to oblige Ravana, and his witnessing demoness Trijata narrating her bad dream, are all narrated in the epic.] [1-3-31]

Verse Locator

मणि प्रदानम् सीतायाः वृक्ष भंगम् तथ एव च ।
राक्षसी विद्रवम् चैव किंकराणाम् निबर्हणम् ॥ १-३-३२

32. maNi pradaanam siitaayaaH = jewel, giving, of Seetha; vR^iksha bha.ngam tatha eva ca = trees, uprooting, thereby, thus; raakshasii vidravam ca eva = demoness', fleeing, also, thus; kinkaraaNaam nibarhaNam = guards [at the gardens,] killing of.

Seetha's giving her bejeweled hairslide to be shown to Rama, Hanuma's uprooting of the trees of that beautiful Ashoka gardens, thereby the demonesses fleeing in scare, his killing the guards of that garden... [1-3-32]

Verse Locator

ग्रहणम् वायु सूनीश्च लंका दाह अभिगर्जनम् ।
प्रति प्लवनम् एव अथ मधूनाम् हरणम् तथा ॥ १-३-३३

33. grahaNam vaayusuunoH ca = capture of, son of Vayu, Air-god, also; lankaa daaha abhigarjanam = Lanka, burning of, [and his blaring at demons]; prati plavanam eva = return, flying, also; atha madhuunaam haraNam tathaa = then, honey, appropriation of, thus.

The capture of Hanuma, the son of Air-god, by the magical missile of Indrajit, son of Ravana, and also Hanuma's burning down Lanka, and his blaring at the demons, also his return flight from Lanka... and on his way back Hanuma's seeing a honey garden, and the appropriation of honey... [1-3-33]

Verse Locator

राघव आस्वासनम् चैव मणि निर्यातनम् तथा ।

संगमम् च समुद्रेण नल सेतोः च बन्धनम् ॥ १-३-३४

34. raaghava ashvaasanam ca eva = Rama, solaced, also, thus; maNi niryaatanam tathaa = jewel, presenting, thus; sangamam samudreNa ca = meeting, with Ocean, also; nala sethoH ca bandhanam = by Nala, bridge, also, building.

Hanuma's action in presenting the jewel sent by Seetha solaces Raghava, and thus the meeting of Rama with the Ocean, and Nala's building the bridge on ocean... [1-3-34]

Verse Locator

प्रतारम् च समुद्रस्य रात्रौ लंका अवरोधनम् ।

विभीषणेन संसर्गम् वधोपाय निवेदनम् ॥ १-३-३५

35. prataaram ca samudrasya = crossing over, also, ocean; raatrau la.nka avarodhanam = in night, Lanka, seizure of; sansargam vibhiiSaNena vadha upaaya nivedanam = meeting, with Vibheeshana, killing, scheme, telling.

Crossing over the ocean by the boulder bridge built by Nala, and seizure of Lanka in night, and Vibheeshana, the younger brother of Ravana, whom Ravana banished, comes to meet Rama, and his telling the scheme to kill Ravana to Rama... [1-3-35]

Verse Locator

कुम्भकर्णस्य निधनम् मेघनाद निबर्हणम् ।

रावणस्य विनाशम् च सीतावाप्तिम् अरेः पुरे ॥ १-३-३६

36. kumbhakarNasya nidhanam = Kumbhakarna, destruction of; meghanaada nibarhaNam = Meghanada, elimination of; raavaNasya vinasham ca = Ravana's, annihilation, also; siitaa avaaptim areH pure = Seetha, restitution of, in enemy's, city.

Destruction of Kumbhakarna, another brother of Ravana, and the elimination of Meghanatha, the valiant fighter and son of Ravana, and the annihilation of Ravana, and also retrieval of Seetha in enemy's city, [which is a kind of disgrace to Rama and a successive event follows thereon,] all these are narrated in the epic. [1-3-36]

Verse Locator

विभीषण अभिषेकम् च पुष्पकस्य च दर्शनम् ।

अयोध्यायाः च गमनम् भरद्वाज समागमम् ॥ १-३-३७

37. vibhiiSaNa abhishhekam cha = Vibheeshana's, crowning; puSpakasya ca darshanam = Pushpaka, aircraft, seeing it; ayodhyaayaaH ca gamanam = to Ayodhya, also, going; bharadvaja samaagamam = Sage Bharadvaja, meeting with.

Crowning of Vibheeshana as the king of Lanka, after the demise of Ravana, and also Rama's seeing Pushpaka, the divine aircraft, and returning to Ayodhya in that aircraft... and Rama's meeting Sage Bharadvaja on his way back... [1-3-37]

Verse Locator

प्रेषणम् वायु पुत्रस्य भरतेन समागमम् ।

राम अभिषेक अभ्युदयम् सर्व सैन्य विसर्जनम् ।

स्व राष्ट्र रंजनम् च एव वैदेह्याः च विसर्जनम् ॥ १-३-३८

38. preSaNam vaayu putrasya = sending of, Air-god's son, [Hanuma]; bharatena samaagamam = with Bharata, meeting; raama abhishheka abhyudayam = Rama's, coronation, festival; sarva sainya visarjanam = all, military, disbandment; sva raaSTra ra~njanam ca eva = own, kingdom, to the delight of State; vaidehyaaH ca visarjanam = Seetha, too, desolation of.

Sending Hanuma to meet Bharata, for he avowed to self-immolate if Rama were not to come in time; the coronation festival of Rama; disbandment of all military troops of monkeys; Rama's ruling his kingdom to the delight of his subjects, and the desolation of Vaidehi too... are described by Valmiki. [1-3-38]

Verse Locator

अनागतम् च यत् किञ्चिद् रामस्य वसुधा तले ।
तत् चकार उत्तरे काव्ये वाल्मीकिः भगवान् ऋषिः ॥ १-३-३९

39. bhagavaan vaalmikiH R^iSiH = godly, Valmiki, the sage; raamasya yat kimchit = of Rama, whatever, minutely; vasudhaa tale = on earth's, surface; anaagatam ca = futuristic, also; tat = that; uttare = in later [parts of, coming chapters]; kaavye = of epic; chakaara = composed.

The godly sage Valmiki composed the futuristic legend of Rama while Rama is on the surface of earth, and whatever that is there, that is composed in all its minuteness, in the coming chapters of this epic. [1-3-39]

Comment: In this verse, some take the word uttare as Uttara Ramayana, the events occurring after his crowning, Seetha's departure to forest, birth of Lava and Kusha, the sons of Rama and a battle between father and sons etc., are ascribed to Valmiki. But to some commentators, as per the format of this chapter, which surveys what Valmiki has scheduled to write, it is unacceptable since the word uttare occurs for only one occasion, hence cannot mean next canto. Thus, they say, Uttara Ramayana cannot be ascribed to Valmiki. Hence the word uttare here is taken to mean henceforth, hereinafter of the epic.

इति वाल्मीकि रामायणे आदि काव्ये बाल काण्डे तृतीयः सर्गः

Thus, this is the 3rd chapter in Bala Kanda of Valmiki Ramayana, the First Epic poem of India.

Book I : Bala Kanda - Book Of Youthful Majesties

Chapter [Sarga] 4 Verses converted to UTF_8 Sept, 09

Introduction

Valmiki composed twenty four thousand verses and taught them to Lava and Kusha, the sons of Rama and Seetha. The two youngsters sing the ballad among the assemblages of sages and saints, and win laurels. Rama on seeing the boys singing on the streets and king's ways of Ayodhya, brings them to his palace, and summons all his brothers and ministers to listen to the ballad. Rama himself is put to the turmoil, for the ballad sung by these youngsters narrates the legend of Seetha. But he himself collecting his calm, Rama paid his attention to listen the 'Legend of Seetha' sithaayaH charitam mahaanas Valmiki calls Ramayana.

Verse Locator

प्राप्त राज्यस्य रामस्य वाल्मीकिर् भगवान् ऋषिः ।
चकार चरितम् कृत्स्नम् विचित्र पदम् अर्थवत् ॥ १-४-१

1. bhagavaan R^iSiH = godly, saint, Valmiki; praapta raajasya raamsya = on retrieval, of kingdom, by Rama; vichitra padam = admirably, worded; kR^itsnam = in entirety; charitam = legend; arthavat = meaningfully; chakaara = composed.

The godly saint Valmiki composed Ramayana on Rama's retrieving kingdom, wording admirably and meaningfully. [1-4-1]

Verse Locator

चतुर् विंशत् सहस्राणि श्लोकानाम् उक्तवान् ऋषिः ।
तथा सर्ग शतान् पंच षट् काण्डानि तथा उत्तरम् ॥ १-४-२

2. R^iSiH = sage Valmiki; slokaanaam = verses; chatur vimshat sahasraaNi = twenty-four, thousand; tathaa = that way; pancha sarga shataam = five, chapters, hundreds; SaT kaaNDaani cha = six, books, also; tatha uttaram = that way, an end piece; uktvaan = said.

Sage Valmiki said Ramayana in twenty four thousand verses, in six hundred chapters, in six books, likewise an end-piece too. [1-4-2]

The twenty-four are the letters in Gayatri hymn. Ramayana's scheming is based on Gayatri hymn and for this: atra catur vi~Nshati sa~Nkhyo uktyaa catur vi~Nshati akShara gaayatrii tulyataa suucitam | prathama adhyaaye - tapaH svaadhyaya - ityatra prathamam ta kaarasya - sargapraante - iti etasmin padye - mahatva miiyaat - ityatra yaat - iti akSharasya grahaNaat api gayatrii ruapatvam suucitam - dharmaakuutam

There is a controversy about the number of verses and cantos. If Uttara Ramayana, otherwise called abhudaya kaanDa, is ascribed to Valmiki, the cantos are seven and chapters are about 649 and verses are about 24,253. But some verses and chapters are deleted for standardization of Ramayana as per this verse and they contain 560 chapters and 24,00 verses only. Some argue that when it is said 24, 000 verses are there, it does not actually a mathematical assertion, like the calculation of mahaa yuga -s and manvantara -s, and as one would give a reply to his age as 30 years, or 60 years, but not as 29 years, 6 months, seven days or so... In furthering that standardization affair, some said that even this canto, Bala kaanda is not authored by Valmiki. It is not clear as of now when the pundits can decide as to which is standard and which is not.

The transcendental aspect of Ramayana and its content is explained in 18 terms by ancient commentator Govindaraja. 1] Rama's Absoluteness, paramaatma tattva ; 2] Ideation to know Him, upaaya ; 3] Dedication in Him, kainkarya ; 4] Human aspect, puruSaakaara ; 5] Diviner, adhikaara ; 6] Resolve in God, adhikaara paaratantrya ; 7] God's resolve in Dedicate, bhagavat paaratantrya ; 8] Knowledge of five Meanings, artha pancaka j~naana ; 9] Self-denial, akincinatvam ; 10] Teacher selecting, aacaarya varaNam ; 11] Climax, autkaNThata ; 12] Behaviour, pravartana ; 13] Residence, vaasa sthaana ; 14] Two Narayana hymns, naaraayaNa mantra dvaya ; 15] Gayatri, Gayatri hymn; 16] Negating negative-thinking, durvicaara parihaara ; 17] negating Love for Living, samsaara jihaasa ; 18] 64 Divinely Arts, catuSaSTi kalamayatva . Of them we take up the 15th Gayatri.

The identification of Gayatri with Ramayana scheme is explained in many ways. By tat savitR^i the features and attributes of the Absolute as per narrations in Bala Kanda. vareNya by the narration of Absolute's attributes in Ayodhya and Kishkindha kaanda-s, and adherents like Lakshmana, Bharata, Sugreeva take shelter in Him here only. bharga is identified as per the description of resplendence of The Divine as envisaged by the sages and hermits in Aranya Kanda. devasya and in dhiimahi where that deva the Divine is explained by Hanuma, not only to Seetha but to all in Sundara kanda. hi dhii mahi is as explained in Uttara Kanda, which centers around moksha salvation.

Verse Locator

कृत्वा तु तन् महाप्राज्ञः स भविष्यम् सह उत्तरम् ।
चिन्तयामास कोन्वेतत् प्रयुंजीयाद् इति प्रभुः ॥१-४-३

3. maha praaj~naH prabhuH = great, scholar, godly-saint Valmiki; sa bhavishyam saha uttaram = with, leading, with, sequel; tat = that, Ramayana; kR^itvaa tu = having composed, but; kaH = who; nu = really; etat = all this; pra yu~njiyaat iti = well, render, thus; chintayaamasa = thought over.

Though that great scholar composed thus with leading and sequel legends, that godly saint thought over thus 'really, who will render all this ballad...' [1-4-3]

Verse Locator

तस्य चिन्तयामानस्य महर्षेर् भावितात्मनः ।
अगृह्णीताम् ततः पादौ मुनि वेषौ कुशी लवौ ॥ १-४-४

4. tataH = then; muni veshau kushii lavau = in hermits, attire, Kusha, Lava; chintayaamasnasya = thoughtful one; bhavitaH atmanaH = contemplating soul; tasya maharsheH = his, of the Sage's; paadau agR^ihniitaam = feet taken [touched.]

Then Lava and Kusha who are in the attire of hermits have touched the feet of that contemplative soul Valmiki, who is now thoughtful. [1-4-4]

Verse Locator

कुशी लवौ तु धर्मज्ञौ राज पुत्रौ यशश्चिनौ ।
भ्रातरौ स्वर संपन्नौ ददर्श आश्रम वासिनौ ॥ १-४-५

5. kushii lavau tu = Kusha, Lava, but; dharmaj~nau = virtue-knowers raaja putrau = princes; yashasvinau = glorious ones; svara sampannau = with melodious voice, endowed with; bhratrau = brothers; aashrama vaasinau = [the same] hermitage, residents of; [Valmiki] dadarsha = seen;

Glorious Kusha and Lava are the virtue knowing princes, and they are endowed with melodious voice, besides being the residents of the same hermitage, thus Valmiki saw them saluting at his feet. [1-4-5]

Verse Locator

स तु मेधाविनौ दृष्ट्वा वेदेषु परिनिष्ठितौ ।

वेदोपबृंहणार्थाय तौ अग्राहयत प्रभुः ॥ १-४-६

6. prabhuH = self-reliant sage; saH = he, Valmiki; medhavinau = intellectual pair; vedeshu pariniSTitau = in Vedas, proficient; dR^iSTvaa = having seen; veda upa bR^imhaNa arthaya [kathitam kaavyam] = to Veda-s, as ancillary, reinforcement, aiming at [rendered, epic]; tau a graahayata = them two, made to receive [epic to memorise].

On seeing that pair intellectuals who are proficient in Veda-s that self-reliant sage Valmiki made those two to memorize the epic, as the epic Ramayana is composed only to reinforce the import of Veda-s, as an ancillary. [1-4-6]

Verse Locator

काव्यम् रामायणम् कृत्स्नम् सीतायाः चरितम् महत् ।

पौलस्त्य वधम् इति एवम् चकार चरित व्रतः ॥ १-४-७

7. charitra vrata = sage who observed all sacred vows; kR^itsnam kaavyam = to entire, epic; raamaayaNam = Ramayana; siithayaH charitam mahat = Seetha's, legend, sublime; poulastya vadham = Ravana's, elimination; iti = thus [naming]; evam cakaara = that way, made, rendered.

That sage with observed sacred vows has rendered the entire epic in the name of 'Ramayana', 'Sublime Legend of Seetha' and 'elimination of Ravana'. [1-4-7]

Seetha's conduct is the primary aspect and Ravana's elimination is secondary in the epic of Ramayana. poulasthya vadha . Giving one to many names to poem/epics is usual as in maagha kaavya which is known as shishupaala vadha whereas it is actually kR^ishNa carita .

Verse Locator

पाठ्ये गेये च मथुरम् प्रमाणैः त्रिभिर् अन्वितम् ।

जातिभिः सप्तभिः युक्तम् तन्त्री लय समन्वितम् ॥ १-४-८

8. paaThye geye madhuram = to read, to sing, melodious; pramaaNaiH tri bhiH anvitam = scales, in three, kinds, adaptable; jaatibhiH saptabhiH baddham = classification, sevenfold, orchestral; tantrii laya samanvitam = string-instrument, rhythm, included.

To read or to sing it is melodious, adaptable to music with three scales and sevenfold tune, and orchestral to the tunes of string-instrument and rhythm included... [1-4-8]

The three Indian scale pauses are dR^ita, madhyama, vilambita . These though not equal but identical to Breve, Minim and Quaver of Western classical music. The seven fold classifications of swara-s are 1] shadja [2] madhyama [3] gaandhara [4] niSaada [5] R^iSabha [6] dhaitava [7] pa~nchama . These are roughly identical to Accelerando, Calando, Decresando, Smorzando, Sostentuo, and others of Western classical music.

Verse Locator

रसैः शृंगार करुण हास्य रौद्र भयानकैः ।

विरादिभी रसैर् युक्तम् काव्यम् एतत् अगायताम् ॥ १-४-९

9. rasaiH sR^ingara karuNa haasya raudra bhayaanakaiH = aesthetics, romance, pathos, comic, fury, fright, and others; viira aadibH rasaiH yuktam = valour et cetera, aesthetics, embodying; kaavyam a gaayataam = epic, is sung.

Aesthetics like romance, pathos, comic, fury, fright, valour etc., embodying the epic is sung [by Kusha, Lava.] [1-4-9]

The Indian categorization of aesthetics rasaa -s is in nine emotions. sR^ingaa [romance] haasa , [humour] shoka , [grief] krodha , [fury] utsaaha , [enthusiasm, bravery] bhaya , [fright] jugupsa ,

[disgust] vismaya [amaze.] Again sR^ingaara is of two kinds - a) sambhoga , [being with his/her partner,]
b) vipralamba [not being with his/her partner.]

Rama's togetherness with Seetha from Bala Kanda till her abduction is the first category of romance. After her departure and until regain, it is second sort of romantic narration. Episodes of Surpanakha, Trijata are humorous. Those of Dasharatha, Jatayu etc., are of grievous nature. Killing, torturing etc., situations arouse furiousness. Lakshmana, Indrajit and others are showing bravery. Seeing ugly demons either in forests or those that surround Seetha is causing fright. The very sight of ugly bodied demons like Viradha, Kabandha is creating disgust. Hanuma's leaping ocean, burning Lanka, and the entire Rama-Ravana war are amazing

Verse Locator

तौ तु गान्धर्व तत्त्वज्ञौ स्थान मूर्च्छन कोविदौ ।
भ्रातरौ स्वर संपन्नौ गन्धर्वाः इव रूपिणौ ॥ १-४-१०

10. tau tu gaandharva tatvaj~nau = they are, musical art, conversant with; sthaana muurchana kovidau = pause, pitch of voice, proficient in; bhraatarau svara sampannou = two brothers, voice, wealthy; gandharva iva ruupiNau = celestial singers, like, in appearance.

They are conversant with the art of music and proficient with the pitch and pausing their voices, and those two brothers have not only a wealthy voice, but they also look like celestial singers. [1-4-10]

The gandharva-s are celestial beings with adorable personalities and performers of all kinds of performing arts. Hence, Indian musical art is termed as gaandhava vidya .

Verse Locator

रूप लक्षण संपन्नौ मधुर स्वर भाषिणौ ।
बिंबात् इव उथीतौ बिंबौ राम देहात् तथा अपरौ ॥ १-४-११

11. ruupa lakshaNa sampannau = in appearance, charm, privileged with; madhura svara bhashaNau = melodiously, voiced, in voicing; bimbaat iva uthiitau bimbau = [from original] reflection, like, issued forth, reflections; raama dehaat = from Rama's, body; tatha aparau = like that, separately.

They have charm in their appearance and melodiousness in their voice, they are like the two reflections of one original object, and thus they came out from the body of Rama, separately. [1-4-11]

Vishnu's reflection is Rama, and Kusha, Lava are two reflections of Rama, and thus, in turn, these two princes are adorable like Vishnu, as in bimba-pratibimba nyaaya , image-reflection syndrome.

Verse Locator

तौ राज पुत्रौ कात्स्न्येन धर्यम् आख्यानम् उत्तमम् ।
वाचो विधेयम् तत् सर्वम् कृत्वा काव्यम् अनिन्दितौ ॥ १-४-१२

12. tau raja putrau kaartsnyena = they, king's, sons [princes,] in entirety; dharmyam aakhyanam uttamam = virtue expounding, epic, best; vaachaH vidheyam tat sarvam = by voice, preserved [memorized,] all that; kR^itva kaavyam a ninditau = doing so, epic, without, fault.

They the princes have memorized that virtue-expounding epic, the best; in its entirety and in doing so, they rendered that epic faultlessly. [1-4-12]

Verse Locator

ऋषीणाम् च द्विजातीनाम् साधूनाम् च समागमे ।
यथा उपदेशम् तत्त्वज्ञौ जगतुः तौ समाहितौ ॥ १-४-१३

13. R^iSiiNaam cha dvijaatiinam = of sages, also, of scholars; saadhunam cha samaagame = of eminent persons, also, assemblages; yatha upadesham tatvaj~nau = as schooled, those two that are well aware of; jagatuH = sung; su samahitau = with best, concentration.

They sung the epic as schooled, well aware of its content and intent, among the assemblages of sages, scholars and also of eminent persons, with their best concentration [1-4-13]

Verse Locator

महात्मनौ महाभागौ सर्व लक्षण लक्षितौ ।
तौ कदाचित् समेतानाम् ऋषीणाम् भवित आत्मनाम् ॥ १-४-१४
मध्ये सभम् समीपस्थौ इदम् काव्यम् अगायताम् ।

14-15a. maha aatmanau = those two great-souls; maha bhagau = highly endowed [with musical talent]; sarva lakshaNa lakshitau = all, features, possessing; tau kadachit = those two, once; sametaanaam R^iSiiNam = at a gathering, of sages; bhavita aatmaanaam = of pious, souls; madhye sabham samiipasthau = midst of, assemblage, nearby standing; idam kaavyam agayataam = this, epic, sung.

Once those two great-souls who endowed with musical talent and with all remarkable features, sung this epic, standing nearby the midst of a gathering of sages and pious souls. [1-4-14-15a]

Verse Locator

तत् श्रुत्वा मुनयः सर्वे बाष्प पर्याकुलेक्षणाः ॥ १-४-१५
साधु साध्विति ता ऊचुः परम् विस्मयम् आगताः ।

15b-16a. sarve munayaH = all, sages; tat shrutvaa = that, on hearing; param vismayam aagataaH = great, surprise, coming on; baaSpa paryaakula iikshaNaaH = with tears, overspread, eye-sight; saadhu saadhu iti taa uuchuH = splendid, splendid, thus, they, said [appreciated].

On hearing that, the eyes of all the sages were overspread with tears of happiness, and they appreciated saying, 'splendid, splendid is this...' [1-4-15b-16a]

Verse Locator

ते प्रीत मनसः सर्वे मुनयो धर्म वत्सलाः ॥ १-४-१६
प्रशशंसुः प्रशस्तव्यौ गायमानौ कुशी लवौ ।

16b-17a. sarve munayaH = they, all, the saints; dharma vatsalaaH = saints, virtue, patrons of; te priita manasH = they, pleased, at heart; prashtavyau = praise worthy ones; gaayamaanau kushii lavau = while singing, Kusha and Lava; prasasamsuH = praised.

All those saints being the saint-patrons of virtue are pleased at heart, and praised the praiseworthy Kusha and Lava, while they are singing. [1-4-16b-17a]

Verse Locator

अहो गीतस्य माधुर्यम् श्लोकानाम् च विशेषतः ॥ १-४-१७
चिरनिर्वृत्तम् अपि एतत् प्रत्यक्षम् इव दर्शितम् ।

17b-18a. aha giitasya maadhuryam = aha, ballad's, melody [is superb]; visheSataH cha slokaanam = especially, also, of verses; etat chira nirvR^ittam api = all this, long-ago, happened, though; pratyaksham iva darshitam = presently [happening one], like, shown.

"The melody of the ballad, especially the meaning of verses, aha! Superb... though this has happened long-ago it is shown like the one happening presently... [1-4-17b-18a]

प्रविश्य ता उभौ सुष्ठु तथा भावम् अगायताम् ॥ १-४-१८

सहितौ मधुरम् रक्तम् संपन्नम् स्वर संपदा ।

18b-19a. tau ubhau = those two; sahitau = in oneness [of musical notes]; suSThu pravishya = very well, on entering [into the mood of epic]; madhuram = melodiously; raktam = rapturously; svara sampada sampannam = saDjaadi svara sampadaa = maintaining pitch and tune; bhaavam agaayataam = its import, sang.

"On getting into the mood of the epic, those two sang its import in one tune, that too melodiously and rapturously, maintaining the pitch and tune..." So said the saints. [1-4-18b-19a]

Verse Locator

एवम् प्रशस्यमानौ तौ तपः श्लाघ्यैः महर्षिभिः ॥ १-४-१९

संरक्ततरम् अत्यर्थम् मधुरम् तौ अगायताम् ।

19b-20a. tapaH slaaghaiH maharSibhiH = by asceticism, blessed, great saints; evam prashashyamaanau = that way, being appreciated; tau = those two; sam raktataram = very effectually; ati artham = very, meaningfully; madhuram = melodiously; agaayataam = sang.

While the great saints of blessed asceticism are appreciating that way, those two melodiously sang very effectually and very meaningfully. [1-4-19b-20a]

Verse Locator

प्रीतः कश्चिन् मुनिः ताभ्याम् संस्थितः कलशम् ददौ ॥ १-४-२०

प्रसन्नो वल्कलम् कश्चिद् ददौ ताभ्याम् महायशाः ।

20b-21a. kaschit muniH = someone, a saint; priitaH = pleased; samsthitaH = on getting up; taabhyaam = to them; kalasam dadau = a handy vessel, bestowed; maha yashaaH kaschit = verily reputed saint, someone; prasannaH = lauding; valkalam dadau = jute robe, contributed.

And someone, a pleased saint, got up and bestowed a handy vessel to them... another reputed sage, lauding them contributed a jute robe. [1-4-20b-21a]

Verse Locator

अन्यः कृष्णाजिनम् अदद् यज्ञ सूत्रम् तथा अपरः ॥ १-४-२१

कश्चित् कमण्डलुम् प्रदान् मौञ्जीम् अन्यो महामुनिः ।

ब्रुसीमन्यः तदा प्रादत् कौपीनम् अपरो मुनिः ॥ १-४-२२

ताभ्याम् ददौ तदा हृष्टः कुठारम् अपरो मुनिः ।

काषायम् अपरो वस्त्रम् चीरम् अन्यो ददौ मुनिः ॥ १-४-२३

जटाबन्धनम् अन्यः तु काष्ठ रज्जुम् मुदान्वितः ।

यज्ञ भाण्डम् ऋषिः कश्चित् काष्ठभारम् तथा परः ॥ १-४-२४

औदुम्बरीम् ब्रुसीम् अन्यः स्वस्ति केचित् तदा अवदन् ।

आयुष्यम् अपरे प्राहुर् मुदा तत्र महर्षयः ॥ १-४-२५

ददुः च एवम् वरान् सर्वे मुनयः सत्यवादिनः ।

21b-26a. anyaH kR^iSNaajinam adat = another sage, black-deerskin, bestowed; tathaa aparaH yaj~na suutram = like that, another sacred thread; kashchit kamaNDalum pradaat = someone, water-pot, bestowed; anyaH mahaamuniH mau~njiim = another, great saint, girdle of maunja grass; brusiim anyaH tadaa praadat kaupiinam = to tellers [to singes,] another,

then, contributed, an under cloth; aparaH hR^iSTaH muniH taabhyaam dadau tadaa kuThaaram = another, gladdened, saint, to them, contributed, then, hatchet; aparaH muniH kaaSaayam vastram = another, sage, another, saffron, cloth; chiiram anyah muniH dadau = cloth-wrapper, another, saint, bestowed; anyah tu jaTaa bandhanam = another, also, tuft-headband; aparaH mudaanvitaH kaaSTha rajjum = another one, with enchantment wood-sticks, band; kashcit R^iSiH yaj~na bhaaNDam = someone, a sage, sacrificial vessel; kaaSThabhaaram tathaa paraH = firewood sticks, then, another; audumbariim = plank of audumbarii tree wood; brusiim anyah svasti = called forth, other, blessings; kechit tadaa avadan = someone, then, chanted; aayuSyam apare praahuH = longevity, then, chanted; mudaa tatra maharSayaH = happily, there, great sages; daduH cha evam varaan = bestowed, also, thus, boons; sarve munayaH satyavaadinaH = by all, saints, truth-avowed one.

And another sage bestowed a black-deerskin, and like that yet another a sacred thread... someone gave a water-pot and another great saint a girdle of maunja grass to singers, while that way another contributed an under cloth; another sage gladly contributed a hatchet to them, another a saffron clothe, and yet another saint bestowed a cloth-wrapper; another delivered tuft-headband also, and another enchanted for their singing ballad handed out a sacrificial vessel, and another a bundle of firewood sticks, and yet another gave a plank-seat of audambari wood, and other called forth blessings, and someone then happily chanted bless-hymns for longevity... there by all the truth-avowing saints, those that are great sages have thus bestowed boons. [1-4-21b-26a]

Verse Locator

आश्चर्यम् इदम् आख्यानम् मुनिना संप्रकीर्तितम् ॥ १-४-२६
परम् कवीनाम् आधारम् समाप्तम् च यथा क्रमम् ।

26b-27a. muninaa samprakiirtitam = by sage Valmiki, well-said; idam aakhyanam = this, rendering; aascharyam = surprising; param kaviinaam aadhaaram = tomorrow's, poets, subsistence; yathaa kramam cha samaaptam = sequentially, as well completed.

"Surprising is this well-said rendering of Valmiki... it is the subsistence for tomorrow's poets... and this is completed sequentially, as well... [1-4-26b-27a]

Verse Locator

अभिगीतम् इदम् गीतम् सर्व गीतेषु कोविदौ ॥ १-४-२७
आयुष्यम् पुष्टि जननम् सर्व श्रुति मनोहरम् ।
प्रशस्यमानौ सर्वत्र कदाचित् तत्र गायकौ ॥ १-४-२८
रथ्यासु राज मार्गेषु ददर्श भरताग्रजः ।

27b-29a. idam giitam = this, song; saayuSyam puSTi janakam = longevity, prosperity, generates; sarva sruti manoharam = to all, ears, melodious one; abhigiitam = well-sung; prashasyamaanau = those being appreciated; rathyaasu raaja maargeSu = in streets, in king's, ways; sarvatra = everywhere; gaayakau = those that are singing; sarva giiteSu kovidau = in every type of, singing, experts - Lava and Kusha; kadachit tatra = at one time, there; dadarsha bharata agraja = on seeing, Bharata's, elder brother [Rama].

While this song that generates longevity and prosperity, and one that is melodious one to all ears is being sung everywhere in streets and king's ways and while those two singers who are experts in singing any kind of music are being appreciated everywhere, Rama has seen them. [1-4-27b-29a]

Verse Locator

स्व वेश्म च आनीय ततो भ्रातरौ स कुशी लवौ ॥ १-४-२९
पूजयामास पुज अर्हौ रामः शत्रुनिर्बहणः ।

29b-30a. tataH = then; satru nibarhaNaH = enemy, eliminator; saH ramaH = he, that Rama; puuja arhau = worthy to be honoured; braatarau kushii lavau = two brothers; sva vesma aayaniya = to his palace, having fetched; puujayamaasa = honoured them.

Then on seeing them Rama, the enemy-eliminator, fetched those honour-worthy bothers, Lava and Kusha, to his palace and honoured them. [1-4-29b-30a]

Verse Locator

आसीनः कांचने दिव्ये स च सिंहासने प्रभुः ॥ १-४-३०
उपोपविष्टैः सचिवैः भ्रातृभिः च समन्वित ।

30b-31a. saH prabhuH = he, that king Rama; upopaviSTaiH = sitting nearby; sachivaiH bhraatR^ibhiH cha samanvita = with ministers, brothers, also, surrounded by; divye kaa.nchane siMhaasane = on divine, golden, throne; aasiinaH = sat.

He that king Rama is then surrounded by his ministers and brothers that are sitting his nearby, he himself sat on a divine golden throne. [1-4-3b-31a]

Verse Locator

दृष्ट्वा तु रूप संपन्नौ विनीतौ भ्रातरौ उभौ ॥ १-४-३१
उवाच लक्ष्मणम् रामः शत्रुघ्नम् भरतम् तथा ।

31b-32a. raamaH = Rama; dR^isTvaa = on seeing; ruupa sampannou = in features, rich; viniitau = mannerly ones; bhraatarau ubhau = at brothers, both; lakshmaNam shatrughnam bharatam tathaa = to Lakshmana, to Shatrughna, Bharata, likewise; uvaaca = spoke to.

Having seen the mannerly brothers endowed with beautiful features, Rama spoke to Lakshmana, and Shatrughna, and Bharata likewise. [1-4-31b-32a]

Verse Locator

श्रूयताम् एतद् आख्यानम् अनयोः देव वर्चसोः ॥ १-४-३२
विचित्रार्थ पदम् संयक् गायकौ समचोदयत् ।

32b-33a. anayoH deva varchasouH = from them, divinely, resplendent ones; vichitra artha padam = having versatile, meanings, wordings; idam aakhyaanam samyak shruuyataam = this, legend [ballad], keenly, be heard; [tau] gaayakau samachodayat = [them,] two singers, motivated.

Rama said to thus, "Let this ballad be keenly heard from these divinely resplendent brothers, for it contains versatile words and meanings..." and thus he motivated the singers. [1-4-32b-33a]

Verse Locator

तौ च अपि मधुरम् रक्तम् स्वचित्तायत निःस्वनम् ॥ १-४-३३
तन्त्री लयवत् अत्यर्थम् विश्रुतार्थम् अगायताम् ।

33b-c. tau cha api madhuram = those two, even, melodiously; raktam svachitaayata niHsvanam = effectually, with clear and clarified, voices; tantrii laya vat = string-instrument, rhythmic, like; atyartham = very; vishruta artham agaayataam = clear, meaningful [intonation,] have sung.

Even those two singers have sung the ballad melodiously and effectually, with their clear and clarified voices, like the melody of string and rhythmic instruments, with very clear and meaningful intonation. [1-4-33b-c]

Verse Locator

ह्लादयत् सर्व गात्राणि मनांसि हृदयानि च ।

श्रोत्राश्रय सुखम् गेयम् तद् बभौ जनसंसदि ॥ १-४-३४

34. shrota aasraya sukham = for all ears, bearing, comfort; geyam = that song; jana sansadi = in people's, gathering; sarva gatraaNi = for all bodies [courtiers]; manamsi hR^idayani cha = minds, hearts, also; hlaadayat = enthralling,; tat babhau = that, shone forth.

Enthralling courtier's bodies, minds and hearts also, and thus that song shone forth as it is for all ears, bearing a comfort in its manifestation, among the gathering of the people. [1-4-34]

Verse Locator

इमौ मुनी पार्थिव लक्षणान्वितौ
कुशी लवौ च एव महातपस्विनौ ।
ममा अपि तद् भूति करम् प्रचक्षते
महानुभावम् चरितम् निबोधत ॥ १-४-३५

35. imau munii paarthiva lakshaNa anvitau = these two, saints, kingly, features, possessing; kushii lavau cha eva maha tapasvinau = Kusha, Lava, also, thus, great, hermits; mamaa api tat bhuuti karam = to me, also, that, good fortune, endowing; mahanubhaavam charitam prachakshyate = the great efficacious, legend, they tell; nibodhata = listen it.

"These two saint-like Kusha and Lava, who also possess kingly features, but they are great hermits... this narration is endowing good fortune to me also, listen to that great efficacious legend [of Seetha...]" [So said Rama to those courtiers.] [1-4-35]

Here Rama tells that this legend is 'efficacious' for it is the legend of Seetha, and should it be Rama's alone, he will get the blemish of self-glorification, aatma prashamsaa doSa , and brave heroes of legends cannot be subjected to such a blemish. And to listen to the legend of his dearest, who at present is not with him, gives a kind of consolation, and thus he is asking all of us to listen to siitaayaH caritam mahaan ...

Verse Locator

ततः तु तौ राम वचः प्रचोदितौ
अगायताम् मार्ग विधान संपदा ।
स च अपि रामः परिषद् गतः शनैर्
बुभूषय आसक्तमना बभूव ॥ १-४-३६

36. tataH = then; tau = those two, Lava and Kusha; raama vacaH prachoditau = Rama's, words, motivated by; maarga vidhaana sampadaa = in maarga system, well-versed in; agaayataam = sang; parishat gataH = in congregation, available; saH raama api = he, that Rama, even; shanaiH bhubhuuSaya = again, to pacify his mind; aasakta manaH babhuuva = interested, at heart, became.

Then those two singers, motivated by Rama's words, sang the ballad in maarga system, for they are well versed in it, then even Rama, who is also in the congregation, again to pacify his mind, [for the story of Seetha puts his mind to turmoil,] became interested at heart [to continue listening Seetha's story...] [1-4-36]

इति वाल्मीकि रामायणे आदि काव्ये बाल काण्डे चतुर्थः सर्गः

Thus, this is the 4th chapter in Bala Kanda of Valmiki Ramayana, the First Epic poem of India.

Book I : Bala Kanda - The Youthful Majesties
Verses converted to UTF_8 Sept, 09

Chapter [Sarga] 5

Introduction

We enter the capital of the Emperor Dasharatha. The pomp and glory of his capital is depicted along with its town planning and grandeur of the city, and its residents.

Verse Locator

सर्वा पूर्वम् इयम् येषाम् आसीत् कृत्स्ना वसुंधरा ।
प्रजपतिम् उपादाय नृपाणम् जय शालिनाम् ॥ १-५-१
येषाम् स सगरो नाम सागरो येन खानितः ।
षष्टिः पुत्र सहस्राणि यम् यान्तम् पर्यवारयन् ॥ १-५-२
इक्ष्वाकूणाम् इदम् तेषाम् राज्ञाम् वंशे महात्मनाम् ।
महद् उत्पन्नम् आख्यनम् रामायणम् इति श्रुतम् ॥ १-५-३

1-3. iyam kR^itsnaa vasundharaa = this, entire, earth; sarvaa = sakala dwiipaataamaka = with all islands; upaadaaya prajapatim = starting from, Prajapati; jaya shaalinaam = victorious ones; yeSaam nR^ipaaNam = [under] which, kings; puurvam aasiit = once, it is there; yena saagaraH khaanitaH = by whom, oceans, deepened; yam yaantam = whom, while setting out in battles] SaSTiH sahasraaNiputra = sixty-thousand, sons; paryavaarayan = [going with him] fencing in; yeSaam = in which kings; saH saagaraH naama = he, that Sagara, named [king was there]; teshaam mahaatmanaam = such of those, great-souled; Ikshwakunaam raaj~aam vamshe = Ikshvaku, kings', dynasty; raaamayanaam = Ramayana; iti shrutam = thus, heard [reputed]; idam mahat aakhyanam utpannam = this, highly revered, epic, originated.

Once upon a time, under which victorious kings, starting from Prajapatithi-s, this entire earth with all its islands is there, among which kings one king named Sagara is there, well-known for his deepening the oceans, and whom his sixty thousand sons were fencing in when he is set out for action, in the dynasty of such Ikshvaku kings this highly revered and reputed epic Ramayana is originated. [1-5-1, 3]

Verse Locator

तदिदम् वर्तयिष्यावः सर्वम् निखिलम् आदितः ।
धर्म काम अर्थ सहितम् श्रोतव्यम् अनसूयता ॥ १-५-४

4. tat = such an epic; idam = this Ramayana; sarvam = in its entirety; varta yiSyaavaH = we two wish to relate [to the world]; dharma kaama artha sahitam = probity, prosperity, pleasures [values of,] endowed with; nikhilam = completely; aaditaH = from beginning; an asuuyataa shrotavyam = without cavilling, [this may] be listened.

Being such a legend, we two wish to relate this Ramayana entirely and completely from the beginning, which is endowed with the values and means of probity, prosperity, and pleasure seeking... and this be listened without any caviling. [1-5-4]

कोसलो नाम मुदितः स्फीतो जनपदो महान् ।
निविष्ट सरयू तीरे प्रभूत धन धान्यवान् ॥ १-५-५

5. prabhuuta dhana dhaanyavaan = well flourishing with, monies, cereals; muditaH sphiitaH = joyous one, vast one; kosalaH naama = Kosala, named; mahaan janapadaH = great, kingdom; sarayuu tiire niviSTaH = River Sarayu, on the banks of, is snugly situated.

A great kingdom named Kosala, a joyous and a vast one well flourishing with monies and cereals, is snugly situated on the riverbanks of Sarayu. [1-5-5]

Verse Locator

अयोध्या नाम नगरी तत्र आसीत् लोक विश्रुता ।
मनुना मानव इन्द्रेण या पुरी निर्मिता स्वयम् ॥ १-५-६

6. tatra yaa purii = there in that kingdom, which, city; maanava indreNa manunaa = mankind, ruler of, by Manu; svayam nirmिता = personally, is built; [such city] ayodhya naama nagarii = Ayodhya, named, city; loka vishrutaa = in worlds, renowned; aasit = there is.

A world-renowned city is there in that kingdom, which is personally built by Manu, the foremost ruler of mankind. [1-4-6]

Verse Locator

आयता दश च द्वे च योजनानि महापुरी ।
श्रीमती त्रीणि विस्तीर्णा सु विभक्ता महापथा ॥ १-५-७

7. shriimatii = glorious one - city; su vibhaktaa mahaa pathaa = with well, devised, high, ways; mahaa purii = great, city; dasha cha dve = ten, and, two - twelve; yojanaani = yojana-s; aayataa = lengthy; triiNi [yojanaani] vistirNaa = three [yojana-s,] in breadth.

That glorious city with well-devised highways is twelve yojana-s lengthwise and three yojana-s breadth wise. [1-5-7]

Yojana is an ancient measure of distance, where one yojana roughly equals to 8 to 10 miles. Its account is like this : 1 angula is 3/4 inch; 4 angula-s are = one dhanu graha - bow grip; 8 angula-s are = one dhanu muSTi - fist with thumb raised; 12 angula-s are = 1 vitasti - distance between tip of thumb and tip of last finger when palm is stretched; 2 vitasti-s = 1 aratni -s - cubit; 4 aratni-s = one danDa, dhanuS - bow height - 6 ft ; 10 danDa-s = 1 rajju 60 ft ; 2 rajju-s = 1 paridesha - 120 ft ; 2, 000 dhanuS-s = one krosha , and also called goraTa - 4, 000 yards ; 4 krosha-s = 1 yojana - thus one yojana is 9 to 10 miles. But the British Revenue measurement scaled it down to 5 miles, and all the dictionaries say that one yojana is 5 miles. But traditionally it is held as 10 miles. More info on these measures can be had from The Artha Shaastra of Kautilya - a republication of Penguin.

Verse Locator

राज मार्गेण महता सुविभक्तेन शोभिता ।
मुक्ता पुष्प अवकीर्णेन जल सिक्तेन नित्यशः ॥ १-५-८

8. su vibhaktena = well, laid out; mahataa raja maargeNa = with great, royal, highways; muktaa puSpa avakiirNena = scattered, flowers, strewn on; nityashaH jala siktena = always, with water, wet with; shobhitaa = shining forth.

That city shines forth with well-laid great royal highways that are always wetted with water, and with flowers strewn and scattered on them. [1-5-8]

Verse Locator

ताम् तु राजा दशरथो महाराष्ट्र विवर्धनः ।
पुरीम् आवासयामास दिवि देवपतिः यथा ॥ १-५-९

9. mahaa raaSTra vivardhanaH = great, empire, improver; raajaa dasharathaH = king Dasharatha; deva patiH divi yathaa = Indra, heaven, as with; taam puriim aavaasayaamaasa = her, that city, made as abode.

As an improver of great kingdom Dasharatha the king made her as his abode, as Indra made heavens as his abode. [1-5-9]

Verse Locator

कपाट तोरणवर्ती सु विभक्त अन्तरापणाम् ।
सर्व यंत्र अयुधवतीम् उषिताम् सर्व शिल्पिभिः ॥ १-५-१०

10. kapaaTa toraNa vartii = gateways, archways, surrounded with; su vibhakta antara aapaNaam = well, laid-out, internal, forefronts; sarva yantra ayudhavatiim = all machinery, weaponry; uSitaam sarva shilpiibhiH = lodged with, all, craftsmen; [puriim dasharathaH aavaasayaamaasa = in such a city, Dasharatha, wells - this is to be suffixed up to 22nd verse.]

That city is surrounded with gateways and archways; the front yards of buildings are well laid; it is lodges all kinds of machinery, weaponry and craftsmen, and king Dasharatha dwells in such a city. [1-4-10]

Verse Locator

सूत मागध संबाधाम् श्रीमतीम् अतुल प्रभाम् ।
उच्चाट्टाल ध्वजवतीम् शतघ्नी शत संकुलाम् ॥ १-५-११

11. suuta maagadha sambaadhaam = eulogists, panegyrists, muchly crammed with; shriimatiim atula prabhaam = prosperous one, [city,] highly, splendidous; ucchaaTTaala dhvajavatiim = bastions, flags she has; shataghnii shata samkulaam = canons, hundreds, of batteries.

She that prosperous city Ayodhya is muchly crammed with many a eulogist and panegyrist, yet she is highly splendidous with many a bastion, flag and hundreds of batteries of canons, and Dasharatha dwells therein. [1-5-11]

Comment: This shataghnii literally is that which can kill a thousand people, and it is said to be a canon and also said to be thorny weapon: shataghnii catuH talaa loha kaNTaka sa~ncitaa | ayaH kaNTaka sa~ncchannaa mahatii shilaa -- elaborate accounts of this shataghni, kshipaNi are there in yajur aaraNyaka .

Verse Locator

वधू नाटक सन्धैः च संयुक्ताम् सर्वतः पुरीम् ।
उद्यान आम्र वणोपेताम् महतीम् साल मेखलाम् ॥ १-५-१२

12. vadhuu naaTaka sanghaiH cha samyuktaam = danseuses, theatrical, groups, also, she contains, accommodates; sarvataH puriim = everywhere, in city; udyana aamra vana upetaam = gardens, mango, brakes, surrounding it; mahatiim saala mekhalaam = great [wide,] fort wall, as cincture ornament.

That city Ayodhya accommodates groups of danseuses and theatrical personnel, and she is surrounded everywhere with the gardens and brakes of mango trees, and her wide fort-wall is like her cincture ornament. [1-5-12]

Verse Locator

दुर्गं गंभीरं परिखाम् दुर्गाम् अन्यैः दुरासदम् ।
वाजीवारणं संपूर्णम् गोभिः उष्ट्रैः खरैः तथा ॥ १-५-१३

13. durga gambhiira parikhaam = impassable, profound, moats; durgaam anyaiH duraasadaH = impossible [to trespass,] by others, by invaders; vaajii vaarana sampuurNam = horses, elephants, abounding; gobhiH uSTraiH kharaiH tatha = cows, camels, donkeys, likewise.

That Ayodhya is an impassable one for trespassers, or for others invaders, owing to her impassable and profound moats, and she is abounding with horses, camels, likewise with cows and donkeys. [1-5-13]

Verse Locator

सामन्तं राजं सन्धैः च बलिं कर्मभिः आवृतम् ।
नाना देशनिवासैः च वणिग्भिः उपशोभिताम् ॥ १-५-१४

14. saamanta raaja sanghaiH cha = with provincial, kings', throngs of, also; bali karmabhiH aavR^itam = dues, paying, pervaded by; naa naa desha nivaasaiH cha = various, countries, residents of; vaNikbhiH upa shobhtaam = with traders too, verily, lustrous.

With the throngs of provincial kings who come hither to pay dues pervade that city, and she is verily lustrous with residents of various other countries, and with traders, too. In such a city Dasharatha dwells. [1-5-14]

Verse Locator

प्रासादै रत्नविकृतैः पर्वतैः इव शोभिताम् ।
कूटागारैः च संपूर्णम् इन्द्रस्य इव अमरावतीम् ॥ १-५-१५

15. praasadaH ratna vikR^itaiH = buildings, precious gems, studded ornamentally; parvataH iva upashobhitaam = mountain like [skyscrapers,] adorned with; kuuTagaraiH cha sampuurNaam = multi-storeyed, too, filled with; indrasya iva amaraavatiim = of Indra's, like, Amaraavati.

Buildings are ornamentally studded with precious gems, and with such multi-storied skyscrapers she is adorned, and filled with them she is like Amaravati, the capital of Indra. [1-5-15]

Verse Locator

चित्रम् अष्टापद आकाराम् वरनारी गणैर् युताम् ।
सर्वं रत्नसमाकीर्णम् विमानगृहं शोभिताम् ॥ १-५-१६

16. chiraam aSTapada akaaraam = amazing, a game board-like, in lay-out; vara nariigaNaiH = beautiful, womenfolk, flocks; sarva ratna samaakiirNaam = all kinds of, precious gems, heaped up; vimaana gR^iha shobhitaam = by seven storied, buildings, picturesque.

Amazing is Ayodhya for its lay-out is like a game board called aSTapadi, and with its flocks of beautiful women moving thereabout, where all kinds of precious gems are heaped up, and where its seven storied buildings are picturesque. [1-5-16]

Verse Locator

गृहं गाढम् अविच्छिद्रम् समभूमौ निवेशिताम् ।
शालि तण्डुलसंपूर्णम् इक्षुकाण्डरसः उदकम् ॥ १-५-१७

17. gR^iha gaadhaam a vi cChidraam = housing, dense, nothing, left unutilised; sama bhuumau niveshitaam = well levelled, lands, constructed on; shaali taNDula sampuurNaam = rice, grains, plentiful; ikshu kaNDa rasa udakaam = sugar cane, juice, water, is like.

The housing is very dense and there is no place or ground unutilized, and all are constructed on well-levelled lands, and rice-grain is plentiful while the drinking water tastes like sugar cane juice. [1-5-17]

Verse Locator

दुन्दुभीभिः मृदन्नैः च वीणाभिः पणवैः तथा ।
नादिताम् भृशम् अत्यर्थम् पृथिव्याम् ताम् अनुत्तमाम् ॥१-५-१८

18. dundubhiibhiH mR^idangaiH cha = great drums, rhythm instruments, also; viiNaabhiH paNavaiH tatha = Veena, string instruments, cymbals, also; naaditaam bhR^isham = sounding, markedly; pR^ithivyaam atyartham anuttamam taam = on earth, uniquely, the best [city]; taam = her [Dasharatha made an abode.]

That city is sounding with the drumbeats of great drums, and with musical rhythm instruments like mridnga, cymbals, and with string instruments like Veena etc., and on earth she is uniquely the best city. [1-5-18]

Great drums, called dundubhi , placed on castle walls and at central places to drum the times of the day or night, or at the arrivals of the noblemen or to keep the sentry whistles. As well, the melodious tunes from string instruments like Veena or rhythmic instrument mridanga and from various other instruments are always made available to the citizens, as a sort of background music, since royalty sponsors these performing arts.

Verse Locator

विमानम् इव सिद्धानाम् तपस अधिगतम् दिवि ।
सु निवेशित वेश्मान्ताम् नरोत्तम समावृताम् ॥१-५-१९

19. divi tapasa adhigatam = heavens, with asceticism, attained; siddhaanaam = of sages; vimanam iva = space-stations, like; su niveshita veshmaantam = well, planned, with edifices; nara uttama sama aavR^ittam = people, the best, teemed with.

Ayodhya is like a hovering space station attained by sages by their asceticism, and its edifices are well planned and it is teeming with best people. [1-4-19]

Verse Locator

ये च बाणैः न विध्यन्ति विविक्तम् अपरा परम् ।
शब्द वेध्यम् च विततम् लघु हस्ता विशारदाः ॥ १-५-२०

20. ye cha baaNaiH na vidhyanti = those, also, with arrows, not, kill; viviktam apara param = lone one, at his hind [without a successor,] at his fore [without a predecessor]; sabda vedhyam cha vitatam = by sound, killing, also, fleeing away; laghu hastaaH vishaaradaH = acumen, handiness, skilful ones.

They the skilful archers of that Ayodhya will not kill a lone one with their arrows, one that does not have either a predecessor or a successor in his family, a fleeing one, or by listening to the sound of the target, as is done in sonic-archery, and their skills, acumen and handiness are thus benevolent. [1-5-20]

Dasharatha in his youth, when he was on a hunting spree, killed the son of a hermit who was drawing water from a river. That son of the sage dipped his pot in the waters and the filling water gave sounds like that of a grumbling tiger. Dasharatha mistook that sound to be a tiger's grumble and swung his arrow that way, killing the boy. Thereby the father of the boy being a sage of eminence, cursed Dasharatha to die lamenting for his son, which happens after the exile of Rama. Perhaps the sonic-archery may thus have been banned in Ayodhya, lest such sad incidents would have recurred.

Verse Locator

सिंह व्याघ्र वराहाणाम् मत्तानाम् नदताम् वने ।
हन्तारो निशितैः शस्त्रैः बलात् बाहु बलैर् अपि ॥ १-५-२१

21. simha vyaaghra varaahaaNaam = lions, tigers, wild boars; mattaanaam nadataam vane = fattened ones, roaring, in forests; hantaaraH nisitaiH sastraiH = killers, with sharp, weapons; balaat baahu balaiH api = with might, by arms, might, also.

They kill the fattened and roaring lions, tigers and wild boars with the might of their sharp weaponry, or even with the might of their own arms alone. [1-4-21]

Verse Locator

तादृशानाम् सहस्रैः ताम् अभि पूर्णाम् महारथैः ।
पुरीम् आवसयमास राजा दशरथः तदा ॥ १-५-२२

22. taadR^isanaam sahasraiH = that kind of, with thousands [of archers]; taam abhipuurNaam maha rathaiH = in her [in city,] filled with, great, chariot-warriors; puriim aavaasayaamasa = in the city, dwelling is; raja dasarathaH tathaa = king, Dasharatha, thus.

With that kind of thousands of archers, and with speediest chariot-warriors she that Ayodhya is filled with, and King Dasharatha made his abode in such a city. [1-5-22]

Verse Locator

ताम् अग्निमद्भिः गुणवद्भिः आवृताम्
द्विजोत्तमैः वेद षडङ्ग पारगैः ।
सहस्रदैः सत्य रतैः महात्मभिः
महर्षि कल्पैः ऋषिभिः च केवलैः ॥ १-५-२३

23. agnimadbhiH = by ritual-fire worshippers; gunavadbhiH = with virtuous ones; veda SaT anga paaragaiH = Veda-s, their six of, ancillary subjects, scholars in; sahasra daiH = thousands, givers, donors that donate in thousands - not miserly; satya rataiH = by truth, abiding ones; mahaatmabhiH = with great souls; maharSi kalpaiH = great saints, in similitude; kevalaiH R^iSibhiH cha = juist [like,] sages, also; dvijottamaiH = with Brahman scholars; aavRitaaam = she is encompassed with; taam = her; [puriim dasharathaH aavaasayaamaasa =] the city, Dasharatha, is dwelling.

She that Ayodhya is encompassed with Vedic scholars who always worship the ritual fire by enkindling the three kinds of ritual-fires continuously, virtuous Brahman scholars in Veda-s and their six ancillary subjects, and other great souls that are in similitude with great saints, and who are just like sages that are charitable donors, and that abide by the truth. [1-5-23]

इति वाल्मीकि रामायणे आदि काव्ये बाल काण्डे पंचमः सर्गः

Thus, this is the 5th chapter in Bala Kanda of Valmiki Ramayana, the First Epic poem of India.

Book I : Bala Kanda - Book Of Youthful Majesties
Chapter [Sarga] 6
Introduction

The riches and happiness enjoyed by the people, under the rein of Emperor Dasharatha, along with the details of its valiant heroes, elephants, horses and the town planning are narrated.

Verse Locator

तस्याम् पुर्याम् अयोध्यायाम् वेदवित् सर्व संग्रहः ।
दीर्घदर्शी महातेजाः पौर जानपद प्रियः ॥ १-६-१
इक्ष्वाकूणम् अतिरथो यज्वा धर्मपरो वशी ।
महर्षिकल्पो राजर्षिः त्रिषु लोकेषु विश्रुतः ॥ १-६-२
बलवान् निहत अमित्रो मित्रवान् विजित इन्द्रियः ।
धनैः च संचयैः च अन्यैः शक्र वैश्रवण उपमः ॥ १-६-३
यथा मनुर् महातेजा लोकस्य परिरक्षिता ।
तथा दशरथो राजा लोकस्य परिरक्षिता ॥ १-६-४

1-4. veda vit = Veda-s, knower of [well-versed in Veda-s]; sarva sangrahaH = all, gatherer [of all riches, forces, learned men etc]; diirgha darshii = foreseer; mahatejaa = very resplendent one; paura janapada priyaH = urbanites, countrymen, esteemed by; ikshwakuuNaam ati rathaH = among Ikshwaku kings, top-speeded, chariot-warrior; yaGYva = one who performed Vedic rituals; dharma paraH = to probity, dedicated one; vashii = controller; maharSi kalpaH rajarSi = saint, like, kingly, sage; triSu lokeshu visrutaH = among three, worlds, renowned one; balavaan = mighty one; nihata a mitraH = one who eradicated, unfriendly ones [enemies]; mitravaan = one who has many friends; vijita indriyaH = one who conquered, his senses; dhanaiH cha anyaiH sanchayaiH cha = with wealth, also, with accumulations, with other, too; shakraH vaisravanaH upamaH = Indra and Kubera, similar to; yatha manuH mahateja = as with, Manu, great magnificent one; lokasya parirakshitaa = world, who protected; tatha raja dasharathaH = likewise, king, Dasharatha; tasyaam puryaam ayodhyayaam = in that, city, Ayodhya; [vasan = while dwelling]; lokasya parirakshitaa = world, protected.

He who is well-versed in Veda-s, who is a gatherer of all scholars, riches and forces as well, a foreseer and a great resplendent one, also one who is esteemed by urbanites and countrymen alike, one who is a top-speeded chariot-warrior among the emperors of Ikshwaku kings, one who has performed many Vedic rituals, a virtuous one, a great controller, a saint-like kingly sage, one who he is renowned in all the three worlds, a mighty one with all his enemies eradicated, nevertheless who has friends, one who conquered all his senses, one who is similar to Indra, or Kubera on earth with his wealth, accumulations and other possessions, he that king Dasharatha while dwelling in the city of Ayodhya protected the world, like Manu, the foremost protector of mankind. [1-6-3,4,5]

Verse Locator

तेन सत्याभिसंधेन त्रिवर्गम् अनुष्ठिता ।

पालिता सा पुरी श्रेष्ठा इन्द्रेण इव अमरावती ॥ १-६-५

5. tena = by him; satya abhisandhena = truth, abiding; trivargam anuSTita = three-fold virtues, adherent; paalita saa sreSTaa purii = ruled, that, best, city; indreNa iva amaraavati = by Indra, like, Amaravati.

He that truth-abiding king, who adheres to the three-fold virtues rules the vast of that kingdom from that best city Ayodhya, as Indra rules heaven from his capital Amaravati. [1-6-5]

Verse Locator

तस्मिन् पुरवरे हृष्टा धर्मात्मनो बहुश्रुताः ।

नराः तुष्टाः धनैः स्वैः स्वैः अलुब्धाः सत्यवादिनः ॥ १-६-६

6. tasmin pura vare = in that, city, the best; naraaH hR^iSTaa = people, exuberant; dharmaatmanaH bahu shrutaH = virtuous ones, variously, heard [learnt]; = joyous, stvaiH stvaiH = of their, their; ghanaiH = with riches; tuSTtaaH = satisfied; a lubdhaaH = not, greedy; satya vaadinaH = truth, advocating ones.

In that best city Ayodhya all are exuberant yet virtuous ones, and scholars are variously learned ones, people are satisfied with their own riches, they have no greed, and they advocate truthfulness alone. [1-6-6]

Verse Locator

न अल्प संनिचयः कश्चिद् आसीत् तस्मिन् पुरोत्तमे ।

कुटुंबी यो हि असिद्धर्थः अगवा अश्व धन धान्यवान् ॥ १-६-७

7. na alpa sannichaya = none, meagre, in accumulations; kaschit aasiit tasmin = anyone, is there, in that; pura uttame = city, the great; kuTumbii = a householder; yaH hi = who, really; a siddha artha = unearned, means; a gaava = without, cows; ashva = horses; dhana = monies; dhanyavaan = cereals, the one with them.

None with meagre accumulations is there in that great city and no householder is there without unearned means, and without cows, horses, monies or cereals and who could not sustain his family. [1-6-7]

An ordinary family kuTumba is an assemblage of the householder, his wife, two of his parents, two sons, two daughters-in-law, one daughter, and one guest, totalling to ten members.

Verse Locator

कामी वा न कदर्यो वा नृशंसः पुरुषः क्वचित् ।

द्रष्टुम् शक्यम् अयोध्यायाम् न अविद्वान् न च नास्तिकः ॥ १-६-८

8. kaamii vaa = lustful one, either; na kadaryaH vaa = none, miserly one, either; nR^ishamsaH = cruel one; puruSaH = person; a vidvaan cha = none, unscholarly, also [nondescripts]; naastikaH = non-believers; kvachit = anywhere; ayodhyayaam = in Ayodhya; draSTum na sakyam = to see, not, possible.

None can see a lustful person, or a miser or a cruel one anywhere in that Ayodhya, along with nondescripts or non-believers, for there are no such persons. [1-6-8]

Verse Locator

सर्वे नराः च नार्यः च धर्मशीलाः सु संयताः ।

मुदिताः शील वृत्ताभ्याम् महर्षय इव अमलाः ॥ १-६-९

9. sarve naraaH cha = all the males, also; naaryaH cha = females, also; dharma shiilaaH = virtue, minded; su samyataaH = well, self-controlled ones; shiila vR^ittaabhyaam = in character and conduct; muditaH = self-satisfied ones; maharSaaH iva = great, saints, like; a malaaH = without, a blemish.

All the ladies and gentlemen in that city are virtuous in mind, self-controlled ones, they are all self-satisfied like great saints, and both in their conduct and character they are blameless. [1-6-9]

Verse Locator

न अकुण्डली न अमुकुटी न अस्रग्वी न अल्पभोगवान् ।
न अमृष्टो न अलिप्ताङ्गो न असुगन्धः च विद्यते ॥ १-६-१०

10. na a kunDalii = without, earrings; na vidyate = not, known - not there; a mukuTii = without, headgear; a sragvrii = without, garlands; na = not there; alpa bhogavaan = lowly, enjoyer; na = not there; a mR^iSTaH = without oil-baths; na = not there; a lipta angaH = without, cream-coated, body; na = not there; a sungandhaH cha = un-perfumed, also; na = not there.

In that city none is there without his earrings, headgear, or garlands, none is an enjoyer of lowly things, or misses his regular oil-baths, or with an un-creamed body with sandalwood paste or with other body cream, or with an un-perfumed physique. [1-6-10]

Earrings are the indicators of scholarship, and there are grades in their make and design, on par with the education one receives. The headgears present their social status, while other decorations are to exhibit their lavishness.

Verse Locator

न अमृष्ट भोजी न अदाता न अपि अनङ्दनिष्कधृक् ।
न अहस्ताभरणो वा अपि दृश्यते न अपि अनात्मवान् ॥ १-६-११

11. a mRiSTa bhojii = not, eating stomachfuls - on an empty stomach, not famished; a daata = none, uncharitable; na dR^ishyate = not, seen; na api = none, even; ana~NgadaniSkadhR^ik = with undecorated body ornaments; na = unseen; na a hasta aabharaNaH = none, without, arms' ornaments; va api = either, also; na an aatma vaan = none, without, a heart.

There is none who is famished, an uncharitable one in his nature, one with an undecorated body with ornaments like bracelets or chest plates, and there is none without a heart. [1-6-11]

Verse Locator

न अनाहित अग्नीः न अयज्वा न क्षुद्रो वा न तस्करः ।
कश्चित् असीत् अयोध्यायाम् न च आवृत्तो न संकरः ॥ १-६-१२

12. na an aahita agniiH = none, without, sacrificial, fires; a yajvaa = non performer of rituals; na kshudraH = none, mean or low; va = or; na taskaraH = none, a thief; kaschit = someone; aasiit = is there; ayodhyaayaam = in Ayodhya; na cha = none, also; aavR^irittaH na sankaraH = immoral, nor bastardised.

There is none someone who is without sacrificial fires, and none without performing sacrificial rituals, and none is low in living; neither an immoral, nor a bastard nor even a thief, can be found in Ayodhya. [1-6-12]

Verse Locator

स्व कर्म निरता नित्यम् ब्राह्मणा विजितेन्द्रियाः ।
दान अध्यन शीलाः च संयताः च प्रतिग्रहे ॥ १-६-१३

13. sva karma nirataa = in one's own, rituals, works, engaged in; nityam = always; brahmaNaa = Brahmana-s; vijitendriyaH = with conquered, senses; dana adhyana shiilaH cha = donating, practicing, minded, also; samyataaH cha = principled, also; pratigrahe = in accepting donations.

The sense-controlled scholarly Vedic Brahmins are always engaged in their rituals, and they donate the education of Vedas to their students, as well practice their own, and while receiving donations they are principle-minded. [1-6-13]

The donations received by Vedic scholars are not alms to beggars or charities to the destitute. The Vedic scholars do not receive them from anybody or everybody. There are set rules to accept such donations like cows, gold coins, villages, temples etc., from a befitting hand. Otherwise, the recipient is destined to go to Hell for having received greedily. Thus, if ever somebody wants to donate to such a scholar he should first notify his bona fides, which are verifiable by the recipient. Another kind of donation is referred here as daana adhyana, meaning that these scholars while receiving donations from a righteous source, they also have to donate something to others. It is the education in Veda, which they have to impart to their students free of any charge and that too, to the befitting students only. Thus, the words, daana and pratigrahaNa mean all these rules to accept a donation or to accord it.

Verse Locator

नास्तिको न अनृती वा अपि न कश्चित् अबहुश्रुतः ।
न असूयको न च अशक्तो न अविद्वान् विद्यते क्वचित् ॥ १-६-१४

14. naastikaH na = atheist, none; anR^itii = liar; vaa api = or, either; na kaschit = none, anyone; a bahu shrutaH = not, much, heard [learned]; na asuuyakaH = none, jealous; na cha = not, also; ashaktaH = disabled; na a vidvaan = none, un, scholarly; vidyate tada = is found, thus.

There is no atheist, no liar, and none is less learnt in Veda-s, and no one is found to be jealous, or disabled, or unscholarly person. [1-6-14]

Verse Locator

न अषडंग वित् न अस्ति न अव्रतो न असहस्रदः ।
न दीनः क्षिप्त चित्तओ वा व्यथितो वा अपि कश्चन ॥ १-६-१५

15. na = none; a SaDa~Nga vida na asti = unknowing scholar of Veda's ancillaries, is not there; na a vrataH = none, non-performer of rituals; a sahasra daH = none, in thousands, donor; na diina = none, saddened person; kshipta chittaH = with mental turmoil; vaa = or; vyathitaH = agonised one; vaa api = or, even; kaschana = anywhere.

None can be found anywhere in Ayodhya without the knowledge of the six ancillaries of Veda-s like astrology, prosody, grammar etc., none a non-performer of the prescribed rituals, and none a non-donor in thousands, thus none with a saddened heart, turmoil in mind or agonised in will is there. [1-6-15]

Verse Locator

कश्चिन् नरो वा नारी वा न अश्रीमान् न अपि अरूपवान् ।
द्रष्टुम् शक्यम् अयोध्यायाम् न अपि राजन्य अभक्तिमान् ॥ १-६-१६

16. kaschin = whoever; naraH vaa naarii vaa = gentleman, either, lady, or; na a sriimaan = none, without, wealth; na api = not, even; a ruupavaan = without, elegance; draSTum = to see; a shakyam = not, possible; ayodhyayaam = in Ayodhya; na api = not, even; raajanya a bhaktimaan = to king, not, devout one.

Whoever it may be, either a gentleman or a lady, none is without wealth, even none without elegance or devoid of devotion to their king, and it is impossible to see suchlike person in Ayodhya. [1-6-16]

वर्णेषु अग्र्य चतुर्थेषु देवता अतिथि पूजकाः ।

कृतज्ञाः च वदान्यः च शूरा विक्रम संयुताः ॥ १-६-१७

17. varNeSu = in four caste-system; agrya = first one; chaturtheSu = among four; devtaa atithi puujakaaH = deities, guests, worshippers; kR^itaGYaaH cha = faithful ones, also; vadaanyaaH cha = illustrious, also; shuuraH = valiant ones; vikrama = bravery; samyutaaH = having with him.

In the four-caste system, from the first caste to the last, everyone is a worshipper of deities and guests and everyone is also faithful, illustrious, valiant, and each one is a brave one. [1-6-17]

Though the word 'caste - Spanish and Portuguese casta - lineage, race, breed' is distasteful, it is used here for an easy communication. Latin classis - assembly' or section of society would be more suitable.

Verse Locator

दीर्घ आयुषो नराः सर्वे धर्मम् सत्यम् च संश्रिताः ।

सहिताः पुत्र पौत्रैः च नित्यम् स्त्रीभिः पुरोत्तमे ॥ १-६-१८

18. diirgha aayuSaH = long, life [longevity]; naraaH sarve = people, all of them; dharmam = virtuousness; satyam = truthfulness; cha = also; samsritaaH = they have; sahitaH = along with; putra = sons; pautraiaH cha = grandsons, also; striibhiH = ladies; pura uttame = city, the best.

Longevity is there for all of the people, all are with virtuousness and truthfulness, and they lived in that best city along with their sons, grandsons and their ladies. [1-6-18]

Verse Locator

क्षत्रम् ब्रह्ममुखम् च आसीत् वैश्याः क्षत्रम् अनुव्रताः ।

शूद्राः स्व धर्म निरताः त्रीन् वर्णान् उपचारिणः ॥ १-६-१९

19. kshatram = Kshatriya-s, warrior-class; brahma mukham = Brahmans, towards; cha aasiit = only, is there; vaisyaaH = Vyasya-s, trading-class; kshatram anuvrataa = Kshatriya, following; shuudraH = Shuudra-s, working-class; sva dharma nirataa = their own, duty, performing; triin varNaan upachariNaH = other three, castes, working for them.

The warrior class Kshatriya-s is turned towards the Brahmans, the scholarly class, for intellectual and religious support. The trading class, Vyasya-s, is the follower of the Kshatriya-s, the ruling class, for the state's economy is dependent on the rulership. And the fourth one, Shuudra-s, the working class, while performing its own duties, is always working for the other castes. [1-6-19]

Verse Locator

सा तेन इक्ष्वाकु नाथेन पुरी सु परिरक्षिता ।

यथा पुरस्तात् मनुना मानवेन्द्रेण धीमता ॥ १-६-२०

20. saa = she [that city]; purii = the city; tena ikshwaku naathena = by him, Ikshwaku, king; su pari rakshitaa = very well, protected; yatha = like; purastaat = earlier; manuna = by Manu; maanava indreNa = mankind, king of; dhiimataa = the wise king.

That city is well protected by that king from Ikshwaku dynasty namely Dasharatha, like Manu, the foremost king of mankind in earlier times. [1-6-20]

Verse Locator

योधानाम् अग्नि कल्पानाम् पेशलानाम् अमर्षिणाम् ।
संपूर्णा कृत विद्यानाम् गुहा केसरिणाम् इव ॥ १-६-२१

21. gni kalpaanaam = firebrand, like; apeshalaanaam = skilful ones; amarSiNaam = intolerant of insults; kR^ita vidyanaam = who prosecuted, their education; yodhaanaam = [with such] warriors; kesariiNaam guhaa iva = lions, cave, like; [saa purii] sampuurNaam = replete with.

That city Ayodhya is replete with firebrand like skillful warriors that are intolerant of insults, and who have prosecuted their education in archery, chariot-wars, swordplay etc. and with them it is like a cave replete with lions. [1-6-21]

Verse Locator

कांभोज विषये जातैः बाह्लिकैः च हय उत्तमैः ।
वनायुजैः नदीजैः च पूर्णा हरिहय उत्तमैः ॥ १-६-२२

22. kaambhoja viSaye = Kaambhoja, the country; jaataiH = born in; baahlikaiH = in Baahlika country; haya uttamaiH = horses, the best ones; vanaayu jaiH = Vanaayu, born; nadii jaH = rivers, born; cha = also; puurNaa = full with; hari haya uttamaiH = like Indra's, horse, the best one.

That city is full with best horses born in countries like Kaambhoja, Baahlika, Vanaayu, and also in river-bed counties, which are like the horse of Indra namely ucChiashrava. [1-6-22]

It is said that the horses born in the rivers nadii+ja are brought to the city Ayodhya. They are not water horses but horses born at the place where the historically prominent Seven Rivers of Indus Valley Rivers flow.

Here again an account of countries is given as a glimpse. These countries Kambhoja, Bahlika, Vanayu may not be taken as the provincial countries within the present day India. Prior to the present-day peninsular India, the belt from Himalayas to Alps had a great rapport in cultural and trade exchanges without demarcations of east or west, which paved the way for Alexander, the Great, towards India.

Sometime back, say during 1985-87, the National Geography magazine contained a beautiful article under the heading " IRAQ, the crucible of civilisation ," Merle Severy, as its Asst. Editor. In its carefully worded introduction, it is stated that Iraq is "the traditional birthplace of man for Jews, Christians and Muslims... " On the other hand, Hindus naturally believe that the Southward Himalayan region is the birthplace of man. In the same article, the regions around Euphrates and Tigris are said to be the "Fertile Crescent, the cradle of Western civilization ... in the third millennium BC ". Further that " To the east a similar florescence occurred in the Indus and Yellow River Valleys... " This florescence in Indus Valley and far eastward did not occur later to Mesopotamian or Babylonian civilisations but flourished much earlier, as per Hindu scripts and the dating of which is the eternal question like Aryan Question. However, Hindu scripts centre the present world, Bhuuloka, surrounding Meru Mountain and its geography includes the land unto Rome, Russia, China. We will refer to Meru mountain-oriented geography and its geographical account at the appropriate place. Since Ramayana dates back to Buddhism and Buddhism's westward spread is unto Afghanistan, the Kings of Ramayana must have had no problem to draft horses from Persian, Arabian or the other of Middle East countries. These countries are always famous for horse breeding, right from the days of Ramayana to Moses. Hence the accounts of horses and the countries from where they are brought may be treated as cross-continental culture. Since history believes only in the unearthed iconography and the epics or their content can not stand to the carbon-testing, the countries named here as Kambhoja, Baahlika may nearly mean Babylonian, Mesopotamian, Arabian or other unknown or unearthed historic countries of the crucible of Western civilisation, Iraq. Vanaayu, another country referred may nearly mean Roman, as Persians term Greeks as Unani in India, advent to the arrival of Alexander, the Great. We still have an herbal medication called Unani, a hybrid between Ayurveda, Greek and Persian herbal treatments.

Verse Locator

विंध्य पर्वतजैः मत्तैः पूर्णा हैमवतैः अपि ।
मदान्वितैः अतिबलैः मातङ्गैः पर्वतौपमैः ॥ १-६-२३

23. vindhya parvata jaiH = Vindhya, mountains, born in; mattaiH = vigorous; puurNa = full of; haimavataiH api = Himalayan born, also; mada anvitaiH = fattened, fully; ati balaiH = most, mighty; maatangaiH = elephants; parvata upamaiH = mountain, in similitude.

Born in Vindhya Mountains, and also from Himalayan regions, mighty are the elephants fully vigorous and fattened ones, and most powerful in their strength and each in similitude is a huge mountain. [1-6-23]

Verse Locator

इरावत कुलीनैः च महापद्म कुलैः तथा ।
अंजनादपि निष्क्रान्तैः वामनादपि च द्विपैः ॥ १-६-२४

24. iraavata = Iravata [the Elephant of Indra]; kuliinaiH cha = from that breed of; mahaapadma kulaiH = from Mahapadma breed; tatha = thus; anjanaat api = From Anjana breed, also; niSkraantaiH = derived from; vaamanaat api cha = from Vamana breed, too; dvipaiH = elephants.

High bred from the classes of Iravata, the Elephant of Lord Indra, and from Mahapadma, Anjana and Vamana, too...are the elephants [of that city] [1-6-24]

It is said that eight elephants from eight corners called aSTa diggaja support the Universe. And these eight elephants have their presiding deities. From those eight elephants, four are prominent. They are iravata, the Elephant of Indra, anjana, the Elephant of varuNa, the Rain-god, vaamana, the Elephant of Yama, the Lord of Death, and another is punDariika. Thus, the elephants of Ayodhya are termed as divine breed.

Verse Locator

भद्रैः मन्द्रैः मृगैः च एव भद्र मन्द्र मृगैः तथा ।
भद्र मन्द्रैः भद्र मृगैः मृग मन्द्रैः च सा पुरी ॥ १-६-२५
नित्य मत्तैः सदा पूर्णा नागैः अचल सन्निभैः ।

25-26a. saa purii = that city; bhadra = class of Bhadra; mandra = class of Mandra; mR^iga = class of mriga; cha eva = like that; bhadra mandra mR^igaH tathaa = a mixture of these three; bhadra mandraiH = bhadra and mandra; bhadra mR^igaiH = bhadra and mriga; mR^iga mandra cha = mriga and mandra, also; nitya mattaiH = always, vigorous; naagaiH = elephants; achala sannibhaiH = mountain, like; sadaa puurNaa = always, full with.

That city is always full with vigorous and mountain like elephants bred mainly from three classes viz., Bhadra, Mandra and Mriga. And inter-bred among these three main classes are Bhadra-Mandra, Mandra-Mriga, Bhadra-Mriga and the like. [1-6-25-26a]

The bhadra is the elephant class for King's ride, called bhadra gaja. It is a state elephant with high honors and for occasional or ceremonial use. mandra and mR^iga are classes of breed tamed and used in wars or for the ride of other nobility. These are the essential mammals used for other lifting and carrying works.

Verse Locator

सा योजने च द्वे भूयः सत्यनामा प्रकाशते ।
यस्याम् दशरथो राजा वसन् जगत् अपालयत् ॥ १-६-२६

26b-c. raajaa = king; dasharathaH naama = Dasharatha, named; yasyaam = in which [city]; vasan = while residing; jagat = world; apaalayay = ruled; saa = she that Ayodhya; bhuuyaH = further - outside also; dve yojane = two, yojana-s; satya naama = true to its name; prakaashate = shines forth [well fortified.]

While residing in which city King Dasharatha ruled the world that city is further fortified up to two more yojana-s outside city, true to its name a yodhya, an un-assailable one. [1-6-26]

Verse Locator

ताम् पुरीम् स महातेजा राजा दशरथो महान् ।
शशास शमित अमित्रो नक्षत्राणीव चन्द्रमाः ॥१-६-२७

27. maha tejaaH = he, the great, resplendent; mahaan = admirable one; raaja dasharathaH = king, Dasharatha; shamitaH amitraH = silenced, enemies; taam puriim = that, city; chandramaaH nakshatraaNi iva = moon, for the stars, like; sashaasa = ruled.

In which city the great resplendent and admirable king Dasharatha resided, he ruled the world from that city with silenced enemies, like the moon governing the stars. [1-6-27]

Verse Locator

ताम् सत्य नामाम् दृढ तोरण अर्गलाम्
गृहैः विचित्रैः उपशोभिताम् शिवाम् ।
पुरीम् अयोध्याम् नृ सहस्र संकुलाम्
शशास वै शक्र समो महीपतिः ॥ १-६-२८

28. dhR^iDha = firm; thoraNa argalaam = arches, castle-door-bars; vichitraiH = amazing; gR^ihaiH = with houses; shobhitaam = magnificent; shivaam = auspicious one; nR^i sahasra sankulaan = people, thousands, full with; satya naamaam = true to its name taam = her; puriim aydhyaam = city, Ayodhya; shakra samaH = Indra, coequal of; mahiipatiH = king; shashaasa = ruled; vai = indeed.

With gorgeous arches, castle-door-bars and with amazingly built houses that city is magnificent and auspicious one, and full with thousands of provincial kings too, and king Dasharatha, a coequal of Indra, indeed ruled that city which is true to its name. [1-6-28]

Verse Locator

इति वाल्मीकि रामायणे आदि काव्ये बाल काण्डे षष्ठः सर्गः

Thus, this is the 6th chapter in Bala Kanda of Valmiki Ramayana, the First Epic poem of India.

Book I : Bala Kanda - The Youthful Majesties

Chapter [Sarga] 7

Introduction

The truthful and upright characters of the ministers of Dasharatha are portrayed, who make the rulership meaningful with their virtuous, skilful and efficient administration. Along with the political ministers, the religious ministry is also portrayed.

Verse Locator

तस्य अमात्या गुणैर् आसन् इक्ष्वाकुस्तु महात्मनः ।
मंत्रज्ञाः च इङ्गितज्ञाः च नित्यम् प्रिय हिते रताः ॥ १-७-१

1. mahaaatmanaH tasya ikshwakuH tu = for great soul, to him, one born in Ikshwaku-s, Dasharatha; guNaiH = those with epitomised attribute; mantraj~naH cha = tactful, also; iN^gitaj~naH cha = adroit ones, also; nityam priya hite rataH = always, in welfare alone, obliged to; amaatyaa = ministers; aasan = are there.

The misters for the great soul from Ikshvaku kings of Emperor Dasharatha, are epitomised ones of their tactfulness, adroitness and are always obliged to undertake welfare activities of their king and the kingdom. [1-7-1]

Verse Locator

अष्टौ बभूवुः वीरस्य तस्य अमात्या यशस्विनः ।
शुचयः च अनुरक्ताः च राजकृत्येषु नित्यशः ॥ १-७-२

2. viirasya = of the valiant one; yashasvinaH = glorious king; tasya = his; shuchayaH = clean at heart; nityasaH = all time; raaja kR^ityeSu = in king' s, works; anuraktaaH cha = involved in, also; amaatyaaH = ministers; aSTaH bhabhuvuH = eight, are there.

Eight ministers are there for that valiant and glorious King Dasharatha, who are clean at heart and are involved in the works of the king and kingdom at all time. [1-7-2]

Verse Locator

धृष्टिर् जयन्तो विजयो सुराष्ट्रो राष्ट्र वर्धनः ।
अकोपो धर्मपालः च सुमंत्रः च अष्टमो अर्थवित् ॥ १-७-३

3. dhR^iSTiH = Dhristi; jayantaH = Jayantha; vijayaH = Vijaya; suraaSTraH = Suraashtra; raaSTra vardhanaH = Raashtravardhana; akopaH = Akopa; dharmapaalaHcha = Dharmapaala, also; SumantraH = Sumantra; aSTamaH = eighth; abhavat = will be.

Dhristi, Jayantha, Vijaya, Suraashtra, Raashtravardhana, Akopa, Dharmapaala, are seven, and Sumantra is the eighth one. [1-7-3]

Verse Locator

ऋत्विजौ द्वौ अभिमतौ तस्याः ताम् ऋषि सत्तमौ ।

वशिष्ठो वामदेवः च मंत्रिणः च तथा अपरे ॥ १-७-४

4. tasyaaH = to him, Dasharatha; vashiSTaH = Vashishta; vaamadevaH cha = Vamadeva, also; dvau = two; taam R^iSisattamau = those, saints, of eminence; abhimatau = acquiescent; R^itwijau = Vedic ritual-authorities; tathaa apare = like that, furthermore; mantriNaH cha = ministers, also [are there.]

Two venerable saints of eminence are religious ministers for they are authorities in Vedic rituals, namely Vashishta and Vamadeva, who are the acquiescent with religious matters, and apart from these two some more religious ministers are also there to King Dasharatha. [1-7-4]

Verse Locator

सुयज्ञो अपि अथ जाबालिः काशप्यो अपि अथ गौतमः ।

मार्कण्डेयः तु दीर्घायुः तथा कात्यायनो द्विजः ॥ १-७-५

एतैः ब्रह्मर्षिभिर् नित्यम् ऋत्विजः तस्य पौर्वकाः ।

5, 6a. suyaj~no api = Suyajna, also; atha jaabaaliH = then, Jaabaali; kaashaypaH api = Kashyapa, also; atha gautamaH = then, Gautama; maarkaNDeyaH tu = Maarkandeya, also; diirghaayuH tathaa = Deerghaayu, like that; kaatyayanaH = Kaatyayana; dvijaH = Brahman; etaiH = along with them; brahmarSibhiH = Brahma-sages; nityam = always; R^itvijaH = ritual scholars; tasya paurvakaH = his ancestral pundits.

Suyajna, Jabaali, Kaashyapa, Gautama, Maarkandeya, Deerghaayu, and then Kaatyayana are the scholarly Brahmans acting as religious ministers, and along with them there are also Brahma-sages who are always the ancestral ritual scholars for Dasharatha's family. [1-7-5, 6a]

Verse Locator

विद्या विनीता ह्रीमंतः कुशला नियतेन्द्रियाः ॥ १-७-६

श्रीमन्तः च महात्मनः शास्त्रज्ञा धृढ विक्रमाः ।

कीर्तिमन्तः प्रणिहिता यथा वचन कारिणः ॥ १-७-७

तेजः क्षमा यशः प्राप्ताः स्मित पूर्व अभिभाषिणः ।

6b, 8a vidyaa viniita = in scriptures, well-versed; hriimantaH = shun bad deeds; kushalaaH = skilful; niyataH indriyaH = with regulated, senses; sriimantaH cha = affluent ones; mahaaatmanaH = great, souls; shastra j~naa = sciences, knowers of; dhR^iDha vikramaH = firmly, courageous; kiitrimantaH = distinguished, ones; praNihitaaH = quiet souls; yathaa vachana kaarinaH = as per, their word, doers of [true to their word]; tejaH kshamaa yashaH = they have magnificence, patience, fame; praaptaaH = valiant ones; smitaH puurva abhibhaashana = smile, afore, while, they converse.

All the ministers are well versed in scriptures, they shun bad deeds, skilful ones in their duties with their senses regulated. Those great souls are affluent, knowers of all sciences, firmly courageous, and they are distinguished and quiet-souls, and those ministers are true to their word. They are magnificent, patient and famed ones and they smile afore they converse. [1-7-6b, 8a]

Verse Locator

क्रोधात् काम अर्थ हेतोर् वा न ब्रूयुर् अनृतम् वचः ॥ १-७-८

तेषाम् अविदितम् किंचित् श्वेषु नास्ति परेषु वा ।

क्रियमाणम् कृतम् वा अपि चारेण अपि चिकीर्षितम् ॥ १-७-९

8b, 9. krodhaat kaama artha hetoH vaa = in anger, in greed, for monetary, reason of, either; anR^itam = untruthful; vachaH = words; na bruuyuH = never, they speak; teshaam = to them; a viditam = unknown; kimchat = a little; sveSu = in their own [country]; naasti = not there; pareSu vaa = in other [countries,] either; kriyamaaNam = that is happening; kR^ritam = already happened; vaa api = either, that too; chaareNa = through agents; chikiirSitam = that is going to be undertaken [by others, is not there.

They never speak untruthful words in anger or in greed or for monetary reasons either. There is nothing unknown to them, even a little, in their own country or in the others either, or about everything that is happening or has happened, or that is going to happen, for they know them through agents. [1-7-8b, 9]

Verse Locator

कुशला व्यवहारेषु सौहृदेषु परीक्षिताः ।

प्राप्त कालम् यथा दण्डम् धारयेयुः सुतेषु अपि ॥ १-७-१०

10. vyavahareSu = in administration; kushalaaH = efficient; sauhR^ideSu = in their friendships; pariikshitaaH = well examined [by the king]; sutaH api = to their sons, even; praapta kaalam yathaa = comes, time, according to [if situation demands]; daNDam dhaarayeyu = punishment, they impose.

They are efficient in administration and their friendships are well examined by the king, and those ministers impose punishment even on their own sons, if situation demands it. [1-7-10]

Verse Locator

कोश संग्रहणे युक्ता बलस्य च परिग्रहे ।

अहितम् च अपि पुरुषम् न हिंस्युर् अविदूषकम् ॥ १-७-११

11. kosha samgrahaNe yukataa = treasury, in collections, dutiful; balasya cha parigrahe = of armies, also, militarising; a hitam cha api puruSam = unfriendly, also, even, a person; a vi duushakam = not, really, blameworthy; na himsyuH = do not, torture.

In collections to their treasury and to militarise their armies they are dutiful, even an unfriendly person will not be tortured, if he were not really blameworthy. [1-7-11]

Verse Locator

वीराः च नियतोत्साहा राज शास्त्रम् अनुष्ठिताः ।

शुचीनाम् रक्षितारः च नित्यम् विषय वासिनाम् ॥ १-७-१२

12. viiraH = valiant; niyata utsaaha = engineered enthusiasm; raaja shaastram = political science; anuSTitaaH = administrators of; viSaya vaasinaam = in kingdom, dwelling ones [subjects of kingdom.]; suchiinaam = clean persons; nityam = at all times; rakshitaaraH = protectors.

They are valiant ones with engineered enthusiasm, administrators of political science, clean persons and protectors of subjects of their kingdom at all times. [1-7-12]

Verse Locator

ब्रह्म क्षत्रम् अहिंसन्तः ते कोशम् समपूरयन् ।

सुतीक्ष्ण दण्डाः संप्रेक्ष्य पुरुषस्य बलाबलम् ॥ १-७-१३

13. brahma kshatram = Brahmins, Kshatriya-s; te a himsantaH = they, do not, persecute; kosham samapuurayan = treasury, to fill up; puruSasya = person's; bala a balam = strength, weakness; samprekshya = after assessing; sutiikshNa danDaaH = high, degree, punishment givers.

They do not persecute Brahman-s and Kshatriya-s to fill-up the treasury, and high degree punishments will be given on assessing that person's, or the offender's strength and weakness. [1-7-13]

Verse Locator

शुचीनाम् एक बुद्धीनाम् सर्वेषाम् संप्रजानताम् ।
न आसीत् पुरे वा राष्ट्रे वा मृषा वादी नरः क्वचित् ॥ १-७-१४

14. suchiinaam = decent ones; ekabudhinaam = one, minded, [in league with]; sarveSaam = all of them; samprajaanataam = administering; kwachit = anywhere; pure vaa raaSTre vaa = in capital, or, in kingdom, either; mR^iSa vaadii naraH = lies, speaking, person [liar]; na aasiit = is not, there.

All of those ministers are clean administrators of kingdom, and are in league with each other, as such there is none anywhere, either in capital or in country, a liar. [1-7-14]

Verse Locator

कश्चिन् न दुष्टः तत्र आसीत् पर दार रतिर् नरः ।
प्रशांतम् सर्वम् एव असीत् राष्ट्रम् पुरवरम् च तत् ॥ १-७-१५

15. tatra = there; duSTaH = evil-minded; para daara ratoH naraH = in other's, wife, interested, man; kaschit na aasiit = anyone, none, is there; sarvam raaSTram = all, kingdom; tat pura varam cha = that, capital, also; prashaantam eva aasiit = undisturbed, only, it is there.

None with an evil-mind or with an interest in other man's wife is there, and thus on whole in the kingdom and also like that in the capital, there is an undisturbed society. [1-7-15]

Verse Locator

सु वासस सु वेषाः च ते च सर्वे शुचिव्रताः ।
हितार्थः च नरेन्द्रस्य जाग्रतो नय चक्षुषा ॥ १-७-१६

16. te cha sarve = they, also, all; su vaasasaH = well dressed; su veshaaH cha = well decorated, also; suchi vrataaH = decency, observing; narendrasya hitaathaH cha = of king, in the interest of, also; naya chakshuSaa = truthful-eyed; jaagrataH = are diligent.

Well-dressed and well-decorated and they the ministers of King Dasharatha, observe decency in the interest of the king and also of the kingdom, with diligence and with a truthful-eye. [1-7-16]

Verse Locator

गुरोर् गुण गृहीताः च प्रख्याताः च पराक्रमे ।
विदेशेषु अपि विज्ञाता सर्वतो बुद्धि निश्चयाः ॥ १-७-१७

17. guroH = from their mentor, mother, father and teachers; guNa gR^ihiitaH = good qualities, acquired; paraakrame = expertise; prakyaataH = renowned; sarvataH = in all affairs; buddhi nischayaH = intellectual, determinations; videsheSu api = in foreign countries, also; vij~naataaH = famous.

They acquired good qualities from their mentors and they are renowned by their expertise, and even in foreign countries they are famous for their intellectual determinations in all affairs. [1-7-17]

Verse Locator

अभितो गुणवन्तः च न च आसन् गुण वर्जिताः ।
सन्धि विग्रह तत्वज्ञाः प्रकृत्या संपदान्विताः । १-७-१८

18. abhitaH = versatile; guNavantaH cha = virtuous ones, also; na cha aasan = not, also, there is; guNa varjitaH = virtue, discarded ones; sandhi = truce; vigraha = war; tatvaj~naH = determiners; prakR^ityaa = by nature; sampada anvitaH = opulence, possessing.

Versatile and virtuous are they the ministers and there is none who discarded his virtuosity, and they are the determiners of truce or war, and by their nature they possess opulence. [1-7-18]

Verse Locator

मंत्र संवरणे शक्ताः शक्ताः सूक्ष्मासु बुद्धिषु ।
नीति शास्त्र विशेषज्ञाः सततम् प्रिय वादिनः ॥ १-७-१९

19. mantra samvaraNe shaktaaH = strategies, their confidentiality, capable of; shaktaaH = capable of; suukshmaasu = micro-affairs; buddhiSu = applying mind; niiti shastra vishesha j~naH = moral, science, comprehensively, known; satatam priya vaadinaH = always, gentle, articulators.

They are capable to keep up the confidentialities of strategies, and also capable to apply their mind even in micro-affairs, and they know moral science comprehensively, and above all, they are gentle articulators. [1-7-19]

Verse Locator

ईदृशैः तैः अमात्यैः च राजा दशरथोऽनघः ।
उपपन्नो गुणोपेतैः अन्वशासद् वसुंधराम् ॥ १-७-२०

20. anaghaH = exalted - [here, not sinless, but exalted king]; dasarathaH = Dasharatha; guNa upetaiH = good-natured; iidR^ishaiH = suchlike [that efficacious]; taiH amaatyaiH cha = with those, ministers, also; upapannaH = accompanied with; vasundharaam = the earth; anvashaasat = ruled.

Accompanied with such of those effectual and good-natured ministers the exalted king Dasharatha ruled the earth. [1-7-20]

Verse Locator

अवेक्षमाणः चारेण प्रजा धर्मेण रक्षयन् ।
प्रजानाम् पालनम् कुर्वन् अधर्मम् परिवर्जयन् ॥ १-७-२१
विश्रुतः त्रिषु लोकेषु वदान्यः सत्य संगरः ।
स तत्र पुरुषव्याघ्रः शशास पृथ्वीम् इमाम् ॥ १-७-२२

20-21. puruSa vyaaghraH = manly, tiger [most generous among people]; chaareNa avekshyamaa = by spies, observing; prajaaH = people; rakshyan = to protect; dharma = virtuously; prajaanaam paalanam kurvan = to people, good rule, to give; a dharmaan pari varjayan = unrighteousness, entirely, giving up; vadaanyaH = generous; satya sanagaraH = truthful, avowedly; triSu lokeSu vishrutaH = in three, worlds, renowned; pR^ithviim imaam = the earth, this one; saH = he, Dasharatha; tatra = from there; shashaasa = ruled.

He that most generous one among men, Dasharatha, while observing through spies, and to protect people righteously, and to give a good governance to them, he forsook unrighteousness and became a generous king avowed to truthfulness alone, and thus he that Dasharatha ruled the earth, which rulership is renowned in all the three worlds. [1-7-21,22]

Verse Locator

न अध्यगच्छत् विशिष्टम् वा तुल्यम् वा शत्रुम् आत्मनः ।

मित्रवान् नत सामन्तः प्रताप हत कण्टकः ।

स शशास जगत् राजा दिवि देव पतिर् यथा ॥ १-७-२३

23. mitravaan = one who has many friends; nata saamanta = subdued, provincial kings; prataapa hata kanTakaH = by valour, eliminated, thorniness; aatmanaH = to himsef; vishiSTam vaa = a superior one, either; tulyam vaa = equal one, or; shatrum = an enemy; na adhyagacChat = not encountered; divi devapatiH yathaa = in Heaven, Indra, like; saH shashaasa jagat = he, ruled, the world.

Emperor Dasharatha has not encountered either a superior or an equal in his kingship, and to him there are many friends, subdued are his provincial kings and eliminated is thorniness by his own valour. He thus ruled the world like Indra would in Heaven. [1-7-23]

Verse Locator

तैः मंत्रिभिः मंत्र हितेः निविष्टैः

वृतोऽनुरक्तैः कुशलैः समर्थैः ।

स पार्थिवो दीप्तिम् अवाप युक्तः

तेजोमयैः गोभिः इव उदितः अर्कः ॥ १-७-२४

24. mantra hite niviSTaiH = in stratej~n, conducive, concerned; anuraktaiH = interested in; kushalaiH = well skilled; samarthaiH = efficient; taiH mantribhiH = with those, ministers; vR^itaH = surrounded by, in the company of; saH = he; paarthiva = king; uditaH arkaH [yathaa] = rising, Sun [as with]; yuktaH tejomayaiH gobhiH yuktaH = along with, resplendent, sunrays, having; diiptim avaapa = brilliance, obtained.

In the company of those ministers, who are conducive to the strategies, interested in the king and subjects as well, skilful and efficient ones, he that King Dasharatha obtained brilliance, like the rising Sun along with resplendent sunrays. [1-7-24]

इति वाल्मीकि रामायणे आदि काव्ये बाल काण्डे सप्तमः सर्गः

Thus, this is the 7th chapter in Bala Kanda of Valmiki Ramayana, the First Epic poem of India.

Book I : Bala Kanda - The Youthful Majesties

UTF-8 encoding pratipadārtha Update October 2011

Chapter [Sarga] 8

Introduction

Dasharatha decides to perform an elaborate Vedic ritual, called Aswamedha yajna, Horse Ritual, to beget children. He being a considerate king in taking conscience of the courtiers, he discusses this aspect with the Vedic scholars and ministers of his court, beforehand.

Verse Locator

तस्य च एवम् प्रभावस्य धर्मज्ञस्य महात्मनः ।

सुतार्थम् तप्य मानस्य न असीत् वंशकरः सुतः ॥ १-८-१

१. एवम् प्रभावस्य = this kind of, effectual king; धर्मज्ञस्य = virtue knower; महात्मनः = great soul; सुत अर्थम् तप्यमानस्य = children, to beget, burning, at heart; तस्य च = to him, also; वंशकरः सुतः = dynasty, enriching, son; नासीत् = is not, there.

To him, to such an effectual and virtuously great-souled King Dasharatha, , a dynasty-enriching son is not begotten though his heart is burning to beget children. [1-8-1]

Verse Locator

चिन्तयानस्य तस्य एवम् बुद्धिः आसीन् महात्मनः ।

सुतार्थम् वाजिमेधेन किम् अर्थम् न यजामि अहम् ॥ १-८-२

२. चिन्तयानस्य = while thinking; तस्य = to him; महात्मनः = to that great soul; एवम् = this way; बुद्धिः आसीत् = thought, occurred; सुत अर्थम् = sons, for the purpose of; वाजि मेधेन = by Horse Ritual; किम् अर्थम् = why, not; न यजामि अहम् = not, perform, I shall.

To that anguished great-soul, a thought occurred this way, "To beget sons, why should not I perform Horse ritual...[and thus appease the gods in order to beget worthy sons...]" [1-8-2]

Verse Locator

स निश्चिताम् मतिम् कृत्वा यष्टव्यम् इति बुद्धिमान् ।

मन्त्रिभिः सह धर्मात्मा सर्वैः अपि कृत आत्मभिः ॥ १-८-३

ततोऽब्रवीत् महातेजाः सुमन्त्रम् मन्त्रि सत्तमम् ।

शीघ्रम् आनय मे सर्वान् गुरुन् तान् स पुरोहितान् ॥ १-८-४

३, ४. बुद्धिमान् = intellectual one; धर्म आत्मा = conscientious souled; कृत आत्मभिः = with decent, souled [sagacious ministers]; सर्वैः अपि = with all, even; मन्त्रिभिः = with ministers; यष्टव्यम् इति = performable, thus; निश्चिताम् मतिम् कृत्वा = resolved, mind, on making; ततः = then; मन्त्रि सत्तमम् सुमन्त्रम् = best of ministers, to Sumantra; अब्रवीत् = addressed; स पुरोहितान् = with, clerics; तान् सर्वान् = them, all; मे गुरुन् = my teachers; शीघ्रम् आनय = quickly, fetch.

That intellectual and a conscientious king having resolved with all of his sagacious ministers that such a Vedic ritual is performable, then addressed best ne among ministers, namely Sumantra, "fetch all my teachers and clerics, quickly.." [1-8-3,4]

Verse Locator

ततः सुमन्त्रः त्वरितम् गत्वा त्वरित विक्रमः ।
सम् आनयत् स तान् सर्वान् समस्तान् वेद पारगान् ॥ १-८-५
सुयज्ञम् वामदेवम् च जाबालिम् अथ काश्यपम् ।
पुरोहितम् वशिष्ठम् च ये च अपि अन्ये द्विजोत्तमाः ॥ १-८-६

५. ततः = then; त्वरितः विक्रमः = in quickness, dauntless; सुमन्त्रः = Sumantra; त्वरितम् गत्वा = quickly, gone; सुयज्ञम् = Suyajna; वामदेवम् = Vaama Deva; च = also; अथ = then; जाबालिम् = Jaabaali; काश्यपम् = Kaashyapa; पुरोहितम् = the clerics; वशिष्ठम् च = Vashishta, also; ये अन्ये द्विज उत्तमाः = those, other, Brahman-s, eminent ones; वेद पारगान् = Vedic scholars are there; समानयत् = fetched; तान् सर्वान् = them, all.

Then Sumantra gone quickly, for he in quickness is a dauntless one, and fetched all of the clerics like Suyajna, Vaama Deva, Jaabala, Kshyapa, and even Sage Vashishta, and also those other eminent Brahman that are Vedic scholars. [1-8-5,6]

Verse Locator

तान् पूजयित्वा धर्मात्मा राजा दशरथः तदा ।
इदम् धर्म अर्थ सहितम् श्लक्षणम् वचनम् अब्रवीत् ॥ १-८-७

७. धर्मात्मा राजा दशरथः = virtuous king, Dasharatha; तदा = then; तान् पूजयित्वा = them, on adoring; इदम् = this; धर्म अर्थ सहितम् = justification, meaning, having; श्लक्षणम् वचनम् अब्रवीत् = impressible, sentence, spoke to.

Then on adoring them virtuous King Dasharatha spoke this impressible sentence that included justification and meaning. [1-8-7]

Verse Locator

मम लालस्य मानस्य सुतार्थम् नास्ति वै सुखम् ।
तदर्थम् हयमेधेन यक्ष्णामि इति मतिर् मम ॥ १-८-८

८. सुतार्थम् = for sons; लालस्य मानस्य = tumultuous, mind; मम = my; सुखम् = quietude; न अस्ति = not there; वै = verily; तत् अर्थम् = for that, reason; हय मेधेन = by Horse Ritual; यक्ष्णामि = Vedic worship; इति = thus; मतिः मम = thinking, of mine.

"My mind is tumultuous without quietude for I have no sons... for that reason, I wish perform Aswametha, Vedic Horse Ritual... this is my thinking... [1-8-8]

Verse Locator

तत् अहम् यष्टुम् इच्छामि शास्त्र दृष्टेन कर्मणा ।
कथम् प्राप्स्यामि अहम् कामम् बुद्धिः अत्र विचिन्त्यताम् ॥ १-८-९

९. तत् अहम् = therefore, I; शास्त्र दृष्टेन = scriptures, point of view [as enshrined in]; कर्मणा = rite-oriented; यष्टुम् इच्छामि = to perform ritual, I contemplate to; कथम् = how; प्राप्स्यामि = I get; कामम् = my desire; बुद्धिः अत्र विचिन्त्यताम् = contemplation, for that, be thought of.

"Therefore, I contemplate to perform that ritual as enshrined in the scriptures and as a rite-oriented one as well... let this contemplation of mine be well thought of... and as to how my desire

ततः साधु इति तद्वाक्यम् ब्राह्मणाः प्रत्यपूजयन् ।
वशिष्ठ प्रमुखाः सर्वे पार्थिवस्य मुखेरितम् ॥ १-८-१०

१०. ततः = then; वशिष्ठः = Sage Vashishta; ब्राह्मणाः = Brahman-s; प्रमुखाः सर्वे = important personalities, all of them; पार्थिवस्य मुख ईरितम् = from king's, mouth, voiced; तत् वाक्यम् = that, sentence [idea]; साधु इति = splendid, it is; प्रति अपूजयन् = in turn, honoured him

Then the Brahman scholars along with Sage Vashishta and all other important personalities in their turn have blessed and honoured him, saying that "splendid is this idea..." thus, for that which is voiced by the king. [1-8-10]

ऊचुः च परम प्रीताः सर्वे दशरथम् वचः ।
संभाराः संभ्रियन्ताम् ते तुरगः च विमुच्यताम् ॥ १-८-११

११. सर्वे = all of them; परम प्रीताः = very, happy; दशरथम् = to Dasharatha; वचः = these words; उचुः च = they said, also; संभाराः = paraphernalia; संभ्रियन्ताम् = be provided; ते तुरगः च विमुच्यताम् = your, horse, also, be released.

All of them becoming happy have also said to King Dasharatha, "let the paraphernalia be provided, and your ritual-horse be released... [1-8-11]

सरय्वाः च उत्तरे तीरे यज्ञ भूमिर् विधीयताम् ।
सर्वथा प्राप्स्यसे पुत्रान् अभिप्रेतान् च पार्थिव ॥ १-८-१२
यस्य ते धर्मिकी बुद्धिः इयम् पुत्रार्थम् आगता ।

१२, १३अ. पार्थिव = oh king; सर्वथा = by all means; प्राप्स्यसे = you will beget; अभिप्रेतान् च = as you desired; पुत्रान् = sons; सरय्वाः च उत्तरे तीरे = River Sarayu's, on northern banks; यज्ञ भूमिः विधीयताम् = ritual, ground, be arranged yasya te = to whom, like you; धर्मिकी बुद्धिः इयम् = virtuous, thought, like this; पुत्रार्थम् आगता = to beget sons, suggested itself to.

"Oh, king, by all means you will beget sons as you desired, since you, to whom an upright thinking has suggested itself... let the ritual ground be arranged on the northern banks of River Sarayu..." So said the scholars. [1-8-12, 13a]

ततः तुष्टोऽभवत् राजा श्रुत्वा तद् द्विज भाषितम् ॥ १-८-१३
अमात्यान् अब्रवीत् राजा हर्ष पर्याकुल लोचन ।
संभाराः संभ्रियन्ताम् मे गुरुणाम् वचनात् इह ॥ १-८-१४

१३ब, १४. ततः = then; राजा = king; तद् द्विज भाषितम् श्रुत्वा = that, Brahman's, saying, on hearing; तुष्टः अभवत् = glad, he became; राजा = king; हर्ष पर्याकुल लोचनः = happiness, lurching, on eyes; अमात्यान् अब्रवीत् = to ministers, spoke to; इह मे गुरुणाम् वचनात् = now, on my, teacher's, advise; संभाराः संभ्रियन्ताम् = paraphernalia, be procured.

" Then King Dasharatha is gladdened on hearing the sayings of those Brahman's. And with happiness lurching on his eyes the king spoke to the ministers, "As advised by my Vedic teachers let the paraphernalia be procured... [1-8-13b, 14]

समर्थ अधिष्ठितः च अश्वः सः उपाध्यायो विमुच्यताम् ।

सरय्याः च उत्तरे तीरे यज्ञ भूमिर् विधीयताम् ॥ १-८-१५

१५. सरयव्याः च उत्तरे तीरे = of River Sarayu, on northern banks; यज्ञ भूमिः विधीयताम् = ritual, ground, be arranged; समर्थ अधिष्ठितः = capable ones [warriors,] monitored by; सह उपाध्यायः = with, religious teachers [following]; अश्वः विमुच्यताम् = Ritual Horse, be released.

"On the northern banks of River Sarayu the ritual ground be arranged... and the Ritual-Horse be released monitored by capable warriors, along with the religious teachers..." So said the king. [1-8-15]

Verse Locator

शान्तयः च अपि वर्धन्ताम् यथा कल्पम् यथा विधि ।

शक्यः प्राप्तुम् अयम् यज्ञः सर्वेण अपि महीक्षिता ।

न अपराधो भवेत् कष्टो यदि अस्मिन् क्रतु सत्तमे । १-८-१६

१६, १७अ. शान्तयाः च अपि = peace invocations, also, even; वर्धन्ताम् = be prevailing; यथा कल्पम् = as ordained [by tradition]; यथा विधि = as per scriptures; अयम् यज्ञः = this, ritual; कष्टः अपराधः = difficult, fault; यदि = if; न भवेत् = not occurs; अस्मिन् = in that; क्रतु सत्तमे = ritual, the great; सर्वेण अपि मही क्षिता = by all, even, kings, on earth; शक्यः प्राप्तुम् = possible, to obtain [to perform and obtain results.]

"Let peace invocations be prevailing and prospering, as ordained in the scriptures and tradition...if it is possible for the correct performance to obtain results of this ritual, and if it is possible to conduct this ritual without any difficult faults during its performance, then all the kings on earth would have performed it... [1-8-16, 17a]

Verse Locator

छिद्रम् हि मृगयन्ते स्म विद्वांसो ब्रह्म राक्षसाः ।

विधि हीनस्य यज्ञस्य सद्यः कर्ता विनश्यति ॥ १-८-१७

१७ब, १८अ. अत्र = therein the ritual; विद्वांसः ब्रह्म राक्षसाः = scholarly, Brahmans [who became] Brahma-demons; छिद्रम् हि मृगयन्ते = faults, alone, they hunt for; विधि हीनस्य = procedure, depraved; यज्ञ~अस्य = ritual's; कर्ता = performer; विनश्यति = gets ruined.

"Scholarly Brahma-demons will be hunting for the faults alone in the course of this ritual... should the procedure of this ritual be depraved of its set rules, the performer gets ruined... [1-8-17b, 18a]

Verse Locator

तद्यथा विधि पूर्वम् मे क्रतुरेष समाप्यते ।

तथा विधानम् क्रियताम् समर्थाः साधनेषु इति ॥ १-८-१८

१८ब, १९अ. तत् = therefore; मे एष क्रतुः = my, this, ritual; विधि पूर्वम् = procedurally; यथा समाप्यते = as to how, it will be concluded; तथा विधानम् क्रियताम् = in that way, it shall be done; समर्थाः साधनेषु = experts, [you all] in [such] performances; इति = thus [the king said to his teachers.]

"Therefore, you all shall see as to how this ritual of mine be conducted and concluded procedurally, and all of you are evidently experts in conducting such rituals... isn't it! [1-8-18b, 19a]

Vedic Brahmins are to be very cautious and vigilant while performing the ritual in the order of ritual acts, faultless rendering of the Vedic hymns and other observant items of the Vedic canon. Should they by overconfidence or by negligence commit any mistake or fault, they take rebirth as Brahma-demons. After taking rebirth as such demons they, with their inherent jealousy and ire will always be hunting for such mistakes in other's ritual performances. If they cannot find one, they cause certain hindrances in that performance, so that the performer may commit mistakes and get ruined in the present life span and then take rebirth as Brahma-demon. Hence, every Vedic-ritual performer shall be vigilant.

Verse Locator

तथा इति च अब्रुवन् सर्वे मन्त्रिणः प्रतिपूजिता ।
पार्थिवेन्द्रस्य तद् वाक्यम् यथा पूर्वम् निशंय ते ॥ १-८-१९

१९ब, २०अ. ते सर्वे मन्त्रिणः = those, all, ministers; पार्थिव इन्द्रस्य तद् वाक्यम् = king's, the best one's, that, word; निशंय = on listening; प्रतिपूजिता = adored him; यथा पूर्वम् = as, earlier [as has been conducted]; तथा = that way [this will also be conducted]; इति = thus; च अब्रुवन् = also, said [assured.]

On listening the words of the king all the ministers adored and assured him saying, 'It will be conducted faultlessly as has been conducted earlier...' [1-8-19b, 20a]

Verse Locator

तथा द्विजाः ते धर्मज्ञा वर्धयतो नृपोत्तमम् ।
अनुज्ञाताः ततः सर्वे पुनर् जग्मुर् यथा आगतम् ॥ १-८-२०

२०ब, २१अ. धर्मज्ञा = virtue knowers; ते द्विजाः = those, Brahmins; तथा वर्धयतः नृपोत्तमम् = enhancing [his royal stature,] of that king; ततः अनुज्ञाताः = then, permitted; सर्वे यथा आगतम् = all, as they have come; पुनः जग्मुः = again, went away.

On hearing those words of that best king, and what that is spoken earlier, then the virtue knowing Brahman scholars hailing that best king took leave of him and went away as they have come. [1-8-20b, 21a]

Verse Locator

विसर्जयित्वा तान् विप्रान् सचिवान् इदम् अब्रवीत् ।
ऋत्विग्भिः उपसंदिष्टो यथावत् क्रतुर् आप्यताम् ॥ १-८-२१

२१ब, २२अ. ततः = then; विसर्जयित्वा = sending off; सर्वे = all; तान् = them; विप्रान् = Brahmins; सचिवान् इदम् अब्रवीत् = to ministers, this, said; ऋत्विग्भिः = by the Vedic scholars; उपसंदिष्टः = as advised; यथा वत् क्रतुः आप्यताम् = procedurally, ritual, be conducted

Then on sending off those Brahman scholars, the king spoke this way to the ministers... "As advised by the Vedic scholars this ritual shall be conducted, procedurally..." [1-8-21b, 22A]

Verse Locator

इति उक्त्वा नृप शार्दूलः सचिवान् समुपस्थितान् ।
विसर्जयित्वा स्वम् वेश्म प्रविवेश महामतिः ॥ १-८-२२

२२B, २३अ. महा मतिः नृप शार्दूलः = highly intelligent, kingly tiger Dasharatha; समुपस्थितान् = who are in audience; सचिवान् = to ministers; इति उक्त्वा = thus, on saying; विसर्जयित्वा = sent them off; स्वम् वेश्म प्रविवेश = his, palace, entered.

Tha tigerly-king and highly intellectual Dasharatha, on saying thus to his ministers who are still in his audience, sent away those ministers also, and he entered his palace. [1-8-22b, 23a]

Verse Locator

ततः स गत्वा ताः पत्नीर् नरेन्द्रो हृदयंगमाः ।

उवाच दीक्षाम् विशत यक्षेऽहम् सुत कारणात् ॥ १-८-२३

२३ब, २४अ. ततः = then; सः = he; नरेन्द्रः = the king, the best; हृदयंगमा = heartily dear ones; ताः पत्नीः = to them his wives; गत्वा = on approaching; उवाच = spoke; अहम् = I am; सुत कारणात् = sons, for the reason of; यक्ष्ये = performing ritual; दीक्षाम् विशत = vow, you enter;

And on approaching his wives, that best king's heartily dear ones, he said to them, " I am performing a Vedic ritual for the reason of begetting sons, and you all shall enter a vow..." [1-8-23b, 24a]

Verse Locator

तासाम् तेन अति कान्तेन वचनेन सुवर्चसाम् ।

मुख पद्मान् अशोभन्त पद्मानीव हिमात्यये ॥ १-८-२४

२४ब, च. अति कान्तिनेन = most pleasing; वचनेन = by words [of king]; सुवर्चसाम् = already lustrous; तासाम् = their [the queens]; मुख पद्मानि = countenances, lotuses; पद्मान् इव = lotuses, like; तेन = by those [words of king]; हिमात्यये = dew-fall, clearance of; अशोभन्त = became more gleaming.

On hearing those words of the king, the lustrous countenances of the queens have become more gleaming, like the blooming lotuses after the clearance of dew-fall. [1-8-24b, c]

Verse Locator

इति वाल्मीकि रामायणे आदि कावे अष्टमः सर्गः

Thus, this is the 8th chapter in Bala Kanda of Valmiki Ramayana, the First Epic poem of India.

Book I : Bala Kanda - The Youthful Majesties

Chapter [Sarga] 9 Verses converted to UTF-8 Sept, 09

Introduction

Sumantra, the minister of King Dasharatha, details the importance of Sage Rishyasringa and beseeches the king to invite that sage to preside over the contemplated Vedic ritual, for that Sage's entry into any kingdom is auspicious for that land and people.

Verse Locator

एतत् श्रुत्वा रहः सूतो राजानम् इदम् अब्रवीत् ।
श्रूयताम् तत् पुरा वृत्तम् पुराणे च मया श्रुतम् ॥ १-९-१

1. etat shrutvaa suutaH = all this, having heard, charioteer, Sumantra; raajaanam = to king [Dasharatha]; rahaH idam abraviit = in confidence, in this way, said; shruuyataam tat = I will tell, that; puraa vR^ittam = an early, legend; puraaNe ca mayaa shrutam = legendary narration, also, by me, listened.

Sumantra, the charioteer and one of the misters of King Dasharatha, having heard all about the king's desire to perform a Vedic ritual, said this in confidence to king, "oh, king, I will tell an early legend, an early legendary narration that I listened... [1-9-1]

Verse Locator

ऋत्विग्भिः उपदिष्टोऽयम् पुरा वृत्तो मया श्रुतः ।
सनत्कुमारो भगवान् पूर्वम् कथितवान् कथाम् ॥ १-९-२
ऋषीणाम् सन्निधौ राजन् तव पुत्राअगमम् प्रति ।

2, 3a. raajan = oh King; R^itvigbhiH upadiSTaH = by Vedic scholars, advised; ayam puraa vR^ittaH = this is, earlier, happened [narrated]; sanat kumaaraH bhagavaan = Sage Sanatkumara, godly one; puurvam kathitavaan kathaam = once, narrated, an account [about your progeny]; R^iSiiNaam sannidhau = of [other] sages, presence of; tava putra aagamam prati = about arrival of, your, sons, about; mayaa shrutaH = by me, heard.

"Oh, king, I have earlier heard of this present advice given to you by Vedic scholars, as godly Sage Sanatkumara has once narrated an account about the arrival of your sons in the presence of other sages, and sage Sanat Kumara said... [1-9-2, 3a]

Verse Locator

काश्यपस्य च पुत्रोऽस्ति विभाण्डक इति श्रुतः ॥ १-९-३
ऋष्यशृङ्ग इति ख्यातः तस्य पुत्रो भविष्यति ।
स वने नित्य संवृद्धो मुनिर् वनचरः सदा ॥ १-९-४

3b, 4. kaashyapasya ca = for Sage Kashyapa; putraH asti = son, was there; vibhaaNDaka iti shrutaH = Vibhaandaka, thus, known as; tasya putraH = his son [Vibhandaka's son,] will be; R^ishyasringa iti khyaata = Rishyasringa, thus, renowned; bhavishyati = will be there; saH muniH vane nitya samvR^iddhaH = he, that saint [Rishyasringa,] always, in forest, grown up; vana chara sadaa = [that sage] Rishyasringa, forest, dwelling, always.

"He said that "Sage Kashyapa has a son known as Vibhaandaka, and his son will be the renowned Sage Rishyasringa, and that Sage Rishyasringa will grow up in forests, and will always be dwelling in forest... [1-9-3b, 4]

Here the word used by Sumantra is tava putra aagamam , it renders as 'the arrival of your sons', meaning that sons of King Dasharatha arrive from Heavens, but not through an ordinary parturition. Even earlier in time to that of Dasharatha, Sage Sanatkumara predicted the 'arrival' of Vishnu as Rama. The birth-event associated with Rishyasringa's name is that he is born with a horn on the crown of his head. Thus he is named as Rishyasringa, i.e., em> R^iSi the Sage; shR^i~Nga horn; a Sage with a horn on his forehead at his birth time. This being the mythological import, he is an acme among sages, as shR^i~Nga also means a peak.

Verse Locator

न अन्यम् जानाति विप्रेन्द्रो नित्यम् पित्र अनुवर्तनात् ।
द्वैविध्यम् ब्रह्मचर्यस्य भविष्यति महात्मनः ॥ १-९-५

5. vipra indraH = Brahman, the best; na anyam jaanaati = not, others, knowing [not knowing others]; nityam pitra anu vartanaat = always, father, abiding; dvai vidhyam = hindrance, [or, two kinds]; brahma charyasya = of his celibacy; bhaviSyasi = he will be following/will occur to him; mahaatmanaH = to that great soul.

"Not knowing others, that Brahman the best, namely Rishyasringa, will always be abiding his father and he will follow celibacy of two kinds Brahmanical vows namely vratitva , prajaapatya ...

Or

Not knowing others that Brahman the best, will always be abiding his father, lest his renowned celibacy always praised by the Brahmans, will be hindered. [1-9-5]

The word dvaividhyam also means two kinds of celibacy, vratitva and prajaapatyam. One, as a bachelor and the other after marriage, voluntarily distancing away from his wife on certain forbidden days like full moon and new moon days, during daytime, eclipses, and other astronomical occurrences and some more. This kind of self-imposed celibacy is one way of observing sustained family planning methods, instead of resorting to medicaments. Here, this word is more nearer to mean 'hindrance', than to mean the 'two way celibacy' as deciphered by some commentators.

Verse Locator

लोकेषु प्रथितम् राजन् विप्रैः च कथितम् सदा ।
तस्य एवम् वर्तमानस्य कालः समभिवर्तत ॥ १-९-६

6. lokaSu prathitam = in the world, famous; raajan = O King; vipraiH cha kathitam sadaa = by Brahmans, praised, always; tasya evam vartamaanasya = him, thus, with that conduct; kaalaH sam abhi vartata = time, will pass on.

"In the world he becomes famous for his celibacy, oh king, and he will always be praised by Brahmans, and thus time will pass on with that kind of his conduct, [1-9-6]

Verse Locator

अग्निम् शुश्रूषमाणस्य पितरम् च यशस्विनम् ।
एतस्मिन् एव काले तु रोमपादः प्रतापवान् ॥ १-९-७
आङ्गेषु प्रथितो राजा भविष्यति महाबलः ।

7, 8a. agnim = to Sacrificial Fire; shushrushhamaaNasya = while in servitor-ship of; pitaram cha = to his father, also; yashasvinam = prosperous one; etasmin eva = in this, only; kaale = meantime; prataapavaan = valiant one; raajaa = king; romapaadaH = Romapaada; angeshu = in Anga kingdom; prathitaH = famed one; bhavishhyati = will be there; mahaabalaH = very strong one.

Sage Rishyasringa looses no time with his servitor-ship to the Sacrificial Fire and also to his celebrated father, and during this period alone there will be a famed and very strong king Romapaada, a valiant in Anga country... [1-9-7, 8a]

Verse Locator

तस्य व्यतिक्रमात् राज्ञो भविष्यति सुदारुणा ॥ १-९-८

अनावृष्टिः सुघोरा वै सर्वलोक भयावहा ।

8b, 9. tasya raaj~naH vyatikramaat = his, that king's, violation of righteousness; su ghoraa = very, devastating; su daaruNaa = verily, shocking; sarva loka bhayaaavahaa = to all, living beings, frightening one; anaavR^iSTiH bhaviSyati = famine, will be there.

"But by a violation of righteousness of that king there will be a shocking and devastating famine in that country...[1-9-8b, 9]

Verse Locator

अनावृष्ट्याम् तु वृत्तायाम् राजा दुःख समन्वितः ॥ १-९-९

ब्राह्मणान् श्रुत संवृद्धान् च समानीय प्रवक्ष्यति ।

9b, 10a. anaavR^iSTyaam = due to drought; vR^ittaayaaam = [famine] while besetting; raajaa = the king; duHkha = grim; samanvitaH = afflicted with; braahmanaan = Brahmans; shruta samvridhaanaam = in scriptures well versed ones[learned, scholars]; samaaniya = onn summoning; pravakshyati = addresses them.

"While the famine is besetting that king Roamapada will be afflicted with grim, and on summoning Brahmans and learned scholars he will address them... [1-9-9b. 10a]

Verse Locator

भवन्तः श्रुत कर्माणो लोक चारित्र वेदिनः ॥ १-९-१०

समादिशन्तु नियमम् प्रायश्चित्तम् यथा भवेत् ।

10b, 11a. bhavantaH = all of you; shruta = well versed; kararmaaNaaH = in rituals; loka chaaritra vedinaH = world, history, knowers; sam aadishatantu = order me; yathaa = as to how; niyamam = the procedure is; praayaschittam = for purification; bhavet = will be.

"All of you are well versed in rituals and knowers of the world history... order me how to how the purification from sin will be... [1-9-10b, 11a]

Verse Locator

इति उक्ताः ते ततो राज्ञा सर्वे ब्राह्मण सत्तमाः ॥ १-९-११

वक्ष्यन्ति ते महीपालम् ब्राह्मणा वेद पारगाः ।

विभाण्डक सुतम् राजन् सर्व उपायैः इह आनय ॥ १-९-१२

11b, 12. iti uktavaa te raaj~naa sarve = thus, said, to them, by king, to all; braahmaNa sattamaH = those Brahmans, scholarly ones; veda paaragaaH braahmaNaa = Brahmans, Veda scholars; mahiipaalam = to the king; te vakshyanti = they, will say; raajan = oh king; vibhaaNDaka sutam = Sage Vibhandaka's son; sarva upaayaiH = by all, methods; ihaaanaya = here, you fetch.

"Thus said by king those scholarly Brahmans and Vedic scholars will say to the king, 'oh, king, son of Sage Vibhaandaka, namely Rishyasringa, is to be fetched by all methods... [1-9-11b, 12]

आनाय्य तु महीपाल ऋश्यशृङ्गम् सुसत्कृतम्।
विभाण्डक सुतम् राजन् ब्राह्मणम् वेद पारगम्।
प्रयच्छ कन्याम् शान्ताम् वै विधिना सुसमाहितः॥१-९-१३

13. mahiipala= oh king; aanaayya= on bringing; R^ishhyashR^ingam= Rishyasringa; vibhaaNDaka sutam= Vibhaandaka's son; braahmaNam veda paaragam= Brahman, Veda, scholar; su satkR^itam= well, honoured one; samaahitaH= with good care; kanyaam shaantaam vidhinaa prayacCha= girl [daughter,] Shanta, procedurally, you give [in marriage.]

"Oh! King, having brought Sage Rishyasringa and honouring him well with good care, procedurally give him your daughter Shanta in marriage to that Vedic Brahman and the son of Sage Vibhaandaka... [1-9-13]

Verse Locator

तेषाम् तु वचनम् श्रुत्वा राजा चिन्ताम् प्रपत्स्यते ।
केन उपायेन वै शक्यम् इह आनेतुम् स वीर्यवान् ॥ १-९-१४

14. teSaam tu = their, but; vachanam = words; shrutvaa = having listening; raajaa = the king; chintaam prapatsyate = thought, will obtain [becomes thoughtful]; kena upaayena = by which, means; shakyam = possible; saH viiryavaan = he, who has controlled his senses; iha aanetum = to here, be fetched.

"On listening them the king becomes thoughtful about the idea by which it is possible to bring that self-controlled sage to his place... [1-9-14]

Verse Locator

ततो राजा विनिश्चित्य सह मंत्रिभिः आत्मवान् ।
पुरोहितम् अमात्याम् च प्रेषयिष्यति सत्कृतान् ॥ १-९-१५

15. tataH = then; raajaa = the king; vinishchitya = decides; saha = along with; mantribhiH = ministers; atmavaan = one with intelligence; purohitam = clergymen; amaatyaam cha = ministers, also; tataH = then; preshyati = will send.

"Then that intellectual king decides along with ministers, to dispatch clergymen and ministers, honouring them well, and then sends them... [1-9-15]

Verse Locator

ते तु राज्ञो वचः श्रुत्वा व्यथिता विनत आननाः ।
न गच्छेम ऋषेः भीता अनुनेष्यन्ति तम् नृपम् ॥ १-९-१६

16. te tu = they, but; raajnaH vachaH = king's, words; shrutvaa = on hearing; vyathitaaH = awestruck; vi nata aananaaH = lowering, faces; na gacChema = [we] can not go; R^iSeH bhiitaaH = of that sage, afraid of; anuneshyanti = plead for mercy; tam nripam = of that, king.

"They on hearing king's words are awestruck and lowering their faces they will say, 'we can not go there as we are afraid of sage Vibhandaka, father of Rishyasringa...' [1-9-16]

Verse Locator

वक्ष्यन्ति चिंतयित्वा ते तस्य उपायाम् च तान् क्षमान् ।
आनेष्यामो वयम् विप्रम् न च दोषो भविष्यति ॥ १-९-१७

17. chintayitaa te vakSyanti = after thinking over, they [as a second thought,] will say; tat kshamaan upaayaam tasya = that, plan, to bring the sage; vayam vipram aaneshhyaamaH = will fetch, we, that Brahman, Rishyasringa,; na cha doshaH bhavishyati = no, also, stigma will occur.

"After thinking over they will say as a second thought, and having found a solution with a plan to bring that sage, 'we will fetch that Brahman and also by that no stigma will occur...' [1-9-18]

Verse Locator

एवम् अङ्गाधिपेन एव गणिकाभिः ऋषेः सुतः ।
आनीतोऽवर्षयत् देव शान्ता च अस्मै प्रदीयते ॥ १-९-१८

18. evam anga adhipena eva = thus, Anga country's, king [Romapaada.] thus; gaNikaabhiH = by courtesans; R^iSeH sutaH = Sage's, son [Rishyasringa]; aaniitaH = [sage will be] brought; [then] devaH avarSayat = god, Rain-god, rains, will give rain; shaanta pradiiyate cha = Shanta, to him, will be given, also.

"Thus by the king of Anga kingdom and by his courtesans the son of sage Rishyasringa will be brought and the presiding deity for rains will showers rains, and Shanta will also be given in marriage to that sage..." [1-9-18]

Verse Locator

ऋष्यशृङ्गः तु जामाता पुत्रान् तव विधास्यति ।
सनत्कुमार कथितम् एतावत् व्याहृतम् मया ॥ १-९-१९

19. RishyasringaH tu jaamaataa = Rishyasringa, but, son-in-law; putraan tava vidhaasyati = sons, to you, bless with; etaavat vyaahR^itam mayaa = all this, retold, by me; sanatkumaara kathitam = Sanatkumaara, as said by.

"Sage Rishyasringa, son-in-law of Romapaada, King of Anga ad as well as to you, if invited to our kingdom he will bless you to beget sons, oh! King... so said Sage Sanatkumaara to other sages and all this is retold by me." [Thus the charioteer and the Minister Sumantra completed his narration in confidence to King Dasharatha.] [1-9-19]

Sage Rishyasringa is also a son-in-law to King Dasharatha. Princess Shanta, in a distant relationship is a daughter to King Dasharatha in relation and the adopted daughter of Romapaada, the King of Anga. Thus Sumantra's saying son-in-law also means Dasharatha's son-in-law, besides Romapada's.

Verse Locator

अथ हृष्टो दशरथः सुमंत्रम् प्रत्यभाषत ।
यथा ऋष्यशृङ्गः तु आनीतो येन उपायेन स उच्चताम् ॥ १-९-२०

20. athaH hR^iSTaH dasharathaH = then, delighted, Dasharatha; sumantram prati abhaaSata = to Sumantra, in turn, spoke; yathaa R^iSyashR^i~NgaH aaniitaH = how, Rishyasringa, brought [to Anga Kingdom]; yena upaayena sa ucchyataam = by what, idea, that be said.

Then King Dasharatha is delighted and in turn spoke to Sumantra "By what idea Rishyasringa is brought to Anga kingdom, that shall be said..." [1-9-20]

इति वल्मीकि रामायणे आदि काव्ये बाल काण्डे नवमः सर्गः

Thus, this is the 9th chapter in Bala Kanda of Valmiki Ramayana, the First Epic poem of India.

Book I : Bala Kanda - The Youthful Majesties
Verses converted to UTF_8 Sept, 09

Chapter [Sarga] 10

Introduction

Sumantra, the minister continues his narration to his king Dasharatha, about Rishyashringa's arrival at Anga kingdom of King Romapada and his marriage with Princess Santha, the daughter of Romapada.

Verse Locator

सुमंत्रः चोदितो राज्ञा प्रोवाच इदम् वचः तदा ।
यथा ऋष्यशृङ्गः तु आनीतो येन उपायेन मंत्रिभिः
तन्मे निगदितम् सर्वम् शृणु मे मंत्रिभिः सह ॥ १-१०-१

1. sumantraH choditaH raaj~naa = Sumantra, motivated, by king; tadaa idam vachaH pra uvaacha = then, this, word, said; yathaa R^ishyasR^iN^igaH tu aaniitaH = as to how, Rishyasringa, is brought; yena upaayena mantribhiH = by which, idea, by ministers; shR^iNu me mantribhiH saha = all, listen, from me, with ministers; tat me nigaditam sarvam = that, by me, spoken, all.

Sumantra thus motivated by King Dasharatha, said these words to king "Oh! King, how and with which idea Sage Rishyasringa is brought by the ministers of Romapada, all that will be spoken... that may please be listened from me along with ministers... [1-10-1]

Verse Locator

रोमपादम् उवाच इदम् सह अमात्यः पुरोहितः ।
उपायो निरपायो अयम् अस्माभिः अभिचिन्तितः ॥ १-१०-२

2. saha amaatya purohitaH = along with ministers, clergyman; romapaadam uvaacha idam = to king Romapada, said, this; upaayaH nirapaayaH ayam = a plan, not harmful, this one; asmaabhi abhichintitaH = by us, well thought over.

"The ministers along with clergyman have spoken this way to King Romapada, "this is a non-harmful plan, well thought over by us..." [1-10-2]

Verse Locator

ऋष्यशृङ्गो वनचरः तपः स्वाध्याय संयुतः ।
अनभिज्ञः तु नारीणाम् विषयाणाम् सुखस्य च ॥ १-१०-३

3. R^ishyashR^iN^gaH vanacharaH = Rishyasringa, forest-dweller; tapaH svaadhyaya samyutaH = in asceticism, in Vedic reading, absorbed; naariiNaam viSayaanam sukhasya cha = in women, of worldly-matters, of pleasure, also; abhij~naH tu = not, aware, of.

"Rishyasringa is a forest-dweller absorbed in asceticism and self-study of Vedic scriptures, and he is not aware of women, or of worldly-matters or of even worldly-pleasures...[1-10-3]

इन्द्रियार्थैः अभिमतैः नरचित्त प्रमाथिभि ।

पुरम् आनाययिष्यामः क्षिप्रम् च अध्यवसीयताम् ॥ १-१०-४

4. nara chitta pramaathibhiH = men's, mind, disquieting; abhimataiH indriya arthaiH = with much desired, sense, pleasing objects; puram aanayishhyaamaH = to city, we wish to bring; kshipram ca adhyavasiyataam = immediately, let be decided.

"With much desired sense-pleasing objects that will be disquieting the minds of men, we wish bring him to the city... Let it be decided quickly... [1-10-4]

Verse Locator

गणिकाः तत्र गच्छन्तु रूपवत्यः स्वलंकृताः ।

प्रलोभ्य विविध उपायैः आनेष्यन्ति इह सत्कृताः ॥ १-१०-५

5. ruupavatyaH sva alankR^itaaH = beautiful ones, well decorated ones; gaN^ikaaH tatra gacchantu satkR^itaaH = courtesans, there, they go, amply gifted [by you]; pralobhya vividha upaayaiH = tempting, by many, an idea; iha aaneSyanti = bring him, hither.

"Beautiful and well decorated courtesans will go there to bring him hither by tempting with many a feint, and let the courtesans be given ample gifts... [1-10-5]

Verse Locator

श्रुत्वा तथा इति राजा च प्रत्युवाच पुरोहितम् ।

पुरोहितो मन्त्रिणः च तथा चक्रुः च ते तथा ॥ १-१०-६

6. shrutvaa tathaa iti = hearing, let it be, so; raajaa ca pratiuvaacha purohitam = king, also, replied, to priest; purohitaH = priests; te mantriNaH cha = those, ministers, also; tadaa chakruH tathaa = then, carried out, then

"Hearing that the King replied the priest, "Let it be so..." and then the priests and ministers have carried out the plan that way... [1-10-6]

Verse Locator

वारमुख्याः तु तत् श्रुत्वा वनम् प्रविविशुः महत् ।

आश्रमस्य अविदूरे अस्मिन् यत्नम् कुर्वन्ति दर्शने ॥ १-१०-७

ऋषेः पुत्रस्य धीरस्य नित्यम् आश्रम वासिनः ।

7, 8a. tat shrutvaa vaara mukhyaH tu = courtesans, best of them, that, hearing; mahat vanam pravivishuH = forests, entered, great [forest]; aashramasya asmin aviduure = of hermitage, not, very, far away; darshane = to catch a glance [to show themselves to sage]; dhiirsya = of that highly intelligent sage; nityam aashrama vaasinaH = always hermitage, dwelling in; R^isheH putrsya = Sage', son; yatnam kurvanti = trials, they made.

"On hearing that order of the king those best courtesans have entered that great forest, and they camped not very far from that hermitage, making all the trials for showing themselves off to a glance of that sage. [1-10-7]

Any dictionary would give the meaning of courtesan as 'whore' or as 'court mistress'. But in Indian context, the courtesan is not to be taken in such a lowly way as just a prostitute or a whore. They belong to a caste/class of artists. Juxtaposed to the Four-Caste system there was a deva dasi Temple Dancers system, which is the artist's class. On their receiving enough education and skills in the performing arts and as per their capabilities, they will be nominated as Court Dancers or Temple Dancers and the like. Ancients recognized sixty-four arts chatuSaSTi kalaa, which include right from music, dance, and drama, sculpture, painting etc., up to the art of thievery. Kings in their political or sovereign pursuits variedly used these Deva Daasis, the courtesans.

पितुः स नित्य संतुष्टो न अतिचक्राम च आश्रमात् ॥ १-१०-८

न तेन जन्म प्रभृति दृष्ट पूर्वम् तपस्विना ।

स्त्री वा पुमान् वा यच्च अन्यत् सत्त्वम् नगर राष्ट्रजम् ॥ १-१०-९

8b, 9. nitya santushhTaH = always, satisfied; saH = he Rishyasringa; pituH aashramaat = his father's, hermitage; na ati chakraama = not, out of way, stirred out; tapasvinaa = by hermit; tena janma prabR^iti = by him, birth, onwards; strii va pumaan = female, or, male; nagara raaSTrajam = of city, or of countryside; yat anyat = that which, any other; sattvam = being; na dR^ishhTa puurvam = not, earlier, seen.

"Always satisfied is sage Rishyasringa to be in hermitage, thus he never stirred out of that hermitage, and thus he has not seen any female, or a male, or even any others objects of pleasure, either of city or of countryside from the time of birth onwards... [1-10-8b, 9]

Rishyasringa is thus not aware of gender differentiation or exposed to any other object of pleasure, and thus his father conditioned him to achieve some supreme ritual ideal.

Verse Locator

ततः कदाचित् तम् देशम् आजगाम यदृच्छया ।

विभाण्डक सुतः तत्र ताः च अपश्यत् वरांगनाः ॥ १-१०-१०

10. tataH kadaachit = then, at one time; vibhaaNDaka sutaH = Vibhandaka's son Rishyasringa; yard^icChaya tam deshama ajagama = casually, at that, place, came; tatra taaH vara anganaaH apasyat = there, them, comely, females, has seen.

"Then at one time Rishyasringa casually arrived at that place, and hasseen those comely females. [1-10-10]

Verse Locator

ताः चित्र वेषाः प्रमदा गायंत्यो मधुर स्वरम् ।

ऋषि पुत्रम् उपागंय सर्वा वचनम् अब्रुवन् ॥ १-१०-११

11. chitra veSaaH taaH pramadaa = they, amazingly, attired, lustful women; madhura svaram gaayantyaH = with melodious, tone, singing; sarvaa R^iSi putram upaagama = all of them, at Sage's son, nearing; vachanam abraviit = words, spoke.

"They the lustful women are amazingly attired and singing melodious tunes, all of them neared the sage's son and spoke these words... [1-10-11]

Verse Locator

कः त्वम् किम् वर्तसे ब्रह्मन् ज्ञातुम् इच्छामहे वयम् ।

एकः त्वम् विजने दूरे वने चरसि शंस नः ॥ १-१०-१२

12. brahman = oh Brahman; tvam kaH = who, you are; ekaH vi jane duure vane = lonely, devoid, of people [desolate,] in deep, forests; [kim] charasi = why you move; kim vartase = why, you conduct yourself; vayam j~natum icChaamahe = we, to know, interested,; shamsa naH = you move, tell, us.

"Who you are? Why you move lonely in these deep and desolate forests, why you conduct yourself like this? Oh! Brahman, we are interested to know... please tell us..." [1-10-12]

Verse Locator

अदृष्ट रूपाः ताः तेन कांय रूपा वने स्त्रियः ।

हार्दात् तस्य मतिः जाता अख्यातुम् पितरम् स्वकम् ॥ १-१०-१३

13. kaamyā rūpaaH taaH striyaH = most desirable, in form, those, women are; tena vane = by him, in forest; a dR^isSTa rūpaH = un, seen, are such forms; hardaat = [thereby a sort of friendship is peeping out,] friendlily; svakam pitaram vyakhyatum = about his, father, to detail, tasya matir jaata = his, mind, born [he is inclined to.]

"Those women are in most desirable form and hitherto he has not seen such forms in that forest, hence a kind of friendship spouted, with which he is inclined to detail about his father... [1-10-13]

Verse Locator

पिता विभाण्डको अस्माकम् तस्य अहम् सुत औरसः ।

ऋष्यशृङ्ग इति ख्यातम् नाम कर्म च मे भुवि ॥ १-१०-१४

14. Vibhandaka - asmaakam pitaa = our, father; aham tasya aurasah suta = I am, his, true descent, son; me = mine; Rishyasringa - iti = thus; naama = name; karma = [used here to indicate his birth time even of horn on head;] bhuvi khyaatam = by significance, on earth, renowned.

"My father is Sage Vibhandaka and I am his true descent son. I am known as Rishyasringa, by my name and by an event on my birth, and thus renowned on earth..."

The birth-event associated with his name is that he is born with a horn on the crown of his head. Thus he is named as Rishyasringa, i.e., R^iSi= the Sage; sR^i~Nga= horn; a Sage with a horn, and this here he recalls his birth time event.

Verse Locator

इह आश्रम पदोऽस्माकम् समीपे शुभ दर्शनाः ।

करिष्ये वोऽत्र पूजाम् वै सर्वेषाम् विधि पूर्वकम् ॥ १-१०-१५

15. shubha darshanaa = oh august ones, in appearance; asmaakam aashramapadaH iha samiipe = our, hermitage, is here only; atra vaH sarveSaam = there, to you, all; vidhi puuravakam puujaam kariSye = according to scriptures worship, I wish to perform.

"Our hermitage is here only, oh, august ones, I wish to perform scripturally worship to you all verily there..." thus said the sage to the courtesans. [1-10-15]

Verse Locator

ऋषि पुत्र वचः श्रुत्वा सर्वासाम् मतिरास वै ।

तत् आश्रम पदम् द्रष्टुम् जग्मुः सर्वाः ततो अंगनः ॥ १-१०-१६

16. R^ishi putra vachaH shutvaa = Sage's son's words, on hearing; sarvaasaam = to all of them [courtesans]; tat aashrama padam draSTum = that, hermitage's threshold, to see; matiH aasa vai = inclination, having got, verily; tataH sarvaaH anganaH jagmuH = thereby, all, women went.

"On hearing the words of sage's son, all those courtesans are verily inclined to see the threshold of that hermitage, then all the women went to hermitage. [1-10-16]

Verse Locator

गतानाम् तु ततः पूजाम् ऋषि पुत्रः चकार ह ।

इदम् अर्घ्यम् इदम् पाद्यम् इदम् मूलम् फलम् च नः ॥ १-१०-१७

17. tataH R^ishi putraH = then, sage's, son; gataanaam tu = then, on going there; puujaam chakaara ha = worship, sage's son, has performed, verily; idam naH arghyam = here is, our, hand-wash; idam naH paadyam = here is, our, foot-wash; idam naH muulam = this is, our, tuber fruits; phalam cha naH = juicy fruits, also, of ours.

"On going there, then the Sage's son performed worship saying "Here is our hand-wash, here is our feet-wash, here are our tuber fruits, here are the juicy fruits of ours... " [1-10-17]

This portrays the exclusion of the sage's son from the rest of the world by his father. He worshipped the courtesans, as he would worship some super-natural deities by saying the above words, which will usually be used in ritual worship of Hindu deities. He being a fruitarian has offered the courtesans the tuber fruits like sweet potatoes etc., which are ridiculous to urbanites, that too to the pleasure-taking courtesans.

Verse Locator

प्रतिगृह्य तु ताम् पूजाम् सर्वा एव समुत्सुकाः ।
ऋषेर् भीताः च शीघ्रम् तु गमनाय मतिम् दधुः ॥ १-१०-१८

18. taaH sarvaaH sam utsukaaH taam puujaam pratigR^ihya = they, all, enthusiastically, that, worship, having received; R^ishheH bhiitaH ca = by Sage, [Vibhandaka,] dread, also; shiighram gamanaaya eva matim dadhuH = quickly, to make away, that way, in mind, made-up.

"All of them have received that kind of worship much enthusiastically, but dread at the arrival of the sage Vibhandaka, they quickly made-up their mind to make away from there. [1-10-18]

Verse Locator

अस्माकम् अपि मुख्यानि फलानि इमानि हे द्विज ।
गृहाण विप्र भद्रम् ते भक्षयस्व च मा अचिरम् ॥ १-१०-१९

19. dvija = oh, Brahman; asmaakam mukhyaani imaani phalaani api = ours, important, fruits, these are, indeed; gR^ihaaNa = take them; vipra = oh, holy One; bhadram te = safe be you; bhakshayasva = eat them; chiram = long after; maa = not.

" 'Take these important fruits of ours, oh, Brahman, you be safe, oh, holy one... eat them before long....' Said courtesans to Rishyasringa.] [1-10-19]

Verse Locator

ततः ताः तम् समालिङ्ग्य सर्वा हर्ष समन्विताः ।
मोदकान् प्रददुः तस्मै भक्ष्याम् च विविधान् शुभान् ॥ १-१०-२०

20. tataH taaH sarvaa tam sam aaliN^gya = then, they, all, him, on embracing; harSa samaanvitaH = with mirthfulness, having; modakaan = sweet-balls [laddu-s]; bhakSyaam cha = other sweetmeats, also; vividhaan shubhaan = in variety, of best ones; pra dadu tasmai = well, presented, to him.

"Then all of the courtesans have embraced him and all of them with a kind of mirthfulness in the offing, presented sweet-balls and other varieties of best sweetmeats to him. [1-10-20]

Verse Locator

तानि च आस्वाद्य तेजस्वी फलानि इति स्म मन्यते ।
अनास्वादित पूर्वाणि वने नित्य निवासिनाम् ॥ १-१०-२१

21. tejasvii vane nitya nivaasinaam = self-luminous one, in forests, always, dwelling [therefore]; an aasvaadita puurvaNi = not tasted, earlier; taani aasvaadya = them [sweets,] relishing; phalaani iti sma manyate = resplendent one, fruits, only, supposed them.

"Having relished the sweets, that resplendent sage supposed them to be fruits only, for he did not taste sweets earlier, as he is always forest-bound. [1-10-21]

Verse Locator

आपृच्छ्य च तदा विप्रम् व्रत चर्याम् निवेद्य च ।
गच्छन्ति स्म अपदेशात् ता भीताः तस्य पितुः स्त्रियः ॥ १-१०-२२

22. tadaa taaH striyaH = then, those, women; vipram aapR^icChya = with Brahman, on asking [for leave]; vrata charyaam nivedya cha = = devotional, duties, on informing; bhiitaH tasya pituH = fearing, his, father; apadeshaat = on pretence of [their daily worships]; gachanti sma = went away, they.

"Taking leave of the Sage Rishyasringa on pretence that they also have to perform devotional duties, they the courtesans departed from there on the pretext of their daily worship, while they actually feared for the arrival of Rishyasringa's father who may hurl curses on his arrival...] [1-10-22]

Verse Locator

गतासु तासु सर्वासु काश्यपस्य आत्मजो द्विजः ।
अस्वस्थ हृदयः च आसीत् दुःखात् च परिवर्तते ॥ १-१०-२३

23. taasu sarvaasu gataasu satiiSu = their, all, going away, while becoming true; kaashyapasya aatmajaH dvijaH = of Sage Kashyapa's, descendent [grandson,] Brahman; anvastha hR^idayaH cha aasiit = disturbed, at heart, also, became; duHkhaat cha parivartate sma = in sadness, even, he behaved, he is.

"After the departure of all them the courtesans, that Brahman Rishyasringa, the grandson of Sage Kaashyapa, is disturbed at heart and even behaved sadly... [1-10-23]

Verse Locator

ततोऽपरे द्युः तम् देशम् आजगाम स वीर्यवान् ।
विभाण्डक सुतः श्रीमान् मनसा विचिन्तयन् मुहुः ॥ १-१०-२४
मनोज्ञा यत्र ता दृष्टा वारमुख्याः स्वलंकृताः ।

24, 25a. tataH = then; viiryavaan = sage with ascetic power; saH apare dyuH = he, on next, day; vibhaaNDaka sutaH = Vibhaandaka's son; shriimaan = prosperous one; manasaa vichintayan muhuH = in mind, recollecting, repetitively manoj~naa = delightful ones [women]; vaaramukhyaaH = courtesans; svalaMkR^itaaH = well decorated ones; yatra taaH dR^ishhTaa = where, they, were seen; tam deshama ajagaama = that, place, arrived at.

"Then on the next day Rishyasringa, son of Vibhandaka and the prosperous sage with ascetic power has arrived at that place where he saw well-decorated and delightful courtesans recollecting in mind repetitively about them alone. [1-10-24, 25a]

Verse Locator

दृष्ट्वा एव च ततो विप्रम् आयान्तम् हृष्ट मानसाः ॥ १-१०-२५
उपसृत्य ततः सर्वाः ताः तम् ऊचुर् इदम् वचः ।
एहि आश्रम पदम् सौम्य अस्माकम् इति च अब्रुवन् ॥ १-१०-२६

25b, 26. tataH vipram dR^istva eva aayaantam = then, that Brahman, on seeing, thus, to have come; hR^ishhTa maanasaa = with happiness, at heart; taaH sarvaH tataH upasR^itya = they, all, then, on surrounding him; tam uuchuH idam vachaH = to him, said, these, words; soumya = oh, gentle one; asmaakam aashrama padam = towards our, hermitage's threshold; ehi = please come; iti cha = thus, also; abruvan = they have said.

" Then on seeing the arrival of that Brahman, the courtesans felt happy at heart, and all of those courtesans on surrounding him said, "oh, gentle one, welcome to the threshold of our hermitage... [1-10-25b, 26]

Verse Locator

चित्राणि अत्र बहूनि स्युः मूलानि च फलानि च ।
तत्र अपि एष विशेषेण विधिः हि भविता ध्रुवम् ॥ १-१०-२७

27. atra chitraaNi bahuuni muulaani ca phalani syuH = there, excellent, tubers, fruits, also, are there; tatra eSa visheSeNa api = there, this way, very distinctive; vidhiH bhuutvaa = manner [hospitality,] will be there; dhruvam hi = definitely, indeed.

"There are excellent tuber fruits and fruits and there will be a very distinctive hospitality... definitely indeed..." So said the courtesans.[1-10-27]

Verse Locator

श्रुत्वा तु वचनम् तासाम् सर्वासाम् हृदयम् गमम् ।
गमनाय मतिम् चक्रे तम् च निन्युः तथा स्त्रियः ॥ १-१०-२८

28. taasaam sarvaasaam = of them, all of their; hR^idaya.ngamam = heart pleasing; vachanam shrutvaa = words, on hearing; gamanaaya matim chakre = to go there, his mind, made up; tadaa striyaH tam ninyuH = then, those women him, took away.

"On hearing the heart-pleasing words of all those courtesans, Rishyasringa made up his mind to go over there, and then those women took him away [to their place in Anga Kingdom.] [1-10-28]

Verse Locator

तत्र च आनीयमाने तु विप्रे तस्मिन् महात्मनि ।
ववर्ष सहसा देवो जगत् प्रह्लादयन् तदा ॥ १-१०-२९

29. mahaatmani tasmin vipre = great-soul, that, Brahman; aaniiyamane tu = while being brought; tadaa devaH jagat prahlaadayan = them god [Rain-god,] world, to gladden; sahasaa tatra vavarSha = quickly, in there in Anga kingdom, showered rain.

"While that great soul ad Brahman Rishyasringa while being brought into Anga Kingdom, then the Rain-god quickly showered rain in Anga kingdom to the delight of the world. [1-10-29]

Verse Locator

वर्षेण एव आगतम् विप्रम् तापसम् स नराधिपः ।
प्रति उद्व्य मुनिम् प्रह्वः शिरसा च महीम् गतः ॥ १-१०-३०
अर्घ्यम् च प्रददौ तस्मै न्यायतः सुसमाहितः ।
वव्रे प्रसादम् विप्रेन्द्रात् मा विप्रम् मन्युः आविशेत् ॥ १-१०-३१

30, 31. naraadhipa = king, [Romapaada]; varSeNa eva = with specialty [of rain showers]; svam vishayam aagatam = into his own, country, arrived; vipram munim = to Brahman, saint; prati udgamyaa = gone towards [welcomingly]; prahva = bowed his head; sirasaa mahiim gataH = ground, touching; su samaahitaH = self-composedly; tasmai = to him; nyaayataH arghyam pradadau = as a rule, water, offered; vipra ndraat = from best sage [Vibhandaka]; prasaadam vavre = boon [indemnity,] sought; vipram manyuH maa aavishet = let that Brahman be possessed by anger.

"The king Romapada personally proceeded towards that Brahman Rishyasring who is now entering Anga kingdom along with rains, made prostration before him, offered water customarily with dedication, and then the king Romapada besought beneficence of the best sage Rishyasringa to save him and his kingdom from the fury of his father Sage Vibhandaka, if sage Vibhandaka were to know about this pursuit of bringing Rishyasringa to Anga country, at a later time ... [1-10-30, 31]

The salutation in prostration on the ground is usually performed before Gods or Deities, in reverence. It is called saaSTaanga praNaamam = sa aSTa anga praNaamam , i.e., saluting with eight body parts touching the ground, indicating his absolute surrender to the worshipped.

Verse Locator

अन्तःपुरम् प्रवेश्य अस्मै कन्याम् दत्त्वा यथाविधि ।
शांताम् शान्तेन मनसा राजा हर्षम् अवाप सः ॥ १-१०-३२

32. saH raajaa = he that king; antaHpuram pravishyaa = palace [or, inside city,] on entering; kanyaam shantaam asmai yathaa vidhi datvaa = bride, Shanta, to him, customarily, on giving; shaantena manasaa harSam avaapa = with peaceful, heart, rejoice, he obtained.

"On entering the palace princess Shanta is given to Rishyasringa in customary marriage, and then that King Romapada obtained rejoice with a peaceful mind. [1-10-32]

Verse Locator

एवम् स न्यवसत् तत्र सर्व कामैः सुपूजितः ।
ऋष्यश्ङ्गो महातेजा शन्ताया सह भार्यया ॥ १-१०-३३

33. evam =this way; saH R^iSyashR~NgaH mahaatejaa = he, Rishyasringa, greatly fulgent sage; shantaayaa saha bhaaryayaa = Shanta, along with, his wife; sarva kaamaiH su puujitaH = with all, desires well worshipped [fulfilled]; tatra nyavasat = there, he lived.

" Thus that great fulgent Rishyasringa lived in Anga kingdom along with his wife Shanta, and with all his desires fulfilled and also well worshipped" [Thus Sumantra said the legend of Rishyasringa to King Dasharatha.] [1-10-33]

Verse Locator

इति वाल्मीकि रामायणे अदि काव्ये बाल काण्डे दशमः सर्गः

Thus, this is the 10th chapter in Bala Kanda of Valmiki Ramayana, the First Epic poem of India.

Book I : Bala Kanda - The Youthful Majesties

Chapter [Sarga] 11

Verse converted to UTF-8 : Sept, 2009

Introduction

On the advice of his minister Sumantra, Dasharatha proceeds to Anga kingdom to fetch Sage Rishyasringa and his wife Shanta to his capital Ayodhya.

Verse Locator

भूय एव हि राजेन्द्र शृणु मे वचनम् हितम् ।
यथा स देवप्रवरः कथयामास बुद्धिमान् ॥ १-११-१

1. raaja indra = oh, king, of kings; saH deva pravara = he, that best one among deities [Sage Sanat Kumara]; yathaa = as to how; kathaayaam = in narration; abraviit = has said; evam = that way; me vachanam = my words; hitam = favourable; bhuya eva hi = again, thus, only; shruNu = listen.

Minister Sumantra continued, "oh, the great king, I will further narrate all that has been said by Sanat Kumara, the best one among all deities, kindly listen to these favourable words." [1-11-1.]

Sage Sanat Kumara belongs to the bygone era of Ikshvaku dynasty. Please refer to the account regarding the era-system of ancient India at endnote.

Verse Locator

इक्ष्वाकूणाम् कुले जातो भविष्यति सुधार्मिकः ।
नाम्ना दशरथो राजा श्रीमान् सत्य प्रतिश्रवः ॥ १-११-२

2. shriimaan = resplendent one; satya prati sravaH = truthful to his vow; naamna = by his name; dasharathaH naama = named Dasaratha; su dhaarmikaH = very virtuous one; ikshwaaknaam = in Ikshwaku; kule jaatH [bhaviSyati] = dynasty, born in; [he will be.]

"A king named Dasharatha will be born into Ikshwaku dynasty who will be very virtuous, resplendent and truthful one to his vow." [Said Sanat Kumara, the Sage.] [1-11-2]

Verse Locator

अङ्ग राजेन सख्यम् च तस्य राज्ञो भविष्यति ।
कन्या च अस्य महाभागा शांता नाम भविष्यति ॥ १-११-३

3. tasya raaj~naH = to that, king [to Dasharatha]; anga raajena = with Anga, king of; sakhyam bhaviSyati = friendship, will happen; asya = his [for king of Anga]; mahaa bhaagaa = fortunate woman; Shanta; naama kanyaa bhaviSyati = named, daughter, will be there.

"King Dasharatha will befriend the king of Anga and the king of Anga will beget a fortunate girl named Shanta. [1-11-3]

Shanta is said to be the daughter of Dasharatha and given to Romapada in adoption, and Rishyasringa marries her alone. This is what Sumantra says to Dasharatha at 1-9-19.

Verse Locator

पुत्रस्तुः अङ्गस्य राज्ञः तु रोमपाद इति श्रुतः ।
तम् स राजा दशरथो गमिष्यति महायशाः ॥ १-११-४

4. saH putraH tu angasya raajnaH tu = son of, Anga, king of; romapaada iti shrutaH = Romapada, thus, heard; mahaa yashaH raajaa dasharathaH = well renowned, king, Dasharatha; tam = to him [to Romapada,]; gamiSyati = will approach.

The son of the king of Anga, the earlier king of Anga kingdom, will be known as Romapada, or also know as Chitraratha, and the highly renowned king Dasharatha approaches Romapada. [1-11-4]

Verse Locator

अनपत्योऽस्मि धर्मात्मन् शांता भर्ता मम क्रतुम् ।
आहरेत त्वया आज्ञप्तः संतानार्थम् कुलस्य च ॥ १-११-५

5. dharmaatman = oh virtuous-soul; anapatyaH asmi = childless, I am; shantaa bhartaa tvaya aaj~nptaH = Shanta's, husband, by you, instructed; mama kulasya santaana artham = for my, dynasty, for progeny, for the sake of; kratum aahareta = Vedic ritual, will preside over.

Then king Dasharatha says to king of Anga "oh, righteous one, I am childless and hence I intend to perform a Vedic ritual. Let the husband of your daughter Shanta, Sage Rishyasringa, preside over that Vedic ritual at you behest, for the sake of progeny in my dynasty. [1-11-5]

Verse Locator

श्रुत्वा राज्ञोऽथ तत् वाक्यम् मनसा स विचिंत्य च ।
प्रदास्यते पुत्रवन्तम् शांता भर्तारम् आत्मवान् ॥ १-११-६

6. aatmavaan = benevolent soul - Romapada; raaj~naH tat vaakyam shrutvaa = king's, [Dasharatha's,] that, word, on hearing; manasaa vichintya = at heart, considered; atha = then; putravantam = one who has son / or, one who endows sons; shaanta bhartaaram = Shanta's, husband; pradaasyate = will give - agrees.

"On hearing those words of king Dasharatha that benevolent soul Romapada, the king of Anga, considers heartily and agrees to send the one who endows progeny by rituals, namely Sage Rishyasringa his son-in-law. [1-11-6]

The words pradaasyate putravantam are read in some translations as 'Rishyasringa who already has a son...' while others read it as 'a sage who endows progeny by putra kameSTi ritual...' But in Maha Bharata father Vibhandaka says to Rishyasringa to comeback after begetting a son, which Rishyasringa did not concede. So taking this some say Rishyasringa has a son. But it is generally accepted that putravantam as aahitaagni, Vedic ritualist of eminence, according to: jaata putraH kR^ishNa kesho agniin adhiita... according to shruti scripture.

Verse Locator

प्रतिगृह्यम् च तम् विप्रम् स राजा विगत ज्वरः ।
आहरिष्यति तम् यज्ञम् प्रहृष्टेन अंतरात्मना ॥ १-११-७

7. saH raajaa = he, that king [Dasharatha]; pratigR^ihyam tam vipram = on receiving, him, Brahman [Rishyasringa]; vigata jwaraH = rid of, fever - uneasiness; pra hR^iSTena antaraatmana = very felicitousness, in depths of heart; tam yaj~nam = that, Vedic ritual; aahariSyati = will accomplish.

"On receiving that Brahman, Sage Rishyasringa, at the behest of his father-in-law, that king Dasharatha gets rid of his febrile condition and will accomplish that Vedic ritual, feeling very felicitous in the depths of his heart. [1-11-7]

Verse Locator

तम् च राजा दशरथो यशस् कामः कृतांलिः ।
ऋष्यशृङ्गम् द्विज श्रेष्ठम् वरयिष्यति धर्मवित् ॥ १-११-८
यज्ञार्थम् प्रसवार्थम् च स्वर्गार्थम् च नरेश्वरः ।
लभते च स तम् कामम् द्विज मुख्यात् विशांपतिः ॥ १-११-९

8,9. raajaa = that king; yashaH kaamaH = glory, desiring one; dharama vit = virtue, knower of; nara iiswara = peoples' lord; dasharathaH = king Dasharatha; kR^ita anjaliH = with adjoined-palms; dwija sreSTam = Brahman, the best - Rishyasringa; yajna artham = for ritual, intending to; prasava artham cha = for progeny, intending, also; svarga artham cha = for heavenly abodes, also; vara ishyati = to request, he is inclined; saH vishaam patiH = he that, to [all the] quarters of earth, king of - king [Dasharatha]; dvija mukhyaat = by Brahman, eminent; labhate tam kaamam cha = accomplishes, those, desires, also.

"That king, the desirer of glory, the knower of virtue and the lord of people, namely Dasharatha will be requesting that best Brahman Rishyasringa with his palms adjoined in supplication for the conduct of ritual, for progeny and even for his heavenly abodes, and that king of all the quarters of earth will accomplish those desires from that eminent Brahman Rishyasringa. [1-11-8,9]

Heavenly abodes are dependent on begetting sons: aputrasya gati naasti svargo naivaca naivaca There is no way out [in other worlds] for those without sons... shruti scripture. Hence the request of Dasharatha is that way.

Verse Locator

पुत्राः च अस्य भविष्यन्ति चत्वारो अमित विक्रमाः ।
वंश प्रतिष्ठानकराः सर्व ब्रूतेषु विश्रुताः ॥ १-११-१०

10. putraaH cha asya bhaviSyanti = sons, also, to him [Dasharatha,] will be; chatvaaraH amita vikramaaH = four [in all,] abounding, in valour; vamsha pratishtaana karaaH = dynasty's, reputation, enriching ones; sarva bhuuteSu vishrutaaH = among, all beings, renowned ones.

"There will be four sons to king Dasharatha that abound with valour, enrich dynasty's reputation and they will be renowned among all beings." Thus said Sage Sanat Kumara to other sages. [1-11-10]

'Sons and Paradise are intimately connected in Indian belief. A man desires above every thing to have a son to perpetuate his race, and to assist with sacrifices and funeral rites to make him worthy to obtain a lofty seat in heaven or to preserve that which he has already obtained.' Gorresio via Ralph T. H. Griffith [1870-1874].

Verse Locator

एवम् स देव प्रवरः पूर्वम् कथितवान् कथाम् ।
सनत्कुमारो भगवान् पुरा देवयुगे प्रभुः ॥ १-११-११

11. deva pravaraH = god, the best; bhagavaan = one who is effectual; prabhuH = the godly one; saH sanatkumaaraH = he, that Sage Sanatkumaara; puraa deva yuge kathaam kathitavaan = earlier, in previous, Divine Era, [krita yuga,] narration, he narrated.

"This way he that ancient and godly Sage Sanatkumaara, who is also Brahma's brain-child like Narada, said this legend in earlier Divine Era, called krita yuga..." thus Sumantra continued his narration to Dasharatha. [1-11-11]

स त्वम् पुरुष शार्दूल समानय सुसत्कृतम् ।
स्वयम् एव महाराज गत्वा स बल वाहनः ॥ १-११-१२

12. puruSa sharduula = manly, tiger; mahaaraaja = oh, great king; saH tvam = such as, you are; saha bala vaahanaH svayam eva gatvaa = with, staff, transport in person, only, on proceeding; samaanaya su satkR^itam = he be brought, well adored.

" Oh, great king the manly-tiger, he that Sage Rishyasringa be led here on your proceeding in person with staff and transport and on adoring him well personally." Thus Sumantra concluded his narration. [1-11-12]

सुमंत्रस्य वचः श्रुत्वा हृष्टो दशरथोऽभवत् ।
अनुमान्य वसिष्ठम् च सूतवाक्यम् निशांय च ॥ १-११-१३
स अन्तःपुरः सह अमात्यः प्रययौ यत्र स द्विजः ।

13, 14a. sumantrasya vachaH shrutvaa = Sumantra's, words [of advise,] on hearing; dasharathaH hR^iSTaH abhavat = Dasharatha, gladsome, be became; suutavaakyam = charioteer's words; vasiSTham = to Vashishta; nishaamya ca = on getting those words listened b Vashishta from Sumantra - on reporting, also; anumaanya ca = making [Vashishta] agreeable [to the words of Sumantra,] even; sa antaH puraH = with inmates of palace chambers; saha amaatyah = with, ministers; prayayau yatra sa dvijaH = travelled to, where, that, Brahman is there.

On hearing the word of advise from charioteer, Dasharatha became gladsome and made Sumantra to reiterate to that sage also, for his approval, then Dasharatha travelled to the place where that Brahman Rishyasringa is, along with the inmates of palace-chambers and ministers too. [1-11-13, 14a]

While the chief priest Vashishta is officiator of all rituals no king can invite another priest to perform something without the consent of the officiating priest. Hence the consent of Vasishta is obtained, after asking Sumantra to reiterate what all was said, to sage Vashishta also. anena praaciina R^itvik abhyhanuj~nanena na eva anya aaneyah -- dharmaakuutam

वनानि सरितः च एव व्यतिक्रम्य शनैः शनैः ॥ १-११-१४
अभिचक्राम तम् देशम् यत्र वै मुनिपुंगवः ।

14b, 15a. shanaiH shanaiH = slowly, slowly; vanaani saritaH cha eva = forests, rivers, also, thus; vyatikramya = crossing over; yatra sa dvijaH = where, that, Brahman is; tam deshah = in that, kingdom; abhicakraama = entered.

On crossing over the rivers and forests slowly and steadily Dasharatha entered that kingdom where that eminent Brahman is there. [1-11-14b, 15a]

आसाद्य तम् द्विज श्रेष्ठम् रोमपाद समीपगम् ॥ १-११-१५
ऋषिपुत्रम् ददर्श अथो दीप्यमानम् इव अनलम् ।

15b, 16a. athaH = then; romapada samiipagam = with Romapada, one who is nearby; diipyamaanam iva analam = resplendent, like, ritual fire; dvija shreSTham = Brahman, the best; tam aasaadya = drew nigh of; dadarsha = he saw.

Then Dasharatha saw that best Brahman who he is nearby king Romapada, and who is resplendent like ritual fire. [1-11-15b, 16a]

Verse Locator

ततो राजा यथा योग्यम् पूजाम् चक्रे विशेषतः ॥ १-११-१६
सखित्वात् तस्य वै राज्ञः प्रहृष्टेन अंतरात्मना ।

16b, 17a. tataH raajaa = then, the king [here Romapada]; pra hR^isTena = very, gladdened; antaraatmanaa = with inner self; yathaa yoj~nam = as befitting; sakhitwaat = in view of friendship; visheshataH = in an excelling manner; tasya raaj~naH vai = to that, king [Dasharatha,] indeed; puujaam cakre = respects, he paid.

Then king Romapada gladdened at heart of hearts paid excellent respects to king Dasharatha procedurally and in view of their friendship. [1-11-16b, 17a]

Verse Locator

रोमपादेन च आख्यातम् ऋषिपुत्राय धीमते ॥ १-११-१७
सख्यम् संबन्धकम् चैव तदा तम् प्रत्यपूजयत् ।

17b, 18a. romapaadena = by Romapada; sakhyam saMbandhakam caiva = friendship, relation, also thus; dhiimate R^iSiputraaya aakhyaatam = to the wise one, sage's son Rishyasringa, is informed; tadaa tam prati apuujayat = then, him, [Rishyasringa] in return, adored [Dasharatha.]

Then Romapada informed the wise sage Rishyasringa about the friendship and relation with Dasharatha, and then that sage worshipped king Dasharatha in his return. [1-11-17b, 19a]

Verse Locator

एवम् सुसत्कृतः तेन सहोषित्वा नरर्षभः ॥ १-११-१८
सप्ताष्ट दिवसान् राजा राजानम् इदम् अब्रवीत् ।

18b, 19a. evam = that way; su satkritaH = well received; nararSabhaH raajaa = man, the sacred bull, king - Dasharatha; tena saha = with him; sapta = seven; aSTa = eight; divasaan = days; ushitwaa = having spent time; raajaanam = to king Romapada; idam = this; abravet = spoken.

Thus well received by king Romapada, king Dasharatha spent seven to eight days with him, and then spoke this to king Romapada. [1-11-18b, 19a]

Verse Locator

शांता तव सुता राजन् सह भर्त्रा विशाम् पते ॥ १-११-१९
मदीयम् नगरम् यातु कार्यम् हि महदुद्यतम् ।

19b, 20a. vishaam pate = subjects, lord of; tava sutaa = your, daughter; shaantaa = Princess Shanta; saha bhartraa = along with, her husband; madiiya nagaram yaatu = my, city, she may go over; raajan = oh, king; mahat kaaryam udyatam hi = a great, deed - the ritual, is contemplated by me, indeed.

"Oh, lord of subjects, your daughter Princess Shanta may go over my city Ayodhya along with her husband Rishyasringa, as oh, king, I am contemplating to perform a great Vedic ritual, indeed." So said Dasharatha to Romapada. [1-11-19b, 20a]

Verse Locator

तथा इति राजा संश्रुत्य गमनम् तस्य धीमतः ॥ १-११-२०

उवाच वचनम् विप्रम् गच्छ त्वम् सह भार्यया ।

20b, 21a. raajaa = the king; tathaa iti = so it be; tdhiimataH tasya gamanam = of that intellectual one, his - Rishyasringa's travel; samshrutya = agreeing; twam bhaaryaya saha gacCha = = you, your wife, along with, shall proceed; [iti = thus]; vipram = to the Brahman; vachanam = the words; uvaacha = addressed.

"So it shall be" said king Romapada agreeing to their travel with king Dasharatha, and addressed these words to that Brahman sage and his son-in-law, Sage Rishyasringa "You may proceed along with your wife." [1-11-20b, 21a]

Here Ralph T. H. Griffith's translation [1870-1874] has that Shanta is the daughter of Dasharatha: 'This king,' he said, 'from days of old / A well beloved friend I hold. / To me this pearl of dames he gave / From childless woe mine age to save, / The daughter whom he loved so much, / Moved by compassion's gentle touch. / In him thy S'anta's father see: / As I am even so is he...

Verse Locator

ऋषिपुत्रः प्रतिश्रुत्य तथा इति आहः नृपम् तदा ॥ १-११-२१

स नृपेण अभ्यनुज्ञातः प्रययौ सह भार्यया ।

21b, 22a. tadaa = then; R^ishi putraH = Sage's son - Rishyasringa; prati shrutya = in turn, replied - agreeing; tathaa iti aahaH = 'like, that only', said; nR^ipam = to the king; saH = he; nR^ipena = by the king; abhaynujnaata = permitted; saha bhaaryayaa = along with his wife; prayayau = set-forth.

Then Rishyasringa agreed and replied to the king Romapada "So it will be done" and then having been permitted by the king he set forth along with his wife. [1-11-21b, 22a]

Verse Locator

ताव अन्योन्य अंजलिम् कृत्वा स्नेहात् संश्लिष्य च उरसा ॥ १-११-२२

ननंदतुः दशरथो रोमपादः च वीर्यवान् ।

22b, 23a. tau viiryavaan = those two - Dasharatha and Romapada, valiant kings; anyonya anjalim = to each other, thanksgiving with palm-fold; kritwaa = having performed; snehaat = by friendship; urasaa = with their bosoms; samshlishya cha = embraced, also; nanadatu = gladdened.

Those valiant kings greeted each other with thanksgiving palm-fold, and in friendship they embraced each other and gladdened. [1-11-22b, 23a]

Verse Locator

ततः सुहृदम् आपृच्छ्य प्रस्थितो रघुनन्दनः ॥ १-११-२३

पौरेषु प्रेषयामास दूतान् वै शीघ्र गामिनः ।

23b, 24a. tataH = then; raghu nandanaH = Ragu's, descendent - Dasharatha; suhR^idam = good-hearted one, the friend; aapricChya = having asked - bid farewell; prasthitaH = set-forth; shiighra gaaminaH duutaan = quick, stepped ones, messengers; paurebhyaH = to citizens [of Ayodhya]; preSayaamaasa = started to send.

Then king Dasharatha who set forth to Ayodhya bade farewell to his friend king Romapada, and he firstly sent quick-footed messengers to Ayodhya to inform his citizens about his arrival along with Sage Rishyasringa. [1-11-23b, 24a]

Verse Locator

क्रियताम् नगरम् सर्वम् क्षिप्रम् एव स्वलंकृतम् ॥ १-११-२४

धूपितम् सिक्त सम्मृष्टम् पताकाभिः अलंकृतम् ।

24b, 25a. sarvam nagaram = entire, city Ayodhya; kshipram eva = very quickly, thus; swa alankR^itam = well decorated; dhuupitam = well incensed; sikta sammR^iSTam = [streets be] water sprinkled well, and then swept; pataakaabhiH = with flags of welcome; alankR^itam = be decorated, hoisted; kriyataam = shall be done.

"Let the entire city of Ayodhya be well decorated very quickly, let her streets be sprinkled with water and then swept, let the flags of welcome be hoisted.." Thus, king Dasharatha ordered messengers that are sent beforehand. [1-11-24b, 25a]

Verse Locator

ततः प्रहृष्टाः पौराः ते श्रुत्वा राजानम् आगतम् ॥ १-११-२५

तथा चक्रुः च तत् सर्वम् राज्ञा यत् प्रेषितम् तदा ।

25b, 26a. tataH = then; raajaanam aagatam = kings, arrival; shrutwaa = on hearing; te pouraaH = those, citizens; pra hR^istaaH = felt very, happy; raajnaa = by the king; yat yathaa preSitam = which, in which way, ordered; tat sarvam = that, all; tathaa = that way; pra chakru = readily, performed.

Then on hearing the arrival of their king all the citizens felt very happy and readily performed all those works exactly as ordered by their king. [1-11-25b, 26a]

Verse Locator

ततः स्वलंकृतम् राजा नगरम् प्रविवेश ह ॥ १-११-२६

शङ्ख दुन्दुभि निहार्दैः पुरस्कृत्वा द्विजर्षभम् ।

26b, 27a. tataH = then; raajaa = king Dasharatha; dwijaH R^iSabham = Brahman, the Sacred Bull - Rishyasringa; puraskritya = keeping before him; swa lankR^itam naragam = well-decorated, city; shankha = conch-shells; dundubhi = drumbeats; nirghoshaiH = full sounding; pravivesha ha = entered, verily.

Then king Dasharatha keeping Rishyasringa before him entered the well-decorated city Ayodhya amidst the full sounding of conch shells and drumbeats. [1-11-26b, 27a]

Verse Locator

ततः प्रमुदिताः सर्वे दृष्ट्वा तम् नागरा द्विजम् ॥ १-११-२७

प्रवेश्यमानम् सत्कृत्य नरेन्द्रेण इन्द्र कर्मणा ।

यथा दिवि सुरेन्द्रेण सहस्राक्षेण काश्यपम् ॥ १-११-२८

27b, 28. tataH sarve naagaraaH = then, all, citizens; indra karmaNaa = one who has exploits like that of Indra; nara indreNa = by people's, lord Dasharatha; satkritya praveshyamaanam = well honoured, and being entered; yathaa = as with; kaashyapam = sage Kashyapa's son, namely Vamana, the dwarf boy incarnation of Vishnu; sahasra aksheNa surendreNa = by thousand eyed, lord of gods, namely Indra; divi = in heaven [while entered]; tam dvijam = him, at that Brahman; dR^iSTvaa pramuditaaH = on seeing, highly gladdened.

Then all the citizens are very happy on seeing that Brahman, Sage Rishyasringa, who is well honoured and being entered into the city by their king Dasharatha, as has been done once by Indra when he entered sage Kashyapa's son Vamana, the dwarfish boy and the incarnation of Vishnu, into heavens, and thus those citizens felt that their human lord Dasharatha vies with divine lord Indra. [1-11-27b, 28]

The simile of Indra to king Dasharatha is in two ways. Dasharatha ruled kingdom like Indra who rules Heavens. The word Indra karmaNa also refers to the deeds of Dasharatha, in helping the gods' forces combating the demonic forces. Thus the deeds performed by Dasharatha are like those of Indra's. Here Dasharatha is bringing Sage Rishyasringa to Ayodhya. Earlier Indra led Vamana, the dwarf-boy to heavens. Vamana is the incarnation of Vishnu in early ages and after Vamana suppressed Bali, the Emperor to netherworlds, Indra took Vamana to heavens. Thus Dasharatha is like Indra on earth, both by his virtue and deed. Incidentally, Vamana i.e., Vishnu, is the son-incarnate to Sage Kaashyapa, while sage Rishyasringa is the grandson of the same Kaashyapa. Thus Sage Kaashyapa is instrumental to these two incarnations. Through the divine grace of Sage Rishyasringa, the same Vishnu is going to take birth as Rama, while Sage Kashyapa is a grandparent of Rama in this era, and while he alone was Vishnu's father when Vishnu incarnated as Dwarf boy Vamana.

Verse Locator

अन्तःपुरम् प्रवेश्य एनम् पूजाम् कृत्वा च शास्त्रतः ।
कृतकृत्यम् तदा आत्मानम् मेने तस्य उपवाहनात् ॥ १-११-२९

29. enam = him; antaHpuram = palace-chambers; praveshya = having entered; shaastrataH = as per scriptures; puujaam cha = worshipped, too; tadaa = then; tasya = his [for Rishyasringa]; upavaahannat = by bringing here; aatmaanam = for himself; kR^itakrityam = one with his desire fulfilled; mene = beleived.

Dasharatha entered the sage into the palace chambers and worshipped him there as ordained in the scriptures, and in bringing the Sage here into his country, king Dasharatha believed that his desired is fulfilled. [1-11-28]

Verse Locator

अन्तःपुराणि सर्वाणि शांताम् दृष्ट्वा तथा आगताम् ।
सह भर्त्रा विशालाक्षीम् प्रीत्या आनन्दम् उपागमन् ॥ १-११-३०

30. antaHpura striyaH sarvaaH = palace, ladies, all of them; tathaa = thus; bhartraa saha aagataam = her husband, along with, one who arrived; vishaala akshiim = broad-eyed lady; shaantaam = at Shanta; dristwaa = on seeing; priityaa = with affection; aanandam = happiness; upaagaman = they derived.

On seeing her, the broad-eyed Shanta, who came there along with her husband all the ladies of palace derived happiness for the homecoming of their own daughter, as it were. [1-11-29]

Verse Locator

पूज्यमाना तु ताभिः सा राज्ञा च एव विशेषतः ।
उवास तत्र सुखिता कञ्चित् कालम् सह द्विजा ॥ १-११-३१

31. saa = she, Shanta; taabhiH = by them; [by far] visheshataH = in an exceptional manner; raajnaa cha eva = by king, also, thus; puujayamaanaa = while being admired; sukhitaa = comfortably; R^itwijaa saha = that, Vedic scholar - her husband, along with; kamchit kaalam = for some time; tatra = there; uvaasa = resided.

Shanta thus being admired by all of them, and in an exceptional manner by Dasharatha, comfortably resided there along with her husband, the Vedic scholar Rishyasringa. [1-11-30]

The Riwik is not just a reciter of Veda-s but more a director or conductor of whole orchestration of the Vedic ritual, which involves lots of rules, in reciting hymns, in performing deeds and all in their exactness. The whole lots of works that need be performed have the order of precedence like prime, auxiliary or adjunctive in their ordinance. A Ritwik is the elated scholar who keeps track of these activities while other scholars recite hymns as directed by these Ritwik-s. Hence, Ritwik-hood is the highest.

The Four Era system, chaturyuga has the following components: satya yuga or krita yuga 17, 28, 000 years of duration. This is the era of Rama's ancestors of Ikshvaku dynasty, or the Solar dynasty. treta yuga 12, 96, 000 years.[The era is of Rama's near ancestors, again of Solar dynasty 3. dwapara yuga 8, 64, 000 years. This is the period of Epic Maha Bharata with an admixture of Solar and Lunar dynasties ruling. kali yuga 4, 32, 000 years. The present period obtaining from the ruination of Maha Bharata civilisation.

One cycle of the above four eras is called one mahaa yuga and seventy-one [71] of such of the Fourfold Eras mahaa yugaa-s will become one manvantara, Manu-Epoch, the time scale attributed to one Manu, the Supreme Ruler of Mankind. There are total fourteen such Manu-epochs and six of them over in the present manvantara , the time-scale.

The completed Manu cycles are 1.] svayambhu manu , 2.] svaarochiSa manu , 3.] auuttami manu , 4.] taamasa manu , 5.] raivata manu , 6.] chaaksha manu . Presently we are in the Seventh cycle called vaivasvata mnavantara , and there are seven more manvantara -s to come, starting with 8.] surya saavarni Manu, 9.] dharma saavani, 10.] daksha savarni, 11.] rudra saavarni, 12.] brahma saavrani, 13.] rouchya manu , 14.] bhoutya manu.

Such fourteen Manu time cycles will be said to be a Day of Brahma, the Absolute. Ramayana is said to have happened in kR^ita yuga, the second Manu time cycle. The earlier one is satya yuga , in which the ancestors of Rama, descendants of Raghu dynasty, like Saagara, Harishchandra et al, were the rulers, which is called Ikshvaku dynasty.

इति वाल्मीकि रामायणे आदि काव्ये बाल काण्डे एकादशः सर्गः

Thus, this is the 11th chapter in Bala Kanda of Valmiki Ramayana, the First Epic poem of India.

Book I : Bala Kanda - The Youthful Majesties
Verses converted to UTF_8 Sept, 09

Chapter [Sarga] 12

Introduction

King Dasharatha requests the Sages to conduct the Vedic ritual for which the sages indent paraphernalia, which the ministers are ordered to supply forthwith. This chapter is almost a replication of chapter 8, excepting the inclusion of references to Sage Rishyasringa who by now is available in Ayodhya.

Verse Locator

ततः काले बहु तिथे कस्मिन् चित् सुमनोहरे ।
वसन्ते समनुप्राप्ते राज्ञो यष्टुम् मनोऽभवत् ॥१-१२-१

1. tataH = later; bahu tithe kale = after lapse of some time; kasmin chit vasante = on one, spring season; samanupraapte = on the arrival of that spring; raaj~naH = to the king; yaSTum = to perform ritual; manaH = mind; abhavat = happened, [desired].

After a lapse some time when spring season has come the king Dasharatha desired to perform the Vedic ritual. [1-12-1]

Please refer to endnote for Indian seasons and months for vasanta / spring season.

Verse Locator

ततः प्रणयं शिरसा तम् विप्रम् देव वर्णिनम् ।
यज्ञाय वरयामास संतान अर्थम् कुलस्य च ॥ १-१२-२
तथ इति च स राजानम् उवाच वसुध अधिपम् ।

2. tataH = then; deva varNinam = like deity, in glow; tam vipram = at that Brahmana - Rishyasringa; shirasaa = [by suppliantly bowing his] head; prasaadya = having convinced; kulasya santaana artham = for dynasty's, unending [progeny,] to beget; yaj~naaya = to conduct ritual; varayaamaasa = [the king] beseeched.

Then bowing his head before that Brahmana sage Rishyasringa whose is glow is like that of a deity, King Dasharatha verily beseeched that sage to conduct Vedic ritual on his behalf as he wished to beget progeny to maintaining his family line. [1-12-2]

Verse Locator

संभाराः संभ्रियन्ताम् ते तुरगश्च विमुच्यताम् ॥ १-१२-३
सरव्याः च उत्तरे तीरे यज्ञ भूमिः विधीयताम् ।

3. su satkritaaH = well honoured; saH = he, the Sage Rishyasringa; tatha iti cha = 'thus only'; raajaanam = to the king; uvaacha = said; sambhaaraaH = paraphernalia; sambhriyantaam = be garnered; vimuchyataam = be released; te turagaH cha = your, ritual horse, also.

Sage Rishyasringa who by now is well-honoured by the king said to the king, "So it shall be, let the paraphernalia for ritual be garnered and let your ritual horse be released as a prerogative." [1-12-3]

Verse Locator

ततो अब्रवीत् नृपः वाक्यम् ब्राह्मणान् वेद पारगान् ॥ १-१२-४

सुमंत्र आवाहय क्षिप्रम् ऋत्विजो ब्रह्म वादिनः ।

सुयज्ञम् वामदेवम् च जाबालिम् अथ काश्यपम् ॥ १-१२-५

पुरोहितम् वसिष्ठम् च ये च अन्ये द्विज सत्तमाः ।

4, 5. tataH = then; raaja = the king; mantri sattamam = to minister, the best; sumantram = to Sumantra; vaakyam = these words; abraviit = said; kshipram = swiftly; brahma vaadinaH = Vedic scholars; ritwijaH = Vedic ritual-conductors; suyaj~nam = Sage Suyajna; vaamadevam = Sage Vaamadeva; jaabaalim = Sage Jaabali; atha = and; kaashyapam = Sage Kaashyapa; purohitam = the priest; vashiSTham cha = Sage Vashishta, too; cha = further; ye cha = and those; anye = other; dwija sattamaaH = Brahmana, the scholars; aavaahaya = invite.

Then King Dasharatha said to his best minister Sumantra, "Let the Vedic scholars and ritual conductors like Sages Suyajna, Vaamadeva, Jaabaali, and Kaashyapa, along with the family priest Vashishta, as well as other Vedic Brahmins that are there, they all be invited swiftly..." [1-12-4, 5]

Verse Locator

ततः सुमंत्रः त्वरितम् गत्वा त्वरित विक्रमः ॥ १-१२-६

समानयत् स तान् सर्वान् समस्तान् वेद पारगान् ।

तान् पूजयित्वा धर्मात्मा राजा दशरथः तदा ॥ १-१२-७

धर्म अर्थ सहितम् युक्तम् श्लक्षणम् वचनम् अब्रवीत् ।

6, 7. tataH = then; sumantraH = Sumantra; tvaritam = quickly; gatvaa = went; tvaritaH vikramaH = a quickest person he is; taan samastaan veda paaragaan = them, all of the, Vedic scholars; sam aanayay = fetched; taan = them; puujayitvaa = having worshiped; dharmaatmaa raajaa dasharathaH = that virtuous king, Dasharatha; tada = then; dharma artha sahitam = virtue, meaning, containing; shlakshnam = soft, impressible; vachanam = sentence; abraviit = said.

Then Sumantra being a quickest person went quickly and fetched all those Vedic scholars and clerj~nmen. Then the virtuous king Dasharatha having offered due worships to all the sages and saints brought in by Sumantra, uttered these words which are with virtue and meaning, in an impressible manner. [1-12-6, 7]

Verse Locator

मम तातप्य मानस्य पुत्रार्थम् नास्ति वै सुखम् ॥ १-१२-८

पुत्रार्थम् हयमेधेन यक्षयामि इति मतिर्मम ।

तत् अहम् यष्टुम् इच्छामि हयमेधेन कर्मणा ॥ १-१२-९

ऋषिपुत्र प्रभावेण कामान् प्राप्स्यामि च अपि अहम् ।

8, 9. mama = to my; laalasya = tumultuous; maanasya = mind; putra artham = for sons; na asti = not there; vai = verily; sukham = quietude; tat = hence; aham = I am; haya medhena = by Horse Ritual; yakshhyami = would like to worship; iti = thus; matiH mama = thinking, of mine; tat = therefore; shaastra dR^iSTena = scriptures, point of view; karmanaa = by strict observance; yashtum = to perform ritual; icChaami = I wish to; R^ishi putra = by Sage's son - through Rishyasringa's; prabhaaveNa = divine influence of; aham = I am; kaamam = my desire; praapyaami cha api aham = I get, even, I will.

"My mind is tumultuous without quietude for I have no sons... hence I am thinking of performing the Vedic Horse Ritual for progeny... I wish to perform the ritual as enshrined in the scriptures and by strict observances... I wish to get my desires fulfilled through the divine influence of the Sage's son, Rishyasringa... [1-12-8, 9]

Verse Locator

ततः साधु इति तद् वाक्यम् ब्राह्मणाः प्रत्यपूजयन् ॥ १-१२-१०

वसिष्ठ प्रमुखाः सर्वे पार्थिवस्य मुखात् च्युतम् ।

ऋष्यशृङ्ग पुरोगाः च प्रति ऊचुः नृपतिम् तदा ॥ १-१२-११

10, 11. tataH = then; saadhu iti = splendid, thus; tat vaakyam = this, sentence, idea; braahmaNaaH = Brahmanas; prati puujayan = blessed the king; vashishthaH = Sage Vashishta; pramukhaaH = and other important sages; sarve = all of them; paarthivasya = the king's; mukhaat = from mouth, voice; chyutam = came out; Rishyasringa; purogaaH cha = keeping at helm of affairs; tadaa = then; prati uuchuH = in return, said; nR^i patim = to peoples', lord [the king].

Then "Splendid, splendid is this idea," said the Brahmana scholars blessing the king. Then Sage Vashishta along with all other important personalities have applauded the idea that has come out of the king's voice, and all those Vedic scholars and clerj~nmen keeping Rishyasringa at helm of affairs said this to the king, in appreciation of that idea. [1-12-10, 11]

Verse Locator

संभाराः संभ्रियन्ताम् ते तुरगः च विमुच्यताम् ।

सरव्याः च उत्तरे तीरे यज्ञ भूमिः विधीयताम् ॥ १-१२-१२

सर्वथा प्राप्यसे पुत्राम् चतुरो अमित विक्रमान् ।

यस्य ते धर्मिकी बुद्धिः इयम् पुत्रार्थम् आगता ॥ १-१२-१३

12, 13. yasya te = to whom, [such as] you; putra artham = for begetting sons; iyam dhaarmikii buddhiH aagataa = this kind of, virtuous, thinking, has come; a mita = boundless; vikramaan = valiant ones; chatwaaraH = four of them; putraan = sons; sarvathaa = by all means; praapyase = you will beget; sambhaaraaH = paraphernalia; sambhriyantaam = be garnered; te = your; turagaaH cha = ritual horse, also; vimuchyataam = be released.

"Because a virtuous thinking of begetting sons through Vedic ritual has come to you, you will by all means get four sons with boundless valour... let ritual paraphernalia be garnered and let your ritual-horse be released..." The Vedic seers thus blessed Dasharatha. [1-12-12, 13]

Verse Locator

ततः प्रीतोऽभवत् राजा श्रुत्वा तु द्विज भाषितम् ।

अमात्यान् अब्रवीत् राजा हर्षेण इदम् शुभ अक्षरम् ॥ १-१२-१४

14. tataH = then; priitaH abhavat raajaa = glad, became, the king; shrutvaa = having heard; tat dvija bhaSitam = those, Brahmanas, that is said by them; [then] raajaa = the king; amaatyaan = to the ministers; cha = also; harsheNa = with happiness; idam = these; shubha aksharam = good words; abraviit = spoke to.

Then the king is gladdened to hear the blessing advises of the Vedic scholars, and he spoke to the other ministers of his court, with happiness derived from those good words. [1-12-14]

Verse Locator

गुरूणाम् वचनात् शीघ्रम् संभाराः संभ्रियन्तु मे ।

समर्थ अधिष्ठितः च अश्वः सः उपाध्यायो विमुच्यताम् ॥ १-१२-१५

सरयव्याः च उत्तरे तीरे यज्ञ भूमिः विधीयताम् ।
 शांतयः च अभिवर्धन्ताम् यथा कल्पम् यथा विधि ॥ १-१२-१६
 शक्यः कर्तुम् अयम् यज्ञः सर्वेण अपि महीक्षिता ।
 न अपराधो भवेत् कष्टो यद्य अस्मिन् क्रतु सत्तमे ॥ १-१२-१७
 छिद्रम् हि मृगयन्त एते विद्वान्सो ब्रह्म राक्षसाः ।
 विधिहीनस्य यज्ञस्य सद्यः कर्ता विनश्यति ॥ १-१२-१८
 तद् यथा विधि पूर्वम् क्रतुः एष समाप्यते ।
 तथा विधानम् क्रियताम् समर्थाः करणेषु इह ॥ १-१२-१९

15,16,17,18, 19. guruuNaam = of teachers; vachanaat = by advise; shiighram = quickly; sambhaaraaH = paraphernalia; sambhriyantu = be procured; samartha adhishthitaH = well guarded by gallant men; saha upaadhyayaH = also followed by teachers; me = my; asvaH = Ritual Horse; vimuchyataapm = be released; sarayavyaa = of Sarayu river; uttare tiire = on northern banks; yaj~na bhoomiH = ritual place; vidhiiyataam = be decided; shaantayaH cha = peace invocations; abhi varthantaam = be prevailing and prospering; yathaa kalpam = as per tradition; yathaa vidhi = as ordained in scriptures; shakya = if possible; praaptum = to perform; ayam yaj~naH = this, ritual; sarvena api = by all, even; mahii kshitaH = kings [would have been performed]; na = no; aparathaH = fault; bhavet = is made; kaSTaH = a difficult one; yadi = if; asmin = in that; kratu sattame = ritual, the great; Chidram = faults; hi = only; mrigayante = hunted; atra = there; vidvaamsaH = scholarly; brahma raakshasaaH = by the Brahma demons; nihatasya = killing the; cha = also; yaj~nasya = ritual's; kartaa = performer; vinasyati = ruins; tat = that is; yathaa = why; vidhi puuvam = in adherence to texts; kratuH = ritual; eSa = this one; samaapyate = be concludes; tathaa = like that; vidhaanam = procedure; kriyataam = be done; samarthaaH = efficient ones; karaNeshu iha = in affairs, here; [so said the king to Vedic scholars]

The king said to his executives, "As advised by my Vedic teachers, let the paraphernalia for my ritual be procured... let the ritual-horse be released, guarded well by gallant men in its journey... and let religious teachers follow that horse as per tradition... let the ritual place be decided on the northern banks of Sarayu River... let the peace invocations be prevailing and prospering throughout as ordained in the scriptures and tradition... all the kings on this earth would have performed this Horse Ritual, if only they can perform this without a mistake... thus, this is a great and difficult ritual... the Brahma-demons will be hunting for the faults performed in the rituals whereat they can inteject themselves in to the proceedings of the ritual in order to ruin it... further, the performer of the ritual also gets ruined if there were be to be faults... that is why this ritual shall be conducted faultlessly till its conclusion, and with absolute adherence to the scriptures... since all of you assembled here are efficient ones in conducting such rituals without faults, I hope you all will organise carefully.... [1-12-15,16,17,18, 19]

Verse Locator

तथा इति च ततः सर्वे मंत्रिणः प्रत्यपूजयन् ।
 पार्थिव इन्द्रस्य तत् वाक्यम् यथा आज्ञप्तम् अकुर्वत ॥ १-१२-२०

20. tathaa iti = like that, only; mantriNaH = by ministers; sarve = all; cha abruvan = also, said - expressed theior consent; paarthiva indrasya = the king's, the best one; tat vaakyam = those words; prati apuujayan = in turn, appreciation; yathaa = as; aaj~naptam = ordered; akurvataH = they have done.

In appreciation of his orders all the ministers replied the king saying "it will be done accordingly..." and indeed they have faultlessly carried out works as ordered. [1-12-20]

Verse Locator

ततो द्विजाः ते धर्मज्ञम् अस्तुवन् पार्थिवर्षभम् ।

अनुज्ञाताः ततः सर्वे पुनः जग्मुः यथा आगतम् ॥ १-१२-२१

21. tataH = then; dwijaaH te = Brahmans, all of them; dharmaj~nam = the virtuous knower, the king; astuvan = applauded; paarthivarSabham = among kings, the sacred bull; anuj~naataa = with his permission; tataH = from there; sarve = all of them; punaH jagmu = again, returned; yathaa aagatam = as they have come.

Then all the Brahmans applauded the virtuous king and who is like a Sacred Bull among the kings for his virtuous endeavour of undertaking the Vedic ritual, and with his permission all of them returned from there as they have come. [1-12-21]

Verse Locator

गतेषु तेषु विप्रेषु मन्त्रिणः तान् नराधिपः ।

विसर्जयित्वा स्वम् वेश्म प्रविवेश महामतिः ॥१-१२-२२

22. dwija agreSu = Brahmans, prominent ones; gateSu = on departing of; mahaa dyuti = great, resplendent one; nara adhipaH = people's, chief [king]; taan = those; mantriNaH = the ministers too were; visharjayitwaa = on leaving them; swam = his; veshma = palace; pravivesha = entered.

On the departure of the prominent Brahmans, King Dasharatha sent off those ministers who are still available there for further orders from the king, and then he the great resplendent king has entered his own palace. [1-12-22]

Indian seasons

The Indian yearly time-cycle is two-kind, one on northern solstice and the other southern solstice. And seasons are twelve and every two months is a season, and they are calculated by almanacs basing on the stars position every year. They roughly compare with the following Gregorian months as below:

No.	R^itu	Season	Hindu months	Gregorian months
1	hemantha	Winter	margashiirSa to pouSa	December to February
2	shishira	Cold	maagha to phaalguna	February to April
3	vasantha	Spring	chaitra to vaishaakha	April to June
4	griiSma	Hot	jyeSTha to aashaaDha	June to August
5	varSa	Rainy	shraavaNa to bhaadrapada	August to October
6	sharat	post-rainy	aashviiiyuja to kaartiika	October to December

इति वाल्मीकि रामायणे आदि काव्ये बाल काण्डे द्वादशः सर्गः

Thus, this is the 12th chapter in Bala Kanda of Valmiki Ramayana, the First Epic poem of India.

Book I : Bala Kanda - The Youthful Majesties

Chapter [Sarga] 13 Verses converted to UTF_8 Sept, 09

Introduction

King Dasharatha requests Sage Vashishta, the Royal Priest to commence works for the Vedic ritual. Sage Vashishta instructs all the concerned about the discipline to be observed in executing the works. Sage Vashishta also instructs the minister Sumantra to invite various kings of other countries, and those kings will be received with great hospitality. King Dasharatha along with his wives takes ritual vow and enters ritual hall.

Verse Locator

पुनः प्राप्ते वसन्ते तु पूर्णः संवत्सरोऽभवत् ।
प्रसवार्थम् गतो यष्टुम् हयमेधेन वीर्यवान् ॥ १-१३-१

1. punaH praapte vasante tu = again, recurred, spring season, but in; puurNa samvatsaraH abhavat = full, year, over; viiryavaan = determined one; prasava artham = progeny, requiring; yaSTum haya medhena = to ritualize, with Horse ritual; gataH = entered [ritual hall.]

On completion of one full year another springtime arrived, and then Dasharatha a determined one to beget progeny by performing Horse Ritual entered the ritual hall. [1-13-1]

The performer of such Vedic rituals has to perform preliminary rituals for a period of one year in order to attain eligibility to perform the final one. Here Dasharatha is said to have completed such preludes as he entering into the Vedic ritual hall in the springtime of the succeeding year to the one referred in last chapter.

Verse Locator

अभिवाद्य वसिष्ठम् च न्यायतः प्रतिपूज्य च ।
अब्रवीत् प्रश्रितम् वाक्यम् प्रसवार्थम् द्विजोत्तमम् ॥ १-१३-२

2. dwija uittamam vashiSTam abhivaadya = to that Brahman, the best, to Vashishta, on greeting; nyayataH pratipuuja cha = customarily, adoring him, also; abraviit pra shritam prasavaartham vaakyam = said, very, humble, words.

Greeting and even adoring the Sage Vashishta customarily Dasharatha said these very humble words to him. [1-13-2]

Verse Locator

यज्ञो मे क्रियताम् ब्रह्मन् यथोक्तम् मुनिपुङ्गव ।
यथा न विघ्नाः क्रियन्ते यज्ञांगेषु विधीयताम् ॥ १-१३-३

3. muni pungavaH = sage, the eminent; braahman = oh, Brahman; me yaj~naH yatha uktam kriyataam = ritual, of, mine, as said [in scriptures] be performed; yajna angeSu = ritual's, ancillary functions; yathaa na vighnaH kriyate = as to how, no, obstacles, be occurred; that way; vidhiiyataam = be conducted.

"Let my ritual be performed scripturally, oh eminent Brahman, let it be conducted in such a way that no obstacle occurs even in its ancillary functions. [1-13-3]

Verse Locator

भवान् स्निग्धः सुहृन् मह्यम् गुरुः च परमो महान् ।
वोढव्यो भवता च एव भारो यज्ञस्य च उद्यतः ॥ १-१३-४

4. bhavaan snigdhaH suhR^it mahyam = you are, friendly, kind-hearted, to me; paramaH mahaan guruH cha = very, reverent, royal priest, also; yaj~nasya udyataH bhaaraH = ritual's, upheaved, burden; bhavata eva voDhavyaH = by you, alone, that shoulder it.

"You being my very reverent royal priest are friendly and kind-hearted to me, and you alone shall shoulder the burden of the commenced ritual in all good faith and credence. [1-13-4]

Verse Locator

तथा इति च स राजानम् अब्रवीत् द्विजसत्तमः ।
करिष्ये सर्वम् एव एतत् भवता यत् समर्थितम् ॥ १-१३-५

5. dwija sattama = Brahman, the reverent; saH = he, Sage Vashishta; bhavataa yat samarthitam = by you, that which, is requested, or decided; etat = all that; sarvam tathaa kariSye = all, accordingly, I will make happen; iti raajaanam abraviit = thus, to king, said.

Then that reverent Brahman Vashishta said to king, "Whatever that is requested or decided by you, I will see that all of them are materialised accordingly. [1-13-5]

Verse Locator

ततोऽब्रवीत् द्विजान् वृद्धान् यज्ञ कर्मसु निष्ठितान् ।
स्थापत्ये निष्ठिताम् च एव वृद्धान् परम धार्मिकान् ॥ १-१३-६
कर्म अन्तिकान् शिल्पकारान् वर्धकीन् खनकान् अपि ।
गणकान् शिल्पिनः च एव तथा एव नट नर्तकान् ॥ १-१३-७
तथा शुचीन् शास्त्र विदः पुरुषान् सु बहु श्रुतान् ।
यज्ञ कर्म समीहन्ताम् भवन्तो राज शासनात् ॥ १-१३-८
इष्टका बहु साहस्री शीघ्रम् आनीयताम् इति ।
उपकार्याः क्रियन्ताम् च राज्ञो बहु गुणान्विताः ॥ १-१३-९

6,7,8,9. tataH abraviit dwijaan vR^iddhaan = then [Sage Vashishta,] spoken to, to Brahmans, elderly scholars; yaj~na karmasu niSTitaan = in ritual performance, proficient persons; vR^iddhaan parama dhaarmikaan = elderly experts, very, virtuous ones; sthaapatye niSTitaam cha eva = to architects, proficient ones, thus; karma antikaan = supervisors; shilpakaraan = brick makers; vardhakiin = carpenters; khanakaan api = earth-diggers, too; gaNakaan = accountants; shilpinaH cha eva = sculptors, also, thus; tatha eva = like that only; naTa = actors; nartakaan = dancers; tathaa suchiin shaastra vidaH puruSaan = thus, flawless, scriptures, scholars, to those men; su bahu shrutaan = well, many, heard [well-read in Vedas]; bhavantaH = by you all; raaja shaasanaat = by king's order; yaj~na karma = ritual, performance; samiihantaam = be organised; iTakaa bahu sahasrii = bricks, many, thousands; shiighram aniiyataam iti = quickly, be brought, thus; raajaanaam = for kingly [guests]; bahu guNaanvitaa = very many, facilities included; upakaaryaH kriyantaam cha = royal palaces [guest houses,] be built, also.

Then Sage Vashishta then summoned and spoke to elderly Brahman scholars, and elderly architects who are all proficient and elderly experts in conducting the construction of the ritual hall etc. Then summoned are the construction supervisors, brick-makers, carpenters, earth-diggers, accountants, and sculptors. So also the actors and dancers are summoned. Thus flawless scholars in scriptures and those men who are well read in Veda-s, are called and he addressed them saying, "Performance of the ritual be organised by the order of the king. Bricks in many thousands be brought quickly and royal palaces as temporary guesthouses be built for the kingly guests, with very many facilities included in them. [1-13-6,7,8,9]

A detailed description of the components of Vedic ritual hall is given at the endnote of next chapter, wherein King Dasharatha enters. Vedic ritual cannot be performed in ordinary households or in small temples. A very large place is selected, as per architectural science, and at its centre a homa kunda, an altar of fire will be constructed. This area will not have any roofing so as to let the vapours of oblations of ghee, sandalwood paste and others offered into the fire of altar, get into the atmosphere and thereby to Heavens. Around this altar of fire, huge sheds will be constructed to accommodate thousands of participants and onlookers. Apart from this, mammoth kitchens and dining halls are to be constructed as all of the thousands of participants, who are to be fed as long as ritual is conducted. Some of the many tradesmen are listed in a bird's eye view as above.

Verse Locator

ब्राह्मण आवसथाः चैव कर्तव्याः शतशः शुभाः ।

भक्ष्य अन्न पानैः बहुभिः समुपेताः सुनिष्ठिताः ॥१-१३-१०

10. shubhaaH = ideal; bahubhiH = with very many; bhakshya anna paanaiH sam upetaa = with eatables, foods, potables, having; su niSTitaaH = well established ones; brahmaNaa aavasathaa = Brahmans, accommodation for; shatashaH kartavyaaa = in hundreds, are to be done [built.]

"Like that, for accommodating Brahmans hundreds of sanctified houses be built, well endowed and well established with very many eatables, foods, and potables. [1-13-10]

Verse Locator

तथा पौर जनस्य अपि कर्तव्याः च सुविस्तराः ।

आगतानाम् सुदूरात् च पार्थिवानाम् पृथक् पृथक् ॥ १-१३-११

11. tathaa paura janasya api = so also, city, people, too; su vistaraaH kartavyaa cha = very, spacious [accommodation,] is to be done [built,] even; aagataanaam su duuraat cha = to those arriving, from distant places, also; paarthivaanaam pR^ithak pR^ithak = to kings, separately, separately [accommodation is to be given.]

"So also, accommodation is to be given for city dwellers too, in very spacious housing, and severally for the kings arriving from distant places.[1-13-11]

Verse Locator

वाजिवारण शलाः च तथा शय्या गृहाणि च ।

भटानाम् महदावासम् वैदेशिक निवासिनाम् ॥ १-१३-१२

12. tathaa shayyaa gR^ihaaNi cha = like that, reposing, stalls, also; vaajivaaraNa shalaaH cha = for horses, stables, also; bhaTaanaam mahat aavaasam = for soldiers, great, billets; vaideshika nivaasinaam = foreign-country, dwellers of.

"For horses stables, reposing stalls for elephants, like that great billets for soldiers may be built for those foreign-country dwellers arriving in here on their horses and elephants along with their soldiers. [1-13-12]

Verse Locator

आवासा बहु भक्ष्या वै सर्व कामैः उपस्थिताः ।

तथा पौरजनस्य अपि जनस्य बहु शोभनम् ॥ १-१३-१३

13. aavaasaaH bahu bhakshyaaH vai = lodgings, with many foods, verily; sarva kaamaiH upasthitaH = with all, utilities, arranged; tathaa paura jansya api = thus, for this city dweller also; janasya bahu shobhanam = for [other] people, very, grand [food be given.]

"These lodgings are to be arranged with many foods and utilities for the people of this city and for others coming from distant countries, and a very grand food be given in all of them. [1-13-13]

Verse Locator

दातव्यम् अन्नम् विधिवत् सत्कृत्य न तु लीलया ।
सर्वे वर्णा यथा पूजाम् प्राप्नुवन्ति सुसत्कृताः ॥ १-१३-१४
न च अवज्ञा प्रयोक्तव्या काम क्रोध वशात् अपि ।

14, 15a. annam daatavyam vidhivat = food, be given, dutifully; satkR^itya na tu liilaya = treating well, not, just, illusively; sarve varNaa = to all, castes; yathaa puujaam praapnuvanti = as they would, respects, they get; su satkritaaH = well honoured na cha avaj~naa prayoktavya = not any, disrespect, be shown [to anyone]; kaama krodha vashaat api = passion, anger, overcome by.

"Food is to be given dutifully treating all of them well but not just illusively, and the people of all the castes shall be well honoured as they would get their due respect, and no disrespect be shown, even when overcome by passion or anger at anyone. [1-13-14, 15a]

Verse Locator

यज्ञ कर्मसु ये व्यग्राः पुरुषाः शिल्पिनः तथा ॥ १-१३-१५
तेषाम् अपि विशेषेण पूजा कार्या यथा क्रमम् ।
ये स्युः संपूजिता सर्वे वसुभिः भोजनेन च ॥ १-१३-१६

15b, 16. ye puruSaaH tathaa shilpinaH = those, men, like that, architects; yaj~na karmasu vyagraa = in ritual's works, preoccupied; tesham api visheSeNa = they be, also, exceptionally; puujaa kaaryaa yathaa kramam = respectability, to be done, as they, deserve; ye sarve vasubhiH bhojanena cha = those, all, with funds, with foods, also; sampujitaa syuH = well treated, they will be.

"Exceptionally respectable are those men and architects that are preoccupied in the works of the ritual as they deserve, and those men involved in these works shall be well-treated with funds and food. [1-13-15b, 16]

Verse Locator

यथा सर्वम् सुविहितम् न किञ्चित् परिहीयते ।
तथा भवन्तः कुर्वन्तु प्रीति युक्तेन चेतसा ॥ १-१३-१७

17. sarvam yathaa su vihitam = all this, as to how, will be well, organised; kimchit na pari hiiyate = in the least, not, be neglected; tathaa bhavanta = thus, you all; priiti yuktena chetasaa = with interestedness [cooperation,] in good spirit; kurvantu = shall administer.

"Thus, as to how all this be well organised without least negligence, thus you all shall administer in all your cooperation and good spirit." Thus Sage Vashishta spoke to the organisers. [1-13-17]

Verse Locator

ततः सर्वे समागंय वसिष्ठम् इदम् अब्रुवन् ।
यथेष्टम् तत् सुविहितम् न किञ्चित् परिहीयते ॥ १-१३-१८
यथोक्तम् तत् करिष्यामो न किञ्चित् परिहीयते ।

18, 19a. tataH sarve samaagamya = then, all of them, collectively; vashiSTam idam abruvan = to Vashishta, this, replied; yathaa iSTam tat su vihitam = as desired, that, well ordered [will be done]; na kimchit parihiyate = not, in the least, will be neglected; yathaa uktam tat kariSyamaH = as, said, that, we will do; na kimchit parihaasyate = not, least, be slighted.

Then all of them collectively replied to Sage Vashishta "As desired, all the well ordered works will not be neglected in the least, and they will be done as ordered, and not the least of them will be slighted." So said the artisans to Sage Vashishta. [1-13-18, 19a]

Verse Locator

ततः सुमंत्रम् आहूय वसिष्ठो वाक्यम् अब्रवीत् ॥ १-१३-१९
 निमंत्रयस्व नृपतीन् पृथिव्याम् ये च धार्मिकाः ।
 ब्राह्मणान् क्षत्रियान् वैश्यान् शूद्राम् च एव सहस्रशः ॥ १-१३-२०
 समानयस्व सत्कृत्य सर्व देशेषु मानवान् ।

19b, 20, 21a. tataH sumantram aahuuya = then, Sumantra, on calling for; vashiSTaH vaakyam abraviit = Vashishta, [this] sentence, said; pR^idhivyaam ye dhaarmikaaH nR^ipatiim nimantrayasva = on the earth, those, that are righteous ones; [those] kings, be invited; sarva desheSu maanavaan = from all, kingdoms, people; brahmaNaan kshatriyaan vaisyaan shuudraam = Brahmans, Kshatriya-s, Vaisyaa-s, Shuudra-s; cha eva sahasrasaH = also, thus, in thousands [scores of tem]; satkR^itya sam aanayasva = on honouring, let them be invited.

"Then on calling for Sumantra, Sage Vashishta said these words to him, "Let all those kings of the earth that are righteous be invited, and let all the people from all the kingdoms, say Brahmans, Kshatriya-s, Vyasya-s, Shudra-s be invited in scores duly honouring them." So said Vashishta to Sumantra. [1-13-19b, 20, 21a]

Verse Locator

मिथिलाधिपतिम् शूरम् जनकम् सत्य वादिनम् ॥ १-१३-२१
 तम् आनय महाभागम् स्वयम् एव सुसत्कृतम् ।
 पूर्वं संबन्धिनम् ज्ञात्वा ततः पूर्वम् ब्रवीमि ते ॥ १-१३-२२

21b, 22. mithila patim shuuram janakam = Mithila kingdom's, king, valiant one, King Janaka; satya vaadinam = truth, advocate of; tam aanaya mahaa bhaagam = him [Janaka,] invite, great, estimable one; svayameva eva = personally, thus [by you]; su satkR^itam = well honoured; puurva sambandhinam j~naatva = long-time, association, bearing in mind; puurvam braviimi te = firstly, I am telling, you.

"You personally invite Janaka the king of Mithila, a valiant one and an advocate of truth, honouring his well and duly bearing in mind that he is a long-time associate of our King Dasharatha, hence I am telling you in the first instance. [1-13-21,22]

Verse Locator

तथा काशी पतिम् स्निग्धम् सततम् प्रिय वादिनम् ।
 सद् वृत्तम् देवसंकाशम् स्वयम् एव अनयस्व ह ॥ १-१३-२३

23. tathaa = likewise; snigdham satatam priya vaadinam sat vR^ittam = one who is friendly, always, affection, desiring one, well behaved [cordial] one; kaashi patim = thus, Kaashi's, king; svayam eva aanyasva ha = personally, alone, be invited indeed.

"Thus that King of Kaashi who is always a friendly, affectionate and a cordial one, indeed he shall be invited by you personally. [1-13-23]

Verse Locator

तथा केकय राजानम् वृद्धम् परम धार्मिकम् ।

श्वशुरम् राज सिंहस्य सपुत्रम् त्वम् इह आनय ॥ १-१३-२४

24. tathaa = likewise; vR^iddham parama dhaarmikam = elderly one, very, virtuous one; shvashuram = father-in-law; raaja simhasya = of king, the lion's [Dasharatha's]; kekaya raajaanam = Kekaya's king; sa putram tvam iha aanaya = along with his sons, you, here, invited.

"Likewise, King of Kekaya, an elderly, very virtuous, and also the father-in-law of our Lion-King Dasharatha, you personally invite him along with his sons. [1-13-24]

Verse Locator

अङ्गेश्वरम् महेष्वासम् रोमपादम् सु सत्कृतम् ।

वयस्यम् राज सिंहस्य सपुत्रम् त्वम् इह आनय ॥ १-१३-२५

25. anga iiswaram = Anga kingdom's, lord; maha iSvaasam = great bow, user of; raaja simhasya = king, the Lion [Dasharatha]; vayasyam = friend of; yashashvinam = illustrious one; romapaadam su satkritam = Romapada, well, honoured, sam aanaya = well, be invited.

"Romapada, the lord of Anga kingdom and the user of great bow, let that illustrious one be invited well honoured, for he is the friend of our lion-king Dasharatha. [1-13-25]

Verse Locator

तथा कोसल राजानम् भानुमंतम् सुसत्कृतम् ।

मगध अधिपतिम् शूरम् सर्व शास्त्र विशारदम् ॥ १-१३-२६

26. tathaa kosala raajaanam = like that, Kosala's, king; bhaanumantam = Bhanumanta; susatkR^itam = well honoured; magadha adhipatim = Magadha, king; shuuram = brave one; sarva shaastra vishaaradam = in all scriptures, profound.

"Like that King of Kosala namely Bhanumanta, and the King of Magadha, a brave one and a profound one in all scriptural knowledge, let them be honoured well and be invited. [1-13-26]

Verse Locator

प्राप्तिज्ञम् परमोदारम् सुसत्कृतम् पुरुषर्षभम् ।

राज्ञः शासनम् आदाय चोदयस्व नृपर्षभान् ।

प्राचीनान् सिन्धु सौवीरान् सौराष्ट्रेयाम् च पार्थिवान् ॥ १-१३-२७

27. praaptij~nam = Praaptijna, the king of Magadha; parama udaaram = kind-hearted one; susatkR^itam = well honoured; puruSarSabham = king, the best; raaj~naH shaasanam aadaaya = king's, orders, taking; chodayasva = motivated by it; nR^iparSabhaan = kings, the best; praaciinaan = eastern regional kings; sindhu sauviiraan sauraaSThreyaam ca paarthivaan = Sindhu, Sauviira, Sauraastra, also, kings of.

"And Praaptijna, the king of Magadha, the kind-hearted and best one among kings, be well honoured and invited. Further, taking the orders of King Dasharatha and motivated by those orders, the kings of Sindhu, Sauviira and Sauraastra kingdoms may also be invited. [1-13-27]

Verse Locator

दाक्षिणात्यान् नरेन्द्राम् च समस्तान् आनयस्व ह ।

सन्ति स्निग्धाः च ये च अन्ये राजानः पृथिवी तले ॥ १-१३-२८

तान् आनय यथा क्षिप्रम् स अनुगान् सह बान्धवान् ।

एतान् दूतैः महाभागैः आनयस्व नृप आज्या ॥ १-१३-२९

28, 29. daakSiNaatyaan narendraam ca = southern kingdoms', kings, also; samastaan aanayasva ha = all of them, be invited, verily; santi snigdhaaH cha ye cha anye = should there be, friends, other, those, also, other; raajaanaH pridhvii tale = kings, on earth's, surface; taan aanaya yathaa kshipram = them, be invited, as early as; sa anugaan saha baandhavaan = along with, followers, along with, their relatives; etaan mahaabhaagaiH duutaiH = them, highly illustrious ones, through envoys; aanayasva nR^ipa aaj~nyaa = invite them, by king's, orders.

"All of the kings of southern kingdoms be invited, and should there be any other friends and other friendly kings on the surface of the earth, they too shall be invited as early as possible with all their followers, relatives through highly illustrious envoys, of course with the orders of our king." Thus Sage Vashishta said to minister Sumantra. [1-13-28, 29]

Verse Locator

वसिष्ठ वाक्यम् तत् श्रुत्वा सुमंत्रः त्वरितः तदा ।
व्यादिशत् पुरुषान् तत्र राज्ञाम् आनयने शुभान् ॥ १-१३-३०

30. tat vashiSTa vaakyam shrutvaa = that, Sage Vashishta's, words, on hearing; tadaa sumantraH tvaritaH = then, Sumantra, expeditiously; raajnanam tatra aanayane = kings, there [to their kingdom,] for inviting; shubhaan puruSaan vyaadishat = devout men, envoys, men, ordered.

On hearing that word of Vashishta, Sumantra expeditiously ordered devout envoys to invite all those kings to their kingdom. [1-13-30]

Verse Locator

स्वयम् एव हि धर्मात्मा प्रयातो मुनि शासनात् ।
सुमंत्रः त्वरितो भूत्वा समानेतुम् महामतिः ॥ १-१३-३१

31. dharmaatmaa sumantraH = virtuous one, Sumantra; muni shaashanaat = by sage's, orders; twaritaH bhuutva = brisk, on becoming; samaanetum mahii kshitaH = to fetch, earth's, rulers; svayam eva prayayaataH = personally, thus, journeyed.

That virtuous Sumantra became brisk upon sage's words and personally journeyed to fetch all the rulers on the earth. [1-13-31]

Verse Locator

ते च कर्मान्तिकाः सर्वे वसिष्ठाय च महर्षये ।
सर्वम् निवेदयन्ति स्म यज्ञे यत् उपकल्पितम् ॥ १-१३-३२

32. te karma antikaaH sarve = those, artisans, all; yaj~ne yat upakalpitaH = in ritual, works, that are accomplished; vashiSTyaa, maharSaye = to Vashishta, to the sage; sarvam nivedayanti sma = all details, have, reported.

All those artisans engaged in ritual works have reported Vashishta, the details of all those ritual works that are accomplished. [1-13-32]

Verse Locator

ततः प्रीतो द्विज श्रेष्ठः तान् सर्वान् मुनिर् अब्रवीत् ।
अवज्ञया न दातव्यम् कस्य चित् लीलया अपि वा ॥ १-१३-३३
अवज्ञया कृतम् हन्यात् दातारम् न अत्र संशयः ।

33, 34a. tataH priitaH dwija shreshtaH muniH = then, satisfied, Brahman, eminent, saint, Sage Vashishta; taan sarvaan abraviit = to, all of them, said; avaj~nayaa na daatavyam = with disrespect, not, to be endowed; kasya chit liilaya api vaa = to anyone, deceptively, also, either; avaj~nayaa kR^itam hanyaat daataaram = with disrespect, done [deeds,] will kill, donor; na atra samshayam = not, there, any doubt.

Then, that satisfied saint and eminent Brahman Vashishta, spoke this way to all of them, "nothing is to be endowed to anyone either with disrespect or deceptively, the deeds done with disrespect will kill the donor and there is no doubt about it." [1-13-33, 34a]

Verse Locator

ततः कैश्चित् अहो रात्रैः उपयाता महीक्षितः ॥ १-१३-३४
बहूनि रत्नानि आदाय राज्ञो दशरथस्य ह ।

34b, 35a. tataH = then; mahiikshitaH = kings; raaj~naH dasharathasya = for king, Dasharatha; bahuuni ratnaani aadaaya = very many, precious gems, taking; kaiH chit aho raatraiH upayaataa = in some, days and nights, arrived.

Then in some days and nights many kings have arrived taking precious gems with them as gifts for Dasharatha. [1-13-34b, 35a]

Verse Locator

ततो वसिष्ठः सुप्रीतो राजानम् इदम् अब्रवीत् ॥ १-१३-३५
उपयाता नर व्याघ्र राजानः तव शासनात् ।
मया अपि सत्कृताः सर्वे यथा अर्हम् राज सत्तम ॥ १-१३-३६

35b, 36. tataH vashiSThaH su priitaH = then, Vashishta, well, pleased; raajaanam idam abraviit = to king, this, said; upayaataa nara vyaaghraH = arrived are, oh, manly tiger; raajanaH tava shaashanaat = kings, at your, behest; maya api satkR^itaaH sarve = by me, also, well honoured, all; yatha arham raaja sattamaaaH = as per their status, kings, the great.

Then the well pleased Sage Vashishta said this to King Dasharatha "the kings from distant kingdoms have arrived at your behest, oh, tigerly-man, and these best kings are well honoured by me also as per their status. [1-13-35b, 36]

Verse Locator

यज्ञीयम् च कृतम् सर्वम् पुरुषैः सुसमाहितैः ।
निर्यातु च भवान् यष्टुम् यज्ञ आयतनम् अन्तिकात् ॥ १-१३-३७

37. yaj~niiyam sarvam cha kR^itam = ritual works, all, also, completed; su samaahitaiH puruSaiH = well, coalesced, by men; bhavaan yaSTum = you, to perform ritual; antikaan yajna aayatanam niryaatu = that is nearby, ritual hall, you may proceed.

"All the ritual works are also completed by the well coalescent men, thus you may start towards the ritual place that is nearby, to perform your ritual." Said Sage Vashishta to King Dasharatha. [1-13-37]

Verse Locator

सर्वकामैः उपहृतैः उपेतम् वै समन्ततः ।
द्रष्टुम् अर्हसि राजेन्द्र मनसेव विनिर्मितम् ॥ १-१३-३८

38. raajendra = oh, best king; upahR^itaiH sarva kaamaiH = arranged around, with all, desirables [paraphernalia]; samantataH upetam vai = everywhere, available, indeed; manasaa vi nirmitam eva = by wish, built, as though; [this ritual hall]; draSTum arhasi = to see, apt of you.

"All the desirable paraphernalia is arranged and made available everywhere, and it is apt of you see ritual hall that is as though built by your mere wish. [1-13-38]

Verse Locator

तथा वसिष्ठ वचनात् ऋष्यशृङ्गस्य च उभयोः ।
दिवसे शुभ नक्षत्रे निर्यातो जगतीपतिः ॥ १-१३-३९

39. tathaa vashiSTa vachanaat = thus, by Vashishta's word [advise]; R^iSyasR^ingasya cha = of Rishyasringa, also; ubhayoH = by [the word of] both; shubhe divasa = on a good, day; nakshatre = star [of that day matching]; niryaataH = came forth; jagatii patiH = world's lord [King Dasharatha.]

Thus, on a good day while the ruling star of the day is favourable, King Dasharatha came forth towards the ritual hall according to the advice of both the sages Vashishta and Rishyasringa. [1-13-39]

In undertaking of auspicious works, Hindus watch out for date, day, and the star of the day, called tithi, vaara, nakshatra in accordance with astrological import. In addition to these three are two more yoga and karaNa, which when added together this becomes panchaanga, five-aspects of time, which are essential to verify before conducting any auspicious work.

Verse Locator

ततो वसिष्ठ प्रमुखाः सर्व एव द्विजोत्तमाः ।
ऋष्यशृङ्गम् पुरस्कृत्य यज्ञ कर्म आरभन् तदा ॥ १-१३-४०

40. tataH vashiSTa pramukhaaH = then, Vashishta, and other eminent ones; sarva eva dwija uttamaaH = all, thus, Brahmans, eminent; R^isyaR^ingam puraskritya = Rishyasringa, keeping ahead of; yajna karma aarabhan tadaa = ritual, works, commenced, thus.

Then Sage Vashishta and other eminent Brahmans keeping the Sage Rishyasringa ahead of them entered the ritual hall, to commence the ritual works thus. [1-13-40]

Verse Locator

यज्ञ वाटम् गताः सर्वे यथा शास्त्रम् यथा विधि ।
श्रीमान् च सह पत्नीभी राजा दीक्षाम् उपाविशत् ॥ १-१३-४१

41. sarve yaj~na vaaTa gataaH = all, to ritual hall, on going; yathaa shaastram yathaa vidhi = as per canons, as per custom; shriimaan raajaa = illustrious, king Dasharatha; saha patniibhii = with, his wives; diikshaam upaavishat = king, ritual vow, undertook.

When all have entered the ritual hall as per canons and custom, that glorious king Dasharatha along with his wives undertook vow of ritual. [1-13-41]

...

इति श्री वाल्मिकि रामायणे बालकाण्डे त्रयोदशः सर्गः

Thus, this is the 13th chapter in Bala Kanda of Valmiki Ramayana, the First Epic poem of India.

Book I : Bala Kanda - The Youthful Majesties

Chapter [Sarga] 14

Verses converted to UTF-8 Sept, 2009

Introduction

The Horse Ritual of Emperor Dasharatha is started on the banks of Sarayu River. The details of the arrangements for the participants, and visitors along with some aspects of the Vedic Ritual are narrated.

Verse Locator

अथ संवत्सरे पूर्णे तस्मिन् प्राप्ते तुरंगमे ।

सरय्वाः च उत्तरे तीरे राज्ञो यज्ञो अभ्यवर्तत ॥ १-१४-१

1. atha samvatsare puurNe = then, one year, on completing; tasmin praapte turangame = that, on regaining, ritual horse; sarayvaH uttare tiire = Sarayu river's, on northern banks; raaj~naH yaj~naH abhyavartata = emperor, ritual, commenced.

Then after completion of one year and on regaining the ritual horse, the Emperor Dasharatha commenced his Vedic Ritual on the northern banks of River Sarayu. [1-14-1]

In aswametha yaga, a well-decorated horse will be let out with an insignia on its forehead challenging any king to capture it and face the wrath of releasing king. If any one captures the horse, he shall be strong enough to incite a war. Otherwise, the valour and invincibility of releasing king are well established and he may proceed with the ritual proper. Now that the ritual horse released during last year by King Dasharatha has come back without being captured by anyone, thus establishing the invincibility of King Dasharatha, as such he can commence the ritual proper.

Verse Locator

ऋष्यशृंगम् पुरस्कृत्य कर्म चक्रुः द्विजर्षभाः ।

अश्वमेधे महायज्ञे राज्ञोऽस्य सुमहात्मनः ॥ १-१४-२

2. su maha atmanaH = of that well, noble-souled king; ashwamethe mahaa yaj~ne raajnaH asya = in Horse ritual, great ritual, of king; R^iSyasR^ingam puraskR^itya = Rishyasringa, keeping at helm of affairs; karma chakruH dvijarshabhaaH = works, commenced, Brahmans, eminent ones.

Keeping Rishyasringa at the helm of affairs those eminent Brahmans commenced, ashva medha, the Horse-ritual of that noble-souled Dasharatha. [1-14-2]

Verse Locator

कर्म कुर्वति विधिवत् याजका वेदपारगाः ।

यथा विधि यथा न्यायं परिक्रामन्ति शास्त्रतः ॥ १-१४-३

3. yaajakaaH veda paaragaaH = ritual conductors, in Vedas, well versed ones; karma kurvanti vidhivat = works, performed, customarily; yathaa vidhi yathaa nyaayam = as per canon, as per rules; parikraamanti shaashtrataH = conducted, as per scriptures.

Those well-versed conductors of Vedic rituals called ritviks , have started to perform works relating to ritual as per canon and rules, and conducted them scripturally and customarily. [1-14-3]

Verse Locator

प्रवर्ग्यम् शास्त्रतः कृत्वा तथा एव उपसदम् द्विजाः ।
चक्रुः च विधिवत् सर्वम् अधिकम् कर्म शास्त्रतः ॥ १-१४-४

4. dvijaaH = Brahmins; pravargyam shaastrataH kR^itvaa = pravargya ritual, as per scriptures, on performing; tathaa eva upasadam = like that, upasada ritual; cha vidhivat = also, customarily on performing; adhikam sarvam karma shaastrataH = many more, all, rituals too, as per scriptures; chakruH = they performed.

On performing pravargya ritual as per scriptures, like that upasada ritual too, those Brahmins have customarily performed all of those other rituals incidental to the main one scripturally. [1-14-4]

Verse Locator

अभिपूज्य तदा हृष्टाः सर्वे चक्रुः यथा विधि ।
प्रातः सवन पूर्वाणि कर्माणि मुनिपुंगवाः ॥ १-१४-५

5. tadaa = then; muni pungavaH = sages, distinguished; sarve hR^iSTaaH = all of them, are contented with; abhipuujya = worshipping those and those gods; praataH savana puurvaani karmaani = early morning, savana rituals and its ancillary; yathaa vidhi chakruH = as enjoined, performed.

Then all of those distinguished sages are contented with what they have performed by worshipping gods already summoned, they also conducted early morning savana ritual and its ancillaries as enjoined. [1-14-5]

Verse Locator

ऐन्द्रश्च विधिवत् दत्तो राजा च अभिषुतोऽनघः ।
मध्यंदिनम् च सवनम् प्रावर्तत यथा क्रमम् ॥ १-१४-६

6. indraH cha vidhivat dattaH = [oblations addressed to] Indra, as ordained, having given; anaghaH raajaa cha = flawless, king, also; abhiSutaH = soma raja creeper, well squeezed for the juice; madhyandinam savanam = in mid-day, savana ritual; yathaa kramam pravartataH = as per sequence, has happened.

The oblations addressed to Indra are well given as ordained, and the flawless king Dasharatha also crushed the Soma creeper to squeeze Soma juice, and thus the mid-day savana ritual has come to pass according to sequence. [1-14-6]

Soma creeper is from Sacrostemma Brevistigma of Asclepiadacea family and some other scholars hold the view that it is from Sarcostema Viminalis family.

Verse Locator

तृतीय सवनम् चैव राज्ञोऽस्य सुमहात्मनः ।
चक्रुः ते शास्त्रतो दृष्ट्वा तथा ब्राह्मण पुंगवाः ॥ १-१४-७

7. tathaa te braahmaNa pungavaaH = like that, those, Brahmins, proficient ones; shaastrataH dR^iSTvaa = from the viewpoint of scriptures, having examined; su mahaatmanaH asya raaj~naH = of that highly, exalted soul, of that, king; tR^itiiya savanam cha eva chakruH = third, savana ritual, also, like that, they performed.

Like that those proficient Brahmanas have also performed the third savana , ritual of that great-exalted soul Dasharatha according to the viewpoint of scriptures. [1-14-7]

Verse Locator

आह्वानं चक्रिरे तत्र शक्रादीन् विबुधोत्तमान् ।
ऋष्यशृङ्गादौ मन्त्रैः शिक्षाक्षर समन्वितौ ॥ १-१४-८

8. R[^]iSyashR[^]i~Nga aadau = Rishyasringa, others; mantraiH = with Vedic hymns; shiksha akshara samanvitau = when trained, letters, who have them [those that still retained the pronunciation of letters though trained much earlier]; shakra aadiin vibudha uttamaan = Indra, and others, gods, best; tatra = to that place; aahvayaam chakrire = invoking, the made.

Rishyasringa and other best scholars with their well lettered and intonated Vedic hymns have invoked Indra and other gods to that place. [1-14-8]

Verse Locator

गीतिभिः मधुरैः स्निग्धैः मन्त्र आह्वानैः यथार्हतः ।
होतारो ददुरावाह्य हविर्भागान् दिवौकसाम् ॥ १-१४-९

9. hotaaraH = Hotaa-s, conductors of this invocations; giitibhiH madhuraiH snigdhaiH = with singing, sweetly, harmoniously; mantra aahvaanaiH yatha arhataH = with hymns, invited are, as befitting; aavaahya = having welcomed; divaukasaam haviH bhaagaan daduH = to partaking celestials, oblations, they gave.

The hotaa -s, invocators, have welcomed the celestials for partaking oblations by singing saama Veda hymns sweetly and harmoniously, and on inviting them with Vedic hymns they have offered oblations to them. [1-14-9]

Verse Locator

न च अहुतं आभूत् तत्र स्खलितम् वा न किञ्चन ।
दृश्यते ब्रह्मवत् सर्वम् क्षेमयुक्तम् हि चक्रिरे ॥ १-१४-१०

10. tatra = there in the ritual; a hutam = unburnt oblation; na abhuut = not, resulted in; kimchana na skhalitam vaa abuut = a little, not, slipped away, either, is there; sarvam brahmavat dR[^]isyate = all, appeared, to be hymn oriented; kshema yuktam chakrire hi = secure, enough, is performed, in deed.

There is no unburnt oblation resulted in that fire-ritual nor even a small mishap slipped in the performance of ritual. Everything appeared canonically correct and hymn oriented. Indeed the ritual is performed in a secure way. [1-14-10]

Verse Locator

न तेषु अहस्सु श्रान्तो वा क्षुधितो वा न दृश्यते ।
न अविद्वान् ब्राह्मणः कश्चिन् न अशत अनुचरः तथा ॥ १-१४-११

11. tesu ahassu = in these, days; shraantaH na dR[^]ishyate = weary person, not, to be found; kshudhitaH vaa api = hungry person, or, even; na = not seen; a vidvaan braahmaNaH = no, unscholarly, Brahman; na = not there; tathaa = likewise; a shata anucharaH = one without, hundred, followers - apprentices; na = not seen; kaschin = anywhere.

In these days of ritual none found there to be weary or hungry, and there is no single unscholarly person, nor any Brahman without at least a hundred apprentices. [1-14-11]

Verse Locator

ब्राह्मणा भुञ्जते नित्यम् नाथवन्तः च भुञ्जते ।

तापसा भुञ्जते च अपि श्रमणाः चैव भुञ्जते ॥ १-१४-१२

12. braahmanaa bhunjate nityam = Brahmans, fed, anytime; naatha vantaH = masters, having [persons who have their masters i.e., servants] bhunjate = are fed; taapasaa bhunjate cha api = sages, are fed, also, even; shramaNaaH cha eva bhunjate tathaa = pilgrims, also, thus, are fed, like that.

Given anytime the Brahmans, servants, sages, and pilgrims are fed with food for their arrival at the place of boarding is unpredictable, and that arrival is dependent on their duties for Brahmans, and by their masters for servants, and for pilgrims that do not have a particular time of arrival or departure. [1-14-12]

Some scholars tend to conclude that Ramayana might have been written in post Buddhist period by finding the words like shramaNa etc., the famous wandering Buddhist monk sect. The word shramaNa in Sanskrit means only a pilgrim, and pilgrimage is an ordained aspect of salvation as per Indra is the friend of traveller. Therefore wander - aitareya brahmaNa [VII.33.3] The Buddhist shramaNa -s are the wandering monks in search of converts whereas Hindu shramana-s are pure sanyasi-s wandering for their own salvation.

Verse Locator

वृद्धाः च व्याधिताः च एव स्त्री बालाः तथा एव च ।

अनिशं भुञ्जमानानां न तृप्तिः उपलभ्यते ॥ १-१४-१३

13. vR^iddhaaH cha vyaadhitaH cha eva = elderly people, sick ones, also, thus; strii baalaaH thatha eva cha = women, children, like that, only; anisham bhunjamaanaanaam = always, dining on thus; na tR^iptiH upalabhyate = no, satisfaction to complete the meal, attained.

Elderly people, sick ones, women and children though dining on always thus, no satisfaction to complete the meal is attained for themselves, as the food served is that pleasant.

Or

Elderly people, sick ones, women and children though dining on always thus, there is no satisfaction to Emperor Dasharatha, for it appeared to be too meagre a serving and a lot more is to be served.] [1-14-13]

Verse Locator

दीयताम् दीयताम् अन्नम् वासांसि विविधानि च ।

इति संचोदिताः तत्र तथा चक्रुः अनेकशः ॥ १-१४-१४

14. diiyataam diiyataam annam = 'Be given, Be given' food; vaasaamsi vividhaani cha = clothing, variously, also; iti tatra samchoditaH = thus, there, directed by; tathaa chakruH anekasaH = accordingly, done [distributed,] in many ways.

"Food be given abundantly, clothing be given variously" are the directives, accordingly the king's men have distributed numerously there at the ritual place. [1-14-14]

Verse Locator

अन्न कूटाः च दृश्यन्ते बहवः पर्वत उपमाः ।

दिवसे दिवसे तत्र सिद्धस्य विधिवत् तदा ॥ १-१४-१५

15. tatra tadaa = there, thus; vidhivat siddhasya anna kuuTaaH = customarily, made available, food stuff, heaps of; bahavaH parvata upamaa = many, mountains, in similitude; divase divase = day by day; dR^ishyante = are appearing.

Heaps of foodstuffs are also appearing there, many of them and mountain similar, which is made available customarily, day after day. [1-14-15]

Verse Locator

नाना देशात् अनुप्राप्ताः पुरुषाः स्त्री गणाः तथा ।
अन्न पानैः सुविहिताः तस्मिन् यज्ञे महात्मनः ॥ १-१४-१६

16. mahaatmanaH = of great-soul Dasharatha's; tasmin yaj~ne = in that, ritual; naanaa deshaat anu praaptaaH = from different, countries, arrived; puruSaaH tatha strii gaNaaH = men, like that, women, in masses; anna paanaiH su vihitaH = food and drinks, well, pleased.

To that ritual of that great-souled Dasharatha masses of men and women have arrived from different countries, and they are all well-pleased with the sumptuous food and drink supplied. [1-14-16]

Verse Locator

अन्नम् हि विधिवत् स्वादु प्रशन्सन्ति द्विजर्षभाः ।
अहो तृप्ताः स्म भद्रम् ते इति शुश्राव राघवः ॥ १-१४-१७

17. dvijarSabhaaH = Brahmans, the eminent; vidhivat = systematically - prepared by perfect cooking; svaadu annam prashamshanti = relishable, food, they appreciated; aho raaghavaH = oh, Raghu's descendent - Dasharatha; tR^iptaa sma = satisfied, are we; bhadram te = blessed, are you; iti = thus; shushrava = heard.

"The eminent Brahmans have appreciated the food that is prepared by perfect cooking to be relishable, and it is heard as they said, "oh, Raghava, blessed are you for we are satisfied..." [1-14-17]

Verse Locator

स्वलंकृताः च पुरुषा ब्राह्मणान् पर्यवेषयन् ।
उपासन्ते च तान् अन्ये सुमृष्ट मणि कुण्डलाः ॥ १-१४-१८

18. sva alankritaH puruSaa = well, decorated, men [caterers]; brahmaNaan paryaveSayan = to the Brahmans, served food; sumR^iSta = having lustre; mani kuNDalaaH = well decorated, gem-studded, earrings [worn by those helpers.]; anye cha = others, also; upaasante taan = helped, them.

Well-decorated men have served food to Brahmans, while others who wore gem-studded and lustrous earrings have helped them. [1-14-18]

Verse Locator

कर्मन्तिरे तदा विप्रा हेतुवादान् बहूनपि ।
प्राहुः सुवाग्मिनो धीराः परस्पर जिगीषया ॥ १-१४-१९

19. tadaa dhiiraaH vipraaH = then, intellectual, Brahmans; karma antare = rituals, in interludes; paraspara jigiishaya = each other, to defeat; bahuun hetu vaadan = many, intellectual, debates - arts of reasoning; su vaagminaH praahuH = good, debaters, have debated.

Those eminent Brahmans that are good debaters have debated many intellectual debates to defeat each other, during the gap-periods of ritual works. [1-14-19]

Verse Locator

दिवसे दिवसे तत्र संस्तरे कुशला द्विजाः ।

सर्व कर्माणि चक्रुः ते यथा शास्त्रं प्रचोदिताः ॥ १-१४-२०

20. samstare = in ritual; te kushalaaH dwijaaH = those, expert, Brahmans; divase divase tatra = day by day, there; pra choditaaH = encouraged by [Vashishta and others]; sarva karmaaNi = all, works; yathaa shashtram = according to, scriptures; chakruH = have performed.

Day by day those expert Brahmans have performed all ritual works as encouraged by Vashishta, and others and as contained in scriptures. [1-14-20]

Verse Locator

न अषडङ्ग वित् अत्र आसीत् न अव्रतो न अबहुश्रुतः ।

सदस्यः तस्य वै राज्ञो न अवाद कुशला द्विजाः ॥ १-१४-२१

21. atra = there; a SaDanga vit = not, in six branches, knower; na asiit = is not, there; a vrataH = non-vowed scholar; na = not there; a bahu shrutaH = not, in many [scriptures,] one who heard; na = not there; tasya raaj~naH sadasyaaH = that, king's, members of ritual; a vaada kushalaaH [vaada a kushalaaH] = in debating, inept; na vai = not there, indeed.

There is no scholar without the knowledge of the six branches of Vedas, none who is an unavowed scholar, none who heard learnt less scriptures, and none among the members of the ritual of that king Dasharatha is an inept in debating, thus all are scholarly Brahmans. [1-14-21]

The six branches of Veda-s are: 1] sikSa - phonetics, 2] vyaakaraNa - grammar, 3] chandas - prosody, 4] nirukta - etymology, 5] jyotiS - astronomy, 6] kalapa - ritual acts.

Verse Locator

प्राप्ते यूपः उच्छ्रये तस्मिन् षड् बैल्वाः खादिराः तथा ।

तावन्तो बिल्व सहिताः पर्णिनः च तथा अपरे ॥ १-१४-२२

श्लेष्मातकमयः दिष्टो देवदारुमयः तथा ।

द्वावेव तत्र विहितौ बाहु व्यस्त परिग्रहौ ॥ १-१४-२३

22,23. tasmin = in ritual; yuupa ucChraye praapte sati = wooden ritual posts, staking time, when neared; SaT bailwaaH = six, Bilwa wood stakes [Egle Marmelos]; tathaa = like that; bilwa sahitaH = to Bilwa posts, nearer to; taavantaH = same number of; khaadiraH = posts of Khadira wood [Mimosa catech]; tatha = like that; parNiaH cha apare = posts of Parnina wood [Butea frondosa,] also, further; [eka] SleshmaatakamayaH [Gorida myxa] = [one,] post of Sleshmaataka wood; tathaa = like that; devadaarumayaH = posts of Devadaaru wood [Uvaria longifolia,] [two posts, generally these posts are staked]; tatra = there; dwau eva baahu vyasta parigrahou = two, thus, arms, extended, touching [at the length of extended arms]; vihitou diSTaH = as stipulated, are staked.

When the time came to stake wooden ritual posts, six posts of bilwa wood, six posts of khadira wood, and further the same number of posts of parnina wood are staked. One post of sleshmaataka wood and two of devadaaru wood as stipulated are staked. Then the distance between each post is maintained at the length of extended arms. [1-14-22,23]

Verse Locator

कारिताः सर्व एवैते शास्त्रज्ञैः यज्ञकोविदैः ।

शोभाअर्थम् तस्य यज्ञस्य कांचन अलंकृत अभवन् ॥ १-१४-२४

24. shaastraj~naiH yaj~nma kovidaiH kaaritaaH = authorities on scriptures, by ritual, scholars, they are made; te sarve eva = they, all, thus; tasya yaj~nasya = of that, ritual; shobha artham = for elegance, purpose; kaanchana alankR^ita abhavan = gold-pleated, decorated, they are [posts,] became.

All of those the posts are made by the authorities on scriptures and ritual scholars, and they are gold-pleated and decorated for the purpose of elegance to that ritual. [1-14-24]

Verse Locator

एक विंशति यूपाः ते एक विंशत् अरत्नयः ।
वासोभिः एक विंशद्भिः एकैकम् समलंकृताः ॥ १-१४-२५

25. eka vimshat aratnayaH = having one and twenty, cubits - elbow to fingertip measure in height; eka vimshat yuupaaH te = one and twenty [twenty-one,] posts, they are; eka vimshadbhi vaasobhiH = with twenty-one, cloths; eka ekam alankR^itaH sama = one to each post, decorated, they are.

They are altogether twenty-one posts, each post is twenty-one cubits in height, and each is decoratively clothed with each cloth. [1-14-25]

Verse Locator

विन्यस्ता विधिवत् सर्वे शिल्पिभिः सुकृता दृढाः ।
अष्ट आस्रयः सर्व एव श्लक्ष्ण रूप समन्विताः ॥ १-१४-२६

26. sarve = all of them; shilpibhiH su kR^itaa = by carpenters, well carved; dhR^iDhaa = strongly built; aSTa aasrayaH = are with octahedral surfaces; shlakSNa ruupa samanvitaaH = smoothened, surface shapes, having; sarve eva = all, thus; vinyasthaa vidhivat = implanted, procedurally.

Carpenters have carved all the posts well, and built them strongly with octahedral surfaces that are smoothened, and thereby they are implanted procedurally. [1-14-26]

Verse Locator

आच्छादिताः ते वासोभिः पुष्पैः गन्धैः च पूजिताः ।
सप्त ऋषयो दीप्तिमन्तो विराजन्ते यथा दिवि ॥ १-१४-२७

27. vaasobhiH aacChaaditaaH = with cloths, draped; te = them; pushpaiH gandhaiH cha puujitaaH = with flowers, with perfumery, worshipped; te diiptimantaH = they, having irradiance; divi sapta R^iSayaH yathaa = in sky, Seven Sages, as with; viraajante = they shone forth.

Those posts draped in cloths and worshipped with flowers and perfumery are irradiant, and they shone forth like the constellation of Seven Sages in the sky. [1-14-27]

The Seven Sages is the constellation of stars in the Ursa Major - The Great Bear, and is called sapta R^ishi maNDala . The Indian names of the Seven Sages are 1] atri , 2] angiirasa , 3] pulastya , 4] pulaha , 5] kratu , 6] mariichi , 7] vashiSTha .

Verse Locator

इष्टकाः च यथा न्यायम् कारिताः च प्रमाणतः ।
चितोऽग्निः ब्राह्मणैः तत्र कुशलैः शिल्पकर्मणि ॥ १-१४-२८

28. tatra = in that ritual; yathaa nyaayam pramaaNataH cha = according to, rules, according to standard measurements, also; iSTakaaH kaaritaaH = bricks, are made; shilpa karmaNi = by architects [particular priest-architects of Vedic rituals; or sulba karmanai = by those that calculate the area of altar with a single-stranded thread called shulba]; kushalaiH braahmaNaiH agniH chitaH = by expert, Brahmans, Altar of Fire, layered.

The bricks for Altar of Fire are well designed and made according to rules and standard measurements. The Brahmans who are experts in the architecture of laying Fire Altar, by calculating the ritual field with a one-ply rope and decide where and how the that shall be, the Altar of Fire is layered well with bricks in that ritual. [1-14-28]

The construction of Fire Altar itself is a ritual, called iSTikaa chayana, where each brick is to be consecrated with hymns. On completion of the layering of bricks to the required shape, i.e., that of an eagle-like platform for a garuDa yaj~na vedi etc., then Holy head bath abhiSeka is performed to the brick-work of the Altar by pouring milk and other sacred liquids to the chanting of Vedic hymns.

Verse Locator

सचित्यो राज सिंहस्य संचितः कुशलैः द्विजैः ।

गरुडो रुक्मपक्षो वै त्रिगुणो अष्टा दशात्मकः ॥ १-१४-२९

29. kushalaiH dwijaiH = by experts, Brahmans; rukma pakshaH = eagle [shaped,] with golden, wings; tri guNaH = three times more [than usual] triple sized; aSTa dashaatmakaH = eighteen in number, having eighteen separators; garuDaH = eagle fire altar; saH raaja simhasya = of that, king, the lion's; samchitaH = ever with fire; cityaH = the fire laid on such an altar of fire layered as above.

That Altar of Fire of that King, the Lion, is layered by expert Brahmans in the shape of an eagle with golden wings, with its size being three folds bigger than the altars of other rituals, thus it has eighteen separators, and fire is laid on it. [1-14-29]

The garuDa, the Divine Eagle is the vehicle of Vishnu with an all-pervading vision and fastest wings. He is the only one who once brought amrita, the Divine Elixir, for the release of his mother from slavery. Hence, the Altar of Fire is given the shape of this Divine Eagle, with its wings and tail outstretched, head turned downward, and the eyes looking eastward. yaj~na is also termed as suparNa i.e., su good, parNa winged; carrier of the oblations with his golden wings to heavens. Or its wings are glittering with gold sahasram hiraNya shakalaiH prati dinam agnim prokShati - shruti meaning every day with thousands of gold chips oblate the fire... scriptures say so. So the Altar of fire is glittering with thousands of gold chips sprinkled every day. This altar is laid threefold bigger than the usual one.

Verse Locator

नियुक्ताः तत्र पशवः तत् तत् उद्दिश्य दैवतम् ।

उरगाः पक्षिणः च एव यथा शास्त्रम् प्रचोदिताः ॥ १-१४-३०

30. tatra = in that ritual; yathaa shaastram prachoditam = as per the scriptural, directives; pashavaH uragaaH pakshinaH cha eva = animals, serpents, birds, also, thus; tat tat daivatam uddishya = that and that, deity, designated to; niyuktaaH = are readied.

In that ritual animals, serpents and birds designated to such and such deities are readied according to the scriptural directives. [1-14-30]

Verse Locator

शामित्रे तु हयः तत्र तथा जलचराः च ये ।

ऋषिभिः सर्वम् एवै तन् नियुक्तम् शास्त्रतः तदा ॥ १-१४-३१

31. shraamite tu = in animal sacrifices, but; tatra = there; hayaH tathaa ye jala charaaH = horse, like that, those, water, animals [are to be there, them]; sarva evai tan = all, of them; tadaa = then; R^iSibhiH niyuktam shaashtraH = by sages, arranged,. as per scriptures.

The sages have arranged those animals that are to be there in animal sacrifices, like horse and other aquatic animals, in that ritual according to scriptures. [1-14-31]

Many animals are sacrificed in Horse ritual. But they will be segregated as forest animals and village animals. In them many of the forest animals will be let off by taking them round the fire on to their right in salutation to fire, agni paradakshiNa namaskara. The animals pertaining to village will be sacrificed in ritual. Hence it is up to the priests to decide which is to be retained or let off.

Verse Locator

पशूनाम् त्रिशतम् तत्र यूपेषु नियतम् तदा ।
अश्व रत्नः उत्तमम् तस्य राज्ञो दशरथस्य ह ॥ १-१४-३२

32. tadaa = then; tatra = in that ritual; tri shatam pashuunaam = three, hundred, animals; tasya raaj~naH aswa ratna uttamam = that, king Dasharatha's, horse, gemlike, best one; yuupeSu niyatam = to wooden posts, arranged [tied.]

Three hundred animals are tied to the ritual posts, along with the gemlike best ritual horse of that King Dasharatha. [1-14-32]

Verse Locator

कौसल्या तम् हयम् तत्र परिचर्य समंततः ।
कृपाणैः विशशासः एनम् त्रिभिः परमया मुदा ॥ १-१४-३३

33. tatra = in that ritual; kausalyaa = Queen Kausalya; tam hayam = that, horse; samantataH paricharya = all around, on making circumambulations; paramayaa mudaa = with great, delight; tribhi kR^ipaaNaiH = with three, knives; vishashaasaH enam = killed, that one - the horse.

With great delight coming on her Queen Kausalya reverently made circumambulations to the horse, and symbolically killed the horse with three knives. [1-14-33]

Here Kausalya did not butcher the horse as queens do not butcher animals in rituals, but the horse is already sacrificed. It is a symbolical act of queens to pierce with three golden knives like needles. The scripture says that all the eligible wives of the performer of ritual have to pierce that way. sauvarNiibhi suuciibhiH patnayoh ashvasya asipathaam kalayanti - shruti / scripture. So all the three queens have performed that symbolic act by piercing that horse, which is already dead, with golden needle-like knives. Govindaraja.

Verse Locator

पतत्रिणा तदा सार्धम् सुस्थितेन च चेतसा ।
अवसत् रजनीम् एकाम् कौसल्या धर्म कांयया ॥ १-१४-३४

34. kausalyaa = Queen Kausalya; susthitena cha chetasaa = with composed - impassively; dharma kaamaayaa = dharma, desiring for achieving results; patatriNaa saartham = with horse, for results; [where patatri = also means a bird, one that swiftly flew away like a bird; the sacrificed ritual horse is equated with the Divine Eagle garuDa - that conducts the oblations; ekaam rajaniim avasat = one, night, she resided with that horse that flew away.

Queen Kausalya desiring the results of ritual disconcertedly resided one night with that horse that flew away like a bird. [1-14-34]

Verse Locator

होता अध्वर्युः तथ उद्गाता हस्तेन समयोजयन् ।
महिष्या परिवृत्त्या अथ वावाताम् अपराम् तथा ॥ १-१४-३५

35. atha = then; hotaa adhvaryuH tathaa udgaataa = hotaa, adhwaryu, thus, udgaataa, [the three officiating priests of the ritual]; mahiSyaa parivR^ittyaa = crowned queen, neglected wife of king; vaavaataam cha = concubine of king, also; aparam tathaa = next, thus; hastena samyojayan = by hand, took.

Thus, the officiating priests of the ritual, namely hota, adhwaryu and udgaata have received in their hand the Crowned Queen, the neglected wife, and a concubine of the king, next as a symbolic donation in the ritual by the performer, the king. [1-14-35]

There will be four officiating priests for these Vedic rituals. 1. brahma , 2. hota , 3. adhvaryu , 4. udgaata , to whom the king has to donate his inner core properties like wives, lands etc. By practice a king has to marry four wives. The four women of the king are 1. mahiSi = Queen, 2. parivR^itti = neglected women, 3. vaavaata = concubine, 4. paalaakali = goblet-maid. The order of donation is that the Queen to brahma , concubine to hota , neglected woman to udgaata , and the goblet-maid to the adhvaryu . Here, though the brahma ritvik is not cited along with paalaakali, goblet-maid, they are implied. The donation is symbolic and later bartering with some valuable items that is redeemed. Govindaraja. There is another way of translating this. For the wording, hastena samayojayan the priests took these wives by hand to bring them in contact with the dead horse.

Verse Locator

पतत्रिणः तस्य वपाम् उद्धृत्य नियतेन्द्रियः ।
ऋत्विक् परम संपन्नः श्रपयामास शास्त्रतः ॥ १-१४-३६

36. udhR^itya niyata indriyaH = took up, one with controlled senses; patatriNaH tasya vapaam = horse's, fat [omentum]; R^itwik parama sampannaH = ritwik, priest, very, wealthy in knowledge; shrapayamaasa shaastrataH = cooked, as per scriptures.

Then the priest, one with controlled senses and rich in scriptural wealth, took up the omentum [fat] of the horse and cooked it as per scriptures while dropping into the altar of fire to bake as a food to the celestials. [1-14-36]

Some more scholars give a non-violent touch to this act and they say that a medicinal plant ,is offered in altar and its smell is smelt. That plant is substituted for omentum of the horse, and the wording is read differently. When the sequence is running on horse and horse's body parts how a medical plant is brought in, is unclear. And some say that a horse will not have omentum according to Vedic texts.

Verse Locator

धूम गन्धम् वपायाः तु जिघ्रति स्म नराधिपः ।
यथा कालम् यथा न्यायम् निर्णुदन् पापम् आत्मनः ॥ १-१४-३७

37. naraadhipaH = King; yathaa kaalam yathaa nyaayam = as per time, as per procedure; nirNudan paapam aatmanaH = to cleanse, sin, his own; dhuuma gamdham vapaaya tu = smoke's, smell, of fat [omentum being cooked]; jighrati sma = smelling, he is.

The king Dasharatha smelt the smell of smoke as per time and procedure to cleanse his own sin. [1-14-37]

Verse Locator

हयस्य यानि च अंगानि तानि सर्वाणि ब्राह्मणाः ।
अग्नौ प्रास्यन्ति विधिवत् समस्ताः षोडश ऋत्विजः ॥ १-१४-३८

38. hayasya yaani angaani = of horse, which, body-parts are there; taani sarvaaNi = they, all of them; samastaaH R^itwijaH = all, priests; shodasha braahmanaH = sixteen, Brahmans; vidhivat agnou praasyanti = procedurally, in fire, obliterated.

Those remaining body parts that horse are there, the sixteen officiating priests have procedurally obliterated all of them into fire. [1-14-38]

Verse Locator

प्लक्ष शाखासु यज्ञानाम् अन्येषाम् क्रियते हविः ।
अश्व मेधस्य यज्ञस्य वैतसो भागः इष्यते ॥ १-१४-३९

39. anyeSaam yaj~naanaam = in other, rituals, haviH plakSa shaakhaasu kriyate = oblation, with plaksha [Ficus Venosa,] tree, on its branches, will be done; aswamedhasya

yaj~nasya bhaagaH = Horse sacrifice, of ritual, oblation; vaitasaH iSyate = Vaitasa creeper, is to be done.

In other rituals the oblations will be offered into sacrificial fire with spoon-like sticks of plaksha tree, but in Horse-sacrifice ritual they are offered through the vetasa creeper, a rattan plant, cane. [1-14-39]

Verse Locator

त्र्यहोऽश्व मेधः संख्यातः कल्प सूत्रेण ब्राह्मणैः ।
चतुष्टोमम् अहः तस्य प्रथमम् परिकल्पितम् ॥ १-१४-४०

40. braahmanaiH = by penultimate parts of Veda-s; kalpa suutreNa = according to kalpa, rules; tri ahaH = for three, days; aswamedhaH samkhyaataH = Horse ritual, is said [to be performed]; tasya prathamam ahaH chatuSTomaH parikalpitam = its, first one, is said to be, chatuhSToma, is arranged.

The Horse Ritual is to be performed for three days as laid down in kalpa sutra-s, the rules governing such rituals, and by brahmaNa-s, the penultimate parts of Veda-s, and the one performed on the first day is called chatuhSToma ritual. [1-14-40]

Verse Locator

उक्थ्यम् द्वितीयम् संख्यातम् अतिरात्रम् तथोत्तरम् ।
कारिताः तत्र बहवो विहिताः शास्त्र दर्शनात् ॥ १-१४-४१

41. dvitiiyam ukthyam = second one, is ukthyam; tatha uttaram atiraatram samkhyaatam = likewise, later one, is atiraatra, said to be as; tatra = in that ritual; shaashtra darshanaat = as scriptures, have envisaged; vihitaaH bahavaH kaaritaaH = as ordained, many, have been performed.

The ritual on the second day is called ukthyam , and the next one performed on third day is called atiraatra. These apart many of the preordained rituals are performed there in that ritual as envisaged in scriptures. [1-14-41]

The horse-ritual is conducted only for three days. But Dasharatha got it performed with more variously connected rituals, in all his eagerness to appease gods for progeny.

Verse Locator

ज्योतिष्टोम आयुषी च एवम् अतिरात्रौ विनिर्मितौ ।
अभिजित् विश्वजित् च एवम् अप्तोर्यामो महाक्रतुः ॥ १-१४-४२

42. jyothiSToma aayuSii = jyothiSToma, fire ritual, aayu yaaga, Longevity rituals; evam = like that; atiraatrou vinirmitou = atiraatri rituals, performed; abhijit vishwajit evam = abhijit ritual, vishwajit rituals, thus; aptoryaama mahaa kratuH = aptoryaama, great, ritual are conducted.

The rituals called jyothiSToma, aayuSi, and atiraatra rituals are performed. And also rituals of great kind like abhijit, vishwajit, aptoryaama are performed. [1-14-42]

Verse Locator

प्राचीम् होत्रे ददौ राजा दिशम् स्वकुल वर्धनः
अध्वर्यवे प्रतीचीम् तु ब्रह्मणे दक्षिणाम् दिशम् ॥ १-१४-४३
उद्गात्रे च तथा उदीचीम् दक्षिणैषा विनिर्मिता ।
अश्वमेधे महायज्ञे स्वयंभु विहिते पुरा ॥ १-१४-४४

43,44. sva kula vardhanaH = self, dynasty, developer [to promote his own dynasty]; raajaa = king; hotre praachiim disham dadau = to hota, east, side, donated; adhvaryane patiichiim tu = to adhvaryu, west [side,] and; brahmaNe dakshiNa dishaam = to Brahma, southward, direction; tathaa = thus; udgaatre udiichiim = to udgaataa, northern side gave away; puraa svayambhuu vihite = earlier, by the Self-Created Brahma, as ordained; aswamedhe mahaa yaj~ne = in aswamedha, great ritual; eSaa dakshiNa vinirmitaa = this way, donation, built [stipulated].

As the promoter of his own dynasty that king Dasharatha donated eastern side to hota, western to adhvaryu, and southern to brahma. And to udgaata northern side is given in donation. These were the donations stipulated in that great ritual, ashwamedha, by the Self-Created Brahma from earlier times. [1-14-44,43]

Verse Locator

क्रतुं समाप्य तु तदा न्यायतः पुरुषर्षभः ।
ऋत्विग्भ्यो हि ददौ राजा धराम् ताम् कुलवर्धनः ॥ १-१४-४५

45. pursharSabha raajaa = man, the best king Dasharatha; kula vardhana = dynasty, promoter of; kratum samaapya = ritual, on completing; tadaa nyaayataH = then, justifiably; taam dharaam R^itvigbhyaH dadou = those, lands, to ritwiks, donated.

On completing the ritual thus that best man Dasharatha justifiably donated those lands to the officiating priests, called ritwiks, to promote of his dynasty. [1-14-45]

Verse Locator

एवम् दत्त्वा प्रहृष्टो अभूत् श्रीमान् इक्ष्वाकु नन्दन ।
ऋत्विजः तु अब्रुवन् सर्वे राजानम् गत किल्बिषम् ॥ १-१४-४६

46. evam dattvaa = thus, having given; shriimaan ikshvaaku nandana = that glorious one, in Ikshvaku dynasty, on born in; prahR^iSTaH abhuut = gladdened, he became; tu = but; sarve R^itwijaH = all, officiating priests; raajaanam gata kilbiSam = to king, who by now is rid of, sin; abruvan = said.

Thus on giving away the vast expanses of his kingdom he that glorious one born in Ikshvaku dynasty is gladdened, but all the officiating priests said to the king who by now is rid of his sins. [1-14-46]

Verse Locator

भवान् एव महीम् कृत्स्नाम् एको रक्षितुम् अर्हति ।
न भूया कार्यम् अस्माकम् न हि शक्ताः स्म पालने ॥ १-१४-४७

47. bhavaan ekaH eva = you, alone, only; kR^itsnaam mahiim rakSitum arhati = in its entirety, earth, to protect, are capable; asmaakam bhuumyaa na kaaryam = for us, with lands, no, work; na paalane shaktaa sma = not, in ruling, capable, we are.

"You alone are capable to protect the earth in its entirety, and there is no use for us with these lands, and we are not capable to rule it, either." Thus the priests are addressing the king. [1-14-47]

Verse Locator

रताः स्वाध्याय करणे वयम् नित्यम् हि भूमिप ।
निष्क्रयम् किञ्चित् एव इह प्रयच्छतु भवान् इति ॥ १-१४-४८

48. vayam nityam = we, always; svaadhyaya karaNe = in self study of teachings; rataaH = preoccupied; bhavaan = you; bhuumi pa = oh, land, ruler of king; iha = in this aspect; kimchit niSkrayam = something, price [ay modest thing]; prayacChatu iti = now, be given, by thus.

"We are always preoccupied with self-study and teaching of scriptures, oh, king, thus you may give us something else in barter, any modest thing. " [1-14-48]

Verse Locator

मणि रत्नम् सुवर्णम् वा गावो यद् वा समुद्यतम् ।
तत् प्रयच्छ नरश्रेष्ठ धरण्या न प्रयोजनम् ॥ १-१४-४९

49. nara shreSTa = man, the best; maNi ratnam suvarNam vaa = gems, best, gold, or; gaavaH yat vaa samudyatam = cows, whatever, else, [whatever that is,] available; tat pra yacCha- = that, you may give; dharaNyaa prayojanam na = with vast expanses, what is the use, none.

"Let best gems, gold, or cows or anything else that is available you may give us, what is the use of these vast expanses to us." So said the scholars. [1-14-49]

Verse Locator

एवम् उक्तो नरपतिः ब्राह्मणैः वेद पारगैः ।
गवाम् शत सहस्राणि दश तेभ्यो ददौ नृपः ॥ १-१४-५०
दश कोटि सुवर्णस्य रजतस्य चतुर् गुणम् ।

50, 51a. narapatiH = people's lord; nR^ipaH = that king veda paaragaaH braahmaNaiH = by Vedic scholars, Brahmins; evam uktaH = thus, one who is said so the king; tebhyaH = to them; gavaam dasha shata sahasraaNi = cows, hundred, thousand, ten [ten lakhs i.e., 10,00,000, a million]; suvarNasya = of gold [coins]; dasha kotiH = ten of, ten million; rajatasya chatur guNam = silver [coins,] four, times [of gold coins]; dadau = he gave.

The king Dasharatha, the lord of people, thus requested by the scholarly Vedic Brahmins gave them millions of cows, ten of ten million gold coins, and the silver four times thereof. [1-14-50, 51a]

Silver is prohibited for donation in such rituals, but here it is being given as barter for the lands earlier donated, hence it is an acceptable item.

Verse Locator

ऋत्विजः च ततः सर्वे प्रददुः सहिता वसु ॥ १-१४-५१
ऋष्यशृङ्गाय मुनये वसिष्ठाय च धीमते ।

51b, 52a. tataH ritwijaH sarve sahitaH = then, officiating priests, all, collectively; vasu = that wealth; R^iSyasR^ingaaya munaye vashiSThaaya cha dhiimate = to Rishyasringa, to Sage Vashishta, also, enlightened; pradaduH = they gave.

Then all those officiating priests collectively gave that wealth to sage Rishyasringa and to the enlightened sage Vashishta. [1-14-51b, 52a]

Verse Locator

ततः ते न्यायतः कृत्वा प्रविभागम् द्विजोत्तमाः ॥ १-१४-५२
सुप्रीत मनसः सर्वे प्रत्यूचुः मुदिता भृशम् ।

52b, 53a. tataH = then; su priita manasaH = well, satisfied, at heart; te dwijottamaaH = those, Brahmins, best ones; sarve = all of them; nyaayataH = justifiably; pra vibhaagam kR^itvaa = dividends, on distributing [among themselves]; bhR^isham muditaaH = highly, gladdened [we are]; thus; prati uuchuH = they said.

Then all of those Brahmans are well satisfied at heart and distributed among themselves the wealth passed on by Rishyasringa and Vashishta, and then they said, "We are highly gladdened." [1-14-52a, 53a]

Verse Locator

ततः प्रसर्पकेभ्यस्तु हिरण्यम् सुसमाहितः ॥ १-१४-५३
जांबूनदम् कोओटि संख्यम् ब्राह्मणेभ्यो ददौ तदा ।

53b, 54a. tataH = thereafter; tada = then; susamaahitaH = sincerely [the king]; prasarpakebhyaH braahmaNebhyaH = to those who have come to see the ritual, to Brahmans; koti samkhyam = one crore [ten million,] in number; jaambuunadam = [the gold that has come out] of Jambu river; hiraNyam = coins; dadau = donated.

Then to the other Brahmans who arrived there to see the ritual, King Dasharatha sincerely donated ten million gold coins. [1-14-53b, 54a]

Verse Locator

दरिद्राय द्विजाय अथ हस्त आभरणम् उत्तमम् ॥ १-१४-५४
कस्मै चित् याचमानाय ददौ राघव नंदनः ।

54b, 55a. atha = then; raaghava nandana = Raghava's descendent; yaachamaanaaya kasmaiH daridraaya dwijaaya = one who is beseeching, someone, impoverished, Brahman; uttamam hasta aabharaNam dadau = excellent, hand's, ornament, gave.

That descendent of Raghava dynasty gave an excellent hand ornament to someone who is an impoverished Brahman and who is beseeching. [1-14-54a, 55a]

Verse Locator

ततः प्रीतेषु विधिवत् द्विजेषु द्विज वत्सलः ॥ १-१४-५५
प्रणामम् अकरोत् तेषाम् हर्ष व्याकुलित इन्द्रियः ।

55b, 56a. tataH = then; dwija vatsalaH = Brahmans, patron of Dasharatha; dwijeSu priiteSu satsu = Brahmans, while happy, they are becoming; harSa vyaakula indriyaH = with happiness [coming on,] fluttering, senses; teSaam vidhivat praNaamam akarot = to them, dutifully, veneration, he made.

While those Brahmans are becoming happy then that king and the patron of Brahmans venerated them dutifully with his senses fluttering with happiness. [1-14-55b, 56a]

Verse Locator

तस्य आशिषोऽथ विविधा ब्राह्मणैः समुदाहृताः ॥ १-१४-५६
उदारस्य नृवीरस्य धरण्याम् पतितस्य च ।

56b, 57a. atha = then; udaarasya nR^i viirasya = benevolent, king, valiant one; dharaNyaam patitasya = on ground, who is prostrating; tasya = for him; braahmaNaiH vividhaa aashiSaH sam udiiritaH = by Brahmans, various, blessings, are chanted.

Then that benevolent and valiant King Dasharatha prostrated on ground venerating the Brahmans, and the Brahmans too chanted various blessing hymns on that prostrating king. [1-14-56b, 57a]

The blessings are also Vedic hymns and particular parts of Vedic hymns are chanted for particular occasion called aashiirwachana hymns. To date this practice is continued where a Brahmin priest is commissioned to perform even a domestic ritual. In effect, it shall be construed that these are not the blessings of the Brahmin priests who are chanting, but it is the blessing of Veda itself.

Verse Locator

ततः प्रीत मना रजाअ प्राप्य यज्ञम् अनुत्तमम् ॥ १-१४-५७

पाप अपहम् स्वर नयनम् दुस्तरम् पार्थिवर्षभैः ।

57b, 58a. tataH raajaa = then, king; paapa apaham swar nayanam = sin, removing, to heaven, leading; parthiva rSabhaiH dustaram = by kings, best ones, impossible to undertake; anuttamam yaj~nam = excellent, ritual; praapya = having achieved; priita manaa = gladdened, at heart, [abhavat = he became.]

Then that king is gladdened at heart for the successful achievement of the completion of that excellent ritual that removes sin and that leads to heaven as well, and that which cannot be undertaken by many of the best kings. [1-14-57b, 58a]

Verse Locator

ततोऽब्रवीत् ऋश्यङ्गम् राजा दशरथः तदा ॥ १-१४-५८

कुलस्य वर्धनम् त्वम् तु कर्तुम् अर्हसि सुव्रत ।

58b, 59a. tataH = thereafter; raajaa dasharatha = king, Dasharatha; tadaa = then; R^iSyasR^ingam abraviit = to Rishyasringa, said; su vrata = oh, one with best vows; tvam tu = you, alone; kulasya vardhanam = dynasty's, expansion [oriented ritual]; kartum arhasi = to perform, it is apt of you.

Thereafter king Dasharatha said to sage Rishyasringa thus, "oh, sage with best vows, you alone are eligible to perform the ritual for the expansion of my dynasty." [1-14-58b, 59a]

Verse Locator

तथेति च स राजानम् उवाच द्विजसत्तमः ।

भविष्यन्ति सुता राजन् चत्वारः ते कुलोद्धाः ॥ १-१४-५९

59b, c. dwija sattamaH = Brahmin, the best; tathaa iti = like that only; raajaanam uvaacha = to king, said; raajan = oh, king; te kula udvahaH = your, dynasty, to ennoble; chatvaaraH sutaa bhaviSyanti = four, sons, there will be.

That best Brahman Rishyasringa saying yes to the proposal, said this to king Dasharatha, "oh, king, there will be four sons to you that ennoble your dynasty. [1-14-59b, c]

Verse Locator

स तस्य वाक्यम् मधुरम् निशंय

प्रणयं तस्मै प्रयतो नृपेन्द्र ।

जगाम हर्षम् परमम् महात्मा

तम् ऋष्यश्ङ्गम् पुनरपि उवाच ॥ १-१४-६०

60. tasya vaakyam madhuram nishamya = he [the king,] his [Sage's,] words, sweet ones, on hearing; saH nR^ip indra = he, that king, of kings; jagaama harSam paramam mahaatmaa = went into, gladness, very much, great-souled; praNamya tasmai prayataH = venerating, to him, again; tam R^iSyashR^i~Ngam punaH api uvaacha = to him, to Rishyasringa, again said.

On hearing the sweet words of Sage Rishyasringa, he that king of kings Dasharatha went into a state of ecstasy and venerating that great soul, Rishyasringa, again said this to him. [1-14-60]

yajna - the Vedic Ritual

Vedic yajna-s are the rituals of many kinds. Mainly there are 21 types of these yajna-s, 1] sapta paaka yajna-s are 7; 2] sapta havir yajna-s are 7; 3] sapta soma yajna-s are 7. Apart from these rituals, there are rituals for the overall development of society at large, called abhyudaya yajna-s and under them categorized are: 1] ashvanmedha, 2] raajasuuya, 3] paunDariiika, 4] BR^ihaspati sava, and some more are there. These grand scale rituals require a great patronage and support, not only of money but also of a variety of paraphernalia that go into the ritual. Hence only kings and emperors of yester years could conduct them.

The yaaga shaala The Hall of Vedic ritual will be erected with platforms containing areas 1] yuupa stambha-s wooden posts to which the animals are tied. There will be 21 such posts, staked in the Vedic ritual hall, along with a half post staked near at the main altar; 2] uttara vedi, posterior platform; 3] dasha pada, platform for scholars; 4] havirdhaana, place for oblatory paraphernalia; 5] sadas, place for assemblages; 6] agnihotra shaala, place of sacrificial fire; 7] vedi, main Altar of Fire; 8] patnii shaala, place for the wife / wives of the performer and other females. The main activity of the ritual is around the vedi, the 7th item as above, where a garuDa vedi, an Eagle shaped Alter of Fire will be constructed with bricks, where the brick laying and paving itself is a ritual, called iSTikaa chayana . Into this yajna vedi, Altar of Fire, all the oblations are poured.

The Hindu temples will be built in accordance with the layout of yajna shaala, since the daily puuja, at home or in a temple, is a micro-yajna, equable to Vedic Ritual itself. The layout of the temple is comparable to the above layout of yajna shaala .

1] dhavaja sthambha, flag post; 2] bali griha, sacrificial house; 3] bali piiTtha sacrificial platform, where usually the fruits, coconuts, prasada, food items etc., are presented to the deity firstly, before the devotee partakes them, as a kind of sacrifice; 4] havirdhana, preparatory places for havis, the food for sacrifice, usually in north-east or south-west corners; 5] mandapa open hall, where Vedic recitations are chanted; 6] garbha griha, sanctum sanctorum, in this there are two places one is, 7] pratishtha, the place where the picturesque idol is installed, and the other, 8] shakti sthaana, where the power of the installed deity will be installed, in the form of an yantra, a geometrical layout or other form. [For more information, please turn to The cultural Heritage of India, Vol IV, Religion.]

The next epitome of yajna, is human body. It is said that deho devalayaH proktaH 'human body itself is a temple...' The above places of Ritual Hall or a Temple are located on body as this: 1] sthuupi [kalasha], the top most golden pot of flagpoist of temple; 2] mahaa nashi the right nostril and kshudra nasi, left nostril; 3] shikhara, temple tower; 4] ghaTa, neck like structure; 5] prastaaram, shoulder like structure of temple; 6] paada, trunk of temple; 7] adhiSTaana, elevation; 8] upa piiTha, secondary seating. This is compared with human body as: Item 1] to human pate with hair-locks; 2] eye - on right and nose on left [for humans have one-eyed vision of God, where God is Omniscient; 3] face; 4] neck; 5] shoulders; 6] arms; 7] leg and thigh; 8] foot.

'A temple is not a home of god but it is the form of god... the temple layout is the extended form of the rhythm of the innerspace of humans, called dahara aakaasha similar to cosmos of the universe...' [cf. What is a temple? What is its significance? Ganapathi Sthapati, Vaastu Vedic Research Foundation, Chennai, India.] Thus human body itself is identified with the temple, and the temple in turn with Vedic yajna shaala , and therefore it is said to keep the body clean and mind pure... which again is a Vedic import.

The grand scale yajna-s as described in these epics like Ramayana and Maha Bharata are non-existent. But in recent times, such types of yajna-s were conducted on two occasions, once in 1975 and again in 1990. Here are some excerpts from The Indian Express, daily newspaper, published during May 1990: 'Prof. Frits Staal, with financial assistance from several American funding agencies including the Smithsonian Institute and the Rockefeller Foundation, organized the agni chayana ritual in 1975. In spite of innumerable hurdles, Staal succeeded in persuading the elderly nambudri-s [scholarly priests of Vedic lore] to put together a team of ritualists old and young, give them through training, hold rehearsals for several months and finally put up performance for filming and documentation. Staal followed this up with the publication of his book called Agni ...'

Readers who are interested to know more about yajna, the Vedic ritual, may please look for the works of Prof. Frits Staal, Indologist, at whose instance such rituals were conducted in Southern India. The two-volume book of Prof. Frits Staal: AGNI: The Vedic Ritual of the Fire Altar, running over some two thousand pages. Another book is The Mantra, which is an attempt to analyse the Vedic Hymns, published by State University of New York Press, State University Plaza, Albany, N.Y., 12246, also now available with Indian Book Centre, Delhi

According to Staal, a Vedic ritual is very different from a health cure, a psychoanalyst session, an anthropological meeting or a religious service. Staal maintains that a Vedic ritual follows its own principles and leads a life of its own. He points out that a Vedic ritual requires very detailed and specific knowledge. He estimates that the extent of specialised knowledge needed to put the sacrificial altar together ritually is on a par with the extent of technical knowledge required to build an aeroplane. 'The bird shaped altar is in fact a kind of aeroplane...' says Stall 'only it takes off in a different way...' Scientific evaluations were also made on the changes occurred on physical and metaphysical levels on the individuals who performed the ritual, by experts from Canada and in association with Prague Institute of Czechoslovakia. Kirlion photography was also undertook by Mrs. Rose Mary Steel from London to record aura or the Electro-magnetic radiation around the human organism and hundreds of pictures of not only the performers but also of the visiting people and of their finger tips are recorded.

Usually at the end of any Vedic ritual the Hall of Ritual, a thatched shed, will be put to fire. This called puurNa aahuti, complete oblation into fire. And then a rain occurs. It used to rain every time when the ritual is totally offered as an oblation into fire at the conclusion of such a ritual. 'The association between the yajna and rain is indelible. Did it rain on [the day of puurNa aahuti] i.e., May 9, 1990? It did...' The Illustrated Weekly of India, May 27, 1990.

इति वाल्मीकि रामायणे आदिकाव्ये बाल काण्डे चतुर्दशः सर्गः ॥

Thus, this is the 14th chapter in Bala Kanda of Valmiki Ramayana, the First Epic poem of India.

Book I : Bala Kanda - The Youthful Majesties
Verses converted to UTF_8 Sept, 09

Chapter [Sarga] 15

Introduction

King Dasharatha commences the putrakaameSTi ritual aiming to beget progeny, under the aegis of Sage Rishyasringa. The celestial beings gather to receive the oblations offered in the Horse Ritual conducted by King Dasharatha. They are perturbed at the atrocities of Ravana, and request Brahma to think for a way to eliminate Ravana. Vishnu arrives there and pacifies Brahma and other celestials with an assurance that he will incarnate as human to eliminate Ravana.

Verse Locator

मेधावी तु ततो ध्यात्वा स किञ्चित् इदम् उत्तरम् ।
लब्ध सङ्गः ततः तम् तु वेदज्ञो नृपम् अब्रवीत् ॥ १-१५-१

1. tataH = then; medhaavii vedaj~naH = intellectual one Veda proficient in; saH = Rishyasringa; kimchit dhyaatvaa = a little, on thinking; tataH labdha sanj~naH = then, gaining, indication; tam nR^ipam abraviit = to him, to King, said.

That intellectual sage and one proficient in Veda-s Rishyasringa contemplated for a while, and gaining indications as to which ritual is to be performed, then said the king. [1-15-1]

Verse Locator

इष्टिम् तेऽहम् करिष्यामि पुत्रीयाम् पुत्र कारणात् ।
अथर्व सिरसि प्रोक्तैः मन्त्रैः सिद्धाम् विधानतः ॥ १-१५-२

2. aham te putra kaaraNaat = I, to you [for your benefit,] for sons, for the reason [to beget]; adharva shirasi proktaiaH = adharva Veda's, preamble, said in [contained in]; mantraiH siddhaam = with hymns [of that Veda,] available; putriiyaam = one that bestows sons [called putrakaameSTi,] for begetting sons; iSTim vidhaanataH kariSyaami = ritual, procedurally, I will conduct.

"I will procedurally conduct the ritual contained in the preamble of adharva-veda with procedural hymns, called <>putra kaameSTi i.e., the ritual that bestows sons, for your benefit." [1-15-2]

Verse Locator

ततः प्राक्रमत् इदम् इष्टिम् ताम् पुत्रीयाम् पुत्र कारणात् ।
जुहाव अग्नौ च तेजस्वी मन्त्र दृष्टेन कर्मणा ॥ १-१५-३

3. tataH = then; putra kaaraNaat = sons, for purpose of begetting; putriiyaam idam iSTim taam = son giving ritual, that one; praakramat = commenced; tejasvii = resplendent sage; mantra dR^iSTena karmaNaa = hymn-contained, with ritual-acts; agnou juhaava cha = in fire, obliterated, also.

Then that resplendent Sage Rishyasringa commenced that putrakaameSTi ritual, offering oblations into sacred fire with ritual acts meticulously contained in hymns. [1-15-3]

Verse Locator

ततो देवाः स गन्धर्वाः सिद्धाः च परम ऋषयः ।
भाग प्रतिग्रहार्थम् वै समवेता यथाविधि ॥ १-१५-४

4. tataH = then; sa gandharvaaH = with, celestials; devaaH siddhaaH cha parama R^iSayaH = then, deities, siddha-s, also, esteemed, saints; bhaaga pari grahaNaartham vai = their due [of oblations,] to receive, verily; samavetaa yathaa vidhi = assembled, as per, duty.

Then the deities along with celestial beings, siddha-s, i.e., the souls that obtained salvation, and also other esteemed sages who by now are the residents of Heavens have duteously assembled in the firmament to receive their part of the oblations. [1-15-4]

These celestial beings having attained salvation and living in their heavenly abodes do not re-enter these mortal worlds. They assemble in their cosmic zone, up above the Fire Altar of the Vedic ritual whenever a yajna is conducted on earth, to receive oblations.

Verse Locator

ताः समेत्य यथा न्यायम् तस्मिन् सदसि देवताः ।
अब्रुवन् लोक कर्तारम् ब्रह्माणम् वचनम् ततः ॥ १-१५-५

5. taaH devataaH = those, gods; yathaa nyaayam = as per, procedure; tasmin sadasi = in that, congregation; sametya = coming together; loka kartaaram = to worlds', creator; brahmaNam = to Brahma; vachanam abruvan = words, said.

Those deities who procedurally assembled there in that congregation then spoke to Brahma, the creator of worlds. [1-15-5]

Verse Locator

भगवन् त्वत् प्रसादेन रावणो नाम राक्षसः ।
सर्वान् नो बाधते वीर्यात् शासितुम् तम् न शक्नुमः ॥ १-१५-६

6. bhagavan = oh, god; raavanaH naama raakshasaH = Ravana, named, demon; tvat prasaadena = with your, blessings - as you have blessed him; viiryaat = by his intrepidity; naH sarvaan baadhate = us, all, is torturing; tam shaashitum na shaknumaH = him, to control, we are not, able to.

"Oh! God, the demon named Ravana is torturing all of us with his intrepidity, as you have blessed him, and we are unable to control him. [1-15-6]

Verse Locator

त्वया तस्मै वरो दत्तः प्रीतेन भगवन् तदा ।
मानयन्तः च तम् नित्यम् सर्वम् तस्य क्षमामहे ॥ १-१५-७

7. bhagavaan = Oh, god; priitena tvayaa = appreciating [his asceticism,] by you; tasmaiH varaH dattaH = to him - Ravana, boons, given by you; tam = that boon of yours; maanayantaH = keeping high regard for it; tadaa nityam = from then, always; tasya sarvam kshamaamahe = all [his cruel acts,] of his [Ravana,] we are tolerating.

"You have given boon to him appreciating his asceticism and oh, god, with high regard to that boon of yours we are tolerating all the cruel acts of Ravana from then onwards [1-15-7]

Hindu mythology has no devils, but has only raakshasa -s, who can hardly be called demons, either. Not all the raakshasa-s are evil-doers. Some of the raakshasa-s are the fallen angels who take birth as mortals. They have their Vedic education, and they perform Vedic rituals and penance etc., thereby they get the patronage of any one of the gods among the Hindu Trinity, viz., Brahma, Vishnu, and Shiva. On attaining the cherished boons, they suddenly revolt against their own patron deities and commence the atrocities only to conquer the Heavens, knowing well that they cannot be attained with a mortal body. In order to snub the upsurge of such violence or the unnatural ascension to Heaven, the deity who gave the boons seeks the help of any of the other two of the Trinity. Then one from the Trinity will take birth as mortal, as an incarnation of god on earth. Usually Vishnu incarnates himself to eradicate the evils created by the intrepid raakshasa-s.

Here the celestials bring in a preamble for Vishnu's incarnation as Rama and thus the topic of Ravana occurs in this chapter of Ramayana. Ravana need not be taken as an evil spirit, devil, hobgoblin or a monstrous being. He is said to be a Brahman well versed in all Vedas, musicologist, and a great king of Lanka, with unlimited riches, and very many of his clansmen with their vast dominions, and what not. Though Brahma and Shiva bless Ravana with boons, Ravana flouts all the norms in conquering Heavens in which course he did not hesitate to torture anyone who becomes his personal hurdle or hindrance. Hence it is inevitable for the Trinity to curb Ravana's atrocities, and Vishnu will now be requested by all the deities to incarnate himself on earth. As such, the expression of the word "DEMON" may not always be taken as an ugly and monstrous looking devil or Satan, as per the usual religious conceptualisation of evil.

In Hinduism evil is not a separate entity from humans, but available in the same personification and resides along with virtue, like the two sides of a coin. These raakshasa-s are also mortals, extraordinary beings with extraordinary powers like god incarnates. But, with wickedness in their will, monstrosity in mind and a conqueror's ambition in their heart, they are rendered themselves as demons.

Verse Locator

उद्वेजयति लोकान् त्रीन् उच्छ्रितान् द्वेष्टि दुर्मतिः ।
शक्रम् त्रिदश राजानम् प्रधर्षयितुम् इच्छति ॥ १-१५-८

8. dur mati = that evil, minded one - malevolent; triin lokaan udvejayati = three, worlds, he is tormenting; ucChritaAn dveSTi = functionary deities of cosmos, he is hating; tridasha raajaanam shakram pradharSayitum icChati = celestial's, king of, Indra, to assail, desires to.

"That malevolent Ravana is tormenting all the three worlds, hating the functionary deities of cosmos, and always desires to assail Indra, the king of all the functionary deities of universe. [1-15-8]

There are eight functionary gods for cosmos in Hindu mytholoj~n that keep the cycle of natural law going. Each one is assigned with each of the eight sides of the universe along with a natural function. They are: 1] Indra, Heaven : East, 2] agni Fire-god : southeast, 3] yama Death-god : South, 4] naiR^iti Demon-god : southwest, 5] varuNa Rain-god : west, 6] vaayu Air-god : Northwest, 7] kubera god of wealth management : North, 8] iieshaana god of bliss : Northeast. The governance of all these deities is Indra's function, since he is the presiding deity of Heaven.

Verse Locator

ऋषीन् यक्षान् स गन्धर्वान् असुरान् ब्राह्मणान् तथा ।
अतिक्रामति दुर्धर्षो वर दानेन मोहितः ॥ १-१५-९

9. durdharsha = invincible one; vara daanena mohitaH = by boon, given [by you,] becoming self-conceited he; R^ishiin yakshaan sa gandharvaan asuraan = sages, yaksha-celestials, with, gandharva-celestials, demons; tathaa braahmaNaan = like that, Brahmins are also; atikraamati = overbearingly [torturing.]

"That invincible one is further self-conceited by the boons you have accorded, and he is overbearingly torturing the sages, celestial beings like yaksha-s, gandharva-s, asura-s, and like that even the Brahmins. [1-15-9]

The sura and a-sura nomenclature is the one that is commonly found in Vedic literature. sura is a celestial being and asura is its antonym, usually referred as a demon. Here it is not so because there are many asura-s who made their abode in heaven, like Rahu, Ketu, and others who attain salvation in this mortal life. Even Ravana came from Heaven, and returns there only at the end of the war with Rama. Thus a-sura-s are not earthly demons but celestial beings of a kind like other demi-gods, namely yaksha, gandharva, kinnara, kimpurusha etc.

नैनम् सूर्यः प्रतपति पार्श्वे वाति न मारुतः ।

चलोर्मिमाली तम् दृष्ट्वा समुद्रोऽपि न कंपते ॥ १-१५-१०

10. enam suuryaH na pratapati = him, sun, will not, parch; maaruthaH parshve na vaati = Air-god, at his sides, will not, puff; chala uurmi maali = undulating, waves', husband; samudraH api = ocean, even; tam dR^istvaa na kampate = him [Ravana,] on seeing, will not, pulsate.

"The Sun-god will not verily parch Ravana, the Air-god will not puff at his sides, and on seeing Ravana, the lord of the undulating waves, namely the ocean will not pulsate either. [1-15-10]

And ocean hides those undulating waves from Ravana for the waves are his wives whom Ravana may abduct as in the case of Seetha.

Verse Locator

तन् महन्नो भयम् तस्मात् राक्षसात् घोर दर्शनात् ।

वधार्थम् तस्य भगवन् उपायम् कर्तुम् अर्हसि ॥ १-१५-११

11. tat = by that reason; ghora darshanaat tasmaat raakshasaat = one awesome, for sight, from that, demon; naH mahat bhayam = to us, great, panic; bhagavan = oh, god; tasya vadha artham = for his, elimination, for purpose of; upaayam kartum arhasi = idea, to make, apt of you.

"Thereby, there is a great panic for all of us from that demon with an awesome look, hence oh, god, it will be apt of you to give a thought for his elimination. [1-15-11]

Verse Locator

एवम् उक्तः सुरैः सर्वैः चिन्तयित्वा ततोऽब्रवीत् ।

हन्ता अयम् विदितः तस्य वधोपायो दुरात्मनः ॥ १-१५-१२

12. sarvaiH suraiH evam uktaH = by all, gods, this way, one who is spoken, Brahma; chintayitvaa tataH abraviiit = on thinking, then, said; tasya dura aatmanaH = that, evil minded one's; ayam vadha upaaya = this is the, elimination, idea for; viditaH hanta = known, aha.

When all the deities spoke to Brahma thus, he thought for a while and then said "Aha! The idea to kill that evil-minded Ravana is discerned. [1-15-12]

Verse Locator

तेन गन्धर्व यक्षाणाम् देवतानाम् च रक्षसाम् ।

अवध्योऽस्मि इति वागुक्ता तथेति उक्तम् च तन् मया ॥ १-१५-१३

13. tena = by him [Ravana]; gandhava yakshaanaam = for gandharva-s and for yaksha-s; devataanam ca raakshasaam = by gods, also, by other demons; a vadhya asmi iti = not, killable, I shall be, thus; vaak uktaa = words, were uttered [by Ravana]; mayaa cha tat thata iti uktam = by me, also, that, that way, thus, said.

"Ravana said while seeking boon that, 'I shall not be killed by gandharva-s, yaksha-s, or by gods, or by other demons...' and I also said 'so be it...' [1-15-13]

Verse Locator

न अकीर्तयत् अवज्ञानात् तत् रक्षो मानुषाम् तदा ।

तस्मात् स मानुषात् वध्यो मृत्युः न अन्योऽस्य विद्यते ॥ १-१५-१४

14. tat rakshaH = that, demon; ava j~nanaat = with disrespect; tataH = then; maanushaanm na akiirtayat = about humans, not, articulated; tasmaat = therefore; saH maanuSaat vadhyaH = he, by human, can be killed; [asya = his] mR^ityuH na anyaH vidyate = death, not, otherwise, evident.

"That demon did not express about humans then with his disrespect to them, and evidently his death does not occur otherwise." So said Brahma to gods. [1-15-14]

Verse Locator

एतत् श्रुत्वा प्रियम् वाक्यम् ब्रह्मणा समुदाहृतम् ।
देवा महर्षयः सर्वे प्रहृष्टाः ते अभवन् तदा ॥१-१५-१५॥

15. brahmaNaa sam udaahR^itam = by Brahma, well, explained; etat priyam vaakyam = this, pleasant, word; shrutvaa = having heard; tataH = then; te devaaH maha R^iSayaH = those, gods, great sages; sarve prahR^iSTaa abhavan = all, delighted, became.

On hearing Brahma's explaining himself, then all those gods and great sages became adequately happy. [1-15-15]

Verse Locator

एतस्मिन् अनन्तरे विष्णुः उपयातो महाद्युतिः ।
शङ्ख चक्र गदा पाणिः पीत वासा जगत्पतिः ॥ १-१५-१६॥
वैनतेयम् समारूढ्य भास्कर तोयदम् यथा ।
तप्त हाटक केयूरो वन्द्यमानः सुरोत्तमैः ॥ १-१५-१७॥

16, 17. etasmin anantare = in the mean while; mahaa dyutiH = great, resplendent god; sankha = [with] conch; chakra = disc; gada = mace; paaaNiH = in his [four] hands; piita vaasaa = [with] yellow, robes; jagat patiH = Universe, Lord of; vainateyam samaaruuhya = Lady Vinata's son, Garuda, mounted on; bhaaskara toya dam yathaa = Sun, on water giver [sun on black cloud,] like; tapta haaTaka keyuuraH = burnt [refined,] gold, bracelets; vandyamaanaH sura uttamaiH = while eulogised, by gods, the best; vishNuH = Vishnu; upayaataH = arrived.

In the meanwhile the great resplendent Vishnu, the Lord of the Universe, arrived there mounted on his Eagle-vehicle Garuda, handling conch-shell, disc, and mace in his three of four hands, clad in yellow-ochre robes, wearing golden bracelets, and while best gods eulogised him, and his arrival there is like the arrival of sun mounted on black cloud to accord the gratuitous gift called the rain. [1-15-16, 17]

Vishnu is a four handed deity. He handles a Divine Lotus suggesting that he is the creator sR^iSTi karta. An ever-cycling disc called sudarshana chakra is handled symbolising his ever-lasting dynamism. He is the maintainer of that continuous dynamism of already created Universe sthithi karta. A mace called kaumodakii for bludgeoning enemies as he is the eradicator of evil samhaara karta, and a conch-shell called paanchajanya which produces the sound of Om, listening to which salvation, mukti, is achieved by the true devotee. The sound of the same conch shell gives out an unbearable sound in respect of enemies. He is entered here without a lotus in hand. That means there is no need for a creation afresh. The other items he is handling are enough to deal with Ravana. If the Lotus is not handled that hand is taken as a blessing hand, abhaya hasta. And now he is giving that a + bhaya no fear, an assurance, to all gods.

The expression that Vishnu has come on his eagle-vehicle has a cross-reference to the previous chapter's garuDa yajna vedi, Eagle-shaped Altar of Fire that is laid by priests of Dasharatha. It will be laid so with assumption that Garuda, also called suparNa, the Divine Eagle will fly in to transport oblations. The Vedic ritual is also called su parNa, the golden winged, or great winged vehicle to conduct oblations. And the eagle-vehicle of Vishnu is the quickest carrier of oblations to the deities specified in Vedic hymn. Here this Garuda has already carried the oblations offered by King Dasharatha to the chanting of Vedic hymns by Sage Rishyasringa to Vishnu. So Vishnu is now coming mounted on the same meritorious carrier, namely Garuda. Secondly the simile of Sun's coming mounted on a black cloud has some thing to do with yajna. A silver cloud is no value in giving rains. The rain has got an inseparable combination with Vedic ritual. Since the ritual of Dasharatha is going to fructify the rainfall is due on earth. Hence, the sun on collecting all the merits called the rituals of Dasharatha, in the form waters is coming riding on a black cloud to shower rains. Hence Vishnu and Sun both are ready now shower their graces. Vishnu will shower grace by eradicating the evil called Ravana, and the sun by showering the gratuitous and cooling rains.

Verse Locator

ब्रह्मणा च समागंय तत्र तस्थौ समाहितः ।
तम् अब्रुवन् सुराः सर्वे समभिष्टूय संनताः ॥ १-१५-१८

18. brahmaNaa samaagamyaa = with Brahma, having met; tatra tasthau samaahitaH = there, he stood, contemplating; suraaH sarve sannataaH = gods, all, bowing down; tam samabhiSTuuya abruvan = him, on offering prayers, said to him.

Vishnu having met Brahma stood there contemplating, and then all of the gods on bowing down and offering prayers addressed Vishnu. [1-15-18]

Verse Locator

त्वाम् नियोक्ष्यामहे विष्णो लोकानाम् हित कांयया ।
राज्ञो दशरथस्य त्वम् अयोध्य अधिपतेः विभोः ॥ १-१५-१९
धर्मज्ञस्य वदान्यस्य महर्षि सम तेजसः ।
अस्य भार्यासु तिसृषु ह्री श्री कीर्ति उपमासु च ॥ १-१५-२०
विष्णो पुत्रत्वम् आगच्छ कृत्वा आत्मानम् चतुर्विधम् ।

19, 20, 21a. viSNo = oh, Vishnu; lokaanaam hita kaamyaya = in all worlds, prosperity, desiring; tvaam niyokshyaamahe = you, we nominate; viSNo = oh, Vishnu; tvam ayodhya adhipatiH vibhoH = you, to Ayodhya's, ruler, lord of; dharmaj~nasya vadaanyasya = of that virtuous one, renowned one; maharSi sama tejasaH = sage, equalling, in resplendence; asya dasarathasya raaj~naH = such a, Dasharatha's, the king; hrii = virtue; srii = affluence; kiirti = glory; upamaasu = having similitude with; tri sR^iSu = in three of them; bhaaryaasu = in his wives; aatmaanam chatur vidham kR^itvaa = yourself, four, fold, on making [on transforming yourself]; putratvam aagacCha = childhood [take birth,] you get.

"Oh! Vishnu, desiring prosperity in all the worlds we nominate you to become the son of the ruler and lord of Ayodhya, namely Dasharatha, who is a virtuous one, renowned one and one whose resplendence equals that of the sages, and oh, Vishnu, through the wives of such a king Dasharatha, who are in similitude with the hrii, the virtue, shrii, the affluence, and kiirti, the glory, you have a fourfold transformation and take birth as their son. [1-15-19, 20, 21a]

These three hrii, shrii, kiirti are the daughters of Daksha Prajapati in their earlier births. The hrii is hR^illekha, virtuous disposition - which Queen Kausalya has, and who begot Rama. The shrii is shriikaara, the affluence of everything, which Queen Sumitra has, by which alone she magnificently and unhesitatingly advises her son Lakshmana to go along with Rama to woods. And the third, kiirti, the glory, and the glory of Kaika is well known. The position of this epic minus Kaika can be imagined, thereby her glory, may it be negative, that may be imagined.

Verse Locator

तत्र त्वम् मानुषो भूत्वा प्रवृद्धम् लोक कण्टकम् ॥ १-१५-२१
अवध्यम् दैवतैः विष्णो समरे जहि रावणम् ।

21b, 22a. viSNo = oh, Vishnu; tvam = you; tatra = in them [the wombs of queens]; maanuSaH bhuutva = as human, on becoming, taking birth; pravR^iddham = who is exacerbating; loka kanTakam = to worlds, one who is thorny; daivataiH a+ vdhyam = by gods, not, killable one; ravaNam samare jahi = Ravana, in war, be killed.

"Oh! Vishnu, on your taking birth as human through the wives of Dasharatha you eliminate Ravana in war, who has become exacerbating and thorny to all worlds, and who is otherwise not

स हि देवान् स गन्धर्वान् सिद्धान् च ऋषि सत्तमान् ॥ १-१५-२२
राक्षसो रावणो मूर्खो वीर्य उद्रेकेण बाधते ।

22b, 23a. saH muurkhaH raakshasaH = he, preposterous, demon; Ravana; devaan = gods; sa gandharvaan siddhaam cha R^iSi sattamaan = with, gandharva celestials, souls of salvation, hermits, eminent ones; viirya udrekeNa baadhate = with his invigorated doggedness, torturing.

"He that preposterous demon Ravana with his invigorated doggedness is torturing gods along with eminent saints, gandharva-s, and siddha-s. [1-15-22b, 23a]

ऋषयः च ततः तेन गन्धर्वा अप्सरसः तथा ॥ १-१५-२३
क्रीडयन्तो नन्दन वने रैउद्रेण विनिपातिताः ।

23b, 24a. tataH = by his insolence; tena raudreNa = by him, the furious one; R^iSayaH cha = sages, also; tathaa = like that; nandana vane kriiDantaH = in Nandana, gardens[Heavenly gardens,] those that are delighting; gandharvaa apsaraaH = gandharva-s, apsara-s; vinipatitaH [vi ni paatitaH] completely, down, thrown] = are knocked down [from heavens.]

"He that furious one with his insolence is knocking down sages from their celestial abodes, and like that he is knocking down the gandharva-s and apsara celestials too from the heavenly gardens Nandana, where they will be taking delight. [1-15-23b, 24a]

वधार्थम् वयम् आयाताः तस्य वै मुनिभिः सह ॥ १-१५-२४
सिद्ध गन्धर्व यक्षाः च ततः त्वाम् श्ररणम् गताः ।

24b, 25a. vayam = we; siddha gandharva yakshaaH = siddha-s, gandharva-s, yaksha-s - the celestial beings; saha munibhiH = with, sages; tasya vadha artham aayaataaH vai = for his, elimination, for purpose of, we have come, actually; tataH tvaam sharanam gataaH = thereby, [we all] in you, shelter, we have gone in.

"We the celestial beings like siddha-s, gandharva-s, yaksha-s along with sages have actually come for his elimination, and thereby we seek shelter in you. [1-15-24b, 25a]

त्वम् गतिः परमा देव सर्वेषाम् नः परंतपः ॥ १-१५-२५
वधाय देव शत्रूणाम् नृणाम् लोके मनः कुरु ।

25b, 26a. param tapaH = oh, others [enemies], tormentor; deva = oh, Vishnu; tvam naH parama gatiH = you are, our, ultimate, course; deva shatR^iNaam vdhaaya = divinity's, enemies, to eliminate; nR^iNaam loke = in human's, world; manaH kuru = mind, make [give a thought.]

"Oh, enemy tormentor, oh, Vishnu, you are the ultimate recourse for all us in eliminating enemies of divinity, hence you make up your mind to take birth in human world." The gods appealed to Vishnu that way. [1-15-25b, 26a]

एवम् स्तुतस्तु देवेशो विष्णुः त्रिदशः पुंगवः ॥ १-१५-२६

पितामह पुरोगान् तान् सर्व लोक नमस्कृतः

अब्रवीत् त्रिदशान् सर्वान् समेतान् धर्म संहितान् ॥ १-१५-२७

26b, 27. tridasha pungavaH = among divinities, the Supreme one; sarva loka namaskR^itaH = by all, worlds, revered one; deva iishaH = gods', god of; viSnuH = Vishnu; evam stutastu = this way, when eulogised; sametaan = to those that are in assemblage; dharma samhitaan = in righteousness, abiding ones; pitaa maha purogaan = Forefather Brahma, keeping ahead - at helm of affairs; taan sarvaan tridashaan abraviit = them, all, celestials, spoke to.

When the god of gods Vishnu, the supreme one among deities, one who is revered by all worlds is eulogised this way, then he spoke to all of those celestials that abide in the righteousness and that are in the assemblage, keeping the Forefather Brahma at their helm. [1-15-26a, 27]

Verse Locator

भयम् त्यजत भद्रम् वो हितार्थम् युधि रावणम् ।

स पुत्र पौत्रम् स अमात्यम् स मित्र ज्ञाति बान्धवम् ॥ १-१५-२८

हत्वा क्रूरम् दुराधर्षम् देव ऋषीणाम् भयावहम् ।

दश वर्ष सहस्राणि दश वर्ष शतानि च ॥ १-१५-२९

वत्स्यामि मानुषे लोके पालयन् पृथ्वीम् इमाम् ।

28, 29, 30a. bhayam tyajata = fear, get rid off; bhadram vaH = safety, be upon you; vaH hitaartham = your, for welfare's sake; sa putra poutram = along with his, sons, grandsons; sa amaatyam = along with, his ministers; sa mitra j~naati baandhavaan = along with, his friends, cousins, and relatives; kruuram duraatmaanam = cruel, evil minded one; deva R^iSiiNaam bhayaavaham = for deities, and sages, dreadful one; raavaNam yudhi hatvaa = Ravana, in war, on eliminating; imam pR^itviim paalayan = this, earth, while ruling; dasa varsha shasraaNi = ten, years, thousand; dasa varsha shataani cha = ten, years, hundred, also; maanuSe loke vatsyaami = in human, world, I will reside.

"Get rid off the fear, let safety be upon you, on eliminating that cruel and evil-minded Ravana who became dreadful to deities and sages, along with his sons, grandsons, friends, cousins and relatives, ministers and forces too in war for your welfare, I will then reside in human world ruling this earth for eleven thousand years." Thus Vishnu assured the gods. [1-15-28, 29, 30a]

Verse Locator

एवम् दत्त्वा वरम् देवो देवानाम् विष्णुः आत्मवान् ॥ १-१५-३०

मानुषे चिन्तयामास जन्मभूमिम् अथ आत्मनः ।

30b, 31a. aatmavaan viSnuH devaH = kind-hearted, Vishnu, the god; devaanaam evam varam datvaa = to gods, this way, boon, on giving; atha aatmanaH maanuSe = then, for himself, in human [world]; janma bhuumim chintayaamaasa = birth, base [instituting point,] started to think of.

On giving boon to all gods in that way the kind-hearted god Vishnu started to think about the instituting base for his birth in human world. [1-15-30b, 31a]

Verse Locator

ततः पद्म पलाशाक्षः कृत्वा आत्मानम् चतुर्विधम् ॥ १-१५-३१

पितरम् रोचयामास तदा दशरथम् नृपम् ।

31b, 32a. tataH = afterwards; padma palaasa akshaH = lotus, petal, eyed one [Vishnu]; tadaa = then; aatmaanam chatur vidham kR^itvaa = himself, into four-fold, on making [agreeing to make]; dasharatham nR^ipam = Dasharatha, King; pitaram rochayaamaasa = as his father, predisposed to select.

And then that lotus-petal-eyed one agreeing to manifest himself in fourfold way is predisposed towards Dasharatha to be his father. [1-15-31b, 32a]

There is a great lot of discussion whether Vishnu made himself fourfold as Rama, Lakshmana, Bharata an Shatrughna, or he himself incarnated along with his main ingredients like conch shell, disc, mace as those three brothers. This verse says that he 'made himself, or agreed to make himself as fourfold.' Even then, there are discussions that Rama is a 'full incarnation' puurNa avataara as the Supreme is indivisible - on one account. And his brothers cannot be reckoned as his incarnation as they become parts of the whole but not the 'whole' itself he did not divide himself on the other account. And the tradition believes that Vishnu did not divide himself but incarnated in one piece, where his brothers are his paraphernalia. There is no unanimity on this, as yet.

Verse Locator

तदा देव ऋषि गन्धर्वाः स रुद्राः स अप्सरो गणाः ।
स्तुतिभिः दिव्य रूपाभिः तुष्टुवुः मधुसूदनम् ॥ १-१५-३२

32b, c. tadaa = then; devaaH = gods; R^iSi gandharvaaH sa rudraaH sa apsarasaH ganaaH = with sages, with gandharva-s, with rudra-s, apsara-s, groups of; divya ruupaabhiH stutibhiH = divine, in form [in exposition,] with prayers; madhu suudanam = Madhu [the demon,] killer of Vishnu is; tuSTuvuH = extolled.

Then all the groups of gods, sages, gandharva-s, with rudra-s, and apsarasa-s, extolled Vishnu with prayers of divine exposition. [1-15-32b, c]

Vishnu in early times killed a ghastly demon called Madhu and his brother Kaitabha, hence He is also called Madhusuudana. This is one the thousand names of Vishnu.

Verse Locator

तम् उद्धतम् रावणम् उग्र तेजसम्
प्रवृद्ध दर्पम् त्रिदशेश्वर वर द्विषम् ।
विरावणम् साधु तपस्वि कण्टकम्
तपस्विनाम् उद्धर तम् भयावहम् ॥ १-१५-३३

33. tam = that particular one - who is renowned for evil acts - Ravana; uddhatam = an egoist; ugra tejasam = furiously, fiery one; pra vR^iddha darpam = one with heightened, arrogance; tridasha iiswara dviSam = gods, lord - Indra, hater of; vi+raavaNam = [one who makes everyone to] high, wails; tapasvi kanTakam = to sages, a thorn in sides; as such; tapasvinaam bhayaavaham = for hermits, he who is a fright; tam raavaNam saadhu uddhara = such as he is - him, that Ravana, eliminate [give final emancipation, deliver him from curse] .

"Oh! Vishnu, he that fiery one who is renowned for evil acts and who is the hater of Indra, that Ravana is uprising furiously with his heightened arrogance, and he has become a thorn in the side of hermits hence he is a fright to sages, afor he tortured insubordinates to the the extent of loud wailing; hence we pray you to eliminate that Ravana." [1-15-33]

Verse Locator

तमेव हत्वा स बलम् स बान्धवम्
विरावणम् रावणम् उग्र पौरुषम् ।

34. sa balam sa baandhavam = with all his forces, with all his kinsmen; vi raavaNam [kR^itvaa] = without, pandemonium [on making worlds]; ugra pauruSam = furiously, vainglorious; tam raavaNam eva hatvaa = him, Ravana, thus, having killed; chiram = for a long time to come; gata jwara = rid of, febrility; sura indra guptam = for gods, lord - by Indra, made inaccessible, safeguarded; gata doSa kalmaSam = [and one which is] rid of, flaws and blemishes; swar lokam aagacCha = [your] heavenly, abode [Vaikuntha,] return to.

Or

34. sa balam sa baandhavam = with all his forces, with all his kinsmen; vi raavaNam [kR^itvaa] = without, pandemonium [on making worlds]; ugra pauruSam = furiously, vainglorious; tam raavaNam eva hatvaa = him, Ravana, thus, having eliminated; chiram = for a long time to come; gata jwara = rid of, febrility; sura indra guptam = for gods, lord - by Indra, made inaccessible, safeguarded; gata doSa kalmaSam = [and one which is] rid of, flaws and blemishes; swar lokam aagacCha = [your] heavenly, abode [Vaikuntha,] return to.

"On eliminating that furiously vainglorious Ravana with all his forces and with all his kinsmen neutralise the pandemonium created by him in all the worlds, and for a long time to come you get rid of your febrility, and you please return to your heavenly abode, namely your blameless and faultless Vaikuntha. [1-15-34]

Verse Locator

इति वाल्मीकि रामायणे आदि काव्ये बाल काण्डे पङ्च दशः सर्गः ॥

Thus, this is the 15th chapter in Bala Kanda of Valmiki Ramayana, the First Epic poem of India.

© 1999, Desiraju Hanumanta Rao [Revised: April 04]

Book I : Bala Kanda - The Youthful Majesties

Chapter [Sarga] 16 Verses converted to UTF_8 Sept, 09

Introduction

Vishnu agrees to incarnate as human and selects Dasharatha as his father. And when Dasharatha is performing the Vedic ritual called putrakaameSTi a deity called praajaapatya purusha arises from the sacrificial fire to give a golden vessel of divine dessert to Dasharatha for distribution among his queens to beget progeny. The three queens on consuming that dessert conceive their children.

Verse Locator

ततो नारायणो देवो विष्णुः नियुक्तः सुर सत्तमैः ।
जानन् अपि सुरान् एवम् श्लक्ष्णम् वचनम् अब्रवीत् ॥ १-१६-१

1. tataH = later; niyuktaH sura sattamaiH = nominated, by gods, best ones; naaraayaNaH vishNuH = Narayana, Vishnu - Omnipresent; jaanan api = he knows [outcome,] though; suraan evam slakSNam vachanam abraviit = with gods, this way, gently, words, spoke.

Later when the Omnipresent Narayana is thus nominated by best gods, and though he knows the outcome, he gently spoke these words to gods in this way. [1-16-1]

The name Vishnu indicates his all pervading Omnipresence in all beings, sessile or mobile: vyaapitvaat sarva bhuuteSu vishnuH iti abhidhiyate. This is one of his thousand names, called Vishnu sahasra naama , each name elucidating his attributes.

Verse Locator

उपायः को वधे तस्य राक्षसाधिपतेः सुराः ।
यम् अहम् तम् समास्थाय निहन्याम् ऋषि कण्टकम् ॥ १-१६-२

2. suraaH = oh gods; raakshasa adhipateH tasya vadhe = demon's, chief, [namely Ravana,] in his, elimination; upaayaH kaH = idea, what is; yam samasthaaya = which [stratej~n,] on adoting; R^ishi kanTakam tam aham nihanyaam = for sages, thorny, him, I can, eliminate.

"What is the idea to eliminate that demon's chief Ravana, oh, gods, adopting which stratej~n I will have to eliminate that thorn in the side of sages?" Thus Vishnu asked the gods. [1-16-2]

Verse Locator

एवम् उक्ताः सुराः सर्वे प्रत्यूचुः विष्णुम् अव्ययम् ।
मानुषम् रूपम् आस्थाय रावणम् जहि संयुगे ॥ १-१६-३

3. evam uktaaH suraaH sarve = thus, spoken, gods, all; a vyayam viSNum = imperishable, to Vishnu; prati uuchuH = in reply, said; maanuSam tanum aasthaaya = of human, body, form, on assuming; raavaNam jahi samyuge = Ravana, kill, in war.

Asked thus all the gods said to that sempiternal Vishnu, "on assuming a human form, eliminate Ravana in a war." [1-16-3]

Verse Locator

स हि तेपे तपः तीव्रम् दीर्घ कालम् अरिंदम ।
येन तुष्टोऽभवत् ब्रह्मा लोक कृत् लोक पूर्वजः ॥ १-१६-४

4. arim dama = oh, enemy, destroyer; saH diirgha kaalam tiivram tapaH tepeH = he [Ravana,] for a long period, vehement, ascetic, undertook; yena = by which - thereby; loka kR^it = worlds, creator; and loka puurva jaH = in worlds, earliest, born one - Brahma; tuSTaH abhavat = glad, he become.

"Oh, destroyer of enemies, he that Ravana undertook a vehement ascetic for a long period, thereby the creator of worlds and the first born one Brahma, felt gladsome of his ascetic. [1-16-4]

Verse Locator

सन्तुष्टः प्रददौ तस्मै राक्षसाय वरम् प्रभुः ।
नानाविधेभ्यो भूतेभ्यो भयम् न अन्यत्र मानुषात् ॥ १-१६-५
अवज्ञाताः पुरा तेन वरदाने हि मानवाः ।

5, 6a. santushtaaH prabhu = satisfied, Brahma; tasmai raakshasaaya maanushaat anyatra = to him, to demon Ravana, from human, other than; naanaa vidhebhyaH bhuutebhyaH = many a, kinds of, beings; bhayam na = danger, is not there; [iti = thus]; varam pradadau = boon, gave; puraa = earlier; vara daane [samaye] = while boon, being bestowed [at that time]; tena maanavaaH avaj~naataH hi = by him, humans, are slighted, indeed.

"Satisfied with his ascetic Brahma gave boon to that demon that he shall have no fear for his life from many kinds of beings, excepting humans, because that demon indeed slighted humans earlier at the time of bestowing boon. [1-16-5, 6a]

Verse Locator

एवम् पितामहात् तस्मात् वरदानेन गर्वितः ॥ १-१६-६
उत्सादयति लोकान् त्रीन् स्त्रियः च अपि अपकर्षति ।
तस्मात् तस्य वधो दृष्टो मानुषेभ्यः परन्तप ॥ १-१६-७

6b, 7. evam tasmaat pitaamahaat = thus, from him, the Forefather Brahma; vara daanena garvitaH = by boon, according, becoming arrogant; utsadayat lokaanm triin = torturing, worlds, three; striyaH api apakarSati cha = women, even, abducting, also; tasmaat paramtapa = therefore, oh, enemy, destroyer Vishnu; tasya vadhah = his, elimination; maanushebhyaH dR^iSTaH = by humans, is envisaged.

"Thus, on getting boon from the Forefather Brahma he has become arrogant and torturing the three worlds, and he is even abducting women. As such, oh, enemy destroyer Vishnu, his elimination is envisaged through humans alone." So said gods to Vishnu. [1-16-6b, 7]

Verse Locator

इति एतत् वचनम् श्रुत्वा सुराणाम् विष्णुः आत्मवान् ।
पितरम् रोचयामास तदा दशरथम् नृपम् ॥ १-१६-८

8. iti suraaNaam etat vachanam shrutvaa = this way, of the gods, that, speech, on hearing; Vishnu; aatmavaan = kind-hearted one; tadaa dasharatham nR^ipam = then, Dasharatha, king; pitaram rochayaamaasa = as father, started to choose.

On hearing that speech of gods said that way, he that kind-hearted Vishnu then chose Dasharatha as his father in human world. [1-16-8]

Verse Locator

स च अपि अपुत्रो नृपतिः तस्मिन् काले महाद्युतिः ।
अयजत् पुत्रियाम् इष्टिम् पुत्रेप्सुः अरिसूदनः ॥१-१६-९

9. tasmin kaale = during that time; mahaa dyutiH = great resplendent one; ari suudanaH = enemy, subduer [Dasharatha]; saH nR^ipatiH = he, that king; a putraH = without, progeny; putra iipsuH = children, he is desiring; putriyaam iSTim api = for sons, ritual, even; ayajaH cha = performed, also.

During that time the great resplendent king and an enemy subduer Dasharatha is performing putrakaameSTi ritual, desiring progeny as he is sonless. [1-16-9]

Verse Locator

स कृत्वा निश्चयम् विष्णुः आमन्त्र्य च पितामहम् ।
अन्तर्धानम् गतो देवैः पूज्य मानो महर्षिभिः ॥ १-१६-१०

10. saH vishnuH kR^itvaa nischayam = he, Vishnu, making - taking, decision; pitaamahaH aamantrya cha = from Forefather [Brahma,] took leave of, also; devaiH maharSibhiH puujyamaanaH = by gods, saints, while being extolled; antardhaanam gataH = vanishing, gone into.

On taking a decision Vishnu took leave of Forefather Brahma, and vanished while he is still being extolled by gods and sages. [1-16-10]

Verse Locator

ततो वै यजमानस्य पावकात् अतुल प्रभम् ।
प्रादुर्भूतम् महद्भूतम् महावीर्यम् महाबलम् ॥ १-१६-११

11. tataH vai yajamaanasya = then, verily, performer of ritual, [Dasharatha's]; paavakaat atula prabham = [from] ritual fire, with unparalleled, resplendence; praadurbhuutam mahat bhuutam = emerged, Divine, Being; mahaa viiryam mahaa balam = greatly, vigorous, greatly, energetic.

Then, from Fire of Altar Dasharatha's ritual there emerged a greatly vigorous and energetic Divine Being with an unparalleled resplendence, called yajna puruSa. [1-16-11]

Verse Locator

कृष्णम् रक्ताम्बर धरम् रक्ताअस्यम् दुन्दुभि स्वनम् ।
स्निग्ध हर्यक्ष तनुज श्मश्रु प्रवरम् ऊर्ध्वजम् ॥ १-१६-१२

12. kR^iSNa rakta ambara dharam = black, red, garments, clad in; rakta aasyam = red faced; dundubhi svanam = drum-beat like, voiced; snigdha haryakSa tanuuja shmashru pravaram uurdha jam = with his soft hair, like mane of lion, moustaches and head hair.

He is clad in black and red garments and his face is red and his voice resembled the drumbeat. His moustache and hairdo are soft like that of a lion's mane. [1-16-12]

Verse Locator

शुभ लक्षण संपन्नम् दिव्य आभरण भूषितम् ।
शैल शृङ्ग समुत्सेधम् दृप्त शार्दूल विक्रमम् ॥ १-१६-१३

13. subha lakSaNa sampannam = auspicious, features, endowed with; divya aabharaNa buuSitam = divine, ornaments, decorated with; shaila sR^i~Nga samutsedham = mountain, peak like, in height; dR^ipta shaarduula vikramam = imperious, tiger like, in valiance.

And he is endowed with auspicious features and decorated with divine ornaments, in height he is like a mountain peak, and in valiance he is like an imperious tiger. [1-16-13]

Verse Locator

दिवाकर समाअकारम् दीप्त अनल शिखोपमम् ।
तप्त जाम्बूनदमयीम् राजतान्त परिच्छदाम् ॥ १-१६-१४
दिव्य पायस संपूर्णाम् पात्रीम् पत्नीम् इव प्रियाम् ।
प्रगृह्य विपुलाम् दोर्भ्याम् स्वयम् मायामयीम् इव ॥ १-१६-१५

14. [tat mahat bhuutam = that, great being]; pragR^ihya = carrying; dorbhyaam svayam = in two hands, personally; vipulaam patriim = a big vessel, golden vessel; [which is] maayaamayim iva = [made by an] an illusion, like; divaakara sama aakaaram = [day, giver dazzling] sun, similar, in appearance; diipta anala shika upamam = glowing, flame's tongues, in similitude; tapta jambuunada mayim = molten, gold moulded, full with; rajataanta paricChadaam = silver lid, covered with; [and which is] divya paayasa sampuurNaam = divine, dessert, full of; patniim iva = wife, like; priyaam = dear [wife].

That great ritual being personally brought a big golden vessel carrying it with both of his hands as if he would personally handle his own wife, which vessel is made from the molten gold and covered with a silver lid, and which appeared to be crafted out of a divine illusion, since it is dazzling like sun and glowing like the tongues of flame, and that vessel is full with the divine dessert. [1-16-14, 15]

Verse Locator

समवेक्ष्य अब्रवीत् वाक्यम् इदम् दशरथम् नृपम् ।
प्राजापत्यम् नरम् विद्धि माम् इह अभ्यागतम् नृप ॥ १-१६-१६

16. dasharatham nR^ipam samavekSyah = Dasharatha, king, on observing; idam vaakyam abraviit = this, word, said; nR^ipaH = oh, king; iha abhyaagatam = at here, arrived; maam = me; praajaapatyam = from Prajapati [sent by]; naram viddhi = being, you know.

That divine person on observing king Dasharatha said these words "oh, king, you may know me as the being sent by Prajapati." [1-16-16]

Verse Locator

ततः परम् तदा राजा प्रति उवाच कृत अंजलिः ।
भगवन् स्वागतम् तेऽस्तु किमहम् करवाणि ते ॥ १-१६-१७

17. tataH param tadaa raajaa = there after, thus, king; prati uvaacha kR^ita anjaliH = in turn, said, adjoining, palms [greeting]; bhagavan = oh, god; te svaagatam astu = to you, welcome, let there be; aham te kim karavaaNi = I, for you, what shall [I,] do.

There after, king Dasharatha greeted that divine being with palms adjoining and said in reply, "oh, god, welcome to you, and what shall I do for you?" [1-16-17]

Verse Locator

अथो पुनः इदम् वाक्यम् प्राजापत्यो नरोऽब्रवीत् ।
राजन् अर्चयता देवान् अद्य प्राप्तम् इदम् त्वया ॥ १-१६-१८

18. athaH prajaapatyH naraH = then, Prajaapati's, person; punaH idam vaakyam abraviit = again, this, word, said; raajan = oh, king; devaan archayataa tvayaa = gods, when propitiated, by you; adya idam praaptam = now, this is, obtained [by you.]

Then again, that divine being sent by Prajapati said these words, "oh, king, now you have obtained this dessert in golden vessel as you have propitiated gods. [1-16-18]

Verse Locator

इदम् तु नृप शार्दूल पायसम् देव निर्मितम् ।
प्रजा करम् गृहाण त्वम् धन्यम् आरोग्य वर्धनम् ॥ १-१६-१९

19. nR^ipa shaarduula = oh, king, the tiger; deva nirmitam = by divinities, prepared; prajaa karam = progeny, enriching; dhanyam = blessed one; aaroj~na vardhanam = health, enriching; idam paayasam tvam gR^ihaaNa = this, dessert, you, take.

"Oh, tigerly king, take this dessert prepared by divinities, this is a blessed dessert that enriches progeny and health. [1-16-19]

Verse Locator

भार्याणाम् अनुरूपाणाम् अश्रीत इति प्रयच्छ वै ।
तासु त्वम् लप्स्यसे पुत्रान् यदर्थम् यजसे नृप ॥ १-१६-२०

20. nR^ipaH = oh, king; ashniita = consume; iti = on saying; anuruupaanaam bhaaryaaNaam prayacCha vai = eligible ones, to your wives, give them, indeed; yat ardhham yajase = for which, purpose, you performed ritual; putraan taasu tvam lapsyaase = sons, in them [in queens,] you, will get.

"Oh, king, let this be consumed" saying so he further said, "for which purpose you have performed this ritual that childbearing will be fructified in your wives by bearing sons, hence give this among your eligible wives." So said the divine being to Dasharatha. [1-16-20]

Verse Locator

तथा इति नृपतिः प्रीतः शिरसा प्रति गृह्य ताम् ।
पात्रीम् देव अन्न संपूर्णाम् देव दत्ताम् हिरण्मयीम् ॥ १-१६-२१

21. nR^ipati tathaa iti = king, like that only, thus [on agreeing]; taam deva anna sampuuraam = that, divine, food, full of; deva dattam hiraNyamayiim = gods, given, golden one; paatriim shirasaa pratigR^ihya = vessel, onto head [head bent, wholeheartedly,] on taking; priitaH = he is delighted.

Agreeing to that the king wholeheartedly took that god-given golden vessel full with divine food. [1-16-21]

Verse Locator

अभिवाद्य च तत् भूतम् अद्भुतम् प्रिय दर्शनम् ।
मुदा परमया युक्तः चकार अभिप्रदक्षिणम् ॥ १-१६-२२

22. paramayaa mudaa yuktaH = high, ecstasy, with; adbhutam priya darshanam = astonishing, delightful, in his appearance; tat bhuutam = at that, being; abhivaadya cha = revering, too; chakaara abhipradakshiNam = performed, circumambulations.

With high ecstasy Dasharatha revered that Ritual Being, the Prajapati Purusha or yaj~na purusha , an astonishing and delightful being in his appearance, and performed circumambulations around him. [1-16-22]

Verse Locator

ततो दशरथः प्राप्य पायसम् देव निर्मितम् ।

बभूव परम प्रीतः प्राप्य वित्तम् इव अधनः ॥ १-१६-२३

23. tataH = then; Dasharatha; deva nirmitam paayasam praapya = by gods, prepared, dessert, on getting; vittam praapya a dhana iva = [unforeseen] wealth, on obtaining, by a pauper, like; parama priitaH babhuuva = highly, gladdened, he became.

On obtaining that dessert prepared by gods then Dasharatha is highly gladdened like a pauper obtaining unforeseen wealth. [1-16-23]

Verse Locator

ततः तत् अद्भुत प्रख्यम् भूतम् परम भास्वरम् ।

संवर्तयित्वा तत् कर्म तत्र एव अन्तरधीयत ॥ १-१६-२४

24. tataH = then; adbhuta prakhyam = with astonishing, form; parama bhaasvaram = highly, glowing; tat bhuutam = that, ritual being; tat karma samvartayitvaa = that, deed, on completing; tatra eva antardhiyata = there, only, disappeared.

On completing his work of giving the golden vessel with dessert then that divine being who is astonishing by his form and highly glowing by his physique, disappeared then and there itself. [1-16-24]

Verse Locator

हर्ष रश्मिभिः उद्द्योतम् तस्य अन्तःपुरम् आबभौ ।

शारदस्य अभिरामस्य चंद्रस्य इव नभः अंशुभिः ॥ १-१६-२५

25. harSa rasmibhiH uddyotam = happiness, beams of, lit up; tasya antaHpuram = his, palace chambers; abhiraamasya shaaradasya = heart pleasing, of autumn; chandrasya amshubhiH = with moon's, rays; nabhaH iva = sky, like; babhuuva = became.

Lit up with beams of happiness Dasharatha's palace chambers shone forth like the autumnal sky brightened with moonbeams. [1-16-25]

Verse Locator

सः अन्तःपुरम् प्रविश्य एव कौसल्याम् इदम् अब्रवीत् ।

पायसम् प्रतिगृह्णीष्व पुत्रीयम् तु इदम् आत्मनः ॥ १-१६-२६

26. saH antaH puram pravishya = he [Dasharatha,] palace chambers, on entering; kausalyaam idam abraviit = to Kausalya, this, said; atmanaH putriyam = for your, son causing; idam paayasam pratigR^ihNiishva = this, dessert, you receive.

Then Dasharatha on entering palace chambers spoke this to queen Kausalya, "Receive this dessert to beget your son." [1-16-26]

This divine dessert is meant for the 'eligible' queens, as informed the Ritual Being and also in order to maintain the divinity of Ram's birth. In the context of seed and field, the field has no equal importance to the seed bijja kshetra nyaya . Hence the seed is divine in the form of dessert and fields are therefore shall 'be eligible' for the seedling. As such the First Queen and Empress Kausalya is being addressed firstly, and given firstly.

Verse Locator

कौसल्यायै नरपतिः पायस अर्धम् ददौ तदा ।

अर्धात् अर्धम् ददौ च अपि सुमित्रायै नराधिपः ॥ १-१६-२७

कैकेय्यै च अवशिष्ट अर्धम् ददौ पुत्रार्थ कारणात् ।

प्रददौ च अवशिष्ट अर्धम् पायसस्य अमृत उपमम् ॥ १-१६-२८

अनुचिन्त्य सुमित्रायै पुनः एव महीपतिः ।

एवम् तासाम् ददौ राजा भार्याणाम् पायसम् पृथक् ॥ १-१६-२९

27, 28 29. tadaa nara patiH = then, people's lord - king; kausalyaayai = to Kausalya; paayasa artham dadou = dessert, half of it, gave; nara adhipaH = people's, lord - king; arthaat artham = half of the [remaining] half [-one fourth]; sumitraayai cha api dadou = to Sumitra, also, even, gave; avashiSta artham = of the remaining, half [one eighth,]; putra artha kaaraNaat = sons, purpose of, desiring; klaikeyyaiH cha dadau = to Kaikeyi, also, gave; mahii patiH = king; anuchintya = thought a while; paayasam = dessert; amR^ita upamam = ambrosia, equalling; avashiSta artham = remaining part [one eighth]; punaH eva = again, thus; sumitraayai = to Sumitra; dadou = gave; evam = thus; raajaa = king; taasaam = to them; bhaaryaaNaam = among his wives; pR^ithak = differently; paayasam = dessert; dadou = distributed.

The king then gave half of the dessert to queen Kausalya, and he gave half of the half, i.e., one fourth to queen Sumitra. And to Kaikeyi he gave half of the remaining half, i.e., one eighth of the dessert, with a desire to beget sons. Then thinking for a while gave the remaining, i.e., one-eighth portion again to queen Sumitra. Thus, the king distributed the dessert to his wives differently. [1-16-27, 28, 29]

This is a much-discussed distribution by the traditionalists. Adhyatma Ramayana, a treatise that postulates god-hood to Rama, gives a well-constructed argument about these shares of dessert and the resultant births of the four brothers, viz., Rama, Lakshmana, Bharata, and Shatrughna, in accordance with these shares. In its simplest terms and as contained in these verses, queen Kausalya got half of the dessert as an Empress, paTTa mahiSi. Sumitra gets one-fourth in the first round and after a rethink by Dasharatha, she gets another one-eighth portion. Kaikeyi gets only a one-eighth quantity. Thus, Kausalya gives birth to Rama, Sumitra to Lakshmana and Shatrughna, and Kaikeyi to Bharata. The quantum of apportionment of the dessert does not make Rama all-powerful or Bharata the least. Since the Absolute is indivisible into parts, the dessert that is divided is not to be taken as the divided Absolute, but a kind of medium through which the incarnation is made possible.

There is another declination enquiring whether the incarnation of Rama is full or partial, puurNa avatara or artha avatara... Rama is Vishnu Himself while Bharata and Shatrughna are his disc and conch-shell, while Lakshmana is the thousand headed snake aadi sesha on whose coils Vishnu reclines. The whole dessert is divine and parts of it do not signify and inter-divided god-hoods. Hence, the apportionment of the desert is done in order to keep up the hierarchy of the queen-hoods and their status. Throughout this magnum opus Rama never said that he is god or an incarnate of god, but called himself, nimitta maatra a casual relation to the course of events. Should Rama be the incarnation of the Almighty Himself, he has little or no necessity to incarnate the weaponry along with him. They are at his beck and call at any time. Thus, Rama is neither a half nor one-fourth incarnation of the Absolute nor a dividend of the whole, but an incarnate of the virtuously ideal personality of Vishnu, maryaada purushottama Rama.

Incidental to this apportionment of the dessert, the aspect of eldest son is also studied. Rama is the first-born and thus the eldest. This is because the dessert is given to queen Kausalya in the first instance, and half of the whole vessel. She immediately consumed to lionise her share and as an Empress. Sumitra waited a while till apportionment is complete. Kaikeyi got her portion but waited till her elder sister Sumitra completes her drink. In the meanwhile Dasharatha thought a while, as said in the verse, and gave Sumitra another one-eighth part. Sumitra then consumed her two parts. Later Kaikeyi drinks her dividend.

Verse Locator

ताः च एवम् पायसम् प्राप्य नरेन्द्रस्य उत्तमाः स्त्रियः ।

सम्मानम् मेनिरे सर्वाः प्रहर्ष उदित चेतसः ॥ १-१६-३०

30. narendrasya uttamaaH striyaH = of king, best, ladies; sarvaaH = all of them; taaH evam paayasam praapya = they, that way, dessert, on getting; praharSa udita chetasa = gladness, exuberance, with hearts; sammaanam menire = a reward, they deemed [the dessert.]

On getting the dessert all of those best ladies of the king, whose hearts are exuberant with happiness, deemed it as a reward. [1-16-30]

Verse Locator

ततस्तु ताः प्राश्य तद् उत्तम स्त्रियो
महीपतेः उत्तम पायसम् पृथक् ।
हुताशन आदित्य समान तेजसः
अचिरेण गर्भान् प्रतिपेदिरे तदा ॥ १-१६-३१

31. mahiipateH tataH uttama striyaH = of king, those, best, ladies; tat uttama paayasam = that, best, dessert; praasya = on consuming; hutaashanaa aaditya samaana tejasaH = Fire, Sun, equalling, in resplendence [queens]; chirena tadaa garbhaan pratipedire = after some time, then, pregnancy, they got - conceived.

Then on consuming dessert those best ladies of the king whose resplendence then vied with that Fire and Sun became pregnant after some time. [1-16-31]

A synecdochic expression to indicate that Sun and Fire, the enliveners of living beings, pratyaksha naraayaNa are there in those wombs and their resplendence is shining out of mothers bodies.

Verse Locator

ततस्तु राजा प्रतिवीक्ष्य ताः स्त्रियः
प्ररूढ गर्भाः प्रति लब्ध मानसः ।
बभूव हृष्टः त्रिदिवे यथा हरिः
सुरेन्द्र सिद्ध ऋषि गणाभिपूजितः ॥ १-१६-३२

32. tataH raajaa = then, king; praruuDha garbhaaH = having confirmed, about their pregnancies; taH striyaH = at those, ladies; prativiikshya = on seeing; prati labdha maanasa = again, recaptured, [his lost] heart; tridive = in heavens; sura indra siddha R^iSi gaNaabhi = gods, [Indra,] by great souls, sages, by groups of; puujitaH = worshipped; yathaa hariH = as like, Vishnu; babhuuva hR^iSTaH = became, delighted.

Then on seeing his queens with confirmed pregnancies Dasharatha regained his lost heart for sons, and he is gladdened like Vishnu, who will always be gladsome when worshipped by gods, namely Indra and others, as well as by the assemblages of great souls, sages. [1-16-32]

Verse Locator

इति श्री वाल्मीकि रामायणे आदिकाव्ये बालकाण्डे षोडशः सर्गः ॥

Thus, this is the 16th chapter in Bala Kanda of Valmiki Ramayana, the First Epic poem of India.

Book I : Bala Kanda - The Youthful Majesties

Chapter [Sarga] 17 Verses converted to UTF_8 Sept, 09

Introduction

The gods become progenitors Vanara heroes at the dictate of Brahma to come to the aid of Rama in annihilating Ravana. The monkey-like Vanara race is procreated by numerous celestials endowing it with peculiar mighty physique and particular power to come to the help of Rama.

Verse Locator

पुत्रत्वम् तु गते विष्णौ राज्ञः तस्य महात्मनः ।

उवाच देवताः सर्वाः स्वयंभूः भगवान् इदम् ॥ १-१७-१

1. viSNauH tasya raaj~naH putratvam gate = Vishnu's, that, king's, sonship, when attained; mahaatmana = of great soul Dasharatha; bhagavaan svayam bhuH = god, self, created - Brahma; sarvaaH devataaH idam uvaacha = to all, gods, this, said.

When Vishnu attained the sonship of the great-souled king Dasharatha, then Brahma the self-created addressed all of the gods this way. [1-17-1]

Verse Locator

सत्य संधस्य वीरस्य सर्वेषाम् नो हितैषिणः ।

विष्णोः सहायान् बलिनः सृजध्वम् काम रूपिणः ॥ १-१७-२

2. satya sandhaH = truth, abiding; viirasya = valorous; sarveSaam naH = for all, of us; hitaH iishanaH = welfare, desiring; viSNuH = Vishnu's; sahaayaan = helpmates; balinaH = mighty ones; kaama ruupiNaH = by wish, guise-changers; srR^ijadhvam = be procreated.

"Let mighty and guise changing helpmates be procreated to that truth abiding and valorous Vishnu who is the well-wisher of all of us. [1-17-2]

Verse Locator

माया विदः च शूराम् च वायु वेग समान् जवे ।

नयज्ञान् बुद्धि संपन्नान् विष्णु तुल्य पराक्रमान् ॥ १-१७-३

असंहार्यान् उपायज्ञान् दिव्य संहनन अन्वितान् ।

सर्व अस्त्र गुण संपन्नान् अमृत प्राशनान् इव ॥ १-१७-४

अप्सरस्सु च मुख्यासु गन्धर्वाणाम् तनूषु च ।

यक्ष पन्नग कन्यासु ऋक्ष विद्याधरीषु च ॥ १-१७-५

किंनरीणाम् च गात्रेषु वानरीनाम् तनूसु च ।

सृजध्वम् हरि रूपेण पुत्रान् तुल्य पराक्रमान् ॥ १-१७-६

3. maayaa vidaH ca = miracle, knowing [wizards] also; shuraan cha = audacious ones, too; jave vaayu vega samaan = in travel, air's, speed, equivalent to; naya j~naan = morals, knowing; buddhi sampannaan = intellectual, bestowed with; viSNnu tulya paraakramaan = Vishnu, equalling, in valour; a + samhaaryaan = in, destructible ones - ineliminable ones; upaaya j~naanaan = ideation, knowers of; divya samhanana anvitaan = divine, bodies, along with; sarva astra guNa sampannaanaam = all, missiles', [assaultive] aspects, endowed with; amR^ita praashanaan iva = ambrosia, drinkers, like tulya paraakramaan = equalling, [your] valour [godly, like you hunger-less thirst-less gods]; putraan = sons; mukhyaasu apsarassu = in prominent, apsara-s, in celestial courtesans; gandharvaaNaam = in gandharva ladies, celestial scholars; tanuuSu cha = from their bodies; from yaksha; pannaga; kanyaasu = = girls; R^iksha; vidyaadhariiSu; cha = also; kiMnariiNaam cha gaatreSu = from kinnaraa-s, also, bodies of; vaanariinaam tanuusu cha = from she-monkey's, bodies, also; hari rupeNa = monkey, shaped; sR^ijadhvam = be procreated.

"Let monkey-shaped progeny equalling Vishnu's valour be procreated from the physiques of prominent apsara-s and gandharva-s, from the girls of yaksha-s and pannaga-s, and also thus from the bodies of kinnaraa-s, she-vidyaadharaa-s, she-riksha-s and she-monkeys, and they shall be wizards of miracles and audacious ones, in travel they shall have air's speed, bestowed with intellect they shall be the knowers of ideation, and with their divine physique they shall be ineliminable, they shall be endowed with all the assaultive aspects of all missiles, and they shall be untiring in their efforts, like you who thrive on amrita, the ambrosia, unmindful of thirst and hunger. [1-17-3, 4, 5, 6]

Gandharva-s (Southey's Glendoveers) are celestial musicians inhabiting Indra's heaven and forming the orchestra at all the banquets of the principal deities. Yaksha-s, demigods attendant especially on Kubera, and employed by him in the care of his garden and treasures. Kimpurusha-s, demigods attached also to the service of Kubera, celestial musicians, represented like centaurs reversed with human figures and horses' heads. Siddha-s, are demigods or spirits of undefined attributes, occupying with the Vidyaadharaa-s the middle air or region between the earth and the sun. Griffith.

Verse Locator

पूर्वम् एव मया सृष्टो जांबवान् ऋक्ष पुङ्गवः ।

जृभमाणस्य सहसा मम वक्रात् अजायत ॥ १-१७-७

7. jaambavaan R^iksha pungava = Jambavanta, bear, the eminent; puurvam eva mayaa sR^iSTaH = in earlier times, only, by me, created; jR^imbhamaaNasya = while yawning; mama = from my; vakraat = face; sahasaa = suddenly; ajaayata = came forth.

"I have already created the eminent bear Jambavanta in earlier times, as he suddenly came forth from my yawning face. [1-17-7]

This is to say that Brahma has already created such a typical being, namely Jambavanta, prior to all the gods, as a role model in creation.

Verse Locator

ते तथा उक्ताः भगवता तत् प्रति श्रुत्य शासनम् ।

जनयामासुः एवम् ते पुत्रान् वानर रूपिणः ॥ १-१७-८

8. bhagavataa = by Brahma; tathaa uktaH = thus, addressed; te = those gods; tat shaashanam pratishrutya = that, order [of Brahma,] agreeing; evam vaanara ruupiNaH putraan = accordingly, monkey, in appearance, sons; janayaamaasuH = started to parent.

When Brahma addressed them thus, those gods have agreed to his order and accordingly started to parent sons in the semblance of monkeys. [1-17-8]

This pedigree is not yet given the label of monkeys. They are lookalike of monkeys but not monkeys, vaana ruupiNam resembling monkeys, as said in the verse. The word vanara is vane carati iti vanara-s because they range far and wide over forests they are called vanara-s, but not exactly a monkey race.

Verse Locator

ऋषयः च महात्मानः सिद्ध विद्याधर उरगाः ।

चारणाः च सुतान् वीरान् ससृजुः वन चारिणः ॥ १-१७-९

9. mahaatmanaH = great souled beings; R^iSayaH cha = Sages, too; siddha-s; vidyaadharaa-s; uragaaH-s; chaaranaH; ca = also; viiraan vana charaan = valiant ones, forest, ranging - monkey like; sutaan sasR^ijuH = sons, they created.

The great-souled celestial groups, namely the sages, siddha-s, vidyaadharaa-s, caarana-s have created valiant sons that are forest rangers. [1-17-9]

Verse Locator

वानरेन्द्रम् महेन्द्र आभम् इन्द्रः वालिनम् आत्मजम् ।

सुग्रीवम् जनयामास तपनः तपताम् वरः ॥ १-१७-१०

10. IndraH janayaamaasa = Indra, procreated; mahendra aabham = Mt. Mahendra, in sheen of body; vaanara indram = vanara-s, lord; vaalinam = to Vali is; tapataam varaH tapanaH = among the humidifiers, the great, humidifier [the Sun]; sugriivam = to Sugreeva.

Indra procreated the lord of vanara-s, namely Vali, who by his physique is like Mt. Mahendra, and the highest humidifier among all the humidifiers, namely the Sun, procreated Sugreeva. [1-17-10]

Verse Locator

बृहस्पतिः तु अजनयत् तारम् नाम महा कपिम् ।

सर्व वानर मुख्यानाम् बुद्धिमन्तम् अनुत्तमम् ॥ १-१७-११

11. bR^ihaspatiH tu = Brihaspati, the Jupiter, but; sarva vaanara mukhyaanaam = among all, Vaanaras, the important one; an uttamam = none, better than him - excellent one; buddhimantam = intelligent one; taaram naama = Tara, named; maha kapim ajanayat = to great, monkey, gave rise.

Brihaspati, the Jupiter, gave rise to a great monkey named Tara, who is the most important one among all vanara-s, and who excels all by his intelligence. [1-17-11]

Tara here is a vanara hero but not Lady Tara, the wife of Vali. Here we have the wording of kapiH the monkey ♦ for these forest rangers for first time.

Verse Locator

धनदस्य सुतः श्रीमान् वानरो गन्धमादनः ।

विश्वकर्मा तु अजनयन् नलम् नाम महा कपिम् ॥ १-१७-१२

12. shriimaan = brilliant one; gandhamaadanaH = [named] Gandhamaadana; vanaraH = Vaanara is; dhana dasya sutaH = wealth, giver's - Kubera's, son; Viswakarma tu = divine architect, Vishvakarma, has but [gave rise to]; Nala naama = Nala named; mahaa kapim = great, monkey; ajanayan = procreated.

The brilliant Gandhamaadana is the son of Kubera, while the divine architect Vishvakarma procreated the great monkey called Nala. [1-17-12]

Verse Locator

पावकस्य सुतः श्रीमान् नीलः अग्नि सदृश प्रभः ।

तेजसा यशसा वीर्यात् अत्यरिच्यत वीर्यवान् ॥ १-१७-१३

13. paavakasya sutaH = of Fire, son; shriimaan = bright one; agni sadR^isha prabhaH = fire, like, in blaze; niila = Neela is; tejasaa = with resplendence; yashasaa = renown; viiryaat = in courage; vaanaraan = than the other monkey; atyarichyata = excels [others.]

The bright son of Fire is Neela whose blaze is like that of fire and who excels other monkeys by his in resplendence, renown and courage. [1-17-13]

Verse Locator

रूप द्रविण संपन्नौ अश्विनौ रूपसंमतौ ।
मैन्दम् च द्विविदम् च एव जनयामासतुः स्वयम् ॥ १-१७-१४

14. ruupa draviNa sampannau = beautifulness, called wealth, having [beauty being their wealth, property]; ashvinau = Ashvini gods [two of them]; svayam = personally [procreated]; ruupa sammatau = beauty, blessed with; maindam = Mainda named; dvividam cha = Dvidida named, also; eva = thus; janayaamaasatuH = have procreated.

The Ashwin twin gods whose wealth is their beautiful appearance have personally procreated two vanara-s namely Mainda and Dvidida, blessing them with beautiful appearance. [1-17-14]

Verse Locator

वरुणो जनयामास सुषेणम् नाम वानरम् ।
शरभम् जनयामास पर्जन्यः तु महाबलः ॥ १-१७-१५

15. varuNaH = Rain-god; janayamaasa = procreated; susheSaNam = Susheshana; vaanaram = the monkey; parjanyaH tu = Thunder-god, but; janayamaasa = procreated; mahaabalaH = great mighty one; sharabham = Sharabha.

The Rain-god procreated the vanara named Susheshana, and Thunder-god gave rise to the great mighty Sharabha. [1-17-15]

Verse Locator

मारुतस्य औरसः श्रीमान् हनुमान् नाम वानरः ।
वज्र संहननोपेतो वैनतेय समः जवे ॥ १-१७-१६
सर्व वानर मुख्येषु बुद्धिमान् बलवान् अपि ।

16, 17a. shriimaan = marvellous one; viiryavaaan = adventurous being; vajra samhanana upeta = diamond, like body, having [indestructible bodied]; jave = in swiftness; vainateya = lady Vinata's son, [Garuda, the divine eagle vehicle of Vishnu]; samaH = identical one; [such a] hanumaan naama = Hanuma, named; maarutasya aurasaH = of Air-god, own [direct] son; [he is] sarva vaanara mukhyeSu = among all, monkey, chiefs; buddhimaan = intelligent one; balavaan api = indefatigable one, too.

The direct son of Air-god is the marvellous and adventurous Hanuma with an indestructible body, and one identical in the speed of lady Vinata's son, namely Garuda, the divine eagle vehicle of Vishnu, and among all monkey chiefs he is the intelligent and the indefatigable one too. [1-17-16, 17a]

Garuda: The bird and vehicle of Vishnu. He is generally represented as a being something between a man and a bird and considered as the sovereign of the feathered race. He may be compared with the Simurgh of the Persians, the Ank of the Arabs, the Griffin of chivalry [without lion's body,] the Phoenix of Egypt, and the bird that sits upon the ash Yggdrasil of the Edda. - Griffith.

Verse Locator

ते सृष्टा बहु साहस्रा दशग्रीव वधे उद्यताः ॥ १-१७-१७
अप्रमेय बला वीरा विक्रान्ताः काम रूपिणः ।

17b, 18a. dasha griiva vadhe = ten, faced one [Ravana's,] for elimination; udyataH = who rose up - manifest; aprameya balaaH = immeasurable, in strength; vikraantaaH = those that are braving; kaama ruupiNaH = by their wish, guise changers; bahu sahasraa = in many, thousands; te viiraa sR^iSTaaH = those, valorous ones, are procreated,

Thus the gods have procreated many thousands of such valorous and guise changing monkeys who with their immeasurable strength and bravery are manifest for the elimination of the decahedral demon Ravana. [1-17-17b, 18a]

Verse Locator

ते गज अचल संकाशा वपुष्मंतो महाबलाः ॥ १-१७-१८

ऋक्ष वानर गोपुच्छाः क्षिप्रम् एव अभिजज्ञिरे ।

18b, 19a. gaja achala samkaashaa = elephants, mountains, in similarity; mahaabalaaH = great mighty ones; vapuS mantaH = with prodigious bodies; R^iksha = bears; vaanara = monkey; gopucChaH = sacred langoor; kSipram eva = quickly, thus; abhijaj~nire = took birth.

And they with their elephantine, mountainous and prodigious bodies quickly took birth in bears, monkeys, sacred langoors. [1-17-18b, 19a]

Verse Locator

यस्य देवस्य यद् रूपम् वेषो यः च पराक्रमः ॥ १-१७-१९

अजायत समम् तेन तस्य तस्य पृथक् पृथक् ।

19b, 20a. yasya devasya yat ruupam = which, god's, which, form; veSaH = getup; paraakramaH ca = valour, also; yaH = which [is there]; tasya tasya = his, his [that particular god's sons]; ajaayata = procreated; samam tena = equalling, them [with fathers]; pR^ithak pR^ithak = separately, separately.

Those that are procreated have attained the shape, getup and valour of the god that has fathered them, and thus the monkey race is procreated separately and individually. [1-17-19b, 20a]

Verse Locator

गोलान्गूलेषु च उत्पन्नाः किञ्चिद् उन्नत विक्रमाः ॥ १-१७-२०

ऋक्षीषु च तथा जाता वानराः किन्नरीषु च ।

20b, 21a. kechit = some; vaanaraaH = vanara-s; unnata vikramaaH = with superior, having valour; golaanguuliishu utpannaH = in female langoors, born; tathaa = like that some more; R^ikSiiSu kinnariiSu cha = = in female bears, kinnaraa-s, also; jaataa = born.

Some of the vanara-s endowed with superior valour are born to female langoors, and like that some more to female bears and kinnaraa-s. [1-17-20b, 21a]

Verse Locator

देवा महर्षि गन्धर्वाः तार्क्ष्य यक्षा यशस्विनः ॥ १-१७-२१

नागाः किंपुरुषाः च एव सिद्ध विद्याधर उरगाः ।

बहवो जनयामासुः हृष्टाः तत्र सहस्रशः ॥ १-१७-२२

चारणाः च सुतान् वीरान् ससृजुः वन चारिणः ।

वानरान् सु महाकायान् सर्वान् वै वन चारिणः ॥ १-१७-२३

अप्सरस्सु च मुख्यासु तदा विद्यधरीषु च ।

नाग कन्यासु च तदा गन्धर्वीणाम् तनूषु च ।

21b, 22, 23, 24a, b. devaa, maharSi = gods, great sages; taarkshya = eagles; yaksha = yaksha-s; yashaswinaH = celebrated ones like; naaga, kimpuruSa, siddha, vidyaadhara, uraga = reptiles, kimpusha-s, siddha-s, vidyaadharas-s, uraga-s; caaraNaH ca = caarana-s, also; bahavaH = several of them; hR^iSTa = who are gladdened; tatra = at that time; [started to procreate]; mukhyaasu apsaraasu = in prominent, apsara-s; tadaa = then; kanyaasu = in maidens of; vidyadhariiSu = in she-vidyaadharas-s; naaga cha = in Naga, girls, also; tadaa = like that; gandharviinaam tanuuSu cha = in female gandharva, from the bodies, also; su maha kaayan = very, great, bodied ones; vana chaariNaH = forest moving ones; sarvaan vaanaraan viiraan sutaan = all, vanara, valiant, sons; sahasrasaH janayaamasu = in thousands, started to procreate.

Several of the gods, great-sages, gandharva-s, eagles, yaksha-s, and the celebrated reptiles, kimpusha-s, siddha-s, vidyaadharas-s, uraga-s and caarana-s and even the prominent maidens of apsara-s, she-vidyaadharas-s, naaga, gandharva-s then gladly procreated all of the thousands of forest-ranging and valiant vanara sons from their bodies that are forest rangers. [21b, 22, 23, 24a, b]

Verse Locator

काम रूप बलोपेता यथा काम विचारिणः ॥ १-१७-२४

सिंह शार्दूल सदृशा दर्पेण च बलेन च ।

24b, 25a. [Those vanara-s are]; kaama ruupa = by wish, guise-changers; bala upeta = might, endowed with - mighty ones; yathaa kaama vichaariNaH = according, their wish, they move freely - born free; darpeNa cha = by their pride, and; balena cha = by might, as well; simha shaarduula sadR^ishaa = lion, tiger, identical to.

They are endowed with guise changing faculties, with bodily might and by their pride and might are identical to lions and tigers, and they are born-free in their movement in forests. [1-17-24b, 25a]

Verse Locator

शिला प्रहरणाः सर्वे सर्वे पर्वत योधिनिः ॥ १-१७-२५

नख दन्ष्ट्र आयुधाः सर्वे सर्वे सर्व अस्त्र कोविदाः ।

25b, 26a. sarve = all of them; shilaaH praharaNaaH = with stones, they assault; sarve = all of them; paadapa yodhinaH = with trees, combatants with; sarve = all; nakha = with nails; damSTra = claws; aayudhaaH = have as weapons; sarve = all of them; sarva astra kovidaaH = all kinds of, missiles, experts in.

All of them are the assaulters with stones, and all are the attackers with trees, and all have their nails and claws as their weapons, yet all are experts in missiles. [1-17-25b, 26a]

Rama and Lakshmana will use arrows and missiles as their weaponry in the ensuing final war with Ravana. The vanara soldiers use stones, trees, and their own claws and nails. The golden maces or clubs handled by Hanuma, Sugreeva, and Vali usually depicted in pictures are for more mythical ornamentation to glorify the characters. However, these Vaanaras are well versed in the knowledge of such tactical weaponry, only to save themselves from their usage against them, but do not use them necessarily. In Sundara Kanda Hanuma will be tied by a magical weapon called Brahma astra when he is in Lanka. Though knowing the release from that Brahma astra, Hanuma does not utilise that knowledge there.

Verse Locator

विचाल येयुः शैलेन्द्रान् भेद येयुः स्थिरान् द्रुमान् ॥ १-१७-२६

क्षोभ येयुः च वेगेन समुद्रम् सरिताम् पतिम् ।

26b, 27a. shaila indraan = mountain, the greatest ones; vichaalayeyuH = they rock; sthiraan drumaan bhedayeyuH = firm rooted, trees, they uproot; vegena = by their speed; saritaam patim samudram = rivers, lord, ocean; kshobhayeyuH cha = they agitate, also.

They can rock greatest mountains, rip firm rooted trees, and with their speed they can agitate the of lord of rivers, namely the ocean. [1-17-26b, 27a]

Verse Locator

दार येयुः क्षितिम् पद्भ्याम् आप्लवेयुः महा अर्णवन् ॥ १-१७-२७
नभस्थलम् विशेयुर् च गृह्णीयुर् अपि तोयदान् ।

27b, 28a. padbhyam kshitim daarayeyuH = with their two feet, ground, they cleave, shatter; mahaa arNavan aaplaveyuH = great ocean, they leap and cross over; nabhaH talam = sky, surface of - arch of heaven; visheyuH cha = they can enter, also; toya daan api gR^ihNiiyuH = clouds, even, they seize.

They can shatter the ground with their two feet, leap and cross over great oceans, and they can seize the clouds entering arch of heaven. [1-17-27b, 28a]

Verse Locator

गृह्णीयुर् अपि मातंगान् मत्तान् प्रव्रजतो वने ॥ १-१७-२८
नर्दमानाः च नादेन पात येयुः विहंगमान् ।

28b, 29a. vane pra vrajate = in the forests, verily [tumultuously,] moving about; mattaan maatangaan api = excited [ruttish,] elephants, even; gR^ihNiiyuH = they catch; nardamaanaaH cha = by their blaring, also; naadena = with sound; vihangamaH paatayeyuH = the flying birds, they make them fall.

They can catch ruttish elephants that tumultuously move in forests, and just with the sound of their blare they make sky flying birds to fall. [1-17-28b, 29a]

Verse Locator

ईदृशानाम् प्रसूतानि हरीणाम् काम रूपिणाम् ॥ १-१७-२९
शतम् शत सहस्राणि यूथपानाम् महात्मनाम् ।

29b, 30a. kaama ruupinaam = at wish, guise changers; yuuthapaanaam = chiefs of warriors; mahaatmaanaam = noble souled ones; iidR^iSaanaam = this kind of; hariiNaam = monkeys; shatam shata sahasraani = hundred, hundred, thousand - millions of; [te = they, gods et al;] prasuutaani = have procreated.

Thus the gods and others have procreated millions of such noble souled Vaanaras as the chiefs of warriors who can change their guise at their wish. [1-17-29b, 30a]

Verse Locator

ते प्रधानेषु यूथेषु हरीणाम् हरियूथपाः ॥ १-१७-३०
बभूवुर् यूथप श्रेष्ठान् वीराम् च अजनयन् हरीन् ।

30a, 31b. te = those; hari yuuthapaaH = vanara, generals; hariiNaam prathaaneSu yuudheshu = monkeys, among principle, battalions; yuuthatpa shreSTaaH = generals, the prominent ones; babhuuvuH = they became; viiraam harrin ajanayan ca = brave, monkeys, they procreated, also.

Those vanara generals who took birth thus became the prominent generals among the principle battalions of monkeys, and they have also procreated brave monkeys on their own. [1-17-30a, 31b]

Verse Locator

अन्ये ऋक्षवतः प्रस्थान् उपतस्थुः सहस्रशः ॥ १-१७-३१

अन्ये नाना विधान् शैलान् काननानि च भेजिरे ।

31b, 32a. anye = some [among them]; sahasrashaH = in thousands; R^ikSavataH prasthaan upatasthu = Mt. Riskshavat, on ridges, are staying; anye = others; naanaa vidhaan = many, kinds of; shailaan = mountains; kaananaani ca = forests, also; bhejire = reached.

Some thousands of them stayed on the ridges of Mt. Riskshavat while others reached many kinds of other mountains and forests. [1-17-31b, 32a]

Verse Locator

सूर्य पुत्रम् च सुग्रीवम् शक्र पुत्रम् च वालिनम् ॥ १-१७-३२

भ्रातरौ उपतस्थुः ते सर्वे च हरि यूथपाः ।

नलम् नीलम् हनूमन्तम् अन्यांश्च हरि यूथपान् ॥ १-१७-३३

32b, 33. sarve = all of them, monkeys; bhraatarau = brothers; suurya putram sugriivam = sun's, son, Sugreeva; shakra putram vaalinam = Indra's, son, Vali; hari yuudhapaaH = monkeys, chiefs; like Nala; Neela; Hanumanta; anyaaH cha hari yuudhapaan = others, also; monkey, generals; upatasthu = adored [stood by them.]

All of the monkeys stood by the brothers, namely the son of Indra Vali, and the son of sun Sugreeva, and even with the monkey generals like Nala, Neela and Hanuma et al. [1-17-32b, 33]

Verse Locator

ते तार्क्ष्य बल संपन्नाः सर्वे युद्ध विशारदाः ।

विचरन्तोऽर्दयन् सर्वान् सिंह व्याघ्र महोरगान् ॥ १-१७-३४

34. taarkshya bala sampannaH = like Divine Eagle, Garuda, might, endowed with; yuddha vishaaradaaH = in warfare, well-versed ones; te sarve vicharantaH = they, all, moving about; darpaat = by their pride - prideful subjugation as they do not kill them; simha = lion; vyaaghra = tiger; mahaa uragaan = great snakes [and the like]; ardayan = thwarted.

All of those who are well-versed in warfare and endowed with the might of divine eagle Garuda, used to thwart the pride of lions, tigers and great snakes just by their own prideful subjugation while they move about the forests. [1-17-34]

Verse Locator

महाबलो महाबाहुः वाली विपुल विक्रमः ।

जुगोप भुज वीर्येण ऋक्ष गोपुच्छ वानरान् ॥ १-१७-३५

35. mahaa baahuH = great, armed one - adroit one; vipula vikramaH = extremely, mighty; mahaa balaH = highly, indomitable; Vali; bhuja viiryeNa = arms', strength; R^iksha = bears; gopucCha = langoors; vaanaraan = monkeys jugopa = protected.

He who is adroit, extremely mighty, and highly indomitable, that Vali protected bears, langoors, and monkeys just by the strength of his arms. [1-17-35]

Verse Locator

तैः इयम् पृथ्वी शूरैः सपर्वत वन अर्णवा ।

कीर्णा विविध संस्थानैः नाना व्यंजन लक्षणैः ॥ १-१७-३६

36. shuuraiH = with brave ones; vividha samsthaanaiH = with diverse, physiques; naanaa vyanjana lakshanaiH = many, physical, indications [indicating their peculiar race]; taiH = by them; saha parvata vana arNavaa = with mountains, forests, and oceans [oceanward provinces]; iyam prithvii kiirNaa = this, earth is, overspread.

The earth with its mountains, forests and oceanward places is overspread with those brave ones that possess diverse physiques and peculiar indication marks of their stock. [1-17-36]

Verse Locator

तैः मेघ बृन्दाचल कूट संनिभैः
महाबलैः वानर यूथप अधिपैः ।
बभूव भूः भीम शरीर रूपैः
समावृता राम सहाय हेतोः ॥ १-१७-३७

37. megha bR^iinda = could, clusters; achala kuuTa sannibhau = mountains, peaks, like [resembling]; mahaa balaiH = very, mighty; bhiima shariira ruupaiH = awesome, body, forms; taiH = by them; vaanara yuutha adhipaiH = with Vaanara, army, generals; bhuuH = earth; raama sahaaya hetoH = Rama, helping, reason of; samaaavR^itaa = spread over; babhuuva = became.

The earth is thus suffused with those mighty army generals of Vanara race whose physiques resembled the clusters of clouds and peaks of mountains, and who have emerged for the reason of helping Rama. [1-17-37]

Verse Locator

इति वाल्मीकि रामायणे आदि काव्ये बाल काण्डे सप्तदशः सर्गः ॥

Thus, this is the 17th chapter in Bala Kanda of Valmiki Ramayana, the First Epic poem of India.

Book I : Bala Kanda - The Youthful Majesties

Chapter [Sarga] 18 Verses converted to UTF-8 - Sep 09

Introduction

After the completion of Vedic ritual all the kings and Sage Rishyasringa took leave of Dasharatha and went away to their countries. After some time Rama, Lakshmana, Bharata, and Shatrughna are born. Their virtues in childhood and rituals connected thereto are depicted here. Dasharatha then contemplates the marriages of the princes, since marrying sons after completion of education is customary. At that juncture Sage Vishvamitra arrives at the court of Dasharatha seeking help from the king. Dasharatha receives him adoring in high esteem.

Verse Locator

निर्वृत्ते तु क्रतौ तस्मिन् हयमेधे महात्मनः ।

प्रति गृह्य अमरा भागान् प्रतिजग्मुः यथा आगतम् ॥ १-१८-१

1. mahaatmanaH tasmin haya medhe = of the high souled one Dasharatha's, that, horse ritual; kratau nirvR^itte sati = ritual, when completed, that is; amaraa bhaagaan pratigR^ihya = gods, their portion [of oblations,] on taking; yatha aagatam = as they came; pratijagmu = returned [to their heavens.]

On the competition of the horse ritual of high-souled Dasharatha, the gods having received their portion of sacrificial oblation returned to their abodes as they have come. [1-18-1]

Verse Locator

समाप्त दीक्षा नियमः पत्नी गण समन्वितः ।

प्रविवेश पुरीम् राजा स भृत्य बल वाहनः ॥ १-१८-२

2. patnii gaNa samanvitaH = wives', company, along with; raajaa = king Dasharatha; samaapta diikshaa niyamaH = on completing, vows, rules - consecration vowed for Vedic ritual; sa bhR^itya bala vaahana = along with, servants, guards, vehicles; pravivesha puriim = entered, city [Ayodhya,].

The king completing his consecratory vows held for horse ritual, entered Ayodhya city along with the company of his queens, servants, guards and vehicles. [1-18-2]

Verse Locator

यथा अर्हम् पूजिताः तेन राजा च पृथिवीश्वराः ।

मुदिताः प्रययुः देशान् प्रणय मुनि पुंगवम् ॥ १-१८-३

3. pR^ithvi iishvaraH = earthly, gods [other kings]; tena raaj~naa = by him, the king; yathaa arham puujitaaH = as, befitting, honoured; muditaaH = are gladdened; muni pungavam praNamya = sage, the eminent [Vashishta] on duly adoring; deshaan = to their countries; prayayuH = travelled - returned.

The other kings who arrived for the ritual are delighted when befittingly honoured by the king Dasharatha, and they too returned to their countries, after suitably adoring the eminent sage Vashishta. [1-18-3]

Verse Locator

श्रीमताम् गच्छताम् तेषाम् स्वगृहाणि पुरात् ततः ।
बलानि राज्ञाम् शुभ्राणि प्रहृष्टानि चकाशिरे ॥ १-१८-४

4. tataH puraat = from that, city; sva gR^ihaaNi = to their own, houses [own countries - homeward]; gacChataam = those who are going - set forth; shriimataam teSaam raajnaam = of those magnificent [kings,] those, kings'; shubhraaNi = clean [neat white uniforms, or in fine fettle]; pra hR^iSTaani = highly, gladdened; balani chakaashire = armies [entourages,] shone forth.

The entourages of those kings who set forth homeward from that city are highly gladdened and shone forth in fine fettle. [1-18-4]

Some commentaries said that the soldiers are given white and clean uniforms by Dasharatha by the word shubhraaNi and hence they are happy. But they may be said to be sprucely without those gifts from Dasharatha.

Verse Locator

गतेषु पृथिवीशेषु राजा दशरथः पुनः ।
प्रविवेश पुरीम् श्रीमान् पुरस्कृत्य द्विजोत्तमान् ॥ १-१८-५

5. pR^idhvi iisheSu gateshu satsu = earthly, lords [kings,] when they have gone; tadaa shriimaan raajaa dasarathaH = then, fortunate, king, Dasharatha; dvijaH uttamaan puraskR^itya = Brahmins, eminent ones, keeping ahead; puriim pravivesha = city, entered.

On the departure of visiting kings, then that fortunate king Dasharatha entered the city Ayodhya, keeping eminent Brahman priests ahead of him in the procession. [1-18-5]

Verse Locator

शांतया प्रययौ सार्धम् ऋष्यशृङ्गः सुपूजितः ।
अनुगंयमानो राज्ञा च सानुयात्रेण धीमता ॥ १-१८-६

6. R^iSyashR^i~NgaH = Rishyasringa; su puujita = well, adored; sa anu yaatreNa = with, co-travellers [entourage of Romapada]; dhiimataa raajnaa = with virtuous one, king [Romapaada]; anugamyamaanaH cha = followed by, king also; shantayaa saartham prayayau = with Shanta, along with, travelled.

Well adored by king Dasharatha sage Rishyasringa also travelled along with his wife Shanta, followed by his father-in-law King Romapada, and along with other co-travellers, namely the entourage of Romapada. [1-18-6]

Verse Locator

एवम् विसृज्य तान् सर्वान् राजा संपूर्ण मानसः ।
उवास सुखितः तत्र पुत्र उत्पत्तिम् विचिंतयन् ॥ १-१८-७

7. raajaa = king Dasharatha; evam taan sarvaan visR^ijya = thus, them, all, on dispersing; sampuurNa maanasaH = with a satiated, heart; putra utpattim vichintayan = sons, birth, dwelling upon; tatra sukhitaH uvaasa = there, gratifyingly, dwelled.

On dispersing all of them king Dasharatha gratifyingly dwelled there in Ayodhya, with a satiated heart dwelling upon the birth of his sons. [1-18-7]

Verse Locator

ततो यज्ञे समाप्ते तु ऋतूनाम् षट् समत्ययुः ।
ततः च द्वादशे मासे चैत्रे नावमिके तिथौ ॥ १-१८-८
नक्षत्रे अदिति दैवत्ये स्व उच्छ संस्थेषु पंचसु ।
ग्रहेषु कर्कटे लग्ने वाक्पता इंदुना सह ॥ १-१८-९
प्रोद्यमाने जगन्नाथम् सर्व लोक नमस्कृतम् ।
कौसल्या अजनयत् रामम् सर्व लक्षण संयुतम् ॥ १-१८-१०
विष्णोः अर्धम् महाभागम् पुत्रम् ऐक्ष्वाकु नंदनम् ।
लोहिताक्षम् महाबाहुम् रक्त ओष्ठम् दुंदुभि स्वनम् ॥ १-१८-११

8, 9, 10, 11. tataH yaj~ne samaapte = then, ritual, on completion; R^ituuNaam SaT sam atyayuH = seasons, six, well, passed by; tataH = then; dvaadashe maase = in twelfth, month; chaitre naavamike tithau = chaitra month [April-May], ninth, day;

nakshatre aditi daivatye = star of the day [punarvasu,] whose presiding deity is aditi;

panchasu graheSu swa uccha samsthesu = of five, planets, in their own, highest, positions - in their own cCha sthAna-s, viz., in their own ascendent positions - meSha, makara, karkaTa, mIna, tula - rAshI-s; chandra yukta guru karkaTa lagne proudyamane;

karkaTe lagne = in Cancer [of Zodiac]; vaak patiH= when Speech's, Lord [Jupiter]; indunaa saha = Moon, along with; pra udyamane == when raising - when ascendent; [abhijit lagna= advancing daytime];

kausalyaa = Queen Kausalya; jagat naatham = worlds', lord [Vishnu]; sarva loka namaskR^itam = by all, worlds, adored; divya lakshana samyutam = divine, attributes, along with;

viSNoH = Vishnu's; artham = epitome of [not half of Vishnu]; mahaa bhaagam = greatly blessed one; ikshwaaku nandanam = Ikshvaaku dynasty, delight of; lohita aksham = lotus-red, eyes; mahaa baahum = lengthy, armed; rakta oSTam = roseate, lips; dundubhi svanam = drumbeat, voiced; raamam = Rama as; putram = the son; ajanayat = gave birth.

On completion of the ritual, six seasons have passed by; then in the twelfth month, i.e., in chaitra mAsa, and on the ninth day of that chaitra month [April-May], when it is punarvasu nakshatra yukta navamI tithi, i.e., when the ruling star of that ninth day is punarvasu, for which Aditi is the presiding deity; and when five of the nine planets - sUrya, kuja, guru, shukra, shani are in ucCha sthAna-s, namely, when those planets are in ascension in their respective houses - meSha, makara, karkaTa, mIna, tula - rAshI-s; and when chandra yukta guru, karkaTa lagne - Jupiter in conjunction with Moon is ascendant in Cancer, and when day is advancing, Queen Kausalya gave birth to a son with all the divine attributes like lotus-red eyes, lengthy arms, roseate lips, voice like drumbeat, and who took birth to delight the Ikshwaku dynasty and adored by all the worlds, and who is the greatly blessed epitome of Vishnu, namely Rama. [1-18-8, 9, 10, 11]

Twice six months had rolled a way since the great sacrifice was over and, in the first month of the New Year, on the ninth day of the bright fortnight, the Lord of the worlds chose to take human form and sent down half of His essence as the son of Kausalya (thenceforth to be known as Rama), the world-honored One, the crowning glory of the grand line of Ikshwaku, and the sum of all perfections. The constellation Punarvasu, of which Aditi was the regent, was chosen to preside at his birth. The Sun, Mars, Jupiter, Venus, and Saturn were in ascension in their respective houses. Aries, Capricornus, Cancer, Pisces and the Libra, Jupiter and the Moon were in conjunction ; the rising sign was Cancer. And Kausalya, shone with unparalleled effulgence, even as Aditi when she gave birth to Indra, the lord of the Shining Ones, the Vajra-wielder. - C. R. Sreeniuasa Aiyangar, 1910.

By this configuration of stars the supreme merits of Rama are indicated. atra sa~Nvastara mukha uttaayaNa vasanta caitra maasa shukla pakSha deva nakShatra diva abhijit lagna puNya nakShatraad utkR^iShTa kaale karkaaTaka lagne uccasya graha pa~ncake guru candra yoge shrii raama utpattiH | tasya sarva utkR^iShTataam sakala kalyaana guNa abhiraamataam sakala shiShTa aadraNiiya sampattim mahaa paraakramam ca suucitam | dharmaakuutam.

The phrase viSNoH artham half of Vishnu - is to be taken as half of the fruit of ritual where Vedic ritual itself is pervaded by Vishnu. The fruit of ritual is obtained in the shape of dessert, and Kausalya consumed half of it, but it is not half of Vishnu as he is illimitable. Even Sreeniuasa Aiyangar took it as half, in saying half of Vishnu's essence is Rama. This has become a perennial topic debating whether the incarnation of Rama is a pUrNa avtAra, artha avatAra or aMsha avatAra.

Verse Locator

कौसल्या शुशुभे तेन पुत्रेण अमित तेजसा ।
यथा वरेण देवानाम् अदितिः वज्र पाणिना ॥ १-१८-१२

12. kausalya; a mita tejasaa = one with unlimited resplendence; tena putreNa = by that, son; devaanaam vareNa = among gods, the best one; vajra paaNinaa = by Thunderbolt, in hand [wielder - Indra]; aditiH yathaa shushubhe = Lady Aditi, as with, shone forth.

Kausalya shone forth with such a son whose resplendence is unlimited, as with lady Aditi who once stood out with her son Indra, the best one among gods. [1-18-12]

Verse Locator

भरतो नाम कैकेय्याम् जज्ञे सत्य पराक्रमः ।
साक्षात् विष्णोः चतुर्थ भागः सर्वैः समुदितो गुणैः ॥ १-१८-१३

13. satya paraakramaH = truthfulness, as his valour; saakshaat viSNoH = manifest, Vishnu's; chatur bhaagaH = fourth, component; sarvaiH guNaiH samuditaH = with all, merits, embodied with; bharata naama kaikeyyaam jaj~ne = Bharata, named [son], to Queen Kaikeyi, born to.

Queen Kaikeyi gave birth to Bharata, one embodied with all merits, and whose truthfulness itself is his valour and who is fourth component of manifest Vishnu, namely Rama. [1-18-13]

The fraction indicated here like 'one fourth of Vishnu' etc may be reckoned as the share of the dessert consumed by the queens, but not as a cleaved portion of Vishnu as he is an indivisible entity. Here it is half of one-fourth i.e., one-eighth of dessert given to Kaikeyi.

Verse Locator

अथ लक्ष्मण शत्रुघ्नौ सुमित्रा अजनयत् सुतौ ।
वीरौ सर्व अस्त्र कुशलौ विष्णोः अर्ध समन्वितौ ॥ १-१८-१४

14. atha = then; Queen Sumitra; viiraau = valiant ones; sarva astra kushalau = all, weaponry, experts; viSNoH = Vishnu's; artha = essence, epitome; samanvitau = those that are embodied with; Lakshmana; Shatrughna; sutau ajanayat = to sons, gave birth.

Queen Sumitra then gave birth to two sons who are the embodied epitomes of Vishnu, namely Lakshmana, and Shatrughna, who are valiant ones and experts in all kinds of weaponry. [1-18-14]

Verse Locator

पुष्ये जातः तु भरतो मीन लग्ने प्रसन्न धीः ।
सार्धे जातौ तु सौमित्रौ कुलीरे अभ्युदिते रवौ ॥ १-१८-१५

15. prasanna dhiiH = level, headed one - guileless, fair-minded; Bharata; pushye miina lagne jaataH = under Pushyami star, in Pisces [of Zodiac,] born; saumitrii = sons of Sumitra [Lakshmana, Shatrughna]; saarpe kuliire = under star presided by serpent [aaSreSa,] in Cancer [of Zodiac]; ravau abhyudite = while Sun, is rising - i.e., on next day of Rama's birth - nth of Chaitra; jaatau = they are born.

With the dawn of sun on the next day, fair-minded Bharata is born under Pisces where puSyami is the star of day, later the sons of Sumitra, namely Lakshmana and Shatrughna are born under Cancer, where aaSreSa is the star of the day, i.e., the tenth of chaitra month, [1-18-15]

Rama is born on the ninth day of Chaitra month, and Bharata is born in the earlier part of next day the tenth of Chaitra, earlier to his younger brothers, and then Lakshmana and Shatrughna are born on the later part of that tenth day.

'Pushya is the name of a month; but here it means the eighth mansion. The ninth is called Aslesh, or the snake. It is evident from this that Bharata, though his birth is mentioned before that of the twins, was the youngest of the four brothers and Rama's junior by eleven months' -- Schlegel.

The eleven-month gap between Rama and Bharata is unapparent in the words of verse. This may be from some other version of Ramayana.

Verse Locator

राज्ञः पुत्रा महात्मानः चत्वारो जज्ञिरे पृथक् ।

गुणवंतः अनुरूपाः च रुच्या प्रोष्ठ पदोपमाः ॥ १-१८-१६

16. guNavantaH anuruupaaH cha = virtuous ones, charming, also; ruchyaa = by brilliance; proSTapada upamaaH = [like puurva bhaadra, uttara bhaadra] stars, in simile; mahaatmaanaH = great souls; such; raajnaH putraa = kings', sons; chatvaaraH = four of them; jaj~nire pR^ithak = born, separately.

Thus there are four great-souled sons of Dasharatha, born on separate instances, who are virtuous, charming, and by brilliance they are in similitude with two stars of each of the asterisms called puurva bhadra and uttara bhaadra. [1-18-16]

The word proSTa is cow; pada feet; the feet of a cow. It is also the name for the asterisms puurvaa bhaadra, uttara baadra, containing stars in the wing of Pegasus, each of which will have two stars, and all the four stars make a perfect square. Like the pairs of stars the brother also move in pairs - Rama, Lakshmana; Bharata, Shatrughna.

The epithet mahaa aatmanaH high-souled ones is though negligible for peripheral reading, it is explained as: Rama is one such, as he undertakes sva dharma anuSThaana ; Lakshmana by his sheSatva j~naana ; Bharata by his bhagavat paara tantrya ; and Shatrughna by his bhaagavata paaratantrya.

Like this, each of the epithets used in Ramayana has something or the other meaning which is not generally recorded in English translations. All the English translations are story-oriented, as though there is some unknown story in Ramayana for retelling afresh. In the spate of telling story again and again these niceties are lost. The same is the position with the numerous epithets given to Seetha in Aranya Kanda. Readers may please note that each epithet conveys some meaning and if we could not incorporate them, it is our misfortune in getting a book containing their meanings. We request the readers to kindly inform us if they have come across the meanings of these seemingly useless and metre-filling-like epithets in any book, so that, that book will be brought to the notice of readers who are mistaking them as 'redundant stanza fillers'.

Verse Locator

जगुः कलम् च गंधर्वा ननृतुः च अप्सरो गणाः ।

देव दुंदुभयो नेदुः पुष्प वृष्टिः च खात् पतत् ॥ १-१८-१७

उत्सवः च महान् आसीत् अयोध्यायाम् जनाकुलः ।

17, 18a. gandharvaa kalam jaguH = celestial singers, melodiously, sang; apsaraa gaNaaH nanR^ituH = divine dancers, groups of - dancing parties, danced; deva dundubhayaH neduH = divine, drums, sounded, khaat pushpa vR^iSTi cha patat = from heavens, flowery, rain, also, fallen; ayodhyaayaam jana akulaH = in Ayodhya, with people, thronging; utsavaH cha mahaan asiit = festivity, also, great, is there.

The celestial singers sang melodiously, paradisiacal dancing parties danced, divine drums drummed and heavens rained flowers, with all this there is a great festivity in Ayodhya with thronging people. [1-18-17, 18a]

Verse Locator

रथ्याः च जन संबाधा नट नर्तक संकुलाः ॥ १-१८-१८

गायनैः च विराविण्यो वादनैः च तथ अपरैः ।

विरेजुर् विपुलाः तत्र सर्व रत्न समन्विताः ॥ १-१८-१९

18b, 19. rathyaaH = streets; jana sambaadhaa = with people, pressurised - stampeded; nata nartaka samkulaaH = with actors, dancers, flurried by; gaayanaiH cha = singers, too; vaadanaiH cha eva = with players of musical instruments, also, thus; tathaa aparaiH = like that, by others - onlookers; viraavaNyaH = well sounding - hilarity, jubilation; tatra = there - on streets; vipulaaH virejuH = widely, strewn; sarva ratna samanvitaaH = all, gems, along with.

Hilarity filled the streets with people stampeding them and with the flurry of actors, dancers, singers and instrumentalists, as well by other onlookers, and there on the streets widely strewn are all kinds of gems appreciating the artists. [1-18-18b, 19]

Verse Locator

प्रदेयांश्च ददौ राजा सूत मागध वंदिनाम् ।

ब्राह्मणेभ्यो ददौ वित्तम् गो धनानि सहस्रशः ॥ १-१८-२०

20. raajaa = king; suuta maagadha vandinaam = to eulogisers, bard singers, panegyrist; pradeyaan cha = giveable donation, also; dadou = gave; brahmaNebhyaH = to Brahmans; vittam = funds; go dhanaani sahasrashaH = cow, wealth, in thousands; dadau = gave.

The king gave worthy gifts to eulogisers, bard singers, and panegyrist, and to Brahmans he gave funds and wealth in the form of thousands of cows. [1-18-20]

Verse Locator

अतीत्य एकादश आहम् तु नाम कर्म तथा अकरोत् ।

ज्येष्ठम् रामम् महात्मानम् भरतम् कैकयी सुतम् ॥ १-१८-२१

सौमित्रिम् लक्ष्मणम् इति शत्रुघ्नम् अपरम् तथा ।

वसिष्ठः परम प्रीतो नामानि कुरुते तदा ॥ १-१८-२२

21, 22. tataH = then; eka dasha aaham atiitya = one, ten, days, [eleven days,] when elapsed; naama karma akarot = naming, ceremony, performed; mahaa aatmaanaam jyeSTam raamam = high souled, elder one, as Rama; kaikeyi sutam bharatam = Kaikeyi's, son, as Bharata; soumitrim = Sumitra's [to one son]; lakshmanam iti = as Lakshmana, thus; aparam = other [son]; shatrughnam = as Shatrughna; parama priitaH vashishta tadaa = highly, gladdened, Vashishta, then; naamaani kurute = names, [made] gave.

Elapsed are eleven days and the naming ceremony is performed, then Vashishta, the chief priest, named the high-souled elder one as Rama, Kaikeyi's son as Bharata, and one son of Sumitra as Lakshmana and the other as Shatrughna [1-18-21, 22]

The word 'Rama' is defined as ramante sarve janaaH guNaiH asmin iti raamaH 'in whom all the people take delight for his virtuousness, thus he is Rama.' The name Rama is very old, so says padma puraaNa : shriyaH

Bharata is defined as: bharata raajya bharanaat - bibharti iti bharata Bharata is because he bears the burden of the kingdom of Rama during Rama's exile.

Lakshmana is lkShmano laksmi sampannoH or lakShmi asya astiiti lakShmaNa Lakshmana is the favoured flourisher. The wealth of selfless dedication is in him, hence Lakshmana. One who is endowed with favoured dedication, kainkarya lakshana lakshita Lakshmana is a hearty dedication to Rama and he always wishes to reside by the side of his brother.

Shatrughna is shatruun hanta iti shatrughnaH. Or shatrughno nitya shatru-ghnaH Shatrughna is always an enemy destroyer.

The naming ceremony acquires a particular significance, because Vashishta, the purohita = puraa future; hitaH well-wisher of; well wishing advisor about the future of the kingdom, named these princes with a vision into the future.

Verse Locator

ब्राह्मणान् भोजयामास पौरान् जानपदान् अपि ।
उददद् ब्राह्मणानाम् च रत्नौघम् अमलम् बहु ॥ १-१८-२३
तेषाम् जन्म क्रिय आदीनि सर्व कर्माणि अकारयत् ।

23, 24a. brahmaNaan pauraan jaanapadaan api = Brahmans, urbanites, villagers, also; bhojayaamaasa = are fed well by king; brahaahmaNaanaam bahu ratna ogham udadat = to Brahmans, many, valuable gems, he gave - gifted; a mitam = un, limited; teSaam janma kriya aadiini = them - the princes, birth, rites, ceremonies sequel to it; sarva karmaaNi akaarayata = all, rituals, performed.

The king feasted Brahmans, urbanites and villagers and he gifted many valuable gems to Brahmans in an unlimited way, and all the rituals of birth and ceremonies sequel to it like naming ceremony, first-food-feeding ceremony, first-hair-removal ceremony, and sacred thread ceremony are performed in respect of the princes. [1-18-23, 24a]

Verse Locator

तेषाम् केतुः इव ज्येष्ठो रामो रतिकरः पितुः । १-१८-२४
बभूव भूयो भूतानाम् स्वयम् भूः इव सम्मतः ।

24b, 25a. tesSam jyeSThaH raamaH = among them the princes, eldest one, Rama is; ketuH iva = flagstaff like; pituH bhuyaH rati kara = to his father, very much, delightful one; svayam bhuu iva bhuutaanaam sammata babhuuva = self-emerged [god, Brahma,] like, to all beings, acceptable, he became.

Among those princes the eldest one Rama is like a flagstaff and a delight of his father Dasharatha, and he became acceptable to all beings like the self-created Brahma. [1-18-24b, 25a]

Verse Locator

सर्वे वेद विदः शूराः सर्वे लोकहिते रताः ॥ १-१८-२५
सर्वे ज्ञानोपसंपन्नाः सर्वे समुदिता गुणैः ।

25b, 26a. sarve veda vidaH = all princes are, in Veda-s, scholars; shuuraaH = valiant ones; sarve loka hite rataaH = all are, in worlds', welfare, interested; sarve j~naana upa sampannaH = all are, intellectual ones; sarve samuditaa guNaiH = all are, possessors of, with merits - air of probity.

All the princes are scholars in Veda-s, valiant ones, all are interested in the welfare of the world, all are intellectuals and all of them possess an air of probity. [1-18-25b, 26a]

तेषाम् अपि महातेजा रामः सत्य पराक्रमः ॥ १-१८-२६

इष्टः सर्वस्य लोकस्य शशांक इव निर्मलः ।

26b, 27a. teSaam api mahaa tejaa = among them, also, great, resplendent; raaamaH satya paraakramaH = Rama, truthfulness, as his valorous one; nirmala shashaanka iva = tranquil, moon, like; sarvasya lokasya iSTaH = to all, of world, dear one.

Among them the great resplendent Rama, whose valour itself is his truthfulness, is the dear one to all the world like the tranquil moon. [1-18-26b, 27a]

Verse Locator

गज स्कन्धे अश्व पृष्ठे च रथ चर्यासु सम्मतः ॥ १-१८-२७

धनुर्वेदे च निरतः पितुः शुश्रूषणे रतः ।

27b, 28a. [saH raamaH = he that Rama is]; gaja skandhe = on [riding] elephant's, shoulders; ashva pR^iSTte = on [riding] horse's, on back; cha = also; ratha charyaasu = in chariots', manoeuvring of [tactical charioting]; sammataH = admitted to be [the champion]; dhanuH vede cha nirataH = in archery, Veda, also, rejoices in; pituH shushruushaNe rataH = father's, in service, absorbed in.

Rama is admittedly a champion of riding elephants and horses, also in tactical charioting, and he rejoices in the art of archery, and absorbed in the obedient service of his father. [1-18-27b, 28a]

Verse Locator

बाल्यात् प्रभृति सुस्निग्धो लक्ष्मणो लक्ष्मि वर्धनः ॥ १-१८-२८

रामस्य लोकरामस्य भ्रातुः ज्येष्ठस्य नित्यशः ।

28b, 29a. lakshmi vardhana lakshmana = prosperity, enhancer of, Lakshmana; baalyaat prabhR^iti = childhood, since; loka raamasya = for world, charming Rama; jyeSTasya bhraatuH = towards elder, brother; raamasya = in respect of Rama; nityasaH su snigdhaH = always, he is very amiable.

Right from childhood Lakshmana, the enhancer of prosperity, is always amiable towards his world-charming elder brother Rama. [1-18-28b, 29a]

Verse Locator

सर्व प्रिय करः तस्य रामस्य अपि शरीरतः ॥ १-१८-२९

लक्ष्मणो लक्ष्मि संपन्नो बहिः प्राण इव अपरः ।

29b, 30a. lakshmi sampannaH lakshmanaH = wealth [of dedication], one endowed with, Lakshmana s, even; shariirataH api = bodily, even [dedicated to Rama]; sarva priya karaH = all, agreeable deeds, while performing; tasya raamasya = to that, Rama; bahiH praana iva = external, entity, like; a paraH = bahiH praaNa = outer, life - alter ego, [he behaved like alter ego,].

Lakshmana who is endowed with the wealth of dedication dedicated himself to Rama with bodily service, and while performing all agreeable deeds in respect of Rama, he behaved like Rama's alter ego. [1-18-29b, 30a]

Verse Locator

न च तेन विना निद्राम् लभते पुरुषोत्तमः ॥ १-१८-३०

मृष्टम् अन्नम् उपानीतम् अश्राति न हि तम् विना ।

30b, 31a. purusa uttamaH = of men, best Rama; tena vinaaa = him - Lakshmana, without; nidraam na labhate = sleep, he does not, get; upaaniitam mR^iSTam annam ca = brought [for him,] delicious, food, also; tam vinaa = him [Lakshmana,] without; na ashnaati = will not, eat.

That best one among the men Rama does not get his sleep without Lakshmana and he would not eat food brought for him, however delicious it may be, without Lakshmana. [1-18-30b, 31a]

Verse Locator

यदा हि हयम् आरूढो मृगयाम् याति राघवः ॥ १-१८-३१

अथ एनम् पृष्ठतः अभ्येति स धनुः परिपालयन् ।

31b, 32a. raaghava = Raghava; hayam aruuDhaH = horse, on mounting; yadaa mR^igayaam yaati = when, for a hunting game, goes; tataH = then; saH = he, Lakshmana; dhanuH paripaalayan = bow, wielding [as a squire]; enam priSTataH abhyeti = him [Rama,] behind [Rama,] rushes after.

Whenever Raghava mounts a horse and goes on a hunting game Lakshmana rushes after him wielding his bow as a squire. [1-18-31b, 32a]

Verse Locator

भरतस्य अपि शत्रुघ्नो लक्ष्मण अवरजो हि सः ॥ १-१८-३२

प्राणैः प्रियतरो नित्यम् तस्य च आसीत् तथा प्रियः ।

32b, 33a. lakshamaNaa varajaH = Lakshmana's, born along with - younger brother; saH shatrughnaH = he that, Shatrughna; bharatasya api = to Bharata, even; nityam praanaiH priyataaraH = always, by lives, dear one; [Bharata also]; tasya cha = to him [to Shatrughna,] even; tathaa aasiit priyaH = like that, he is, a dear one.

Lakshmana's younger brother Shatrughna is a dear one to Bharata, like that Bharata too held Shatrughna dearer than his own lives. [1-18-32b, 33a]

Verse Locator

स चतुर्भिः महाभागैः पुत्रैः दशरथः प्रियैः ॥ १-१८-३३

बभूव परम प्रीतो देवैः इव पितामहः ।

33. saH = he, Dasharatha; mahaa bhaagaiH chaturbhi priyaiH putraiH = with highly fortunate, four, dearest, sons; pitaamaha devaiH iva = Forefather, Brahma, with gods, as with; parama priitaH babhuuva = highly, glad, he became.

King Dasharatha is highly gladdened with four of his highly fortunate sons like the Forefather Brahma with gods in heaven. [1-18-33]

Verse Locator

ते यदा ज्ञान संपन्नाः सर्वैः समुदिता गुणैः ॥ १-१८-३४

ह्रीमन्तः कीर्तिमन्तः च सर्वज्ञा दीर्घ दर्शिनः ।

तेषाम् एवम् प्रभावाणाम् सर्वेषाम् दीप्त तेजसाम् ॥ १-१८-३५

पिता दशरथो हृष्टो ब्रह्मा लोकाधिपो यथा ।

34b, 35, 36a. te sarvaiH guNaiH samuditaa = with all, merits, having - gifted with; yadaa j~naana sampannaaH = they [four princes,] when, practical wisdom - prudence, prospering with; hriimantaH = bashful ones - self-conscious [to do wrong deeds]; kiirtimantaH cha = well-know ones [for their gentility,] also; sarva j~naa = all, knowing ones [knowers of pros and cons]; diirgha darshinaH = foresighted - conscientious; [when they have become thus,

then]; evam prabhaavaaNaam = with this kind of, potentiality having; diipta tejasaam = radiantly, brilliant ones; teSaam sarveSaam = all, in respect of; pitaa = father; Dasharatha; loka adhipaH yathaa = world, presiding deity - Brahma, as with; hR^iSTaH = is contented.

When all of the four sons are thus prospering with prudence, gifted with all the merits, self-conscious to do wrong deeds, well-known for their gentility, knowers of pros and cons and even the conscientious princes, then their father Dasharatha is contented in respect of all of them who are such radiantly brilliant and potential princes, like Brahma. [1-18-34b, 35, 36a]

Verse Locator

ते च अपि मनुज व्याघ्रा वैदिक अध्ययने रताः ॥ १-१८-३६
पितृ शुश्रूषण रता धनुर् वेदे च निष्ठिताः ।

36. te manuja vyaaghraaH api = they, manly, tigers, even; vaidika adhyayane rataaH = Veda, studies, engrossed in; pitR^iu shushruuSaNe rataaH = in father's, service, delighted in; dhanurvede cha niSTitaaH = in art of archery, also, experts.

Even those tigerly-men, namely the princes, are engrossed in the studies of Veda-s, delighted to render service to their father and they are also the experts in art of archery. [1-18-36b, 37a]

Verse Locator

अथ राजा दशरथः तेषाम् दार क्रियाम् प्रति ॥ १-१८-३७
चिंतयामास धर्मात्मा सह उपाध्यायः स बान्धवः ।

37b, 38a. tataH = then; dharmaatmaa raajaa = noble souled, king Dasharatha; saH upaadhyayaH sa baandhavaa = along with, teachers, with, relatives; teSaam daara kriyaam prati = of their, matrimonial, works [alliances,] about; chintayaamaasa = contemplated.

Then the noble souled Dasharatha contemplated along with his priestly teachers and relatives about the matrimonial alliances of his sons. [1-18-37b, 38a]

Verse Locator

तस्य चिंतयमानस्य मंत्रि मध्ये महात्मनः ॥ १-१८-३८
अभ्यागच्छत् महातेजा विश्वामित्रो महामुनिः ।

38b, 39a. maha aatmanaH tasya = great, souled one, his Dasharatha; chintayaa maanasya = while he is thinking so [discussing so]; mantri madhye = ministers, among, mahaa tejaa = great resplendent one - highly powerful; visvaamitraH mahaa muniH = Vishvamitra great sage; abhyaagacChat [abhi aa gacChat] = arrived.

While the great souled Dasharatha is discussing the marriages of princes among his ministers, the highly powerful sage Vishvamitra arrived. [1-18-38b, 39a]

Verse Locator

स राज्ञो दर्शन आकांक्षी द्वार अध्यक्षान् उवाच ह ॥ १-१८-३९
शीघ्रम् आख्यात माम् प्राप्तम् कौशिकम् गाधिः सुतम् ।

39b, 40a. saH = he, Vishvamitra; raaj~naH darshana aakaankshii = king, to see, desirous to; dvaara adhyakshaan uvaacha ha = to the door, keeper, said to; gaadhinaH sutaH = Gadhi's son; kaushikam = belonging to Kushi's dynasty; maam praaptam = me, as arrived; shiighram aakhyaata = quickly, inform [to king.]

Desirous to have an audience with king Vishvamitra said to the doorkeeper, "Let the king be informed quickly that I, the son of Gadhi from the dynasty of Kushi, have come" [1-18-39b, 40a]

तत् श्रुत्वा वचनम् तस्य राज्ञो वेश्म प्रदुद्रुवुः ॥ १-१८-४०

संभ्रान्त मनसः सर्वे तेन वाक्येन चोदिताः ।

40b, 41a. tat vachanam shrutvaa = that, words, on listening; sarve sambhraanta manasaH = all, dumbfounded, at hearts; tena vaakyena choditaa = by those, words, ushered by; raajnaH veshma pra dudruvuH = to that, king's [Dasharatha's,] palace, quickly, rushed to.

On listening those words all the doorkeepers are dumbfounded, and ushered by those words they quickly rushed to the place of Dasharatha. [1-18-40b, 41a]

Verse Locator

ते गत्वा राज भवनम् विश्वामित्रम् ऋषिम् तदा ॥ १-१८-४१

प्राप्तम् आवेदयामासुः नृपायैः इक्ष्वाकवे तदा ।

41b, 42a. tataH = then; te raaja bhavanam gatvaa = they, to king's, palace, having gone; tataH = then; vishwamitram R^iSiM praaptam = Vishvamitra, sage, as has come; ikshwaakave nR^ipaayaiH = of Ikshvaku dynasty, to king; aavedayaamaasu = announced.

Then on their arriving at the king's palace the doorkeepers have announced to the king of Ikshvaku-s, namely Dasharatha, about the arrival of sage Vishvamitra. [1-18-41b, 42a]

Verse Locator

तेषाम् तत् वचनम् श्रुत्वा सपुरोधाः समाहितः ॥ १-१८-४२

प्रति उज्जगाम संहृष्टो ब्रह्माणम् इव वासवः ।

42b, 43a. teSaam tat vachanam shrutvaa = their [doorkeepers,] that word [that message,] on hearing; samhR^iSTaH = highly pleased, Dasharatha; sa purodhaaH = with, priests; [and] samaahitaH = collecting himself, in self-possessed manner; [tam = him, Vishvamitra]; prati ujjagaama = towards, gone - gone towards welcomingly; vaasavaH brahmaaNam iva = Indra, like, towards Brahma [in a ceremonial manner.]

On hearing that message from doorkeepers Dasharatha is highly pleased and he has gone towards Vishvamitra in a self-possessed manner along with royal priests, as Indra would ceremoniously go towards Brahma. [1-18-42b, 43a]

Verse Locator

तम् दृष्ट्वा ज्वलितम् दीप्त्या तपसम् संशित व्रतम् ॥ १-१८-४३

प्रहृष्ट वदनो राजा ततः अर्घ्यम् उपहारयत् ।

43b, 44a. tataH = then; raajaa = king Dasharatha; jwalitam = who is resplendent - Vishvamitra; diptyaa tapasam = one who is radiant, by asceticism; samshita vratam = one who severe, self-discipline; tam dR^iSTva = him [Vishvamitra,] on seeing; pra hR^iSTa vadanaH = well, gladsome, face [expression, aspect]; arghyam upahaarayat = water, offered.

Then on seeing the resplendent sage Vishvamitra, whose radiance is by his own asceticism and who has severe self-discipline, the king offered water with a gladsome aspect, as first customary hospitality in receiving unexpected guest. [1-18-43b, 44a]

Verse Locator

स राज्ञः प्रतिगृह्य अर्घ्यम् शास्त्र दृष्टेन कर्मणा ॥ १-१८-४४

कुशलम् च अव्ययम् च एव पर्य पृच्छत् नराधिपम् ।

44b, 45a. saH = he, Vishvamitra; shaastra dR^iSTena karmaNaa = scriptural, point of view - scripturally, [also] by practice - customarily; raajnaH arghyam prati gR^ihya = rom king, water, on receiving; naraadhipam = with king; kushalam cha avyayam cha eva = well-being, also, welfare, also, thus; parya apR^icChat = enquired after.

On receiving water from the king scripturally and customarily Vishvamitra enquired after the well-being and welfare of king Dasharatha. [1-18-44b, 45a]

Verse Locator

पुरे कोशे जनपदे बान्धवेषु सुहृत्सु च ॥ १-१८-४५
कुशलम् कौशिको राज्ञः पर्यपृच्छत् सुधार्मिकः ।

45b, 46a. su dhaarmikaH kaushikaH = highly righteous, Kushi's son - Vishvamitra; raajnaH = of king; pure koshe janapade baandhaveSu = in city, in exchequer, in rural areas, among relatives; su hR^itsu = among good, hearted-ones - friends; kushalam = well-being; paryapR^icChat = asked after.

That highly righteous sage Vishvamitra asked the king after the well-being of city, exchequer, rural areas, friends and relatives. [1-18-45b, 46a]

Verse Locator

अपि ते संनताः सर्वे सामंत रिपवो जिताः ॥ १-१८-४६
दैवम् च मानुषम् च एव कर्म ते साधु अनुष्ठितम् ।

46b, 47a. saamantaaH sarve te api sannata = provincial kings, all, to you, acquiescent; ripavaH jitaH = enemies, conquered; te = your; daivatam karma = for propitiating gods, deeds; maanusham cha eva = humanly, also, thus - to administer humans; saadhu anuSTitham = properly, performed.

Sage Vishvamitra asked Dasharatha, "Are all of the provincial kings acquiescent to you, and all your enemies conquered? Are you properly performing the devotional and social works?" [1-18-46b, 47a]

Verse Locator

वसिष्ठम् च समागंय कुशलम् मुनिपुंगवः ॥ १-१८-४७
ऋषीम् च तान् यथा न्यायम् महाभाग उवाच ह ।

47b, 48a. munipungavaH vasiSTham cha = sage, the eminent, Vashishta, also; taan = them; mahaa bhaagaa R^iSiim cha = most, exalted, sages, also; yathaa nyaayam = as per, custom; samaagamya = on meeting with; kushalam uvaacha ha = well-being, spoke [asked after,] indeed.

And on meeting the eminent sage Vashishta and with them the other exalted sages according to custom Vishvamitra asked after their well-being. [1-18-47b, 48a]

Verse Locator

ते सर्वे हृष्ट मनसः तस्य राज्ञो निवेशनम् ॥ १-१८-४८
विविशुः पूजिताः तेन निषेदुः च यथा अर्हतः ।

48b, 49a. te sarve hR^iSTta manasaH = all of them, gladdened, at heart; tasya raaj~naH niveshanam = that, king's, palace; vivishuH = entered; tathaa yathaa arhataH = then, according to, eligibility - protocol; tena puujitaaH = by him, the king, adored - invited; niSeduH = took seats.

Then adoringly invited by the king Dasharatha all of them gladly entered the palace and they took their seats according to protocol. [1-18-48b, 49a]

अथ हृष्ट मना राजा विश्वामित्रम् महामुनिम् ॥ १-१८-४९

उवाच परम उदारो हृष्टः तम् अभिपूजयन् ।

49b, 50a. atha = then; parama udaaraH = very, generous one; raajaa = king Dasharatha; hR^iSTta manaa = gladdened, at heart; tam mahaamuniH vishvamitram = him, the great sage, Vishvamitra; abhipuujayan hR^iSTaH = while adoring, feeling happy; uvaacha [idam] = spoke, [this way.]

Then the very generous king Dasharatha is gladdened at heart at the arrival of Vishvamitra, and he spoke this way feeling happy to adore that sage. [1-18-49b, 50a]

Verse Locator

यथा अमृतस्य संप्राप्तिः यथा वर्षम् अनूदके ॥ १-१८-५०

यथा सदृश दारेषु पुत्र जन्म अप्रजस्य वै ।

प्रणष्टस्य यथा लाभो यथा हर्षो महोदये ॥ १-१८-५१

तथा एव आगमनम् मन्ये स्वागतम् ते महामुने ।

50b, 51, 52b. mahaa mune = oh, great saint Vishvamitra; amR^itasya sampraapti yathaa = ambrosia, attaining, as with; an uduke = without, water [in droughty land]; varSam yathaa = rain, as with a prajasya = without, progeny [for childless ones]; sadR^isha daareSu = in deserving, wife; putra janma yathaa = son's, birth, as with; pra naSTasya laabhaH yathaa = long lost [treasures,] regaining, as with; mahaa udaye harSaH yathaa = at great happening, rejoice, as with; te aagamanam thaa eva = your, arrival, like that, only; manye = is deemed; swaagatam [te] = welcome, to you.

"I deem your arrival is in the vein of mortals attaining ambrosia, rainfall in a droughty land, a barren father begetting a son through his deserving wife, a regain of long lost treasures, and the gladness at a great happening, oh, great saint, welcome to you." [1-18-50b, 51, 52a]

Verse Locator

कम् च ते परमम् कामम् करोमि किमु हर्षितः ॥ १-१८-५२

पात्र भूतोऽसि मे ब्रह्मन् दिष्ट्या प्राप्तोऽसि मानद ।

अद्य मे सफलम् जन्म जीवितम् च सु जीवितम् ॥ १-१८-५३

यस्माद् विप्रेन्द्रम् अद्राक्षम् सुप्रभाता निशा मम ।

52b, 53, 54a. brahman = Oh, Brahman; harSitaH = [I, who am, at our arrival] delighted; te paramam kam kaamam = your, choicest, what, objective; kimu = in which way; karomi = I can fulfil; me paatra bhuutaH asi = to me, recipient, eligible, you are; maana daa = oh, respect, endower of; diSTyaa praaptaH asi = fortunately, arrived, you are; adya me janma saphalam = today, my, birth, is fructified; jiivitam cha su jiivitam = life, also, best life - flourishing; yasmaat vipra indram adraaksham = for what reason, Brahman, the great, is seen by me [at my own house]; suprabhaataa nishaa mama = sun dawn, night, of mine.

"Oh, Brahman, as I am the one who is delighted for your arrival, and as you are the most eligible recipient from me, what is that choicest object of yours to be fulfilled by me, and in which way. Oh, endower of respect, for me your arrival is fortunate whereby my birth is fructified and my life flourished today, and wherefore I could see a great Brahman like you visiting my home, therefore the sun appears to have dawned in my night. [1-18-52b, 53, 54a]

Verse Locator

पूर्वम् राजर्षि शब्देन तपसा द्योतित प्रभः ॥ १-१८-५४

ब्रह्मर्षित्वम् अनुप्राप्तः पूज्योऽसि बहुधा मया ।

54b, 55a. puurvam raaja R^ishi shabdena= earlier - originally, kingly-saint, by title; dyotitaH prabhaH= indicated - explicit, is your glory – such as you are; anu = subsequently; apasaa= by asceticism; brahma R^iSitwam praaptaH= Absolute, sainthood, you attained; mayaa bahudhaa puujyaH asi= by me, in many ways, venerable, you are.

"Originally your glory was explicit by your title kingly-sage, and subsequently you attained the Absolute-sainthood by your asceticism, and you are venerable to me, in many ways." [1-18-54b, 55a]

Verse Locator

तत् अद्भुतम् अभूत् विप्र पवित्रम् परमम् मम ॥ १-१८-५५

शुभ क्षेत्र गतः च अहम् तव संदर्शनात् प्रभो ।

55b, 56a. vipra = oh, Brahman; tat = thereby; [idam = this arrival of yours]; adbhutam = surprising; mama = to me; pavitram paramam = sacred, ideally; prabho = oh, adept one; tava samdarshanaat = by your, very appearance; aham = I have [become one who]; shubha kshetra gataH = to sacred, place, one who has gone - on pilgrimage; abhuut = I have become.

"Oh, Brahman, thereby your arrival at my place is surprising and ideally sacred to me, and by your very appearance I have become one who has gone on a quiet pilgrimage. [1-18-55b, 56a]

Dasharatha deems that city itself is sanctified with the arrival of Vishvamitra and thinks that he is like the one who secured the merit of pilgrimage without actually going over a sacred place.

Verse Locator

ब्रूहि यत् प्रार्थितम् तुभ्यम् कार्यम् आगमनम् प्रति ॥ १-१८-५६

इच्छाम् अनुगृहीतो अहम् त्वदर्थम् परिवृद्धये ।

56b, 57a. aagaamanam prati = arrival, regarding [the work that made you to come]; tubhyam praarthitam = by you, entreated; yat kaaryam = which, work is there [deed]; [that] bruuhi = you tell; aham anugR^ihiitaH [vai] = I am, blessed [indeed]; tvat artha = for its, result [of your deed]; pari vR^iddhaye icChaami = to its flourish [to make happen, for fulfilling it,] I wish to.

"You may tell me, entreating which work your arrival chanced here and I feel that I am indeed blessed and wish to make it happen to achieve results. [1-18-56b, 57a]

Verse Locator

कार्यस्य न विमर्शम् च गंतुम् अर्हसि सुव्रत ॥ १-१८-५७

कर्ता च अहम् अशेषेण दैवतम् हि भवान् मम ।

57b, 58a. su vrata = [sage with] blest, vows; kaaryasya vimarshanam gantum na arhasi = about work, deliberation, to go into, not, apt of you; aham a shesheNa kartaa cha = I am, without, remainder [of work - thoroughly,] the doer; bhavaan mama daivatam hi = you are, for me, god, indeed.

"It is unapt of you to deliberate about the feasibility of the work, oh, sage with blest vows, while I am the fulfiller of it without any reminder, since you are god to me, indeed. [1-18-57b, 58a]

Verse Locator

मम च अयम् अनुप्राप्तो महान् अभ्युदयो द्विज ।

तव आगमन जः कृत्स्नो धर्मः च अनुत्तमो द्विज ॥ १-१८-५८

58b, c. dwija = oh, Brahman; mama ayam mahaan abhyudayaH anupraaptaH = for me, this is, great, prosperity, that bechanced; [mama = to me]; tava aagamana jaH = your, arrival, caused; kR^itsnaH dharmaH anuttamaH = entire, propriety, is the unexcelled one.

"Oh, Brahman, this is the great prosperity that bechanced on me, and this is propriety in its entirety that bechanced on me, as a result of your arrival. [1-18-58b, c]

Verse Locator

इति हृदय सुखम् निशंय वाक्यम्
श्रुति सुखम् आत्मवता विनीतम् उक्तम् ।
प्रथित गुण यशा गुणैः विशिष्टः
परम ऋषिः परमम् जगाम हर्षम् ॥ १-१८-५९

59. aatmavataa = by high-minded Dasharatha; iti = this way; viniitam uktam = humbly, when said; hR^idaya sukham shruti sukham = for heart, pleasing, for ears, pleasing; vaakyam nishamya = words, on hearing; prathita guna yashaa = one who is renowned, [for his personal] attributes, and reputation; guNaiH vishiSTaH = by his qualities, exceptional one; parama R^iSiH = the sublime, sage [Vishvamitra]; paramam harSam jagaama = high, rejoice, he obtained.

On hearing the words of high-minded Dasharatha, said that way in all his humbleness, and those that are pleasant to ears as well to heart, he who is a renowned for his personal attributes and a reputed one by his exceptional qualities, that sublime sage Vishvamitra obtained high rejoice. [1-18-59]

Verse Locator

इति वाल्मीकि रामायणे आदिकाव्ये बाल काण्डे अष्टादशः सर्गः

Thus, this is the 18th chapter in Bala Kanda of Valmiki Ramayana, the First Epic poem of India.

Book I : Bala Kanda - The Youthful Majesties

Chapter [Sarga] 19

Verses converted to UTF-8 - Sep 2009

Introduction

Sage Vishvamitra asks King Dasharatha to send Rama to protect the Vedic ritual that is being conducted by him, from the demons that are constantly disrupting it. The sage asserts King Dasharatha that he and the other sages in Dasharatha's court know the capabilities of Rama and though Rama is in his adolescence, he can easily kill the demons. But Dasharatha is upset at this request.

Verse Locator

तत् श्रुत्वा राज सिंहस्य वाक्यम् अद्भुत विस्तरम् ।
हृष्ट रोमा महातेजा विश्वामित्रोऽभ्यभाषत ॥ १-१९-१

1. raaja simhasya = king, the lion's; tat adbhuta vistaram vaakyam = shrutvaa = that, grand, detailed, sentence; shrutvA = on listening; mahaa tejaa = great, resplendent; Vishvamitra; hR^iSTa romaa = hair-raising [thrilled]; abhya bhaSata = spoke.

On listening the grand and detailed sentences of that King the lion Dasharatha, the great resplendent Sage Vishvamitra is thrilled with happiness and spoke this way. [1-19-1]

Verse Locator

सदृशम् राज शार्दूल तव एव भुवि न अन्यतः ।
महावंश प्रसूतस्य वसिष्ठ व्यपदेशिनः ॥ १-१९-२

2. raaja shaardula = oh, kingly, tiger; bhuvi = on the earth; mahaa vamsha = great, dynasty; prasuutasya = born into; VaSThista vyapadeshinaH = by Sage Vashishta, tutored; tava = your; etat = these [promises]; sadR^isham = are befitting [to you]; anyataH na = none, else [can promise like this.]

"Oh, tigerly king, to you befitting are these words and to none else, as you are born in a great dynasty and tutored by Vashishta. [1-19-2]

Verse Locator

यत् तु मे हृद् गतम् वाक्यम् तस्य कार्यस्य निश्चयम् ।
कुरुष्व राज शार्दूल भव सत्य प्रतिश्रवः ॥ १-१९-३

3. raaja shaarduula = oh, kingly, tiger; me hR^it gatam = my, heart, gone in - what I have in my heart; yat = which [work I have]; vaakyam = what is going to be said; tasya kaaryasya nischayam kuruSva = of that, deed, decision, you take; satya prati shravaaH = truthful, promise maker; bhava = you become.

"What concerns I have in my heart I am going to say, and you take decision thereof, oh, tigerly-king, and become truthful to your promises. [1-19-3]

अहम् नियमम् आतिष्ठे सिद्धर्थम् पुरुषर्षभ ।
तस्य विघ्नकरौ द्वौ तु राक्षसौ काम रूपिणौ ॥ १-१९-४

4. puruSarSabha = oh, best one among men; aham siddhi aartham = I, to attain, a goal [of asceticism]; [these days]; niyamam aatiSTe = under a [sacrificial] vow, I am abiding by; tu = but; kaama ruupiNau = guise-changers; dvau raakshasau = two, demons; tasya vighna karau = its [ritual's,] obstacle, causers of.

"These days I am abiding by a sacrificial vow to attain a spiritual goal but, oh, best one among men, two guise changing demons as causing obstacles to that ritual. [1-19-4]

Verse Locator

व्रते मे बहुशः चीर्णे समाप्त्याम् राक्षसाविमौ ।
मारीचः च सुबाहुः च वीर्यवन्तौ सुशिक्षितौ ॥ १-१९-५
तौ मांस रुधिर ओघेण वेदिम् ताम् अभ्यवर्षताम् ।

5, 6a. bahushaH chiirNe me vraate = almost, completed, in my, ritual; samaaptyaam = at its completion, near end; viiryavantau = valiant ones; su sikshitau = well, trained ones; raakshasaa = demons; maariichaH cha = Mareecha, and; subaahuH cha = Subaahu, also; tau = they two; maamsa rudhira ogheNa = with meat, blood, streams; taam vedim vimau = that, Altar of Fire, from sky; abhya varSataamoverall = they rain [they drench.]

"At the near end of almost completed ritual of mine two valiant and well-trained demons, namely Mareecha and Subaahu, are drenching the Altar of Fire with streams of meat and blood, from the sky. [1-19-5, 6a]

Verse Locator

अवधूते तथा भूते तस्मिन् नियम निश्चये ॥ १-१९-६
कृत श्रमो निरुत्साहः तस्मात् देशात् अपाक्रमे ।

6b, 7a. tasmin niyama nishchaye = that, ritual, vow; avadhuute = upheaved - ravaged; tathaa bhuute = thus, on becoming; kR^ita shramaH = I who made, an exertion of myself; nir utsaahaH = [am becoming] without, enthusiasm - unenthusiastic; asmaat deshaat apaakrame = from that, place, departing from.

"When the ritual vow is thus ravaged I, as the one who exerted myself for the ritual, had to depart from that place, unenthusiastically. [1-19-6n, 7a]

Verse Locator

न च मे क्रोधम् उत्स्रष्टुम् बुद्धिः भवति पार्थिव ॥ १-१९-७
तथा भूता हि सा चर्या न शापः तत्र मुच्यते ।

7b, 8a. paarthiva = oh, king; krodham = anger; utsraSTum = to let loose; me buddhiH na bhavati = to me, will, is not, becoming - I have no will; saa charyaa tathaa bhutaa hi = that [kind of,] activity [during ritual,] like that, it will be [inoffensive,] isn't it; tatra = in there - under vow; shaapaH na muchyate = curses, will not be, issued.

"And to me there is no will to let loose my anger, oh, king, as no curse shall be issued under vows, and like that the activity during rituals shall be inoffensive, isn't it. [1-19-7b, 8a]

Verse Locator

स्व पुत्रम् राज शार्दूल रामम् सत्य पराक्रमम् ॥ १-१९-८

काक पक्ष धरम् शूरम् ज्येष्ठम् मे दातुम् अर्हसि ।

8b, 9a. raaja sharduula = oh, king, the tiger; satya paraakramam = truth, as his valour; kaaka paksha dharam = crows, wings, wearing - whose hair locks are like crow's wings, jet black, youngster; shuuram = brave one; sva putram = [your] own, son; jyeSTham = eldest one; ramam = Rama be; me daatum arhasi = to me, to give [to spare services,] apt of you.

"As such, oh, tigerly king, it will be apt of you spare the services of that brave one whose valour itself is his truthfulness, that youngling whose hair locks are all the more jet black like crow wings on either side of his head, spare that eldest son of yours, namely Rama. [1-19-8b, 9a]

Verse Locator

शक्तो हि येष मया गुप्तो दिव्येन स्वेन तेजसा ॥ १-१९-९

राक्षसा ये विकर्तारः तेषाम् अपि विनाशने ।

9b, 10a. eSaH mayaa guptaH = he is, by me, protected; divyena svena tejasaa = divinely, his own, with resplendence; ye vikartaaraH raakshasaaH = those, wrongdoers [thwarting,] demons; teSaam api vinaashane = of them, even, in destruction; shaktaH hi = capable, indeed.

"Indeed, he is capable to eradicate those demons that are thwarting the ritual by his own divine resplendence, and protected by me as well. [1-19-9b, 10a]

Verse Locator

श्रेयः च अस्मै प्रदास्यामि बहुरूपम् न संशयः ॥ १-१९-१०

त्रयाणाम् अपि लोकानाम् येन ख्यातिम् गमिष्यति ।

10b, 11a. asmai = to him [to Rama]; bahu ruupam = in many, a kind; shreyaH cha pradaasyaami = benefits, also, I will accord; samshayaH na = doubt, is not there; yena = by which [which benefits]; trayaaNaam lokaanaam api = three, in worlds, even; khyaatim gamiSyati = renown, he goes in [he acquires.]

"I will also accord many kinds of benefits to him by which he acquires renown in all the three worlds, no doubt about it. [1-19-10b, 11a]

Verse Locator

न च तौ रामम् आसाद्य शक्तौ स्थातुम् कथम् च न ॥ १-१९-११

न च तौ राघवात् अन्यो हन्तुम् उत्सहते पुमान् ।

11b, 12a. tau = those two [demons]; raamam aasaadya = Rama, on getting [affronting]; katham chana = in any way; sthaatum = to stand fast; na shaktau = not, capable; raaghavaat anyaH pumaan = than Raghava, other, person; tau hantum na utsahate = them two, to eliminate, do not, have fortitude.

"Those two demons will be rendered incapable to stand fast on affronting Rama in anywise, and none other than Raghava has the fortitude to eliminate those two. [1-19-11b, 12a]

Verse Locator

वीर्य उत्सिक्तौ हि तौ पापौ काल पाश वशम् गतौ ॥ १-१९-१२

रामस्य राज शार्दूल न पर्याप्तौ महात्मनः ।

12b, 13a. viirya utsiktau tau paapau = by vigour, berserk, those two, sinners; kaala paasha vasham gatau = Yama's [the Lord of Death,] noose's, subjugation, gone in; raaja

sharduula = oh, kingly, tiger; maha atmanaH raamasya na paryaaptau = for great souled, Rama, not, enough - counterbalance.

"Those two sinners that are berserk by their vigour have gone into the subjection of death's noose, oh tigerly king, cannot counterbalance the great-souled Rama. [1-19-12b, 13a]

Verse Locator

न च पुत्र गतम् स्नेहम् कर्तुम् अर्हसि पार्थिव ॥ १-१९-१३
अहम् ते प्रति जानामि हतौ तौ विद्धि राक्षसौ ।

13b, 14a. paarthiva = oh, king; putra gatam sneham = son, oriented fondness - paternal fondness; kartum na arhasi = to do [to show,] not, apt of you; tau raakshasau hatau viddhi = those two, demons, eradicated, you know - be assured; aham te pratijaanaami = I, to you, promising.

"It will be unapt of you to show your paternal fondness, oh, king, upon my oath, be assured that those two demons are eradicated. [1-19-13b, 14a]

Verse Locator

अहम् वेद्मि महात्मानम् रामम् सत्य पराक्रमम् ॥ १-१९-१४
वसिष्ठोऽपि महातेजा ये च इमे तपसि स्थिताः ।

14b, 15a. mahaa aatmaanam = sublime-soul; satya paraakramam = truthfulness, as his valour; raamam = of Rama; aham vedmi = I am, in the know of; mahaa tejaa vashishtaH api = great, resplendent one, Vashishta, even; ye tapasi sthitaH ime cha = those, saints, are here, also [know about Rama.]

"I am sensible of that sublime-soul Rama, whose valour is his truthfulness, and even this great resplendent Vashishta and these saints that are here are aware. [1-19-14b, 15a]

These verses are commented extensively by early commentators. In 14th verse, the pronoun aham, 'I' used by Sage Vishvamitra is to announce definiteness about his own stature to know the Absolute vis-a-vis the Absolute Himself. Vishvamitra was an emperor who left off everything. He was primarily a raaja R^ishi, kingly sage, later became brahma R^ishi and performed moksha kaameSTi. That is a highest asceticism for achieving salvation. Whereas Dasharatha performed Vedic ritual called putra kaameSTi, ritual for begetting sons, as he is still involved in earthly passions. Thus he is still in karmic cycle and recently went under the veil of moha, worldly delusion, advent to the birth of sons. So Dasharatha cannot know who Rama is. All these aspects are said to qualify that expression aham, i.e., 'I am', as said by Vishvamitra.

He also says aham vedmi, it is not just 'I know' but 'I am in full knowledge of Rama' and it is immediately followed by mahaa aatmaanam, about the sublime soul Rama. Rama is at present a twelve-year lad, and Dasharatha should have enquired how a boy is said to be a sublime-soul. Dasharatha did not bother to enquire about the high souled property of his son, because of his newfound fondness for sons. But, Vishvamitra is in full knowledge as to who Rama is, and says Rama is a sublime-soul, as contained in scripture puruSa suukta which says veda aham etam puruSam mahaantam, and as in yo maam pashyati Me na praNasyati Bhagavad Gita, 6-30, as well.

In next foot at 15th verse, Vishvamitra argues that he is not just extolling Rama to achieve his personal purpose, i.e., the completion of ritual. He says, vashiSTHo api even Sage Vashishta, knows Rama. Here the word api, even, is said to have been used to qualify Vashishta as an antagonist of Vishvamitra in policy differences. 'Even my opponent, this Sage Vashishta, the descendent of Goddess Saraswati and Brahma, and a brahmarSi, Absolute-knower, and at whose instance I became a brahmarSi from aajarSi, is aware of Rama...' is the argument of Vishvamitra, stressing his neutrality in seeking Rama's help.

Still Vishvamitra tells that ye cha ime tapaH sthitaH, 'those sages that are here who are rooted in asceticism' as in the vein of puruSa suukta which says tasya dhiiraaH pratijaananti yonim. Vishvamitra's argument is 'Sage Vashishta may take sides with you, because he is raja guru, the royal priest, while the others like Kaashyapa, Vaamadeva will tell you clearly, as they have no leaning on your court.'

All said and done, King Dasharatha is still lingering for a reply. Seeing that Vishvamitra further says, 'if you want to achieve renown, send Rama.' No father rejoices that much when a son is birthed than on his achieving reputation. Dasharatha is advised in the same way when saying yadi dharmamlaabham, yasha laabham 'if you want renown through a worthy son, who will be renowned in all three worlds by his coming with me, then you send Rama...'

Now Rama's reputation is going to be enhanced by Sage Vishvamitra in eliminating demoness Tataka, in releasing Ahalya from her curse, breaking Shiva's bow, marriage with Seetha, rebuffing Parashuraama etc. And also Vishvamitra leaves the decision to Dasharatha, 'if only your ministers, clergy as well political, permit then alone you send Rama with me...'

Verse Locator

यदि ते धर्म लाभम् तु यशः च परमम् भुवि ॥ १-१९-१५
स्थिरम् इच्छसि राजेन्द्र रामम् मे दातुम् अर्हसि ।

15b, 16a. raajendra = oh, best king; te dharmam laabham icChasi yadi = to you, probity, gain in value of, desire, if you; paramam yashaH cha = paramount, renown, also; bhuvi sthitam = on earth, that is abiding - long-lasting; [if you desire]; ramam me daatum arhasi = Rama, to me, to handover, apt of you.

"If you wish to gain in value of probity, a long-lasting and paramount renown on earth it will be apt of you to handover Rama to me. [1-19-15b, 16a]

Verse Locator

यदि अभ्यनुज्ञाम् काकुत्स्थ ददते तव मंत्रिणः ॥ १-१९-१६
वसिष्ठ प्रमुखाः सर्वे ततो रामम् विसर्जय ।

16b, 17a. kakutstha = oh, king from Kakutstha dynasty, Dasharatha; tava mantriNaH = your, ministers; vasiSThaH pramukhaaH sarve = Vashishta, other elite, all of them; abhyanuj~nanaam dadate yadi = assent, they give, if; tataH ramam visarjaya = then, Rama be, let out - send with me.

"Oh, Dasharatha, you may send Rama if only your ministers and all the other elite headed by Vashishta are going to give assent. [1-19-16b, 17a]

Verse Locator

अभिप्रेतम् असंसक्तम् आत्मजम् दातुम् अर्हसि ॥ १-१९-१७
दश रात्रम् हि यज्ञस्य रामम् राजीव लोचनम् ।

17b, 18a. abhipretam = choicest one; aatma jam = your son; raamam rajiiva lochanam = Rama, lotus, eyed one; a samsaktam = without your close attachment - without further delay; yaj~nasya dasa raatram hi = ritual's, ten, nights [days also included - ten days,] just for; daatum arhasi = to let out, apt of you.

"It will be apt of you to send your choicest son, the lotus-eyed Rama, just for ten days of the ritual without temporising. [1-19-17b, 18a]

Verse Locator

न अत्येति कालो यज्ञस्य यथा अयम् मम राघव ॥ १-१९-१८
तथा कुरुष्व भद्रम् ते मा च शोके मनः कृथाः ।

18b, 19a. raaghava = oh, Raghava - Dasharatha; mama yaj~nasya ayam kaalaH = my, ritual's, this, time; yathaa na atyeti = as to how, not, becomes lapsed; tathaa kuruSva = that way, you do - take decision; shoke manaH maa kR^idhaa = in grief, heart, not, be rendered; bhadram te = safety be to you.

"I wish you to take decision as to how th my ritual's time is not lapsed, and let safety betide you, let not your heart be rendered to grieve." Thus Vishvamitra said to Dasharatha. [1-19-18b, 19a]

इति एवम् उक्त्वा धर्मात्मा धर्मार्थ सहितम् वचः ॥ १-१९-१९

विरराम महातेजा विश्वामित्रो महामतिः ।

19b, 20a. dharmatmaa mahaa tejaaH mahaa muniH = virtue-souled one, great resplendent, great, saint; vishvaamitraH = Vishvamitra; iti evam = this way; dharma artha sahitam vachaH = fairness, meaning, inclusive of [meaningful,] words; uktvaa = having said; vi ra raama = paused.

On saying those words that comprise fairness and meaningfulness that virtue-souled great saint with great resplendence paused. [1-19-19b, 20a]

Verse Locator

स तन् निशंय राजेन्द्रो विश्वामित्र वचः शुभम् ॥ १-१९-२०

शोकेन महता आविष्टः चचाल च मुमोह च ।

लब्ध संज्ञः ततो उत्थाय व्यषीदत भयान्वितः ॥ १-१९-२१

20b, 21. saH raajendraH = he, best king Dasharatha; shubham tat = propitious [words,] that; vishvamitra vachaH = Vishvamitra, words; nimashya = on hearing; mahataa shokena aaviSTaH = by profound, adversity, muffled up; cacaala ca mumoha ca = shuddered, also, swooned, also; tataH = after that; labdha sa.nj~naH = gaining, consciousness; utathaaya = on getting up; bhaya anvitaH vyaSiidata = fear, along with, sunk down.

On hearing the propitious words of sage Vishvamitra that best king Dasharatha shuddered and swooned as he is muffled up with profound adversity, and after that on regaining consciousness he sunk down in fear. [1-19-20b, 21]

Verse Locator

इति हृदय मनो विदारणम्

मुनि वचनम् तद् अतीव शुश्रुवान् ।

नरपतिः अभवत् महान् महात्मा

व्यथित मनाः प्रचचाल च असनात् ॥ १-१९-२२

22. iti hR^idaya manaH vi daaraNam = this way, heart, mind, explicitly slitting; tat = that [word]; muni vachanam = saint's, words; shushruvaan = one who has heard, Dasharatha; mahaan mahaa aatmaa = illustrious, noble souled one; nara pati = king Dasharatha; tadaa = then; atiiva vyathita manaa = highly, annoyed, at heart; abhavat = he became; aasanaat pra chachaala cha = from seat [throne,] inordinately flustered, also.

This way on hearing that word of the saint Vishvamitra which is explicitly slitting his mind and heart that illustrious and noble-souled king Dasharatha then became highly annoyed at heart, and flustered extremely in his throne. [1-19-22]

Verse Locator

इति वाल्मीकि रामायणे आदिकाव्ये बाल काण्डे एकोनविंशः सर्गः ॥

Thus, this is the 19th chapter in Bala Kanda of Valmiki Ramayana, the First Epic poem of India.

Book I : Bala Kanda - The Youthful Majesties

Chapter [Sarga] 20

Verses converted to UTF-8 - Sep 2009

Introduction

On enquiring details about those dangerous demons that are ravaging sage's ritual, King Dasharatha refuses to send young Rama along with Sage Vishvamitra on many an account, and thus confronts the Sage's wrath.

Verse Locator

तत् श्रुत्वा राज शार्दूलो विश्वामित्रस्य भाषितम् ।
मुहूर्तम् इव निस्सजः सज्ञावान् इदम् अब्रवीत् ॥ १-२०-१

1. raaja shaarduulaH = king, the tiger; vishvamitrasya tat bhaaSitam shrutvaa = Vishvamitra's, that, spoken, on hearing; muhuurtam iva nissanj~naH = for a time, thus, became senseless; sanj~navaan idam abraviit = gaining senses, this, said.

On hearing what is spoken by Vishvamitra the tigerly-king Dasharatha became insensate for a time, and on redeeming senses he said this. [1-20-1]

Verse Locator

ऊन षोडश वर्षो मे रामो राजीव लोचनः ।
न युद्ध योग्यताम् अस्य पश्यामि सह राक्षसैः ॥ १-२०-२

2. raajiiva lochanaH = lotus, eyed one; me raamaH = my, Rama; uuna SoDasha varSaH = is less than, sixteen, years [of age]; asya raakshasaiH saha = his, with, demons; yuddha yogyataam = warring, aptitude; na pasyaami = not, I see.

""Less than sixteen years of age is my lotus-eyed Rama, and I see no warring aptitude to him with the demons. [1-20-2]

This particular statement uuna SoDasha varshaH less than sixteen years, has evoked a spate of commentaries in deciding the age of Rama at this juncture of going along with Sage Viswamitra, i.e., at the time of his marrying Seeta and at the time of his exile to forests etc. His age is said to be twelve years as of now. And this is confirmed by Mareecha while advising Ravana, that 'as a boy of twelve Rama, killed my mother and brother, and hit me out' as at 3-38-6, uuna dvaadasha varSaH Or, baalo dvaadasha varSo ayam as per other versions of the same verse.

Ramayana has some bearing on the number twelve. The Books or Kaanda-s are 6, half of twelve. The total verses are 24 thousand, two folds of twelve thousand. Rama is born in twelfth month. Vishvamitra's arrival, or better said as Seetha kalyaNa, Seetha's marriage with Rama, is in the twelfth year. His stay in Ayodhya before crown prince ceremony and exile is for twelve years. The years of Rama's exile are twelve, plus two years stay in Panchavati, of the total fourteen years of exile. In Uttara Ramayana Seetha's exile in the hermitage of Valmiki is for twelve years. So on...

Some others said that because Rama has not yet attained all the sixteen phases like full moon, he is not a full-fledged person, chaaru SoDasha kalaa sahitaH Again in saying: raajiiva lochana lotus-eyed one - petals of lotuses close down by night, so Rama's eyelids too close by night for a boyish sleep. Then how can such a boy war with night-active demons? In answer to this Sage Vishvamitra uses the same wording in previous chapter at 1-19-18, dasha raatram; raamam raajiiva locanam where the wording raajiiva locana is used by Vishvamitra in the sense that the petals of a lotus spread out on the first rays of sun. So also the very opening of the lotus-petal eyelids of Rama will eradicate the nightly menace of demons with his Omniscient Sun-Moon-Fire eyes, suurya chandra agni lochana , that can see even in night.

A Kshatriya of sixteen years age is unfit to war with any one, as he is still a childhood baala aashoDashaat varSaa . But Rama is under sixteen, and he is being requisitioned for war. Can he combat even if he is under aged? Yes, he can, says Govindaraja as per the nyaya /syndrome, tejasaam hi na vayaH samiikshyate 'dextrous person's age is not to be reckoned' As such, though Rama appears to be under aged he can do wonders in eliminating the vice. This is again rounded off with Vishvamitra's wording in last chapter: aham vedmi mahaa aatmaanam raamam raajiiva locanam.

Verse Locator

इयम् अक्षौहिणी सेना यस्य अहम् पतिः ईश्वरः ।
अनया सहितो गत्वा योद्धु अहम् तैर् निशाचरैः ॥ १-२०-३

3. puurNaa iyam akshouhiNii = full-fledged one, this one - here is, battalion [of ancient Indian warfare]; yasya aham patiH = for which, I am, the leader; iishwara = controller; anayaa sam vR^itaH = by this [battalion,] surrounded - fortified by; gatvaa = having gone; aham taiH nishaa charaiH yoddhaa = I will, with those, night, walkers [demons,] I can encounter.

"Here is the full-fledged battalion, called akshouhiNi sena , for which I am the leader and controller, and fortified by this army I will go there to encounter those demons. [1-20-3]

One pankti row, is the first unit of ancient military, which consists of 1 chariot, 1 elephant, 3 cavalry, and 7-foot soldiers. Multiples of this first unit become an akshouhiNi troop, which consists of 21,870 chariots and the same number of elephants, 65,610 cavalry, and 1,09,350 of foot soldiers.

Verse Locator

इमे शूराः च विक्रान्ता भृत्याः मे अस्त्र विशारदाः ।
योग्या रक्षोगणैः योद्धुम् न रामम् नेतुम् अर्हसि ॥ १-२०-४

4. me bhR^ityaa = my, subordinates - soldiers; ime shuuraaH cha = these, braves ones, also; vikraantaa = daring ones; astra vishaaradaaaH = in weaponry, experts; rakshaH ganaiH = with demon, hordes; yoddhum yogyaaH = to combat, suitable ones; raamam = Rama; netum = to take along; na arhasi = not, apt of you.

"Brave and daring are these soldiers of mine, and as experts in weaponry they are the appropriate ones to combat the hordes of demons, but, it will be ungentle of you to take Rama with you. [1-20-4]

Verse Locator

अहम् एव धनुष्पाणिः गोप्ता समर मूर्धनि ।
यावत् प्राणान् धरिष्यामि तावत् योत्स्ये निशाचरैः ॥ १-२०-५

5. aham eva = I, alone; dhanuS paaNiH = having bow, in hand; goptaa = I can protect [ritual]; yaavat praaNaan dhariSyaami = as long as, lives, I bear; taavat = so long; samara muurdhani = in war's, forefront; nishaa charaiH yotse = with nightwalkers [demons,] I war.

"I alone with bow in my hand can protect your ritual, and as long as I bear my lives so long I war with those nightwalkers staying in the van of war. [1-20-5]

Verse Locator

निर्विघ्ना व्रत चर्या सा भविष्यति सुरक्षिता ।
अहम् तत्र आगमिष्यामि न रामम् नेतुम् अर्हसि ॥ १-२०-६

6. aham tatra aagama iSyaami = I am, over there, to come, I wish; saa vrata charya = that, ritual, work; su rakshitaa = well, guarded; nir vighnaa = without, impediments; bhaviSyati = it will be; raamam netum na arhasi = Rama, to take with you, inapt of you.

" I myself wish to come over there thereby the works of ritual will be well-guarded and unimpeded, but, taking Rama with you will be ungracious of you. [1-20-6]

Verse Locator

बालो हि अकृत विद्यः च न च वेत्ति बलाबलम् ।
न च अस्त्र बल संयुक्तो न च युद्ध विशारदः ॥ १-२०-७
न च असौ रक्षसा योग्यः कूट युद्धा हि राक्षसा ।

7, 8a. hi = why because; [Rama] baalaH = a boy; a kR^ita vidyaH cha = not done [unschooled,] in education; bala a balam = strengths, weaknesses; na veti cha = not, knows, also; astra bala samyuktaH = missiles, accumulation [- arsenal,] he is along with; na = he is not, - he has no equipage of arsenal; yuddha vishaaradaH cha = in warfare, he is an expert, also; na = he is not; asau raakshasaa yogyaH = to those, demons, as a match, equal; na = he is not; te dhruvam kuuTa yuddha hi = those, definitely, with deceitful, warfare, isn't it.

"Why because, Rama is boy! And he is unschooled in his princely education; does he know the strengths and weaknesses of opponents - no; has he got the equipage of arsenal - no; has he any expertise in warfare - no; is he an equal to the demons - no; be that as it may, those demons definitely conduct a deceitful warfare, isn't it. [1-19-7, 8a]

Verse Locator

विप्रयुक्तो हि रामेण मुहूर्तम् अपि न उत्सहे ॥ १-२०-८
जीवितुम् मुनि शार्दूल न रामम् नेतुम् अर्हसि ।

8b, 9a. raameNa = with Rama; viprayuktaH [vi pra yuktaH] = [I am] alienated from; muhurtam api = for a moment, even; jiivitum na utsahe = to live, not, inclined; muni shaarduula = sage, the tiger; raamam netum na arhasi = Rama, to take with you, not, apt of you.

"Alienated from Rama I am disinclined to live even for a moment, oh, tigerly sage, hence taking Rama with you will be unjust. [1-20-8b, 9a]

Verse Locator

यदि वा राघवम् ब्रह्मन् नेतुम् इच्छसि सुव्रत ॥ १-२०-९
चतुरंग समायुक्तम् मया सह च तम् नय ।

9b, 10a. suvrata = oh, one with best vows; brahman = oh, Brahman; vaa = otherwise; raaghavam netum icChasi yadi = Rama, to take away, you wish, if; chatur anga samaayuktam = four kinds of troops, along with; mayaa saha ca = me, along with, also; tam naya = him [Rama,] you lead forth - take.

"Otherwise, oh, Brahman with best vows, if you so wish to take Rama along with you, you lead him off along with me, and along with my four kinds of troops. [1-20-9b, 10a]

The four kinds of troops are: chariots, elephants, cavalry, and foot soldiers.

Verse Locator

षष्टिः वर्ष सहस्राणि जातस्य मम कौशिक ॥ १-२०-१०
कृच्छ्रेण उत्पादितः च अयम् न रामम् नेतुम् अर्हसि ।

10b, 11a. koushika = oh, Vishvamitra; jaatasya mama = birthed, for me [from my birth]; SaSTiH varSa sahasraaNi = sixty, years, thousands [sixty thousand years passed]; ayam = this one [Rama]; kR^icChreNa = with tribulations; utpaaditaH cha = is produced given birth, also; raamam netum na arhasi = Rama, to take with you, not, apt of you.

"Sixty thousand years have passed from my birth, oh! Vishvamitra, and this Rama is engendered at this age, that too with tribulations, hence taking Rama with you will be inappropriate of you. [1-20-10b, 11a]

Verse Locator

चतुर्णाम् आत्मजानाम् हि प्रीतिः परमिका मम ॥ १-२०-११
ज्येष्ठे धर्म प्रधाने च न रामम् नेतुम् अर्हसि ।

11b, 12a. chaturNaam aatma jaanaam = for four, of my soul, born sons; mama paramikaa priitiH hi = to me, exceptional, affection is there, isn't it; jyeSThe = eldest one; dharma pradhaane cha = [in view of rightness [of descent,] significance, also - as he is the next king, do not butcher him now; raamam netum na arhasi = Rama, to take with you, not, apt of you.

"I will have exceptional affection for all of my four sons, isn't it, and among them Rama has a significance in the matter of his descent as an eldest son, hence taking Rama with you will be unjust of you. [1-20-11b, 12a]

Verse Locator

किम् वीर्याः राक्षसाः ते च कस्य पुत्राः च के च ते ॥ १-२०-१२
कथम् प्रमाणाः के च एतान् रक्षन्ति मुनिपुंगव ।

12b, 13a. muni pungava = oh, sage, the eminent; te raakshasaaH kim viirya = those, demons, of what, fortitude; kasya putraaH cha = whose, sons, also; te ke = they, who; katham pramaaNaaH = of what, size; ke cha etaan rakshanti = who, also, all of them, protecting.

"Oh, eminent sage, of what fortitude are those demons? Whose sons are they? Who are they? How is their size and shape? Also who protects all of them? [1-20-12b, 13a]

Verse Locator

कथम् च प्रति कर्तव्यम् तेषाम् रामेण रक्षसाम् ॥ १-२०-१३
मामकैः वा बलैः ब्रह्मन् मया वा कूट योधिनाम् ।

13b, 14a. brahman = oh, Brahman; kuuTa yothaanaam = deceitful, militants; teSaam raakshasaam = in respect of those, demons; raameNa = by Rama; maamakaiH balaiH vaa = my own, forces, or; mayaa vaa = by me, or; katham prati kartavyam = how to, retaliate.

"Oh, Brahman, how Rama, or my forces, or I myself have to retaliate those demons that are deceitful militants. [1-20-13b, 14a]

Verse Locator

सर्वम् मे शंस भगवन् कथम् तेषाम् मया रणे ॥ १-२०-१४
स्थातव्यम् दुष्ट भावानाम् वीर्योत्सिक्ता हि राक्षसाः ।
तस्य तद् वचनम् श्रुत्वा विश्वामित्रो अभ्यभाषत ॥ १-२०-१५

14b, 15. bhagavan = oh, god; duSTa bhaavaanaam = evil, minded ones; teSaam raNe katham mayaa sthaatavyam = with them, in war, how, by me, to stand - to carry out; sarvam me shamsa = all, to me, you inform; raaakshasaaH viirya utsiktaa hi = demons, by audacity, delirious, isn't it; tasya tat vachanam shrutvaa = his [Dasharatha's,] that, words, on hearing; Vishvamitra; abhyabhashitaH = spoke.

"Tell me all that, oh, god, how I have to carry on when warring with those evil minded demons, for the demons will be delirious by their audacity, isn't it..." Thus Dasharatha asked Vishvamitra insistently. On hearing those words Sage Vishvamitra replied this way. [1-20-14b, 15]

Verse Locator

पौलस्त्य वंश प्रभवो रावणो नाम राक्षसः ।
स ब्रह्मणा दत्त वरः त्रैलोक्यम् बाधते भृशम् ॥ १-२०-१६
महाबलो महावीर्यो राक्षसैः बहुभिः वृतः ।

16, 17a. paulastya vamsha prabhavaH = Pulastya, dynasty, born in; raaavaNa naama raakshasaH = Ravana, named, demon [is there]; mahaa balaH mahaa viiryaH = greatly, mighty, greatly, brave; saH = he; brahmaNaa datta varaH = by Brahma, given, boon; bahubhiH raakshasaiH vR^itaH = with many, demons, surrounded with [accompanied with]; trai lokyam bhR^isham badhate = three, worlds, highly, [contemptuously] torturing.

"One born in Paulastya dynasty, an extremely mighty and exceedingly brave demon named Ravana is there, and he with the boon given by Brahma, and accompanied with many other demons is torturing the triad of worlds, contemptuously. [1-20-16, 17a]

Verse Locator

श्रूयते च महाराजा रावणो राक्षस अधिपः ॥ १-२०-१७
साक्षात् वैश्रवण भ्राता पुत्रो विश्रवसो मुनेः ।

17b, 18a. mahaa raajaa = oh, exalted king Dasharatha; saakshaat vaishravaNa bhraataa = unequivocally, Kubera's, brother; visravasaH muneH putraH = Vishravasa, the sage's, son of; raakshasa adhipaH = demon's, chief; shruuyate = he is being heard so.

"Unequivocally that chief of demons is the brother of Kubera and the son of sage Vishravasa, thus we hear. [1-20-17b, 18a]

Verse Locator

यदा न खलु यज्ञस्य विघ्न कर्ता महाबलः ॥ १-२०-१८
तेन संचोदितौ तौ तु राक्षसौ च महाबलौ ।
मारीचः च सुबाहुः च यज्ञ विघ्नम् करिष्यतः ॥ १-२०-१९

18b, 19. mahaa balaH = great, mighty - formidable Ravana; yadaa yaj~nasya vighna kartaa na khalu = when, rituals, hindrances - devastation, causer, not, indeed; tena samchoditaH = by him, instigated; maariicaH ca subaahuH ca = Mareecha, and, Subaahu, also; tau mahaa balau raakshasau tu = those, very mighty, demons, but; yaj~na vighnam kariSyataH = ritual, hindrance, will cause.

"That formidable Ravana is not a devastator of rituals by himself, even so, two very mighty demons called Mareecha and Subaahu will cause devastating hindrances to rituals, instigated by him." Thus Sage Vishvamitra said to Dasharatha. [1-20-18b, 19]

Verse Locator

इति उक्तो मुनिना तेन राजा उवाच मुनिम् तदा ।
न हि शक्तो अस्मि संग्रामे स्थातुम् तस्य दुरात्मनः ॥ १-२०-२०

20. iti tena muninaa uktaH = thus, by that, sage, one who is said; raajaH tadaa munim uvaacha = king Dasharatha, then, to sage, spoke; sangraame = in war; tasya dur aatmanaH = him, evil, minded one Ravana; sthaatum na shaktaH asmi hi = to stand [against him,] not, capable, I am, in truth; annex: where is the question of deputing my young Rama to confront him.

Thus when he is said so by that sage Vishvamitra, then the king Dasharatha spoke to the sage, "I myself am not capable of standing against that evil minded Ravana, in truth, where is the question of deputing my young Rama to confront him? [1-20-20]

Verse Locator

स त्वम् प्रसादम् धर्मज्ञ कुरुष्व मम पुत्रके ।
मम च एव अल्प भाग्यस्य दैवतम् हि भवान् गुरुः ॥ १-२०-२१

21. dharma j~na = probity, knower; saH = such as you are; tvam = you; mama putrake = on my, boyish son; alpa bhaagyasaya mama cha eva = less, fortunate, one me, also, thus; prasaadam kuruSva = benevolence, you bestow; guruH bhavaan daivatam hi = mentor, you are, god, indeed.

"You are the knower of probity, such as you are, you may please bestow benevolence upon my boyish son, as well on a less fortunate one like me too, and as our mentor you are indeed a god of ours. [1-20-21]

Verse Locator

देव दानव गंधर्वा यक्षाः पतग पन्नगाः।
न शक्ता रावणम् सोढुम् किम् पुनर् मानवा युधि ॥ १-२०-२२

22. deva daanava = gods, demons; gandharvaa; yakshaaH [celestials]; pataga = winged beings [birds]; pannagaaH = reptile beings; yudhi = in war; raavanam = Ravana's; soDhum = bear [the brunt of]; na shaktaa = not, capable of; kim punaH maanavaa = why, again [tell, about] humans.

"Gods, demons, celestial beings like gandharva-s, yaksha-s, winged and reptile beings are incapable to bear the brunt of that Ravana in fight, why tell again about humans. [1-20-22]

Verse Locator

स तु वीर्यवताम् वीर्यम् आदत्ते युधि रावणः ।
तेन च अहम् न शक्तोऽस्मि संयोद्धुम् तस्य वा बलैः ॥ १-२०-२३
सबलो वा मुनिश्रेष्ठ सहितो वा मम आत्मजैः ।

23, 24a. saH raavaNaH tu = he, that Ravana, but; yudhi = in battle; viiryavataam viiryam aadatte = valorous ones', valour, depletes; muni sreSThaH = oh, sage, the eminent; sa balaH vaa = with, my [entire] forces, either; mama aatmajaiH sahitaH vaa = my, sons, along with, or; aham tena = I, with him [individually]; tasya balaiH vaa = with his, forces, or; sam yoddhum = to grapple with; shaktaH na asmi = capable, not - inadequate, I am.

"But that Ravana depletes the valour of valorous opponents in a battle, oh, eminent sage, either with my entire forces, or with all my sons I am inadequate to grapple with all his forces, or with him, individually. [1-20-23, 24a]

Verse Locator

कथम् अपि अमर प्रख्यम् संग्रामाणाम् अकोविदम् ॥ १-२०-२४
बालम् मे तनयम् ब्रह्मन् नैव दास्यामि पुत्रकम् ।

24b, 25a. brahman = oh, Brahman; amara prakhyam = godlike [for Rama is still a boy]; sangraamaanaam = in wars; a kovidam = not, experienced; baalam = just a boy; putrakam = a son who alleviates hell of sonless fathers; me tanayam = my, son; katham api = in any wise; na eva daasyaami = not, thus, I handover.

"My boyish son is godlike and unfledged in warfare, oh, Brahman, and he is the one who alleviates me from punnama naraka the hell of sonless fathers... no, I cannot spare my son in

अथ काल उपमौ युद्धे सुतौ सुन्दोपसुन्दयोः ॥ १-२०-२५
यज्ञ विघ्न करौ तौ ते न एव दास्यामि पुत्रकम् ।

25b, 26a. atha = further; te yaj~na vighna karau = your, ritual, sabotage, causers - saboteurs; tau = those two - Mareecha, Subaahu; sunda upasundayoH sutau = demons Sunda, Upasunda, sons of [viz., descendants of]; yuddhe kaala upmau = in war, Death-god, in simile; putrakam na eva daasyaami = son, not, in any way, I spare.

"Further, those saboteurs of your ritual namely Mareecha and Subaahu, are similar to Death-god and the descendents of the earliest demons and subverters of rituals, namely Sunda and Upasunda, no, I cannot spare my son, in any case. [1-20-25b, 26a]

मारीचः च सुबाहुः च वीर्यवन्तौ सुशिक्षितौ ॥ १-२०-२६
तयोः अन्यतरम् योद्धुम् यास्यामि स सुहृत् गणः ।
अन्यथा त्वनुनेष्यामि भवन्तम् सह बान्धव ॥ १-२०-२७

26b, 27. maariicaH ca subaahuH ca = Mareecha, also, Subaahu, also; viiryavantau sushikSitau = valorous ones, well-trained ones; sa suhR^it gaNaH = along with, friendly, forces; tayoH anyataram yoddhum = with one only [either of the two demons,] to war; yaasyaami = I will proceed; anyathaa = otherwise; saha baandhava = with, relatives; bhavantam = your [order, in turning down]; tvam anuneSyaami = you, I implore upon you.

"Mareecha and Subaahu are well-trained and valorous ones, hence I will proceed with all my friendly forces to war with either of those two demons, otherwise, I along with all my relatives implore upon you for your exoneration in my failure to comply my own promises. [1-20-26b, 27]

इति नरपति जल्पनात् द्विजेन्द्रम्
कुशिक सुतम् सुमहान् विवेश मन्युः ।
सु हुत इव मखे अग्निः आज्य सिक्तः
समभवत् उज्ज्वलितो महर्षि वह्निः ॥ १-२०-२८

28. iti = that way; nara pati jalpanaat = peoples', lord, [king's,] with incongruous talk; dwija indram = Brahman, outstanding one - Vishvamitra; kushika sutam = to sage Kushi's, son - to Vishvamitra; su mahaan manyuH vivesha = very, high, anger, overwhelmed with; maharshi vahniH = glorious sage, [called] the fire; makhe su huta = in ritual, well obliterated; aajya siktaH = with ghee [clarified butter,] drenched; agniH iva = fire, like; ujwalithaH = flared up [tongues of fire]; samabhavat = has happened [flared up.]

Thus, by the incongruous talk of Dasharatha, the outstanding Brahman and son of Sage Kushi, namely sage Vishvamitra is overwhelmed with outrageous anger by his mentation, and that fire-like glorious sage looked like the ritual fire into which many inflammable oblations are offered, and which is drenched with a lot of clarified butter, whereby it is flaring up its tongues. [1-20-28]

इति वाल्मीकि रामायणे आदिकाव्ये बाल काण्डे विंशः सर्गः ॥

Thus, this is the 20th chapter in Bala Kanda of Valmiki Ramayana, the First Epic poem of India.

Book I : Bala Kanda - The Youthful Majesties

Chapter [Sarga] 21

Verses converted to UTF-8 - Sep 2009

Introduction

The ire of sage Vishvamitra is shown at king Dasharatha. To pacify sage Vishvamitra, sage Vashishta intervenes and convinces king Dasharatha to send Rama with sage Vishvamitra. While doing so, sage Vashishta enumerates the capabilities of sage Vishvamitra, his knowledge of weaponry. Vashishta also suggests that all those weapons will be given to Rama, if Rama is dispatched with Vishvamitra. At last, Dasharatha agrees to send Rama.

Verse Locator

तत् श्रुत्वा वचनम् तस्य स्नेह पर्याकुलाक्षरम् ।
समन्युः कौशिको वाक्यम् प्रति उवाच महीपतिम् ॥ १-२१-१

1. tasya sneha paryaakula aksharam = his [Dasharatha's,] with fond [for son,] wavery, letters [words]; tat vachanam shrutwaa = that, sentence, on hearing; sa manyuH kaushikaH = with, wrath, Vishvamitra; mahii patim vaakyam prati uvaacha = to land, lord - king; sentence, in turn said - replied.

On hearing the wavery words of Dasharatha that are full of fond for his son, Vishvamitra wrathfully replied this sentence to the king. [1-21-1]

Verse Locator

पूर्वम् अर्थम् प्रति श्रुत्य प्रतिज्ञाम् हातुम् इच्छसि ।
राघवाणाम् अयुक्तोऽयम् कुलस्य अस्य विपर्ययः ॥ १-२१-२

2. puurvam artham pratishrutya = firstly, object - promise, having promised; pratij~naam haatum icChasi = promise, to repudiate, you wish [now]; ayam viparyayaH = this, deviation; raaghavaaNaam asya kulasya a yuktaH = for [kings of] Raghava-s, this, dynasty's, not, deserving.

"On promising me to fulfil my object in the first instance you wish to repudiate it now, undeserving is this kind of deviation for the kings of Raghava dynasty. [1-21-2]

Verse Locator

यद् इदम् ते क्षमम् राजन् गमिष्यामि यथा आगतम् ।
मिथ्या प्रतिज्ञः काकुत्स्थ सुखी भव सु हृद् वृतः ॥ १-२१-३

3. raajan = oh, king; idam te kshamam yadi = this is, to you, worth while, if; yathaa aagatam gama iSyaami = as, I have come, to go away, I wish; kaakutha = oh, Kakutstha; mithyaa pratij~naH = one with feigned, promise; sa baandhava sukhi bhava = with, kinsmen, happy, you be [nonchalant.]

"If this is worth while to you, oh, king, I wish to go away as I have come, and you with your feigned promises be nonchalantly happy with your kinsmen." So said Vishvamitra to the king. [1-

तस्य रोष परीतस्य विश्वामित्रस्य धीमतः ।
चचाल वसुधा कृत्स्ना देवानाम् च भयम् ॥ १-२१-४

4. dhiimataH = prudent one; tasya vishwamitrasya roSa pariitasya = that, Vishvamitra, in fury, when he is enwrapped in; kR^itsnaa vasudhaa chachaalaH = entire, earth, trembled; suraan bhayam vivesha cha = to gods, scare, entered [in their minds.]

When that prudent sage Vishvamitra is thus enwrapped in fury, then the whole earth trembled and the gods are scared. [1-21-4]

त्रस्त रूपम् तु विज्ञाय जगत्सर्वम् महान् ऋषिः ।
नृपतिम् सुव्रतो धीरो वसिष्ठो वाक्यम् अब्रवीत् ॥ १-२१-५

5. su vrataH = one with high vows; dhiiraH = insightful one; mahaan R^ishiH = great, sage; Vashishta; jagat sarvam = world, entire; trasta ruupam tu vij~naaya = appalled, appearance, then, knowing; nR^ipam = to king; vaakyam abraviit = words, said.

On knowing the appalled appearance of the entire world at the fury of Vishvamitra, Vashishta the great sage with high vows and an insightful one too, said these words to the king. [1-21-5]

इक्ष्वाकूणाम् कुले जातः साक्षात् धर्म इव अपरः ।
धृतिमान् सुव्रतः श्रीमान् न धर्मम् हातुम् अर्हसि ॥ १-२१-६

6. ikshwaakuNaam kule jaataH = in Ikshwaku, dynasty, born [are you]; saakshaat aparaH dharam iva = apparently, another, god of ethics, [you are] like; dhR^itimaan = staunch person; su vrataH = rightly, vowed one; shriimaan = glorious one; dharmam haatum na arhasi = ethics, to forsake, not, apt of you.

"Born in Ikshwaku dynasty you are apparently the other god of ethics on earth, a staunch one with righteous vows and a glorious one too, such as you are, it will be unapt of you to forsake ethics." [1-21-6]

त्रिषु लोकेषु विख्यातो धर्मात्मा इति राघव ।
स्व धर्मम् प्रतिपद्यस्व न अधर्मम् वोढुम् अर्हसि ॥ १-२१-७

7. raaghava = oh, Raghu's descendent; dharmaatmaa iti = right-minded one, thus as; triSu lokeshu vikhyataH = in three, worlds, you are renowned; sva dharmam pratipadyasva = your own, uprightness, adhere to; a dharmam voDhum na arhasi = unrighteousness, to bear [adhering to,] not, apt of you.

"In three worlds you are renowned as the right-minded one, oh, Raghava, hence adhere to your own uprightness, and adhering to unrighteousness will be unapt of you. [1-21-7]

प्रति श्रुत्य करिष्ये इति उक्तम् वाक्यम् अकुर्वतः ।
इष्टापूर्तं वधो भूयात् तस्मात् रामम् विसर्जय ॥ १-२१-८

8. raaghavaH = oh, Raghava; iti kariSye = this deed/way, will be done - effectuated; pratishrutya = having promised; uktam vaakyam a kurvataH = said [promised,] word, not, doing; iSTapuurta vadham bhuuyaat = [to the merits of] Vedic rituals, doom, it becomes; tasmaat ramam vi sarjaya = therefore, Rama, be left of ♦ let go.

"Promising to effectuate something in any way and not effectuating the given word results in the perdition to the merits of iSTapurta Vedic rituals, hence oh, Raghava, leave hold of Rama. [1-21-8]

In some Vedic rituals activates for social service are undertaken, and they are known as iSTapuurta rituals, in which digging wells, lakes and other social facilities will be undertaken.

Verse Locator

कृतास्त्रम् अकृतास्त्रम् वा न एवम् शक्ष्यन्ति राक्षसाः ।
गुप्तम् कुडिशिक पुत्रेण ज्वलनेन अमृतम् यथा ॥ १-२१-९

9. kR^ita astram = done - trained in, weaponry [trained] ; a kR^ita astram vaa = un, trained, in weaponry, or; kushika putreNa guptam = by Kushika's son - by Vishvamitra, protected; enam = him [Rama]; jwalanena amR^ita yathaa = [protected] by fire, ambrosia, as with; raakshasaaH na shakshanti = demons, cannot, trounce.

"Whether Rama is trained in weaponry or not, demons cannot trounce Rama as long as Kushi's son Vishvamitra protects him, like the heavenly firewall that protects divine nectar. [1-21-9]

In heaven an unapproachable firewall encircles the vessel of ambrosia protecting it from thieving by the demons.

Verse Locator

एष विग्रहवान् धर्म एष वीर्यवताम् वरः ।
एष विद्य अधिको लोके तपसः च परायणम् ॥ १-२१-१०

10. eSa vigrahavaan dharmaH = he is [Vishvamitra is,] an embodiment of, virtue; eSa viiryavataam varaH = he is, among venturesome, matchless; eSa budhya = he is, by intellect; loke adhikaH = [among all] in world, peerless; tapasaH paraayaNam = for asceticism, flawless one.

"He is an embodiment of virtue, matchless among the venturesome, peerless in intellect among all in the world, and flawless in asceticism. [1-21-10]

Verse Locator

एषो अस्त्रान् विविधान् वेत्ति त्रैलोक्ये स चराचरे ।
न एनम् अन्यः पुमान् वेत्ति न च वेत्स्यन्ति केचन ॥ १-२१-११

11. eSa vividhaan astraan veti = he, various, missiles, is in know-how; enam = him [about Vishvamitra]; sa chara a chara = with, mobile, sessile; traai lokye = in three, worlds; anyaH pumaan na veti = other, person, does not, know [excepting me]; kechana na vetsyanti cha = someone, not, [be able to] know, even.

"He is in the know-how of various missiles, and no other person is there in the triad of worlds, inclusive of sessile and mobile worlds, who is knowledgeable about him, or someone who can know him will be there in future, excepting myself. [1-21-11]

Verse Locator

न देवा न ऋषयः केचित् न अमरा न च राक्षसाः ।
गन्धर्व यक्ष प्रवराः स किन्नर महोरगाः ॥ १-२१-१२

12. devaaH = gods; na = cannot know Vishvamitra; R^ishaSayaH kechit na = sages, anybody, no; amaraaH na = immortals, no; raakshasaaH cha = demons, also; na = no; sa kinnara maha uragaaH ghandharva yaksha pravaraaH = together with, kinnaraa, great reptile beings, ghandharva, yaksha, eminent ones; [na = no.]

"While Gods cannot know Vishvamitra, can anybody from sages - no; immortals- no; demons - no; the ghandharva-s and eminent yaksha-s together with the kinnaraa-s and great reptile beings - no, they cannot know him. [1-21-12]

Verse Locator

सर्व अस्त्राणि कृशाश्वस्य पुत्राः परम धार्मिकाः ।
कौशिकाय पुरा दत्ता यदा राज्यम् प्रशासति ॥ १-२१-१३

13. kR^ishaasvasya = Krishaasva's parama dhaarmikaaH putraaH = highly righteous, sons; sarva astraani = all, missiles [known to Vishvamitra] are; yadaa puraaa raajyam prashaasati = when, earlier, kingdom, he was ruling; then; kaushikaaya datta = to Kaushika - Viswamitra, they were given [by god Shiva.]

"All the missiles known to Vishvamitra are the highly righteous children of Krishaasva Prajapati, where Prajapati-s were the earliest ruler of mankind, and god Shiva gave them to Vishvamitra when was ruling kingdom. [1-21-13]

Verse Locator

ते अपि पुत्रा कृशाश्वस्य प्रजापति सुता सुताः ।
न एक रूपा महावीर्या दीप्तिमन्तो जयावहाः ॥ १-२१-१४

14. prajaapati sutaa sutaaH = [Daksha] Prajaapati's, daughter's, sons; kR^ishaashvasya putraa = Krishaasva Prajapati, sons; te api = they, even; na eka ruupa = not, in one, form - disparate; maha viiryaa = very, intrepid ones; diiptimantaH = dazzling; jayaa vahaa = victory, carriers of.

"Those missiles are the sons of Daksha Prajaapati's daughters and her husband Krishaasva Prajapati, and they are disparate in their form, intrepid, dazzling, and victory-oriented missiles. [1-21-14]

Verse Locator

जया च सुप्रभा च एव दक्ष कन्ये सुमध्यमे ।
ते सूते अस्त्र शस्त्राणि शतम् परम भास्वरम् ॥ १-२१-१५

15. jaya cha suprabha eva = Jaya, and, Suprabha, also; su madhyame = best waisted ones; daksha kanye = Daksha Prajaapati's daughters; te = they; to them, parama bhaasvaram = supremely, flaring; astra shatraani = to missiles, weapons; shatam = hundred; suute = gave birth.

"Jaya and Suprabha, the daughters of Daksha Prajapati, endowed with best waists gave birth to a hundred missiles and weaponry whose flare is supreme. [1-21-15]

Verse Locator

पंचाशतम् सुतान् लेभे जया लब्ध वरा वरान् ।
वधायासुरसैन्यानामप्रमेयानरूपिणः - यद्वा -
वधाय असुर सैन्यानाम् अप्रमेयान् अरूपिणः ॥ १-२१-१६

16. jaya naama = Jaya, named [lady]; labdha varaa = on getting, boon; asura sainyaanaam vadhaaya = ungodly beings, armies, for destruction of; a prameyaan = with immeasurable [fortitude]; a ruupiNaH = without, form; varaan = the bests ones [missile sons]; panchaashatam sutaan labhe = fifty, sons, benefited with.

"On getting a boon Jaya named wife of Krishaasva Prajapati is benefited with fifty best and formless sons with immeasurable fortitude for the destruction of ungodly beings. [1-21-16]

Verse Locator

सुप्रभा अजनयत् च अपि पुत्रान् पंचाशतम् पुनः ।
संहारान् नाम दुर्धर्षान् दुराक्रामान् बलीयसः ॥ १-२१-१७

17. suprabha api = Suprabha, even; durdharshaan = unassailable ones; dur aakramaan = unconquerable ones; baliyasaH = very mighty ones; punaH = again - another; samhaaran naama putraan = eliminators, named, sons; panchashatam ajanayat = to fifty of them, gave birth.

"Suprabha, another wife of Krishaasva Prajapati, gave birth to another fifty unassailable, unconquerable and mighty sons named the Eliminators. [1-21-17]

Verse Locator

तानि च अस्त्राणि वेत्ति एष यथावत् कुशिक आत्मजः ।
अपूर्वाणाम् च जनने शक्तो भूयः च धर्मवित् ॥ १-२१-१८

18. eSa kushika aatmajaH = this, Kaushika's, son [sage Vishvamitra]; taani astraani yathaavat vetti = them, the missiles, as it is, he knows; dharma vit = virtue, knower - principled one; saH buuyaH = he, again; a puuravaaNaam = not, available earlier - new missiles; janane shaktaH ca = creating, capable of, also.

"And this sage Vishvamitra is in the precise know of the said missiles, and this principled one is also capable of creating hitherto unavailable missiles. [1-21-18]

Verse Locator

तेन अस्य मुनि मुख्यस्य धर्मज्ञस्य महात्मनः ।
न किञ्चिद् अस्ति अविदितम् भूतम् भव्यम् च राघव ॥ १-२१-१९

19. tena = thereby; raaghava = oh, Dasharatha; muni mukhyasya = by sage, the distinguished; dharma j~nasya = virtue-knower; asya = to him; mahaa aatmanaH = great-souled; bhuutam bhavyam ca = in past, in future, too; a viditam = unknown thing; kimchit na asti = in the least, is not, there.

"Thereby, oh, Raghava, nothing whatsoever is unknown to this great-souled Vishvamitra, who is a distinguished sage and the knower of virtue, either that has happened or that is happening. [1-21-19]

Verse Locator

एवम् वीर्यो महातेजा विश्वामित्रो महा यशाः ।
न राम गमने राजन् संशयम् गन्तुम् अर्हसि ॥ १-२१-२०

20. mahaa tejaa = great, resplendent; mahaa yashaH = highly, renowned; Vishvamitra; evam viiryaH = this sort of, with enterprise; raajan = oh, king; raama gamane = Rama's, accompanying [the sage]; samshayam gantum = doubt, enter into; na = not; arhasi = apt of you.

"Thus, the highly renowned and great resplendent sage Vishvamitra has this sort of enterprise, oh, king, allowing a doubt enter your mind in Rama's accompanying the sage will be unapt of you. [1-21-20]

Verse Locator

तेषाम् निग्रहणे शक्तः स्वयम् च कुशिकात्मजः ।

तव पुत्र हितार्थाय त्वाम् उपेत्य अभि याचते ॥ १-२१-२१

21. kushika aatmaja = Kushi's son, Vishvamitra; swayam cha = himself, even; teSaam nigrahaNa shaktaH = them [the demons,] to control, capable of; tava putra hita arthaaya = for your, son's, benefit, intending to; tvaam upetya = to you, on approaching; abhi yaachate = imploring upon you.

"This son of Kushi, Vishvamitra, can as well control those demons by himself, but intending to accord beneficence to your son he approached you and imploring upon you. [1-21-21]

Verse Locator

इति मुनि वचनात् प्रसन्न चित्तो

रघु वृषभः च मुमोद पार्थिव अग्र्यः ।

गमनम् अभिरुच राघवस्य

प्रथित यशाः कुशिक आत्मजाय बुध्या ॥ १-२१-२२

21. raghu vR^ishabhaH = in Raghu's dynasty, prominent one, - Dasharatha; iti muni vachanaat = thus, sage Vashishta's, words; prassanna chittaH = serene, minded; paarthiva agrya = among kings, supreme one; mumoda = gladdened; prathita yashaaH = pronouncedly, renowned one - Dasharatha; kushika aatmajaaya = for Kushika's son, sage Vishvamitra; raaghavasya gamanam = Rama's, travel; budhyaa = wholeheartedly; abhi ruocha = verily, consented to.

Thus the prominent king from Raghu dynasty, namely Dasharatha, became serene-minded by sage Vashishta's words, and he who is supreme among other kings and who has pronounced renown, that Dasharatha then gladly and wholeheartedly consented to the travel of Rama along with the sage Vishvamitra. [1-21-21]

Verse Locator

इति वाल्मीकि रामायणे आदिकाव्ये बाल काण्डे एकविंशः सर्गः ॥

Thus, this is the 21st chapter in Bala Kanda of Valmiki Ramayana, the First Epic poem of India.

Book I : Bala Kanda - The Youthful Majesties

Chapter [Sarga] 22

Verses converted to UTF-8 - Sep 2009

Introduction

King Dasharatha sends Rama and Lakshmana along with Sage Vishvamitra as requested by the sage. In their course of travel, Sage Vishvamitra imparts a secret knowledge to the young princes Rama and Lakshmana, called bala atibala vidya-s, by practicing which nothing can wither their vigour and vitality.

Verse Locator

तथा वसिष्ठे ब्रुवति राजा दशरथः स्वयम् ।

प्रहृष्ट वदनो रामम् आजुहाव स लक्ष्मणम् ॥ १-२२-१

1. vasiSThe tathaa bruvati = by Vashishta, that way, when said; raajaa dasaratha = king Dasharatha; pra hR^iStTa vadanaH = very, satisfied, face - expression; svayam = personally; raamam sa lakshmana juhaava = Rama, with Lakshmana, is called for.

When Vashishta said that way king Dasharatha with an air of satisfaction personally fetched Rama along with Lakshmana. [1-22-1]

Verse Locator

कृतः स्वस्त्ययनम् मात्रा पित्रा दशरथेन च ।

पुरोधसा वसिष्ठेन मङ्गलैः अभिमन्त्रितम् ॥ १-२२-२

स पुत्रम् मूर्ध्नि उपाघ्राय राजा दशरथः तदा ।

ददौ कुशिक पुत्राय सुप्रीतेन अंतरात्मना ॥ १-२२-३

2. saH dasarathaH raajaa = he, Dasharatha, king; maatraa = by mother Kausalya; pitraaH dasarathen cha = by father, Dasharatha, also; kR^itaH svasti ayanam = one [for whom bon voyage is] performed, blessing, for travel - Rama; purodhasaa vasiSThtena = by priest, Vashishta; ma~NgaliaH abhimantritam = blessings, [for who they are] rendered Vedic hymns; on such son Rama's forehead; tadaa = then; putram muurdhni upaaaghraaya = son's, forehead, smelled [kissing forehead]; su priitena antaraatmanaa = well, pleased, with heart of hearts; kushika putraaya = to Vishvamitra; dadau = entrusted.

Rama is blessed for a propitious travel firstly by his mother Kausalya and then by his father king Dasharatha, thereupon the royal priest Vashishta rendered Vedic hymns blessing the journey, then Dasharatha well pleased in his heart of hearts kissed his son Rama on forehead and entrusted him to Vishvamitra. [1-22-2, 3]

vThe mother is the first one to bless sons. prathamam maatR^i kR^ita ma~Ngala pratipadanena itara kR^ita ma~Ngala apekShayaa maatR^i kR^ita ma~Ngalasya aavashyikataa vyatirekeNa anvayena ca suucitam

Duryodhana of Maha Bharata knows about this rule position and when he wanted to gain victory over Pandava-s he approaches his mother Gandhari, seeking her blessings, at first. vyatirekaH taavat paaNDavaan jetu kaamo duryodhanaH - shivam aashamsa me maataH yudhyamaana sva shatrubhiH - iti aShTaa dasha

aahaani ap sva maatarā gaandhaariim praarthatavaan | sa ca - yato dharmā tato jayaH - iti vadantii ma~Ngalam na kurvati - dharmākuutam When Duryodhana sought for his mother Gandhari's blessings even for eighteen days, where eighteen is the particular number of Maha Bharata, she said 'where there is virtue there will be victory'. Hence, mothers are the first ones to bless sons in every enterprise, and here Rama's enterprise as incarnate of Vishnu is commencing.

Verse Locator

ततो वायुः सुखं स्पर्शो नीरजस्को ववौ तदा ।
विश्वामित्र गतम् रामम् दृष्ट्वा राजीव लोचनम् ॥ १-२२-४

5. mahaatmani = great soul [Rama/Vishvamitra]; prayaate tu = forged ahead; mahatii
pushpa vR^iSTiH = abounding, flowers, downpour; deva dundubhi niswanam = divine, drums, rumbling; shankha dundubhi nirghoSaH = conch-shell, drums [of Ayodhya,] whistling; asiit = have happened.

Then on seeing the lotus-eyed Rama following Vishvamitra the breeze became dustless and breezed pleasant for touch. [1-22-4]

Verse Locator

पुष्प वृष्टिः महती आसीत् देव दुन्दुभि निःस्वनैः ।
शङ्ख दुन्दुभि निर्घोषः प्रयाते तु महात्मनि ॥ १-२२-५

5. mahaatmani = great soul [Rama/Vishvamitra]; prayaate tu = forged ahead; mahatii
pushpa vR^iSTiH = abounding, flowers, downpour; deva dundubhi niswanam = divine, drums, rumbling; shankha dundubhi nirghoSaH = conch-shell, drums [of Ayodhya,] whistling; asiit = have happened.

When the great-souled Rama forged ahead there occurred an abounding downpour of flowers with the booming of divine drums, together with the boom and blare of drums and conch-shells of Ayodhya. [1-22-5]

Verse Locator

विश्वामित्रो ययौ अग्रे ततो रामो महायशाः ।
काक पक्ष धरो धन्वी तम् च सौमित्रिः अन्वगात् ॥ १-२२-६

6. Vishvamitra; yayau agre = travelled, ahead; tataH = next; kaaka paksha dharaH = crow's, wings, wearing [having black hair-locks]; dhanuH dharaH raamaH = bow, handling,
Rama; dhanvii suumitriH = with bow; Sumitra's son [Lakshmana]; anvagaat = followed.

Rama with jet-black hair-locks handling his bow followed Vishvamitra who walked ahead, while Lakshmana handling his own bow followed Rama. [1-22-6]

Verse Locator

कलापिनौ धनुष् पाणी शोभयानौ दिशो दश ।
विश्वामित्रम् महात्मानम् त्रि शीर्षो इव पन्नगौ ।
अनुजग्मतुः अक्षुद्रौ पितामहम् इव अश्विनौ ॥ १-२२-७

7. kalaapinau = with quivers; dhanuS paaNii = bows, in hands; dishaH dasa shobhayaanau = directions, ten, making lambent; a kshudrau analpa ruupa viiryaadi prabhaavaaH = not, with meagre physical and vital impact =- highly dynamic in physiques and spiritedness; tri shiirSau pannagau iva = three, headed, serpents, as with; Rama, Lakshmana; mahaatmaanam vishvamitram = great, souled one, after Vishvamitra; ashvinau pitaamaH iva = the twin Ashwin gods, after Forefather Brahma, as with; anujagmatuH = followed.

Rama and Lakshmana, with two quivers each and two bows in their hands, and making all the ten directions of compass lambent followed Vishvamitra, as if three headed serpents followed Vishvamitra, and with their highly dynamic physiques and spiritedness they look as if like the Ashwin twin gods of unequal charm following Brahma, the Forefather. [1-22-7, 8]

Each one is having two quivers tied on each shoulder. Thus the upper portions of the quivers with feathered shafts, with the tips of arrows inside, are giving a picture of two more heads, on either side of the princes' heads. Thus Rama and Lakshmana are appearing like three headed serpents. That is to say they are too young with the size of their heads equalling the mouth of the quiver.

The meaning of As'vins from as'va a horse, Persian asp, Greek ιππος Latin equus, Welsh *eck, is Horsemen. They were twin deities of whom frequent mention is made in the Vedas and the Indian myths. The As'vins have much in common with the Dioscuri of Greece, and their mythical genealogy seems to indicate that their origin was astronomical. They were, perhaps, at first the morning star and evening star. They are said to be the children of the sun and the nymph As'vin, who is one of the lunar asterisms personified. In the popular mythology they are regarded as the physicians of the Gods. Gorresio/Griffith.

Verse Locator

तदा कुशिक पुत्रम् तु धनुष् पाणी स्वलंकृतौ ।
बद्ध गोध अंगुलि त्राणौ खड्गवन्तौ महाद्युती ॥ १-२२-८
कुमारौ चारु वपुषौ भ्रातरौ राम लक्ष्मणौ ।
अनुयातौ श्रिया दीप्तौ शोभयेताम् अनिन्दितौ ॥ १-२२-९
स्थाणुम् देवम् इव अचिन्त्यम् कुमारौ इव पावकी ।

8, 9, 10a. tataH = then; kumaarau = youngsters; chaaru vapuSau = charming, bodied ones; sva lankR^itau = bejewelled ones; dhanuS paaNii = bow, in hands; baddha godha angulii traaNau = tied, leathern, fingers, covers; khadga vantau = swords, having; mahaa dyutii = highly, resplendent ones; shriyaa diiptau = with worth, effulgent; a ninditau = unreprouvable ones; bhraatarau = two brothers; Rama; Lakshmana; anuyaatau = going while following; paavakii = birthed by Fire-god; kumaarau iva = sons, like; a chintyam devam = not, thinkable - inscrutable potential, the god - Shiva; shtaaNum iva = Shiva, as with; kushika putram shobhayetaam = Kusi's son [Vishvamitra,] made to shine.

Those two youngsters with charming and bejewelled physiques are handling bows and swords and their fingers have leathern covers. Both the unreprouvable brothers Rama and Lakshmana are highly resplendent and effulgent by their worth. While they are following Vishvamitra they looked like the sons of Fire-god, namely Skanda and Vishakha, following the great god with inscrutable potential, namely Shiva, and thus the brothers have made Vishvamitra to shine forth in even pose with god Shiva. [1-22-8, 9, 10a]

The Supreme Being that is resident like an atom. stha Being, aNum atom like. In every mobile or sessile being he is there. Here it is Shiva. Shiva's sons are two, one Ganesha and the other Kumara, of which Kumara is the Army General of Gods. According to Maha Bharata, Kumara is said to have become four in a split-second, known as 1- Skanda, 2- Vishaakha, 3- Shaaka, 4- Naigamesha. Here the first two aspects of Kumara, namely Skanda and Vishaakha, are incorporated in simile to Rama and Lakshmana.

Verse Locator

अध्यर्ध योजनम् गत्वा सरय्वा दक्षिणे तटे । १-२२-१०
रामा इति मधुराम् वाणीम् विश्वामित्रः अभ्यभाषत ।

10b, 11a. adhyartha yojanam gatvaa = one and half, yojana on going; sarayvaa daskhiNe taTe = Sarayu river's, southern bank; Vishvamitra; raama iti madhuraam vaaNiim = 'oh, Rama', thus, in harmonious, voice; abhya bhaaSata = spoke.

And on going one and half yojana distance Vishvamitra addressed Rama in a harmonious voice calling, 'oh, Rama', on the southern riverbank of Sarayu. [1-22-10b, 11a]

गृहाण वत्स सलिलम् मा भूत् कालस्य पर्ययः ॥ १-२२-११

मंत्र ग्रामम् गृहाण त्वम् बलाम् अतिबलाम् तथा ।

11b, 12a. vatsa salilam gR^ihaaNa = my boy, water, you take; tvam tathaa = you, like that; mantra graamam = hymns, group of; balaam atibalaam = bala, atibala hymns; gR^ihaaNa = receive; kaalasya paryayaH maa bhuut = time's, lapse, not, let there be.

"Take water, my boy, and like that you receive a group of hymns, bala and ati bala from me, and let no time lapse. [1-22-11b, 12a]

Since the Vedic hymns cannot be taught after sunset, now it shall be evening time before sunset, when oblations will be offered at sunset, and hence no time lapse is envisaged. Govindaraja.

Verse Locator

न श्रमो न ज्वरो वा ते न रूपस्य विपर्ययः ॥ १-२२-१२

न च सुप्तम् प्रमत्तम् वा धर्ष इष्यन्ति नैरृताः ।

12b, 13a. te = to you; shramaH = tiredness; na = not - will not be there; jvaraH vaa na = fever, or, no; ruupasya viparyayaH na = form - personality, misshaping, no; suptam vaa pramattam = sleeping, either, [or] unvigilant; nairR^itaaH = demons; na dharSa iSyanti = not, attack [you.]

"On receiving these hymns neither tiredness nor fever, nor disfiguring of personality can effect you, nor the demons can charge you either you are sleeping or unvigilant. [1-11-12b, 13a]

Verse Locator

न बाह्वोः सदृशो वीर्ये पृथिव्याम् अस्ति कश्चन ॥ १-२२-१३

त्रिषु लोकेषु वा राम न भवेत् सदृशः तव ।

13b, 14a. Rama; baahvaH viirye = by arms, strength - dexterity; [tava = your]; sadR^ishaH = coequal; kaschana = none; pR^ithivyaam [na] asti = on earth, [is not,] there; triSu lokeshu vaa = in three worlds, either; tava sadR^isha = your, coequal; na bhavet = will not, be there.

"As it is none whosoever on earth can equal you in dexterity, Rama, and by reciting these hymns none can equal you in the three worlds. [1-22-13b, 14a]

Verse Locator

बलाम् अतिबलाम् चैव पठतः तात राघव ॥ १-२२-१४

न सौभाग्ये न दाक्षिण्ये न ज्ञाने बुद्धि निश्चये ।

न उत्तरे प्रति वक्तव्ये समो लोके तव अनघ ॥ १-२२-१५

14b, 15. taata = my dear; raaghava = Raghava; balaam atibalaam ca eva = bala, atibala, also thus; paThataH = if practised; anagha = oh, impeccable one; saubhaagye tava samaH = in handsomeness [apart from fortune,] your, equal; loka na = in world, will not be there; daakshiNe = by calibre; na = no; GYaane = in erudition; buddhi nishchaye = mental, determination - discernment; na = no; uttare prati vaktavye = in replying, or rebutting; na = no.

"My dear Raghava, if bala atibala hymns are practised, oh, impeccable one, none can equal you in the world by your handsomeness, calibre, erudition, by your discernment, and even in replying or rebutting you. [1-22-14b, 15]

Verse Locator

एतत् विद्या द्वये लब्धे न भवेत् सदृशः तव ।

बला च अतिबला चैव सर्व ज्ञानस्य मातरौ ॥ १-२२-१६

16. etat vidyaa dvaye labdhe = these, teachings, two of them, on receiving; tava sadR^ishaH na bhavet = your, similar, will not, be there; balaat atibalaat cha eva = by bala and atibala, also, only; sarva GYaanasya maatarau = all, knowledge's, mothers of.

"On receiving these two teachings there will be none similar to you, for bala and atibala are the mothers of all knowledge. [1-22-16]

Verse Locator

क्षुत् पिपासे न ते राम भविष्येते नरोत्तम ।

बलाम् अतिबलाम् चैव पठतः तात राघव ॥ १-२२-१७

17. nara uttama raaghava = people, best among, Raghava; balam atibalam cha eva = bala and atibala hymns; paThataH = if recited; taata = my dear; te = to you; raama = Rama; kSut = hunger; pipaasa = thirst; na bhaviSyete = not, will be there.

"Oh, best one among men, Raghava, if you go on reciting bala and atibala hymns, my dear Rama, there will be no hunger or thirst to you. [1-22-17]

Verse Locator

गृहाण सर्व लोकस्य गुप्तये रघु नन्दन ।

विद्या द्वयम् अधीयाने यशः च अथ भवेत् भुवि ।

पितामह सुते हि एते विद्ये तेजः समन्विते ॥ १-२२-१८

प्रदातुम् तव काकुत्स्थस्य सदृशः त्वम् हि पार्थिव ।

18, 19a. vidyaa dvayam = teachings, two; adhiyaane = if practised; bhuviH = on earth; a tula = not, weighable [inestimable]; yashaH cha = renown, also; atha bhavet = then, will accrue; raghu nandana = oh, Raghu's legatee; tejaH samanvite = brilliance, possessed with [hymns]; pitaamaha sute = Forefather's [Brahma's,] daughters; kakuthsa = oh, Kakutstha Rama; tava pradaatum = to you, to be given; dhaarmika = virtuous one; twam sadR^ishaH = hi you are, befitting - most eligible one, indeed; gR^ihaaNa = you take; sarva lokasya guptaye vidye = from all, world, kept safe, [are these teachings.]

"And if these twin teachings are practised an inestimable renown will also accrue, oh, Raghu's legatee, these two hymns that possess brilliance are the daughters of Forefather Brahma, and oh, Rama of Kakutstha, I intend to impart these hymns to you, oh virtuous one, as you are the most eligible one, hence take the teachings that are kept safe from the world. [1-22-18, 19a]

Verse Locator

कामम् बहुगुणाः सर्वे त्वयि एते न अत्र संशयः । १-२२-१९

तपसा संभृते च एते बहु रूपे भविष्यतः ।

19b, 20a. ete = these; bahu guNaaH = numerous, qualities; sarve = all of them; kaamam = abundantly; te = in you [are available]; atra na samshayaH = in that matter, no, doubt; tapasaa sambhR^ute ete = by asceticism, when nurtured, these [hymns]; bahu ruupe = various forms; bhaviSyataH = the become - yield various kinds of results.

"Though all of these numerous qualities are undoubtedly available with you, that too in abundance, yet these hymns if ascetically nurtured will yield various results." Thus spoke Sage Vishvamitra to Rama. [1-22-19b, 20a]

Verse Locator

ततो रामो जलम् स्पृष्ट्वा प्रहृष्ट वदनः शुचिः । १-२२-२०

प्रति जग्राह ते विद्ये महर्षेर् भावित आत्मनः ।

20b, 21a. tataH raamaH jalam spR^iSTvaa = then, Rama, waters, having touching; shuchiH = becoming purified; prahR^iSTa vadanaH = with gladdened, with face; maharSeH = from great sage; bhaavita aatmanaH = of contemplative, soul Vishvamitra; te vidye pratijagraaH = those, teachings, received.

Then Rama on touching water to purify himself received those teachings from the contemplative soul Vishvamitra with gladness beaming on his face. [1-22-20b, 21a]

Verse Locator

विद्या समुदितो रामः शुशुभे भीम विक्रमः ॥ १-२२-२१

सहस्र रश्मिः भगवान् शरदीव दिवाकरः ।

गुरु कार्याणि सर्वाणि नियुज्य कुशिक आत्मजे ।

ऊषुः ताम् रजनीम् तत्र सरय्वाम् सुसुखम् त्रयः ॥ १-२२-२२

21b, 22. bhuuri vikramaH = one with marvellous, valiance; Rama; vidyaa samuditaH = teachings, on obtaining; kushikaatmaje = in respect of Vishvamitra; sarvaaNi guru kaaryaaNi = all, teacher's, works - works to be done in respect of teacher; niyuja = on performing; sharadi = in autumn; sahasra rasmiH bhagavaan = thousand, rayed, god; divaa karaH iva = sun, like - like sun with thousands of sunbeams; sushubhe = shone forth; trayaH = those three; tatra saryvaam = there, on Sarayu riverbank; su sukham = very, happily; taam rajaneem uuSuH = that, night, they stayed.

Rama, the one with marvellous valiance, on obtaining those teachings performed all his duties of a student in respect of a teacher and then shone forth like the thousand rayed sun on a cloudless sky of autumn. Then those three very happily stayed on the riverbank of Sarayu for that night. [1-22-21b, 22]

Here guru kaaryaaNi , are the duties demanded of a true disciple towards a guru, who is his mantra aachaarya, teacher according hymns. Without performing these duties the studentship remains unfulfilled. These works are fetching food for teacher, arranging his bed, pressing his sore-legs called paada samvaahana , etc. Rama does these services to any elderly person, more so to his father as at this canto 1-18-28.

Throughout this chapter Vishvamitra addresses Rama alone to learn the hymns. It may not be construed that Lakshmana is eliminated or avoided but he said to be one with Rama when it comes to education. Thus these hymn are imparted to Lakshmana also, not to Rama alone.

Verse Locator

दशरथ नृप सूनु सत्तमाभ्याम्

तृण शयने अनुचिते तदा उषिताभ्याम् ।

कुशिक सुत वचोऽनुलालिताभ्याम् ।

सुखमिव सा विबभौ विभावरी च ॥ १-२२-२३

24. an uchite = un, deserving; tR^iNa shayane = grass, bed; saha uSitaaabhyaam = together, slept, those two; kushika suta = Kusha's, son [Vishvamitra's]; vachaH = by words; anu laalitaabhyaam = nestled close together with words; dasharatha suunu sattamaabhyaam = Dasharatha's, children, noteworthy ones - to Rama, Lakshmana; saa vibhaavaraii = that, night; sukham iva vibabhau = pleasant, as though, it became.

Though both Rama and Lakshmana slept on an undeserving grass bed, nestled by the comfortable words of Vishvamitra that night is as though pleasant to the noteworthy children of Dasharatha. [1-22-24]

Sage Vishvamitra is the Seer for Gayatri hymn. He is the same Sage to impart bala atibala hymns to Rama and Lakshmana. For those readers that are interested to know or to practice, the Upanishad of bala atibala is included hereunder. This hymn is yet another aspect of Gayatri, and there is no hymn superior than Gayatri, na gaayatriyaaH paramam japam balaatibala mantropanishad

balaatibalayoH viraaT puruSha R^iShiH | gaayatrii devataa | gaayatrii chandaH | akaara
okaaramakaaraa biijaadyaaH | kShudhaadi nirasane viniyogaH | klaamityaadi ShaDa~Nga nyaasaH | klaam
a~NguShTaabhyaam namaH | kliim tarjaniibhyaam namaH | kluum madhyamaabhaamnamaH | klaim
anaamikaabhyaam namaH | klom kaniShTikaabhaam namaH | klaH karatalakarapR^iShTaabhyaam namaH
| | klaam hR^idayaaya namaH | kliim shirase svaahaa | kluum shikhaayaivaShaT | klaim kavacaaya hum |
klom netratrayaayavauShaT | klaH astraaya phaT | bhuurbhuvassuvaromiti digbandhaH |

| | dhyaanam | |

amR^ita karatalaardrau sarva sa~njiivanaaDhyaa avaghaharaNa sudkShau veda saare mayuukhe |
praNavamaya vikaarau bhaaskaraakaara dehau satatamanubhave'ham tau balaatiibaleshau | |

om hriim bale mahaadevi hriim mahaabale kliim catur vidha puruShartha siddhi prade tatsavitur varadaatmike hriim vareNyam bhargo devasya varadaatmike | atibale sarva dayaamuurte bale sarva kShud
bhrama upanaashini dhiimahi dhiyoyonarjaate pracuryaa pracodayaatmike praNava shiraskaatmike | hum
phaT svaahaa | | evam vidvaan kR^ita kR^ityo bhavati | saavitryaa eva salokataam jayati | | iityupaniShat | |

| | shaanti paaTha | |

om aapyaayantu mamaa~Ngaani vaakpraaNashcakShuH shrotramatho balamindriyaaNicasarvaNi |
sarvam brahmaupaniShadam | maaham brahma niraakuryaam maa maa brahma niraakarot | aniraakaraNamastu aniraakaraNam me'stuH tadaatmani nirate ye upaniShatsu dharmaaste mayi santu te mayi santu | | om shaantishshaantishshaantiH |

Verse Locator

इति वाल्मीकि रामायणे आदिकाव्ये बाल काण्डे द्वाविंशः सर्गः ॥

Thus, this is the 22nd chapter in Bala Kanda of Valmiki Ramayana, the First Epic poem of India.

Book I : Bala Kanda - The Youthful Majesties

Chapter [Sarga] 23

Verses converted to UTF-8 - Sep 2009

Introduction

Rama and Lakshmana proceeding with Vishvamitra sojourn in a hermitage at a place where River Ganga and River Sarayu are confluent. Once god Shiva with his third eye burnt down the physical entity of Manmatha, the Love-god, at this place.

Verse Locator

प्रभातायाम् तु शर्वर्याम् विश्वामित्रो महामुनिः ।

अभ्यभाषत काकुत्स्थौ शयानौ पर्ण संस्तरे ॥ १-२३-१

1. sharvaryaam prabhaataayaam tu = after night, at dawn; mahaa muniH = great saint; Vishvamitra; kaakuthsau = to the legates of Kakutstha - Rama and Lakshmana; parNa samstare shayaanau = on the grass, bed, sleeping on; abhyabhaaSata = spoke.

At dawn after that night the great saint Vishvamitra spoke to the legates of Kakutstha, Rama and Lakshmana, those that are sleeping on a grass bed. [1-23-1]

Verse Locator

कौसल्या सुप्रजा राम पूर्वा संध्या प्रवर्तते ।

उत्तिष्ठ नर शार्दूल कर्तव्यम् दैवमाह्निकम् ॥ १-२३-२

2. kausalya su prajaa = Kausalya, the lucky, begetter [Kausalya is fortunate because she begot you, such as you are]; raama = oh, Rama; puurva sandhya = eastern, aurora; pra vartate = verily, emerging; uttiSTha = get up; nara shaarduula = man, the tiger; daivam = to gods; aahnikaam = daytime tasks; kartavyam = is to be performed.

"Fortunate is Kausalya to beget you as her son Rama... get up oh, tigerly-man, eastern aurora is emerging, daytime tasks towards gods are to be performed." [1-23-2]

This is another celebrated verse chanted even today. So far Rama is a dear prince to his parents. But here, no less than Sage Vishvamitra said to have deified Rama in asking him to 'get up' from divine trance to undertake the human duties to eliminate evil, like the dawn of the sun eliminating the evil darkness. In other ancient manuscripts the same verse obtains as:

kausalyaa maataruttiShTa puurvaa sandhyaa upaasyataam |
paurva aahNikaam vidhim kartum taata kaalo'yam aagataH | |

This early morning 'awakening' of Vishnu or his incarnates from divine trance is a common practice in Vaishnavite tradition, and is followed even today, called suprabhaata seva , morning service to wake up.

At the rising of the sun as well as at noon certain observances, invocations, and prayers were prescribed which might under no circumstances be omitted. One of these observances was the recitation of the sAvitri, [Gayatri, so to say,] a Vedic hymn to the Sun of wonderful beauty - Gorresio.

For kausalyaa su prajaa raama Griffith says: 'High fate is hers who calls thee son: / Arise, 'tis break of day / And Gita Press has it as: Kausalya is blessed with a worthy son [in you.]

तस्य ऋषेः परम उदारम् वचः श्रुत्वा नृप नरोत्तमौ ।
स्नात्वा कृत उदकौ वीरौ जेपतुः परमम् जपम् ॥ १-२३-३

3. viirau = valorous ones; nara uttamau = among people, best - Rama Lakshmana; tasya R^iSeH = that, sage's; parama udaaram vachaH = very, benign, words; shrutvaa = on listening; they got up snaatwaa = bathed; kR^ita udakau = having performed, water oblation; paramam japam jepatuH = supreme, hymn, meditated upon.

On hearing the benign words of the sage those valorous and best ones among men got up, bathed, and on offering water oblation they mediated upon the supreme hymn, namely Gayatri. [1-23-3]

Rama and Lakshmana meditated upon Gayatri hymn as there is no hymn superior to it; na gaayatryaaH param japyam and this is also the usual hymn for water oblation at dawn or dusk: sandhyaa vandana . sandhya is the time between the day and night when the stars or the sun are not visible. aho raatrasya yaH sandhiH suurya nakShatra varjitaH Then this hymn is to be meditated placing her in ones own heart or amid the solar system. gaayatriim sam smaret dhiimaan hR^idi vaa suurya maNDale.

Verse Locator

कृत आह्निकौ महावीर्यौ विश्वामित्रम् तपोधनम् ।
अभिवाद्य अति संहृष्टौ गमनाय अभितस्थतुः ॥ १-२३-४

4. mahaa viirau = great, stalwarts; kR^ita aahnikaau = after performing, duties of dawn; ati samhR^iSTau = very, enthusiastically; vishvavitram tapaH dhanam = to Vishvamitra, whose asceticism, is his wealth; abhivaadya = venerated; gamanaaya abhita sthatuH = to travel, they presented themselves [before the sage.]

On performing their dawn time duties those two stalwarts, Rama and Lakshmana, enthusiastically presented themselves before the ascetically rich sage Vishvamitra for further journey, duly venerating him. [1-23-4]

Verse Locator

तौ प्रयान्तौ महावीर्यौ दिव्यम् त्रिपथगाम् नदीम् ।
ददृशा ते ततः तत्र सरय्वाः संगमे शुभे ॥ १-२३-५

5. tataH = then; tau mahaa viiryau = those two, great valiant ones; prayaantau = on travelling [some distance]; te = they; tatra subhe saryvaaH sangame = there, at auspicious, Sarayu, confluence; divyaam = divine; tri patha gaam nadiim = three, way, going [coursing]; river [namely Ganga]; dadR^ishaate = they have seen.

Then on travelling some more distance those two great valiant ones, there they have seen the divine river that courses in three ways, namely Ganga, at the auspicious confluence of River Sarayu. [1-23-5]

River Ganga follows three courses, firstly in heavens, second on earth, and third into nether worlds. These episodes on the descent of Ganga to earth are narrated in the later part of this book, Bala Kanda.

Verse Locator

तत्र आश्रम पदम् पुण्यम् ऋषीणाम् भाविअत आत्मानाम् ।
बहु वर्ष सहस्राणि तप्यताम् परमम् तपः ॥ १-२३-६

6. tatra = there; bahu varSa sahasraaNi = many, years, thousands of; paramam tapaH tapyataam = supreme, asceticism, practising; bhaavita aatmaanam R^ishiiNaam = contemplated, souls, of sages; puNyam aashrama padam = merited, hermitage [they have seen.]

There they have seen the merited hermitage of sages with contemplative souls, and who are practising supreme asceticism for many thousand years. [1-23-6]

Verse Locator

तम् दृष्ट्वा परम प्रीतौ राघवौ पुण्यम् आश्रमम् ।
उचतुः तम् महात्मानम् विश्वामित्रम् इदम् वचः ॥ १-२३-७

7. tam puNyam aashramam dR^iSTvaa = that, merited hermitage, on seeing; parama priitau = highly pleased; raaghavau = Raaghava-s [Rama and Lakshmana]; mahaatmaanam = great soul; tam vishwamitram idam vachaH = to him, Vishvamitra, this, word uchatuH = said.

On seeing that merited hermitage Rama and Lakshmana are highly pleased and said this word to that great-soul Sage Vishvamitra. [1-23-7]

Verse Locator

कस्य अयम् आश्रमः पुण्यः को नु अस्मिन् वसते पुमान् ।
भगवन् श्रोतुम् इच्छावः परम् कौतूहलम् हि नौ ॥ १-२३-८

8. bhagavaan = oh, god; ayam puNyaH aashramam kasya = this, merited, hermitage, whose is it; asmin kaH nu pumaan vasate = in this, who, indeed, celebrity, dwells; shrotum icChaavaH = to listen, we are interested; nau param kautuuhalam hi = to us, much, inquisitiveness, truly.

"Whose hermitage is this merited one? Indeed who is the celebrity that lives therein? Oh, godly sage, we are interested to listen, and we are truly inquisitive about it." Thus they asked. [1-23-8]

Verse Locator

तयोः तद् वचनम् श्रुत्वा प्रहस्य मुनिपुंगवः ।
अब्रवीत् श्रूयताम् राम यस्य अयम् पूर्व आश्रमः ॥ १-२३-९

9. muni pungavaH = sage, the eminent; tayoH tat vachanam shrutvaa = their, that, word, on hearing; prahasya = smiled; abraviit = said; puurva = in earlier times; ayam aashramaH = this, hermitage; yasya = whose is; shruyataam = may be listened.

On hearing their words the eminent sage Viswamitra said smilingly, " whose hermitage is this in earlier times that may be listened." Thus Vishvamitra started to narrate. [1-23-9]

Verse Locator

कन्दर्पो मूर्तिमान् आसीत् काम इति उच्यते बुधैः ।
तपस्यन्तम् इह स्थाणुम् नियमेन समाहितम् ॥ १-२३-१०
कृत उद्धाहम् तु देवेशम् गच्छन्तम् स मरुद् गणम् ।
धर्षयामास दुर्मेधा हुम् कृतः च महात्मना ॥ १-२३-११

10, 11. kandarpaH = Manmatha [Love-god]; muurtimaan aasiit = with body, was there; budhaiH kaamaH iti ucyate = by wise men, Kama, thus, is called; dur medhaa = with naughty, intent [Love-god]; iha = here, at this place; tapsyantam = one who is practising asceticism; niyamena samaahitaa = observantly, concentrating; kR^ita udvaaham = having been married; sa marut gaNam = along with, Wind-gods; gacChantam = while going [returning]; deva iisham = god's, god [Shiva]; sthaaNum = Shiva is; dharSayaamaasa = braved; maha aatmana = by great souled [Shiva]; hum kR^itaH cha = [disapproving] roar, he made, also - Shiva roared at Love-god.

"When Love-god was with his body wise men used to call him Kama, the passion. At this place, that Love-god with his naughty intent braved god of gods Shiva who had been practising asceticism and who concentrated observantly, and who was returning after his marriage along with his followers, namely the Wind-gods, and that great soul Shiva disapprovingly roared at Love-god. [1-23-10, 11]

The meaning of kan darpa is one who is carnally, prideful, i.e., he who takes pride in arousing lecherousness. And kaama is 'desire' the natural basic instinct of any animal, and the one which the sages and saints want to overcome, so they named Love-god from their point of view. In these verses the two words kR^ita udvaaham, and their meaning as on marrying Parvati and going this way with his coterie etc., is held incongruous to other mythological episodes of Shiva's marriage with Parvati, and Manmatha's effort to enkindle love in Shiva. After marriage with Parvati, some argue, where is the question of Love-god's interference to inculcate love in Shiva. It is clear in Rama Charita Maanas how this Shiva-Parvati marriage occurs. And some give the meaning like this: kR^ita where kR^i= karaNe udvaaham tu devesham = to actualise, marriage, only, of Shiva; gacChantam on going there, Love-god, sa marudgaNam with Wind-gods and other deities; dharSayaamaasa started to attack Shiva. The Love-god on going there to that hermitage that is being described by Vishvamitra along with Wind-gods et al, with an intention to get the marriage of Shiva performed, assailed Shiva.

Verse Locator

अवध्यतः च रुद्रेण चक्षुषा रघु नन्दन ।

व्यशीर्यन्त शरीरात् स्वात् सर्व गात्राणि दुर्मतेः ॥ १-२३-१२

12. raghu nandana = Raghu's, legatee - Rama; raudreNa chakshushaa avadhyataH = with wrathful, eye [third eye,] one who is destroyed; dur mateH = lewd-minded one's; svaat = from his own; shariiraat sarva gaatraaNi = body, all, limbs; vyashiiryanta = fall down.

"And Rama, the wrathful third-eye of Shiva destroyed the lewd-minded Love-god making all his limbs to fall down from his body. [1-23-12]

The word avadhyat is otherwise said in other texts as ava dagdhasya rudreNa cakshushaa, to derive a clear meaning of 'burnt down,' because avadhyat is just killing, slaying, whereas Shiva's third-eye truly burns down anything where even ashes do not remain. The critical editions have this as dagdhasya tasya raudreNa chakShuShA

Verse Locator

तत्र गात्रम् हतम् तस्य निर्दग्धस्य महात्मनः ।

अशरीरः कृतः कामः क्रोधात् देव ईश्वरेण ह ॥ १-२३-१३

13. mahaatmana = by great soul [Shiva]; nir dagdhasya = completely, burnt down; tasya gaatram = his, body; tatra hatam = there, dissipated; deva iishvareNa krodhaat = by god, of gods - Shiva, by his anger; kaamaH a shariiraH kR^itaH = Love-god, as body less one, made as.

"There the body of Love-god is evanesced when that great soul Shiva burnt it down, and by the anger of that god of gods Shiva, Love-god is rendered as a bodiless entity. [1-23-13]

Manmatha and his wife Rati will have supremely exquisite physiques. At the very sight of Manmatha everybody used to become a prey to lasciviousness. So Shiva had to completely burn down that physical form of love, whereby only kaama, the mental desire, is remaining.

Verse Locator

अनङ्ग इति विख्यातः तदा प्रभृति राघव ।

स च अङ्ग विषयः श्रीमान् यत्र अङ्गम् स मुमोच ह ॥ १-२३-१४

14. tadaa prabhR^iti = from then, onwards; Raghava; an anga = without, body - Love-god; iti vikhyaata = thus, renowned as; yatra angam pramumocha ha = where, body, gave up, indeed; sa cha = that, also; shriimaan = prosperous one - Love-god; anga viSayaH = [that is] Anga, province.

Then onwards Love-god is renowned as Ananga, as he is without body, and where his body is given up that is renowned as Anga province. [1-23-14]

Verse Locator

तस्य अयम् आश्रमः पुण्यः तस्य इमे मुनयः पुरा ।
शिष्या धर्मपरा वीर तेषाम् पापम् न विद्यते ॥ १-२३-१५

15. viira = oh, brave one [Rama]; ayam tasya punyaH aashramaH = this is, his [Shiva's,] merited, hermitage; puraa tasya shishyaaH ime munayaH = at one time, his [Shiva's,] disciples, these, sages are; dharma paraa = in virtue, abiding; teSaam paapam na vidyate = with them, sin, not, evident [sinless.]

"This merited hermitage thus belongs to Shiva and, oh, brave Rama, these sages abiding in virtue are Shiva's disciples at one time, thus sin is unverifiable with them. [1-23-15]

This hermitage belongs to Love God or Shiva, tasya kaamasya sthaaNorvaa. Because Shiva is a god who controls Love-god, kaameswhvara, this is Shiva's hermitage. The last verse again says it is Kaama's hermitage. And the sages practising asceticism in this hermitage, puraa shiSyaa, are the old time disciples of Shiva. puurva kaalam aarabhya...santaana paramparayaa shiSyaa. These sages are the progeny of the sages who long time back were the direct disciples of Shiva. Because these are the direct grandchildren of the direct disciples of Shiva, sin cannot touch them. ata eva paapam teShaamna vidyate | puurvam rudra shiShyaa api samprati tat shiShya kR^itam paapam navidyate ityarthah | | Govindaraja.

Verse Locator

इह अद्य रजनीम् राम वसेम शुभ दर्शन ।
पुण्ययोः सरितोः मध्ये श्वः तरिष्यामहे वयम् ॥ १-२३-१६

16. shubha darshana = oh, auspicious one, in mien; Rama; vayam = we; adya rajaniim = today, night; iha puNyayoH saritaH madhya = here, meritorious, rivers, in the between of; vasema = we will stay; shvaH = tomorrow; tariSyamahe = we will cross over [River Ganga.]

"Let us stay for this night in this hermitage situated in between two meritorious rivers Ganga and Sarayu, oh, Rama with auspicious mien, tomorrow we will cross over the River Ganga. [1-23-16]

Verse Locator

अभिगच्छामहे सर्वे शुचयः पुण्यम् आश्रमम् ।
इह वासः परोऽस्माकम् सुखम् वस्त्यामहे वयम् ॥ १-२३-१७
स्नाताः च कृत जप्याः च हुत हव्या नरोत्तम ।

17, 18a. narottama = oh, best one among men, Rama; sarve = we all; snaataaH cha = taking a bath, also; kR^ita japaaH cha = performing, meditations, also; huta havyaaH cha = enkindling, oblations into fire, also; suchayaH = purifying ourselves; puNyam aashramam abhigacChaamahe = meritorious, hermitage, let us enter; iha vaasaparaH = here, staying; asmaakam sukham = for us, comforting; vastyaamahe vayam = stay, we will.

"Let us all purify ourselves by taking our bath, performing our meditations, offering our daily oblations, and then let us enter this meritorious hermitage, thus our stay in here will be comforting to us." So said Vishvamitra to Rama and Lakshmana. [1-23-17, 18a]

Verse Locator

तेषाम् संवदताम् तत्र तपो दीर्घेण चक्षुषा ॥ १-२३-१८
विज्ञाय परम प्रीता मुनयो हर्षम् आगमन् ।

18b, 19. tatra = there; teSaam = them; samvadataam = when discussing; munayaH = saints; tapaH diirghena chakshuSaa = asceticism's, by the extent of, [inner] eye [by sixth-sense]; vij~naaya = on perceiving; parama priitaaH = highly, gladdened; harSam aagaman = enchantment, they obtained; on approaching them; arghyam = water for hand-wash; paadyam = water for feet-wash; tathaa = then; aathithyam = hospitality; kushika atmaaje = Kushi's, son, Viswamitra; nivedya = [firstly] offered.

When they are discussing there the sages of that hermitage are highly gladdened to perceive them with their sixth-sense, and on approaching them enchantedly they offered water for hands and feet wash and then offered hospitality firstly to Sage Vishvamitra. [1-23-18, 19]

Verse Locator

राम लक्ष्मणयोः पश्चात् अकुर्वन् अतिथि क्रियाम् ।

सत्कारम् सम् अनुप्राप्य कथाभिः अभिरंजयन् ॥१-२३-२०

20. paschaat = afterwards; raaama lakshmanayoH = to Rama, Lakshmana; akurvan atithi kaaryam = accorded, guest's, works [reception]; satkaaram sam anupraapya = compliments, on obtaining; [munayaH] = saints of that hermitage; kathaabhi = with [myths and] legends; abhi ranjayan = delighted, [entertained the guests.]

Afterwards those sages of that hermitage have accorded reception to Rama and Lakshmana, and applauded by Vishvamitra for their hospitality those sages have entertained Rama and other guests with myths and legends. [1-23-20]

Verse Locator

यथा अर्हम् अजपन् संध्याम् ऋषयः ते समाहिताः ।

तत्र वासिभिः आनीता मुनिभिः सुव्रतैः सह ॥ १-२३-२१

न्यवसन् सुसुखम् तत्र काम आश्रम पदे तथा ।

21. te R^ishayaH samaahitaaH = those, sages, concentrating their minds; yatha arham = according to, their aptitude; sndhyaam ajapan = deity at sunset - Gayatri, meditated upon; [whom Rama and others have followed]; tatra vaasibhiH = there, who are dwelling [Rama and others]; su vrataiH = [sages] with pious, commitments; munibhiH saha = sages, along with; aaniitaaH = those [guests] that are led forth [into hermitage]; tathaa tatra = that way, there; kaama aashrama pade = in Kaama - Shiva's, hermitage's, precincts; su sukham nyavasan = very, comfortably, they stayed.

Those sages with concentrated minds and according to one's own aptitude have meditated upon the deity of sunset when it is sundown, followed by Rama and others. Then led into hermitage by those sages who are with pious commitments and who are dwelling there, Rama and others have very comfortably stayed in the precincts of Shiva's hermitage. [1-23-21]

Verse Locator

कथाभिरभिरामभिरभिरमौ नृपात्मजौ । - यद्वा -

कथाभिः अभि रामभिः अभि रमौ नृप आत्मजौ

रमयामास धर्मात्मा कौशिको मुनिपुङ्गवः ॥ १-२३-२२

22. dharmaataamaa = virtue-souled one; muni pungavaH = saint, the eminent; kaushika = Viswamitra; abhi raamau = delightful ones; nR^ipa atmajau = king's, sons; abhi raamaabhiH kathaabhiH = with delightful, stories; ramayaamaasa = delighted [later in the night.]

Staying very comfortably in the precincts of Kaama hermitage, then that virtuous sage Vishvamitra, saint the eminent, delighted the delightful princes with delighting stories.....[1-23-22]

इति वाल्मीकि रामायणे आदिकाव्ये बाल काण्डे त्रयोविंशः सर्गः ॥

Thus, this is the 23rd chapter in Bala Kanda of Valmiki Ramayana, the First Epic poem of India.

Book I : Bala Kanda - The Youthful Majesties

Chapter [Sarga] 24

Verses converted to UTF-8 - Sep 2009

Introduction

While crossing over the River Ganga, sage Vishvamitra sails them through its confluence with River Sarayu, which flows at their capital Ayodhya. The sage leads them to a deadly forest on the other bank of River Ganga and narrates about the ambushing nature of demoness Tataka, preparing him to kill her.

Verse Locator

ततः प्रभाते विमले कृत आह्निकम् अरिन्दमौ ।
विश्वामित्रम् पुरस्कृत्य नद्याः तीरम् उपागतौ ॥ १-२४-१

1. tataH = then; arindamau = enemy destroyers Rama and Lakshmana; vimale prabhaate = in fresh, morning; kR^ita aahnikaam vishvaamitram = one who [just now] performed, morning ritual tasks, Vishvamitra; puraskR^itya = keeping ahead; nadyaaH tiiram upaagatau = at river, bank, arrived at.

Then, in the fresh of the morning those enemy destroyers, Rama and Lakshmana, arrived at the riverbank of Ganga keeping sage Vishvamitra ahead of them, which sage has just completed his ritualistic chores of dawn. [1-24-1]

Verse Locator

ते च सर्वे महात्मानो मुनयः संश्रित व्रताः ।
उपस्थाप्य शुभाम् नावम् विश्वामित्रम् अथ अब्रुवन् ॥ १-२४-२

2. mahaatmanaH samshrita vrataaH = great souls, scrupulous ones, in their vows; te sarve munayaH = those, also, all, sages [of that hermitage]; shubhaam naavam upa sthaapya = auspicious, ferryboat, nearby, on positioning; atha vishvaamitram abruvan = to then, to Vishvamitra, they said.

All those sages of Kaama's hermitage that are the great souls and scrupulous ones in their vows, have positioned an auspicious ferryboat within the reach in the river, and then they said to sage Vishvamitra. [1-24-2]

Verse Locator

आरोहतु भवान् नावम् राजपुत्र पुरस्कृतः ।
अरिष्टम् गच्छ पन्थानम् मा भूत् काल विपर्ययः ॥ १-२४-३

3. bhavaan raja putra puraskR^itaH = you, king's, sons, keeping ahead of you; naavam aarohatu = boat, you embark; ariSTtam panthaanam gacCha = on prosperous, pathway, you go; kaala viparyayaH = time, change [lapse]; maa bhuut = let not be there - without time-shift.

"You may board the boat keeping the princes ahead of you, and we wish you to proceed on a prosperous route without the shift of time." So said the sages. [1-24-3]

विश्वामित्रः तथा इति उक्त्वा तान् ऋषीन् प्रतिपूज्य च ।
ततार सहितः ताभ्याम् सरितम् सागरम् गमाम् ॥ १-२४-४

4. Vishvamitra; tathaa iti uktvaa = 'it must be so', thus, on saying; taan R^iSiin prati puujya cha = them, the sages, in turn, revering; taabhyaam shaitaH = two [princes,] along with; saagaram gamaam saritaam = ocean, going, river; ta taara = crossed over.

Sage Vishvamitra on saying 'it must be so,' to those sages and revering them in his turn, cruised the river that itself is cruising towards ocean, along with both the princes. [1-24-4]

Verse Locator

तत्र शुश्राव वै शब्दम् तोय संरम्भ वर्धितम् ।
मध्यम् आगंय तोयस्य तस्य शब्दस्य निश्चयम् ॥ १-२४-५
ज्ञातु कामो महातेजा सह रामः कनीयसा ।

5, 6a. raamaH = Rama; toyasya madhyam aagamya = of water, in mid of stream, on coming; tatra = there; toya samrambha vardhitam shabdham = by water's, gush, increasing, [unusual] noise; shushraava = heard; saha kaniiyasaa = he, Rama, with younger brother; j~naatu kaamaH = to know, desired; mahaatejaa = brilliant one [Rama]; tasya shabdasya nishchayam = of that, sound's, significance.

On coming to the midstream of water there Rama heard an unusual and increasing noise of gushy waters along with his younger brother, and that brilliant one Rama desired to know its significance. [1-24-5, 6a]

Verse Locator

अथ रामः सरिन् मध्ये पप्रच्छ मुनि पुङ्गवम् ॥ १-२४-६
वारिणो भिद्यमानस्य किम् अयम् तुमुलो ध्वनिः ।

6b, 7a. atha raamaH = then, Rama; sarin madhye = river's, midst; prapacCha muni pungavam = asked, sage, the eminent; bhidyamaanasya variNaH = [as though] slashing, water; kim ayam = what is, this; tumulaH dhvaniH = turbulent, sound.

Rama then asked the eminent sage Vishvamitra in the midst of the river, "what is this turbulent sound sire, as though slashing water?" [1-24-6b, 7a]

Verse Locator

राघवस्य वचः श्रुत्वा कौतूहल समन्वितम् ॥ १-२४-७
कथयामास धर्मात्मा तस्य शब्दस्य निश्चयम् ।

7b, 8a. raaghavasya vachaH = Raghava's, words; koutuuhala samanvitam = inquisitiveness, having; shrutvaa = on hearing; dharmaatmaa = virtuous soul; tasya shabdasya nishchayam = of that, sound's, significance; kathayaamaasa = started telling.

On hearing the inquisitive words of Raghava that virtue-souled sage Vishvamitra started to tell the significance of that sound. [1-24-7b, 8a]

Verse Locator

कैलास पर्वते राम मनसा निर्मितम् परम् ॥ १-२४-८
ब्रह्मणा नरशार्दूल तेन इदम् मानसम् सरः ।

8b, 9a. nara shaarduula = manly-tiger; Rama; kailaasa parvate = Kailash, mount of; brahmaNaa = by Brahma; param saraH manasaa nirmitam = great, lake, at will, created - lake is the brainchild of Brahma; tena = hence; idam saraH = this, lake is [called]; manasam = Manasa lake.

"On Mt. Kailash Brahma created a great lake at his will, oh, tigerly-man Rama, hence that is called Maanasa Lake. [1-24-8b, 9a]

Verse Locator

तस्मात् सुस्राव सरसः सा अयोध्याम् उपगूहते ॥ १-२४-९

सरः प्रवृत्ता सरयूः पुण्या ब्रह्म सरः च्युता ।

तस्य अयम् अतुलः शब्दो जाह्नवीम् अभिवर्तते ॥ १-२४-१०

वारि संक्षोभजो राम प्रणामम् नियतः कुरु ।

9b, 10, 11a. [yaa = which river]; tasmaat = from it [from that lake]; susraava = spontaneously, flowed out; that is this; sarasaH = River Sarayu; saa ayodhyaam upaguuhate = that [the river,] Ayodhya, surrounds; saraH pravR^ittaa saryuuH = [because] from sara [lake,] originated, [it is called] Sarayu river; brahma saraH cchyutaa = from Brahma's, lake, flowed out; puNyaa = merited [river]; jahnaviim abhivartate = to River Ganga, towards, coursing towards; tasya = its [Sarayu river's]; ayam atulaH shabdaH = this is, the remarkable, noise; vaari samskobha jaH = waters, collision, generated by; Rama; praNaamam niyataH kuru = regards, respectfully, offer.

"That river which spontaneously flows out of that Maanasa Lake surrounds Ayodhya city is this one, the River Sarayu. Because this has originated from a lake, saraH, this is known as Sarayu. And because it flows from Brahma's Lake it is a merited river. This is the remarkable noise of such a Sarayu River in its coursing towards River Ganga, generated by the collision of their waters, and Rama, offer regards to these rivers, respectfully." So said Vishvamitra to the princes. [1-24-9b, 10, 11a]

Verse Locator

ताभ्याम् तु तावुभौ कृत्वा प्रणामम् अतिधार्मिकौ ॥ १-२४-११

तीरम् दक्षिणम् आसाद्य जग्मतुर् लघु विक्रमौ ।

11b, 12a. ati dhaarmkau = most, virtuous pair [of princes]; tau ubhau = those, two; taabhyaam tu = to them [the two rivers]; kr^itvaa praNaamam = on making, salutation; dakshiNam tiiram aasaadya = southern, bank, on getting at; laghu vikramau jagmatuH = in swiftness, exerts, they proceeded further.

Offering their salutations to River Sarayu and Ganga those two most virtuous and agile footed princes proceeded further on reaching the southern riverbank. [1-24-11b, 12a]

Verse Locator

स वनम् घोर संकाशम् दृष्ट्वा नरवरात्मजः ॥ १-२४-१२

अविप्रहतम् ऐक्ष्वाकः पप्रच्छ मुनि पुंगवम् ।

12b, 13a. aikshwaakaH = legatee of Ikshvaku's; nara vara aatmajaH = among people, best one's [king's,] son; saH = he [Rama]; ghora samkaasham = horrendous, in looks; aviprahatam = [a vi pra hatam = not, verily, trodden] = untrodden - uninhibited; vanam dR^iSTvaa = forest, on seeing; prapacCha munipungavam = asked, sage, the eminent.

On seeing a horrendous and uninhibited forest, Rama, the son of the best king Dasharatha asked the eminent sage Vishvamitra. [1-24-12b, 13a]

Verse Locator

अहो वनम् इदम् दुर्गम् झिल्लिका गण संयुतम् ॥ १-२४-१३

भैरवैः श्वापदैः कीर्णम् शकुनैः दारुण आरवैः ।

13b, 14a. aho = oh; jhillikaa gaNa samyutam = crickets, swarms, having; bhairavaiH shvaapadaiH = with brutish, predators; shakunaiH = with vultures; daaruNa aarutaiH = [all are] horribly, strident; puurNam = full of , fraught with; idam vanam dur gam = this, forest, difficult, to enter - impenetrable.

"Oh, impenetrable is this forest fraught with swarms of crickets, brutish predators, and vultures, which are all horribly strident. [1-24-13b, 14a]

Verse Locator

नाना प्रकारैः शकुनैः वाश्यद्भिः भैरव स्वनैः ॥ १-२४-१४

सिंह व्याघ्र वराहैः च वारणैः च अपि शोभितम् ।

14b, 15a. vaasyadbhiH = screeching; bhairava swanaiH = with fierce, voices; naanaa prakaaraiH shakunaiH = with many, varieties, of vultures; simha vyaaghra varaahaiH cha = lions, tigers, wild boars, also; vaariNaiH cha api = with elephants, also, even; shobhitam = made to shine - atypical.

"Various vultures are screeching with fierce sonority, and tigers, wild boars, and elephants render this forest atypical. [1-24-14b, 15a]

Verse Locator

धव अश्वकर्ण ककुभैः बिल्व तिन्दुक पाटलैः ॥ १-२४-१५

संकीर्णम् बदरीभिः च किम् नु एतत् दारुणम् वनम् ।

15b, 16a. dhavaa = tree of Mimosa catechu family, Hindi: Khaira, khadira; ashvakarNa = trees of Pentapetra Arjuna; kakubhaiH = Arjuna trees; bilva = trees of Egle Marmelos; tinduka = trees of Diospyros glutinosa, Hindi: tamaala; paatalaiH = trees of Bignonia suave olens; badarii bhiH cha = with badarii trees of Zizyphus jujuba, also; samkiirNam = dense with; etat daaruNam vanam = this, wretched, forest; kim nu = what is, indeed.

"Indeed, what is this wretched forest that is dense with Dhava, Ashvakarna, Arjuna, Bilva, Tinduka, Patala, and Badari trees." Thus Rama asked Vishvamitra. [1-24-15b, 16a]

The botanical names of the trees mentioned in the text are Grisea Tormentosa, Shorea Robusta, Echites Antidysenterica, Bignonia Suaveolens, Aegle Marmelos, and Diospyrus Glutinosa. I have omitted the Kutaja (Echites) and the Tinduka (Diospyrus). Griffith.

Verse Locator

तम् उवाच महातेजा विश्वामित्रो महामुनिः ॥ १-२४-१६

श्रूयताम् वत्स काकुत्स्थ यस्य एतत् दारुणम् वनम् ।

16b, 17a. mahaatejaa mahaamuniH vishvamitraH = great resplendent, great saint, Vishvamitra; tam uvaacha = to him [to Rama], said; shruuyataam vatsa = I will let you hear - I will tell you, my boy; kaakutstha = oh, Rama; etat daaruNam vanam yasya = this one, wretched, forest, whose is.

The resplendent and the great saint Vishvamitra then said to Rama, "I will tell you, oh, my boy Rama, whose is this wretched forest. [1-24-16b, 17a]

Verse Locator

एतौ जनपदौ स्फीतौ पूर्वम् आस्ताम् नरैत्तम ॥ १-२४-१७

मलदाः च करूषाः च देव निर्माण निर्मितौ ।

17b, 18a. narottama = oh, best one among men, Rama; puurvam = once; deva nirmaaNa nirmittau = of gods, by construction, that are constructed - designed by gods; maladaaH cha karuuSaaH cha = [known as] Malada, and, Karuusha, also; janapadau sphiitau = provinces, vast ones; etau aastaam = these, were there.

"Once these were vast provinces, oh, best one among men, designed by gods and known as Malada and Karuusha. [1-24-17b, 18a]

The word mala da is malam dyati khaNDayati iti mala da that which abolishes excreta, but not filth itself. karusha is kaa ruusha remover of hunger. If mortal hunger is there excreta will be there and then mortality of Indra is at stake. Hence if hunger is eliminated there will be nothing filthy. Once these provinces were such hunger removers equalling to heaven, but deteriorated in their heaven-on-earth attributes, owing to demoness Tataka.

Verse Locator

पुरा वृत्र वधे राम मलेन समभिप्लुतम् ॥ १-२४-१८

क्षुधा चैव सहस्राक्षम् ब्रह्म हत्या सम् आविशत् ।

18b, 19a. Rama; puraa vR^itra vadhe = once, demon Vritra, while eliminating; malena = with filth; eva = thus; kshudhaa cha = with hunger, also; sam abhiplutam = completely submersed - soaked, stained; sahasra aksham = thousand-eyed god [Indra]; brahma hatya samaavishat = Brahman killing [sin of,] befell upon.

"Once upon a time, oh, Rama, mortal impurities of filth and hunger completely stained Indra when he eliminated demon Vritra, as he committed the sin of killing of a Brahman, where the demon Vritra was incidentally a Brahman. [1-24-18b, 19a]

Verse Locator

तम् इन्द्रम् मलिनम् देवा ऋषयः च तपोधनाः ॥ १-२४-१९

कलशैः स्नापयामासुः मलम् च अस्य प्रमोचयन् ।

19b, 20a. tam malinam indram = him, feculent one, that Indra; devaa = gods; tapodhanaa R^iSayaH cha = ascetically rich, sages, also; kalashaiH snaapayamaasuH = with handy-vessels [kamanDulu-s,] started to bathe; asya malam pra mochayan = his, filth, for riddance.

"The gods and ascetically rich sages then started to bathe feculent Indra with their handy vessels for the riddance of his defilement. [1-24-19b, 20a]

Verse Locator

इह भूयाम् मलम् दत्त्वा देवाः कारुषम् एव च ॥ १-२४-२०

शरीरजम् महेन्द्रस्य ततो हर्षम् प्रपेदिरे ।

20b, 21a. mahendrasya = of Mahendra; shariiram jam malam = from body, emerged, filth; iha bhuumyaam = here, on earth; kaaruSam ca eva = hunger, also, thus; datvaa = on giving; tataH devaaH harSam prapedire = then, gods, gladness, they obtained.

"On giving filth and hunger emerged out of the body of Mahendra here on the earth then the gods were gladdened. [1-24-20b, 21a]

Verse Locator

निर्मलो निष्करूषः च शुद्ध इन्द्रो यथा अभवत् ॥ १-२४-२१

ततो देशस्य सुप्रीतो वरम् प्रादाद् अनुत्तमम् ।

21b, 22a. Indra; yathaa = as to how; nir malaH nish karuushaH cha = without, filth, without, hunger, also; abhavat = became; suddha = purified; tataH = then; deshasya supriitaH = of this place, gladdened; anuttamam varam praadaat = unexcelled, boon, he gave.

"As and when Indra was without desecration and hunger as well, and thus purified, then gladdened about this place he gave it an unexcelled boon. [1-24-21b, 22a]

Verse Locator

इमौ जनपदौ स्फीतौ ख्यातिम् लोके गमिष्यतः ॥ १-२४-२२

मलदाः च करूषाः च मम अंग मल धारिणौ ।

22b, 23a. mama anga mala dhaariNau = my, body's, impurity, bearing ones; imau janapadau sphiitau = these, habitats, will be resourceful places; maladaH cha karuuSaaH cha = as Malada, and Karuusha, also; loke khyaatim gamishyataH = in world, renown, they will attain.

"These provinces that bear the impurity of my body shall become resourceful and they shall attain renown in world as Malada and Karusha." Thus Indra gave boon to this place. [1-24-22b, 23a]

Verse Locator

साधु साधु इति तम् देवाः पाकशासनम् अब्रुवन् ॥ १-२४-२३

देशस्य पूजाम् ताम् दृष्ट्वा कृताम् शक्रेण धीमता ।

23b, 24a. dhiimataa shakreNa kR^itaam = by wise one, Indra, done - according; taam deshasya puujaam = that, place's, honouring; devaaH dR^iSTvaa = gods, on observing; saadhu saadhu iti = splendid, splendid, thus; tam = him; paaka shaasanam = demon Paaka, controller of - to Indra; abruvan = said - praised.

"On observing the honour accorded by wise Indra to these places gods praised the controller of demon Paaka, namely Indra saying, 'splendid, splendid it is.' [1-24-23b, 24a]

Verse Locator

एतौ जनपदौ स्फीतौ दीर्घ कालम् अरिन्दम ॥ १-२४-२४

मलदाः च करूषाः च मुदिता धन धान्यतः ।

24b, 25a. arindama = oh, enemy subjugator, Rama; maladaaH cha karuuSaaH cha = Malada, and, Karuusha, as well; diirgha kaalam = for a long, time; sphiitau etau janapadau = were affluent, these, people's habitations; dhana dhaanyataH muditaa = with wealth, grains, [people] were happy.

"For a long time these habitations Malada and Karuusha were affluent, oh, enemy subjugator Rama, and people were happy with wealth and provisions. [1-24-24b, 25a]

Verse Locator

कस्य चित् अथ कालस्य यक्षी काम रूपिणी ॥ १-२४-२५

बलम् नाग सहस्रस्य धारयन्ती तदा हि आभूत् ।

ताटका नाम भद्रम् ते भार्या सुन्दस्य धीमतः ॥ १-२४-२६

मारीचो राक्षसः पुत्रो यस्याः शक्र पराक्रमः ।

25b, 26, 27a. atha = later; kasyachit kaalasya = at some, time; tadaa = then; kaama ruupiNii = by wish, guise-changer; naaga sahasrasya = elephants, of a thousand; balam dhaarayantii = strength of, possessing; dhiimataH sundasya bhaaryaa = clever one, Sunanda's, wife; shakra paraakramaH = Indra [like,] in bravery; raakshasaH maariichaH = demon,

Mareecha; yasyaH putraH = whose, son is; taaTaka nama yakshii = Tataka, named, she-yaksha; abhuut hi = was there - prevailed, indeed; bhadram te = safety, to you.

"Later at sometime, a yaksha female who is a guise changer at her wish, possessor of the strength of a thousand elephants, wife of clever Sunanda, and she whose son is demon Mareecha, the one equal to Indra in his bravery, prevailed here, let you be safe Rama. [1-24-25b, 26, 27a]

Verse Locator

वृत्त बाहुर् महा शीर्षो विपुला अस्य तनुर् महान् ॥ १-२४-२७
राक्षसो भैरव आकारो नित्यम् त्रासयते प्रजाः ।

27b, 28a. vR^itta baahuH = round, shouldered; mahaa shiirSaH = huge, headed; vipulaa asya = cavernous, mouthed; mahaan tanuH = gigantic, bodied; bhairava aakaara = mammoth, in shape; raakshasaH = demon Mareecha; nityam traasayate prajaaH = always, terrifying, people.

"That demon Mareecha is round shouldered, huge headed, cavernous mouthed, and gigantic bodied one, and he is always terrifying the people. [1-24-27b, 28a]

Verse Locator

इमौ जनपदौ नित्यम् विनाशयति राघव ॥ १-२४-२८
मलदांश्च करूषांश्च ताटका दुष्ट चारिणी ।

28b, 29a. Raghava; duSTta chaariNii Tataka = malevolence, pursuer - malevolent one, Tataka; imau janapadau = these, inhabitations; maladaam cha karuuSam cha = Malada, also, Karuusha, also; nityam vinaashayati = always, destroying.

"And Raghava, that malevolent Tataka is always destroying the inhabitations at Malada and Karusha. [1-24-28b, 29a]

Verse Locator

सा इयम् पन्थानम् आवृत्य वसति अध्यर्धं योजने ॥ १-२४-२९
अत एव च गन्तव्यम् ताटकाया वनम् यतः ।

29b, 30a. saa iyam panthaanam aavR^itya = she, this, route, on blockading; vasati adhyartha yojane = lives, after one half, yojana [distance]; yataH = where/ for which reason; taaTakayaa vanam = [this has become,] Tataka's, forest; ataH eva = there alone / for that reason alone; gantavyam = headway is to be made.

"She lives about one and half yojana distance from here, and by which reason this became the forest of Tataka, owing to her gruesome activities, for that reason only a headway is to be made, to eradicate her and her activities. [1-24-29b, 30a]

This verse also means 'where there is the forest of Tataka there we have to go.' The above is another shade of that verse.

Verse Locator

स्व बाहु बलम् आश्रित्य जहि इमाम् दुष्ट चारिणीम् ॥ १-२४-३०
मत् नियोगात् इमम् देशम् कुरु निष्कण्टकम् पुनः ।

30b, 31a. sva baahu balam aashritya = your own, arms, strength - self-confidence, depending upon; duSTa chariNiim = evildoer; jahi imam = kill, this one; mat niyogaat = by my, assigned; desham kuru = this, province, be made; punaH nisH kaNTakam = again, free from, thorniness.

"Depending upon the strength of your own self-confidence you have to eradicate this evildoer, and assigned by me you have to make this province free from thorniness. [1-24-30b, 31a]

Great persons accomplish their deeds by their self-confidence, kriyaa siddhiH sattve bhavati mahataam, na upakaraNe not by their hardware.

Verse Locator

न हि कश्चित् इमम् देशम् शक्तो हि आगन्तुम् ईदृशम् ॥ १-२४-३१
यक्षिण्या घोरया राम उत्सादितम् असह्यया ।

31b, 32a. Rama; ghorayaa = hazardous; a sahyayaa = in, tolerable - invincible; yakshiNya = yakshii, unearthly being turned demoness; utsaaditam iidR^isham deshama = destroyed, this kind of, to province; aagantum = to come; kaschit na shaktaH hi = none, not, capable, indeed; [hence make them habitable.]

"Indeed, none is able to enter this sort of province, Rama, destroyed by the hazardous and invincible unearthly being who turned into a demoness, namely Tataka, hence you have to make the provinces habitable. [1-24-31b, 32a]

Verse Locator

एतत् ते सर्वम् आख्यातम् यथा एतत् दारुणम् वनम् ।
यक्ष्या च उत्सादितम् सर्वम् अद्य अपि न निवर्तते ॥ १-२४-३२

32. etat vanam sarvama = this, forest, entirely; daaruNam = rendered it as a devastated one; yakshyaa = by ghoulish, she-yaksha - Tataka; yathaa utsaaditam = as to how, destroyed; adya api = now, even; na nivartate = not, returning - not retracing her steps - without refrain; etat sarvama te aakhyaatama = that, all, to you, is narrated.

"As to how that ghoulish Tataka destroyed this entire forest, rendering it as a devastated place, without refraining from it even today, all that is narrated." So said Vishvamitra to Rama. [1-24-32]

The epithets in Ramayana

The epithets used in epic may be on the increase from now, and they may not be construed as redundant foot fillers. All have implicit meanings and they can be understood with the help of commentaries. As this work cannot include voluminous commentaries, many of the meanings of epithets as said by commentators are not incorporated. This bypassing will not effect the ordinary narration. For e.g., the meaning to the words muni pungava, nara shaarduula will be 'saint, the eminent' 'tigerly man.' And trying to obtain a squeezed meaning from them would be futile, without resorting to some commentary. So also, there are words like indra, candra, simha, shaarduula, naaga, vR^iSabha, pungava which when suffixed to vocatives will mean 'best, choicest, excellent' etc., as per simha shaarduula naaga aadyaaH pumsi shreSTa artha gocaraa. But commentators have explained why that character is 'best or excellent, or a lion' at that juncture. For e.g., dharma aatmaa the apparently usual epithet in Ramayana has many meanings like – 1] one whose life is dharma; 2] one whose body is dharma incarnate; 3] one whose soul is filled with dharma; 4] one whose entity itself is dharma – so on, basing on the thesaurus of aatma that say as: aatmaa yatna dhR^iti svaanta svabhaava paramaatmaasu jiiva buddhi shariireSu.

So also, more than often Seetha will be referred as Vaidehi or Maithili in Aranya Kanda. Some details about it are incorporated in that book. Wherever possible those niceties will be included subject to availability of commentaries, which commentaries have already become 'the flowers in the sky.'

Hence, without trying to squeeze meaningless meanings, and leaving this aspect to pundits and researchers, and as this work cannot be stuffed with those intricacies, henceforth the meanings of epithets are said simply, and at times ignored also. This may please be kept in view while reading.

Verse Locator

इति वाल्मीकि रामायणे आदिकाव्ये बाल काण्डे चतुर् विंशः सर्गः ॥

Thus, this is the 24th chapter in Bala Kanda of Valmiki Ramayana, the First Epic poem of India.

Book I : Bala Kanda - The Youthful Majesties

Chapter [Sarga] 25

Verses converted to UTF-8 - Sep 2009

Introduction

Sage Vishvamitra narrates the birth, marriage and curse of demoness Tataka, and bids Rama to eliminate her menace without any hesitation of killing a female, for she is atrocious towards the society.

Verse Locator

अथ तस्य अप्रमेयस्य मुनेर् वचनम् उत्तमम् ।

श्रुत्वा पुरुष शार्दूलः प्रत्युवाच शुभाम् गिरम् ॥ १-२५-१

1. a prameyasya = sage with inestimable power; tasya muneH uttamam vachanam shrutvaa = worthy, words, on hearing; puruSa shaarduula = manly-tiger - Rama; tataH = then; shubaam giram = with estimable, words; prati uvaacha = in turn, said - replied.

On hearing the worthy words of that sage with inestimable power, then the manly-tiger Rama replied him with estimable words. [1-25-1]

Verse Locator

अल्प वीर्या यदा यक्षी श्रूयते मुनिपुङ्गव ।

कथम् नाग सहस्रस्य धारयति अबला बलम् ॥ १-२५-२

2. muni pungava = oh, sage, the eminent; yakshii [yakshaaH] alpa viiryaa = female-yakshii [all yaksha-s,] trivial, in strength; yadaa shruuyate [shruuyante] = while, we hear so - it is said; a balaa = without, strength - woman frail by nature; naaga sahasrasya balam = elephants, of a thousand, strength; katham dhaarayatii = how, she exerts.

"It is said that yaksha's strength is trivial, and this is an yakshii, more so a female, how then this yakshii frail by her femineity can exert the strength of a thousand elephants? [1-25-2]

Verse Locator

इति उक्तम् वचनम् श्रुत्वा राघवस्य अमित ओजसा ।

हर्षयन् श्लक्षण्या वचा स लक्ष्मणम् अरिन्दमम् ॥ १-२५-३

विश्वामित्रोऽब्रवीत् वाक्यम् शृणु येन बलोत्कटा ।

वर दान कृतम् वीर्यम् धारयति अबला बलम् ॥ १-२५-४

3, 4. iti uktvaa = thus, one who is spoken - Vishvamitra; amita ojasaa raaghavasya = one with illimitable, dynamism, of Raghava; vacanam shrutvaa = sentence, on hearing; Vishvamitra; harSayan = cheering them up; abraviit vaakyam = said, sentence; arindamam sa lakshmaNam = to enemy-subduer [Rama,] along with, Lakshmana; shlakshNayaa vacaa = with pleasant, words; a balaa = female; yena bala utkaTaa = by which, [as to how] by strength, outstanding; shruNu = you listen; vara daana kR^itam viiryam = boon, bestowal, made - obtained; balam dhaaryati = strength, she assumes.

On hearing the sentence of Raghava with illimitable dynamism, Vishvamitra said this sentence to the enemy subduer Rama along with Lakshmana, cheering them up with his pleasant words, "Listen by which a female became outstanding by her strength... she assumes strength by the bestowal of a boon. [1-25-3, 4]

Verse Locator

पूर्वम् आसीत् महा यक्षः सुकेतुर् नाम वीर्यवान् ।

अनपत्यः शुभाचारः स च तेपे महत् तपः ॥ १-२५-५

5. puurvam = once upon a time; sukethuH naama viiryavaan = Suketu, named, formidable one; mahaa yakshaH aasiit = great, yaksha, was there; anapatyaH saH childless, he; subha aacharaH = with devout, conduct; mahat tapaH tepe = great, asceticism, he performed.

"Once there was a formidable yaksha named Suketu, but he was childless, and he who had devout conduct performed a great asceticism. [1-25-5]

Verse Locator

पितामहः तु सुप्रीतः तस्य यक्षपतेः तदा ।

कन्या रत्नम् ददौ राम ताटकाम् नाम नामतः ॥ १-२५-६

6. Rama; tadaa = then; pitaa maha supriitaH = Forefather Brahma, is gladdened; tasya yaksha pateH = to him, yaksha's, lord; namataH taaTakaam nama = by name, Tataka, renowned as; kanya ratnam dadau = girl, gemlike, gave.

"Gladdening at his asceticism, Rama, then the Forefather Brahma gave him a gemlike daughter who is renowned by the name of Tataka. [1-25-6]

Verse Locator

ददौ नाग सहस्रस्य बलम् च अस्याः पितामहः ।

न तु एव पुत्रम् यक्षाय ददौ च असौ महायशाः ॥ १-२५-७

7. pitaamahaH = Forefather Brahma; asyaaH = to her; naaga sahasrasya balam cha = elephants, thousand, strength, also; dadau = gave; mahaa yashaaH = highly, remarkable Brahma; asau yakshaaya putram tu = to that, yaksha, son, but; na eva dadau ca = not, that way, given, also; [as male child will be more hazardous.]

"Forefather Brahma also gave the strength of a thousand elephants to her, but he that highly remarkable Brahma did not give a son to that yaksha, anticipating male to be more hazardous. [1-25-7]

Verse Locator

ताम् तु बालाम् विवर्धन्तीम् रूप यौवन शालिनीम् ।

जंभ पुत्राय सुन्दाय ददौ भार्याम् यशस्विनीम् ॥ १-२५-८

8. baalam vi vardhantiim = girl, well, growing up; ruupa yauvana shaliniim = beauty, youth, one having them; yashashviniim = bright one; taam = her; jambha putraaya = to Jambha's, son; sundaaya = to Sunda; bhaaryaam dadau = as wife, [her father Suketu] gave.

"When that bright girl is growing up into a youthful beauty her father Suketu gave her to Jambha's son Sunda as wife. [1-25-8]

Verse Locator

कस्यचित् तु अथ कालस्य यक्षी पुत्रम् व्यजायत ।

मारीचम् नाम दुर्धर्षम् यः शापात् राक्षसोऽभवत् ॥ १-२५-९

9. atha kasyachit kaalasya = then, some, after time; yakshii = that yakshii, Tataka; maariicam naama putram = Mareecha, named, son; dur dharSam = indomitable one; vyajaayata = delivered; yaH shaapaat raakshasaH abhavat = who, by curse, demon, he became.

"Then after sometime that yakshii Tataka delivered an indomitable son named Mareecha, who by curse became a demon. [1-25-9]

Verse Locator

सुन्दे तु निहते राम सा अगस्त्यम् ऋषि सत्तमम् ।
ताटका सह पुत्रेण प्रधर्षयितुम् इच्छति ॥ १-२५-१०

3. iti uktvaa = thus, one who is spoken - Vishvamitra; amita ojasaa raaghavasya = one with illimitable, dynamism, of Raghava; vacanam shrutvaa = sentence, on hearing; Vishvamitra; harSayan = cheering them up; abraviit vaakyam = said, sentence; arindamam sa lakshmaNam = to enemy-subduer [Rama,] along with, Lakshmana; shlakshNayaa vacaa = with pleasant, words; a balaa = female; yena bala utkaTaa = by which, [as to how] by strength, outstanding; shruNu = you listen; vara daana kR^itam viiryam = boon, bestowal, made - obtained; balam dhaaryati = strength, she assumes.

"But when Sunda is eliminated by sage Agastya's curse, she that Tataka wished to retaliate that eminent sage along with her son Mareecha. [1-25-10]

Verse Locator

भक्षार्थम् जात संरम्भा गर्जन्ती सा अभ्यधावत ।
आपतन्तीम् तु ताम् दृष्ट्वा अगस्त्यो भगवान् ऋषिः ॥ १-२५-११
राक्षसत्वम् भजस्व इति मारीचम् व्याजहार सः ।

11, 12a. saa garjantiii = she, roaring; jaata samrambhaa = caused, hastiness - with brewing desperation; bhaksha artham abhya dhaatava = [as though] to eat away, aiming to, towards [sage,] she rushed; bhagavaan R^iSiH agastyaH = godly, saint, Agastya; aa patantiim = coming and falling upon - rushing to attack; taam dR^iSTtvaa = her, on seeing; raakshsatvam bhajasva = demon-hood, you attain; iti saH mariicham vyajahaara = thus, he, to Mareecha, said cursed.

"With desperation brewing in her she roaringly rushed towards the sage as though to eat him away, and on seeing her rushing along with her son Mareecha towards him, the godly saint Agastya firstly cursed Mareecha saying, 'you will attain demon-hood.' [1-25-11, 12a]

Verse Locator

अगस्त्यः परम अमर्षः ताटकाम् अपि शप्तवान् ॥ १-२५-१२
पुरुषादी महायक्षी विरूपा विकृत आनना ।
इदम् रूपम् विहायाशु दारुणम् रूपम् अस्तु ते ॥ १-२५-१३

12b, 13. parama amarSaH agastya = highly, infuriated, Agastya; taaTakaam api shaptavaan = Tataka, even, cursed; aashu idam ruupam vihaaya = forthwith, this, form, divested of; vi ruupaa = with distorted form; vikR^ita aananaa = with contorted, faced; puruSa adii = man, one who eats; mahaa yakshii = oh, great yakshii; te daaruNam ruupam astu = to you, monstrous, form, shall be.

"Highly infuriated sage Agastya even cursed Tataka saying, 'forthwith divested of this form of a beautiful female, oh, great yakshii, you shall become a man eater with your form distorted, face contorted, and shape monstrous.' [1-25-12b, 13]

Verse Locator

सैषा शाप कृताम् अर्षा ताटका क्रोध मूर्छिता ।

देशम् उत्सादयति एनम् अगस्त्या चरितम् शुभम् ॥ १-२५-१४

14. shaapa kR^itaam amarSaa = by curse, caused, frenzy; saa eSaa = she, thus; that Tataka; krodha muurcChitaa = in fury, convulsed; agastya charitam = sage Agastya, sauntered; subham enam desham = auspicious one, this, province; utsaadayati = is vandalizing.

"Frenzied by the curse and convulsed in fury she that Tataka is thus vandalising this auspicious province, in which sage Agastya once sauntered. [1-25-14]

Verse Locator

एनाम् राघव दुर्वृत्ताम् यक्षीम् परम दारुणाम् ।

गो ब्राह्मण हितार्थाय जहि दुष्ट पराक्रमाम् ॥ १-२५-१५

15. Raghava; dur vR^ittaam = one with horrific, behaviour; panama daaruNam = highly, atrocious one; duSTa paraakramaam = one with malefic, valour; enaam yakshiim = this, yakshii be; go braahmaNa hita arthaaya = cows, Brahmins, for welfare of; jahi = you eliminate [her.]

"She that highly atrocious one is with horrific behaviour and malefic valour, hence you shall eliminate this yakshii for the welfare of Brahmins and cows. [1-25-15]

Verse Locator

न हि एनाम् शाप संसृष्टाम् कश्चित् उत्सहते पुमान् ।

निहन्तुम् त्रिषु लोकेषु त्वाम् ऋते रघु नन्दन ॥ १-२५-१६

16. raghu nandana = oh, Raghu's, legatee; shaapa samsR^iSTaam = in curse, sheathed - indomitable; enaam ni hantum = her, to completely, eliminate; tvaam R^ite = you, excepting; kashchit pumaan = some man none; triSu lokeSu = in three, worlds; na utsahate hi = not, braves her, indeed - possibly.

"Excepting you there is none to eliminate her who is indomitably sheathed in a curse, oh, Raghu's legatee, and none in the three worlds can possibly brave her. [1-25-16]

Verse Locator

न हि ते स्त्री वध कृते घृणा कार्या नरोत्तम ।

चातुर् वर्ण्य हितार्थाम् हि कर्तव्यम् राज सूनुना ॥ १-२५-१७

17. nara uttama = among men, the best, Rama; strii vadha = female, killing; kR^ite ghR^iNaa = regarding, compassion; na kaaryaa = no, to be done not, germane; raaja suununa = by king's, son; chaatur varNya hita arartham = four, caste-system, welfare, intending; kartavyam = is to be done effectuated.

"Compassion regarding the elimination of a female is ungermane, oh, best one among men, since a prince has to effectuate it intending the welfare of four categories of society. [1-25-17]

Verse Locator

नृशंसम् अनृशंसम् वा प्रजा रक्षण कारणात् ।

पातकम् वा सदोषम् वा कर्तव्यम् रक्षता सदा ॥ १-२५-१८

18. rakshata = [to a king] who is protector [of subjects]; prajaa rakshaNa kaaraNaat = people, guarding, for the reason of; nR^ishamsam vaa = ruthless, either; a nR^ishamsham vaa = humane, or; paatakam vaa = sinful, or; sa doSam vaa = with, vilification, or; that deed; sadaa kartavyam = always, is to be done.

"For the reason of protecting people, a protector always has to execute such deed, either it is ruthless or humane, sinful or vilifying. [1-25-18]

Verse Locator

राज्य भार नियुक्तानाम् एष धर्मः सनातनः ।
अधर्याम् जहि काकुत्स्थ धर्मो हि अस्याम् न विद्यते ॥ १-२५-१९

19. raajya bhaara niyuktaanaam = kingdom's, burde, to those that are nominated; eSa sanaatanaH dharma = this is, age-old, duty; kakutstha = Rama; a dharmyaam jahi = one with infamy, eliminate; asyaam dharmaH na vidyate hi = in her, goodness, not, evident, isn't it.

"To the nominee who bears the burden of kingdom this is the age-old duty, and hence oh, Rama, the legatee of Kakutstha, eliminate this infamy, as goodness is inevident in her, isn't it. [1-25-19]

Verse Locator

श्रूयते हि पुरा शक्रो विरोचन सुताम् नृप ।
पृथिवीम् हन्तुम् इच्छन्तीम् मन्थराम् अभ्यसूदयत् ॥ १-२५-२०

20. nR^i pa = oh, people, protector; puraa pR^ithiviim hantum icChantiim = once, Earth, to annihilate, she who wished; virochana sutaam mantharaam = Virochana's, daughter, Manthara [namesake of this epic's Manthara]; shakraH abhyasuudayat = Indra, eliminated; shruuyate hi = thus heard, isn't it.

"Oh, Rama, the protector of people, we have heard that Indra once eliminated Manthara, the daughter of Virochana, when she wished to annihilate earth, haven't we. [1-25-20]

Verse Locator

विष्णुना च पुरा राम भृगु पत्नी पतिव्रता ।
अनिन्द्रम् लोकम् इच्छन्ती काव्यमाता निषूदिता ॥ १-२५-२१

21. Rama; puraa = once; lokam = world; an indram = without, Indra; icChantii = she who wished; pativrataa bR^arigu patnii = husband-devote, sage Bhrigu's, wife; kaavya maataa api = sage Shukra's, mother, even; viSNuna nishuuditaa = by Vishnu, she is wiped out.

"And Rama, once Vishnu wiped out even the wife of sage Bhrigu and sage Shukracarya's mother when she wished the world to become one without a governing factor, namely Indra. [1-25-21]

Verse Locator

एतैः च अन्यैः च बहुभी राजपुत्रैः महात्मभिः ।
अधर्म सहिता नार्यो हताः पुरुषसत्तमैः ।
तस्माद् एनाम् घृणाम् त्यक्त्वा जहि मत् शासनान् नृप ॥ १-२५-२२

22. raja putraiH = oh, prince; etaiH mahaatmabhiH = by these, great souls; anyaiH cha = by others, also; puruSa sattamaiH = by personalities, celebrated ones; bahubhii a dharma sahita naaryaH = many of the, un, righteousness, who have, females; hataaH = were eliminated; tasmaat = therefore; nR^i pa = oh, people protector; mat shaasanaat = by my, decree; ghr^iNaam tyaktvaa = compassion, leaving off; enaam jahi = her, you eliminate.

"Oh, prince, these great souls and many other celebrated personalities have eliminated females who deported themselves with unrighteousness, and hence, oh, Rama, the protector of people, by my decree you leave off compassion and eliminate her." Thus said sage Vishvamitra to Rama regarding Tataka's elimination. [1-25-22]

Elimination of females - right or wrong

This is a much discussed topic in Ramayana. Rama's adventures start with the killing of a female. While scriptures say that killing a female is sinful, is this killing of a female righteous or wrongful is the topic for discussion. It is said in answer that there is no harm to dharma since unrighteousness is eliminable though existing in the form of a female. duShTa strii vadho doSho n astiiti shaastreNa na anyena - dharmakuutam | |

And Vishnu Purana says that eliminating one evildoer for the sake of many innocent is neither sin nor a crime of course, to the kings and rulers: easmin atra nidhanam praapite duShTakaariNi | bahuunaam bhavati kShemaH tasya puNyaprado vadhaH | | - vishNu puraana 1-13-73-74

For the sake many, that too defenceless rural people, it is the duty of the king to eliminate whether it is a male or a female if involved in atrocities: dharmartham puurvakam taaDakaa vadhe doSho na asti - -- puNyam eva bhaviShyati iti taatparyeNa maharShi vishvaamitreNa uktam | idaaniimtanairapi bahuunaam kShemaartham ekasya hanane doSho na asti iti j~neyam | visheShitaH raaj~naa janapada rakShaNa diikShitena avadhya vadho api kartavya ityapi suucitam | | --- dharmakuutam

Verse Locator

इति वाल्मीकि रामायणे आदिकाव्ये बाल काण्डे पंचविंशः सर्गः ॥

Thus, this is the 25th chapter in Bala Kanda of Valmiki Ramayana, the First Epic poem of India.

Book I : Bala Kanda - The Youthful Majesties

Chapter [Sarga] 26

Verses converted to UTF-8, Sept 09

Introduction

Rama encounters his first problem-female demoness Tataka, also called as Taadaka, and eliminates her at the orders of sage Vishvamitra. This is a crucial test put to Rama by Vishvamitra in ascertaining whether Rama is the follower of dharma through elder men's orders or not. Rama eradicates Tataka basing on his own self-confidence.

Verse Locator

मुनेर् वचनम् अक्लीबम् श्रुत्वा नरवरात्मजः ।
राघवः प्राञ्जलिः भूत्वा प्रत्युवाच दृढव्रतः ॥ १-२६-१

1. dhR^iDha vrataH = one who has firm vows [Rama]; nara vara aatmajaH = among people, the best one, son of; Raghava; a kliibam = without, fear - unfaltering; muneH vachanam shrutvaa = sage's, words, on hearing; praanjaliH bhuutva = adjoining palms, on becoming; prati uvaacha = replied.

On hearing the words of that unfaltering sage about demoness Tataka, Raghava, best man's son who is firm in his vows, reverently adjoining his palms replied the sage. [1-26-1]

Verse Locator

पितुर् वचन निर्देशात् पितुर् वचन गौरवात् ।
वचनम् कौशिकस्य इति कर्तव्यम् अविशङ्कया ॥ १-२६-२

2. pituh vachana nirdeshaat = [by my] father's, words, of order; pituh vachana gauravaat = [my] father's, words, honouring; kaushikasya vachanam iti = sage's son [Vishvamitra,] word, thus as [deeming this as my mentor's word]; a vi shankaya = without, further, doubt - definitely; kartavyam = [Tataka's elimination is to] be implemented.

"Upon my father's order, upon my honour to my father's word, and looking upon this as the word of sage Kushi's son, my mentor, this task is definitely to be implemented. [1-26-2]

The third consideration is 'teacher's words' itarairapi guru shaasane sati avishankayaa dharmyam api tad uktam avashyam kartavyam iti suucitam - dharmaakuutam hence, Rama cannot be heedless of the words of both his father and teacher.

Verse Locator

अनुशिष्टो अस्मि अयोध्यायाम् गुरु मध्ये महात्मना ।
पित्रा दशरथेन अहम् न अवज्ञेयम् च तद् वचः ॥ १-२६-३

3. ayodhyaayaam = in Ayodhya; guru madhye = teachers [elders,] among; mahaatmanaa pitraa dasharathena = by great soul, by father, Dasharatha; anushiSTaH asmi = directed, I am; tat vachaH na avaj~neyam ca = that, word, cannot, to be disregarded, too.

"What my great souled father Dasharatha directed me to do among elders in Ayodhya, that word too cannot be disregarded. [1-26-3]

Dasharatha bade Rama to do whatever assigned by Vishvamitra. Here Vishvamitra is assigning something ambiguous. Hence the dilemma between two instructions of two elderly people, and thus scriptures and practise confuse the young.

Verse Locator

सोऽहम् पितुर्वचः श्रुत्वा शासनाद् ब्रह्म वादिनः ।
करिष्यामि न संदेहः ताटका वधम् उत्तमम् ॥ १-२६-४

4. saH aham pituH vachaH shrutvaa = such as I am, father's, words, having heard ? as a follower; brahma vaadinaH = Brahma, scholar ? such as you are; shaashanaat = by your instruction; uttamam taaTaka vadham kariSyami = best [primary duty,] Tataka's, elimination, I wish to undertake; na sandehaH = without, doubt.

"Such as I am, I will undertake the primary duty of eliminating Tataka, according as the follower of father's words, and according to the instruction of a Brahma scholar, such as your are, without a doubt. [1-26-4]

Here Rama is in the same predicament as Arjuna in Maha Bharata. Arjuna's dilemma is to kill his own relatives, where Rama's is to kill a female at this juncture. What Krishna preaches in entire Bhagavad Gita is told in nutshell by sage Vishvamitra, i.e., 'do your duty as a Kshatriya, the ruling class, and protect virtue and eradicate vice, whether it is in the form of females or relatives.' atha vishvaamitro guruH - tasya vacanam avicaareNa kartavyam - evam sati dasharathena api - kasushiko yad vadati tat kartavyam - iti anushiSTo raamaH ekasya guror vacanam anullanghaniyam - guru dvaya anushiSTam vacaH katham parihartum shakyaata iti - strii vadha niSedhe satya api taaDakaa vadham angiikR^itavaan - dharmaakuutam

Verse Locator

गो ब्राह्मण हितार्थाय देशस्य च हिताय च ।
तव चैव अप्रमेयस्य वचनम् कर्तुम् उद्यतः ॥ १-२६-५

5. go braahmaNa hitaarthaya = cows, and Brahmans, for welfare of; asya deshasya hitaaya cha = this, province's, for advantage, also; aprameyasya = one who has inestimable power [Vishvamitra]; tava vachanam kartum = your, word [bidding,] to effectuate; udyataH = I am ready.

"I am ready to effectuate the bidding of an inestimable sage like you, for the welfare of cows and Brahmans, and for the advantage of this province." So said Rama to sage Vishvamitra. [1-26-5]

Verse Locator

एवम् उक्त्वा धनुर्मध्ये बध्वा मुष्टिम् अरिन्दमः ।
ज्या घोषम् अकरोत् तीव्रम् दिशः शब्देन नादयन् ॥ १-२६-६

6. arindam = enemy-destroyer, Rama; evam uktvaa = thus, on saying; dhanuH madhye muSTim badhvaa = at bow's, middle [on handgrip,] clenching, his fist; shabdena dishaH naadayan = by sound, directions, make them to blast; tiivram jyaa ghoSam akarot = thunderous, bowstring's, sound, made.

Saying thus, Rama, the enemy-destroyer, clenched his left fist on the handgrip in the middle of the bow, and with the right he made a thunderous sound of the bowstring making all the directions to blast. [1-26-6]

Verse Locator

तेन शब्देन वित्रस्ताः ताटका वन वासिनः ।
ताटका च सुसंकुब्धा तेन शब्देन मोहिता ॥ १-२६-७

7. taTaka vana vaasinaH = Tataka, forest, inhabitants; tena shabdena vitrastaH = by that, sound, startled; taaTakaa cha = Tataka is, even; tena shabdena mohitaa = by that, sound, stupefied; su sam kruddhaa = well, fully, angering ? intolerably infuriated.

By that sound the inhabitants of Tataka forest are startled, and even Tataka is stupefied by that sound, and she is intolerably infuriated at it. [1-26-7]

Verse Locator

तम् शब्दम् अभिनिधाय राक्षसी क्रोध मूर्चिता ।
श्रुत्वा च अभ्यद्रवत् क्रुद्धा यत्र शब्दो विनिस्सृतः ॥ १-२६-८

8. rakshasii = demoness; tam shabdam shrutvaa = that, sound, on hearing; krodha muurchitaH = in anger, convulsed; abhi nidhyaaya = thinking awhile - giving attention to the pathway it emerged; yataH shabdaH viniHsrutaH = from where, sound, emerged; in that way; kruddhaa abhya dravat = rancorously, rushed [to there.]

She who is convulsed in anger to hear that sound gave attention to the direction wherefrom it emerged and she rancorously rushed thereto. [1-26-8]

Verse Locator

ताम् दृष्ट्वा राघवः क्रुद्धाम् विकृताम् विकृत आननाम् ।
प्रमाणेन अति वृद्धाम् च लक्ष्मणम् सोऽभ्यभाषत ॥ १-२६-९

9. saH = he; that Raaghava; vi kR^itaam = monstrous one; vikR^ita aananam = with distorted, faced; pramaaNena ati vR^iddham cha = by proportions, very, gigantic, also; kR^iddhaam = infuriated one; taam dR^iSTvaa = her, on seeing; lakshmaNam abhya bhaashata = to Lakshmana, Rama, spoke.

Raghava on seeing that monstrous-looking demoness with a distorted face and who by proportions is very gigantic, furthermore infuriated, spoke to Lakshmana. [1-26-9]

Verse Locator

पश्य लक्ष्मण यक्षिण्या भैरवम् दारुणम् वपुः ।
भिद्येरन् दर्शनात् अस्या भीरूणाम् हृदयानि च ॥ १-२६-१०

10. lakshmana = Lakshmana; pasya = see; yakshiNyaa bhairavam daaruNam vapuH = yakshii's, grisly, ghastly, physique; asyaa darshanaat = its [body's,] on seeing; bhiiruuNaam hR^idayaani bhidyera = cowards', hearts, bursts.

"Lakshmana, see that yakshii's grisly and ghastly physique, seeing which hearts of cowards are prone to burst. [1-26-10]

Verse Locator

एताम् पश्य दुराधर्षाम् माया बल समन्विताम् ।
विनिवृत्ताम् करोमि अद्य हत कर्णाग्र नासिकाम् ॥ १-२६-११

11. duraadharSaam = unstoppable one; maayaa bala samanvitaam = magical, powers, having; etaam = her; hR^ita karNa agra naasikaam = taking away [lopping off,] [her] ears, tip of the nose; vi nivR^ittaam = [made to] ready retreat; adya karomi = now, I will make; pasya = you may see.

" She is unstoppable and has magical powers, is't, you may see now how I will make her to readily retreat by lopping off her ears and the tip of nose. [1-26-11]

Verse Locator

न हि एनाम् उत्सहे हन्तुम् स्त्री स्वभावेन रक्षिताम् ।
वीर्यम् च अस्या गतिम् च एव हन्यताम् इति मे मतिः ॥ १-२६-१२

12. strii svabhaavena rakshitaam = female, by virtue of ? feminineness, [she is] protected; enaam hantum na utsahate hi = her, to eliminate, not, I attempt, really; asya viiryam gatim cha api = her, impudence, mobility, also, even; hanyataam iti me matiH = be terminated, thus is, my, intention.

"As it is her feminineness is protecting her, and I too I do not really attempt to kill her, but I intend to terminate her impudence and mobility. [1-26-12]

Verse Locator

एवम् ब्रुवाणे रामे तु ताटका क्रोध मूर्छिता ।
उद्यंय बाहूम् गर्जन्ती रामम् एव अभ्यधावत ॥ १-२६-१३

13. raaame evam bruvaane = by Rama, this way, while saying; Tataka; krodha muurchitaa = in anger, convulsed; baahuu udyamya = arms, upraising - swinging arms; garjantii = roaringly; raamam eva abhya dhaavata = Rama, alone, towards, rushed to..

While Rama is still speaking that way, convulsed in anger Tataka roaringly rushed towards Rama alone, swinging her arms. [1-26-13]

Verse Locator

विश्वामित्रस्तु ब्रह्मर्षिः हुंकारेणा अभिभर्त्स्य ताम् ।
स्वस्ति राघवयोः अस्तु जयम् च एव अभ्यभाषत ॥ १-२६-१४

14. brahmarSiH vishvamisraH tu = Brahma-sage, Vishvamitra, but; taam humkaareNa abhibhartsya = her, by sounding off, daunted; raaghavayoH = for Raghava-s; svasti astu jayam cha = let safeness, prevail, victory, also; abhyabhaasata = said.

But the Brahma-sage Vishvamitra daunted sounded her off and said to Rama and Lakshmana, "let you be safe, and be victorious." [1-26-14]

Verse Locator

उद् धुन्वाना रजो घोरम् ताटका राघवौ उभौ ।
रजो मेघेन महता मुहूर्तम् सा व्यमोहयत् ॥ १-२६-१५

15. saa = she that Tataka; ghoram rajaH ud dhuunaanaa = dreadful, dust, up flinging; raaghavau ubhau = on Raghava-s, two of them; muhurtam = for a while; mahataa rajaH meghena = with massive, dust, cloud; vyamohayat = she baffled.

Flinging up dreadful dust on those two Raghavaa-s, Tataka baffled them for a while with a massive cloud of dust. [1-26-15]

Verse Locator

ततो मायाम् समास्थाय शिला वर्षेण राघवौ ।
अवाकिरत् सुमहता ततः चुक्रोध राघवः ॥ १-२६-१६

16. tataH maayaam samaasthaaya = then, witchery, taking hold of; su mahataa shilaa varsheNa = highly, torrential, with stone, rain; raaghavau = on Raghava-s; avaakirat = spread around - inundated; tataH raaghavaH chukrodha = then, Rama, became indignant.

Then taking hold of witchery she inundated both the Raghava-s with highly torrential stone rain, by which Rama became indignant. [1-26-16]

Verse Locator

शिला वर्षम् महत् तस्याः शर वर्षेण राघवः ।

प्रतिवार्यो अपधावन्त्याः करौ चिच्छेद पत्रिभिः ॥ १-२६-१७

17. raaghava = Rama; tasyaaH mahat shilaa varsham = her, effusive, stones, storming; shara varsheNa prati vaaryaH = by arrow, storms, forestalled; apa dhaavantyaH = she who is towards, rushing; karau patribhiH chicheda = both arms, by arrows, mutilated.

On forestalling her effusive stone storming with his arrow storm, Rama even mutilated both of her arms with arrows while she rushed towards them. [1-26-17]

Verse Locator

ततः च्छिन्न भुजाम् श्रान्ताम् अभ्याशे परिगर्जतीम् ।

सौमित्रिः अकरोत् क्रोधात् हृत कर्णाग्र नासिकाम् ॥ १-२६-१८

18. chinna bhujaam shraantaam = severed, arms, fatigued one; abhyaashe parigarjatiim = nearby, extremely roaring; tataH = then; saumitriH krodhaat = Soumitri, provoked; hR^ita karNa agra naasikaam = to loose ears, tip of nose; akarot = made [cut off.]

With her arms severed and fatigued she started to roar extremely at the nearby, and then provoked Lakshmana made her to loose her ears and the tip of nose by cutting them off. [1-26-18]

Verse Locator

काम रूपधरा सा तु कृत्वा रूपाणि अनेकशः ।

अन्तर्धानम् गता यक्षी मोहयन्ति स्व मायया ॥ १-२६-१९

अश्म वर्षम् विमुंचन्ती भैरवम् विचचार सा ॥

19, 20a. saa kaama ruupa dharaa tu = she, by wish, guise, changer, but; anekashaH ruupaaNi kR^itvaa = variously, her forms, on making - altering; antardhaanam gataa = into disappearance, on going; mohayantii sva mayayaa = baffling, with her, illusoriness; ashma varsham vimuchyantii = stone, storm, while discharging; bhairavam saa vichachaaraH = alarmingly, she, moved about.

That guise changer vanished after variously altering her aspects, and then on baffling them with her illusoriness and discharging stone storms she moved about appallingly. [1-26-19, 20a]

Verse Locator

ततः तौ अश्म वर्षेण कीर्यमाणौ समन्ततः ॥ १-२६-२०

दृष्ट्वा गाधि सुतः श्रीर्मान् इदम् वचनम् अब्रवीत् ।

20b, 21a. samantataH asma varsheNa kiiryamaanau = all-over, by stones, storm, overspread by; tau = then, them Rama, Lakshmana; dR^iSTvaa = on seeing; tataH = then; sriimaan gaadhi sutaH = illustrious one, Gadhi's son, [Vishvamitra]; idam vachanam abraviit = this, sentence, spoke.

And on seeing both Rama and Lakshmana who are being overspread by storms of stones from all-over, then the illustrious sage Vishvamitra spoke this sentence. [1-26-20b, 21a]

Verse Locator

अलम् ते घृणया राम पापा एषा दुष्ट चारिणी ॥ १-२६-२१

यज्ञ विघ्न करी यक्षी पुरा वर्धेत मायया ।

21b, 22a. te ghR^iNayaa alam = with your, compassion, enough; Rama; paapaa = sinister; duSTa chaariNii = malevolent, behaviourally; yaj~na vighna kari = ritual, hindrance, one who causes; eSaa yakshii = this, yakshii; maayayaa = by illusory powers; puraa vardheta = in a short time, regains ? gets a grip on herself.

"Enough is your compassion Rama, she is a sinister, behaviourally malevolent, a hinderer of rituals, and this yakshii gets a grip on herself in a short time by her illusory powers. [1-26-21b, 22a]

Verse Locator

वध्यताम् तावत् एव एषा पुरा संध्या प्रवर्तते ॥ १-२६-२२
रक्षांसि संध्या काले तु दुर्धर्षाणि भवन्ति हि ।

22b, 23a. sandhyaa puraa pravartate = sunset, in short time, sets in; taavat eva = before that, alone; eSaa vadhyataam = she, be destroyed; sandhyaa kaale = at sunset, time; rakshaamsi dur dharshaaNi bhavanti vai = demons, unassailable, they become, indeed.

"Sun is going to set in a short time, and only before that time she shall be destroyed, for demons at dusk and afterwards become unassailable, indeed." So said sage Viswamitra to Rama. [1-26-22b, 23a]

Verse Locator

इति उक्तः स तु ताम् यक्षीम् अश्म वृष्ट्या अभिवर्षणीम् ॥ १-२६-२३
दर्शयन् शब्द वेधित्वम् ताम् रुरोध स सायकैः ।

23b, 24a. iti uktaH saH = thus, spoken, he that Rama; taam yakshiim = her, that yakshii; shabda vedhitvam darshayan = sonic, archery, displaying [his capacity]; ashma vR^iSTyaa abhi varSaNiim = with stones, storms, storming; saH = he; taam rurodha saayakaiH = her, forestalled, with arrows.

When Vishvamitra addressed him thus, Rama displaying his capacity in sonic archery forestalled that yakshii who has gone into invisibility and storming stone-storms, with his arrows. [1-26-23b, 24a]

Verse Locator

सा रुद्धा बाण जालेन माया बल समन्विता ॥ १-२६-२४
अभि दुद्राव काकुत्स्थम् लक्ष्मणम् च विनेषुदी ॥

24b, 25a. baaNa jaalena ruddhaa = by arrows, arrays, obstructed; maayaa bala samanvitaa = illusional, power, possessing with; saa = she; vi neSudii = stridently blaring; kaakutstham laxamaNam cha = to Rama, Lakshmana also; abhi duraava = towards, dashed.

And when the arrays of arrows obstructed her who possesses illusional powers, she dashed towards Rama and Lakshmana blaring stridently. [1-26-24b, 25a]

Verse Locator

ताम् आपतन्तीम् वेगेन विक्रान्ताम् अशनीम् इव ॥ १-२६-२५
शरेण उरसि विव्याध सा पपात ममार च ।

25b, 26a. vi kraantaam = one who is invading; ashaniim iva = thunderbolt, like; vegena = speedily; aa patantiim = she who is coming and falling ? swooping down; taam shareNa urasi vi yaadha = her, with arrow, on chest, struck; saa pa paata = she, readily, fell; ma maara cha = completely, dropped dead, too.

And Rama struck an arrow in her chest who is invading and speedily swooping down like a thunderbolt, and thus she is readily felled down and totally dropped dead, too. [1-26-25b, 26a]

Verse Locator

ताम् हताम् भीम संकाशाम् दृष्ट्वा सुरपतिः तदा ॥ १-२६-२६

साधु साध्विति काकुत्स्थम् सुराः च अपि अभिपूजयन् ।

26b, 27a. sura patiH suraaH cha = gods?, king, gods [Indra,] also; hataam bhiima sankasham = annihilated, horrendous, in shape; taam dR^iSTvaa tadaa = her, on seeing, then; saadhu saadhu iti = admirable, admirable, thus [this act of felling her]; kaakuthsham abhipuujayan = at Rama, highly, esteemed.

On seeing her who is horrendous in her shape is eliminated Indra and other gods have highly esteemed Rama saying, ?admirable, admirable is this act. [1-26-26b, 27a]

Verse Locator

उवाच परम प्रीतः सहस्राक्षः पुरन्दरः ॥ १-२६-२७

सुराः च सर्वे संहृष्टा विश्वामित्रम् अथ अब्रुवन् ।

27b, 28a. sahasra akshaH = thousand-eyed one ? Indra; puran daraH = enemy's citadel-destroyer - Indra; parama priitaH atha uvaacha = highly, satisfied, then, spoke; sarve suraaH samhR^iSTaa cha = all, gods, gladdened, also [spoke]; abruvan vishwamitram = spoke, to Vishvamitra [this way.]

The thousand eyed and the destroyer of enemy's citadels Indra then spoke with high satisfaction, and even all of the gods are gladdened and said to Vishvamitra this way. [1-26-27b, 28a]

Verse Locator

मुने कौशिक भद्रम् ते सह इन्द्राः सर्वे मरुद् गणाः ॥ १-२६-२८

तोषिताः कर्मणा अनेन स्नेहम् दर्शय राघवे ।

28b, 29a. mune kaushika = oh, sage, Vishvamitra; te bhadram = to you, safety will be; saha indraa = with Indra; sarve marudgaNaa = all, wind-god, groups of; anena karmaNaa toshitaH = by this, act, pleased; raaghava sneham darshaya = to Raghava, concern, you show.

"Oh, sage Vishvamitra, you are blessed, all the groups of wind-gods along with Indra are pleased, so you please show more concern for Raghava. [1-26-28b, 29a]

Verse Locator

प्रजापतेः कृशाश्वस्य पुत्रान् सत्य पराक्रमान् ॥ १-२६-२९

तपो बल भृतो ब्रह्मन् राघवाय निवेदय ।

29b, 30a. brahman = oh, Brahman; prajaapateH kR^ishaashvasya putraan = Prajaapati, of Krishaasva, children; satya paraakramaan = virtue, valiant ones; tapaH bala bhR^itaH = ascetically, strength, possessors [missiles]; raaghavaaya nivedaya = to Raghava, be offered.

"The sons of Prajapati Krishasva who are valiant by their virtue and who possess ascetic strength, oh, Brahman, they may be offered to Raghava. [1-26-29,b, 30a]

These are the sons like missiles of Krishaashava Prajaapati. About them, the divine weaponry and their birth, c.f. 21st sarga/chapter, verse 10 to 20.

Verse Locator

पात्रभूतः च ते ब्रह्मन् तव अनुगमने रतः ॥ १-२६-३०

कर्तव्यम् सुमहत् कर्म सुराणाम् राज सूनुना ।

30b, 31a. brahman = oh, Brahman; tava anu gamane rataH = your, in tow, going ? following, steadfast ? Rama [follower of your assignments]; te paatra bhuutaH = to you, befitting one ? worthy receiver; raaja suununaa = by king?s, son; suraaNaam su mahat karma = for gods, very, great, deed; kartavyam = is to be done.

"Rama is steadfast in following your assignments and thus he is the worthy receiver of those missiles, and this prince has to accomplish a very great deed of gods.? So said gods to Vishvamitra. [1-26-30b, 31a]

Verse Locator

एवम् उक्त्वा सुराः सर्वे जग्मुर् हृष्टा विहायसम् ॥ १-२६-३१
विश्वामित्रम् पूजयन् ततः संध्या प्रवर्तते ।

31b, 32a. evam uktvaa = thus, saying; suraaH sarve = gods, all; vishvamitram puujayan = Vishvamitra, on extolling; hR^iSTaa = contentedly; vihaayasam = to heavens; jagmuH = went away; tataH sandhyaa pravartate = then, sunset, come to pass.

All the gods on saying thus and on extolling Vishvamitra they contentedly returned to heavens, and then the sunset has come to pass. [1-26-31b, 32a]

Verse Locator

ततो मुनिवरः प्रीतः ताटका वध तोषितः ॥ १-२६-३२
मूर्ध्नि रामम् उपाग्राय इदम् वचनम् अब्रवीत् ।

32b, 33a. muni varaH = sage, the best; priitaH = satisfied; taaTakaa vadha toSita = in Tataka's, eradication, gladdened; raamam muurdhni upa aaghraaya = of Rama, forehead, nearby smelling [kissing]; tataH then; idam vachanam abraviit = this, sentence, said.

That best sage is satisfied with Rama and gladdened for the eradication of Tataka kissed the forehead of and then said this sentence. [1-26-32b, 33a]

Verse Locator

इह अद्य रजनीम् राम वसाम शुभ दर्शन ॥ १-२६-३३
श्वः प्रभाते गमिष्यामः तद् आश्रम पदम् मम ।

33b, 34a. subha darshana = oh, august one, to gaze at, Rama; adya rajaniim = today's, night; iha vasaama = here, we stay; shvaH prabhaate = tomorrow, morning; mama tat aashrama padam gamiSyaamaH = mine, that, to hermitage, we will proceed.

"Here we stay for tonight, Rama, the august one for a gaze, and tomorrow morning we will go to that hermitage of mine.? So said Vishvamitra to Rama. [1-26-33b, 34a]

Verse Locator

विश्वामित्रः वचः श्रुत्वा हृष्टो दशरधात्मजः ॥ १-२६-३४
उवास रजनीम् तत्र ताटकाया वने सुखम् ।

34b, 35a. vishwaamitra; vachaH shrutva = words, on listening; dasharatha aatmaja = Dasharatha's, son is; hR^iSTaH = gladdened; tatra taaTakaayaa = vane there, in Tataka's, forest; sukham rajaniim uvaasa = comfortably, that night, stayed.

On listening sage Vishvamitra's words, Dasharatha's son Rama, comfortably stayed that night there in that forest of Tataka. [1-26-34]

Verse Locator

मुक्त शापम् वनम् तत् च तस्मिन् एव तत् आहनि ।
रमणीयम् विबभ्राज यथा चैत्र रथम् वनम् ॥ १-२६-३५

35b, c. tasmin tat aahani eva = on that very, day, only; tat vanam cha = that, forest, too; mukta shaapam = released, from curse; yathaa chaitra ratham vanam = as with, [heavenly] Chaitra Ratha, garden; ramaNiiyam vi babhraaja = pleasantly, shone forth

On that very day alone that forest of Tataka too is released from the curse, and it shone forth like the luxurious heavenly garden of Kubera, namely Chiatra Ratha. [1-26-35b, c]

Verse Locator

निहत्य ताम् यक्ष सुताम् स रामः
प्रशस्यमानः सुर सिद्ध सन्धैः ।
उवास तस्मिन् मुनिना सह एव
प्रभात वेलाम् प्रति बोध्यमानः ॥ १-२६-३६

36. saH raamaH = he, that Rama; taam yaksha sutaam = her, yaksha's, daughter; ni hatya = on completely, destroying; sura siddha sanghaiH = by celestials, liberated Souls, and their groups; prashasyamaanaH = being eulogised; muninaa saha = sage, along with; tasmin eva = there, only; prabhaata velaam = at dawning, time; prati bodhyamaanaH = being addressed being awakened by sunrise; uvaasa = stayed.

Rama while being eulogised by the groups of celestials and liberated Souls for complete elimination of yaksha's daughter, namely Tataka, stayed there along with the sage only to be awakened by the next day's sunrise. [1-26-36]

Test for Rama's discipline.

The materialists view this episode as a function of Rama in eradicating natural calamities like dust storms, pellet storms in an uncultivable land, on the line of the episode of Ahalya. In this episode Rama's discipline is also tested. Whether he simply follows what is instructed or whether he uses his own discretion, is the topic here. Rama coupled both and eradicates Tataka, though he doubts for a while whether to eliminate a female. strii vadha sahasaa na kartavyaH viruupakaaraNaadi strii daNDanam eva prathamataH kriyate – dharmaakuutam

This is required for the endowment of deadly missiles to Rama in coming chapters. Hence Vishvamitra asks Rama to depend upon his own self-confidence to undertake this deed as at 1-24-30b, 31a. On satisfying with the eligibility of Rama to receive missiles with this episode, Vishvamitra accords those deadly weapons later.

.Verse Locator

इति वाल्मीकि रामायणे आदिकाव्ये बाल काण्डे षड्विंशः सर्गः

Thus, this is the 26th chapter in Bala Kanda of Valmiki Ramayana, the First Epic poem of India.

Book I : Bala Kanda - The Youthful Majesties

[Sarga] 27

Verses converted to UTF-8, Sept 09

Introduction

Sage Vishvamitra satisfied with the behaviour of Rama in obliging the orders of elders and performing the act that is assigned to him, gives many weapons to Rama, called shastra, astra-s. The weaponry is categorised mainly into two types. One is shastra - a handheld weapon like sword, lance or mace. The other is astra - a projectile missile invoked by reciting hymns. This chapter lists out those missiles that are given to Rama and in next chapter an account of some counter-attack missiles, called upasamhaara astra-s is given which can be used to nullify the enemy's missiles. In the endnote of this chapter some verses describing the nature of astra-s are incorporated.

Verse Locator

अथ ताम् रजनीम् उष्य विश्वामिरो महायशः ।

प्रहस्य राघवम् वाक्यम् उवाच मधुर स्वरम् ॥ १-२७-१

1. atha = then; mahaa yashaaH = highly renowned; Vishvamitra; taam rajaniim uSyaa = that, night, on staying; prahasya = smilingly; raaghavam = to Raghava; madhura aksharam vaakyam uvaaca = sweet worded, sentence, spoke

Then, on staying that night there in Tataka forest, on the next day morning the greatly renowned sage Vishvamitra, smilingly and wording sweetly spoke to Rama. [1-27-1]

Verse Locator

परितुष्टो अस्मि भद्रम् ते राजपुत्र महायशः ।

प्रीत्या परमया युक्तो ददामि अस्त्राणि सर्वशः ॥ १-२७-२

2. mahaa yashaH raajaputra = great, glorious, prince; pari tuSTaH asmi = highly pleased, I am; te bhadram = to you, let safety be; paramayaa priityaa yuktaH = utmost, affection, along with; astraaNi sarvashaH dadaami = divine missiles, all of them, I will give.

"I am highly pleased with you, oh, illustrious prince Rama, let safety be with you, I will now give you all of the divine missiles in utmost fondness of mine. [1-27-2]

Verse Locator

देव असुर गणान् वा अपि स गन्धर्व उरगान् भुवि ।

यैः अमित्रान् प्रसह्य आजौ वशीकृत्य जयिष्यसि ॥ १-२७-३

तानि दिव्यानि भद्रम् ते ददामि अस्त्राणि सर्वशः ।

3, 4a. yaiH = by which - weapons; deva asura gaNaan vaa api = gods, demons, scores of, or, even; gandharva uragaan = gandharva-s, urugaa-s; bhuvi = [or that are] on earth - earhling; a mitraan = un, friendly ones - enemies; aajau = in war; prasahya vashiikR^itya = by dominating, humbled down; jayiSyasi = conquers; taani divyaani = those, the divine

[weaponry]; astraaNni sarvashaH = missiles, all of them; dadaami = I am going to give; bhadram te = safety, be with you.

"I am going to accord all of those divine missiles by which scores of gods, demons, or even from gandharva-s, uragaa-s and the like, or even earthlings are dominated, humbled down and conquered in war. Let safety be with you. [1-27-3, 4a]

Verse Locator

दण्ड चक्रम् महत् दिव्यम् तव दास्यामि राघव ॥ १-२७-४
धर्म चक्रम् ततो वीर काल चक्रम् तथैव च ।
विष्णु चक्रम् तथा अति उग्रम् ऐन्द्रम् चक्रम् तथैव च ॥ १-२७-५
वज्रम् अस्त्रम् नरश्रेष्ठ शैवम् शूलवरम् तथा ।
अस्त्रम् ब्रह्मशिरः च एव ऐषीकम् अपि राघव ॥ १-२७-६
ददामि ते महाबाहो ब्राह्मम् अस्त्रम् अनुत्तमम् ।

4b, 5, 6, 7a. raaghava = oh, Raghava; mahat divyam = highly, divine one; daNda cakram = Danda disc [Punisher disc]; tava daasyaami = to you, I will give; nara shreSTha = best of men; mahaa baahuH = oh, highly dexterous one; viira = oh, brave one; tataH = next; dharma cakram = Dharma disc [Virtue-disc]; tathaiva ca = likewise, also; kaala cakram = kaala cakram = Kala [Time disc]; tathaa = thus; viSNu cakram = Vishnu disc; tathaiva ca = like that, further; aindram cakram = Indra's, disc; vajram astram = Thunderbolt, missile; tathaa = further; shaivam = pertaining to Shiva; shuula varam = trident, the best; astram brahma shiraH = missile, called Brahma-crest; aiSiikam api = aiSiika, Grass-Blade-missile, even; ati ugram = highly formidable missile; an uttamam = un, excelled one; braahmam astram eva = Brahma, missile, that way; te dadaami = to you, I am going to give.

"Raghava, I am going to give the highly divine Danda disc [Punisher disc]; next, oh, best one among men, Dharma disc [Virtue-disc,] and like that kaala disc [Time-disc]; then oh, brave one, Vishnu disc; similarly oh, dextrous Rama, Indra disc and Thunderbolt missile; the best trident pertaining to Shiva; the missile called Brahma-shira [Brahma-crest]; the missile called the Aishiika missile [Grass-Blade missile,] and that way oh, Raghava, I am going to give the unexcelled and highly formidable missile called Brahma missile. [1-27-4b, 5, 6, 7a] aiSiika missile is dried blade of grass, which by invoking with hymns will become a projectile weapon. Rama uses on Kakasura. In Mahaa Bharata Ashvadhaama also uses this at the final stage of war, which Krishna nullifies.

Verse Locator

गदे द्वे चैव काकुत्स्थ मोदकी शिखरी शुभे ॥ १-२७-७
प्रदीप्ते नरशार्दूल प्रयच्छामि नृपात्मज ।

7b, 8a. kaakutstha = oh, Rama; nara shaarduula = manly-tiger; nR^ipa aatmaja = king's son - prince; pradiipte = radiant ones [the maces]; dve gade caiva = two, maces, also, thus; modakii shikharii subhe = Modaki - Beater, Shikhari - Tower of Protection brilliant ones; pra yacChaami = well, I accord.

"Oh manly tiger prince Rama, I am going to accord two maces that are brilliant by their radiance called, the Modaki, [the Beater,] and Shikhari, [the Tower of Protection.] [1-27-7b, 8a]

Verse Locator

धर्म पाशम् अहम् राम काल पाशम् तथैव च ॥ १-२७-८
वारुणम् पाशम् अस्त्रम् च ददामि अहम् अनुत्तमम् ।

8b, 9a. raama = Rama; aham = I; dharma paasham = dharma, noose [Virtue-noose]; tathaiva ca = like that, also; kaala paasham = Kala, the noose [Time-noose]; vaaruNam paasham = Rain god's, noose; anuttamam astram ca = unequalled, missile, also [of Rain-god]; dadaami = I will give.

"Oh, Rama, like that I will be giving three nooses called Dharma paasha and kaala-paasha and Varuna paasha, [Virtue noose and Time noose, Rain god's noose] as well as an unequalled missile called Varuna astra, Rain-god's missile. [1-27-8b, 9a]

Verse Locator

अशनी द्वे प्रयच्छामि शुष्क आर्द्रे रघुनन्दन ॥ १-२७-९
ददामि च अस्त्रम् पैनाकम् अस्त्रम् नारायणम् तथा ।

9b, 10a. raghunandana = Raghu's scion; shuSka = Shushka, [Drier]; aardre = Aardra, [Drencher]; dve = two of them; ashanii = bolts; painaakam astram = Pinaaka, missile; pracyacChaami = well, I give; tathaa = likewise; naaraayaNam astram ca dadaami = Narayana, missile, also, I will give.

"Oh, Raghu's scion, I will also give two projectile bolts, one called shushka, [The Drier] and the other aardra, [The Drencher,] and even the missiles of Pinaaka and that of Narayana, [the missiles of god Shiva and Narayana,] I will give. [1-27-9b, 10a]

Verse Locator

आग्नेयम् अस्त्रम् दयितम् शिखरम् नाम नामतः ॥ १-२७-१०
वायव्यम् प्रथमम् नाम ददामि तव च अनघ ।

10b, 11a. anagha = oh, impeccable one; naamataH = one which is well-known one; shikharam naama = the Tower, known as; dayitam = [Fire-god's] fond; aagneyam astram = one belonging to Fire-god, missile; prathamam naama = Prathama [Blower,] known as; vaayavyam [astram] = Air-god's, [missile]; tava = to you; dadaami = I will give.

"Oh, impeccable Rama, thus a well-known missile shikhari [The Tower,] and another the fond of Fire-god known as prathama [The Blower,] and a missile of Air-god too, I will be giving. [1-27-10b, 11a]

Verse Locator

अस्त्रम् हयशिरः नाम क्रौञ्चम् अस्त्रम् तथैव च ॥ १-२७-११
शक्ति द्वयम् च काकुत्स्थ ददामि तव राघव ।

11b, 12a. kaakutstha = of Kakutstha-s; raaghava = Raghava; astram haya shiraH naama = missile, Haya-shira [Horse-head,] named; tathaiva ca = like that, also; krauncam astram = Krouncha [Wrester,] missile; shakti dvayam ca = impellers, two, also; tava dadaami = to you, I will be giving.

"Oh, Raghava of Kakutstha-s, I will give you two missiles named Haya-shira [The Horse-head] and Krouncha [The Wrester,] and two Impellers, one presided over by the power of Vishnu, and the other by the power of Rudra. [1-27-11b, 12a]

Verse Locator

कंकालम् मुसलम् घोरम् कापालम् अथ किन्किणीम् ॥ १-२७-१२
वधार्थम् राक्षसाम् यानि ददामि एतानि सर्वशः ।

12b, 13a. ghoram kankaalam musalam = deadly, Kankala named, Pounder; kaapaalam = Kapaalam named Rod; atha = next; kankaNam = Kankanam named Rod; yaani = which are; [asuraaH dhaarayanti] = by demons, wielded; raakshasaam vadha artham = demons, elimination, for purpose of; etaani = such of them; sarvashaH dadaami = all of them, I will give.

"I will be giving all those weapons that are wielded by demons, namely the deadly Pounder named Kankaalam, and Rods named as Kapaalam and Kankanam, for the elimination of those very demons. [1-27-12b, 13a]

Verse Locator

वैद्याधरम् महा अस्त्रम् च नन्दनम् नाम नामतः ॥ १-२७-१३
असि रत्नम् महाबाहो ददामि नृवरात्मज ।

13b, 14a. mahaabaahuH = mighty armed one; nR^I vara aatmaja = best, king's, son, [the prince]; vaidyaadharam = Vaidyadhara named as; mahaa astram ca = great, missile, also; naamataH nandanam = Nandana; naama = by name, Nandana, named as; asi ratnam = sword, gemlike one; dadaami = I am giving.

"Oh, mighty armed son of the best king, I am giving a great missile named Vaidyadhara by its name, and a gem of sword named Nandana. [1-27-13b, 14a]

Verse Locator

गान्धर्वम् अस्त्रम् दयितम् मोहनम् नाम नामतः ॥ १-२७-१४
प्रस्वापनम् प्रशमनम् दक्षि सौयम् च राघव ।

14b, 15a. raaghava = Raghava; gaandharvam astram = Gandharva's, missiles; naamataH = by name; mohanam naama = mohana, named as; dayitam = liked very much by Gandharva-s; prasvaapana = Prasvapana [Inducer of Sleep]; saumyam prashamanam ca = gentle, Prashamana, [Pacifier,] also.

"Thus, the missile which is very much liked by Gandharva-s, namely Mohana, [The Stupefier,] the missile called Prasvapana [The Inducer of Sleep,] and the gentle Prashamana, [The Pacifier of enemy's anger.] [1-27-14b, 15a]

Verse Locator

वर्षणम् शोषणम् चैव संतापन विलापने ॥ १-२७-१५
मादनम् चैव दुर्धर्षम् कन्दर्प दयितम् तथा ।
गान्धर्वम् अस्त्रम् दयितम् मानवम् नाम नामतः ॥ १-२७-१६
पैशाचम् अस्त्रम् दयितम् मोहनम् नाम नामतः ।
प्रतीच्छ नरशार्दूल राजपुत्र महायशः ॥ १-२७-१७

15b, 16, 17. mahaa yashaH = oh, highly fortunate one; nara shaarduula = manly-tiger; raja putra = prince; varSaNam = Varshana [Rainer,] missile; shoSaNam = shoshana [Drainer,] missile; santaapana vilaapane = santaapana [Humidifier,] vilaapana [Weep-inducer,]; gaandharvam astram dayitam = gandharva, missile, fond one; naamataH maanavam naama = by name Manava [Humane,] named; tathaa = likewise; durdharsham = unassailable one; kandarpa dayitam maadanam = Manmadha's, dear missile, an intoxicator; naamataH mohanam naama = by name Mohana [Rager,] named missile; dayitam = a dear missile [of pishaaca-s say, monsters; = paishaacam astram = pertaining to pishaaca-s, say monster's, missile; pratiicCha = take them.

"Oh, highly fortunate Rama, takes these missiles namely, varshaNa, [the Rainer,] shoshana [the Drainer,] santaapana [the Humidifier,] vilaapana [the Weep-inducer,] and oh, prince, an unassailable intoxicator and a dear missile of Manmatha, namely Mohana [The Intoxicator,] and another the fond missile of gandharva-s namely maanava by its name, [The Humane missile,] and oh, tigerly man, a missile dear one to pishaaca-s, monsters, namely paishaca [The Monster missile.] [1-27-15, 16, 17]

Verse Locator

तामसम् नरशार्दूल सौमनम् च महाबलम् ।
 संवर्तम् चैव दुर्धर्षम् मौसलम् च नृपात्मज ॥ १-२७-१८
 सत्यम् अस्त्रम् महाबाहो तथा मायामयम् परम् ।
 सौरम् तेजःप्रभम् नाम पर तेजो अपकर्षणम् ॥ १-२७-१९
 सोम अस्त्रम् शिशिरम् नाम त्वाष्ट्रम् अस्त्रम् सुदारुणम् ।
 दारुणम् च भगस्य अपि शितेषुम् अथ मानवम् ॥ १-२७-२०

17b, 18, 19, 20. nara shaarduula = manly-tiger; nR^ipa aatmaja = prince; mahaa balam taamasam = greatly powered, taamasa missile; saumanam ca = saumana, also; durdharsham = indomitable one; samvartam = samvarta missile; caiva = also, like that; mausalam ca = mausala, also; satyam astram = satyam missile; param = then; maayaa mayam = maayaa-maya; mahaabaahuH = oh, mighty-armed one; tathaa = like that; sauram = of Solar; tejaH prabham = teja-prabha [Radiator]; naama = named; para tejaH apa karSaNam = others, brilliance, sequestrator of; shishiram naama = shishira [Cooler,] named; soma astram = Moon's, missile; su daaruNam = very, deadly one; tvaaSTram astram = tvaShta's; [sudaamana = sudaamana named] missile; bhagasya api = of Bhaga, even; daaruNam ca = dangerous, also; shiteshum = shiteshu missile; atha maanavam = then, Maanava missile - of Manu the earlier ruler of mankind; I will give.

"Oh, manly-tiger Rama, greatly powered taamasa and saumana missiles, the indomitable missiles like samvarta, mausala, satya, and then the maaya-maya missile; like that oh, mighty armed Rama, a solar missile the sequestrator of others' brilliance namely teja-prabha; next, the missile of Moon-god named shishira [The Cooler]; and a very deadly missile of tvaSTa namely sudaamana; and even the dangerous missile of bhaga namely shita-iSu, these and the maanava missile of Manu, the earliest ruler of mankind, I will be giving. [1-27-17b, 18, 19, 20]

Verse Locator

एतान् राम महाबाहो काम रूपान् महाबलान् ।
 गृहाण परमोदारान् क्षिप्रम् एव नृपात्मज ॥ १-२७-२१

21. mahaabaahuH = dextrous one; nR^ipa aatmaja = prince; kaama ruupaana = disguise-wizards; mahaabalaan = greatly powered ones parama udaaraan = highly, providential ones; raama = Rama; etaan = them the missiles; kSipram eva = forthwith, thus; gR^ihaaNa = take them.

"These missiles are, oh, dextrous prince, disguise-wizards, greatly powered, and highly providential ones, oh, Rama, you may take them forthwith." So said sage Vishvamitra to Rama. [1-27-21]

Verse Locator

स्थितः तु प्राङ्मुखो भूत्वा शुचिर् मुनिवरः तदा ।
 ददौ रामाय सुप्रीतो मंत्रं ग्रामम् अनुत्तमम् ॥ १-२७-२२

22. tadaa = then; muni varaH = sage, pre-eminent; shuciH = becoming purified - on performing his personal holy depuration; praan mukhaH sthitaH tu = east, facing, on staying, but; bhuutvaa = on becoming; su priitaH = verily, gladdened; raamaaya = to Rama; anuttamam mantra graamam = extraordinary, hymns, village - a mixed collection; dadau = gave.

That pre-eminent sage Vishvamitra on performing his personal holy depuration then gave the assortment of extraordinary hymns to Rama facing eastward. [1-27-22]

Verse Locator

सर्व संग्रहणम् एषाम् दैवतैः अपि दुर्लभम् ।

तानि अस्त्राणि तदा विप्रो राघवाय न्यवेदत् ॥ १-२७-२३

23. eSaam sarva sangrahaNam = of which hymns, total, comprehending; daivataiH api [saango paa~Na vidhinaa = sections and subsections of procedures]; durhlabham = for gods, even, impossible [by their sections and subsections]; taani astraani = such, missiles - hymns of missiles; tadaa vipraH raaghavaaya nyavedat = then, that Brahman, to Raghava, dedicated.

The comprehension of which invoking hymns of the missiles is impossible even to gods with their sections and subsections of procedures, that Brahman dedicated such hymns to Raghava. [1-27-24]

Verse Locator

जपतः तु मुनेः तस्य विश्वामित्रस्य धीमतः ।

उपतस्थुः महा अर्हाणि सर्वाणि अस्त्राणि राघवम् ॥ १-२७-२४

24. dhiimataH tasya vishvaamitrasya muneH = intelligent one, that, Vishvamitra, the saint; japataH tu = on chanting, but; mahaa arhaani = highly, venerable ones; astraani sarvaani = missiles, all of them; raaghavam upa tasthuH = at Raghava, came nigh of - stood accessible to.

While that intelligent saint Vishvamitra chanted the hymns, all of those highly venerable missiles came nigh and stood accessible to Raghava in their astral form. [1-27-24]

Verse Locator

ऊचुः च मुदिता रामम् सर्वे प्रांजलयः तदा ।

इमे च परमोदार किंकराः तव राघव ॥ १-२७-२५

यद् यद् इच्छसि भद्रन् ते तत् सर्वम् करवाम वै ।

25, 26a. parama udaaraH = highly, obliging ones - missiles; [parama udaaraa = oh, most, noble Rama]; sarve = all of the missiles; tadaa praanjalayaH = then, with palm-fold; muditaaH ca = gladdened, also; raamam ucuH = to Rama, spoke; raaghava = oh, Rama; ime tava kinkaraaH = these are - here are, your, thralls - servants[yat yat icChasi = what, what, you wish [whatever you wish us to do]; tat sarvam karavaama vai = that, all, we do, indeed; bhadram te = safe, you be.

All of those highly obliging missiles in astral bodies, gladdening to come under the aegis of Rama, then spoke to him making palms-fold, "here are your thralls, Sire, we are here to accomplish whatever you bid us to do, let safety be with you." So said the deities presiding over the missiles to Rama. [1-27-25]

Verse Locator

ततो राम प्रसन्न आत्मा तैः इति उक्तो महाबलैः ॥ १-२७-२६

प्रतिगृह्य च काकुत्स्थः समालभ्य च पाणिना ।

मनसा मे भविष्यध्वम् इति तानि अभ्यचोदयत् ॥ १-२७-२७

26b, 27. tataH = then; prasanna aatmaa raamaH = with a pleased, soul, Rama; prati gR^iihya = having received them; sam aalabhya ca paaNinaa = well, patted, also, with palm; kaakutsthaH = Kakutstha Rama; taiH mahaa balaiH = to those, mightily, forceful ones; iti uktaH = this way, said; manasaa me bhaviSyadhwam = in cognisance, of mine, be manifested; iti taan abhya codayat = thus, them, verily, motivated - sent them off.

On receiving them with a pleased heart, then Rama patted them with his palm, and that Rama of Kakutstha-s also spoke this way to those mightily forceful missiles in ethereal bodies saying, "you may manifest yourselves in my cognisance whenever I need you," and he motivated them to take leave and to come back at his beck and call. [1-27-26b, 27]

Verse Locator

ततः प्रीत मना रामो विश्वामित्रम् महामुनिम् ।
अभिवाद्य महातेजा गमनाय उपचक्रमे ॥ १-२७-२८

28. tataH = then; mahaa tejaa = highly, resplendent Rama; priita manaa = with thankful, heart; vishvaamitram mahaa munim abhivaadya = to Vishvamitra, great sage, revering him; gamanaaya = to journey on; upacakrame = readied himself.

That highly resplendent Rama revered sage Vishvamitra with a thankful heart and readied himself for further journey. [1-27-26]

The nature of some astra-s - missiles

There are some verses that depict the nature of these astra-s. A few of them are given under. Though we may not actually acquire a projectile power with these verses, they may at least detail what these missiles are. The source of these verses is untraceable, but they are said to be in puraaNaa-s, and Shiva informs Sage Narada, about the missiles as below:

brahmaastram

vaantam vahni samaayuktam vyomahaalaa samanvitam |
meSha dvayam danta yutam haalaahalam ataH param |
ghana aadyam vaayu puurvam ca danta yuktam athaanvitam |
saram R^ikSha poaryaayam bhaantam bhR^igu mataH param ||
ambaram vaayu sa~NyuktaH ari mardanam apyutaH |
pradiiptam atha avaktavyam paramam ca padam tataH |
tat ete pade prayoktavye gaayatryaa madhyamam tataH |
pada trayam prayoktavyam etat brahma astram iiritam ||

"It contains air, fire and cosmic poison, two goat-like fangs, full of poison, weighty, emits air, contains mercury, fiery, sparkling, sky is filled with air, enemy-killing, greatly radiant and it is projected with three hymns, Gayatri at its centre, it is known as brahma-astra kaala cakram

karuNam maayayaa yuktam vaantam vaaruNa sa~Nyutam |
yuupaantam vahninaa yuktam modhasaagni rathaa triyuk |
dhaantam kaala aatmane iti etat cakraa eti param tataH |
phaDantam eSha mantrastu kaala cakram prakiitritam ||

"Renders a piteous state of the enemy, full with magical powers, ending in air, and water filled, ends in craters with fire, generates fire and and it is known as Time disc" viShNu cakram

taara puurvam ca hR^idayam bhaagyaat antau vana aadimaH |
caNDiisha yukta aaShaaDha tiivra tejasa iti api |
paryaayam lakSha sa~NkhyaayaaH aareti ca padam tataH |
bhiiShayeti api vaktavyam viShNu cakram idam viduH ||

"It first sparkles with cosmic holes, contains high degree radiance, revolves with one lakh revolutions per foot, very panicking is its projection"

Verse Locator

इति वाल्मीकि रामायणे आदि काव्ये बाल काण्डे सप्तविंशः सर्गः

Thus, this is the 27th chapter in Bala Kanda of Valmiki Ramayana, the First Epic poem of India.

Book I : Bala Kanda - The Youthful Majesties

[Sarga] 28

Verses converted to UTF-8, Sept 09

Introduction

Rama requests sage Vishvamitra for endowing annulment missiles, besides projectile ones that have been accorded in the previous chapter. Sage Vishvamitra accords them, and while they are journeying further, they chance to see a picturesque forest on their way and Rama enquires about it.

Verse Locator

प्रतिगृह्य ततः अस्त्राणि प्रहृष्ट वदनः शुचिः ।

गच्छन् एव च काकुत्स्थो विश्वामित्रम् अथ अब्रवीत् ॥ १-२८-१

1. kaakutsthaH = Kakutstha = descendent, Rama; shuciH = decent one, Rama; astraaNi pratigrR^hya = missiles, on receiving; tataH prahr^iSta vadanaH = then, with a pleasant, face; gacChann eva = while on the way, thus; atha = then - now; vishvaamitram abraviit = , to Vishvamitra, he is speaking.

On becoming personally purified Rama, the descendent of Kakutstha-s, received the missiles, and then on their way he is now speaking to Sage Vishvamitra with a pleasant face. [1-28-1]

Verse Locator

गृहीत अस्त्रो अस्मि भगवन् दुराधर्षः सुरैः अपि ।

अस्त्राणाम् तु अहम् इच्छामि संहारम् मुनिपुंगव ॥ १-२८-२

2. bhagavan = oh god; gR^ihiita astrasmi = taken, missiles, I have; suraiH api duraadharSaH [asmi] = to gods, even, unassailable, I have become; munipungava = oh, sage, the eminent; aham tu = I, but; astraaNaam samhaaram icChaami = for the missiles, annulment, I wish [to know.]

"Oh, godly sage, I have taken the missiles and became unassailable even for gods, but oh, eminent sage, I wish to know the annulment of missiles too." So said Rama to the sage. [1-28-2]

Verse Locator

एवम् ब्रुवति काकुत्स्थे विश्वामित्रो महा तपाः ।

संहारान् व्याजहार अथ धृतिमान् सुव्रतः शुचिः ॥ १-२८-३

3. kaakutsthe evam bruvati = by Rama, thus, said; atha = next; dhR^itimaan su vrataH shuciH = resolute, well-averred one, purified one; vishvaamitraH mahaamuniH = Vishvamitra, great saint; samhaaram vyajahaara = annulment, -started to say - imparted the knowledge of.

When Rama of Kakutstha said thus, next that resolute, well-averred and purified sage of eminence Vishvamitra imparted the knowledge of annulment missiles. [1-28-3]

सत्यवन्तम् सत्य कीर्तिम् धृष्टम् रभसम् एव च ।
 प्रतिहारतरम् नाम पराङ्मुखम् अवाङ्मुखम् ॥ १-२८-४
 लक्ष्या अलक्ष्याः इमौ चैव दृढ नाभ सुनाभकौ ।
 दशाक्ष शतवक्त्रौ च दश शीर्ष शत उदरौ ॥ १-२८-५
 पद्मनाभ महानाभौ दुन्दुनाभ स्वनाभकौ ।
 ज्योतिषम् शकुनम् चैव नैराश्य विमलौ उभौ ॥ १-२८-६
 यौगंधर विनिद्रौ च दैत्य प्रमधनौ तथा ।
 शुचि बाहुर् महाबाहुर् निष्कलि विरुचर् तथा
 सार्चिर्माली धृतिमाली वृत्तिमान् रुचिरः तथा ॥ १-२८-७
 पितृयः सौमनसः चैव विधूत मकरौ उभौ ।
 परवीरम् रतिम् चैव धन धान्यौ च राघव ॥ १-२८-८
 कामरूपम् कामरुचिम् मोहम् आवरणम् तथा ।
 जृम्भकम् सर्पनाथम् च पन्थान वरणौ तथा ॥ १-२८-९
 कृशाश्व तनयान् राम भास्वरान् काम रूपिणः ।
 प्रतीच्छ मम भद्रम् ते पात्र भूतोऽसि राघव ॥ १-२८-१०

4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10. Raaghava = oh, Raghava; Rama; satyavantam = Satyavanta; satyakiirtim = Satyakirti; dhR^iSTam = Dhristha; rabhasam = Rabhasa; eva ca = like that, also; pratihaarataram = Pratihaaratara; naama = named; paraanmukham = Paraanmukam; avaanmukham = Avaanmukha; lakshya = Lakshya; alakSya = Alakshya; imau ca eva = these, also, thus; dR^iDhanaabha = Dhridhanaabha; sunaabhakau = Sunaabha; dashaaksha = Dashaaksha; shatavaktrau = Shatavaktra; ca = also; dashashiirsha = dashashiirsha; shataudarau = Shatodara; padmanaabha = Padmanaabha; mahaanaabha = Mahaanaabha; dundunaabha = Dundunaabha; svanaabhakau = Svanaabha; jyotisham = Jyotisha; shakunam = Shakuna; ubhau ca eva = the two also, thus; nairaashya = Nairaashya; vimalaa = Vimala; yaugandhara = Yungandhara; vinidrau = Vinidra; ca = also; daitya = Daitya; pramadhanau = Praamadhana; tathaa = then; shucibaahuH = Suchibaahu; mahaabaahur = Mahaabaahu; niSkali = Nishkali; virucar = Virucha; tathaa = like that; saarchirmaalii = Saarrchirmaali; dhR^itimaalii = Dhritimaali; vrittimaan = Vrittiman; ruchiraH = Ruchira; tathaa = then; pitryaH = Pitrya; saumanasam = Sumana; ca eva = also, thus; vidhuuta = Vidhoota; Makarau = Makara, ubhau = two of them; karaviirakaram = Karaveerakaram; ca eva = also; dhana = Dhana; dhaanyau = Dhaanya; kaamaruupam = Kaamaroopa; kaamarucim = Kaamaruchira; moham = Moha; tathaa = thus; aavaranam = Aavarana; jR^imbhakam = Jrimbhaka; Sarpa naabham = Sarpa naabha; ca = also; panthaana = Prathaana; varanau = Varana; bhaasvaraan = radiant ones; tathaa = thus; kaama ruupinaH = disguise-wizards; kR^ishaashva tanayaan = Krishaashva, children - the missiles; mama pratiicCha = from me, you take; te bhadram = to you, safety; paatra bhuutaH asi = eligible one, you are.

"Oh, Raghava, take these radiant missile-children of Krishaasva from me, namely Satyavanta, Satyakeerti, Dhristha, Rabhasa, Pratihaaratara, Paraanmuka, Avaanmukha, Lakshya, Alakshya, Dhridhanaabha, Sunaabha, Dashaaksha, Shatavaktra, Dashasheersha, Shatodara, Padmanaabha, Mahaanaabha, Dundunaabha, Svanaabha, Jyotisha, Shakuna, Nairaashya, Vimala, Yungandhara, Vinidra, Daitya, Pramadhana, Suchibaahu, Mahaabaahu, Nishkali, Virucha, Saarchirmaali, Dhritimaali, Vrittiman, Ruchira, Pitrya, Ssaumansa, and also thus Vidhoota, Makara, are two of them...Karaveerakara, Dhana, Dhaanya, Kaamaroopa, Kaamaruchira, Moha, Aavarana, and thus Jrimbhaka, Sarvanaabha, Varana... and these are the guise changing wizards and you are the eligible one to handle these missiles, let safety be with you." Thus Vishvamitra gave missiles to Rama. [1-28-4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10]

बाढम् इति एव काकुत्स्थ प्रहृष्टेन अंतरात्मना ।
 दिव्य भास्वर देहाः च मूर्तिमन्तः सुखप्रदाः ॥ १-२८-११
 केचिद् अंगार सदृशाः केचिद् धूम उपमाः तथा ।
 चन्द्र अर्क सदृशाः केचित् प्रह्व अंजलि पुटाः तथा ॥ १-२८-१२
 रामम् प्रांजलयो भूत्वा अब्रुवन् मधुर भाषिणः ।
 इमे स्म नरशार्दूल शाधि किम् करवाम ते ॥ १-२८-१३

11, 12, 13. kaakutstha = Kakutstha Rama; prahR^iSTtena = gladdened; antar aatmanaa = in inner soul; baaDham iti eva = 'thus only', saying thus; received those missiles; divya bhaasvara dehaaH ca = divine, radiant, bodied, also; muurtimantaH = appealing ones; sukhapradaaH = bliss-endowers; kechit angaara sadR^ishaaH = some, fire-like; kechit dhuuma upamaH = some, smoke-like, thus; tathaa = like that; chandra arka sadR^ishaaH = moon, sun similar to; kechit = some; prahva anjali puTaaH = concave, palms, holding-out - adjoined hollow palms in reverence - as in begging; tathaa = then; praanjalayaH bhuutvaa = adjoined palms, on becoming; madhura bhaashiNaH = melodically, speaking; raamam abruvan = to Rama, said; nara shaarduula = oh, manly tiger; ime sma = here, we are; shaadhi = order us; te kim karavaama = what, for you, can we do.

Gladdening in his heart of hearts Rama of Kakutstha received the annulment missiles saying, "Agreed! Sire!" Those missiles are with radiantly divine bodies, appealing and endowing bliss. Some are fire-like, some smoke-like, and some moon-like and some sun-like, and such as they are, some of them holding out their hollowed palms, and some with palms adjoined melodiously spoke to Rama saying, "here we are, oh, manly-tiger, what can we do for you." [1-28-11, 12, 13]

गंयताम् इति तान् आह यथा इष्टम् रघुनन्दनः ।
 मानसाः कार्य कालेषु साहाय्यम् मे करिष्यथ ॥ १-२८-१४

14. maanasaH = [while remaining in] memory; kaarya kaaleshu = , in work's, time, [need of the hour]; me saahaayyam kariSyatha = to me, assistance, you render; till then; yathaa iSTam gamyataam = as you, wish, you can go; iti raghu nandanaH taan aaha = thus, Raghu's legatee, to them, said.

"While remaining in my memory you assist me as and when needed, and till then you may go away as you wish," thus that legatee of Raghu-s said to those deities of annulment missiles. [1-28-14]

अथ ते रामम् आमन्त्र्य कृत्वा च अपि प्रदक्षिणम् ।
 एवम् अस्तु इति काकुत्स्थम् उक्त्वा जग्मुः यथाआगतम् ॥ १-२८-१५

15. atha te = then, they; evam astu iti = thus, it will be, thus; kaakutstham uktvaa = to Kakutstha's, legatee, on saying; pradakshinam ca api kR^itvaa = circumambulation, also, even, on performing; raamam amantrya = by Rama, consented; jagmuH yathaaaagatam = went away, as they have come.

Saying "it will be done that way" to Rama, the legatee of Kakutstha-s, also on performing circumambulation to him and then on taking his consent those deities have gone away as they have come. [1-28-15]

स च तान् राघवो ज्ञात्वा विश्वामित्रम् महामुनिम् ।
गच्छन् एव अथ मधुरम् श्लक्ष्णम् वचनम् अब्रवीत् ॥ १-२८-१६

16. saH raaghavaH ca = he that Raghava, also; taan j~naatvaa = them - annulment missiles, on knowing - learning; atha gacChan eva = then, while going - on path, only; vishvaamitram mahaamunim = to Vishvamitra, great sage; madhura shlakshNam vacanam abraviit = sweet, soft, words, spoke - asked.

After learning the nullifying missiles and then while proceeding on the walkway Raghava asked the great sage Vishvamitra with sweet and soft words. [1-28-16]

Verse Locator

किम् एतन् मेघ संकाशम् पर्वतस्य अविदूरतः ।
वृक्ष खण्डम् इतः भाति परम् कौतूहलम् हि मे ॥ १-२८-१७
दर्शनीयम् मृगाअकीर्णम् मनोहरम् अतीव च ।
नाना प्रकारैः शकुनैः वल्गुभाषैः अलंकृतम् ॥ १-२८-१८

17, 18. itaH parvatasya = on this side, of mountain; a vi duurataH = not, very, far; megha sankasham = cloud-like formation; darshaniyam = picturesque; mR^iga aakiirNam = with animals, spread-over; atiiva manaH ramam = highly, heart, pleasing one; valgu bhaaSaiH = with pleasant; callings [of birds]; naanaa prakaaraiH shakunaiH alankR^itam = with numerous, kinds of, birds, embellished; vR^iksha khaNDam = trees, a group of - a thicket; bhaati = is shining forth; etat kim nu = this, what, really; me paramam kautuuhalam hi = to me, very much, inquisitiveness, indeed.

"What is this cloudlike picturesque thicket shining forth not very far away on this side of mountain, with animals spreading over it, and embellished with numerous kinds of birds that have pleasant callings it is highly soul-delighting, thus, my inquisitiveness is growing very much to know it, what is this, really! [1-28-17, 18]

Verse Locator

निःसृताः स्म मुनिश्रेष्ठ कान्तारात् रोमहर्षणात् ।
अनया तु अवगच्छामि देशस्य सुखवत्तया ॥ १-२८-१९
सर्वम् मे शंस भगवन् कस्य आश्रम पदम् तु इदम् ।

19, 20a. muni shreSTha = oh, sage, the eminent; anayaa deshasya sukhavattayaa = by this, place's, happy environs; roma harSaNaat kaantaaraat = from hair-raising, forest [extremely alarming forest of Tataka]; niHsR^itaaH sma = came out, we have; thus; avagacChaami = I understand; idam kasya aashrama padam = this is, whose, hermitage's, threshold; bhagavan = oh, god; sarvam me shamsa = all, to me, you tell.

"By the nature of happy environs at this place, oh, eminent sage, I understand that we have come out of the extremely alarming forest of Tataka, but oh, god, whose hermitage's threshold is this, kindly tell me all. [1-28-19]

Verse Locator

संप्राप्ताः यत्र ते पापाः ब्रह्मघ्नाः दुष्ट चारिणः । १-२८-२०
तव यज्ञस्य विघ्नाय दुरात्मनो महामुनेः ।
भगवन् तस्य को देशः सा यत्र तव याज्ञिकी ॥ १-२८-२१
रक्षितव्या क्रिया ब्रह्मन् मया वध्याः च राक्षसाः ।
एतत् सर्वम् मुनिश्रेष्ठः श्रोतुम् इच्छामि अहम् प्रभो ॥ १-२८-२२

20b, 21, 22. mahaamuneH = oh, great saint; bhagavan = oh, venerable one; brahman = oh, Brahman; yatra = where; brahma ghnaaH = Brahman, murderers; duSTta caariNaH = evildoers; dur aatmanaH = evil-minded ones; te paapaaH = those, sinners; tava yaj~nasya vighnaaya = your, ritual, for hindrance; sam praaptaaH = they have come - are coming; tava yaaj~nakii kriyaa = your, pertaining to ritual, ceremonies; saa yatra = those [ritual works,] where; mayaa rakshitavyaa = by me, to be safeguarded; raakshasaaH ca vadhyaH = demons, also, to be eliminated; tasya deshaH kaH = that, place, is what; munishreSTaH = oh, sage, the eminent; prabho = oh lord; aham etat sarvam = I, all, this; shrotum icChaami = to listen, wish to.

"Oh, great saint, where are those murderers of Brahman? Oh, venerable one, at which place those evil minded sinners and evildoers will be coming to hinder your ritual? And where, oh, Brahman, I have to safeguard your ritual ceremonies, and demons too are to be eliminated? Oh, eminent sage, what is that place? I would like to hear all of it." Rama asked Vishvamitra in that way. [1-28-20b, 21, 22]

Verse Locator

इति वाल्मीकि रामायणे आदि काव्ये बाल काण्डे अष्टाविंशः सर्गः

Thus, this is the 28th chapter in Bala Kanda of Valmiki Ramayana, the First Epic poem of India.

Book I : Bala Kanda - The Youthful Majesties

Chapter [Sarga] 29

Verses converted to UTF-8 - Sep 2009

Introduction

Rama and Lakshmana inquisitively enquired into the Siddha aashrama, Accomplished Hermitage in the earlier chapter for which Sage Vishvamitra informs about the heritage of that hermitage for it once belonged to Vishnu in Vaamna incarnation. Vishvamitra narrates about it and how Vaamna, a dwarfish ascetic boy eradicated evil on earth. It is a suggestion to Rama from Sage Vishvamitra to do likewise in this incarnation of Rama also.

Verse Locator

अथ तस्य अप्रमेयस्य वचनम् परिपृच्छतः ।

विश्वामित्रो महातेजा व्याख्यातुम् उपचक्रमे ॥ १-२९-१

1. atha = then; a prameyasya = not, matchable [in illustriousness]; vacanam pari pR^icChataH = about sentence, while asking; tasya = to that Rama; mahaatejaa vishvaamitraH = highly resplendent Vishvamitra; vyaakhyaatum upacakrame = to narrate, started.

When that matchlessly illustrious Rama has asked for details, that highly resplendent sage Vishvamitra started to narrate about that forest to Rama. [1-29-1]

Verse Locator

इह राम महाबाहो विष्णुर् देव नमस्कृत ।

वर्षाणि सुबहूनि इह तथा युग शतानि च ॥ १-२९-२

तपः चरण योगार्थम् उवास सु महातपाः ।

2, 3a. mahaabaahuH raama = oh, dextrous, Rama; iha deva namaskR^ita = here, by gods, one who is worshipped; su mahaa tapaaH = one who has - very, great, asceticism; viSNuuH = Vishnu; su bahuuni varSaaNi = for good, many, years; tathaa yuga shataani ca = likewise, eras, hundreds, also; tapaaH caraNa yoga artham = penance, practise, yoga, in pursuit of; iha uvaasa = here, resided.

"Here, oh, dextrous Rama, he who is worshipped by gods and who has got outstanding asceticism that Vishnu resided here in the pursuit of practising asceticism and yoga for good many years, likewise for a hundred eras. [1-29-2, 3a]

Verse Locator

एष पूर्व आश्रमो राम वामनस्य महात्मनः ॥ १-२९-३

सिद्ध आश्रम इति ख्यातः सिद्धो हि अत्र महातपाः ।

3b, 4a. raama = oh, Rama; eSa mahaatmanaH vaamanasya = this is, of great-souled one, of Vaamana; puurva aashramaH = erstwhile, hermitage siddhaH aashrama iti khyataH = Siddha [Accomplished] hermitage, thus, renowned; hi = why because; mahaatapaaH kaashyapa atra siddhaH = one who has supreme asceticism, sage Kaashyapa, there, got accomplishment to his asceticism.

"This is the erstwhile hermitage of great-souled Vaamana renowned as Accomplished hermitage, why because the sage with supreme asceticism Kaashyapa got accomplishment to such of his asceticism there only. [1-29-3b, 4a]

This is firstly the hermitage of Vishnu before taking up Vaamana incarnation. Later the incarnate Vaamana also practised asceticism here. Thus, this hermitage belongs to both Vishnu and Vaamana, and on such an analogy this even belongs to Rama at the present time, so says Vishvamitra at 24th verse below.

Verse Locator

एतस्मिन् एव काले तु राजा वैरोचनिर् बलिः ॥ १-२९-४
निर्जित्य दैवत गणान् स इन्द्रान् स मरुद् गणान् ।
कारयामास तद् राज्यम् त्रिषु लोकेषु विश्रुतः ॥ १-२९-५

4b, 5. etasmin kale eva = in the mean, time, only; vairocaniH = Virochana's [son]; raajaa baliH = king, Bali; sa indraan sa marut gaNaan = with, Indra, along with, Marut, gods - Wind-gods; daivata gaNaan = god's, groups; nir jitya = on completely, conquering; triSu lokeSu vi shrutaH = in three, worlds, well, heard [renowned]; tat raajyam kaarayaamaasa = that, kingdom, he started to do - to rule.

"In the meantime, when Vishnu was in his asceticism in this hermitage, the son of King Virochana, namely Bali, has completely conquered all the assemblages of gods together with Indra and his coterie called Wind-gods, and ruling that kingdom where that hermitage is there, he has become renowned in all the three worlds for his magnanimity. [1-29-4b, 5]

Bali is generally addressed Bali Chakravatri, Bali, The Emperor, for his grand benevolence. He is the grand son of Prahlada, who in turn is the son of greatest demon king, HiraNyakashapa, who was eliminated by Vishnu, in His Nara-simha, Man-Lion incarnation.

Verse Locator

यज्ञम् चकार सुमहान् असुरेन्द्रो महाबलः ।
बलेः तु यजमानस्य देवाः साग्नि पुरोगमाः ।
समागंय स्वयम् चैव विष्णुम् ऊचुः इह आश्रमे ॥ १-२९-६

6. asura indraH = demon, the chief; mahaabalaH = great, mighty one; baleH tu = Bali, for his part; yaj~nam cakaara sumahaan = ritual, conducted, very, grand one; yajamaanasya = as officiator - when Bali is the officiator of that Vedic ritual; devaaH = gods; sa agni purogamaaH = with, Fire-god, kept ahead; iha aashrame = in this, hermitage; viSNum = to Vishnu; svayam caiva = in person, also thus; samaagamyaa = on approaching; uucuH = spoke.

"That great mighty chief of demons Bali then conducted a very grand Vedic ritual. But when Bali is conducting that ritual remaining as its officiator all the gods personally approached Vishnu, keeping Fire-god ahead of them, just here in this hermitage and they spoke to him. [1-29-6]

Verse Locator

बलिः वैरोचनिः विष्णो यजते यज्ञम् उत्तमम् ।
असमाप्त व्रते तस्मिन् स्व कार्यम् अभिपद्यताम् ॥ १-२९-७

7. viSnuH = oh, Vishnu; vairocaniH baliH = Virochana's [son,] Bali; uttamam yaj~nam yajate = unsurpassed, Vedic ritual, is performing; tasmin vrate a samaapta = that, ritual, not [before,] completing; sva kaaryam abhi padyataam = our own [god's,] mission, completely, be achieved.

" 'Oh, all-pervading god Vishnu, Bali the son of Virochana is conducting an unsurpassed Vedic ritual, before the completion of which our own mission, say the task of gods, is to be

ये च एनम् अभिवर्तन्ते याचितार इतः ततः ।
यत् च यत्र यथावत् च सर्वम् तेभ्यः प्रयच्छति ॥ १-२९-८

8. ye = which of those; yaacitaara = supplicants; itaH tataH = from here, and there - from wherever he may come; enam abhi vartante [abhi vaa~NcChanti] = him [to Bali,] approaches [supplicates]; yat ca = whatever, also; yatra = wherever [it might be]; yathaavat ca = in as is where is condition, also; sarvam tebhyaH prayacChati = all, to them, donating.

" 'Whoever the supplicant might be and from wherever he might be coming, but if one approaches and supplicates to him he is donating that in as is where is condition, whatever is supplicated and wherever it might be. [1-29-8]

स त्वम् सुर हितार्थाय माया योगम् उपाश्रितः ।
वामनत्वम् गतो विष्णो कुरु कल्याणम् उत्तमम् ॥ १-२९-९

9. viSNuH = oh, Vishnu; saH = such as you are; tvam = you; sura hitaarthaya = for gods, welfare; maayaa yogam upa aashritaH = Maya [illusory,] power, resorting to; vaamanatvam gataH = dwarfishness, on assuming; uttamam kalyaaNam kuru = the most suitable, merited deed, you make happen - to deal with Emperor Bali.

" 'As such, oh, Vishnu, you may effectuate the most suitable merited deed for the welfare of gods on resorting to your illusory power, Vishnu Maya, and on assuming the form of a dwarf to deal with Emperor Bali.' Thus gods appealed to Vishnu. [1-29-9]

एतस्मिन् अनन्तरे राम काश्यपो अग्नि सम प्रभः ।
अदित्या सहितः राम दीप्यमान इव ओजसा ॥ १-२९-१०
देवी सहायो भगवन् दिव्यम् वर्ष सहस्रकम् ।
व्रतम् समाप्य वरदम् तुष्टाव मधुसूदनम् ॥ १-२९-११

10. etasmin anantare = in this, meanwhile; raama = oh Rama; agni sama prabhaH = ritual fire, similar, in brilliance; adityaa sahitaH = Lady Aditi, who will be with; ojasaa diipyamaana iva = with his own vitality, resplendent, as though; bhagavan kaashyapaH = godly sage, Kaashyapa; devii sahaayaH = lady [Aditi,] along with; divyam varSa sahasrakam = divine, years, thousand; vrata samaapya = asceticism, on completing; vara dam = boon, giver [Vishnu]; madhu suudanam = Madhu, the demon, killer [Vishnu]; tuSTaava = eulogised.

"In the meanwhile, oh Rama, he whose brilliance is similar to ritual fire, who will be with his wife Lady Aditi, who is resplendent with his own vitality, that godly sage Kaashyapa on completing his asceticism along with Lady Aditi started to eulogise the boon giver and the eliminator of demon Madhu, namely Vishnu." Thus Vishvamitra is narrating to Rama. [1-29-10, 11]

The ascetic practises conducted along with wife are said to yield best results, in the case of a desired object of that couple's interest. Therefore, Dasharatha also conducted the ritual to beget progeny along with his wives. Here Sage Kaashyapa conducted his austerities along with wife Aditi.

तपोमयम् तपोराशिम् तपोमूर्तिम् तपात्मकम् ।
तपसा त्वाम् सुतप्तेन पश्यामि पुरोषोत्तमम् ॥ १-२९-१२

12. tapaH mayam = asceticism, abounding; tapaH raashim = asceticism, aggregate of; tapaH muurtim = asceticism, configure of; tapa aatmakam = asceticism, soul of; puroSa uttamam = at Supreme, Person; that is what you are; tvaam = you; su taptena pashyaami tapasaa = with well practised, asceticism, I am able to see.

" 'Oh, Supreme Person, you are abounding with asceticism, aggregate of asceticism, the aspect of asceticism, and the very soul of asceticism, such as you are, I am able to see you with the well practised asceticism of mine. [1-29-12]

The word 'tapaH' also means j~naana, gnosis, knowledge, intellect, spirit, as such it is oriented that way and said as, "oh, Vishnu, you are abounding with intellect, aggregate of intellect, the only aspect of intellect..." etc.

Verse Locator

शरीरे तव पश्यामि जगत् सर्वम् इदम् प्रभो ।
त्वम् अनादिः अनिर्देश्यः त्वाम् अहम् शरणम् गतः ॥ १-२९-१३

13. prabhuH = oh, god; tava shariire = in your, physique; idam sarvam jagat pashyaami = thi, whole, universe, I am seeing; tvam an aadiH = you are, without beginning; nirdeshyaH = not, definable; aham tvaam sharaNam gataH = I am, in you, shelter, getting in [taking.]

" 'In your physique I am seeing this entire universe, oh, god, and you are without a beginning and indefinable, and in you I am taking shelter.' Sage Kaashyapa praised Vishnu in this way. [1-29-13]

This is the concept of vishva ruupa, Physique of the Universes, which Krishna shows to Arjuna in Maha Bharata at the time of telling Bhavad Gita.

Verse Locator

तम् उवाच हरिः प्रीतः कश्यपम् धूत कल्मषम् ।
वरम् वरय भद्रम् ते वर अर्हः असि मतो मम ॥ १-२९-१४

14. hariH priitaH = Hari, Vishnu, gladdened; dhuuta kalmaSam = he who is cleansed - absolved of, blemish; tam kashyapam uvaacha = to him to Kaashyapa, said; varam varaya = boon, seek; te bhadram = to you, safety will be; vara arhaH = for boon, as a worthy one; mama mataH asi = to me, a preferred one, you are.

Vishnu is gladdened for the devotion of sage Kaashyapa who is absolved of any blemish y his ascesis, and then Vishnu said this to, "You may seek a boon as you are boon-worthy, I opine that you are a preferred one to me, let safety be with you." Thus Vishnu said to Kaashyapa. [1-29-14]

Verse Locator

तत् श्रुत्वा वचनम् तस्य मारीचः कश्यपो अब्रवीत् ।
अदित्या देवतानाम् च मम च एव अनुयाचितम् ॥ १-२९-१५
वरम् वरद सुप्रीतो दातुम् अर्हसि सुव्रत ।

15, 16a. tasya = his - Vishnu's; tat vacanam shrutvaa = that, word of according boon, on hearing; maariicaH kashyapaH abraviit = sage Mariicha's [son,] sage Kaashyapa, said; varada = oh, boon-accorder; su vrata = oh, Vishnu with lofty vows; adityaa devataanaam ca = of lady Aditi, of gods, also; anu yaacitam = following them I who am supplicating; mama ca = to me, also; su priitaH = [while you are] well, pleased; varam daatum arhasi = boon, to bestow, apt of you.

On hearing the word of Vishnu sage Kaashyapa, the son of Sage Mariicha said, "oh, god the accorder of boons, as you are pleased with us it will be apt of you to bestow the boon besought by

Lady Aditi and the gods, oh, lord with lofty vows, for which boon I am also supplicating to you, following them. [1-29-15, 16a]

Verse Locator

पुत्रत्वम् गच्छ भगवन् अदित्या मम च अनघ ॥ १-२९-१६

भ्राता भव यवीयान् त्वम् शक्रस्य असुरसूदन ।

शोक आर्तानाम् तु देवानाम् साहाय्यम् कर्तुम् अर्हसि ॥ १-२९-१७

16b, 17. bhagavan = oh, god; anagha = oh, sinless one; adityaa mama ca = of Aditi, of mine, as well; putratvam gacCha = sonship, you attain; asura suudana = oh, demons, dispenser of; tvam shakrasya = you, of Indra; yaviiyaan bhraataa bhava = younger, brother, you become; shoka aartaanaam devaanaam = in anguish, agonised, for gods; saahaayyam kartum arhasi = help, to render, apt of you.

" 'Oh, god, oh, sinless one, you may please attain the sonship of Lady Aditi and myself, oh, dispenser of demons, it will be apt of you to render help to gods who are agonised in the anguish owing to the predominance of Emperor Bali, by becoming the younger brother of Indra. [1-29-16b, 17]

Verse Locator

अयम् सिद्ध आश्रमो नाम प्रसादात् ते भविष्यति ।

सिद्धे कर्मणि देवेश उत्तिष्ठ भगवन् इतः ॥ १-२९-१८

18. deva iisha = oh, god's, god; karmaNi siddhe = works [asceticism of mine,] while accomplished; ayam = this one [hermitage]; te prasaadaat = by your, grace; siddha aashramaH naama = this one, Siddha [Accomplished,] Hermitage, with the name; bhaviSyati = it becomes; bhagavan = oh, god; itaH uttiSTha = from here, arise.

" 'Oh, god of gods, as the works of my austerities are accomplished here, by your grace this hermitage will be renowned by the name Siddha ashram, Hermitage of Accomplishment, hence oh god, arise from here to become my son.' So said sage Kaashyapa to Vishnu. [1-29-18]

The wording siddhe karmaNi is interpreted in two ways. One in respect of Vishnu who is practising asceticism there, as His austerities are accomplished here in accepting request of gods as well as that of Sage Kaashyapa. The other, in respect of Kaashyapa who is seeking the boon, and if Vishnu accords the boon to incarnate Himself as Vaamna in the womb of Aditi, the austerities of Kaashyapa are also accomplished. Since the deeds of Supreme God are not accomplished with mere austerities, but by eliminating the evil, the concept of siddhe karmaNi is appropriate in respect of Sage Kaashyapa. In any way, this hermitage is an Accomplished one for gods, for sages, and for Supreme Divinities, in taking a foothold to eliminate the evil on earth.

Verse Locator

अथ विष्णुर् महातेजाऽ आदित्याम् समजायत ।

वामनम् रूपम् आस्थाय वैरोचनिम् उपागमत् ॥ १-२९-१९

19. atha = then; mahaatejaaa viSNuH = great resplendent, Vishnu; aadityaam sam a jaayata = from Aditi, well, emerged - as son; vaamanam ruupam aasthaaya = dwarf, semblance, adopting; vairocanim upaagamat = to Virochana's [son, Emperor Bali,] came near - approached.

"That great resplendent Vishnu then adopting a semblance of a dwarf emerged from Aditi, and that dwarfish ascetic boy approached Emperor Bali, the son of Virochana." Thus Vishvamitra continued narration. [1-29-19]

Verse Locator

त्रीन् पादान् अथ भिक्षित्वा प्रतिगृह्य च मेदिनीम् ।
 आक्रय लोकान् लोकार्थो सर्व लोक हिते रतः ॥ १-२९-२०
 महेन्द्राय पुनः प्रादात् नियंय बलिम् ओजसा ।
 त्रैलोक्यम् स महातेजाः चक्रे शक्र वशम् पुनः ॥ १-२९-२१

20, 21. atha = next; that dwarf ascetic boy - Vaamana; loka arthaH aatmaa] = for the good of worlds [soul of all worlds]; sarva loka hite rataH = all, worlds, welfare, one who is interested in; Vishnu; triin paadaan bhikSitvaa = three, foot-steps [of space,] begged of; prati gR^ihya ca = on receiving [that ground], also; lokaan aakramya = on worlds, striding over; balim ojasaa niyamy = Bali, with vitality, on restraining; worlds; mediniim mahendraaya punaH praa daat = earth, to Indra, again, gave away; mahaatejaaH saH = great resplendent one, that Vishnu; traia lokyam = three, worlds; punaH shakra vasham cakre = again, Indra's, control, he made to come.

"That dwarf ascetic boy Vaamana begged and received a space that can be covered in three strides, but strode all the three worlds in those three steps for the purpose of saving worlds, as he is interested in the welfare of all the worlds. Vishnu gave the earth back to Indra restraining Emperor Bali with his vitality. Thus that great resplendent Vishnu made the three worlds to come under the control of Indra again. [1-29-20, 21]

The myth is that Vaamna, the dwarfish ascetic boy, approaches Emperor Bali and begs of him for a space enough to place his three dwarfish foot-steps. While all around that ritual hall of Bali laugh at this boy's request, Bali comes to know who this dwarfish boy is. Though known to be Vishnu in this incarnation, without deviating from his vow of according charities in 'as is where is condition', Bali accords that much space to the boy. Then Vaamna places one dwarfish foot on this globe and the entire globe is covered with it. Vaamna then asks Bali where to put the second foot. Bali shows heavenward, which heavenly worlds are conquered by Bali and are under his control at that time. Vaamna places his second dwarfish foot on all the heavenly worlds covering all of them. Then again, Vaamna asks Bali as to where the third foot-space is. Bali shows his head to place the third foot. Vaamna places his foot on this third foot-space, i.e., on Bali's head and starts to trample him to paataala loka, nether worlds. At the time of donating the charity, while Bali is pouring water oblation into the hands of Vaamna, Sage Shukrachaarya, the demon's high priest, knowing this dwarf boy to be Vishnu, enters the nozzle of the water pot so that the donation water may not fall into the hands of the boy, thus to fail the donation. Knowing that the sage is in the nozzle of the water-pot, Vaamna pierces the nozzle with a straw of darbha, sacred grass-blade, thus piercing one eye of Sage Shukrachaarya. From then on, this sage has become one-eyed sage, symbolically meaning that he eyes on one side only, namely on the side of demon's welfare. Vaamna places his third step on the head of Emperor Bali and subjugates him to netherworlds, freeing the other worlds from his rule. However, Vishnu blesses Bali to be deathless, though subdued into netherworlds, and to become Indra in the coming manvantara-s, eras. Then on Vishnu is eulogised as Trivikrama, tri vi krama three, verily, paced - surpassing, one who surpasses all the three worlds in three strides.

Verse Locator

तेन एव पूर्वम् आक्रान्त आश्रमः श्रम नाशनः ।
 मया अपि भक्त्या तस्य एव वामनस्य उपभुज्यते ॥ १-२९-२२

22. shrama naashanaH = stress, eradicating [stress and strain of living beings in taking births and rebirths]; [eSa = this]; aashramaH = hermitage; tena = by him - Vaamana; puurvam aakraantaH = at one time, presided over; tasya vaamanasya bhaktyaa = his Vaamana's, owing to devotion - owing devotion to him; mayaa api = by me, even; upabhujyate = benefited.

"This hermitage which at one time is presided by Vishnu, is an eradicator of stress, either the stress and strain caused by the evil on earth, or the stress of going through the cycle of birth and death, thus this hermitage is an accorded of salvation, and I am also benefited with this hermitage owing to my devotion to Vaamana. [1-29-22]

Verse Locator

एनम् आश्रमम् आयान्ति राक्षसा विघ्न कारिणः ।

अत्र ते पुरुषव्याघ्र हन्तव्या दुष्ट चारिणः ॥ १-२९-२३

23. puruSa vyaaghra = oh, manly-tiger; vighna kaariNaH raakSasaa = obstacle, causers, demons; enam aashramam aayaanti = at this, hermitage, will be arriving; te duSTa caariNaH atra hantavyaam = they, that are of evil, pursuit, there alone, are to be eliminated.

"Demons causing obstacles, oh, manly tiger Rama, will be arriving at that hermitage and there alone those demons with evil pursuit are to be eliminated. [1-29-23]

Verse Locator

अद्य गच्छामहे राम सिद्धाश्रमम् अनुत्तमम् ।

तत् आश्रम पदम् तात तव अपि एतद् यथा मम ॥ १-२९-२४

24. raama = oh, Rama; adya an uttamam siddha aashramam = now, un, excelled, to the Accomplished, hermitage; gacChaamahe = we will go; taata = oh, dear one; etat aashrama padam = this, hermitage's, threshold; yathaa mama = as to how, to me; tava api [tathaa] = to you, even, [likewise.]

"Rama, we now go to the unexcelled hermitage of Accomplishment, oh, dear one, as to how this hermitage belongs to me, this also belongs to you." Thus Vishvamitra said to Rama. [1-29-24]

This hermitage is my benefice now for I am practising my asceticism here, but originally this belongs to you because you have practised your asceticism here in this hermitage as Vishnu, even earlier to your Vaamana incarnation.' Rama Tilaka.

Verse Locator

इति उक्त्वा परम प्रीतो गृह्य रामम् स लक्ष्मणम् ।

प्रविशन् आश्रम पदम् व्यरोचत महामुनिः ।

शशी इव गत नीहारः पुनर्वसु समन्वितः ॥ १-२९-२५

25. iti uktvaa = so, saying; mahaamuniH = great, saint Vishvamitra; parama priitaH = highly, gladdened; gR^ihya raamam sa laxmaNam = taking - leading, Rama, with, Lakshmana; pravishan aashrama padam = on entering, hermitage's, threshold; gata niihaaraH = with dispersed, mist; punarvasu sam anvitaH = two Stars of Punarvasu [fifth or seventh lunar mansion,] well, abutting; shashii iva = moon, as with; vyarochata = shone forth.

So saying that great sage Vishvamitra is highly gladdened to lead Rama together with Lakshmana to the hermitage, and on his entering the hermitage with those two, that sage shone forth like moon with a two starred constellation called Punarvasu, the fifth or seventh lunar mansion, after dispersal of mist. [1-29-25]

Verse Locator

तम् दृष्ट्वा मुनयः सर्वे सिद्धाश्रम निवासिनः ।

उत्पत्योत्पत्य सहसा विश्वामित्रम् अपूजयन् ॥ १-२९-२६

26. siddha aashrama nivaasinaH = Accomplished, hermitage, residents of; sarve munayaH = all, sages; tam dR^iSTvaa = him, on seeing; utpatya utpatya = getting up, getting up [with hustle and bustle]; sahasaa vishvaamित्रam apuujayan = quickly, to Vishvamitra, adored.

On seeing the arrival of Vishvamitra all of the resident sages of Accomplished Hermitage have quickly approached him with hustle and bustle adoring him. [1-29-26]

Verse Locator

यथा अर्हम् चक्रिरे पूजाम् विश्वामित्राय धीमते ।
तथैव राज पुत्राभ्याम् अकुर्वन् अतिथि क्रियाम् ॥ १-२९-२७

27. dhiimate vishvaamitraaya = for sagacious, to Vishvamitra; yathaa arham puujaam cakrire = as, deservedly, reverence, offered; tathaa eva = like, that; raaja putraabhyaam = for two princes; atithi kriyaam akurvan = guest, works [reception,] they made - offered.

Those sages revered Vishvamitra according to their deservedness, likewise they have offered hospitality to both of the princes, Rama and Lakshmana. [1-29-27]

Verse Locator

मुहूर्तम् अथ विश्रान्तौ राज पुत्रौ अरिन्दमौ ।
प्रांजली मुनि शार्दूलम् ऊचतू रघुनन्दनौ ॥ १-२९-२८

28. atha = then; arin damau = those two - enemy, subjugators; raaja putrau = king's, sons - princes; raghu nandanau = Raghu's, from dynasty; muhuurtam vishraantau = briefly, on taking rest; praanjalii muni shaarduulam ucatuuH = with adjoined-palms, to sage-tiger, spoke.

Those two princes from Raghu's dynasty and the enemy-subjugators, namely Rama and Lakshmana, briefly took rest and adjoining palms they spoke to the sagely tiger Vishvamitra. [1-29-28]

Verse Locator

अद्य एव दीक्षाम् प्रविश भद्रम् ते मुनिपुंगव ।
सिद्धाश्रमो अयम् सिद्धः स्यात् सत्यम् अस्तु वचः तव ॥ १-२९-२९

29. muni pungava = oh, sage, the eminent; adya eva diikSaam pravisha = today, only, ritual of solemnity, enter into - undertake; te bhadram = to you, let safety be; ayam siddha aashramaH = this, Siddha, [Accomplished,] hermitage; siddhaH syaat = accomplished one, it will be; tava vacaH satyam astu = your, word, truth, let it become - let your word come true.

"Oh, the eminent sage, to day itself you may undertake the ritual of solemnity that is undertaken prior to the main ritual, be safe, and let this Hermitage of Accomplishment become an accomplished one in eradiating vice true to its name, and let the word of yours given to my father in fetching me to this place come true." So said Rama to Vishvamitra, supported by Lakshmana. [1-29-29]

Verse Locator

एवम् उक्तो महातेजा विश्वामित्रो महानृषिः ।
प्रविवेश तदा दीक्षाम् नियतो नियतेन्द्रियः ॥ १-२९-३०

30. evam uktaH = this way, he who is said - Vishvamitra; mahaatejaa vishvaamitraH mahaan R^iSiH = great radiant one, Vishvamitra, supreme, saint; tadaa = thereupon; niyataH = scrupulously; niyata indriyaH = by controlling, senses; diixaam pravivesha = rite of solemnity, entered - undertook.

When he is said so, that great radiant and supreme sage Vishvamitra, thereupon scrupulously undertook the vow of ritual controlling his senses. [1-29-30]

Vishvamitra controlling senses etc., is to say that he will cut off from external world occupying himself with the ritual, without getting anger and the like during the progression of this ritual, as explained at 1-19-7 to King Dasharatha.

Verse Locator

कुमारौ एव ताम् रात्रिम् उषित्वा सुसमाहितौ ।

प्रभात काले च उत्थाय पूर्वाम् संध्याम् उपास्य च ॥ १-२९-३१

प्रशुची परम् जाप्यम् समाप्य नियमेन च ।

हुत अग्निहोत्रम् आसीनम् विश्वमित्रम् अवन्दताम् ॥ १-२९-३२

31. kumaarau eva = youngsters, thus; taam raatrim = in that, night; su samaahitau uSitvaa = very, vigilantly, on staying - on spending; prabhaata kaale ca utthaaya = at sunrise, time, also, getting up; pra shuchii = well, cleansed - finishing morning time bathing; puurvaam sandhyaam upaasya ca = easterly, aurora, reflecting upon; niyamena = in regularity; param jaapyam samaapya ca = supreme, meditation [on Gaayatri,] on completing, also; huta agni hotram = one who has - enkindled, ritual fire; aasiinam = who is sitting [before Altar of fire]; vishvomitram avandataam = to Vishvamisra, addressed themselves.

Both the youngsters Rama and Lakshmana on spending that night vigilantly got up with the sunrise. On finishing morning time bathing they meditated upon the easterly aurora, and then on completing the supreme meditation on Gayatri in its regularity, they addressed themselves to sage Vishvamisra, who by now has enkindled ritual fire and sitting before the Altar of Fire. [1-29-31, 32]

Rama and Lakshmana spent that night vigilantly but not in a clam and collected way. anena kShatriyeNa jaagaruukatayaa yaj~naadi dharma anuShTaataR^i samrakShNam kartavyan iti suucitam || dk.

Verse Locator

इति वाल्मीकि रामायणे आदि काव्ये बाल काण्डे एकोन त्रिंशः सर्गः

Thus, this is the 29th chapter in Bala Kanda of Valmiki Ramayana, the First Epic poem of India.

Book I : Bala Kanda - The Youthful Majesties

chapter / sarga 30

Verses converted to UTF-8, Sept 09

Introduction

Rama and Lakshmana while safeguarding the ritual of Sage Vishvamitra for six days and nights, on the last night demons named Maareecha and Subaahu come to hinder the ritual. Rama acts deftly and hits out Maareecha to a long distance, but kills the other, namely Subaahu. Rama thus makes the ritual of sage Vishvamitra a success.

Verse Locator

अथ तौ देश कालज्ञौ राजपुत्रौ अरिन्दमौ ।

देशे काले च वाक्यज्ञौ अब्रूताम् कौशिकम् वचः ॥ १-३०-१

1. atha = then; desha kaala j~nau = place, time, those sensible of; arindamau = enemy-subjugators; deshe kaale ca vaakya j~nau = in place, in time, wording - talking, sensible ones; such; tau raajaputrau = those two, princes; kaushikam vacaH abruutaam = to Kushi's son [Vishvamitra,] sentence, started to say.

The two enemy subjugators, Rama and Lakshmana, who are sensible of their conduct according to time and place, and who will be sensibly talking according to time and place, those princes then spoke this sentence to Vishvamitra. [1-30-1]

Verse Locator

भगवन् श्रोतुम् इच्छावो यस्मिन् काले निशाचरौ ।

संरक्षणीयौ तौ ब्रूहि न अतिवर्तेत तत् क्षणम् ॥ १-३०-२

2. bhagavan = oh, god; tau nishaa carau = those, night-walkers; yasmin kaale = at which, time; samrakSaNiiyau = be safeguarded; shrotum icChaavaH = to listen, we two are interested; tat kSaNam na ativarteta = that, moment, let not, pass away; bruuhi = tell us.

"Oh, god, we are interested to listen at which time those night-walkers come to disturb the ritual, and at which time we have to safeguarded the ritual from them, that you tell us, let not that moment pass away." [1-30-2]

It appears from the word order as above, 'at which time those two demons are to be safeguarded by us?' But positioning the word samrakshNiiyau is a grammarian's headache. On this many kinds of declinations are said. Rama Tilaka attributes this rakshNiiyau 'to be safeguarded' to ritual, and he says that 'from whom the ritual is to be safeguarded'

Verse Locator

एवम् ब्रुवाणौ काकुत्स्थौ त्वरमाणौ युयुत्सया ।

सर्वे ते मुनयः प्रीताः प्रशशंसुर् नृपात्मजौ ॥ १-३०-३

3. evam bruvaaNau = this way, who are speaking; yuyutsayaa tvaramaaNau = to combat, those that making haste; nR^ipa aatmajau kaakutsthau = to king's, sons - to princes,

Kakutstha-s; te munayaH sarve = those, sages, all of them; priitaaH prashashamsuH = delighted at them, praised them.

All the sages available there are delighted with the princes of Kakutstha dynasty who are speaking thus and making haste for a combat with demons and they praised them. [1-30-3]

Verse Locator

अद्य प्रभृति षट् रात्रम् रक्षतम् राघवौ युवाम् ।
दीक्षाम् गतो हि येष मुनिर् मौनित्वम् च गमिष्यति ॥ १-३०-४

4. raaghavau = oh, Raghava-s; yuvaam = you two; adya prabhR^iti = today, henceforth; SaT raatram = for six, nights [and days also]; ritual is; rakSatam = is to be safeguarded; eSa muniH = this, sage Vishvamitra; diikSaam gataH = vow, entered [is under vow]; maunitvam ca gamiSyati hi = muteness, also, he enters into, indeed.

"Oh, Raghava-s, you have to safeguard this ritual for six nights and days from today, and this Sage Vishvamitra who is under the vow of ritual goes into muteness as required by the vow." Thus said the other sages near at ritual place. [1-30-4]

Verse Locator

तौ तु तद् वचनम् श्रुत्वा राजपुत्रौ यशस्विनौ ।
अनिद्रौ षट् अहोरात्रम् तपोवनम् अरक्षताम् ॥ १-३०-५

5. yashasvinau = glorious ones; tau raajaputrau tu = those two, princes, for their part; tat vacanam shrutvaa = that, sentence, on hearing; Sat aho raatram = for six, days, nights; a nidrau = without, sleep - wakefully; tapaH vanam = ritual, woodland; arakSataam = safeguarded.

On hearing that sentence of the other sages those two glorious princes have wakefully safeguarded that woodland of the ritual for six nights and days. [1-30-5]

Verse Locator

उपासाम् चक्रतुर् वीरौ यत्तौ परम धन्विनौ ।
ररक्षतुर् मुनिवरम् विश्वामित्रम् अरिंदमौ ॥ १-३०-६

6. parama dhanvinau = great, bow wielders; viirau = valiant ones; yattau = alertly; upaasaam cakratuH = nearby, they moved - patrolled close to the Altar of Fire; arimdamau = enemy destroyers; vishvaamित्रam muni varam = Vishvamitra, the best sage; rarakSatuH = they protected.

On alertly patrolling nearby the Altar of Fire those two enemy-destroyers who are the wielders of great bows and valiant ones have protected the best sage Vishvamitra. [1-30-6]

Verse Locator

अथ काले गते तस्मिन् षष्ठे अहनि तदा आगते ।
सौमित्रम् अब्रवीद् रामो यत्तो भव समाहितः ॥ १-३०-७

7. atha = then; tasmin kaale gate = that, period, while elapsing; SaSThe ahani aagate = on sixth, day, has come; tadaa = then; raamaH saumित्रam abraviit = Rama, to Soumitri, said; yattaH samaahitaH bhava = be prepared, on alert, you be.

While that period of six days is elapsing and when the sixth day has come, then Rama said to Soumitri, "you be prepared and be on alert." [1-30-7]

Verse Locator

रामस्य एवम् ब्रुवाणस्य त्वरितस्य युयुत्सया ।

प्रजज्वाल ततो वेदिः स उपाध्याय पुरोहिता ॥ १-३०-८

8. yuyutsayaa tvaritasya = to combat, quickening; raamasya evam bruvaaNasya = of Rama, thus, while saying; tataH = then; sa upaadhyaaya purohitaa = with, teacher - officiator Vishvamitra, with other priests - attended by them; vediH = altar of fire; pra ja jvaala = suddenly, highly, flared up.

While Rama is saying thus himself quickening to combat then the fire in the Altar of Fire flared up suddenly and highly, brightening the chief officiator of the ritual, namely Vishvamitra, and other priests around it. [1-30-8]

The compound pra ja jvaala , with many stresses for the flare is given here to import that the ritual is achieving its climax and it will be fructified thereby. The demons enter just at this juncture to spoil the ritual.

Verse Locator

स दर्भ चमस सुक्का स समित् कुसुमोच्चया ।

विश्वामित्रेण सहिता वेदिः जज्वाल स ऋत्विजा ॥ १-३०-९

9. sa darbha camasa srukkaa = with, sacred grass, drink-vessels, oblation spoons; sa samit kusuma uccayaa = with, firewood sticks, flowers, heaps of; vishvaamitreNa sahita = Vishvamitra, attended by; vediH = altar of fire; ja jvaala = highly flared up; sa R^itvijaa = with Ritviks, conductors of ritual.

The Altar of Fire around which sacred grass, drink-vessels, oblation spoons, firewood-sticks, and heaps of flowers are kept, and around which Vishvamitra and the conductors of ritual are sitting, that altar flared high. [1-30-9]

The darbha is kusha grass used specifically in rituals even today. chamasa is a wooden vessels used for consuming soma juice. srukka is an arm-length wooden spoon with a palm size receptacle at one end used to pour clarified butter and other liquids into Altar of Fire to the chanting of hymns. samidha-s comprises items of wood pieces or sticks, mainly from sandalwood trees and a variety of other items that are offered into fire.

Verse Locator

मंत्रवत् च यथा न्यायम् यज्ञो असौ संप्रवर्तते ।

आकाशे च महान् शब्दः प्रादुर् आसीत् भयानकः ॥ १-३०-१०

10. asau yaj~naH = that, Vedic ritual; mantravat ca yathaa nyaayam = hymnal rendering, also, as per, rules; sam pravartate = while well, proceeding; aakaashe bhayaanakaH = in sky, frightening onel mahaan shabdaH = strident, blare; praaduH aasiit = generated, it is.

While the Vedic ritual is proceeding well towards its conclusion according to hymnal rendering and rules of conducting the ritual, a strident and frightening blare is generated in the sky. [1-30-10]

Verse Locator

आवार्य गगनम् मेघो यथा प्रावृषि दृश्यते ।

तथा मायाम् विकुर्वाणौ राक्षसौ अभ्यधावताम् ॥ १-३०-११

11. praa vR^iSi = in great - torrential, cloudburst; meghaH yathaa = [massive] cloud, as to how; dR^ishyate [nir gate] = appears, [emerges]; tathaa = likewise; gaganam aavaarya = sky, enshrouding; raakSasau maayaam vi kurvaaNau = two demons, wizardry, verily, performing; abhya dhaavataam = towards, came running - swooped down.

As to how massive clouds appear in torrential cloudburst, likewise two demons appeared enshrouding the sky, and performing wizardry they are about to swoop down towards the Altar of Fire. [1-30-11]

मारीचः च सुबाहुः च तयोर् अनुचराः तथा ।
आगंय भीम संकाशा रुधिर ओघान् अवासृजन् ॥ १-३०-१२

12. bhiima samkaashaa = monstrous, in aspect; maariicaH ca subaahuH ca = Maareecha, also, Subaahu, also; tayoH = their; [ye = who are]; tathaa anucaraaH = like that, followers; are there, they too; aagamya = have come; rudhira oggaan avaasR^ijan = blood, spates, started to pour down.

Maareecha and Subaahu are the monstrous demons that have come along with their followers and they have started to pour down spates of blood. [1-30-12]

Verse Locator

ताम् तेन रुधिर ओघेण वेदीम् वीक्ष्य समुक्षिताम् ।
सहसा अभिद्रुतो रामः तान् अपश्यत् ततो दिवि ॥ १-३०-१३

13. tena rudhira ogheNa = by that, blood, streams; [maNDitaa = filled]; taam sam ukshitaam = that, verily, swamped; vediim viikshya = altar of fire [with other paraphernalia,], on noticing; tataH sahasaa abhidrutaH = then, swiftly, running towards; raamaH = Rama; taan apashyat divi = them [demons,] saw, in sky.

On noticing the Altar of Fire swamped with streams of blood, then Rama swiftly ran towards that direction and saw the demons in the sky. [1-30-13]

Verse Locator

तौ आपतन्तौ सहसा दृष्ट्वा राजीव लोचनः ।
लक्ष्मणम् तौ अभिसंप्रेक्ष्य रामो वचनम् अब्रवीत् ॥ १-३०-१४

14. raajiiva locanaH raamaH = lotus, eyed one, Rama; sahasaa aa patantau = hastily, coming and falling - [about to] swoop; tau dR^iSTvaa = them two, on perceiving; lakSmaNam tu = at Lakshmana, but - however; abhi sam prekSyaa = fully, well, glancing - giving quick look to check up; vacanam abraviit = sentence, said.

Perceiving that the two demons are about to swoop down on Altar of Fire in haste, that lotus-eyed Rama however gave a quick checking look at Lakshmana saying this sentence. [1-30-14]

Verse Locator

पश्य लक्ष्मण दुर्वृत्तान् राक्षसान् पिशित अशनान् ।
मानवास्त्र समाधूतान् अनिलेन यथा घनान् ॥ १-३०-१५
करिष्यामि न संदेहो न उत्सहे हन्तुम् ईदृशान् ।

15, 16a. lakSmaNa = oh, Lakshmana; dur vR^ittaan = ill, behaved; pishita ashanaan = raw-flesh, eaters; such as these; iidR^ishaan = this kind of; raakSasaan = demons; na utsahe hantum = not, enthusiastic - reluctant, to kill; anilena ghanaan yathaa = by wind - by a gust, thick-cloud, as with; maanava astra sam aadhuutaan = by Maanava missile, well, puffed out; kariSyami = I will do [blow them distantly]; na sandehaH = no, doubt; pashya = you see.

"Lakshmana, I am reluctant to eliminate this kind of these ill-behaved and raw flesh eating demons, but no doubt, they will be puffed out with Manava missile like a gust puffing thick clouds, you may see." Thus Rama said to Lakshmana. [1-30-15, 16a]

Verse Locator

इति उक्त्वा वचनम् रामः चापे संधाय वेगवान् ॥ १-३०-१६

मानवम् परम उदारम् अस्त्रम् परम भास्वरम् ।

चिक्षेप परम क्रुद्धो मारीच उरसि राघवः ॥ १-३०-१७

16b, 17. iti uktvaa vacanam = thus, said, sentence; vegavaan raamaH = agile, Rama; parama udaaram = greatly, benign - arrow; parama bhaasvaram = highly, radiating arrow; maanavam agram = Maanava, missile; caape sandhaaya = on bow, fitting - taking aim with; parama krudhaH = highly, furious Rama; raaghavaH maariica urasi = Raghava, on Maareecha's, chest; cikSepa = darted.

Saying so that agile Rama fitted the very benign and highly radiant arrow Maanava on his bow, and taking aim with it at Maareecha that highly furious Raghava darted it on the chest of Maareecha. [1-30-16b, 17]

Verse Locator

स तेन परमास्त्रेण मानवेन समाहितः ।

संपूर्णम् योजन शतम् क्षिप्तः सागर संप्लवे ॥ १-३०-१८

18. tena maanavena parama astreNa = by that, by Maanava, great, missile; sam aahitaH = well hit; saH = he that Maareecha, the demon; sampuurnam yojana shatam = fully, yojana-s, hundred; saagara samplave = in ocean, billowy - rocking with tidewaters; kSiptaH = is hurled.

Cleanly hit with that great missile Maanava, demon Maareecha is pitched for a hundred yojana lengths in full, and flung down into an ocean rocking with tidewaters. [1-30-18]

Verse Locator

विचेतनम् विघूर्णन्तम् शीतेषु बल पीडितम् ।

निरस्तम् दृश्य मारीचम् रामो लक्ष्मणम् अब्रवीत् ॥ १-३०-१९

19. shiita iSu bala piiDitam = by Cold, arrow's - missile's, strength, rammed away; vi cetanam vi ghuurnantam = without, sense, verily, whirling; nirastam = rendered without staying power - thrown out; maariicam = at Maareecha; dR^ishya = on seeing; raamaH lakSmaNam abraviit = Rama, to Lakshmana, said.

On seeing him highly whirling, rendered insensate and thrown out when rammed away with the strength of that Cold arrow Rama said this to Lakshmana. [1-30-19]

Verse Locator

पश्य लक्ष्मण शीतेषु मानवम् मनु संहितम् ।

मोहयित्वा नयति एनम् न च प्राणैर् व्ययुज्यत ॥ १-३०-२०

20. lakSmaNa = Lakshmana; manu samhita = by Manu, expounded; maanavam shiiteSum = pertaining to Maanava missile, Cold arrow; pashya = see; enam mohayitvaa nayati = him, on baffling, taking away; praanaiH na = with lives; vyayujoyata [vi a yuyyata = verily, not, separated] = not killed him.

"Lakshmana, see the Cold arrow belonging to Maanava missile expounded by Manu which is taking him away on baffling, but without taking away his life. [1-30-20]

Rama is reluctant to eliminate demon Maareecha at this juncture because the same demon discourages Ravana in confronting Rama, but becomes a golden deer at the behest of Ravana, at the time of Ravana's abducting Seetha. So, Rama shows forbearance at Maareecha till such time.

Verse Locator

इमान् अपि वधिष्यामि निर्घणान् दुष्ट चारिणः ।

राक्षसान् पाप कर्मस्थान् यज्ञ घ्नान् रुधिर अशनान् ॥ १-३०-२१

21. nir ghR^iNaan = those who are - not, having ruth; duSTa caariNaH = ill, behaving one - iniquitous ones; paapa karma sthaan = evil, doings, abiding in - flagitious; yaj~na ghnaan = ritual, hinderers; rudhira ashanaan = blood, eaters - drinkers; imaan raakSasaan api = these, demons, but; vadhiSyami = I wish to kill.

"But I wish to kill these demons for they are ruthless, iniquitous, flagitious, ritual-hinderers and blood-drinkers." So said Rama to Lakshmana. [1-30-21]

Verse Locator

इति उक्त्वा लक्ष्मणम् च अशु लाघवम् दर्शयन् इव ।
संगृह्य सुमहत् च अस्त्रम् आग्नेयम् रघुनन्दनः ।
सुबाहु उरसि चिक्षेप स विद्धः प्रापतत् भुवि ॥ १-३०-२२

22. iti uktvaa lakshmaNam = thus, saying, to Lakshmana, also; raghu nandanaH = Raghu's, descendent - Rama; darshayan ashu laaghavam iva = to show, swift, dexterity, as though; su mahat = very, powerful - missile; aagneyam agram samgR^ihya = Aagneya, missile, on taking; subaahu urasi cikSepa = on Subaahu's, chest, darted it; saH viddhaH = he - Subaahu, struck with it; pra apatat bhuvi = flat, fell, on ground.

Thus saying to Lakshmana, as though to show his swift dexterity Rama, the descendent of Raghu dynasty, took up a very powerful missile called Aagneya astra, Fire-missile, and darted it on the chest of Subaahu, by which that demon Subaahu is struck and fell flat on ground. [1-30-22]

Verse Locator

शेषान् वायव्यम् आदाय निजघान महायशः ।
राघवः परमोदारो मुनीनाम् मुदम् आवहन् ॥ १-३०-२३

23. mahaa yashaaH = great glorious one; parama udaaraH = supremely, generous one - Rama; raaghavaH = Raghava; muniinaam mudam aa vahan = to sages, felicity, on, carrying - in order to bringing on; vaayavyam aadaaya = Air-god, missile of, on taking; sheSaan [raakshasaan] = remaining [demons]; nijaghaana = hit down.

In order to bring felicity to the sages that great glorious and supremely generous Raghava took up the missile of Air-god and hit down the remaining demons. [1-30-23]

Verse Locator

स हत्वा राक्षसान् सर्वान् यज्ञ घ्नान् रघुनन्दनः ।
ऋषिभिः पूजितः तत्र यथा इन्द्रो विजये पुरा ॥ १-३०-२४

24. raghu nandanaH = Raghu's, delight; yaj~na ghnaan = ritual, hinderers; raakSasaan sarvaan hatvaa = demons, all of them, when eliminated; puraa vijaye indraH yathaa = once, when victorious, Indra, as with; tatra R^iSibhiH puujitaH = there - in hermitage, by sages, idealised.

When Rama, the delight of Raghu's dynasty, has eliminated all of the demons that are the hinderers of Vedic rituals, the sages available there in that hermitage idealised him as Indra was idealised once, when he became victories on demons. [1-30-24]

Verse Locator

अथ यज्ञे समाप्ते तु विश्वामित्रो महामुनिः ।
निरीतिका दिशो दृष्ट्वा काकुत्स्थम् इदम् अब्रवीत् ॥ १-३०-२५

25. atha yaj~ne samaapte tu = then, ritual, on completion, but; vishvaamitraH mahaamuniH = Vishvamitra, great sage; nir iitikaa dishaH dR^iSTvaa = devoid of, calamities, precincts, beholding; kaakutstham idam abraviit = to Kakutstha - to Rama, this, said.

On the completion of ritual beholding the precincts that are devoid of calamities the great sage Vishvamitra said this to Rama. [1-30-25]

Verse Locator

कृतार्थो अस्मि महाबाहो कृतम् गुरु वचः त्वया ।

सिद्धाश्रमम् इदम् सत्यम् कृतम् वीर महायशः ।

स हि रामम् प्रशस्य एवम् ताभ्याम् संध्याम् उपागमत् ॥ १-३०-२६

26. mahaa baahuH = oh, dextrous one; kR^ita arthaH asmi = made, results I am - my purpose is fully realised; tvayaa guru vacaH kR^itam = by you, mentor's, word of honour, is actualised; mahaa yashaH viira = oh, highly illustrious, valiant - Rama; idam siddha aashramam = this, Siddha [Accomplished] hermitage; satyam kR^itam = true [to its name,] is rendered; saH evam raamam prashasya = he - Vishvamitra, thus, at Rama, while applauding; taabhyaam sandhyaam upaagamat = by both of them, vesper-time, came nigh.

"My purpose in conducting the ritual is fully realised, oh, dextrous Rama, and you too, as a highly illustrious prince, have actualised the word of honour of your mentor, where one mentor is your father King Dasharatha and the other is myself, and likewise oh, valiant Rama the glory of this Accomplished hermitage is also actualised..." thus when Vishvamitra is applauding Rama, they have come close to vesper-time for vespertine prayers on Sandhya, the goddess of gloaming. [1-30-26]

Verse Locator

इति वाल्मीकि रामायणे आदि काव्ये बाल काण्डे त्रिंशः सर्गः

Thus, this is the 30th chapter in Bala Kanda of Valmiki Ramayana, the First Epic poem of India.

Book I : Bala Kanda - The Youthful Majesties

[Sarga] 31

Verses converted to UTF-8, Sept 09

Introduction

Sage Vishwamitra travels to Mithila kingdom to attend a ritual of King Janaka and also to see the auspicious bow of Shiva that is being worshipped in the palace of Janaka from ages. The other sages suggest to Rama, that he too may go over there along with them to see that marvellous bow. They all proceed from Siddha Ashram towards River SoNa, a tributary of Ganga, and camp on its bank for a night.

Verse Locator

अथ ताम् रजनीम् तत्र कृतार्थौ राम लक्षणौ ।
ऊषतुर् मुदितौ वीरौ प्रहृष्टेन अंतरात्मना ॥ १-३१-१

1. atha = then; kR^ita arthau = those who achieved, results; muditau = rejoicing ones; viirau = brave ones; raama lakSaNaau = Rama, Lakshmana; taam rajaniim = that, night; pra hR^iSTena antar aatmanaa = well, gladdened, in inner, souls - heart of hearts; tatra = there; uuSatuH = resided.

Rejoicing for achieving the result of their journey with Vishvamitra, the brave Rama and Lakshmana then resided in that hermitage for that night, gladdening in their heart of hearts. [1-31-1]

Verse Locator

प्रभातायाम् तु शर्वर्याम् कृत पौर्व अल्लिक क्रियौ ।
विश्वामित्रम् ऋषीम् च अन्यान् सहितौ अभिजग्मतुः ॥ १-३१-२

2. sharvaryaam prabhaataayaam tu = of night, on [becoming] morning, but; kR^ita paurva ahNika kriyau = on performing, early, morning, chores; sahitau = together; vishvaamitram anyaan R^iSiim ca = to Vishvamitra, to other, sages, also; abhi jagmatuH = towards, on going - approached.

When that night turned into a new day, performing their morning chores both of the brother jointly approached Sage Vishvamitra, who is along with other sages by then. [1-31-2]

Verse Locator

अभिवाद्य मुनि श्रेष्ठम् ज्वलंतम् इव पावकम् ।
ऊचतुर् परमोदारम् वाक्यम् मधुर भाषिणौ ॥ १-३१-३

3. madhura bhaaSiNau = gentle, two speakers - Rama and Lakshmana; jvalantam paavakam iva = radiant, ritual-fire, as with; muni shreSTham = at sage, the eminent; abhivaadya = on reverencing; parama udaaram vaakyam uucatuH = highly, courteous, sentence, they spoke.

And those gentle-speakers on reverencing that eminent sage Vishvamitra, whose radiance is akin to the ritual-fire, they two spoke this highly courteous sentence to him. [1-31-3]

Verse Locator

इमौ स्म मुनि शार्दूल किंकरी समुपस्थितौ ।
आज्ञापय मुनिश्रेष्ठ शासनम् करवाव किम् ॥ १-३१-४

4. muni shaarduula = oh, sagely, tiger; kimkarau imau = attendants, these are; sam upa sthitau = well, afore, available - in attendance; sma = we are - available; muni shreSTha = oh, saint, the eminent; aaj~naapaya = order us; kim shaasanam karavaava = what, orders, we have to carry out.

"Oh, tigerly-sage, here are your attendants sir, available in your attendance, what order is to be carried out further, oh, eminent saint, that you may order us. [1-31-4]

Verse Locator

एवम् उक्ते तयोः वाक्यम् सर्व एव महर्षयः ।
विश्वामित्रम् पुरस्कृत्य रामम् वचनम् अब्रुवन् ॥ १-३१-५

5. tayoh vaakyam evam ukte = by them, sentence, that way, when said; maharSayaH sarva eva = great sages, all, thus; vishvaamitram puraskR^itya = Vishvamitra, keeping ahead - at helm of affairs; raamam vacanam abruvan = to Rama, sentence, spoke.

When they have said that way all those great sages spoke to Rama, keeping Vishvamitra at the helm of affairs. [1-31-5]

Verse Locator

मैथिलस्य नरश्रेष्ठ जनकस्य भविष्यति ।
यज्जः परम धर्मिष्ठः तत्र यास्यामहे वयम् ॥ १-३१-६

6. nara shreSTha = man, the best; maithilasya = of Mithila; janakasya = Janaka's; parama dharmiSThaH yaj~naH = highly, righteous, Vedic-ritual; bhaviSyati = is going to take place; vayam tatra yaasyaamahe = we are, there, travelling - going.

"Oh, best one among men, a highly righteous Vedic ritual belonging to King Janaka of Mithila is going to take place, and we the sages are going over there. [1-31-6]

Verse Locator

त्वम् चैव नरशार्दूल सह अस्माभिर् गमिष्यसि ।
अद्भुतम् च धनू रत्नम् तत्र त्वम् द्रष्टुम् अर्हसि ॥ १-३१-७

7. nara shaarduula = oh, tigerly man; tvam ca eva = your, also, thus; asmaabhiH saha = with us, along with; gamiSyasi = if you go - if you come with us; tatra = there - at Mithila; adbhutam dhanuu ratnam ca = monumental, bow, gem of, also; tvam draSTum arhasi = you, to see, expedient for you.

"Oh, tigerly-man Rama, if you can come along with us, it will be expedient for you to see a monumental gem of bow there. [1-31-7]

The sages are not insisting on Rama to come along, but advising him to have a glimpse of that marvellous bow of Shiva, which none can lift to string, so far. The topic of Seetha is also not brought out by them, either, because it is in the know of Vishvamitra alone, and not known to these sages. Kings and princes have their own protocol of proper invitation. Here a third party is inviting Rama to some other king's ritual, which Rama may reject for being a prince. But it is suggestive to say the maxim an aahuuto adhvaryam gacChet 'even uninvited can attend a Vedic-ritual...' Thus the sages are tempting, rather than inviting Rama to come to Mithila in the name of a divine bow, seeing which any valiant prince would easily get excited to string.

तद्धि पूर्वम् नरश्रेष्ठ दत्तम् सदसि दैवतैः ।

अप्रमेय बलम् घोरम् मखे परम भास्वरम् ॥ १-३१-८

8. nara shreSTha = man, the best; makhe = in war; a prameya balam = un, imaginable, with power; ghoram = awesome; parama bhaasvaram = superbly, incandescent; tat dattam = that, bow; puurvam = in early times; daivataiH = by gods,; [veda] sadasi dattam hi = in Vedic-ritual congregation, given [to an erstwhile king,] indeed.

"Oh, best one among men, in early times indeed gods gave that awesome bow which has an unimaginable power and which is superbly incandescent in wars to an erstwhile king of Mithila in a congregation of a Vedic-ritual. [1-31-8]

This is the bow of Shiva with which He destroyed the ritual of Daksha. Then gods pleased Shiva and obtained this bow from Him. Then gods gave it to Devaraata, an earlier king of Mithila as a boon of Vedic-ritual.

Verse Locator

न अस्य देवा न गंधर्वा न असुरा न च राक्षसाः ।

कर्तुम् आरोपणम् शक्ता न कथंचन मानुषाः ॥ १-३१-९

19. asya = its [bow's]; aaropaNam kartum = lifting for stinging, to make - to lift; devaaH na shaktaa = god, not, capable of; gandharvaa na = gandharva-s, not; asuraa = asura-s, not; na ca raakSasaaH = not, also, demons; maanuaSaaH kathamcana na = humans, in any way, not.

"Gods cannot capably lift it to string; gandharva-s, no; asura-s, no; demons, no; and for human beings, not in any way. [1-31-9]

Verse Locator

धनुषस्य तस्य वीर्यम् हि जिज्ञासन्तो महीक्षितः ।

न शेकुर् आरोपयितुम् राजपुत्रा महाबलाः ॥ १-३१-१०

10. [bahavaH = many]; raaja putraa mahaa balaaH = king's, sons, great, mighty ones; mahiikSitaH = kings; tasya dhanuSasya = of that, bow's; viiryam jij~naasantaH = power, inquisitive about; [te sarve = all of them]; aaropayitum na shekuH = to string bowstring, not, capable.

"Though many kings were inquisitive about the power of that bow, all of those great mighty princes are rendered incapable to string its bowstring. [1-31-10]

Verse Locator

तद् धनुर् नरशार्दूल मैथिलस्य महात्मनः ।

तत्र द्रक्ष्यसि काकुत्स्थ यज्ञम् च परम अब्धुतम् ॥ १-३१-११

11. nara shaarduula = oh, man, the tiger; kaakutstha = oh, Kakutstha, Rama; mahaatmanaH maithilasya = of great-soul, of Mithila king's; tat dhanuH = that - particular, bow; parama adbhutam yaj~nam ca = highly, admirable, Vedic ritual, too; tatra drakSyasi = there, you can see - in Mithila, if you come with us.

"Oh, tigerly-man Rama, there in Mithila you can see that particular bow of the great-souled king of Mithila and his highly admirable Vedic ritual too, if you come with us. [1-31-11]

Verse Locator

तद्धि यज्ञ फलम् तेन मैथिलेन उत्तमम् धनुः ।

याचितम् नर शार्दूल सुनाभम् सर्व दैवतैः ॥ १-३१-१२

12. nara shaarduula = oh, man, the tiger; su naabham = best, at navel [at central grip, handle]; tat uttamam dhanuH = that, supreme, bow; tena maithilena = by him, by king of Mithila - namely Devarata; sarva [sarvaiH] daivataiH = by all, gods; yaj~na phalam = as ritual's, fruit; yaacitam hi = prayed for, indeed.

"Once Devaraata, the grandparent of the present king Janaka of Mithila, conducted a Vedic-ritual and he indeed prayed only for this supreme bow with a best grip-handle as the fruit of that ritual from all of the gods and oh, tigerly man Rama, he got the same from them. [1-31-12]

For this kuurma puraaNa, padma puraNa puts it as: priitaH ca bhagavaan iisaH trisuulii niila lohitaH | pradadau satru naasaartham janakaaya adbhutam dhanuH | | kuurma puraaNa | | caapam shambhoH dayaata dattam - padma puraaNa 'Satisfying with the ritual of Devaraata of Janaka, the Trident holder and holder of venom in throat, namely god Shiva, gave the marvellous bow to eliminate enemies.'

Verse Locator

आयागभूतम् नृपतेः तस्य वेश्मनि राघव ।
अर्चितम् विविधैः गन्धैः धूपैः च अगुरु गन्धिः ॥ १-३१-१३

13. raaghava = oh, Raghava; tasya nR^ipateH veshmani = in that, king's, house; aayaaga bhuutam = that which is primarily worshipped in dhanur utsava-s, bow-and-arrow worship ceremony; vividhaiH gandhaiH = with a variety of, sandalwood pastes; aguru gandhbhiH = with the substance of true aloe [aloe vera,] its scents; dhuupaiH ca = with incenses, also; arcitam = is worshipped.

"That bow has got a regular worship and especially during the periods of dhanur utsava-s, festivals of bows-and- arrows. Hence it is kept in the palace of King of Mithila, and oh, Raghava it is worshipped with a variety of sandalwood pastes, scents of aloe substance, and with incenses." [1-31-13]

Verse Locator

एवम् उक्त्वा मुनिवरः प्रस्थानम् अकरोत् तदा ।
स ऋषि संघः स काकुत्स्थ आमंत्र्य वन देवताः ॥ १-३१-१४

14. muni varaH evam uktvaa = saint, the best, thus, saying; sa R^iSi sanghaH = with, sages, assemblages of; sa kaakutstha = with, Rama, Lakshmana - who by now may be assumed to have said 'yes' speechlessly; vana devataaH aamantrya = to woodland, deities of, bidding farewell; tadaa prasthaanam akarot = then, travel, started to.

Saying so that best saint Vishvamitra started to travel on along with the assemblages of sages, and even along with Rama and Lakshmana, whose tacit consent to follow the sage is obtained by now, and on bidding farewell to the deities of woodlands of that Accomplished Hermitage, where his ritual is accomplished with the help of Rama and Lakshmana. [1-31-14]

Verse Locator

स्वस्ति वो अस्तु गमिष्यामि सिद्धः सिद्ध आश्रमात् अहम् ।
उत्तरे जाह्नवी तीरे हिमवंतम् शिलोच्चयम् ॥ १-३१-१५

15. [Oh, georgic deities]; vaH svasti astu = to you all, safe, let become - everything bodes well to you all; siddhaH = on accomplishment [of my work, of ritual]; aham aashramaat = I am, from the Accomplished, Hermitage; uttare jaahnavii tiire = which is there at - northern, Ganga's, bank; himavantam = towards Himalayan; shila uccayam = stone, heights of - mountains, ranges; gamiSyaami = I wish to go.

"Adieu, georgic deities, everything bodes well to you all, on accomplishment of the ritual I have undertaken here, I wish to go from this Accomplished Hermitage towards the ranges of Himalayan Mountains that are on the northern bank of River Ganga." [1-31-15]

Verse Locator

इति उक्त्वा मुनिशार्दूलः कौशिकः स तपोधनः ।

उत्तराम् दिशम् उद्दिश्य प्रस्थातुम् उपचक्रमे ॥ १-३१-१६

16. iti uktvaa muni shaarduulaH = thus, saying, saint, tiger; saH kaushikaH he that, Kaushika's - descendent - Vishvamitra, tapo dhanaH = whose wealth is asceticism; uttaraam disham uddishya = northern, side, intending to; pra sthaatum upa cakrame = well, journeying, started.

Thus saying farewell to woodland-deities that descendent of Kaushika, namely Vishvamitra, the saint whose wealth is his asceticism started to journey on aiming to reach the northern side of River Ganga. [1-31-16]

Verse Locator

तम् व्रजंतम् मुनिवरम् अन्वगात् अनुसारिणाम् ।

शकटी शत मात्रम् तु प्रयाणे ब्रह्म वादिनाम् ॥ १-३१-१७

17. vrajantam tam muni varam = journeying, him, saint, best; anu saariNaam = of close, followers; brahma vaadinaam = Brahma [Vedic,] advocates of; their team; praayaaNe = approximately; shakaTii shata maatram tu = carts, hundred, in number; anvagaat [anu aagaat] = closely, journeyed - moved behind.

While that best saint set forth, the team of his close followers who are the advocates of Vedic canons have moved behind him, approximately with a hundred carts loaded with their ritual paraphernalia. [1-31-17]

Verse Locator

मृग पक्षि गणाः चैव सिद्ध आश्रम निवासिनः ।

अनुजग्मुर् महात्मानम् विश्वामित्रम् तपोधनम् ॥ १-३१-१८

निवर्तयामास ततः स ऋसि सन्धः स पक्षिणः ।

18, 19a. siddha aashrama nivaasinaH = Accomplished, Hermitage, residents of; mR^iga pakSi gaNaaH caiva = animals, birds, herds / flocks of, also, even; mahaa aatmaanam tapaH dhanam vishvaamitram = great, souled one, ascetically, wealthy, after Vishvamitra; anu jagmuH = closely, followed; but; saH R^isi = he, that Sage Vishvamitra; tataH = then; sa pakshiNaH sanghaH = those, birds, flocks of; [mR^igaan api = animas, even]; ni vartayaamaasa = back, made to turn - caused to return to their places.

Even the residents of that Hermitage of Accomplishment, namely animals and birds, closely followed that great-souled Vishvamitra, whose wealth is his asceticism, in herds and flocks. But that sage Vishvamitra made those flocks of birds and the herds of animals to return to their places, as they have shown enough courtesy. [1-31-18, 19a]

This following of animals and birds is to suggest that while any guest proceeding from their place, it is the courtesy of the residents of that place or house, to see him off for a distance, unlike 'showing a person the door.' Here Vishvamitra is the guest at these woodlands.

Verse Locator

ते गत्वा दूरम् अध्वानम् लम्बमाने दिवाकरे ॥ १-३१-१९

वासम् चक्रुर् मुनि गणाः शोणा कूले समाहिताः ।

19b, 20a. te muni gaNaaH = those, sages', assemblages; duuram adhvaanam gatvaa = far, on the way, on going; divaa kare lambamaane = day, maker - sun, while dangling - towards west; samaahitaaH = collectively; shoNaa kuule = River Sona, on the bank of; vaasam cakruH = camp, they made.

Those assemblages of sages on going far on their path made a camp on the bank of River Sona when the sun is dangling towards west. [1-31-19b, 20a]

Verse Locator

ते अस्तम् गते दिनकरे स्नात्वा हुत हुताशनाः ॥ १-३१-२०
विश्वामित्रम् पुरस्कृत्य निषेदुर् अमित ओजसः ।

20b, 21a. a mita ojasaH = those with - un, limited, resplendence; te = those sages; dina kare astam gate = day, maker - sun, dusk, when entered; snaatvaa = taking bath; huta = kindling; huta ashanaaH = that which is kindled, consumer of it - Ritual fire - consuming items obliterated in fire; having performed evening rituals; vishvaamitram puraskR^itya = Vishvamitra, keeping afore; niSeduH = they squatted.

When the sun went into dusk those sages with illimitable resplendence took their bath and on kindling the consumer of kindled oblations they completed their evening fire ritual, and then squatted before sage Vishvamitra. [1-31-20b, 21a]

Verse Locator

रामो अपि सह सौमित्रिः मुनीम् तान् अभिपूज्य च ॥ १-३१-२१
अग्रतो निषसाद अथ विश्वामित्रस्य धीमतः ।

21b, 22a. saha saumitriH raamaH api = with, Lakshmana, Rama, even; taan muniim abhipuujya ca = them, sages, worshipped, also; atha = then; dhiimataH vishvaamitrasya agrataH = the intellectual, Vishvamitra, before; niSasaada = squatted.

And even Rama along with Lakshmana on worshipping those sages squatted before that intellectual Vishvamitra. [1-31-21b, 22a]

Verse Locator

अथ रामो महातेजा विश्वामित्रम् तपोधनम् ॥ १-३१-२२
पप्रच्छ मुनिशार्दूलम् कौतूहल समन्वितः ।

22b, 23a. mahaatejaa raamaH = great-resplendent, Rama; tataH = then; vishvaamitram tapaH dhanam = at Vishvamitra, ascetically, wealthy sage; muni shaarduulam = sagely, tiger; kautuuhala samanvitaH = inquisitiveness, together with - growing; papracCha = asked.

With growing inquisitiveness that resplendent Rama has asked the tigerly sage Vishvamitra whose wealth is his asceticism. [1-31-22b, 23a]

Verse Locator

भगवन् कः नु अयम् देशः समृद्ध वन शोभितः ॥ १-३१-२३
श्रोतुम् इच्छामि भद्रम् ते वक्तुम् अर्हसि तत्त्वतः ।

23b, 24a. bhagavan = oh, god; sam vR^iddha vana shobhitaH = well, developed, with woodlands, glistening; ayam deshaH = this, place; kaH nu = what, really is; shrotum icChaami = to listen, I wish; te bhadram = to you, let there be safety - you be blest; tattvataH vaktum arhasi = in essence, to talk - to tell, apt of you.

"Oh, godly sage, this place is glistening with well-developed woodlands, really what is this place? You be blest! It will be apt of you tell about it, in essence." Thus Rama asked Vishvamitra. [1-31-23b, 24a]

Verse Locator

चोदितो राम वाक्येन कथयामास सुव्रतः ।

तस्य देशस्य निखिलम् ऋषि मध्ये महातपाः ॥ १-३१-२४

24b, c. su vrataH = one with unselfish, vows; mahaa tapaaH = one who has - exalted, asceticism; raama vaakyena coditaH = Rama, by words, motivated; R^iSi madhye = sages, amidst [staying]; tasya deshasya nikhilam = that, place's, all about; kathayaamaasa = started to tell.

Sage Vishvamitra whose vows are unselfish and whose asceticism is exalted is motivated with the words of Rama and staying amidst the sages he started to tell all about that place. [1-31-24b, c]

Verse Locator

इति वाल्मीकि रामायणे आदि काव्ये बाल काण्डे एक त्रिंशः सर्गः

Thus, this is the 31st chapter in Bala Kanda of Valmiki Ramayana, the First Epic poem of India.

Book I : Bala Kanda - The Youthful Majesties

[Sarga] 32

Verses converted to UTF-8, Sept 09

Introduction

Sage Vishvamitra starts to narrate Kusha's legend. Vishvamitra is the offspring of Kusha's dynasty. Brahma gives boon to Kusha to beget four sons and one among them is Kushanaabha. Kushanaba begets a hundred daughters of excellent beauty. When Vayu, Air-god cherishes them all, those girls refuse him, as they prefer an arranged marriage by their father. Then Air-god in his indignation disfigures them all.

Verse Locator

ब्रह्म योनिर् महान् आसीत् कुशो नाम महातपाः ।
अक्लिष्ट व्रत धर्मज्ञः सज्जन प्रति पूजकः ॥ १-३२-१

1. brahma yoniH = Brahma, as causation - Brahma's, brainchild; mahaa tapaaH = on with higher order, asceticism; a kliSTa vrata dharma j~naH = one who has - without, hampered, vows, their virtue, knower - who has never flouted the rules of rituals and vows; sat jana = virtue, knowers; prati puujakaH = in turn, revered - one who reveres virtue knowers; mahaan = highly righteous - kingly sage; kushaH naama = Kusha, named; aasiit = [once upon a time] was there.

"Once there was a highly righteous kingly sage who is the brainchild of Brahma, whose asceticism is of higher order, who has never flouted the rules of rituals or his vows, and who revered the knowers of virtue by name Kusha." Thus Sage Vishvamitra commenced narration. [1-32-1]

Verse Locator

स महात्मा कुलीनायाम् युक्तायाम् सुमहाबलान् ।
वैदर्भ्याम् जनयाम् आस चतुरः सदृशान् सुतान् ॥ १-३२-२
कुशाम्बम् कुशनाभम् च आसूर्तरजसम् वसुम् ।

2, 3a. saH mahaa aatmaa = he, great, soul; kuliinaayaam = one with noble birth; yuktaayaam = an eligible one [as wife]; vaidarbhyaam = in the princess from Vidarbha; kushaambam kushanaabham aassuurtarajasam vasum = Kushamba, Kushanaabha, Asuurtaraja, Vasu; su mahaa balaan = very, great, mighty ones; sadR^ishaan = selfsame ones; caturaH sutaan janayaamaasa = four, sons, he begot.

"That great-souled Kusha begot four selfsame and mighty sons, namely Kusumba, Kushanaabha, Asuurtarajasa, or also called Adhuurtarajasa, and Vasu through the princess of Vidarbha, which princess is of noble birth and an eligible wife of Kusha. [1-32-2, 3a]

Verse Locator

दीप्ति युक्तान् महोत्साहान् क्षत्रधर्म चिकीर्षया ॥ १-३२-३
तान् उवाच कुशः पुत्रान् धर्मिष्ठान् सत्यवादिनः ।

3b, 4. kushaH = Kusha; diipti yuktaan = brilliance, having; mahaa utsaahaan = highly, enthusiastic ones; dharmiSThaan = virtue abiding; satya vaadinaH = truth, advocates of; taan putraan = to those, sons; kSatra dharma cikiirSayaa = Kshatriya, principle, with an aspiration to uphold; uvaaca = spoke to them; putraa = oh, sons; paalanam kriyataam = ruling over [kingdom,] let it be done - establish your rulership; puSkalam dharmam praapyatha = in abundance, righteousness, you achieve.

"With an aspiration that his sons shall uphold the principles of Kshatriya-s, Kusha spoke to them who are brilliant, highly enthusiastic, virtue abiding, and the advocates of truth saying, 'establish your rulership, sons, and achieve righteousness abundantly.' [1-32-3b, 4a]

Verse Locator

कुशस्य वचनम् श्रुत्वा चत्वारो लोक सत्तमाः ।
निवेशम् चक्रिरे सर्वे पुराणाम् नृ वराः तदा ॥ १-३२-५

5. tadaa = then; kushasya vacanam shrutvaa = Kusha's, words, on hearing; loka sattamaaH = in world, formidable ones; catvaaraH = four of them; nR^i varaaH = among people's, best ones; sarve = all of them; puraaNaam nivesham cakrire = of cities, initiation - building, the started to do.

"On hearing the words of Kusha those four sons that are the formidable ones in the world and the best men among people initiated to build four cities. [1-32-5]

Verse Locator

कुशाम्बः तु महातेजाः कौशांबीम् अकरोत् पुरीम् ।
कुशनाभः तु धर्मात्मा पुरम् चक्रे महोदयम् ॥ १-३२-६

6. mahaatejaaH kushaambaH tu = great-resplendent one, Kushamba, for his part; kaushaambiim puriim akarot = Kaushaambi, city, built; dharmaatmaa kushanaabhaH tu = virtue-souled, Kushanaatha, for his part; mahodayam puram cakre = Mahodaya [named,] city, built.

"Great-resplendent Kushamba built the city named Kaushambii for his part, and for his part the virtue-souled Kushanaabha built a city named Mahodaya. [1-32-6]

Verse Locator

असूर्तरजसो राम धर्मारण्यम् महामतिः ।
चक्रे पुरवरम् राजा वसुर् नाम गिरिव्रजम् ॥ १-३२-७

7. raama = oh, Rama; mahaamatiH asuurtarajasaH = noble-minded, Asuurtarajasa; dharmaaaraNyam = DharmaaraNya - namely; pura varam = city, the best; cakre = built; raajaa vasuH = king, Vasu; girivrajam naama = Girivraja, in the name of-city he built.

"Oh, Rama, noble-minded Asuurtarajasa built a city named Dharmaaranya, and king Vasu built a city in the name of Girivraja. [1-32-7]

It is believed that the city Kaushambii is the present day Kannauj and Girivraja the present day Rajgir.

Verse Locator

एषा वसुमती नाम वसोः तस्य महात्मनः ।
एते शैलवराः पंच प्रकाशन्ते समंततः ॥ १-३२-८

8. eSaa = this one; tasya mahaatmanaH vasoH = of that, virtue-souled one, Vasu's; vasumatii naama = land, known as; samantataH = all around; ete panca shaila varaaH = these, five mountains, best ones; prakaashante = shine forth - standing high.

"This land on which we are presently staying is known as the land of virtue-souled Vasu, all around which these five best mountains are standing high. [1-32-8]

Verse Locator

सुमागधी नदी रंया मागधान् विश्रुता आययौ ।
पंचानाम् शैल मुख्यानाम् मध्ये माला इव शोभते ॥ १-३२-९

9. ramyaa = charming one; vishrutaa = well known; su = worthy of respect; maagadhii nadii = maagadhii - worthy River Sona which took birth in Magadha country; maagadhaan = into Magadha country; aa yayau = coming, going - on entering and exiting; pancaanaam shaila mukhyaanaam madhye = five of, mountains, important - elevated ones, amid; maalaa iva shobhate = garland, like, shines forth.

"This charming river that enters and exits Magadha province is well known as the worthy River Maagadhi, and flowing amid the five of these elevated mountains it shines forth like a garland enwreathing them. [1-32-9]

This river is said to be the present day River Son

Verse Locator

सा एषा हि मागधी राम वसोः तस्य महात्मनः ।
पूर्व अभिचरिता राम सुक्षेत्रा सस्य मालिनी ॥ १-३२-१०

11. raama = oh, Rama; saa eSaa maagadhii = this, that, river Maagadhi; mahaa aatmanaH tasya vasoH = of the great-souled one, his, of Vasu [this is that river which pertains to the developmental works of king Vasu]; puurva abhi caritaa = to east, towards, while going - flowing; su kSetraa = she has best, farmlands; sasya maalinii = crops, garland of.

"This Maagadhi is that river which pertains to the developmental works of the great-souled king Vasu and oh, Rama, flowing towards east to its confluence in Ganga, this river garlands best farmlands and their crops on its way. [1-32-10]

The confluence of this river with Ganga is said as the one now available near at Patna, Bihar.

Verse Locator

कुशनाभः तु राजर्षिः कन्या शतम् अनुत्तमम् ।
जनयामास धर्मात्मा घृताच्याम् रघु नंदन ॥ १-३२-११

11. raghu nandana = oh, Raghu's descendent; dharmaatmaa raajarSiH = virtue-souled one, kingly saint; kushanaabhaH tu = Kushanaabha, but; ghR^itaacyaam = through [celestial maiden] Ghritaachi; an uttamam = un, excelling; kanyaa shatam = maids, hundred; janayaamaasa = engendered.

"The virtue-souled kingly saint Kushanaabha gave birth to a hundred daughters with unexcelled beauty through a celestial female called Ghritaachi. [1-32-11]

Children begotten through celestial maidens are of superior nature for further procreating a divine generation, like Shakuntala, who begot Bharata, the earliest dynastic king.

Verse Locator

ताः तु यौवन शालिन्यो रूपवत्यः स्वलंकृताः ।
उद्यान भूमिम् आगंय प्रावृषि इव शतहृदाः ॥ १-३२-१२

गायंत्यो नृत्यमानाः च वादयंत्यः च राघव ।

आमोदम् परमम् जग्मुर् वर आभरण भूषिताः ॥ १-३२-१३

12. raaghava = oh, Raghava; yauvana shaalinyaH = youthfulness, having; ruupavatyaH = having loveliness; taaH = those girls; sva alankR^itaaH = themselves, decorating well; udyaana bhuumim aagamyaa = park, lands, arriving at; praa vR^iSi = in rainy season; shata hradaaH iva = in hundred way, flowing - like hundred streaked lightning; gaayantyaH nR^ityamaanaaH ca vaadayantyaH ca = singing, dancing, also, playing instruments; vara aabharaNa bhuuSitaH = select, ornaments, decorated with; paramam aamodam jagmuH = fantastic, felicity, they went into.

"Those girls when attained youthfulness they are lovely and on an occasion they have gone to gardens and moved there about like one lightning with a hundred streaks during rainy season, and while those girls that are decorated with select ornaments are singing, dancing and playing musical instruments, they got into a fantastic felicity. [1-32-12, 13]

Verse Locator

अथ ताः चारु सर्व अंग्यो रूपेण अप्रतिमा भुवि ।

उद्यान भूमिम् आगंय तारा इव घन अन्तरे ॥ १-३२-१४

14. atha = then; caaru sarva angyaH = pretty, all, with limbs - whose all limbs are pretty; ruupeNa bhuvi a pratimaa = by aspect, on earth, un, paralleled; taaH = those girls; udyaana bhuumim aagamyaa = park, lands, on coming to; ghana antare = in clouds, amid; taaraa iva = stars, like; they shone forth among thick bushes.

"On their coming to parklands those girls whose all limbs are pretty and whose looks are unparalleled on earth, they looked like stars amid clouds within the cloudy thickets of garden bushes. [1-32-14]

Verse Locator

ताः सर्वगुण संपन्ना रूप यौवन संयुताः ।

दृष्ट्वा सर्वात्मको वायुर् इदम् वचनम् अब्रवीत् ॥ १-३२-१५

15. sarva aatmakaH vaayuH = all, pervading, Air-god; sarva guNa sampannaa = in all, aspects, well off; ruupa yauvana samyutaaH = comeliness, ripeness, together with; taaH = them; dR^iSTvaa = on seeing; idam vacanam abraviit = this, word, spoke.

"On seeing them who are flourishing with all their aspects together with comeliness and ripeness, the all pervading Air-god, Vayu, spoke this word to them. [1-32-15]

Verse Locator

अहम् वः कामये सर्वा भार्या मम भविष्यथ ।

मानुषः त्यज्यताम् भावो दीर्घम् आयुर् अवाप्स्यथ ॥ १-३२-१६

16. aham vaH sarvaa kaamaye = I, all, you, have a desire for; mama bhaaryaa bhaviSyatha = my, wives, you become; maanusaH tyajyataam bhaavaH = pertaining to humans, leave off, notion; diirgham aayuH avaapsyatha = long, life, you acquire - like divinities.

" 'I have a desire for you all, hence leaving off the notions pertaining to human beings you all become my wives, thereby you too will acquire longevity like divinities. [1-32-16]

Verse Locator

चलम् हि यौवनम् नित्यम् मानुषेषु विशेषतः ।

अक्षयम् यौवनम् प्राप्ता अमर्यः च भविष्यथ ॥ १-३२-१७

17. nityam yauvanam calam hi = always, teenage, is moving, indeed; maanuSeSu visheSataH = in humans, expressly; a kshayam yauvanam praaptaa = un, diminishing, youthfulness, on achieving; amaryaH ca bhaviSytha = as immortal females, also, you can become.

" 'Teenage is always transitory, expressly in humans, but on marrying me you will achieve undiminished youthfulness and forever you can be youthful like immortal females.' Thus Air-god said to those girls. [1-32-17]

Verse Locator

तस्य तद् वचनम् श्रुत्वा वायोः अक्लिष्ट कर्मणः ।
अपहास्य ततो वाक्यम् कन्या शतम् अथ अब्रवीत् ॥ १-३२-१८

18. tataH = then; a kliSta karmaNaH = one with un, impeded, strives; tasya vaayoH = of that, Air-god; tat vacanam shrutvaa = that, sentence - proposal, on hearing; apahaasya = laughing off - his proposal; kanyaa shatam = maidens, hundred; atha vaakyam abraviit = then, sentence, spoke.

"On hearing that proposal of Vayu, the Air-god whose strives are unimpeded, then those hundred girls spoke this sentence laughing off his proposal. [1-32-18]

Verse Locator

अन्तः चरसि भूतानाम् सर्वेषाम् त्वम् सुर सत्तम ।
प्रभावज्ञाः च ते सर्वाः किम् अर्थम् अवमन्यसे ॥ १-३२-१९

19. sura sattama = oh, divinity, the ablest; tvam sarveSaam bhuutaanaam = you, in all, of the beings; antaH carasi = inside, you move - you inspire; sarvaaH te prabhaava j~naaH ca = all of us, your, uniqueness, knowers, also; [asmaan = us]; kim artham ava manyase = for what, reason, not, you honour [you dishonour us.]

" 'we are aware that you inspire all the living beings from inside, oh, the ablest divinity, we are also aware of your uniqueness. But, what for you are dishonouring all of us. [1-32-19]

Verse Locator

कुशनाभ सुताः देवम् समस्ता सुर सत्तम ।
स्थानात् च्यावयितुम् देवम् रक्षामः तु तपो वयम् ॥ १-३२-२०

20. sura sattama = oh, divinity, the best; samastaa vayam = all, of us are; kushanaabha sutaaH = Kushanaabha's, daughters; devam = as god; sthaanaat cyaavayitum = from your realm, to displace; samarthaa = we are capable; deva = oh, god; tu = but we are; tapaH rakSaamaH = [our] asceticism, we are conserving.

" 'We are the daughters of Kushanaabha, oh, best divinity, and we are all capable of displacing you from your realm, but oh, god, we are restraining ourselves in doing so only to conserve our ascetic values. [1-32-20]

Verse Locator

मा भूत् स कालो दुर्मेधः पितरम् सत्य वादिनम् ।
अवमन्यस्व स्व धर्मेण स्वयम् वरम् उपास्महे ॥ १-३२-२१

21. dur medhaH = oh, evil, minded one - god with sordid thinking; satya vaadinam = truth, advocate of - veracious; pitaram = father; ava manya = dis, regarding - overlooking; sva dharmeNa = at our, liberty; svayam varam upaasmahe = independently, groom, [at which time we] look up; saH kaalaH maa bhuut = that, time, not, to come.

" 'That time shall never come, oh, god with sordid thinking, when we, at our liberty, may look up for our grooms overlooking our veracious father.' [1-32-21]

Verse Locator

पिता हि प्रभुर् अस्माकम् दैवतम् परमम् च सः ।
यस्य नो दास्यति पिता स नो भर्ता भविष्यति ॥ १-३२-२२

22. asmaakam = for us; pitaa prabhuH hi = father [alone is,] lord, indeed; saH paramam daivatam ca = he [alone,] ultimate, god, also; pitaa = father; naH yasya daasyati = us, to whom [he] gives; saH naH bhartaa bhaviSyati = he [alone,] our, husband, becomes.

" 'Our father is indeed our lord and for us he is the ultimate god too. To whomever we are offered by our father in marriage he alone becomes our husband.' So said hundred girls to Air-god. [1-32-22]

Verse Locator

तासाम् तु वचनम् श्रुत्वा हरिः परम कोपनः ।
प्रविश्य सर्व गात्राणि बभञ्ज भगवान् प्रभुः ॥ १-३२-२३

23. taasaam tu vacanam shrutvaa = their, but, sentence, on hearing; bhagavaan prabhuH = god, who has high impact; hariH [vaayuH] parama kopanaH = god, Air, very, angrily; sarva gaatraaNi pravishya = all, body-parts, on entering; babhanja = crooked [disfigured].

On hearing their sentence of rejection, Vayu, the Air-god whose impact is powerful, very angrily entered into all of the limbs of those girls only to disfigure them. [1-32-23]

Verse Locator

ताः कन्या वायुना भग्ना विविशुर् नृपतेः गृहम् ।
प्रविश्य च सुसंभ्रान्ताः स लज्जाः स अस्र लोचन ॥ १-३२-२४

24. vaayunaa bhagnaa = by Air-god, disfigured; taaH kanyaa = those, girls; nR^ipateH gR^iham vivishuH = king's, house [palace,] entered; su sam bhraantaH = very, highly, diffident; sa lajjaaH = with, embarrassment; sa asra locana = with, tears, in eyes; pravishya = entered.

"Those girls whom Air-god disfigured in that way have entered palace-chambers of the king, but they have entered diffidently, embarrassedly, and tearfully. [1-32-24]

Verse Locator

स च ता दयिता भग्नाः कन्याः परम शोभनाः ।
दृष्ट्वा दीनाः तदा राजा संभ्रांत इदम् अब्रवीत् ॥ १-३२-२५

25. saH raajaa = he, the king; tadaa = then; dayitaa = dear ones; diinaaH = despondent ones; parama shobhanaaH = [once] very, attractive ones; taaH kanyaaH = those, girls; bhagnaaH = disfigured; dR^iSTvaa = on seeing; sam bhraanta = he is highly, perturbed; idam abraviit = this, said.

"That king on seeing his dear and attractive daughters as disfigured and despondent girls he is highly perturbed and said this. [1-32-25]

Verse Locator

किम् इदम् कथ्यताम् पुत्र्यः को धर्मम् अवमन्यते ।
कुब्जाः केन कृताः सर्वाः चेष्टन्त्यो न अभिभाषथ ।

26. putryaH = oh, daughters; idam kim = this, what is; kaH dharmam ava manyate = who is, probity, not, regarding; kathyataam = let it be said; sarvaaH kubjaaH = all of you, dwarfed [with hunchbacks, disfigured]; kena kR^itaah = by whom, made; ceSTantyaH na abhibhaaSatha = you gesticulate, not, saying; raajaa evam = king, this way [on saying]; tataH = then; viniHshvasya = sighed; samaadhim sam dadhe = rumination, imposed upon himself - remained silent for their reply.

" 'Oh, daughters, what all is this? Who disregarded probity? Who disfigured you all? Let it be said! Why you gesticulate saying nothing.' asking thus that king sighed and quietened down waiting for a reply." Thus Sage Vishvamitra continued his narration. [1-32-26]

Verse Locator

इति वाल्मीकि रामायणे आदि काव्ये बाल काण्डे द्वि त्रिंशः सर्गः

Thus, this is the 32nd chapter in Bala Kanda of Valmiki Ramayana, the First Epic poem of India.

Book I : Bala Kanda - The Youthful Majesties

[Sarga] 33

Verses converted to UTF-8, Sept 09

Introduction

Daughters of Kushanaabha report about the Air-god's mischief. Pleased at their behaviour Kushanaabha thinks and arranges for their marriage with Brahmadata, a saintly king. After the marriage, by the touch of hand of Brahmadata the girls are rid of their misshapen bodies and they again become great beauties.

Verse Locator

तस्य तद् वचनम् श्रुत्वा कुशनाभस्य धीमतः ।
शिरोभिः चरणौ स्पृष्ट्वा कन्या शतम् अभाषत ॥ १-३३-१

1. dhiimataH = scholarly one; tasya kushanaabhasya= his, of Kushanaabha; tat vacanam shrutvaa = that, sentence, on hearing; kanyaa shatam = girls, hundred; shirobhiH caraNau spR^iSTvaa = with forehead, [father's] feet, on touching; abhaaSata= spoke.

On hearing that sentence of scholarly Kushanaabha those hundred girls touched his feet with their foreheads and spoke to him. [1-33-1]

Verse Locator

वायुः सर्वात्मको राजन् प्रधर्षयितुम् इच्छति ।
अशुभम् मार्गम् आस्थाय न धर्मम् प्रत्यवेक्षते ॥ १-३३-२

2. raajan = oh, king; sarva aatmakaH vaayuH = all-pervasive, Air-god; a shubham maargam aasthaaya = not, auspicious, path - improper approach, resorting to; pradharSayitum icChati = to highly, maltreat [dishonour us,] he desired to; dharmam na prati avekSate = virtuous conduct of girls, not, towards, seeing - overlooking.

" 'The all-pervasive Air-god desired to dishonour us, oh, king, resorting to improper approach and overlooking virtuous conduct. [1-33-2]

Verse Locator

पितृमत्यः स्म भद्रम् ते स्वच्छन्दे न वयम् स्थिताः ।
पितरम् नो वृणीष्व त्वम् यदि नो दास्यते तव ॥ १-३३-३

3. vayam pitR^imatyaH sma = we, those that have a father [father dependent,] we are there; te bhadram = you be safe; sva cChande na sthitaH = our, own way, not [not independent,] we are; naH tava = us, to you; daasyate yadi = he gives, whether or not; tvam naH pitaram vR^iNiiSva = you, with our, father, may request.

" 'Our father is there and we are not independent, you be safe, hence oh, Air-god, you may request our father to know whether he gives us to you or not.' Thus we have told the Air-god, but... [1-33-3]

तेन पाप अनुबन्धेन वचनम् न प्रतीच्छता ।

एवम् ब्रुवन्त्यः सर्वाः स्म वायुना अभिहता भृषम् ॥ १-३३-४

4. evam bruvantyaH sarvaaH = thus, speaking, all of us; paapa anubandhena = venality, bound by; vacanam = [our] sentence; na = not; prati iicChataa = in reply, bearing in mind - one who refused to take notice; tena vaayunaa = by him, by Air-god; bhR^iSam = much; abhi hataa = smacked down - we are harmed.

" 'Though we all have spoken to him thus, that Air-god who is bound by venality refused to take notice of our words and he has harmed us a lot.' Thus those girls informed their father. [1-33-4]

Since then, because the Wind-God bent / The damsels' forms for punishment, / That royal town is known to fame / By Kanyakubja's borrowed name. That is, the City of the Bent Virgins, the modern Kanauj or Canouge - Griffith.

Verse Locator

तासाम् तु वचनम् श्रुत्वा राजा परम धार्मिकः ।

प्रत्युवाच महातेजाः कन्या शतम् अनुत्तमम् ॥ १-३३-५

5. parama dhaarmikaH = highly, virtuous one; mahaatejaaH = highly resplendent one; raajaa = king; taasaam tat vacanam shrutvaa = their, that, sentence, on listening; anuttamam kanyaa shatam uvaaca = to un, surpassing, to girls, hundred, said.

On listening their words that highly virtuous and highly resplendent king spoke to the hundred girls with unsurpassed virtue. [1-33-5]

Verse Locator

क्षान्तम् क्षमावताम् पुत्र्यः कर्तव्यम् सुमहत् कृतम् ।

ऐकमत्यम् उपागंय कुलम् च आवेक्षितम् मम ॥ १-३३-६

6. putryaH = oh, daughters; kSamaavataam kartavyam kSaantam = those that have self-control - imperturbability, their duty, is forgiving; kR^itam = that is done - you have done it; su mahat = [this is] very, excellent [deed you have done]; aikamatyam upaagamya = unity, coursing through; mama kulam ca = my, family [prestige,] also; aavekSitam = looked after [kept up.]

" 'Forgiving is the duty of imperturbable and you have done it. Excellent. Oh, daughters, coursing through your unity my family's prestige is also kept up. [1-33-6]

Verse Locator

अलंकारो हि नारीणाम् क्षमा तु पुरुषस्य वा ।

दुष्करम् तत् च वै क्षान्तम् त्रिदशेषु विशेषतः ॥ १-३३-७

यादृशीः वः क्षमा पुत्र्यः सर्वासाम् अविशेषतः ।

7, 8a. naariiNaam = to women; puruSasya vaa = to men, either; kSamaa alankaaraH hi = forgiveness, adornment, as a matter of fact; kSaantam iti yat = forgiving, that which is there; tat duS karam ca vai = that is, not, practicable, also, verily; tridasheSu visheSataH = among divinities, especially [impracticable]; vaH sarvaasaam = to you, you all; a visheSataH = not, differentiated - uniformly; yaadR^ishiiH = which kind of; kSamaa = forgiving [is there; that is further; duSkaram = impossible - laudable.]

" 'Forgiveness is an adornment to women, as a matter of fact, even for men, and this matter called 'forgiving' that which is there, it is an impracticable affair. That too, in respect of divinities.

And the kind of forgiveness you all possess uniformly, that is further laudable. [1-33-7, 8a]

This also means: 'though you possess excellent aspects and persona alike celestials, viz., apsara-s, for you are the children of celestial / apsara Ghritachi... you have forgiven Air-god, without submitting yourselves to bodily pleasures of humans.'

Verse Locator

क्षमा दानम् क्षमा सत्यम् क्षमा यज्ञः च पुत्रिकाः ॥ १-३३-८

क्षमा यशः क्षमा धर्मः क्षमायाम् विष्ठितम् जगत् ।

8b, 9a. kSamaa daanam = grace [forgiveness] is, altruism; kSamaa yaj~naH = grace is, ritualism; putrikaaH = oh, daughters; kSamaa yashaH = grace is, glory; kSamaa dharmaH = grace is, virtue; kSamaa satyam [hi] = grace is, truth, [isn't it]; kSamaayaam jagat vi SThitam = in graciousness, universe is, verily, abiding.

" 'Grace is altruism, grace is ritualism, oh, my daughters, grace is glory, grace is virtue, and this universe is verily abiding in graciousness alone for grace itself is the truth, isn't it!' Thus king Kushanaabha said to his daughters and sent them away. [1-33-8b, 9a]

Verse Locator

विसृज्य कन्याः काकुत्स्थ राजा त्रिदश विक्रमः ॥ १-३३-९

मंत्रज्ञो मंत्रयामास प्रदानम् सह मंत्रिभिः ।

देशे काले च कर्तव्यम् सदृशे प्रतिपादनम् ॥ १-३३-१०

9b, 10. kaakutstha = oh, Rama; tridasha vikramaH = matching god, whose valour is; mantra j~naH = in thinking, expert; raajaa = king Kushanaabha; kanyaaH visR^ijya = girls, leaving them; mantribhiH saha = ministers, along with; pradaanam = about endowing [giving daughters in marriage]; mantrayaamaasa = started to contemplate; pradaanasya = of that bride giving]; deshe kaale = in which country, at which time; sadR^ishe = matching one [bridegroom]; pratipaadanam kartavyam ca = [marriage] proposals, is to be done - on such topics he discussed with ministers.

"On leaving those girls, oh, Rama, that king whose valour matches that of gods and who is an expert in thinking strategies started to think with his ministers on the topics like, as to how his daughters are to be espoused to, to which country they are to be sent, at which time marriage shall happen, and to which matching bridegroom the marriage is to be proposed, and so on." Thus Vishvamitra continued his narration. [1-33-9b, 10]

Verse Locator

एतस्मिन् एव काले तु चूली नाम महाद्युतिः ।

ऊर्ध्व रेताः शुभाचारो ब्राह्मन् तप उपागमत् ॥ १-३३-११

11. etasmin kaale eva tu = during, time, alone, but; mahaa dhyutiH = great-resplendent one; uurdhva retaaH = with upward, semen - meaning whose semen is not lost; shubha aacaaraH = with propitious, demeanour; cuulii naama = Cuulii, named; braahmam tapa = Vedic, asceticism - one who has asceticism strict to Vedic canons; upaagamat = achieved such asceticism.

During that time a great-resplendent sage named Cuulii is there, who is propitious in his demeanour and who holds his semen upward, and who has achieved high ascetic practise strictly according to Vedic canons. [1-33-11]

The uurdhva retaH is that the yogi-s of a very high practice of pure yoga called haTha yoga, will hold their semen un-ejaculated by use or misuse, and they make it course towards their heads through the six-plexuses of human body. This type of practice is to enrich their mental and physical glow and they will have a divine aura around them.

तपस्यंतम् ऋषिम् तत्र गंधर्वी पर्युपासते ।

सोमदा नाम भद्रम् ते ऊर्मिला तनया तदा ॥ १-३३-१२

12. tadaa = then; tatra tapasyantam R^iSim = at the place of asceticism, while practising, sage is; uurmilaa tanayaa = Urmila's, daughter; somadaa naama gandharvii = Somada, named, a gandharva / celestial female; pari upaasate = in overall manner, serving him; te bhadram = to you, safety; Rama.

"While that sage is in the practise of asceticism a celestial female served him at the place of his asceticism, safety be with you oh, Rama, she is Somada by her name, the daughter of Urmila. [1-33-12]

Verse Locator

सा च तम् प्रणता भूत्वा शुश्रूषण परायणा ।

उवास काले धर्मिष्ठा तस्याः तुष्टो अभवत् गुरुः ॥ १-३३-१३

13. saa ca = she, even; tam = in his respect; praNataa bhuutvaa = bowing down - obediently, on becoming; shushruuSaNa paraayaNaa = ministering to, dedicate one; dharmiSThaa = righteously; uvaasa = stayed there; kaale = after some time; guruH = mentor [the sage]; tasyaaH tuSTaH abhavat = of her [service,] satisfied, he became.

"Even she is obedient in his respect, and dedicating herself in ministering to him she stayed there righteously. After some time that sage Cuulii has become satisfied with her service. [1-33-13]

Verse Locator

स च ताम् काल योगेन प्रोवाच रघु नंदन ।

परितुष्टो अस्मि भद्रम् ते किम् करोमि तव प्रियम् ॥ १-३३-१४

14. raghu nandana = oh, Raghu's, delight - Rama; saH ca = he that sage, also; kaala yogena = time, by chance of - when her service is fructified; taam pra uvaaca = to her, well [benevolently,] said; parituSToaH asmi = perfectly pleased, I am; te bhadram = to you, safety; tava kim priyam karomi = your, what, cherish, I can do - I have to fulfil.

"When her service is fructified, oh, Rama, that sage benevolently spoke to her saying, 'I am perfectly pleased with your service, let good betide you, what cherish of yours I have to fulfil.' [1-33-14]

Verse Locator

परितुष्टम् मुनिम् ज्ञात्वा गन्धर्वी मधुर स्वरम् ।

उवाच परम प्रीता वाक्यज्ञा वाक्य कोविदम् ॥ १-३३-१५

15. munim parituSTam j~naatvaa = sage, contented, on perceiving; madhura svaram = in melodious, voice; vaakya j~naa = sentence making, she who is aware of; gandharvii = gandharva female; parama priitaa = highly, delighted; vaakya kovidam = sentence making, to expert - pedantic sage; uvaaca = spoke.

"Perceiving that the sage is contented that female celestial Soamda who is aware of making good sentences is highly delighted and spoke with her melodious voice to that pedantic sage. [1-33-15]

Verse Locator

लक्ष्म्या समुदितो ब्राह्म्या ब्रह्म भूतो महातपाः ।

ब्राह्मेण तपसा युक्तम् पुत्रम् इच्छामि धार्मिकम् ॥ १-३३-१६

16. mahaa tapaaH = oh, one with supreme, ascetic; braahmyaa lakSmyaa sam uditaaH = pertaining to Brahma [Vedic practises,] splendour, is on the rise - flourishing; brahma bhuutaH = on with Brahma, you became; braahmeNa tapasaa yuktam = with Brahma's [spirituality of Veda-s,] ascetic [spirituality,] along with - embodied with; dhaarmikam putram icChaami = righteous, son, I wish to have - I may be endowed with.

" 'Vedic splendour is flourishing in you when you have become one with Brahma, oh, supreme ascetic, I may please be endowed with a righteous son whose ascetic spirituality may embody the spirituality enunciated in Veda-s. [1-33-16]

Verse Locator

अपतिः च अस्मि भद्रम् ते भार्या च अस्मि न कस्यचित् ।
ब्राह्मेण उपगतायाः च दातुम् अर्हसि मे सुतम् ॥ १-३३-१७

17. a patiH ca asmi = without, husband [unmarried,] also, I am; bhadram te = safe, you be; kasyacit bhaaryaa na asmi = to anyone, wife, not, I am; upa gataayaaH = nearby, arrived - took shelter under you; me = to me; braahmeNa = by your ascetic faculty; sutam daatum arhasi = a son, to endow, apt of you.

" 'I am unmarried and nobody's wife, safe you be, and as I took shelter under your kindness it will be apt of you to endow me a son with your faculty of asceticism.' So said Somada to sage Cuulii. [1-33-17]

Verse Locator

तस्याः प्रसन्नो ब्रह्मर्षिर् ददौ ब्राह्मम् अनुत्तमम् ।
ब्रह्मदत्त इति ख्यातम् मानसम् चूलिनः सुतम् ॥ १-३३-१८

18. tasyaaH prasannaH brahmarSiH = of her, one who became benignant, Brahma-sage; cuulinaH = of sage Cuulina; maanasam sutam = by instinct, [born] son - brainchild; braahmam = Brahma-like; brahmadatta iti khyaatam = Brahmadatta, thus, renowned; an uttamam = un, surpassed - unique one; dadau = bestowed.

"That Brahma-sage Cuulina benignantly bestowed her with a unique and Brahma-like son who is renowned as Brahmadatta, as well as his own brainchild. [1-33-18]

The word 'cuulinaH' also read as Cuulina, another name for this sage Cuuli.

Verse Locator

स राजा ब्रह्मदत्तः तु पुरीम् अध्यवसत् तदा ।
कांपिल्याम् परया लक्ष्ण्या देवराजो यथा दिवम् ॥ १-३३-१९

19. brahmadattaH saH raajaa tu = Brahmadatta, he that, king, for his part; tadaa = then; deva nraajaH divam yathaa = god's, king, Indra, heaven, as with; kaampilyaam = Kampilya named; puriim = city; parayaa lakSmyaa adhyavasat = endued with superb, grandeur, presided - ruled.

"King Brahmadatta endued with superb grandeur ruled from a city called Kaampilya as with Indra ruling the heaven. [1-33-19]

Verse Locator

स बुद्धिम् कृतवान् राजा कुशनाभः सुधार्मिकः ।
ब्रह्मदत्ताय काकुत्स्थ दातुम् कन्या शतम् तदा ॥ १-३३-२०

20. kaakutstha = oh, Rama of Kakutstha; tadaa = then; su dhaarmikaH raajaa = most, righteous, king; saH kushanaabhaH = he that, Kushanaabha; kanyaa shatam = daughters, hundred; brahmadattaaya daatum = to Brahmadata, to give - to espouse; buddhim kR^itavaan = mind, made up.

"The most righteous king Kushanaabha then made up his mind, oh, Rama of Kakutstha, to espouse his hundred daughters to Brahmadata. [1-33-20]

Verse Locator

तम् आहूय महातेजा ब्रह्मदत्तम् महीपतिः ।
ददौ कन्या शतम् राजा सुप्रीतेन अंतरात्मना ॥ १-३३-२१

21. mahaatejaa mahiipatiH raajaa = great-resplendent, lord of land, king - Kushanaabha; tam brahmadattam aahuuya = him that, Brahmadata, on calling - inviting; su priitena antar aatmanaa = with highly, pleased, heart of hearts; kanyaa shatam dadau = daughters, hundred, gave - married.

"Inviting Brahmadata that great-resplendent lord of the land, namely the king Kushanaabha, married his hundred daughters to him, pleasing highly in his heart of hearts. [1-33-21]

Verse Locator

यथा क्रमम् ततः पाणिम् जग्राह रघुनंदन ।
ब्रह्मदत्तो महीपालः तासाम् देवपतिर् यथा ॥ १-३३-२२

22. raghu nandana = oh, Rama of Raghu's dynasty; deva patiH yathaa = gods, lord - Indra, who vies with; brahmadattaH mahiipaalaH = Brahmadata, the king; tataH yathaa kramam = then, in succession; taasaam paaNim jagraaha = their, palm, caught - received each of their palm into his hand, as per the custom of marriage.

"As with the tradition of marriage king Brahmadata who vies with lord of gods, namely Indra, in succession took the palm of each of the hundred girls into his palm. [1-33-22]

Verse Locator

स्पृष्ट मात्रे ततः पाणौ विकुब्जा विगत ज्वराः ।
युक्ताः परमया लक्ष्म्या बभौ कन्या शतम् तदा ॥ १-३३-२३

23. tataH = then; paaNau spR^iSta maatre = palm, on touching, just by; tadaa = as a result of; kanyaa shatam = maidens, hundred; vi kubjaa = without, hunchback - without misshape; on becoming; vi gata = verily, gone - vanished; jvaraaH = feverity - desperation; paramayaa lakSmyaa yuktaaH = with utmost, elegance, along with [retouched with]; babhau = they are beaming bright.

"By mere touch of hand of Brahmadata alone, their misshape and desperation are vanished, and all of those hundred maidens beamed bright as they are retouched with utmost elegance. [1-33-23]

Verse Locator

स दृष्ट्वा वायुना मुक्ताः कुशनाभो महीपतिः ।
बभूव परम प्रीतो हर्षम् लेभे पुनः पुनः ॥ १-३३-२४

23. mahiipatiH = lord of land; saH kushanaabhaH = that, Kushanaabha; vaayunaa muktaaH = by [the effect of] Air-god, released; dr^iSTvaa = on seeing; parama priitaH babhuuva = highly, joyful, he became; punaH punaH harSam lebhe = again, again, delight, he took - in seeing his daughters restored to originality.

"On seeing his daughters getting release from the effect of Air-god Kushanaabha became highly joyful, and he took great delight time and again as and when he looked at them. [1-33-24]

कृत उद्धाहम् तु राजानम् ब्रह्मदत्तम् महीपतिः ।

सदारम् प्रेषयामास स उपाध्याय गणम् तदा ॥ १-३३-२५

25. tadaa = later; mahiipatiH = king Kushanaabha; kR^ita udvaaham tu = one who has finished, marriage - when marriage is over; sa daaram = with, wives; sa upaadhyaya gaNam = with, religious teachers, assemblages of; raajaanam brahmadattam = of king, Brahmadatta; preSayaamaasa = started to send [off.]

"Later when the marriage is complete king Kushanaabha bade farewell to king Brahmadatta along with his wives, his own hundred daughters, and along with the groups of religious teachers. [1-33-25]

Verse Locator

सोमदा अपि सुतम् दृष्ट्वा पुत्रस्य सदृशीम् क्रियाम् ।

यथा न्यायम् च गन्धर्वी स्नुषाः ताः प्रत्यनन्दत ।

स्पृष्ट्वा स्पृष्ट्वा च ताः कन्याः कुशनाभम् प्रशस्य च ॥ १-३३-२६

26. gandharvii somadaa api = gandharva female, Somada, even; sutam dR^iSTvaa = son, on seeing; [prati anandata = gladdened towards him]; taaH kanyaaH = those, girls; spR^iSTvaa spR^iSTvaa = on touching, touching - caressing repeatedly; [prati anandata = gladdened towards them]; kushanaabham prashasya ca = Kushanaabha, praised, also; putrasya sadR^ishiim kriyaam = for a son, worthwhile, deed; in getting such daughter-in-laws; yathaa nyaayam ca = as per, tradition, also; taaH snuSaaH prati anandata = those, daughter-in-laws, towards, gladdened - or - blessed them.

"Somada, the celestial female and the mother of Brahmadatta, is gladdened to see her son Brahmadatta, for the worthwhile deed done by him in removing the blemish caused by the Air-god to the girls, or in bringing those worthwhile girls as her daughter-in-laws. She is further gladdened while her feet are traditionally and repeatedly touched by a hundred daughter-in-laws in succession, coupled with her own raising of each of the daughter-in-law to embrace for a hundred times. Thus Somada has gone on caressing each of her hundred daughter-in-laws, and in doing so she is gladdened to do so over and over again, she is gladdened. She thus praised Kushanaabha for giving his gemlike daughters as her daughter-in-laws and blessed the daughter-in-laws. [1-33-26]

Verse Locator

इति वाल्मीकि रामायणे आदि काव्ये बाल काण्डे त्रयः त्रिंशः सर्गः

Thus, this is the 33rd chapter in Bala Kanda of Valmiki Ramayana, the First Epic poem of India.

Book I : Bala Kanda - The Youthful Majesties

chapter / sarga 34

Verses converted to UTF-8, Sept 09

Introduction

Vishvamitra narrates about the birth of Gaadhi, his own father and the son of Kushanaabha. Incidentally he narrates about the emergence and prominence of River Kaushiki, who is Vishwamitra's elder sister turned out as a sacred River.

Verse Locator

कृत उद्वाहे गते तस्मिन् ब्रह्मदत्ते च राघव ।

अपुत्रः पुत्र लाभाय पौत्रीम् इष्टिम् अकल्पयत् ॥ १-३४-१

1. raaghava = oh, Raghava; tasmin brahmadatte = of that, Brahmadatta's; kR^ita udvaahe gate = on making, marriage [on marrying,] when gone away; a putraH = not, with son - sonless; that king Kushanaabha; putra laabhaaya = son, for achieving; pautriim iSTim akalpayat = for son's, ritual, embarked on.

When Brahmadatta has married and left, oh, Raghava, king Kushanaabha he embarked on Vedic-ritual called putra kaameSTHi in order to beget a son because is sonless. [1-34-1]

Verse Locator

इष्ट्याम् तु वर्तमानायाम् कुशनाभम् महीपतिम् ।

उवाच परमोदारः कुशो ब्रह्मसुतः तदा ॥ १-३४-२

2. tadaa = then; iSTyaam tu vartamaanaayaam = ritual, but, while being conducted - during its performance; parama udaaraH = supremely, generous one; brahma sutaH kushaH = Brahma's, brainchild, namely - Kusha; kushanaabham mahiipatim uvaaca = to Kushanaabha, king, spoke.

During the performance of the ritual, supremely generous Kusha, the brainchild of Brahma and the father of Kushanaabha, spoke to the king Kushanaabha. [1-34-2]

Verse Locator

पुत्रः ते सदृशः पुत्र भविष्यति सुधार्मिकः ।

गाधिम् प्राप्स्यसि तेन त्वम् कीर्तिम् लोके च शाश्वतीम् ॥ १-३४-३

3. putraH = oh, son; te sadR^ishaH su dhaarmikaH putra = to you, selfsame, highly, virtuous, son; bhaviSyati = will be there; gaadhim praapsyasi = Gadhi, you will get; tena tvam loke shaashvatiim kiirtim ca = by him, you, in world, everlasting, renown; [praapyasi = you will get.]

" 'Oh, son, there will be a highly virtuous and selfsame son of yours, known as Gaadhi, and through him you also will get everlasting renown in the world.' " Thus Kusha said to Kushanaabha. [1-34-3]

Verse Locator

एवम् उक्त्वा कुशो राम कुशनाभम् महीपतिम् ।

जगाम आकाशम् आविश्य ब्रह्म लोकम् सनातनम् ॥ १-३४-४

4. raama = oh, Rama; kusha = Kusha; mahiipatim kushanaabham = to king, Kushanaabha; evam uktvaa = so, saying; aakaasham aavishya = sky, on entering; sanaatanam brahma lokam jagaama = to time-honoured, Brahma's, abode, journeyed to.

"Saying so, oh, Rama, Kushanaabha's father Kusa entered the sky and journeyed to the time-honoured abode of Brahma. [1-34-4]

Verse Locator

कस्यचित् तु अथ कालस्य कुशनाभस्य धीमतः ।

जज्ञे परम धर्मिष्ठो गाधिः इति एव नामतः ॥ १-३४-५

5. atha kasyacit kaalasya tu = then, after some, of time, but; dhiimataH kushanaabhasya = to highly intellectual, Kushanaabha; parama dharmiSThaH = supremely, righteous one; and; naamataH gaadhiH iti eva = by name, Gaadhi, thus, [known] as; jaj~ne = took birth.

"Then after some time that highly intellectual Kushanaabha begot a supremely righteous son known by the name Gaadhi. [1-34-5]

Verse Locator

स पिता मम काकुत्स्थ गाधिः परम धार्मिकः ।

कुश वंश प्रसूतो अस्मि कौशिको रघुनन्दन ॥ १-३४-६

6. kaakutstha = oh, Kakutstha; parama dhaarmikaH gaadhiH = eminently righteous one, Gaadhi; saH mama pitaa = he is, my, father; raghu nandana = oh, Raghu's legatee; kusha vamsha prasuutaH = [because] in Kusa's, dynasty, born in; kaushikaH = Kaushika [by the name of]; asmi = I am - I got the name.

"Oh, Rama of Kakutstha dynasty, that eminently righteous Gaadhi is my father, and since I am born in Kusha dynasty, oh, Raghu's legatee, I got the name Kaushika." Sage Vishvamitra thus narrating to Rama. [1-34-6]

Verse Locator

पूर्वजा भगिनी च अपि मम राघव सुव्रता ।

नाम्ना सत्यवती नाम ऋचीके प्रतिपादिता ॥ १-३४-७

7. raaghava = oh, Raghava; su vrataa = one with benevolent, vows; naamnaa satyavatii naama = by name, Satyavati, renowned as; mama puurva jaa bhaginii ca api = to me, earlier, born, sister, also, even - she is there; R^iciike pratipaaditaa = to sage Ruchika, proposed to [given in marriage.]

"Even my elder sister who undertook benevolent vows and who is renowned by her name Satyavathi is there, oh, Raghava, and she is given in marriage to sage Ruchika. [1-34-7]

Verse Locator

सशरीरा गता स्वर्गम् भर्तारम् अनुवर्तिनी ।

कौशिकी परमोदारा सा प्रवृत्ता महानदी ॥ १-३४-८

8. saa = she; bhartaaram anuvartinii = husband, while following; sa shariiraa svargam gataa = with body, to heaven, went to; parama udaaraa = very, generous one; kaushikii = [renowned as] Kaushiki; saa mahaa nadii pravR^ittaa = she, as great, river, coursed as.

"She journeyed to heaven with her body while she followed her departed husband and being a very generous lady she coursed as a great river renowned as River Kaushiki. [1-34-8]

Now called Kos'i (Cosy) corrupted from Kaus'ika, daughter of Kusha. 'This is one of those personifications of rivers so frequent in the Grecian mythology, but in the similar myths is seen the impress of the genius of each people, austere and profoundly religious in India, graceful and devoted to the worship of external beauty in Greece.' Gorresio.

Verse Locator

दिव्या पुण्य उदका रंया हिमवंतम् उपाश्रिता ।
लोकस्य हितकार्य अर्थम् प्रवृत्ता भगिनी मम ॥ १-३४-९

9. lokasya hita kaarya artham = world's, welfare, to do [yield benefit,] desiring for; pra vR^ittaa = well, emerged; divyaa puNya udakaa ramya = divinely, pious, water, delightful; mama bhaginii = my, sister - Kaushiki river; himavantam upa aashritaa = Himavanta, [Himalayan mountains,] takes shelter [while flowing.]

"Desiring to yield benefit for the welfare of world, my sister has emerged with her divinely pious and delightful waters, taking recourse to Himalayan Mountains. [1-34-9]

If the first compound is lokasya hita kaama artham then 'to accord both mortal and immortal happiness; paara laukika, aihika saukhyam . My sister's holy waves are hurled / To purify and glad the world. - Griffith.

Verse Locator

ततो अहम् हिमवत् पार्श्वे वसामि नियतः सुखम् ।
भगिन्याम् स्नेह संयुक्तः कौशिक्या रघुनंदन ॥ १-३४-१०

10. raghu nandana = oh, Raghu's, legatee; tataH = thereby; bhaginyaam kaushikyaam [paarshve] = of sister, Kaushiki, [adjacent to]; sneha samyuktaH = affection, along with; aham = I am; niyataH = abidingly; himavat paarshve = Himalayas, on mountainsides; sukham vasaami = delightedly, I am residing.

"Thereby, oh, Rama, I am delightfully and abidingly residing on the mountainsides of Himalayas, in adjacency of my sister Kausiki in all my affection for her. [1-34-10]

Verse Locator

सा तु सत्यवती पुण्या सत्ये धर्मे प्रतिष्ठिता ।
पतिव्रता महाभागा कौशिकी सरिताम् वरा ॥ १-३४-११

11. saa satyavatii tu = she, Satyavathi, for her part; puNyaa = a pious one; satye dharme pratiSThita = truthfulness, righteousness, steadfast; pati vrataa mahaa bhaagaa = husband devote, highly, fortunate one; saritaam varaa kaushikii = among rivers, best of the, as River Kaushiki - she emerged.

"She that Satyavathi for her part is a pious one, steadfast in truthfulness and righteousness, a husband devout, and such a highly fortunate one has emerged as a best river among rivers, namely River Kaushiki. [1-34-11]

Verse Locator

अहम् हि नियमात् राम हित्वा ताम् समुपागतः ।
सिद्ध आश्रमम् अनुप्राप्तः सिद्धो अस्मि तव तेजसा ॥ १-३४-१२

12. raama = oh, Rama; aham niyamaat = I, owing to [my] vow; taam hitvaa = her, on leaving; sam upaa gataH = well, nearby [of Accomplished Hermitage,] came in; siddha aashramam anupraaptaH = to Accomplished, hermitage, I have come; tava tejasaa = by your, magnificence; siddhaH asmi = accomplished, I have.

"Owing to my vow, oh, Rama, I left her for a while and came to the Accomplished Hermitage and owing to your magnificence I have become accomplished in that vow of mine. [1-34-12]

Verse Locator

एषा राम मम उत्पत्तिः स्वस्य वंशस्य कीर्तिता ।
देशस्य च महाबाहो यन् माम् त्वम् परिपृच्छसि ॥ १-३४-१३

13. mahaabaahuH raama = oh, dextrous Rama; eSaa mama = this, is my; svasya vamshasya deshasya ca = of my, dynasty, [my] province, also - on which we are presently camping namely the riverbanks of Sona; utpattiH kiirtitaa = [my] birth, is narrated; yat tvam maam paripR^icChasi = which, you, me, have asked.

"Oh, dextrous Rama, this is all about my dynasty, my province on which we are presently camping namely the riverbanks of Sona, and about my birth, and thus everything is narrated as you have asked me. [1-34-13]

Verse Locator

गतो अर्ध रात्रः काकुत्स्थ कथाः कथयतो मम ।
निद्राम् अभ्येहि भद्रम् ते मा भूत् विघ्नो अध्वनि इह नः ॥ १-३४-१४

14. kaakutstha = oh, Rama; mama kathaaH kathayataH = by me, narration, while narrating; ardha raatraH = mid, night; gataH = is past; nidraam abhyehi = [some] sleep, you get; te bhadram = good may betide you; iha naH adhvani = here - halfway, to us, on the way; vighnaH maa abhuut = hindrance, let not, occur.

"By telling these legends it is past midnight, oh, Kakutstha, you get some sleep. Safe you be! Let no hindrance occur for us halfway on our pathway. [1-34-14]

Verse Locator

निष्पन्दाः तरवः सर्वे निलीना मृग पक्षिणः ।
नैशेन तमसा व्याप्ता दिशः च रघुनंदन ॥ १-३४-१५

15. raghu nandana = oh, Raghu's delight; taravaH niH spandaaH = trees, not, moving [standstill]; mR^iga pakSiNaH sarve ni liinaa = animals, birds, all, down, sunk - slouched; dishaH ca = confines, also; naishena tamasaa vyaaptaa = pertaining to night, darkness, are pervaded with.

"Oh, Raghu's delight, trees are standstill... animals and birds have slouched... nightly sombre has pervaded all the confines. [1-34-15]

Verse Locator

शनैः विसृज्यते संध्या नभो नेत्रैः इव आवृतम् ।
नक्षत्र तारा गहनम् ज्योतिर्भिः अवभासते ॥ १-३४-१६

16. sandhyaa shanaiH visR^ijyate = eventide, slowly, lapsed; nakSatra taaraa gahanam = stars, starlets, filled with; nabhaH = vault of heaven; jyotibhiH = with stars; netraiH aavR^itam iva = with orbs [of heaven,] overspread, as though; ava bhaasate = splendid / it is appearing.

"Eventide lapsed slowly and the vault of heaven filled with stars and starlets is splendid as though orbs of heaven are overspread on its vault. [1-34-16]

Verse Locator

उत्तिष्ठते च शीतांशुः शशी लोक तमो नुदः ।

ह्लादयन् प्राणिनाम् लोके मनांसि प्रभया स्वया ॥ १-३४-१७

17. shiita amshuH shashii = who has coolant, moonbeams, the moon; loka tamaH nudaH = of world, darkness, while dissipating; svayaa prabhayaa = with his own, with brilliance; loke praaNinaam manaamsi = in world, living beings', hearts; hlaadayan = gladdening; uttiSThate ca = is rising, also.

"Also, dissipating the darkness of the world with his brilliance, the moon with coolant moonbeams is rising up, gladdening the hearts of worldly beings. [1-34-17]

Verse Locator

नैशानि सर्व भूतानि प्रचरन्ति ततः ततः ।

यक्ष राक्षस संघाः च रौद्राः च पिशित अशनाः ॥ १-३४-१८

18. naishaani = those beings that move in night - nightly beings; sarva bhuutaani = all, beings of; yakSas raakSasa sanghaaH ca = yaksha-s, demon, bands, even; raudraaH pishita ashanaaH ca = ferocious, raw flesh, eaters [ogres,] even; tataH tataH = there, there; pra caranti = are [now] milling about - astir.

"Now, the bands of yaksha-s, demons, even the ferocious ogres that feed on raw flesh, why them, all the beings that take pleasure in nights are astir, far and wide." So said Vishvamitra to Rama. [1-34-18]

Verse Locator

एवम् उक्त्वा महातेजा विरराम महामुनिः ।

साधु साधु इति ते सर्वे मुनयो हि अभ्यपूजयन् ॥ १-३४-१९

19. mahaa tejaa mahaa muniH = great-resplendent, eminent, saint; evam uktvaa = this way, on saying; vi ra raama = verily, paused; sarve munayaH = all, saints; saadhu saadhu iti = well-said, well-said thus as; tam abhyapuujayan [abhi apuujayan] = him, verily, revered.

Saying so that greatly resplendent and eminent saint Vishvamitra paused, and then all the other sages have revered him saying, "well-said, well-said." [1-34-19]

Verse Locator

कुशिकनाम् अयम् वंशो महान् धर्मपरः सदा ।

ब्रह्म उपमा महात्मनः कुशवंश्या नरोत्तम ॥ १-३४-२०

20. kushikanaam = pertaining to Kusha's progeny; ayam vamshaH mahaan = this, dynasty is, sublime; sadaa dharma paraH = always, to righteousness, dedicated to; kusha vamshyaaH = those belonging to Kusha's lineage; nara uttamaH = men - mankind, the best ones among; mahaa aatmanaH = highly reverential ones; brahma upamaa = Brahma, in simile to - symbolise with.

"Sublime is this lineage of Kusha dynasty which always dedicated itself to righteousness, and the dynasts of Kusha are the best ones among mankind, and they symbolise with god Brahma himself, thus they are highly reverential." Thus the other sages have applauded Vishvamitra and his dynasty. [1-34-20]

Verse Locator

विशेषेण भवान् एव विश्वामित्र महायशः ।

कौशिकी सरिताम् श्रेष्ठः कुल उद्योतकरी तव ॥ १-३४-२१

21. mahaayashaHvishvaamitra = oh, highly renowned, Vishvamitra; bhavaan eva = you, alone; visheSeNa = especially - are exemplary, selfsame to Brahma; saritaam shreSThaH = among rivers, prominent one; kaushikii = River Kaushiki [sister of Vishvamitra]; tava kula udyotakarii = your, ancestry, she is glorifying.

"You alone are exemplarily selfsame to Brahma, oh, Vishvamitra of great-renown, and among rivers that prominent River Kaushiki is your sister, thus she is glorifying your ancestry." Thus the sages lauded Vishvamitra. [1-34-21]

Verse Locator

मुदितैः मुनि शार्दूलैः प्रशस्तः कुशिक आत्मजः ।

निद्राम् उपागमत् श्रीमान् अस्तम् गत इव अंशुमान् ॥ १-३४-२२

22. [iti = in this way]; muni shaarduulaiH prashastaH = by sages, tigerly ones, one who is lauded - Vishvamitra; shriimaan kushika aatmajaH = magnificent one, Kushi's, son - Vishvamitra; muditaiH = is pleased; astam gata = to dusk, one has gone in; amshumaan iva = one having sunrays [sun,] as with; nidraam upa aagamat = sleep, nearer, came nearby - slept; or, shriimaan astam iva aMshumaan = like the resplendent sun going to western mountain to take rest for that day, Vishvamitra drifted into sleep.

Sage Vishvamitra is pleased when those tigerly sages have laude him, and then that magnificent sage Vishvamitra lapsed into the lap of sleep, as the sun lapses into lap of dusk for that day. [1-34-22]

Verse Locator

रामो अपि सह सौमित्रिः किञ्चित् आगत विस्मयः ।

प्रशस्य मुनि शार्दूलम् निद्राम् समुपसेवते ॥ १-३४-२३

23. saha saumitriH raamaH api = with, Soumitri, Rama, even; kimcit aagata vismayaH = a little, came upon, astonishment; muni shaarduulam prashasya = sage, tigerly, on applauding; nidraam sam upa sevate = sleep, well, nearly, held dear [Rama served the Goddess of Sleep, Nidra Devi; glided into Her lap of Sleep.]

Even Rama with a little astonishment coming upon him, applauding that tigerly-sage, and glided into the lap of sleep along with Soumitri. [1-34-23]

Verse Locator

इति वाल्मीकि रामायणे आदि काव्ये बाल काण्डे चतुर् त्रिंशः सर्गः

Thus, this is the 34th chapter in Bala Kanda of Valmiki Ramayana, the First Epic poem of India.

Book I : Bala Kanda - The Youthful Majesties

chapter / sarga 35

Verses converted to UTF-8, Sept 09

Introduction

Sage Vishvamitra along with others reach the banks of River Ganga and they make their sojourn on that riverbank. There when Rama inquisitively enquires about River Ganga Vishvamitra narrates the legend of Ganga, as to how she is taken to heavens by gods from her father Himalayas.

Verse Locator

उपास्य रात्रि शेषम् तु शोणा कूले महर्षिभिः ।

निशायाम् सुप्रभातायाम् विश्वामित्रो अभ्यभाषत ॥ १-३५-१

1. vishvaamitraH = Viswamitra; raatri sheSam = night, remaining; maharSibhiH shoNaa kuule upaasya = with great-sages, Sona [the river,] on its bank, on sojourning; nishaayaam su prabhaataayaam = night elapsing, sunny, daybreak; abhyabhaaSata = spoke.

On sojourning the remaining night on the bank of river Sona along with great-sages, Viswamitra spoke when that night is elapsing into a sunny daybreak. [1-35-1]

Verse Locator

सुप्रभाता निशा राम पूर्वा संध्या प्रवर्तते ।

उत्तिष्ठ उत्तिष्ठ भद्रम् ते गमनाय अभिरोचय ॥ १-३५-२

2. raama = oh, Rama; nisha su prabhaataa = night [fared away,] joyous dawn; puurvaa sandhyaa pravartate = eastern, day-spring, is set in; uttiSTha uttiSTha = awake, arise; te bhadram = to you, let safe be; gamanaaya abhirocaya = for travel, be inspired to - ready yourself.

"Oh, Rama, night fared into a sunny morning, eastern day-spring is set in, hence awake and arise, you be safe, ready yourself for further travel." [1-35-2]

Verse Locator

तत् श्रुत्वा वचनम् तस्य कृत्वा पौर्व आल्लिक क्रियः ।

गमनम् रोचयामास वाक्यम् च इदम् उवाच ह ॥ १-३५-३

3. tasya tat vacanam shrutvaa = his, that, word, on hearing; Rama got up; paurva aahNika kriyaH kR^itvaa = early, morning, religious activities, on performing; gamanam rocayaamaasa = to journey on, shown interest; idam vaakyam ca uvaaca ha = this, sentence, also, said, indeed.

On hearing the words of Sage Vishvamitra, Rama woke up and on completion of morning time religious activities he readied himself for further journey and indeed spoke this sentence to the sage. [1-35-3]

अयम् शोणः शुभ जलो गाधः पुलिन मण्डितः ।
कतरेण पथा ब्रह्मन् संतरिष्यामहे वयम् ॥ १-३५-४

4. brahman = oh, Brahman; shubha jalaH = one with auspicious, waters; pulina maNDitaH = with sand-dunes, decorated with - overspread; ayam shoNaH = this, [river] Sona; gaadhaH = fordable - not so deep; vayam katareNa pathaa = we, in which of the two, ways; sam tariSyaamahe = very, easily cross it over - rather, without a boat

"This River Sona is with auspicious waters and even adorned with dunes, where it is not so deep. Oh, Brahman, in which of the two ways, namely by fordless waters or by fordable water with dunes, we have to cross this river?" [1-35-4]

Verse Locator

एवम् उक्तः तु रामेण विश्वामित्रो अब्रवीत् इदम् ।
एष पंथा मया उद्दिष्टो येन यान्ति महर्षयः ॥ १-३५-५

5. raameNa = by Rama; evam uktaH vishvaamitraH = thus, one who is spoken, Vishvamitra; idam abraviit = this, said; maharSayaH yena [panthaa] yaanti = great-sages, in which [route,] they go; eSa panthaa mayaa uddiSTaH = that, route, by me, is proposed.

When Rama spoke to him thus sage Vishvamitra replied, "I propose the same route by which these great sages are going. [1-35-5]

Verse Locator

एवम् उक्त्वा महर्षयो विश्वमित्रेण धीमता ।
पश्यन्तः ते प्रयाता वै वनानि विविधानि च ॥ १-३५-६

6. dhiimataa vishvavitreNa evam uktvaa = by astute one, Vishvamitra, thus, said; te maharSayaH = those, great sages; vividhaani vanaani pashyantaH = divers, forests, while beholding; prayaataa vai = they travelled, indeed.

Thus spoken by that astute Sage Vishvamitra, the other great sages travelled on, indeed beholding diverse forests and their environs. [1-35-6]

Verse Locator

ते गत्वा दूरम् अध्वानम् गते अर्ध दिवसे तदा ।
जाह्नवीम् सरिताम् श्रेष्ठाम् ददृशुर् मुनि सेविताम् ॥ १-३५-७

7. te duuram adhvaanam gatvaa = they, a distance, on their way, on going; tadaa ardha divase gate = then, half, day, while elapsing; muni sevitaam = by sages, adored; saritaam shreSThaam = among rivers, prominent one; jaahnaviim = River Ganga; dadR^ishuH = they perceived.

On going a distance on their way, and after a lapse of half a day, then they perceived the prominent one among rivers and the one adored by sages, namely River Ganga. [1-35-7]

Verse Locator

ताम् दृष्ट्वा पुण्य सलिलाम् हंस सारस सेविताम् ।
बभूवुर् मुनयः सर्वे मुदिता सह राघवाः ॥ १-३५-८

8. puNya salilaam = one with pious, waters; hamsa saarasa sevitaam = by swans, by saarasa [waterfowls,] adored by; taam dR^iSTvaa = at her [Ganga], on seeing; saha

raaghavaaH = along with, Raghava-s, Rama and Lakshmana; sarve munayaH muditaa babhuuvuH = all, saints, delighted, they became.

On seeing River Ganga with her pious waters and adored by swans and saarasa waterfowls, all the sages felt delighted together with both of the Raghava-s, namely Rama and Lakshmana. [1-35-8]

Verse Locator

तस्याः तीरे ततः चक्रुः ते आवास परिग्रहम् ।
ततः स्नात्वा यथा न्यायम् संतर्प्य पितृ देवताः ॥ १-३५-९
हुत्वा चैव अग्निहोत्राणि प्राश्य च अमृतवत् हविः ।
विविशुर् जाह्नवी तीरे शुभा मुदित मानसाः ॥ १-३५-१०
विश्वामित्रम् महात्मानम् परिवार्य समंततः ।

9, 10, 11a. tataH te = then, they; tasyaaH tiire = on her, banks; aavaasa parigraham cakruH = sojourn, taking, they have done - they camped there; tataH snaatvaa = then, taking bath; yathaa nyaayam = as per, custom; pitR^i devataaH = to fatherly, gods - to manes; sam tarpya = offered oblations; agni hotraaNi hutvaa ca eva = ritual fire, enkindled, also, thus - performed fire oblations; amR^ita vat = ambrosia, like; haviH ca praashya = oblation items, also, on dining; mudita maanasaaH = contented, at hearts - in oblation at river Ganga; mahaatmaanam vishvaamitram = great-souled one, Vishwamitra; sam antataH parivaarya = all around, surrounding; shubhaa jaahnavii tiire = on propitious, Ganga, on the banks; vivishuH = they perched.

Then they sojourned on the riverbank of Ganga, and next on taking bath in Ganga they have customarily offered that river's water as oblations to their manes. After that, on enkindling the ritual-fire they have also offered fire-oblations into it for gods. Later, dining on their part of those ambrosian oblations with which they have obliterated the fire, those sages perched on the propitious banks of Ganga, surrounding the great-souled Vishwamitra from all sides, to the contentment of their heart in having performed religious chores on the riverbank of Ganga. [1-35-9, 10, 11a]

Verse Locator

विष्टिताः च यथा न्यायम् राघवो च यथा अर्हम् ।
संप्रहृष्ट मना रामो विश्वामित्रम् अथ अब्रवीत् ॥ १-३५-११

11b. viSTitaaH ca = [when sages are] sitting at ease; raaghavau ca = Rama and Lakshmana, also; yathaa nyaayam yathaa arham = as per custom, as, admissible; atha = then; raamaH = Rama; sam pra hr^iSTa manaasa = very, well, gladdened, at heart; vishvaamitram abraviit = to Vishwamitra, spoke.

When sages are sitting at ease then even Rama and Lakshmana sat down according to their admissibility and custom of sitting before their teachers, and then Rama highly gladdened at heart has spoken to Vishwamitra. [1-35-11]

Verse Locator

भगवन् श्रोतुम् इच्छामि गङ्गाम् त्रि पथ गाम् नदीम् ।
त्रैलोक्यम् कथम् आक्रम्य गता नद नदीपतिम् ॥ १-३५-१२

12. bhagavan = oh, god; tri patha gaam = in three, ways, coursing; ga~Ngaam nadiim = about Ganga, river; shrotum icChaami = to listen, I wish; trai lokyam aakramya = three, worlds, on pervading; nada nadii patim = at rivulet, river, husband of - ocean; katham gataa = how, she reached.

"Oh, godly sage, I wish to listen about Ganga, the river that has a trinal course, and as to how she is reaching the husband of rivulets and rivers, namely the ocean, on pervading all the three worlds." Thus Rama asked Vishvamitra. [1-35-12]

Verse Locator

चोदितो राम वाक्येन विश्वामित्रो महामुनिः ।
वृद्धिम् जन्म च गंगाया वक्तुम् एव उपचक्रमे ॥ १-३५-१३

13. raama vaakyena coditH = by Rama's, words, motivated; vishvaamitrH mahaamuniH = Vishvamitra, eminent-sage; gangaayaaH = of Ganga; janma vR^iddhim ca eva = emergence, progression, also, that way; vaktum upacakrame = to narrate, thus, commenced.

Motivated by Rama's words the eminent-sage Vishvamitra commenced to narrate about the emergence and that way even about the progression of River Ganga. [1-35-13]

Verse Locator

शैलेन्द्रो हिमवान् राम धातूनाम् आकरो महान् ।
तस्य कन्या द्वयम् राम रूपेण अप्रतिमम् भुवि ॥ १-३५-१४

14. raama = oh, Rama; dhaatuunaam mahaan aakaraH = for minerals, greatest, repository - treasure trove of; himavaan [naama] = Himavan, [named]; shaila indraH = mountains', lord [is there]; tasya = to him; rupeNa = by virtue of comeliness; bhuvi a pratimam = on earth, without, another - unequalled; kanyaa dvayam = daughters, pair of; is there.

"The lordly mountain Himavan who is the greatest treasure trove of minerals, Rama, also treasures up a pair of daughters who by their comeliness are unequalled on earth. [1-35-14]

Verse Locator

या मेरु दुहिता राम तयोर् माता सुमध्यमा ।
नाम्ना मेना मनोज्ञा वै पत्नी हिमवतः प्रिया ॥ १-३५-१५

15. raama = oh, Rama; naamnaa menaa [naama] = by name, Mena, [she who is renowned like that]; yaa meru duhitaa = she who is, Mt. Meru's, daughter; su madhyamaa = to that slender-waisted one; manoj~naa = fascinating one; himavataH patnii priyaa = Himavan's, dear, wife; tayoH maataa vai = their, mother, indeed.

"The slender-waisted and fascinating daughter of Mt. Meru, oh, Rama, renowned by her name Mena, is the dear wife of Himavan and the mother of those two daughters, indeed. [1-35-15]

Verse Locator

तस्याम् गंग इयम् अभवत् ज्येष्ठा हिमवतः सुता ।
उमा नाम द्वितीया अभूत् कन्या तस्य एव राघव ॥ १-३५-१६

16. raaghava = oh, Raghava; iyam ganga = this, Ganga; himavataH = Himavan's; jyeSThaa sutaa = as elder, daughter; tasyaam abhavat = from her [Mena,] emerged; tasya eva = to him, that way; [naamnaa = by name]; umaa naama = Uma, renowned as; dvitiiyaa kanyaa abhuut = second, daughter, became - emerged.

"This Ganga has emerged as an elder daughter to Himavan through Mena, oh, Raghava, and that way a girl renowned by the name Uma has become a second daughter to him. [1-35-16]

Verse Locator

अथ ज्येष्ठाम् सुराः सर्वे देव कार्यं चिकीर्षया ।

शैलेन्द्रम् वरयामासुः गंगाम् त्रि पथ गाम् नदीम् ॥ १-३५-१७

17. atha = later; sarve suraaH = all, gods; deva kaarya cikiirSayaa = divine, purpose, interested in; tri patha gaam nadiim = who will ultimately become - three, way, cruising, river; jyeSThaam gangaam = elder one, Ganga is; shailendram varayaamaasuH = mountain, lordly one - Himavan, sought him.

"Later, all of the divinities intending to fulfil a divine purpose have sought the lordly mountain Himavan to spare Ganga, who is scheduled to become a tri-way-cruising river. [1-35-17]

Verse Locator

ददौ धर्मेण हिमवान् तनयाम् लोक पावनीम् ।

स्वच्छंद पथ गाम् गंगाम् त्रैलोक्य हित कांयया ॥ १-३५-१८

18. himavaan dharmeNa = Himavan, with a righteous mind; traia lokya hita kaamyayaa = for three, worlds, welfare, hopeful of; loka paavaniim = worlds, one who is a sanctifier; svacChanda patha gaam = volitionally, in her way, on who flows; tanayaam gangaam dadau = daughter, Ganga, he spared.

"With a righteous thinking and hopeful of the welfare in triadic world, Himavan then spared his daughter Ganga whose flow is at her own volition. [1-35-18]

Verse Locator

प्रतिगृह्य त्रिलोक अर्थम् त्रिलोक हित कांक्षिणः ।

गंगाम् आदाय ते अगच्छन् कृतार्थेन अंतरात्मना ॥ १-३५-१९

19. tataH = then; te [devaaH] = those, [gods]; tri loka hita kaankshiNaH [kaariNaH] = for three, world's, well-being, wishing [she who causes weal]; tri loka artham = for three, world's, purpose of; gangaam = Ganga; prati gR^ihya aadaaya = in turn, taking [on receiving, welcoming,] took with them; kR^ita arthena antar aatmanaa = fulfilled, of purpose, in inner, soul; agacChan = came back - to heaven.

"Those divinities who are the well-wishers of the well-being of tri-world welcomed Ganga, who is incidentally intended for the purpose of the tri-world, and they came back to heaven fetching Ganga with them, with a heartfelt joy for their purpose is fulfilled. [1-35-19]

Verse Locator

या च अन्या शैल दुहिता कन्या आसीत् रघुनंदन ।

उग्रम् सुव्रतम् आस्थाय तपः तपे तपोधना ॥ १-३५-२०

20. raghunandana = oh, Raghu's descendent; anyaa shaila duhitaa = other, mountain's [Himavanta's], daughter; yaa kanyaa aasiit = which, unmarried girl, is there; [saa = she]; tapaH dhanaa = her asceticism, is her wealth; ugram su vratam aasthaaya = rigorous, supreme, devoutness, taking hold of; tapaH tepe = sacrament, performed.

"The other daughter of Himavanta, oh, Raghu's descendent, that unmarried girl namely Uma, she performed a rigorous sacrament taking hold of a supreme devoutness as her asceticism itself is her wealth. [1-35-20]

Verse Locator

उग्रेण तपसा युक्ताम् ददौ शैलवरः सुताम् ।

रुद्राय अप्रतिरूपाय उमाम् लोक नमस्कृताम् ॥ १-३५-२१

21. shaila varaH = mountain, best [Himavanta]; ugreNa tapasaa yuktaam = one who is - rigorous, sacrament, unified with; loka namaskR^itaam = one who is - by worlds, adored; sutaam umaam = daughter, Uma is; a prati ruupaaya = one with - no, coequal, in aspect [unequalled one, unique god]; rudraaya dadau = to Rudra, gave - in marriage.

"As for Uma who is unified with her rigorous sacrament and who is adored by all the world, that best one among mountains Himavanta gave such a daughter to the unique god Rudra. [1-35-21]

Verse Locator

एते ते शैल राजस्य सुते लोक नमस्कृते ।
गंगा च सरिताम् श्रेष्ठा उमादेवी च राघव ॥ १-३५-२२

22. raaghava = oh, Raghava; saritaam shreSThaa gangaa ca = among rivers, prominent one Ganga, also; umaa devii ca = Uma Devi, also; ete te shaila raajasya = these, they two, mountain, king's - Himavan's; loka namaskR^ite sute = by world, revered, daughters.

"Oh, Raghava, the prominent one among rivers namely Ganga and Uma Devi as well, these are the two daughters of the king of mountains that are highly revered by the world. [1-35-22]

Verse Locator

एतत् ते सर्वम् आख्यातम् यथा त्रि पथ गामिनी ।
खम् गता प्रथमम् तात गतिम् गतिमताम् वर ॥ १-३५-२३

23. gati mataam vara = in cruising, [of life] of people, best one; or, one who has beautiful gait - Rama; taata = oh, dear boy; tri patha gaaminii = three, way, cruising; prathamam yathaa = firstly, as to how; kham gataa = to heavens, cruised; etat gatim = all about, cruising; te sarvam aakhyaatam = to you, all in all, is related.

"Dear boy Rama with beautiful gait, as to how the triply coursing Ganga has cruised to heaven in the first phase, I have related all about that cruise to you. [1-35-23]

The three-way coursing of the river is firstly as Ganga in the lap of Himalayas. Then when she cruised heavenward with divinities as Deva Ganga, or Mandaakini or Sudiirghika, it is second. Later, when she came to earth from heaven and gone into ocean and even to netherworlds as Jahnavi, it is the third. There are variations for this. Some say that the river's entry into sky is the first, by taking words gati mataam vara, gati and deriving meaning as - which sky grants a path for all moving things etc., and the next is her entry to heaven, and nextly her coming to earth. And some say that gods have not left her in middle of the sky to come to heaven at a later time, and hence her three courses are as Ganga, Mandaakini, and Jahnavi.

Verse Locator

स एषा सुर नदी रंया शैलेन्द्र तनया तदा ।
सुर लोकम् समारूढा विपापा जल वाहिनी ॥ १-३५-२४

24. ramyaa = marvellous one; vi paapaa = without, sins; jala vaahinii = in the form of waters, one that flows; saa eSaa = such as she is; shaila indra tanayaa = mountain, lord's, daughter; tadaa = then; sura nadii = divine, river; on becoming; sura lokam sam aaruuDhaa = divinity's, abode [to heaven], well, ascended.

"As such, that marvellous and sinless daughter of the lordly mountain Himavanta, ever-flowing in the form of water, ascended to the abode of divinities and became deva ganga , Divine River. [1-35-24]

Verse Locator

इति वाल्मीकि रामायणे आदि काव्ये बाल काण्डे पंच त्रिंशः सर्गः

Thus, this is the 35th chapter in Bala Kanda of Valmiki Ramayana, the First Epic poem of India.

Book I : Bala Kanda - The Youthful Majesties

chapter / sarga 36
Verses converted to UTF-8, Sept 09

Introduction

Shiva on his marriage with Uma is in the conjugal bliss for a long period due to his yogic powers. Fearing the result of that prolonged activity all gods prey for the cessation of it because none in any world can carry that offspring. Shiva accepting that request asks them where to discharge the sperm that has already stirred up. Gods indicate the earth as the taker. Shiva accordingly inundates the earth with his fluid. Then the Fire-god is dispatched to consolidate that into a reed forest called sharavaNa . Goddess Uma ireful at the prevention of begetting a son, now curses gods and earth to be childless.

Verse Locator

उक्त वाक्ये मुनौ तस्मिन् उभौ राघव लक्ष्मणौ ।
प्रतिनंद्य कथाम् वीरौ ऊचतुः मुनि पुंगवम् ॥ १-३६-१

1. tasmin munau = = that, sage; ukta vaakye = who has spoken word - who said so - finished narration; viirau raaghava lakSmaNau ubhau = brave, Raghava, Lakshmana, both; kathaam prati nandya = at the story, in turn, praised it; muni punigavam uucatuH = to, sage, eminent, spoke.

When that sage Vishvamitra has finished narration of the legend of the daughters of Himavanta, both the brave ones, namely Raghava and Lakshmana in their turn have extolled that legend and spoke to that eminent-sage. [1-36-1]

Verse Locator

धर्म युक्तम् इदम् ब्रह्मन् कथितम् परमम् त्वया ।
दुहितुः शैल राजस्य ज्येष्ठाय वक्तुम् अर्हसि ।
विस्तरम् विस्तरज्ञो असि दिव्य मानुष संभवम् ॥ १-३६-२

2. brahman = oh, Brahman; dharma yuktam = righteousness, exhaustive of; paramam = admirable - story; idam = this; tvayaa kathitam = by you, discoursed; shaila raajasya jyeSThaaya duhituH = mountain, king [Himavanta] elder, daughter of [Ganga]; divya maanuSa sambhavam = divine, humanly [legend,] happenings; vistaram vaktum arhhasi = emphatically, to tell, apt of you; vistara j~naH asi = expatiation, knower - aware of, you are.

"This admirable discourse given by you about Ganga is exhaustive in righteousness, oh, Brahman, and it will be apt of you to tell emphatically about the divine and earthly legend of the elder daughter of Himavanta, namely Ganga, for you are aware to expatiate upon it. [1-36-2]

Verse Locator

त्रीन् पथो हेतुना केन पावयेत् लोक पावनी ।
कथम् गङ्गा त्रिपथगा विश्रुता सरित् उत्तमा ॥ १-३६-३

3, 4a. loka paavanii = worlds, purifier of - Ganga; kena hetunaa = by which, reason; triin pathaH plaavayet = three, paths, she is flooding - flowing; dharma j~na = oh, virtue-knower [Vishvamisra]; tri patha gaa = in three, way, coursing; ga~Ngaa = Ganga; kaiH karmabhiH samanvitaa = by which, deeds, she is connected with - deeds of merit; triSu lokeSu = in three, worlds; sarit uttamaa = among rivers, the best one; [katham = in which way]; vi shrutaa well, known - renowned.

"By which reason that world purifier Ganga influxes into three paths? Oh, virtue-knower, and connected with which deeds of merit this triple-courser Ganga is renowned as the best one among all the rivers in three worlds?" Thus Rama and Lakshmana have asked the sage Vishvamisra. [1-36-3, 4a]

Verse Locator

तथा ब्रुवति काकुत्स्थे विश्वामित्रः तपोधनः ॥ १-३६-४

निखिलेन कथाम् सर्वाम् ऋषि मध्ये न्यवेदयत् ।

4b, 5a. kaakutsthe tathaa bruvati = by Kakutstha-s [Rama, Lakshmana,] that way, said; tapaH dhanaH vishvaamisraH = ascetic-wealthy, Vishvamisra; sarvaam kathaam nikhilena = all, legend, in entirety; R^iSi madhye nyavedayat = sages, among, submitted - spoken.

When Kakutstha-s have enquired that way, the ascetically-wealthy sage Vishvamisra has narrated all the legend of Ganga in its entirety, staying among the sages. [1-36-4b, 5a]

Verse Locator

पुरा राम कृत उद्वाहः शिति कण्ठो महा तपाः ॥ १-३६-५

दृष्ट्वा च भगवान् देवीम् मैथुनाय उपचक्रमे ।

5b, 6a. raama = oh, Rama; puraa kR^ita udvaahaH = once, getting, married [to Uma]; mahaa tapaaH shiti kaNThaH = sublime, ascetic, blue, throated god - Shiva; deviim = consort [Shiva's consort, Goddess Uma]; dR^iSTvaa = on seeing - having a penchant; bhagavaan maithunaaya upacakrame = God - Siva, for lovemaking, began.

"On his getting married to Uma, oh, Rama, the sublime-ascetic and bluish throated god Shiva, as his throat became blue when he consumed poison during the churning of Milky Ocean, at one time with a predilection towards her he has started lovemaking with her. [1-36-5b, 6a]

Verse Locator

तस्य संक्रीडमानस्य महादेवस्य धीमतः ।

शितिकण्ठस्य देवस्य दिव्यम् वर्षं शतम् गतम् ॥ १-३६-६

न च अपि तनयो राम तस्याम् आसीत् परंतप ।

6b, c, 7. param tapa raama = oh, enemy-scorcher, Rama; mahaa dhiimataH = of that sagacious one; devasya shitikaNThasya samkriiDamaanasya = of god, blue-throated Shiva, while nuptial merrymaking - lovemaking; tasya devasya = of that, god's; divyam varSa shatam gatam = divine, years, hundred, elapsed; api ca = even, also - even then; tasyaam = in her - in Uma; tanayaH na aasiit = son, has not, become - not born.

"While that sublime, sagacious and blue-throated God Shiva is in lovemaking, oh, enemy-scorcher Rama, a hundred divine years have elapsed, even then he had no son in her, namely Goddess Uma. [1-36-6b, c, 7]

The hundred divine years are said to be 36,000 mortal years and this goes with the calculation of yuga Indian 'era' calculation where two thousand of four yuga-s, kR^ita, treta, dvaapara, kali yuga-s are one brahma dina Brahma's day etc.

सर्वे देवाः समुद्युक्ताः पितामह पुरोगमाः ॥ १-३६-७

यत् इह उत्पद्यते भूतम् कः तत् प्रतिसहिष्यति ।

7b, 8a. [tataH = then]; pitaamaha purogamaaH = Forefather [Brahma], going before-leading the delegation; devaaH = gods; thought among themselves; iha = in this - goddess Uma; yat bhuutam utpadyate = which, being, emerges; tat = that being; kaH prati sahiSyati = who, in turn [inevitably], sustains; thinking so; sarve samudyuktaaH [sam udyuktaaH, = all, prepared for action; [or, sam udvignaa = all are worried.]

"All the gods headed by Brahma have then started to ponder, 'is there anybody who can inevitably sustain that being which emerges from this goddess Uma after this prolonged yogic act of copulation with Shiva?' This being the worry of all gods they have prepared for action. [1-36-7b, 8a]

Verse Locator

अभिगंय सुराः सर्वे प्रणिपत्य इदम् अब्रुवन् ॥ १-३६-८

देव देव महादेव लोकस्य अस्य हिते रत ।

सुराणाम् प्रणिपातेन प्रसादम् कर्तुम् अर्हसि ॥ १-३६-९

8b, 9. suraaH sarve abhi gamya = gods, all of them, towards, on going - on approaching Shiva; praNipatya idam abruvan = paying deference to [Siva,] this, they spoke; deva deva = oh, God of Gods, asya lokasya hite rata = of this, world's, welfare, oh, one who is interested in; mahaa deva = oh, Great-God; suraaNaam = of gods, such as we are; our; praNipaaten = by [consideration of] supplication; prasaadam kartum arhasi = grace, to bestow, apt of you.

"All of the gods on approaching and paying their deference to Shiva spoke this to him, 'oh, God of Gods, oh, one who is interested in the welfare of these worlds, oh, Great-God, considering the supplication of all gods it will be apt of you to bestow grace.' [1-36-8b, 9]

This prolonged act of copulation is an act of yoga called mahaa maithuna. The Shaktaite Tantriks who practise panca ma kaara : madya, maamsa, matsya, mudra, maithuna 'liquor' 'mutton' 'fish' 'postures' [loosely: callisthenics] and 'copulation' make use of these things. In these practises, the yogis use mudra-s 'posture' 'callisthenics' at the time of copulation even, so that there will be no ejaculation for a longer period. This is their 'Five-element theory...'

Verse Locator

न लोका धारयिष्यन्ति तव तेजः सुरोत्तम ।

ब्राह्मेण तपसा युक्तो देव्या सह तपः चर ॥ १-३६-१०

त्रैलोक्य हित काम अर्थम् तेजः तेजसि धारय ।

रक्ष सर्वान् इमान् लोकान् न अलोकम् कर्तुम् अर्हसि ॥ १-३६-११

10, 11. sura uttama = oh, of gods, supreme one - oh, supreme god; tava tejaH = your, offspring born out of your effulgence; lokaa na dhaarayiSyanti = worlds, cannot be, capable to bear; braahmeNa tapasaa yuktaH = as per Vedic ancillary [Yoga,] postulates of asceticism, unified with; devyaa saha = with Goddess Uma, along with; tapaH cara = asceticism, you practise; trailokya hita kaama artham = three, world's, welfare, desiring; tejaH tejasi dhaaraya = your refulgent seed, in your own radiance, you sustain. rakSa sarvaan imaan lokaan = protect, all, these, worlds [in universe]; na a lokam kartum arhasi = not, devoid of [annihilate], worlds [in universe,] to render, apt of you

" 'Worlds cannot capably bear your offspring born out of your effulgence, oh, Supreme-God, hence you may practice yogic asceticism along with your consort Goddess Uma in unison with Vedic postulates of Yoga, rather than progeniture, and desiring the welfare of the three worlds you may please retain your refulgent seed within your own radiance, thus protect this universe, since it will not be apt of you to render it devoid of worlds with the efflux of the unmanageable potency of yours .' So said gods to Shiva. [1-36-10, 11]

The word tejas also means semen, or offspring, besides resplendence tejaH paraakrame praaNe varcas arciShi retasi - ratnamaala thus the prospective offspring through ejaculation is the problem here, because Kumara, or, Skanda takes birth with all the irrepressible effulgence of Shiva, plus his own.

Verse Locator

देवतानाम् वचः श्रुत्वा सर्व लोक महेश्वरः ।
बाढम् इति अब्रवीत् सर्वान् पुनः च इदम् उवाच ह ॥ १-३६-१२

12. sarva loka maheshvaraH = all, universe's, Rarefied-God [Shiva]; devataanaam vacaH shrutvaa = of gods, words, on listening; baaDham = = so be it; iti abraviit thus, said to them; punaH = again - further; sarvaan = to all gods; idam uvaaca ha = this, spoke, indeed.

"On listening the words of gods that Rarefied-God of Universe, namely Shiva said, 'so be it,' and further spoke this to all of the gods, indeed. [1-36-12]

Verse Locator

धारयिष्यामि अहम् तेजः तेजसि एव सह उमया ।
त्रिदशाः पृथिवी चैव निर्वाणम् अधिगच्छतु ॥ १-३६-१३

13. umayaa saha aham = Uma, along with, I; tejaH tejasi eva = sperm, in virility; dhaarayiSyami = I wish to bear; tridashaaH pr^ithivii caiva = divinities [immortals,] earthly [mortals,] also; nirvaaNam adhigacChatu = perfect bliss, enter upon derive.

" 'I wish to bear my sperm in my virility and Uma in hers, let the immortals and mortals as well, derive a perfect bliss. [1-36-13]

Verse Locator

यद् इदम् क्षुभितम् स्थानात् मम तेजो हि अनुत्तमम् ।
धारयिष्यति कः तत् मे ब्रुवन्तु सुर सत्तमाः ॥ १-३६-१४

14. mama = mine; anuttamam = unexcelled [semen]; yat = that which; idam tejaH = this, refulgence is, semen is; sthaanaat kSubhitam = from its place, stirred up; tat = that, that much semen; kaH dhaarayiSyati = who, will bear; sura sattamaaH = oh, gods, eminent ones; regarding that; me bruvantu = to me, you tell.

" 'But that part which has already stirred up from its place is irrestrainable, as such, oh gods of eminence, you tell me who can contain that part of the unexcelled potency.' So said Shiva to gods. [1-36-14]

Verse Locator

एवम् उक्ताः ततो देवाः प्रत्यूचुर् वृषभ ध्वजम् ।
यत् तेजः क्षुभितम् हि अद्य तद् धरा धारयिष्यति ॥ १-३६-१५

15. evam uktaaH = thus, who are spoken to [by Shiva]; tataH = then; devaaH = gods; vR^iSabha dhvajam = Divine-Bull, bannered [god Shiva]; prati uucuH = in reply, spoke to; yat tejaH kSubhitam = that which, sperm, stirred up; tat adya = that - part, now; dharaa dhaarayiSyati hi = earth, endures, indeed.

"Thus spoken by Shiva, then the gods in reply spoke to him whose banner is Divine-Bull, namely Shiva, 'that part of the potency which has already stirred up, the earth indeed endures that now. [1-3-15]

Verse Locator

एवम् उक्तः सुर पतिः प्रमुमोच महाबलः ।

तेजसा पृथिवी येन व्याप्ता स गिरि कानना ॥ १-३६-१६

16. evam uktaH = thus, said [by gods]; sura patiH = god's, god; yena tejasaa = by which, refulgence - of Shiva; sa giri kaananaa pR^ithivii = with, mountains, forests, earth is; vyaaptaa = overspread; such a refulgence; [mahii tale = on earth's, surface]; mahaabalaH = greatly virile one [Yogi, of par excellence]; pra mumoca = well, discharged.

"Thus said by the gods that Yogi of par excellence and the God of Gods, Shiva, discharged his refulgent semen with which the earth together with its mountains and forests is overspread. [1-36-16]

Verse Locator

ततो देवाः पुनर् इदम् ऊचुः च अपि हुताशनम् ।

आविश त्वम् महातेजो रौद्रम् वायु समन्वितः ॥ १-३६-१७

17. tataH = thereby; devaaH = gods; punaH = in turn; huta ashanam api = to Fire-oblations, consumer [Fire-god,] even; idam uucuH ca = this, said, also; tvam vaayu samanvitaH = you, Wind-god, along with; raudram = pertaining to Rudra; mahaatejaH = his semen, great-potence; aavisha = enter.

"Thereby the gods in their turn said even to Fire-god, 'you enter the great-potence of Rudra along with Wind-god, lest that potency may annihilate the earth and earthlings, because you can consume anything that comes in touch with you. [1-36-17]

Verse Locator

तद् अग्निना पुनर् व्याप्तम् संजातम् श्वेत पर्वतम् ।

दिव्यम् शरवणम् चैव पावक आदित्य संनिभम् ॥ १-३६-१८

यत्र जातो महातेजाः कार्तिकेयो अग्नि संभवः ।

18, 19a. agninaa = by Fire-god; vyaaptam = pervaded; tat = that great-potence; punaH = again; shveta parvatam sam jaatam = as white, mountain, well, emerged; paavaka aaditya samnibham = Fire, Sun, equal in shine; divyam shara vaNam caiva = divine, reeds, forest, also thus; it has become; yatra = wherefrom; mahaatejaaH = highly brilliant; agni sambhavaH = one who is born out of the refulgence of Shiva through Fire-god; kaartikeyaH = one who is suckled by Krittika-s; jaataH = has emerged.

"And when Fire-god invaded that great-potence of Shiva it has emerged as White-mountain, also thus it has become as a divine forest of reeds equalling the Sun and Fire in its resplendence, wherefrom the highly brilliant Kumara has emerged. [1-36-18, 19a]

Because Kumara, or Skanda took birth through Fire-god from the great-potence of Shiva, he is called the one born out of fire. Because Krittika stars have suckled him he is also called as Kaaritkeya. The birth and legend of Kaartikeya is detailed in the next chapter relating to Ganga.

Verse Locator

अथ उमाम् च शिवम् चैव देवाः स ऋषि गणाः तदा ॥ १-३६-१९

पूजयामासुः अत्यर्थम् सुप्रीत मनसः ततः ।

19b, 20a. atha = later; sa R^iSi gaNaaH devaaH = with, sages, assemblages of, gods; tataH = thereby, as it has happened so; su priita manasaH = well, pleased, at heart; tadaa = then; umaam ca shivam caiva = Uma, also, Shiva, also thus; ati artham puujayaamaasuH = fulsomely, adored.

"Later on, the gods together with the assemblages of sages are well pleased at heart as it has happened according to their prayer, thereby they fulsomely adored Shiva and even Uma. [1-36-

अथ शैल सुता राम त्रिदशान् इदम् अब्रवीत् ॥ २०

समन्युः अशपत् सर्वान् क्रोध संरक्त लोचना ।

20b, 21a. raama = oh, Rama; atha = then; shaila sutaa = mountain's, daughter - Uma; sa manyuH = with, ire; tridashaan idam abraviit = to divinities, this, said; krodha sam rakta locanaa = in anger, with, reddened, eyes; sarvaan ashapat = all of them, cursed.

"Oh, Rama, but the daughter of Himalayan Mountain, namely Uma, while irefully saying this to the divinities she cursed them all with her eyes reddened in anger. [1-36-20b, 21a]

यस्मात् निवारिता च अहम् संगता पुत्र कांयया ॥ १-३६-२१

अपत्यम् स्वेषु दारेषु न उत्पदयितुम् अर्हथ ।

21b, 22a. yasmaat = wherefore; putra kaamyayaa = son, desirous of; aham samgataa ni vaarita = I am, from intimacy, back, moved - prevented; [tasmaat = therefore]; sveSu daareSu = in one's own, wives; apatyam = progeny; na utpadayitum arhatha = not, to bring forth, eligible - worthy enough, infecund - you are prevented to bear children.

" 'Wherefore, I who am desirous of a son had been prevented from the intimacy with my husband, therefore you shall be infecund to beget progeny through your own wives. [1-36-21b, 22a]

अद्य प्रभृति युष्माकम् अप्रजाः सन्तु पत्नयः ॥ १-३६-२२

एवम् उक्त्वा सुरान् सर्वान् शशाप पृथिवीम् अपि ।

22, 23a. adya prabhR^iti = from now, onwards; yuSmaakam = yours; patnayaH = wives; aprajaaH = without, progeny; santu = they will be - they remain; sarvaan suraan = to all, gods; evam uktvaa = this way, on saying [by Uma,]; pR^ithiviim api = to earth, also; shashaapa = cursed - gave a curse.

" 'And from now onwards you wives shall remain infertile...' and on saying this way to all of the gods she also gave a curse to the earth. [1-36-22, 23a]

Thus the celestials do not directly breed. They take the agency of humans or other mortals to bring forth their offspring as in the case of the monkey race, and Menaka, and as in the case of Vishvamitra giving birth to Shakuntala, who in her turn gave birth to Bharata, so on.

अवने न एक रूपा त्वम् बहु भार्या भविष्यसि ॥ १-३६-२३

न च पुत्र कृताम् प्रीतिम् मत् क्रोध कलुषीकृता ।

प्राप्स्यसि त्वम् सुदुर्मेधे मम पुत्रम् अनिच्छती ॥ १-३६-२४

23b, 24. avane = oh, earth; tvam = you; na eka ruupaa = not, with one, appearance - sui generis, bizarre; bahu bhaaryaa = to many, as wife; bhaviSyasi = you will become; su dur medhe = oh, very, base, minded one [earth]; mama putram an icChatii = to me, son, not, desirous - you are bigoted; tvam = you; mat krodha kaluSii kR^itaa = by my, anger, sully, rendered - sullied by my anger; putra kR^itaam priitim ca = by children, caused, delight, even; na praapsyasi = not, you will get.

" 'Oh, Earth, your appearance shall be bizarre and you will be a wife to many. And oh, verily base-minded earth, rendered sully by my anger you shall have no gratification caused by the children as you are bigoted against my son. [1-36-23b, 24]

The sin of earth to bear the curse of Uma Devi is to accept the semen of Shiva on her surface. The appearance of earth will not be in one kind or quality for it has lands and oceans, deserts and forests, volcanoes and mountains, ice and humidity, etc. Further, the earth is the official wife to numerous kings. The earth is also cursed to not to have the delight of her children. The earth has Naraka, the demon, and Seetha as her children. But these two are not begotten through any seminal contact by earth, and further, for earth it is as good as not having these two as her children, for such is the plight of these two so-called children of earth on earth. After many tumults in her life, even Seetha asks her mother on earth, i.e., mother earth herself, to take her back into her womb.

Verse Locator

तान् सर्वान् पीडितान् दृष्ट्वा सुरान् सुरपतिः तदा ।
गमनाय उपचक्राम दिशम् वरुण पालिताम् ॥ १-३६-२५

25. sura patiH = god's, god - Shiva; tadaa = then; piiDitaan [vriiDitaan] = distressed [ashamed]; taan sarvaan suraan dR^iSTvaa = them, all, gods, on seeing - ill at ease to see their plight; varuNa paalitaam = by Rain-god, ruled by; disham = towards the quarter of compass; gamanaaya upacakraama = to go, started to.

"That God of Gods Shiva becoming ill at ease to look at all of the distressed gods, equally feeling small to convince his consort Uma, he has started to journey towards the western quarter which is ruled by Rain-god. [1-36-25]

Verse Locator

स गत्वा तप आतिष्ठत् पार्श्वे तस्य उत्तरे गिरेः ।
हिमवत् प्रभवे शृंगे सह देव्या महेश्वरः ॥ १-३६-२६

26. saH maheshvaraH = he - Shiva; gatvaa = having gone to west; tasya gireH uttare paarshve = of that, mountain [Himalayas,] northern, side; himavat prabhava shR^i.nge = in Himalayas, emerged [a mountain,] on its peak; devyaa saha = concert [Uma,] along with; tapa aatiSThat = in asceticism, settled down.

"On going to the northern side of Himalayan Mountains, that God of Gods, Shiva settled down in asceticism along with his consort Uma on the peak of a mountain emerged from Himalayas. [1-36-26]

Here some say the mountain on which Shiva settled for asceticism as himavat prabhava giving it a full name, like Mt. Kailash or Kanchanjunga etc. If any such mountain peak is named and available in mythologies or in Himalayas, this needs a revision.

Verse Locator

एष ते विस्तरो राम शैल पुत्र्या निवेदितः ।
गङ्गायाः प्रभवम् चैव शृणु मे सह लक्ष्मण ॥ १-३६-२७

27. raama = oh, Rama; shaila putryaa = pertaining to mountain's, daughter eSa = this [Uma's legend]; vistaraH te niveditaH = vividly, to you, narrated; gangaayaaH prabhavam caiva = about Ganga's, emergence, also even; saha lakSmaNa = with, Lakshmana; shR^iNu me = listen, from me.

"This is the legend of mountain's daughter, namely Goddess Uma vividly narrated to you, oh, Rama, and now listen from me along with Lakshmana about the emergence of Ganga. [1-36-27]

Verse Locator

इति वाल्मीकि रामायणे आदि काव्ये बाल काण्डे षट् त्रिंशः सर्गः

Thus, this is the 36th chapter in Bala Kanda of Valmiki Ramayana, the First Epic poem of India.

Book I : Bala Kanda - The Youthful Majesties
chapter / sarga 37
Verses converted to UTF-8, Sept 09
Introduction

Sage Vishvamitra continues his narration about the earthly course of Ganga, her begetting Kaartikeya, Kritika-stars breast-feeding that boy, gods naming that boy as Kaarthikeya, and that boy's anointment as the Chief of Celestial Armies.

Verse Locator

तप्यमाने तदा देवे स इन्द्राः स अग्नि पुरोगमाः ।
सेनापतिम् अभीप्सन्तः पितामहम् उपागमन् ॥ १-३७-१

1. deve tapyamaane = of god Shiva, while undertaking asceticism; tadaa = then; [devaaH = gods]; saH indraaH = with, Indra; senaapatiH abhiipsantaH = army, chief, desiring for; sa agni purogamaaH = with, Fire-god, keeping ahead - as leader; pitaamaham upaagaman = towards Forefather - Brahma, arrived at the nearby of.

"While god Shiva is undertaking asceticism thus, then the gods desiring an Army Chief for celestial forces have arrived in the audience of Forefather Brahma, along with Indra and keeping Fire-god at their fore." Sage Vishvamitra continued his narration to Rama. [1-37-1]

Verse Locator

ततो अब्रुवन् सुराः सर्वे भगवंतम् पितामहम् ।
प्रणिपत्य सुराः राम स इन्द्राः स अग्नि पुरोगमाः ॥ १-३७-२

2. raama = oh, Rama; sa indraaH = with Indra; sa agni purogamaaH = with Fire-god, keeping ahead of their delegation; suraaH sarve = = celestials, all of them; bhagavantam pitaamaham = to the god [to Brahma,] Forefather; pranipatya = on venerating; tataH = then; abruvan = spoke to.

"On approaching the Forefather Brahma, oh, Rama, all of the celestials headed by Fire-god and along with Indra have venerated and then spoke this to him. [1-37-2]

Verse Locator

येन सेनापतिः देव दत्तो भगवता पुरा ।
स तपः परम् आस्थाय तप्यते स्म सह उमया ॥ १-३७-३

3. deva = oh, god - Brahma; yena bhagavataa = by whom, by god - Shiva; puraa = earlier; [naH = to us]; senaapatiH dattaH = army, chief, is given - in the form of Shiva's potency in a hypothetical way; saH = he - Shiva; umayaa saha = Uma, along with; param tapaH aasthaaya = supreme, asceticism, on undertaking; tapyate sma = he is practising asceticism, indeed.

" 'Oh, god Brahma, he who has hypothetically given a Chief of Celestial Army in the form of his potency that god Shiva is undertaking a supreme asceticism, indeed along with Goddess Uma. [1-37-3]

यत् अत्र अनंतरम् कार्यम् लोकानाम् हित कांयया ।
संविधत्स्व विधानज्ञ त्वम् हि नः परमा गतिः ॥ १-३७-४

4. vidhaana j~na = oh, procedure, knower - Brahma; lokaanaam hita kaamyayaa = for worlds, welfare, intent on - looking forward; atra = in this matter; anantaram yat kaaryam = later, which, action - what next is to be done; sam vi dhatsva = fully, verily, order - let it be ordered clearly; tvam naH paramaa gatiH hi = you alone, for us, ultimate, recourse.

" 'Looking forward for the welfare of the worlds, oh, knower of the procedures, Brahma, you may order us clearly what is to be done next, as you alone are our ultimate recourse. [1-37-4]

देवतानाम् वचः श्रुत्वा सर्व लोक पितामहः ।
सान्त्वयन् मधुरैः वाक्यैः त्रिदशान् इदम् अब्रवीत् ॥ १-३७-५

5. sarva loka pitaamahaH = all, worlds, Forefather Brahma; devataanaam vacaH shrutvaa = of gods, words, on listing; madhuraiH vaakyaiH = with sweet, words; tridashaan saantvayan = to gods, to sooth them; idam abraviit = this, spoke to.

"On listening the words of gods, Brahma, the Forefather of all the worlds, soothingly spoke this to the celestials with sweet words. [1-37-5]

शैल पुत्र्या यत् उक्तम् तत् न प्रजाः स्वासु पत्निषु ।
तस्या वचनम् अक्लिष्टम् सत्यम् एव न संशयः ॥ १-३७-६

6. yat shaila putryaa uktam = what, by mountain, daughter - Uma, is said; tat = by that reason; [vaH = you gods]; svaasu patniSu = in your own, wives; na prajaaH = no, posterity; [na prajaasyatha = you cannot generate progeny]; tasyaaH vacanam a nkliSTam = her, sentence, not, to be put to shame - decried; satyam eva = true, only - her word; samshayaH na = ambiguity, not there.

" 'What the Daughter of Mountain, namely Goddess Uma, has said that 'you shall have no posterity in your own wives' is true and it cannot be decried, and it is unambiguous too. [1-37-6]

इयम् आकाश गंगा यस्याम् पुत्रम् हुताशनः ।
जनयिष्यति देवानाम् सेनापतिम् अरिंदमम् ॥ १-३७-७

7. yasyaam = in which, in whom - Ganga; hutaashanaH = Fire-god; arindamam = one who ca destroy enemies; such a; devaanaam senaa patim putram = celestials', army, chief, son; janayiSyati = who can give birth to - Fire-god who can procreate; such a; iyam aakaasha gangaa = this, empyreal, Ganga - is there.

" 'In whom the Fire-god can procreate an enemy-destroying Chief of Celestial Armies, such an empyreal Ganga is there. [1-37-7]

ज्येष्ठा शैलेन्द्र दुहिता मानयिष्यति तम् सुतम् ।
उमायाः तत् बहुमतम् भविष्यति न संशयः ॥ १-३७-८

8. jyeSThaa shailendra duhitaa = elder, mountain king, daughter [Ganga]; tam sutam = him, that [prospective] son; maanayiSyati = will welcome graciously; tat = that - act of Ganga in welcoming boy; umaayaaH bahu matam bhaviSyati = to Uma, in many ways, pleasurable, it will be; samshayaH na = doubt, is not there.

" 'The elder daughter King of Mountains, namely Ganga, will graciously welcome the offspring from Fire-god, and that act of Ganga in welcoming the offspring through Fire-god will also be pleasurable in many ways to the younger daughter of King of Mountains, namely Uma, no doubt about it.' So said Brahma to all the gods. [1-37-8]

Verse Locator

तत् श्रुत्वा वचनम् तस्य कृतार्था रघुनन्दन ।
प्रणिपत्य सुराः सर्वे पितामहम् अपूजयन् ॥ १-३७-९

9. raghu nandana = oh, Raghu's delight - Rama; suraaH sarve = gods, all of them; tasya tat vacanam shrutvaa = his - Brahma's, that, sentence, on hearing; kR^ita arthaa = with achieved, ends - at this bidding fair of Brahma; pitaamaham praNipatya apuujayan = at Forefather, sang the praises, worshipped.

"On hearing those words of Brahma, oh, Rama, the delight of Raghu's dynasty, all the gods have praisefully worshipped him, as their ends are achieved at the bidding fair of Brahma. [1-37-9]

Verse Locator

ते गत्वा परमम् राम कैलासम् धातु मण्डितम् ।
अग्निम् नियोजयामासुः पुत्रार्थम् सर्व देवताः ॥ १-३७-१०

10. raama = oh, Rama; te sarva devataaH = they, all of the, gods; dhaatu maNDitam = with ores, encompassed - heaped up; paramam kailaasam gatvaa = to supreme, to Mt. Kailash, on going to; putra artham = son, purpose of - to father the son; agnim niyojayaamaasuH = Fire-god, started to assign.

"On going to that supreme Mt. Kailash, oh, Rama, which is heaped up with many ores, all of those gods have assigned the Fire-god to father a son. [1-37-10]

Verse Locator

देव कार्यम् इदम् देव समाधत्स्व हुताशन ।
शैल पुत्र्याम् महातेजो गंगायाम् तेज उत्सृज ॥ १-३७-११

11. deva = oh, god; huta ashana = oh, consumer of oblations - Fire-god; idam deva kaaryam = this, god's, mission; samaadhatsva = you coordinate; mahaa tejaH = oh, great-resplendent one - Fire-god; tejaH = potency - of Shiva; shaila putryaam gangaayaam = Mountain's [Himalayas'], in daughter, in Ganga; utsR^ija = release.

" 'Oh, Fire-god, you please coordinate the mission of gods, oh, great-resplendent god of Fire, you may release the potency of Shiva, which you have contained so far, in the daughter of King of Mountains, namely River Ganga.' Thus, all gods have requested the Fire-god. [1-37-11]

Verse Locator

देवतानाम् प्रतिज्ञाय गंगाम् अभ्येत्य पावकः ।
गर्भम् धारय वै देवि देवतानाम् इदम् प्रियम् ॥ १-३७-१२

12. paavakaH = all-purifier - Fire-god; devataanaam pratij~naaya = to gods, on assuring - that he will do his best; gangaam abhyetya = Ganga, having approached; devi = oh, goddess Ganga; garbham dhaaraya vai = pregnancy, you bear, verily; idam devataanaam priyam = this [act,] for gods, select [act, process.]

"On assuring the gods that he will do his best, the Fire-god approached Ganga entreating, 'Oh, Goddess Ganga, you verily bear pregnancy with the potency of Shiva, since this is the select process of all the gods.' So said Fire-god to River Ganga. [1-37-12]

Verse Locator

इति एतत् वचनम् श्रुत्वा दिव्यम् रूपम् अधारयत् ।
स तस्या महिमाम् दृष्ट्वा समंतात् अवकीर्यत ॥ १-३७-१३

13. iti etat vacanam shrutvaa = thus, that, sentence - of Fire-god, on listening; divyam ruupam adhaarayat = divine, form, [Ganga] adopted; saH = he - Fire-god; tasyaa mahimaam = her, glory - of mien; dR^iSTvaa = on seeing; samantaat avakiiryata = all over, spread.

"On listening that sentence of Fire-god, River Ganga adopted a celestial form readying herself, and on seeing her glorious mien the Fire-god seeped throughout her. [1-37-13]

Verse Locator

समंततः तदा देवीम् अभ्यर्षिंचत पावकः ।
सर्वं स्रोतांसि पूर्णानि गंगाया रघुनन्दन ॥ १-३७-१४

14. raghunandana = oh, of Raghu, delight; tadaa = then; paavakaH = Fire-god; deviim samantataH abhyaSincata = Goddess - Ganga, all over, drenched her with the potency of Shiva; gangaayaaH = of Ganga; sarva srotaamsi puurNaani = every, channel [rill of Ganga,] replete with.

"The Fire-god then drenched River Ganga from all over with the potency of Shiva which he contained so far, oh, Raghu's delight Rama, and every rill and channel of Ganga is replete with it. [1-37-14]

Verse Locator

तम् उवाच ततो गंगा सर्वं देव पुरोगमम् ।
अशक्ता धारणे देव तेजः तव समुद्धतम् ॥ १-३७-१५
दह्यमाना अग्निना तेन संप्रव्यथित चेतना ।

15, 16a. tataH = then; gangaa = Ganga; sarva deva purogamam = all, god, who is in forefront of - Fire-god; tam uvaaca = to him - Fire-god, spoke; deva = oh, God - Fire-god; sam uddhatam = upheaved - rampant; tava tejaH = your, intense heat - fervour compounded with that of Shiva; dhaaraNe = to bear up; a shaktaa = I am not, capable; tena agninaa dahyamaanaa = by that, fire [of the potency of Shiva,] while being burnt; sampravvyathita [sam pra vyathita] = very, highly, tortured; cetanaa = with such a heart - vitality.

"River Ganga then spoke this to the Fire-god who is in the lead of all gods, 'oh, god, I am incapable to bear up the rampant fervour of yours, and while being burnt with the fire of god Shiva compounded with that of yours my life-force is very highly tortured.' [1-37-15, 16a]

Verse Locator

अथ अब्रवीत् इदम् गंगाम् सर्वं देव हुताशनः ॥ १-३७-१६
इह हैमवते पार्श्वे गर्भो अयम् संनिवेश्यताम् ।

16b, 17a. atha = then; sarva deva huta ashanaH = all, god's, fire-oblations, consumer - consumer of fire oblations on behalf of all gods; gangaam idam abraviit = to Ganga, this, said - on seeing her miserable plight; ayam garbhaH = that, embryo; iha haimavate paarshve [paade] = here, at Himalayan Mountains, by the side of [at the foot of]; sam niveshyataam = verily, consign to - relocated at.

"He who consumes fire-oblations on behalf of all the gods, that Fire-god seeing the miserable condition of River Ganga then spoke this to her, "you may lay away that embryo here at the side of Himalayan Mountains.' So said Fire-god to River Ganga. [1-37-16b, 17a]

Verse Locator

श्रुत्वा तु अग्नि वचो गंगा तम् गर्भम् अतिभास्वरम् ॥ १-३७-१७
उत्ससर्ज महातेजाः स्रोतोभ्यो हि तदा अनघ ।

17b, 18a. mahaa tejaaH = oh, great-resplendent, Rama; anagha = oh, charming prince; agni vacaH shrutvaa tu = Fire-god's, words, on hearing, on her part; gangaa = Ganga; tadaa = that way; ati bhaasvaram = highly, refulgent; tam garbham = that, embryo; srotobhyaH utsasarja hi = from her channels [and rills,] ejected, indeed.

"Oh, great-resplendent Rama, on hearing the words of Fire-god, oh, charming prince Rama, River Ganga indeed ejected that great-radiant embryo of Shiva from all her rills and channels. [1-37-17b, 18a]

Verse Locator

यत् अस्या निर्गतम् तस्मात् तप्त जांबूनद प्रभम् ॥ १-३७-१८
कांचनम् धरणीम् प्राप्तम् हिरण्यम् अतुल प्रभम् ।

18b, 19a. asyaaH = from her - from Ganga; tapta jaambuunada prabham = molten, gold, with a glitter of; yat = which; [tejaH = refulgent potency is there]; nir gatam = out, coming - emerged; dharaNiim praaptam = earth, that which has reached; tasmaat = from that; hiraNyam = silver; a tula prabham kaancanam = un, balanceable - matchless, in dazzle, gold; [abhavat = emerged.]

"Which refulgent embryo with the glitter of molten gold has emerged from River Ganga is there that has reached earth, and from that the silver, and even the gold with its matchless dazzle have emerged. [1-37-18]

Verse Locator

ताम्रम् कार्ष्णायिसम् चैव तैक्षण्यात् एव अभिजायत ॥ १-३७-१९
मलम् तस्य अभवत् तत्र त्रपु सीसकम् एव च ।
तत् एतत् धरणीम् प्राप्य नाना धातुः अवर्धत ॥ १-३७-२०

19b, 20. tatra = in that - process; taikSNyaat = from combustion - [kshaara = metallic alkali, element]; taamram = copper; kaarSNaayasam = iron; ca eva = also thus; abhijaayata = are generated; tasya = its - of the semen of Shiva; malam = from residua; trapu = tin; siisakam eva ca = lead, also, thus; abhavat = became; tat etat = that, thus - such as it is - that potency of Shiva; dharaNiim praapya = earth, on reaching; naanaa dhaatuH avardhata = various, elements, evolved as.

"In that process, copper and iron are also generated from that combustion of fires of Shiva and Fire-god, and the residua have become tin and lead, and thus that embryo on reaching the earth has evolved itself into various other elements also. [1-37-19b, 20]

Verse Locator

निक्षिप्त मात्रे गर्भे तु तेजोभिः अभिरंजितम् ।
सर्वम् पर्वत संनद्धम् सौवर्णम् अभवत् वनम् ॥ १-३७-२१

21. garbhe nikSipta maatre tu = embryo, is laid down, just when, but; sarvam = entire; parvata samnaddham = on Himalayan mountains, sprouted - uprisen; vanam = forest - reed-garden; tejobhiH abhiraanjitam = with [embryo's] glitter, made brilliant; sauvarNam abhavat = golden [reed-garden,] became.

"But, just when that embryo is laid down on Himalayan mountains, entire reed-garden sprouted on that mountain is made brilliant by that glittering embryo and the reed-garden itself has become golden. [1-37-21]

Verse Locator

जातरूपम् इति ख्यातम् तदा प्रभृति राघव ।
सुवर्णम् पुरुषव्याघ्र हुताशन सम प्रभम् ।
तृण वृक्ष लता गुल्मम् सर्वम् भवति कांचनम् ॥ १-३७-२२

22. puruSavyaaghra = oh, tigerly-man, Rama; raaghava = oh, Raghava tadaa prabhR^iti = then; onwards; hutaashana sama prabham = Fire-god, equal, in its brilliance; suvarNam = gold; jaata ruupam iti = birth-time, form, thus as; khyaatam = renowned; sarvam = everything; tR^iNa vR^iksha lataa gulmam = grass, tress, climbers, shrubs kaancanam bhavati = golden, they have become.

"Oh, tigerly-man, from then onwards the gold with its brilliance equalling that of the Fire-god is renowned by the name of jaata ruupa, one that retains its birth-time form, and oh, Raghava, everything on the mountain, say grass, trees, climbers, and shrubs, all have become golden. [1-37-22]

The gold has the etymological name of jaata ruupa 'birth-time-form.' As and when Ganga's disgorged her womb there appeared a forest of fire like gold. So, the gold glowing like fire is called gold at many places in Ramayana. Pt. Satya Vrat.

Verse Locator

तम् कुमारम् ततो जातम् स इन्द्राः सह मरुद् गणाः ।
क्षीर संभावन अर्थाय कृत्तिकाः समयोजयन् ॥ १-३७-२३

23. tataH = then; jaatam tam kumaaram = birthed, him, the son - from the embryo; sa indraaH marut gaNaaH = with, Indra, Wind-gods, assemblages of; saha = at a time - to suckle the baby simultaneously; kSiira sambhaavana arthaaya = milk, to nourish with, for the purpose of - to suckle and nourish; kR^ittikaaH samayojayan = Krittikaa stars, are arranged.

"Then for the boy who took birth from the embryo deposited in Himalayas, the Wind-gods along with Indra have arranged Krittika stars to simultaneously suckle him. [1-37-23]

Verse Locator

ताः क्षीरम् जात मात्रस्य कृत्वा समयम् उत्तमम् ।
ददुः पुत्रो अयम् अस्माकम् सर्वासाम् इति निश्चिताः ॥ १-३७-२४

24. taaH = those females - Krittika stars; nishcitaH = deciding among themselves; ayam asmaakam sarvaasaam putraH = he is, our, all of us, let him be the son - let him be the son for all of us; iti = thus; uttamam samayam kR^itvaa = best, resolve, on making jaata maatrasya = who is born, just then; kSiiram daduH = milk, they gave.

"Those Krittika stars have decided among themselves that 'this boy shall be the son for all of us,' and on making such a best resolve they suckled the just born boy. [1-37-24]

Verse Locator

ततः तु देवताः सर्वाः कार्तिकेय इति ब्रुवन् ।
पुत्रः त्रैलोक्य विख्यातो भविष्यति न संशयः ॥ १-३७-२५

25. tataH = then; sarvaaH devataaH = all, gods; putraH = this boy; kaartikeya iti = Kaartikeya [son of Krittika-s,] thus; trailokya vikhyaataH bhaviSyati = in three worlds, renowned, he will be; samshayaH na = doubt, is not there; iti bruvan = thus, they said.

"All the gods have then said, 'this boy will be renowned in all the three world as Kaarthikeya, as Krittika-stars have suckled him, with any doubt.' [1-37-25]

Verse Locator

तेषाम् तत् वचनम् श्रुत्वा स्कन्नम् गर्भ परिस्रवे ।
स्नापयन् परया लक्ष्म्या दीप्यमानम् यथा अनलम् ॥ १-३७-२६

26. teSaam tat vacanam shrutvaa = their of gods, that, sentence, on hearing - on hearing gods blessings; garbha parisrave skannam = from womb of Ganga, secretion, who slid down; analam yathaa = who fire, as with; parayaa lakSmyaa diipyamaanam = excellently, auspicious, radiance - glowing with; snaapayan = to give a bath; they started to.

"On hearing that blessing of gods Krittika stars gave a wash to that excellently auspicious boy who is radiant like fire, and who slid down from the secretion of the womb of Ganga. [1-37-26]

Verse Locator

स्कंद इति अब्रुवन् देवाः स्कन्नम् गर्भ परिस्रवात् ।
कार्तिकेयम् महाबाहुम् काकुत्स्थ ज्वलन उपमम् ॥ १-३७-२७

27. kaakutstha = oh, Rama of Kakutstha; jvalana upamam = flare of fire, similar to - glow; mahaa baahum = ambidextrous; garbha parisravaat skannam = from womb's, secretions, who slid down; such a; kaartikeyam = Kaartikeya - is called; devaaH = gods; skanda iti abruvan = Skanda, thus, they called him - in its lexical meaning - to slid, who glissaded.

"And gods called that boy, oh, Rama of Kakutstha, whose glow is like that of flaring fire and who is ambidextrous as 'Skanda' for he slid down from the secretions of a womb. [1-37-27]

Verse Locator

प्रादुर्भूतम् ततः क्षीरम् कृत्तिकानाम् अनुत्तमम् ।
षण्णाम् षड् आननी भूत्वा जग्राह स्तनजम् पयः ॥ १-३७-२८

28. tataH = then; kR^ittikaanaam an uttamam kSiiram = in Krittikaa-stars [breasts,] un, excelling, milk; praadurhbhuutam = instantly came forth; SaNNaam = of six of them, the Krittika stars; stana jam payaH = breat, born, milk; SaDaananaH - SaT aanana = six, faced one - the boy; bhuutvaa = one becoming - six faced boy; [samam = at the same time]; jagraaha = drew out, sucked milk.

"Then an unexcelled milk instantly came forth from the breasts of the six Krittika-stars, and becoming a six-faced one that boy too sucked that milk from the six Krittika-stars at the same time. [1-37-28]

It is said that each of the six Krittika-stars came forward to give her milk firstly to this boy. Observing their eagerness to feed him, Skanda / Kaartikeya made his one face into six and sucked all the milk of all the six stars and become an adolescent boy in day. Hence he looked like the one with six faces, by which he is called Shan mukha, six-faced deity. Later he argues with his father Shiva that he is superior to Shiva, because he has five-faces of Shiva, plus his own, totalling to a six, and he is a six-faced deity, superior to the five-faced god, namely Shiva. In another way, the boy by birth is dextrous and he sucked the milk of all the six mothers in split second with one face, but it appeared to all deities that the boy has been sucking milk with six faces, i.e., with rapid-face-movement. Thus on establishing his ambidextrous personality, the gods nominate him as the Chief of Celestial Army.

Verse Locator

गृहीत्वा क्षीरम् एक अह्ना सुकुमार वपुः तदा ।
अजयत् स्वेन वीर्येण दैत्य सैन्य गणान् विभुः ॥ १-३७-२९

29. vibhuH = capable one - taskmaster, that boy; eka ahnaa = just in one, day; kSiiram gR^ihiitvaa = milk, on taking; tadaa = then; sukumaara vapuH = delicate, by body; even if; svena viiryeNa = by his own, vigour; daitya sainya gaNaan = demons, army, troops; ajayat = triumphed over.

"On sipping the milk just for one day he became an adolescent boy on that day itself, and even though he is of delicate constitution as a boy, that taskmaster triumphed over the army troops of demons by his own vigour. [1-37-29]

Verse Locator

सुर सेना गण पतिम् अभ्यर्षिचत् महाद्युतिम् ।

ततः तम् अमराः सर्वे समेत्य अग्नि पुरोगमाः ॥ १-३७-३०

30. agni purogamaaH = Fire god, keeping afore as leader; amaraaH sarve = celestials, all of them; tataH = then; sametya = coming together; mahaadyutim = highly resplendent boy is; sura senaa gaNa patim = god's, army, troops, as chief; abhyaSincat = anointed him.

"All of the celestial have then come together under the leadership of Fire-god and they anointed that highly resplendent boy, Skanda, or Kaarthikeya, as the Chief of Celestial Army troops. [1-37-30]

Verse Locator

एष ते राम गंगाया विस्तरो अभिहितो मया ।

कुमार संभवः चैव धन्यः पुण्यः तथैव च ॥ १-३७-३१

31. raama = oh, Rama; maya te gangaayaaH = by me, to you, of Ganga; eSa vistaraH = this way, vividly - told; tathaa eva = like that; dhanyaH puNyaH ca = Divine, Meritorious, also; kumaara sambhavaH caiva = Kumara's, emergence, also thus; abhihitaH = made known.

"This way, I have vividly narrated the legend of Ganga to you, oh, Rama, like that the Divine and Meritorious legend of the emergence of Kumara, namely Skanda is also narrated. [1-37-31]

Verse Locator

भक्तः च यः कार्तिकेये काकुत्स्थ भुवि मानवः ।

आयुष्मान् पुत्र पौत्रः च स्कन्द सालोक्यताम् व्रजते ॥ १-३७-३२

32. kaakutstha = Oh, Kakutstha Rama; bhuvi yaH maanavaH = on earth, which, person; kaartikeye bhaktaH ca = of Kaartikeya, devotee, if he were to be; he; aayuSmaan = with longevity; putra pautraH ca = with sons, grandsons, also; on living; skanda saalokyataam vrajate = of Skanda, in his abode [identical,] he goes, attains.

"He who is a devotee of Kartikeyaa, oh, Rama of Kakutstha, he thrives with longevity, also with sons, grandsons on this humanly earth in his mortal life, and on its conclusion he becomes one with Skanda on journeying to Skanda's abode. [1-37-32]

Verse Locator

इति वाल्मीकि रामायणे आदि काव्ये बाल काण्डे सप्त त्रिंशः सर्गः

Thus, this is the 37th chapter in Bala Kanda of Valmiki Ramayana, the First Epic poem of India.

Book I : Bala Kanda - The Youthful Majesties
chapter / sarga 38
Verses converted to UTF-8, Sept 09
Introduction

Sage Vishvamitra narrates the legend of Sagara, the earliest King of Ayodhya and Rama's forefather, who is childlessness, but who begets sixty thousand sons of merit and one son of demerit. Emperor Sagara is the one who brought celestial Ganga onto the surface of earth..

Verse Locator

ताम् कथाम् कौशिको रामे निवेद्य मधुर अक्षरम् ।

पुनः एव अपरम् वाक्यम् काकुत्स्थम् इदम् अब्रवीत् ॥ १-३८-१

1. kaushikaH = descendent of Kaushika, Vishvamitra; taam kathaam = that, legend of Kaarthikeya; raame nivedya = in Rama, to Rama, on submitting - describing; punaH eva = again, thus - further; idam aparam vaakyam = , this, best, sentence; madhura akSaram = in melodious, words; kaakutstham abraviit = to Rama of Kakutstha, spoke.

Describing that legend of Kaartikeya to Rama, the descendent of Kaushi, namely sage Vishvamitra has further spoken this best sentence worded melodiously to Rama, the descendent of Kakutstha. [1-38-1]

Verse Locator

अयोध्या अधिपतिः वीरः पूर्वम् आसीत् नराधिपः ।

सगरो नाम धर्मात्मा प्रजाकामः स च अप्रजः ॥ १-३८-२

2. puurvam = once upon a time; ayodhyaH adhipatiH = Ayodhya's, king; viiraH dharmaatmaa = valiant one, virtue-souled one; sagaraH naama = Sagara, renowned as; nara adhipaH aasiit people's, king, was there; saH = he was; a prajaH = without, offspring; prajaa kaamaH ca = offspring, longing for, also.

"Once there was a valiant an virtue-souled king of Ayodhya named Sagara, who is without offspring, as such he was longing for offspring. [1-38-2]

Verse Locator

वैदर्भ दुहिता राम केशिनी नाम नामतः ।

ज्येष्ठा सगर पत्नी सा धर्मिष्ठा सत्य वादिनी ॥ १-३८-३

3. raamaH = oh, Rama; vaidarbha duhitaa = Vidarbha [king of], daughter; naamataH keshinii naama = by name, Keshini, renowned as; she was; jyeSThaa sagara patnii = elder, Sagara's, wife; saa dharma iSThaa satya vaadinii = she is, virtue, minded, truth, advocate of.

"The daughter of King of Vidarbha, renowned by name Keshini, is the eldest wife of Sagara, and she was virtue-minded, and an advocate of truth. [1-38-3]

Verse Locator

अरिष्ठनेमि दुहिता सुपर्ण भगिनी तु सा ।

द्वितीया सगरस्य आसीत् पत्नी सुमति संज्ञिता ॥ १-३८-४

4. ariSThanemeH duhitaa = Arishtanemi's, daughter; suparNa bhaginii tu = Garuda's, sister, on her part; sumati samGYitaa = Sumati, indicated by - designated by that name; saa sagarasya = she is of Sagara; dvitiiyaa patnii aasiit = second, wife, was there.

"The daughter of Arishtanemi, namely sage Kashyapa, and who is also the sister of Garuda, the Divine-Eagle-vehicle of Vishnu, is the second wife of Sagara, who is known by the name Sumati. [1-38-4]

Verse Locator

ताभ्याम् सह महाराजा पत्नीभ्याम् तप्तवान् तपः ।

हिमवंतम् समासाद्य भृगु प्रस्रवणे गिरौ ॥ १-३८-५

5. taabhyaam patniibhyaam saha = with them two, with two wives, along with; [saH = he that]; mahaaraajaa = great-king; himavantam sam aasaadya = Himalayas, on well-reaching; bhR^igu pra sravaNe girau = on Brhugu-prasavana, mountain; tapaH taptavaan = asceticism, he undertook; for progeny.

"Reaching the Himalayan Mountains along with his two wives that great King Sagara practised asceticism on a mountain called Brugu-prsravana for progeny. [1-38-5]

The Mt. Brugu-prsravana is said to be among Himalayan range on which the kindness of Sage Bhrigu is ever- flowing.

Verse Locator

अथ वर्ष शते पूर्णे तपसा आराधितो मुनिः ।

सगराय वरम् प्रादाद् भृगुः सत्यवताम् वरः ॥ १-३८-६

6. atha varSa shate puurNe = then, years, hundred, on completion of; tapasaa aaraadhitaH = with asceticism, one who is worshipped; satyavataam varaH = among patrons of truth, prominent one; bhR^iguH muniH = Bhrugu, the sage; sagaraaya varam praadaad = to Sagara, boon, bestowed.

"On completion of a hundred years of asceticism, and when the Sage Bhrugu is worshipped with asceticism, that sage who is a prominent one among the patrons of truth bestowed a boon to Sagara. [1-38-6]

Verse Locator

अपत्य लाभः सुमहान् भविष्यति तव अनघ ।

कीर्तिम् च अप्रतिमाम् लोके प्राप्स्यसे पुरुषर्षभ ॥ १-३८-७

7. anagha = oh, merited one; tava = to you; su mahaan apatya labhaH bhaviSyati = very, admirable, progeny, achievement, will be there; puruSarSabha = oh, best one among men; loke = in world; a pratimaam kiirtim ca = not, paralleled, renown, also; praapsyase you will get.

" 'Oh, merited one, you will achieve very admirable progeny, and oh, best one among men, you will also acquire an unparalleled renown in the world. [1-38-7]

Verse Locator

एका जनयिता तात पुत्रम् वंशकरम् तव ।

षष्टिम् पुत्र सहस्राणि अपरा जनयिष्यति ॥ १-३८-८

8. taata = oh, dear-sire; ekaa = one - wife; tava vamsha karam = your, dynasty, enriching; putram = one son; janayiSyati = will give birth to; aparaa = the other [wife]; SaSTim putra sahasraaNi = sixty, sons, a thousand of - six thousand sons; janayitaa = will beget.

" 'One of your wives will mother a son who enriches your dynasty, oh, dear sire, and the other mothers sixty thousand sons.' Said Sage Bhrigu to Sagara. [1-38-8]

Verse Locator

भाषमाणम् महात्मानम् राज पुत्र्यौ प्रसाद्य तम् ।
उचतुः परम प्रीते कृताञ्जलि पुटे तदा ॥ १-३८-९

9. tadaa = then; parama priite = highly, gladdened; raaja putryau = king's, daughters - queens of Sagara; kR^ita anjali puTe = on making, adjoined palm's, planes; bhaaSamaaNam mahaatmaanam = he who is saying thus, great-soul - Sage Bhrigu; prasaadya = on gaining his grace; tam uucatuH = to him spoke.

Highly gladdened are the daughters of kings of Vidarbha and Aristanemi, i.e., the queens of Sagara, and on making palm-fold in supplication at the sage who is speaking that way, and on gaining the grace of that sage they spoke to him. [1-38-9]

Verse Locator

एकः कस्याः सुतो ब्रह्मन् का बहून् जनयिष्यति ।
श्रोतुम् इच्छावहे ब्रह्मन् सत्यम् अस्तु वचः तव ॥ १-३८-१०

10. brahman = oh, Brahma-sage; kasyaaH ekaH sutaH = to whom, one, son - will be there; kaa bahuun janayiSyati who is she, numerous [sons,] begets; brahman = oh, Brahma; shrotum icChaavahe = to listen, we two wish to; tava vacaH satyam astu = your, word, let come, true.

" 'Which of us will carry one son, oh, Brahma-sage, and which of us begets numerous sons, we two wish to listen about that, oh, Brahma, let your word betide truth.' Thus, the queens of Sagara spoke to the sage. [1-38-10]

Verse Locator

तयोः तत् वचनम् श्रुत्वा भृगुः परमधार्मिकः ।
उवाच परमाम् वाणीम् स्वच्छन्दो अत्र विधीयताम् ॥ १-३८-११

11. parama dhaarmikaH bhR^iguH = one with - sublime, sanctity, sage Bhrigu; tayoH tat vacanam shrutvaa = of their, words, on listening; paramaam vaaNiim uvaaca = with glorious, tone, spoke; atra = in this matter - this issue; svacChandaH vidhiyataam = [your] freewill, be brought to bear - you may exercise.

On listening their words the Sage Bhrigu spoke in a glorious tone, 'let your freewill be brought to bear this issue. [1-38-11]

Verse Locator

एको वंश करो वा अस्तु बहवो वा महाबलाः ।
कीर्तिमन्तो महोत्साहाः का वा कम् वरम् इच्छति ॥ १-३८-१२

12. vamsha karaH ekaH astu vaa = dynasty, enriching, one son, there shall be, whether; mahaa balaaH = highly, energetic ones; kiirtimantaH = highly renowned ones; mahaa utsaahaaH = highly, enthusiastic ones; bahavaH vaa = numerous, whether; kaa vaa = who, either - among you two; kam varam icChati = what, boon, wanted.

" 'Whether one wants one son who enriches dynasty, or whether numerous sons who will be highly energetic, highly renowned, and highly enthusiastic. Who wants which boon from either of them?' Thus, the Sage gave them the option. [1-38-12]

Verse Locator

मुनेः तु वचनम् श्रुत्वा केशिनी रघुनन्दन ।
पुत्रम् वंश करम् राम जग्राह नृप संनिधौ ॥ १-३८-१३

13. raghu nandana = oh, Raghu's, delight Rama; raama = oh, Rama; muneH tu vacanam shrutvaa = of sage, but, words, on listening; keshinii vamsha karam putram = queen Keshini, dynasty, enriching, son; nR^ipa sannidhau jagraaha = king [Sagara,] in the presence of, taken - chosen.

"On listening the words of the sage, oh, Rama, oh, delighter of Raghu's dynasty, the first queen Keshini has chosen one son who enriches the dynasty in the presence of King Sagara. [1-38-13]]

Verse Locator

षष्टिम् पुत्र सहस्राणि सुपर्ण भगिनी तदा ।
महोत्साहान् कीर्तिमतो जग्राह सुमतिः सुतान् ॥ १-३८-१४

14. tadaa = then; su parNa bhaginii = mighty winged -m Garudas, sister; sumatiH = Sumati; maha utsaahaan kiirtimataH = great, enthusiastic, highly reputed ones; SaSTim = sixty; putra sahasraaNi = sons, thousand; sutaan = as sons; jagraaha = taken [chosen,], sons.

"Sumati, the sister of mighty-winged Garuda and the second queen of Ssagara has then chosen sixty thousand sons with great enthusiasm and high reputation. [1-38-14]

Verse Locator

प्रदक्षिणम् ऋषिम् कृत्वा शिरसा अभिप्रणयं च ।
जगाम स्व पुरम् राजा सभार्या रघु नन्दन ॥ १-३८-१५

15. raghu nandana = oh, Raghu's, scion of; sa bhaaryaa raajaa = with, wives, king; R^iSim pradakSiNam kR^itvaa = to sage, circumambulation, on performing; shirasaa abhi praNamya ca = head-bent, revered, also; sva puram jagaama = own, city proceeded to.

"On performing circumambulations to the Sage Bhrigu along with wives, oh, Raghu's scion, also on reverencing him head-bent, the king Sagara proceeded to his own city. [1-38-15]

Verse Locator

अथ काले गते तस्मिन् ज्येष्ठा पुत्रम् व्यजायत ।
असमंज इति ख्यातम् केशिनी सगरात्मजम् ॥ १-३८-१६

16. atha = then; tasmin kaale gate = that, time, on passing; jyeSThaa keshinii = elder - wife, Keshini; sagara aatmajam = Sagara's, son; asamanja iti khyaata = Asamanja, thus - known as; putram vyajaayata = to son, gave birth.

"When the time rolled by then the elder wife Keshini gave birth to the son of Sagara who is reputed by the name Asamanja. [1-38-16]

Verse Locator

सुमतिः तु नरव्याघ्र गर्भं तुंबम् व्यजायत ।
षष्टिः पुत्र सहस्राणि तुंब भेदात् विनिःसृताः ॥ १-३८-१७

17. nara vyaaghra = man, the tiger; sumati tu = Sumati, on her part; garbha tumbam = neonate, which is gourd-like; vyajaayata [vi a jaayataa] = verily, delivered; tumba bhedaat = gourd-like egg, on breaking up; SaSTiH putra sahasraaNi = sixty, sons, thousand; viniHsR^itaaH issued forth - from that gourd-like egg.

"But the second queen Sumati on part, oh, tigerly-man Rama, verily delivered a round and long egg which is like a single gourd, and on breaking it up sixty thousand sons are issued forth from that cucumber like egg. [1-38-17]

Verse Locator

घृत पूर्णेषु कुंभेषु धात्र्यः तान् समवर्धयन् ।
कालेन महता सर्वे यौवनम् प्रतिपेदिरे ॥ १-३८-१८

18. dhaatryaH = childminders; taan = them, the sons came from egg; ghR^ita puurNeSu kumbheSu = ghee [clarified butter,] filled with, in vessels; sam vavardhayanv = brought up the siblings; sarve = all of them - the children; mahataa kaalena = after protracted, time; yauvanam pratipedire = youthfulness, attained.

"The childminders brought up those siblings in vessels filled with ghee, the clarified butter, and after a protracted time all of the children have attained youthfulness. [1-38-18]

Verse Locator

अथ दीर्घेण कालेन रूप यौवनशालिनः ।
षष्टिः पुत्र सहस्राणि सगरस्य अभवन् तदा ॥ १-३८-१९

19. atha diirgheNa kaalena = after, a long, time; sagarasya = of Sagara; SaSTiH putra sahasraaNi = sixty, sons, thousand; tadaa = then; ruupa yauvana shaalinaH = with [handsome] aspect, with youthfulness; abhavat = they became.

"After a long time the sixty thousand sons of king Sagara have become youthful, and handsome in their aspects. [1-38-19]

Verse Locator

स च ज्येष्ठो नरश्रेष्ठ सगरस्य आत्म संभवः ।
बालान् गृहीत्वा तु जले सरय्वा रघुनन्दन ॥ १-३८-२०
प्रक्षिप्य प्रहसन् नित्यम् मज्जतस् तान् निरीक्ष्य वै ।

20, 21a. nara shreSTha = oh, man, best among - Rama; raghu nandana = oh, Raghu's, delight; jyeSThaH = elder one [Asamanja]; saH sagarasya atma sambhavaH = he, that Sagara's, own, born - son; nityam baalaan gR^ihiitvaa = always, children, on grabbing; sarayvaa jale prakSipya = River Sarayu's, in water, on hurling - the children; majjataH taan niriikSyaa = drowning, them, on seeing; prahasan vai = used to laugh, indeed - used to enjoy.

But, oh, best one among men, oh, Rama, the elder son of the king Sagara, namely Asamanja, always used to grab and hurl children into the waters of River Sarayu, and on seeing the drowning children he used to enjoy with laughter. [1-38-20, 21a]

Verse Locator

एवम् पाप समाचारः सज्जन प्रतिबाधकः ॥ १-३८-२१
पौराणाम् अहिते युक्तः पित्रा निर्वासितः पुरात् ।

21b, 22a. evam = this way; paapa samaacaaraH = sinister, with practise activity; sajjana prati baadhakaH = goodmen, towards, torturer; pauraNaam a hite yuktaH = of citizens, not, desirable - sadistic thinking, delighted in; such a son; pitraa puraat nirvaasitaH = by father, from city, expatriated.

This way, when that son Asamanja is with sinister activity, a torturer of goodmen, and delighter in the undesirable activities towards citizens, his father king Sagara expatriated him from the city. [1-38-21b, 22a]

This Asamanja appears to be the person from the first-generation of sadistic child abusers, prior to Kamsa of Bhagavata.

Verse Locator

तस्य पुत्रो अंशुमान् नाम असमंजस्य वीर्यवान् ॥ १-३८-२२
सम्मतः सर्व लोकस्य सर्वस्य अपि प्रियम् वदः ।

22b, 23a. tasya asamanjasya putraH = his, of Asamanja, son; viiryavaan = a valorous one; amshumaan naama = Anshuman, by name; sarva lokasya sammataH = by all, people, acceptable one; sarvasya api priyam vadaH = with all [people,] even, fondly, one who converses with.

But Asamanja's son is a valorous one, who by name is Anshuman, and who is an acceptable one for all people and who fondly converses with all. [1-38-22b, 23a]

Verse Locator

ततः कालेन महता मतिः समभिजायत ॥ १-३८-२३
सगरस्य नरश्रेष्ठ यजेयम् इति निश्चिता ।

23b, 24a. narashreSTha = oh, best-of-men - Rama; tataH mahataa kaalena = then, after a long, time; sagarasya = for Sagara; yajeyam iti = I will perform ritual, thus; nishcitaa matiH sam abhijaayata = decided, thought, well, chanced.

"Oh, best one among men, Rama, then after along time a decided thought has occurred to king Sagara that, 'I shall perform a Vedic-ritual.' [1-38-23b, 24a]

Verse Locator

स कृत्वा निश्चयम् राजा स उपाध्याय गणः तदा ।
यज्ञ कर्मणि वेदज्ञो यष्टुम् समुपचक्रमे ॥ १-३८-२४

24b, c. tadaa = then; veda GYaH = Veda-s, knower of - expert in; saH raajaa = he, that king Sagara; saha upaadhyaaya gaNaH = along with, religious-teachers, assemblages of; yaGYa karmaNi = in respect of Vedic-ritual's, proceedings; nishcayam kR^itvaa = decision, on making; yaSTum sam upa cakrame = to perform ritual, [well, near, started] commenced.

"That king Sagara who is an expert in Vedic-procedures has then taken a decision along with the assemblages of his religious-teachers insofar as the procedures of the ritual are concerned, and he commenced to perform the Vedic-ritual. [1-38-24b, c]

Verse Locator

इति वाल्मीकि रामायणे आदि काव्ये बाल काण्डे अष्टा त्रिंशः सर्गः

Thus, this is the 38th chapter in Bala Kanda of Valmiki Ramayana, the First Epic poem of India.

Book I : Bala Kanda - The Youthful Majesties

chapter/Sarga 39

Verses converted to UTF-8, Sept 09

Introduction

The ritual horse released by Emperor Sagara is snatched away by Indra in order to cause hindrance to the ritual. The ritual cannot proceed to culmination without the horse. Then Sagara orders his sixty thousand sons to search for that horse, asking them to dig earth to trace it, if it is not found on earth. And the princes will dig earth when they have not found the horse on earth, to the grief of beings living in netherworlds.

Verse Locator

विश्वामित्र वचः श्रुत्वा कथान्ते रघुनन्दन ।

उवाच परम प्रीतो मुनिम् दीप्तम् इव अनलम् ॥ १-३९-१

1. raghu nandana = Raghu's delight - Rama; vishvaamitra vacaH shrutvaa = Vishvamitra's, words - narration, on listening; parama priitaH = highly, rejoiced; katha ante = episode, at the end of; diiptam iva analam = glowing, like, fire; munim = to sage; uvaaca = said to.

On listening the narration of Vishvamitra, Rama, the delighter of Raghu's dynasty is highly rejoiced, and at the end of the episode he spoke to sage whose glow is fire like. [1-39-1]

Verse Locator

श्रोतुम् इच्छामि भद्रम् ते विस्तरेण कथाम् इमाम् ।

पूर्वजो मे कथम् ब्रह्मन् यज्ञम् वै समुपाहरत् ॥ १-३९-२

2. brahman = oh Brahman; imaam kathaam vistareNa shrotum icChaami = this, episode, extensively, to listen, I am interested; te bhadram = to you, may good betide; me puurva jaH = of mine, earlier, born one - my ancestor Sagara; katham = how; yaGYam = Vedic-ritual; samupaaharat [sam upa aaharat = well, nearly, completed] completed; vai = really.

"I am interested to listen this episode exhaustively, oh, Brahman, let good betide you, how my ancestor Sagara had completed the Vedic-ritual, really. [1-39-2]

Verse Locator

तस्य तत् वचनम् श्रुत्वा कौतूहल समन्वितः ।

विश्वामित्रः तु काकुत्स्थम् उवाच प्रहसन्निव ॥ १-३९-३

श्रूयताम् विस्तरो राम सगरस्य महात्मनः ।

3, 4a. tasya tat vacanam = his - Rama's, that, sentence; kautuuhala samanvitaH = inquisitiveness, inclusive of; shrutvaa = on listening; vishvaamitraH tu = Vishvamitra, on his part; kaakutsthsam = to the descendent of Kakutstha; prahasan iva uvaaca = smiling, as though, said; mahaatmanaH sagarasya = of great-souled one, Sagara's; episode; vistaraH shruuyataam = vividly, may be listened; raama = oh, Rama.

On listening the words of Rama that are inclusive of his inquisitiveness, Sage Vishvamitra smilingly spoke to that descendent of Kakutstha, "oh, Rama, let the episode of the great-souled Sagara be listened vividly." Vishvamitra thus commenced to narrate that episode. [1-39-3, 4a]

Verse Locator

शंकर श्वशुरो नाम हिमवान् इति विश्रुतः ॥ १-३९-४
विंध्य पर्वतम् आसाद्य निरीक्षेते परस्परम् ।

4b, 5a. shankara shvashuraH = god Sankara's, father-in-law; himavaan naama = Himavanta, namely; iti vi srutaH = by name, thus, well, known vindhya parvatam aasaadya = Vindhya, mountain, [Himavan] attaining - by sight, set eyes on; nir iikSete parasparam = without, wink [stares, peers] each other - Vindhya and Himalayas look at each other.

"The father-in-law of god Shankara who is well-known by the name of Himavan sets eyes on Mt. Vindhya, which stands as loftily as Himalayas, and those two mountains peer at each other. [1-39-4b, 5a]

Verse Locator

तयोर् मध्ये संभवत् यज्ञः स पुरुषोत्तमः ॥ १-३९-५
स हि देशो नरव्याघ्र प्रशस्तो यज्ञ कर्मणि ।

5b, 6a. puruSa uttama = oh, man, the best - Rama; saH yaGYaH = that, Vedic ritual of Sagara; tayoH madhye = of them two - between Vindhya and Himalayas mountains between; sambhavat = came to pass; nara vyaaghra = oh, manly, tiger Rama; saH deshaH = that, area; yaGYa karmaNi = for Vedic rituals; prashastaH hi = renowned, isn't it.

"Oh, best one among men, Rama, that Vedic-ritual of Sagara came to pass in between those two mountains, namely Himalayas and Vindhya ranges, and oh, tigerly-man Rama, that area is renowned for Vedic-rituals, isn't it! [1-39-5b, 6a]

Verse Locator

तस्य अश्व चर्याम् काकुत्स्थ दृढ धन्वा महारथः ॥ १-३९-६
अंशुमान् अकरोत् तात सगरस्य मते स्थितः ।

6b, 7a. taata = oh, dear sire; kaakutstha = oh, descendant of Kakutstha; dR^iDha dhanvaa = unfaltering, bow - wielder; mahaa rathaH = top-speeded, chariot-rider; such a prince; amshumaan = Amshuman; sagarasya mate sthitaH = in Sagara's, conviction, abiding by; tasya = its - ritual's; ashva caryaam = of horse, course of action - from release to retrieval; akarot = managed - escorted.

"Oh, dear sire Rama, the grandson of Sagara and the son of exiled Asamanja is Amshuman, oh, descendant of Kakutstha, which Anshuman's bow will be unfaltering and who is a top-speeded chariot-rider, and he has escorted ritual-horse released. [1-39-6b, 7a]

Details regarding the release of horse are at Bala Kanda 1-14-1

Verse Locator

तस्य पर्वणि तम् यज्ञम् यजमानस्य वासवः १-३९-७
राक्षसीम् तनुम् आस्थाय यज्ञिय अश्वम् अपाहरत् ।

7b, 8a. vaasavaH = Indra; raakSasiim tanum aasthaaya = demonic, form, on assuming; parvaNi = at auspicious time [ukthya, the day of sacred function]; yaGYam yajamaanasya = ritual's, of presiding authority; tasya = his - Sagara's; tam yaGYiya ashvam apaaharat = that, Vedic-ritual's, horse, snatched away.

"And on the day of a sacred function called ukthyam , Indra assumed the form of a demon and stole the ritual horse of the chief of the ritual, namely Sagara. [1-39-7b, 8a]

Verse Locator

ह्रियमाणे तु काकुत्स्थ तस्मिन् अश्वे महात्मनः ॥१-३९-८
उपाध्याय गणाः सर्वे यजमानम् अथ अब्रुवन् ।

8b, 9a. kaakutstha = oh, Rama of Kakutstha; mahaatmanaH = great-souled one's - Sagara's; tasmin ashve hriyamaaNe tu = that, horse, while being stolen; atha sarve upaadhyaya gaNaaH = then, all, religious-teachers', congregations - of ritviks; yajamaanam abruvan = to propitiator, then, spoke.

"While that ritual-horse of the great-souled Sagara is stolen, all the congregations of the Ritviks, the religious-teachers, then spoke to the chief propitiator, namely Sagara. [1-39-8b, 9a]

Verse Locator

अयम् पर्वणि वेगेन यज्ञिय अश्वो अपनीयते ॥१-३९-९
हर्तारम् जहि काकुत्स्थ हयः च एव उपनीयताम् ।

9b, 10a. kaakutstha = oh, decedent of Kakutstha - Sagara; parvaNi = on auspicious day; ayam yaGYiya ashvaH = this, ritual's, horse; vegena apaniiyate = hastily, being sidetracked - stolen away; hartaaram jahi = who stole it - horse's thief, you kill; hayasH ca eva upaniiyataam = horse, also, that way, be fetched.

" 'Oh, Sagara, the descendent of Kakutstha, at this auspicious time the ritual horse is hastily diverted, you kill him who stole the horse, and let that horse be fetched. [1-39-9b, 10a]

Verse Locator

यज्ञः छिद्रम् भवति एतत् सर्वेषाम् अशिवाय नः ॥ १-३९-१०
तत् तथा क्रियताम् राजन् यज्ञो अच्छिद्रः कृतो भवेत् ।

10b, 11a. etat yaGYaH cChidram = this one - the happening, in Vedic-ritual, hindrance; naH sarveSaam = us, for all; a shivaaya = not, auspicious; bhavati = it becomes; tat = thereby raajan = oh, king; krutaH = ritual's proceedings; a chidraH = not, faulty; yaGYaH bhavet = ritual, it will be; tatha kriyataam = that way, action may be taken.

" 'This hindrance in Vedic-ritual will become inauspicious for all of us, thereby, oh, king, action may be taken as to how there can be no fault in proceedings of the ritual.' The religious-teachers of Sagara have advised him in this way. [1-39-10b, 11a]

Verse Locator

सो उपाध्याय वचः श्रुत्वा तस्मिन् सदसि पार्थिवः ॥१-३९-११
षष्टिम् पुत्र सहस्राणि वाक्यम् एतत् उवाच ह ।

11b, 12a. paarthivaH = that king - Sagara; upaadhyaya vacaH shrutvaa = he Sagara, religious-teachers, words, on hearing; tasmin sadasi = in that, religious-council; SaSTim putra sahasraaNi = to sixty, sons, thousands; etat vaakyam uvaaca ha = this much, sentence, spoke to, indeed.

"On hearing the words of religious-teachers that king Sagara indeed spoke this much to his sixty thousand sons in that religious-council. [1-39-11b, 12a]

Verse Locator

गतिम् पुत्रा न पश्यामि रक्षसाम् पुरुषर्षभाः ॥१-३९-१२

मंत्र पूतैः महाभागैः आस्थितो हि महाक्रतुः ।

12b, 13a. puruSarSabhaaH = oh, best ones among men; putraaH = oh, sons; rakSasaam gatim na pashyaami = for demons, approaching [here,] not, I envisage; mahaa kratuH = glorious, Vedic-ritual; mantra puutaiH mahaa bhaagaiH = by hymns, sanctified, by holy, sanctifiers; aasthitaH hi = presided over - being conducted, isn't it.

" 'Oh, sons, I do not envisage any way in for demons into this ritual, since oh, best ones among men, holy-sanctifiers who themselves are sanctified by the Vedic-hymns are conducting this glorious Vedic-ritual, isn't it. [1-39-12b, 13a]

Verse Locator

तत् गच्छत विचिन्वध्वम् पुत्रका भद्रम् अस्तु वः ॥१-३९-१३

समुद्र मालिनीम् सर्वाम् पृथिवीम् अनुगच्छत ।

13b, 14a. putrakaaH = oh, sons; tat = therefore; vicinadhvam = for the purpose of searching - horse and its thief; gacChata = you may proceed; vaH bhadram astu = to you all, safety, there will be; samudra maaliniim = with ocean, garlanded - encompassed by oceans; sarvaam = entire; pR^ithiviim anugacchata = earth, you follow - you search.

" 'Oh, sons, you may therefore proceed to search for the horse and its thief on entire earth as far as it is garlanded by the ocean, and safety betides you all. [1-39-13]

Verse Locator

एक एकम् योजनम् पुत्रा विस्तारम् अभिगच्छत ॥ १-३९-१४

यावत् तुरग संदर्शः तावत् खनत मेदिनीम् ।

तम् एव हय हर्तारम् मार्गमाणा मम आज्ञया ॥१-३९-१५

14b, 15. putraaH = oh, sons; eka ekam yojanam = one [each prince,] one, yojana - area of earth; vistaaram abhigacChata = square area, you advance - allocate for yourself; mama aaGYayaa = by my, order; tam haya hartaaram = him, horse, stealer; maargamaaNaa = while searching; turaga samdarshaH yaavat = horse's, appearance, until; taavat mediniim khanata = till then, earth, you dig out.

" 'Oh, sons, let each prince advance searching one square yojana of earth, by my order you dig up the earth until the appearance of the horse, while searching for the stealer of that horse. [1-39-14b, 15]

Verse Locator

दीक्षितः पौत्र सहितः स उपाध्याय गणः तु अहम् ।

इह स्थास्यामि भद्रम् वो यावत् तुरग दर्शनम् ॥१-३९-१६

16. diikSitaH aham tu = under vow, I, for my part; such as I am; pautra sahitaH = grand son [Amshuman,] along with; sa upaadhyaya gaNaH = along with, religious-teachers, congregation; yaavat turaga darshanam = till, horse, appears; iha sthaasyaami = here, I will stay; vaH bhadram = to you all, safe betides.

" 'As for myself, I will stay here only along with my grandson, namely Amsuman, and with the congregation of religious-teachers till the horse appears, as I am under vow of the ritual.' Thus Sagara instructed to his sixty thousand sons and stayed back at the ritual place. [1-39-16]

Verse Locator

ते सर्वे हृष्टमनसो राज पुत्रा महाबलाः ।

जग्मुर् मही तलम् राम पितुर् वचन यंत्रिताः ॥१-३९-१७

17. raama = oh, Rama; [iti uktaaH = thus, who are addressed - the sons]; mahaa balaaH = great, mighty ones; raaja putraa = king's, sons - princes; hR^iSTa manasaH = gladdened, at heart - enthusiastically; pituH vacana yantritaaH = of father, words, animated by; te sarve = they, all; mahii talam jagmuH = on earth's, surface, proceeded.

"Animated by their father's words those great-mighty princes enthusiastically proceeded onto earth's surface in the preliminary round of search. [1-39-1]

Verse Locator

गत्व तु पृथिवीम् सर्वम् अदृष्टा तम् महबलाः ।

योजनायाम् अविस्तारम् एकैको धरणी तलम् ।

बिभिदुः पुरुषव्याघ्र वज्र स्पर्श समैः भुजैः ॥१-३९-१८

18. puruSa vyaaghra = oh, man, the tiger, Rama; mahaa balaaH = great mighty ones; sarvam pR^ithiviim gatva tu = entire, earth, having gone, but; tam a dR^iShTaa = that - horse, not, seen; eka ekaH = each, every - prince; yojana = one yojana; aayaama vistaaram = length, breadth - square; dharaNii talam = earth, surface; vajra sparsha samaiH diamond, touch, similar to; bhujaiH [nakhaiH] = with arms - with nails; bibhiduH = they hollowed out.

"But, oh, tigerly-man Rama, on going round the earth in its entirety those great-mighty princes did not find that horse, then as said by their father they mapped the earth to a unit of one square yojana for each of them, and each of them hollowed out each and every area on the surface of earth with their arms that have the touch of the diamonds. [1-39-18]

Verse Locator

शूलैः अशनि कल्पैः च हलैः च अपि सुदारुणैः ।

भिद्यमाना वसुमती ननाद रघुनंदन ॥१-३९-१९

19. raghunandana = oh, legatee of Raghu, Rama; ashani kalpaiH shuulaiH ca = thunderbolt, similar, with spears, also; su daaruNaiH halaiH ca api = very, gruelling, with ploughs, also, even; bhidyamaanaa vasumatii nanaada = being ruptured, mother earth, bewailed.

"Mother Earth bewailed while she is ruptured with spears also that are similar to thunderbolts, besides with very gruelling ploughs. [1-39-19]

Verse Locator

नागानाम् वध्यमानानाम् असुराणाम् च राघव ।

राक्षसानाम् च दुर्धर्षः सत्त्वानाम् निनदो अभवत् ॥१-३९-२०

20. raaghava = oh, Raghava; vadhyamaanaanaam [mathyamaanaanaam] naagaanaam = being killed [while being battered,] of serpents; asuraaNaam ca = of asura-s, also; raakSasaanaam ca = of demons, also; sattvaanaam = of other beings; durdharSaH ninadaH abhavat = unbearable [unstoppable,] rumpuses, emerged.

"Oh, Raghava, there emerged an unbearable rumpus from the serpents, asura-s, demons, and other beings living underneath the surface of earth, while they are killed during hollowing the earth. [1-39-20]

Verse Locator

योजनानाम् सहस्राणि षष्टिम् तु रघुनन्दन ।

बिभिदुर् धरणीम् राम रसा तलम् अनुत्तमम् ॥१-३९-२१

21. raghu nandana = oh, legatee of Raghu's dynasty; raama = oh, Rama; yojanaanaam SaSTim sahasraaNi tu = yojana-s, thousand, sixty, thus; dharaNiim = of earth; they dug to make it as the; an uttamam = unsurpassed; rasaa talam = as sixth, subterranean field; bibhiduH = hollowed.

"Oh, Rama, the legatee of Raghu's dynasty, thus sixty thousand square yojana-s of the earth is dug over, so as to make the earth's outermost plane as the unsurpassed rasaa tala, the sixth subterranean and the nethermost plane. [1-39-21]

Verse Locator

एवम् पर्वत संबाधम् जम्बू द्वीपम् नृपात्मजाः ।

खनन्तो नृपशार्दूल सर्वतः परिचक्रमुः ॥१-३९-२२

22. nR^ipa shaarduula = oh, tigerly king, Rama; nR^ipa aatmajaaH = king's, sons; parvata sam baadham = with mountains, verily, congested; jambuu dviipam = Jambu Island [plateau]; evam khanantaH = this way, while digging; sarvataH paricakramuH = everywhere, they endeavoured.

"Oh, the kingly tiger Rama, the sons of Sagara have endeavoured everywhere digging over the Jambu Island which is verily congested with mountains in this way. [1-39-22]

The jambu dwiipa is a continent according to Hindu mythology where the total continents listed are seven. jambuu plakShaahya dviipau shaalmaliH ca aparao dvija | kushaH krauncaH tathaa shakaH puShkaraH ca eva ca saptamaH the seven continents are jambu- plaksha - shaalmali- kusha - kraunca - shaaka - puSkara, and jambu dwiipa is one among them.

Verse Locator

ततो देवाः स गंधर्वाः स असुराः सह पन्नगाः ।

संभ्रांत मनसः सर्वे पितामहम् उपागमन् ॥१-३९-२३

23. tataH = then; sa gandharvaaH = along with, gandharva-s; sa asuraaH saha pannagaaH = with asura-s, and with, reptiles; devaaH = gods; sarve sambhraanta manasaH = all are, distraught, at heart - for the plight of earth; pitaamaham upaagaman = to Forefather, Brahma, neared - approached.

"All the gods along with gandharva-s, asura-s, and reptiles who are distraught at heart for the plight of earth have approached the Forefather, Brahma. [1-39-23]

Verse Locator

ते प्रसाद्य महात्मानम् विषण्ण वदनाः तदा ।

ऊचुः परम संत्रस्ताः पितामहम् इदम् वचः ॥१-३९-२४

24. parama sam trastaaH = who are very, highly, scared; viSaNNa vadanaaH = with despondent, faces - chap-fallen; te = they, the gods; tadaa = then; mahaatmaanam pitaamaham prasaadya = of great-souled, Forefather - Brahma, getting the grace of; idam vacaH uucuH = this, sentence, they spoke.

"They the gods who are very highly scared, and who are chap-fallen, then spoke this sentence to the great-souled Forefather Brahma on gaining his grace. [1-39-24]

Verse Locator

भगवन् पृथिवी सर्वा खन्यते सगर आत्मजैः ।

बहवः च महात्मानो वध्यन्ते जल चारिणः ॥१-३९-२५

25. bhagavan = oh, god Brahma; sarvaa pR^ithivii = entire, earth; sagara aatmajaiH khanyate = by Sagara, sons, being dug; jala caariNaH [tala vaasinaH, rasaa tala vaasinaH] = water, moving [aquatic beings, dwellers in netherworlds]; bahavaH ca mahaatmaanaH vadhyante = many, great souled beings, also, are being destroyed.

" 'Oh, god Brahma, the sons of Sagara are digging entire earth, thus aquatic beings and many great-souls are being destroyed. [1-39-25]

Verse Locator

अयम् यज्ञ हरो अस्माकम् अनेन अश्वो अपनीयते ।

इति ते सर्व भूतानि हिंसन्ति सगर आत्मजः ॥१-३९-२६

26. ayam = this one is; [naH = our]; yaGYa haraH = ritual, stealer - hinderer; anena = by this one; asmaakam ashvaH apaniiyate = our, [ritual] horse, is carried off; iti = thus - thinking thus; te sagara aatmajaH = those, Sagara's, sons; sarva bhuutaani himsanti = all, living beings, they are torturing.

" 'This one is the destroyer of our ritual... this one has carried off our ritual horse...' thinking thus and suspecting everyone those sons of Sagara are torturing all the living beings.' Thus all the gods have appealed to Brahma." So said Sage Vishvamitra to Rama and others. [1-39-26]

Verse Locator

इति वाल्मीकि रामायणे आदि काव्ये बाल काण्डे एकोन चत्वारिंशः सर्गः

Thus, this is the 39th chapter in Bala Kanda of Valmiki Ramayana, the First Epic poem of India.

Book I : Bala Kanda - The Youthful Majesties

chapter/Sarga 40

Verses converted to UTF-8, Sept 09

Introduction

Sage Vishwamitra's narration of Sagara's legend is continued. Sagara's sons dig out all the quarters of earth and when they enter northeast to find out the horse thief, there they find Sage Kapila, i.e., Vishnu in the semblance of a sage. When they wanted to attack that sage Kapila, he renders them to heaps of ashes by his yogic powers.

Verse Locator

देवतानाम् वचः श्रुत्वा भगवान् वै पितामहः ।

प्रत्युवाच सुसंत्रस्तान् कृतान्त बल मोहितान् ॥ १-४०-१

1. bhagavaan pitaamahaH = esteemed one, Forefather - Brahma; devataanaam vacaH shrutvaa = of gods, words, on hearing; kR^ita anta bala = effectuating, end of [all beings,] by might [of Sagara's sons]; mohitaan = bewildered ones [gods]; su sam trastaan = very, highly, scared ones; prati vuvaaca = in turn, spoke to - replied = vai = indeed.

"On hearing the words of gods, the esteemed Forefather Brahma spoke to them, who are very highly scared, and bewildered by the might of Sagara's sons for they are effectuating the end of all beings." Vishvamitra thus continued his narration. [1-40-1]

Verse Locator

यस्य इयम् वसुधा कृत्स्ना वासुदेवस्य धीमतः।

महिषी माधवस्य स एषा स एव भगवन् प्रभुः॥ १-४०-२

कापिलम् रूपम् आस्थाय धारयत्य अनिशम् धराम् ।

तस्य कोपाग्निना दग्धा भविष्यन्ति नृपात्मजा ॥ १-४०-३

2, 3. kR^itsnaa iyam vasudhaa = entire, this, earth; eShaa maadhavasaya mahiShii = she is, the consort, of Maadhava; yasya dhiimataH vaasudevasya = whose [to which,] prescient, belongs to Vaasudeva; such Vaasudeva; saH eva bhagavan prabhuH = He, alone, reverential, lord [Vishnu]; anisham dharaam dhaarayatya = eternally, earth, he bears; kaapilam ruupam aasthaaya = sage Kapila's, semblance of, on donning; nR^ipa aatmajaa = king's, sons - of Sagara; tasya kopa agninaa dagdhaa = in his [Kapila's,] fury's, fire, burnt down; bhaviSyanti = they will be - burnt to ashes.

"To whom this Mother Earth belongs in all her entirety, he is that prescient Vasudeva, and she is also the consort of that Maadhava, and that Vishnu eternally props up Mother Earth. Hence, that reverential Vishnu donning the semblance of Sage Kapila will burn down the sons of emperor Sagara to ashes in a fire of fury. [1-40-2, 3]

The islands / continents on earth, dviipa-s, are 'jambu- plaksha - shaalmali- kusha - kraunca - shaaka - puSkara. And they are the seven continents. Some say the earth is having nine continents, yet some others prefer eighteen. However entire globe bhuu devi belongs to Vishnu as she is his another consort.

Verse Locator

पृथिव्याः च अपि निर्भेदो दृष्ट एव सनातनः ।

सगरस्य च पुत्राणाम् विनाशो दीर्घ दर्शिनाम् ॥ १-४०-४

4. pR^ithivyaaH nir bhedaH ca api = earth's, complete, cleavage, also, even; sagarasya putraaNaam = Sagara's, as well as, son's; vi naashaH ca = complete, ruination, also; diirgha darsiniim = by far, sighted ones; sanaatanaH = by providential ancients; dR^iStaa eva = envisaged, thus.

'Even the complete cleavage of the earth, and the complete ruination of Sagara's sons as well, are envisaged by the providentially farsighted ancients." So said Brahma to gods. [1-40-4]

This is the cosmic routine. Every day of Brahma is one kalpa and in each kalpa Brahma starts to create the universe afresh. Though it is just like the bygone creation it is anew, but the presiding souls of each object of the universe will change. If one soul presides the Sun or the Moon in this era, in the next era they attain a higher step in the ladder of 'snakes and ladders' called vaikunTha paali and a soul-in-wait takes up the job of that Sun or Moon, just as good as the promotions of officials. In this cosmic destruction even the gods or godlike entities will be destroyed if they tend to cause unnecessary ruination to the living beings anena bahu praNi upadrava kaariNaam devaa api vadha upaayam abhiipsanti - daiva hataanaam ca teShaam avicaareNa naaso bhavatyeva eveti suucitam -dk This is the same even in the case of Indra. Vishnu in His Trivikrama incarnation blesses the demonic Emperor Bali with such Indra-hood in some era, when Bali's sin is counted down, and when merit accrues.

Verse Locator

पितामह वचः श्रुत्वा त्रयः त्रिंशत् अरिन्दमः ।

देवाः परम संहृष्टाः पुनर् जग्मुर् यथा आगतम् ॥ १-४०-५

5. arimdamaH = oh, enemy-destroyer - Rama; pitaamaha vacaH shrutvaa = Forefather's, words, on hearing; trayaH trimshat devaaH = three, thirty, [thirty three,] gods; parama samhR^iStaaH = with utmost, satisfaction; yathaa aagatam = as, they came; punaH jagmuH = again, went away.

"On hearing the words of the Forefather Brahma all the thirty three gods went away with utmost satisfaction, as they have come. [1-40-5]

The gods that have come to appeal to Brahma are said to be thirty-three in numbers. It is not that all the count of all the gods who have come. There are others besides the prominent groups of thirty-three god-groups. The thirty-three primary god-groups who have come here are aStaa vasu-s 'eight Vasu gods' ekaadasha rudraas 'eleven Rudra gods' ashvini dvaya twin brothers called 'ashvini-gods,' those that are mostly connected with the administration of earth.

Verse Locator

सगरस्य च पुत्राणाम् प्रादुर् आसीत् महास्वनः ।

पृथिव्याम् भिद्यमानायाम् निर्घात सम निःवनः ॥ १-४०-६

6. sagarasya putraaNaam = Sagara's, to sons; pR^ithivyaam bhidyamaanaayaam = of earth, while digging out; nirghaata samaH nisvanaH = thunder, similar, crashing; mahaa svanaH = unbearable, noise; praaduraasiit = has emerged - they heard.

"When the sons of Sagara are digging the earth then there emerged an unbearable noise similar to the crashing of a thunder. [1-40-6]

Verse Locator

ततो भित्त्वा महीम् सर्वाम् कृत्वा च अपि प्रदक्षिणम् ।

सहिताः सगराः सर्वे पितरम् वाक्यम् अब्रुवन् ॥ १-४०-७

7. tataH = then; sarvaam mahiim bhittvaa = entire, earth, on breaking asunder; pradakSiNam ca api kR^itvaa = round trips, also, even, on making; sarve sagaraaH =

all of the, Sagara's sons, sahitaaH = coming together; pitaram vaakyam abruvan = to father, words, spoke.

"Then on hollowing the entire earth, and on making trips around her without finding the horse, all of the sons of Sagara have come together and on going to their father they spoke these words to him. [1-40-7]

Verse Locator

परिक्रांता मही सर्वा सत्त्ववन्तः च सूदिताः ।
देव दानव रक्षांसि पिशाच उरग पन्नगाः ॥ १-४०-८
न च पश्यामहे अश्वम् ते अश्व हर्तारम् एव च ।
किम् करिष्याम भद्रम् ते बुद्धिः अत्र विचार्यताम् ॥ १-४०-९

8, 9. sarvaa mahii pari kraantaa = entire, earth is, over, run - trekked; sattvavantaH ca = mighty ones, also; deva daanava rakSaamsi pishaaca uraga pannagaaH = gods, demons, monsters, evil-spirits, fiends, serpents, naga-s; suuditaaH = are eliminated; ashvam = horse; ashva hartaaram eva ca = horse, stealer, like that, also; na pashyaamahe ca = not, we have seen, even; kim kariSyaama = what is, to be done by us; te bhadram = let safe betide you; atra buddhiH vicaaryataam = in that matter, sagacity, be pondered on - give a thought to it.

" 'Entire earth is trekked and mighty beings like gods, demons, monsters, evil-spirits, fiends, serpents, naga-s are also eliminated, but we have not seen the ritual-horse or its stealer. What we have to do next. Let a thought be given in this matter. Let safeness betide you.' So said those princes to their father Sagara. [1-40-8, 9]

Verse Locator

तेषाम् तत् वचनम् श्रुत्वा पुत्राणाम् राज सत्तमः ।
समन्युः अब्रवीत् वाक्यम् सगरो रघुनन्दन ॥ १-४०-१०

10. raghunandana = oh, Raghu's descendent; teSaam putraaNaam tat vacanam shrutvaa = their, of his sons, that, sentence, on hearing; raaja sattamaH sagaraH = king, exalted one, Sagara; sa manyuH vaakyam abraviit = with, fury [infuriated] spoke, words.

"On hearing that sentence of his sons, oh, Rama, descendent of Raghu, that exalted king Sagara infuriately spoke these words. [1-40-10]

Verse Locator

भूयः खनत भद्रम् वो विभेद्य वसुधा तलम्
अश्व हर्तारम् आसाद्य कृतार्थाः च निवर्तत ॥ १-४०-११

11. vasudhaa talam vi bhedya = earth's, surface, verily, splitting open; bhuuyaH khanata = further, it may be dug; ashva hartaaram aasaadya = horse's, thief, catch hold of; kR^ita arthaaH nivartata ca = on achieving, purposes, return [to me,] also; vaH bhadram = to you, let safety be.

" 'Let the earth be dug further, may safety be with you, and verily splitting open the surface of the earth you catch hold of the thief of the horse, and on achieving your purpose you may return to me.' In this way Sagara ordered his sons. [1-40-11]

Verse Locator

पितुर् वचनम् आसाद्य सगरस्य महात्मनः ।
षष्टिः पुत्र सहस्राणि रसातलम् अभिद्रवन् ॥ १-४०-१२

12. pituH = father's; maha atmanaH sagarasya = great-souled one, of Sagara; vacanam aasaadhya = words, on catching up; SaSTiH putra sahasraaNi = sixty, sons, thousand; rasaa talam abhi dravan = to netherworld's, surface, towards, rushed in.

"On catching up the words of their father, the great-souled Sagara, his sixty thousand sons rushed towards the surface of the rasaa tala, the netherworld. [1-40-12]

The last but one mantle of the earth from its crust to its inner core, is called rasaa tala, in the seven-tier planes called, atala, vitala, sutala, talaatala, rasstala, paataala.. These are not hells.

Verse Locator

खन्यमाने ततः तस्मिन् ददृशुः पर्वत उपमम् ।
दिशा गजम् विरूपाक्षम् धारयन्तम् महीतलम् ॥ १-४०-१३

13. tataH tasmin khanyamaane = then, there, while digging; parvata upamam = which is - mountain, similar; mahii talam dhaarayantam = [eastern side of] earth's, surface, which is bearing; viruupaakSam dishaa gajam = Viruupaaksa [named,] direction [easterly,] elephant; dadR^ishuH = they beheld.

"While digging the earth there they beheld a mountain similar easterly elephant named Viruupaaksha, which is bearing the eastern side of earth's surface on its head. [1-40-13]

Verse Locator

स पर्वत वनाम् कृत्स्नाम् पृथिवीम् रघुनन्दन ।
धारयामास शिरसा विरूपाक्षो महागजः ॥ १-४०-१४

14. raghunandana = oh, Raghu's delight - Rama; viruupaakSaH mahaa gajaH = by name Viruupaaksa, great elephant; sa parvata vanaam kR^itsnaam pR^ithiviim = with, mountains, forests, in its entirety, [eastern side of] earth; shirasaa dhaarayaamaasa = by its head, bearing.

"Oh, Rama, the legatee of Raghu, that great easterly elephant Viruupaaksha is bearing the entire eastern earth along with its mountains and forests on its head. [1-40-14]

Verse Locator

यदा पर्वणि काकुत्स्थ विश्रमार्थम् महागजः ।
खेदात् चालयते शीर्षम् भूमि कंपः तदा भवेत् ॥ १-४०-१५

15. kaakutstha = oh, Rama of Kakutstha; mahaa gajaH = great, elephant; parvaNi = on certain occasions; yadaa = when; vishrama artham = respite, for the purpose of - desiring; khedaat shiirSam caalayate = by tiresomeness, moves, its head; tadaa = then; bhuumi kampaH bhavet = earth, quack, occurs.

"On certain occasions, oh, Rama of Kakutstha, when that great-elephant moves its head desiring respite in tiresomeness then earthquakes will occur on earth. [1-40-15]

Verse Locator

ते तम् प्रदक्षिणम् कृत्वा दिशा पालम् महागजम् ।
मानयन्तो हि ते राम जग्मुर् भित्त्वा रसातलम् ॥ १-४०-१६

16. raama = oh, Rama; te tam = they, to it - elephant; dishaa paalam mahaa gajam = easterly direction, protector of, to great, elephant; pradakSiNam kR^itvaa = circumambulations, after making; maanayantaH = worshiping it; bhittvaa rasaatalam jagmuH = splitting [earth,] to netherworld, they proceeded.

"They circumambulated the great elephant in supplication, oh Rama, and on worshipping that elephant which is the protector of easterly direction they proceeded to netherworld duly

ततः पूर्वाम् दिशम् भित्त्वा दक्षिणाम् बिभिदुः पुनः ।
 दक्षिणस्याम् अपि दिशि ददृशुः ते महागजम् ॥ १-४०-१७
 महा पद्मम् महात्मानम् सुमहा पर्वतोपमम् ।
 शिरसा धारयन्तम् गाम् विस्मयम् जग्मुर् उत्तमम् ॥ १-४०-१८

17, 18. tataH puurvaam disham bhittvaa = then, eastern, direction, on splitting; punaH = again - then; dakSiNaam bibhiduH = south, split open; te dakSiNasyaam dishi api = they, in the southern, direction, even in; su mahaa parvata upamam = very, great, mountain, similar to; shirasaa gaam dhaarayantam = by head, [southerly side of] earth, one which is sustaining; mahaatmaanam = which has venerable character; mahaapadmam = at Mahapadma [southerly elephant]; mahaa gajam = mammoth, elephant; dadR^ishuH = they saw; [te] uttamam vismayam jagmuH = [they,] inordinate, astonishment, have undergone.

"After splitting the eastern direction then they split opened the southern direction, and even in southern direction they beheld an elephant that is similar to a very great mountain, and that is sustaining southerly side of earth on its head, and on seeing that mammoth elephant of venerable character, namely Mahapadma, they went into an inordinate astonishment. [1-40-17, 18]

ते तम् प्रदक्षिणम् कृत्वा सगरस्य महात्मनः ।
 षष्टिः पुत्र सहस्राणि पश्चिमाम् बिभिदुर् दिशम् ॥ १-४०-१९

19. maha aatmanaH sagarasya = great souled, Sagara's; SaSTiH putra sahasraaNi = sixty, sons, thousand; tam pradakSiNam kR^itvaa = to it - to elephant, circumambulations, on making; te = they; pashcimaam disham bibhiduH = westerly, direction, scooped out.

"On circumambulating that elephant Mahaapada in supplication, they the sixty thousand sons of great-souled Sagara scooped out the westerly direction. [1-40-19]

पश्चिमायाम् अपि दिशि महान्तम् अचलोपमम् ।
 दिशा गजम् सौमनसम् ददृशुः ते महा बलाः ॥ १-४०-२०

20. mahaabalaaH = great mighty ones; te = they; pashcimaayaam dishi api = in western, direction, even in; mahaantam acala upamam = endless, mountain, similar to; saumanasam = Saumanasa - named elephant; dishaa gajam = [western] direction, elephant; dadR^ishuH = beheld.

"Even in the westerly direction those great mighty sons of Sagara beheld an infinite and mountain similar elephant of western direction, called Sumanasa. [1-40-20]

ते तम् प्रदक्षिणम् कृत्वा पृष्ट्वा च अपि निरामयम् ।
 खनन्तः समुपक्रान्ता दिशम् सोमवतीम् तदा ॥ १-४०-२१

21. te tam pradakSiNam kR^itvaa = they, to it, circumambulations, on performing; niraamayam pR^iSTvaa ca api = its well-being, on asking, also, even; khanantaH = on digging - the earth; tadaa = then; [tataH = from there]; soma vatiim disham = nectar, which has, that direction, or, which has more Soma juice because rituals are performed there; [or, haima vatiim = snow, which has] northern direction; sam upa kraantaa = well, nearby, treated - reached.

"Circumambulating that elephant namely Sumanasa in western side, and even on asking about its well-being, then they reached the northern direction duly digging the earth. [1-40-21]

Verse Locator

उत्तरस्याम् रघुश्रेष्ठ ददृशुर् हिम पाण्डुरम् ।
भद्रम् भद्रेण वपुषा धारयन्तम् महीम् इमाम् ॥ १-४०-२२

22. raghu shreSTha = oh, Rahu dynasty's, best one - Rama; uttarasyaam = in the northern direction; hima paaNDuram = which elephant is - snow, white; bhadreNa vapuSaa = with an auspicious, body; imaam mahiim dhaarayantam = this, earth, which is bearing; bhadram = Bhadra - named elephant; dadR^ishuH = they beheld.

"In the northern direction, oh, Rama, they beheld Bhadra, a snow-white elephant with an auspicious body bearing northern side of this earth. [1-40-22]

Verse Locator

समालभ्य ततः सर्वे कृत्वा च एनम् प्रदक्षिणम् ।
षष्टिः पुत्र सहस्राणि बिभिदुर् वसुधा तलम् ॥ १-४०-२३

23. tataH sarve = then, all; SaSTiH putra sahasraaNi = sixty, sons, thousand; enam = it - elephant; samaalabhya = on touching [reverently]; pradakSiNam kR^itvaa ca = circumambulations [to elephant,] on making, also; vasudhaa talam bibhiduH = earth's, surface, burrowed.

"On touching that elephant reverently and also circumambulating it, those sixty thousands sons of Sagara further burrowed to the surface of the earth. [1-40-23]

Verse Locator

ततः प्राक् उत्तराम् गत्वा सागराः प्रथिताम् दिशम् ।
रोषात् अभ्यखनन् सर्वे पृथिवीम् सगर आत्मजाः ॥ १-४०-२४

24. tataH = then; saagaraaH = sons of Sagara; prathitaam praakuttaraam disham gatvaa = auspicious, east, north, to direction, on going; sarve sagara aatmajaaH = all, Sagara's, sons; roSaata pR^ithiviim abhyakhanan = rancorously, earth, they tunnelled.

"The sons of Sagara have then gone to the auspicious northeast direction, iishaana digbhaaga, Shiva sthaana, and all those sons of Sagara have tunnelled the earth rancorously. [1-40-24]

Verse Locator

ते तु सर्वे महत्मानो भिमवेग महबलाः ।
ददृशुः कपिलम् तत्र वासुदेवम् सनातनम् ॥ १-४०-२५
हयम् च तस्य देवस्य चरन्तम् अविदूरतः ।
प्रहर्षम् अतुलम् प्रप्तः सर्वे ते रघुनन्दन ॥ १-४०-२६

25, 26. mahatmaanaH bhimavega mahabalaha = great-souled ones, of terrible dash, great mighty ones; te sarve tu = they, all of them, but; tatra = there - northeast; kapilam = in sage Kapila's form; sanaatanam vaasudevam = the Infinite one, Vaasudeva - Vishnu; tasya devasya = from that, god's; a vi duurataH = not, very, far - nearby; carantam hayam ca = moving, horse, also; dadR^ishuH = they saw; raghunandana = oh, decedent of Raghu; then; te sarve = they, all; atulam praharSam praptaH = matchless, delight, they obtained.

"But all those great-souled and great-mighty ones with terrible dash have seen the Infinite Vasudeva in the form of sage Kapila there in the northeast, and oh, descendant of Raghu, they have also seen the ritual-horse moving nearby that sage Kapila, thus all of the sons of Sagara obtained a matchless delight. [1-40-25, 26]

Verse Locator

ते तम् हय हरम् ज्ञात्वा क्रोध पर्याकुल ईक्षणाः ।
खनित्र लांगला धर नाना वृक्ष शिला धराः ॥ १-४०-२७
अभ्यधावन्त संक्रुद्धाः तिष्ठ तिष्ठ इति च अब्रुवन् ।

27, 28a. te = they - princes; tam = him - sage Kapila; haya haram = as horse, stealer; [yaGYa hanam = ritual-destroyer]; GYaatvaa = on construing; krodha paryaakula iikSaNaah = with fury, agitating, eyes; khanitra laangalaa dharaa = crowbars, ploughs, handlers - wielding; naanaa vR^iksha shilaa dharaaH = various, trees, boulders, handlers - wielding; sam kruddhaaH abhya dhaavanta = very furiously, towards [sage,] dashed; tiSTha tiSTha iti abruvan ca = stay, stay, thus, they said - shouted, also.

"The eyes of the princes are agitated in fury in construing the sage Kapila as the stealer of ritual-horse, and they furiously dashed towards him wielding crowbars, ploughs, and various trees and boulders, and shouting at him, 'stay, stay.' [1-40-27, 28a]

Verse Locator

अस्माकम् त्वम् हि तुरगम् यज्ञियम् हृतवान् असि ॥ १-४०-२८
दुर्मेधः त्वम् हि संप्राप्तान् विद्धि नः सगरात्मजान् ।

28b, 29a. dur medhaH = oh, evil, minded - malicious one; tvam = you; asmaakam = ours; yaGYiiyam = pertaining to Vedic ritual; turagam hR^itavaan asi hi = horse, you have stolen, you are, indeed; sampraaptaan naH = to here who have come, us; sagara aatmajaan = as Sagara's, sons; tvam viddhi hi = you, know, in fact.

"You the malicious one, you have indeed stolen our ritual-horse, and in fact, you should know that we who arrived here are the sons of Sagara.' Thus Sagara's sons shouted at sage Kapila. [1-40-28b, 29a]

Verse Locator

श्रुत्वा तत् वचनम् तेषाम् कपिलो रघुनन्दन ॥ १-४०-२९
रोषेण महता आविष्टो हुम् कारम् अकरोत् तदा ।

29b, 30a. raghunandana = oh, descendant of Raghu; kapilaH teSaam tat vacanam shrutvaa = Kapila, their, that, sentence, on listening; tadaa = then; mahataa roSeNa aaviSTaH = with high, anger, beset with; hum kaaram akarot = hum [in dissent,] sound, he made - sage made the sound.

"On hearing their words, oh, Rama, the descendant of Raghu, then sage Kapila is beset with high wrath, and he boomed a 'hum' sound at them. [1-40-29b, 30a]

Verse Locator

ततः तेन अप्रमेयेण कपिलेन महात्मना ।
भस्म राशी कृताः सर्वे काकुत्स्थ सगरात्मजाः ॥ १-४०-३०

30b, c. kaakutstha = oh, Rama of Kakutstha; tataH = then; a prameyeNa = of unimaginable power maha atmanaa = by that great-souled one; tena kapilena = by him, by Kapila; sarve sagara aatmajaaH = all of the, Sagara's, sons; bhasma raashii kR^itaaH = to ashes, heaps of, rendered as.

"Oh, Rama of Kakutstha, then that great-souled sage Kapila, rather Vishnu with unimaginable power, has rendered all of those sons of Sagara as heaps of ashes by virtue of his hum' sound." Thus Sage Vishvamitra is narrating the legend of Sagara to Rama and others. [1-40-30b, c]

Verse Locator

इति वाल्मीकि रामायणे आदि काव्ये बाल काण्डे चत्वारिंशः सर्गः

Thus, this is the 40th chapter in Bala Kanda of Valmiki Ramayana, the First Epic poem of India.

Book I : Bala Kanda - The Youthful Majesties

chapter/Sarga] 41
Verses converted to UTF-8, Sept 09

Introduction

Amshuman's search for horse reveals that Kapila rendered his paternal-uncles to ashes. When he wanted to offer water oblation as obsequies to their souls he did not find water. Then Garuda, the Eagle-vehicle of Vishnu and maternal uncle of Amshuman advises him to get River Ganga onto earth whereby the souls are cleansed and they go to heaven. Amshuman reports the same to King Sagara, but Sagara not finding any way to get River Ganga onto earth departs to heaven at the end of his time.

Verse Locator

पुत्रान् चिर गतान् ज्ञात्वा सगरो रघुनन्दन ।
नप्तारम् अब्रवीत् राजा दीप्यमानम् स्व तेजसा ॥ १-४१-१

1. raghunandana = oh, Rama, descendent of Raghu; raajaa sagaraH = king, Sagara; putraan cira gataan = sons, long time back, have gone - for searching horse; j~naatvaa = on knowing, on recalling to mind; sva tejasaa diipyamaanam = with his own, resplendence, who is resplendent; naptaaram abraviit = to grand son, spoke.

"On observing that his sons have gone long time back in search of ritual-horse, oh, Rama, king Sagara spoke this to his grandson, Amshuman, who is radiant with his own self-resplendence." Thus Vishvamitra continued his narration about Sagara. [1-41-1]

Verse Locator

शूरः च कृत विद्यः च पूर्वेः तुल्यो असि तेजसा ।
पितृणाम् गतिम् अन्विच्छ येन च अश्वो अपहारितः ॥ १-४१-२

2. shuuraH ca kR^ita vidyaH ca = [you are a] brave one, also, completed, education [in warfare]; suh as you are, you; tejasaa = by magnificence; puurvaiH tulyaH asi = with [your] fathers [paternal-uncles,] equal to, you are; pitR^INaam gatim anvicCha = your fathers [paternal-uncles',] course, you search; ashvaH yena apahaaritaH ca = horse, by whom, stolen, also. - you fin out.

" 'You are brave one and completed your education in warfare, such as you are, you are a coequal to your paternal-uncles in magnificence, thus you search the course of your paternal uncles, also him by whom the horse is stolen.' Thus King Sagara started speaking to his grandson Amshuman. [1-41-2]

Verse Locator

अन्तर् भौमानि सत्त्वानि वीर्यवन्ति महान्ति च ।
तेषाम् त्वम् प्रतिघात अर्थम् स असिम् गृहीष्व कार्मुकम् ॥ १-४१-३

3. antar bhaumaani sattvaani = underneath, earth, beings - living beings in netherworlds; viiryavanti = are intrepid ones; mahaanti ca = extraordinary ones, also; tvam teSaam pratighaata artham = you, their, retaliation [if they attack you,] for the purpose of; sa asim = with, sword; kaarmukam gR^i hNiiSva = bow, you take up - you wield.

" 'The living beings in netherworlds of earth are intrepid and they are extraordinary also, hence you take your bow along with your sword to retaliate them in the event of their attacking you. [1-41-3]

Verse Locator

अभिवाद्य अभिवाद्यान् त्वम् हत्वा विघ्न करान् अपि ।

सिद्धार्थः संनिवर्तस्व मम यज्ञस्य पारगः ॥ १-४१-४

4. tvam = you; abhivaadyaan = those that are to be saluted; abhivaadya = on saluting them; vighna karaan hatvaa api = obstructions, causers, killing, even on; siddha arthaH san = achieved, purpose, on becoming; mama yaj~nasya = my, of Vedic-ritual; paara gaH = to other shore, be crossed over; sam nivartasva = well, return - safely come back.

" 'On saluting them that are worthy for salutations, and on eliminating them that are the causer of obstructions, you shall achieve your purpose of tracking the ritual-horse, and thus you comeback safely and let my Vedic-ritual be crossed over to the other shore of mortality by you.' Thus king Sagara told his grandson Amshuman. [1-41-4]

Verse Locator

एवम् उक्तो अंशुमान् संयक् सगरेण महात्मना ।

धनुर् आदाय खड्गम् च जगाम लघुविक्रमः ॥ १-४१-५

5. amshumaan = Amshuman; maha atmanaa sagareNa = by great-souled one, by Sagara; evam samyak uktaH = this way, thoroughly, when said; dhanuH khaDgam ca aadaaya = bow, sword, also, on taking; laghu vikramaH = in agility, adroit one; jagaama = proceeded.

"When the great-souled king Sagara has thoroughly said in this way, that adroitly agile Amshuman proceeded wielding a bow and a sword. [1-41-5]

Verse Locator

स खातम् पितृभिः मार्गम् अन्तर् भौमम् महात्मभिः ।

प्रापद्यत नरश्रेष्ठ तेन राज्ञा अभिचोदितः ॥ १-४१-६

6. nara shreSTha = oh, best one among men - Rama; saH = he, Amshuman; tena raaj~naa abhicoditaH = by him, that king, motivated by; mahaatmabhiH pitR^ibhiH = by great-souled ones, by fathers - paternal-uncles; antar bhaumam khaatam maargam = inside, of earth, hollowed, walkway; praapadyata = he attained - progressed on that path.

"Motivated by the King Sagara, oh, Rama, the best one among men, Amshuman progressed on the walkway that was hollowed out by his great-souled paternal-uncles inside the earth. [1-41-6]

Verse Locator

देव दानव रक्षोभिः पिशाच पतग उरगैः ।

पूज्यमानम् महातेजा दिशा गजम् अपश्यत ॥ १-४१-७

7. mahaatejaa = that highly resplendent one - Amshuman; deva daanava rakSobhiH = by gods, monsters, demons; pishaaca pataga uragaiH = by imps, vultures, serpents; puujyamaanam = being venerated; dishaa gajam apashyata = directional, elephant, beheld.

"And he that resplendent Amshuman beheld one of the four directional elephant of the earth which is being venerated by gods, monsters, demons, imps, vultures and serpents. [1-41-7]

Verse Locator

स तम् प्रदक्षिणम् कृत्वा पृष्ट्वा चैव निरामयम् ।
पितृन् स परिप्रच्छ वाजि हर्तारम् एव च ॥ १-४१-८

8. saH tam pradakSiNam kR^itvaa = he, him [elephant,] circumambulations, on making; niraamayam pR^iSTvaa caiva = well being, on asking, also, even; saH = he - Amshuman; pitR^iin = about fathers; vaaji hartaaram eva ca = horse, robber, even, also; pa pracCha = in detail, enquired.

On circumambulating that elephant in supplication, and even on enquiring after its well-being, he that Amshuman has enquired in detail with it for his paternal-uncles and even about the robber of the ritual-horse. [1-41-8]

Verse Locator

दिशा गजः तु तत् श्रुत्वा प्रत्युवाच महामतिः ।
आसमंज कृतार्थः त्वम् सह अश्वः शीघ्रम् एष्यसि ॥ १-४१-९

9. mahaamatiH = of great perception [elephant]; dishaa gajaH tu = directional, elephant, on its part; tat shrutvaa = that, on hearing; prati uvaaca = in turn, spoke - replied; aasamanja = oh, son of Asamanja; tvam kR^ita arthaH = you, achieving, your mission; saha ashvaH shiighram eSyasi = along with, horse, expeditiously, you will proceed - you will return.

"On hearing that enquiry of Amshuman that directional elephant with great perception replied on its part saying, 'oh Amshuman, son of Asamanja, on achieving your mission you will return expeditiously along with the horse. [1-41-9]

Verse Locator

तस्य तद् वचनम् श्रुत्वा सर्वान् एव दिशा गजान् ।
यथा क्रमम् यथा न्यायम् प्रष्टुम् समुपचक्रमे ॥ १-४१-१०

10. tasya tat vacanam shrutvaa = his [elephant's,] that, word, on hearing; sarvaan eva = all, like that; dishaa gajaan = directional, elephants; yathaa kramam yathaa nyaayam = according to, positioning, [i.e., their standing, north, east, south, west etc.,] according to, procedure; praSTum samupacakrame = to ask, he commenced.

"On hearing that word of that directional elephant he departed from there, and on sequentially reaching other directional elephants that are abiding in other directions of earth, he commenced to ask the same enquiry which he made with the first, according to the positioning of elephants in directions, and according to the established procedures of their venerability. [1-41-10]

Verse Locator

तैः च सर्वैः दिशा पालैः वाक्यज्ञैः वाक्यकोविदैः ।
पूजितः स ह्यः चैव गन्ता असि इति अभिचोदितः ॥ १-४१-११

11. vaakya j~naiH vaakyakovidaiH = sentence, knowers, sentence-making, experts in - articulate, eloquent; sarvaiH taiH dishaa paalaiH ca = by all, of them, directions, safeguarding elephants; puujitaH = he who is adored; sa hayaH = with, horse - taking horse; gantaa asi iti abhicoditaH = gone, you will be, thus, motivated.

"All the elephants that safeguard the directions of earth which have the faculties of articulation and eloquence have adored Amshuman and motivated him by saying, 'you will be

तेषाम् तत् वचनम् श्रुत्वा जगाम लघुविक्रमः ।
भस्म राशी कृता यत्र पितरः तस्य सागराः ॥ १-४१-१२

12. teSaam tat vacanam shrutvaa = of them [elephants,] that, word - common blessing, on hearing; laghu vikramaH = nimble-footed - prince; tasya pitaraH = his, fathers - paternal uncles; saagaraaH = sons of Sagara; yatra = where; bhasma raashii kR^itaa = ash, mound, made as; [tatra = [to there]; jagaama = he has gone.

"On hearing that common blessing of all the directional-elephants, he that nimble-footed Amshuman has gone to the place where his paternal-uncles, sons of Sagara, were rendered as mounds of ashes. [1-41-12]

स दुःख वशम् आपन्नः तु असमंज सुतः तदा ।
चुक्रोश परम आर्तः तु वधात् तेषाम् सुदुःखितः ॥ १-४१-१३

13. tadaa = then; saH = he that; asamanja sutaH = Asamanja's, son - Amshuman; duHkha vasham aapannaH tu = anguish, into control, chanced upon, but; parama aartaH tu = highly, agonised, but; teSaam vadhaat su duHkhitaH = their - paternal-uncles, at the destruction, extremely, anguished; cukrosha = wept.

"But he on whom the control of anguish has chanced for not physically seeing his paternal-uncles, that son of Asamanja then wept, as he is highly agonised and extremely anguished at their destruction. [1-41-13]

यज्ञियम् च हयम् तत्र चरन्तम् अविदूरतः ।
ददर्श पुरुषव्याघ्रो दुःख शोक समन्वितः ॥ १-४१-१४

14. duHkha shoka samanvitaH = by anguish, agony, one who is overwhelmed; puruSa vyaaghraH = tigerly-man - Amshuman; aviduurataH carantam = not very far, grazing; yaj~niyam hayam ca = of Vedic-ritual, horse, also; dadarsha = he beheld.

"That tigerly-man Amshuman who is overwhelmed by agony and anguish, also beheld there the horse of Vedic-ritual that is grazing nearby. [1-41-14]

स तेषाम् राज पुत्राणाम् कर्तुं कामो जल क्रियाम् ।
स जलार्थम् महातेजा न च अपश्यत् जल आशयम् ॥ १-४१-१५

15. mahaatejaa = great resplendent one; saH = he; teSaam raaja putraaNaam = for them, king's, sons - to the departed souls; jala kriyaam kartu kaamaH = [obsequial] water, oblation, to offer, wanted to; jala artham = water, for the purpose of - when searched for; jala aashayam = water, receptacle - tank, fount; saH na apashyat ca = he, not, has seen - found, also.

"When he that great resplendent Amshuman wanted to offer obsequial waters to the departed sons of Sagara and searched for water he has not found any fount of water. [1-41-15]

विसार्य निपुणाम् दृष्टिम् ततो अपश्यत् खग अधिपम् ।
पितृणाम् मातुलम् राम सुपर्णम् अनिल उपमम् ॥ १-४१-१६

16. raama = oh, Rama; tataH = then; nipuNaam dR^iSTim visaarya = expert, glance, on spanning; pitR^iNaam maatulam = fathers' paternal-uncles', maternal uncle; khaga adhipam = birds, king of; anila upamam = wind-god, similar to; su parNam = rapid, winged - Garuda; apashyat = he saw.

"Spanning his expert glances, oh, Rama, he then saw the rapid-winged king of birds, namely Garuda, the Eagle-vehicle of Vishnu, who is the maternal uncle of his father and other paternal-uncles, and whose flight will be similar to that of the Wind-god. [1-41-16]

Verse Locator

स च एनम् अब्रवीत् वाक्यम् वैनतेयो महाबलः ।
मा शुचः पुरुषव्याघ्र वधो अयम् लोक सम्मतः ॥ १-४१-१७

17. mahaabalaH = great-mighty; saH vainateyaH = he, that son of Vinata - Garuda; enam vaakyam abraviit ca = to him - to Amshuman, sentence, spoke, also; puruSavyaaghra = oh, tigerly-man; maa shucaH = do not, bemoan; ayam vadhaH loka sammataH = this, eradication [of your paternal-uncles,] agreeable [worthwhile] to the worlds.

"That great-mighty son of Lady Vinata, namely Garuda, also spoke this word to Amshuman, 'do not bemoan, oh, tigerly-man, this eradication of your paternal-uncles is worthwhile to the worlds. [1-41-17]

Verse Locator

कपिलेन अप्रमेयेण दग्धा हि इमे महाबलाः ।
सलिलम् न अर्हसि प्राज्ञ दातुम् एषाम् हि लौकिकम् ॥ १-४१-१८

18. mahaa balaaH = great-mighty ones; ime = these [paternal-uncles of yours]; aprameyeNa kapilena = by the Imponderable one, by Kapila; dagdhaa hi = are burnt down, in fact; praaj~na = oh, observant - Amshuman; eSaam laukikam salilam daatum = to them, mundane [obsequial water-oblations,] to offer; na arhasi hi = not, apt of you, indeed.

" 'In fact, Kapila, the Imponderable Sage, has burnt down those great-mighty paternal-uncles of yours, oh, observant Amshuman, as such it will not be apt of you to offer the mundane obsequial water-oblations to them, indeed. [1-41-18]

Verse Locator

गंगा हिमवतो ज्येष्ठा दुहिता पुरुषर्षभ ।
तस्याम् कुरु महाबाहो पितृणाम् तु जल क्रियाम् ॥ १-४१-१९

19. puruSarSabha = man, the best; himavataH jyeSThaa duhitaa gangaa = Himavanta's, elder, daughter, Ganga - is there; mahaabaahuH = oh, dextrous one; pitR^iNaam tu jala kriyaam = [to your departed] fathers [paternal-uncles,] but, water, oblation; tasyaam kuru = in her, [in Ganga waters,] you offer - you have to offer.

" 'Oh, best one among men, River Ganga is the elder daughter of Himavanta, and oh, dextrous one, you have to offer water-oblation to the departed paternal-uncles of yours in her waters, namely the holy waters of River Ganga. [1-41-19]

Verse Locator

भस्म राशी कृतान् एतान् पावयेत् लोक कांतया ।
तया क्लिन्नम् इदम् भस्म गंगया लोक कान्तया ।

20. loka pavanii = world, purifier [Ganga]; bhasma raashii kR^itaan = ash, mounds, made as; etaan plaavayet = them [sons of Sagara,] drifts - to heavens; [paavaet = will purify them]; loka kaantayaa = by worlds, adored; tayaa gangayaa = by her, by Ganga; klinnam idam bhasma = drenched, this, ash; SaSTim putra sahasraaNi = sixty, sons, thousands; svarga lokam gamiSyati = to empyrean, world, she can lead them.

" 'World purifier River Ganga will drift them who are rendered as mounds of ashes to heaven, and when she who is much adored by all worlds drenches this ash, that River Ganga herself will lead the sixty-thousand sons of Sagara to heaven. [1-41-20]

Verse Locator

निर्गच्छ च अश्वम् महाभाग संगृह्य पुरुषर्षभ ।

यज्ञम् पैतामहम् वीर निर्वर्तयितुम् अर्हसि ॥ १-४१-२१

21. mahaabhaaga = oh, great fortunate one; puruSa rSabha = oh, best one among men; ashvam samgR^ihya nir gacCha = horse, on taking, out, you go - you may proceed from here; viira = oh, brave one; paितामहम् yaj~nam nirvartayitum arhasi = of grand father, Vedic- ritual, to carry out, apt of you.

" 'Oh, great fortunate one, oh, best one among men, you may proceed from here with the horse, oh, brave one, it will be apt of you to carry out the Vedic-ritual of your grandfather.' Thus Garuda said to Amshuman. [1-41-21]

Verse Locator

सुपर्ण वचनम् श्रुत्वा सः अंशुमान् अतिवीर्यवान् ।

त्वरितम् हयम् आदाय पुनर् आयात् महायशाः ॥ १-४१-२२

22. ati viiryavaan = highly, braving one; mahaayashaaH = highly renowned one; saH amshumaan = he, Amshuman; superNa vacanam shrutvaa = great-winged eagle [Garuda's,] words, on hearing; tvaritam hayam aadaaya = swiftly, horse, on taking along; punaH aayaat = again, came- returned to his grandfather.

"On hearing the words of that great-winged eagle, Garuda, he that highly brave and well-renowned Amshuman swiftly took the horse, and returned to the ritual place of his grandfather, king Sagara. [1-41-22]

Verse Locator

ततो राजानम् आसाद्य दीक्षितम् रघुनन्दन ।

न्यवेदयत् यथा वृत्तम् सुपर्ण वचनम् तथा ॥ १-४१-२३

23. raghu nandana = oh, Rama, the descendant of Raghu; tataH = then; diikSitam raajaanam aasaadya = under vow, king, on getting at; yathaa vR^ittam = as has happened; tathaa = all that; superNa vacanam = Garuda's, words, [also]; nyavedayat = submitted - described to Sagara.

"Then on reaching the King Sagara, who is under the vow of the ritual, oh, Rama, Amshuman described what all has happened and even the words of Garuda. [1-41-23]

Verse Locator

तत् श्रुत्वा घोर संकाशम् वाक्यम् अंशुमतो नृपः ।

यज्ञम् निर्वर्तयामास यथा कल्पम् यथा विधि ॥ १-४१-२४

24. nR^ipaH = king Sagara; amshumataH = from Amshuman; ghora samkaasham = unendurable; tat vaakyam shrutvaa = that, sentence, on hearing; yathaa kalpam yathaa

vidhi = as per, scriptures, as per procedure; yaj~nam nirvartayaamaasa = Vedic ritual, restarted to - firstly - complete, and to see bout Ganga later.

"On hearing those unendurable words from Amshuman, the king Sagara firstly completed the Vedic-ritual scripturally and procedurally. [1-41-24]

Verse Locator

स्व पुरम् च अगमत् श्रीमान् इष्ट यज्ञो महीपतिः ।
गंगायाः च आगमे राजा निश्चयम् न अध्यगच्छत ॥ १-४१-२५

25. shriimaan mahiipatiH = fortunate one, land, lord - king Sagara; iSTa yaj~naH = having completed, Vedic-ritual; sva puram = his own, to capital; agamat = arrived; raajaa gangaayaaH aagame ca = king, about Ganga's, arrival, also; nishcayam na adhyagacChata = decision, not, arrived at.

"On completing the Vedic-ritual King Sagara arrived at his capital, but that king could not arrive at a decision about the arrival of Ganga to the earth. [1-41-25]

Verse Locator

अगत्वा निश्चयम् राजा कालेन महता महान् ।
त्रिंशत् वर्ष सहस्राणि राज्यम् कृत्वा दिवम् गतः ॥ १-४१-२६

26. mahaan raajaa = great, king; mahataa kaalena = long, by time - even after; nishcayam a gatvaa = resolve, not, getting at - for Ganga's descent; trimshat varSa sahasraaNi = thirty, years, thousands; raajyam kR^itvaa divam gataH = kingdom, on ruling, to heaven, went to.

"That great king Sagara could not get at any resolve in getting Ganga to earth even after a long time, and on ruling kingdom for thirty-thousand years he went to heaven." Thus Vishvamitra continued his narration about the ancestors of Rama. [1-41-26]

Verse Locator

इति वाल्मीकि रामायणे आदि काव्ये बाल काण्डे एक चत्वारिंशः सर्गः

Thus, this is the 41st chapter in Bala Kanda of Valmiki Ramayana, the First Epic poem of India.

Book I : Bala Kanda - The Youthful Majesties

chapter/Sarga 42

Verses converted to UTF-8, Sept 09

Introduction

Bhageeratha's effort for bringing Ganga to earth is fulfilled. Amshuman and his son Dileepa could not make any effort to bring the divine river to earth. But Bhageeratha, the son of Dileepa, staunch at heart tries earnestly to get her onto earth. Brahma agreeing for this descent of Ganga designates lord Shiva to bear the burden of the onrush of Ganga, because the earth cannot sustain it.

Verse Locator

कालधर्मम् गते राम सगरे प्रकृती जनाः ।

राजानम् रोचयामासुर् अंशुमन्तम् सुधार्मिकम् ॥ १-४२-१

1. raama = oh, Rama; sagare kaala dharmam gate = Sagara, by Time's, virtue, gone - on passing away; prakR^itii janaaH = ministers, subjects; su dhaarmikam amshumantam = highly, honourable one, Amshuman is; raajaanam rocayaamaasuH = as king, predisposed to - and enthroned.

"When King Sagara passed away owing to the irrefutable virtue of Time, the ministers and subjects of that kingdom are predisposed towards the highly honourable Amshuman to become their king and they enthroned him accordingly." Thus Vishvamitra continued narration about the predecessors of Rama. [1-42-1]

Verse Locator

स राजा सुमहान् आसीत् अंशुमान् रघुनंदन ।

तस्य पुत्रो महान् आसीत् दिलीप इति विश्रुतः ॥ १-४२-२

2. raghu nandana = oh, Raghu's dynasty; saH amshumaan = he, that Amshuman; su mahaan raajaa aasiit = as very, exceptional, king, he was there; tasya = to him; diliipa iti vishrutaH = Dileepa, thus as, renowned one; mahaan putraH aasiit = marvellous, son, has become - took birth.

"He that Amshuman turned out to be a very great king, and oh, Rama of Raghu's dynasty, he begot a marvellous son who is renowned as Dileepa. [1-42-2]

Verse Locator

तस्मै राज्यम् समादिश्य दिलीपे रघुनंदन ।

हिमवत् शिखरे रंये तपः तेपे सुदारुणम् ॥ १-४२-३

3. raghu nandana = oh, Rama, Raghu's descendent; tasmai diliipe = in him, to Dileepa; raajyam sam aadishya = kingdom, completely ordering - assigning; ramye himavat shikhare = pleasant, on Himalayas, peak of; su daaruNam tapaH tepe = very, stern, ascetic, [Amshuman,] undertook.

"Assigning the kingdom to Dileepa, oh, Rama of Raghu's dynasty, Amshuman undertook very stern asceticism on a pleasant peak of Himalayas desiring the descent of River Ganga to earth. [1-42-3]

Verse Locator

द्वा त्रिंशत् सहस्राम् वर्षाणि सुमहा यशाः ।
तपोवन गतो राजा स्वर्गम् लेभे तपोधनः ॥ १-४२-४

4. su mahaa yashaaH = of very, great, renown; raajaa = king - Amshuman; dvaa trim shata [or, trimshat,] sahasraam varSaaNi = two, three, hundred, thousands, years- thirty-two thousand years; tapaH vana gataH = to ascetic, woods, on going - practising asceticism; tapaH dhanaH = asceticism, asset - one whose wealth is practising asceticism, but not its reward; svargam lebhe = heaven, achieved.

"On practising asceticism in ascetic-woods for thirty-two thousand years that highly renowned king Amshuman achieved heaven as he acquired only the wealth of practising the asceticism. [1-42-4]

Instead of achieving reward of asceticism in the form of descent of River Ganga, he could achieve only his personal merit of his penance, namely an abode in heaven.

Verse Locator

दिलीपः तु महातेजाः श्रुत्वा पैतामहम् वधम् ।
दुःख उपहतया बुद्ध्या निश्चयम् न अध्यगच्छत ॥ १-४२-५

5. mahaa tejaaH diliipaH tu = great, resplendent, Dileepa, on his part; paitaamaham vadham shrutvaa = of grandfather's [sixty thousand sons of Sagara,] elimination, on hearing; duhkha upahatayaa buddhyaa = by agony, marred, with a mind - at the plight of his father Amshuman; nishcayam na adhyagacChata = decision, not, arrived at.

"The great resplendent Dileepa on hearing the elimination of his grandfathers, the sixty thousand sons of Sagara at the hand of sage Kapila, and with a mind that is marred by the plight of his father Amshuman in absolving the souls of Sagara's sons, he that Dileepa could not arrive at any decision concerning the descent of Ganga. [1-42-5]

Verse Locator

कथम् गंगा अवतरणम् कथम् तेषां जलक्रिया ।
तारयेयम् कथम् च एतान् इति चिन्तापरो अभवत् ॥ १-४२-६

6. gangaa ava taraNam katham = Ganga, alighting, how - to make it possible; teSaam jala kriyaa = to them [grandfathers, offering] water, oblation; katham = how - to offer; etaan katham taarayeyam ca = them, how to, cross over [them from this mortal bindings of heaps of ashes,] also; iti = this way; cintaa paraH = to worry, given to; abhavat = he [Dileepa] became.

"Dileepa became worried as to how River Ganga is to be alighted onto earth from heaven, how water-oblations are to be offered for the souls of Sagara's sons, and how to cross them, the souls, over this mortal world. [1-42-6]

Verse Locator

तस्य चिन्तयतो नित्यम् धर्मेण विदित आत्मनः ।
पुत्रो भगीरथो नाम जज्ञे परम धार्मिकः ॥ १-४२-७

7. vidita aatmanaH [a vidita aatmanaH] = knower, of soul [self-mortified one, or, unclear at mind]; dharmeNa = righteously; nityam cintayataH = always, who is thinking [about alighting of Ganga to earth]; tasya = to him; bhagiirathaH naama = Bhageeratha, known as; parama dhaarmikaH putraH jaGYe = most, virtuous, son, is born.

"To him who is self-mortified and who is always thinking righteously about the alight of Ganga onto earth, to such a Dileepa a most-virtuous son is born who is renowned by his name Bhageeratha. [1-42-7]

Verse Locator

दिलीपः तु महातेजा यज्ञैः बहुभिः इष्टवान् ।
त्रिंशत् वर्ष सहस्राणि राजा राज्यम् अकारयत् ॥ १-४२-८

8. mahaa tejaa = great, resplendent; diliipaH tu = Dileepa, on his part; bahubhiH yaGYaiH iSTavaan = numerous, by Vedic rituals, performed; raajaa = king; trimshat varSa sahasraaNi = thirty, years, thousands [thirty thousand years]; raajyam akaarayata = king, kingdom, ruled.

"That great-resplendent king Dileepa on his part performed numerous Vedic-rituals, and he ruled the kingdom for thirty thousand years - to the delight of each of his subjects, but could not find a way to fetch Ganga. [1-42-8]

Verse Locator

अगत्वा निश्चयम् राजा तेषाम् उद्धरणम् प्रति ।
व्याधिना नर शार्दूल काल धर्मम् उपेयिवान् ॥ १-४२-९

9. nara shaarduula = oh, man, the tiger - Rama; raajaa = king; teSaam ut dharaNam prati = of their, up, lifting [to heaven,] towards - regarding; nishcayam = decision - choice; agatvaa = not, attaining; vyaadhinaa = with illness; kaala dharmam upeyivaan = Time, virtue of, attained - expired.

"Oh, tigerly-man Rama, that king Dileepa by not attaining any choice towards the uplifting the souls of his grandparents to heaven by bringing Ganga to earth, he took to illness, and he attained the ultimate virtue of Time, namely the demise. [1-42-9]

Verse Locator

इन्द्रलोकम् गतो राजा स्व अर्जितेन एव कर्मणा ।
रज्ये भगीरथम् पुत्रम् अभिषिच्य नरर्षभः ॥ १-४२-१०

10. naraR^iSabhaH raajaa = best one among men, that king - Dileepa; putram bhagiiratham rajye abhiSicya = son, Bhageeratha, in kingdom, on anointing sva aarjitena karmaNaa eva = self, acquired, by merits of deeds, only; indra lokam gataH = Indra's, abode, went to.

"That best one among men, namely king Dileepa, on anointing his son Bhageeratha in the kingdom went to the abode of Indra, namely the heaven, only by his self-acquired merits of deeds. [1-42-10]

Verse Locator

भगीरथः तु राजर्षिः धार्मिको रघुनन्दन ।
अनपत्यो महारजाः प्रजा कामः स च प्रजाः ॥ १-४२-११

11. raghunandana = oh, Rama, Raghu's descendent; dhaarmikaH = self-righteous one; raaja R^iSiH = kingly, sage; bhagiirathaH tu = Bhageeratha, on his part; an apatyaH = without, children; saH mahaa rajaaH prajaa kaamaH = he, that great-king, offspring, longed-for; prajaaH ca = subjects, and, - kingdom: he placed in the hands of ministers - these two words are to go into the meaning of next verse.

"Oh, Rama, the legatee of Raghu, but on his part that self-righteous and kingly-sage Bhageeratha is childless, and that great king longed-for offspring. [1-42-11]

मंत्रिषु आधाय तत् रज्यम् गङ्ग अवतरणे रतः।
तपो दीर्घम् समातिष्ठत् गोकर्णे रघुनन्दन ॥ १-४२-१२
ऊर्ध्व बाहुः पंच तपा मास आहारो जितेइन्द्रियः ।

12, 13a. raghunandana = oh, Rama, Raghu's descendent; [saH = he - Bhageeratha]; ganga avataraNe rataH = alighting, Ganga, interested in; tat rajyam = that, kingdom; [prajaaH ca = people, and - from above verse]; mantriShu aadhaaya = in ministers, on delegating; uurdhva baahuH = with upraised, hands; panca tapaaH = [standing amid] five fires; maasaa ahaaraH = [once in a] month, with sustenance; jite indriyaH = with conquered, senses; gokarNe = at Gokarna [in Himalayas]; diirgham tapaH = long-time - sustained, asceticism; sam aa tiSThat = verily, came, sat tight, - firmed up in.

"Interested in the alighting of River Ganga on earth, oh, Rama, the descendent of Raghu, king Bhageeratha delegated his kingdom to the custody of his ministers and people and firmed up himself in sustained asceticism on Mt. Gokarna in Himalayas, and he practise asceticism standing amid five-fires, upraising his hands, with a monthly sustenance and with his sense conquered. [1-42-12, 13a]

The five-fires are panca agni-s the four earthly fires in four corners of directions and the sun's fire overhead.

Verse Locator

तस्य वर्ष सहस्राणि घोरे तपसि तिष्ठतः ॥ १-४२-१३
अतीतानि महबहो तस्य राज्ञो महात्मनः ।
सुप्रीतो भगवान् ब्रह्मा प्रजानाम् पतिः ईश्वरः ॥ १-४२-१४

13, 14. mahabaho = oh, dextrous Rama; tasya ghore tapasi tiSThataH = his, in severe, asceticism, while sat tight - firmly practising; varSa sahasraaNi atiitaani = years, thousands, lapsed away; prajaanaam patiH iishvaraH = to all beings, master, lord; bhagavaan brahmaa = god, Brahma; tasya mahaatmanaH raaGYaH = of his, great-souled one, of king - in his respect; su priitaH = well, pleased.

"Thousands of years have rolled by while Bhageeratha stood practising his severe asceticism, oh, dextrous Rama, and then the lord and master of all beings, namely god Brahma, is well pleased with that great-souled king's asceticism. [1-42-13b, 14]

Verse Locator

ततः सुर गणैः सार्धम् उपागंय पितामहः ।
भगीरथम् महात्मानम् तप्यमानम् अथ अब्रवीत् ॥ १-४२-१५

15. tataH = then; pitaamahaH = Forefather - Brahma; sura gaNaiH saardham = gods, along with, assemblages of; upaagamya = on arriving; tapyaa maanam = who is in asceticism - deep in the practise of asceticism; mahaatmaanam bhagiiratham = great-souled one, to Bhageeratha; atha abraviit = thus, spoke.

"Forefather Brahma then arrived along with assemblages of gods, and spoke this way to the great-souled Bhageeratha who is deep in the practise of asceticism. [1-42-15]

Verse Locator

भगीरथ महाराज प्रीतः ते अहम् जनाधिप ।
तपसा च सुतप्तेन वरम् वरय सुव्रत ॥ १-४२-१६

16. mahaa raaja = oh, great, king; jana adhipa = oh, people's, lord; bhagiiratha = oh, Bhageeratha; te = your; su taptena tapasaa = perfectly, conducted, with asceticism; aham priitaH = I am, delighted; su vrata = oh, truly, committed one; varam varaya = boon, you beseech.

" 'Oh, great king Bhageeratha, oh, lord of the people, I am delighted with the perfectly conducted asceticism of yours, hence oh, truly committed one, you may beseech for a boon. [1-42-16]

Verse Locator

तम् उवाच महातेजाः सर्वलोक पितामहम् ।
भगीरथो महाबाहुः कृत अंजलिपुटः स्थितः ॥ १-४२-१७

17. mahaatejaaH = great-resplendent one; mahaabaahuH = highly, fortunate one; bhagiirathaH = Bhageeratha; kR^ita anjali puTaH sthitaH = making, adjoined-palms, together, remaining; tam sarva loka pitaa maham = him, to all, worlds, Forefather; uvaaca = spoke to.

"That great resplendent and highly fortunate king Bhageeratha then remaining with suppliantly adjoined palm fold spoke to him who is the Forefather of all worlds, namely Brahma. [1-42-17]

Verse Locator

यदि मे भगवान् प्रीतो यदि अस्ति तपसः फलम् ।
सगरस्य आत्मजाः सर्वे मत्तः सलिलम् आप्नुयुः ॥ १-४२-१८

18. bhagavaan = oh, god; me = in my respect; priitaH yadi = you are satisfied, if; tapasaH phalam asti yadi = for asceticism, fruit, is there, if; sagarasya aatmajaaH sarve = Sagara's, sons, all; mat taH = from me; salilam aapnuyuH = water, let them get.

" 'Oh, god, if you are satisfied with my asceticism, and if there is any fruition to the asceticism of mine, let all the sons of Sagara get water oblations through me. [1-42-18]

Verse Locator

गङ्गायाः सलिल क्लिन्ने भस्मनि एषाम् महात्मनाम् ।
स्वर्गम् गच्छेयुर् अत्यन्तम् सर्वे मे प्रपितामहाः ॥ १-४२-१९

19. eSaam mahaatmanaam bhasmani = these, of great-souls, ashes; gangaayaaH salila klinne = of Ganga's, by water, while being drenched; me sarve = my, all; pra pitaa mahaaH = great, grandfathers; atyantam svargam gacCheyuH = eternally to heaven, may depart.

" 'While the ashes of these great souls are drenched with the waters of Ganga, let all of those great-grandfathers of mine depart to heaven, eternally. [1-42-19]

Verse Locator

देव याचे ह संतत्यै न अवसीदेत् कुलम् च नः ।
इक्ष्वाकूणाम् कुले देव एष मे अस्तु वरः परः ॥ १-४२-२०

20. deva = oh, god; ikSvaakuuNaam kule = in Ikshvaku's, dynasty; santatyai yaace ha = for offspring, I pray, indeed; naH kulam na avasiidet ca = our, dynasty, not, to dwindle, also; deva = oh, god; eSa me paraH varaH astu = this, mine, other, boon, let it be.

" 'Oh, god, I indeed pray for offspring in our Ikshvaku dynasty, let not our dynasty dwindle as I am issueless, and oh, god, let this be the other boon to me. [1-42-20]

Verse Locator

उक्त वाक्यम् तु राजानम् सर्वलोक पितामहः ।

प्रत्युवाच शुभाम् वाणीम् मधुरम् मधुर अक्षराम् ॥ १-४२-२१

21. sarva loka pitaa mahaH = all worlds, Forefather; ukta vaakyam = one who has said such sentence - requested such boon - Bhageeratha; raajaanam = to king; shubhaam madhuraam madhura akSaraam = in auspicious, sweetly, sweet, worded; vaaNiim = in tongue; prati uvaaca = in rely, spoke - replied.

"The Forefather of all the worlds, Brahma, then replied the king who has spoken in that way, in an auspicious tongue that is sweet-sounding and sweetly worded, as well. [1-42-21]

Verse Locator

मनोरथो महान् एष भगीरथ महारथ ।

एवम् भवतु भद्रम् ते इक्ष्वाकु कुल वर्धन ॥ १-४२-२२

22. mahaa rathaH bhagiiratha = oh, top-speeded chariot-rider, Bhageeratha; eSa manorathaH mahaan = this, aspiration, is sublime; ikSvaaku kula vardhana = oh, Ikshvaku's, dynasty, furtherer of; evam bhavatu = so it be; bhadram te = safeness, betide you.

" 'Oh, top-speeded chariot-rider Bhageeratha, this aspiration of yours is sublime, and oh, the furtherer of Ikshvaku dynasty, so be it, let safeness betide you. [1-42-22]

Verse Locator

इयम् हैमवती ज्येष्ठा गंगा हिमवतः सुता ।

ताम् वै धारयितुम् राजन् हरः तत्र नियुज्यताम् ॥ १-४२-२३

23. raajan = oh, king; haimavatii = from Himavanta born, or one having snow-broth; iyam gangaa = this, Ganga; himavataH jyeSThaa sutaa = Himavanta's, elder, daughter; taam dhaarayitum = her, to sustain; [shaktaH = capable one is]; haraH = god Shiva; tatra = there, therefor - in that matter of sustaining Ganga; niyujataam vai = is to be designated - commissioned, in fact.

" 'This Ganga is the one with snow-broth, the elder daughter of Himavanta, and oh, king Bhageeratha, god Shiva alone is capable to sustain her force in the course of her alighting onto earth, and in fact, he is to be commissioned for that purpose. [1-42-23]

Verse Locator

गंगायाः पतनम् राजन् पृथिवी न सहिष्यते ।

ताम् वै धारयितुम् राजन् न अन्यम् पश्यामि शूलिनः ॥ १-४२-२४

24. raajan = oh king; gangaayaaH patanam = Ganga's, downfall; pR^ithivii na sahiSyate = earth, can not, endure; taam dhaarayitum = her [Ganga,] to sustain; raajan, oh, king; shuulinaH = Trident wielder - god Shiva; anyam = any other - other than him; na pashyaami vai = not, I behold, indeed.

" 'Oh, king Bhageeratha, the earth cannot endure the downfall of Ganga and to sustain Ganga, oh, king, indeed I do not behold none other than the Trident-wielder, god Shiva.' Thus Brahma spoke to Bhageeratha. [1-42-24]

Verse Locator

तम् एवम् उक्त्वा राजानम् गंगाम् च आभाष्य लोककृत् ।

जगाम त्रिदिवम् देवैः सर्वैः सह मरुत् गणैः ॥ १-४२-२५

25. loka kR^it = worlds, creator - Brahma; tam raajaanam = to him, to king; evam uktvaa = this way, on speaking; gangaam ca aabhaaSyaa = to Ganga, also, on speaking - having a little talk, saying hello; saha sarvaiH devaiH marut gaNaiH = with, all, gods, Wind-gods, with groups of; tridivam jagaama = to heaven, proceeded to.

Speaking this way to the king Bhageeratha and informally greeting Ganga also, that Creator of Worlds, Brahma, left for heaven along with all the groups of gods and Wind-gods." Thus Vishvamisra continued narration about the arrival of River Ganga to earth. [1-42-25]

Verse Locator

इति वाल्मीकि रामायणे आदि काव्ये बाल काण्डे द्वि चत्वारिंशः सर्गः

Thus, this is the 42nd chapter in Bala Kanda of Valmiki Ramayana, the First Epic poem of India.

Book I : Bala Kanda - The Youthful Majesties

chapter/Sarga 43
Verses converted to UTF-8, Sept 09

Introduction

Ganga descends to earth by the extraordinary effort of Bhageeratha. Shiva agrees to the alighting of Ganga on His head and from where she is released into a lake called Bindusarovar, and from there she flows in seven courses. On land Bhageeratha ushers her up to netherworld dug by his ancestors where heaps of ashes of his grandparents are there, and she enters accordingly to inundate those mounds of ashes according salvation to the souls.

Verse Locator

देव देवे गते तस्मिन् सो अंगुष्ठ अग्र निपीडिताम् ।
कृत्वा वसुमतीम् राम वत्सरम् समुपासत ॥ १-४३-१

1. raama = oh, Rama; tasmin deva deve gate = that, god, of gods [Brahma,] on leaving; saH = he Bhageeratha; vasumatiim = earth; anguSTha agra = with big toe, tip of; ni piiDitaam = fully, pressurising; kR^itvaa = on making so; vatsaram upaasata = for one year, he prayed - practised asceticism.

"When the god of gods Brahma left from there Bhageeratha stood on the tip of his big-toe praying for the mercy of Lord Shiva for one year, while that tip of his big-toe pressurised the earth." Thus Vishvamitra continued his narration about Bhageeratha's effort to bring Ganga to earth. [1-43-1]

Bhageeratha stood on one big-toe with an unwavering intent and bodily movement, and with his hands upraised in prayer for a period of one year by day and night, sustaining himself on mere air, and thus his yogic concentration increased and that alone pressurised the earth.

Verse Locator

अथ संवत्सरे पूर्णे सर्व लोक नमस्कृतः ।
उमापतिः पशुपती राजानम् इदम् अब्रवीत् ॥ १-४३-२

2. atha samvatsare puurNe = after, one year, on completion; sarva loka namakR^itaH = by all, worlds, venerated; umaa patiH pashu patii = Uma's, consort, animal's, god of, [god Shiva]; raajaanam idam abraviit = to king, this, spoke.

"On completion of one year, he who is venerated by all worlds, the consort of Uma and the god of animals from insects to humans, that god Shiva revealed himself and spoke this to the king. [1-43-2]

Verse Locator

प्रीतः ते अहम् नरश्रेष्ठ करिष्यामि तव प्रियम् ।
शिरसा धारयिष्यामि शैलराज सुताम् अहम् ॥ १-४३-३

3. nara shreSTha = oh, among humans, the best one; aham te priitaH = I am, of your - ascesis, happy; tava priyam kariSyami = your, cherish, I will fulfil; aham = I will; shaila raaja sutaam = mountain, king's - Himavanta's, daughter - Ganga; shirasaa dhaarayiSyami = by my head, I sustain.

"Oh, best one among humans, I am delighted with your unwavering effort, and I will fulfil your cherish. I will therefore sustain Ganga, the daughter of king of mountains by my head. [1-43-3]

Verse Locator

ततो हैमवती ज्येष्ठा सर्व लोक नमस्कृता ।
तदा सा अति महत् रूपम् कृत्वा वेगम् च दुःसहम् ॥१-४३-४
आकाशात् अपतत् राम शिवे शिव शिरस्य उत ।

4, 5a. raama = oh, Rama; tataH = afterwards; haimavatii jyeSThaa = Himavanta's, elder daughter; sarva loka namaH kR^itaa = by all, worlds, who is revered - such a Ganga; tadaa = then; ati mahat ruupam = supremely, great - unendurable, form; duH saham vegam ca = not, supportable, rapidity, also; kR^itvaa = on assuming; aakaashaat = from the sky; shive = auspicious; shiva shirasi apatat = Shiva's, on head, plunged; uta = they say.

"Afterwards, she who is revered by all the worlds and who is the elder daughter of Himavanta, that Ganga assuming an unendurable form and an insupportable rapidity, they say, then plunged from the sky onto the auspicious head of Shiva. [1-43-4, 5a]

Verse Locator

अचिन्तयः च सा देवी गंग परम दुर्धरा ॥१-४३-५
विशामि अहम् हि पातालम् स्रोतसा गृह्य शंकरम् ।

5b, 6a. parama dur dharaa = extremely, un, endurable one; saa devii gangaa = she, that goddess, Ganga; acintayat ca = speculated, also; aham strotasaa shamkaram gR^ihya = I will, by streams, Shankara, on taking - by whisking; paataalam vishaami hi = into netherworld, I will enter, indeed.

"She who is an extremely unendurable river that goddess Ganga even speculated saying to herself, 'let me enter netherworld, indeed whisking Shiva with my streams.' [1-43-5b, 6a]

Verse Locator

तस्याः वलेपनम् ज्ञत्व क्रुद्धः तु भगवन् हरः ॥ १-४३-६
तिरोभावयितुम् बुद्धिम् चक्रे त्रिनयनः तदा ।

6b, 7a. tri nayanaH bhagavan haraH = three, eyed, god, Shiva; tasyaaH valepanam j~natva = her, egotism, on discerning; tadaa = then; kruddhaH tu = infuriated, on his part - Shiva; tirobhaavayitum buddhim chakre = to restrain - to pent-up, thinking, made - thought of.

"Discerning her egotism god Shiva is infuriated, and then on his part that Three-eyed god Shiva thought to pent her up in the tufts of his head-hair. [1-43-6b, 7a]

Verse Locator

सा तस्मिन् पतिता पुण्या पुण्ये रुद्रस्य मूर्धनि ॥१-४३-७
हिमवत् प्रतिमे राम जटा मण्डल गह्वरे ।

7b, 8a. raama = oh, Rama; saa puNyaa = she, that holy river; himavat pratime = to Himalayas, equalling; jaTaa maNDala gahvare = in matted hair-tufts, curls of, [similar to] mountain caves - cavernous curls; tasmin rudrasya puNye muurdhani = on that, of Rudra's, holy, on head; patitaa = she has fallen - swooped on - and became a detainee in those curls.

"And oh, Rama, she that holy River Ganga swooped down into the cavernous curls of matted hair-tufts on the holy head of God Shiva, and she became a detainee in them. [1-43-7b, 8a]

Verse Locator

सा कथंचित् महीम् गंतुम् न अशक्नोत् यत्नम् आस्थिता ॥१-४३-८
न एव सा निर्गमम् लेभे जटा मण्डल अंततः ।

8b, 9a. saa = she, Ganga; yatnam aasthitaa = strive, though sit on - though she strived hard; kathamcit = someway; mahiim gantum = earth, to go - to reach; na ashaknot = not, capable of; jaTaa maNDalam = from matted hair-tuft, coils; antataH = from any edge of; nir gamam = out, going - exiting, outlet; saa na eva lebhe = she, not, thus, got - gained no access - hence held there in durance vile.

"Though she strove hard in one way or another to reach the earth that Ganga is rendered incapable, as she could not gain access for an outlet from any edge of the coils of matted hair-tufts of Shiva, hence she is held there in durance vile. [1-43-8b, 9a]

Verse Locator

तत्र एव आबंभ्रमत् देवी संवत्सर गणान् बहून् ॥१-४३-९
ताम् अपश्यन् पुनः तत्र तपः परमम् आस्थितः ।

9b, 10a. devii = goddess - Ganga; bahuun samvatsara gaNaan = for many, years, number of; tatra eva = there [in coils of tufts,] alone; aabam bhramat = round and round, whirled; taam a pasyan = her [Ganga,] on not, seeing - Bhageeratha; punaH tatra = again, in that matter - of her descent; parama tapaH asthitaH = in marvellous, penance, firmed up.

"Goddess Ganga whirled round and round in the coils of tufts alone for many number of years, and when Ganga's emanation from those coils is intangible Bhageeratha again firmed up in a marvellous penance in the matter of her descent to earth. [1-43-9b, 10a]

Verse Locator

स तेन तोषितः च असीत् अत्यंतम् रघुनंदन ॥ १-४३-१०
विससर्ज ततो गंगाम् हरो बिन्दु सरः प्रति ।

10b, 11a. raghunamdana = oh, Rama, of Raghu's dynasty; tena = with that - ascesis; haraH atyantam toShitaH asiit = Shiva, very much, delighted, he became; tataH = thereupon; saH = he - that Shiva; gangaam bindu saraH prati = Ganga, Bindu, lake, towards; visasarja ca = released, also.

"Oh, Rama, the legatee of Raghu, with that ascesis of Bhageeratha god Shiva is very much delighted, and thereupon he has also released Ganga aiming at Bindu Lake in Himalayas. [1-43-10b, 11a]

Verse Locator

तस्यम् विसृज्यमानायाम् सप्त स्रोतंसि जज्ञिरे ॥ १-४३-११
ह्लादिनी पावनी चैव नलिनी च तथा एव च ।
तिस्रः प्राचीम् दिशम् जग्मुः गंगाः शिव जलाः शुभाः ॥ १-४३-१२

11b, 12. tasyaam = of her; visR^iujyamaanaayam = while being released; sapta srotaamsi jaj~nire = seven, streams, emerged; hlaadinii paavanii caiva = Hladini, Paavani, also thus; nalinii ca tathaa eva ca = Nalini, also, thus; shivaa jalaaH = streams having - holy, waters; tisraH = three; shubhaaH gangaaH = auspicious, Ganga-s; praaciim disham jagmuH = towards east, direction, gone - flowed.

"While god Shiva released Ganga into Bindu Lake seven streams have emerged out of it, and thus three auspicious Ganga-s with holy waters have cruised eastward which are known as Hlaadini, Paavani, and Nalini. [1-43-11b, 12]

Verse Locator

सुचक्षुः च एव सीता च सिन्धुः च एव महानदी ।
तिस्रः एता दिशम् जग्मुः प्रतीचीम् तु शुभ उदकाः ॥ १-४३-१३

13. suchakshuH = Sucakshu; siitaa ca Seetha, also; sindhuH mahaa nadii eva ca = Sindhu, excellent, river, thus, also; shubhaH udakaaH = those that have - holy, waters; etaaH tisraH = these, three - rivers; pratiichiim disham jagmu = westerly, to direction, have gone - flowed.

"Also thus Sucakshu, Seetha, and the excellent river Sindhu are the other three rivers which streamed to the westward direction with their holy waters. [1-43-13]

Verse Locator

सप्तमी च अन्वगात् तासम् भगीरथ रथम् तदा ।
भगीरथो अपि रजर्षि दिव्यम् स्यंदनम् आस्थितः ॥ १-४३-१४
प्रायात् अग्रे महातेजा गंग तम् च अपि अनुव्रजत् ।

14, 15a. taasam = of them; saptamii = seventh Ganga; tadaa = then; bhagiiratha ratham anvagaat ca = Bhageeratha's, chariot, followed path, also; mahaatejaa rajaR^ishi bhagiirathaH api = great resplendent, sagely king, Bhageeratha, even; divyam syandanam aasthitaH = divine, on chariot, sitting on; agre = in front; pra yaat = well, journeyed - moved ahead; ganga ca api = Ganga, also, even; tam anuvrajat = him, followed.

"Of them the seventh Ganga flowed towards the path of Bhageeratha' chariot, and that great-resplendent and kingly sage Bhageeratha sitting in a divine chariot moved ahead and even Ganga followed him. [1-43-14, 15a]

Verse Locator

गगनात् शंकर शिरः ततो धरणिम् आगता ॥ १-४३-१५
असर्पत जलम् तत्र तीव्र शब्द पुरस्कृतम् ।

15b, 16a. gaganaat shamkara shiraH = from heaven, to Sankara's, head; tataH dharaNim aagataa = from there, onto earth, she came; tatra = there; jalam = water; tiivra shabda purarskR^itam = with tumultuous, sound, emanating first; asarpata = pushed forward - advanced.

"Thus Ganga came from heavens onto Shankara's head and from there onto the earth, and there on earth her waters advanced with a tumultuous sound advancing them. [1-43-15b, 16a]

The River Ganga is also called as tri patha gaa 'she courses in three ways...' of which one kind of thinking is that she flowed from Himalayas to heaven, from heaven to Shiva's head and from there to earth. In the above context also, she is said to have the three-way-flow, i.e., one is eastward flow, second westward flow and the third is southward flow as led by Bhageeratha. The westward river Sindhu is the Indus and the eastward Nalini, which is now called as river Brahmaputra, while Ganga proper courses a little to south to move towards the ocean.

Verse Locator

मत्स्य कच्छप संधैः च शिशुमार गणैः तथा ॥ १-४३-१६
पतद्भिः पतितैः च एव व्यरोचत वसुंधरा ।

16b, 17a. tathaa = then; vasundhara = earth is; patitaiH = already fallen; patatbhiH ca = still falling, also, thus - with Ganga's spates; matsya kacChapa sanghaiH ca = of fishes, tortoises, shoals of, also; shishumaara gaNaiH = porpoises [toothed whales,] number of; [anyaiH ca = with other marine beings, also]; vi arochat = verily, shone forth.

"The earth then verily shone forth with the shoals of fish, schools of tortoises, and scores of porpoises and other aquatic beings that have already fallen and that are still falling in step with the spates of Ganga. [1-43-16b, 17a]

Verse Locator

ततो देव ऋषि गंधर्वा यक्ष सिद्ध गणाः तथा ॥ १-४३-१७

व्यलोकयन्त ते तत्र गगनात् गाम् गताम् तदा ।

17b, 18a. tataH = later; te = they; deva R^iSi gandharvaa yakSaaH = gods, sages, gandharva-s, Yaksha-s; siddha gaNaaH = siddha-s, assemblages of; tadaa tathaa = then, in that way; gaganaat gaam gataam = from heaven, to earth, proceeded to - reached, swoop of; tatra vyalokayanta = there, they have curiously seen.

"Later, they the gods, sages, gandharva-s, yaksha-s, and the assemblages of siddha-s have then seen there the swoop of Ganga in that way from heaven to earth, with curiosity. [1-43-17b, 18a]

Verse Locator

विमानैः नगर आकारैः हयैः गज वरैः तथा ॥१-४३-१८

पारिप्लव गताः च अपि देवताः तत्र विष्ठिताः ।

18b, 19a. tathaa = then; devataaH = gods; nagara aakaaraiH vimaanaiH = city like, in shape and size, who are with aircrafts - some of them; paariplava gataaH = in franticness, which have gone in - horses prancing, elephants staggering; hayaiH = with horses - some of them; gaja varaiH = with elephants, best ones - some of them; tatra viSThitaH = at that place, they entered - in firmament.

"Some of the gods with aircrafts that are like cities in their shape and size, and some with horses that are prancing, and some with best elephants that are staggering, at the very sight of plunging Ganga, have entered the firmament at that place. [1-43-18b, 19a]

Verse Locator

तत् अद्भुततमम् लोके गंगा अवतरम् उत्तमम् ॥१-४३-१९

दिदृक्षवो देव गणाः समीयुः अमित ओजसः ।

19b, 20a. loke = in world - in universe; adbhuta tamam = marvel, to a higher degree of comparison - highest; uttamam = benignant; gangaa patanam = Ganga's, plunge; didR^ikSavaH = anxious to see; amita ojasaH = those that have - unlimited, animation; deva gaNaaH sameyuH = gods, assemblages, have come together. This verse implicitly compares her dynamism and the routine dynamism of gods in general.

"The gods whose animation is unlimited, and who are anxious to see the plunge of Ganga, have come together in assemblages, which plunge is a highest marvel in the universe by a better degree of her illimitable animation than that of gods who came to see, and even benignant to the world in according water and salving souls, which those gods cannot do. [1-43-19b, 20a]

Verse Locator

संपतद्भिः सुर गणैः तेषाम् च आभरण ओजसा ॥ १-४३-२०

शत आदित्यम् इव आभाति गगनम् गत तोयदम् ।

20b, 21a. gata toyadam gaganam = gone, clouds, sky - sky clear of clouds; sam patadbhiH = well, coming falling - falteringly coming - stampeding; sura gaNaiH = gods, hosts of; teSaam aabharaNa ojasaa = with their, ornaments, with glitter of; shata aadityam iva = a hundred, suns, as if - having; sky is; aabhaati = shone forth.

"The glitter of the ornaments of hosts of gods who are in stampede, made the cloudless sky to shine as if it is with a hundred of suns. [1-43-20b, 21a]

Verse Locator

शिशुमार उरग गणैः मीनैः अपि च चंचलैः ॥ १-४३-२१

विद्युद्भिः इव विक्षिप्तैः आकाशम् अभवत् तदा ।

21b, 22a. tadaa = at that time; shimshumaara uraga gaNaiH = with porpoises, reptiles, scores of; cancalaiH miinaiH api ca = with wriggling, fishes, even, also - that are falling and rising with streams; aakaasham = sky; vidyudbhiH vikSiptaiH iva = flashes of lightning, strewn, as if; abhavat = sky - became, became flashy.

"At that time, with the falling and rising of scores of porpoises and reptiles, even with the wriggling fishes, the sky became flashy as if flashes of lightning are strewn over it. [1-43-21b, 22a]

Verse Locator

पाण्डुरैः सलिल उत्पीडैः कीर्यमाणैः सहस्रधा ॥१-४३-२२

शारद अभ्रैः इव आक्रीणम् गगनम् हंस संप्लवैः ।

22b, 23a. sahasradhaa kiiryamaaNaiH = in thousands of ways - innumerably, bespattered; paaNDuraiH = whitish; salila ut piiDaiH = water's upward, pressure - born out of = with froth; gaganam = sky; hamsa saMplavaiH = swans, with flights of; shaarada abhraiH = with autumnal, silver-clouds; aakriiNam iva = spread over, as if - the sky is.

"Spattered innumerably with the whitish froth from the splashes of Ganga, and stippled with the flights of swans, the sky is as though overspread with silver-clouds of autumn. [1-43-22b, 23a]

Verse Locator

क्वचित् द्रुततरम् याति कुटिलम् क्वचित् आयतम् ॥१-४३-२३

विनतम् क्वचित् उद्धृतम् क्वचित् याति शनैः शनैः ।

23b, 24a. kvacit = somewhere; druta taram = speed, in higher degree - precipitately; yaati = she courses [Ganga]; kvacit kuTilam yaati = elsewhere, sinuously, she courses; kvacit aayatam yaati = somewhere, straightly, she courses; kvacit = elsewhere; vi natam = verily, head-bent - sloppily; yaati = she goes; [kvacit = somewhere]; ut dhuutam = up, shoved - gushingly, she goes; [kvacit = elsewhere]; shanaiH shanaiH yaati = slowly, slowly - leisurely and tardily, she cruises.

"Somewhere Ganga is coursing precipitately, elsewhere sinuously, somewhere else straightly, elsewhere sloppily, somewhere gushingly, and somewhere else her cruise is leisurely and tardily. [1-43-23b, 24a]

Vइविद्ल्य

"Somewhere Ganga is coursing precipitately in declivities, elsewhere sinuously on zigzag lands, somewhere else straightly on uniform lands, elsewhere sloppily in canting lands, somewhere gushingly in craggy lands, and somewhere else her cruise is leisurely in flatlands and tardily in uplands.

Verse Locator

सलिलेन एव सलिलम् क्वचित् अभ्याहतम् पुनः ॥ १-४३-२४

मुहुर् ऊर्ध्वं पथम् गत्वा पपात वसुधाम् पुनः ।

24b, 25a. kvacit = somewhere; salilam = water; salilena eva = by water, alone; punaH = again - repeatedly; abhi aahatam = towards, knocking - colliding with, crashing into; muhuH = recurrent; uurdhva patham gatvaa = upper, way on going - billowing upwards; vasudhaam punaH papaata = on earth, again, has fallen - refluxent tide making a nosedive.

"Somewhere her water repeatedly knocking against her own water is recurrently billowing upwards only to make nosedive onto earth. [1-43-24b, 25a]

Verse Locator

तत् शंकर शिरो भ्रष्टम् भ्रष्टम् भूमि तले पुनः ॥१-४३-२५

व्यरोचत तदा तोयम् निर्मलम् गत कल्मषम् ।

25b, 26a. shamkara shiraH bhraSTam = on Sankara's, on head, that which slipped - flounced down; punaH = later; bhuumi tale bhraSTam = on earth's, surface, slipped - coasted down; gata kalmaSam = rid of, blemish - impeccable; nir malam = without, impurity - immaculate; tat toyam = that, water - of Ganga; tadaa vyarocata = then, shone forth - became outstanding river.

"That impeccable and immaculate water of Ganga then became outstanding as it has flounced down from heaven primarily onto the head of Shankara, and therefrom it has coasted down onto the earth. [1-43-25b, 26a]

Verse Locator

तत्र ऋषि गण गन्धर्वा वसुधा तल वासिनः १-४३-२६

भव अंग पतितम् तोयम् पवित्रम् इति पस्पृशुः ।

26b, 27a. tatra = at that place; R^iSi gaNa gandharvaa = sages, assemblages, gandharva-s; and; vasudhaa tala vaasinaH = on earth's, surface, residents of; bhava anga patitam toyam = from Bhava's - Shiva's, body - head, fell from - descended, water; pavitram iti = holy, [asserting] thus; pa spR^ishuH = touched - sipped.

"And asserting that the water as holy, because it descended touching the body of Shiva, viz., the head of Shiva, the assemblages of sages, gandharva-s, and those that are residents on the plane of earth have sipped that water at that place. [1-43-26b, 27a]

Verse Locator

शापात् प्रपतिता ये च गगनात् वसुधा तलम् ॥१-४३-२७

कृत्वा तत्र अभिषेकम् ते बभूवुः गत कल्मषाः ।

27b, 28a. ye ca = those, also; shaapaat gaganaat = by curse, from sky - heaven; vasudhaa talam prapatitaaH = onto earth's, surface, fallen down; te = they; tatra = in that - in water of Ganga; abhiSekam kR^itvaa = head-bath, on taking; gata kalmaSaaH babhuuvuH = gone, blemishes - free from blemishes, they became.

"Also those that have fallen from heaven onto the surface of earth by some curse or the other, they too became blemishless on taking head-bath in the water of Ganga. [1-43-27b, 28a]

Verse Locator

धूत पापाः पुनः तेन तोयेन अथ शुभ अन्विता ॥ १-४३-२८

पुनः आकाशम् आविश्य स्वान् लोकान् प्रतिपेदिरे ।

28b, 29a. tena = by that - water; subha anvitaaya toyena = hallowing, having, water; dhuuta paapaaH = washed away, whose sins are; punaH aakaasham aavishya = again, to sky, on entering - transiting skyward; atha = then; punaH svaam lokaan pratipedire = again, their own, empyrean-worlds, they obtained,.

"When sins are washed away with the hallowing water of Ganga, they again transited skyward and then obtained their own empyrean worlds once again. [1-43-28b, 29a]

Verse Locator

मुमुदे मुदितो लोकः तेन तोयेन भास्वता ॥ १-४३-२९

कृत अभिषेको गंगायाम् बभूव गत कल्मषः ।

29b, 30a. lokaH = people; bhaasvataa tena toyena = by splendid, by that, water; mumude = [people are] blissful; gangaayaam = in Ganga; kR^ita abhiSekaH = that have taken, head-bath; vi gata klamaH = totally, removed, strain - strain of sins; muditaH = [people] blissfully; babhuuva = [people] became - lived blissfully ever after.

"With her splendid water people are blissful, and on taking dip-baths in Ganga they are totally removed of the strains of their sins, and they lived blissfully ever after. [1-43-29b, 30a]

Verse Locator

भगीरथो राजर्षिः दिव्यम् स्यंदनम् आस्थितः ॥१-४३-३०

प्रायात् अग्रे महाराजाः तम् गंगा पृष्ठतो अन्वगात् ।

30b, 31a. [iti = in this way]; mahaa tejaa rajaR^ishi bhagiirathaH = highly resplendent, sagely king, Bhageeratha; divyam syandanam aasthitaH = divine, on chariot, sitting on; agre = in front; pra yaat = well, journeyed - moved ahead; tam = him; gangaa pR^iSThataH [samyak = very well - continuously] anvagaat = Ganga, at his behind, followed - this is continued action.

"In this way, the great-resplendent and kingly sage Bhageeratha sitting in a divine chariot continuously moved ahead and Ganga continually followed him at his behind. [1-43-30b, 31a]

This verse is almost similar to the verse No. 14 above. But here, the continuous actions of both the leader and the led are implied with ellipses - 'in this way', and 'continuously.'

Verse Locator

देवाः स ऋषि गणाः सर्वे दैत्य दानव राक्षसाः ॥ १-४३-३१

गन्धर्व यक्ष प्रवराः स किंनर महोरगाः ।

सर्पाः च अप्सरसो राम भगीरथ रथ अनुगाः ॥ १-४३-३२

गंगाम् अन्वगमन् प्रीताः सर्वे जल चराः च ये ।

31b, 32, 33a. raama = oh, Rama; sa R^iSi gaNaaH = with, sages, assemblages of; devaaH = gods; sarve = all of the; daitya daanava raakSasaaH = ogres, monsters, demons; sa kinnara mahaa uragaaH = with kinnara-s, great reptiles; gandharva yakSa pravaraaH = gandharva-s, yaksha-s, the best ones; sarpaaH = serpents [or, sarvaaH = all]; apsarasaH ca = apsara-s, also; priitaaH = becoming delighted; bhagiiratha ratha anugaaH = Bhageeratha's, chariot, one who is following; gangaam = after Ganga; anvagaman = moved after; ye jala caraaH = which, water, moving beings; ca = also - in fact; sarve = all of them - followed.

"Oh, Rama, all of the gods along with the assemblages of sages, ogres, monsters, demons, and even great reptiles with kinnara-s, and gandharva-s with best yaksha-s, and even serpents and apsara-s, have delightfully moved after Ganga who is following the chariot of Bhageeratha, and why they, in fact, all of the aquatic beings have followed Ganga. [31b, 32, 33a]

Verse Locator

यतो भगीरथो राजा ततो गंगा यशस्विनी ॥ १-४३-३३

जगाम सरिताम् श्रेष्ठा सर्व पाप प्रणाशिनी ।

33b, 34a. raajaa bhagiirathaH = king, Bhageeratha; yataH = whichever [direction he proceeded]; yashasvinii = glorious one; saritaam shreSThaa = among rivers, prominent - River Ganga; sarva paapa pra Naashinii = all, sins, complete, obliterator; such as she is; gangaa = Ganga; tataH = to there; jagaama = advanced.

"In whichever direction king Bhageeratha has advanced, that glorious River Ganga, who is the prominent river among all the rivers and the complete obliterator of sins, has also moved at his behind in that direction. [1-43-33b, 34a]

Verse Locator

ततो हि यजमानस्य जह्नुः अद्भुत कर्मणः ॥ १-४३-३४

गंग संप्लावयामास यज्ञ वाटम् महत्मनः ।

34b, 35a. tataH = then; ganga = Ganga; yajamaansya = who is an officiator of a Vedic-ritual; adbhuta karmaNaH = one with marvellous, deeds; mahaatmanaH = of great-souled one; jahnoH = of sage Jahnu; yaj~na vaaTam = Vedic-ritual, field of ritual; sam plaavayaamaasa = fully, started to inundate.

"While in flow she started to completely inundate the field of Vedic-ritual belonging to the great-souled sage Jahnu, who is of marvellous deeds and who is presently an officiator of an ongoing Vedic-ritual. [1-43-34b, 35a]

Verse Locator

तसया वलेपनम् ज्ञत्व कृद्धो जह्नुः च राघव ॥ १-४३-३५

अपिबत् तु जलम् सर्वम् गंगयाः परम अद्भुतम् ।

35b, 36a. raaghava = oh, Raghava; jahnuH ca = sage Jahnu, on his part; tsayaaH valepanam j~natva = her, proudness - hubris, on knowing; kR^iddhaH = becoming irritated; gangayaaH sarvam jalam tu = Ganga's, all, water, but; parama adbhutam = causing extreme, marvel; apibat = drank off.

"But on knowing her hubris, oh, Raghava, that sage Jahnu has become irritated and causing an extreme marvel he drank off all the water of Ganga. [1-43-35b, 36a]

Verse Locator

ततो देवाः स गंधर्व ऋषयः च सु विस्मिताः ॥ १-४३-३६

पूजयन्ति महत्मनम् जह्नुम् पुरुष सत्तमम् ।

गंगम् च अपि नयन्ति स्म दुहितृत्वे महात्मनः ॥ १-४३-३७

36b, 37. tataH = thereupon; sa gangharva devaaH = with, gandharva-s, gods; R^ishayaH ca = sages, also; su vismitaaH = are highly, astounded; and they then; puruSha sattamam = to human, ablest; mahatmanam = great-souled one; jahnum puujayanti = at sage Jahnu, they started to worship; gangam ca = of Ganga, even; mahaa atmanaH = of great-souled sage Jahnu; duhitR^itve = in daughterhood; api nayanti sma = even, taken as - to ascribe, deigned to, they are.

"Thereupon, the gods along with gandharva-s and sages at that extremely marvellous feat of Sage Jahnu are highly astounded, and they then started to worship that ablest human and great-souled sage Jahnu, and even deigned for the daughterhood of Ganga to that high-souled sage Jahnu. [1-43-36b, 37]

Verse Locator

ततः तुष्टः महातेजाः श्रोत्राभ्याम् असृजत् प्रभुः ।

तस्मात् जह्नु सुता गंग प्रोच्यते जाह्नवी इति च ॥ १-४३-३८

38. tataH tuSTaH = then, who is delighted; mahaatejaaH prabhuH = great-radiant, godly sage - Jahnu; shrotraabhyaam asR^iujat = from two ears, created - released Ganga; tasmaat = therefore; ganga jahnu sutaa = Ganga, sage Jahnu's, daughter, - she became; jaahnavi iti ca = Jahnavi, as, also; pra ucyate = well, said - renowned as.

"That greatly radiant and godly sage Jahnu is then delighted and released Ganga from both of his ears. Therefore Ganga became the daughter of sage Jahnu, and she is also renowned as Jahnavi, after the name of that sage. [1-43-38]

Verse Locator

जगाम च पुनः गंग भगीरथ रथ अनुगा ।

सागरम् च अपि संप्रप्ता सा सरित् प्रवरा तदा ॥१-४३-३९

रसातलम् उपागच्छत् सिद्ध्यर्थम् तस्य कर्मणः ।

39, 40a. ganga punaH = Ganga, again; bhagiiratha ratha anu gaa = Bhageeratha's, chariot, behind, while moving - following; jagaama ca = proceeded, further; tadaa = then; saa = she; sarit pra varaa = river, exceptionally, superior one; saagaram ca = ocean, also; sam praptaa api = well, reached, even though; tasya karmaNaH siddhyartham = his - Bhageeratha's, mission, to accomplish; rasaatalam = to rasaatala - netherworld; upa aa gacChat = near, coming, gone - arrived, had to wend her way.

"Even though Ganga again proceeded moving behind the chariot of Bhageeratha and reached the ocean, therefrom she had to wend her way to netherworld, once dug by the sons of Sagara, only to accomplish the mission of Bhageeratha, namely drenching the ashes of Sagara's sons. [1-43-39, 40a]

Some take the word saagaram as the netherworld dug by the sons of Sagara and omit the mention of her ocean-bound travel.

Verse Locator

भगीरथो अपि रजार्षि गंगम् आदाय यत्नतः ॥ १-४३-४०

पितमहान् भस्म कृतम् अपश्यत् गत चेतनः ।

40b, 41a. rajaarSi bhagiirathaH api = kingly-sage, Bhageeratha, even; yatnataH = making every effort; gangam aadaaya = Ganga, on taking - ushering; gata chetanaH = diina cetanaH = with a pitiable, heart - became doleful; bhasma kR^itan pitamahaan = ashes, made as, grandparents; apasyat = he has seen.

"Even kingly-sage Bhageeratha making every effort ushered Ganga to netherworld, but on seeing his grandparents rendered to ashes he has become doleful. [1-43-40b, 41a]

Verse Locator

अथ तत् भस्मनाम् राशिम् गंग सलिलम् उत्तमम् ।

प्लावयत् पूत पाप्मानः स्वर्गम् प्रप्ता रघु उत्तम ॥१-४३-४१

41b, c. raghu uttama = oh, Raghu, the best; atha = then; uttamam ganga salilam = holy, Ganga's, water; tat bhasmanaam raashim = that, of ashes, mound; plaavayat = inundated; puuta paapmaanaH = cleansing, sins - of souls of Sagara's sons; svargam praptaa = heaven, obtained.

"Oh, Rama, the best of Raghu's dynasty, then Ganga inundated that mound of ashes of Sagara's six-thousand sons, by which those souls obtained heaven, while the sins of souls are cleansed with the water of Ganga." Thus Vishvamitra continued his narration. [1-43-41b, c]

इति वाल्मीकि रामायणे आदि काव्ये बाल काण्डे त्रि चत्वारिंशः सर्गः

Thus, this is the 43rd chapter in Bala Kanda of Valmiki Ramayana, the First Epic poem of India.

Book I : Bala Kanda - The Youthful Majesties

Sarga 44

Verses converted to UTF-8, Sept 09

Introduction

Brahma commends Bhageeratha in bringing Ganga onto earth which none of his ancestors could do. Brahma blesses Ganga to be the daughter of Bhageeratha. Brahma advises him to offer water-oblations to his manes with the sanctified waters of Ganga.

Verse Locator

स गत्वा सागरम् राजा गंगया अनुगतस् तदा ।
प्रविवेश तलम् भूमेः यत्र ते भस्मसात् कृताः ॥ १-४४-१

1. saH raajaa tadaa = he [Bhageeratha,] king, then; gangayaaH anu gataH = by Ganga, followed by; saagaram gatvaa = to ocean - ocean-like ditch, having gone; yatra = where; te = they - sons of Sagara; bhasmat kR^itaaH = as ashes, made as; there; bhuumeH talam pravivesha = earth's, substratum, entered.

"King Bhageeratha followed by Ganga has gone to the ocean-like ditch which is dredged up by the sons of Sagara, and entered the subterranean of earth where the sons of Sagara are rendered to ashes." Thus Vishvamitra continued his narration about the Descent of Ganga. [1-44-1]

Verse Locator

भस्मनि अथ आप्लुते राम गंगाइआः सलिलेन वै ।
सर्व लोक प्रभुः ब्रह्मा राजानम् इदम् अब्रवीत् ॥ १-४४-२

2. raama = oh, Rama; atha = then; bhasmani gangaayaaH salilena aaplute = ashes, with Ganga's, waters, while being inundated; sarva loka prabhuH brahmaa = all, worlds, Lord, Brahma; raajaanam idam abraviit = to king Bhageeratha, this, spoke; vai = indeed.

"While the waters of Ganga are inundating those ashes, oh, Rama, then Brahma, the lord of all worlds, indeed spoke this to the king Bhageeratha. [1-44-2]

Verse Locator

तारिता नरशार्दूल दिवम् याताः च देववत् ।
षष्टिः पुत्र सहस्राणि सगरस्य महात्मनः ॥ १-४४-३

3. nara shaarduula = oh, tigerly-man - Bhageeratha; mahaatmanaH sagarasya = of great-souled, of Sagara; SaSTiH putra sahasraaNi = sixty, sons, thousands - sixty thousand sons; taarita = are crossed over - the sea of mortality; deva vat = gods like - as good as, gods; divam yaataaH ca = to heaven, they transited, also.

" 'Oh, tigerly-man Bhageeratha, the sixty thousands sons of great souled Sagara have crossed over the sea of mortality, and on a par with the gods they have also transited to heaven. [1-44-3]

सागरस्य जलम् लोके यावत् स्थास्यति पार्थिव ।

सगरस्य आत्मजाः सर्वे दिवि स्थास्यन्ति देववत् ॥१-४४-४

4. paarthiva = oh, king; saagarasya jalam = of oceans, waters; loke yaavat sthaasyati = in world, as long as, exists; [taavat = till then]; sagarasya aatmajaaH sarve = Sagara's, sons, all of them; deva vat = gods, like; divi sthaasyanti = in heaven, they will be abiding.

" 'As long as the water of the ocean abides in the world, oh, king, so long the sons of Sagara will abide in heaven like gods. [1-44-4]

Verse Locator

इयम् च दुहिता ज्येष्ठा तव गंगा भविष्यति ।

त्वत् कृतेन च नाम्ना अथ लोके स्थास्यति विश्रुता ॥१-४४-५

5. iyam gangaa ca = this, Ganga, also; tava jyeSThaa duhita bhaviSyati = your, elder, daughter, she becomes; atha = hereafter; tvat kR^itena = by you, done deed - associated with your action of bringing her to earth; naamna ca = by [her] name, also; loke vishrutaa sthaasyati = in world, renowned, she will remain.

" 'This Ganga will become your eldest daughter and hereafter she will remain renowned in the world with the name associated with your deed of bringing her onto earth. [1-44-5]

Otherwise, 'by your fatherhood she will be called Bhaageerathi and your names becomes her surname.'

Verse Locator

गंगा त्रिपथगा नाम दिव्या भागीरथी इति च ।

त्रीन् पथो भावयन्ति इति तस्मत् त्रिपथगा स्मृता ॥ १-४४-६

6. divyaa = one who pertains to heaven - heavenly; gangaa = Ganga; tri patha gaa naama = triple-path-cruiser, by the name of; bhaagiirathii ca = Bhaageerathi, also, [also by the name]; she will be renowned henceforth; triin pathaH = three, paths - worlds; bhaavayanti = sanctifier; iti tasmāt = thus, therefore; tripathagaa smR^itaa = as triple-path-cruiser, she will be remembered.

" 'Henceforth heavenly Ganga will be renowned as 'Triple-path-cruiser' and 'Bhaageerathi,' as well, and as this river is sanctifying three worlds, namely, svarga, bhuu, paataala loka-s, 'heaven, earth and netherworld' she will be remembered as the traveller on triple path. [1-44-6]

Verse Locator

पितामहानाम् सर्वेषाम् त्वम् अत्र मनुजाधिप ।

कुरुष्व सलिलम् राजन् प्रतिज्ञाम् अपवर्जय ॥ १-४४-७

7. manuja adhipa raajan = = people's, lord, oh, king; tvam = you; atra = therein - in Ganga's water; sarveSaam pitaamahaanaam = to all of, to [your] forefathers; salilam kuruSva = water - libation, you make - offer water oblation; prati~naam = [your] pledge; apa varjaya = aside, cast - remove by fulfilling your requiescat.

" 'You may now offer water-oblations to all of your forefathers in the waters of Ganga, oh, king, the lord of people, thus you may fulfil and do away with the pledge of your requiescat. [1-44-7]

Verse Locator

पूर्वकेण हि ते राजन् तेन अतियशसा तदा ।

धर्मिणाम् प्रवरेण अथ न एष प्राप्तो मनोरथः ॥ १-४४-८

8. raajan = oh, king; te puurvakeNa = by your, ancestor; ati yashasaa = highly, glorious one; dharmiNaam pravareNa = among righteous ones, best one - viz., Sagara; tena atha [api] = by him, it is, [even, even by him]; tadaa eSa manorathaH = at that time - in his lifetime, this, aspiration; na praaptaH = not, been achieved; but you achieved it.

" 'Your ancestor Sagara is a highly glorious one and a best one among righteous persons, oh, king, even then he has not achieved this aspiration of alighting Ganga in his lifetime, but you have achieved it. [1-44-8]

Verse Locator

तथैव अंशुमता वत्स लोके अप्रतिम तेजसा ।

गंगाम् प्रार्थयता नेतुम् प्रतिज्ञा न अपवर्जिता ॥ १-४४-९

9. vatsa = oh, son; tathaa eva = like that; loke a pratima tejasaa = in world, not, equal, one by his resplendence; gangaam aanetum praarthayata = Ganga, to lead forth, one who prayed for; such; amshumataa = by Amshuman - your grandfather; even by him; prati~naa na apavarjitaa = vow, not, cast aside - dispense with the vow - fulfilled.

" 'Like that, your grandfather Amshuman, who is unequalled in his resplendence in this world and who had been praying for the descent of Ganga, he also could not dispense with this vow on fulfilling it. [1-44-9]

Verse Locator

राजर्षिणा गुणवता महर्षि सम तेजसा ।

मत् तुल्य तपसा चैव क्षत्र धर्म स्थितेन च ॥ १-४४-१०

दिलीपेन महाभाग तव पित्रा अतितेजसा ।

पुनर् न शकिता नेतुम् गंगाम् प्रार्थयत अनघ ॥ १-४४-११

10, 11. anagha = oh, impeccable Bhageeratha; raajarSiNaa = by kingly sage; guNavataa = merited one; maharSi sama tejasaa = great sage, similar to, in resplendence; mat tulya tapasaa eva ca = to me, equal, by asceticism, like that, also; kSatra dharma sthithena ca = kingly, observance, abided by, also; ati tejasaa = highly, resplendent one; gangaam praarthayata = for Ganga, who had been supplicating - throughout his life time; tava pitraa = your, father; also; mahaabhaaga diliipena = by highly fortunate, by Dileepa; punaH = again - in turn; netum na shakitaa = to bring, not, possible.

" 'Oh, impeccable Bhageeratha, even by the kingly-sage Dileepa whose resplendence is kindred to great sages, who is equal to me in his asceticism, who is abided by the observances of ruling Kshatriya class, even by such a highly fortunate and highly resplendent father of yours it was impossible to bring Ganga in his turn, even though he had been supplicating for the descent of Ganga throughout his lifetime. [1-44-10, 11]

The content of verse 10 at times will be attributed to verse 9, viz., to Amshuman, rather than to Dileepa.

Verse Locator

सा त्वया समतिक्रान्ता प्रतिज्ञा पुरुषर्षभ ।

प्राप्तो असि परमम् लोके यशः परम संमतम् ॥ १-४४-१२

12. puruSarSabha = oh, best one among men; saa pratij~naa = that, pledge; tvayaa = by you samatikraantaa [sam ati kraantaa] = verily, over, crossed - fulfilled; loke = in world; parama sammatam = highly, adorable - by all; paramam yashaH = highest, renown; praaptaH asi = achieved, you have.

" 'But, you have accomplished that pledge, oh, the best one among men, and in the world you have achieved highest renown which is highly adorable by all. [1-44-12]

Verse Locator

तत् च गंगा अवतरणम् त्वया कृतम् अरिन्दम ।
अनेन च भवान् प्राप्तो धर्मस्य आयतनम् महत् ॥ १-४४-१३

13. arin dama = oh, enemy, represser; tvayaa = by you; tat gangaa ava taraNam = that, Ganga, to low, flowing - descent of Ganga; kR^itam = is perfected; anena = by that; bhavaan = you; dharmasya mahat aayatanam = for righteousness, genuine, basis; praaptaH = have acquired.

" 'That 'Descent of Ganga' is perfected by you, oh, enemy-represser, and by this you have acquired a genuine basis for righteousness in this world, and thereby a base for yourself in my world, namely Abode of Brahma. [1-44-13]

Verse Locator

प्लावयस्व त्वम् आत्मानम् नरोत्तम सदा उचिते ।
सलिले पुरुषश्रेष्ठ शुचिः पुण्यफलो भव ॥ १-४४-१४

14. nara uttama = oh, best among men - oh, phenomenal one; puruSa shreSTha = oh, best among men - oh, persona grata; ucite salile = in choicest - holy, waters - of Ganga; sadaa = always; aatmaanam tvam plaavayasva = yourself, you, dip - drench, take dip-baths; thereby; shuciH = become purified; puNya phalaH bhava = merit, be fructified, you become.

" 'Oh, phenomenal one, you may always take dip-baths in the holy water of Ganga and oh, persona grata, thereby get purified of sins and thus let your merit be fructified. [1-44-14]

The waters of other rivers have a blemish called rajasvala doSa 'the blemish of menstruation.' When the sun is in Leo-Cancer, i.e., during monsoon, and when new waters come in, it is as good as menstruation for the ladies called, the rivers. But Ganga is beyond these taboos because it is perennial, hence her is sanctifying. Some more details are given in endnote of this chapter.

Verse Locator

पितामहानाम् सर्वेषाम् कुरुष्व सलिलक्रियाम् ।
स्वस्ति ते अस्तु गमिष्यामि स्वम् लोकम् गंयताम् नृप ॥ १-४४-१५

15. sarveSaam pitaamahaanaam = for all of the, for forefathers; salila kriyaam kuruSva = water- oblation, rituals, you perform; te svasti astu = to you, wellbeing, let there be; gamiSyaami = here I go; nR^ipa = oh, king; [tvam = you]; svam lokam gamSyataam = to your own, world, you may go.

" 'You may now perform water-oblations to your forefathers with the water of Ganga, let there be wellbeing to you, and oh, king, here I go to my abode and you too may depart to yours.' Thus Brahma said to Bhageeratha. [1-44-15]

Verse Locator

इति एवम् उक्त्वा देवेशः सर्वलोक पितामहः ।
यथा आगतम् तथा अगच्छत् देव लोकम् महायशाः ॥ १-४४-१६

16. sarva loka pitaa mahaH = for all, worlds, forefather; mahaayashaaH deva iishaH = great glorious, gods, lord of - Brahma; iti evam uktvaa = thus, this way, on saying; yathaa aagatam tathaa = as came in, like that; deva lokam agacChat = to empyrean, world, went away.

"On saying in this way, the forefather of all the worlds, and the great glorious lord of all gods, namely Brahma, went away to his empyrean world as he has come. [1-44-16]

Verse Locator

भगीरथः तु राजर्षिः कृत्वा सलिलम् उत्तमम् ।
यथाक्रमम् यथान्यायम् सागराणाम् महायशाः ॥ १-४४-१७
कृतोदकः शुची राजा स्वपुरम् प्रविवेश ह ।
समृद्धार्थो नरश्रेष्ठ स्वराज्यम् प्रशशास ह ॥ १-४४-१८

17. raajaR^iSiH = kingly-sage; mahaayashaaH = greatly renowned one; raajaa = king; bhagiirathaH api = Bhageeratha, even; yathaa kramam yathaa nyaayam = as per, regularity [according to precedency,] as per, rationale of scriptures; saagaraaNaa = for Sagara's sons - souls of the sons of Sagara; [uttama loka praapaka = superior, realms, endowing]; uttamam salilam kR^atvaa = best, water-oblations, on performing; kR^ita udakaH [itare] = who had completed water-oblations, [to other manes]; shucii = on becoming purified, sanctified; sva puram pravivesha ha = his own, city, [re-]entered, indeed; nara shreSTha = oh, outstanding man - Rama; samR^iddha arthaH = completely achieved, of his purposes; sva raajyam pra shashaasa ha = his own, kingdom, well, ruled, indeed.

"On according those best water-oblations that endow superior realms to the souls of sons of Sagara, according to precedency and the rationale of scriptures, and even on offering water-oblations to other manes that kingly-sage and greatly renowned Bhageeratha is sanctified, and then only that king re-entered his own city, indeed when his purpose is completely achieved, and oh, outstanding man Rama, thus that king Bhageeratha ruled his kingdom well. [1-44-17, 18]

Verse Locator

प्रमुदोद च लोकः तम् नृपम् आसाद्य राघव ।
नष्टशोकः समृद्धार्थो बभूव विगतज्वरः ॥ १-४४-१९

19. raaghava = oh, Raghava; tam nR^ipam aasaadya = him, as king, on [re-]gaining; lokaH pramumoda ca = subjects of kingdom, are overjoyed, also; and he; samR^iddha arthaH = with overabundant, means - achieving his purpose; vi gata jvaraH = verily, gone, febrility; naSTa shokaH = relieved of, grief; babhuuva = became.

"On regaining him as their king the subjects of the kingdom are overjoyed, and oh, Raghava, that king Bhageeratha too is relieved of his febrility as his purpose is achieved and he is happy when devoid of haunting grief of getting Ganga to earth. [1-44-19]

Verse Locator

एष ते राम गंगाया विस्तरो अभिहितो मया ।
स्वस्ति प्राप्नुहि भद्रम् ते संध्या कालो अतिवर्तते ॥ १-४४-२०

20. raama = oh, Rama; gangaayaaH eSa vistaraH = Ganga's, this, detailed [legend]; mayaa te abhihitaH = by me, to you, described; svasti praapnuhi = prosperity, you attain; te bhadram = you be blest; sandhyaa kaalaH ati vartate = vesperal, time, over, passing - is elapsing.

"Oh, Rama, this way I described to you about 'The Decent of Ganga' in detail, thus you be blest and prosperous, and as the visceral time is elapsing no more questions from you for now, and let us meditate on Gayatri. But listen to the fruits of listening the legend of ganga avataraNa, 'The Descent of Ganga' [1-44-20]

Verse Locator

धन्यम् यशस्यम् आयुष्यम् पुत्र्यम् स्वर्ग्यम् अथ अपि च ।

यः श्रावयति विप्रेषु क्षत्रियेषु इतरेषु च ॥ १-४४-२१

प्रीयन्ते पितरः तस्य प्रीयन्ते दैवतानि

21, 22a. dhanyam = endower of prosperity; yashasyam = endower of renown; aayuSyam = endower of longevity; atha = and; putryam svargyam api ca = endower of - progeny, heaven, even, also; such as this legend is; yaH = he who; vipreShu = among Brahmins; kshatriyeSu itereSu ca = among Kshatriya-s, among others, also; shraavayati = lets to listen - narrates; tasya pitaraH priyante = his, manes, will be satisfied; daivataani ca priyante = gods, also, will be satisfied.

"This legend is conducive to achieve prosperity, fame, longevity, progeny and even heaven, and he who narrates this legend to others, whether he is from Brahmins or from Kshatriya-s, or for that matter of fact from any other class, his manes will be satisfied, and gods too will be gladdened. [1-44-21, 22a]

Verse Locator

इदम् आख्यनम् आयुश्यम् गंगा अवतरणम् शुभम् ॥ १-४४-२२

यः श्रुणोति च काकुत्स्थ सर्वान् कामान् अवाप्नुयात् ।

सर्वे पापाः प्रणश्यन्ति आयुः कीर्तिः च वर्धते ॥ १-४४-२३

22b, 23. kaakutstha = oh, Kakutstha Rama; idam shubham = this, auspicious; aayushyam = endower of longevity; ganga avataraNam akhyanam = Ganga's descent, named legend; yaH shruNoti = he, who listens; he; sarvaan kaamaan avaapnuyaat = all, wishes, he achieves; sarve paapaaH pra Nashyanti = all, sins, completely, obliterated; aayuH kiirtiH ca vardhate = long life, reputation, also, enhances.

"Oh, Rama of Kakutstha-s, he who listens to this auspicious legend named 'The Descent of Gang,' which is an endower of longevity, all his wishes are achieved, all his sins are obliterated, and his reputation and longevity are also enhanced." Thus Vishvamitra concluded the episode of 'The Descent of Ganga.' [1-44-22b, 23]

Ganga

Almost every puraaNa, mythological treatise, deals with the sanctity of Ganga. It is therefore queried and counter-queried as to why and how she is sanctifying. Many treatises have detailed about it. This river emerges from the nail of the left foot's big-toe of Vishnu as said in Vishnu Puraana: gangaa deva anganaa angaanaam anulepanaa api pinjaraa | vaama paada ambuja anguShTa nakha sroto vinirgataa | visNor bhibharti yaam bhaktyaa sirasaa ahar nisam dhR^ivam - sivaH Hence she took landing on Shiva's head. sankarasya sirasi bhraShTam patitam kalmaSha apahaa - mahesvara tiirtha 'the one who plunged onto Shankara's head and the very same is the remover of sins.'

Even if that river has fallen onto the head of Shiva at a later time, her original birth place is at the feet of Vishnu hence that river is sacred. After falling on the head of Shiva she is released and she rapidly flowed onto earth. Hence, her speed and rapidity alone are the sanctifying factors. nadii vegena sudhyati - govinda raaja 'a river cleanses itself by its rapidity.' As such, after incarceration by Shiva she flowed rapidly and thus her sanctity is kept up, by her very rapidity.

On bearing these sanctifying waters on his head, Shiva became a sanctified Shiva as said at sarit praparodakena tiirthena - candra- mauli vidhR^itena sivaH sivo aabhuut - bhaagavatapuraaNa. Shiva presumed that he is honoured for the falling of Ganga on his head as said at tat ambu patitam dR^iShTvaa dadhaara sirasaa haraH | paavanartham jaTaa madhye - mahaa bhaarata Even in aadhyatma raaamayaNa Sage Vashishta says to Vishnu tvat paada salilam dhR^itvaa dhanvo bhuut girijaa patiH - aadhyaatma raamaayaNa 'on bearing your foot's waters Shiva became pious.'

In the legend of Trivikrama, dwarf-ascetic-boy, at one place it is said that due to the pressure of the foot of Vamana, the incarnation of Vishnu, the shell of the universe is pierced and water available outside has gone in and that water belonged to the Divine Ganga. At another place it is said when Brahma washed the feet of Vishnu that water from his kamanDulu 'handy vessel' flowed as Ganga. Still at another place it is said that the dharmaitself flowed as Ganga at the behest of Brahma. These three are correlated and said that 'when Brahma washed the feet of Vishnu the waters were not sufficient enough to drench, then Brahma ordered dharmato flow like water, but that too was not enough, and when Vamana pierced the shell of universe then dharmaflowed as Ganga.

The yoga takes yet another viewpoint of Ganga. Their great guru is Shiva, and hence yogis say that every fraction of second Ganga, or cetana, vitality, flows in ones own body. tat paada padmajam ga~Ngaam nipatantiim sva muurdhani | cintayet brahma randhreNa pravishantiim svakaam tanuum | tayaa sa~NkShaalayet deham baahyam abhyantaram malam | tat kShaNaat virajo mantra jaayate sphaTika upamam | According to the six-plexus theory cetana shakti, power of vitality, flows through brahma randhra 'the hole in the mid of the pate' to sahasraa kamalathe multi-petal-lotus, the Internal Capsule or the Reticular Activating System and from there to aaj~naa cakra 'plexus of discrimination' back at the third eye, and from there the vitality flows down the lines of the three spinal nerves, viz., iDaa, pingala, suSumna sympathetic, parasympathetic and central spinal cord. These three are the three replicas of Ganga, Yamuna, and Saraswati. Their confluence occurs once at aaj~naa cakra 'third eye' and again at the perineum and having gone to the perineum this Ganga activates the dormant particles of vitality to raise them up the spinal system. Thus, the Supreme Yogi Shiva ordains the vitality called Ganga to flow up and down the plexuses, from grey matter down to the perineum, only to activate the system. More Information than this will become unjustifiable here.

Ganga is ever holy because she does not have any womanly stigmas. dvi maasam saritah sarvaa bhavanti rajasvalaaH - maarkanDeya - - simha karkaaTakayoH madhye sarvaa nadyaa rajasvalaaH - vyaaghrapaada 'for two months all the rivers menstruate' Maakandeya Puraana. 'When sun in Leo-Cancer all rivers menstruate.' that is due to monsoon and new waters, as such bathing in them at that time is prohibitive. But River Ganga perennially draws its river water from Himalayas thus she has no such blemish.

For all these diverse opinions the reply is given in Ramayana itself as said in Ayodhya vishNu paada udbhavaam divyam - ayodhya and also at 1-43-7 of Ramayana saa tasmin puNyaa - puNye rudrasya muurdhani - raamaayaNa which imports the meaning: 'she that pious River Ganga, fell onto the pious head of Shiva,' i.e., 'without any mutation, both Shiva and Ganga are the sanctifiers by themselves, while helping each other, i.e., Shiva helped Ganga to gain a foothold on His head, while Ganga helped Shiva to become the root cause to bear and release her brunt, and in turn, both of them helped the humankind.' Thus, what more can be sanctity than helping the created beings with one's own dharma?

Verse Locator

इति वाल्मीकि रामायणे आदि काव्ये बाल काण्डे चतुर् चत्वारिंशः सर्गः

Thus, this is the 44th chapter in Bala Kanda of Valmiki Ramayana, the First Epic poem of India.

Book I : Bala Kanda - The Youthful Majesties

Sarga 45

Verses converted to UTF-8, Sept 09

Introduction

The legend of churning Milk Ocean is narrated to Rama and Lakshmana when they reach and see a city named Vishaala. Vishvamitra narrates how haalahala, the lethal poison as well as Amrita, the ambrosial elixir emerged from the churning of Milk Ocean, and how Shiva contained the poison and how Vishnu helped the churning in His incarnation as Tortoise.

Verse Locator

विश्वामित्र वचः श्रुत्वा राघवः सह लक्ष्मणः ।

विस्मयम् परमम् गत्वा विश्वामित्रम् अथ अब्रवीत् ॥ १-४५-१

1. saha lakSmaNaH = with, Lakshmana; raaghavaH = Raghava; vishvaamitra vacaH shrutvaa = Vishvamitra's, words, on listening; paramam vismayam gatvaa = great, astonishment, gone into; atha vishvaamitram abraviit = then, to Vishvamitra, addressed.

On listening the narration of Sage Vishvamitra about Ganga's descent along with Lakshmana, Rama went into a great astonishment, and then addressed Vishvamitra. [1-45-1]

Verse Locator

अति अद्भुतम् इदम् ब्रह्मन् कथितम् परमम् त्वया ।

गंगा अवतरणम् पुण्यम् सागरस्य अपि पूरणम् ॥ १-४५-२

2. brahman = oh, Brahman; tvayaa kathitam paramam = by you, narrated, extremely - blessed legend; idam gangaa avataraNam = this, Ganga's, alighting; saagarasya [khananam] = ocean's, [digging]; puuraNam api = filling it, even; puNyam = [are] sacrosanct; ati adbhutam = highly, amazing.

"The blessed legend you have narrated about the digging of an ocean at the behest of Sagara, Ganga's alighting, and Bhageeratha filling it with the water of Ganga is sacrosanct and even highly amazing. [1-45-2]

Verse Locator

क्षण भूत इव नौ रात्रिः संवृत्त इयम् परंतप ।

इमाम् चिंतयतोः सर्वम् निखिलेन कथाम् तव ॥ १-४५-३

3. parantapa = oh, enemy-inflamer; tava imaam sarvam kathaam = your, this, all of the, episode; nikhilena = in entirety; chintayatoH = while thinking of it; nau = to us two - Rama, Lakshmana; iyam raatriH = this, night; kshaNa bhuuta iva = a moment, became, as if; samvR^itta = rolled by.

"Oh, enemy-inflamer, for two of us entire night rolled by as if it is a single moment while we were thinking about the episode you have narrated in its entirety. [1-45-3]

तस्य सा शर्वरी सर्वा मम सौमित्रिणा सह ।
जगाम चिंतयान् अस्य विश्वामित्र कथाम् शुभाम् ॥१-४५-४

4. vishvaamitra = oh, friend of universe - Vishvamitra; saumitriNaa saha = Saumitri, along with; tasyashubhaam kathaam = about it, auspicious one, about legend; cintayaan asya = while thinking, about it; saa sarvaa sharvarii jagaama = that, entire, night, rolled by.

"While thinking about the auspicious legend of Ganga along with Lakshmana, oh, friend of the universe, Vishvamitra, whole night rolled by." Thus Rama is addressing Vishvamitra. [1-45-4]

Here the placement of verses does not give a continuity of narration in this version, insofar as Rama's speech is concerned. Other versions have a continuity of narration.

Verse Locator

ततः प्रभाते विमले विश्वामित्रम् तपोधनम् ।
उवाच राघवो वाक्यम् कृत आह्निकम् अरिन्दमः ॥ १-४५-५

5. tataH = thereafter; arindamaH = enemy-oppressor; raaghavaH = Raghava; vimale prabhaate = fresh, on next dawn; kR^ita aahnikaam = who performed, morning chores of rituals; vishvaamitram = to Vishvamitra; tapaH dhanam = who in asceticism, affluent; vaakyam uvaaca = sentence, spoke.

Thereafter on the next fresh dawn the enemy-oppressor Raghava spoke these words to sage Vishvamitra, whose affluence is nothing but asceticism, and who by now has performed his daily chores of rituals. [1-45-5]

Verse Locator

गता भगवती रात्रिः श्रोतव्यम् परमम् श्रुतम् ।
तराम सरितम् श्रेष्ठम् पुण्यम् त्रि पथ गाम् नदीम् ॥१-४५-६

6. paramam shrotavyam shrutam = excellent, listenable [praiseworthy legend,] listened; bhagavatii raatriH gataa = deific, night, passed; saritam shreSTam puNyam = among rivers, prominent one, merited - Ganga; tri patha gaam nadiim = three, ways, coursing, river Ganga; taraama we now cross over.

"We have listened the praiseworthy legend of River Ganga, and the deific night has also passed by while listening such a legend, we may now cross over the very same prominent and merited River Ganga, the tri-path-cruiser. [1-45-6]

Verse Locator

नौः एषा हि सुख आस्तीर्णा ऋषीणाम् पुण्य कर्मणाम् ।
भगवंतम् इह प्राप्तम् ज्ञात्वा त्वरितम् आगता ॥ १-४५-७

7. sukha aastiirNaa = comfortably, blanketed [floor with mats etc.]; puNya karmaNaam R^iSiinaam = of august, deeds, for sages - suitable for embarkation of great sages; eSaa nauH = this, boat; bhagava.ntam iha praaptam = your holiness, here, chanced - visited this place; j~naatvaa = on knowing; tvaritam aagataa = quickly, [boat] came [fetched by them]; hi = indeed.

"This boat which is suitable for the embarkation of the sages whose deeds are pious, and which is comfortably blanketed with mats in its deck has come here, and indeed on knowing about the visit of your holiness to this place the sages have fetched it." Thus Rama spoke to Vishvamitra. [1-45-7]

Verse Locator

तस्य तत् वचनम् श्रुत्वा राघवस्य महात्मनः ।

सन्तारम् कारयामास स ऋषि संघस्य कौशिकः ॥ १-४५-८

8. tasya mahaa aatmanaH raaghavasya = his, great-souled, Raghava's; tat vacanam shrutvaa = that, sentence, on hearing; sa R^iSi sanghasya = along with, sages, assemblages of; [sa raaghavaH = with Raghava-s]; samtaaram = to cross over [river]; kaushikaH = , Kaushika - Vishvamitra; kaarayaamaasa = started to make happen.

Hearing the words of great-souled Raghava, Vishvamitra of Kusha dynasty, started to cross over the River Ganga along with the assemblage of sages, and with both the Raghava-s. [1-45-8]

Verse Locator

उत्तरम् तीरम् आसाद्य संपूज्य ऋषि गणम् ततः ।

गंगा कूले निविष्टाः ते विशालाम् ददृशुः पुरीम् ॥ १-४५-९

9. uttaram tiiram aasaadya = north side, bank, on arriving at; tataH = then; sampuujya R^iSi gaNam = honoured, sages, group - who ferried them to here; gangaa kuule niviSTaaH = then, Ganga's, on bank, sojourned; te = they; vishaalaam puriim dadR^ishuH = at Vishaala [named city,] they have seen.

Arriving at the northern bank of River Ganga they have honoured the group of sages who ferried them up to here and sent them off. Then sojourning on the riverbank of Ganga they have seen the city called Vishaala. [1-45-9]

Verse Locator

ततो मुनि वरः तूर्णम् जगाम सह राघवः ।

विशालाम् नगरीम् रंयाम् दिव्याम् स्वर्ग उपमाम् तदा ॥ १-४५-१०

10. tataH = then; muni varaH = sage, the best - Vishvamitra; saha raaghavaH = with, Raghava-s; tadaa = next; ramyaam = charming; divyaam = admirable; svarga upamaam = to heaven, comparable; vishaalaam nagariim = to Vishaala, city; tuurNam jagaama = quickly, went.

The great sage Vishvamitra then quickly started along with Rama and Lakshmana to the charming and admirable city Vishaala, which in comparison is like heaven. [1-45-10]

Verse Locator

अथ रामो महाप्राज्ञो विश्वामित्रम् महामुनिम् ।

पप्रच्छ प्रांजलिः भूत्वा विशालाम् उत्तमाम् पुरीम् ॥ १-४५-११

11. atha = then; mahaa praaj~naH raamaH = highly, perspicacious - who has a flair for knowing, Rama; praanjaliH bhuutvaa = with folded palms, on becoming; mahaa munim vishvaamitram = with great sage, Vishvamitra; uttamaam vishaalaam puriim = about prominent, Vishaala, city; papracCha = enquired about.

Then Rama, whose flair for knowing everything is high, became suppliant duly adjoining his palms, and enquired about the prominent city Vishala with the great Sage Vishvamitra. [1-45-11]

Verse Locator

कतमो राज वंशो अयम् विशालायाम् महामुने ।

श्रोतुम् इच्छामि भद्रम् ते परम् कौतूहलम् हि मे ॥ १-४५-१२

12. mahaa mune = oh, great, sage; vishaalaayaam = in Vishaala - kingdom; ayam raaja vamshaH katamaH [kataraH] = this, king's, dynasty, which is; shrotum icChaami = for hearing,

I am interested; te bhadram = safeness betides you; me param kautuuhalam hi = to me, highly, inquisitiveness is there, indeed.

"Oh, great sage, which dynasty of kings is ruling from this city of Vishaala? Let safeness betide you, I am interested to hear of it and indeed I am highly inquisitive about it." Thus Rama spoke to Vishvamitra. [1- 45-12]

Verse Locator

तस्य तत् वचनम् श्रुत्वा रामस्य मुनिपुंगवः ।
आख्यातुम् तत् समारेभे विशालस्य पुरातनम् ॥ १-४५-१३

13. muni pungavaH = sage, the eminent; tasya raamasya = his, Rama's; tat vacanam shrutvaa = that, sentence, on hearing; vishaalasya puraatanam = Vishaala's, ancient; tat = that - legend; aakhyaatum sam aarebhe = to narrate, well, started to.

Hearing that sentence of Rama then the eminent sage Vishvamitra has commenced to narrate the legend of ancient Vishaala. [1-45-13]

Verse Locator

श्रूयताम् राम शक्रस्य कथाम् कथयतः श्रुताम् ।
अस्मिन् देशे हि यत् वृत्तम् शृणु तत्त्वेन राघव ॥ १-४५-१४

14. raama = oh, Rama; shakrasya kathaam = Indra's, auspicious, legend; kathayataH shrutaam = as narrated, as I heard; shruuyataam = let it be heard; asmin deshe yat vR^ittam hi = in this, country, what, has happened, indeed; [tat api = that, even]; raaghava = oh Raghava; tattvena shR^iNu = in quintessence, you listen.

"Oh, Rama, I will tell you about the auspicious legend of Indra as I was told, and you listen to it as I tell. Oh, Raghava, indeed you may now listen to the quintessence of what has happened in this country. [1-45-14]

Verse Locator

पूर्वम् कृत युगे राम दितेः पुत्रा महाबलाः ।
अदितेः च महाभागा वीर्यवन्तः सुधार्मिकाः ॥ १-४५-१५

15. mahaabhaagaa raama = oh, highly, fortunate, Rama; puurvam kR^ita yuge = once, in Krita, era; diteH putraa = Diti's, sons; mahaa balaaH = extremely, energetic ones; aditeH ca = Aditi's, also ; viiryavantaH = vigorous ones; su dhaarmikaaH = highly righteous ones.

"Once in Krita era, oh, Rama, the sons of Lady Diti were extremely energetic, whereas the sons of her younger sister Lady Aditi were vigorous and highly righteous. [1-45-15]

Diti is the elder sister of Aditi and the first wife of Sage Kaashyapa. Her sons were originally called asura-s, and later given the nomenclature of raakshasaa-s, the demons. Lady Aditi the second wife of that sage Kaashyapa, gave birth to the progeny of sura-s, later generally called as devataa-s, the gods. These two ladies are the daughters of Daksha Prajaapati.

Verse Locator

ततः तेषाम् नरव्याघ्रः बुद्धिः आसीत् महात्मनाम् ।
अमरा विर्जराः चैव कथम् स्यामो निरामयाः ॥ १-४५-१६

16. tataH = then; naravyaaghraH = oh, tigerly-man, Rama; mahaa atmanaam teSaam = great-souled ones, to them; vi jaraaH = without, decay - without old age; a maraa = without, death - deathless; caiva = also, likewise; nir aamayaaH = without, illness, mortification; katham syaamaH = how, we shall be - how to thrive; buddhiH aasiit = thought - speculation, occurred.

"Oh, tigerly-man, Rama, then those great-souls speculated as to 'how we can thrive without ageing, illness, and likewise without death.' [1-45-16]

Verse Locator

तेषाम् चिंतयताम् तत्र बुद्धिः आसीत् विपश्चिताम् ।
क्षीर उद मथनम् कृत्वा रसम् प्राप्स्याम तत्र वै ॥ १-४५-१७

17. cintayataam teSaam vipashcitaam = thus thinking, to those, masterminds; tatra = in that matter; buddhiH aasiit = thought, occurred; kSiira uda mathanam kR^itvaa = milk, ocean, churning, on performing; tatra = from it; rasam praapsyaama vai = elixir, we will get, indeed.

"A thought occurred to those masterminds who were thinking on that matter clueing them up, 'we indeed can get elixir of life by churning the Milky Ocean.' [1-45-17]

Verse Locator

ततो निश्चित्य मथनम् योक्त्रम् कृत्वा च वासुकिम् ।
मन्थानम् मन्दरम् कृत्वा ममन्थुर् अमित ओजसः ॥ १-४५-१८

18. tataH = then; a mita ojasaH = un, limited, energetic ones - both groups; mathanam nishcitya = churning, on deciding; vaasukim yoktram kR^itvaa = Vasuki - King of Snakes, as churning-rope, on making; mandaram manthaanam kR^itvaa = mountain Mandara, as stirrer, on making; ma manthuH = thoroughly, churned - Milky Ocean.

"Deciding upon to churn the Milky Ocean then made Vasuki, Thousand-headed King of Snakes, as the churning rope and Mt. Mandara as stirrer, and those brothers whose energy is unlimited have started churning the Milky Ocean thoroughly. [1-45-18]

Verse Locator

अथ वर्ष सहस्रेण योक्त्र सर्प शिरांसि च ।
वमन्तो अति विषम् तत्र ददंशुर् दशनैः शिलाः ॥ १-४५-१९

19. atha varSa sahasreNa = later, by years, thousand [after a thousand years]; yoktra sarpa shiraamsi ca = churning rope, serpent, heads, also; tatra = in that - friction of churning; ati viSam = a great lot of, venom; vamantaH = disgorged; shilaaH dadamshuH dashanaiH = cliffs [of Mt. Mandara]; fanged, with fangs.

"After a thousand years, the Thousand-headed serpent Vaasuki, which is being used as churning rope, is incapacitated to bear the friction of churning and fanged the cliffs of Mt. Mandara. Thereby a great lot of venom is disgorged from the heads of that serpent Vaasuki, which venom on melting the rocks of Mt. Mandara became the holocaustic poison called haalahala. [1-45-19]

Verse Locator

उत्पपाताम् अग्नि संकाशम् हालाहल महाविषम् ।
तेन दग्धम् जगत् सर्वम् स देव असुर मानुषम् ॥ १-४५-२०

20. agni sankasham = inferno, similar to; haalaaahala mahaa viSam = halahala, lethal, poison; ut pa paataam = started to up, verily, fall - started to fulminate - from Mt. Mandara; tena = by that; sa deva asura maanuSam = together with, gods, demons, humans; jagat sarvam dagdham = universe, whole, is burnt down.

"A lethal poison similar to inferno known as haalahala has started to fulminate therefrom, by which whole universe of gods, non-gods and humans is burnt down. [1-45-20]

Verse Locator

अथ देवा महादेवम् शंकरम् शरणार्थिनः ।

जग्मुः पशुपतिम् रुद्रम् त्राहि त्राहि इति तुष्टुवुः ॥ १-४५-२१

21. tataH = then; devaaH = gods; sharaNa arthtinaH = shelter, seeking; mahaadevam = to Cardinal God; pashu patim = to animal's, lord of; sham karam = Solace, Endower; rudram = to Rudra; jagmuH = went to; traahi traahi iti tuSTuvuH = save, save us, thus, they prayed to Him.

"The gods seeking shelter then approached Rudra, the Cardinal God, Endower of Solace, and who husbands all the created animals inclusive of human-animals, namely Shiva, and they prayed to him saying 'save, save us.' [1-45-21]

Verse Locator

एवम् उक्त्वा ततो देवैः देवेश्वरः प्रभुः ।

प्रादुर् आसीत् ततो अत्र एव शंख चक्र धरो हरिः ॥ १-४५-२२

22. tataH = then; prabhuH = the lord; deva iishvaraH = God of Gods - Shiva; devaiH evam uktaH = by gods, this way, he is addressed - prayed; shankha cakra dharaH hariH = conch, disc, handling, Hari - Vishnu; tataH = then - in the meanwhile; atra eva praadur aasiit = to there, only, revealed himself.

"This way while the gods are praying the Lord and God of Gods, namely Shiva, then handling his disc and conch-shell Vishnu has also revealed himself at that place. [1-45-22]

Verse Locator

उवाच एनम् स्मितम् कृत्वा रुद्रम् शूलधरम् हरिः ।

दैवतैः मध्यमानो तु तत् पूर्वम् समुपस्थितम् ॥ १-४५-२३

तत् त्वदीयम् सुरश्रेष्ठः सुराणाम् अग्रतो हि यत् ।

अग्र पूजामि इह स्थित्वा गृहाण इदम् विषम् प्रभो ॥ १-४५-२४

23. hariH = Vishnu; smitam kR^itvaa = smile, making [smilingly]; shuula dharam = Trident, Wielder of; enam rudram = to him, to Rudra; uvaaca = spoke; sura shreSThaH = oh, among gods, best god; daivataiH madhyamaanaH tu = by gods, while churning, but; [yat = which]; puurvam samupasthitam = firstly, emerged - element from Milk Ocean; tvadiiyam hi = it is yours, isn't it; yat = by which reason, by virtue of; suraaNaam agrataH = among gods, [you are] foremost god; [asi = you are]; prabho = oh, omniscient god, Shiva; agra puujaam = as prime, oblation; [matvaa = deeming it as]; iha sthitvaa = in this [position of foremost god,] staying at it - applying yourself to that position; idam viSam gR^ihaaNa = this, poison, you take.

"And Vishnu smilingly spoke to wielder of trident Rudra, 'oh, god the best, whatever element that has emerged from the churning of Milk Ocean by gods, that shall belong to you, isn't it. By virtue of your position as the foremost god among gods, oh, omniscient god Shiva, you please accept this poison applying yourself to that position of foremost god, and deeming this poison, haalahala, as a foremost oblation to your godhood. [1-45-23, 24]

Verse Locator

इति उक्त्वा च सुरश्रेष्ठः तत्र एव अंतर्धीयत ।

देवतानाम् भयम् दृष्ट्वा श्रुत्वा वाक्यम् तु शारङ्गिणः ॥ १-४५-२५

हालाहलम् विषम् घोरम् संजग्राह अमृत उपमम् ।

25, 26a. sura shreSThaH iti uktvaa = best one among gods - Vishnu, this way, on saying; tatra eva antardhiyata = there, only, disappeared; [saH = he that Shiva]; devataanaam bhayam dR^iSTvaa = god's, scare, on observing; shaara~NgiNaH = the wielder of bow called shaara~nga, so, shaara~Ngi dhanvan, i.e., Vishnu; vaakyam shrutvaa = words, on listening; ghoram haalaahalam viSam = lethal, halahala, poison; amR^ita upamam = ambrosia, as if it is; sam jagraaha = well taken - gulped the poison.

"Saying so Vishnu, the best one among gods, has disappeared then and there only. And on observing the scare of gods and also on paying heed to the words of the Wielder of Bow called shaara~Nga, namely Vishnu, god Shiva gulped that lethal poison, haalahala, as if it is ambrosia. [1-45-25, 26a]

देवान् विसृज्य देवेशो जगाम भगवान् हरः॥ १-४५-२६

ततो देव असुराः सर्वे मनथू रघुनन्दन।

26b, 27a. deva iishaH= god of gods; bhagavaan haraH= god, Hara - Shiva; devaan visR^iuja= gods, on leaving off; jagaama= went away; raghu nandana= oh Raghu's dynasty, delight - Rama; tataH deva asuraaH sarve= then, gods, non-gods, all; ma manthuu= continued churning.

"The god of gods Hara then left for his abode Kailash parting with other gods, and oh, Rama, the joy of Raghu's dynasty, the gods and non-gods have continued to churn the Milky Ocean. [1-45-26b, 27a]

Verse Locator

प्रविवेश अथ पातालम् मन्थानः पर्वतोत्तमः॥ १-४५-२७

ततो देवाः स गन्धर्वाः तुष्टुवुः मधुसूदनम्।

27b, 28a. atha= now; manthaanaH parvata uttamaH= stirrer, mountain, loftiest one; paataalam pravivesha= into netherworld, entered - caved in; tataH= then; sa gandharvaaH devaaH= with, gandharva-s, gods; madhusudanam tuSTuvuH= Madhusuudana to Vishnu, they prayed.

"Now the loftiest mountain that is being used as stirrer, namely Mt. Mandara, has caved into the netherworld, thereby the gods along with gandharva-s have prayed to Madhusuudana, the other name of Vishnu. [1-45-27b, 28a]

Verse Locator

त्वम् गतिः सर्व भूतानाम् विशेषेण दिवौकसाम्॥ १-४५-२८

पालय अस्मान् महाबाहो गिरिम् उद्धर्तुम् अर्हसि।

28b, 29a. mahaabaaho= oh, ambidextrous one; tvam sarva bhuutaanaam gatiH= you are, to all, beings, the recourse; visheSeNa diva aukasaam= especially, to heaven, dwellers; asmaan paalaya= us, you protect; girim uddhartum arhasi= mountain, to elevate, apt of you.

" 'You alone are the recourse to all beings, especially to the dwellers in heavens, oh ambidextrous god Vishnu, you safeguard us, it will be apt of you elevate the mountain.' So prayed gods to Vishnu. [1-45-28b, 29a]

Verse Locator

इति श्रुत्वा हृषीकेशः कामठम् रूपम् आस्थितः॥ १-४५-२९

पर्वतम् पृष्टतः कृत्वा शिष्ये तत्र उदधौ हरिः।

29b, 30a. hR^iSiikshaH= Hrisheeksha, another name of Vishnu, who is beyond corporeal senses, controller of those senses; hariH= Hari; iti shrutvaa= thus, on hearing; kaamaTham ruupam aasthitaH= tortoise, form, having adopted; parvatam pR^iSTataH kR^itvaa= mountain [Mt. Mandara,] on back [on tortoiseshell,] on making [positioning]; tatra shishye udadhau= therein, that Ocean, became recumbent.

"Hearing the prayer of gods Vishnu, Hrisheekesha, the controller of senses, adopting the form a tortoise and positioning the stirring Mt. Mandara on that tortoiseshell, he lay recumbent at the bottom of Milky Ocean as a base to the stirrer. [1-45-29b, 30a]

Verse Locator

पर्वत अग्रम् तु लोकात्मा हस्तेन आक्रम्य केशवः॥ १-४५-३०
देवानाम् मध्यतः स्थित्वा ममन्थ पुरुषोत्तमः।

30b, 31a. loka aatmaa= Cosmic-Soul; puruSaH uttamaH= Person, Supreme; keshavaH= Keshava i.e., Vishnu; devaanaam madhyataH sthitvaa= of gods, amid, staying; parvata agram tu= mountain, peak, but; hastena aakramya= with hand, reached out - on holding; mamantha= churned - participated in churning.

"Keshava then reached out his hand and grasped the mountaintop as he is the Cosmic-Soul, and thus staying amid gods that Supreme Person Vishnu participated in churning the ocean by holding the stirring mountain upright. [1-45-30b, 31a]

Verse Locator

अथ वर्ष सहस्रेण आयुर्वेदमयः पुमान्॥ १-४५-३१
उदतिष्ठत् सुधर्मात्मा स दण्ड स कमण्डलुः।
पूर्वम् धन्वन्तरिर् नाम अप्सराः च सु वर्चसः॥ १-४५-३२

31b, 32. atha varSa sahasreNa= then, years, after thousand; sa daNDa sa kamaNDuluH= with, arm-rest-stick, with, handy water-vessel; dhanvantariH naama= Dhanvantari, named; aayuH vedamayaH pumaan= Life, Science epitome of, [Aayurveda,] male personality; su dharmaatmaa= highly, righteous souled one; su varcasaH apsaraaH ca= with remarkable, elegance, Apsara-s, also; puurvam= firstly; udatiSThat [ut a tiSTat= to up, came, and stayed]= came up, surfaced - from ocean.

"After a thousand years of churning, then a male personality, an epitome of Life Sciences, namely aayur veda, a highly righteous soul, named Dhanvantari, has firstly surfaced with his arm-rest-stick and with his handy water-vessel, and then the remarkably elegant Apsara-s, angelic damsels, have emerged next to him from the Milky Ocean. [1-45-31b, 32]

Verse Locator

अप्सु निर्मथनात् एव रसात् तस्मात् वर स्त्रियः।
उत्पेतुः मनुज श्रेष्ठ तस्मात् अप्सरसो अभवन्॥ १-४५-३३

33. manuja shreSTha= oh, among men, the best one - Rama; apsu= in water - of Milk Ocean; nir mathanaat= by absolute churning; tasmaat rasaat eva= from that, elixir, only; vara striyaH= choicest, females; utpetuH= came forth; tasmaat= therefore; apsarasaH abhavan= Apsara-genera, they became - their genera became.

"Choicest females have come out an elixir obtained on absolute churning of the waters of Milk Ocean, oh, best one among men, Rama, thereby that genera of females became Apsara-s. [1-45-33]

Verse Locator

षष्टिः कोट्यो अभवन् तासाम् अप्सराणाम् सुवर्चसाम्।
असन्ख्येयाः तु काकुत्स्थ याः तासाम् परिचारिकाः॥ १-४५-३४

34. kaakutstha= oh, descendent of Kakutstha; su varcasaam= those with - amazing, dazzle; taasaam apsaraaNaam= of those, of Apsara-s; SaSTiH koTyaH abhavan= sixty, crores [six hundred millions,] they became [they emerged]; taasaam= their; yaaH paricaarikaaH= who are the, maidservants [of main Apsara-s]; [te= they are]; a +sankhyeyaaH tu= not, countable [innumerable one,] on their part.

Six hundred millions of such Apsara-s with amazing dazzle have emerged from the churning of Milky Ocean, oh, descendent of Kakutstha, and their maidservants who emerged along with them are innumerable. [1-45-34]

Verse Locator

न ताः स्म प्रतिगृह्णन्ति सर्वे ते देव दानवाः।

अप्रतिग्रहणात् एव ता वै साधारणाः स्मृताः॥ १-४५-३५

35. sarve te deva daanavaaH= all, those, gods, demons; taaH= them - the Apsara females; na pratigR^ihNanti sma= not, take a fancy [espoused,] they are; a + pratigrahaNaat= by not, espousing; taaH = they; [sarvaaH= all]; saadhaaraNaaH smR^itaaH eva vai= general, reckoned as, that way, virtually.

"Anybody either from gods or demons espoused them, and when none espoused them they are virtually reckoned as 'general-purpose' Apsara-females. [1-45-35]

In fact these Apsara-s are the nymphs who really did not bother to choose husbands either from gods or from demons and they wanted to be free and out of the institution of marriage. But later they alone have become breeding centres as in the case of Menaka-Vishvamitra et al. Because they have come out from apsu rasa 'waters... elixir, those that emanated from the elixir of water.' Etymologically this nomenclature 'seems more to be guided by the similarity of sound than anything else,' and 'we have a case of sound etymology par excellence [in Ramayana,] in sura, asura and the word asura is formed from the word asu with the addition of the suffix ra and means 'one full of ra spiritual life i.e., asu and 'by curious process of semantical change came to mean a demon.' Pt. Satya Vrat - Ramayana - A Linguistic Study.

Verse Locator

वरुणस्य ततः कन्या वारुणी रघुनन्दन।

उत्पपात महाभागा मार्गमाणा परिग्रहम्॥ १-४५-३६

36. raghu nandana= oh, descendent of Raghu; tataH= then; varuNasya kanyaa= of Varuna [Rain-god,] daughter of; mahaabhaagaa vaaruNii= heaven-sent one, namely Vaaruni; parigraham maarga maaNaa= espousal, searching for; utpapaata= came up.

"Oh, descendent of Raghu, then the heaven-sent damsel Vaaruni came up from Milky Ocean searching for her espousal, who is the daughter of Varuna, the Rain-god, and who incidentally is the presiding deity of hard liquors and also called as sura. [1-45-36]

Verse Locator

दितेः पुत्रा न ताम् राम जगूहर् वरुण आत्मजाम्।

अदितेः तु सुता वीर जगूहः ताम् अनिन्दिताम्॥ १-४५-३७

37. raama= oh Rama; taam varuNa aatmajaam= her, that Rain-god, daughter of - Vaaruni; diteH putraa na jagR^ihuH= of Diti, sons, not, taken - espoused; viira= oh, brave one - Rama; a+ninditaam taam= impeccable one, her; aditeH sutaa tu=Aditi's, sons, on their part; jagR^ihuH= taken - accepted.

"Oh, Rama, the sons of Diti, namely asuraa-s, have not espoused that daughter of Rain-god, but oh, brave Rama, the sons of Aditi on their part, namely sura-s, have espoused that impeccable Vaaruni. [1-45-37]

Verse Locator

असुराः तेन दैतेयाः सुराः तेन अदितेः सुताः।

हृष्टाः प्रमुदिताः च आसन् वारुणी ग्रहणात् सुराः॥ १-४५-३८

38. tena= thereby; daiteyaaH= sons of Diti; a+suraaH= Asura-s - those that are without, liquor; aditeH sutaH suraaH= Aditi's sons, Suraa-s - those that have liquor; thus both are named; vaaruNii grahaNaat= Vaaruni, on espousing; suraaH= gods; hR^iSTaaH pramuditaH ca aasan= delighted, rejoiced, also, [gods,] became.

"Thereby the sons of Diti are called a suraa-s, and the sons of Aditi are called suraa-s, and gods are delighted and rejoiced on espousing Vaaruni. [1-45-38]

Verse Locator

उच्चैःश्रवा हय श्रेष्ठो मणि रत्नम् च कौस्तुभम्।
उदतिष्ठन् नरश्रेष्ठ तथैव अमृतम् उत्तमम्॥ १-४५-३९

39. narashreSTha= oh, best among men, Rama; uccaiHshravaa haya shreSThaH= Uccaishravaa, horse, the best one; kaustubham maNi ratnam ca= Kaustubha, jewel, gem of a, also; tathaiva= like that; uttamam amR^itam udatiSThan [ut a tiSThan]= Supreme, Ambrosia - the elixir of gods, have emerged.

"Then a best horse called Uccaishravaa has emerged, oh, Rama, the best among men, and then a gem of a jewel, called Kaustubha, and like that amrita, the Supreme ambrosial elixir of gods, have also emerged. [1-45-39]

Verse Locator

अथ तस्य कृते राम महान् आसीत् कुल क्षयः।
अदितेः तु ततः पुत्रा दितेः पुत्रान् असूदयन्॥ १-४५-४०

40. raama= Oh Rama; atha= then; tasya kR^ite= to it, owing to ambrosia; mahaan kula kSayaH aasiit= rampant, ethnic havoc, has chanced; tataH= then; aditeH putraa tu= by Aditi's, sons, on their part; diteH putraanan asuudayan= Diti's, sons are, havocked.

"Owing to the dispute regarding the possession of that ambrosia, oh, Rama, then there chanced a rampant ethnic havoc, and then the sons of Aditi have havocked the sons of Diti. [1-45-40]

Verse Locator

एकताम् अगमन् सर्वे असुरा राक्षसैः सह।
युद्धम् आसीत् महाघोरम् वीर त्रैलोक्य मोहनम्॥ १-४५-४१

41. viira= oh, brave one - Rama; sarve asuraa= all, asura-s; raakshasaiH saha= demons, along with; ekataam agaman= to one side, arrived at - allied themselves ; traI lokya mohanam= for three worlds, perplexing; mahaa ghoram yuddham aasiit= very, gruesome, war, occurred.

"All the asura-s and demons have come to one side against sura-s, and there occurred a very gruesome war which was perplexing to all the triad of universe viz., ethereal, real and surreal spheres. [1-45-41]

Verse Locator

यदा क्षयम् गतम् सर्वम् तदा विष्णुः महाबलः।
अमृतम् सः अहरत् तूर्णम् मायाम् आस्थाय मोहिनीम्॥ १-४५-४२

42. yadaa sarvam kshayam gatam= when, everything, annihilation, waded in; tadaa= then; mahaabalaH saH viSnuH= highly capable - omniscient, he, that Vishnu; mohiniim maayaam aasthaaya= Mohini's, illusory [power / form,] on assuming; tuurNam amR^itam aharat= swiftly, Amrita - Ambrosia, [Vishnu] impounded.

"When everything is wading into annihilation then that omnicompetent Vishnu swiftly impounded Amrita, the Divine Elixir, by assuming his illusory power of Mohini. [1-45-42]

Mohini literally means 'that which bewitches' and usually described as a feminine or neutral power of Vishnu, personified by a bewitching divine female. Thus Vishnu is said to have assumed a physique of such a voluptuous and bewitching seductress, marvellously limbed, and mantled in see-thru clothing, and thus maddened everybody around her. Then she started to serve Amrita/Ambrosia among the gods and demons on making them to sit on either side of her way. Even the age-old Brihaspati, the Jupiter, sitting in god's row, has come under her charm and started gazing her from top to toe, pruriently. When Brihaspati saw the feet of that damsel, they appeared as male person's feet. He further looked at those two feet and beholding them as shrīi caraNa, 'Reverential Divine Feet of Vishnu,' with which he covered the three spheres, Brihaspati's illusion is shattered and he venerated those feet, recognising this as Vishnu's Maya, illusory power.

Verse Locator

ये गता अभिमुखम् विष्णुम् अक्शरम् पुरुषोत्तमम्।
संपिष्टाः ते तदा युद्धे बिष्णुना प्रभ विष्णुना॥ १-४५-४३

43. a + ksharam= without, perish - Imperishable, Eternal; puruSa uttamam= Person, Supreme; viSNum= at Vishnu; ye= which of those - asura-s; yuddhe= in war; abhimukham gataaH= towards - confronting, have gone; te= they are; prabha viSNunaa= by his blaze, triply - one whose blaze is manifest in the fire, sun and lightning, hence one who has tripleblaze; viSNunaa= by such - Vishnu; tadaa sampiSTaaH= then, pulverised.

"Whoever confronted that Eternal and Supreme Person, namely Vishnu, in that war, then Vishnu whose blaze is threefold as manifest in the sun, fire and lightning, has pulverised him. [1-45-43]

Verse Locator

अदितेः आत्मजा वीरा दितेः पुत्रान् निजघ्निरै।
अस्मिन् घोरे महायुद्धे दैतेया अदित्यायोः भृशम्॥ १-४५-४४

44. daiteyaaH adityayoH= of Diti's progeny, of Aditi's progeny; asmin ghore mahaayuddhe= in this, horrendous, great war; viiraaH aditeH aatmajaa= brave ones, Aditi's, sons gods; diteH putraan= Diti's, sons - demons; bhR^isham nijaghnire= altogether, massacred.

"In this horrendous war between the progeny of Diti, namely demons, and the progeny of Aditi, namely gods, the sons of Aditi being gods, have altogether massacred the demonic sons of Diti. [1-45-44]

Verse Locator

निहत्य दिति पुत्रान् तु राज्यम् प्राप्य पुरन्दरः।
शशास मुदितो लोकान् स ऋषि सन्धान् स चारणान्॥ १-४५-४५

45. purandaraH= eliminator of enemy cities - Indra; diti putraan nihatya= Diti's, sons, on eliminating; raajyam praapya= divine - kingdom, on acquiring; muditaH= becoming happy; sa R^iSi sanghaan sa caaraNaan= with, sages, assemblages, with, caarana-s - celestials; lokaan shashaasa= worlds, he ruled.

"On eliminating the demonic sons of Diti and on acquiring kingdom of heaven, that eliminator of enemy cities, namely Indra, happily ruled the worlds that are inclusive of sages and caarana-s." Thus Vishvamitra continued his narration about Vishaala city and its emergence. [1-45-45]

Legend/puraaNa: Once, when Indra was riding his elephant Iravata, Sage Duurvasa came towards him and offered a garland, respecting Indra as the administrator of the universe. Indra decorated that garland on the head of his elephant and that elephant removed it and trampled. By this Duurvasa, who is an angry sage by himself, is angered and curses Indra to fall from the grace and all his luxurious paraphernalia be submerged in ocean. Accordingly, Indra loses everything and becomes destitute, and he then approaches Vishnu. Vishnu reprimands Indra for ridiculing elderly sages like Duurvasa and then plans to churn the ocean to retrieve all the lost treasures. Thus, the legend and the churning are going on for ages.

From the kundalini / power of yoga point of view the churning of ocean is continually going on in everyone's body. The body is the ocean and at its abyss, the triangle in the perineal or sacral plexus is the base of Mt. Mandara. The churning rod is the spinal cord in the rod like backbone and the churning strings are the ida, pingala namely, the sympathetic and parasympathetic systems. The churners are the air elements of vital forces on either side. This total system is held upright by Vishnu because He is naaraayaNa, nara + aayaNa 'one who conducts humans, say created beings, into being and lead them away, again into His own self...' When kundalini power is incited the first results are always negative like, haalaaha, 'the lethal poison...' and all all-ruinous ills befall on us. If this negativity is surrendered to someone who can handle it effortlessly, like Shiva, then the positivity results like Amrita/Ambrosia. Even if this elixir of life is readily available, there will be still better lures, lusts, and longings like Mohini and if enchanted by those instantaneous quirks, which are yet another kind of negativity, we will be lost completely, like the demons. Hence 'churn the correct way...' is the postulate of yoga.

इति वाल्मीकि रामायणे आदि काव्ये बाल काण्डे पञ्च चत्वारिंशः सर्गः

Thus, this is the 45th chapter in Bala Kanda of Valmiki Ramayana, the First Epic poem of India.

Book I : Bala Kanda - The Youthful Majesties

Sarga 46

Verses converted to UTF-8, Sept 09

Introduction

Diti seeks for a son to kill Indra because Indra and other gods have killed her sons in the battle after churning Milk Ocean. But Indra, being her stepson arrives at her place of asceticism, with view to destroy that Indra-killer. On a fateful day when Diti failed to maintain the procedure of vow, Indra enters her womb and dissects the foetus into seven fragments, which later become sapta marut gaNa-s, The Seven Wind-gods.

Verse Locator

हतेषु तेषु पुत्रेषु दितिः परम दुःखिता ।
मारीचम् काश्यपम् राम भर्तारम् इदम् अब्रवीत् ॥ १-४६-१

1. raama = oh, Rama; teSu putreSu hateSu = those, sons, while being killed; ditiH parama duHkhita = Diti, is highly, anguished; bhartaaram maariicam kaashyapam = to husband, son of Mareechi, to sage Kaashyapa; idam abraviit = this, said.

"Oh, Rama, Lady Diti was highly anguished for those sons that are killed and said this to her husband, Sage Kashyapa, the son of Sage Maareechi." Thus Vishvamitra continued narration. [1-46-1]

Verse Locator

हत पुत्रा अस्मि भगवन् तव पुत्रैः महाबलैः ।
शक्र हन्तारम् इच्छामि पुत्रम् दीर्घ तपो अर्जितम् ॥ १-४६-२

2. bhagavan = oh, god; mahaa balaiH = great mighty ones; tava putraiH = by your, sons; hata putraa asmi = killed, sons, I am - my sons are killed; shakra hantaaram = Indra, exterminator of; diirgha tapoH jitam = by sustained, penance, one who can be achievable; such a; putram = son; icChaami = I wish - to bear.

" 'Oh, god, I am bereaved of my sons who are killed by your great mighty sons, the sons of your second wife Aditi, as such I wish to bear a son, who is achievable by sustained penance, for he shall be the exterminator of Indra. [1-46-2]

Verse Locator

सा अहम् तपः चरिष्यामि गर्भम् मे दातुम् अर्हसि ।
ईश्वरम् शक्र हन्तारम् त्वम् अनुज्ञातुम् अर्हसि ॥ १-४६-३

3. saa aham = such as I am - such a bereaved mother; tapaH chariSyaami = asceticism, I wish to undertake; anuGYaatum [daatum] arhasi = permission, to [to accord,] apt of you; tvam = you; iishvaram = who shall be a ruler of worlds; shakra hantaaram = who shall be - Indra, exterminator of; with such a son; garbham me daatum arhasi = pregnancy, to me, to accord, apt of you.

" 'Such a bereaved mother as I am, I wish to undertake asceticism for a son who shall become an exterminator of Indra, and who shall be the ruler of worlds. As such, it will be apt of you to permit me for asceticism, and further it will be apt of you to accord me pregnancy with such a son.' Thus Diti spoke to her husband Kaashyapa. [1-46-3]

A sage's wife requires permission of her husband if she wishes to undertake an individual asceticism, because she will be receiving her own share of merit from her sage-husband's penances and practises, as he is her life-mate.

Verse Locator

तस्याः तत् वचनम् श्रुत्वा मारीचः काश्यपः तदा ।
प्रत्युवाच महातेजा दितिम् परम दुःखिताम् ॥ १-४६-४

4. tadaa = then; maariicaH = son of Sage Mareechi; mahaa tejaa = great, resplendent sage; kaashyapaH = Kaashyapa; tasyaaH tat vacanam shrutvaa = of her, that, sentence - request, on hearing; parama duHkhitaam ditim = to deeply, mournful, to Diti; prati uvaaca = in reply, said.

On hearing her request the great resplendent sage Kaashyapa, the son of Sage Mareechi, replied Diti, who is deeply mournful. [1-46-4]

Verse Locator

एवम् भवतु भद्रम् ते शुचिः भव तपोधने ।
जनयिष्यसि पुत्रम् त्वम् शक्र हन्तारम् आहवे ॥१-४६-५

5. tapaH dhane = oh, ascetically, wealthy one - Lady Diti; evam bhavatu = so, be it; te bhadram = you, be blest; shuciH bhava = purity [propriety,] you become [abide by]; tvam = you; aahave shakra hantaaram = in war, Indra's, exterminator; such a; putram = son; janayiSyasi = you will be delivering.

" 'So be it... oh, ascetically wealthy lady, you be blest, if you abide by the propriety of the practises of asceticism, then you will be delivering a son who can become an exterminator of Indra in war. [1-46-5]

Verse Locator

पूर्णे वर्षे सहस्रे तु शुचिः यदि भविष्यसि ।
पुत्रम् त्रैलोक्य हन्तारम् मत्तः त्वम् जनयिष्यसि ॥१-४६-६

6. tvam shuciH bhaviSyasi yadi = you, pure [punctilious,] becomes, if; varSa sahasre puurNe tu = years, thousand, on completing, but; mattaH = from me [by my grace]; traai lokya hantaaram [bhartaaram] = three worlds, exterminator [husbander]; putram = son; janayiSyasi = you can deliver.

" 'If you can complete a thousand years of asceticism punctiliously, by my grace you can deliver a son who can be a husbander of three worlds.' Thus Sage Kaashyapa advised his wife Diti. [1-46-6]

In some other versions the word trailokya hantaaram is carried forward from earlier verses of Diti, into the speech of Sage Kaashyapa also. Some have it as trailokya bhartaaram 'a husbander of three worlds...' Diti may have desired for a 'killer.' But Kashyapa, as a father of both gods and demons, cannot term the issuing son as an exterminator of three worlds, because the three worlds are in vogue at Kaashyapa's grace. Some attach this adjective to Indra but not to the forthcoming son of Diti.

Verse Locator

एवम् उक्त्वा महा तेजाः पाणिना स ममार्ज ताम् ।
तम् आलभ्य ततः स्वस्ति इति उक्त्वा तपसे ययौ ॥१-४६-७

7. mahaa tejaaH = great resplendent [sage]; saH = he, Kaashyapa; evam uktvaa = thus, saying; taam paaNinaa maaarja = her, with hand, wiped - patted; tam aalabhya tataH = her, on touching [her,] then; svasti iti uktvaa = be blest, thus, on saying; [saH = he, Kaashyapa]; tapase yayau = for ascetic practises, departed.

"Saying thus that great resplendent sage patted her, and then on his touching her she is consecrated, and then that sage Kaashyapa departed for his ascetic practises, saying 'be blest.' [1-46-7]

Verse Locator

गते तस्मिन् नरश्रेष्ठ दितिः परम हर्षिता ।

कुशप्लवम् सामासाद्य तपः तपे सुदारुणम् ॥१-४६-८

8. narashreSTha = oh, best one among men, Rama; tasmin gate sati = he [Kashyapa];, when gone; ditiH parama harSitaa = Diti, is highly, elated; kushaplavam sam aasaadya = [to a sacred place called] Kushaplava, on reaching; su daaruNam tapaH tepe = highly, rigorous, asceticism, she practised.

"On the exit of Sage Kaashyapa, oh, best one among men Rama, highly elated Diti reached the sacred place called Kushaplava, on which the present City of Vishala is now standing, and practised a highly rigorous asceticism. [1-46-8]

Verse Locator

तपः तस्याम् हि कुर्वत्याम् परिचर्याम् चकार ह ।

सहस्राक्षो नरश्रेष्ठ परया गुण संपदा ॥ १-४६-९

9. nara shreSTha = oh, best among men Rama; tasyaam tapaH kurvatyaam [carantyaam] hi = of her, asceticism, while practising, truly; sahasraakSaH = Thousand-eyed god, - Indra; parayaa guNa sampadaa = with surpassing, veracities, abundance with; paricaryaam cakaara ha = services, rendered, indeed.

"While she is truly practising asceticism, oh, the best among men Rama, that Thousand-eyed god Indra has indeed rendered services with his abundant and surpassing veracities to her, who is none other than his maternal-aunt. [1-46-9]

Verse Locator

अग्निम् कुशान् काष्ठम् अपः फलम् मूलम् तथैव च ।

न्यवेदयत् सहस्राक्षो यच्च अन्यत् अपि कान्क्षितम् ॥१-४६-१०

10. sahasra akSaH = Thousand, eyed god, Indra; agnim kushaan kaaSTham apaH = fire, Kusha grass, firewood, water; phalam tathaiva ca muulam = fruits, like that, also, tubers; kaankSitam anyat = [she] wanted - required, other [items]; yat ca api = whatever, also, even; nyavedayat = he offered - made available.

"The Thousand-eyed god Indra made available fire, firewood, water, the sacred Kusha grass, fruits and like that tubers also, and whatever other items she required in her ascetic practise. [1-46-10]

Verse Locator

गात्र संवाहनैः चैव श्रम अपनयनैः तथा ।

शक्रः सर्वेषु कालेषु दितिम् परिचचार ह ॥ १-४६-११

11. shakraH = Indra; gaatra samvahanaiH ca eva = limbs [body,] massages, also, thus; tathaa = likewise; shrama apa nayanaiH = [bodily] strain, away, sending - by removing; sarveSu kaaleSu = in all, times [all the time]; ditim paricacaara ha = to Diti, served, indeed.

"All the time Indra indeed served Diti by massaging her body, and other means of removing her bodily strain resulting from her arduous practises. [1-46-11]

Verse Locator

पूर्ण वर्ष सहस्रे दश ऊने रघुनन्दन ।

दितिः परम संहृष्टा सहस्राक्षम् अथ अब्रवीत् ॥१-४६-१२

12. raghu nandana = oh, Rama, descendent of Raghu; atha = then; varSa sahasre puurNe = years, thousands, to complete; dash uune = ten, less - less than ten years - 999 years; ditiH parama samhR^iSTaa = Diti, highly, rejoiced; sahasra akSam abraviit = to Thousand-eyed god, Indra, spoke to.

"Oh, Rama, the descendent of Raghu, when ten years are less to complete the thousand years span of her ascetics, Diti is highly rejoiced as her ambition is going to fructify in just ten more years, and then she spoke to the Thousand-eyed god, Indra. [1-46-12]

Verse Locator

तपः चरन्त्या वर्षाणि दश वीर्यवताम् वर ।

अवशिष्टानि भद्रम् ते भ्रातरम् द्रक्ष्यसे ततः ॥१-४६-१३

13. viiryavataam vara = oh, among valiant ones, best one - oh, Indra; tapaH carantya = asceticism, to me who am practising; dasha varSaaNi avashiSTaani = ten, years, are remaining; tataH bhraataram drakSyase = then, brother, you can see; te bhadram = you be, safe.

" 'Oh, best one among the valiant ones, Indra, to me who am practising asceticism ten years are remaining to complete, then you can see your brother, you be safe. [1-46-13]

Verse Locator

यम् अहम् त्वत् कृते पुत्र तम् आधास्ये जय उत्सुकम् ।

त्रैलोक्य विजयम् पुत्र सह भोक्ष्यसि विज्वरः ॥ १-४६-१४

14. putra = oh, son - Indra; yam = whom; tvat kR^ite = for your, reason; jaya utsukam = in victory [to conquer you,] enthusiastic one; tam aham aadhaasye = him, I am, bringing up; putra = oh, son, Indra; vi jvara = without, febrility [of enemies]; trai lokya vijayam = three, worlds, victory on; saha bhokSyasi = with [him,] you can enjoy,

" 'Oh, son Indra, whom I am bringing up for your reason, I will bring him up as a victory-enthusiast, and oh, son, Indra, along with him conquering the three worlds you can enjoy them, without febrility from your enemies.

or

" 'Oh, son Indra, whom I am now bringing up, will be enthusiastic in conquering you, but somehow I will manage him by telling that you are after all his brother, and no harm shall be done to you, and oh, son Indra, if you join him you will get rid of your febrility, caused by his emergence, and then you two can conquer all the three worlds. [1-46-14]

Verse Locator

याचितेन सुरश्रेष्ठ पित्रा तव माहात्मना ।

वरो वर्ष सस्र अन्ते मम दत्तः सुतम् प्रति ॥ १-४६-१५

15. sura shreSTa = oh, best one among gods; yaachitena = on my prayer; maaha aatmanaa tava pitraa = from high-souled one, by your, father- Kaashyapa; varSha sasra ante = years, thousand, at the end of; mama sutam prati = to me, son, towards [for a son]; varaH dattaH = boon, is bestowed.

"Oh, best one among gods, Indra, on my prayer your high-souled father Sage Kaashyapa bestowed this boon on me for a son, which materialises at the end of thousand years, and only ten more years are to slip by. [1-46-15]

Verse Locator

इति उक्त्वा च दितिः तत्र प्राप्ते मध्यन्दिन ईश्वरे ।
निद्रया पङ्कता देवी पादौ कृत्वाथ शीर्षतः ॥१-४६-१६

16. ditiH = Diti; iti uktvaa = thus, saying; dina iishvaraH = day's, lord - Sun; [aakaasha] madhyam praapte = [sky,] in middle, on reaching - at midday; devii = that lady; atha = then; paadau shiirSataH kR^itvaa = two feet, headward, on keeping; tatra = there in that matter of asceticism; nidraya apahR^itaa = by sleep, stolen over.

"When Diti was saying thus, the noontime sun was reigning high that lady is stolen over by sleep keeping her feet headward. [1-46-16]

This 'keeping feet headward' is variously inferred. While sitting she leaned on her knees and her braid touched feet, thus she became impious. She slept with her head neither towards east nor to south. The ancient cots in India used to have head-side and feet-side finishing. Then she placed head at feet-side and feet at head-side. Even if a cot is not there, though slept on ground, the head shall be positioned eastward or southward, but not to north or west. Finally, she slept at noontime, and for a person under a vow noontime sleep is prohibitive. anena vratasthaanaam divaa svaapaH paada sthaane shiraH sthaapanam ca ashucikaram iti suucitam - dk Hence her meticulousness is defeated.

Verse Locator

दृष्ट्वा ताम् अशुचिम् शक्रः पादयोः कृत मूर्धजाम् ।
शिरः स्थाने कृतौ पादौ जहास च मुमोद च ॥ १-४६-१७

17. shakraH = Indra; paadayoH kR^ita = at feet-side, placing; muurdha jaam = from head, emerging ones - head-hair, braid - braid resting on feet; a shucim = not, pious one; taam dR^iSTvaa = her [Diti,] on observing; shiraH sthaane kR^itau paadau = head, at the place of, placed, feet; jahaasa ca mumoda ca = laughed, also, gladdened, also.

"On observing her who has become impious by placing her head at feet-side and braid falling on feet, Indra is gladdened and laughed at her failed asceticism. [1-46-17]

Verse Locator

तस्याः शरीरं विवरम् प्रविवेश पुरंदरः ।
गर्भम् च सप्तधा राम चिच्छेद परम आत्मवान् ॥१-४६-१८

18. raama = oh Rama; purandaraH = enemy-fastnesses, destroyer - Indra; tasyaaH shariira vivaram = of her [Diti's,] body's, [vaginal] aperture; pravivesha ca = entered, also; parama aatmavaan = highly, courageous one; garbham saptadhaa cicCheda = womb [foetus,] into seven ways [seven fragments,] rent asunder.

"Oh, Rama, , being a highly courageous one, Indra the destroyer of enemy fastnesses, entered the body of Diti through her vaginal aperture and rent her foetus asunder into seven fragments. [1-46-18]

Verse Locator

भिद्यमानः ततो गर्भो वज्रेण शत पर्वणा ।
रुरोद सुस्वरम् राम ततो दितिः अबुध्यत ॥ १-४६-१९

19. raama = oh, Rama; tataH = then; shata parvaNaa = which has hundred, cutting edges; vajreNa = with such Thunderbolt; bhidyamaanaH garbhaH = being sliced, womb

[foetus]; su svaram = in loud, voiced - clamorously; ruroda = wailed; tataH ditiH abudhyata = then, Diti, is awakened.

"Oh, Rama, then that fetus wailed clamorously while being sliced with Thunderbolt that has hundred cutting edges, and then Diti woke up. [1-46-19]

Verse Locator

मा रुदो मा रुदः च इति गर्भम् शक्रो अभ्यभाषत ।
बिभेद च महातेजा रुदन्तम् अपि वासवः ॥ १-४६-२०

20. maa rudaH maa rudaH = do not, scream, do not, scream; iti shakraH garbham abhi abhaaSata = thus, Indra, to fetus, said - coaxed; mahaa tejaa vaasavaH = great resplendent, Indra; rudantam api = wailing, even though [foetus is wailing]; bibheda ca = fragmented it, also.

" 'Do not scream, do not scream...' thus Indra was coaxing the fetus, and even though that fetus is screaming piteously the great resplendent Indra has gone on fragmenting it. [1-46-20]

Verse Locator

न हन्तव्यम् न हन्तव्यम् इति एवम् दितिः अब्रवीत् ।
निष्पपात ततः शक्रो मातुर् वचन गौरवात् ॥ १-४६-२१

21. ditiH = Diti; na hantavyam na hantavyam = not, killable, not killable; iti evam abraviit = thus, that way, spoke [raved]; tataH = then; shakraH = Indra; maatuH vacana gauravaat = on [step] mother's, words [entreaty,] owing honour to; niS papaata = out, fallen - fell out of womb.

" 'Unkillable, unkillable is my fetus...' thus Diti raved in that way, and then Indra fell out of the womb honouring his stepmother's entreaty. [1-46-21]

Verse Locator

प्रांजलिः वज्र सहितो दितिम् शक्रो अभ्यभाषत ।
अशुचिः देवि सुप्ता असि पादयोः कृत मूर्धजा ॥ १-४६-२२

22. vajra sahitaH = Thunderbolt, along with - blood-wet weapon still in hand; shakraH = Indra; pra anjaliH = humbly, adjoining palms; ditim abhyabhaaSata = to Diti, spoke; devi = oh, lady; paadayoH kR^ita muurdhajaa = on feet, made [touching,] head-hair [braid]; a shuciH = not, pious - you became; [madhya aahne] suptaa asi = [in midday] slept, you have.

"Indra humbly folding his palms that are still handling his bloody Thunderbolt spoke to Diti, 'oh, lady, you have become impious when your braid touched your feet and when you have gone to sleep in midday, and you vow is thwarted.' [1-46-22]

Verse Locator

तत् अन्तरम् अहम् लब्ध्वा शक्र हन्तारम् आहवे ।
अभिन्दम् सप्तधा देवि तन् मे त्वम् क्षन्तुम् अर्हसि ॥ १-४६-२३(ए)

23. aham = I; tat antaram labdhvaa = that, chance, on gaining; aahave shakra hantaaram = in battle, Indra, [who can become] eliminator; saptadhaa abhindam = in seven ways [seven fragments,] fragmented - the fetus; devi = oh, lady; me tat = my, that - deed; tvam kSantum arhasi = you, to pardon, apt of you.

"Thereby I gained a chance to eliminate him who can eliminate Indra in a battle. Hence I fragmented your fetus into seven fragments, and it will be apt of you to pardon me for that act of mine." " So said Indra to lady Diti. Thus, Sage Vishvamitra continued narration about City of Vishaala. [1-46-23]

इति वाल्मीकि रामायणे आदि काव्ये बाल काण्डे षट् चत्वारिंशः सर्गः

Thus, this is the 46th chapter in Bala Kanda of Valmiki Ramayana, the First Epic poem of India.

Book I : Bala Kanda - The Youthful Majesties

chapter/sarga 47

Verses converted to UTF-8, Sept 09

Introduction

The legend of Seven-Maruts, the Seven-Wind gods, and the legend of the kings of Vishaala are narrated to Rama and Lakshmana, while Vishvamitra is narrating the legend of Vishaala. At the request of Diti, Indra blesses the seven segments of her foetus to become sapta marut gaNa-s, Seven Wind gods, and the place where the legend of Indra-Diti has happened, that province later became the City of Vishaala.

Verse Locator

सप्तधा तु कृते गर्भे दितिः परम दुःखिता ।

सहस्राक्षम् दुराधर्षम् वाक्यम् स अनुनया अब्रवीत् ॥ १-४७-१

1. garbhe saptadhaa tu kR^ite = foetus, into seven ways, but, on rendering; ditiH parama duHkhita = Diti, highly, anguished; duraadharSam sahasraakSam = to indomitable one, Thousand-eyed Indra; sa anumayaa vaakyam abraviit = with, appeasement, words, spoke.

"Diti was highly anguished when her foetus is rendered into sevenfold, and spoke these appeasing words to the indomitable Thousand-eyed Indra." Thus Vishvamitra continued his narration about City Vishala. [1-47-1]

Verse Locator

मम अपराधात् गर्भो अयम् सप्तधा शकली कृतः ।

न अपराधो हि देव ईश तव अत्र बलसूदन ॥ १-४७-२

2. bala suudana = demon Bala, killer of - oh, Indra; deva iisha = oh, gods, ruler of - Indra; mama aparaadhaat = my, by misdeed [alone]; ayam garbhaH = this, foetus; saptadhaa shakalii [viphalii] kR^itaH = in seven, segments [foiled,] made into [sliced]; atra = in that matter; tava aparaadhaH = your, iniquity; na hi = not, indeed.

" 'Oh, Indra, the eliminator of demon Bala, this foetus of mine is sliced into seven segments owing to my own misdeed, oh, ruler of gods, Indra, indeed there is no iniquity of yours in this matter.' Thus Diti started speaking to Indra. [1-47-2]

Verse Locator

प्रियम् त्वत् कृतम् इच्छामि मम गर्भ विपर्यये ।

मरुताम् सप्त सप्तानाम् स्थानपाला भवन्तु ते ॥ १-४७-३

3. garbha viparyaye [mama garbha viSaye viparyaye sambhave san] = pregnancy, reversal, [in my, pregnancy, matter of, reversal, happened, though]; = from you; mama = to me; tvat kR^itam = by you, done; priyam icChaami = a courtesy, I wish to have; [ime = these]; sapta = seven [segments of foetus]; saptaanaam = as seven; marutaam = of Wind-gods; te = in your [ruler-ship]; sthaana paalaa = [Airy, Ethereal] places, as rulers; bhavantu = let them become.

" 'Though a reversal has happened against my thinking in the matter of my pregnancy, let these seven segments become your seven Wind-gods, the rulers of seven ethereal-places, under your ruler-ship. [1-47-3]

According to mythology there are seven ethereal places in cosmos on which the galaxies and planets are dependent. According to Vishnu Puraana: aavaha pravahava caiva samvahaH ca udvaH ca tathaa | vihaa aakhyaH praivaahaH paraavaha iti kramaat || gaganaH sparshanaH vaayu anilaH ca tathaa aparaH | praaNaH praaNeshvaraH jiiva iti ete sapta maarutaaH || They are: aavaha the air called by this name will be pervading in clouds, thunderbolts, rain, meteors; pravaha air in solar orbit; samhava in lunar orbit; udvaha in galaxies; vivaha in planetary spheres; parivaha in the Seven-Sages sphere; varaavaha in north polar regions. These are otherwise called by names gagana, sparshana, vaayu, anila, praaNa, praaNeshvara, jiiva. Each of the Marut god has a batch of seven Marut-s, thus they are forty-nine entities, in total.

Verse Locator

वात स्कंधा इमे सप्त चरन्तु दिवि पुत्रक ।
मारुता इति विख्याता दिव्यरूपा मम आत्मजाः ॥१-४७-४

4. putrakaaH = oh, son, Indra; sapta ime mama aatmajaaH = seven, of these, my, sons; divya ruupaa = with heavenly, forms; vaata skandhaa = to air divisions, presiding deities - let them become presiding deities in cosmos; maarutaa iti vikhyaataa = Maaruta-s, thus, renowned; carantu divi = let them move, in heaven.

" 'Oh, son Indra, let these seven sons of mine become the seven presiding deities of Cosmic Air Divisions and let them move in heaven with heavenly forms. [1-47-4]

Verse Locator

ब्रह्म लोकम् चरतु एक इन्द्र लोकम् तथा अपरः ।
दिव्य वायुः इति ख्यातः तृतीयो अपि महायशाः ॥१-४७-५

5. ekaH = one - of the seven; brahma lokam caratu = Brahma's, abode, move in - permeate; tathaa aparaH = likewise, another one; indra lokam = in Indra's, heaven; mahaa yashaaH tR^itiiyaH api = greatly, celebrated, third one, even; vaayuH iti khyaataH = Wind, thus, reputed as; divya [divi caratu] = Divine, - in Universe, let him circulate.

" 'One from the seven may permeate Brahma's abode, likewise another may permeate the heaven of Indra, and even the third one, let him become a greatly celebrated and reputed as Divine Wind, and he may circulate in entire universe. [1-47-5]

Verse Locator

चत्वारः तु सुरश्रेष्ठ दिशो वै तव शासनात् ।
संचरिष्यन्ति भद्रम् ते कलेन हि मम आत्मजाः ॥१-४७-६
त्वत् कृतेन एव नाम्ना वै मारुता इति विश्रुताः ।

6, 7a. sura shreSTha = oh, god's, chief; catvaaraH mama aatma jaaH = four, of my, soul, born ones - sons; tava shaasanaat vai = by your, command, indeed; tvat kR^itena eva naamnaa vai = by you, given, thus, by name, indeed; maarutaa iti vishrutaaH = Maaruta, thus, be renowned; kaalena dishaH sam cariSyanti hi = in time, in directions, verily, let them permeate, indeed; te bhadram = let safety betide you.

" 'Oh, chief of gods, Indra, let four of my sons permeate four directions according to time and at your command, let safety betide you, and let them be renowned verily by the name given by you as 'Marut,' because you have coaxed the crying fragments of foetus saying, 'maa ruda, maa ruda, 'do not cry, do not cry...' Thus Diti said to Indra. [1-47-6, 7a]

Verse Locator

तस्याः तत् वचनम् श्रुत्वा सहस्राक्षः पुरंदरः ॥१-४७-७

उवाच प्रांजलिः वाक्यम् दितिम् बलसूदनः ।

7b, 8a. sahasra akSaH = Thousand-eyed one; puram daraH = enemy-citadels, destroyer; bala suudanaH = demon Bala, destroyer of - Indra; tasyaaH tat vacanam shrutvaa = of her, that, words, on hearing; pra anjaliH ditim vaakyam uvaaca = with adjoined- palms, to Diti, words, said.

"On hearing her words, the Thousand-eyed destroyer of enemy's citadels and a demon named Bala, namely Indra, spoke this word to Diti, humbly adjoining his palms. [1-47-7b, 8a]

Verse Locator

सर्वम् एतत् यथा उक्तम् ते भविष्यति न संशयः ॥१-४७-८

विचरिष्यन्ति भद्रम् ते देवरूपाः तव आत्मजाः ।

एवम् तौ निश्चयम् कृत्वा माता पुत्रौ तपोवने ॥१-४७-९

जग्मतुः त्रिदिवम् राम कृतार्थौ इति नः श्रुतम् ।

8b, 9, 10a. te = to you [by you]; yathaa uktam = as, said; etat sarvam bhaviSyati = this, all, will happen; samshayaH na = doubt, without; tava aatmajaaH = you, own offspring; deva ruupaaH = gods, in the form of; vicariSyanti = will be moving [pervading]; te bhadram = you be safe; so said Indra to Diti; raama = oh, Rama; tau = those two; maataa putrau = [Diti, the step] mother, [Indra the] son; tapaH vane = in ascetic, forest; evam nishcayam kR^itvaa = in this way, decision, on taking; kR^ita arthaau = fulfilling, their purposes; tridivam jagmatuH = to heaven, they departed; iti naH shrutam = thus, for us [by us, the legend is] heard.

" 'All this will happen as you have said, undoubtedly, and your offspring, the Maaruta-s, would be pervading in the forms of gods, you be safe.' Thus Indra assured Diti. Those two, the stepmother Diti and the stepson Indra, on arriving at a decision in that ascetic forest, departed to heaven fulfilling their purposes. Thus we heard the legend." Thus Vishvamitra continued his narration. [1-47-8b, 9, 10a]

Verse Locator

एष देशः स काकुत्स्थ महेन्द्रात् अद्युषितः पुरा ॥ १-४७-१०

दितिम् यत्र तपः सिद्धाम् एवम् परिचचार सः ।

10b, 11. kaakutstha = oh, Rama, of Kakutstha; eSa = this is; puraa = once; mahendraa adhyuSitaH = by Indra, presided over; saH deshaH = that, province; yatra = where; saH = he - Indra; tapaH siddhaam = in her asceticism, an accomplished one; ditim = to Diti; evam paricacaara = in this way, rendered services.

"Oh, Rama of Kakutstha, this province is that one which was once presided over by Indra, and where he rendered services to that accomplished one in her asceticism, namely lady Diti. [1-47-10b, 11a]

Verse Locator

इक्ष्वाकोस्तु नरव्याघ्र पुत्रः परम धार्मिकः ॥ १-४७-११

अलंबुषायाम् उत्पन्नो विशाल इति विश्रुतः ।

तेन च आसीत् इह स्थाने विशाले इति पुरी कृता ॥ १-४७-१२

11b, 12. naravyaaghra = oh, tigerly-man, Rama; ikSvaakoH tu = to King Ikshvaku, on his part; alambuSaayaam = throguh queen Alambusa; parama dhaarmikaH = most, righteous one [is born]; vishaala iti vishrutaH = Vishaala, as, renowned; putraH utpannaH = a son, is born; tena = by him - owing to him; iha sthaane = at this, place; vishaala iti purii kR^itaa = Vishaala, as known as,] city, constructed; aasiit = is there.

"To king Ikshvaku of Vishaala, oh, tigerly-man Rama, a highly righteous son was born through queen Alambusa, and he was renowned as Vishaala. There is a city in this place constructed by him and known by his own name, Vishaala. [1-47-11b, 12]

These Ikshvaku-s of Vishaala are not the Ikshvaku-s of Ayodhya, i.e., of Solar Dynasty. The Bhaagavata Puraana says separately in its seventh canto about this dynasty of Ikshvaku-s of Vishaala.

Verse Locator

विशालस्य सुतो राम हेमचन्द्रो महाबलः ।

सुचन्द्र इति विख्यातो हेमचन्द्रात् अनंतरः ॥ १-४७-१३

13. raama = oh, Rama; mahaabalaH hemacandraH = great-mighty one, Hemachandra; vishaalasya sutaH = Vishala's, son; hemacandraat anantaraH = from Hemachandra, latter one - son of Hemacandra; sucandra iti vikhyaataH = Suchandra, as, highly renowned one.

"Oh, Rama, Vishaala's son is the great-mighty Hemachandra, and Hemachandra's son is highly renowned as Suchandra.. [1-47-13]

Verse Locator

सुचन्द्र तनयो राम धूम्र अश्व इति विश्रुतः ।

धूम्राश्व तनयः च अपि सृजयः समपद्यत ॥ १-४७-१४

14. raama = oh, Rama; sucandra tanayaH = Suchandra's, son; dhumraashva iti vishrutaH = Dhumra ashva, as, renowned; dhumraashva tanayaH ca api = Dhumraashva, son, also, even; sR^injayaH samapadyata = Srinjaya, derived.

"The son of Suchandra became famous as Dhumraashva, and oh, Rama, Dhumraashva derived his son named Srinjaya. [1-47-14]

Verse Locator

सृजयस्य सुतः श्रीमान् सहदेवः प्रतापवान् ।

कुशाश्वः सहदेवस्य पुत्रः परम धार्मिकः ॥ १-४७-१५

15. shriimaan prataapavaan = fortunate one, valorous one; sahadevaH = Sahadeva; sR^injayasya sutaH = is Srinjaya's, son; parama dhaarmikaH kushaashvaH sahadevasya putraH = most righteous, Kushaashva is, Sahadeva's, son.

"The fortunate and valorous son of Srinjaya is Sahadeva, and the son of Sahadeva is the most righteous Kushaashva. [1-47-15]

Verse Locator

कुशाश्वस्य महातेजाः सोमदत्तः प्रतापवान् ।

सोमदत्तस्य पुत्रः तु काकुत्स्थ इति विश्रुतः ॥ १-४७-१६

16. mahaatejaaH prataapavaan somadattaH = highly resplendent, dauntless, Somadatta is; kushaashvasya [putraH] = Kushaashva's, [son]; somadattasya putraH tu = Somadatta's, son, on his part; kaakutstha iti vishrutaH = Kakutstha, thus, highly reputed one.

"The highly resplendent and dauntless Somadatta is the son of Kushaashva and Somadatta's son is highly reputed as Kakutstha. [1-47-16]

Verse Locator

तस्य पुत्रो महातेजाः संप्रति एष पुरीम् इमाम् ।

आवसत् परम प्रख्यः सुमतिः नाम दुर्जयः ॥ १-४७-१७

17. samprati = presently; eSa imaam puriim = in this, city; tasya = his [Kakutstha's]; putraH mahaa tejaaH = son [of Kakutstha,] great-resplendent one; parama [amara] prakhyaH = highly [godlike,] celebrated one; dur jayaH = un, conquerable one; sumatiH naama = Sumati named one; aavasat = is dwelling.

"Presently that Kakutstha's son named Sumati, who is a great-resplendent one, an unconquerable one, and a highly celebrated one is dwelling in this city. [1-47-17]

These two Ikshvaku and Kakutstha are of Vishaala dynasty. They are not to be confounded with the grandparents of Rama.

Verse Locator

इक्ष्वाकोस्तु प्रसादेन सर्वे वैशालिका नृपाः ।
दीर्घ आयुषो महात्मानो वीर्यवन्तः सुधार्मिकाः ॥ १-४७-१८

18. ikSvaakaH tu prasaadena = by Ikshvaku, but, by the grace of; vaishaalikaaH nR^ipaaH = relating to Vishaala, [successive] kings; sarve = all of them; diirgha aayuSaH = had long, life [had longevity]; mahaatmaanaH = great souled ones; viirya vantaH = intrepid ones; su dhaarmikaaH = highly, generous ones [well-off, in generosity.]

"By the grace of Ikshvaku, the successive kings of Vishaala have longevity, intrepidity, well-off in generosity, and they were great-souled ones. [1-47-18]

Verse Locator

इह अद्य रजनीम् एकाम् सुखम् स्वप्स्यामहे वयम् ।
श्वः प्रभाते नरश्रेष्ठ जनकम् द्रष्टुम् अर्हसि ॥ १-४७-१९

19. nara shreSTha = oh, best among men - Rama; adya ekaam rajaniim = today, one, night; iha = here alone; vayam sukham svapsyaamahe = we, gladly, go to sleep; shvaH prabhaate = tomorrow, morning; janakam draSTum arhasi = Janaka [King of Mithila,] to see, will be apt of you.

"Today we may gladly go to sleep here for a night, and oh, best one among men, and it will be apt of you to see Janaka, the King of Mithila tomorrow morning." Thus Sage Vishvamitra spoke to Rama and Lakshmana. [1-47-19]

Verse Locator

सुमतिः तु महातेजा विश्वामित्रम् उपागतम् ।
श्रुत्वा नर वर श्रेष्ठः प्रत्यागच्छन् महायशाः ॥ १-४७-२०

20. mahaatejaaH mahaa yashaaH = highly resplendent one, widely, reputed one; nara vara shreSThaH = among men, best, best of [best among best men]; sumatiH tu = Sumati [King of Vishaala,] on his part; vishvaamitram upa agatam = Vishvamitra, to nearby, came - arrived at the outskirts of city; shrutvaa = on hearing; prati aagacChat = towards, came - for warm welcome.

The best one among best men, a widely reputed and the highly resplendent king of Vishaala, namely Sumati, having heard that Vishvamitra has arrived at the precincts of the city, came to him for a warm welcome. [1-47-20]

Verse Locator

पूजाम् च परमाम् कृत्वा स उपाध्यायः सबान्धवः ।
प्रांजलिः कुशलम् पृष्ट्वा विश्वामित्रम् अथ अब्रवीत् ॥ १-४७-२१

21. sa upaadhyayaH sa baandhavaH = with, mentors, with family members - Sumati on arriving with; paramaam puujaam kR^itvaa = excellent, veneration, on performing; pra anjaliH = with adjoined palms; kushalam pR^iSTvaa = well being, on enquiring about; atha = then; vishvaamitram abraviit = to Vishvamitra, spoke.

King Sumati arrived along with his mentors and family members, offered an excellent veneration to Vishvamitra, and then spoke to the sage with adjoined palms enquiring about his well being. [1-47-21]

Verse Locator

धन्यो अस्मि अनुगृहीतो अस्मि यस्य मे विषयम् मुने ।
संप्राप्तो दर्शनम् चैव न अस्ति धन्यतरो मम ॥ १-४७-२२

22. yasya me viSayam = to which, mine, province - to which province, that of mine; mune = oh, saint; sam praaptaH darshanam = well, chanced, your audience; such as I am I am; dhanyaH asmi = fortunate, I am; anugR^ihiitaH asmi = much obliged, I am; mama dhanya taraH = me, fortunate one, than, higher in degree; na asti = not, is there.

"To which province you have visited that happens to be mine, thereby I could get an audience of yours without stirring myself from my country, hence none will be more fortunate than me." So said king Sumati to Vishvamitra. [1-47-22]

Verse Locator

इति वाल्मीकि रामायणे आदि काव्ये बाल काण्डे सप्त चत्वारिंशः सर्गः

Thus, this is the 47th chapter in Bala Kanda of Valmiki Ramayana, the First Epic poem of India.

Book I : Bala Kanda - The Youthful Majesties

Chapter [Sarga] 48

Verses converted to UTF-8, Sept 09

Introduction

Vishvamisra narrates the legend of Ahalya to Rama and Lakshmana when they arrive at the precincts of Mithila, bidding farewell to the King of Vishaala. Indra is infatuated with Ahalya desires a union with her, for which she complies. However, Gautama catching them unawares curses both Indra and Ahalya.

Verse Locator

पृष्ट्वा तु कुशलम् तत्र परस्पर समागमे ।
कथाअन्ते सुमतिः वाक्यम् व्याजहार महामुनिम् ॥ १-४८-१

1. tatra = there; paraspara - paraH paraH = one with the other Sumati with Vishvamisra; samaagame = on meeting; sumatiH kushalam pR^iSTvaa = king Sumati, well-being, having asked; katha aante = episode, end of [at end of the exchanging greetings]; mahaamunim vaakyam vyaajahaara = with great-saint, words, started - raised the topic of Rama and Lakshmana.

When those two, Vishvamisra and Sumati, have met one another there at that place, king Sumati raised the topic of Rama and Lakshmana, after exchanging greetings and enquiring about the well-being of the great-saint Vishvamisra. [1-48-1]

Verse Locator

इमौ कुमारौ भद्रम् ते देव तुल्य पराक्रमौ ।
गज सिंह गती वीरौ शार्दूल वृषभ उपमौ ॥ १-४८-२
पद्म पत्र विशालाक्षौ खड्ग तूणी धनुर् धरौ ।
अश्विनौ इव रूपेण समुपस्थित यौवनौ ॥ १-४८-३
यदृच्छया एव गाम् प्राप्तौ देवलोकात् इव अमरौ ।
कथम् पद्भ्याम् इह प्राप्तौ किम् अर्थम् कस्य वा मुने ॥ १-४८-४

2. mune = oh, saint; te bhadram = you, be safe; deva tulya paraakramau = with god Vishnu, matching, in valour; gaja simha gatii = [like audacious] elephant, [like arrogant] lion, with strides; viirau = two valrous ones; shaarduula vR^iSabha upamau = [adventurous] tiger, [adamantine] Holy Bull, in similitude; padma patra vishaala akSau = lotus, petal, broad, eyed ones; khaDga tuuNii dhanuH dharau = sword, quiver, bow, wielding; ruupeNa ashvinau iva = by physique, Ashwin, the Twin-god brothers, like; sam upasthita yauvanau = in the offing, youthfulness is; deva lokaat = from gods', abode; yadR^icChayaa iva = at their pleasure, as if; gaam praaptau = on earth, chanced; a marau = not, dying ones [deathless, immortals]; iva = as if like; imau kumaarau = these, youngsters; iha = here, to this place; padbhyaam = with two feet by footslogging; katham = how; kim artham = what, for; praaptau = how, they chanced; kasya vaa = whose [scions,] are they.

"These two youngsters, oh, sage, let safety betide you, striding like audacious elephants and arrogant lions, bearing a similitude to adventurous tigers and adamantine bulls, and wielding quivers, swords, and bows, are valorous with their valour matching that of Vishnu, and with their eyes broad like lotus-petals and with youthfulness in the offing they look like the exceptionally beautiful twin-gods, Ashwin-brothers, by their physique. How these two have footslogged and chanced here as though immortals have chanced on earth from the abode of gods at their pleasure? What for they have come here, and whose scions are they? [1-48-2, 3, 4]

The word deva can easily be said as a 'god' but, this is said to be Vishnu, as implied at 4-43-56 of Kishkindha 'There the Cosmic-Souled God, namely Vishnu...' etc. Now the enquirer himself is no less than a godly king, hence he identified the boys as non-terrestrial. No fatherly person accepts youngsters to footslog miles and miles, and so far this is an unobserved and an uncared for aspect by other sages and saints, because all of those sages and saints are footsloggers. This may be one of the reasons for Dasharatha in refusing to send Rama with Vishvamitra. However, King Sumati, being a glorious and fatherly king brought up this topic. Vishvamitra is giving a 'rehearsal' for these brothers for their real forest trekking later in the legend. Further, if a divine deed is to be done and a benefit therefrom is to be acquired, one has to footslog. Now Rama is going to perform a divine feat called 'bending the bow of Shiva' and thereby winning the hand of an unusual princess Seetha, in marriage. Hence, he footslogged this much distance for siitaa kalyaaNa artham, loka kalyaaNa artham Seetha's marriage, which is for the 'universal goodness.'

Verse Locator

भूषयन्तौ इमम् देशम् चन्द्र सूर्यौ इव अंबरम् ।
परस्परेण सदृशौ प्रमाण इङ्गित चेष्टितैः ॥ १-४८-५
किम् अर्थम् च नर श्रेष्ठौ संप्राप्तौ दुर्गमे पथि ।
वर आयुध धरौ वीरौ श्रोतुम् इच्छामि तत्त्वतः ॥ १-४८-६

5. nara shreSThau = two best ones among men Rama, Lakshmana; pramaaNa ingita ceSTitaiH = by bodily proportions, [and] by facial-language, [and] by gestures; paraspereNa sadR^ishau = to one another, identical; candra suuryau ambaram iva = Moon, Sun, [decorate the] firmament, as with; imam deshama bhuuSayantau = this, province, they are refurbishing; vara aayudha dharau = best, weapons, wielders of; such a; viirau = valiant ones; dur game pathi = not, passable, on a route - an arduous path; kim artham sampiraaptau = for what, reason, they have chanced here; tattvataH shrotum icChaami = in truth, to listen - know, I wish to.

"These two best ones among men are identical to one another by their bodily proportion, facial-language, and by bodily gestures, and with their presence they refurbish this province like the Moon and Sun brightening the firmament. In truth, I would like to know for what reason these valiant ones who are wielding best weapons have arrived here travelling on an arduous path." Thus, king Sumati asked Vishvamitra. [1-48-5, 6]

The word facial-language translated for ingita may be an extended expression for the body language.' This word is for the voice muted facial expressions, given through smiles, eyebrows, lip movement etc. A person could be analysed by these very expressions as we presently call this as face reading. This is what Sugreeva says when sending Hanuma to Rama and Lakshmana for the first time, 'because you are an expert in reading faces, know them by their facial expressions...'

Verse Locator

तस्य तद् वचनम् श्रुत्वा यथा वृत्तम् न्यवेदयत् ।
सिद्ध आश्रम निवासम् च राक्षसानाम् वधम् तथा । १-४८-७

7a, b. tasya tat vacanam shrutvaa = his [Sumati's,] that, word, on hearing; siddha aashrama nivaasam ca = in Accomplishment, hermitage, visit [of Rama and Lakshmana,] also; tathaa = like that; raakSasaanaam vadham = demons, elimination; yathaa vR^ittam = as, it happened; nyavedayat = submitted - Vishvamitra informed Sumati.

On hearing those words of King Sumati, Vishvamitra informed him about the visit of Rama and Lakshmana to the Hermitage of Accomplishment, also about the elimination of demons, as it has happened. [1-48-7a, 7b]

Verse Locator

विश्वामित्र वचः श्रुत्वा राजा परम विस्मितः ॥ १-४८-७

अतिथी परमौ प्राप्तम् पुत्रौ दशरथस्य तौ ।

पूजयामास विधिवत् सत्कार अर्हो महाबलौ ॥ १-४८-८

7c, 8. raajaa = king Sumati; vishvaamitra vacaH shrutvaa = Vishvamitra's, words, on hearing; parama vismitaH = highly, astonished; paramau atithii praaptam = most prominent ones, guests, chanced - at his place; satkaara arhau = for honour, worthy ones; mahaabalau = great-mighty - princes; tau dasharathasya putrau = to those two, of Dasharatha, sons; vidhivat puujayaamaasa = customarily, started to honour.

King Sumati is highly astonished to hear the words of Vishvamitra about the visit of Rama and Lakshmana, and treating them to have come as the most prominent and honour-worthy guests that king started to honour those two great-mighty sons of Dasharatha customarily. [1-48-7c, 8]

Verse Locator

ततः परम सत्कारम् सुमतेः प्राप्य राघवौ ।

उष्य तत्र निशाम् एकाम् जग्मतुः मिथिलाम् ततः ॥ १-४८-९

9. raaghavau = Raghava-s; tataH = then; sumateH parama satkaaram praapya = from Sumati, high, honour, on getting; tatra ekaam nishaam uSya = there, one, night, on staying; tataH mithilaam jagmatuH = then, to Mithila, they moved on.

On getting high honours from King Sumati, Raghava-s stayed there along with Vishvamitra and with the community of sages for one night, and then they all have moved on to Mithila. [1-48-9]

Verse Locator

ताम् दृष्ट्वा मुनयः सर्वे जनकस्य पुरीम् शुभाम् ।

साधु साधु इति शंसन्तो मिथिलाम् समपूजयन् ॥ १-४८-१०

10. sarve munayaH = all, saints; janakasya = Janaka's; taam shubhaam puriim dR^iSTvaa = that, auspicious, city [Mithila,] on seeing; saadhu saadhu iti shamsantaH = splendid, splendid, thus, extolled; mithilaam sam apuujayan = at Mithila, well-worshipped.

On seeing Janaka's auspicious city Mithila, all of the saints who are accompanying Vishvamitra, Rama, and Lakshmana, extolled it saying, "Splendid! Splendid!" and admired it highly. [1-48-10]

Ayodhya is not fortunate enough to receive any worship from the onlookers, but it will be admired for its fortification. However, Mithila is a venerable city, because by itself it is a temple town and the Vedic-rituals etc., will be going on forever. It is a blessed place as it has Shiva's Bow, for which bow ritual worship is be ongoing from time immemorial.

Verse Locator

मिथिल उपवने तत्र आश्रमम् दृश्य राघवः ।

पुराणम् निर्जनम् रंयम् पप्रच्छ मुनि पुंगवम् ॥ १-४८-११

11. raaghavaH = Raghava; tatra = there; mithila upa vane = Mithila, near at, in woodlands - in fringe woods of Mithila; puraaNam = age-old; nir janam = without, people - uninhibited; ramyam = pleasing; aashramam dR^ishya = hermitage, on seeing; muni pungavam papracCha = sage, the eminent, asked.

On seeing a hermitage in the fringes of Mithila, that appeared to be age-old, but now uninhabited, yet pleasing, Rama asked the eminent sage Vishvamitra. [1-48-11]

Verse Locator

इदम् आश्रम संकाशम् किम् नु इदम् मुनि वर्जितम् ।
श्रोतुम् इच्छामि भगवन् कस्य अयम् पूर्व आश्रमः ॥ १-४८-१२

12. bhagavan = oh, venerable one; aashrama sankaaasham = hermitage, semblable with; muni varjitam = by sages, discarded; idam kim nu = this is, what, really; puurvaH ayam aashramaH kasya = previously, this, hermitage, whose is it; shrotum icChaami = to listen, I wish.

"This is semblable to a hermitage but sages seem to have discarded it. Oh, venerable sage, whose is this hermitage previously, I wish to listen of it." Thus, Rama asked Vishvamitra. [1-48-12]

Verse Locator

तत् श्रुता राघवेण उक्तम् वाक्यम् वाक्य विशारदः ।
प्रति उवाच महातेजा विश्वमित्रो महामुनिः ॥ १-४८-१३

12. vaakya vishaaradaH = in sententiousness, expert; mahaatejaa = great resplendent [sage]; vishvamitraH = Vishvamitra; raaghavaNa uktam = by Raghava, spoken; tat vaakyam = that, sentence; shrutvaa = on hearing; mahaamuniH prati uvaaca = eminent-saint Vishvamitra, in reply, said.

On hearing that sentence spoken by Raghava, the expert in sententiousness, a great resplendent sage and eminent-saint Vishvamitra replied him in this way. [1-48-13]

Verse Locator

हन्त ते कथयिष्यामि शृणु तत्त्वेन राघव ।
यस्य एतत् आश्रम पदम् शप्तम् कोपान् महात्मना ॥ १-४८-१४

14. raaghava = oh, Raghava; mahaa aatmanaa = by [which] great-souled one [Gautama]; kopaan = resentfully; shaptam = cursed; etat aashrama padam = this, hermitage, threshold; yasya = whose is it; tattvena te kathayisyaami = factually, to you, I will narrate; shR^iNu = listen; hanta = what a pleasure - to tell about it to you.

"What a pleasure! You may listen as I narrate, Raghava, whose hermitage is this factually, and which great soul has resentfully cursed this. [1-48-14]

The pleasure expressed by Vishvamitra is for the arrival of time, for the event of Rama's grace, in releasing Ahalya from her cursed state.

Verse Locator

गौतमस्य नरश्रेष्ठ पूर्वम् आसीत् महात्मनः ।
आश्रमो दिव्य संकाशः सुरैः अपि सुपूजितः ॥ १-४८-१५

15. narashreSTha = oh, best among men, Rama; divya sankaaashaH = heavenly, glistening; suraiH api su puujitaH = by gods, even, highly hallowed; aashramaH = [this] hermitage; puurvam = once; maha aatmanaH gautamasya aasiit = of great-souled one, Gautama's, was there - belonged to.

"Oh, the best one among men Rama, this hermitage with a heavenly glisten, and highly hallowed even by gods, once belonged to the great-souled sage Gautama. [1-48-15]

स च अत्र तप आतिष्ठत् अहल्या सहितः पुरा ।

वर्ष पूगानि अनेकानि राजपुत्र महायशः ॥ १-४८-१६

16. mahaayashaH = oh, highly renowned; raaja putra = oh, king's, son, [prince Rama]; puraa = once; saH = he - Gautama; ahalyaa sahitaH = Ahalya [his wife,] along with an ekaani = not, one - numerous; varSa puugaani = year, cycles of; atra tapa aatiSThat = there - in this hermitage, in asceticism, sat tight.

"In this hermitage, oh, prince Rama, once that highly renowned Sage Gautama sat tight in asceticism for numerous cycle of years along with his wife Ahalya. [1-48-16]

Verse Locator

तस्य अन्तरम् विदित्वा तु सहस्राक्षः शची पतिः ।

मुनि वेष धरो भूत्वा अहल्याम् इदम् अब्रवीत् ॥ १-४८-१७

17. shacii patiH sahasraakSaH = Sachi Devi's, husband, Thousand-eyed, Indra; tasya = his [Gautama's]; antaram = meantime, gap period [from his stay with his wife in ascetics]; viditvaa = on knowing; muni veSa dharaH = sage's [Gautama's,] guise, wearing; bhuutvaa = on becoming [like Gautama]; ahalyaam idam abraviit = to Ahalya, this, said.

"On knowing the meantime of Gautama's availability at hermitage, Indra, the husband of Shaci Devi and the Thousand-eyed god wearing the guise of sage Gautama and becoming such a sage, approached Ahalya and said this to her. [1-48-17]

Verse Locator

ऋतु कालम् प्रतीक्षन्ते न अर्थिनः सुसमाहिते ।

संगमम् तु अहम् इच्छामि त्वया सह सुमध्यमे ॥ १-४८-१८

18. su samaahite = oh, finely limbed one; arthinaH = indulgers; R^itu kaalam na pratiikSante = seasonal [conceiving,] time, not, watch out for; su madhyame = oh, well-waisted one; aham tu = I, for my part; tvayaa saha = you, along with; sangamam icChaami = copulation, I, desire.

" 'Oh, finely limbed lady, indulgers do not watch out for the time to conceive, as such oh, slender-waisted one, I desire copulation with you. [1-48-18]

Vividly: 'Oh, Ahalya, Brahma crafted you so well that all your limbs are symmetrically conjoined, so who in the universe will not yearn to have intercourse with you... and on seeing your slender waist and thickset hips I wish to copulate with you now itself... and let there be no fear of safe period or unsafe period for I do not wish to have any progeny of mine from you...

Verse Locator

मुनि वेषम् सहस्राक्षम् विज्ञाय रघुनन्दन ।

मतिम् चकार दुर्मेधा देव राज कुतूहलात् ॥ १-४८-१९

19. raghunandana = oh, Rahu's, legatee; dur medhaa = ill, advisedly; muni veSam sahasraakSam viGYaaya = in sage's, guise, of Thousand-eyed one, [though] knowing; deva raaja kutuuhalaat = for god's, king's, impassion; matim cakaara = mind, made - inclined to have intercourse.

"Oh, Rama, the legatee of Raghu, though knowing him as the Thousand-eyed Indra in the guise of her husband Gautama, she is inclined to have intercourse ill-advisedly, only to satisfy the impassion of the King of Gods. [1-48-19]

Her thinking is: 'This is none but Indra in the guise of my husband, for my husband never asks me like this nor he violates times... I heard that Indra is seeking me for a long time... and when King of Gods expresses such a desire, it cannot be refused... let him have it

Verse Locator

अथ अब्रवीत् सुरश्रेष्ठम् कृतार्थेन अंतरात्मना ।
कृतार्था अस्मि सुरश्रेष्ठ गच्छ शीघ्रम् इतः प्रभो ॥ १-४८-२०
आत्मानम् माम् च देवेश सर्वदा रक्ष गौतमात् ।

20, 21a. atha = then; kR^itaarthena antara atmanaa = fulfilled, means, in heart, of hearts; surashreSTham = of gods, to the best one - Indra; abraviit = said; surashreSTha = oh, best of gods; kR^ita arthaa asmi = fulfilled, purpose - gratified, I am; prabho = oh, lord; itaH shiighram gacCha = from here, quickly, get going; deva iisha = oh, god's, ruler; aatmaanam = yourself; maam ca = me, also; sarvadaa gautamaat rakSa = always, from Gautama, safeguard.

"She felt fulfilled in her heart of hearts and then she said this to that best god Indra, 'I am gratified in complying with your wish, oh, best of gods, get going oh, lord, from here quickly, oh, ruler of gods, always safeguard yourself and me from Sage Gautama.' Thus, Ahalya said to Indra. [1-48-20, 21a]

Verse Locator

इन्द्रः तु प्रहसन् वाक्यम् अहल्याम् इदम् अब्रवीत् ॥ १-४८-२१
सुश्रोणि परितुष्टो अस्मि गमिष्यामि यथा आगतम् ।

21b, 22a. indraH tu = Indra, on his part; prahasan = smilingly; ahalyaam idam vaakyam abraviit = to Ahalya, this, sentence, said; su shroNi = oh, well-hipped lady; pari tuSTaH asmi = quite, delighted, I am; yathaa aagatam gamiSyaaami = as I have come, I will go away.

"Indra on his part smilingly said this word to Ahalya, 'oh, well-hipped lady, I am quite delighted, here I go as I have come.' [1-48-21b, 22a]

Verse Locator

एवम् संगंय तु तया निश्चक्राम उटजात् ततः ॥ १-४८-२२
स संभ्रमात् त्वरन् राम शन्कितो गौतमम् प्रति ।

22b, 23a. raama = oh, Rama; evam tayaa sangamya = thus, with her, having copulated; saH = he - Indra; sambhramaat tvaran = by fluster, hastily; gautamam prati shankitaH = at Gautama, towards [his arrival,] uncertain of; tataH = then; uTajaat = from cottage; niS cakraama = out, he came.

"Oh, Rama, Indra then came out of the cottage flustering hurriedly after copulating with her with an uncertainty about the arrival of Sage Gautama. [1-48-22b, 23a]

Verse Locator

गौतमम् स ददर्श अथ प्रविशन्तम् महामुनिम् ॥ १-४८-२३
देव दानव दुर्धर्षम् तपो बल समन्वितम् ।
तीर्थ उदक परिक्लिन्नम् दीप्यमानम् इव अनलम् ॥ १-४८-२४
गृहीत समिधम् तत्र स कुशम् मुनि पुंगवम् ।

33. mahaatejaa = great-resplendent one; mahaatapaaH = great-ascetic; gautamaH = Gautama; duSTa caariNiim = to bad, behaved one - to immodest Ahalya; evam uktvaa = thus, on saying [cursing]; imam aashramam utsR^ijya = this one, hermitage, shedding; siddha caaraNa sevite = by siddha-s, caarana-s, adored by; ramye himavat shikhare = pleasant ones, on Himalayas, peaks; tapaH tepe = asceticism, practised.

"On cursing immodest Ahalya thus, that great-resplendent Sage Gautama shed this hermitage which was once adored by celestials like siddha-sand caarana-s, and that great-ascetic Gautama practised his asceticism on the pleasant peaks of Himalayas." Thus, Vishvamitra continued his narration about the legend of Ahalya. [1-48-33]

Verse Locator

दृष्ट्वा सुर पतिः त्रस्तो विषण्ण वदनो अभवत् ॥ १-४८-२५

अथ दृष्ट्वा सहस्राक्षम् मुनि वेष धरम् मुनिः ।

दुर्वृत्तम् वृत्त संपन्नो रोषात् वचनम् अब्रवीत् ॥ १-४८-२६

25b, 26. sura patiH = gods, lord of - Indra; dR^iSTvaa = having seen - the sage; trastaH = he is scared; viSaNNa [vivarNa] vadanaH abhavat = dreary [colourless], faced, he became; atha = then; vR^itta sampannaH = in behaviour, rich one [well-behaved Gautama]; muniH = saint [Gautama]; muni veSa dharma = saint's, guise, who is wearing - Indra; dur vR^ittam = ill, behaved one; sahasraakSam = at Thousand-eyed Indra; dR^iSTvaa = on seeing; roSaat vacanam abraviit = by furiousness, words, spoke.

"On seeing the sage the lord of gods Indra is scared and became dreary-faced. Then the well-behaved Gautama furiously spoke these words on seeing the ill-behaved Thousand-eyed Indra who is donning the guise of a saint. [1-48-25b, 26]

Verse Locator

मम रूपम् समास्थाय कृतवान् असि दुर्मते ।

अकर्तव्यम् इदम् यस्मात् विफलः त्वम् भविष्यति ॥ १-४८-२७

27. dur mate = oh, dirty, minded one; mama ruupam samaasthaaya = my, form, taking hold of; idam = this; a kartavyam = not, performable - unacceptable deed; kR^itavaan asi = effectuated, you have; yasmaat = whereby; tvam = you; vi phalaH = devoid of, fruits - infecund; bhaviSyati = you will become.

"'Oh, dirty-minded Indra, taking hold of my form you have effectuated this unacceptable deed, whereby you shall become infecund.' Thus, Gautama cursed Indra. [1-48-27]

Verse Locator

गौतमेन एवम् उक्तस्य स रोषेण महात्मना ।

पेततुः वृषणौ भूमौ सहस्राक्षस्य तत् क्षणात् ॥ १-४८-२८

28. sa roSeNa mahaatmanaa = with, rancour, by great-souled sage; gautamena = by Gautama; evam uktasya = that way, of the one who is spoken to [cursed, Indra's]; sahasraakSasya = of Thousand-eyed Indra; vR^iSaNau = testicles; tat kSaNaatthat = that, very moment; bhuumau petatuH = onto ground, fell down.

"When that great-souled sage Gautama spoke that way with rancour, the testicles of the cursed Thousand-eyed Indra fell down onto ground at that very moment. [1-48-28]

Verse Locator

तथा शप्त्वा च वै शक्रम् भार्याम् अपि च शप्तवान् ।

इह वर्ष सहस्राणि बहूनि निवषिष्यसि ॥ १-४८-२९

वायु भक्षा निराहारा तप्यन्ती भस्म शायिनी ।

अदृश्या सर्व भूतानाम् आश्रमे अस्मिन् वषिष्यसि ॥ १-४८-३०

29. shakram tathaa shaptvaa = Indra, thus, on cursing; bhaaryaam api ca shaptavaan = wife, even, also, he cursed; iha = here; bahuuni varSa sahasraaNi = many, years, thousands of; nivaSisyasi = you will live - tarry on; vaayu bhakSaa nir aahaaraa = air, consuming, without, food; bhasma shaayinii = on ashes - dust, recumbent; tapyantii = searing [contritely]; sarva bhuutaanaam = for all, by beings; a dR^ishyaa = un, seen; asmin aashrame vaSisyasi = in this, hermitage, you live on.

"On cursing Indra thus the sage cursed even his wife saying, 'you shall tarry here for many thousands of years to come without food and consuming air alone, and unseen by all beings you shall live on in this hermitage while contritely recumbent in dust. [1-48-29, 30]

Verse Locator

यदा तु एतत् वनम् घोरम् रामो दशरथ आत्मजः ।
आगमिष्यति दुर्धर्षः तदा पूता भविष्यसि ॥ १-४८-३१

31. dasharatha aatmajaH = Dasharatha's, soul-born son; durdharSaH = unassailable one; raamaH = Rama; yadaa = when; ghoram etat vanam = squalid, this, to forest; aagamiSyati = arrives; tadaa puutaa bhaviSyasi = then, purified, you will be.

" 'When that unassailable son of Dasharatha, namely Rama, arrives at this squalid forest, for it will be henceforth rendered so along with you, then you will be purified. [1-48-31]

Verse Locator

तस्य आतिथ्येन दुर्वृत्ते लोभ मोह विवर्जिता ।
मत् सकाशे मुदा युक्ता स्वम् वपुः धारयिष्यसि ॥ १-४८-३२

32. dur vR^itte = oh, ill-behaved woman; tasya = to him - to Rama; aatithyena = by giving warm welcome; lobha moha vivarjitaa = greed, craze, divested of; mudaa yuktaa = rejoice, with; mat sakaashe = in my, proximity; svam vapuH dhaarayiSyasi = your own, body, you wear [assume.]

" 'On your welcoming Rama, oh, ill-behaved woman, you will be divested of your greed and craze in which you lingered so far, and then you will assume your own body and then you can be in my proximity, rejoicingly.' Thus, Sage Gautama cursed his wife Ahalya. [1-48-32]

Verse Locator

एवम् उक्त्वा महातेजा गौतमो दुष्ट चारिणीम् ।
इमम् आश्रमम् उत्सृज्य सिद्ध चारण सेविते ।
हिमवत् शिखरे रंये तपः तेपे महातपाः ॥ १-४८-३३

33. mahaatejaa = great-resplendent one; mahaatapaaH = great-ascetic; gautamaH = Gautama; duSTa caariNiim = to bad, behaved one - to immodest Ahalya; evam uktvaa = thus, on saying [cursing]; imam aashramam utsR^ijya = this one, hermitage, shedding; siddha caaraNa sevite = by siddha-s, caarana-s, adored by; ramye himavat shikhare = pleasant ones, on Himalayas, peaks; tapaH tepe = asceticism, practised.

"On cursing immodest Ahalya thus, that great-resplendent Sage Gautama shed this hermitage which was once adored by celestials like siddha-s and caarana-s, and that great-ascetic Gautama practised his asceticism on the pleasant peaks of Himalayas." Thus, Vishvamitra continued his narration about the legend of Ahalya. [1-48-33]

Verse Locator

इति वाल्मीकि रामायणे आदि काव्ये बाल काण्डे अष्ट चत्वारिंशः सर्गः

Thus, this is the 48th chapter in Bala Kanda of Valmiki Ramayana, the First Epic poem of India.

Book I : Bala Kanda - The Youthful Majesties

Chapter / sarga 49 verses converted to UTF-8, Sept 09

Introduction

Ahalya is redeemed from her curse when Rama enters their hermitage. Vishvamitra while continuing the narration of the legend of Ahalya asks Rama to enter her hermitage where Ahalya is living unseen by anybody. When once Rama steps into that hermitage she manifests herself from her accursed invisible state. She emerges with her divine form and accords guestship to Rama and Lakshmana. Sage Gautama also arrives at this juncture to accept his depurated wife Ahalya.

Verse Locator

अफलः तु ततः शक्रो देवान् अग्नि पुरोगमान् ।
अब्रवीत् त्रस्त नयनः सिद्ध गन्धव चारणान् ॥ १-४९-१

1. tataH = then; a phalaH = without, fruits - one who is without testicles, emasculated; shakraH = Indra; trasta nayanaH = with panicked, eyes; devaan = to gods; siddha gandhava caaraNaan = to siddha-s, gandharva-s, carana-s; agni purogamaan = Fire-god, in forefront - as helms-god; abraviit = spoke.

"The emasculated Indra then with panicked eyes spoke to gods, siddha-s, gandharva-s, and carana-s, keeping Fire-god as their helms-god. [1-49-1]

Verse Locator

कुर्वता तपसो विघ्नम् गौतमस्य महात्मनः ।
क्रोधम् उत्पाद्य हि मया सुर कार्यम् इदम् कृतम् ॥ १-४९-२

2. mahaa aatmanaH gautamasya = noble-souled sage, for Gautama; krodham utpaadya = fury, on inciting; tapasaH vighnam kurvataa = to asceticism, hindrance, effectuated; mayaa = by me; idam sura kaaryam kR^itam = this, god's, deed, done - I have accomplished a task of gods; hi = indeed.

" I have Indeed incited fury in that noble-souled Sage Gautama by effectuating hindrance in his asceticism, but I have accomplished a task of gods. [1-49-2]

Indra is a position assigned to some high-souled being on acquiring considerable merit. He functions as a CEO of the universe, maintaining seasons, rains, thunders, thunderbolts, crops, earthquakes, and every aspect of nature, whether they are good or bad for us. If any Vedic-ritual were performed, this Indra would be too happy, as he and his deputies like Rain-god, Fire-god, Air-god, et al., will receive many oblations from that ritual. But if it is tapas 'the practise of asceticism, penance, or ascesis' by single sage, Indra will be highly perturbed. Usually sages will be practising this ascesis for attainment of higher abodes of Brahma, Vishnu, or Shiva. Some practise this to overthrow present Indra and try ascending to his position, or to attain immortality and thereby rout out Indra, as with the case of Ravana. When that practise is about to materialise, Indra sends his agents, like voluptuous celestial beauties, namely the apsara-s, to infatuate those sages with their beauty. Once the sage's concentration fails, his practise becomes futile. Thus, Indra retains his present position. Here, though Sage Gautama did not practise his ascesis for Indra's post, Indra had to hinder it in his own apprehension, and when the fury of Gautama is incited, Gautama's practise also failed and he had to redo his ascesis until he overcomes his passions. Thus, this 'causing hindrance' is a divine-act as proclaimed by Indra to other gods. In doing such 'divine-acts' Indra will also be maligned, for which the higher gods like Brahma, Vishnu, Shiva, or other higher beings will come to his rescue.

Verse Locator

अफलो अस्मि कृतः तेन क्रोधात् सा च निराकृता ।
शाप मोक्षेण महता तपो अस्य अपहृतम् मया ॥ १-४९-३

3. tena krodhaat = by him [Gautama,] by anger; a phalaH kR^itaH asmi = fruitless [testicle-less,] rendered, I am; saa ca niraakR^itaa = she [Ahalya,] also, is rejected; mahataa shaapa mokSeNa = severe, curse, by releasing; asya tapaH mayaa apahR^itam = his, asceticism, by me, pre-empted.

"By Gautama's anger I am rendered testicle-less and his wife Ahalya is also rejected by the sage, and thus by his releasing a severe curse his propriety for asceticism is dwindled, therefore his asceticism is pre-empted by me. [1-49-3]

Verse Locator

तत् माम् सुरवराः सर्वे स ऋषि संघाः स चारणाः ।
सुर कार्यं कर्म यूयम् सफलम् कर्तुम् अर्हथ ॥ १-४९-४

4. tat [tasmaat] = therefore; sa R^iSi sanghaaH sa caaraNaH = together with, sages, assemblages, with, caarana-s; sarve sura varaaH = oh, all of the, gods, best ones; sura kaarya karam = divine, deed, undertaken - I acted for the benefit of gods; maam = me; yuuyam sa phalam kartum arhatha = you all, with, testicles, to make [me virile,] apt of you.

"Therefore, oh, all gods with the assemblages of sages and caarana-s, it will be apt of you to make me virile again, as I have acted for the benefit of gods.' Thus Indra spoke to all gods. [1-49-4]

Verse Locator

शतक्रतोः वचः श्रुत्वा देवाः स अग्नि पुरोगमाः ।
पितृ देवान् उपेत्य आहुः सह सर्वैः मरुत् गणैः ॥ १-४९-५

5. sa agni purogamaaH devaaH = with, fire-god, going ahead [keeping in van,] gods; shatakratoH vacaH shrutvaa = Hundred-Vedic-rituals officiator - Indra's, words, on hearing; sarvaiH marut gaNaiH saha = by all [gods,] Marut, groups, along with; pitR^i devaan upetya = at mane, gods, nearby coming; aahuH = spoke - appealed.

"On hearing the words of the officiator for Hundred-Vedic-rituals, namely Indra, all of the gods and other assemblages of celestials, together with the groups of Marut-gods came to the godly manes keeping the Fire-god in van, and appealed. [1-49-5]

Verse Locator

अयम् मेषः सवृषणः शक्रो हि अवृषणः कृतः ।
मेघस्य वृषणौ गृह्य शक्राय आशु प्रयच्छत ॥ १-४९-६

6. ayam meSaH sa vR^iSaNaH = this, ram, is with, testicles; shakraH a vR^iSaNaH kR^itaH hi = Indra, without, testicles, rendered, indeed; meSasya vR^iSaNau gR^ihya = ram's, testicles, on taking; shakraaya aashu prayacChata = for Indra, quickly, be given.

"This ram is with testicles and Indra is indeed rendered testicle-less. Taking the testicles of this ram they may be given to Indra quickly.' Thus Fire-god started his appeal to manes. [1-49-6]

Verse Locator

अफलः तु कृतो मेषः पराम् तुष्टिम् प्रदास्यति ।

भवताम् हर्षणार्थाय ये च दास्यन्ति मानवाः ।

अक्षयम् हि फलम् तेषाम् यूयम् दास्यथ पुष्कलम् ॥ १-४९-७

7. a phalaH tu kR^itaH meSaH = devoid of, testes, but [though going to be,] rendered, ram [this one before you]; bhavataam paraam tuSTim pra daasyati = for you, complete, contentment, certainly endows; ye maanavaaH [aphalaH meSaaH] daasyanti = which of those, humans, [testes-less rams, hereafter in sacrifices,] are going to offer [to you manes]; to such of those humans; harSaNa arthaaya = gratification, purpose of; a kshayam phalam hi = not, lessened, fruits [benefits.] truly; teSaam yuuyam daasyatha puSkalam = for them [to humans,] you [manes,] offer; plentiful.

" 'This ram that is being offered to you shall now be gelded to give its testes to Indra, and though this ram is deprived of its organ it will be complete and it endows complete satisfaction to you. To those humans who hereafter offer testes-less rams in sacrifices for the purpose of your gratification, you shall truly offer them plentiful and unmitigated benefits.' Thus Agni, the Fire-god spoke to manes. [1-49-7]

The 'manes' are the deified souls of dead ancestors. It is customary to offer un-castrated or unmutilated animals in sacrifices to please gods or departed souls. Presently some humans have offered such an un-castrated ram to manes and the manes are about to enjoy it. But the gods have come and Agni, the Fire-god, is asking them to part with such an offering, for the sake of Indra. And when the manes were hesitating to go against the existing rules of ritual, then Agni, the Fire-god, is amending those rules and he is saying a boon-like proclamation. 'From now, the manes can enjoy even a castrated ram, if offered by humans on earth, and in turn the manes shall afford plentiful benefits of undiminished value to those offerers, namely humans...'

Verse Locator

अग्नेः तु वचनम् श्रुत्वा पितृ देवाः समागताः ।

उत्पात्य मेष वृषणौ सहस्राक्षे न्यवेशयन् ॥ १-४९-८

8. sam aagataaH = who gathered [to collect their share of offering]; pitR^i devaaH = manes, godly ones; agneH vacanam shrutvaa = Agni - the Fire-god's, words, on hearing; meSa vR^iSaNau = ram's, both testes; ut paaTya = out, pulled [pulled out, extricated]; sahasraakSe nyaveshayan = to Thousand-eyed Indra, offered.

"On hearing the words of Agni, the Fire-god, the manes-gods who gathered to collect their share of offering have extricated that ram's testes, which is not yet sacrificed but tethered to a sacrificial post, and offered them to the Thousand-eyed Indra. [1-49-8]

Verse Locator

तदा प्रभृति काकुत्स्थ पितृ देवाः समागताः ।

अफलान् भुञ्जते मेषान् फलैः तेषाम् अयोजयन् ॥ १-४९-९

9. kaakutstha = oh, Rama of Kakutstha; sam aagataaH = who have come to collect their share of offering; pitR^i devaaH = manes, godly ones; tadaa prabhR^iti = then, onwards; a phalaan meSaan bhunjate = without, testes, goats, they are enjoying; teSaam = their [of offerings / of rams or goats]; phalaiH = with testes / benefits; ayojayan = to join [to join testes to Indra / join benefits to the offerer.

"Oh, Rama of Kakutstha, from then onwards the manes-gods who come to collect their share are enjoying even the goats, even if they do not have testes, to endow benefits thereof to those that offer those goats, and to join the testes of goats to Indra. [1-49-9]

If rams with testes are offered the manes discard the testes of those rams and enjoy the rest of it. Even if a goat is offered they enjoy it, considering it as homogenous to a ram. In either way, the offerer is blessed with benefits and Indra with testes.

Verse Locator

इन्द्रः तु मेष वृषणः तदा प्रभृति राघव ।

गौतमस्य प्रभावेन तपसा च महात्मनः ॥ १-४९-१०

10. raaghava = oh, Raghava; maha aatmanaH = great-souled one; gautamasya prabhaavena = Gautama's, by efficacy of; tapasaa ca = asceticism, also; indraH tu = Indra, on his part; tadaa prabhR^iti = then, onwards; meSa vR^iSaNaH = goat, with testes - Indra has become one having goat's testes.

"Oh, Raghava, owing to the efficacy of the great-souled Gautama and his asceticism, from then onwards Indra has become one with the testes of a goat. [1-49-10]

Verse Locator

तत् आगच्छ महातेज आश्रमम् पुण्य कर्मणः ।

तारय एनाम् महाभागाम् अहल्याम् देव रूपिणीम् ॥ १-४९-११

11. mahaateja = oh, great-resplendent Rama; tat = therefore; puNya karmaNaH aashramam aagacCha = with pietistic, deeds [done by Gautama,] to hermitage, you come - enter into; mahaa bhaagaam = highly, fortunate one; deva ruupiNiim = divinity, who is in compose of; enaam = her [lady]; ahalyaam taaraya = let Ahalya, be atoned.

"Therefore, oh, great-resplendent Rama, enter the hermitage of Gautama whose deeds are pietistic, and atone Ahalya who is highly fortunate and who is in the compose of a divinity." Thus Vishvamitra spoke to Rama. [1-49-11]

Verse Locator

विश्वामित्र वचः श्रुत्वा राघवः सह लक्ष्मणः ।

विश्वामित्रम् पुरस्कृत्य आश्रमम् प्रविवेश ह ॥ १-४९-१२

12. saha lakSmaNaH raaghavaH = with, Lakshmana, Raghava; vishvaamitra vacaH shrutvaa = Vishvamitra's, words, on hearing; vishvaamitram puraskR^itya = Vishvamitra, keeping afore; aashramam pravivesha ha = hermitage, entered, indeed.

On hearing Vishvamitra's words Rama entered the hermitage along with Lakshmana and keeping Vishvamitra afore. [1-49-12]

Verse Locator

ददर्श च महाभागाम् तपसा द्योतित प्रभाम् ।

लोकैः अपि समागंय दुर्निरीक्ष्याम् सुर असुरैः ॥ १-४९-१३

प्रयत्नात् निर्मिताम् धात्रा दिव्याम् मायामयीम् इव ।

धूमेन अभिपरीत अंगीम् दीप्ताम् अग्नि सिखाम् इव ॥ १-४९-१४

स तुषार आवृताम् स अभ्राम् पूर्ण चन्द्र प्रभाम् इव ।

मध्ये अंभसो दुराधर्षाम् दीप्ताम् सूर्य प्रभाम् इव ॥ १-४९-१५

13. saH = he that Rama [has seen one who is]; mahaabhaagaam = at highly glorious - Ahalya; tapasaa dyotita prabhaam = by asceticism, brightened, splendour - one who has it; lokaiH api = by worldly beings, even; sura asuraiH = by gods, demons; samaagamya = on coming close; dur niriikSyaam = impossible, to stare at - one who cannot be stared at; dhaatraa prayatnaat nirmitaam = by Creator, with careful, contemplation, crafted, contrived; divyaam = angelic; maayaa mayiim iva = phantasmal, completely [entity,] like; tuSaara aavR^itaam = by fog, overspread - befogged moonshine; sa abhraam = with, clouds - beclouded moonshine; puurNa candra prabhaam iva = full, moon's, shine, as with; ambhasaH madhye = waters, in midst of; duraadharSaam = unwatchable; diiptaam suurya prabhaam iva = glowing, sun [mirrored sun,] shine, like - she who is lay waste hitherto; dhuumena abhi pariita angiim = by fumes, around, cloaked, limbed, as with; diiptaaam agni sikhaam iva = flaring, fire, tongue, as with; dadarsha = he has seen.

She whose splendour is brightened by her asceticism, at whom it is impossible to raise an eye for a stare either for gods, or for demons, or for the worldly beings on coming close to her, whom the Creator has contrived with careful contemplation as an angelic and a completely phantasmal entity, who is like the befogged and beclouded moonshine of a full moon as she is hitherto enshrouded by the dried up leaves and dust, who is like an unwatchable sunshine mirrored in and glowing from the midst of water, for she is hitherto in the midst of denounce, and whose limbs are like the tongues of a flaring fire around which fumes are cloaking, as she is hitherto practising an utmost asceticism subsisting on air alone, which asceticism alone made her like a flaring Ritual Fire, and Rama has seen such a highly glorious Ahalya. [1-49-13, 14, 15]

Verse Locator

सस् हि गौतम वाक्येन दुर्निरीक्ष्या बभूव ह ।
त्रयाणाम् अपि लोकानाम् यावत् रामस्य दर्शनम् । १-४९-१६

16. saa gautama vaakyena = she - Ahalya, Gautama, by the word of; raamasya darshanam yaavat = Rama's, manifestation, until; trayaaNaam api lokaanaam = three, even, for the worlds; durniriikSyaa babhuuva ha = indiscernible, became, indeed.

Ahalya is indeed indiscernible to all the three worlds by the very word of Gautama until the manifestation of Rama. [1-49-16a, b]

Verse Locator

शापस्य अन्तम् उपागंय तेषाम् दर्शनम् आगता ॥
राघवौ तु ततः तस्याः पादौ जगृहतुः मुदा । १-४९-१७

16c, 17a. shaapasya antam upaagama = [time of] curse, end, on reaching; teSaam darshanam aagataa = their [Rama, Lakshmana,] in to view, she got; tataH = then; raaghavau = two Raghava-s; mudaa = gladly; tasyaaH paadau jagR^ihatuh = her [Ahalya's,] feet, grasped.

On reaching the end of curse she came into the view of Raghava-s, and they too gladly touched her feet in reverence. [1-49-16c, 17a]

Verse Locator

स्मरंती गौतम वचः प्रतिजग्राह सा च तौ ॥
पाद्यम् अर्घ्यम् तथा आतिथ्यम् चकार सुसमाहिता ।
प्रतिजग्राह काकुत्स्थो विधि दृष्टेन कर्मणा ॥ १-४९-१८

17b, 18. saa ca = she, too; gautama vacaH smarantii = Gautama's, word, reminiscing; tau = them two - Rama, Lakshmana; prati jagraaha = in turn, received; su samaahitaa = self-consciously; paadyam arghyam tathaa aatithyam = water [for feet-wash,] water [for hand-wash,] like that, guestship; vidhi dR^iSTena karmaNaa = custom, in view of [customarily,] dutifully; cakaara = [Ahalya] offered; kaakutsthaH prati jagraaha = Rama of Kakutstha, in turn, acquiesced it.

Reminiscing Gautama's words Ahalya received those two, and self-consciously offered water for feet and hand washing, and like that she also offered guestship customarily and dutifully, and Rama of Kakutstha on his part acquiesced her hospitality. [1-49-18]

Verse Locator

पुष्प वृष्टिः महती आसीत् देव दुन्दुभि निस्वनैः ।
गन्धर्व अप्सरसाम् च एव महान् आसीत् समुत्सवः ॥ १-४९-१९

19. deva dundubhi nisvanaiH = gods, drum's, with sounds [drumbeats]; mahatii puSpa vR^iSTiH aasiit = abundant, floral, fall, is there [chanced]; gandharva apsarasaa ca eva = gandharva-s, apsara-s, also, even; mahaan aasiit sam utsavaH = superb, is there [revelled in,] splendid, festivity.

There chanced an abundant floral fall form firmament to the drumbeats of god's drums, and the celestials like gandharva-s, apsara-s revelled in a splendid festivity that is superb. [1-49-19]

Verse Locator

साधु साधु इति देवाः ताम् अहल्याम् समपूजयन् ।
तपो बल विशुद्ध अंगीम् गौतमस्य वश अनुगाम् ॥ १-४९-२०

20. gautamasya vasha anu gaam = Gautama's, abidance, close, follower - a devotee of Gautama; tapaH bala vi shuddha angiim = by asceticism, asset of, verily, purified [deputed,] limbed [Ahalya]; taam ahalyaam = at her, Ahalya; devaaH = gods; saadhu saadhu iti = Gracious!, Goodness!, thus [saying,] sam apuujayan = collectively, revered;

Gods have collectively revered her, whose limbs are deputed by the asset of her asceticism which is performed as a devotee of Gautama remaining in his directives, saying 'Gracious! Goodness!' [1-49-20]

Verse Locator

गौतमो अपि महातेजा अहल्या सहितः सुखी ।
रामम् संपूज्य विधिवत् तपः तेपे महातपाः ॥ १-४९-२१

21. mahaatapaaH = great ascetic - Gautama; mahaatejaa = great-resplendent one; gautamaH api = Gautama, even; ahalyaa sahitaH = Ahalya, reunited with; sukhii = heartened; raamam vidhivat sampuujya = at Rama, customarily, highly revered; tapaH tepe = asceticism, practised - continued his asceticism.

Even that great-resplendent Gautama is heartened when he reunited with Ahalya after a long, long a time, and that sage customarily revered Rama for actualising his solemn utterance, and that great-ascetic Gautama continued his asceticism together with Ahalya. [1-49-21]

Verse Locator

रामो अपि परमाम् पूजाम् गौतमस्य महामुनेः ।
सकाशात् विधिवत् प्राप्य जगाम मिथिलाम् ततः ॥ १-४९-२२

22. raamaH api = Rama, even; gautamasya mahaa muneH sakaashaat = of Gautama, great saint, in the manifestness of; paramaam pujaam vidhivat praapya = high, veneration, conventionally, on receiving; tataH = from there; mithilaam jagaama = to Mithila, moved ahead.

Even Rama on receiving a conventionally high veneration in the manifestness of that great-saint Gautama himself, then moved ahead to Mithila. [1-49-22]

Ahalya - a Myth or a reality?

The legend of Ahalya is viewed from many viewpoints, because it is unclear whether she is a humanly lady or a divine entity, or a tract of land.

The atheists, rather materialists, in their translation of Ramayana take this Ahalya, according to their viewpoint, as an uncultivable tract of land by saying that is a halya un, ploughed...land' Thereby Rama rendered it as a cultivable land in the course of his socio-economic reforms. There are many other instances in relating these mythical accounts of Ramayana to the earthly plane. Another instance is lavaNa asura samhaara elimination of Saline Demon...' and Rama's elimination of this demon is taken as treatment of saline oceanic water as potable waters...'

When the mythology is touched upon, it says that Ahalya is lying there as a stone and by the touch of Rama's foot she regained her divinely human form. This is not evident in Valmiki Ramayana. The idea of petrification of Ahalya is brought in from Padma Puraana which says: saa tataH tasya raamasya paada sparshanaat mahaatmanH | abhuut suruupaa vanitaa samaakraantaa mahaa shilaa || by the touch of the feet of that great souled Rama, she was manifest as a divine damsel, getting rid of her stone-shape...' Further, there will be an exchange of words between Indra and Brahma in Uttara Kanda of Ramayana, and there this episode of Ahalya recurs. At that place Brahma defines hala as - distorted shape...' and a halya is one with an impeccable beauty...' Besides the above, Indra will be usually addressed as sahasra aksha - thousand eyed one...' and behind this legend, there is another legend, saying that Gautama's curse to Indra is: since you delighted with Divine Ahalya, who is crafted by Brahma, in carnal pleasures, let there be thousand carnally vaginal apertures on your body...' Then that Indra is agitated for such an appearance, pleads for mercy. Then, the curse is amended saying 'instead of vaginal apertures, the apertures on your body will look like eyes...' thus Indra became sahasra aksha.

F. Max Muller records in his History of Sanskrit Literature' the commentary of Kumaarila Bhatt, yet another ancient commentator on Ramayana. "In the same manner, if it is said the Indra was the seducer of Ahalya. This does not imply that the God Indra committed such a crime, but Indra means the Sun and Ahalya the night, from [the words] ahaH the 'day' and lil the 'night'; and as the night is seduced and ruined by the sun of the morning, there is Indra called the paramour of Ahalya."

Dharmaakuutam views this as paatityam, patita falling from practise of virtuousness' Such women are said to be accepted by men after making their amends for their faults. tathaa svaruupa naasham kR^itvaa vaayu bhakSha ityaadi vayonuurpa shaapa pradaanena caapalyaat satkR^it para puruSha vR^ittaa strii niyamena shocayitvaa punaH sa~Ngrahya iti suucitam | abhyaase tu paatityam | - tathaa ca gautamaH - nindita karma abhyaasi patitaat tyaaga patitaat tyaaginaH patitaaH - iti - dk

Verse Locator

इति वाल्मीकि रामायणे आदि काव्ये बाल काण्डे एको न पंचाशः सर्गः

Thus, this is the 49th chapter in Bala Kanda of Valmiki Ramayana, the First Epic poem of India.

Book I : Bala Kanda - The Youthful Majesties

chapter / sarga 50
Verses converted to UTF-8, Sept 09

Introduction

Rama arrives at Mithila along with Lakshmana led on by Vishvamitra. On hearing that Vishvamitra has arrived at their city Mithila, King Janaka proceeds to him welcomingly. On seeing Rama and Lakshmana near at Vishvamitra, Janaka inquisitively asks Vishvamitra about these two princes. Vishvamitra announces them as the sons of Dasharatha and informs about the adventurous deeds the boys have undertaken.

Verse Locator

ततः प्राक् उत्तराम् गत्वा रामः सौमित्रिणा सह ।
विश्वामित्रम् पुरस्कृत्य यज्ञ वाटम् उपागमत् ॥ १-५०-१

1. tataH = then; raamaH saumitriNaa saha = Rama, Soumitri, along with; vishvaamitram puraskR^itya = Vishvamitra, keeping afore; praak uttaraam gatvaa = , to east, north, [direction,] on going; [janakasya] yaj~na vaaTam upaagamat = [Janaka's,] Vedic-ritual, hall, neared.

Rama then travelled along with Lakshmana towards northeast direction keeping Vishvamitra afore and neared the hall of Vedic ritual of Janaka in Mithila kingdom. [1-50-1]

The northeast is an auspicious direction, and even today it is held high for any ritual or in the architecture. This direction is presided over by iishaana The God.

Verse Locator

रामः तु मुनि शार्दूलम् उवाच सह लक्ष्मणः ।
साध्वी यज्ञ समृद्धिः हि जनकस्य महात्मनः ॥ १-५०-२

2. saha lakSmaNaH raamaH tu = with, Lakshmana, Rama, on his part; muni shaarduulam uvaaca = to saint, tigerly - Vishvamitra, spoke; mahaa aatmanaH janakasya = of noble-souled, Janaka; yaj~na samR^iddhiH = Vedic-ritual's, bountifulness; saadhvii hi = is excellent, indeed.

Rama who is with Lakshmana spoke to the tigerly saint Vishvamitra, " the Vedic-ritual of noble-souled Janaka is excellent, indeed with bountifully garnered paraphernalia of the ritual. [1-50-2]

Verse Locator

बहूनि इह सहस्राणि नाना देश निवासिनाम् ।
ब्राह्मणानाम् महाभाग वेद अध्ययन शालिनाम् ॥ १-५०-३
ऋषि वाटाः च दृश्यन्ते शकटी शत संकुलाः ।
देशो विधीयताम् ब्रह्मन् यत्र वत्स्यामहे वयम् ॥ १-५०-४

3. mahaabhaaga = oh, highly fortunate one [Vishvamitra]; iha = here - this place; naanaa desha nivaasinaam = very many, in provinces, dwellers; veda adhyayana shaalinaam = Veda, in practices, experts; braahmaNaanaam = of Brahmans; sahasraaNi bahuuni = thousands, many; shakaTii shata sankulaaH = carts, hundreds, rife with; R^iSi vaaTaaH ca = sages', cottages, also; dR^ishyante = are appearing; brahman = oh, Brahman; vayam yatra vatsyaamahe = we, where, take lodge; such a; deshaH = place - campsite; vidhiyataam = let it be decided.

"Oh, highly fortunate sage, this place abounds with many thousands of Brahmans who are experts in Vedic practises and who seem to be the dwellers of numerous provinces, and also discernable are the cottages of sages rife with hundreds of carts full with their ceremonial chattels, as such oh, Brahman, a campsite may be decided for us too, as I discern every inch is inhabited." Thus Rama spoke to Vishvamitra. [1-50-3, 4]

Verse Locator

रामस्य वचनम् श्रुत्वा विश्वामित्रो महामुनिः ।
निवेशम् अकरोत् देशे विविक्ते सलिल आयुते ॥ १-५०-५

5. mahaamuniH vishvaamitraH = great-saint, Vishvamitra; raamasya vacanam shrutvaa = Rama's, words, on hearing; salila aayute [anvite] = [refreshing] waters, having; vivikte deshe = in an unfrequented, place; nivesham akarot = camp, made [arranged];

On hearing the words of Rama that great-saint Vishvamitra arranged a camp at an unfrequented place that has refreshing water. [1-50-5]

Verse Locator

विश्वामित्रम् अनुप्राप्तम् श्रुत्वा नृपवरः तदा ।
शतानन्दम् पुरस्कृत्य पुरोहितम् अनिन्दितम् ॥ १-५०-६
प्रति उज्जगाम सहसा विनयेन समन्वितः ।

6, 7a. nR^ipa varaH = king, the best - Janaka; tadaa = then; vishvaamitram anupraaptam shrutvaa = Vishvamitra's, one chanced [at Mithila,] on hearing; a ninditam = not, reprovable one; purohitam = priest; shataanandam = Shataananda; puraskR^itya = keeping afore; vinayena samanvitaH = with deference, embodied with [in deference to Vishvamitra]; sahasaa = instantly; prati ut jagaama = towards [Vishvamitra,] forged ahead.

On hearing that Vishvamitra has arrived in Mithila, then the best king Janaka instantly forged ahead towards Vishvamitra, keeping his unreprouvable priest Shataananda afore of the team, in deference to Vishvamitra. [1-50-6, 7a]

Verse Locator

ऋत्विजो अपि महात्मानः तु अर्घ्यम् आदाय स त्वरम् ॥ १-५०-७
विश्वामित्राय धर्मेण ददौ धर्म पुरस्कृतम् ।

7b, 8a. mahaatmaanaH = of the great-souled one - Janaka's; R^itvijaH api = administrators of Vedic-ritual, even; sa tvaram = with, haste; arghyam aadaaya = water, on taking; dharma [mantra] puraskR^itam = ritual, [sanctified,] in view of [ritualistically]; dharmeNa vishvaamitraaya dadau = ritually, to Vishvamitra, offered.

Even the Ritvik-s, the administrators of that Vedic-ritual, of the great souled king Janaka arrived with post-haste taking holy waters, and they have ritualistically offered that sanctified water to Vishvamitra. [1-50-7b, 8a]

Verse Locator

प्रतिगृह्य तु ताम् पूजाम् जनकस्य महात्मनः ॥ १-५०-८

पप्रच्छ कुशलम् राज्ञो यज्ञस्य च निरामयम् ।

8b, 9a. mahaatmanaH janakasya = of great-souled one, Janaka's; taam puujaam pratigR^ihya = that, veneration, on receiving; Vishvamitra; raaj~naH kushalam = king's [Janaka's,] well-being; yaj~nasya nir aamayam ca = of Vedic-ritual, without, hindrance [unhindered proceedings,] also; papracCha = asked after.

On receiving that veneration from the great souled Janaka, Vishvamitra asked after the well-being of the king Janaka, as well about the unhindered proceedings of that Vedic-ritual. [1-50-8b, 9a]

Verse Locator

स ताम् च अथ मुनीन् पृष्ट्वा स उपाध्याय पुरोधसः ॥ १-५०-९

यथा अर्हम् ऋषिभिः सर्वैः समागच्छत् प्रहृष्टवत् ।

9b, 10a. saH = he - Vishvamitra; sa upaadhyaya purodhasaH taam muniin = with, mentors, clerics, those, saints; yathaa arham = as, befitting; [kushalam] pR^iSTvaa = [well-being] on asking after; atha = then; prahR^iSTavat = as a happy-soul; sarvaiH R^iSibhiH samaagacChat = with all, sages, joined them.

Then Vishvamitra asked after the well-being of saints, mentors, clerics, as befitting to their order, and joined the company of all of the sages as a happy-souled sage. [1-50-9b, 10a]

Verse Locator

अथ राजा मुनि श्रेष्ठम् कृत अंजलिः अभाषत ॥ १-५०-१०

आसने भगवान् आस्ताम् सह एभिः मुनि सत्तमैः ।

10b, 11a. atha = then; raajaa kR^ita anjaliH = king, with palm-fold; muni shreSTham abhaaSata = to eminent-sage Vishvamitra, spoke; bhagavaan = oh, reverend sage - Vishvamitra; ebhiH muni sattamaiH saha = these, saint, eminent ones, along with; aasane aastaam = in seat, be seated - please be seated on a high seat.

The king Janaka adjoining his palms then spoke to that eminent-sage Vishvamitra, "oh, reverend sage, please be seated on this high seat, along with these eminent saints in their respective seats." Thus Janaka spoke to Vishvamitra [1-50-10b, 11a]

Verse Locator

जनकस्य वचः श्रुत्वा निषसाद महामुनिः ॥ १-५०-११

पुरोधा ऋत्विजः चैव राजा च सह मंत्रिभिः ।

11b, 12a. janakasya vacaH shrutvaa = Janaka's, words, on hearing; mahaamuniH = great-sage Vishvamitra; niSasaada = sat down [took his seat]; purodhaa R^itvijaH caiva = [royal] priest Shataananda, administers of Vedic-ritual, Ritvik-s, also thus; mantribhiH saha = ministers, along with; raajaa ca = king, also - took seat.

On hearing the words of Janaka that great-sage Vishvamitra took his seat, and king Janaka also took seat along with his royal priest Shataananda, and the administrators of that Vedic-ritual, namely Ritvik-s, and along with his ministers. [1-50-11b, 12a]

Verse Locator

आसनेषु यथा न्यायम् उपविष्टान् समन्ततः ॥ १-५०-१२

दृष्ट्वा स नृपतिः तत्र विश्वामित्रम् अथ अब्रवीत् ।

12b, 13a. atha = then; saH nR^ipatiH = he, the king [Janaka]; tatra = there; samantataH = all about; yathaa nyaayam = according, to procedure [procedurally]; aasaneSuupaviSTaan = in seats, who are sitting; dR^iSTvaa = on beholding; vishvaamitram abraviit = to Vishvamitra, spoke to.

On beholding all of them seated all about in their respective seats as demanded by procedure king Janaka then spoke to Vishvamitra. [1-50-12b, 13a]

Verse Locator

अद्य यज्ञ समृद्धिः मे सफला दैवतैः कृता ॥ १-५०-१३

अद्य यज्ञ फलम् प्राप्तम् भगवद् दर्शनात् मया ।

13b, 14a. adya = today; me yaj~na samR^iddhiH = my, Vedic-ritual, is enriched; sa phalaa = with, fruit - as a fructified one; daivataiH kR^itaa = by gods, effectuated - gods fructified the ritual; adya = today; bhagavat darshanaat = at god [godlike you,] on viewing; mayaa yaj~na phalam praaptam = by me, fruit [outcome,] of Vedic-ritual, [deemed to have been] obtained.

"Today my Vedic ritual is enriched with your advent, whereby I deem that gods have fructified the ritual. Let the ritual be like that. I deem that I have obtained the fruit of the ritual just on seeing godlike you here today. [1-50-13b, 14a]

Verse Locator

धन्यो अस्मि अनुगृहीतो अस्मि यस्य मे मुनि पुंगव ॥ १-५०-१४

यज्ञ उपसदनम् ब्रह्मन् प्राप्तो असि मुनिभिः सह ।

14b, 15a. muni pungava = oh, sage, eminent; brahman = oh, Brahman; munibhiH saha = [so many] sages, along with; yasya me = to which [ritual hall,] mine; yaj~na upasadanam = to Vedic-ritual, hall; praaptaH asi = arrived, you have; such as I am I am; dhanyaH asmi anugR^ihiitaH asmi = honoured, I am, hallowed, I am.

"Oh, Brahman, at which Vedic-ritual hall you have arrived along with so many sages that happens to be mine, whereby, oh, eminent saint, I feel that I am honoured and hallowed. [1-50-14b, 15a]

Verse Locator

द्वादश अहम् तु ब्रह्मर्षे दीक्षाम् आहुः मनीषिणः ॥ १-५०-१५

ततो भाग अर्थिनो देवान् द्रष्टुम् अर्हसि कौशिक ।

15b, 16a. brahmarSe = oh, Brahma-sage; maniiSiNaH = scholars; dvaadasha aham tu = twelve, days, only; diikshaam = ritual-pledge; [sheSam = remaining]; aahuH = they are saying; kaushika = oh, Kaushika; tataH bhaaga arthinaH devaan = then [after those twelve days,] their due, desirers of, gods; draSTum arhasi = to see, apt of you.

"Oh, Brahma-sage, the scholarly Ritvik-s conducting my Vedic-ritual are saying that only twelve more days are remaining to complete the observation of ritual-pledge, and then oh, Kaushika, it will be apt of you to see the gods who arrive at the conclusion of this Vedic-ritual expecting their due in the ritual." So said king Janaka to Vishvamitra. [1-50-15b, 16a]

Verse Locator

इति उक्त्वा मुनि शार्दूलम् प्रहृष्ट वदनः तदा ॥ १-५०-१६

पुनः तम् परिपप्रच्छ प्रांजलिः प्रयतो नृपः ।

16a, 17a. nR^ipaH = king; muni shaarduulam iti uktvaa = to sage, the tiger, in this way, on saying; tadaa prahR^iSTa vadanaH = then, with gladdened, face; praanjaliH prayataH = palms-enfolded, inquisitively; punaH tam paripapracCha = again, him [Vishvamitra,] pointedly asked.

On speaking to that tigerly sage Vishvamitra in this way, the king again asked the sage pointedly and inquisitively with adjoined palms and with a gladdened face. [1-50-16b, 17a]

Verse Locator

इमौ कुमारौ भद्रम् ते देव तुल्य पराक्रमौ ॥ १-५०-१७
गज तुल्य गती वीरौ शार्दूल वृषभ उपमौ ।
पद्म पत्र विशाल अक्षौ खड्ग तूणी धनुर् धरौ ।
अश्विनौ इव रूपेण समुपस्थित यौवनौ ॥ १-५०-१८
यदृच्छया एव गाम् प्राप्तौ देव लोकात् इव अमरौ ।
कथम् पद्भ्याम् इह प्राप्तौ किम् अर्थम् कस्य वा मुने ॥ १-५०-१९

17b, 18, 19. mune = oh, saint; te bhadram = you, be safe; deva tulya paraakramau = with god Vishnu, matching, in valour; gaja simha gatii = [like audacious] elephant, [like arrogant] lion, with strides; viirau = two valrous ones; shaarduula vR^iSabha upamau = [adventurous] tiger, [adamantine] Holy Bull, in similitude; padma patra vishaala akSau = lotus, petal, broad, eyed ones; khaDga tuuNii dhanuH dharau = sword, quiver, bow, wielding; ruupeNa ashvinau iva = by physique, Ashwin, the Twin-god brothers, like; sam upasthita yauvanau = in the offing, youthfulness is; deva lokaat = from gods', abode; yadR^icChayaa iva = = at their pleasure, as if; gaam praaptau = on earth, chanced; a marau = not, dying ones [deathless, immortals]; iva = as if like; imau kumaarau = these, youngsters; iha = here, to this place; padbhyaam = with two feet - by footslogging; katham = how; kim artham = what, for; praaptau = how, they chanced; kasya vaa = whose [scions,] are they.

"These two youngsters, oh, sage, let safety betide you, striding like audacious elephants and arrogant lions, bearing a similitude to adventurous tigers and adamant bulls, and wielding quivers, swords, and bows, are valorous with their valour matching that of Vishnu, and with their eyes broad like lotus-petals and with youthfulness in the offing they look like the exceptionally beautiful twin-gods, Ashwin-brothers, by their physique. How these two have footslogged and chanced here as though immortals have chanced on earth from the abode of gods at their pleasure? What for they have come here, and whose scions are they? [1-50-17b, 18, 19]

These foots are the same as king Sumati's dialogue at 1-48-2, 3, 4 including anvaya , parsing.

Verse Locator

वर आयुध धरौ वीरौ कस्य पुत्रौ महामुने ।
भूषयन्तौ इमम् देशम् चन्द्र सूर्यौ इव अंबरम् ॥ १-५०-२०
परस्परस्य सदृशौ प्रमाण इन्गित चेष्टितैः ।
काक पक्ष धरौ वीरौ श्रोतुम् इच्छामि तत्त्वतः ॥ १-५०-२१

20, 21. mahaa mune = oh, great-saint; vara aayudha dharau viirau = best, weapons, brandishing, valiant ones; kasya putrau = whose, sons are they; candra suuryau ambaram iva = Moon, Sun, [brightening the] sky, as with; imam deshambhuuSayantau = this, province, they are embellishing; pramaaNa ingita ceSTitaiH = by postural [language,] by facial [language,] by body [language]; parasparasya sadR^ishau = each to each, clonal; kaaka pakSa dharau = crow, wing [similar jet-black curls,] wearing; viirau = about valorous ones; tattvataH shrotum icChaami = in actuality to listen, I wish.

"Oh, great-saint, whose sons are these two valiant youngsters who are brandishing best weapons? They are embellishing this province as the Sun and Moon doeth the sky. Each to each they are clonal by postural-language, by facial-language and by body language. They appear valorous but boyish in their appearance, as their curls are still jet-black like crow-wings. Thus, whether they are immature by age though mature by their valour or so, I wish to listen about them in actuality. [1-50-20, 21]

Import of verses is the same as at 1-48-5, 6, with a little difference in anvaya , parsing.

Verse Locator

तस्य तत् वचनम् श्रुत्वा जनकस्य महात्मनः ।
न्यवेदयत् अमेय आत्मा पुत्रौ दशरथस्य तौ ॥ १-५०-२२

22. mahaatmanaH tasya janakasya tat vacanam shrutvaa = great-souled one, his, of Janaka, that, sentence, on hearing; a meya aatmaa = not, measurable, souled [anima having, Vishvamitra]; tau = them two - Rama, Lakshmana; dasharathasya putrau = as Dasharatha's, sons; nyavedayat = submitted - announced.

On hearing the words of great-souled Janaka, Vishvamitra whose anima is immeasurable, has announced that those two as the sons of king Dasharatha. [1-50-22]

Verse Locator

सिद्ध आश्रम निवासम् च राक्षसानाम् वधम् तथा ।
तत्र आगमनम् अव्यग्रम् विशालायाः च दर्शनम् ॥ १-५०-२३
अहल्या दर्शनम् चैव गौतमेन समागमम् ।
महाधनुषि जिज्ञासाम् कर्तुम् आगमनम् तथा ॥ १-५०-२४
एतत् सर्वम् महातेजा जनकाय महात्मने ।
निवेद्य विरराम अथ विश्वामित्रो महामुनिः ॥ १-५०-२५

23. mahaatejaaH mahaamuniH vishvaamitraH = great-resplendent one, great-saint, Vishvamitra; siddha aashrama nivaasam ca = Accomplishment, Hermitage, stopover in, also; tathaa = like that; raakSasaanaam vadhham = demons, elimination; avyagram tatra aagamanam = indefatigably, to there coming - travelling with him; vishaalaayaaH darshanam ca = City of Vishaala, beholding, also; ahalyaa darshanam caiva = Ahalya, seeing, also thus; gautamena samaagamam = with Gautama, [Ahalya's] reuniting; tathaa = likewise; mahaa dhanuSi = of great, bow [of Shiva]; jij~naasaam kartum = to know about - to have a grasp of it; aagamanam = coming [hitherward]; etat sarvam = all this; mahaa aatmane janakaaya = to great-souled, Janaka; nivedya = on submitting - on informing; viraraama = then, [he Vishvamitra] paused.

The highly resplendent great-saint Vishvamitra has informed the high souled Janaka about the coming of Rama and Lakshmana to the Hermitage of Accomplishment, their stopping over there and elimination of demons at that place, their indefatigable travel along with him, beholding City of Vishaala, seeing Ahalya, her reuniting with Sage Gautama, likewise their coming hitherward to gain a grasp of great bow of Shiva. On informing all these incidents to Janaka as well as to Shataananda, who incidentally is the son of Ahalya, sage Vishvamitra paused. [1-50-23, 24, 25]

Verse Locator

इति वाल्मीकि रामायणे आदि काव्ये बाल काण्डे पंचाशः सर्गः

Thus, this is the 50th chapter in Bala Kanda of Valmiki Ramayana, the First Epic poem of India.

Book I : Bala Kanda - The Youthful Majesties

chapter / sarga 51

Verses converted to UTF-8, Sept 09

Introduction

Enquiring about his father Gautama's reuniting with his mother Ahalya, Sage Shataananda relates the legend of Vishvamitra. Shataananda greets Rama for his adherence to the rectitude of Vishvamitra, which Vishvamitra gained through a series of self-important exploits, when he was a great king at one time. Shataananda finds worth in informing the biography of Vishvamitra to Rama, because too much of overbearing of kings, as has been done by Vishvamitra, will be unbecoming for kings.

Verse Locator

तस्य तत् वचनम् श्रुत्वा विश्वामित्रस्य धीमतः ।
हृष्ट रोमा महातेजाः शतानन्दो महातपाः ॥ १-५१-१
गौतमस्य सुतो ज्येष्ठः तपसा द्योतित प्रभः ।
राम संदर्शनात् एव परम् विस्मयम् आगतः ॥ १-५१-२

1. dhiimataH = intellectual one; tasya vishvaamitrasya tat vacanam shrutvaa = his, of Vishvamitra, that, sentence, on hearing; mahaatejaaH mahaatapaaH = highly refulgent, great-ascetic; gautamasya jyeSThaH sutaH = Sage Gautama's, eldest, son; tapasaa dyotita prabhaH = by asceticism, brightened, radiance - who has it; such a; shataaanandaH = sage Shataananda; hR^iSTa romaa = rejoiced, hair [hair-raising, overjoyed]; raama sandarshanaat eva = Rama, on seeing at, just by; param vismayam aagataH = great, amazement, he obtained.

On hearing that sentence of that intellectual sage Vishvamitra, the highly refulgent and the great ascetic Shataananda is overjoyed, and Sage Shataananda, the eldest son of Sage Gautama, and whose radiance is brightened by his own asceticism is highly amazed just on seeing Rama. [1-51-1, 2]

Verse Locator

एतौ निषण्णौ संप्रेक्ष्य सुख आसीनौ नृपात्मजौ ।
शतानन्दो मुनिश्रेष्ठम् विश्वामित्रम् अथ अब्रवीत् ॥ १-५१-३

3. atha = then; shataaanandaH = Shataananda; niSaNNau = the two whose heads are bent - bowing submissively; sukha aasiinau = comfortably, seated; etau nR^ipaatamajau samprekSyau = those two, king's sons [princes,] on raptly observing; munishreSTham vishvaamitram abraviit = to sage, the eminent, to Vishvamitra, spoke.

On raptly observing those two princes who are sitting comfortably with their heads bending down submissively, then Shataananda spoke to the eminent sage Vishvamitra. [1-51-3]

Verse Locator

अपि ते मुनि शार्दूल मम माता यशस्विनी ।
दर्शिता राज पुत्राय तपो दीर्घम् उपागता ॥ १-५१-४

4. muni shaarduula = oh, saint, tigerly Vishvamitra; diirgham tapaH upaagataa = marathon, ascesis, came near [who meted out]; yashasvinii = glorious one; mama maataa = my, mother; te = by you; raaja putraaya = to princes; api darshitaa = even, is she revealed?

"Oh, tigerly saint Vishvamitra, you have revealed my glorious mother Ahalya who meted out a marathon ascesis to the princes - Really! [1-51-4]

Verse Locator

अपि रामे महातेजो मम माता यशस्विनी ।
वन्यैः उपाहरत् पूजाम् पूजा अर्हे सर्व देहिनाम् ॥ १-५१-५

5. mahaatejaH yashasvinii = highly resplendent one, celebrated one - Ahalya; mama maataa = my, mother; sarva dehinaam = by every, one with body [with corporeity, corporeal beings]; puujaa arhe raame = for deference, worthy of, in Rama - in respect of Rama; vanyaiH = with forest produce - flowers and fruits; puujaam api upaaharat = worship, even, has she performed - has she worshipped him?

"And the highly resplendent and celebrated mother of mine worshipped Rama, who is worthy of worship by every corporeal being, with forest produce, is it so! [1-51-5]

Verse Locator

अपि रामाय कथितम् यथा वृत्तम् पुरातनम् ।
मम मातुः महातेजो दैवेन दुरनुष्ठितम् ॥ १-५१-६

6. mahaatejaH = oh, great-resplendent - Vishvamitra; mama maatuH = my, mother; daivena dur anuSThitam = by Providence, mal-, treatment - subjected to; puraatanam = anciently - happened episode; yathaa vR^ittam = as, happened; raamaaya api kathitam = to Rama, even, , narrated.

"Oh, great-resplendent Vishvamitra, you have narrated to Rama about the maltreatment of my mother by the Providence as has happened anciently, isn't it! [1-51-6]

Verse Locator

अपि कौशिक भद्रम् ते गुरुणा मम संगता ।
माता मम मुनिश्रेष्ठ राम संदर्शनात् इतः ॥ १-५१-७

7. kaushika = oh, Kaushika; te bhadram = to you, let safety be; munishreSTha = oh sage, the best; mama maataa = my, mother; raama sandarshanaat itaH = Rama's, by bolding - giving hospitality etc; mama guruNaa = with my, father; api sangataa = even, joined - reunited with.

"Oh, the best sage Kaushika, you be safe, my mother is reunited with my father on beholding and giving hospitality to Rama - Really! [1-51-7]

Verse Locator

अपि मे गुरुणा रामः पूजितः कुशिकात्मज ।
इह आगतो महातेजाः पूजाम् प्राप्य महात्मनः ॥ १-५१-८

8. kushikaatmaja = oh, Kushi's, son [Kaushika, Vishvamitra]; raamaH = Rama; me guruNaa api puujitaH = by my, father, even, is he worshipped; iha aagataH mahaatejaaH = here [to Ahalya's place,] one who came, great-resplendent one [Gautama, Shataananda's father]; mahaatmanaH = from great-souled one [from Rama]; puujaam api praapya = worship, even, has he [Rama] got.

"Oh, Kaushika, my father came to my mother's place from Himalayas! Has the great resplendent father of mine worshipped Rama because the redemption of my mother is per the kindness of Rama! Has this great-souled Rama revered that great resplendent father of mine by according a redemption, ahalyaa daana, the endowment of Ahalya to her husband. [1-51-8]

Verse Locator

अपि शांतेन मनसा गुरुः मे कुशिकात्मज ।
इह आगतेन रामेण पूजितेन अभिवादितः ॥ १-५१-९

9. kushikaatmaja = oh, son of Kushika, Vishvamitra; iha aagatena = to here [at Ahalya's place,] who came; puujitena = by a reverential one - Rama [prayatena = by a pure soul - Rama]; raameNa = by Rama; me guruH = my, father; shaantena manasaa = with a pacified, heart; api abhivaaditaH = whether, revered.

"Oh, Kaushika, on his arrival at my mother's place whether this reverential Rama revered my father with a pacified heart without becoming contumelious!" Thus sage Shataananda exclaimed at the marvel occurred through Rama. [1-51-9]

Verse Locator

तत् श्रुत्वा वचनम् तस्य विश्वामित्रो महामुनिः ।
प्रति उवाच शतानन्दम् वाक्यज्ञो वाक्य कोविदम् ॥ १-५१-१०

10. mahaamuniH vishvaamitraH = great-saint, Vishvamitra; tasya tat vacanam shrutvaa = his, that, sentence, on hearing; vaakya j~naH = sententious one [Vishvamitra]; vaakya kovidam shataanandam = sentence-precisian to sentence, to precisionist, to Shataananda; prati uvaaca = in reply, spoke.

On hearing that sentence of his, that great-saint and sentence-precisian Sage Vishvamitra, replied the sentence-precisionist Sage Shataananda. [1-51-10]

Verse Locator

न अतिक्रान्तम् मुनिश्रेष्ठ यत् कर्तव्यम् कृतम् मया ।
संगता मुनिना पत्नी भार्गवेण इव रेणुका ॥ १-५१-११

11. munishreSTha = oh, sage the best - oh, Shataananda; na atikraantam = not, over, stepped - nothing left unperformed; mayaa yat kartavyam = by me, whatever, performable; kR^itam = that is performed; reNukaa bhaargaveNa iva = Renuka, with [the descendent of] Bhaargava or Bhrugu, as with; patnii muninaa sangataa = wife [of sage,] with sage, is reunited.

"I have done whatever good is to be done and nothing is left undone, and the wife of the sage, namely Ahalya, is reunited with her husband sage Gautama, as with Renuka who was reunited with sage Jamagani, the descendent of Bhrigu." So said Vishvamitra. [1-51-11]

Renuka is the mother of Parashu Rama, another human incarnation of Vishnu as a Brahmin to struggle with the erring Kshatriya kings of an earlier era. Renuka's husband is Sage Jamadagni, the descendent of Bhrigu or also called as Bhaargava and on certain occasion, Jamadagi, orders his son Parashu Rama to behead her, i.e., Renuka, Parashu Rama's own mother and Parashu Rama unhesitatingly carries out his father's orders. Thus, Parashu Rama is called Bhaargava Rama, with an axe as his unsurpassed weapon. This Parashu Rama confronts Rama of Ramayana after Seetha's marriage.

Verse Locator

तत् श्रुत्वा वचनम् तस्य विश्वामित्रस्य धीमतः ।
शतानन्दो महातेजा रामम् वचनम् अब्रवीत् ॥ १-५१-१२

12. tasya vishvaamitrasya dhiimataH = his, Vishvamitra's, highly intellectual one; tat vacanam shrutvaa = that, sentence, on hearing; mahaatejaaH shataanandaH = of high refulgence, Shataananda; raamam vacanam abraviit = to Rama, sentence, spoke.

On hearing those words of that highly intellectual Vishvamitra, high refulgent sage Shataananda spoke these words to Rama. [1-51-12]

Verse Locator

स्वागतम् ते नरश्रेष्ठ दिष्ट्या प्राप्तो असि राघव ।
विश्वामित्रम् पुरस्कृत्य महर्षिम् अपराजितम् ॥ १-५१-१३

13. narashreSTha raaghava = oh, best among men, oh, Raghava; [svaagatam te = hail to thee; a paraajitam = not, defeatable one; mahaSim vishvaamitram puraskR^itya = great-sage, Vishvamitra, keeping afore [spearheaded by]; diSTyaa praaptaH asi = as godsend, chanced, you are; svaagatam te = hail, to thee.

"Hail to thee! Oh, best one among men Rama, your arrival is a godsend, not only to Mithila but to entire humanity, and oh, Raghava, as an undefeatable great-sage Vishvamitra spearheads you, so shall your mission be undefeatable, thus hail to thee! [1-51-13]

This statement of Sage Shataananda shall remind us the utterances of Vishvamitra in Dasharatha's court at 1-19-14: aham vedmi mahaatmaanam raamam... 'I know this great soul Rama, the virtue valiant, even Vashishta and also these saints who are here...' So also, Shataananda being the son of Ahalya and Gautama perceived who this Rama is. Further, when such and such a sage spearheads Rama, Rama ought to know something about the background of his steersman, namely Vishvamitra, basing on which Rama can learn his own lessons. As such, next few chapters are catered to the legend of Vishvamitra through Shataananda.

Verse Locator

अचिन्त्य कर्मा तपसा ब्रह्मर्षिः अमित प्रभः ।
विश्वामित्रो महातेजा - वेदंय - वेत्सि एनम् परमाम् गतिम् ॥ १-५१-१४

14. mahaatejaa vishvaamitraH = highly resplendent, Vishvamitra; a cintya karmaa = is of un, imaginable, exploits; tapasaa brahmarSiH = by asceticism, Brahma-sage; a mita prabhaH = of ill, imitable, resplendence; enam paramaam gatim = him, as ultimate, course; [vedmya = you have to know] vetsi = you [already] know.

"This highly resplendent Vishvamitra's exploits are unimaginable. He attained the highest order of Brahma-sage by his asceticism, thus illimitable is his ascetic resplendence, and you have to know him as an ultimate course, not only to you alone, but also to one and all. [1-51-14]

If the text 'you already know him...' is adopted there will be nothing left to Shataananda to say more. Hence, the meaning is said on taking vedmya 'you should know some more...' would be better. Because Vishvamitra is a parama hita sandhaayaka 'a do-gooder for universal peace' as indicated by his name itself, vishva 'of universe...' mitra 'friend, friend of universe...'

Verse Locator

न अस्ति धन्यतरो राम त्वत्तो अन्यो भुवि कश्चन ।
गोप्ता कुशिक पुत्रः ते येन तप्तम् महत् तपः ॥ १-५१-१५

15. raama = oh, Rama; bhuvi = on earth; tvattaH = than you; dhanya taraH = fortunate, better; anyaH = another one; kashcana = anyone; na asti = not, is there; yena mahat tapaH taptam = by whom, supreme, asceticism, practised; such a sage; kushika putraH = Kushi's, scion, namely Vishvamitra; te goptaa = to you, protector.

"None other than you is fortunate enough on earth, oh, Rama, as you are in the custodial care of Vishvamitra, the scion of Kushika, who has practised supreme asceticism. [1-51-15]

Verse Locator

श्रूयताम् च अभिधास्यामि कौशिकस्य महात्मनः ।

यथा बलम् यथा तत्त्वम् तत् मे निगदतः शृणु ॥ १-५१-१६

16. mahaatmanaH kaushikasya = great-souled, Vishvamitra's; balam yathaa = prowess, as to how; shruuyataam = I will let you hear - hear from me; tattvam [vR^ittam] = quintessence [his legend]; yathaa = as to how; abhidhaasyaami = I will narrate; tat me nigadataH shR^iNu = that, from me, while being narrated, you listen.

"What is the prowess of the great-souled Vishvamitra, and what the quintessence of his legend may be heard from me while I narrate it. [1-51-16]

Verse Locator

राजा अभूत् एष धर्मात्मा दीर्घ कालम् अरिन्दमः ।

धर्मज्ञः कृत विद्यः च प्रजानाम् च हिते रतः ॥ १-५१-१७

17. eSa = he; dharmaatmaa = probity-souled one Vishvamitra; dharma j~naH = in rectitude, well-versed [proficient] one; kR^ita vidyaH ca = made [perfected,] education [perfectionist in kingcraft,] also; prajaanaam ca hite rataH = for people, also, in welfare, proponent of; arin damaH = enemies, persecutor of; diirgha kaalam raajaa abhuut = for long, time, king, was there, he was.

"This probity-souled Vishvamitra, being a proficient in rectitude, a perfectionist in kingcraft, a proponent of people's welfare, more so a persecutor of enemies, was there as a king for a long time. [1-51-17]

Verse Locator

प्रजापति सुतः तु आसीत् कुशो नाम महीपतिः ।

कुशस्य पुत्रो बलवान् कुशनाभः सुधार्मिकः ॥ १-५१-१८

18. prajaapati sutaH = Prajapati's, brainchild; kushaH naama mahii patiH = Kusha, named, earth, lord [king]; aasiit = was there; balavaan = powerful one; su dhaarmikaH = verily, righteous one; kushanaabhaH = Kushanaabha is; kushasya putraH = Kusha's, son.

"There was a king named Kusha, a brainchild of Prjaapati, and Kusha's son was the powerful and verily righteous Kushanaabha. [1-51-18]

Verse Locator

कुशनाभ सुतः तु आसीत् गाधिः इति एव विश्रुतः ।

गाधेः पुत्रो महातेजा विश्वामित्रो महामुनिः ॥ १-५१-१९

19. gaadhiH iti eva vi shrutaH = Gaadhi, thus, only, verily heard [of highly renowned]; kushanaabha sutaH tu = Kushanaabha's, son, but; aasiit = was there; mahaatejaaH mahaa muniH vishvaamitraH = great resplendence, great-saint, Vishvamitra; gaadheH putraH = Gaadhi's, son.

"One who is highly renowned by the name Gaadhi was the son of Kushanaabha, and Gaadhi's son is this great-saint of great resplendence, Vishvamitra. [1-51-19]

Verse Locator

विश्वामित्रो महातेजाः पालयामास मेदिनीम् ।

बहु वर्ष सहस्राणि राजा राज्यम् अकारयत् ॥ १-५१-२०

20. mahaatejaaH vishvaamitraH = great resplendent, Vishvamitra - the king; mediniim paalayaamaasa = the earth, was ruling; raajaa = king; bahu varSa sahasraaNi = many, years, thousands; raajyam akaarayata = kingdom, made [ruled.]

"Vishvamitra ruled the earth, and this great-resplendent king ruled the kingdom for many thousands of years. [1-51-20]

Verse Locator

कदाचित् तु महातेजा योजयित्वा वरूथिनीम् ।
अक्षौहिणी परिवृतः परिचक्राम मेदिनीम् ॥ १-५१-२१

21. mahaatejaaH = great-resplendent king Vishvamitra; kadaacit = at one time; varuuthiniim yojayitvaa = armies, combining [marshalling]; akSauhiNii parivR^itaH = with Akshauhini unit of army, encircled by - along with; mediniim paricakraama = earth, he circulated - gone round.

"At one time the great-resplendent king Vishvamitra went round the earth marshalling a unit of akshauhini army. [1-51-21]

The army unit called akshauhini consists of 21,870 elephants, as many chariots, 65,610 cavalry, and 1,09,350 foot soldiers.

Verse Locator

नगराणि च राष्ट्रानि सरितः च तथा गिरीन् ।
आश्रमान् क्रमशो राजा विचरन् आजगाम ह ॥ १-५१-२२
वसिष्ठस्य आश्रम पदम् नाना पुष्प लता द्रुमम् ।
नाना मृग गण आकीर्णम् सिद्ध चारण सेवितम् ॥ १-५१-२३
देव दानव गन्धर्वैः किन्नरैः उपशोभितम् ।
प्रशांत हरिण आकीर्णम् द्विज संघ निषेवितम् ॥ १-५१-२४
ब्रह्म ऋषि गण संकीर्णम् देव ऋषि गण सेवितम् ।
तपः चरण संसिद्धैः अग्नि कल्पैः महात्मभिः ॥ १-५१-२५
सततम् संकुलम् श्रीमत् ब्रह्म कल्पैः महात्मभिः ।
अब् भक्षैः वायु भक्षैः च शीर्ण पर्ण अशनैः तथा ॥ १-५१-२६
फलमूलाशनैर्दान्तैर्जितदोषैर्जितेन्द्रियैः - यद्वा -
फल मूल अशनैः दान्तैः जित दोषैः जित इन्द्रियैः ।
ऋषिभिः वालखिल्यैः च जप होम परायणैः ॥ १-५१-२७
अन्यैः वैखानसैः चैव समंतात् उपशोभितम् ।

22, 23, 24, 2125, 26, 27, 28a. nagaraaNi raaSTraani ca = cities, provinces, also; saritaH tathaa giriin = rivers, like that, mountains; aashramaan ca = hermitages, also; kramashaH = sequentially; vicaran = while moving about; naanaa puSpa lataa drumam = numerous, flowered, climbers, trees - which has; naanaa mR^iga gaNa aakiirNam = very many, animals, herds of, overspread - which is; siddha caaraNa sevitam = by siddha-s, caaranaa-s, adored by; at such a hermitage; deva daanava gandharvaiH kinnaraiH upashobhitam = gods, demons, gandharva-s, kinnaraa-s, [frequented and] embellished with; prashaanta hariNaa aakiirNam = equable, deer, spread out; dvija sangha niSevitam = birds, flights of, adored by; brahma R^iSi gaNa sankiirNam = Brahma, sage's, assemblages, compacted with; deva R^iSi gaNa sevitam = godly, sages, assemblages, adored by; satatam sankulam = always, bustling with; tapaH caraNa sam siddhaiH = asceticism, practising, well, accomplished ones - with them; agni kalpaiH = Ritual-fire, similar; mahaatmabhiH = with great-souled ones; brahma kalpaiH = to Brahma, comparable ones; mahaa atmatmabhiH = with great-souled ones; ab bhakSaiH = water, eaters [some subsisting on] ; vaayu bhakSaiH ca = [some subsist on,] air, eaters, also; shiirNa parNa ashanaiH tathaa = dried, leaves, eaters, likewise [some subsisting on them]; phala muula ashanaiH = fruits, tubers, eaters [some subsisting on]; daantaiH = self-controlled ones; jita doSaiH = overcame, peccabilites; jita indriyaiH = overpowered, senses; R^iSibhiH vaalakhilyaiH ca = with sages, Vaalakhilyaa-s, also; japa homa paraayaNaiH = meditations, oblations in Ritual-fire, who are occupied with; anyaiH vaikhaanasaiH caiva = with others, Vaikhaanasa-s, also thus; sam antaat = well, up to end - whole of perimeter; upashobhitam brightened with; shriimat = magnificent one [to such a hermitage of]; vasiSThasya aashrama padam = Vashishta's, hermitage's, threshold of; raajaa aajagaama ha = king Vishvamitra, arrived, indeed.

"Moving sequentially about the provinces, cities, rivers likewise mountains, king Vishvamitra arrived at the threshold of a hermitage which is with numerous flowered trees and climbers, overspread with very many herds of animals, adored by the celestials like siddha-s and caarana-s, frequented and embellished with gods, demons, gandharva-s, and kinnara-s, spread out with equable deer, adored by flights of birds, compacted with the assemblages of Brahma-sages, and also with the assemblages of godly-sages who are fully accomplished in their asceticism, where the personal resplendence of each of the great-souled sage is similar to each of the Ritual-fire available in each of the Ritual Fire Altar before which he is sitting, and which hermitage is bustling with the activity of great-souled sages who are comparable to Brahma, among whom some subsist on water alone, and some on air alone, likewise some more on dry leaves, while some on fruits, tubers, and with such of those sages and also with particular sages like Vaalakhilyaa-s, also with others like Vaikhaanasa-s, who are all self-controlled, who have overcome their peccabilites, who have overpowered their senses that hermitage is occupied, and while everyone of the inmates is engaged in meditations and oblations into Ritual-fire, and with such sages and their activity whole of the perimeter of that hermitage is brightened and rendered splendid, and king Vishvamitra arrived at such a magnificent hermitage of Sage Vashishta. [1-51-22, 23, 24, 2125, 26, 27, 28a]

Verse Locator

वसिष्ठस्य आश्रम पदम् ब्रह्म लोकम् इव अपरम् ।
ददर्श जयताम् श्रेष्ठ विश्वामित्रो महाबलः ॥ १-५१-२८

28. jayataam shreSTha = among vanquishers, best one; mahaabalaH vishvaamitraH = great-stalwart, Vishvamitra; a param = not, other [not in other world, this worldly]; brahma lokam iva = Brahma's, universe, like; vasiSThasya aashrama padam = Vashishta's, Hermitage's, threshold; dadarsha = has seen.

"And this best one among vanquishers and the great-stalwart Vishvamitra has then seen the hermitage of Vashishta which is like the worldly Universe of Brahma." Thus Sage Shataananda continued his narration. [1-51-28]

Verse Locator

इति वाल्मीकि रामायणे आदि काव्ये बाल काण्डे एक पंचाशः सर्गः

Thus, this is the 51st chapter in Bala Kanda of Valmiki Ramayana, the First Epic poem of India.

Book I : Bala Kanda - The Youthful Majesties

Chapter [Sarga] 52 Verses converted to UTF-8, Oct 09

Introduction

Vashishta offers hospitality to Vishvamitra and his armies. Even though the King Vishvamitra is disinclined to pressurise a hermit with such a burdensome affair of hospitality to hosts, Vashishta entreats the king to accept. Vishvamitra had to oblige the same. Vashishta summons his do-all Divine Sacred Cow, Shabala, also known as Kaamadhenu, requests her to generate heaps of tasteful foodstuffs for a royal banquet as well as for military rations.

Verse Locator

तम् दृष्ट्वा परम प्रीतो विश्वामित्रो महाबलः ।
प्रणतो विनयात् वीरो वसिष्ठम् जपताम् वरम् ॥ १-५२-१

1. mahaabalaH viiraH vishvaamitraH = great-mighty, valorous one, Vishvamitra; japataam varam = [who is] among meditators, the best sage; tam vasiSTham dR^iSTvaa = him, Vashishta, on seeing; parama priitaH = is highly, rejoiced; vinayaat praNataH = obediently, made an obeisance.

On seeing at that best sage among best meditators Sage Vashishta, the great-mighty and valorous Vishvamitra is highly rejoiced and obediently made an obeisance to the sage. [1-52-1]

Verse Locator

स्वागतम् तव च इति उक्तो वसिष्ठेन महात्मना ।
आसनम् च अस्य भगवान् वसिष्ठो व्यादिदेश ह ॥ १-५२-२

2. tava svaagatam = to thee, welcome; iti mahaa aatmanaa vasiSThena uktaH = thus, by great-souled, Vashishta, is spoken to [Vishvamitra]; bhagavaan vasiSThaH = godly, Vashishta; asya aasanam ca vyaadidesha ha = to him [to Vishvamitra,] seat, also, ordering [showing,] indeed.

The great-souled Vashishta spoke, "you are welcome," and that godly sage has indeed shown a high seat to Vishvamitra. [1-52-2]

Verse Locator

उपविष्टाय च तदा विश्वामित्राय धीमते ।
यथा न्यायम् मुनि वरः फल मूलम् उपाहरत् ॥ १-५२-३

3. tadaa = then; muni varaH = saint, eminent; upaviSTaaya dhiimate vishvaamitraaya = to one who is sitting, courageous one, to Vishvamitra; yathaa nyaayam = according, to custom; phala muulam upaaharat = fruits, tubers, submitted - offered.

The eminent saint Vashishta then customarily offered fruits and tuber to the courageous Vishvamitra who by now has assumed a seat. [1-52-3]

प्रतिगृह्य तु ताम् पूजाम् वसिष्ठात् राज सत्तमः ।
तपो अग्नि होत्र शिष्येषु कुशलम् पर्यपृच्छत ॥ १-५२-४
विश्वामित्रो महातेजा वनस्पति गणे तथा ।
सर्वत्र कुशलम् च आह वसिष्ठो राज सत्तमम् ॥ १-५२-५

4. raaja sattamaH = king, unsurpassed; mahaatejaa = great-resplendent one; vishvaamitraH = Vishvamitra; vasiSThaat = from Vashishta; taam puujaam pratigR^ihya = that, deference, on receiving; tapaH agni hotra shiSyasu = concerning asceticism, fire, rituals, disciples; tathaa = likewise; vanaspati gaNe = regarding trees, clumps of - of flora and implied fauna of hermitage; kushalam = well being; paryapR^icChata = in turn asked after; vasiSThaH = Vashishta; sarvatra kushalam ca = all round, well-being, also; raaja sattamam aaha = to king, the matchless, said - reported.

On receiving that deference from Vashishta, then that unsurpassed king Vishvamitra asked after the well-being of the asceticism, Fire-rituals and disciples and their progress in that hermitage, and that great-resplendent Vishvamitra has also asked after the well being of flora and fauna of the hermitage, and Vashishta reported to the matchless king about the all round well-being of every activity. [1-52-4, 5]

Verse Locator

सुख उपविष्टम् राजानम् विश्वामित्रम् महातपाः ।
पप्रच्छ जपताम् श्रेष्ठो वसिष्ठो ब्रह्मणः सुतः ॥ १-५२-६

6. japataam shreSThaH = among meditators, supreme one; mahaatapaaH = great-ascetic; brahmaNaH sutaH vasiSThaH = Brahma's, son [brainchild,] Vashishta; sukha upaviSTam = at ease, on sitting; raajaanam vishvaamitram = to king, Vishvamitra; paprachCha = asked.

Vashishta the supreme one among meditators, a great-ascetic, and the brainchild of Brahma has then asked Vishvamitra who is sitting at ease. [1-52-6]

Verse Locator

कच्चित् ते कुशलम् राजन् कच्चित् धर्मेण रंजयन् ।
प्रजाः पालयसे राजन् राज वृत्तेन धार्मिक ॥ १-५२-७

7. raajan = oh, king; te kushalam kaccit = to you, well-being, I hope - All is well!; raajan = oh, king; dhaarmikaH = as a righteous one; prajaaH dharmeNa ranjayan = people, righteously, while satisfying to their contentment; raaja vR^ittena = by kingly, righteousness; paalayase kaccit = are you ruling, hopefully.

" 'I hope that you are fine! And oh, righteous king, hope that you are ruling people righteously with kingly righteousness to their contentment. [1-52-7]

The kingly righteousness is one component among the four primary concerns of the kingcraft as said at: nyaayena aarjanam arthasya varthanam paalanam tathaa | sat paatre pratipattiH ca raaja vR^ittam catur vidham | 'monies are to be earned righteously, they are to be enriched righteously, and safeguarded righteously, and they are to be endowed to righteous deeds or persons, for welfare of the state, righteously..'

Verse Locator

कच्चित् ते सुभृता भृत्याः कच्चित् तिष्ठन्ति शासने ।
कच्चित् ते विजिताः सर्वे रिपवो रिपु सूदन ॥ १-५२-८

8. te bhR^ityaaH = your, servants; su bhR^itaa kaccit = well-served - are they looked after well, I hope; shaasane tiSThanti kaccit = byrulership, abiding, I hope; ripu suudana = oh, adversary, vanquisher of; te ripavaH = your, enemies; sarve = all of them; vi jitaH = surely, vanquished; kaccit = I hope.

" 'I hope your servants are looked after well, hope all of them are abiding by the rulership, oh, vanquisher of adversaries, I hope that you have surely vanquished all of your adversaries. [1-52-8]

Verse Locator

कच्चित् बले च कोशे च मित्रेषु च परंतप ।
कुशलम् ते नर व्याघ्र पुत्र पौत्रे तथा अनघ ॥ १-५२-९

9. parantapa = oh, enemy-inflamer; anagha = oh, impeccable one; nara vyaaghra = oh, man, tigerly; bale ca koshe ca mitreSu ca = in forces, and, in exchequer, and, among friends [confederates,] also; tathaa = likewise; te putra pautre = your, in sons, in grandsons; kushalam kaccit = well-being, I hope.

" 'For you are an impeccable one and an emery-inflamer, oh, tigerly-man, I hope that your forces, exchequer and confederates are fine, and all is well with your sons and grandsons." Thus Vashishta asked the well-being of Vishvamitra. [1-52-9]

Verse Locator

सर्वत्र कुशलम् राजा वसिष्ठम् प्रत्युदाहरत् ।
विश्वामित्रो महातेजा वसिष्ठम् विनय अन्वितम् ॥ १-५२-१०

10. mahaatejaa raajaa vishvaamitra = great-resplendent, king, Vishvamitra; vasiSTham vinaya anvitam = to Vashishta, respect, having - respectfully; sarvatra kushalam = everywhere, fineness - everything is fine; vasiSTham = to Vashishta; prati udaaharat, in turn [in reply,] exemplified - replied.

"The great-resplendent king Vishvamitra respectfully replied Sage Vashishta saying, 'everything is fine.' [1-52-10]

Verse Locator

कृत्वा तौ सुचिरम् कालम् धर्मिष्ठौ ताः कथाः तदा ।
मुदा परमया युक्तौ प्रीयेताम् तौ परस्परम् ॥ १-५२-११

11. dharma iSThau = conscientious celebrities of; tau [ubhau] = both of them; paramayaa mudaa yuktau = heightened, rejoice, along with; su ciram kaalam = for a very, long, time; taaH kathaaH = those, stories [pleasantries]; tadaa kR^itvaa = thus, on making [exchanging]; tau = those two; parasparam - paraH aparam = one, another; priiyetaam = gladdened.

"Both of those celebrities of conscientious then exchanged pleasantries for a long time with their rejoice heightening and gladdening one another. [1-52-11]

Verse Locator

ततो वसिष्ठो भगवान् कथा अन्ते रघुनन्दन ।
विश्वामित्रम् इदम् वाक्यम् उवाच प्रहसन् इव ॥ १-५२-१२

12. raghunandana = oh, legatee of Raghu - Rama; tataH = then; bhagavaan vasiSThaH = godly sage, Vashishta; kathaa ante = story, at end [of discussions]; prahasan iva = smilingly, like; vishvaamitram idam vaakyam uvaaca = to Vishvamitra, this, sentence, spoke.

"Then at the end of discussions, oh, Rama the legatee of Raghu, that godly Sage Vashishta smilingly spoke this sentence to Vishvamitra. [1-52-12]

Verse Locator

आतिथ्यम् कर्तुम् इच्छामि बलस्य अस्य महाबल ।
तव च एव अप्रमेयस्य यथा अर्हम् संप्रतीच्छ मे ॥ १-५२-१३

13. mahaabalaH = oh, great-forceful one - Vishvamitra; asya balasya = to this, military force; a prameyasya = without, a match [matchless one]; tava ca eva = to you, also, as well; yathaa arham = as, befitting - to your status; aatithyam kartum icChaami = guestship, to do [to offer,] I wish to[me = from me; sampratiicCha [sam prati icCha = well, in turn, you accede] = kindly accede to it.

" 'I wish to offer guestship befitting to your status, oh, great-forceful king Vishvamitra, to a matchless one like you and to this military force of yours, kindly accept it from me. [1-52-13]

Verse Locator

सत्क्रियाम् तु भवान् एताम् प्रतीच्छतु मया कृताम् ।
राजन् त्वम् अतिथि श्रेष्ठः पूजनीयः प्रयत्नतः ॥ १-५२-१४

14. bhavaan = you; mayaa kR^itaam = by me, done [offered]; etaam sat kriyaam tu = all these, good, works [hospitalities,] on their part; pratiicChatu = kindly take - accept; raajan = oh, king; tvam = you are; prayatnataH puujaniiaH = one to be revered, effortfully; atithi shreSThaH = guest, important.

" 'You may kindly accept all these hospitalities offered by me, oh king, for you are an important guest you ought to be revered effortfully.' So said Vashishta to Vishvamitra. [1-52-14]

'It is quiet meaningless on the part of this sage, subsisting on wild fruits and tubers, to offer a royal banquet or rations to military and feed to horses and elephants' - is the thinking of King Vishvamitra. For that, the sage is saying that a king is to be revered 'effortfully...' But, Vishvamitra is reluctantly evading the so-called hospitality for 'royals' and 'armies' from a poor hermit.

Verse Locator

एवम् उक्तो वसिष्ठेन विश्वामित्रो महामतिः ।
कृतम् इति अब्रवीत् राजा पूजा वाक्येन मे त्वया ॥ १-५२-१५

15. vasiSThena evam uktaH = by Vashishta, thus, said - to the sage; mahaamatiH raajaa vishvaamitraH = highly intellectual, king, Vishvamitra; tvayaa = by you; puujaa vaakyena = with [just by] reverential, words; me = to me; kR^itam = done[hospitality is deemed to have been offered - and nothing more is required; iti abraviit = thus, said.

"When sage Vashishta said in this way, that highly-intellectual king Vishvamitra said to him, 'hospitality is deemed to have been offered to me with your reverential words, it is enough and nothing more is necessary.' [1-52-15]

Verse Locator

फल मूलेन भगवन् विद्यते यत् तव आश्रमे ।
पाद्येन आचमनीयेन भगवद् दर्शनेन च ॥ १-५२-१६
सर्वथा च महाप्राज्ञ पूजा अर्हेण सुपूजितः ।
नमस्ते अस्तु गमिष्यामि मैत्रेण ईक्षस्व चक्षुषा ॥ १-५२-१७

16. bhagavan = oh, godly sage; yat tava aashrame vidyate = what, in your, hermitage, obtains; with such; phala muulena = with fruits, tubers; paadyena aacamaniyyena = by water for feet-wash, by water for wetting mouth; bhagavat darshanena ca = godlike [you,] by [the very] visualisation, also; puujaa arheNa = [by you who are] for reverence, worthy; su puujitaH = [I am] well, revered; mahaa praa~naH = oh, highly, noetic sage; gamiSyaami = I wish to go; te namaH astu = to you, obeisance, let there be [le it be accepted]; sarvathaa = always; maitreNa cakSuSaa iikSasva = with a friendly, eye [regard,] you look upon [us.]

"I am entertained with whatever item that obtains in your hermitage, say fruits, tubers and water for feet-wash and to wet mouth. Why those petty items, I regaled just by seeing you, a godly sage like. Oh, highly noetic sage, by yourself you are a sage worthy to be revered by one and all, such as you are you alone have revered me. Now I wish to take leave, please accept my obeisance to you, and please look upon us with a friendly regard. [1-52-16, 17]

The reverential salutation namas te astu is discussed in the endnote.

Verse Locator

एवम् ब्रुवन्तम् राजानम् वसिष्ठः पुनः एव हि ।

न्यमंत्रयत धर्मात्मा पुनः पुनः उदार धीः ॥ १-५२-१८

18. evam bruvantam raajaanam = in this way, [obliquely] speaking, to king; dharmaatmaa = virtue-souled one; udaara dhiiH = benevolent, minded [magnanimous sage]; vasiSThaH = Vashishta; punaH eva hi = again, thus, indeed; punaH punaH = again, again [repeatedly]; nyamantrayata = entreated.

Even if the king was speaking in this way obliquely to him, that virtue-souled and magnanimous sage Vashishta entreated the king repeatedly. [1-52-18]

Verse Locator

बाढम् इति एव गाधेयो वसिष्ठम् प्रत्युवाच ह ।

यथा प्रियम् भगवतः तथा अस्तु मुनि सत्तम ॥ १-५२-१९

19. gaadheyaH = Gaadhi's son - Vishvamitra; vasiSTham = to Vashishta; said this; muni sattama = oh, saint, eminent; baadDham = Agreed!; bhagavataH yathaa priyam = to godlike you, as to how, it will be pleasing; tathaa astu = so, be it; iti prati uvaaca ha = thus, in turn, spoke [replied,] indeed.

"Gaadhi's son Vishvamitra then replied the eminent saint Vashishta, "Agreed! As it pleases the godly sage. So be it!" [1-52-19]

Verse Locator

एवम् उक्तः तथा तेन वसिष्ठो जपताम् वरः ।

आजुहाव ततः प्रीतः कल्माषीम् धूत कल्मषः ॥ १-५२-२०

20. tathaa tena evam uktaH = thus, that way, by him [Vishvamitra,] who is said; japataam varaH = among meditators, the best; dhuuta kalmaSaH = one who is laved, of blemishes; vasiSThaH = Vashishta; priitaH = is gladdened; tataH = then; kalmaaSiim = speckled cow [namely Shabala]; aa juhaava = to come, called - started calling.

"When Vishvamitra said that way then Vashishta, the best one among meditators, and one whose blemishes are laved is gladdened, and started calling his speckled cow, namely Shabala, yclept Kaamadhenу. [1-52-20]

Verse Locator

एहि एहि शबले क्षिप्रम् शृणु च अपि वचो मम ।

सबलस्य अस्य राजर्षेः कर्तुम् व्यवसितो अस्मि अहम् ।

भोजनेन महा अर्हेण सत्कारम् संविधत्स्व मे ॥ १-५२-२१

21. shabale = oh, amazingly coloured [cow Shabala]; kSipram ehi ehi = quickly, come, come; mama vacaH shR^iNu ca api = my, word, listen, also, even; aham = I; mahaa arheNa bhojanena = with highly, delectable, feast [with a royal banquet]; sa balasya asya raajarSeH = together with, [all] forces, his, to kingly-sage; satkaaram kartum vyavasitaH asmi = hospitality, to do [to accord,] prepared, I am; me samvidhatsva = for me, you arrange for it.

" 'Come on, oh, Shabala! Come quickly and listen to my words. I prepared to accord hospitality with a highly delectable royal banquet to this kingly sage together with all his forces. You arrange it for me. [1-52-21]

Verse Locator

यस्य यस्य यथा कामम् षड् रसेषु अभिपूजितम् ।
तत् सर्वम् काम धुक् दिव्ये अभिवर्ष कृते मम ॥ १-५२-२२

22. divye kaama dhuk = oh, divine, desires, milker [cow]; yasya yasya = whose, whose; [yadyad = yat yat = what, what - whatever]; abhipuujitam = cherished - savoured; SaD raseSu = from among - six, savours; tat sarvam = that, in entirety p- plentifully; yathaa kaamam = as, [he] wishes [as per his piquancy]; kR^ite mama = owing to, me - for my sake; abhivarSa = now shower.

"Oh, Kaamadhenу, the Divine Cow, the Milker of All-Desires, for my sake you shower whatsoever foodstuff is savoured by whosoever according to one's own piquancy from each of the six savour, that too plentifully. [1-52-22]

The six tastes that shall comprise an Indian meal are: 1] caustic, 2] acidic, 3] sweetish, 4] salty, 5] unsweetish [bitter,] and 6] alkaline.

Verse Locator

रसेन अन्नेन पानेन लेह्य चोष्येण संयुतम् ।
अन्नानाम् निचयम् सर्वम् सृजस्व शबले त्वर ॥ १-५२-२३

23. shabale = oh, Shabala; rasena annena paanena = with savourily, masticable, drinkables; lehya = [with dishes that can be] licked; coSyena = [that can be] sucked; samyutam = comprised of; sarvam anaanaam nicayam = every kind of, foodstuffs, heaps of; sR^ijasva = you create; tvара = be quick.

" 'Oh, Shabala, you create heaps of savourily foodstuffs comprised of masticable items like crunchy foods, drinkable items like soft-drinks, tasteable items like honey-like viscous dishes, squeezable items like pulpy fruits, and be quick.' " So said Sage Vashishta to that Sacred Cow, Kaamadhenу, and Vishvamitra continued his narration. [1-52-23] namaste... namaskaar... I greet you...

The reverential greeting namaste is from the root nam 'bend down a little...' before upper echelons and the word namas is usually translated a 'salutation by bending a little...' and namas kaara is the act of doing so. This word namaH= na aham is 'not me...' te astu but 'you, it shall be...' rather, 'I have lost my 'I-ness' before you as I am humbling myself to your high knowledge or, high seat, or elder age...' and let your 'your-ness' prevail over me, for I am somewhat an inferior being before you...' is the latent meaning.

This is either vocalised or coupled with the gesture of adjoining palms, and that mudra 'gesture...' is called an~jali or as a Latinian friend of ours has provided its Latin counterpart as:

The infinitive is iungere manus ante pectus 'to join hands in front of your chest...' or merely iungere manus 'to join hands...' We can say iungimus manus ante pectus 'we join or fold our hands in front of us...' iungo manus ante pectus 'I fold my hands...' iungite manus ante pectus 'fold your hands in front of you...' This last sentence is the - you, plural - is in command form. Again, you may leave out ante pectus for succinctness.

And if the word iun with a half 'n' nasal is matched with Sanskrit a~n in an~jali and the word ngo is matched with Sanskrit ~nja as the English 'g' is most often used for Sanskrit 'ja' by Max Muller et al., the two an~jali of Sanskrit and iungo Latin have same pronunciation and portent in prayer or traditional salutation.

iti vaalmiiki raamaayaNe aadi kaavye baala kaaNDe dvi paMcaashaH sargaH

Thus, this is the 52nd chapter in Bala Kanda of Valmiki Ramayana, the First Epic poem of India.

Book I : Bala Kanda - The Youthful Majesties

Chapter [Sarga] 53 Verses converted to UTF-8, Oct 09

Introduction

Vishvamisra tries to gain Kaamadhenu, but Sage Vashishta persistently refuses Vishvamisra's bargains and barter. 'When an ordinary cow alone is held sacred and it is an unmarketable commodity, how then can Shabala, a milker of any wish, be given away or bartered for other riches...' is the argument of Vashishta. Yet, Vishvamisra goes on his bidding, but in vain.

Verse Locator

एवम् उक्ता वसिष्ठेन शबला शत्रु सूदन ।

विदधे कामधुक् कामान् यस्य यस्य ईप्सितम् यथा ॥ १-५३-१

1. shatru suudana = oh, enemy-chastener, Rama; vasiSThena evam uktaa = by Vashishta, this way, [she who is] spoken to; kaamadhuk = desire, milker; shabalaa = cow with amazing coloured skin - Shabala; yasya yasya yathaa iipsitam = whose, whose, as to how, fancied; all those; kaamaan = fancies; of foodstuffs; vidadhe = bestowed.

"Oh, enemy-chastener Rama, when the Divine Cow Shabala is spoken in this way by Sage Vashishta, then that milker bestowed each and every fancy, fancied by each and every fancier, according to one's own fancy." Thus Sage Shataananda continued the legend of Shabala or Kaamadhenu, as a part of the legend of Vishvamisra to Rama and others. [1-53-1]

Verse Locator

इक्षून् मधून् तथा लाजान् मैरेयान् च वर आसवान् ।

पानानि च महाअर्हाणि भक्ष्यान् च उच्च अवचान् तथा ॥ १-५३-२

2. ikSuun madhuun tathaa laajaan = sugar-cane [and its dishes,] honey [and its dishes,] like that, cornflakes, [rice-flakes etc.,]; vara aasavaan [aasanaan] = best, liquors [or, with best wineglasses]; maireyaan ca = arracks [Arabic 'arak 'sweat', 'arak al-tamr 'alcoholic spirit from dates in Arabia, and from sugar-cane and rice in India,] also; mahaa arhaaNi paanaani ca = highly [very,] apposite to [royalties and army-men,] drinks, further; tathaa = like that; ucca avacaan = verily, diverse; bhakSyaaN ca = foodstuffs, also; [shabala vidadhe = Shabala, bestowed.]

Shabala bestowed dishes of sugar cane and honey, and flakes of all sorts, like cornflakes, rice-flakes, also best arracks and liquors in best wineglasses, further, the drinks and foodstuffs that are very diverse and verily apposite to royalties and army-men. [1-53-2]

Verse Locator

उष्ण आढ्यस्य ओदनस्य अपि राशयः पर्वतोपमाः ।

मृष्ट अन्नानि च सूपाः च दधि कुल्याः तथैव च ॥ १-५३-३

नाना स्वादु रसानाम् च खाण्डवनाम् - षाडबानाम् - तथैव च ।

भाजनानि - भोजनानि - सुपूर्णानि गौडानि च सहस्रशः ॥ १-५३-४

3. [atra = there]; uSNa aaDhyasya odanasya api = heat, rich in [steamy,] foods, even; parvata upamaaH raashayaH = mountain, similar, stacks - have come up; mR^iSTa annaani ca = palatable, foodstuffs [side dishes, desserts of rice,] also; suupaaH ca = cooked pulse's dumplings, also; tathaiva = like that; dadhi kulyaaH ca = curds, cascades of, also; naanaa svaadu rasaanaam ca = varied, daintily, soft-drinks, also; khaaNDavanaam = sugar-candies, [or, SaaDabaanaam = juices with six kinds of tastes]; tathaiva ca = like that, also; su puurNaani = fully, replete with; bhaajanaani = dishes, [silver hollowware; or, bhojanaani = delectable foodstuffs;] gauDaani ca = [foodstuffs made from the] treacly dumplings of cane sugar, also; sahasrashaH = in thousands; in no time they have come up.

There emerged mountainous stacks of steamy foodstuffs, palatable side-dishes and desserts of rice etc., also the dumplings of cooked pulses, like that the cascades of curds and the other milk products likes butter, ghee, cheese etc. Thousands of silver dishes and hollowware fully replete with daintily soft drinks, like that full with sugar-candy preparations, and with preparations that comprise all the six tastes have come up together with delectable foodstuffs made out of treacly dumplings of cane sugar. [1-53-3, 4]

Verse Locator

सर्वम् आसीत् सुसंतुष्टम् हृष्ट पुष्ट जन आयुतम् ।
विश्वामित्र बलम् राम वसिष्ठेन सुतर्पितम् ॥ १-५३-५

5. raama = oh, Rama; vishvaamitra balam = Vishvamitra's, forces; sarvam eva = all, like that; vasiSThena su tarpitam = by Vashishta, well, feasted; su santuSTam = well, gladdened; hR^iSTa puSTa jana aayutam aasiit = rejoiced, regaled, men, consisting, it became.

"Oh, Rama, all of the men in the forces of Vishvamitra, who are already rejoiced and regaled by the regular feasts accorded by their king Vishvamitra, are now comparatively well gladdened when feasted by Sage Vashishta, in which they rejoiced and regaled, for a good measure. [1-53-5]

Verse Locator

विश्वामित्रो अपि राजर्षिः हृष्ट पुष्टः तदा अभवत् ।
स अन्तः पुर वरो राजा स ब्राह्मण पुरोहितः ॥ १-५३-६

6. tadaa = then; sa antaH pura varaH = with, palace, chamber's, best inmates [royal ladies]; sa braahmaNa purohitaH = with, court-scholars, royal-priests; raajarSiH = kingly sage; vishvaamitraH raajaa api = Vishvamitra, king, even; hR^iSTa puSTaH abhavat = exultant, energetic, became.

"Partaking that feast together with the best royal ladies of palace chambers, and with the court-scholars and the court-priests even the king Vishvamitra, who by his nature is a kingly sage, became exultant and energetic. [1-53-6]

Verse Locator

स अमात्यो मंत्रि सहितः स भृत्यः पूजितः तदा ।
युक्तः परम हर्षेण वसिष्ठम् इदम् अब्रवीत् ॥ १-५३-७

7. tadaa = then; puujitaH = one who is honoured - Vishvamitra by Vashishta; sa amaatyaaH mantri sahitaH = with, advisers, minister, along with; sa bhR^ityaaH = with, attendants - Vishvamitra; parama harSeNa yuktaH = high, admiration, along with; vasiSTham idam abraviit = to Vashishta, this, spoke.

"When honoured along with his advisers, ministers and attendants by way of receiving a royal banquet, king Vishvamitra then in high admiration spoke this to Vashishta. [1-53-7]

Verse Locator

पूजितो अहम् त्वया ब्रह्मन् पूज अर्हेण सुसत्कृतः ।
श्रूयताम् अभिधास्यामि वाक्यम् वाक्य विशारद ॥ १-५३-८

8. brahman = oh, Brahman; puuja arheNa = for esteem, meetly [sage of your like]; tvayaa = by you; aham puujitaH = I am, revered [esteemed]; su sat kR^itaH = well, good, done [shown generous hospitality]; vaakya vishaarada = oh, sentence, expert of; vaakyam abhidhaasyaami = [a] word, I wish to tell - I say for myself; shruuyataam = that may be listened.

" 'You showed me a generous hospitality whereby I am esteemed by an estimable sage like you, oh, expert in sententiousness, now I wish to say for myself to which you may please listen. [1-53-8]

Verse Locator

गवाम् शत सहस्रेण दीयताम् शबला मम ।
रत्नम् हि भगवन् एतत् रत्न हारी च पार्थिवः ॥ १-५३-९
तस्मात् मे शबलाम् देहि मम एषा धर्मतो द्विज ।

9, 10a. bhagavan = oh, godly sage; gavaam shata sahasreNa = cows, by [barter of] hundred, thousands; mama shabalaa diiyataam = to me, Shabala [do-all cow,] may be given; etat = this [cow]; ratnam hi = gemstone [treasure,] indeed; paarthivaH ratna haarii ca = king, gemstones [treasures,] stealer [gatherer]; dvija = oh, Brahman; tasmaat = therefore; shabalaam me dehi = Shabala, to me, be bestowed; eSaa dharmataH mama = this [cow,] as a rule, mine - belongs to me.

" 'Oh, godly sage, this Shabala may be given to me for a barter of a lakh, a hundred thousand, cows. Indeed this do-all cow is a treasure, and the kings are the gatherers of treasures. Therefore bestow this cow to me. As rule this cow also belongs to me.' Thus Vishvamitra said to Vashishta. [1-53-9, 10a]

Verse Locator

एवम् उक्तः तु भगवान् वसिष्ठो मुनि सत्तमः ॥ १-५३-१०
विश्वामित्रेण धर्मात्मा प्रत्युवाच महीपतिम् ।

10b, 11a. vishvaamitreNa = by Vishvamitra; evam uktaH tu = that way, who is spoken to - Vashishta, on his part; bhagavaan muni sattamaH dharmaatmaa = reverential one, saint, the eminent, virtue-souled one; vasiSThaH = Vashishta; mahiipatim prati uvaaca = to the king, in turn, spoke - replied.

"When Vishvamitra addressed him in that way, the reverential sage Vashishta, who is a virtue-souled eminent saint, on his part replied the king in this way. [1-53-10b, 11a]

Verse Locator

न अहम् शत सहस्रेण न अपि कोटि शतैः गवाम् ॥ १-५३-११
राजन् दास्यामि शबलाम् राशिभी रजतस्य वा ।

11b, 12a. raajan = oh, king; aham = I; gavaam shata sahasreNa = cows, by hundred, thousand; shabalaam na daasyaami = Shabala, not, I will afford; koTi shataiH api = by millions, hundreds of [of cows,] even; na = I do not give; rajatasya raashibhiH = of silver, lots; vaa = either - I do not give.

" 'I cannot afford Shabala, neither by the barter of a hundred thousand cows, nor by hundreds of millions of cows, nor by lots and lots of silver, either. [1-53-11b, 12a]

Verse Locator

न परित्यागम् अर्हा इयम् मत् सकाशात् अरिन्दम ॥ १-५३-१२

शाश्वती शबला मह्यम् कीर्तिर् आत्मवतो यथा ।

12b, 13a. arindama = oh, enemy-subjugator; iyam = this - cow; mat sakaashaat = from my, proximity; parityaagam = for abandoning; na arhaa = not, she is proper one; aatmavataH = to self-respectful ones; kiirtiH yathaa = respectability, as with; shabalaa mahyam shaashvatii = Shabala is, for me, everlasting [inseparable.]

" 'Abandoning her from my proximity is unmeet for her, oh, enemy-subjugator, you cannot even subjugate me terroristically and try to wean this cow away from me, as Shabala is everlastingly and inseparably mine, as with the everlasting and inseparable respectability of a self-respectful person. [1-53-12b, 13a]

Verse Locator

अस्याम् हव्यम् च कव्यम् च प्राण यात्रा तथैव च ॥ १-५३-१३

आयत्तम् अग्नि होत्रम् च बलिः होमः तथैव च ।

13b, 14a. havyam ca = oblations [for gods,] also; kavyam ca = oblations [for manes,] also; tathaiva ca = like that, also; praaNa yaatraa = [my] life's, journey - cow which makes the journey of my life possible; agni hotram ca = for Ritual-fire, enkindler of, also; baliH = sacrifices - which accords material for sacrifices; tathaiva ca = like that, also; homaH = conducting sacred rituals of = "#B3003A"> homa-s [Oxford: hom, n. (also = "#B3003A"> homa) 1 the soma plant, 2 the juice of this plant as a sacred drink of the Parsees, [Persian = "#B3003A"> hom, hum, Avestan = "#B3003A"> haoma]; asyaam aayattam = in her [in cow,] take basis - dependant on her.

"This cow makes the journey of my life possible. Oblations to gods or manes, enkindling of Ritual-fire, religious sacrifices, homa-s, the sacred rituals conducted as darsha, paurNa maasi, all are dependent on her. [1-53-13b, 14a]

Verse Locator

स्वाहा कार वषट् कारौ विद्याः च विविधाः तथा ॥ १-५३-१४

आयत्तम् अत्र राज ऋषे सर्वम् एतन् न संशयः ।

14b, 15a. raaja R^iSe = oh, kingly, sage; svaahaa kaara vaSaT kaarau = swaahaa, syllabified utterances, vaSaT, add-on syllabics; tathaa = thus; vi vidhaaH vidyaaH ca = divers and numerous, indoctrinations, also; etat sarvam = everything, in entirety; atra = in this matter [of cow]; aayattam = dependent on; samshayaH na = doubt, is not there.

"This cow is the bedrock for everything in its entirety, and regarding diverse and numerous indoctrinations, and even for add-on syllabics like svaaha, vaSaT, they are all dependent on this cow, there is no doubt about it. [1-53-14b 15a]

When the Fire-Ritual, or homa is conducted each pouring of fluid oblation or each dropping of solid oblation into Fire-Altar is associated with Vedic-hymns addressing the particular receiver-deity, annexed with syllabics like: svaahaa, svaahaa kaaraaH at the end of each chant like indraaya svaahaa, indraaya idam na mama... varuNaaya svaahaa, varuNaaya idam na mama... 'to Indra this is scarified, this is for Indra, not mine... to Rain-god this is sacrificed, this is for Rain-god, not mine...' So also the vaSaT is annexed to the hymns addressed to manes. To learn Veda-s one shall be eligible to perform a Fire-ritual, and if Fire-ritual is performed, some basic Vedic hymns are to be learnt, and all this is a cyclic affair, requiring much paraphernalia. This cow supplies everything at wish, without a hassle, either to the teacher or to the taught.

Verse Locator

सर्वस्वम् एतत् सत्येन मम तुष्टिं करी तथा ॥ १-५३-१५

कारणैः बहुभी राजन् न दास्ये शबलाम् तव ।

15b, 16a. etat = this one - cow; satyena mama sarvasvam = in truth, to me, everything; [sadaa = always]; tuSTi kari = gratification, doer [ever-gratifier]; raajan = oh, king; tathaa = in that way; bahubhii kaaraNaiH = by so many, reasons; shabalaam tava na daasye = Shabala, to you, not, I afford.

" "In truth, this cow is everything to me and ever-gratifier, that way by so many reasons, oh, king, I cannot afford Shabala to you or to anyone." So said Vashishta to Vishvamitra. [1-53-15b, 16a]

Verse Locator

वसिष्ठेन एवम् उक्तः तु विश्वामित्रो अब्रवीत् तदा ॥ १-५३-१६
संरब्धतरम् अत्यर्थम् वाक्यम् वाक्य विशारदः ।

16b, 17a. vaakya vishaaradaH vishvaamitraH = sententiousness, expert, Vishvamitra; vasiSThena evam uktaH = by Vashishta, thus, [though] spoken; tadaa = then; ati artham = verily, reasoning [argumentatively]; sam rabdha taram = with, hastiness, muchly [compellingly]; [idam] vaakyam abraviit = [this] sentence, spoke.

Though Vashishta spoke thus Vishvamitra being an expert in sententiousness then spoke this sentence compellingly and argumentatively. [1-53-16b, 17a]

Verse Locator

हैरण्य कक्ष्या ग्रैवेयान् सुवर्ण अंकुश भूषितान् ॥ १-५३-१७
ददामि कुंजराणाम् ते सहस्राणि चतुर् दश ।

17b, 18b. hairaNya kakSyaa graiveyaan = golden, girdles, necklets; suvarNa ankusha bhuuSitaan = golden, goad, adorned with; kunjaraaNam = such elephants; catur dasha sahasraaNi = four, ten, thousands - fourteen thousand; te dadaami = I bestow, upon you.

" 'I bestow upon you fourteen thousand elephants adorned with golden girdles, golden necklets and golden goads. [1-53-17b, 18a]

Verse Locator

हैरण्यानाम् रथानाम् च श्वेत अश्वानाम् चतुर् युजाम् ॥ १-५३-१८
ददामि ते शतानि अष्टौ किन्किणीक विभूषितान् ।

18b, 19a. shveta ashvaanaam catur yujaam = with very white, horses, four, to yoke on; hairaNyaanaam rathaanaam ca = golden, chariots, also; kinkiNiika vibhuuSitaan = set of tintinnabulating bells, trimmed up with; aSTau shataani = eight, hundred; te dadaami = to you, I will give.

" 'I will grant you eight hundred golden chariots whichever can be yoked on with four whitely-white horses trimmed up with the sets of tintinnabulating bells. [1-53-18b, 19a]

Verse Locator

हयानाम् देश जातानाम् कुल जानाम् महौजसाम् ।
सहस्रम् एकम् दश च ददामि तव सुव्रत ॥ १-५३-१९

19b, c. su vrata = on superbly, vowed sage; desha jaataanaam = in countries, born in [famous countries for best horse breeding]; kula jaanaam = of [high] pedigree, born in; mahaa ojasaam = with great [fleetly,] animation [galloping]; hayaanaam = horses; ekam dasha ca = one, ten, also - eleven; sahasram = a thousand - eleven thousand horses; tava dadaami = to you, I grant.

" 'I grant you, oh, superbly vowed sage, eleven thousand fleetly galloping horses of high pedigree born in best countries of best horse breeding. [1-53-19b, c]

नाना वर्ण विभक्तानाम् वयःस्थानाम् तथैव च ।
ददामि एकाम् गवाम् कोटिम् शबला दीयताम् मम ॥ १-५३-२०

20. naanaa varNa vi bhaktaanaam = diverse, colours, verily [differently,] divisionalized; tathaiva ca = like that, also; vayaH sthaanaam = in age, staying [come of age]; gavaam = of cows; ekaam koTim = one, crore [ten millions]; dadaami = I award; mama shabalaa diiyataam = to me, Shabala, may be given.

" 'I award ten million diversely coloured and differently divisionalized cows, whichever of them will be came of age as milker, thereby, let this do-all cow Shabala be given to me. [1-53-20]

Verse Locator

यावत् इच्छसि रत्नानि हिरण्यम् वा द्विजोत्तम ।
तावत् ददामि ते सर्वम् दीयताम् शबला मम ॥ १-५३-२१

21. dvija uttama = oh, Brahman, the eminent; ratnaani vaa hiraNyam vaa = gemstones, either, gold, or; yaavat icChasi = how much, you yearn; [tat] sarvam = [all,] everything; taavat = that much; te dadaami = I gift; shabalaa mama diiyataam = Shabala, to me, be given.

" 'Or, oh, eminent Brahman, if you yearn either for gems or gold, I gift that much of everything as much as you can yearn, let Shabala be given to me." Thus Vishvamitra entreated again. [1-53-21]

Verse Locator

एवम् उक्तः तु भगवान् विश्वामित्रेण धीमता ।
न दास्यामि इति शबलाम् प्राह राजन् कथंचन ॥ १-५३-२२

22. dhiimataa vishvaamitreNa evam uktaH = by shrewd [king,] Vishvamitra, thus, who is spoken; bhagavaan = reverential sage Vashishta; raajan = oh, king; kathamcana = whatever - may happen; shabalaam na daasyaami = Shabala, not, I surrender; iti pra aha = thus, clearly, said.

When the shrewd king Vishvamitra spoke to the reverential sage Vashishta, that sage has clearly said, 'whatever it is oh, king, I do not surrender Shabala, the cow.' [1-53-22]

Verse Locator

एतदेव हि मे रत्नम् एतदेव हि मे धनम् ।
एतदेव हि सर्वस्वम् एतदेव हि जीवितम् ॥ १-५३-२३

23. etat eva = this, alone; me ratnam hi = for me, gem, indeed; etat eva hi me dhanam = this, alone, truly, for me, wealth [treasure]; etat eva sarvasvam hi = this, alone, for me, everything, really,; etat eva jiivitam hi = this, alone, life [alter ego,] actually.

" 'Really this alone is my gemmy cow, thus I do not require your jewels or gems... truly, this alone is my treasure, thus I do not require your gilded chariots, horses or elephants... really, this alone is my everything, thus I need nothing from you... and actually, this alone is my alter-ego, thus you cannot separate me from myself. [1-53-23]

Verse Locator

दर्शः च पौर्ण मासः च यज्ञाः चैव आप्त दक्षिणाः ।
एतदेव हि मे राजन् विविधाः च क्रियाः तथा ॥ १-५३-२४

24. raajan = oh, king; me = my; darshaH ca = darsha, also - Vedic-rituals; paurNa maasaH ca = poorna maasa Vedic-rituals, also; aapta dakSiNaaH = worthwhile, donations; yaGYaaH caiva = Vedic-rituals, like that, also; tathaa = like that; vividhaaH kriyaaH ca = divers, activities, also; etat eva hi = this, alone, indeed.

" 'This alone is my darsha, puurNa maasa rituals, and like that this alone is all my Vedic-rituals with worthwhile donations and oh, king, this essentially is of service in diverse activities of mine. [1-53-24]

Verse Locator

अतो मूलाः क्रियाः सर्वा मम राजन् न संशयः ।

बहूना किम् प्रलापेन न दास्ये काम दोहिनीम् ॥ १-५३-२५

25. raajan = oh, king; mama sarvaaH kriyaaH = my, all, for activities; ataH muulaaH = in it [in cow,] instated; sanshayaH na = doubt, there is no; bahuunaa pralaapena kim [prayojanam] = by a lot of, palavering, what is [the us]; kaama dohiniim = wishes, milker; na daasye = not, I give away.

" 'Oh, king, all of my activities are instated in this cow, then wherefore a lot of palavering a bargain or barter? I do not give away this milker any wish." So said VashishtaT to Vishvamitra, and thus Sage Shataananda continued his narration of the legend of Sacred Cow. [1-53-25]

Sacredness of the Cow

If cow is held sacred in India it is held precious all over the world. Whatever is given by a cow, from its milk to cow-dung, it is put to use, even for medicinal purposes, which is evident from insulin and smallpox vaccines. Regarding go mahaatmyam 'sacredness of cow' Bheeshma speaks at length about the sacredness of cow to Yudhishtar, in Anushaashanika Parva of Maha Bharata.

anena sakala vaidika karma vidyaa jiivanaadi karatvena ati pavitratena ca gavaam ati mahatmyam gavaam vikrayato paryaapta vR^ittikaanaam atyaashaa niShedhaH ca trayam api suucitam - dk

yaj~naiH avaapyate somaH sa ca goShu pratiShTitaH |
goShu somaH pratiShTitaH - tattariiya shruti

havyam kavyam tarpaNam shaanti karma yaanam vaaso vR^iddha baalasya tuShTiH | svaahaa kaara vaShaT kaarau goShu nityam pratiShTitau | gaavo yaj~nasya hi phalam goShu yaj~naaH pratiShTitaaH | gavaam muutra puriiShasya nodvijeta kathamcana | na ca aasaam maamsam ashniiyat gavaam puShTim tathaa aapnuyat | naa ataH para taram daanam na ataH puNya taram phalam | tvacaa lomnaa atha shR^ingaiH vaalaiH kShiireNa medasaa | yaj~nam vahati sambhuuyakim asya tat abhyadhikam tataH | | mahaa bhaarate anushaashanika parvaaNi yudhiShTaram prati bhiiShma uvaaca :

evam shruti smR^iti itihaasa puraaNa aadiShu bahu prakaareNa pratipaadyamaanam - go mahaatmyam - vaacaama gocaram iti dikpradarshana maatram kR^itvaa - vasiShTaH - viramyate - dk

Here, on hinting in an indirect way about go mahaatmyam 'the sacredness of the cow...' and its unmarketability, Sage Vashishta paused his negation, hoping that Vishvamitra will realise, as he is also well-versed in scriptures.

इति वाल्मीकि रामायणे आदि काव्ये बाल काण्डे त्रि पंचाशः सर्गः

Thus, this is the 53rd chapter in Bala Kanda of Valmiki Ramayana, the First Epic poem of India.

Book I : Bala Kanda - The Youthful Majesties

Chapter [Sarga] 54 Verses converted to UTF-8, Oct 09

Introduction

The seizure of Kaamadhenu, the Sacred Cow, causes anxiety in her and she urges Vashishta to counteract the atrocity of Vishvamitra. Agreeing to her, the sage asks the Cow to create a force that can subdue the forces of Vishvamitra. Accordingly, that Cow generates newer forces and a war ensues.

Verse Locator

कामधेनुम् वसिष्ठो अपि यदा न त्यजते मुनिः ।
तदा अस्य शबलाम् राम विश्वामित्रो अन्वकर्षत ॥ १-५४-१

1. raama = oh, Rama; vasiSThaH muniH = Vashishta, sage; kaamadhenum = desire-milker cow; yadaa = when; na tyajate = not, gave up; tadaa = then; vishvaamitraH asya shabalaam anvakarSata = Vishvamitra, that, Shabala, dragged - started to seize.

"When Sage Vashishta did not yield Kaamadhenu, the milker of any desire, oh, Rama, then Vishvamitra started to seize it." Sage Shataananda continued the narration of the legend of Vishvamitra. [1-54-1]

Verse Locator

नीयमाना तु शबला राम राज्ञा महात्मना ।
दुःखिता चिन्तयामास रुदंती शोक कर्षिता ॥ १-५४-२

2. raama = oh, Rama; mahaa aatmanaa = by great-soul - a determined one; raaj~naa = by king - Vishvamitra; niiyamaanaa = being led away - dragged her away; shabalaa duHkhitaa = Shabala, saddened; shoka karshitaa = by anguish, stung; rudantii = while wailing; cintayaamaasa = mulled over.

"While the determined king Vishvamitra dragged her away from Vashishta, oh, Rama, Shabala is saddened and tearfully mulled over stung by the anguish of her secession from the sage. [1-54-2]

Verse Locator

परित्यक्ता वसिष्ठेन किम् अहम् सुमहात्मना ।
या अहम् राज भृतैः दीना ह्रियेयम् भृश दुःखिता ॥ १-५४-३

3. diinaa = a pitiable one; bhR^isha duHkhitaa = muchly, anguishing one; yaa aham = which, me - such as I am; raaja bhR^itaiH = by king's, servants; hriiyeyam = who am stolen - being led away; aham = I am - am I; mahaatmanaa vasiSThena parityaktaa = by great-souled, Vashishta, abandoned; kim = or what?

" 'A pitiable and highly anguished one, such as I am. I am being dragged away by the servants of the king. Has this great souled Sage Vashishta abandoned me, or what? [1-54-3]

किम् मया अपकृतम् तस्य महर्षेः भावित आत्मनः ।
यन् माम् अनागसम् भक्ताम् इष्टाम् त्यजति धार्मिकः ॥ १-५४-४

4. dhaarmikaH = pietist [Vashishta]; an aagasam = less, of error [errorless one]; bhaktaam = a reverent one; iSTaam = cherished one; maam = me; yat tyajati = he who [whereby,] leaving off; bhaavita aatmanaH = sacred, souled one; tasya maharSeH = to - towards, great-sage; mayaa = by me; kim = what; apa kR^itam = misdeed done.

" 'Or, did I do any misdeed towards that great sage of sacred soul whereby he is leaving me off. I have always been reverent and a cherished cow to that pietist and am I no errant.' That cow eulogised in this manner. [1-54-4]

Verse Locator

इति संचिन्तयित्वा तु निःश्वस्य च पुनः पुनः ।
जगाम वेगेन तदा वसिष्ठम् परम ओजसम् ॥ १-५४-५
निर्धूय ताम् तदा भृत्यान् शतशः शत्रुसूदन ।
जगाम अनिल वेगेन पाद मूलम् महात्मनः ॥ १-५४-६

5. shatru suudana = oh, enemy-subjugator, Rama; [saa = she, the cow]; iti sam cintayitvaa = thus, on well, thinking; punaH punaH niHshvasya ca = again, again, on suspiring, also; tadaa = then; taam shatashaH bhR^ityaan = them, hundreds of, attendants [of king]; nir dhuuya = utterly, shoving off; tadaa = then; anila vegena = gust, with speed of; parama ojasam vasiSTham = towards highly energetic one, to Vashishta; vegana jagaama = hastily, went [rushed to]; mahaatmanaH = of great-souled one; paada muulam jagaama = to foot, base, she went to.

"On thinking thus and suspiring repeatedly, oh, enemy-subjugator, Rama, then she that Sacred Cow hastily rushed with the speed a gust and went to that highly energetic Vashishta on utterly shoving off hundreds of attendants of the king who are roping her, and then she straight went to the base of the feet of the great-souled Vashishta. [1-54-5, 6]

Verse Locator

शबला सा रुदन्ती च क्रोशन्ती च इदम् अब्रवीत् ।
वसिष्ठस्य अग्रतः स्थित्वा मेघ निःस्वना ॥ १-५४-७

7. saa shabalaa = she, that Shabala; rudantii ca kroshantii ca = moaning, also, groaning, also; vasiSThasya agrataH sthitvaa = of Vashishta, before, staying; megha niHsvanaa = cloud, with bellows - bellowing like thunder of the cloud; idam abraviit = this, spoke.

"She that moaning and groaning Shabala staying before the Sage Vashishta spoke this bellowing like a thunderous cloud. [1-54-7]

Verse Locator

भगवन् किम् परित्यक्ता त्वया अहम् ब्रह्मणः सुत ।
यस्मात् राज भटा माम् हि नयन्ते त्वत् सकाशतः ॥ १-५४-८

8. brahmaNaH suta = oh, Brahma's, son [brainchild]; bhagavan = oh, god; aham tvayaa kim parityaktaa = I, by you, why, discarded; yasmaat = whereby; raaja bhaTaa = kings, attendants; tvat sakaashataH = from your, proximity; maam nayante hi = me, taking away, indeed.

" 'Oh, Son of Brahma, why I am discarded by you, whereby oh, god, the king's attendants are weaning me away from your proximity.' So Shabala urged Vashishta. [1-54-8]

एवम् उक्तः तु ब्रह्मर्षिर् इदम् वचनम् अब्रवीत् ।
शोक संतप्त हृदयाम् स्व सारम् इव दुःखिताम् ॥ १-५४-९

9. evam uktaH tu brahmarSiH = thus, spoke to, on his part, Brahma-sage; shoka santapta hR^idayaam = by worry, worrying, hearted [to worrisome Shabala]; duHkhitaam sva saaram iva = worried, to his own, sister, as with; idam vacanam abraviit = this, sentence, spoke.

"When he is spoken thus, then that Brahma-sage spoke this sentence to worrisome Shabala, whose heart is worrying with worry, as he would speak with his own sister in her worriment. [1-54-9]

Verse Locator

न त्वाम् त्यजामि शबले न अपि मे अपकृतम् त्वया ।
एष त्वाम् नयते राजा बलात् मत्तः महाबलः ॥ १-५४-१०

10. shabale = oh, Shabala; tvaam na tyajaami = you, not, I am forswearing; tvayaa me na apakR^itam api = by you, to me, not, misdeed done, even - you too have not fouled me; mahaabalaH = great-mighty one; eSa raajaa = this, king is; mattaH [mat taH = from me; or, matta = ecstatic by his own might - king]; balaat = forcibly; tvaam nayate = you, weaning away.

" 'Neither I forswear you nor you fouled me, oh, Shabala, this king is forcibly weaning you away from me as he is beside himself with kingly arrogance. [1-54-10]

Verse Locator

न हि तुल्यम् बलम् मह्यम् राजा तु अद्य विशेषतः ।
बली राजा क्षत्रियः च पृथिव्याः पतिः एव च ॥ १-५४-११

11. mahyam balam = of mine, strength - ability; tulyam = balanceable [with his]; na hi = not, isn't it; adya visheSataH = now, above all; raajaa tu = [he is a] king, on his part; raajaa balii = a king, will be mighty; kSatriyaH ca = Kshatriya, also; pR^ithivyaaH patiH eva ca = of earth, lord, even, also.

" 'My ability is not balanceable with his, isn't it. Above all, on his part he is a king now, and a king will be mighty, he is the lord of the land and a Kshatriya, and thus we have to be subservient to a Kshatriya, isn't it. [1-54-11]

Verse Locator

इयम् अक्षौहिणी पूर्णा गज वाजि रथ आकुला ।
हस्ति ध्वज समाकीर्णा तेन असौ बलवत्तरः ॥ १-५४-१२

12. gaja vaaji ratha aakulaa = elephants, horses, chariots, overcrowded; hasti dhvaja sam aakiirNaa = elephants, flags, overspread with; iyam akSauhiNii = this, akshauhini [unit of army]; puurNaa = is plethoric; tena = thereby; asau balavat taraH = he is, in might, higher in degree - mightier than me.

" 'This akshauhini unit of army is plethoric, overcrowded with elephants, horses, and chariots, and overspread with flags and elephants, thereby he is mightier than me.' Thus Vashishta tried to pacify that Sacred-Cow. [1-54-12]

Verse Locator

एवम् उक्ता वसिष्ठेन प्रत्युवाच विनीतवत् ।
वचनम् वचनज्ञा सा ब्रह्मर्षिम् अतुल प्रभम् ॥ १-५४-१३

13. vasiSThena evam uktaa = by Vashishta, that way, spoken [to Cow]; vacana j~naa = sentence, knower; saa = she that cow; atula prabham = to the one with un-balanceable, resplendence; brahmarSim = to Brahma-sage; vacanam = sentence; viniitavat = as an obedient one; prati uvaaca = in turn, spoke - replied.

"She who is spoken that way by Vashishta, that sententious Sacred Cow, Shabala, in her turn obediently spoke this sentence to that Brahma-sage of un-balanceable resplendence. [1-54-13]

Verse Locator

न बलम् क्षत्रियस्य आहुः ब्राह्मणो बलवत्तरः ।

ब्रह्मन् ब्रह्म बलम् दिव्यम् क्षत्रात् तु बलवत्तरम् ॥ १-५४-१४

14. brahman = oh, Brahman; kSatriyasya balam = Kshatriya's [sovereignty's,] might; na aahuH = not, speak of [unstated as 'balavat taraH' mighty, more = mightier than a Brahman's, i.e., than the might of a sage]; braahmaNaH balavattaraH = a Brahman [sagacity is,] mightier; kSatraat tu = of Kshatriya's [of sovereignty's might,] but; brahma balam divyam balavat taram = Brahman's [Sage's] might, divine [angelic,] mighty, than [mightier.]

" 'Oh, Brahman, unstated is that the might of sovereignty as mightier than the might of sagacity. A sage is mightier than a sovereign. A sage's might is mightiest than the mightier sovereign, for a sage's might is angelic.' So Shabala started talking to the sage. [1-54-14]

This is the relevant stanza for the later time debates or essay competitions under the caption of 'pen vs. sword... which is mightier...' Here, though Vishvamitra is well aware that a sage's possession cannot be usurped, he resorted to the same. The Sacred Cow is telling the above with intolerance towards Vishvamitra's violation of the norms. saa api asahamaanaa kaama dohinii shaantyaa kShamayaa yuktam vashiShTam avocat -

What a king has got to do with a sage's wealth? A sage acquires it with his asceticism and it is not another king's kingdom to conquer. sarva dhamaj~nasyaa api vishvaamitrasya etaadR^ishii buddhiH abuut | yasmai devaa prayacchanti puruShaaya paraabhavam - bala avalepana vishvamitro vashiShTha vaakyam anaadR^itya brahmasva hareNa mahaa doSham jaanan api balaat eva shabalaam aacakarSha - dk The scriptures, norms, ethics demand that a sagacious person shall not be robbed off his possession, which he acquires by his personal merit. But Vishvamitra's brain tilted this way because of his all-conquering avarice and he thought that this cow is also conquerable, and gods give such a mind only to see the greedy to fail and thus insulted of their might.

na tu eva kadaacit svayam raajaa brahmaNasva adadiita - bodhaayana suutra - atha api udaaharanti - na viSham viSham iti aahuH brahmasvam viSham ucya te | brahmasvam putra pautra gnam viSham ekaakinam haret | 'a sagacious person's possession is not to be snatched away - bodhaayana suutraa-s; 'a poison if consumed kills one that consumes it... but the possession of a sagacious person, if tried for consumption, it consumes whole lot of the consumer's sons, grandsons and his clan itself, besides the consumer...for sage's possession in itself is a lethal poison..'

Verse Locator

अप्रमेय बलम् तुभ्यम् न त्वया बलवत्तरः ।

विश्वामित्रो महावीर्यः तेजः तव दुरासदम् ॥ १-५४-१५

15. tubhyam = to you; a prameya balam = not, matchable [immutable,] power - is there; mahaaviiryaH vishvaamitraH = great-mighty, Vishvamitra - though he is; tvayaa = than you; balavat taraH = mighty, more than - mightier than you; na = he is not; tava tejaH duraasadam = your, dynamism, is invincible.

" 'Immutable is your power as you are mightier than great-mighty Vishvamitra and invincible is your dynamism. [1-54-15]

Verse Locator

नियुङ्क्ष्व माम् महातेजः त्वत् ब्रह्म बल संभृताम् ।

तस्य दर्पम् बलम् यत्नम् नाशयामि दुरात्मनः ॥ १-५४-१६

16. mahaatejaH = oh, highly resplendent one; tvat brahma bala sam bhR^itaam = with your, Brahma's [sagacity's] power, replete with [i.e., me]; maam = me; niyu~NkSva = you ordain; duraatmanaH = of bad minded [injudicious king]; tasya darpam balam yatnam = his [Vishvamitra's,] vanity, valour, venture [to wean me from you]; naashayaami = I destroy [I disprove.]

" 'Ordain me, oh, highly resplendent sage, who am replete with the power of your sagacity, and I will disprove the vanity, valour, and venture of that injudicious king for this injudicious seizure.' Thus Shabala implored the sage Vashishta. [1-54-16]

Verse Locator

इति उक्तः तु तया राम वसिष्ठः सुमहायशाः ।

सृजस्व इति तदा उवाच बलम् पर बल अर्दनम् ॥ १-५४-१७

17. raama = oh, Rama; tayaa iti uktaH = by her, thus, spoken to; su mahaa yashaaH = of very, high, glory; vasiSThaH tu = Vashishta, on his part; tadaa = then; para bala ardanam = opponent's, power, overpowering; balam sR^ijasva = a power, you create; iti uvaaca = thus, [sage] said to her.

"Oh, Rama, when spoken by her thus, that highly glorious Vashishta said to Shabala, the do-all cow, 'create a power that can overpower the power of opponent.' Vashishta said so to Shabala. [1-54-17]

Verse Locator

तस्य तत् वचनम् श्रुत्वा सुरभिः सा असृजत् तदा ।

तस्या हुंभा रव उत्सृष्टाः पल्लवाः शतशो नृप ॥ १-५४-१८

नाशयन्ति बलम् सर्वम् विश्वामित्रस्य पश्यतः ।

18, 19a. tasya tat vacanam shrutvaa = his, that, sentence, on hearing; saa surabhiH = she, that hope fulfilling cow; tadaa = then; asR^ijat = created [army]; nR^ipa = oh, king - Rama; tasyaaH = of her; humbhaa rava utsR^iSTaaH = hum, mooing, sprang forth; pahlavaaH = Pahlava-s; shatashaH = in hundreds; vishvaamitrasya pashyataH = of Vishvamitra, while witnessing; sarvam balam naashayanti = in entirety, army [of Vishvamitra,] annihilated.

"On hearing his sentence, oh, Rama, that Sacred Cow Shabala then created Pahlava kings, sprang forth from her mooing 'hums', and hundreds of them annihilated the army of Vishvamitra in its entirety just while Vishvamitra is witnessing it. [1-54-18, 19a]

Verse Locator

स राजा परम क्रुद्धः क्रोध विस्फारित ईक्षणः ॥ १-५४-१९

पल्लवान् नाशयामास शस्त्रैः उच्चावचैः अपि ।

19b, 20a. saH raajaa parama kruddhaH = he, king, utterly, infuriated; krodha visphaarita iikSaNaH = by anger, wide-opened, eyed; uccaavacaiH shastraiH = many kinds of, weaponry; pahlavaan naashayaamaasa api = Pahlava-s, started to destroy, even.

"King Vishvamitra was utterly infuriated and with wide-eyed anger he started to destroy those Pahlava-s with many a kind of his weaponry. [1-54-19b, 20a]

Verse Locator

विश्वामित्र अर्दितान् दृष्ट्वा पल्लवान् शतशः तदा ॥ १-५४-२०

भूय एव असृजत् घोरान् शकान् यवन मिश्रितान् ।

20b, 21a. vishvaamitra arditaan = by Vishvamitra, subdued by; shatashaH pahlavaan dR^iSTvaa = hundreds, of Pahlava-s, on seeing; tadaa = then; bhuuya eva = again, thus; yavana mishritaana = with Yavana-s, mingled with; ghoraana = deadly; shakaan = Shaka-s; asR^ijat = she generated.

"On seeing the subdual of hundreds of Pahlava-s by Vishvamitra, then the Sacred Cow again generated deadly Shaka-s hobnobbed with Yavana-s through her mooing 'hums'. [1-54-20b, 21a]

These Shaka-s and Yavana-s are the Shakas, or the Scythians, or the Indo-Scythians of Max Muller. Some discussion about this is included in the endnote of Kishkindha, Ch. 43. Dharmaakuutam says: tadanu vashiShTha abhyanuj~naataa shabalaa nirmita pahlava aadi - nikR^iShTa jaati - niShuuditam svam balam vishvaamitra - iti - dk These are viewed as deadly, lowly, ruffian class of warriors in Indian viewpoint and created out of thin air by this Sacred Cow.

Verse Locator

तैः आसीत् संवृता भूमिः शकैः यवन मिश्रितैः ॥ १-५४-२१

प्रभावद्भिर्महावीर्यैर्हेमकिंजल्कसन्निभैः ।- यद्वा -

प्रभावद्भिः महावीर्यैः हेम किंजल्क संनिभैः ।

21b, 22a. prabhaavadbhiH = by them who have effectuation; mahaa viiryaiH = by them who have bravery; hema kinjalka sannibhaiH = those that are golden, pistils, similar to; taiH = with them; yavana mishritaiH = Yavana-s, associated with; shakaiH = with Shaka-s; bhuumiH samvR^itaa aasiit = earth, covered, it became.

"Then the earth was pervaded with the Shaka-s associated with Yavana-s, who have effectuation and bravery in overcoming their enemy forces, and who are golden in bodily colour similar to the golden pistils of flowers which complexion is outlandish. [1-54- 21b, 22a]

Verse Locator

दीर्घासिपट्टिशधरैर्हेमवर्णाम्बरावृतैः ॥ - यद्वा -

दीर्घ असि पट्टिश धरैः हेम वर्ण अंबर आवृतैः ॥ १-५४-२२

निर्दग्धम् तत् बलम् सर्वम् प्रदीप्तैः इव पावकैः ।

22b. diirgha asi paTTisha dharaiH = bowie, knives, broad-lances, wielding; hema varNa ambara aavR^itaiH = golden, coloured, dress, clad in; with such Yavana-s and Shaka-s; pradiptaiH paavakaiH iva = who are - glowing, fires, as with; tat sarvam balam = that, entire, force [of Vishvamitra]; nir dagdham = is completely, burnt down.

"Yavana-s and Shaka-s, who are wielding bowie knives and broad lances and who are clad in golden coloured dresses, and who looked like glowing fires have completely burnt down entire force of Vishvamitra. [1-54-22, 23a]

Verse Locator

ततो अस्त्राणि महातेजा विश्वामित्रो मुमोच ह ।

तैः तैः यवन कांभोजा बर्बराः च अकुली कृताः ॥ १-५४-२३

23. tataH = then; mahaatejaaH vishvaamitraH = great-resplendent, Vishvamitra; astraaNi mumoca ha = missiles, released, indeed; taiH taiH = by them, by them [missiles]; yavana kaambhojaa barbaraaH ca = Yavana-s, Kaambhoja-s, Barbara-s, also; akulii kR^itaaH = helter-skelter, rendered to.

"Then that great-resplendent Vishvamitra indeed released his missiles, by which Yavana-s, Kaambhoja-s, and the Barbara-s, are rendered helter-skelter." Thus Sage Shataananda continued his narration of Vishvamitra. [1-54-23b,c.]

The Barbara-s are said in this text whereas other mms contain it as 'Pahlava-s'. Even on taking Barbara-s, they are an outlandish clan and the word 'Barbara' might have been the ancestor word of the present day 'Barbarian.'

इति वाल्मीकि रामायणे आदि काव्ये बाल काण्डे चतुः पंचाशः सर्गः

Thus, this is the 54th chapter in Bala Kanda of Valmiki Ramayana, the First Epic poem of India.

Book I : Bala Kanda - The Youthful Majesties

Chapter [Sarga] 55 Verses converted to UTF-8, Oct 09

Introduction

Vishvamitra ruins Vashishta's hermitage on acquiring missiles at the grace of God Shiva by practising a paramount asceticism. When the forces generated by Wish-Milker Sacred Cow, namely Kaamadhenu, have eliminated Vishvamitra's army and his hundred sons, he felt indignant and pray Shiva for bestowal of unusual missiles. On getting them, he again comes to Sage Vashishta's hermitage and ruins it completely. Then extremely infuriated Sage Vashishta resorts to his Brahma-baton to confront Vishvamitra.

Verse Locator

ततः तान् आकुलान् दृष्ट्वा विश्वामित्र अस्त्र मोहितान् ।
वसिष्ठः चोदयामास काम धुक् सृज योगतः ॥ १-५५-१

1. tataH = then; vasiSThaH = Vashishta; vishvaamitra astra mohitaan = Vashishta, by missiles, those who are perplexed; aakulaan = those flurrying; taan dR^iSTvaa = them - army, on seeing; kaama dhuk = oh, wish, milker [Shabala]; yogataH sR^ija = by yogic [capacity,] you generate [more army]; codayaamaasa = started to motivate - in this way.

"Then on seeing the flurrying warriors earlier created by the Sacred Cow, Shabala, who are perplexed by the missiles of Vishvamitra, Vashishta started to motivate her, 'oh, wish-milker, generate more forces by your yogic capacity.' Thus Sage Shataananda continued his narration about the legend of Vishvamitra to Rama. [1-55-1]

Verse Locator

तस्या हुंकारतो जाताः कांबोजा रवि सन्निभाः ।
ऊधसः तु अथ संजाताः पल्लवाः शस्त्र पाणयः ॥ १-५५-२
योनि देशात् च यवनः शकु देशात् शकाः तथा ।
रोम कूपेषु म्लेच्छाः च हारीताः स किरातकाः ॥ १-५५-३

2, 3. tasyaaH hum kaarataH = of her, from 'hum' mooing; ravi sannibhaaH kaambojaa jaataaH = Sun, similar in shine, Kaamboja-s, are born; atha = further; uddhasaH = from udder; shastra paaNayaH = weapons, in hands; pahlavaaH sanjaataaH = Pahlava-s, are born; yoni deshaat yavanaH ca = from privates, area, Yavana-s, also - are born; tathaa = likewise; shakR^i deshaat shakaaH = from rectal, area, Shaka-s - are born; roma kuupeSu mlecChaaH ca = from hair, roots, Mleccha-s, also - are born; sa kiraatakaaH = with, Kirataka-s; haariitaaH = Haariitaa-s - are also born.

"From the 'hums' of her mooing Kaamboja-s similar to sunshine are born, from her udder Pahlava-s wielding weaponry are born, from the area of her privates Yavana-s, likewise from her rectal area Shaka-s, and from her hair-roots Mleccha-s, Haariitaa-s along with Kirataka-s are issued forth. [1-55-2, 3]

Verse Locator

तैः तत् निषूदितम् सैन्यम् विश्वमित्रस्य तत् क्षणात् ।
स पदाति गजम् स अश्वम् स रथम् रघुनन्दन ॥ १-५५-४

4. raghunandana = oh, Raghu's legatee, Rama; taiH = by them [Yavana-s etc.]; tat kSaNaat = that, very moment; vishvamitrasya = of Vishvamitra; sa padaati gajam = with, foot-soldiers, elephants; sa ashvam sa ratham = with horses, with chariots; tat sainyam = that, army; ni Suuditam = utterly, slaughtered.

"At that very moment, oh, Rama the legatee of Raghu, Vishvamitra's army comprising foot-soldiers, elephants, chariots and horses is utterly slaughtered by the Yavana, Mleccha etc., forces generated by the Sacred Cow. [1-55-4]

Verse Locator

दृष्ट्वा निषूदितम् सैन्यम् वसिष्ठेन महात्मना ।
विश्वामित्र सुतानाम् तु शतम् नाना विध आयुधम् ॥ १-५५-५
अभ्यधावत् सुसंकुद्धम् वसिष्ठम् जपताम् वरम् ।
हुम् कारेण एव तान् सर्वान् निर्ददाह महान् ऋषिः ॥ १-५५-६

5. mahaa aatmanaa vasiSThena = by great souled one, by Vashishta; niSuuditam sainyam dR^iSTvaa = utterly slaughtered, army, on seeing; vishvaamitra sutaanaam = Vishvamitra's, sons; shatam = [a band of] hundred; naanaa vidha aayudham = diverse, sorts of, weapons wielding; su sam kruddham = very, highly, angering; japataam varam vasiSTham = among meditators, supreme one, towards Vashishta; abhyadhaavat = [that band of hundred sons] sprinted forth; mahaan R^iSiH = [that] great, sage; taan sarvaan = them, all; kaareNa eva = by 'hum' [blasting,] only; nir dadaaha = completely, burnt down.

"On seeing their army utterly slaughtered by the vital spirit of Vashishta, a band of hundred sons of Vishvamitra wielding divers weapons exasperatedly sprinted forth towards that supreme meditator among all meditators. But that great sage Vashishta completely burnt all of them down just by blasting 'hum' sounds. [1-55-5, 6]

Verse Locator

ते स अश्व रथ पादाता वसिष्ठेन महात्मना ।
भस्मी कृता मुहूर्तेन विश्वामित्र सुताः तदा ॥ १-५५-७

7. tadaa = then; sa ashva ratha paadaataaH = with, horses, chariots, foot-soldiers; te vishvaamitra sutaH = those, Vishvamitra's, sons; mahaatmanaa vasiSThena = by the one who has vital spirit, by Vashishta; muhूर्तेना = in a wink; bhasmii kR^itaa = to ashes, rendered.

"That sage with vital spirit, Vashishta, then in a wink rendered those sons of Vishvamitra, along with their horses, chariots, and foot-soldiers to ashes. [1-55-7]

Verse Locator

दृष्ट्वा विनाशितान् पुत्रान् बलम् च सुमहा यशाः ।
स व्रीडः चिंतया आविष्टो विश्वामित्रो अभवत् तदा ॥ १-५५-८

8. tadaa = then; su mahaa yashaaH = very, highly, glorious one; vishvaamitraH = Vishvamitra; vinaashitaan putraan = at utterly ruined, sons; balam ca = at forces, also; dR^iSTvaa = on seeing; sa vriiDaH = with, disgrace; cintayaa aaviSTaH = with distress, beset by; abhavat = he became.

"On seeing his sons and his forces are utterly ruined, that very highly glorious Vishvamitra was disgraced and beset by distress. [1-55-8]

Verse Locator

समुद्र इव निर्वेगो भग्न दंष्ट्र इव उरगः ।

उपरक्त इव आदित्यः सद्यो निष्प्रभताम् गतः ॥ १-५५-९

हत पुत्र बलो दीनो लून पक्ष इव द्विजः ।

9, 10a. nir vegaH = without, speed [tideless]; samudra iva = ocean, as with; bhagna danSTra uragaH iva = broken, fang, serpent, as with; upa rakta aadityaH iva = less, coloured [shineless, while being eclipsed,] sun, as with; sadyaH = immediately; hata putra balaH = one with - ruined, sons, forces; diinaH luuna pakSa dvijaH iva = pitiable, clipped, wing [wingless,] bird, as with; niS prabhataam gataH = less of, lustre, gone in - plunged into a state.

"Like a tideless ocean his warfare did not tide him over, like a fangless serpent his hiss of warring could not fang any, like a wingless bird pitiable is his flightless plight of fightback, like a shineless sun in an eclipse, Vishvamitra plunged into a lustreless state of his own illustriousness, when his forces are ruined along with his sons. [1-55-9, 10a]

Verse Locator

हत सर्व बल उत्साहो निर्वेदम् समपद्यत ॥ १-५५-१०

स पुत्रम् एकम् राज्याय पालय इति नियुज्य च ।

पृथिवीम् क्षत्र धर्मेण वनम् एव अन्वपद्यत ॥ १-५५-११

10b, 11 hata sarva bala utsaahaH = ruined, all, intrepidity, impetuosity; nir vedam samapadyata = down, heartedness [indolence,] he obtained; saH = he; pR^ithiviim = earth; kSatra dharmeNa paalaya = by kingcraft's, duties, you rule; iti = saying so; ekam putram raajyaaya niyujya = one, son, for kingdom, on bidding; vanam eva anvapadyata = to forests, thus, took recourse.

"When all his intrepidity and impetuosity are ruined an indolence bechanced upon him, and then on bidding one son for the kingdom, 'you rule the earth with the duties of kingcraft...' thus saying Vishvamitra took recourse to forests. [1-55-10b, 11]

Verse Locator

स गत्वा हिमवत् पार्श्वम् किंनर उरग सेवितम् ।

महादेव प्रसाद अर्थम् तपः तेपे महातपाः ॥ १-५५-१२

12. mahaatapaaH = great, practiser of asceticism; saH = he [Vishvamitra]; kinnara uraga sevita = by kinnaraa-s, uragaa-s, adored by; himavat paarshvam = Himalayas, side of; gatvaa = on going; mahaadeva prasaada artham = Great God's [Shiva's,] beneficence, for the sake of; tapaH tepe = [austere] asceticism, undertook,.

"On going to the mountainsides of Himalayas, whereat it is adored by kinnaraa-s and uragaa-s, the nymphs and nymphaean serpents, he that great practiser of asceticism, Vishvamitra, undertook an austere asceticism for the sake of beneficence of the Great God, Shiva. [1-55-12]

Verse Locator

केनचित् तु अथ कालेन देवेशो वृषभ ध्वजः ।

दर्शयामास वरदो विश्वामित्रम् महामुनिम् ॥ १-५५-१३

13. atha = then; kenacit kaalena tu = at long lost, after time, but; deva iishaH = gods', god; vR^iSabha dhvajaH = Bull, on his flag; vara daH = boon, giver; vishvaamitram mahaamunim = to Vishvamitra, great-sainted darshayaamaasa = shown Himself -revealed himself.

"After a long lost time, Shiva, the God of Gods whose flag bears the sign of Holy Bull, has shown himself to that great-saint Vishvamitra, for He is a ready boon-giver. [1-55-13]

किम् अर्थम् तप्यसे राजन् ब्रूहि यत् ते विवक्षितम् ।
वरदो अस्मि वरो यः ते कांक्षितः सो अभिधीयताम् ॥ १-५५-१४

14. raajan = oh, king; kim artham tapyase = for which, purpose, you undertook ascesis; te = by you; yat = what is; vi vakshitam = tellable - what is intended by you; that; bruuhi = you tell; vara daH asmi = boon, giver, I am; yaH varaH te kaankshitaH = what, boon, by you, beseeched; saH abhi dhiiyataam = that, may be made known.

" 'Oh, king, for which purpose you undertook this ascesis that you may tell me. What is it really intended by you and what boon you seek that be made known to me for I am the boon-giver.' Shiva said so to Vishvamitra. [1-55-14]

Verse Locator

एवम् उक्तः तु देवेन विश्वामित्रो महातपाः ।
प्रणिपत्य महादेवम् विश्वामित्रो अब्रवीत् इदम् ॥ १-५५-१५

15. devena evam uktaH = by god, thus, said; mahaa tapaaH vishvaamitra = one with great ascesis, Vishvamitra; mahaadevam praNipatya = Great God Shiva, on reverencing; vishvaamitraH idam abraviit = Vishvamitra, this, said.

"Thus said by God Shiva to Vishvamitra of great ascesis, Vishvamitra on reverencing that Great God Shiva said this way. [1-55-15]

Verse Locator

यदि तुष्टो महादेव धनुर् वेदो मम अनघ ।
सा अंग उप अंग उपनिषदः स रहस्यः प्रदीयताम् ॥ १-५५-१६

16. anagha = oh, impeccable one; mahaadeva = oh, Great God Shiva; tuSTaH yadi = you are gladdened, if [providing that]; sa anga upa anga upaniSadaH = with, complemental, supplemental Writs, summational, Writs [Upanishad-s]; sa rahasyaH = together with, preternatural [doctrines]; dhanuH vedaH = Archery, Holy Writs of; mama = to me; pradiiyataam = verily [kindly,] be bestowed.

" 'Oh! Mahadeva, the Impeccable Great God... providing that you are gladdened by my ascetic devotion, dhanur veda, the Holy Writ of Archery, with its complemental and supplemental Writs, and along with its summational Upanishad-s, together with its preternatural doctrines... they may kindly be bestowed upon me... [1-55-16]

Verse Locator

यानि देवेषु च अस्त्राणि दानवेषु महर्षिषु ।
गंधर्व यक्ष रक्षस्सु प्रतिभांतु मम अनघ ॥ १-५५-१७
तव प्रसादात् भवतु देवदेव मम ईप्सितम् ।

17, 18a. anagha = oh, exquisite god; deveSu = in [with] gods; daanaveSu maharSiSu = with fiends, with great-sages; gandharva yaksha rakshassu = with gandharva-s, yaksha-s, demons; yaani astraani = whichever, missiles; are there, they; tava prasaadaat = by your, blessings; mama = to me; prati bhaantu = dawn upon [me]; deva deva = oh, God of Gods; mama iipsitam bhavatu = my, aspiration, become - let it be fulfilled.

" Oh, Exquisite God, whichever missile is there either with gods, or fiends, gandharva-s, yaksha-s, and demons, let it dawn upon me. For you alone are the God of Gods your blessings alone can fulfil my aspiration.' Thus Vishvamitra entreated God Shiva. [1-55-17, 18a]

Verse Locator

एवम् अस्तु इति देवेशो वाक्यम् उक्त्वा गतः तदा ॥ १-५५-१८

18b. evam astu = so, be it; iti = thus; deveshaH = God of Gods, Shiva; vaakyam uktvaa = sentence, said [on sanctifying Vishvamitra]; tadaa gataH = then, went away -disappeared.

" 'So be it!' On sanctifying Vishvamitra and his aspiration thus, the God of Gods, Shiva disappeared. [1-55-18b]

Verse Locator

प्राप्य च अस्त्राणि देवेशात् विश्वामित्रो महाबलः ।

दर्पेण महता युक्तो दर्पपूर्णो अभवत् तदा ॥ १-५५-१९

19. mahaabalaH = [who is already a] great-mighty one; mahataa darpeNa yuktaH = [now] greatest, conceit, conjoined with; such a; vishvaamitraH = Vishvamitra; tadaa = then; deva iishaat = from God of Gods, Shiva; astraaNi praapya = missiles, on acquiring; darpa puurNaH abhavat = conceitedness, plethoric with, he became.

"Vishvamitra who is already a mightier Kshatriya, now on acquiring missiles from the God of Gods, Shiva, will he not come forth paired up with mightiest conceit, and then will not his conceitedness be plethoric like a plethoric ocean? [1-55-19]

Verse Locator

विवर्धमानो वीर्येण समुद्र इव पर्वणि ।

हतम् मेने तदा राम वसिष्ठम् ऋषि सत्तमम् ॥ १-५५-२०

20. parvaNi = on an auspicious day [in Full Moon day]; samudra iva = ocean, as with; viiryeNa vivardhamaanaH = by vitality, on the rise; raama = oh, Rama; R^iSi sattamam vasiSTham = sage, sagaciously mighty one, Vashishta; tadaa = now; hatam mene = dead, deemed as.

"By vitality Vishvamitra is like an ocean with rough riptide on a Full Moon day, and oh, Rama, he deemed that sagaciously mighty sage Vashishta is now 'dead.' [1-55-20]

Verse Locator

ततो गत्वा आश्रमपदम् मुमोच अस्त्राणि पार्थिवः ।

यैः तत् तपो वनम् सर्वम् निर्दग्धम् च अस्त्र तेजसा ॥ १-५५-२१

21. tataH = then; paarthivaH = king - Vishvamitra; aashramapadam gatvaa = to hermitage's threshold [of Vashishta,] on going; astraaNi mumoca = missiles, released [propelled]; yaiH = by which [missiles]; tat sarvam tapaH vanam = that, in entirety, ascetic, woodland; astra tejasa = by missiles', fire [holocaust]; nir dagdham = completely, burnt down.

Then on going to the threshold of Vashishta 's hermitage that king propelled his missiles, by the holocaust of which missiles that ascetic woodland is completely burnt down in its entirety. [1-55-21]

Verse Locator

उदीर्यमाणम् अस्त्रम् तत् विश्वामित्रस्य धीमतः ।

दृष्ट्वा विप्रद्रुता भीता मुनयः शतशो दिशः ॥ १-५५-२२

22. dhii mataH = courage, minded [one with sparkling intellect]; vishvaamitrasya = of Vishvamitra; tat udiiryamaaNam agram = that, turbo-jetting, missile; dR^iSTvaa = on seeing; shatashaH munayaH = hundreds of, saints; bhiitaa = are frightened; [shatasaH] dishaH = in hundreds, of ways; vi pra drutaa = very, speedily, fled.

"On seeing the turbo-jetting missiles of Vishvamitra jetted by his sparkling intellect, hundreds of saints were frightened and they very speedily fled in hundreds of ways. [1-55-22]

Verse Locator

वसिष्ठस्य च ये शिष्याः ये च वै मृग पक्षिणः ।
विद्रवन्ति भयात् भीता नाना दिक्भ्यः सहस्रशः ॥ १-५५-२३

23. vasiSThasya ye shiSyaaH = of Vashishta , whoever, disciples; are there, they; mR^iga pakshiNaH = animals, birds; bhayaat bhiitaa = from fear, frightened; sahasrashaH = in thousands; naanaa dikbhyaH = to numerous, directions; vi dravanti = hastily, fleeing.

"Whoever is the disciple of Vashishta and whichever is either animal or a bird, all are utterly frightened and thousands of them have hastily fled to numerous directions. [1-55-23]

Verse Locator

वसिष्ठस्य आश्रमपदम् शून्यम् आसीत् महात्मनः ।
मुहूर्तम् इव निःशब्दम् आसीत् ईरिण संनिभम् ॥ १-५५-२४

24. mahaa aatmanaH = vasiSThasya aashrama padam = of broad-minded sage, Vashishta's, hermitage, threshold; shuunyam aasiit = void, it has become; muhuurtam iva = in a wink, just in; iriNa samnibham = arid land - burial ground, alike; niHshabdam aasiit = silence, became.

"The threshold of that broad-minded Vashishta's hermitage fell void, and in a wink it has become silent like a burial ground as every shrub, herb and tree is cindery, and every bird, animal and stock is an evacuee. [1-55-24]

Verse Locator

वदतो वै वसिष्ठस्य मा भै इति मुहुर्मुहुः ।
नाशयामि अद्य गाधेयम् नीहारम् इव भास्करः ॥ १-५५-२५

25. bhaaskaraH niihaaram iva = Sun, to mist, as with - like sun demisting the mist; gaadheyam = Gadhi's son - Vishvamitra will be; adya naashayaami = now, I will destroy; maa bhai = do not, fear; iti = thus; vasiSThasya = of Vashishta; muhuH muhuH = again, again; vadataH = [although] saying [shouting at the fleeing inmates of hermitage, they have; vi pra drutaa = very, speedily, fled.]

"Although Vashishta shouted at them saying time and again, 'do not fear, do not fear... now I will dissipate that son of Gaadhi, Vishvamitra, like Sun demisting the mist,' all the inmates of hermitage have hastily fled. [1-55-25]

Verse Locator

एवम् उक्त्वा महातेजा वसिष्ठो जपताम् वरः ।
विश्वामित्रम् तदा वाक्यम् स रोषम् इदम् अब्रवीत् ॥ १-५५-२६

26. mahaatejaaH japataam varaH vasiSThaH = great-resplendent, among best meditators, the best one, Vashishta; evam uktvaa = that way, on saying [to evacuees]; tadaa = then; vishvaamitram = to Vishvamitra; sa roSam = with, rancour; idam vaakyam abraviit = this, sentence, said.

"On saying that way to the evacuees, Vashishta, the great-resplendent sage and a best one among best meditators rancorously said this word to Vishvamitra. [1-55-26]

Verse Locator

आश्रमम् चिर संवृद्धम् यत् विनाशितवान् असि ।

दुराचारो हि यत् मूढ तस्मात् त्वम् न भविष्यसि ॥ १-५५-२७

27. muuDha = oh, senseless one; cira sam vR^iddham aashramam = for a long time, well, nourished, hermitage; yat = by which reason; vinaashitavaan asi = havocked one, you have; yat = by which; dur aacaaraH hi = badly, in conduct [reprehensible one,] indeed you are; tasmaat = thereby; tvam na bhaviSyasi = you, will not, survive.

" 'You senseless king, by which reason you have havocked this hermitage that is well nourished for a long time by me, for that reason you have become a reprehensible one, and thereby you will not survive any longer. [1-55-27]

Vividly: 'when I have sensibly nourished the trees, birds and animals or disciples, saints and sages, in indoctrinating them the true dharma 'righteous duty...' observable by each of the birthed being, what necessitated you to harm the harmless 'fly anywhere' birds, 'new to world' calves and 'take what you need' trees and animals... you should have confronted me headlong, instead... but you on seeing such a beatitude of this hermitage, you have become envious in your self-aggrandisement... and as said in an old saying like, 'a senseless reprehensible being, may it be a human, animal, bird, or a reptile is unfit to survive for long...' you are now transposable with such a senseless being by this act of yours, which you have undertaken with the notion of 'survival of the fittest...' thereby I will now show you who is fit enough to survive, an instructor or an intruder, in effacing your survival...'

Verse Locator

इति उक्त्वा परम क्रुद्धो दण्डम् उद्यंय सत्वरः ।

विधूम इव काल अग्निः यम दण्डम् इव अपरम् ॥ १-५५-२८

28. iti uktvaa = thus, on saying; sa tvaraH = with, haste [post-hastily]; parama kruddhaH = extremely, infuriated; vi dhuuma kaala agniH iva = without, fumes, Time, Fire, as with; aparam yama daNDam iva = another, Yama's, baton, which is like; daNDam = a baton; udyamya = Vashishta up heaved.

"On saying thus that extremely infuriated Sage Vashishta post-hastily up-heaved his baton, which is alike the fumeless Ultimate Fire of End Time, and the other baton of Yama, the Terminator, and affronted Vishvamitra." Thus, Sage Shataananda continued his narration of Vishvamitra's legend. [1-55-28]

इति वाल्मीकि रामायणे आदि काव्ये बाल काण्डे पंच पंचाशः सर्गः

Thus, this is the 55th chapter in Bala Kanda of Valmiki Ramayana, the First Epic poem of India.

Book I : Bala Kanda - The Youthful Majesties

Chapter [Sarga] 56 Verses converted to UTF-8, Oct 09

Introduction

Vashishta nullifies Vishvamitra's missiles just by his Brahma's baton. All missiles are defused when Vashishta consumed tghem. Vishvamitra launches the highest missile, namely Brahma-missile, which too is consumed by Vashishta, whereby the body of Vashishta becomes a Brahma missile and starts to emit radiation. Then, upon the prayer of gods and saints, Vashishta withdraws the effect of that missile. Vishvamitra on seeing this concludes that mere missiles are of no use and thus he embarks on a sublime ascesis for Brahma-hood.

Verse Locator

एवम् उक्तो वसिष्ठेन विश्वामित्रो महाबलः ।
आग्नेयम् अस्त्रम् उत्क्षिप्य तिष्ठ तिष्ठ इति च अब्रवीत् ॥ १-५६-१

1. mahaabalaH vishvaamitraH = great-mighty, Vishvamitra; vasiSThena evam uktaH = by Vashishta, this way, spoken to; aagneyam astram utkSipya = fiery, missile, brandishing; tiSTha tiSTha = withstand, withstand [this missile]; iti abraviit ca = thus, said [challenged,] also.

"When Vashishta spoke in this way, the great-mighty Vishvamitra brandishing Fiery-missile challenged Vashishta saying, 'withstand this, withstand this...' Thus, sage Shataananda continued his narration of Vishvamitra's legend. [1-56-1]

Verse Locator

ब्रह्मदण्डम् समुद्यंय काल दण्डम् इव अपरम् ।
वसिष्ठो भगवान् क्रोधात् इदम् वचनम् अब्रवीत् ॥ १-५६-२

2. bhagavaan vasiSThaH = reverential one, Vashishta; aparam kaala daNDam iva = the other, Terminator's, baton, like; brahma daNDam sam udyamya = Brahma's, baton, well, raising up; krodhaat idam vacanam abraviit = furiously, this, sentence, spoke.

"That reverential sage Vashishta then upraising his Brahma-baton, which is like the other baton of the Terminator, spoke this sentence furiously. [1-56-2]

Verse Locator

क्षत्र बन्धो स्थितो अस्मि एष यद् बलम् तद् विदर्शय ।
नाशयामि अद्य ते दर्पम् शस्त्रस्य तव गाधिज ॥ १-५६-३

3. kshatra bandhaH = oh, Kshatriya, meritless; eSa = this me; sthitaH asmi = staying, I am; yat balam = which, prowess - you have; tat vi darshaya = that, entirely, you display; gaadhi ja = oh, to Gaadhi, one born to - Vishvamitra; adya te darpam = now, your, vanity; tava shastrasya [darpam] = your, missile's, [vanity]; naashayaami = I will ruin.

" 'I am staying here only, you meritless Kshatriya, you may clearly display whatever prowess you have, oh, Gaadhi's son Vishvamitra, I will now ruin whatever vanity you or your missiles have. [1-56-3]

क्व च ते क्षत्रिय बलम् क्व च ब्रह्म बलम् महत् ।
पश्य ब्रह्म बलम् दिव्यम् मम क्षत्रिय पांसन ॥ १-५६-४

4. kshatriya paansana = oh, Kshatriya, abased one; te kSatriya balam kva = your, Kshatriya's force [force of belligerence's,] where is; mahat brahma balam kva ca = supreme, Brahma's [sagacity's,] force, where is; mama divyam brahma balam pashya = my, seraphic, Brahma's [sagacity's,] strength, you watch.

"Where stands the force of belligerence when compared to the supreme force of sagacity, you abased Kshatriya, watch out for my strength of seraphic sagacity." So said Vashishta to Vishvamitra. [1-56-4]

Verse Locator

तस्य अस्त्रम् गाधि पुत्रस्य घोरम् आग्नेयम् उत्तमम् ।
ब्रह्म दण्डेन तत् शांतम् अग्नेः वेग इव अभसा ॥ १-५६-५

5. tasya gaadhi putrasya = his, Gaadhi, son's; uttamam ghoram tat aagneyam astram = matchless, deadly, that, Fire, missile; [udyatam = projected, bolted]; ambhasaa agneH vega iva = by water, fire's, speed [rage,] as [silenced] with; brahma daNDena shaantam = by Brahma's, baton [of Vashishta,] that, is silenced.

"With his baton of Brahma Vashishta silenced that matchless and deadly Fiery-missile of Gaadhi's son, namely Vishvamitra, as a deluge of water silencing a rage of fire. [1-56-5]

Verse Locator

वारुणम् चैव रौद्रम् च ऐन्द्रम् पाशुपतम् तथा ।
ऐषीकम् च अपि चिक्षेप रुषितो गाधि नंदनः ॥ १-५६-६

6. ruSitaH gaadhi nandanaH = rancorously, Gaadhi's, son; vaaruNam caiva = Varuna missile, also thus; raudram ca = Rudra missile, also; aindram = Indra missile; tathaa = like that; paashupatam = Paashupata missile; aiSiikam ca api = Ishiika, also, even; cikSepa = fusilladed.

Vishvamitra, the son of Gaadhi then rancorously fusilladed the missiles regulated by gods like Varuna, Rudra, Indra, Paashupata, and even a missile which is projectile through grass blade called Ishiika. [1-56-6]

The accounts of these missiles are narrated in chapters 27, 28 of this canto Bala, where Vishvamitra accords these very missiles to Rama. Hence, their details are not reiterated here but just catalogued.

Verse Locator

मानवम् मोहनम् चैव गांधर्वम् स्वापनम् तथा ।
जृंभणम् मदानम् चैव संतापन विलापने ॥ १-५६-७

7. maanavam mohanam caiva = Humane, Rager, also thus; gaandharvam svaapanam tathaa = Stupefier, Hypnotiser, thus; jR^imbhaNam maadanam caiva = Yawner, Intoxicator, also thus; santaapana vilaapane = Humidifier, Weep-inducer.

"Vishvamitra also launched missiles named Humane, Rager, Stupefier, Hypnotiser, Yawner, Intoxicator, also thus Humidifier, Weep-inducer. [1-56-7]

Verse Locator

शोषणम् दारणम् चैव वज्रम् अस्त्रम् सुदुर्जयम् ।

ब्रह्म पाशम् काल पाशम् वारुणम् पाशम् एव च ॥ १-५६-८

8. shoSaNam daaraNam caiva = Drainer, Ripper, also thus; vajram astram su dur jayam = Thunderbolt, missile, highly, not, conquerable one; brahma paasham kaala paasham = Brahma's, lasso, Time's, lasso; vaaruNam paasham eva ca = Rain's, lasso, even, also.

"He also launched the missiles called Drainer and Ripper, and the highly unconquerable Thunderbolt, even the lassos of Brahma, Time and Rain-gods. [1-56-8]

Verse Locator

पिनाकम् अस्त्रम् च दयितम् शुष्क आर्द्रे अशनी तथा ।

दण्ड अस्त्रम् अथ पैशाचम् क्रौन्चम् अस्त्रम् तथैव च ॥ १-५६-९

9. pinaakam astram ca = Shiva's, missile, also; dayitam = Baffler [of gandharvas]; shuSka aardre ashanii tathaa = Drier, Drencher, Bolter, like that; daNDa astram atha paishaacam = Punisher, missile, then, Monster; krauncam astram tathaiva ca = Wrestler, missile, like that, also.

"Also missiles called Shiva, Monster, Punisher, Wrestler and like that the Baffler, Bolter, Drier, Drencher are launched. [1-56-9]

Verse Locator

धर्म चक्रम् काल चक्रम् विष्णु चक्रम् तथैव च ।

वायव्यम् मथनम् चैव अस्त्रम् हय शिरः तथा ॥ १-५६-१०

10. dharma cakram = Virtue, Disc; kaala cakram = Time, Disc; viSNu cakram tathaiva ca = Vishnu's, disc, like that, also; vaayavyam mathanam caiva = Blower, Stirrer, also thus; astram haya shiraH tathaa = missile, Horse, Head, like that.

"And he launched discs called the Discs of Virtue, Time and Vishnu and he also launched other missiles like the Blower, Stirrer and like that the missile with Horse-head. [1-56-10]

Verse Locator

शक्ति द्वयम् च चिक्षेप कंकालम् मुसलम् तथा ।

वैद्याधरम् महाअस्त्रम् च कालास्त्रम् अथ दारुणम् ॥ १-५६-११

11. shakti dvayam ca cikSepa = power, pair of [Power of Vishnu, and the Power of Rudra,] also, hurled; kankaalam musalam tathaa = Impeller, Crowbar, like that; vaidyaadharam mahaastram ca = Staggerer, great missile, also; kaala astram atha daaruNam = Time, missile, then, lethal one.

"A pair of powers are launched, namely Power of Vishnu and the Power of Rudra, like that the Impeller, Crowbar, and a great missile called Staggerer, and then he launched the lethal missile of the Time. [1-56-11]

Verse Locator

त्रिशूलम् अस्त्रम् घोरम् च कापालम् अथ कंकणम् ।

एतानि अस्त्राणि चिक्षेप सर्वाणि रघु नंदन ॥ १-५६-१२

वसिष्ठे जपताम् श्रेष्ठे तद् अद्भुतम् इव अभवत् ।

12, 13a. raghu nandana = oh, Raghu's, descendent; etaani sarvaaNi astraaNi = these, all, missiles; atha = then; tri shuulam astram ghoram ca = Tri, pronged spear [Trident,] missile, deadly one, also; kaapaalam kankaNam = Skull, Torque; japataam shreSThe vasiSThe = among meditator's, best one, on Vashishta; cikSepa = triggered off; tat adbhutam iva abhavat = [all] that, spectacle, like, it became.

"Oh, Rama, the descendent of Raghu, Vishvamitra on triggering off all these missiles then he launched the deadly Trident, Skull and Torque missiles on Vashishta, and whole thing has become a spectacular display of Vishvamitra's arsenal. [1-56-12, 13a]

Verse Locator

तानि सर्वाणि दण्डेन ग्रसते ब्रह्मणः सुतः ॥ १-५६-१३
तेषु शांतेषु ब्रह्मास्त्रम् क्षिप्तवान् गाधि नंदनः ।

13b, 14a. brahmaNaH sutaH = by Brahma's, son [Vashishta]; taani sarvaaNi = them [missiles,] all; daNDena grasate = by baton, consumed [defused]; teSu shaanteSu = they [missiles,] [when] silenced; gaadhi nandanaH = Gaadhi's, son [Vishvamitra]; brahma astram kSiptavaan = Brahma's, missile, touched off.

"Brahma's son Vashishta defused all of those missiles just with his baton and when all of them are thus silenced, Gaadhi's son Vishvamitra touched off Brahma's missile. [1-56-13b, 14a]

Verse Locator

तत् अस्त्रम् उद्यतम् दृष्ट्वा देवाः स अग्नि पुरोगमाः ॥ १-५६-१४
देव ऋषयः च संभ्रांता गंधर्वाः स महा उरगाः ।
त्रैलोक्यम् आसीत् संत्रस्तम् ब्रह्मास्त्रे समुदीरिते ॥ १-५६-१५

14b, 15. udyatam tat astram dR^iSTvaa = uplifted [for launching,] that, missile, on seeing; sa agni purogamaaH = with, Fire-god, as their vanguard; devaaH = gods; deva R^iSayaH ca = godly, sages, also; sa mahaa uragaaH gandharvaaH = along with, great, reptiles, gandharva-s; sambhraantaa = are perplexed; brahma astre samudiirite = Brahma's, missile, while being launched; trailokyam = triad of worlds; sam trastam = highly, perturbed; [sam taptam = highly, burnt]; aasiit = became.

"When Vishvamitra brandished and set up Brahma missile for launching, seeing it all the gods keeping the Fire-god at their vanguard, godly sages, reptiles along with gandharva-s are perplexed, and the triad of worlds itself is perturbed. [1-56-14b, 15]

Verse Locator

तत् अपि अस्त्रम् महाघोरम् ब्राह्मम् ब्राह्मेण तेजसा ।
वसिष्ठो ग्रसते सर्वम् ब्रह्म दण्डेन राघव ॥ १-५६-१६

16. raaghava = oh, Raghava; vasiSThaH braahmeNa tejasaa = Vashishta, with seraphic, resplendence [of his baton]; brahma daNDena = by Brahma's, baton; mahaa ghoram = deleteriously, destructive; tat braahmam astram api = that, Brahma, missile, even; sarvam grasate = completely, consumed.

"Even that deleteriously destructive Brahma's missile is completely consumed with the seraphic resplendence of Brahma-baton of Sage Vashishta. [1-56-16]

Verse Locator

ब्रह्म अस्त्रम् ग्रसमानस्य वसिष्ठस्य महात्मनः ।
त्रैलोक्य मोहनम् रौद्रम् रूपम् आसीत् सुदारुणम् ॥ १-५६-१७

17. brahma astram grasamaanasya = Brahma, missile, while being finished off; mahaatmanaH vasiSThasya ruupam = great-souled one, of Vashishta, appearance of; trailokya mohanam = for Tri-worlds, perplexing; raudram = appalling; su daaruNam aasiit = surely, petrifying, it became.

"The appearance of that great-souled Vashishta became appallingly perplexing when he is finishing off that Brahma missile as if to surely petrify the Tri-world. [1-56-17]

Verse Locator

रोम कूपेषु सर्वेषु वसिष्ठस्य महात्मनः ।
मरीच्य इव निष्पेतुः अग्नेः धूम आकुल अर्चिषः ॥ १-५६-१८

18. mahaatmanaH vasiSThasya = great-souled one, of Vashishta; sarveSu roma kuupeSu = from all, hair, pits; dhuuma aakula arciSaH = with fumes, rolling up, with radiated shafts; agneH mariicyaH = of radiation, beams [radiational beams]; niS petuH iva = out, fallen [ramified,] so to speak.

"From all of the pits of hair of that great-souled Vashishta ramified are the radiational beams and those radiated shafts are rolling up with the fumes of radiation, so to speak. [1-56-18]

Verse Locator

प्राज्वलत् ब्रह्म दण्डः च वसिष्ठस्य कर उद्यतः ।
विधूम इव काल अग्निः यम दण्ड इव अपरः ॥ १-५६-१९

19. vasiSThasya kara udyataH = of Vashishta, by hand, upraised; brahma daNDaH ca = Brahma's, baton, also; vi dhuuma kaala agniH iva = without, fumes, Time's, inferno, as if; aparaH = another [or, earthly one]; yama daNDa iva = Yama, the Terminator's, baton, as if; praa jvalat = highly, glowing.

"The baton of Brahma gripped in his hand and upraised by Vashishta is highly glowing as if it is the fumeless inferno of Time, and as if it is the earthly baton of Yama, the Terminator. [1-56-19]

Verse Locator

ततो अस्तुवन् मुनि गणा वसिष्ठम् जपताम् वरम् ।
अमोघम् ते बलम् ब्रह्मन् तेजो धारय तेजसा ॥ १-५६-२०
निगृहीतः त्वया ब्रह्मन् विश्वामित्रो महातपाः ।
प्रसीद जपताम् श्रेष्ठ लोकाः सन्तु गत व्यथाः ॥ १-५६-२१

20. tataH = then; muni gaNaH = saint's, assemblages; japataam varam vasiSTham astuvan = among meditators, the best, at Vashishta, have extolled; brahman = oh, Brahman; te balam amogham = your, prowess, is infallible; tejaH tejasa dhaaraya = combustion, [with your own] combustive power, you bear; brahman = oh, Brahman; tvayaa = by you; mahaatapaaH vishvaamitraH nigR^ihiitaH = supreme ascetic, Vishvamitra, is forestalled; japataam shreSTha = oh, among meditators, the best; prasiida = be gracious; lokaaH gata vyathaaH santu = [let] worlds, with shooed away, anguish, survive.

"The assemblages of saints then extolled the best meditator Vashishta saying, 'oh, Brahman, infallible is your prowess, but bear this combustion of missile by your own combustive power. Though Vishvamitra is a supreme ascetic he is forestalled by you and your seraphic power, but this power of yours is equally anguishing all the worlds. Hence, let the worlds survive shooing away their anguish caused by your prowess. Oh, Brahman, be gracious, for you are the best among the best meditators...' So said saints to Vashishta. [1-56-20, 21]

Verse Locator

एवम् उक्तो महातेजाः शमम् चक्रे महातपाः ।
विश्वामित्रो अपि निकृतो विनिःश्वस्य इदम् अब्रवीत् ॥ १-५६-२२

22. evam uktaH = thus, spoken to; mahaatejaaH mahaatapaaH = great-resplendent one, high-ascetic [Vashishta]; shamam cakre = composure, brooked; nikR^itaH vishvaamitraH api = estranged, Vishvamitra, but; vi niH shvasya = verily, out, breathing - suspiring heavily; idam abraviit = this, spoke [to himself.]

"When that great-resplendent Vashishta is spoken thus by saints and gods he composed himself, and then that estranged Vishvamitra spoke this to himself with heavy suspiration. [1-56-22]

Verse Locator

धिक् बलम् क्षत्रिय बलम् ब्रह्म तेजो बलम् बलम् ।
एकेन ब्रह्म दण्डेन सर्व अस्त्राणि हतानि मे ॥ १-५६-२३

23. kSatriya balam dhik = Kshatriya's, might, fie; brahma tejaH balam balam = Brahman's, resplendence's, might, is mightier; ekena brahma daNDena = with only one, Brahma's, baton; me sarva astraaNi hataani = my, all, missiles, defused.

" 'Fie upon the might of Kshatriya, mightier is the might of Brahman's resplendence, only with one baton of Brahma all of my missiles are defused. [1-56-23]

Verse Locator

तत् एतत् समवेक्ष्य अहम् प्रसन्न इन्द्रिय मानसः ।
तपो महत् समास्थास्ये यत् वै ब्रह्मत्व कारणम् ॥ १-५६-२४

24. tat = therefore; etat samavekSyA = all thus, on analysing; aham prasanna indriya maanasaH = I, with, quietened, senses, heart; yat = which; brahmatva kaaraNam vai = Bahaman-hood, causative of, really; [tat = that]; mahat tapaH samaasthaasye = sublime, ascesis, I embark on.

" 'Therefore on analysing this matter, I with my heart and senses quietened will embark on a sublime ascesis which really will be the causative factor for according Brahma-Sage-hood.' So thought Vishvamitra..." Thus Sage Shataananda continued his narration of Vishvamitra's legend. [1-56-24]

brahmatva - brahaman-hood

Firstly the difference between a Brahmin and a Brahman may be differentiated, where a Brahmin is just by his birth in that caste and if he practises numerous ordeals he will attain Brahman-hood. Not all Brahmins are Brahman and a real Brahman will not look back for his birth details.

Throughout this chapter Vashishta is called by Valmiki as japataam varaH, japataam shreSTaH and the like, only to remind us that Vashishta is an eminent meditator of Vedic hymns, all of which culminate into Gayatri hymn. Thus, Vashishta's only weapon is Gayatri hymn with which he subjugated all the arsenal of Vishvamitra. The fight between Vishvamitra and Vashishta is not just a fight between a sage and king, but between vidya - avidya; aatma vidya - anaatma vidya 'enlightenment and un-enlightenment...' An enlightened one does not spring up at any trivial inconvenience but becomes a horrid being, if that antagonistic assail becomes intolerable for living beings. This is the real essence and nature of a true Brahman, whose arsenal is just a wooden baton and heartfelt Gayatri hymn.

For this Bhagavad Gita says at Ch. 18, verse 42:

shamo damaH tapaH shaucamkShaantiH aarjavam eva ca |
j~naanam vij~naanam aastikyam braahmam karma svabhaavam | |

'A Brahman's virtues, / Prince Born of his nature, are serenity / Self-mastery, religion, purity / Patience, uprightness, learning, and to know / The truth of things which be...' Sir Edwin Arnold.

Thus, Vashishta had never resorted to meaningless curses, menacing arsenal, mutinous retaliation but just swallowed the wrath of a wrathful king. This is brahmaNatva

इति वाल्मीकि रामायणे आदि काव्ये बाल काण्डे षट् पंचाशः सर्गः

Thus, this is the 56th chapter in Bala Kanda of Valmiki Ramayana, the First Epic poem of India.

Book I : Bala Kanda - The Youthful Majesties

Chapter [Sarga] 57 Verses converted to UTF-8, Oct 09

Introduction

The legend of Trishanku is narrated to Rama, which forms a part of Vishvamitra's legend. When Brahma blesses Vishvamitra to be a kingly-saint, rather than a Brahman-saint, Vishvamitra continues his asceticism in southerly parts of country. In the meantime, one king named Trishanku desired to go to heaven with mortal body and approaches Vashishta who rejects that very suggestion. Then that king approaches the sons of the same Vashishta with the same idea.

Verse Locator

ततः संतप्त हृदयः स्मरन् निग्रहम् आत्मनः ।
विनिःश्वस्य विनिःश्वस्य कृत वैरो महात्मना ॥ १-५७-१
स दक्षिणाम् दिशम् गत्वा महिष्या सह राघव ।
तताप परमम् घोरम् विश्वामित्रो महातपाः ॥ १-५७-२
फल मूल अशनो दान्तैः चचार महत् तपः ।

1, 2, 3a: raaghava = oh, Raghava; tataH = then; kR^ita vairaH = on making, enemy; mahaatmanaa = with great-souled Vashishta; mahaatapaaH = that great-ascetic; saH vishvaamitraH = he, that Vishvamitra; santapta hR^idayaH = with seething, heart; aatmanaaH nigraham smaran = his, subdual, [whenever] reminisced; viniHshvasya viniHshvasya = suspiring, suspiring; mahiSyaa saha = prime queen, along with; dakSiNaam disham gatvaa = to southern, quarter, on going; paramam ghoram = a highly, astounding; mahat tapaH tataapa = supreme, asceticism, practised; phala muula ashanaH = fruits, tubers, eating [subsisting on]; daantaiH = self-collectedly; [su mahat tapaH = very, high, asceticism]; cacaara = conducted.

"Oh, Raghava, on making that great-souled Vashishta an enemy, whenever Vishvamitra reminisced over his subdual by Vashishta, he is seethed at heart and heaved sighs repeatedly. Then on going to southern quarter with his prime queen, that great-ascetic Vishvamitra self-collectedly conducted a highly astounding asceticism subsisting only on fruits and tubers." Thus Sage Shataananda continued his narration of Vishvamitra's legend. [1-57-1, 2, 3a]

Verse Locator

अथ अस्य जज्ञिरे पुत्राः सत्य धर्म परायणाः ॥ १-५७-३
हविष्यन्दो मधुष्यन्दो दृढनेत्रो महारथः ।

3b, 4a: atha asya = then, to him; haviSpandaH = Havispanda; madhuSpandaH = Madhuspanda; dR^iDhanetraH = Dhridhanetra; mahaarathaH = Mahaaratha; satya dharma paraayaNaaH = in candour, chivalry, conducting; putraaH jaGYire = sons, birthed.

"Then Vishvamitra begot sons named Havispanda, Madhuspanda, Dhridhanetra and Mahaaratha, who conduct themselves in candour and chivalry. [1-57-3]

Verse Locator

पूर्ण वर्ष सहस्रे तु ब्रह्मा लोक पितामहः ॥ १-५७-४
अब्रवीत् मधुरम् वाक्यम् विश्वामित्रम् तपो धनम् ।
जिता राजर्षि लोकाः ते तपसा कुशिक आत्मज ॥ १-५७-५

4b, 5. varSa sahasre puurNe = years, thousand, at the close of; loka pitaamahaH brahmaa = world's, grandparent, Brahma; tapaH dhanam vishvaamitram = asceticism, wealthy, to Vishvamitra; madhuram vaakyam abraviit = mellowly, words spoke; kushika aatmaja = oh, Kushika's, son; te tapasaa = your, by asceticism; raajarSi lokaaH jitaH = kingly-sages', worlds, won over.

"At the close of one thousand years of asceticism Brahma, the Grandparent of all worlds, revealed Himself to Vishvamitra and spoke these words mellowly to ascetically wealthy Vishvamitra, 'oh, son of Kushika, Vishvamitra, you have won the worlds of kingly-sages by your asceticism. [1-57-4b, 5]

Verse Locator

अनेन तपसा त्वाम् हि राज ऋषिर् इति विद्महे ।
एवम् उक्त्वा महातेजा जगाम सह दैवतैः ॥ १-५७-६
त्रिविष्टपम् ब्रह्म लोकम् लोकानाम् परम ईश्वरः ।

6, 7a. anena tapasaa = by this, asceticism; tvaam = you; raaja R^iSiH iti vidmahe = kingly, sage, thus, [we] acquiesce [you]; mahaatejaaH = great resplendent [Brahma]; lokaanaam parama iishvaraH = for worlds, supreme, ruler [Brahma]; evam uktvaa = that way, on speaking; daivataiH saha = gods [in convoy,] along with; brahma lokam = to Brahma's, abode; triviSTapam = to Heaven; jagaama = went away.

" 'We indeed acquiesce you as a kingly-sage by your asceticism.' saying so that great resplendent Brahma, the Supreme Ruler of the Worlds, went away to his Abode of Brahma, while the gods in Brahma's convoy went to Indra's Heaven. [1-57-6, 7a]

Verse Locator

विश्वामित्रो अपि तत् श्रुत्वा ह्रिया किञ्चित् अवाङ्मुखः ॥ १-५७-७
दुःखेन महता आविष्टः स मन्युः इदम् अब्रवीत् ।

7b, 8a. vishvaamitraH api tat shrutvaa = Vishvamitra, even, that, on hearing; hriyaa kincit avaa~N mukhaH = by disgrace, down, faced; mahataa duHkhena aaviSTaH = with high, anguish, prevailing over; sa manyuH idam abraviit = with, rancour, this, spoke [soliloquised.]

"On hearing that Vishvamitra is down-faced with disgrace, and while high anguish prevailed over him, he rancorously soliloquised this. [1-57-7b, 8a]

Verse Locator

तपः च सुमहत् तप्तम् राज ऋषिर् इति माम् विदुः ॥ १-५७-८
देवाः स ऋषि गणाः सर्वे न अस्ति मन्ये तपः फलम् ।

8b, 9a. su mahat tapaH taptam = very, high, practised [even though]; maam raaja R^iSiH iti = me, kingly, sage, thus as; sa R^iSi gaNaaH sarve devaaH = with, hermits' observances, all, gods; viduH = are recognising; tapaH phalam na asti manye = of asceticism, fruition, not, is there, I deem.

" 'Even though I have practised a very high asceticism, the gods together with the observances of hermits are recognising me just as a 'kingly-sage.' Thereby I deem that there is no fruition to my asceticism.' Thus Vishvamitra thought. [8b, 9a]

Verse Locator

एवम् निश्चित्य मनसा भूय एव महातपाः ॥ १-५७-९

तपः चचार काकुत्स्थ परमम् परम आत्मवान् ।

9b, 10a. kaakutstha = oh, Rama of Kakutstha; mahaatapaaH = great-ascetic; parama aatmavaan = obstinate, souled one - self-willed Vishvamitra; evam manasaa nishcitya = thus, in heart, on deciding; bhuuya eva = again, that way; paramam tapaH cacaara = supreme, ascesis, undertook.

"Oh, Rama of Kakutstha, deciding in this way in his heart of hearts that self-willed Vishvamitra again undertook a supreme ascesis as he is a great-ascetic. [1-57-9]

Verse Locator

एतस्मिन् एव काले तु सत्य वादी जित इन्द्रियः ॥ १-५७-१०

त्रिशंकुः इति विख्यात इक्ष्वाकु कुल वर्धनः ।

10b, 11a. etasmin eva kaale tu = in this, only, time, but; satya vaadii = truth, advocate of - veracious one; jita indriyaH = conquered, senses; ikSvaaku kula vardhanaH = Ikshvaku, dynasty, enhancer; trishankuH iti vikhyaata = Trishanku, thus, renowned; such a king is there.

"In this meantime there is a veracious king named Trishanku, an enhancer of Ikshvaku dynasty, and one renowned for his self-conquest. [1-57-10b, 11a]

Verse Locator

तस्य बुद्धिः समुत्पन्ना यजेयम् इति राघव ॥ १-५७-११

गच्छेयम् स्व शरीरेण देवानाम् परमाम् गतिम् ।

वसिष्ठम् स समाहूय कथयामास चिन्तितम् ॥ १-५७-१२

11b, 12. raaghava = oh, Raghava; sva shariireNa = own, with body; devaanaam paramaam gatim = of god's, ultimate, course [to heaven]; gacCheyam = I will go; yajeyam = I perform ritual; iti = thus; tasya buddhiH sam utpannaa = to his, mind, well, cropped up [idea sprang in the mind of Trishanku]; saH = he [Trishanku]; vasiSTham sam aahuuya = Vashishta is, well [sincerely,] calling [inviting]; cintitam kathayaamaasa = what he thought [by Trishanku]; started to tell.

"Oh, Raghava, an idea sprang up in the mind of Trishanku to perform a ritual by which he will go to heaven with his own body. Then he sincerely invited Vashishta and told him what his thinking is. [1-57-11b, 12]

Verse Locator

अशक्यम् इति च अपि उक्तो वसिष्ठेन महात्मना ।

प्रत्याख्यातो वसिष्ठेन स ययौ दक्षिणाम् दिशम् ॥ १-५७-१३

ततः तत् कर्म सिद्धि अर्थम् पुत्रान् तस्य गतो नृपः ।

13, 14a. mahaatmanaa vasiSThena = by great-souled one, Vashishta; a shakyam itiuktaH = not, possible, thus, said [to Trishanku]; vasiSThena = by Vashishta; prati aakhyaataH = contra, dictum - contradicted, repudiated; saH = he [Trishanku]; dakSiNaam disham yayau = to southern, quarter, journeyed; tataH = then; nR^ipaH = king; tat karma siddhi artham = that, task, realising, purpose of; tasya = his [Vashishta's]; putraan = to sons; gataH = gone to.

"But the great-souled Vashishta said it as impossible. Thus repudiated Trishanku went to southerly direction in search of orchestrators for the purpose of realising that task, such a phantasmal ritual that enables him to go to heaven with his body, and that king hjas gone to the sons of Vashishta. [1-57-13, 14a]

वासिष्ठा दीर्घ तपसः तपो यत्र हि तेपिरे ॥ १-५७-१४

त्रिशंकुः सुमहातेजाः शतम् परम भास्वरम् ।

वसिष्ठ पुत्रान् ददृशे तप्यमानान् यशस्विनः ॥ १-५७-१५

14b, 15. diirgha tapasaH = protractedly, expiating; vaasiSThaa = sons of Vashishta; yatra = where; su mahaa tejaaH = very, greatly [supremely,] luminescent ones; parama bhaasvaram = highly [superbly,] refulgent ones; tapaH tepire hi = asceticism, practising, indeed; shatam manasvinaH = hundred, noble-souled ones; tapyamaanaan = while expiating; vasiSTha putraan = Vashishta's, sons; trishankuH [gatvaa] = Trishanku [having gone to that place]; dadR^ishe = he has seen [visited.]

"Trishanku has indeed gone to the place where the sons of Vashishta are protractedly expiating, and there he visited the hundred noble-souled sons of Vashishta, who are supremely self-luminescent and superbly self-refulgent by their asceticism. [1-57-14b, 15]

Verse Locator

सो अभिगंय महात्मानः सर्वान् एव गुरोः सुतान् ।

अभिवाद्य आनुपूर्व्येण हिया किञ्चित् अवाङ्मुखः ॥ १-५७-१६

अब्रवीत् स महात्मनः सर्वान् एव कृताञ्जलिः ।

16, 17a: saH = he Trishanku; mahaatmaanaH = of noble-souled ones; sarvaan eva = all, thus; guroH sutaan = indoctrinator's, at sons; abhi gamya = to near, on reaching; aanu puurvyena = later, earlier - on observing - observing eldership and younger-hood, sequentially; abhivaadya = revered; hriyaa kimcit avaa~N mukhaH = with abashment, a little, down, faced; kR^ita anjaliH = on making, palm-fold; sarvaan eva mahaatmanaH = to all of them, thus, to great-souled ones; saH abraviit = he, spoke.

"On reaching nigh of those noble-souled sons of the indoctrinator, namely Vashishta, Trishanku revered all of them sequentially according to their age, but with a little down- faced owing to abashment, and spoke to all of those great-souled ones making palm-fold in supplication. [1-57-16]

Verse Locator

शरणम् वः प्रपद्ये अहम् शरण्यान् शरणागतः ॥ १-५७-१७

प्रत्याख्यातो अस्मि भद्रम् वो वसिष्ठेन महात्मना ।

17b, 18a. sharaNa aagataH = shelter, came; aham = I; sharaNyaan = you shelterers - of the needy; vaH = you; sharaNam prapadye = shelter, I seek; vaH bhadram = to you, let safety be there; mahaatmanaa vasiSThena pratyakhyataH asmi = by great-souled, Vashishta, repudiated, I am.

" 'I have come as a shelter-seeker seeking the shelter of yours as you are the shelterers of the needy, you all be safe, as the great-souled Vashishta has repudiated me. [1-57-17b, 18a]

Verse Locator

यष्टु कामो महायज्ञम् तत् अनुज्ञातुम् अर्थथ ॥ १-५७-१८

गुरु पुत्रान् अहम् सर्वान् नमस् कृत्य प्रसादये ।

18b, 19. mahaa yaGYam yaSTu kaamaH = a great [unusual,] ritual, to perform, I long to; tat = therefore; anuGYaatum arthatha = to give assent, apt of you; aham guru putraan sarvaan = I am, to mentor's, sons, to all; namaH kR^itya prasaadaye = reverence, on making, I am proposing;.

" 'I am longing to perform an unusual ritual and it will be apt of you to give assent to it. Reverencing all of the sons of my mentor Vashishta I am proposing this to you. [1-57-18b, 19]

Verse Locator

शिरसा प्रणतो याचे ब्राह्मणान् तपसि स्थितान् ॥ १-५७-१९
ते माम् भवन्तः सिद्धि अर्थम् याजयंतु समाहिताः ।
स शरीरो यथा अहम् वै देव लोकम् अवाप्नुयाम् ॥ १-५७-२०

19b, 20. shirasaa praNataH = with head, I salute - I truckle to reverence; tapasi sthitaan braahmaNaan = in asceticism, abiding, Brahmans; yaace = I beg of you; te = such as you are; bhavantaH = you all; samaahitaaH = assiduously; maam = me; siddhi artham = achievement, for the purpose of; yaajayantu = get ritual performed through me; aham sa shariiraH = I, with, my body; yathaa = as to how; deva lokam = god's, abode [heaven]; avaapnuyaam = I can get to.

" 'With reverence I truckle before you all Brahmans who are abiding in asceticism. Such as you are I beg you to assiduously get a ritual performed through me, as to how I can get to heaven with my body. [1-57-19b, 20]

Verse Locator

प्रत्याख्यातो वसिष्ठेन गतिम् अन्याम् तपो धनाः ।
गुरु पुत्रान् ऋते सर्वान् न अहम् पश्यामि कांचन ॥ १-५७-२१

21. tapaH dhanaaH = by asceticism, oh, wealthy ones; vasiSThena pratyaaakhyaataH = by Vashishta, repudiated; aham = I; sarvaan guru putraan R^ite = all of you, mentor's, sons, except; anyaam gatim = another, recourse; kaamcana = in any way; na pashyaami = not, I am perceiving.

" 'Oh, ascetically wealthy Brahmans, as I am repudiated by Vashishta, I do not perceive another recourse excepting you, who are all the sons of mentor Vashishta. [1-57-21]

Verse Locator

इक्ष्वाकूणाम् हि सर्वेषाम् पुरोधाः परमा गतिः ।
तस्मात् अनंतरम् सर्वे भवन्तो दैवतम् मम ॥ १-५७-२२

22. sarveSaam ikSvaakuuNaam = for all, of Ikshvaku-s [kings]; purodhaaH paramaa gatiH hi = Priest, is ultimate, recourse, isn't it; tasmaat = than him [Vashishta;] anantaram = next-best; sarve bhavantaH = all, you; daivatam mama = gods, to me.

" 'The Priest is the ultimate recourse for all of the kings in Ikshvaku dynasty, isn't it. Therefore, next to Vashishta you are all the next-best gods to me.' Thus Trishanku entreated the hundred sons of Sage Vashishta." Sage Shataananda thus continued narration. [1-57-22]

इति वाल्मीकि रामायणे आदि काव्ये बाल काण्डे सप्त पंचाशः सर्गः

Thus, this is the 57th chapter in Bala Kanda of Valmiki Ramayana, the First Epic poem of India.

Book I : Bala Kanda - The Youthful Majesties

Chapter [Sarga] 58 Verses converted to UTF-8, Oct 09

Introduction

Trishanku seeks shelter of Vishvamitra when the sons of Vashishta rebuffed him, and even cursed him to become a profaner. Narrating his sad tale and his idealistic idea of going to heaven with mortal body, Trishanku earnestly appeals to Vishvamitra.

Verse Locator

ततः त्रिशंकोः वचनम् श्रुत्वा क्रोध समन्वितम् ।
ऋषि पुत्र शतम् राम राजानम् इदम् अब्रवीत् ॥ १-५८-१

1. raama = oh, Rama; trishankoH vacanam shrutvaa = Trishanku's, sentence, on hearing; tataH = then; R^iSi putra shatam = sage, sons, hundred; krodha sam anvitam = fury, very, conjoined [infuriated]; raajaanam idam abraviit = to king, this, said.

"On hearing the sentence of Trishanku, oh, Rama, the hundred sons of sage Vashishta infuriately said this to that king." Thus, sage Shataananda continued his narration to Rama and others. [1-58-1]

Verse Locator

प्रत्याख्यातो असि दुर्बुद्धे गुरुणा सत्य वादिना ।
तम् कथम् समतिक्रम्य शाखा अन्तरम् उपेयिवान् ॥ १-५८-२

2. dur buddhe = oh, slow, witted one [king]; satya vaadinaa guruNaa prati aakhyaataH asi = truth, advocator of, by mentor [Vashishta,] against, said [denounced,] you are; tam = him; sam ati kramya = verily, over, stepping - transgressing; shaakhaa antaram = branch, another; katham = how; upeyivaan = come nigh of - approaching.

" 'You slow-witted king, your veracious mentor has denounced you. But transgressing him how do you approach another branch of the same tree of wisdom, when that very tree rejected you?' So the sons of Vashishta have started to denounce Trishanku. [1-58-2]

Verse Locator

इक्ष्वाकूणाम् हि सर्वेषाम् पुरोधाः परमा गतिः ।
न च अतिक्रमितुम् शक्यम् वचनम् सत्य वादिनः ॥ १-५८-३

3. sarveSaam ikSvaakuuNaam = for all, Ikshvaku-s; purodhaaH paramaa gatiH hi = Royal Priest is, ultimate, course, isn't it; satya vaadinaH = of truth, advocator's - veracious priest; vacanam = sentence - words of advise; atikramitum = to transgress; na shakyam = not, possible.

" 'The Royal Priest is the ultimate course for all of Ikshvaku-s, isn't it. It is impossible to transgress the word of advise of such a veracious Priest. [1-58-3]

Verse Locator

अशक्यम् इति स उवाच वसिष्ठो भगवान् ऋषिः ।

तम् वयम् वै समाहर्तुम् क्रतुम् शक्ताः कथंचन ॥ १-५८-४

4. vasiSThaH bhagavaan R^iSiH = Vashishta is, most reverential, sage; saH = such [a sage]; a shakyam iti = not, possible, thus; uvaaca = has [already] said; tam = that [type of]; kratum = ritual; sam aahartum = to effectuate; vayam = we; kathamcana shaktaaH = in which way, capable.

" 'Vashishta is the most reverential sage and such a sage has already said it is impossible to conduct such a Vedic-ritual. Then, in which way we are capable to conduct such a Vedic-ritual? [1-58-4]

Verse Locator

बालिशः त्वम् नर श्रेष्ठ गंयताम् स्व पुरम् पुनः ।

याजने भगवान् शक्तः त्रैलोक्यस्य अपि पार्थिव ॥ १-५८-५

अवमानम् कथम् कर्तुम् तस्य शक्षायामहे वयम् ।

5, 6a. nara shreSTha = for men, the best [here, king of subjects]; tvam baalishaH = you are, childish; punaH sva puram gamyataam = again, [to your] own, city, get back; paarthiva = oh, king; bhagavaan = godlike [Vashishta is]; trailokyasya api = by [kings] of three worlds; yaajane shaktaH = in orchestration of ritual, is capable; [tat = therefore]; tasya = his [to reputation]; ava maanam = not, reputing [to disrepute]; kartum = to do; vayam katham shakshaayamahe = we, how, capable of.

" 'Oh king of subjects, better get back to your own city again for you are childish. That godlike Vashishta alone is capable to orchestrate any ritual by any king in all the three worlds. Oh, king, how then we are capable to cause a disrepute to his reputation.' Thus, the sons of Vashishta refuted Trishanku. [1-58-5, 6a]

Verse Locator

तेषाम् तद् वचनम् श्रुत्वा क्रोध पर्याकुल अक्षरम् ॥ १-५८-६

स राजा पुनः एव एतान् इदम् वचनम् अब्रवीत् ।

6b, 7a. saH raajaa = that, king; krodha paryaakula akSaram = with fury, highly faltering, having words; teSaam tat vacanam shrutvaa = from them, that, sentence, on hearing; punaH eva = further, thus; etaan idam vacanam abraviit = to all of them, this, sentence, spoke.

"On hearing that sentence of theirs which is highly faltering with words of fury that king further spoke this sentence to all of them." So Shataananda continued. [1-58-6b, 7a]

Verse Locator

प्रत्याख्यातो भगवता गुरु पुत्रैः तथैव हि ॥ १-५८-७

अन्याम् गतिम् गमिष्यामि स्वस्ति वो अस्तु तपो धनाः ।

7b, 8a. tapaH dhanaaH = oh, ascetically, wealthy [scholars]; bhagavataa = by godlike [Vashishta]; tathaa eva = like that, even; guru putraiH = by mentor's, sons; pratyaakhyaataH = I am rejected; hi = indeed; anyaam gatim gamiSyaami = another, objective, I wish to reach at; svasti vaH astu = safe, to you, betide;

" 'I am indeed rejected by the godlike Vashishta, likewise even by you, the sons of the same mentor, as such oh, ascetically wealthy scholars, in this state obloquy I will resort to another recourse, let safety betide you.' So Trishanku bade farewell to the sons of Vashishta, but... [1-58-7b, 8a]

Verse Locator

ऋषि पुत्राः तु तत् श्रुत्वा वाक्यम् घोर अभिसंहितम् ॥ १-५८-८

शेषुः परम संक्रुद्धाः चण्डालत्वम् गमिष्यसि ।

8b, 9a. R[^]iSi putraaH tu = sage's, sons, on their part; ghora abhi sam hitam = calamity, towards, well, inclusive of [an idea inclusive of and leading towards a calamitous situation]; tat vaakyam shrutvaa = that, sentence, on hearing; parama sam kruddhaaH = highly, verily, with fury; caNDaalatvam gamiSyasi = state of a [basely] profaner, you get into; shepuH = cursed.

"But the sons of the sage Vashishta, on hearing that sentence of the king, that is inclusive of and leading to a calamitous situation, have become very highly infuriated and cursed saying, 'you shall get into a state of basely profaner.' That is the curse issued by the sons of Vashishta to Trishanku. [1-58-8b, 9a]

This expression caNDaal has its own impact. The nomenclature of caNDaal is not the present day 'untouchable' 'outcaste' or a 'pariah' etc., because he is also a member and an important functionary in Hindu system of castes. In Aranya Kanda Seetha admonishes Ravana with the same wording at 3-56-18. The analogy she uses there is to differentiate between functionaries like the Vedic-scholar and the caste-bound Profaner [meaning: one who is not initiated into religious rites or any esoteric knowledge... but socially designated as a Cremator] and between the Altar of Fire and Fire of Pyre, and between the Vedic Ritual and Funeral Rites, both involving Vedic-hymns. A Vedic scholar, or a true Brahmin may perhaps conduct a yaj~na but he is no authority to conduct antya kriya 'funerals' till its end. At best, a priest's function is until the lighting of the pyre, and even perhaps until kapaala moksha 'breakage of cranium...' and from then on it is the function of this caNDaal to take care of the corpse consigned to fire and for its complete cremation, since leaving half burnt corpse to vultures and wolves is sinning as well as for unsanitary situations. Thus, if a Vedic scholar conducts jaata aadi kriyaaH 'rites from birth onwards...' as an initiator, then a caNDaal conducts antya, uttara kriyaaH 'rites of death afterwards...' as a terminator. This verbiage is to demark the relative values of functionaries, according to the maxim 'a donkey is to bear and a dog is to bark...' and if their functions are reversed, reversed are our results.

Verse Locator

इति उक्त्वा ते महात्मानो विविशुः स्वम् स्वम् आश्रमम् ॥ १-५८-९

अथ रात्र्याम् व्यतीतायाम् राजा चण्डालताम् गतः ।

9b, 10a. mahaatmaanaH = those who are great-souls; te iti uktvaa = they, this way, on saying; svam svam aashramam vivishuH = [into their] own, [their] own, hermitage, entered - they withdrew; atha raatryaam vyatiitaayaam = then, night, when elapsed; raajaa caNDaalataam gataH = king, state of basely profaner, entered into.

"On saying thus those great-souled sons of Vashishta withdrew to one's own hermitage and when that night elapsed into day then the king lapsed into a state of basely profaner. [1-58-9b, 10a]

Verse Locator

नील वस्त्र धरो नीलः परुषो ध्वस्त मूर्धजः ॥ १-५८-१०

चित्य माल्य अनुलेपः च आयस आभरणो अभवत् ।

10b, 11a. niila vastra dharaH = black, cloths, wearing; niilaH = a blackamoor; paruSaH = one lacking gentleness or refinement - rugged person; dhvasta muurdha jaH = spoiled [shaggy,] head, born [hair, head-hair]; citya = funeral/crematory; maalya = wreaths; anulepaH ca = smeared items [ashes,] also; aayasa aabharaNaH = iron, decorations; abhavat = rendered into.

"He is now wearing blackish cloths which on yestereve were ochry silks, he is now a blackamoor who on yestereve was a gilt-royalty, his head-hair is shaggy which earlier was silkily soft, and his royal garlands which were richly fragrant are now funeral wreaths, and he is besmeared with crematory ashes which were regal emollients, and his royal jewellery is now rendered into iron adornments. [1-58-10b, 11a]

तम् दृष्ट्वा मंत्रिणः सर्वे त्यज्य चण्डाल रूपिणम् ॥ १-५८-११

प्राद्रवन् सहिता राम पौरा ये अस्य अनुगामिनः ।

11b, 12a. raama = oh, Rama; caNDaala ruupiNam = one in profaner's, mien; tam dR^iSTvaa = him, on seeing; sarve = all; mantriNaH = ministers; pauraaH = citizens; ye asya anugaaminaH = subjects, who, followers [retinue]; tyajya = on deserting him; sahitaa praadravan = collectively - in masses, took to flight

"On seeing him in the mien of a profaner, oh, Rama, all of his ministers and the subjects and his own retinue have deserted him and took to flight in masses. [1-58-11b, 12a]

Verse Locator

एको हि राजा काकुत्स्थ जगाम परम आत्मवान् ॥ १-५८-१२

दह्यमानो दिवा रात्रम् विश्वामित्रम् तपो धनम् ।

12b, 13a. kaakutstha = Rama of Kakutstha; parama aatmavaan = highly [resolutely,] soulful one [self-assured one]; raajaa = king; ekaH divaa raatram = for one, day, night; dahyamaanaH = being seethed; tapaH dhanam vishvaamitram jagaama = to ascetically, prosperous one, to Vishvamitra, went.

"Though that resolutely self-assured king seethed for one night and day for this mishap, then went to the ascetically prosperous Vishvamitra. [1-58-12b, 13a]

Verse Locator

विश्वामित्रः तु तम् दृष्ट्वा राजानम् विफली कृतम् ॥ १-५८-१३

चण्डाल रूपिणम् राम मुनिः कारुण्यम् आगतः ।

13b, 14a. raama = oh, Rama; muniH vishvaamitraH tu = sage, Vishvamitra, on his part; vi phalii kR^itam = without, fruit [failed, precluded one,] made as; caNDaala ruupiNam = profaner's, in mien; tam raajaanam dR^iSTvaa = that, king, on seeing; kaarunyam aagataH = sympathy, came - Vishvamitra became sympathetic.

But on seeing at that mien of the king which is rendered to that of a precluded profaner from kingship and for officiating rituals etc., oh, Rama, sage Vishvamitra because sympathetic. [1-58-13b, 14a]

The preclusion of the king by way of his transfiguring into a profaner is not only from his kingship, by which he is debarred from officiating Vedic rituals etc., but also from his aihika aamuSmika bhogaaH 'earthly and heavenly enjoyments...' because a king is a godsend being.

Verse Locator

कारुण्यात् स महातेजा वाक्यम् परम धार्मिकः ॥ १-५८-१४

इदम् जगाद भद्रम् ते राजानम् घोर दर्शनम् ।

14b, 15a. mahaa tejaaH = great-resplendent one; parama dhaarmikaH = highly, generous one; saH = he that Vishvamitra; kaarunyat = owing to compassion; ghora darshanam raajaanam = who is terrible, in his aspect, to king; said this firstly; te bhadram = to you, safety; and; idam vaakyam jagaada = this, sentence, said.

"The great-resplendent sage and highly generous Vishvamitra firstly said to that king who is in a terrible aspect 'let safety betide you,' and then spoke on this sentence to him. [1-58-14b, 15a]

Verse Locator

किम् आगमन कार्यम् ते राजपुत्र महाबल ॥ १-५८-१५

अयोध्या अधिपते वीर शापात् चण्डालताम् गतः ।

15b, 16a. mahaabala raaja putra = oh, great-mighty, king's, son - prince; te aagamana kaaryam kim = your, arrival [visit,] work [purpose,] what is; ayodhyaa adhipate viira = Ayodhya's, chieftain, oh, brave one; shaapaat caNDaalataam gataH = by curse, state of profaner, you got [accurst.]

" 'What is the purpose of your visit, oh, great-mighty prince Trishanku, oh, brave lord of Ayodhya, you are accurst to the state of profaner.' [1-58-15b, 16a]

Verse Locator

अथ तत् वाक्यम् आकर्ण्य राजा चण्डालताम् गतः ॥ १-५८-१६

अब्रवीत् प्रांजलिः वाक्यम् वाक्यज्ञो वाक्य कोविदम् ।

16b, 17a. atha = then; caNDaalataam gataH = state of profaner, accurst to; vaakya j~naH raajaa = sentence, knower, king - diligent king, Trishanku; tat vaakyam aakarNya = that, sentence, on listening; praanjaliH vaakya kovidam vaakyam abraviit = with adjoined-palms, to sentence, expert [sententious Vishvamitra,] sentence, spoke.

"Then that king who is accurst to a state of profaner on listening that sentence, as a diligent sentence maker spoke this sentence with his palms adjoined to the sententious sage Vishvamitra. [1-58-16b, 17a]

Verse Locator

प्रत्याख्यातो अस्मि गुरुणा गुरु पुत्रैः तथा एव च ॥ १-५८-१७

अनवाप्य एव तम् कामम् मया प्राप्तो विपर्ययः ।

17b, 18a. guruNaa = by mentor; tathaa eva ca = like that, also; guru putraiH = by mentor's, sons; pratyaakhyaataH asmi = spurned off, I am; tam kaamam an avaapya eva = that, aspiration, not, achieved, thus; mayaa = by me; vi paryayaH = negative, effect [discrepancy]; praaptaH = bechanced - I obtained.

" 'I am spurned off by my mentor Vashishta and also like that by his sons. My aspiration remained unachievable, besides, this discrepancy has bechanced upon me. [1-58-17b, 18a]

Verse Locator

स शरीरो दिवम् यायामि इति मे सौंय दर्शन ॥ १-५८-१८

मया च इष्टम् क्रतु शतम् तत् च न अवाप्यते फलम् ।

18b, 19a. saumya = oh, gentle Vishvamitra; sa shariiraH divam yaayaami = with, body, to heaven, I go; iti me darshana = thus, my, opinion; mayaa kratu shatam iSTam = by me, rituals, hundred, are performed [earlier]; tat phalam na avaapyate = that, fruit, not, achieved.

" 'Oh, gentle Vishvamitra, my aspiration is nothing but to go to heaven with my body. I have performed hundred rituals but I have not achieved the fruit.' Thus Trishanku started tell his sad tale.

Verse Locator

अनृतम् न उक्त पूर्वम् मे न च वक्ष्ये कदाचन ॥ १-५८-१९

कृच्छ्रेषु अपि गतः सौंय क्षत्र धर्मेण ते शपे ।

19b, 20a. saumya = oh, gentle one; me = by me; anR^itam na ukta puurvam = lie, not, said, heretofore; kadaacana = any time [hereinafter]; kR^icChreSu gataH api = into predicament, on going, even if; na vakSyē = not, going to speak [a lie]; kSatra dharmeNa te shape = by Kshatriya's, virtue, to you, I take pledge.

" 'And now if you doubt me to be a liar, I am no liar either. I spoke no lie heretofore, and even if I were to land into any predicament I do not speak lies anytime hereinafter. Oh, gentle sage, this I pledge you upon my virtue of Kshatriya-hood. [1-58-19, 20a]

A liar is hell-bound but not the other way as said yaj~no anR^ite na rakshati... 'a Vedic ritual would not save liars...'

Verse Locator

यज्ञैः बहु विधैः इष्टम् प्रजा धर्मेण पालिताः ॥ १-५८-२०

गुरवः च महात्मानः शील वृत्तेन तोषिताः ।

20b, 21a. bahu vidhaiH yaj~naiH iSTam = with many, kinds of, Vedic-rituals, propitiated gods; prajaa dharmeNa paalitaah = people, conscientiously, reigned over; mahaatmaanaH = high-souled ones; guravaH ca = savants, also; shiila vR^ittena toSitaah = by conduct, by comport, pleased.

" 'I have propitiated gods with many kinds of Vedic-rituals. I have reigned over people conscientiously. And with my conduct and comport the high-souled savants are also pleased. [1-58-20b, 21a]

Verse Locator

धर्मे प्रयतमानस्य यज्ञम् च आर्तुम् इच्छतः ॥ १-५८-२१

परितोषम् न गच्छन्ति गुरवो मुनिपुंगव ।

21b, 22a. muni pumgava = oh, saint, the eminent; dharme prayatamaanasya = in probity, being a pursuant; yaj~nam aahartum = ritual, to avail of, icChataH ca = one who is expectant also; in my case; guravaH = to mentors; pari toSam = complete contentment, na gacChanti = not, they are getting at - not deriving.

" 'While I am a pursuant in probity I expect to avail myself of the fruition of this kind of Vedic-ritual. Oh, eminent sage Vishvamitra, but my mentors are not deriving complete contentment by my pursuit. Hence, they shove me off. [1-58-21b, 22a]

Verse Locator

दैवम् एव परम् मन्ये पौरुषम् तु निरर्थकम् ॥ १-५८-२२

दैवेन आक्रयते सर्वम् दैवम् हि परमा गतिः ।

22b, 23a. daivam eva param manye = god [here, destiny,] only, ultimate, I deem; pauruSam tu nir arthakam = manly effort, but, less, meaning - meaningless; daivena aakramyate sarvam = by god [destiny,] surmounts, everything; daivam paramaa gatiH hi = god [destiny,] ultimate, course, isn't it.

" 'I deem destiny is the only ultimate, and manly efforts are meaningless, for destiny surmounts everything. Destiny is the ultimate course, isn't it? [1-58-22b, 23a]

Verse Locator

तस्य मे परम आर्तस्य प्रसादम् अभिकांक्षतः ।

कर्तुम् अर्हसि भद्रम् ते दैव उपहत कर्मणः ॥ १-५८-२३

23b, c. parama aartasya = for highly, anguished one; abhi kaankSataH = forward, looking to - a sincere requester; daiva upahata karmaNaH = by destiny, marred, endeavourer; tasya me = such as, as I am; prasaadam kartum arhasi = favour, to do [to accord,] apt of you; te bhadram = to you, let safety be there.

" 'A highly anguished endeavourer, marred by destiny, a sincere requester, such as I am, it will be apt of you to accord, you be safe, your favour upon me. [1-58-23b, c]

Verse Locator

न अन्याम् गतिम् गमिष्यामि न अन्यः शरणम् अस्ति मे ।
दैवम् पुरुष कारेण निवर्तयितुम् अर्हसि ॥ १-५८-२४

24. anyaam gatim na gamiSyaami = alternate, course, not, I wish to course through; me anyaH sharaNam na asti = to me, alternative, shelterer, is not there; daivam puruSa kaareNa = god/destiny, in man's, mien; ni vartayitum arhasi = counter, move [vail,] apt of you.

" 'In no alternate course I wish to course through and no alternative shelter is there for me. Hence, it will be apt of you, a god in man's mien, to countervail my destiny.' Thus Trishanku prayed for the grace of Vishvamitra..." So said Sage Shataananda to Rama and others continuing the legend of Vishvamitra. [1-58-24]

इति वाल्मीकि रामायणे आदि काव्ये बाल काण्डे अष्ट पंचाशः सर्गः

Thus, this is the 58th chapter in Bala Kanda of Valmiki Ramayana, the First Epic poem of India.

Book I : Bala Kanda - The Youthful Majesties

Chapter [Sarga] 59 Verses converted to UTF-8, Oct 09

Introduction

Vishvamitra undertakes Trishanku's Vedic ritual and sends disciples to invite all Vedic-scholars. Many sages have come except for Vashishta and his sons. Further, the sons of Vashishta have ridiculed this ritual of Vishvamitra and Trishanku. Vishvamitra gets irritated and hurls curses at the sons of Vashishta.

Verse Locator

उक्त वाक्यम् तु राजानम् कृपया कुशिक आत्मजः ।
अब्रवीत् मधुरम् वाक्यम् साक्षात् चण्डालताम् गतम् ॥ १-५९-१

1. ukta vaakyam tu = spoken, word - one who spoke thus, Trishanku, but; saakSaataNdaalataam gatam = in reality, profaner-hood, attained one; raajaanam = to king; kR^ipayaa kushika aatmajaH = piteously, Kushi's, son [Vishvamitra]; madhuram vaakyam abraviit = mellowly, sentence, spoke.

"Vishvamitra, the son of Kushi, piteously spoke this mellowly sentence to king Trishanku who spoke thus, and who in reality attained a state of profaner." Thus Sage Shataananda continued his narration. [1-59-1]

Verse Locator

इक्ष्वाको स्वागतम् वत्स जानामि त्वाम् सुधार्मिकम् ।
शरणम् ते भविष्यामि मा भैषीः नृप पुंगव ॥ १-५९-२

2. ikSvaakoH vatsa = oh, Ikshvaku-s, progeny, [oh, Trishanku]; svaagatam = welcome; tvaam su dhaarmikam jaanaami = you, as highly, righteous [king,] I am aware; nR^ipa pungava = oh, king, the best; maa bhaisiiH = do not, fear; [aham = I]; te sharaNam bhaviSyami = to you, haven, I accord.

" 'Oh, Trishanku, the legatee of Ikshvaku-s, you are welcome. I am aware that you are a highly righteous king. Oh, the best king, you need not be dismayed, for I accord you haven. [1-59-2]

Verse Locator

अहम् आमन्त्रये सर्वान् महर्षीन् पुण्य कर्मणः ।
यज्ञ साह्य करान् राजन् ततो यक्ष्यसि निर्वृतः ॥ १-५९-३

3. aham = I will; puNya karmaNaH = of pious, activities; yaj~na saahya karaan = ritual, assistance, renderers; sarvaan maharSiin amantraye = all, great-sages, I will invite; tataH raajan = then, oh, king; nirvR^itaH yakSyasi = composedly, you can perform ritual.

" 'I will invite all the sages with pious activities who will render assistance in the ritual, oh, king, then you can perform the ritual self-composedly. [1-59-3]

गुरु शाप कृतम् रूपम् यत् इदम् त्वयि वर्तते ।
अनेन सह रूपेण स शरीरो गमिष्यसि ॥ १-५९-४

4. guru shaapa kR^itam = by mentor, curse, made; yat idam ruupam = which, this, form; tvayi vartate = in you, is there - which you got by curse; anena ruupeNa saha = with this, form, along with; sa shariiraH gamiSyasi = with, body, you can go - to heaven.

" 'You can go to heaven with this body of yours, as well as with the form which is deformed by the curse of mentor Vashishta through his sons. [1-59-4]

Verse Locator

हस्त प्राप्तम् अहम् मन्ये स्वर्गम् तव नरेश्वर ।
यः त्वम् कौशिकम् आगंय शरण्यम् शरणागतः ॥ १-५९-५

5. nareshvara = oh, subject's, king; yaH tvam = which, you; sharaNyam kaushikam aagamya = [all] sheltering one, to Kaushika [to Vishvamitra,] having approached; sharaNa aagataH = for shelter, you came; such a one like you; tava = to you; svargam hasta praaptam = heaven, in hand, obtained [handy]; aham manye = I, deem.

" 'I deem that heaven is handy to you, oh, king of subjects, as you have approached the all-sheltering Vishvamitra and sought shelter.' Thus Vishvamitra solaced Trishanku. [1-59-5]

Verse Locator

एवम् उक्त्वा महातेजाः पुत्रान् परम धार्मिकान् ।
व्यादिदेश महाप्राज्ञान् यज्ञ संभार कारणात् ॥ १-५९-६

6. mahaatejaaH = great-resplendent Vishvamitra; evam uktvaa = thus, on saying; parama dhaarmikaan = highly, righteous ones; mahaa praaaj~naan = astutely, brilliant ones; putraan = sons; yaj~na sambhaara kaaraNaat = ritual, arrangements, to cause [to organise]; vyaadidesha [vi aadi desha] = ordered.

"On saying thus to Trishanku that great-resplendent Vishvamitra ordered his highly righteous and astutely brilliant sons to organise the arrangements for the ritual. [1-59-6]

Verse Locator

सर्वान् शिष्यान् समाहूय वाक्यम् एतत् उवाच ह ।
सर्वान् ऋषि वरान् वशिष्ठान् आनयध्वम् मम आज्ञया ॥ १-५९-७
स शिष्यान् सुहृदः चैव स ऋत्विजः सुबहु श्रुतान् ।

7, 8a: sarvaan shiSyaan samaahuuya = all, disciples, calling forth; etat vaakyam uvaaca ha = this, sentence, said, indeed; [vatsaaH = oh, boys]; mama aaj~nayaa = by my, order; sa shiSyaan suhR^idaH caiva = with, [their] disciples, friends, also thus; sa R^itvijaH = with, ritwiks [conductors of rituals]; su bahu shrutaan = very, many, heard [well-read pundits in Veda-s]; sarvaan R^iSi varaan = all, sages, eminent one; and; vashiSThaan = [sons] of Vashishta; aanayadhvam = be invited.

"Vishvamitra calling forth all of his disciples said this sentence, 'invite all the eminent sages who are well-read in many Veda-s, along with their disciples and friends, and their ritwiks, the conductors of rituals, and even the sons of Vashishta, at my order. [1-59-7, 8a]

Verse Locator

यत् अन्यो वचनम् ब्रूयात् मत् वाक्य बल चोदितः ॥ १-५९-८

तत् सर्वम् अखिलेन उक्तम् मम आख्येयम् अनादृतम् ।

8b, 9a: anyaH = other [someone]; mat vaakya bala coditaH = my, word, forcefulness, incited by; yat vacanam bruuya = whichever, words, if speaks; akhilena = by all invitees [whoever]; uktam an aadR^itam = spoken, not, considerately; tat sarvam mama aakhyeyam = that [whatever,] all, to me, reported.

" 'If someone speaks inconsiderately incited by the forcefulness of my word, whoever speaks it, whichever word it may be, all that is to be reported to me, whatever it is.' Thus Vishvamitra ordered his disciples. [1-59-8]

Verse Locator

तस्य तत् वचनम् श्रुत्वा दिशो जग्मुः तत् आज्ञया ॥ १-५९-९

आजग्मुः अथ देशेभ्यः सर्वेभ्यो ब्रह्म वादिनः ।

9b, 10a. tasya tat vacanam shrutvaa = his [of Vishvamitra,] that, word, on listening; tat aaj~nayaa = by that, order; dishaH jagmuH = to [all] directions, [disciples] went; atha = then; sarvebhyaH deshebhyaH = from all, provinces; brahma vaadinaH = all, Brahma, advocates of [Vedic scholars]; aajagmuH = started to arrive.

"On listening that word of Vishvamitra his disciples went to all directions inviting all by his order, and then the Vedic scholars started to arrive from all provinces. [1-59-9 b, 10a]

Verse Locator

ते च शिष्याः समागंय मुनिम् ज्वलित तेजसम् ॥ १-५९-१०

ऊचुः च वचनम् सर्वे सर्वेषाम् ब्रह्म वादिनाम् ।

10b, 11a. te shiSyaaH sarve samaagamyaa = they, disciples, all of them, on returning; jvalita tejasam munim = of fulgent, resplendence, to sage; sarveSaam brahma vaadinaam = of all, of Vedic, scholars; vacanam = words [spoken by scholars]; uucuH = = said - reported.

"All of the disciples have returned to the fulgently resplendent sage Vishvamitra, and reported the words spoken by all the Vedic scholars. [1-59-10b, 11a]

Verse Locator

श्रुत्वा ते वचनम् सर्वे समायान्ति द्विजातयः ॥ १-५९-११

सर्व देशेषु च अगच्छन् वर्जयित्वा महाउदयम् ।

11b, 12a. te vacanam shrutvaa = your, sentence [invitation,] on listening; sarve dvijaatayaH samaayaanti = all, Brahmans, are coming; mahaaudayam varjayitvaa = Mahodaya, excepting for; sarva desheSu agacChan = from all, provinces, have come.

" 'On listening your word all the Brahmans from all provinces have started to come and some have already come, leaving alone Mahodaya, the son of Vashishta.' Thus, the disciples have started to inform Vishvamitra. [1-59-11b, 12a]

Verse Locator

वासिष्ठम् तत् शतम् सर्वम् क्रोध पर्याकुल अक्षरम् ॥ १-५९-१२

यथा आह वचनम् सर्वम् शृणु त्वम् मुनि पुंगव ।

12b, 13a. muni pungava = oh, sage, the eminent; sarvam = all [that is said]; tat vaasiSTham shatam = that, of Vashishta, hundred [sons]; krodha paryaakula akSaram = fury, explosive, with words; [yat = which]; vacanam aaha = words, [they] said; yathaa = as to how [they said]; [tat = that]; sarvam tvam shR^iNu = all, you, listen.

" 'What all said by those hundred sons of Vashishta is explosively worded in their fury, oh, eminent sage, and what all they have said that you may please listen. [1-59-12b, 13a]

Verse Locator

क्षत्रियो याजको यस्य चण्डालस्य विशेषतः ॥ १-५९-१३

कथम् सदसि भोक्तारो हविः तस्य सुर ऋषयः ।

13b, 14a. yasya = to whom; kSatriyaH yaajakaH = a Kshatriya, officiator of ritual; visheSataH caNDaalasya = especially, of a profaner; tasya sadasi = in such a, ritual-assembly [of a profaner] ; sura R^iSayaH = gods, sages; haviH katham bhoktaaraH = oblation, how, one can partake of.

" 'A Kshatriya is the officiator, and a profaner is the performer. How then the gods or sages can partake of the remnants of oblations in that ritual-assembly, especially that of a profaner?' Thus, the sons of Vashishta exclaimed. [1-59-13b, 14a]

One who is uninitiated into any esoteric knowledge is venturing to perform a Vedic ritual and a king, who can perform a ritual, but who cannot officiate ritual or teach Veda-s like a Brahman, is officiating it. Thus both of these, officiator and performer have no Vedic sanctity.

Verse Locator

ब्राह्मणा वा महात्मानो भुक्त्वा चण्डाल भोजनम् ॥ १-५९-१४

कथम् स्वर्गम् गमिष्यन्ति विश्वामित्रेण पालिताः ।

14b, 15a. vishvaamitreNa paalitaH = by Vishvamitra, [even though] ruled over [rather, embarrassed]; mahaatmaanaH braahmaNaa vaa = great-souled [sages,] Brahmanas, either; caNDaala bhojanam bhuktvaa = profaner's, food, by partaking of; svargam katham gamiSyanti = to heavens, how, they go.

" 'Though the Brahmanas or the high-souled sages are now embarrassed by Vishvamitra, how can they go to heaven even after their demise, partaking of the food of a profaner? [1-59-14b, 15a]

Verse Locator

एतत् वचनम् नैष्ठुर्यम् ऊचुः संरक्त लोचनाः ॥ १-५९-१५

वासिष्ठा मुनि शार्दूल सर्वे सह महोदयाः ।

15b, 16a. muni shaarduula = oh, sage, the tiger; saha mahodayaaH sarve = with, Mahodaya, all of them; vaasiSThaa = of Vashishta [his sons]; samrakta locanaaH = with reddennig, eyes - in anger; etat vacanam naiSThuryam = all these, sentences, derisive; uucuH = spoke.

" 'Oh, tigerly sage Vishvamitra, all the sons of Vashishta including Mahodaya spoke these derisive sentences with their eyes reddening in anger.' Thus, the disciples reported to Vishvamitra. [1-59-15b, 16a]

Verse Locator

तेषाम् तत् वचनम् श्रुत्वा सर्वेषाम् मुनि पुंगवः ॥ १-५९-१६

क्रोध संरक्त नयनः स रोषम् इदम् अब्रवीत् ।

16b, 17a. muni pungavaH = sage, the eminent; teSaam sarveSaam tat vacanam shrutvaa = their, all of them, that, sentence, on listening; krodha samrakta nayanaH = with fury, bloodshot, eyes; sa roSam = with, rancour; idam abraviit = this, said.

"The eminent sage Vishvamitra having heard those words of the sons of Vashishta from all of his disciples, said this rancorously with bloodshot eyes. [1-59-16b, 17a]

Verse Locator

यत् दूषयन्ति अदुष्टम् माम् तप उग्रम् संआस्थितम् ॥ १-५९-१७
भस्मी भूता दुरात्मानो भविष्यन्ति न संशयः ।

17b, 18a: ugram tapaH sam aasthitam = rigorous, asceticism, verily, abiding in; a duSTam = not, reprobable one; maam = me; yat duuSayanti = who, reproves; dura aatmaanaH = not, reverent minded; bhasmiibhuutaa bhaviSyanti = state of ashes, turns to; na samshayaH = no, doubt.

" 'He who reproves me, who am abiding in rigorous asceticism, and who am an unreprovable one by my ascetic merit, that irreverent person will be reduced to ashes, and there is no doubt about it. [1-59-17b, 18a]

Verse Locator

अद्य ते काल पाशेन नीता वैवस्तव क्षयम् ॥ १-५९-१८
सप्त जाति शतानि एव मृतपाः सन्तु सर्वशः ।

18b, 19a. te = they; adya kaala paashena = now, by Time's, lasso; vaivastava kSayam niitaa = Yama, [the Terminator's,] to house, dragged; sapta jaati shataani eva = seven, births, hundred, thus - for seven hundred births to come; sarvashaH = anyway - come what may; mR^ita paaH = dead, eaters [devourers of corpse]; santu = they will become.

" 'Now they will be dragged by the lasso of Time to the House of Yama, the Terminator, and from now to seven hundred births to come they take birth as devourers of corpses, come what may. [1-59-18b, 19a]

Verse Locator

श्व मांस नियत आहारा मुष्टिका नाम निर्घृणाः ॥ १-५९-१९
विकृताः च विरूपाः च लोकान् अनुचरन्तु इमान् ।

19b, 20a. nir ghR^iNaaH = without, ruth - ruthless; muSTikaa naama = Mushtika, named - sect - taking birth in that sect; shva maamsa niyata aahaaraa = dog, flesh, always [staple,] as food - eating it; vikR^itaaH ca viruupaaH ca = disfigured, also, deformed, also; imaan lokaan anucarantu = these, [mortal] worlds [in them,] they wander about.

" 'Those who reprove me will be wandering about these mortal worlds on taking birth as disfigured and deformed beings in the ruthless sect of Mustika-s that always feed on dog's flesh. [1-59-19b, 20a]

Verse Locator

महोदयः च दुर्बुद्धिः माम् अदूष्यम् हि अदूषयत् ॥ १-५९-२०
दूषितः सर्व लोकेषु निषादत्वम् गमिष्यति ।

20b, 21a. dur buddhiH mahodayaH ca = wrong, headed, Mahodaya, also; a duuSyam = not, reproachable one; maam = me; aduSayat hi = he reproached, indeed; he; sarva lokaSu duuSitaH = by all, world, reproached; niSaadatvam gamiSyati = tribal-hood, obtains.

" 'That wrong-headed Mahodaya also reproached me, who am irreproachable on my part, hence he gets into tribal-hood and becomes a reproachable tribal for the entire world. [1-59-20b, 21a]

Verse Locator

प्राण अतिपात निरतो निरनुक्रोशताम् गतः ॥ १-५९-२१

दीर्घ कालम् मम क्रोधात् दुर्गतिम् वर्तयिष्यति ।

21b, 22a. mama krodhaat = by my, fury; praaNa atipaata nirataH = lives, out falling [taking out, murderous bent,] occupied with; niranukroshataam [nir anu kroshataam] gataH = utter barbarity, on obtaining; diirgha kaalam = for a long, time; dur gatim vartayiSyati = worst, living, cycles through.

" 'By my fury he obtains an utter barbarity and he will be occupied with a murderous bent, and he cycles through a worst possible living for a long time. [1-59-21b, 22a]

Verse Locator

एतावत् उक्त्वा वचनम् विश्वामित्रो महातपाः ।

विरराम महातेजा ऋषि मध्ये महामुनिः ॥ १-५९-२२

22b, c. mahaa tapaaH = great-ascetic; mahaatejaa = highly-resplendent; mahaamuniH = great-sage; vishvaamitraH = Vishvamitra; R^iSi madhye = sages, among; etaavat vacanam uktvaa = this much, sentence [of curse,] on saying; viraraama = paused.

"On saying this much sentence of curse among the sages who have already arrived, that great-resplendent, greatly ascetic, great sage Vishvamitra paused. [1-59-22]

The poet in the last line remembers the sages who have already arrived, only to say that, 'had they not come at the beck and call of Vishvamitra, they too are liable for the above curses, maybe some more curses too, from Vishvamitra. So, knowing this Vedic-ritual of ineligible Trishanku and unqualified Vishvamitra is an improper egotistical extravaganza of Vishvamitra, those who have already come, have come at the cost of their Brahman-hood.'

इति वाल्मीकि रामायणे आदि काव्ये बाल काण्डे एको न षष्ठितमः सर्गः

Thus, this is the 59th chapter in Bala Kanda of Valmiki Ramayana, the First Epic poem of India.

Book I : Bala Kanda - The Youthful Majesties

Chapter [Sarga] 60 Verses converted to UTF-8, Oct 09

Introduction

Vishvamitra effectuates Trishanku's travel to heaven, but Indra throws him down as Trishanku has not acquired any merit to reach heaven. Vishvamitra enraged at this starts to replicate universe with constellation of stars and galaxies, and he proceeds to clone even gods. On seeing this chaotic situation, Indra with gods yield to the pertinence of Vishvamitra and allow that which Vishvamitra replicated to survive and also allow Trishanku to inhibit that pseudo Creation, but with an upside down posture.

Verse Locator

तपो बल हतान् ज्ञात्वा वासिष्ठान् स महोदयान् ।
ऋषि मध्ये महातेजा विह्वामित्रो अभ्यभाषत ॥ १-६०-१

1. mahaatejaa = great-resplendent; vihvaaamitraH = Vishvamitra; sa mahodayaan vaasiSThaan = with, Mahodaya, Vashishta's sons; tapaH bala hataan j~naatvaa = by ascetic power, as ruined, on knowing; R^iSi madhye abhyabhaaSata = sages, amidst [their observance,] said [proclaimed.]

"The great-resplendent Vishvamitra on knowing through his ascetic power about the ruination of the sons of Vashishta, along with Mahodaya, proclaimed this amidst the observance of sages." Sage Shataananda continued his narration of Trishanku's legend. [1-60-1]

Verse Locator

अयम् इक्ष्वाकु दायादः त्रिशंकुः इति विश्रुतः ।
धर्मिष्ठः च वदान्यः च माम् चैव शरणम् गतः ॥ १-६०-२
स्वेन अनेन शरीरेण देव लोक जिगीषया ।

2, 3a. ikSvaaku daayaadaH = Ikshvaku-s, legatee of; trishankuH iti vishrutaH = Trishanku, thus, well-known one; dharmiSThaH ca vadaanyaH ca = righteous one, also, benevolent one, also; ayam = he; anena = by him; svena = his own; shariireNa = physical body; deva loka jigiiSayaa = god's, world [heavens,] wishing to win over; maam sharaNam gataH = me, shelter, he obtained.

" 'This legatee of Ikshvaku dynasty is well-know as Trishanku, a righteous and benevolent one. He came under my shelter as he wishes to win over the heaven of gods with his own mortal body.' So Vishvamitra started to speak to sages. [1-60-2, 3b]

Verse Locator

यथा अयम् स्व शरीरेण देव लोकम् गमिष्यति ॥ १-६०-३
तथा प्रवर्त्यताम् यज्ञो भवद्भिः च मया सह ।

3b, 4a. ayam = he Trishnaku; sva shariireNa = with his own, body; deva lokam = to gods', world [to heaven]; yathaa gamiSyati = as to how, he goes; tathaa = in that way; bhavadbhiH =

by you all; mayaa saha = me, along with; yaj~naH pravartyataam = Vedic-ritual, is to be effectuated.

" 'You all scholars have to conduct Vedic-ritual along with in such a way as to how Trishnaku reaches the heaven of gods.' Thus Vishvamitra advised the conductors of the ritual. [1-60-3b, 4a]

Verse Locator

विश्वामित्र वचः श्रुत्वा सर्व एव महर्षयः ॥ १-६०-४

ऊचुः समेताः सहसा धर्मज्ञा धर्म संहितम् ।

4b, 5a. dharma j~naa = scruples, knowers of; sametaaH = came together; sarva eva maharSayaH = all, thus, great sages; vishvaamitra vacaH shrutvaa = Vishvamitra's, words, on listening; sahasaa = quickly; dharma samhitaam = to righteousness, agreeable - words; uucuH = spoke - discussed among themselves.

"On listening the words of Vishvamitra all those great-sages have come together and quickly discussed among themselves about what is agreeable to righteousness, as they are the knowers of scruples of conducting Vedic-rituals, but such a ritual is desultory. [1-60-4b, 5a]

Verse Locator

अयम् कुशिक दायदो मुनिः परम कोपनः ॥ १-६०-५

यत् आह वचनम् संयक् एतत् कार्यम् न संशयः ।

अग्नि कल्पो हि भगवान् शापम् दास्यति रोषितः ॥ १-६०-६

5b, 6. kushika daayaadaH = Sage Kushi's, legatee; parama kopanaH = extremely, furious one; ayam muniH = this, saint - Vishvamitra; yat vacanam aaha = which, sentence, he said - whatever is said by him; etat samyak kaaryam = all this [entirely,] exhaustively, performable [translatable into deeds of ritual]; na samshayaH = without, doubting; if not; agni kalpaH = fire, similar one - Vishvamitra; bhagavaan = godly [reverential, awesome sage]; roSitaH shaapam daasyati = rancorously, curse, he will give.

" 'Whatever Vishvamitra says let it be translated entirely and exhaustively into deeds called ritual. This Vishvamitra is the legatee of Sage Kushi, and indeed he is a saint similar to Ritual-fire besides being an extremely furious person. Otherwise this awesome sage gives curse, rancorously. [1-60-5b, 6]

Verse Locator

तस्मात् प्रवर्त्यताम् यज्ञः स शरीरो यथा दिवम् ।

गच्छेत् इक्ष्वाकु दायदो विश्वामित्रस्य तेजसा ॥ १-६०-७

ततः प्रवर्त्यताम् यज्ञः सर्वे समधितिष्ठत ।

7, 8a. tasmaat yaj~naH pravartyataam = as such, Vedic-ritual, be conducted; ikSvaaku daayaadaH = Ikshvaku's, legatee [Trishanku]; vishvaamitrasya tejasaa = by Vishvamitra's, ritualistic prowess; sa shariiraH = with, body; yathaa divam gacChet = as to how [intending to,] to heavens, goes [enabling to go]; [tathaa = like that]; yaj~naH pravartyataam = Vedic-ritual, let it be conducted; tataH sarve sam adhitiSThata = therefor, all, well, preside over.

" 'As such, let the Vedic-ritual be conducted intending and enabling Trishanku, the legatee of Ikshvaku, to go to heaven by the ritualist prowess of Vishvamitra, therefor you conduct yourselves and you all preside over it.' Thus, the officiators conceded among themselves. [1-60-7, 8a]

Verse Locator

एवम् उक्त्वा महर्षयः संजहुः ताः क्रियाः तदा ॥ १-६०-८

याजकः च महातेजा विश्वामित्रो अभवत् क्रतौ ।

8b, 9a. maharSayaH evam uktvaa = great-sages, thus, on saying [on concluding]; tadaa = then; taaH kriyaaH samjahruH = those [concerned,] works, they undertook; kratau mahaatejaa vishvaamitraH = in Vedic-ritual, great-resplendent, Vishvamitra [himself]; yaajakaH abhavat = [principal] officiator, became.

"Concluding thus those great-sages undertook concerned works of that Vedic-ritual and the great-resplendent Vishvamitra himself became its principal officiator. [1-60-8b, 9a]

Verse Locator

ऋत्विजः च आनुपूर्व्येण मंत्रवत् मंत्र कोविदाः ॥ १-६०-९

चक्रुः सर्वाणि कर्माणि यथा कल्पम् यथा विधि ।

9b, 10a. mantra kovidaaH = in hymnology, experts; R^itvijaH ca = hymnodists, also; mantravat = inviolably hymnal; yathaa kalpam = as per, Kalpa treatise; yathaa vidhi = as per, scriptures - scripturally; sarvaaNi karmaaNi aanupuurvyena cakruH = all, ceremonies, methodically; carried out.

"Those hymnodists who are the experts in hymnodies have scripturally carried out all ceremonies in a methodical way with inviolable hymnal methods, and as per Kalpa treatise, that lays down the rules for conducting such rituals. [1-60-9b, 10a]

Verse Locator

ततः कालेन महता विश्वामित्रो महातपाः ॥ १-६०-१०

चकार आवाहनम् तत्र भाग अर्थम् सर्व देवताः ।

10b, 11a. tataH = then; mahaatapaaH vishvaamitraH = great ascetic, Vishvamitra; mahataa kaalena = after a long, time; tatra = there [in ritual]; sarva devataaH = all, gods; bhaaga artham = allotted [oblations,] for purpose of [receiving]; aavaahanam cakaara = welcome, made.

"After a long time that highly ascetical Vishvamitra welcomed all the gods to receive their allotted oblations in that ritual. [1-60-10b, 11a]

Verse Locator

न अभ्यागमन् तदा भाग अर्थम् सर्व देवताः ॥ १-६०-११

ततः कोप समाविष्टो विश्वामित्रो महामुनिः ।

सुवम् उद्यंय स क्रोधः त्रिशंकुम् इदम् अब्रवीत् ॥ १-६०-१२

11b, 12. tadaa = then; [aahuutaaH = those that are invited]; sarva devataaH = all, gods; bhaaga artham = allotment, for purpose of [receiving]; na abhyaagaman = not, came forward; tataH kopa samaaviSTaH = then, fury, enveloped in [obsessive with]; vishvamitraH mahaamuniH = Vishvamitra, great-saint; sruvam = wooden-oblatinal-scoop; udyamya = , on lifting up - brandishing as if it is a magic wand; sa krodhaH = with, fury; trishankum idam abraviit = to Trishanku, this, said.

"Then all of the gods who are invited to partake of the oblation have not come forward to receive their allotments, and then the great-saint Vishvamitra, obsessive with fury, furiously lifted up a wooden-oblatinal-scoop, and said this to Trishanku. [1-60-11b, 12]

Verse Locator

पश्य मे तपसो वीर्यम् स्व आर्जितस्य नर ईश्वर ।
एष त्वाम् स्व शरीरेण नयामि स्वर्गम् ओजसा ॥ १-६०-१३
दुष्प्रापम् स्व शरीरेण दिवम् गच्छ नर अधिप ।

13, 14a. nara iishvara = oh, people, ruler of - Trishanku; sva aarjitasya = personally, achieved; me tapasaH viiryam = my, asceticism, potency; pashya = you see [now]; eSaH = this me; ojasaa = with mettle [of mine]; tvaam sva shariireNa = you, with own, mortal body; svargam nayaami = to heaven, I will lead forth; nara adhipa = oh, people's, king; duS praapam divam = not, attainable, heaven; sva shariireNa gacCha = with own, mortal body, you go.

" 'Oh, ruler of people, now you shall see the potency of my asceticism which I personally achieved. Such as I am I shall lead you forth to heaven with your own body just by my personal capability. Oh, king of people, now you will go to heaven with your own mortal body, which is otherwise unattainable. [1-60-13, 14a]

Verse Locator

स्वार्जितम् किञ्चित् अपि अस्ति मया हि तपसः फलम् ॥ १-६०-१४
राजन् त्वम् तेजसा तस्य स शरीरो दिवम् ब्रज ।

14b, 15a. raajan = oh, king; maya = by me; sva arjitam = personally, acquired; tapasaH phalam = asceticism, fruit; kimcit api = [may it be] a little, even; asti hi = is there, isn't it; tasya = by that [fruit of my asceticism]; tejasaa = by that prowess [of asceticism]; tvam = you; sa shariiraH divam vraja = with own, body, to heaven, you journey.

" 'May it be a little, but there is some fruit of my asceticism, isn't it! Oh, king, you will journey to heaven with your own body owing to that prowess of my asceticism.' Vishvamitra said so to Trishanku. [1-60-14b, 15a]

Verse Locator

उक्त वाक्ये मुनौ तस्मिन् स शरीरो नर ईश्वरः ॥ १-६०-१५
दिवम् जगाम काकुत्स्थ मुनीनाम् पश्यताम् तदा ।

15b, 16b. kaakutstha = oh, Rama of Kakutstha; tasmin munau = that, saint; ukta vaakyae = when he said so; nara iishvaraH = people's, ruler [Trishanku]; sa shariiraH = with, mortal body; tadaa = then; muniinaam pashyataam = by [other] sages, while being seen; divam jagaama = to heaven, travelled [soared to.]

"Once the sage Vishvamitra said those words, oh, Rama of Kakutstha, that king Trishanku soared to heaven with his mortal body, before the very eyes of other sages." Sage Shataananda continued. [1-60-15b, 16a]

Verse Locator

स्वर्ग लोकम् गतम् दृष्ट्वा त्रिशंकुम् पाक शासनः ॥ १-६०-१६
सह सर्वैः सुर गणैः इदम् वचनम् अब्रवीत् ।

16b, 17a. svarga lokam gatam = heaven, realm of, he who has entered; trishankum dR^iSTvaa = at Trishanku, on seeing; sarvaiH sura gaNaiH saha = all, gods, multitudes, together with; paaka shaasanaH = demon Paaka, subjugator of [Indra]; idam vacanam abraviit = this, sentence, said.

"On seeing Trishanku's entry into the realm of heaven, Indra, the subjugator of demon Paaka, spoke this sentence together with all the multitudes of gods. [1-60-16b, 17a]

Verse Locator

त्रिशंको गच्छ भूयः त्वम् न असि स्वर्ग कृत आलयः ॥ १-६०-१७

गुरु शाप हतो मूढ पत भूमिम् अवाग् शिराः ।

17b, 18a. trishanko = oh, Trishanku; svarga kR^ita aalayaH = heaven, [you have not yet made, [your] haunt; na asi = not, you are; tvam bhuuyaH gacCha = you, again, go [retrace your steps]; guru shaapa hataH = by [your] mentor [Vashishta's,] damning, thrashed by; muuDha = you inane [human]; avaakcChiraaH = avaa~N shiraaH = with down turned, head [head inversed]; bhumim pata = on earth, you fall down.

"Oh, Trishanku, you have not yet made heaven as your haunt, hence retrace your steps. As you are thrashed by the damning of your mentor Vashishta, you inane human, again fall down on earth, but with your head inversed. [1-60-17b, 18a]

Verse Locator

एवम् उक्तो महेन्द्रेण त्रिशंकुः अपतत् पुनः ॥ १-६०-१८

विक्रोशमानः त्राहि इति विश्वामित्रम् तपो धनम् ।

18b, 19a. mahendreNa evam uktaH trishankuH = by Mahendra, thus, said, Trishanku; traahi iti = save me, thus; tapaH dhanam = whose asceticism, is his wealth; vishvaamitram = at Vishvamitra; vi kroshamaanaH = loudly, exclaiming; punaH apatat = again, came back - fell down from sky.

"When Mahendra said so, Trishanku loudly exclaiming at the ascetically wealthy Vishvamitra saying, 'save me, save me,' and fell down from heaven. [1-60-18b, 19a]

Verse Locator

तत् श्रुत्वा वचनम् तस्य क्रोशमानस्य कौशिकः ॥ १-६०-१९

रोषम् आहारयत् तीव्रम् तिष्ठ तिष्ठ इति च अब्रवीत् ।

19b, 20a. kaushikaH = Kaushika - Vishvamitra; krosha maanasya = who is shouting [loudly]; tasya tat vacanam shrutvaa = his [Trishanku's,] that, [exclamatory] sentence, on hearing; tiivram roSam aahaarayata = abnormal, anger, assumed; tiSTha tiSTha iti = wait, wait, thus; abraviit ca = said, also.

"On hearing the exclamatory sentence of Trishanku who is shouting it loudly, Vishvamitra assumed an abnormal anger and also said, 'wait... wait...' [1-60-19b, 20a]

Verse Locator

ऋषि मध्ये स तेजस्वी प्रजापतिः इव अपरः ॥ १-६०-२०

सृजन् दक्षिण मार्गस्थान् सप्त ऋषीन् अपरान् पुनः ।

नक्षत्र वंश परंपरम् असृजत् क्रोध मूर्छितः ॥ १-६०-२१

दक्षिणाम् दिशम् आस्थाय मुनि मध्ये महायशाः ।

20b, 21, 22a. R^iSi madhye = sages, among [himself staying]; saH tejasvii = he, the resplendent Vishvamitra; aparaH prajaapatiH iva = the other, Creator, as with; dakSiNa maargasthaan = which is available - in southerly, direction; aparaan = another; sapta R^iSiin = Seven, Sages [Great Bear, Southerly Ursa Major]; sR^ijan = on creating [replicating]; krodha muurChitaH = who in anger, convulsed - angrily - Vishvamitra; dakSiNaam disham aasthaaya = southern, direction, resorting to; mahaayashaaH = highly reputed one, Vishvamitra; muni madhye = saints, amid [himself staying]; punaH nakSatra vamsha paramparam = further, stars', families' [stereotyped stocks,] sequence; asR^ijat = [started] to replicate.

"Like the other Creator that resplendent Vishvamitra, himself staying among sages, has replicated Southerly Ursa Major in southerly direction. And still remaining amidst of sages that highly reputed sage Vishvamitra further started to replicate the stereotyped stocks of stars sequentially, resorting to the southern hemisphere, as he is convulsed in anger at Indra. [1-60-20b, 21, 22a]

Ursa Major is a prominent constellation in the northern sky, containing seven bright stars in a pattern variously called the Plough, the Big Dipper, or Charles's Wain. Also called Great Bear. In Latin it is, Ursa= greater (she-) bear. The Indian name to this is: sapta R^ishi maNDala Hence Vishvamitra adopted the opposite direction, namely southern direction, for his Creation, which shall be in direct opposition to the natural creation adopted by Almighty. From this point onwards, anything artificially or synthetically created, cloned, or replicated from natural item acquired the name of vishvaamitra SR^iSTi 'Vishvamitra's cloning,' including the present day hybrids. Whether this Ursa Major like constellation is still available in southern hemisphere - is a point left to astronomers, or stargazers.

Verse Locator

सृष्ट्वा नक्षत्र वंशम् च क्रोधेन कलुषी कृतः ॥ १-६०-२२

अन्यम् इंद्रम् करिष्यामि लोको वा स्यात् अनिंद्रकः ।

दैवतानि अपि स क्रोधात् स्रष्टुम् समुपचक्रमे ॥ १-६०-२३

22b, 23. nakSatra vamsham ca = stars, families [stereotyped stocks of other galaxies,] also; sR^iSTvaa = having replicated; krodhena kaluSii kR^itaH = fury, blemish, made by [umbrage continued to blemish him]; anyam indram kariSyami = alternative, Indra, I will make [clone, so he surmised]; lokaH = realm [of my creation]; an indrakaH = without, Indra; vaa syaat = or, it will remain; [saying so he]; daivataani api = gods, even; sa krodhaat sraSTum = with, wrath, to clone; sam upa cakrame = very, nearly, proceeded [about to proceed to clone - gods startled.]

"On replicating the stereotyped stocks of other galaxies and stars, and while fury continued to blemish him Vishvamitra said, 'I will now clone an alternative Indra, or let that realm created by me remain without any Indra,' and when he is about to proceed to clone even gods in his wrath, the gods are startled. [1-60-22b, 23]

Verse Locator

ततः परम संभ्रान्ताः स ऋषि संघाः सुर असुराः ।

विश्वामित्रम् महात्मानम् ऊचुः स अनुनयम् वचः ॥ १-६०-२४

24. tataH parama sambhraantaaH = then highly, startled; sa R^iSi sanghaaH sura asuraaH = with, hermits, observances, gods, demons; mahaatmaanam vishvaamitram = great-souled one, to Vishvamitra; sa anumayam vacaH = with, placatory, words; uucuH = addressed.

"The gods are highly startled at Vishvamitra's creation, and they along with demons and with observances of hermits addressed the great-souled Vishvamitra with placatory words. [1-60-24]

Verse Locator

अयम् राजा महाभाग गुरु शाप परिक्षतः ।

स शरीरो दिवम् यातुम् न अर्हति एव तपो धन ॥ १-६०-२५

25. tapaH dhana = oh, ascetically, wealthy one; mahaabhaaga = oh, great-fortunate Vishvamitra; guru shaapa parikSataH = by mentor's, damnation, fallen [damned]; ayam raajaa = this, king; sa shariiraH divam yaatum = with, mortal body, to heaven, to go; na arhati eva = not, eligible, at all.

" 'Oh great-fortunate Vishvamitra, this king Trishnaku is damned by his mentor, hence oh, ascetically wealthy sage, he is not at all eligible to go to heaven with his mortal body.' So said gods to Vishvamitra. [1-60-25]

Verse Locator

तेषाम् तत् वचनम् श्रुत्वा देवानाम् मुनि पुंगवः ।

अब्रवीत् सु महत् वाक्यम् कौशिकः सर्व देवताः ॥ १-६०-२६

26. muni pungavaH kaushikaH = saint, the eminent, Kaushika; teSaam devaanaam = their, gods; tat vacanam shrutvaa = that, sentence, on hearing; sarva devataaH = to all, gods; su mahat vaakyam abraviit = highly, laudable, sentence, spoke.

"On hearing that sentence of those gods, the eminent saint Kaushika spoke this highly laudable sentence to all of the gods. [1-60-26]

Verse Locator

स शरीरस्य भद्रम् वः त्रिहन्कोः अस्य भूपतेः ।

आरोहणम् प्रतिज्ञातम् न अनृतम् कर्तुम् उत्सहे ॥ १-६०-२७

27. vaH bhadram = to you all, let safety be there; sa shariirasya = with, body; asya trihankoH bhuupateH = to him, for Trishanku, the king; aaroHaNam pratij~naatam = ascending, on promising; a nR^itam = non, truth; kartum = to make; na utsahe = not, interested.

" 'Let safety betide you all. I have promised to this king Trishanku that he will ascend to heaven with his mortal body, and I am not interested to make it untrue. [1-60-27]

Verse Locator

स्वर्गो अस्तु स शरीरस्य त्रिशंकोः अस्य शाश्वतः ।

नक्षत्राणि च सर्वाणि मामकानि ध्रुवाणि अथ ॥ १-६०-२८

यावत् लोका धरिष्यन्ति तिष्ठन्ति एतानि सर्वशः ।

यत् कृतानि सुराः सर्वे तत् अनुज्ञातुम् अर्हथ ॥ १-६०-२९

28, 29. asya trishankoH = his, to Trishanku; sa shariirasya = along with, mortal body; shaashvataH svargaH astu = eternally, heaven, let it be - let him be in heaven; atha = next; yat [mat] kR^itaani = what [by me,] created [creation]; etaani sarvaaNi = these, all; nakSatraaNi = stars - galaxies; maamakaani sarvashaH = as my [creation,] everywhere - in their places - they shall be there as long as; lokaaH yaavat dhariSyanti = = worlds, as long as, bears [lasts]; till then; dhruvaaNi tiSThanti = firmly, let them be there; suraaH sarve tat anuj~naatum arhatha = gods, all, that, to accede, apt of you.

" 'Let there be eternal heaven to Trishanku with his mortal body. Next, as long as the worlds remain, let all of these stars and galaxies I have created also remain eternally in their places as my creation. It will be apt of you all gods to accede to this.' So said Vishvamitra to gods. [1-60-28, 29]

Verse Locator

एवम् उक्ताः सुराः सर्वे प्रति ऊचुः मुनि पुंगवम् ।

एवम् भवतु भद्रम् ते तिष्ठन्तु एतानि सर्वशः ॥ १-६०-३०

गगने तानि अनेकानि वैश्वानर पथात् बहिः ।

नक्षत्राणि मुनि श्रेष्ठ तेषु ज्योतिःषु जाज्वलन् ॥ १-६०-३१

अवाग् शिराः त्रिशंकुः च तिष्ठतु अमर संनिभः ।

30, 31, 32a. evam uktaaH = thus, addressed - gods; sarve suraaH = all, gods; muni pungavam = to saint, the eminent; prati uucuH = in turn, spoke - replied; evam bhavatu = so, be it; muni shreSTha = oh, sage, the best; te bhadram = to you, let safeness be there; etaani = these; taani = those [amazing stars]; an ekaani = not, one - numerous; nakSatraaNi = stars [you created]; vaishvaanara pathaat = Cosmic Person's, stelliform, than the path of; bahiH = outside; gagane sarvashaH tiSThantu = in firmament, everywhere - in their respective places, let them prevail; teSu jyotiHSu = in them, circle of stars - circular galaxies you created; jaajvalan = while gleaming; trishankuH ca = Trishanku, also; amara sannibhaH = celestial being, similar in shine; avaa~N shiraaH = downward, with head - in inverted position; tiSThatu = will remain.

"When all the gods are addressed thus they replied the eminent saint Vishvamitra saying, 'so be it! Safe you be! Let all the created objects prevail in their respective places. Those amazing and numerous stars you have created will remain in firmament, but outside the path of stelliform of Cosmic Person. Trishanku will also remain in the circle of stars you created, but upside-down, for Indra's indict cannot be annulled, and he will be gleaming like a star and similar to any celestial. [1-60-30, 31, 32a]

Verse Locator

अनुयास्यन्ति च एतानि ज्योतीन्षि नृप सत्तमम् ॥ १-६०-३२
कृतार्थम् कीर्तिमन्तम् च स्वर्ग लोक गतम् यथा ।

32b, 33a. etaani jyotiinSi ca = all these, stars, also; kR^ita artham = achieved, ends; kiirtimantam ca = acclaimed one, also - with your tour de force; nR^ipa sattamam = king, the best; svarga loka gatam yathaa = to heavenly, worlds, gone, as with - someone; anuyaasyanti = they will follow him - circumambulate Trishanku.

" 'According to their wont to circumambulate someone who has gone to heavenly worlds, all the stars will suppliantly circumambulate this best king Trishanku, who has achieved his ends and who has become an acclaimed one with your tour de force.' So said gods to Vishvamitra in deterring his further cloning of a simulative Universe. [1-60-32b, 33a]

Verse Locator

विश्वामित्रः तु धर्मात्मा सर्व देवैः अभिष्टुतः ॥ १-६०-३३
ऋषि मध्ये महातेजा बाढम् इति आह देवताः ।

33b, 34a. sarva devaiH = by all, gods; abhiSTutaH = revered; mahaatejaa = great-resplendent sage; dharmaatmaa = benign-souled one; vishvaamitraH tu = Vishvamitra, on his part; R^iSi madhye = sages, from among; devataaH = to gods; baaDham = Agreed!; iti aaha = thus, said.

"Even the benign-souled Vishvamitra, when revered by all gods, that great-resplendent sage without stirring himself from among the sages said to all gods, 'Agreed!' [1-60-33]

Verse Locator

ततो देवा महात्मानो ऋषयः च तपो धनाः ।
जग्मुः यथा आगतम् सर्वे यज्ञस्य अन्ते नरोत्तम ॥ १-६०-३४

34b,c. nara uttama = among men, best one - oh, Rama; tataH = later; yaj~nasya ante = Vedic-ritual, at the end of; mahaatmaanaH devaa = great-souled, gods; tapaH dhanaaH R^iSayaH ca = ascetically, wealthy, sages, also; sarve yathaa aagatam jagmuH = all, as, they have come, went away.

"Oh, best one among men Rama, later at the end of that ritual great-souled gods and ascetically wealthy sages went away as they have come. Thus Sage Shataananda continued the narration of the legend. [1-60-34]

Trishanku - and his universe

Trishanku is the son of one Suuryaaruna and his original name is Satyavrat and this name Trishanku is his pseudonym. He got this because three sins are attached to him tri shanka-s as said in another work

Harivamsha. There it is said. pituH shaapa aadi doShena | guru dogdhre vadhena ca | a-prokShito prayogaat ca | trividhaa tat vyatikramaH | evam triiNi asya shankuuni | One by his father's damnation - when he misbehaved in his kingdom, his father being a righteous king exiles him to a wretched place. When his father was exiling him, Trishanku took umbrage at Vashishta, because Vashishta did not come to his rescue. The second blemish is due to the killing Vashishta's milch cow, knowingly. Trishanku kills that cow, when he did not get any food for the day to feed the son of Vishvamitra. At that time, he had to protect the wife and three sons of Vishvamitra, as Vishvamitra has gone away to a distant place for his ascesis, leaving his kingdom and family. Then Trishanku comes to the rescue of hs family. With that gratitude, now Vishvamitra tries to requite this king in sending him to heaven. The third damnation is for his usage of unsanctified meat of his kill. Thus, Trishanku is the one who carries 'three social blemishes' on his head, and added to these is the curse of Vashishta, in making him as a profaner.

Further, a god or teacher cannot be dragged to one's side or his wishful thinking, but they are to be attained or appeased with constant faith and servitude. guroH aliika nirbandho na kartavyaH kadaacana | anumaanya prasaaH ca guru kruddho yudhiShTara | shiShyo gurau narashreShTa pratikuulam na sa~ncaret | viShNu puraaNa And if god created the cosmos, a man trying to duplicating it, is as good as going against that writ of that god. Vishvamitra no doubt built many space stations and started cloning gods, leave alone earthly species, but he is forestalled, because he wanted to break the system from within, in which he is and by which he mastered all this expertise. It is as good as cutting the branch of a tree on which he is sitting. Absolute insolence is absolutely condemnable. Hence, Trishanku is still dangling upside down in his so-called heaven.

इति वाल्मीकि रामायणे आदि काव्ये बाल काण्डे षष्ठितमः सर्गः

Thus, this is the 60th chapter in Bala Kanda of Valmiki Ramayana, the First Epic poem of India.

Book I : Bala Kanda - The Youthful Majesties

Chapter [Sarga] 61 Verses converted to UTF-8, Oct 09

Introduction

The Legend of Shunashepa is commenced and Sage Shataananda continues this as a part of Vishvamitra's legend. When Rama's grandparent Ambariisha undertook a ritual, Indra impounds that ritual's horse. Then Ambariisha had to fetch a human-animal in lieu of that lost horse. When none is available one named Shunashepa, son of Sage Riciika, and a nephew of Vishvamitra, offers himself with a barter of riches to his parents.

Verse Locator

विश्वामित्रो महातेजाः प्रस्थितान् वीक्ष्य तान् ऋषीन् ।
अब्रवीत् नरशार्दूल सर्वान् तान् वन वासिनः ॥ १-६१-१

1. nara shaarduula = oh, manly-tiger Rama; mahaatejaaH vishvaamitraH = great-resplendent, Vishvamitra; prasthitaan = those who started to go back; vana vaasinaH = forest, dwellers; taan sarvaan R^iSiin = them, all, sages; viikshya = on seeing - giving them farewell; taan = to them - to remaining sages; abraviit = said.

"Oh, manly-tiger Rama, on giving farewell to those sages who came at his invitation and who have started to go back after the ritual of Trishanku is over, then that great-resplendent Vishvamitra spoke to all of the sages who are forest dwellers that remained with him." Thus Shatananda continued to narrate the legend of Vishvamitra. [1-61-1]

Verse Locator

महाविघ्नः प्रवृत्तो अयम् दक्षिणाम् आस्थितो दिशम् ।
दिशम् अन्याम् प्रपत्स्यामः तत्र तप्स्यामहे तपः ॥ १-६१-२

2. dakSiNaam disham aasthitaH = southern, quarter, depending upon; ayam mahaan vighnaH pravR^ittaH = this [Trishanku's episode,] a gross, hindrance, cropped up; anyaaam disham prapatsyaamaH = another, direction, we journey on; tatra tapaH tapsyaamahe = there, ascesis, we perform.

"While depending on this southern quarter this gross hindrance has cropped up for my ascesis in the shape of Trishanku's ascent to heaven, hence we will go to another direction, and there we continue ascesis. [1-61-2]

Verse Locator

पश्चिमायाम् विशालायाम् पुष्करेषु महात्मनः ।
सुखम् तपः चरिष्यामः परम् तत् हि तपो वनम् ॥ १-६१-३

3. mahaatmanaH = oh, great-souled sages; vishaalaayaam = in a vast one; pashcimaayaam = in western direction; puSkareSu = at holy lakeside; sukham tapaH cariSyamaH = conveniently, ascesis, we undertake; tat param tapaH vanam hi = that is, august, ascetical, forest, isn't it.

" 'Oh, great-souled sages, we can conveniently undertake our asceticism in the vast of westerly direction where holy lakesides are there. That would be an august ascetical forest, isn't it.' Thus Vishvamitra said to fellow sages in his camp. [1-61-3]

Verse Locator

एवम् उक्त्वा महातेजाः पुष्करेषु महामुनिः ।
तप उग्रम् दुराधर्षम् तेपे मूल फल अशनः ॥ १-६१-४

4. mahaatejaaH = most brilliant; mahaa muniH = great-saint Vishvamitra; evam uktvaa = thus, on saying; puSkareSu = in holy lakeside - after reaching them; muula phala ashanaH = tubers, fruits, eating [subsisting on]; duraadharSam ugram tapaH tepe = unhindered, rigorous, asceticism, performed.

"On saying thus that most brilliant and great saint Vishvamitra performed an unhindered and rigorous asceticism subsisting only on fruits and tubers after reaching the lakeside of holy lakes. [1-61-4]

Verse Locator

एतस्मिन् एव काले तु अयोध्या अधिपतिः महान् ।
अंबरीष इति ख्यातो यष्टुम् समुपचक्रमे ॥ १-६१-५

5. etasmin kale eva = in this, time, only; ambariisa iti khyataH = Ambariisha, thus, renowned [king]; ayodhya mahaa adhipatiH [nR^ipaH] = Ayodhya's, great, lord, [king]; yaSTum samupacakrame = to perform Vedic-ritual, embarked on.

"In the meanwhile the great king of Ayodhya, renowned as Ambariisha, embarked on to perform a Vedic-ritual. [1-61-5]

Verse Locator

तस्य वै यजमानस्य पशुम् इन्द्रो जहार ह ।
प्रणष्टे तु पशौ विप्रो राजानम् इदम् अब्रवीत् ॥ १-६१-६

6. yajamaanasya tasya pashum = of the principal [of ritual,] his, ritual-animal; indraH jahaara ha = Indra, stole [impounded,] indeed; pashau praNaSTe sati = animal is, verily lost [really vanished,] while becoming; vipraH raajaanam idam abraviit = the officiant of ritual, to king, this, spoke.

"But Indra impounded the animal of the principal of that ritual, namely king Ambariisha, and when that animal is really vanished, the officiant Brahman of the ritual spoke this to that king. [1-61-6]

Verse Locator

पशुः अभ्याहतः राजन् प्रणष्टः तव दुर्नयात् ।
अरक्षितारम् राजानम् घ्नन्ति दोषा नरेश्वर ॥ १-६१-७

7. raajan = oh, king; pashuH = ritual-animal; abhyaahr^itaH [abhi aa hr^itaH] = to here, fetched [by you]; praNaSTaH = verily lost [gone astray]; nareshvara = oh, king; tava dur nayaat = by your, bad-conduct [incautiousness]; a rakSitaaram = not, guarded [ritual items]; raajaanam doSaa ghnanti = for king, as blemishes, will destruct.

" 'Oh, king, the animal you have fetched for the ritual has gone astray owing to your incautiousness. Oh, king, unguarded items of the ritual will themselves become destructive blemishes for that king who is performing the ritual. [1-61-7]

Verse Locator

प्रायः चित्तम् महत् हि एतत् नरम् वा पुरुषर्षभ ।

आनयस्व पशुम् शीघ्रम् यावत् कर्म प्रवर्तते ॥ १-६१-८

8. puruSarSabha = oh, man the best; etat = for this - loss of animal; mahat praayaHcittam = a great, making amends - is to be done; naram vaa pashum = man, or, [as ritual] animal; shiighram aanayasva = quickly, be fetched; karma yaavat pravartate = ritual-deeds, until [only after that,] will continue.

" 'Oh, the best man among men, you have to make great amends for the loss of animal as that animal alone which was intended but now missing shall be used in ritual. Or, a man may be fetched as ritual-animal, and only after that the deeds of the ritual can be continued.' Thus, the priests of the ritual said to king Ambariisha. [1-61-8]

Verse Locator

उपाध्याय वचः श्रुत्वा स राजा पुरुषर्षभ ।

अन्वियेष महाबुद्धिः पशुम् गोभिः सहस्रशः ॥ १-६१-९

9. puruSa rSabha = oh, man the best, Rama; mahaa buddhiH saH raajaa = highly intelligent [obedient king to rules,] king; upaadhyaaya vacaH shrutvaa = teachers', words, on hearing; sahasrashaH gobhiH = with thousands, of cows [in barter]; pashum anviyeSa = [human] animal, searched - he tried for.

"On hearing the words of his teacher, oh, the best one among men, Rama, he that highly rule-obedient king tried for a human-ritual-animal for a barter of thousands of cows. [1-61-9]

Verse Locator

देशान् जनपदान् तान् तान् नगराणि वनानि च ।

आश्रमाणि च पुण्यानि मार्गमाणो महीपतिः ॥ १-६१-१०

स पुत्र सहितम् तात स भार्यम् रघुनन्दन ।

भृगुतुंगे समासीनम् ऋचीकम् संददर्श ह ॥ १-६१-११

10, 11. taata = oh, dear, Rama; raghunandana = oh, Raghu's, legatee; saH mahii patiH = he that land, lord - that king Ambariisha; taan taan deshaan = those, those, provinces; janapadaan = villages; nagaraaNi vanaani ca = townships, forests, also; puNyaani aashramaaNi ca = pious hermitages, even; maargamaaNaH = while searching; bhR^igutunge = on Mt. Bhrgutunga; putra sahitam = sons, along with; sa bhaaryam = with, wife; sam aasiinam = well, seated [settled]; R^iciikam sam dadarsha ha = at Sage Raiciika, well, he has seen, indeed.

"While that king is searching those and those provinces, villages, forests, townships, and even the pious hermitages, oh, dear Rama, the legatee of Raghu's dynasty, that king has indeed seen Sage Riciika, who is well settled on Mt. Bhrgutunga along with his sons and wife. [1-61-10, 11]

Verse Locator

तम् उवाच महातेजाः प्रणयं अभिप्रसाद्य च ।

महर्षिम् तपसा दीप्तम् राजर्षिः अमित प्रभः ॥ १-६१-१२

पृष्ट्वा सर्वत्र कुशलम् ऋचीकम् तम् इदम् वचः ।

12, 13a. mahaatejaaH = great-resplendent; a mita prabhaH = not, limitable, in brilliance; such a; raajarSiH = kingly sage [King Ambariisha]; tapasaa diiptam = by asceticism, brilliant [Sage Riciika]; tam maharSim praNamya = him, great-sage Riciika, on reverencing; abhiprasaadya ca = obtaining his grace, also; sarvatra kushalam pR^iSTvaa = in every aspect, wellbeing, on asking; tam R^iciikam = him, to Sage Riciika; idam vacaH uvaaca = this, word, said - King Ambariisha said.

"On reverencing and on obtaining the grace of ascetically brilliant great Sage Riciika, and even on asking him about his wellbeing in every aspect, that kingly sage Ambariisha, who is with great resplendence and whose brilliance is illimitable, said this word to that sage. [1-61-12, 13a]

Verse Locator

गवाम् शत सहस्रेण विक्रीणीषे सुतम् यदि ॥ १-६१-१३
पशोः अर्थे महाभाग कृत कृत्यो अस्मि भार्गव ।

13b, 14a. mahaa bhaaga = oh, godlike sage; bhaargava = oh, successor of Bhrigu; gavaam shata sahasreNa = cows, by hundred, thousand; sutam = [your] son; pashoH arthe = ritual-animal, for purpose of; vikriiNiiSe yadi = you bargain, if; kR^ita kR^ityaH asmi = done, deed [achieved ends,] I will be.

" 'Oh, godlike sage, if you bargain your son with a hundred thousand cows for the purpose of a ritual-animal, oh, the successor Sage Bhrigu, I deem my ends are achieved. [1-61-13b, 14a]

Verse Locator

सर्वे परिगता देशा यज्ञियम् न लभे पशुम् ॥ १-६१-१४
दातुम् अर्हसि मूल्येन सुतम् एकम् इतो मम ।

14b, 15a. sarve deshaaH pari gataa = all, provinces, over, went [went over]; yaj~nyam pashum na labhe = ritual's, animal, not, obtained; itaH = from [among your sons]; ekam sutam = one, son; muulyena = for a value; daatum arhasi = to give, apt of you.

" 'All the provinces are went over but unobtainable is that animal of the ritual, hence it will be apt of you to give me one son from among your sons, for a value.' Thus, king Ambariisha bargained with the sage. [1-61-14b, 15a]

Verse Locator

एवम् उक्तो महातेजा ऋचीकः तु अब्रवीत् वचः ॥ १-६१-१५
न अहम् ज्येष्ठम् नर श्रेष्ठ विक्रीणीयाम् कथंचन ।

15b, 16a. evam uktaH = thus, who is addressed; mahaatejaa = great-resplendent sage; R^iciikaH tu = Riciika, on his part; vacaH abraviit = word, said; nara shreSTha = oh, man, the best - king Ambariisha; aham kathamcana = I, in anyway; jyeSTham na vikriiNiiyaam = eldest [son,] not, possibly sell.

"When that great-resplendent Sage Riciika is addressed thus, he said this word, 'oh, best of men, I cannot possibly sell my eldest son, in anyway.' [1-61-15b, 16a]

Verse Locator

ऋचीकस्य वचः श्रुत्वा तेषाम् माता महात्मनाम् ॥ १-६१-१६
उवाच नर शार्दूलम् अंबरीषम् इदम् वचः ।

16b, 17a: R^iciikasya vacaH shrutvaa = Riciika's, words, on hearing; mahaa aatmanaam = of great souled [sons]; teSaam maataa = their [sons',] mother; nara shaarduulam ambariiSam = to manly tiger, to Ambariisha; idam vacaH uvaaca = this, word, said.

"On hearing the words of Sage Riciika the mother of those great-souled sons spoke this word to the tigerly-man Ambariisha. [1-61-16b, 17a]

Verse Locator

अविक्रेयम् सुतम् ज्येष्ठम् भगवान् आह भार्गवः ॥ १-६१-१७

मम अपि दयितम् विद्धि कनिष्ठम् शुनकम् प्रभो ।

तस्मात् कनीयसम् पुत्रम् न दास्ये तव पार्थिव ॥ १-६१-१८

17b, 18. bhagavaan = reverential one; bhaargavaH = sage from Bhaargava dynasty [namely Riciika]; jyeSTham sutam a vikreyam = eldest son, not, sellable; [iti = thus]; aaha = said; paarthiva = oh, king; shunakam kaniSTham = Shunaka [Shunaka named,] youngest [son]; mama dayitam = mine, as a cherished [son]; viddhi = [thereof you must] know; prabho = oh, lord; = tasmaat = therefore; kaniiyasam putram api = youngest, son, either; tava na daasye = to you not, I will give.

"The most reverential sage and the one from Bhaargava dynasty, my husband, said that the eldest son is un-sellable. Thereof oh, lord, you must know that my youngest son, namely Shunaka, is a cherished one for me. Therefore oh, king, I will not give my youngest son to you, either. [1-61-17b, 18]

Verse Locator

प्रायेण हि नरश्रेष्ठ ज्येष्ठाः पितृषु वल्लभाः ।

मातृणाम् च कनीयांसः तस्मात् रक्षे कनीयसम् ॥ १-६१-१९

19. narashreSTha = oh, best one among men - oh, king; praayeNa = generally; jyeSThaaH pitR^iSu vallabhaaH hi = eldest [sons,] for father, favourites, isn't it; maatR^INaam ca kaniiyaamsaH [vallabhaaH] = for mothers, also, youngest ones, [favourites]; tasmaat rakSe kaniiyasam = therefor, I [have to] tend, youngest one.

"Generally eldest sons are fathers' favourites, oh, best king among men, and mothers' favourites are the youngest, isn't it! Therefor, I have to tend my youngest son.' Thus, wife Sage Ruciika said to Ambariisha. [1-61-19]

The wife of the Sage Ruciika is Satyavathi, the sister of Vishvamitra whose legend was narrated by Vishvamitra in Bala Ch. 34. This longing for youngest sons by a mother is reflected in Maha Bharata, where Kunti pleads for leaving Sahadeva, the youngest Pandava, from going to forest exile, along with her in the city. In sabhaa parva she says: sabhaa parvaani sahadevam prati kuntii vaakyam - sahadeva nivartasva nanu tvam asi me priyaH | shariiraat api maadreya maamatyakShiiH kuputravat | - aashrama vaase dharma putram prati kuntii vaakyam - sahadeva maaraaja maa pramaadam kR^ithaa | - dk Kunti, the mother of Pandava-s says: 'oh, Sahadeva, you refrain from going on exile as you are a dear son of mine, though Maadri gave you a bodily birth, you are my favourite...' Also, in the period of forest exile she says to Yudhishtar: 'oh, king, let no danger occur to Sahadeva... as he is my cherished son...'

Verse Locator

उक्त वाक्ये मुनौ तस्मिन् मुनि पत्न्याम् तथैव च ।

शुनःशेषः स्वयम् राम मध्यमो वाक्यम् अब्रवीत् ॥ १-६१-२०

20. raama = oh, Rama; tasmin munau = that, by sage; ukta vaakyae = said so, sentence; muni patnyaam tathaiva ca = by sage, wife's, in that way, only; madhyamaH shunaHshepaH = intermediate [son,] Shunashepa; svayam vaakyam abraviit = personally, sentence, spoke.

"Oh, Rama, when that sage's sentence is so, and his wife's sentence is also in that way only, their intermediate son, namely Shunashepa, personally spoke this sentence. [1-61-20]

Verse Locator

पिता ज्येष्ठम् अविक्रेयम् माता च आह कनीयसम् ।

विक्रेतम् मध्यमम् मन्ये राजपुत्र नयस्व माम् ॥ १-६१-२१

21. raajaputra = oh, prince; pitaajyeSTham a vikreyam aaha = father eldest one, as un-sellable one, he is telling; maataa ca kaniiyasam = mother, also [said the same, about] youngest son; madhyamam = intermediate - son; vikretam manye = sellable, I deem; maam nayasva = me, you lead forth.

" 'Father said that the eldest son is un-sellable, mother also said the same about youngest one. Then I deem that the intermediary son is sellable. Hence, oh, prince, you may lead me forth. [1-61-21]

Verse Locator

अथ राजा महाबाहो वाक्य अन्ते ब्रह्म वादिनः ।
हिरण्यस्य सुवर्णस्य कोटिभी रत्न राशिभिः ॥ १-६१-२२
गवाम् शत सहस्रेण शुनःशेषम् नरेश्वरः ।
गृहीत्वा परम प्रीतो जगाम रघुनन्दन ॥ १-६१-२३

22, 23. mahaabaaho = oh, dextrous Rama; raghu nandana = oh, Raghu's, legatee, Rama; atha raajaa = then, king; brahma vaadinaH = of Brahma [Veda-s,] advocate of; vaakya ante = sentence, end of [when he finished his speech]; hiraNyasya suvarNasya = of gold, of silver; koTibhii = crores of [ten million]; ratna raashibhiH = gemstones, heaps of, [dattvaa = on giving]; gavaam shata sahasreNa = cows, hundred, thousand; nareshvaraH = king Ambariisha; shunaHshepam = Shunashepa is; gR^ihiitvaa = on taking; parama priitaH = highly, gladdened; jagaama = went away.

"Oh, dextrous Rama, when that advocate of Veda-s, namely Shunashepa finished his speech, then the king gave gold, silver, and gemstones, each in ten million heaps, and even a hundred thousand cows, and oh, Rama, the legatee of Ragu, that king Ambariisha went away highly gladdened to take Shunashepa with him. [1-61-22, 23]

Verse Locator

अंबरीषः तु राजर्षी रथम् आरोप्य सत्वरः ।
शुनःशेषम् महातेजा जगाम आशु महायशाः ॥ १-६१-२४

24. mahaatejaa = great-resplendent - king; mahaayashaaH = highly renowned - king raajarSii ambariisaH tu = kingly sage, Ambariisha, on his part; sa tvaraH = with, haste; shunaHshepam ratham aaropya = Shunashepa, on chariot, ascending; aashu jagaama = hastily, proceeded.

"That great resplendent and highly renowned king Ambariisha on his part proceeded hastily after ascending Shunashepa onto the chariot that hastily." Thus Sage Shataananda continued his narration. [1-61-24]

इति वाल्मीकि रामायणे आदि काव्ये बाल काण्डे एक षष्ठितमः सर्गः

Thus, this is the 61st chapter in Bala Kanda of Valmiki Ramayana, the First Epic poem of India.

Book I : Bala Kanda - The Youthful Majesties

Chapter [Sarga] 62 Verses converted to UTF-8, Oct 09

Introduction

Sage Vishvamitra curses his sons as they defy his orders and accords two esoteric hymns to Shunashepa, for chanting them in the Vedic-ritual of Ambariisha. Shunashepa gets longevity on chanting those hymns. Thus Vishvamitra not only creates another universe as in Trishanku's episode, he even accords longevity, or even deathlessness to mortals by his ascetic power. Such as he is, he is the mentor of Rama, and hence Sage Shataananda informs Rama about the capabilities of his own mentor, Vishvamitra, in these many episodes.

Verse Locator

शुनःशेषम् नरश्रेष्ठ गृहीत्वा तु महायशाः ।
व्यश्रामत् पुष्करे राजा मध्याह्ने रघुनंदन ॥ १-६२-१

1. narashreSTha = oh, best among men, Rama; raghuna.ndana = oh, Raghu's, legatee; mahaayashaaH raajaa = highly renowned one, that king Ambariisha; shunaHshepam gR^ihiitvaa = Shunashepa, on taking; madhya ahne = in mid, day - at noontime; puSkare vyashraamat = at holy lakeside, took rest.

"Oh, Rama, the best one among men and the legatee of Raghu, on taking Shunashepa that highly renowned king Ambariisha took rest at noontime on the lakeside of Holy Lake." Thus Sage Shataananda continued the legend of Shunashepa, as a part of Vishvamitra's legend. [1-62-1]

Verse Locator

तस्य विश्रममाणस्य शुनःशेषो महायशाः ।
पुष्करम् ज्येष्ठम् आगंय विश्वामित्रम् ददर्श ह ॥ १-६२-२
तप्यन्तम् ऋषिभिः सार्थम् मातुलम् परम आतुरः ।

2, 3a: tasya = his [Ambariisha]; vishramamaaNasya = while resting; mahaayashaaH shunaHshepaH = highly brilliant, Shunashepa; parama aaturaH = with high, anxiety; jyeSTham puSkaram aagamyaa = elder [main one,] holy lakeside, having come; R^iSibhiH saartham tapyantam = [other] sages, along with, performing asceticism; maatulam vishvaamitram dadarsha ha = maternal uncle, at Vishvamitra, he [Shunashepa] saw, indeed.

"While the king Ambariisha is taking rest that highly brilliant Shunashepa came to the lakeside of main Holy Lake with high anxiety, and there he indeed saw his maternal uncle Sage Vishvamitra who is performing asceticism along with other sages. [1-62-2, 3a]

Verse Locator

विषण्ण वदनो दीनः तृष्णया च श्रमेण च ॥ १-६२-३
पपात अन्के मुने राम वाक्यम् च इदम् उवाच ह ।

3b, 4a. raama = oh, Rama; tR^iSNayaa ca shrameNa ca = by thirst, also, by strain, also; viSaNNa vadanaH = sulky, faced; diinaH = became pitiable; [aashu = immediately]; mune anke papaata = in saint Vishvamitra's, in flank [lap,] fell down; idam vaakyam uvaaca ha = this, sentence, said, indeed.

"Shunashepa became pitiable and sulky faced by strain and thirst, oh, Rama, and he immediately fell in the lap of saint Vishvamitra saying this sentence. [1-62-3b, 4a]

Verse Locator

न मे अस्ति माता न पिता ज्ञातयो बान्धवाः कुतः ॥ १-६२-४
त्रातुम् अर्हसि माम् सौय धर्मेण मुनिपुंगव ।

4b, 5a. saumya munipungava = oh, peaceable, sage; me maataa na asti = to me, mother, not, is there; pita na = father, nor; j~naatayaH baandhavaaH kutaH = cousins, relatives, wherefore; maam dharmeNa traatum arhasi = me, according to saintliness, to protect, apt of you.

" 'I have no mother or a father to save me. Then wherefore cousins or relatives will be there to protect me. Oh, peaceable saint the eminent, it will be apt of you to protect me according to saintliness. [1-62-4b, 5a]

Verse Locator

त्राता त्वम् हि नरश्रेष्ठ सर्वेषाम् त्वम् हि भावनः ॥ १-६२-५
राजा च कृतकार्यः स्यात् अहम् दीर्घ आयुः अव्ययः ।
स्वर्ग लोकम् उपाश्रीयाम् तपः तप्त्वा हि अनुत्तमम् ॥ १-६२-६

5b, 6. narashreSTha = oh, best one among men - illustrious sage; tvam sarveSaam traataa hi = you are, to each and every one, saviour, isn't it; tvam bhaavanaH hi = you are, apologist - upholder - guardian angel, isn't it; raajaa ca kR^ita kaaryaH syaat = king Ambariisha, also, achieved, [of his] purpose, let him be; aham diirgha aayuH = I, with long, life; a vyayaH = not, spent on becoming imperishable; an uttamam tapaH taptvaa hi = un, excelled, asceticism, on performing, indeed; svarga lokam upaashniiyaam = heavenly, worlds, I wish to enjoy.

" 'Oh, illustrious sage, you alone are the saviour to each and every one, isn't it! You alone are the guardian angel, isn't it! Hence, let the purpose of the king Ambariisha be achieved, and let longevity come to me, and I on becoming imperishable and indeed on performing an unexcelled asceticism, I wish to enjoy in heavenly worlds. [1-62-5b, 6]

Verse Locator

स मे नाथो हि अनाथस्य भव भव्येन चेतसा ।
पिता इव पुत्रम् धर्मात्मन् त्रातुम् अर्हसि किल्बिषात् ॥ १-६२-७

7. a naathasya = for not, protected one; me = to me; saH = such as you are; [tvam = you]; bhavyena cetasa hi = with providential, sentiment, indeed; naathaH bhaava = [my] providence, you become; dharmaatman = oh, virtue-souled one; pitaa putram iva = father, for son, as with; kilbiSaata traatum arhasi = from misfortune, to protect, apt of you.

" 'You shall be my providence with a providential sentiment as I stand unprotected, and oh, virtue souled one, it will be apt of you to protect me from misfortune, like a father protecting his own son.' Thus Shunashepa appealed to Vishvamitra. [1-62-7]

Verse Locator

तस्य तत् वचनम् श्रुत्वा विश्वामित्रो महातपाः ।
सान्त्वयित्वा बहु विधम् पुत्रान् इदम् उवाच ह ॥ १-६२-८

8. mahaa tapaaH vishvaamitraH = of higher asceticism, Vishvamitra; tasya tat vacanam shrutvaa = his [of Shunashepa,] that, sentence, on hearing; bahu vidham saantvayitvaa = in many, a way, having pacified; putraan idam uvaaca ha = to [his] sons, this, said, indeed.

"On hearing that sentence of Shunashepa and on pacifying him in many ways, Vishvamitra of higher asceticism, indeed said this to his sons. [1-62-8]

Verse Locator

यत् कृते पितरः पुत्रान् जनयन्ति शुभ अर्थिनः ।
पर लोक हित अर्थाय तस्य कालो अयम् आगतः ॥ १-६२-९

9. shubha arthinaH pitaraH = positivity, desirers of, parents; yat kR^ite = for what, reason; para loka hita arthaaya = in other, world, welfare, for the purpose of; putraan janayanti = sons, engender; tasya = its [that reason's]; ayam kaalaH aagataH = this [is that,] time, [that] has come.

" 'For what reason parents engender sons, desiring positivity and for the purpose of welfare in the other worlds, this is the time that has come for fulfilling that reason. [1-62-9]

Vividly: 'A father's ambition in begetting sons is to do something good and positive to the society in the present world and when departed a right place is acquired in heavens through these sons, by their yearly death-day rituals etc., and hence you do some good in saving this boy from premature death and earn an apt place for me in heavens...'

Verse Locator

अयम् मुनि सुतो बालो मत्तः शरणम् इच्छति ।
अस्य जीवित मात्रेण प्रियम् कुरुत पुत्रकाः ॥ १-६२-१०

10. muni sutaH ayam baalaH = sage's, son, this, youngster; mattaH = from me; sharaNam icChati = shelter, aspires; putrakaaH = oh, sons; asya = to him; jiivita maatreNa = life, just [by giving]; priyam kuruta = satisfaction, be given.

" 'This youngster is the son of sage and he aspires shelter from me. Hence, oh, sons, give him satisfaction just by giving life to him. [1-62-10]

Verse Locator

सर्वे सुकृत कर्माणः सर्वे धर्म परायणाः ।
पशु भूता नरेन्द्रस्य तृप्तिम् अग्नेः प्रयच्छत ॥ १-६२-११

11. sarve = all of you; su kR^ita karmaaNaaH = well, done, pious deeds; sarve dharma paraayaNaaH = you all, in probity, have abundance; narendrasya = of the king; pashu bhuutaa = [ritual] animal, on becoming; agneH tR^iptim prayacChata = to Fire-god, appeasement, you bestow.

" 'You all have done very good pious deeds and you all abide by probity. Hence, you bestow appeasement to Fire-god on your becoming the ritual-animals of king Ambariisha in lieu of this boy Shunashepa. [1-62-11]

Verse Locator

नाथनान् च शुनःशेषो यज्ञः च अविघ्नतो भवेत् ।
देवताः तर्पिताः च स्युः मम च अपि कृतम् वचः ॥ १-६२-१२

12. shunaHshepaH naathanaan ca = Shunashepa will be, with protectors, also; yaj~naH ca a vighnataH bhavet = Vedic-ritual, also, un, impeded, it will become; devataaH tarpitaaH ca syuH = gods, obliterated, also, they will be; mama vacaH ca api kR^itam = mine, word, also, even, actualised.

" 'As a result, Shunashepa will have protectors, Vedic-ritual will be unimpeded, gods will be obliterated, and my word too will be actualised.' Thus Vishvamitra said to his sons. [1-62-12]

Verse Locator

मुनेः तु वचनम् श्रुत्वा मधुष्यन्द आदयः सुताः ।
स अभिमानम् नरश्रेष्ठ स लीलम् इदम् अब्रुवन् ॥ १-६२-१३

13. nara shreSTha = oh, man the best, Rama; madhuSyanda aadayaH sutaaH tu = Madhusyanda, and other, sons - of Vishvamitra, on their part; muneH vacanam shrutvaa = sage's, saying, on hearing; sa abhimaanam = with, haughtiness; sa liilam = with, disparage; idam abruvan = this, said.

"But on hearing the saying of the sage, oh, Rama, the best of men, Madhushyanda and the other sons of Vishvamitra said this, haughtily and disparagingly. [1-62-13]

Verse Locator

कथम् आत्म सुतान् हित्वा त्रायसे अन्य सुतम् विभो ।
अकार्यम् इव पश्यामः श्व मांसम् इव भोजने ॥ १-६२-१४

14. vibho = oh, lordly [father]; aatma sutaan hitvaa = your own, sons, on leaving off [sacrificing]; anya sutam katham traayase = other's, son, how, you save; bhojane shva maamsam iva = in dinner, dog's, meat, as [good as]; a kaaryam iva pashyaamaH = wrong, doing, we see [we deem.]

" 'On sacrificing your own sons how can you save another's son, oh, lordly father, we deem this as a wrongdoing and as good as dog's meat in a dinner.' Thus the sons of Vishvamitra replied their father. [1-62-14]

Vishvamitra will be nagged by almost all, including his sons, on this 'dog-meat-eating.' There is a parable in Maha Bharata that Vishvamitra once tried to eat dog's meat when he did not get any food, but caught red-handedly. Later this has become the curse-theme to Vishvamitra when he cursed Vashishta's sons. At the present juncture also he curses his own sons with the same theme.

Verse Locator

तेषाम् तत् वचनम् श्रुत्वा पुत्राणाम् मुनिपुंगवः ।
क्रोध संरक्त नयनो व्याहर्तुम् उपचक्रमे ॥ १-६२-१५

15. muni pungavaH = sage, the eminent; teSaam putraaNaam tat vacanam shrutvaa = their, of sons, that, saying, on listening; krodha samrakta nayanaH = with fury, reddening, eyes; vyaahartum upacakrame = to speak [to curse,] started to.

"On listening that saying of his sons that eminent sage Vishvamitra started to curse them while fury reddened his eyes. [1-62-15]

Verse Locator

निःसाध्वसम् इदम् प्रोक्तम् धर्मात् अपि विगर्हितम् ।
अतिक्रय तु मत् वाक्यम् दारुणम् रोम हर्षणम् ॥ १-६२-१६

16. mat vaakyam ati kramya = my, word, [you all] on over, stepping - on transgressing; dharmaat api = according to probity, even; vi garhitam = verily, recriminatory; daaruNam = abhorrent; roma harSaNam = hair-raising; idam = this - in this way; niHsaadhvasam = impudently; pra uktam = verily, said - pertly replied me.

" 'You all have not only transgressed my word, but pertly replied me in an impudent manner which is abhorrent and hair-raising, and recriminatory according to probity. [1-62-16]

Verse Locator

श्व मांस भोजिनः सर्वे वासिष्ठा इव जातिषु ।

पूर्णम् वर्ष सहस्रम् तु पृथिव्याम् अनुवत्स्यथ ॥ १-६२-१७

17. sarve = you all; shva maamsa bhojinaH = dog's, meat, while subsisting on; puurNam varSa sahasram tu = complete, for years, thousand, but; pR^ithivyaam = on earth; vaasiSThaa iva = Vashishta's [sons,] like; jaatiSu = in race of [Mustika-s]; anuvatsyatha = whirl around.

" 'You all will be whirling around the earth totally for a thousand years taking birth in the race that subsists on dog's meat, like the sons of Vashishta.' Thus Vishvamitra cursed his sons. [1-62-17]

Verse Locator

कृत्वा शाप समायुक्तान् पुत्रान् मुनिवरः तदा ।

शुनःशेपम् उवाच आर्तम् कृत्वा रक्षाम् निरामयाम् ॥ १-६२-१८

18. muni varaH = saint, the best; putraan shaapa samaayuktaan = sons, curse, bounden by; kR^itvaa = on making - on cursing; tadaa = then; niraamayaam rakSaam kR^itvaa = unharmed, invulnerability, on making; aartam shunaHshepam uvaaca = pitiable one, to Shunashepa, spoke.

"On making his sons bounden by curse, then that best saint spoke to the pitiable Shunashepa, on making unharmed invulnerability to him with sanctifying hymns. [1-62-18]

Verse Locator

पवित्र पाशैर् बद्धो रक्त माल्य अनुलेपनः ।

वैष्णवम् यूपम् आसाद्य वाग्भिः अग्निम् उदाहर ॥ १-६२-१९

19. vaiSNavam yuupam aasaadya = Vishnu's, sacrificial post, on attaining [when you are fastened]; pavitra paashaiH baddhaH = by sacred, fastener, when fastened; rakta maalya anulepanaH = with red, garlands, smeared with [red] paste; such as you are you; vaagbhiH = with word [with hymns I am going to tell]; agnim udaahara = to Fire-god, you address [you praise him.]

" 'When you are fastened with sacred fastener to the sacrificial post of Vishnu, smeared with red paste and garlanded with red garlands, you praisefully address the Fire-god with the words I going to impart to you in Vedic hymns. [1-62-19]

Verse Locator

इमे च गाथे द्वे दिव्ये गायेथा मुनि पुत्रक ।

अंबरीषस्य यज्ञे अस्मिन् ततः सिद्धिम् अवाप्स्यसि ॥ १-६२-२०

20. muni putraka = oh, saint's, son; ambariiSasya asmin yaj~ne = in of Ambariisha, in that, Vedic-ritual; ime dve divye gaathe = these, two, divine, songs [hymns]; gaayethaa = be sung [chanted]; tataH siddhim avaapsyasi = then, aspiration, you will obtain.

" 'These two divine hymns, oh, son of saint, shall be chanted in the Vedic-ritual of Ambariisha, then you will obtain your aspiration.' Thus Vishvamitra taught two Vedic hymns to the boy. [1-62-20]

Verse Locator

शुनःशेपो गृहीत्वा ते द्वे गाथे सुसमाहितः ।

त्वरया राज सिंहम् तम् अंबरीषम् उवाच ह ॥ १-६२-२१

21. shunaHshepaH = Shunashepa; su samaahitaH = very, attentively; te dve gaathe gR^ihiitvaa = those, two, hymns, having taken; raaja simham = to king, the lion; tam ambariiSam = to him, to Ambariisha; tvarayaa [gatvaa] = instantly [on going to]; uvaaca ha = spoke, indeed.

"Shunashepa having taken those two hymns from Vishvamitra very attentively has instantly gone to that lion-king Ambariisha and indeed spoke to him. [1-62-21]

Verse Locator

राज सिंह महाबुद्धे शीघ्रम् गच्छावहे वयम् ।
निवर्तयस्व राजेन्द्र दीक्षाम् च समुदाहर ॥ १-६२-२२

22. mahaabuddhe = oh, highly intellectual one; raaja simha = king, the lion; [sadaH = to your ritual place]; vayam shiighram gacChaavahe = we, promptly, go to; raajendra = oh, king the best; diikSaam nivartayasva = pledge, apply yourself to; [iti = this way]; samudaahara = said.

" 'Oh, king the lion, let us go promptly to your ritual place, oh, best king, you may apply yourself to your pledge in completing the ritual, with me as its sacrificial animal,' thus the boy said. [1-62-22]

Verse Locator

तत् वाक्यम् ऋषि पुत्रस्य श्रुत्वा हर्ष समन्वितः ।
जगाम नृपतिः शीघ्रम् यज्ञ वाटम् अतन्द्रितः ॥ १-६२-२३

23. nR^ipatiH = king; R^iSi putrasya tat vaakyam shrutvaa = of sage, son's, that, sentence, on listening; harSa samanvitaH = , gladness, along with [gladdened]; a tandritaH = not, lazily - spiritedly; yaj~na vaaTam = to ritual, shed [hall]; shiighram jagaama = immediately, proceeded.

"On listening that sentence of the son of sage, the king Ambariisha is gladdened and proceeded to the ritual hall immediately and spiritedly. [1-62-23]

Verse Locator

सदस्य अनुमते राजा पवित्र कृत लक्षणम् ।
पशुम् रक्त अंबरम् कृत्वा यूपे तम् समबन्धयत् ॥ १-६२-२४

24. raajaa = king; sadasya anumate = officiators', by permission of; tam = him [Shunashepa]; pavitra kR^ita lakSaNam = sanctity, prepared, with features [got the boy is prepared with bodily features of sanctity]; rakta ambaram pashum = with red, cloth, as ritual animal; kR^itvaa = made [clad him in red clothes]; yuupe sam abandhayat = to sacrificial post, securely fastened.

"The king with the permission of officiators of ritual got the boy prepared as a ritual animal with sanctified bodily features and clad him in red clothes and got him securely fastened to the sacrificial post. [1-62-24]

Verse Locator

स बद्धो वाग्भिः अग्न्याभिः अभितुष्टाव वै सुरौ ।
इन्द्रम् इन्द्र अनुजम् चैव यथावत् मुनि पुत्रकः ॥ १-६२-२५

25. baddhaH saH muni putrakaH = when tied, he, saint's, son - Shunashepa; indram = Indra; indra anujam caiva = Indra's, brother [Upendra,] as well as; surau = these two gods; agnyaabhiH = with superior ones; vaagbhiH = with words [two hymns]; yathaavat = as per [scriptures]; abhitaSTaava vai = highly pleased, indeed.

"When Shunashepa is tied to ritual post he immensely pleased two gods, namely Indra and Upendra as well, with those two hymns he got from Vishvamitra. [1-62-25]

ततः प्रीतः सहस्र अक्षो रहस्य स्तुति तोषितः ।

दीर्घम् आयुः तदा प्रादात् शुनःशेषाय राघव ॥ १-६२-२६

26. raaghava = oh, Raghava; tataH = then; rahasya stuti toSitaH = esoteric, by laudation, who is satisfied; sahasra akSaH = thousand, eyed god Indra; priitaH = is gladdened; tadaa = then; shunaHshepaaya = for Shunashepa; diirgham aayuH praadaat = long, life [longevity,] bestowed.

"Then the Thousand-eyed Indra who is satisfied with esoteric laudation is gladdened, and oh, Raghava, then he bestowed longevity to Shunashepa. [1-62-26]

Verse Locator

स च राजा नरश्रेष्ठ यज्ञस्य च समाप्तवान् ।

फलम् बहु गुणम् राम सहस्राक्ष प्रसादजम् ॥ १-६२-२७

27. narashreSTha = oh, best one among men, Rama; raama = oh, Rama; saH raajaa ca = he, that king, also; sahasraakSa prasaada jam = Thousand-eyed Indra's, grace, caused by; bahu guNam = many, fold; yaj~nasya phalam ca sam aaptavaan = Vedic-ritual, fruits of, also, well, obtained.

"Oh, Rama, the best one among men, he that king Ambariisha also obtained the fruits of that Vedic-ritual in manyfold, resulted from the grace of Thousand-eyed Indra. [1-62-27]

Verse Locator

विश्वामित्रो अपि धर्मात्मा भूयः तेपे महातपाः ।

पुष्करेषु नरश्रेष्ठ दश वर्ष शतानि च ॥ १-६२-२८

28. narashreSTha = oh, best one among men Rama; dharmaatmaa = virtue-soled sage; mahaa tapaaH = great ascetic; vishvaamitraH api = Vishvamitra, even; puSkareSu = at Holy place; dasha varSa shataani ca = ten, years, hundred, also; bhuuyaH tepe = again, performed ascesis.

"Oh, Rama, the best among men, even the virtue-souled great ascetic Vishvamitra again performed ascesis at the same Holy lakeside for another thousand years." Thus Sage Shataananda continued the narration of Vishvamitra's legend. [1-62-28]

...

इति वाल्मीकि रामायणे आदि काव्ये बाल काण्डे द्वि षष्टितमः सर्गः

Thus, this is the 62nd chapter in Bala Kanda of Valmiki Ramayana, the First Epic poem of India.

Book I : Bala Kanda - The Youthful Majesties

Chapter [Sarga] 63 Verses converted to UTF-8, Oct 09

Introduction

On Vishvamitra's performing severe asceticism Brahma accords the sageship of 'Great-sage' to him, whereas Vishvamitra's ambition is to acquire the sageship of a 'Brahma-sage' Absolute-sageship. In the meanwhile, the celestial wench Menaka arrives at that place and Vishvamitra is enticed by her beauty and spends some years with her. Later, on realising that he should have won over lust, he further undertakes severe asceticism, by which gods are perturbed.

Verse Locator

पूर्णं वर्षं सहस्रे तु व्रतं स्नातम् महामुनिम् ।
अभ्यागच्छन् सुराः सर्वे तपः फलं चिकीर्षवः ॥ १-६३-१

1. varSa sahasre puurNe = years, thousand, while being completed; sarve suraaH = all, gods; tapaH phala cikiirSavaH = asceticism, fruit, wishing [to accord to Vishvamitra]; vrata snaatam mahaamunim = solemnity, bath of, great-saint; abhyaagacchan came towards.

"When thousand years are completed in asceticism and when that great saint Vishvamitra took a bath of solemnity, all the gods have come forward wishing to accord the fruit of that asceticism to Vishvamitra." Thus Sage Shataananda continued the legend of Vishvamitra. [1-63-1]

Verse Locator

अब्रवीत् सु महातेजा ब्रह्मा सु रुचिरम् वचः ।
ऋषिः त्वम् असि भद्रम् ते स्व अर्जितैः कर्मभिः शुभैः ॥ १-६३-२

2. su mahaatejaa brahmaa = very, highly, resplendent, Brahma; su ruciram vacaH abraviit = highly, palatable, words, spoke; tvam = you; sva arjitaiH = on your own, acquired - undertaken; shubhaiH karmabhiH = with auspicious, deeds; R^iSiH asi = sage, you are - you have become; te bhadram = to you, let there be safety.

"The very highly resplendent Brahma spoke to him with highly palatable words, 'you have now become a kingly sage by virtue of auspicious deeds you have personally undertaken, let safety betide you.' [1-63-2]

Vividly: 'so far, you are a king and by your auspicious deeds now you have become a 'kingly sage' raajaSi and to attain a still higher brahmarSi 'Absolute sageship' you are not yet merited... as the Absolute sageship will be endowed to those who are above the negative traits of humans, like greed, anger, lust, jealousy etc.'

Verse Locator

तम् एवम् उक्त्वा देवेशः त्रिदिवम् पुनः अभ्यगात् ।
विश्वामित्रो महातेजा भूयः तपे महत् तपः ॥ १-६३-३

3. devashaH = god of gods [Brahma]; tam evam uktvaa = to him, in that way, on speaking; punaH tridivam abhyagaat [abhi aagaat] = again, towards, to heaven came [came back]; mahaatejaaH vishvaamitraH = a highly vigorous one, Vishvamitra; bhuuyaH mahat tapaH tepe = again, great, ascesis, performed.

"On speaking to Vishvamitra in that way Brahma returned to heaven, and that highly vigorous Vishvamitra again performed a great ascesis. [1-63-3]

The word vi in the name of Vishvamitra is taken as the third syllable in Gayatri Hymn.

Verse Locator

ततः कालेन महता मेनका परम अप्सराः ।
पुष्करेषु नर श्रेष्ठ स्नातुम् समुपचक्रमे ॥ १-६३-४

4. nara shreSTha = oh, man, the best, Rama; tataH = then; mahataa kaalena = a great, after time - at a long lost time; menakaa parama apsaraaH = Menaka, high [prominent, apsara - celestial wench; puSkareSu snaatum samupacakrame = in holy lake, to take bath, started to - started a swimming for sport.

Then at a long lost time Menaka, the prominent apsara, celestial wench, has arrived and started to swim for sport in that holy lake. [1-63-4]

Verse Locator

ताम् ददर्श महातेजा मेनकाम् कुशिक आत्मजः ।
रूपेण अप्रतिमाम् तत्र विद्युतम् जलदे यथा ॥ १-६३-५

5. mahaatejaaH kushika aatmajaH = great resplendent, Kushi's, son - Vishvamitra; tatra = there - in holy lake; jalade vidyutam yathaa = in black-cloud, electric-flash, as with; rupeNa a pratimaam = by mien, not, matchabe - an incomparable one; taam menakaam dadarsha = at her, Menaka, he has seen.

"That great resplendent sage Vishvamitra has seen Menaka who is incomparable in her mien and comparable to an electric-flash in a black-cloud, while she is swimming in the holy lake. [1-63-5]

Verse Locator

दृष्ट्वा कन्दर्प वशगो मुनिः ताम् इदम् अब्रवीत् ।
अप्सरः स्वागतम् ते अस्तु वस च इह मम आश्रमे ॥ १-६३-६
अनुगृह्णीष्व भद्रम् ते मदनेन सु मोहितम् ।

6, 7a. dR^iSTvaa muniH = having seen, the sage; kandarpa vasha gaH = Love-god's, control, on going into; taam idam abraviit = to her, this, said; apsaraH te svaagatam astu = oh, apsara, to you, welcome, is there; mama iha aashrame vasa ca = mine, here, in hermitage, you stay, also; madanena su mohitam = by Love-god, bewitched [for you]; [maam = me]; anugR^ihNiiSva = oblige me; te bhadram = you be safe.

"On seeing her the sage having gone under the sway o Love-god said this to her, 'oh, apsara, you are welcome, I invite you to bide in my hermitage. Oblige me who am bewitched by Love-god for you. You be safe. [1-63-6, 7a]

Verse Locator

इति उक्ता सा वरारोहा तत्र वासम् अथ अकरोत् ॥ १-६३-७
तपसो हि महाविघ्नो विश्वामित्रम् उपागतम् ।
तस्याम् वसन्त्याम् वर्षाणि पंच पंच च राघव ॥ १-६३-८
विश्वामित्र आश्रमे सौय सुखेन व्यतिचक्रमुः ।

7b, 8, 9a. Raaghava = oh, Raghava; saa varaaroohaa iti uktaa = she, that beautiful nymph, thus, she who is spoken to; atha tatra vaasam akarot = then, there, stopover, she made; saumya = oh, gentle Rama; tasyaam vishvaamitra aashrame vasantyaam = by her, in Vishvamitra's, hermitage, while staying; panca panca ca = five, five [ten,] also; varSaaNi sukhena vyaticakramuH = years, comfortably, elapsed; vishvaamitram = to Vishvamitra; tapasaH mahaa vighnaH = for asceticism, great, hindrance; upaagatam hi = came near [faced with,] indeed.

"When he said thus to her, oh, Raghava, then she made a stopover there and ten years rolled by comfortably, and oh, gentle Rama, because of her staying Vishvamitra is indeed faced with a great hindrance in his asceticism. [1-63-7b, 8, 9a]

Verse Locator

अथ काले गते तस्मिन् विश्वामित्रो महामुनिः ॥ १-६३-९

स व्रीड इव संवृत्तः चिन्ता शोक परायणः ।

बुद्धिर् मुनेः समुत्पन्ना स अमर्षा रघुनन्दन ॥ १-६३-१०

9b, 10. atha tasmin kaale gate = then, that [ten years,] time, having elapsed; mahaamuniH vishvaamitraH cintaa shoka paraayaNaH = great-saint, Vishvamitra, with distress, doleful, he became; sa vriiDa iva = with, humiliation, as it were; samvR^ittaH = enwrapped in; raghunandana = oh, Raghu's, legatee; muneH = to saint; sa amarSaa = with, resentment; buddhiH samutpannaa = thought, occurred.

"Then after the lapse of that ten year period Vishvamitra became doleful with distress and he is enwrapped in humiliation, as it were, and, oh, Rama, Raghu's legatee, then a resentful thought occurred to him. [1-63-9b, 10]

Verse Locator

सर्वम् सुराणाम् कर्म एतत् तपो अपहरणम् महत् ।

अहो रात्रा अपदेशेन गताः संवत्सरा दश ॥ १-६३-११

काम मोह अभिभूतस्य विघ्नो अयम् प्रत्युपस्थितः ।

11, 12a. etat sarvam = this, all - all this is; mahat tapaH apaharaNam = great [merit,] of asceticism, to defraud; suraaNaam karma = all, gods', deed [mischievousness]; kaama moha abhibhuutasya = lust, lure, one who is influenced [i.e., me]; dasha samvatsaraa = ten, years; ahaH raatraa apadeshena = days, night, in the name of - as if they are one day and one night; gataaH = rolled by; ayam vighnaH = this, hindrance; pratyupasthitaH [prati upa sthitaH] = above all, to near, came - encountered.

" 'All this is the mischief of gods to defraud me of the great merit of my asceticism. Ten years have rolled by as if they are just a day and a night. Furthermore, I who am under the influence of lust and lure had to encounter this hindrance in my asceticism. [1-63-11, 12a]

Verse Locator

स विनिःश्वसन् मुनिवरः पश्चात्तापेन दुःखितः ॥ १-६३-१२

भीताम् अप्सरसम् दृष्ट्वा वेपन्तीम् प्राञ्जलिम् स्थिताम् ।

मेनकाम् मधुरैः वाक्यैः विसृज्य कुशिक आत्मजः ॥ १-६३-१३

उत्तरम् पर्वतम् राम विश्वामित्रो जगाम ह ।

12b, 13, 14a. raama = oh, Rama; munivaraH = saint, the best; kushika aatmajaH = Kushika's, son Vishvamitra; pashcaattaapena duHkhitaH viniHshvasan = with reparation, becoming emotional, [and] sighing; bhiitaam praanjalim sthitaam = one who is scared, with well-adjoined palms, staying [waiting]; vepantiim = one who is shivering; apsarasam menakaam dR^iSTvaa = celestial wench, Menaka, on seeing; madhuraiH vaakyaiH = with pleasant, words; visR^ijya = released [sending her away]; saH vishvaamitraH = he, Vishvamitra; uttaram parvatam = northern, [Himalayan mountain]; jagaama ha = went to, indeed.

"Oh, Rama, that best saint suspired heavily when he became emotional with reparation. But on seeing the scared celestial wench Menaka, who is shivering and waiting with suppliantly adjoined palms, he sent her away with pleasant words, and he that Vishvamitra indeed went to the northern Himalayan mountain. [1-63-12b, 13, 14a]

Verse Locator

स कृत्वा नैष्ठिकीम् बुद्धिम् जेतु कामो महायशाः ॥ १-६३-१४
कौशिकी तीरम् आसाद्य तपः तेपे दुरासदम् ।

14b, 15a. mahaayashaaH = highly celebrated sage; saH = he; naiSThikiim buddhim kR^itvaa = for sang-froid temperament, resolve, on making; jetu = to vanquish; kaamaH = lust [or, his desire to vanquish Vashishta]; kaushikii tiiram aasaadya = River Kaushiki, riverbank, on getting at; duraasadam tapaH tepe = unsurpassable, asceticism, performed.

"He that highly celebrated sage who made a resolve to attain a sang-froid temperament and to vanquish lust, performed an unsurpassable asceticism on reaching the riverbank of River Kaushiki. [1-63-14b, 15a]

Verse Locator

तस्य वर्ष सहस्राणि घोरम् तप उपासतः ॥ १-६३-१५
उत्तरे पर्वते राम देवतानाम् अभूत् भयम् ।

15b, 16a. raama = oh, Rama; tasya uttare parvate = his, at northern, mountain; varSa sahasraaNi = years, thousand; ghoram tapa upaasataH = unspeakable, asceticism, while performed reverently; devataanaam bhayam abhuut = for gods, fear, bechanced.

"Oh, Rama, while he reverently performed an unspeakable asceticism for a thousand years on the northern mountain, namely Himalayas, then fear occurred to gods. [1-63-15b, 16a]

Verse Locator

अमंत्रयन् समागंय सर्वे स ऋषि गणाः सुराः ॥ १-६३-१६
महर्षि शब्दम् लभताम् साधु अयम् कुशिक आत्मजः ।

16b, 17a. sa R^iSi gaNaaH = with, sage's, assemblages; sarve suraaH = all of the, gods; [brahmaaNam = with Brahma]; samaagamya = approaching; ayam kushika aatmajaH = he this, Kushika's, son; saadhu = duly; maharSi shabdam = an exalted sage, sound [name, epithet]; labhataam = let him get, may be given; [iti = thus]; amantrayan = they conveyed.

"All gods coming together with assemblages of sages have approached Brahma and conveyed that, 'this Vishvamitra, the son of Kushika, may duly be given the epithet of 'Maharshi, Exalted Sage.' [1-63-16b, 17a]

Verse Locator

देवतानाम् वचः श्रुत्वा सर्व लोक पितामहः ॥ १-६३-१७
अब्रवीत् मधुरम् वाक्यम् विश्वामित्रम् तपो धनम् ।

17b, 18a. sarva loka pitaamahaH = all, worlds', grandparent [Brahma]; devataanaam vacaH shrutvaa = gods', words [advice,] on listening; tapaH dhanam vishvaamitram = to ascetically, wealthy, to Vishvamitra; madhuram vaakyam abraviit = pleasant, words, spoke.

"On listening the advice of gods, Brahma, the Grandparent of all the worlds, spoke these pleasant words to the ascetically wealthy Vishvamitra. [1-63-17b, 18a]

महर्षे स्वागतम् वत्स तपसा उग्रेण तोषितः ॥ १-६३-१८

महत्त्वम् ऋषि मुख्यत्वम् ददामि तव कौशिक ।

18b, 19a. maharSe = oh, Exalted Sage; vatsa = my dear; svaagatam = welcome; ugreNa tapasaa toSitaH = by stern, asceticism [of yours,] [I am] gladdened; kaushika = oh, Kaushika; tava = to you; mahattvam = sublimity; R^iSi mukhyatvam dadaami = among sages, supremacy, I bestow.

" 'Oh, exalted sage, I welcome you my dear, as I am gladdened by your stern asceticism, oh, Kaushika, I bestow upon you the sublimity and supremacy among sages.' [1-63-18b, 19a]

Verse Locator

ब्रह्मणः स वचः श्रुत्वा विश्वामित्रः तपो धनः ॥ १-६३-१९

प्रांजलिः प्रणतो भूत्वा प्रत्युवाच पितामहम् ।

19b, 20a. tapaH dhanaH saH vishvaamitraH = ascetically, wealthy, he, that Vishvamitra; brahmaNaH vacaH shrutvaa = Brahma's, word, on hearing; praanjaliH praNataH bhuutvaa = with well-adjointed palms, obeisant, on becoming; pitaamaham prati uvaaca = to grandparent, in turn, said - replied.

" 'And on hearing the words of Brahma he that ascetically wealthy Vishvamitra became obeisant and replied the Grandparent adjoining his palms suppliantly. [1-63-19b, 20a]

Verse Locator

ब्रह्मर्षि शब्दम् अतुलम् स्व अर्जितैः कर्मभिः शुभैः ॥ १-६३-२०

यदि मे भगवान् आह ततो अहम् विजित इन्द्रियः ।

" 'If your Godhead had said that I am a Brahma-sage, a sageship acquired personally by my pious deeds, rather than an exalted sage, then I would have become one who is really self-conquered.' Thus Vishvamitra said to Brahma. [1-63-20, 21a]

Verse Locator

तम् उवाच ततो ब्रह्मा न तावत् त्वम् जित इन्द्रियः ॥ १-६३-२१

यतस्व मुनि शार्दूल इति उक्त्वा त्रिदिवम् गतः ।

21b, 22a. tataH brahmaa tam uvaaca = then, Brahma, to him, said; tvam jita indriyaH taavat na = you are, with conquered, senses, as such, not; muni shaarduula = oh, sage, the tiger; yatasva = make an effort - in that direction; iti uktvaa tridivam gataH = thus, on saying, to heavenward, went.

"Brahma then said to him, 'your senses remain unconquered as such, oh, tigerly sage, make an effort for it.' Saying so Brahma went heavenward. [1-63-21b, 22a]

Verse Locator

विप्रस्थितेषु देवेषु विश्वामित्रो महामुनिः ॥ १-६३-२२

ऊर्ध्वं बाहुः निरालम्बो वायु भक्षः तपः चरन् ।

22b, 23a. deveSu = gods; vi prasthiteSu satsu = verily, returning, while they are; mahaamuniH vishvaamitraH = great sage, Vishvamitra; uurdhva baahuH = upraised, arms; nir aalambaH = without, support - insecurely standing in levitation; vaayu bhakSaH = air, subsisting on; tapaH caran = asceticism, undertook.

"While the gods who came here along with Brahma have returned, that great sage Vishvamitra undertook another round of asceticism by standing in levitation, upraising his arms, and subsisting on air alone. [1-63-22b, 23a]

Verse Locator

धर्मे पंच तपा भूत्वा वर्षासु आकाश संश्रयः ॥ १-६३-२३

शिशिरे सलिले शायी रात्रि अहानि तपो धनः ।

एवम् वर्ष सहस्रम् हि तपो घोरम् उपागमत् ॥ १-६३-२४

23b, 24. tapaH dhanaH = ascetically, wealthy one; dharme /gharme = in righteousness / in summer; panca tapaaH bhuutvaa = five, ascetic-fires, on becoming - among them; varSaasu aakaasha samshrayaH = in rain [rainy season,] [open] sky, taking shelter [as rooftop]; shishire = in winter; raatri ahaani salile shaayii = night, day, in water, reclining; evam varSa sahasram = this way, years, thousand; ghoram tapaH upaagamat hi = severe, asceticism, he obtained - he undertook, indeed.

"In summer he became the Five-Fire Ascetic, in rainy season open sky is his rooftop, and in winter water is his reclining bed even by day or by night, and thus that ascetically wealthy Vishvamitra indeed undertook a severe asceticism in this way, for another thousand years. [1-63-23b, 24]

Five fires are four Fires in four directions and the fifth one is the scorching sun, overhead. An ascetic staying among these five fires will become an ascetic fire. The first word in first foot dharme, will also be used as gharme, as above, in some mms.

Verse Locator

तस्मिन् संतप्यमाने तु विश्वामित्रे महामुनौ ।

संतापः सुमहान् आसीत् सुराणाम् वासवस्य च ॥ १-६३-२५

25. mahaa munau = of great saint; tasmin vishvaamitre = that, Vishvamitra; sam tapyamaane tu = while undertaking asceticism, but; suraaNaam vaasavasya ca = for gods, to Indra, even; su mahaan santaapaH = a very, high, burning [problem]; aasiit = it became.

"While that great saint is undertaking fervent asceticism it has become a very high burning problem to gods and even to Indra. [1-63-25]

Verse Locator

रंभाम् अप्सरसम् शक्रः सह सर्वैः मरुत् गणैः ।

उवाच आत्म हितम् वाक्यम् अहितम् कौशिकस्य च ॥ १-६३-२६

26. shakraH = Indra; sarvaiH marut gaNaiH saha = with all, Air-gods', assemblages, along with; aatma hitam = for himself, advantageous; kaushikasya = to Kaushika's son Vishvamitra; a hitam ca = not, advantageous, also; vaakyam = words; rambhaam apsarasam uvaaca = to Rambha, apsara [celestial wench,] spoke.

"Then Indra along with all the assemblages of the Air-gods spoke to Rambha, the celestial wench, words that are advantageous to himself, but disadvantageous to the son of sage Kushi, namely Vishvamitra." Thus Sage Shataananda continued his narration. [1-63-26]

इति वाल्मीकि रामायणे आदि काव्ये बाल काण्डे त्रि षष्ठितमः सर्गः

Thus, this is the 63rd chapter in Bala Kanda of Valmiki Ramayana, the First Epic poem of India.

Book I : Bala Kanda - The Youthful Majesties

Chapter [Sarga] 64 Verses converted to UTF-8, Oct 09

Introduction

Vishvamitra curses Rambha, the celestial wench, knowing that she arrived at the behest of Indra to cause hindrance to his asceticism. But later feels ashamed to loose his tongue and then he is determined to undertake another round of asceticism to conquer his own senses.

Verse Locator

सुर कार्यम् इदम् रंभे कर्तव्यम् सुमहत् त्वया ।
लोभनम् कौशिकस्य इह काम मोह समन्वितम् ॥ १-६४-१

1. rambhe = oh, Rambha; iha = now; kaushikasya = of Vishvamitra; kaama moha samanvitam = lust, craving, inclusive of - a craving caused by lust; lobhanam = called enchanting; su mahat = very, great [task]; idam sura kaaryam = this, god's, task; tvayaa kartavyam = by you, it is to be undertaken.

" 'Oh, Rambha, now you have to undertake this very great task of gods in enchanting Vishvamitra with a craving caused by lust, for lusting after you.' Thus Indra ordered Rambha..." Thus Sage Shataananda continued the legend of Vishvamitra to Rama. [1-64-1]

Verse Locator

तथा उक्ता स अप्सरा राम सहस्राक्षेण धीमता ।
व्रीडिता प्रांजलिः वाक्यम् प्रत्युवाच सुर ईश्वरम् ॥ १-६४-२

2. raama = oh, Rama; dhiimataa = by the intellectual one; sahasra akSeNa = by Thousand-eyed Indra; tathaa uktaa sa apsara = thus, spoken to, she, celestial wench; vriiDitaa praanjaliH = diffidently, with well-adjoined-palms; sura iishvaram vaakyam pratyuvaaca = to gods', chief, sentence, in reply, said.

"Oh, Rama, when that celestial wench is spoken thus by the Thousand-eyed Indra, she diffidently said to that chief of gods while adjoining her palms suppliantly. [1-64-2]

Verse Locator

अयम् सुर पते घोरो विश्वामित्रो महामुनिः ।
क्रोधम् उत्स्रज्यते घोरम् मयि देव न संशयः ॥ १-६४-३
ततो हि मे भयम् देव प्रसादम् कर्तुम् अर्हसि ।

3, 4a. sura pate = oh, gods', chief; ayam mahaa muniH vishvaamitraH = he, great saint, Vishvamitra is; ghoraH = a dangerous one; deva = oh, god; mayi = on me; ghoram krodham utsracyate = deadly, anger, he releases; samshayaH na = doubt, is not there; tataH me bhayam hi = thereby, for me, fear, indeed; deva = oh, god; prasaadam kartum arhasi = forbearance, to accord, apt of you.

" 'Oh, chief of gods, Indra, that great saint Vishvamitra is a dangerous one and undoubtedly he releases his deadly anger on me. Oh, god, thereby I am fearful of him. Hence, oh, god, it will be apt of you to accord forbearance.' So said Rambha to Indra. [1-64-3, 4a]

Verse Locator

एवम् उक्तः तया राम स भयम् भीतया तदा ॥ १-६४-४
ताम् उवाच सहस्राक्षो वेपमानाम् कृताञ्जलिम् ।

4b, 5a. raama = oh, Rama; bhiitayaa tayaa = by fearful one, by her; tadaa evam uktaH = then, that way, when he is said; sahasraakSaH = Thousand-eyed Indra; sa bhayam vepamaanaam = with, fear, to her who is shuddering; kR^itaanjalim = she who made palm-fold; taam uvaaca = to her, said.

"Oh, Rama, the Thousand-eyed Indra replied Rambha when she spoke to him in that way while shuddering in fear and making palm fold in supplication. [1-64-4b, 5a]

Verse Locator

मा भैषी रंभे भद्रम् ते कुरुष्व मम शासनम् ॥ १-६४-५
कोकिलो हृदय ग्राही माधवे रुचिर द्रुमे ।
अहम् कंदर्प सहितः स्थास्यामि तव पार्श्वतः ॥ १-६४-६

5b, 6. rambhe = oh, Rambha; maa bhaiSii = you need not, be fearful; te bhadram = you, will be safe; mama shaasanam kuruSva = my, command, you carryout; aham = I; rucira drume maadhava = which has pleasing, trees, in springtime; hR^idaya graahii kokilaH = heart, stealer, black-songbird; [bhuutvaa = on becoming]; kandarpa sahitaH = Love-god, along with; tava paarshvataH = at your, side; sthaasyaami = I will stay.

" 'You need not be fearful, Rambha, carry out my command, safe betides you, I on becoming a heart-stealing black-songbird will be at your side along with Love-god in the pleasing trees of springtime. [1-64-5b, 6]

Verse Locator

त्वम् हि रूपम् बहु गुणम् कृत्वा परम भास्वरम् ।
तम् ऋषिम् कौशिकम् रंभे भेदयस्व तपस्विनम् ॥ १-६४-७

7. rambhe = oh, Rambha; tvam bahu guNam = you, multi-, multiplex; parama bhaasvaram = highly, sparkling; ruupam kR^itvaa hi = semblance, on assuming [savoir faire,] indeed; tapasvinam = ascetical one; tam R^iSim kaushikam = him, sage, Kaushika; bhedayasva = disengage [from asceticism.]

" 'Indeed on your assuming a highly sparkling semblance, and multi-multiplexing your savoir faire, with bon viveurs and bon vivants, you disengage that ascetical sage Kaushika from his asceticism.' So said Indra to Rambha. [1-64-7]

Verse Locator

सा श्रुत्वा वचनम् तस्य कृत्वा रूपम् अनुत्तमम् ।
लोभयामास ललिता विश्वामित्रम् शुचि स्मिता ॥ १-६४-८

8. saa tasya vacanam shrutvaa = she, his [Indra's,] sentence, on hearing; an uttamam ruupam kR^itvaa = un, excelled, physique, on adopting; lalitaa = lovely lady; shuci smitaa = bight, smiles [with giggly grins]; vishvaamitram lobhayaamaasa = Vishvamitra, she started to entice.

"On hearing the sentence of Indra she adopted an unexcelled physique, and on becoming a pulchritudinous damsel she started to entice Vishvamitra with giggly grins. [1-64-8]

कोकिलस्य तु शुश्राव वल्गु व्याहरतः स्वनम् ।
संप्रहृष्टेन मनसा स एनाम् अन्वैक्षत ॥ १-६४-९

9. saH = he tht Vishvamitra; valgu vyaaharataH = melodiously, saying [trilling]; kokilasya svanam shushraava = songbird's, tune, he heard; [tataH = then]; samprahR^iSTena manasaa = with very, highly, gladdened, heart; [saH = he, Vishvamitra]; enaam anvaikSata = at her [at Rambha,] stared.

"Vishvamitra has heard melodious trilling tune of songbird, and while his heart is highly gladdening about the ambience, he incidentally saw and stared at Rambha. [1-64-9]

Verse Locator

अथ तस्य च शब्देन गीतेन अप्रतिमेन च ।
दर्शनेन च रंभाया मुनिः संदेहम् आगतः ॥ १-६४-१०

10. atha = then; tasya shabdena = , its [songbird's,] by trilling; a pratimena = without, match - exceptional; giitena ca = by tune, also; rambhaayaa darshanena ca = of Rambha, by [usual, run-of-the-mill, unexceptional] tableau, also; muniH sandeham aagataH = sage, wariness, came to [he is on the qui vive.]

"By the exceptional trilling tune of that songbird and by the unexceptional tableau of Rambha the sage is on his qui vive. [1-64-10]

Verse Locator

सहस्राक्षस्य तत् कर्म विज्ञाय मुनिपुंगवः ।
रंभाम् क्रोध समाविष्टः शशाप कुशिक आत्मजः ॥ १-६४-११

11. munipungavaH = saint, the best; kushika aatmajaH = Kushika's, son, Vishvamitra; tat sahasraakSasya karma = that, as Thousand-eyed Indra's, deed [escapade]; vij~naaya = on knowing; krodha samaaviSTaH rambhaam shashaapa = in wrath, enwrapped, Rambha, he cursed.

"On knowing that as an escapade of the Thousand-eyed Indra, Vishvamitra is enwrapped in wrath and he cursed Rambha. [1-64-11]

Verse Locator

यत् माम् लोभयसे रंभे काम क्रोध जय एषिणम् ।
दश वर्ष सहस्राणि शैली स्थास्यसि दुर्भगे ॥ १-६४-१२

12. dur bhage = you un, lucky female; rambhe = oh, Rambha; kaama krodha jaya eSiNam = wonton, wroth, to win over, wisher; maam = me; yat lobhayase = whereof, you entice; thereof; dasha varSa sahasraaNi = ten, years, thousand; shailii sthaasyasi = rock [like,] you will stay - you become a statued wastrel.

"Whereof you tried to entice me who am wishing to win over the wanton and wroth, you unlucky female Rambha, thereof you will become a rocklike statued wastrel. [1-64-12]

Verse Locator

ब्राह्मणः सुमहातेजाः तपो बल समन्वितः ।
उद्धरिष्यति रंभे त्वाम् मत् क्रोध कलुषी कृताम् ॥ १-६४-१३

13. rambhe = oh, Rambha; su mahaa tejaaH = very, high, resplendent one; tapaH bala sam anvitaH = ascetical, power, having; braahmaNaH = a Brahman; mat krodha kaluSii kR^itaam = by my, anger, blemish, made - one blemished by my anger; tvaam = you; uddhariSyati = he redeems.

" 'A highly resplendent Brahman who is ascetically powerful redeems you, oh, Rambha, who are now blemished by my anger.' Vishvamitra cursed Rambha in this way. [1-64-13]

This ascetically powerful Brahman-saviour of Rambha is none other than the Sage Vashishta, the brainchild of Brahma. Even though Vishvamitra is at loggerheads with Vashishta, he holds Vashishta in high respect.

Verse Locator

एवम् उक्त्वा महातेजा विश्वामित्रो महामुनिः ।
अशक्नुवन् धारयितुम् कोपम् संतापम् आगतः ॥ १-६४-१४

14. mahaatejaaH = great-resplendent one; mahaamuniH vishvaa mitraH = great-saint, Vishvamitra; kopam dhaarayitum a shaknuvan = anger, to contain, not, a capable sage; evam uktvaa = thus, on saying - for uttering a curse angrily; santaapam aagataH = compunction, came [to him, he became compunctious.]

"Thus the great-resplendent Vishvamitra became compunctious when that great-saint could not contain his anger in uttering an angry curse. [1-64-14]

Angering for trivial reasons, or on trivially inferiors ones is a demeritorious triviality in loosing ascetic power. Irrestrainable temperament will not only ruin the ascetic powers but also breeds a prolonged compunction. Manu defines jita indriya as one who shrutvaa spR^iShTvaa ca dR^iShTvaa ca bhaktvaa ghraatvaa ca yau naraH | na hR^iShyati glaayati vaa sa vij~neyo jitendriyaH || - manu'he who on hearing, touching, seeing, eating, smelling, but neither gladdens nor saddens, is a self-senses-conquered one...' The same is said in Bhagavad Gita, and the whole of karma yoga deals with the same subject, and it is said there: tasmaat tvam indriyaaNi aadau niyamy bharatarShabha paapmaanam prajahi hi enam j~naana vij~naana naashanam || giita 3-41

He that, being self-contained, hath vanquished doubt, / Disparting self from service, soul from works, / Enlightened and emancipate, my Prince! / Works fetter him no more! Cut then atwain / With sword of wisdom, Son of Bharata! - Sir Edwin Arnold.

Verse Locator

तस्य शापेन महता रम्भा शैली तदा अभवत् ।
वचः श्रुत्वा च कन्दर्पो महर्षेः स च निर्गतः ॥ १-६४-१५

15. tadaa = then; tasya mahataa shaapena = by his, great, curse; rambhaa shailii abhavat = Rambha, rocklike statue, became; maharSeH vacaH shrutvaa = of great-saint, words, on hearing; kandarpaH = Love-god; saH ca = he [Indra,] also; nir gataH = out, gone [took flight.]

"Then Rambha has become a rocklike statue by that great curse of Vishvamitra, and having heard the words of that great-saint Love-god and Indra also took flight. [1-64-15]

Verse Locator

कोपेन स महातेजाः तपो अपहरणे कृते ।
इन्द्रियैर् अजितै राम न लेभे शान्तिम् आत्मनः ॥ १-६४-१६

16. raama = oh, Rama; mahaatejaaH saH = great-resplendent one, he; kopena = by angering; tapaH apaharaNe kR^ite = ascetical [merit,] in divesture of, made [owing to]; a jitai indriyaiH = not, governable, with senses; aatmanaH shaantim na lebhe = for himself, peace, not, attained.

"Owing to his angering that great-resplendent Vishvamitra is now divested of his ascetical merit, and he has no peace of mind owing to ungovernable senses. [1-64-16]

बभूव अस्य मनः चिंता तपो अपहरणे कृते ।
न एव क्रोधम् गमिष्यामि न च वक्ष्ये कथंचन ॥ १-६४-१७

17. tapaH apaharaNe kR^ite = ascetical [merit,] in divesture of, made [owing to]; asya manaH cintaa babhuuva = his, conscience, sentimental, became; krodham na eva gamiSyami = wrath, not, thus, I go into [a fit of rage]; kathamcana = in anyway; na ca vakshye = not, also, talk - put into words.

"His conscience became sentimental owing to the divesture of his ascetical merit, and he soliloquised, 'I shall not succumb to wrath in anyway, nor I put my presentiment into words.' [1-64-17]

Verse Locator

अथवा न उच्छासिष्यामि संवत्स शतानि अपि ।
अहम् हि शोषयिष्यामि आत्मानम् विजितेन्द्रियः ॥ १-६४-१८

18. athavaa = otherwise; samvatsra shataani api = years, hundred, even for; na ucChaasiSyami = not, I respire; aham = I; vi jita indriyaH = verily, conquered, senses - until I become conqueror my own senses; aatmaanam shoSayiSyami hi = myself, I emaciate, indeed.

" 'Otherwise, I do not even respire for a hundred years for the respiratory gestures will also exhibit moods, and I indeed emaciate myself until I become a real conqueror of my own senses. [1-64-18]

Verse Locator

तावत् यावत् हि मे प्राप्तम् ब्राह्मण्यम् तपसा आर्जितम् ।
अनुच्छवसन् अभुंजाः तिष्ठेयम् शाश्वती समाः ॥ १-६४-१९
न हि मे तप्यमानस्य क्षयम् यास्यन्ति मूर्तयः ।

19. me = to me; tapasaa = by [merit of] asceticism; aarjitam braahmaNyam hi = acquired, Brahman-hood, indeed; yaavat = till such time; praaptam = bechances; taavat = until then; an ucChvasan = without, respiring [breathless]; a bhu.njaaH = without, food [foodless]; shaashvatii samaaH = for endless, years; tiSTheyam = bide my time; tapyamaanasya = one who is in asceticism; me = to me; muurtayaH = my, bodily organs; kshayam = deterioration; na yaasyanti hi = not, undergo, indeed.

" 'Till such time as I acquire Brahman-hood with the merit of my own asceticism I will be breathless and foodless, even if it is going to take endless years, and while I am in asceticism my bodily organs indeed will not undergo any deterioration.' So said Vishvamitra to himself. [1-64-19]

Verse Locator

एवम् वेअर्ष शस्रस्य दीक्षाम् स मुनिपुंगवः ।
चकार प्रतिमाम् लोके प्रतिज्ञाम् रघुन्दन ॥ १-६४-२०

20. raghunndana = oh, Raghu's, legatee, Rama; saH munipungavaH = he, the sage, eminent; evam = in this way; loke a pratimaam = in world, not, parallel [nonpareil]; veaSa shasrasya diikshaam = years, thousands, commitment; pratij~naam cakaara = vow, undertook.

"Thus that eminent sage abided by the commitment to the vow for a thousand years, oh, Rama, the legatee of Ragu, which is a nonpareil vow in the world." Thus Shataananda continued. [1-64-20]

इति वाल्मीकि रामायणे आदि काव्ये बाल काण्डे चतुः षष्ठितमः सर्गः

Thus, this is the 64th chapter in Bala Kanda of Valmiki Ramayana, the First Epic poem of India.

Book I : Bala Kanda - The Youthful Majesties

Chapter [Sarga] 65 Verses converted to UTF-8, Oct 09

Introduction

Vishvamitra becomes Brahma-sage after a prolonged asceticism that made all the worlds to startle. All gods request Brahma to accord the supreme Brahma-sageship on Vishvamitra as he is cleansed of all mortal impurities, and Brahma accords that highest order on him. Thus Sage Shataananda concludes his narration about the legend of Vishvamitra.

Verse Locator

अथ हैमवतीम् राम दिशम् त्यक्त्वा महामुनिः ।
पूर्वम् दिशम् अनुप्राप्य तपः तेपे सुदारुणम् ॥ १-६५-१

1. raama = oh, Rama; atha mahaa muniH = then, great-saint; haimavatiim disham = snowbound, direction - Himalayan area, northern side; tyaktvaa = leaving off; puurvaam disham anupraapya = eastern, direction, on arriving; sudaaruNam tapaH tepe = highly rigorous, asceticism, undertook.

"That great-saint Vishvamitra then leaving off the snowbound Himalayas on north, oh, Rama, he reached eastern quarter and undertook rigorous asceticism." Thus Sage Shataananda continued the legend of Vishvamitra. [1-65-1]

Verse Locator

मौनम् वर्ष सहस्रस्य कृत्वा व्रतम् अनुत्तमम् ।
चकार अप्रतिमम् राम तपः परम दुष्करम् ॥ १-६५-२

2. raama = Rama; varSa sahasrasya = of years, thousand; an uttamam = un, excelled; maunam = muteness; vratam = vow; kR^itvaa = on making [committing himself]; a pratimam = un, matched; parama duSkaram = highly, impracticable; tapaH cakaara = asceticism, he performed.

"Committing himself to a vow of muteness, oh, Rama, he performed an unexcelled and unmatched asceticism which is highly impracticable for others to perform. [1-65-2]

Verse Locator

पूर्णं वर्ष सहस्रे तु काष्ठ भूतम् महामुनिम् ।
विघ्नैः बहुभिः आधूतम् क्रोधो न अन्तरम् आविशत् ॥ १-६५-३
सः कृत्वा निश्चयम् राम तप आतिष्ठत् अव्ययम् ।

3, 4a. raama = Rama; varSa sahasre puurNe tu = years, thousand, on completing, even; kaaSTha bhuutam mahaa munim = woodenly, on becoming, great-saint; bahubhiH vighnaiH aadhuutam = many, by barriers, blasted [at full blast]; krodhaH [hR^idaya] antaram = fury, in inside [heart of hearts,]; na aavishat = not, entered; saH nishcayam kR^itvaa = he, firm determination, on making; a vyayam tapa aatiSTat = not, mitigated, asceticism, stood fast.

"Even on completing a thousand years, even when that great-saint became woodenly, even many barriers are at full blast, oh, Rama, fury has not entered his heart of hearts, for he stood fast in an unmitigated asceticism on making a firm determination. [1-65-3, 4a]

Verse Locator

तस्य वर्ष सहस्रस्य व्रते पूर्णे महाव्रतः ॥ १-६५-४
भोक्तुम् आरब्धवान् अन्नम् तस्मिन् काले रघूत्तम ।
इन्द्रो द्विजातिः भूत्वा तम् सिद्ध अन्नम् अयाचत् ॥ १-६५-५

4b, 5. raghuuttama = oh, Raghu-dynasty's best, Rama; tasya varSa sahasrasya = those, years, thousand of; vrate puurNe = asceticism, while being completed; mahaavrataH = one with a rigorous-pledge; annam bhoktum aarabdhavaan = meal, to eat, started to; tasmin kale = at that, time; indraH dvijaatiH bhuutvaa = Indra, Brahman, on becoming; tam siddha annam ayaacat = him [Vishvamitra's,] readily available, meal, requested.

"On one day when those thousand years of asceticism with the rigorous pledge of Vishvamitra are being completed, and when he started to eat his meal, oh, Rama, best of Raghu's dynasty, Indra arrived there disguising himself as a Brahman and requested for the readily available meal. [1-65-4b, 5]

This meal is prepared by Vishvamitra alone after a thousand years and such self-cooking of food by the ascetics is called, vaishva devam, since it is a sacred preparation anena vaishvadeva ante samaagato atithiH svayam upoShyaa api sviya anna pradaanena sambhojya iti suucitam - dk

Verse Locator

तस्मैः दत्त्वा तदा सिद्धम् सर्वम् विप्राय निश्चितः ।
निःषेषिते अन्ने भगवान् अभुक्त्वा इव महातपाः ॥ १-६५-६
न किञ्चित् अवदत् विप्रम् मौनं व्रतम् उपास्थितः ।
तथा एव आसीत् पुनः मौनम् अनुच्छवासम् चकार ह ॥ १-६५-७

6. bhagavaan = godly Vishvamitra; mahaa tapaaH = great-ascetic; mauna vratam upaasthitaH = muteness, pledge of, one who is abiding; such Vishvamitra; nishcitaH = willingly; tadaa = then; siddham = ready [meal]; sarvam = all; tasmaiH vipraaya dattvaa = for him, to Brahman, gave away; anne niH SheSite = food, nothing, remained - Indra consumed everything without any leftovers; a bhuktvaa iva = without, taking food [starved himself,] like; vipram kimcit na avadat = to Brahman, a little, not, said; tathaa = later; punaH = again; an ucChvaasam eva asiit = without, breath [with breath-control,] only, he remained; maunam cakaara ha = muteness, carried on [his asceticism,] indeed.

"Then that godly Vishvamitra willingly gave away all the readied meal to that Brahman, and as no meal is leftover by Brahman-Indra, that great-ascetic Vishvamitra starved himself. Vishvamitra did not speak a little to the Brahman in dissent as he is abided by his pledge of muteness, and he again remained in muteness and breath-control. Like that, he indeed carried on his asceticism. [1-65-6, 7]

Verse Locator

अथ वर्ष सहस्रम् च न उच्छ्वसन् मुनिपुंगवः ।
तस्य अनुच्छ्वसमानस्य मूर्ध्नि धूमो व्यजायत ॥ १-६५-८
त्रै लोक्यम् येन संभ्रातम् आतापितम् इव अभवत् ।

8, 9a. atha = then; munipungavaH = saint, the eminent is; varSa sahasram = years, [another] thousand; na ucChvasat = without, respiration; an ucChvasamaanasya = who is - not, taking breath; tasya muurdhni = his, from head; dhuumaH vyajaayata = fumes, started to emit; yena = by which [fumes]; traī lokyam sambhraantam = triad, of worlds, startled; aataapitam iva abhavat = seared, as if, became.

"That eminent saint remained without respiration for another thousand years, and then fumes have started to emit from the head of sage who is controlling his breath, by which fumes the triad of worlds looked as if it is searing, and this startled all the worlds. [1-65-8, 9a]

Verse Locator

ततो देवर्षि गन्धर्वाः पन्नग उरग राक्षसाः ॥ १-६५-९

मोहिता तपसा तस्य तेजसा मंदरश्मयः ।

कश्मल उपहताः सर्वे पितामहम् अथ अब्रुवन् ॥ १-६५-१०

9b, 10: tataH = then; deva R^iSi gandharvaaH pannaga uraga raakSasaaH = gods, sages, gandharva-s, serpents, reptiles, demons; tasya = his [Vishva mitra's]; tejasaa = by resplendence; mohitaa = are puzzled; atha = then; tapasaa = by [his] asceticism; mandarashmayaH = dulled, resplendence - of gods and others; kashmala upahataaH = all of them - blemish, marred by; sarve pitaamaham abruvan = all, to Grandparent, then, addressed.

"Then the gods, sages, gandharva-s, serpents, reptiles, demons are puzzled at the asceticism of Vishvamitra, and as their own resplendence is dulled by the asceticism of Vishvamitra, thereby they are marred by this blemish of lowered resplendence, then all of them addressed the Grandparent, Brahma. [1-65-9b, 10]

Verse Locator

बहुभिः कारणैः देव विश्वामित्रो महामुनिः ।

लोभितः क्रोधितः चैव तपसा च अभिवर्धते ॥ १-६५-११

11. deva = oh, god; mahaamuniH vishvaamitraH = great-saint, Vishvamitra; bahubhiH kaaraNaiH = by many - all, means; lobhitaH krodhitaH caiva = [even if] allured, angered, also thus; tapasaa abhivardhate = by asceticism, transcending.

" 'Even if that great-saint Vishvamitra is angered and allured in order to foil his ascetical ascendancy, by all of us and by all means oh, god, he is transcending these lures, angers, and passions by his asceticism. [1-65-11]

Verse Locator

न हि अस्य वृजिनम् किञ्चित् दृश्यते सूक्ष्मम् अपि अथ ।

न दीयते यदि तु अस्य मनसा यत् अभीप्सितम् ॥ १-६५-१२

विनाशयति त्रैलोक्यम् तपसा स चर अचरम् ।

12, 13a: atha = now; asya = his; suukSmam api = imperceptible, even; vR^ijinam kimcit = sin - imperfection, in the least; na dR^ishyate hi = not, appears, really; asya manasaa yat abhiipsitam = his, heart, which, felt [desire]; na diiyate yadi = not, given, if; tapasaa = by ascetic [power]; sa cara acaram = with, mobile, sessile; trailokyam vinaashayati = triad of worlds, he devastates.

" 'Now, even an imperceptible imperfection does not really appear in him, but if his heartfelt desire is not meted out, he will devastate the triad of worlds with his ascetic power. [1-65-12, 13a]

Verse Locator

व्याकुलाः च दिशः सर्वा न च किञ्चित् प्रकाशते ॥ १-६५-१३

सागराः क्षुब्धिताः सर्वे विशीर्यन्ते च पर्वताः ।

13b, 14a. sarvaaHdishaH vyaakulaH = all, directions, are tumultuous; kimcit na prakaashate = anything, not, brightening; sarve saagaraH kSubhitaH = all, oceans, are tempestuous; [sarve] parvataH vishiiryante = [all,] mountains, are eruptive.

" 'All the directions are all tumultuous, all the oceans are tempestuous, and all the mountains are eruptive, and nothing is bright. [1-65-13b, 14a]

Verse Locator

प्रकंपते च वसुधा वायुः वाति इह संकुलः ॥ १-६५-१४

ब्रह्मन् नप्रतिजानीमो नास्तिको जायते जनः ।

14b, 15a. Brahman = oh, Brahma; vasudhaa pra kampate = earth is, highly, tremulous; vaayuH samkulaH vaati = air is, turbulently, gusting; iha = now; na prati jaaniimaH = not, towards, we know - we don't know what to do; janaH = people; na aastikH jaayate = not, theistic, they tend to become.

" 'The earth is highly tremulous, air is gusting turbulently, oh, Brahma, people tend to become non-theistic and we do not know what to do. [1-65-14b, 15a]

Verse Locator

सम्मूढम् इव त्रैलोक्यम् संप्रक्षुभित मानसम् ॥ १-६५-१५

भास्करो निष्प्रभः चैव महर्षेः तस्य तेजसा ।

15b, 16a. trailokyam = [all beings in] triad of worlds; sam pra kshubhita maanasam = with very, highly, perturbed, senses; sammuuDham iva = stupefied, as though; tasya maharSeH tejasa = his, of grate sage, by resplendence; bhaaskaraH ca = sun is, also; niS prabhaH = without, lustre.

" 'All the beings in the triad of the worlds are very highly perturbed at their senses and they are as though stupefied, and when juxtaposed the sun is lustreless before the resplendence of that great sage. [1-65-15b, 16a]

Verse Locator

बुद्धिम् न कुरुते यावत् नाशे देव महामुनिः ॥ १-६५-१६

तावत् प्रसादो भगवान् अग्नि रूपो महाद्युतिः ।

16b, 17a. deva = oh, god; mahaamuniH = great saint, Vishvamitra; naashe = in total destruction - of all worlds; yaavat = before; buddhim na kurute = mind, not, going to make up; taavat = prior to it; agni ruupaH = Fire-god's, embodiment of; mahaadyutiH = great-resplendent one; bhagavaan = most reverential one Vishvamitra; prasaadaH = he is to be placated.

" 'Oh, God, great saint Vishvamitra turned out to be the embodiment of Fire-god, and before that great-resplendent and most reverential sage makes up his mind for total destruction of all worlds he is to be placated. [1-65-16b, 17a]

Verse Locator

काल अग्निना यथा पूर्वम् त्रैलोक्यम् दह्यते अखिलम् ॥ १-६५-१७

देव राज्यम् चिकीर्षेत दीयताम् अस्य यत् मतम् ।

17b, 18a. akhilam trailokyam = entirely, triad of worlds; puurvam kaala agninaa yathaa dahyate = previously, by End-Time, Fire, as to how, blazed away; likewise it is; [dahyate = burnt now]; deva raajyam cikiirSeta = of gods, realm, wants to do [be potentate of]; [yadi = if]; asya yat matam = whatever, his, predilection is; [tat = that]; diiyataam = may be given.

" 'As to how the End-Time Fire entirely blazed away the triad of worlds previously, now this sage may do likewise, hence whatever is his predilection that may be given to him, even if he wants to become the potentate on the realm of gods.' Thus, all gods appealed to Brahma [1-65-17b, 18a]

Verse Locator

ततः सुर गणाः सर्वे पितामह पुरोगमाः ॥ १-६५-१८
विश्वामित्रम् महात्मानम् वाक्यम् मधुरम् अब्रुवन् ।

18b, 19a. tataH = then; pitaamaha purogamaaH = Grandparent, keeping in forefront; sarve sura gaNaH = all, gods', assemblages; mahaatmaanam vishvaamitram = to great souled one, to Vishvamitra; madhuram vaakyam abruvan = harmonious, word, said.

"Then all the assemblages of gods keeping the Grandparent Brahma in their forefront appeared before that great souled Vishvamitra and said this harmonious word. [1-65-18b, 19a]

Verse Locator

ब्रह्मर्षे स्वागतम् ते अस्तु तपसा स्म सु तोषिताः ॥ १-६५-१९
ब्राह्मण्यम् तपसा उग्रेण प्राप्तवान् असि कौशिक ।

19b, 20a. brahmarSe = oh, Brahma-sage; te svaagatam astu = to you, welcome, let there be [you are welcome]; tapasaa su toSitaH sma = by asceticism, much, contented, we are; kaushika = oh, Kaushika; ugreNa tapasaa = by rigorous, asceticism; braahmaNyam praaptavaan asi = Brahman-hood, you obtained, you have.

" 'Oh, Brahma-sage, you are welcome. We are much contented with your asceticism. Oh, Kaushika, you have achieved Brahman-hood by your rigorous asceticism. [1-65-19b, 20a]

Verse Locator

दीर्घम् आयुः च ते ब्रह्मन् ददामि स मरुद् गणः ॥ १-६५-२०
स्वस्ति प्राप्नुहि भद्रम् ते गच्छ सौम्यं यथा सुखम् ।

20b, 21a. brahman = oh, Brahman; sa marut gaNaH = [I,] along with, Marut-gods', assemblages; te = to you; diirgham aayuH dadaami = long, life, I am bestowing; svasti praapnuhi = blissfulness, betides you; te bhadram = to you, safety will be there; saumya = oh, gentle [sage]; yathaa sukham gacCha = as you, please, take leave.

" 'Along with the assemblages of Marut-Wind-gods, I bestow upon you a long life. Let blissfulness betide you. You be safe. Oh, gentle sage, you may take leave as you please.' Thus, Brahma said to Vishvamitra. [1-65-20b, 21a]

Verse Locator

पितामह वचः श्रुत्वा सर्वेषाम् त्रिदिव ओकसाम् ॥ १-६५-२१
कृत्वा प्रणामम् मुदितो व्याजहार महामुनिः ।

21b, 22a. mahaamuniH = great-saint; pitaamaha vacaH = Grandparent's, word; sarveSaam tridiva okasaam ca = of all, heaven, residents [words of]; shrutvaa = on hearing; muditaH = cheerfully; praNaamam kR^itvaa = good devotions, on performing [paying]; vyaajahaara = said.

"On hearing the word of Grandparent Brahma and the other residents of heaven, and on paying good devotions to all of them that great saint cheerfully said. [1-65-21b, 22a]

Verse Locator

ब्राह्मण्यम् यदि मे प्राप्तम् दीर्घम् आयुः तथैव च ॥ १-६५-२२

ॐ कारो अथ वषट् कारो वेदाः च वरयन्तु माम् ।

22b, 23a. me = to me; braahmaNyam praaptam yadi = Brahman-hood, befallen, if; tathaiva = like that; diirgham aayuH ca = long, life [eternality,] also - if I got them; atha = then; AUM = Om; kaaraH = syllable [quintessence of]; vaSaT kaaraH = vaSaT, syllable [quintessence of]; vedaaH ca = Veda-s, even; maam varayantu = me, let them patronise.

" 'If Brahman-hood and eternality have befallen on me, let the quintessence of AUM and vaSat syllables, and even all Veda-s patronise me. [1-65-22b, 23a]

Verse Locator

क्षत्र वेदविदाम् श्रेष्ठो ब्रह्म वेदविदाम् अपि ॥ १-६५-२३

ब्रह्म पुत्रो वसिष्ठो माम् एवम् वदतु देवताः ।

यदि अयम् परमः कामः कृतो यान्तु सुरर्षभाः ॥ १-६५-२४

23b, 24a. devataaH = oh, gods; kSatra veda vidaam = Kshatriya's, knowledge [kingcraft,] among geniuses; brahma veda vidaam api = Brahman, knowledge, among knowers [scholars of Veda-s,] even; shreSThaH = the outstanding one; brahma putraH = Brahma's, son [brainchild]; vasiSThaH = Vashishta; maam evam vadatu = me, in this way, say [acknowledge]; ayam paramaH kaamaH = this, ultimate, yearning; kR^itaH yadi = done, if; sura R^iSabhaaH = gods, the best ones; yaantu = you may leave.

" 'Oh, gods, he who is the outstanding one among the geniuses of kingcraft, and among the scholars of Veda-s as well, even that Vashishta, the brainchild of Brahma, shall acknowledge me in this way as Brahma-sage. Oh, the best gods, you may take leave if you can effectuate this ultimate yearning of mine.' Thus Vishvamitra requested the gods. [1-65-23b, 24]

Verse Locator

ततः प्रसादितो देवैः वसिष्ठो जपताम् वरः ।

सख्यम् चकार ब्रह्मर्षिः एवम् अस्तु इति च अब्रवीत् ॥ १-६५-२५

25. tataH devaiH prasaaditaH = then, by gods, one who is besought - Vashishta; japataam varaH vasiSThaH = among meditators, the best, Vashishta; [has come to Vishvamitra]; sakhyam cakaara = friendship, made; evam = thus; brahmarSiH astu = Brahma-sage, you are; iti ca abraviit = in this way, also, said.

"Then the best one among meditators Vashishta has come over there when the gods besought him to come, and he made friendship with Vishvamitra. He also said in this way to Vishvamitra, 'you are a Brahma-sage.' [1-65-25]

Verse Locator

ब्रह्मर्षिः त्वम् न संदेहः सर्वम् संपद्यते तव ।

इति उक्त्वा देवताः च अपि सर्वा जग्मुः यथा आगतम् ॥ १-६५-२६

26. tvam brahmarSiH = you are, Brahma-sage; sandehaH na = doubt, is not there; tava sarvam sampadyate = to you, everything, will accrue - in accordance with this sageship; iti uktvaa = thus, on saying; sarvaa devataaH ca api = all, gods, also, even; yathaa aagatam jagmuH = as, they have come, went away.

"No doubt, you are a Brahma-sage and everything will accrue to you in accordance with the sublimity of this sageship,' and when Vashishta said so to Vishvamitra, all the gods have gone away as they have come. [1-65-26]

Verse Locator

विश्वामित्रो अपि धर्मात्मा लब्ध्वा ब्राह्मण्यम् उत्तमम् ।

पूजयामास ब्रह्मर्षिम् वसिष्ठम् जपताम् वरम् ॥ १-६५-२७

27. dharmaatmaa vishvaamitraH api = virtue-souled one, Vishvamitra, even; uttamam braahmaNyam labdhvaa = supreme, Brahman-hood on getting; brahmarSim japataam varam vasiSTham = Brahma-sage, among meditators, the best one, at Vashishta; puujayaamaasa = started to reverence.

"On getting his Brahman-hood even the virtue-souled Vishvamitra started to reverence the supreme among meditators and his counterpart Brahma-sage, namely Vashishta. [1-65-27]

Verse Locator

कृत कामो महीम् सर्वाम् चचार तपसि स्थितः ।

एवम् तु अनेन ब्राह्मण्यम् प्राप्तम् राम महात्मना ॥ १-६५-२८

28. kR^ita kaamaH = effectuated, aim - whose aim is effectuated; tapasi sthitaH = in ascesis, abiding; sarvaam mahiim cacaara = all over, earth, he ambled; raama = oh, Rama; mahaa tmanaa = by great souled one; anena = by him; evam = in this way; braahmaNyam praaptam = Brahman-hood, is achieved.

"When his aim is effectuated Vishvamitra ambled all over the earth abiding in ascesis, and oh, Rama, this great souled sage Vishvamitra achieved Brahman-hood in this way. [1-65-28]

Verse Locator

एष राम मुनि श्रेष्ठ एष विग्रहवान् तपः ।

एष धर्मः परो नित्यम् वीर्यस्य एष परायणम् ॥ १-६५-२९

29. raama = oh, Rama; eSa = he is; muni shreSTha = saint, best; eSa vigrahavaan tapaH = he is, embodiment of, ascesis; eSa nityam dharmaH paraH = he is, always, in righteousness, obliged with; eSa viiryaasya paraayaNam = he is, for fortitude, dwelling house stronghold.

"Oh, Rama, he is the best saint, he is the embodiment of ascesis, he is always obliged with righteousness, and he is the stronghold for fortitude." [1-65-29]

Verse Locator

एवम् उक्त्वा महातेजा विरराम द्विजोत्तमः ।

शतानन्द वचः श्रुत्वा राम लक्ष्मण संनिधौ ॥ १-६५-३०

जनकः प्रांजलिः वाक्यम् उवाच कुशिकाअत्मजम् ।

30, 31a. mahaatejaaH dvijottamaH = great-resplendent, Brahman, the best [Shataananda]; evam uktvaa viraraama = that way, on saying, took respite; janakaH = King Janaka; raama lakSmaNa sannidhau = Rama, Lakshmana, in the presence of; shataananda vacaH shrutvaa = Shataananda's, words, on listening; praanjaliH = with adjoined palms; kushikaaatmajam vaakyam uvaaca = Kushika's, son sentence, said to.

On narrating the legend of Vishvamitra in this way that best Brahman and great-resplendent Sage Shataananda took respite. And on listening the narration of Sage Shataananda said in the presence of Rama and Lakshmana, king Janaka said this sentence to Kushika's son, Vishvamitra, with suppliantly adjoined palms. [1-65-30b, 31a]

Verse Locator

धन्यो अस्मि अनुगृहीतो अस्मि यस्य मे मुनिपुंगव ॥ १-६५-३१

यज्ञम् काकुत्स्थ सहितः प्राप्तवान् असि कौशिक ।

31b, 32a. kaushika = oh, Kaushika; munipungava = oh, sage, the eminent; kaakutstha sahitaH = Kakutstha-s, along with; yasya = which; me yaj~nam = to my, Vedic-ritual; praaptavaan asi = happened to come, you have; such as I am; dhanyaH asmi = fortunate, I am; anugR^ihiitaH asmi = much obliged, I am.

"Oh, eminent sage Vishvamitra, you happened to be here at this Vedic-ritual which is conducted by me, oh, Kaushika, that too, along with Rama and Lakshmana, the legates of Kakutstha, thereby I am fortunate, I am much obliged. [31b, 32a]

Verse Locator

पावितो अहम् त्वया ब्रह्मन् दर्शनेन महामुने ॥ १-६५-३२

गुणा बहु विधाः प्राप्ताः तव संदर्शनात् मया ।

32b, 33a. mahaamune brahman = oh, great saint, oh, Brahman; tvayaa darshanena = by you, when see - by your graceful glance; aham paavitaH = I am, consecrated; tava sandarshanaat = you, by [my] beholding; maya bahu vidhaaH guNaaH praaptaaH = many, kinds, of attributes [boons,] achieved [by me.]

"Oh, Brahman, I stand consecrated just by your graceful glance, and oh, great saint, I reckon that I have achieved many boons just glancing at you. [1-65-32b, 33a]

Verse Locator

विस्तरेण च वै ब्रह्मन् कीर्त्यमानम् महत्तपः ॥ १-६५-३३

श्रुतम् मया महातेजो रामेण च महात्मना ।

33b, 34a. mahaa tejaH brahman = oh, great-resplendent, Brahman; vistareNa kiirtyamaanam = comprehensively, being extolled; [te = your]; mahattapaH = great asceticism; maya = by me; as well as; mahaatmanaa raameNa = by noble souled, Rama; shrutam vai = heard, indeed.

"Oh, great-resplendent Brahman, myself and the noble souled Rama have heard about your great asceticism when Sage Shataananda extolled it comprehensively. [1-65-33b, 34a]

Verse Locator

सदस्यैः प्राप्य च सदः श्रुताः ते बहवो गुणाः ॥ १-६५-३४

अप्रमेयम् तपः तुभ्यम् अप्रमेयम् च ते बलम् ।

अप्रमेया गुणाः चैव नित्यम् ते कुशिकात्मज ॥ १-६५-३५

34b, 35. sadasyaiH sadaH praapya = by congregationalists, congregation, [who have] come - who are available in; te bahavaH guNaaH shrutaaH = your, numerous, endowments, are heard; tubhyam tapaH aprameyam = your, asceticism, is inestimable; te balam ca aprameyam = your, power, also, is infinite; kushikaatmaja = oh, son of Kushika; te guNaaH caiva = your, talents, also thus; nityam aprameyaa = everlastingly, invaluable.

"The congregationalists available in this Vedic-ritual congregation have also heard about your numerous endowments. Inestimable is your asceticism, infinite is your power, and oh, son of Kushika, your talents are everlastingly invaluable. [1-65-34b, 35]

Verse Locator

तृप्तिः आश्चर्यं भूतानाम् कथानाम् न अस्ति मे विभो ।

कर्म कालो मुनि श्रेष्ठ लम्बते रवि मण्डलम् ॥ १-६५-३६

36. vibho = oh, lord; aashcarya bhuutaanaam kathaanaam = wonder, causing, of narratives; me tR^iptiH na asti = to me, contentment, not, is there; muni shreSTha = oh, saint, the best; ravi maNDalam lambate = sun's, sphere, dangling; karma kaalaH = ritual, time; [abhivartate = is approaching.]

"Oh, lord, there is no contentment to me while listening to your wondrous narratives, but oh nobleman, time for vespertine ritual is fast approaching as sun's sphere is dangling westward. [1-65-36]

Verse Locator

श्वः प्रभाते महातेजो द्रष्टुम् अर्हसि माम् पुनः ।
स्वागतम् जपताम् श्रेष्ठ माम् अनुज्ञातुम् अर्हसि ॥ १-६५-३७

37. mahaatejaH = oh, great-resplendent sage; shvaH prabhaate = tomorrow, morning; maam punaH draSTum arhasi = me, again to see, apt of you; japataam shreSTha = oh, meditator, the best; svaagatam = you are welcome; maam anuj~naatum arhasi = me [to leave,] to permit, apt of you.

"Oh, great-resplendent sage, it will be apt of you to see me tomorrow. Oh, best meditator, it will be apt of you to permit me to leave for now." Thus Janaka sought leave from Vishvamitra. [1-65-37]

Verse Locator

एवम् उक्तो मुनिवरः प्रशस्य पुरुषर्षभम् ।
विससर्ज आशु जनकम् प्रीतम् प्रीतिमान् तदाअ ॥ १-६५-३८

38. tadaaa = then; evam uktaH munivaraH = that way, who is spoken to [Vishvamitra,] saint, the best; priitimaan [priita manaaH] = pleased, at heart; priitam puruSa rSabham janakam = pleased, to the best one among men, to Janaka; prashasya = on praising; aashu visasarja = immediately, released - bid farewell.

When he is spoken in that way, the best saint Vishvamitra is pleased at heart, and praising Janaka, who too is pleased to meet the sage, immediately bid farewell to the best one among men, namely Janaka. [1-65-38]

Verse Locator

एवम् उक्त्वा मुनि श्रेष्ठम् वैदेहो मिथिला अधिपः ।
प्रदक्षिणम् चकार आशु स उपाध्यायः स बांधवः ॥ १-६५-३९

39. vaidehaH = legatee of Videha kingdom; mithilaa adhipaH = Mithila's, king; muni shreSTham evam uktvaa = to saint, the best, in this way, on saying; sa upaadhyayaH sa baandhavaH = with, teachers, with relatives; aashu pradakSiNam cakaara = immediately, circumambulations, performed.

This way on saying to the best saint, the king of Mithila and the legatee of Videha lineage, immediately performed circumambulations along with his teachers and relatives to Vishvamitra in veneration. [1-65-39]

Verse Locator

विश्वामित्रो अपि धर्मात्मा सह रामः स लक्ष्मणः ।
स्वम् वासम् अभिचक्राम पूज्यमानो महर्षिभिः ॥ १-६५-४०

40. dharmaatmaa vishvaamitraH api = virtue souled one, Vishvamitra, even; saha raamaH sa lakSmaNaH = with, Rama, with Lakshmana; maharSibhiH puujyamaanaH = by great sages, being venerated; svam vaasam abhicakraama = his own, camp, started towards.

Even that virtue souled Vishvamitra started towards his own camp along with Rama and Lakshmana, while being venerated by great sages who are available in the ritual-hall. [1-65-40]

इति वाल्मीकि रामायणे आदि काव्ये बाल काण्डे पंच षष्ठितमः सर्गः

Thus, this is the 65th chapter in Bala Kanda of Valmiki Ramayana, the First Epic poem of India.

Book I : Bala Kanda - The Youthful Majesties

Chapter [Sarga] 66 Verses converted to UTF-8, Oct 09

Introduction

Legend of Shiva's bow is narrated as Vishvamitra asks Janaka to show that bow to Rama and Lakshmana, as they have come this far to have a glimpse of that great bow. Janaka, while narrating its history, makes an offer saying that his daughter Seetha will be given in marriage, if only Rama can string the bowstring of Shiva's bow. In the very same sixty-sixth chapter of Kishkindha Kanda, Valmiki narrates the birth of Hanuama through Jambavanta, elaborately. But here Valmiki informs through Janaka about the nature of birth of Seetha, very concisely, which gave raise to too much of debate about this enigmatic Seetha and her birth. Some points are given in the endnote.

Verse Locator

ततः प्रभाते विमले कृत कर्मा नराधिपः ।

विश्वामित्रम् महात्मानम् आजुहाव स राघवम् ॥ १-६६-१

1. tataH prabhaate vimale = then, in morning, aurora; kR^ita karmaa naraadhipaH = on performing, duties [morning rites,] king [Janaka]; vishvaamitram mahaatmaanam = Vishvamitra, great souled one; aajuhaava sa raaghavam = invited, with, Raghava-s.

Then on performing morning time rites in the aurora of next morning, king Janaka invited great souled Vishvamitra, along with Raghava-s. [1-66-1]

Verse Locator

तम् अर्चयित्वा धर्मात्मा शास्त्र दृष्टेन कर्मणा ।

राघवौ च महात्मानौ तदा वाक्यम् उवाच ह ॥ १-६६-२

2. tam arcayitvaa dharmaatmaa = him [Vishvamitra,] on reverencing, virtue souled [Janaka]; shaastra dR^iSTena karmaNaa = by scriptures, envisaged, formalities; raaghavau ca = Raghava-s, also; mahaa aatmaanau = noble souled ones [Raghava-s]; tadaa vaakyam uvaaca ha = then words, spoke, indeed.

On reverencing Vishvamitra and the noble souled Raghava-s according to the formalities envisaged by scriptures, then the virtue souled Janaka spoke these words, indeed. [1-66-2]

Verse Locator

भगवन् स्वागतम् ते अस्तु किम् करोमि तव अनघ ।

भवान् आज्ञापयतु माम् आज्ञाप्यो भवता हि अहम् ॥ १-६६-३

3. bhagavan svaagatam te astu = oh, god, welcome, to you, be there; kim karomi tava anagha = what, I should do, for you, oh, holy sage; bhavaan aaj~naapayatu maam = you, bid, me; aaj~naapyaH bhavataa hi aham = biddable, by you, indeed, I am.

"Oh, god, you are welcome, oh, holy sage, bid me as to what I should for you, for I am biddable by you, indeed... [1-66-3]

एवम् उक्तः स धर्मात्मा जनकेन महात्मना ।
प्रत्युवाच मुनिर् वीरम् वाक्यम् वाक्य विशारदः ॥ १-६६-४

4. anvaya/word-order: mahaatmanaa janakena = noble souled [foreseer,] by Janaka; evam uktaH = thus, said; dharmaatmaa = virtue souled [presager]; vaakya vishaaradaH = sentence, expert [wordsmith]; saH muniH = that sage [Vishvamisra]; viiram vaakyam pratyuvaaca = to valiant Janaka, words, in reply said.

When said thus by the foreseeer Janaka, [who can foresee as to why Vishvamisra came with Raghava-s this far, and thus asked him as to what next is to be done,] that sage Vishvamisra, for he is presager and wordsmith, [and who knows what is to be done next,] said these words in reply to that valiant king Janaka. [1-66-4]

Verse Locator

पुत्रौ दशरथस्य इमौ क्षत्रियौ लोक विश्रुतौ ।
द्रष्टु कामौ धनुः श्रेष्ठम् यत् एतत् त्वयि तिष्ठति ॥ १-६६-५

5. putrau dasharathasya imau = sons, of Dasharatha, these two; kSatriyau loka vishrutau = Kshatriya-s, in world, renowned; draSTu kaamau dhanuH shreSTham = to see, desirous, bow, marvellous; yat etat tvayi tiSThati = which [bow,] that one, in you [with you,] have a place.

"These two are the sons of Dasharatha, well-renowned Kshatriya-s in world, and they are desirous to see that marvellous bow which has a place with you... [1-66-5]

Verse Locator

एतत् दर्शय भद्रम् ते कृत कामौ नृप आत्मजौ ।
दर्शनात् अस्य धनुषो यथा इष्टम् प्रतियास्यतः ॥ १-६६-६

6. etat darshaya = that [bow,] show; bhadram te = bodes well, to you; kR^ita kaamau nR^ipa aatmajau = done [come true,] desires, king's, sons [two princes]; darshanaat asya dhanuSaH = by beholding, that, bow; yathaa iSTam prati yaasyataH = as, they like, return [back,] they go.

"You may show that bow, well bodes you, and on beholding that bow the desire of these two princes will come true, and they will go back as they like... [1-66-6]

Verse Locator

एवम् उक्तः तु जनकः प्रत्युवाच महामुनिम् ।
श्रूयताम् अस्य धनुषो यत् अर्थम् इह तिष्ठति ॥ १-६६-७

7. evam uktaH tu janakaH = thus, addressed, but, Janaka; pratyuvaaca mahaamunim = replied, great sage; shruuyataam asya dhanuSaH = I let you hear, about that, bow; yat artham iha tiSThati = by which, reason, here, it has a place.

But Janaka replied the great sage Vishvamisra when he was addressed thus, "I shall [firstly] tell by which reason that bow has its place here... [1-66-7]

Verse Locator

देवरात इति ख्यातो निमैः ज्येष्ठो मही पतिः ।
न्यासो अयम् तस्य भगवन् हस्ते दत्तो महात्मना ॥ १-६६-८

8. anvaya/word-order: bhagavan = oh, godly sage; nimeH = from Nimi; SaSTaH [jyeSTaH] = sixth [eldest]; devaraata iti khyataH = Devaraata, thus, renowned; mahiipatiH = king; ayam = this [bow]; tasya haste nyaasaH = in his, hand, as custodial care; mahaatmanaa = by Sublime Soul [Shiva]; dattaH = given.

"Oh, godly sage, there was a king renowned as Devaraata, sixth one from Nimi, [the originator of our lineage,] and this bow was handed down to him for custodial care by the Sublime Soul, Shiva... [1-66-8]

Comment: Some mms use the word jyeSTaH instead of SaSTa for Nimi and then the meaning is that Nimi's eldest son is Devaraata. Basing on the account that is given by Janaka at the time of Rama's marriage with Seetha, Devaraata is the sixth one from Nimi, the originator of Janaka's lineage.

Verse Locator

दक्ष यज्ञ वधे पूर्वम् धनुः आयंय वीर्यवान् ।
रुद्रः तु त्रिदशान् रोषात् स लीलम् इदम् अब्रवीत् ॥ १-६६-९

9. dakSa yaj~na vadhe = Daksha Prajapati's, Vedic-ritual, devastation; puurvam = once; dhanuH aayamy viiryavaan = bow, outstretching [bowstring,] mettlesome [god]; rudraH tu tridashaan = Rudra, but, to all gods; roSaata sa liilam idam abraviit = rancorously, with, playing with [superciliously,] this, said.

"Once, during the devastation of the Vedic-ritual of Daksha Prajapati, the mettlesome god Rudra, rancorously outstretching the bowstring of this bow, said this to all gods, superciliously... [1-66-9]

Verse Locator

यस्मात् भाग अर्थिनो भागान् न अकल्पयत मे सुराः ।
वर अंगानि महाअर्हाणि धनुषा शातयामि वः ॥ १-६६-१०

10. yasmaat = whereby; bhaaga arthinaH = portion [of oblations in Vedic-ritual,] desirer; bhaagaan na a kalpayata = apportioned, not, made; me = to me; suraaH = oh, gods; vara angaani = best, limbs [heads]; mahaa arhaaNi = highly, revered [heads]; dhanuSaa shaatayaami = with bow, I will shred; vaH = yours.

" 'Oh, gods, whereby you have not apportioned my portion [of oblations in Vedic-ritual s, as I am also the] desirer of such portion, [thereby] I will shred the highly revered heads of yours with this bow...' [So said Shiva to gods.] [1-66-10]

Verse Locator

ततो विमनसः सर्वे देवा वै मुनिपुंगव ।
प्रसादयन्ति देवेशम् तेषाम् प्रीतो अभवत् भवः ॥ १-६६-११

11. tataH vimanasaH sarve devaa vai = then, dismayed, all, gods truly; munipungava = oh, best saint; prasaadayanti devesham = on supplicating, God of Gods [Shiva]; teSaam priitaH abhavat bhavaH = of them, glad, He became, Bhava [another name of Shiva.]

"Then, oh, best saint Vishvamitra, all gods are truly dismayed, and on their supplicating, Bhava, namely Shiva, the God of Gods is gladdened... [1-66-11]

Verse Locator

प्रीति युक्तः तु सर्वेषाम् ददौ तेषाम् महात्मनाम् ।
तत् एतत् देवदेवस्य धनू रत्नम् महात्मनः ॥ १-६६-१२
न्यासभूतम् तदा न्यस्तम् अस्माकम् पूर्वजे विभो ।

12, 13a. priiti yuktaH tu = glad, having [gladly,] but; sarveSaam dadau = to all, gave; teSaam mahaa aatmanaam = to them, great souled gods; tat etat devadevasya = that, this, God of God's; dhanuu ratnam = bow, gem of a; mahaatmanaH = by Sublime Soul Shiva; nyaasabhuutam = for custodial care; tadaa nyastam = then, given; asmaakam puurvaje = to our, ancestor vibho = oh, godly saint.

"And that Sublime Soul Shiva gladly gave that bow to all of the great souled gods, and oh, godly saint, then those great souled gods gave this gem of a bow of Shiva, the God of Gods, to our ancestor [Devaraata,] for custodial care... [1-66-12, 13a]

Verse Locator

अथ मे कृषतः क्षेत्रम् लांगलात् उत्थिता मम ॥ १-६६-१३
क्षेत्रम् शोधयता लब्ध्वा नाम्ना सीता इति विश्रुता ।

13b, 14a. atha = later; me kR^iSataH kSetram = by me, when ploughing, ritual-field; laangalaat utthitaa tataH = from plough [by plough from furrow,] raised, then; kSetram shodhayataa = ritual-filed, while purifying [consecrating]; labdhvaa = gained; naamnaa siitaa iti vishrutaa = by name [named as,] Seetha, thus, renowned.

"Later, when I was ploughing the ritual field then raised by the plough [from the furrow is a baby girl... since she is] gained while consecrating the ritual-field, she is named as Seetha, and thus she is renowned... [1-66-13b, 14a]

Verse Locator

भू तलात् उत्थिता सा तु व्यवर्धत मम आत्मजा ॥ १-६६-१४
वीर्यं शुल्का इति मे कन्या स्थापिता इयम् अयोनिजा ।

14b, 15a bhuu talaat utthitaa saa tu = earth, from surface, arose [surfaced,] she, but; vyavardhata mama aatmajaa = fostered, my [own,] soul-born girl; viirya shulkaa iti = boldness, bounty, thus; me = by me; kanyaa = girl; sthaapitaa = determined; iyam = she is; a yoni jaa = not, uterine, birthed.

"Hers is a non-uterine birth as she surfaced from the surface of the earth, but fostered as my own soul-born girl and I determined [to give her in marriage to a bridegroom where his] boldness is the only bounty, [I receive in that marriage...] [1-66-14b, 15a]

Comment: 'Dowry is property or money brought by a bride to her husband' and this is familiar throughout the world. In ancient India, there was a counterpart custom to this, called kanyaa shulkam meaning 'some bounty, property or money offered by a bridegroom's family to the bride's family' since they are getting a worthy bride, coming into their family, not just as a mere wife of the bridegroom, but to upkeep and promote that family and its progeny. And this dowry or its counterpart is not compulsorily be paid in hard cash, but it may be any kind of gifts mutually exchanged, which has slowly developed into a mega havoc these days. Here Janaka wants the 'valour' of his prospective son-in-law as bounty due to him in the marriage of Seetha.

Verse Locator

भूतलात् उत्थिताम् ताम् तु वर्धमानाम् मम आत्मजाम् ॥ १-६६-१५
वरयामासुः आगम्य राजानो मुनिपुंगव ।

15b, 16a. bhuutalaat utthitaam taam tu = from earth's, surface, surfaced from, her, but; vardha maanaam mama aatmajaam = come of age, my, daughter is; [viira sulkatayaa sthaapitam upshrutya = boldness, bounty of, ascribed to be, on my informing; having heard my declaration that the bounty for Seetha is boldness alone;] varayaamaasuH aagama raajaanaH = besought, on coming, kings; munipungava = oh, eminent sage.

"Oh, eminent sage, as my daughter has surfaced from the surface of earth and has come of age, the kings, [having heard my declaration that the bounty for Seetha is boldness alone,] have come and besought for her... [1-66-15b, 16a]

तेषाम् वरयताम् कन्याम् सर्वेषाम् पृथिवीक्षिताम् ॥ १-६६-१६

वीर्यं शुल्का इति भगवन् न ददामि सुताम् अहम् ।

16b, 17a. teSaam varayataam kanyaam = to them, who are beseeching, for girl; sarveSaam = to all; pR^ithiviikSitaam = kings; viirya shulkaa iti = boldness, bounty, thus [saying]; bhagavan = oh, godly sage; na dadaami sutaam aham = not, I gave, daughter, I have.

"To all of those kings who are beseeching for the girl, I have not given my daughter, saying that she will be given for a bounty of boldness... [1-6-16b, 17a]

Verse Locator

ततः सर्वे नृपतयः समेत्य मुनिपुंगव ॥ १-६६-१७

मिथिलाम् अभ्युपागंय वीर्यम् जिज्ञासवः तदा ।

17b, 18a. tataH sarve nR^ipatayaH sametya = then, all, kings, convoked; munipungava = oh, eminent sage; mithilaam abhyupaagamyā = at Mithila, on arriving; viiryam jij~naasavaH tadaa = calibre [of bow,] they wanted to ascertain, then.

"Then all the kings convoked and on arriving at Mithila, then they wanted to ascertain the calibre [of the bow, vis-a-vis their own...] [1-66-17b, 18a]

Verse Locator

तेषाम् जिज्ञासमानानाम् शैवम् धनुः उपाहृतम् ॥ १-६६-१८

न शेकुः ग्रहणे तस्य धनुषः तोलने अपि वा ।

18b, 19a. teSaam jij~naasamaanaanaam = for them, those who want to ascertain [the calibre of bow]; shaivam dhanuH upa aahR^itam = Shiva's, bow, to [their] proximity, fetched; na shekuH = not, capable; grahaNe tasya dhanuSaH = in catching hold of, its, bow; tolane api vaa = to balance it [joggle,] even, or.

"For them, those who wanted to ascertain the calibre of the bow, that bow of Shiva is fetched to their proximity, but they are incapable to joggle it, or even to catch hold of it... [1-66-18b, 19a]

Comment: This bow of Shiva will be transported on a wheeled casket-cart with eight wheels and drawn by five thousand robust persons. This is narrated in next chapter. 'It is drawn by drawn by five hundred bulls...' aananda raamayana says so. In other versions of Ramayana, it is said that many people will pull that casket-cart, as one or two persons cannot haul it. Once, when Seetha was playing with other girls, their flowery ball of girl's rugby goes under this cart. None of her girlfriends is dare enough to near this bow-casket-cart, since it is a reverential casket-cart. But Seetha goes there and pushes that casket-cart aside with her left hand, as though it is a garland, and retrieves that flower ball. This capability of Seetha in easy handling of Shiva's bow, becomes a bane to her, when one among the wives of sapta R^iSi 'Seven Sages...' issues a curse to Seetha, saying that 'Seetha will be separated from her husband for some time, of course, for the good of people...' So says the tradition.

Verse Locator

तेषाम् वीर्यवताम् वीर्यम् अल्पम् ज्ञात्वा महामुने ॥ १-६६-१९

प्रत्याख्याता नृपतयः तन् निबोध तपोधन ।

19b, 20a. teSaam viiryavataam = their, valorous ones'; viiryam alpam j~naatvaa = valour, trivial [valueless,] on knowing; mahaamune = oh, great saint; prati aakhyaataa = counter, said [countermanded by me]; nR^ipatayaH = kings; tat nibodha tapodhana = [by] that, you may know, oh, ascetically wealthy Vishvamitra.

"Oh, great saint, on knowing the valour of those valorous ones as valueless, I countermanded them... oh, ascetically wealthy Vishvamitra, by that you may know [the sequel of it...] [1-66-19b, 20a]

Verse Locator

ततः परम कोपेन राजानो मुनिपुंगव ॥ १-६६-२०
अरुन्धन् मिथिलाम् सर्वे वीर्य संदेहम् आगताः ।

20b, 21a. tataH parama kopena raajaanaH = then, with blind, fury, kings; munipungava = oh, eminent sage; arundhan mithilaam = beleaguered, Mithila; sarve viirya sandeham aagataaH = [among] all, about [their own] valour, [self-] mistrust, bechanced.

"Then, oh, eminent sage, those kings beleaguered Mithila in a blind fury, since a self-mistrust bechanced among them all, about their own valour... [1-66-20b, 21a]

Verse Locator

आत्मानम् अवधूतम् ते विज्ञाय मुनिपुंगव ॥ १-६६-२१
रोषेण महता आविष्टाः पीडयन् मिथिलाम् पुरीम् ।

21b, 22a. aatmaanam = for themselves; ava dhuutam = to side, swept [brushed off by me]; te vij~naaya = they, on knowing [surmising]; munipungava = oh, eminent sage; roSeNa mahataa aaviSTaaH = by rancour, high, possessed by; piiDayan mithilaam puriim = to strangle, Mithila, city.

"They surmised for themselves that they are brushed off by me, and they possessed by a high rancour, they strangled the City of Mithila... [1-66-21b, 22a]

Verse Locator

ततः संवत्सरे पूर्णे क्षयम् यातानि सर्वशः ॥ १-६६-२२
साधनानि मुनिश्रेष्ठ ततो अहम् भृश दुःखितः ।

22b, 23a. tataH samvatsare puurNe = then, a year, completed [elapsed]; kSayam yaataani sarvashaH = decline, went into, in anyway; saadhanaani = possessions [for livelihood]; munishreSTha = oh, eminent sage; tataH aham bhR^isha duHkhitaH = thereby, I was, highly, anguished.

"Then elapsed is an year and in anyway the possessions for livelihood went into a decline, oh, eminent sage, thereby I am highly anguished [1-66-22b, 23a]

Verse Locator

ततो देव गणान् सर्वान् तपसा अहम् प्रसादयम् ॥ १-६६-२३
ददुः च परम प्रीताः चतुरंग बलम् सुराः ।

23b, 24a. tataH deva gaNaan sarvaan = then, of gods, assemblages, all; tapasaa aham prasaadayam = by asceticism, I have, assuaged; daduH ca parama priitaaH = gave, also, highly, gladdened; caturanga balam suraaH = fourfold, forces, gods

"Then I have assuaged the assemblages of gods by my asceticism and gods are also highly gladdened and gave me fourfold forces... [1-66-23b, 24a]

Comment: The four components of army are foot soldiers, cavalry, elephant-squadrons, and chariot-warriors.

Verse Locator

ततो भग्ना नृपतयो हन्यमाना दिशो ययुः ॥ १-६६-२४

अवीर्या वीर्य संदिग्धा स अमात्याः पाप कारिणः ।

24b, 25a. tataH = then; a viiryaa = without, vigour; viirya sandigdhaa = of valour, self-mistrustful [of their own valour]; paapa kaariNaH = evildoers; nR^ipatayaH = kings; hanyamaanaa = being drubbed; bhagnaa = broken [defeated]; sa amaatyaaH = with, ministers [retinue]; dishaH yayuH = to directions, went [beat a hasty retreat.]

"Then those evildoers and self-mistrustful kings while being drubbed [by the heaven-sent army, they have become] vigourless and broken, and they beat a hasty retreat... [1-66-24b, 25a]

Verse Locator

तत् एतत् मुनिशार्दूल धनुः परम भास्वरम् ॥ १-६६-२५

राम लक्ष्मणयोः च अपि दर्शयिष्यामि सुव्रत ।

25b, 26a tat etat = that, this; munishaarduula = oh, tigerly sage; dhanuH parama bhaasvaram = bow, supremely, radiant; raama lakSmaNayoH ca api = to Rama, to Lakshmana, also, even; darshayiSyami suvrata = I will show, oh, saint of sacred vow.

"Oh, tigerly sage this is that supremely radiant bow, and oh, saint of sacred vows, I will show it, even to Rama and Lakshmana... [1-66-25b, 26a]

Comment: Here by the use of word 'even' 'also' Janaka is reckoning Rama or Lakshmana on par with other kings who have tried their hand in lifting it. As of now, Janaka is not admitting any supremeness or super-humanness to them. In Janaka's asking at verse 4 'what can I do next...' etc., Janaka has sensed as to why this Vishvamitra brought some boys on this long a route, that too by foot. But he is not yet self-assured of Rama's capability or otherwise. Hence, the next verse starts with the clause 'if'.

Verse Locator

यदि अस्य धनुषो रामः कुर्यात् आरोपणम् मुने ।

सुताम् अयोनिजाम् सीताम् दद्याम् दाशरथेः अहम् ॥ १-६६-२६

26b, c yadi = if; asya dhanuSaH = that, of bow; raamaH = Rama; kuryaat aaropaNam = does [strings,] bowstring; mune = oh, sage; sutaam a yoni jaam siitaam = daughter, non-, uterine, birthed, Seetha; dadyaam = I offer; daasharatheH = to Dasharatha's [son]; aham = I will.

"If Rama strings the bowstring of that bow, oh, sage, I will offer my daughter, whose birth is non-uterine, to Dasharatha's Rama..." [So said Janaka to Vishvamitra.] [1-66-26b, c]

Enigmatic Seetha and her enigmatic birth

In the endnote of Ch. 56 of Aranya Kanda, some details are given about the enigmatic Seetha. Here also some points about her enigmatic birth are presented.

In a book of O'Flaherty, Wendy D. Textual Sources for the Study of Hinduism. Pub: University of Chicago Press. ISBN 0-226-61847-1. p.59, Ramayana 1:65, Devanagari manuscript w-1455, it is written that: "[Janaka:] 'Now, one day when I was in the sacrificial grounds, I saw the ultimate celestial nymph, Menaka, flying through the sky, and this thought came to me: 'If I should have a child in her, what a child that would be!' As I was thinking in this way, my semen fell on the ground. And afterwards, as I was ploughing that field, there arose out of the earth, as first fruits, my daughter, who has celestial beauty and qualities, and can only be won by one whose bride price is his manliness. Since she arose from the surface of the earth, and was born from no womb, she is called Sita, the furrow.' "

And this is said to be in Valmiki Ramayana, and this is being used to justify 'the virtually illicit birth of Sita, Lord Rama's wife' - it is unclear as to why and how scholars, as above, are wading through backwaters, called ancillary scripts, in the name of Valmiki Ramayana, and slinging mud on Valmiki or his Ramayana. It would be better to check and recheck their source material for this statement, if it were to be Valmiki Ramayana, on reading the verses 13, 14 and the last one of this chapter, where it is said that the birth of Seetha is a non-uterine birth, as there is neither a Menaka, nor a woman, nor any semen.

Seetha is considered to be the nature's nature, Primordeal Nature, mahaa prakriti, and when the five elements of nature intermingle into one, that is the Manifest Nature, where the five elements are pridhvi, aapa, teja, vaayu, aakaasha 'earth, waters, fire, air and space...' and there are many theories of their commingling like, pachii karaNa, saptii karaNa quintuplication, and sevenfold commingling etc. The process of creation gives rise to 24 items: 1] empirical or fundamental matter, 2] mahat, 3] ahamkaara, 4-8] five subtle elements, 9-13] five gross elements, 14] mind, 15-19] five sense organs, 20-24] five motor organs, 25] jiiva aatma, individual's soul, 26] Brahman, The Absolute. With these, a created living being is created. This is in the case of mortals and their births. But when Seetha is found in the furrow all these things have already happened and there is no question of human pregnancy to be attached to her. Hence Seetha is to be taken as Goddess Lakshmi, who is paraa shakti, Vishnu Maya and when she has to take an incarnation to become the prime cause to the effect of eliminating Ravana, no human activity of reproduction can be attached to such beings. If she were to be a human, perhaps she would not have exited from the pyre of fire when she self-immolated, after Rama and Ravana war. Some more information, though unrelated to Valmiki Ramayana, is given hereunder.

lakShmiim kShiira samudra raaja tanayaam sriiranga dhaameshvariim |
dasii bhuuta samasta deva vanitaam lokaika diipa ankuraam | |

Lakshmi evolved from the Milky Ocean, when gods and demons churned it for amrita, the Divine Elixir, along with it a host of other items like, haalaahala, [cosmic poison,] candra Moon, kalpa vriksha, [Benevolent Divine Tree,] and the medicinal sage-god Dhanvantari holding the golden pot of amrita, have come out as has been explained by Vishvamitra to Rama in this Kanda.

Vishnu is the all-inclusive deity, known as purusha or mahaa puruSa... parama aatma Supreme Person, naraayaNa one who peregrinates mortals in and out this mortal world, antaryAmi The In-dweller of all beings, and He is the sheshin the Totality, in whom all souls are contained. He is bhagavat where bhaga, derives from the root bhaj meaning Gracious Lord, and vat one who has it. Vishnu possesses six such divine glories SaD guna vibhuuti, namely, 1] j~naana, Omniscience 2] aishwarya, Providence, 3] shakti, Omnicompetence, 4] bala, Omnipotence, 5] viirya, Immutability. 6] tejas, Resplendence, shakti is the samvit, the Primary Intelligence of God, while the other five attributes emerge from this samvid and hence shakti is the god's ahamata Personality and Activity. Thus this Shakti of god is personified in mythological lore and is called Shri or Lakshmi, and She is said to manifest herself in, 1] kriyaa shakti, Creative Activity and 2] bhuuti shakti, Creation of God. Hence Vishnu cannot part with His own personality or creativity i.e., ahamta, which in its feminine form is called shrii or Lakshmi. He therefore needs His consort Goddess Lakshmi to be with Him always, untouched by any. Thus, Goddess Lakshmi has to accompany Vishnu in all His incarnations, along with other paraphernalia like his conch-shell, his quoit and mace, and the thousand headed serpent aadi sheSa etc. Such a delightful deity Goddess Lakshmi is a treasure house that can be abducted by the greedy, but she is fickle like ripples lakShmii hi toya taranga capalaa Lakshmi= Goddess Lakshmi; hi= indeed; toya= water; taranga= wave like; capalaa= wavering. 'Goddess Lakshmi is wavering like the waves of water...' chapala, chanchala, asthira, wavering, faltering, unstable, and maayaa, maa + yaa 'whose illusory play she is, or liila play of god. She comes in unnoticeably like the water in a coconut and evaporates innocently into thin air, at Her will. Such as she is she is easily grabbed by the greedy. Hence none can give birth to her except the Mother Nature, and hence she is called mahilaa ; mahi + laa where mahi is earth and laa ; laH khaNDane triSu aadaane stri because Mother Earth gave birth to Seetha, Seetha is mahila Hence it is better to avoid assuming her to be an ordinary lady of an ordinary birth, and she may be viewed either legendarily or mythologically, for Valmiki as an epical poet, himself has not chronicled the details of her birth.

Even Vishnu is deprived of Her in His incarnations, not only in Ramayana but also in His nR^i simha Man-Lion incarnation. There, Maya Lakshmi becomes a tribal woman to bring back the ferocious Lion-Man to his original form. And in other versions of Ramayana, it is said that Ravana abducted Maya Seetha, but not real Seetha. 'When the real Seetha herself is an enigma, what if Ravana abducts real or duplicate copy of that Seetha...' is the brushed aside adjustment. In either case, it is maya, liila illusory power, sport of Vishnu together with that of Goddess Lakshmi, cause this enigma. Hence, whenever She is thus absconding from Him, Vishnu searches and retrieves Her, for no one in Universe can handle her, nor amass all the wealth. The predestined wealth alone is enjoyable but nothing more can be amassed. So also are the riches in the present day world, come too suddenly and vanish that suddenly. No one is rich ever and anon, and on someday every one is likely to see the ups and downs in his graph of riches. It is Vishnu that retrives the real wealth back to His abode Vaikuntha, and even punishes anyone for his accumulation of beyond-the-means-wealth. The burning of Lanka by Hanuma in Sundara Kanda is an example to this.

In Lakshmi tantra , aVaishnavaita agama text, She that unrestrainable Goddess Lakshmi declares Herself, as naaraayaNii, vaiSNavii i.e., a coequal of Vishnu, in the play of the universe i.e., in God's liila, saying that: aham naaraayanii naama saa sattaa vaiShNavii paraa 'I am indeed naaraayaNii i.e. Lakshmi, the Supreme Essence of Vishnu... [Lakshmi Tantra 3.1.]

The Hindu mythology bases more on its eighteen Puraana-s, each of the six is rendered to each of the Hindu Trinity, Brahma, Vishnu, and Shiva. A] Vishnu Puraana-s are: - 1] Vishnu, 2] bhaagavata, 3] naaradiiya, 4] garuda, 5] padma. 6] varaaha. B] Brahma Puraana-s : -1] Brahma, 2] brahmaanda, 3] brahma vaivarta, 4] maarkandeya, 5] bhaviSya,6] vaamana. C] Shiva Puraana-s : - 1] vaayu, 2] linga, 3] skanda, 4] agni, 5] matsya, 6] kuurma. In all these Puraana-s Goddess Lakshmi is given a laudable place without any sectarian dispute. In the Vaishnavaita Puraana-s, Shiva starts telling the efficacy of Vishnu to Goddess Parvati. While Shaiva mythology places Goddess Parvati, the consort of Shiva, in one half of Shiva's body artha naariishvara tattva, and Vaishnavaita tradition places Goddess Lakshmi in the heart of Vishnu itself, as if it is a Lotus hridaya kamala. This is to depict the inseparable unison of Universal purusha, Male and prakriti , Female, the seed and field.

While Valmiki Ramayana names Rama as Rama, the Padma Puraana etc., mythological texts bring in the Vedic texts and prefix shrII of shrII suukta of Rig Veda khila 5-87, which is a feminine counterpart of puruSa suukta of Rig Veda 10-90, for parama purusha i.e., Vishnu or Narayana, and thus call Rama of Valmiki as shrII raama. Vaishnavaita mythologies take hold of these and other Vedic references to Vishnu, and treat Vishnu / Narayana and Lakshmi as the inseparable divine couple, who maintain this Universe. The prefix shrII means as 'one who takes delight in shrII i.e., Lakshmi, meaning wealth, wealth of any kind. shrII riti prathamam naama lakshmyaa and ' if a is the first name of Vishnu, shrII is the first name of Lakshmi. Thus, primarily eight kinds of wealth are established, to be associated with Goddess Lakshmi. They are 1] aadi Lakshmi Wealth a priori 2] dhaanya Lakshmi Cereal Wealth 3] Dhairya Lakshmi Wealth of Courage 4] gaja Lakshmi Elephant Wealth, i.e., Elephantine Wealth of all animals and livestock, santaana Lakshmi Wealth of Progeny, 6] vijaya Lakshmi, Wealth of Victory, 7] vidyaa Lakshmi Wealth of Education, 8] dhana Lakshmi Monetary Wealth. And any thing that need be affluent gets the auspicious prefix shrII or suffix lakshmi, and called raajya Lakshmi , Wealth of Empire, bhaagya lakshmi Wealth of Fortune, and the like...

The play of Goddess Lakshmi in the form of Seetha is Ramayana. As such, her absence from Rama caused Rama to travel up to Lanka, annihilate the evil, and retrieve her. Seetha herself expresses her anguish about Rama's indulgence in a Supreme welfare-state, than in herself, as Mahaakavi Kalidasa, in his epical poem Raghu Vamsha, and depicts what this bhaagya lakshmi has to say, when Rama, basing on some satirical remarks of his lowly subject, deserts Seetha in favour of raajya lakshmi when Seetha said as below:

upasthitaam puurvam apaasya lakShmiim vanam mayaa saarthamasi
prapannaH |
tad aaspadam praapya tayaati roShaata soDhaa asmi na tad bhavane vasantii
|| raghuvamsha

"Earlier you refused the kingdom-wealth, raajya lakshmi and came to forests, where I was with you. Now that, that kingdom-wealth, raajya lakshmi on winning your affection is jealous of me, who am your bhaagya lakshmi 'fortune-wealth...' and she does not let me live in your palace." And thus, Seetha departs Rama to forests, at the fag end of Ramayana.

Valmiki declares Ramayana is siithaayaaH charitam mahaan... 'Seetha's impeccable conduct...' by giving her an unusual birth from the furrow of the plough, and in the end she exits from this world into the same soil, where the earth is called vasundhara, which cleaves under Seetha's feet, and takes Seetha into her womb again. As such, the reason for Seetha to be there in that furrow as baby is said to be a vow of Goddess Lakshmi, in her earlier incarnation as Vedavati. The mythologies go on to say that Vedavati is the brainchild of a sage called Kushadhwaaja, and he decides to give Vedavati in marriage none less than Vishnu. But in his lifetime, it is an unfulfilled desire. Then Vedavati starts a rigorous penance to achieve her father's wish. When she is at her culmination point of her penance, Ravana, passing that way in sky sees this beautiful lady, nears, and disturbs her penance. Vedavati coming out of her meditation, curses Ravana saying that she will reincarnate herself, to destroy Ravana and his entire dynasty. Then she causes a yogic fire and immolates herself in it. And Vedavati is reborn as Seetha of Ramayana, in an unusual way.

Here aananda raamaayaNa has an interesting parable. Once there was a king named Padmaaksha who wanted Lakshmi as his daughter. On practising asceticism Vishnu appears and gives a fruit called maatulunga phala, and girl emerges from out of that fruit, and she is named as Padma. But greedy to possess her, all the wooing kings war with Padmaaksha and his entire family is ruined and Padma jumps into fire and self immolates herself. Later when Vishnu's maaya comes out of an altar of fire, sits in her meditation, Ravana sees her and wants to abduct her. Of course, she is otherwise said to be Vedavati in other texts. But again, she enters the fire altar and reduces herself to ashes. Even then, Ravana searches in those ashes for her. In there, he gets five diamonds of high quality. He comes to Lanka and paces those diamonds in a casket and jovially presents them to his wife Mandodari. When Mandodari could not lift the casket Ravana lifts it and opens its lid, as he lifted Mt. Kailash. When the casket is opened, Mandodari finds a baby girl in it and recognises her to be Goddess Lakshmi. Then they consult their teachers about that baby's arrival. Those teaches wishing good for Ravana, advise to get rid off this girl immediately, for he is Goddess Lakshmi, arrived here only to end Ravana and his dynasty. Then Mandodari orders his servants to carry away this baby in a casket by an aircraft and get rid off it.

But Ravana rushes after the girl with a sword, to put that girl to sword. Empress Mandodari pacifies Ravana and says "Why purchase a later time death now itself at the hand of this baby... let that the casket be buried..." Ravana agrees. Mandodari also curses this girl saying, "this faithless girl, [for wealth is unfaithful,] will thrive only in a house, where the householder has his senses conquered, and who being an emperor lives like a perfect hermit, and who though wealthy and supreme by himself, will care nothing for the riches but view whole of the world and people as his own soul, with an impartial attitude..." Thus this casket is buried in the fields of King Janaka's empire by demons, clandestinely. Mandodari thought that such a person is an impossibility to take birth in this mortal world, to foster this buried girl, and thus presumed her curse to be twisty. But there is King Janaka with all the above attributes. A king without ego, wealthy but living simple, childless, yet does not crave for one, like King Dasharatha. Hence, he is called raajarSi a saintly king. Seetha's birth is to be limitedly understood, as said by Janaka in this chapter. Otherwise, the nuances about the birth of Seetha are to be viewed through the viewfinders of mythologies, legends, and above all, through the viewfinders of tradition... but not in the vast of epical poetry, as Valmiki himself has undocumented it...

इति वाल्मीकि रामायणे आदि काव्ये बाल काण्डे षट् षष्ठितमः सर्गः

Thus, this is the 66th chapter in Bala Kanda of Valmiki Ramayana, the First Epic poem of India.

Book I : Bala Kanda - Book Of Youthful Majesties

Chapter [Sarga] 67 Verses converted to UTF-8, Oct 09

Introduction

Rama breaks Shiva's bow when he wanted to examine the tautness of its bowstring. Janaka is perplexed, while others swooned at the blast of breaking bow, and Janaka proposes Seetha to Rama in marriage. On the approval of Vishvamitra to that proposal, Janaka sends his plenipotentiaries to Ayodhya.

Verse Locator

जनकस्य वचः श्रुत्वा विश्वामित्रो महामुनिः ।
धनुर् दर्शय रामाय इति ह उवाच पार्थिवम् ॥ १-६७-१

1. mahaamuniH vishvaamitraH = eminent-saint, Vishvamitra; janakasya vacaH shrutvaa = Janaka's, words, on listening; raamaaya dhanuH darshaya = to Rama, bow, may be shown; iti = thus; paarthivam uvaaca ha = to king Janaka, said, indeed.

On listening to the words of Janaka, the eminent-saint Vishvamitra indeed said to the king Janaka thus as, "let the bow be displayed to Rama..." [1-67-1]

Verse Locator

ततः स राजा जनकः सचिवान् व्यादिदेश ह ।
धनुर् आनीयताम् दिव्यम् गन्ध माल्य अनुलेपितम् ॥ १-६७-२

2. tataH saH raajaa janakaH = then, he, that king, Janaka; sacivaan vyaadidesha ha = to ministers, ordered, indeed; gandha maalya anulepitam = with sandalwood paste, garlands, bedaubed - decorated with; divyam = divine [bow]; dhanuH aaniiyataam = bow, be brought.

Then king Janaka indeed ordered his ministers, "bring the divine bow which is decorated with sandalwood paste and garlands..." [1-67-2]

Verse Locator

जनकेन समादिष्टाः सचिवाः प्राविशन् पुरम् ।
तत् धनुः पुरतः कृत्वा निर्जग्मुः अमित औजसः ॥ १-६७-३
नृणाम् शतानि पंचाशत् व्यायतानाम् महात्मनाम् ।
मंजूषाम् अष्ट चक्राम् ताम् समूहुः ते कथंचन ॥ १-६७-४

3, 4. janakena samaadiSThaaH = by Janaka, clearly instructed; mahaatmanaam = high souled [ministers]; sacivaaH [antaH] puram praavishan = ministers, [palace] chambers on entering; tat dhanuH = that, bow; purataH kR^itvaa = [their] afore, on keeping; nir jagmuH = out, came [from palace-chambers]; te = those - miisters; a mita aujasaH = not, limitable, energetic ones [wheel cart pullers, not ministers]; vyaayataanaam nR^iNaam = by tall men; pancaashat shataani = fifty, hundreds [five thousand men]; aSTa cakraam = eight, wheeled; taam manjuuSaam = that, coffer; kathancana = somehow - very difficultly; samuuhuH = got it tugged.

Thus clearly instructed by Janaka those high souled ministers have gone out from there and entered the palace-chambers, and they came out with an eight-wheeled coffer in which the bow of Shiva is ensconced, and those ministers got it tugged by five thousand tall men of illimitable energy who somehow tugged it very difficultly, and thus the ministers have re-entered there keeping that bow afore of them. [1-67-3, 4]

Verse Locator

ताम् आदाय तु मंजूषाम् आयसीम् यत्र तत् धनुः ।
सुरोपमम् ते जनकम् ऊचुः नृपति मन्त्रिणः ॥ १-६७-५

5. te nR^ipati mantriNaH = they, king's, ministers; yatra = in which [coffer]; tat dhanuH = that, bow is there; taam aayasiim manjuuSaam = that, iron, coffer; aadaaya = on fetching; sura upamam janakam uucuH = to god, in simile [like,] Janaka, they said.

On fetching that iron coffer wherein that bow is there, those ministers of the king have reported to their godlike King Janaka. [1-67-5]

Verse Locator

इदम् धनुर् वरम् राजन् पूजितम् सर्व राजभिः ।
मिथिला अधिप राज इन्द्र दर्शनीयम् यत् इच्छसि ॥ १-६७-६

6. raaja indra = king, the best; mithilaa adhipa = oh, Mithila's, sovereign; raajan = oh, king; yat darshaniyam icChasi = which, evincible, you wished to - such a bow; sarva raajabhiH puujitam = by all, kings, revered; dhanuH varam = bow, the select one; idam = this is - here it is.

"Oh king and sovereign of Mithila, here is the select bow that is revered by all kings, oh, best king, which you wished to be evincible to the boys, to evince their capabilities... [1-67-6]

Verse Locator

तेषाम् नृपो वचः श्रुत्वा कृत अंजलिः अभाषत ।
विश्वामित्रम् महात्मानम् तौ उभौ राम लक्ष्मणौ ॥ १-६७-७

7. nR^ipaH = king Janaka; teSaam vacaH shrutvaa = their [of his ministers,] words, on listening; kR^ita anjaliH = with palm-fold; mahaatmaanam vishvaamitram = noble souled one, to Vishvamitra; tau ubhau raama lakSmaNau = to them, both, Rama, Lakshmana[abhaaSata = spoke to.

On listening the announcement of his ministers the king spoke to the noble souled Vishvamitra and to both Rama and Lakshmana too duly making palm-fold. [1-67-7]

Verse Locator

इदम् धनुर् वरम् ब्रह्मन् जनकैः अभिपूजितम् ।
राजभिः च महा वीर्यैः अशक्तैः पूरितम् तदा ॥ १-६७-८

8. brahman = oh, Brahman; janakaiH = by [the lineage of] Janaka-s; tadaa = then [previously]; puuritam a shaktaiH = to take aim [with it,] not, efficient ones; mahaa viiryaiH = highly, forceful ones; raajabhiH ca = by kings, even; abhi puujitam = venerated [time-honoured bow]; dhanu varam idam = bow, exquisite one, is this.

"Here is that exquisite bow, oh, Brahman, which is held as a time-honoured bow by the lineage of Janaka kings, and with which even the highly forceful kings are rendered inefficient to take aim with it, previously... [1-67-8]

न एतत् सुर गणाः सर्वे स असुरा न च राक्षसाः ।
 गंधर्व यक्ष प्रवराः स किन्नर महोरगाः ॥ १-६७-९
 क्व गतिः मानुषाणाम् च धनुषो अस्य प्रपूरणे ।
 आरोपणे समायोगे वेपने तोलने अपि वा ॥ १-६७-१०

9, 10. etat = this one - the bow to take aim; sarve = all; sura gaNaaH = gods, assemblages; na = not [capable of]; sa asura = inclusive of, demigods; raakSasaaH = demons; sa kinnara mahaa uragaaH = inclusive of, kinnaraa-s, great, reptilian [demigods]; gandharva yakSa pravaraaH = gandharva-s, yaksha-s, best ones; na ca = not [capable,] also; asya dhanuSaH = with that, bow; tolane = in weighing or, balancing [in brandishing for a proper grip]; aaropaNe = in bracing bowstring; vepane = in twitching the bowstring [for its tautness]; samaayoge = in placing arrow on bowstring; api vaa = even, or; pra puuraNe = taking good, aim; kva gatiH maanuSaaNaam ca = by what, course [capability,] among humans, even.

"None in all the assemblages of gods, inclusive of demigods, demons, gandharva-s, yaksha-s, kinnaraa-s, or reptilian demigods, is capable enough to take aim with this bow and all are rendered incapable... and then, in brandishing this bow for a proper grip, or in bracing its bowstring to the other end, or in twitching the bowstring for its tautness, or in placing the arrow on bowstring at a proper place for a proper stretchability, or even in taking a good aim with it... what will be that capability of one from among humans... [1-1-9, 10]

Verse Locator

तत् एतत् धनुषाम् श्रेष्ठम् आनीतम् मुनिपुंगव ।
 दर्शय एतत् महाभाग अनयोः राज पुत्रयोः ॥ १-६७-११

11. munipungava = oh, eminent-saint; tat etat dhanuSaam shreSTham = that [such as it is,] this, among bows, nonpareil one; aaniitam = is brought in; mahaabhaaga = oh, highly, fortunate sage; etat anayoH raaja putrayoH darshaya = this one, to two of them, king's, sons [princes,] you may show.

"Oh, eminent-saint, such as it is, this nonpareil bow among all bows is brought in, and oh, highly fortunate sage Vishvamitra, let this be displayed to those two princes..." Thus Janaka said to Vishvamitra. [1-67-11]

Verse Locator

विश्वामित्रः स रामः तु श्रुत्वा जनक भाषितम् ।
 वत्स राम धनुः पश्य इति राघवम् अब्रवीत् ॥ १-६७-१२

12. vishvaamitraH tu = Vishvamitra, on his part; sa raamaH = with, Rama; janaka bhaaSitam shrutvaa = Janaka's, spoken word, on listening; vatsa raama dhanuH pashya = oh boy, Rama, bow, you see; iti raaghavam abraviit = thus, to Raghava, said.

Vishvamitra on listening the sentence of Janaka along with Rama, on his part said to Raghava, "oh, boy Rama... you may see the bow..." [1-67-12]

Verse Locator

महर्षेः वचनात् रामो यत्र तिष्ठति तत् धनुः ।
 मंजूषाम् ताम् अपावृत्य दृष्ट्वा धनुः अथ अब्रवीत् ॥ १-६७-१३

13. raamaH = Rama; maharSeH vacanaat = by great sage's, word; tat dhanuH yatra tiSThati = that, bow, wherein, it is ensconced; taam manjuuSaam = that, strongbox [the lid of strongbox]; apa aavR^itya = to side, displacing [unclosing]; dhanuH dR^iSTvaa atha abraviit = bow, on seeing, then, said.

Upon the word of the great sage Vishvamitra, Rama on unclosing the lid of that strongbox, wherein that bow is ensconced, saw the bow and said. [1-67-13]

Verse Locator

इदम् धनुर्वरम् ब्रह्मन् संस्पृशामि इह पाणिना ।
यत्नवान् च भविष्यामि तोलने पूरणे अपि वा ॥ १-६७-१४

14. brahman = oh, Brahman; iha = now; idam dhanuH varam = this, bow, supreme one; paaNinaa samspR^ishaami = with hand [hands-on,] I will touch - I wish to get the feel of; tolane puuraNe api vaa = in brandishing, in taking aim, even, or; yatnavaan bhaviSyaaami ca = a trier, I wish to become, even.

"Now I wish to get the feel of this supreme bow, oh, Brahman, and I shall try to brandish it, or even try to take aim with it... [1-67-14]

Verse Locator

बाढम् इति एव तम् राजा मुनिः च समभाषत ।
लीलया स धनुर् मध्ये जग्राह वचनात् मुनेः ॥ १-६७-१५

15. raajaa muniH ca = king, saint, also; baaDham = All right!; iti eva = thus, only; tam sam abhaaSata = to him - to Rama, equally [in chorus,] said; saH muneH vacanaat = he Rama, upon the word, of sage; dhanuH madhye liilayaa jagraaha = bow, at its middle [grasping at middle handgrip of bow,] playfully, grabbed.

"All Right!" said the saint and king to Rama in chorus, and Rama upon the word of the sage grasping it at the middle handgrip playfully grabbed the bow. [1-67-15]

Verse Locator

पश्यताम् नृ सहस्राणाम् बहूनाम् रघुनंदनः ।
आरोपयत् स धर्मात्मा स लीलम् इव तत् धनुः ॥ १-६७-१६

16. dharmaatmaa saH raghu nandanaH = virtue souled one [right-minded,] he, that Raghu's, legatee - Rama; bahuunaam nR^i sahasraaNaam pashyataam = many, people, thousands of, while witnessing; tat dhanuH = that, bow; sa liilam iva = with, friskiness [friskily, effortlessly] as though; aaropayat = stringed the bow to take aim.

While many thousands of men are witnessing that right-minded Rama the legatee of Raghu stringed the bow effortlessly. [1-67-16]

A bow has a definite height and it is a measure of length, from the ages even up to the age Kautilya, who gave many accounts for weights and measures, in his 'Artha Shaastra' a Penguin re-publication. Four aratni-s cubits are one dhanu, a bow-length, where one aratni is 18 inches, thus a bow-length is 6 feet and above, taking the standard size of archer as a six-footer and a little above. The bow's height is the height of the archer plus one measure of his head's height, as the upper end has to tower the archer's head. That being so, this bow belongs to Shiva and its height must be placed more than the human measure of 6 feet, and then it must be some 8 to 10 feet. And 'Rama is no crane-legged boy, as his physique is said to be of 'medium' size, and then how a boy of, say of 4, 4 1/2 feet, could catch the upper end of 8-10 feet bow to bend it...' is the objection. An archer has to stand the bow on ground, clutch its lower end under big toe, and with one hand, he has to bend it, while with the other he catches the bowstring to string the other end. He is not supposed to handle it like a holdall or a briefcase. For this objection it is said in a way that the poet is using the adjective mahaatmaa to Rama, 'an unfathomable one with an equally unfathomable soul... inasmuch as his duty is concerned...' The minute he touched the bow, it became a spongy stick and it listened to him and bent as he wished. Other way round, Rama is an ambidextrous archer and furthered is his skill by his possession of some divine missiles as given by Vishvamitra. Hence, his dexterity is now multiplied and he can handle any divine or human bow 'effortlessly...'

Verse Locator

आरोपयित्वा मौर्वीम् च पूरयामास वीर्यवान् ।

तत् बभञ्ज धनुर् मध्ये नरश्रेष्ठो महायशाः ॥ १-६७-१७

17. viiryavaan = dextrous one; maurviim aaropayitvaa ca = bowstring, having stringed, further; puurayaamaasa = started to stretch the bowstring [up to his ear to see its tautness]; then; mahaayashaaH narashreSThaH = glorious one, the one best among men; tat dhanuH madhye babhanja = that, bow, medially, he broke.

Further, that dextrous one has stringed that bow with bowstring and started to stretch it up to his ear to examine its tautness, but that glorious one who is foremost among men, Rama, broke that bow medially. [1-67-17]

The bow is not broken by itself because of its oldness or dryness, but let us blame Rama for breaking it, as with any other toy which children are apt to damage in their playing. He stretched the bowstring so long until it broke. Neither his mother nor father available here. Otherwise, a 'moral class' would have chanced on him for braking articles in neighbour's houses. The bow is broken in the middle, not at either end, but at handgrip. This shows the strength of his palm on handgrip.

Verse Locator

तस्य शब्दो महान् आसीत् निर्घात सम निःस्वनः ।

भूमि कंपः च सुमहान् पर्वतस्य इव दीर्यतः ॥ १-६७-१८

18. tasya shabdaH = its [breakage's,] sound [explosion]; nir ghaata = down, plunging [thunder]; sama = equal to; niH svanaH = out, bursting [explosiveness]; mahaan aasiit = great [explosive,] is there [bechanced]; parvatasya diiryataH iva = of mountain, exploding, like [as it happens]; su mahaan = very, great [tremulously]; bhuumi kampaH ca = earth, tremulous, also - has happened.

Then there bechanced an explosive explosion when the bow is broken, like the explosiveness of down plunging thunder, and the earth is tremulously tremulous, as it happens when a mountain is exploding. [1-67-18]

We can write more words for the above sound as, 'Dhaam, Dhiim, Phut, and DiSkuu...' etc., as long as thesaurus permit. But all that will be nonsensical. An ear-splitting sound has come but it is "OM" the auspicious sonus prima grata, produced once upon a time by Shiva's drum, in order to emanate words through maheshvara suutraaNi, which were unintelligible even for the sages like Sanaka, Sananda, Sanat Kumaara et al., and which were deciphered by Nandi, the Holy Bull vehicle of Shiva, to those sages. Here it is Shiva's bow and name of Shiva and all letters that attaches to Him are shaM, sha.nkara, shaMbhava, are peace-making letters, as codified in AUM namaH shambhave ca mayo bhava ca namaH sha~Nkaraaya ca mayaskaraaya ca namaH shivaaya ca shivataaraaya ca | - rudram - soma suukta - yajur Hence the real sound of Om is audible and it is ear-splitting for ordinary audience, since ordinary people cannot possibly face realities, and it is a regularly audible sound for the other four who have not swooned. By the way, it will be impossible for us to listen the chanting of Veda-s, even in these days, in any Vedic school for at least half an hour, as our ears are untuned to their ghana paaTha or jaTa or other sorts of chanting. We feel stranded in some audio studio with fully loaded sound FX.

And the pacemaker Rama lifted the bow of the peacemaker Shiva, where the bow itself is "Om". The legendary Indian bow is composed of three parts, unlike Robin Hood's single-piece bow. The lower bowing part, upper bowing part combined by a grip handle, and the bowstring. The three pieces are comparable to the three letters syllabified "Om" - a u ma, where a is upper bowing piece of bow, u, the lower end, and ma, the bowstring. The painters usually paint this bow-breaking scene, where Rama will be still handling the upper end in his hand, while the lower part will be falling, and the bowstring will be still dangling onto the upper end. The upper part of bow is a and this a is Vishnu akaara artho viSNuH, and the dangling bowstring is ma Goddess Lakshmi, loka maataa maa ramaa mangala devataa, dangling on the Supreme Person through thick and thin, and the detached-un-detached lower end is u, Lakshmana, or any other adherer. A lengthy account of this trilogy is provided in Aranya Kanda, Ch. 11, first verse.

And the pacemaker Rama is marrying the world with peace, by stringing the bowstring of peacemaker's bow, and it is not a mere marriage of some prince charming, with a charmy princess. Thus, this sound is the initial impact, impetus, brunt, or whatever, for universal peace, and that way this marriage attains a legendary significance in peace process, though by force.

Verse Locator

निपेतुः च नराः सर्वे तेन शब्देन मोहिताः ।

व्रजयित्वा मुनि वरम् राजानम् तौ च राघवौ ॥ १-६७-१९

19. tena shabdena mohitaaH = by that, by raucous, bewildered; munivaram raajaanam tau ca raaghavau = saint eminent Vishvamitra, king Janaka, those two, also, Raghava-s; vrajayitvaa = except for; sarve naraaH nipetuH = all, people, fell down [swooned.]

Bewildered by that raucous caused by the breakage of bow, all the people swooned, except for that eminent-saint Vishvamitra, king Janaka, and those two Raghava-s, namely Rama and Lakshmana. [1-67-19]

Verse Locator

प्रति आश्वस्तो जने तस्मिन् राजा विगत साध्वसः ।

उवाच प्रांजलिः वाक्यम् वाक्यज्ञो मुनिपुंगवम् ॥ १-६७-२०

20. tasmin = at that [moment]; jane = people; prati aashvastaH = being inspirited [reaccustomed]; vaakyaj~naH raajaa = sententious, king Janaka; vi gata saadhvasaH = completely, gone [departed,] his discomfiture; praanjaliH = with palm-fold [reverentially]; munipungavam = to eminent-saint; vaakyam uvaaca = sentence, said.

While the people are being reaccustomed after their undergoing the shock, at that moment that sententious king Janaka, whose discomfiture has completely departed by now has said this to the eminent-saint Vishvamitra with a reverent palm-fold. [1-67-20]

Verse Locator

भगवन् दृष्ट वीर्यो मे रामो दशरथ आत्मजः ।

अति अद्भुतम् अचिंत्यम् च अतर्कितम् इदम् मया ॥ १-६७-२१

21. bhagavan = oh, godly sage; dasharatha aatmajaH = Dasharatha's, son; raamaH = Rama; me = by me; dR^iSTa viiryaH = has seen, gallantry - his gallantry is seen; = ; ati adbhutam = highly, wondrous; a cintyam ca = not, imaginable; idam maya = this [incident,] by me [for me]; a tarkitam = not, discussed - unhoped-for.

"Oh, godly sage, the gallantry of Dasharatha's Rama is evidently seen... and the whys of this boy and wherefores of his stringing that massive bow are unimaginable to me! More so, humans lifting it! How so? This is an unhoped-for incident for me, besides, breaking it! This a is highly wondrous experience for me... [1-67-21]

Verse Locator

जनकानाम् कुले कीर्तिम् आहरिष्यति मे सुता ।

सीता भर्तारम् आसाद्य रामम् दशरथ आत्मजम् ॥ १-६७-२२

22. me sutaa siitaa = my, daughter, Seetha; dasharatha aatmajam raamam = Dasharatha's, son, Rama; bhartaraam = as husband; aasaadya = on getting; janakaanaam kule = for Janaka's, lineage; kiirtim aahariSyati = celebrity, brings about.

"My daughter Seetha on getting Dasharatha's Rama as her husband, she will bring celebrity to the lineage of Janaka-s... [1-67-22]

This verse explains the advantageous status of Seetha than Rama in her birth and brought up. mama sutaa 'my daughter...' though I have not given her a physical birth, she is godsend to me, and I brought her up as a rarest of rare daughter with all the endowments of Janaka-s lineage which are impeccable... hence she is more than my physical daughter...' siitaa 'a furrow... born a furrow, an unusual non-uterine birth than the uterine birth of Rama from his mother Kausalya... hence Seetha has a plus point... dasharatha aatmajam 'Dasharatha's, son...' a wooable bridegroom... because he is Rama ramayate iti raama 'makes others delightful...' besides this, the saying about an eligible bridegroom is there: kanyaa varayate ruupam maataa vittam pitaa shrutam baandhavaaH shiilam icchanti suupa annaam itare janaaH 'a bride cherishes charming mien, a prince-charming, rather... mother of the bridegroom wishes to have money through him... bridegroom's father wants him to be a wise one in dealings with his new wife and old parents... and bridegroom's relatives require of him good demeanour... and other people wish to have dough of cooked pulse-gram, marriage-feasts, rather...' so also my daughter will cherish this boy as his looks are like that of a prince-charming... and the money for his mother, scholarly attitude to his father, good demeanour and feasts etc., to friends and relatives, all he can afford... and on aasaadya reaching Rama... my daughter brings kiirti 'celebrity' to our lineage, which is in singularly unique... because kiirti is said in singular number, it will be singularly unique... hence let this boy not negate my proposal as my daughter has many plus points..'

Verse Locator

मम सत्या प्रतिज्ञा सा वीर्य शुल्का इति कौशिक ।
सीता प्राणैः बहुमता देया रामाय मे सुता ॥ १-६७-२३

23. kaushika = oh, Kaushika; saa viirya shulkaa = she is, bravery's, bounty; iti = thus; mama pratistrength of his palm onaa ca satyaa = my, commitment, also, came true; praaNaiH bahumataa = than [my] lives, nurtured well; me sutaa siitaa = my, daughter, Seetha; raamaaya deyyaa = to Rama, giveable - worthy to be given.

"Oh, Kaushika, my commitment that she is the bounty of bravery has also come true... and my daughter Seetha who is nurtured well than my own lives is a worthy bride for Rama... [1-67-23]

Verse Locator

भवतो अनुमते ब्रह्मन् शीघ्रम् गच्छंतु मंत्रिणः ।
मम कौशिक भद्रम् ते अयोध्याम् त्वरिता रथैः ॥ १-६७-२४

24. brahman = oh, Brahman; kaushika = oh, Kaushika; bhavataH anumate = by you, in consent - with your consent; mama mantriNaH = my, ministers; tvaritaa = hastened; = speedily; rathaiH ayodhyaam shiighram gacChantu = by chariots, to Ayodhya, quickly, they go; te bhadram = you be safe.

"Should you give consent, oh, Brahman, my ministers will be hastened to speedily go to Ayodhya in chariots, oh, Kaushika, let safeness betide you, and one and all by this matrimony... [1-67-24]

Annex: 'This boy appears to be straight from the shoulder type, and he may now say boyishly, 'no, no, I just wanted to see and feel the bow, but that poor old bow is broken in my hand, but I have never said that I will marry your daughter without the consent of my father... and I am supposed to marry whomever my father ties down my neck...' knowing him to be such, I want to send proposals to Dasharatha at Ayodhya, that too if you say yes...'

Verse Locator

राजानम् प्रश्रितैः वाक्यैः आनयंतु पुरम् मम ।
प्रदानम् वीर्य शुक्लायाः कथयंतु च सर्वशः ॥ १-६७-२५

25. viirya shuklaayaaH = she who is bravery's, bounty; pra daanam = sincere, endowment of such a girl in marriage; sarvashaH kathayantu = in detail, [they the ministers] will narrate; prashritaiH vaakyaiH = by observant, sentences [submissions]; raajaanam = to king Dasharatha; mama puram aanayantu = to my, city, they will lead him in.

"With their observant submissions those ministers will narrate in detail about the sincere endowment of Seetha as bravery's bounty to Rama, and they will lead king Dasharatha into my city that observantly... [1-67-25]

मुनि गुप्तौ च काकुत्स्थौ कथयंतु नृपाय वै ।
प्रीति युक्तम् तु राजानम् आनयंतु सु शीघ्र गाः ॥ १-६७-२६

26. kaakutsthau = two Kakutstha-s; muni guptau ca = by saint [Vishvamitra,] as shrouded - under the aegis of, also; nR^ipaaya = to king Dasharatha; kathayantu vai = they [ministers will] inform, indeed; su shiighra gaaH = very, fast, goes [expeditious ministers]; on their going there; priiti yuktam = glad, along with [making glad, gladdening him;] raajaanam aanayantu = king, they will usher in.

"Those ministers will also tell the king Dasharatha that both the Kakutstha-s, Rama and Lakshmana, are under the aegis of saint Vishvamitra, and thus gladdening that king they will expeditiously usher in king Dasharatha for marriage..." So said Janaka to Vishvamitra. [1-67-26]

Verse Locator

कौशिकः च तथा इति आह राजा च आभाष्य मंत्रिणः ।
अयोध्याम् प्रेषयामास धर्मात्मा कृत शासनान् ।
यथा वृत्तम् समाख्यातुम् आनेतुम् च नृपम् तथा ॥ १-६७-२७

27. kaushikaH ca tathaa iti aaha = Kaushika - Vishvamitra, also, so be it, thus, said; dharmaatmaa raajaa ca = right-minded one, king Janaka, also; mantriNaH aabhaaSya = with ministers, on consulting; tathaa = likewise; yathaa vR^ittam sam aakhyaatum = as, has happened, in full detail, to tell; nR^ipam aanetum ca = king Dasharatha, to bring in, also; kR^ita shaasanaan = one who is made, to implement orders [ministers plenipotentiary]; ayodhyaam preSayaamaasa = to Ayodhya, started to send.

Vishvamitra said, "so be it," and then that right-minded king Janaka on consulting with his ministers started to send his ministers, plenipotentiaries, to Ayodhya to inform Dasharatha in detail as to what has happened, and likewise to bring him to Mithila. [1-67-27]

इति वाल्मीकि रामायणे आदि काव्ये बाल काण्डे सप्त षष्ठितमः सर्गः

Thus, this is the 67th chapter in Bala Kanda of Valmiki Ramayana, the First Epic poem of India.

Book I : Bala Kanda - The Youthful Majesties

Chapter [Sarga] 68 Verses converted to UTF-8, Oct 09

Introduction

Janaka's delegation arrives at Ayodhya and submits its message to Dasharatha. Listening to the tidings that his son Rama not only lifted the bow of Shiva, but broke it as well, Dasharatha is overjoyed and refers the matter of marriage of Seetha with Rama to his ministers and teachers. All of the ministers and sages unanimously agree to that proposal and they are set to travel to Mithila the next day.

Verse Locator

जनकेन समादिष्टा दूताः ते क्लान्त वाहनाः ।
त्रि रात्रम् उषिता मार्गे ते अयोध्याम् प्राविशन् पुरीम् ॥ १-६८-१

1. janakena samaadiSTaa = by Janaka, clearly ordered; te duutaaH = those, envoys; maarge = en route; tri raatram uSitaaH = three, nights, on sojourning; klaanta vaahanaaH = overtired, vehicles [who have got overtired horses]; te ayodhyaam puriim praavishan = they, in Ayodhya, in city, entered.

Those envoys who are clearly ordered by Janaka entered the city of Ayodhya on sojourning for three nights en route, and whose horses are overtired for they are galloped so fast to loose no time. [1-68-1]

Verse Locator

ते राज वचनात् गत्वा राजवेश्म प्रवेशिताः ।
ददृशुः देव संकाशम् वृद्धम् दशरथम् नृपम् ॥ १-६८-२

2. te = they [the envoys]; raaja vacanaat gatvaa = by king, words of [of Dasharatha's consent,] on going [to palace]; raaja veshma praveshitaaH = king's, residence [palace-chambers,] when they are entered into [given a audience]; deva sankasham = godly, in gleam; vR^iddham nR^ipam dasharatham = elderly, the king, Dasharatha; dadR^ishuH = they have seen.

On going to the palace those envoys are given an audience with the consent of Dasharatha, and when they are conducted into the palace-chambers they have seen the elderly king Dasharatha gleaming like a god. [1-68-2]

Verse Locator

बद्ध अंजलि पुटाः सर्वे दूता विगत साध्वसाः ।
राजानम् प्रश्रितम् वाक्यम् अब्रुवन् मधुर अक्षरम् ॥ १-६८-३

3. sarve duutaa = all, legates; baddha anjali puTaaH = bound [enfolding,] both palms, fold; vi gata saadhvasaaH = completely, gone, angst [on seeing goly Dasharatha]; raajaanam = to king; madhura akSaram = mellowly, worded; prashritam vaakyam = compliant, sentence; abruvan = said.

Completely gone is the angst of all the legates on seeing godly Dasharatha, and all of them adjoining palms in reverence said this compliant and mellowly worded sentence to the king. [1-68-3]

Because Dasharatha is caught in the tomfoolery of Kaikeyi he cannot be estimated as an inane personality. It is their domestic cold war. He is famous for his achievements and he fought wars on behalf of no lesser gods. Though Valmiki does not narrate Dasharatha's exploits, other scripts say a lot about them. Hence, whenever Rama's daring, dashing, swashbuckling is to be pictured, he will be indicated as 'Dasharatha's son...' That is the reason why the angst of envoys is said in this verse as 'vanished' just by a glimpse of that godly personality, which hitherto haunted them as to how to countenance such a powerful personality.

Verse Locator

मैथिलो जनको राजा स अग्नि होत्र पुरस्कृतः ।
मुहुर् मुहुर् मधुरया स्नेह संरक्तया गिरा ॥ १-६८-४
कुशलम् च अव्ययम् चैव स उपाध्याय पुरोहितम् ।
जनकः त्वाम् महाराज पृच्छते स पुरः सरम् ॥ १-६८-५

4, 5. mahaaraaja = oh, exalted emperor [Dasharatha]; maithilaH = Mithila's [sovereign]; janakaH = of Janaka lineage; raajaa = Janaka, king; sa agni hotra puraskR^itaH = with, Fire, of Rituals, you who ingratiates yourself with [ever and anon]; sa upaadhyaya purohitam = along with that of, [your] teachers'; priests'; sa puraH saram = with, before, going [afore you a convoys of subjects always precedes, in any event, safeguarding your interests]; tvaam = your [highness]; madhurayaa = mellowly; sneha samraktayaa giraa = friendship, instilled, with words; kushalam ca = wellbeing, also; a vyayam caiva = un, mitigated [prosperity,] also, thus; as such; janakaH = Janaka - the present king; muhuH muhuH = again, again; pR^icChate = is asking after.

"Oh, exalted emperor Dasharatha! Janaka, the lineal king of Janaka-s and the present sovereign of Mithila is asking time and time again with mellowly words instilled with friendliness after the wellbeing and after the unmitigated prosperity of your highness, along with that of your highness' priests and teachers, also that of your highness' subjects, who always precede your highness in convoys in any event, as your highness are the one who ingratiates himself with the Ritual-fires, ever and anon... [1-68-4, 5]

Verse Locator

पृष्ट्वा कुशलम् अव्यग्रम् वैदेहो मिथिलाधिपः ।
कौशिक अनुमते वाक्यम् भवन्तम् इदम् अब्रवीत् ॥ १-६८-६

6. mithila adhipaH vaidehaH = Mithila's, sovereign, Videha [Janaka]; a vyagram = un, ruffled [at heart, sensibly]; kushalam pR^iSTvaa = wellbeing, having asked after; kaushika anumate = Kaushika, with the endorse of; bhavantam = to your [highness]; idam vaakyam abraviit = this, word, said [to us, that which is sayable to you, his highness is saying this to your highness.]

"His highness Janaka of Videha, and the sovereign of Mithila, having asked after your highness' wellbeing is sensibly saying this word to your highness, with the indorse of Kaushika... [1-68-6]

Verse Locator

पूर्वम् प्रतिज्ञा विदिता वीर्य शुल्का मम आत्मजा ।
राजानः च कृत अमर्षा निर्वीर्या विमुखी कृताः ॥ १-६८-७

7. mama aatmajaa = my, soul-born [daughter Seetha]; viirya shulkaa [iti] = bravery's, bounty, [thus]; puurvam pratij~naa = earlier, solemnly promised [by me]; viditaa = well-known - to all; kR^ita amarSaa = turned out, as rancorous [kings]; raajaanaH nir viirya = kings, without, valour [turned into gutless kings]; vi mukhii kR^itaaH = turned, face [turned back,] made to; ca [viditaa] = also, [well-known.]

" 'Well-known is the solemn promise of mine that my daughter Seetha is a bounty for bravery... also well-know is that the kings who came to lift the bow turned out as gutless kings, and then they turned out as rancorous kings at me, and it is also well-known that I turned them back with my guts... [1-68-7]

Verse Locator

सा इयम् मम सुता राजन् विश्वामित्र पुरस्कृतैः ।
यदृच्छया आगतैः वीरैः निर्जिता तव पुत्रकैः ॥ १-६८-८

8. raajan = oh, Emperor Dasharatha; saa iyam = such as she is, this - girl; mama suta = my, daughter; vishvaamitra puraskR^itaiH = Vishvamitra, keeping afore; yadR^ic Chayaa = coincidentally [serendipitously]; aagataiH = arrived [at Mithila]; tava = your; viiraiH = valorous; putrakaiH = sons / young son; nir jitaa = finally, carried off.

"Oh, Emperor Dasharatha, your young and valorous son who serendipitously arrived at Mithila along with his younger brother Lakshmana, keeping Vishvamitra at his fore, finally carries off this girl, the well-known daughter of mine... [1-68-8]

Usually this verse gives meaning that 'two of your valorous sons won Seetha...' because of the usage of plural number viiraiH putrakaiH. But this is counted as 'royal we' sort of expression to honour Rama. Hence this ka pratyaya, though used in the verse, will be read as singular. There is another shade of wording for this verse: seyam mama suta raajan vishvaamitrsya shaashanaat | puriim imaam samaagatyaa tava pureNa nirjitaa | which uses only singular for Rama.

Verse Locator

तत् च रत्नम् धनुर् दिव्यम् मध्ये भग्नम् महात्मना ।
रामेण हि महाबाहो महत्याम् जन संसदि ॥ १-६८-९

9. mahaa baahuH = oh, highly dextrous - king Dasharatha; divyam = divine [bow]; tat dhanuH ratnam ca = that, bow, gem of a, also; mahatyaam jana samsadi = a grand, peoples, assembly; mahaa aatmanaa raameNa = by noble-souled, Rama; madhye bhagnam = in central point, wrecked.

" 'Also, oh, highly dextrous king Dasharatha, noble souled Rama wrecked that divine bow, which is a gem of a bow among bows, at its central point before a grand assembly of people... [1-68-9]

Verse Locator

अस्मै देया मया सीता वीर्य शुल्का महात्मने ।
प्रतिज्ञाम् तर्तुम् इच्छामि तत् अनुज्ञातुम् अर्हसि ॥ १-६८-१०

10. viirya shulkaa siitaa = bravery's, bounty, Seetha; asmai mahaatmane = to him, to noble souled [Rama]; mayaa deyaa = by me, is to be given; pratij~naam = solemn promise; tartum = to swim over - to keep up; icChaami = I wish to; tat anuj~naatum arhasi = as suh, to give consent, apt of you.

" 'Seetha is the bounty for bravery and I shall have to afford her to the noble-souled Rama, as such it will be apt of you to give your consent as I wish to keep up my solemn promise... [1-68-10]

Verse Locator

स उपाध्यायो महाराज पुरोहित पुरस्कृतः ।
शीघ्रम् आगच्छ भद्रम् ते द्रष्टुम् अर्हसि राघवौ ॥ १-६८-११

11. mahaaraaja = oh, great emperor; sa upaadhyayaH = with, teachers; purohita puraskR^itaH = with priest [namely Vashishta,] keeping ahead; shiighram aagacCha = apace, you come; te bhadram = safe betides, you; raaghavau draSTum arhasi = at both Raghava-s, [Rama and Lakshmana,] to take a look, apt of you.

" 'Keeping your royal priest Vashishta and other teachers ahead of you, oh, great emperor, I wish you to come apace, let safe betide you, for it will be apt of you to take a look at your ennobled son Rama, and Lakshmana, too... [1-68-11]

Verse Locator

प्रतिज्ञाम् मम राजेन्द्र निर्वर्तयितुम् अर्हसि ।

पुत्रयोः उभयोः एव प्रीतिम् त्वम् अपि लप्स्यसे ॥ १-६८-१२

12. raajendra = oh, king, the best; mama pratij~naam nirvartayitum arhasi = my, solemn promise, to [make it] maintainable, apt of you; tvam api = you, even; [dR^itvaa = on your seeing]; ubhayoH putrayoH eva = both, from sons, that way; priitim = delight; upalapsyase = you, derive.

" 'It will be apt of you to make my solemn promise maintainable, and that way you will derive delight on seeing both of your sons...' [1-68-12]

'by the by, you will also derive delight in seeing Seetha, for she is also a hyphenated daughter of yours, sutascha sutaa ca tayoh eka sheSaH... with another suffix, in-law...'

Verse Locator

एवम् विदेह अधिपतिः मधुरम् वाक्यम् अब्रवीत् ।

विश्वामित्र अभ्यनुज्ञातः शतानन्द मते स्थितः ॥ १-६८-१३

13. videha adhipatiH = Videha's, sovereign; vishvaamitra abhyanuj~naataH = by Vishvamitra, consentient to [the proposal]; shataaananda mate sthitaH = Sage Shataananda, in counsel, abiding by; evam = in this way; madhuram vaakyam abraviit = sweet [endearing,] words, said - and paused.

"Thus the sovereign of Videha kingdom said these endearing words, abiding by the counsel of Sage Shataananda, and Sage Vishvamitra is also consentient to the proposal..." Thus the envoys conveyed the proposal and paused. [1-68-13]

Verse Locator

दूत वाक्यम् तु तत् श्रुत्वा राजा परम हर्षितः ।

वसिष्ठम् वामदेवम् च मंत्रिणः च एवम् अब्रवीत् ॥ १-६८-१४

14. raajaa = king - Dasharatha; tat duuta vaakyam shrutvaa = that [word of delegate, word [message,], on hearing; parama harSitaH = highly, gladdened; vasiSTham vaamadevam ca = to Vashishta, to Vaamadeva, also; mantriNaH ca = to [other] ministers, as well; evam abraviit = this way, said.

King Dasharatha is highly gladdened on hearing that message from the delegates, and said this way to Vashishta, Vaamadeva, and to his other ministers, as well. [1-68-14]

Verse Locator

गुप्तः कुशिक पुत्रेण कौसल्य आनन्द वर्धनः ।

लक्ष्मणेन सह भ्रात्रा विदेहेषु वसति असौ ॥ १-६८-१५

15. asau = that [boy] - Rama; kausalya aananda vardhanaH = Kausalya's, rejoice, enhancer; kushika putreNa guptaH = by Kushika's, son [Vishvamitra,] taken care; bhraatraa lakSmaNena saha = brother, Lakshmana, along with; videheSu vasati = in Videha [kingdom,] he is living - he is stopping over.

"This one Rama, the enhancer of Kausalya's rejoice, is stopping over at Videha kingdom along with his brother Lakshmana, and Vishvamitra is taking care of both these boys... [1-68-15]

Verse Locator

दृष्ट वीर्यः तु काकुत्स्थो जनकेन महात्मना ।
संप्रदानम् सुतायाः तु राघवे कर्तुम् इच्छति ॥ १-६८-१६

16. kaakutsthaH = of Kakutstha Rama - on his part; mahaatmanaa janakena dR^iSTa viiryaH = by noble-souled, by Janaka, one whose valour has been observed [on observing Rama's valour]; that Janaka; sutaayaaH sampradaanam = of daughter, gift of bride; raaghave kartum icChati = in respect of Raghava, to do, he wishes.

"On observing the valour of Kakutstha Rama, noble souled Janaka wishes to gift his daughter as bride to Raghava Rama... [1-68-16]

Verse Locator

यदि वो रोचते वृत्तम् जनकस्य महात्मनः ।
पुरीम् गच्छामहे शीघ्रम् मा भूत् कालस्य पर्ययः ॥ १-६८-१७

17. mahaatmanaH janakasya vR^ittam = noble-souled, Janaka's, what has happened to - surprised assent to give daughter; vaH rocate yadi = to you, interested, if; shiighram puriim gacChaamahe = quickly, to city [Mithila,] we proceed; kaalasya paryayaH maa bhuut = time's, lapse, let not, happen.

"If you all favour the tidings from the noble-souled Janaka as to what has happened in Mithila, we quickly proceed to that city, let not the time lapse..." Thus Dasharatha informed his counsel. [1-68-17]

The word vR^ittam 'happening' 'history' and it is generally translated as 'the history, legend, and the familial characteristics of Janaka...' But when Janaka already is famous through the bow of Shiva, and that bow itself is broken now, no more 'verification of antecedents' of Janaka is needed, and it is 'what has happened now' i.e., the impossible deed of breaking it.

Verse Locator

मंत्रिणो बाढम् इति आहुः सह सर्वैः महर्षिभिः ।
सु प्रीतः च अब्रवीत् राजा श्वः यात्रा इति च मंत्रिणः ॥ १-६८-१८

18. sarvaiH maha rSibhiH saha mantriNaH = with, all, great sages, ministers; baaDham iti aahuH = 'most welcome', thus, they said; su priitaH raajaa = highly, pleased, king; shvaH yaatraa iti = tomorrow, is the travel, thus; mantriNaH abraviit = to ministers, said.

The ministers along with all of the great sages said in consonance, "Most Welcome..." and then that highly pleased king Dasharatha said to the ministers, "we travel tomorrow..." [1-68-18]

Verse Locator

मंत्रिणः तु नरेन्द्रस्य रात्रिम् परम सत्कृताः ।
ऊषुः प्रमुदिताः सर्वे गुणैः सर्वैः समन्विताः ॥ १-६८-१९

19. sarvaiH guNaiH samanvitaH = with all, talents, gifted with; narendrasya mantriNaH = of king [Janaka,] ministers; on their part; parama sat kR^itaaH = given grateful hospitality; pramuditaH = over joyed; sarve raatrim uuSuH = all, that night, they dwelled - in Ayodhya.

The ministers of king Janaka who are gifted with all talents are given grateful hospitality by Dasharatha, and they all dwelt that night in Ayodhya, overjoyed at the successful completion of their august legatine, called sIta kalyANam... [1-68-19]

इति वाल्मीकि रामायणे आदि काव्ये बाल काण्डे अष्ट षष्ठितमः सर्गः

Thus, this is the 68th chapter in Bala Kanda of Valmiki Ramayana, the First Epic poem of India.

Book I : Bala Kanda - The Youthful Majesties

Chapter [Sarga] 69 Verses converted to UTF-8, Oct 09

Introduction

Dasharatha arrives at Mithila and Janaka receives him reverentially, as he belongs to a crowning dynasty, called Ikshvaku-s. Then, after the usual exchange of royal pleasantries and protocol, all of them stay in Mithila comfortably.

Verse Locator

ततो रात्र्याम् व्यतीतायाम् स उपाध्यायः स बान्धवः ।
राजा दशरथो हृष्टः सुमंत्रम् इदम् अब्रवीत् ॥ १-६९-१

1. sa upaadhyaayaH = with, teachers; sa baandhavaH = with relatives; raajaa dasharathaH hR^iSTaH = king, Dasharatha, who is heartened; tataH raatryaam vyatiitaayaam = then, night, on being elapsed [into next dawn]; sumantram idam abraviit = to Sumantra [his minister,] this, said.

On the next dawn that heartened king Dasharatha who is with his teachers and his relatives then said this to his minister Sumantra. [1-69-1]

Verse Locator

अद्य सर्वे धन अध्यक्षा धनम् आदाय पुष्कलम् ।
व्रजंति अग्रे सु विहिता नाना रत्न समन्विताः ॥ १-६९-२

2. adya = now; sarve dhana adhyakSaa = chancellors, of exchequers; puSkalam dhanam aadaaya = ample, riches, on drawing; naanaa ratna sam anvitaaH = numerous, gems [where gems are, upa lakshaNa, the subjunctive items among the items that are used in marriages from bridegroom's side,] all-inclusive; su vihitaa = well, preparedly; agre vrajanti = in advance, let them travel.

"Now let the chancellors of exchequers draw ample riches, gems and numerous other items that are used in the marriage from bridegroom's side, all-inclusively, and let them travel in advance and let them be well-prepared for any exigency... [1-69-2]

Verse Locator

चतुरंग बलम् च अपि शीघ्रम् निर्यातु सर्वशः ।
मम आज्ञा समकालम् च यानम् युग्मम् अनुत्तमम् ॥ १-६९-३

3. mama = my; aaj~naa = order; sama kaalam ca = even with, time, also [in a trice at my order]; caturanga balam ca api = quadruple, forces also, even; sarvashaH = from everywhere; shiighram nir yaatu = quickly, out, go [start off]; an uttamam = un, excelled ones; yaanam = vehicles palanquins, sedan chairs, litters etc]; yugmam = that can be yoked [cabined-coaches with horses]; let start.

"Let the quadruple forces start off in a trice from everywhere at my order, and others shall start with unexcelled vehicles like palanquins, sedan chairs, litters etc., and with those that can be yoked with horses, like cabined-coaches and horse-carriages... [1-69-3]

The fourfold army is generally taken as horses, elephants, chariots, and foot soldiers for the word caturanga balam, while some say such an army is moved only when a massive combat is necessary, but not when going to marriages. Thus some say though army is moved, it is as much as required. But this word also qualifies as caturanga balam= dhana, kanaka, vastu, vaahana sampatti, the quadruple opulence, namely 'riches, gold, equipage, and vehicles...' where opulence will be the only show in Indian marriages, either of poor or rich. R. C. Dutt comes near to this when telling in his poetic version: 'Ride in front with royal riches, gold and gems in bright array

Verse Locator

वसिष्ठो वामदेवः च जाबालिः अथ काश्यपः ।
मार्कण्डेयः च दीर्घायुः ऋषिः कात्यायनः तथा ॥ १-६९-४
एते द्विजाः प्रयान्तु अग्रे स्यंदनम् योजयस्व मे ।
यथा काल अत्ययो न स्यात् दूता हि त्वरयन्ति माम् ॥ १-६९-५

4, 5. vasiSThaH vaamadevaH ca = Vashishta, Vaamadeva, also; atha = then; jaabaaliH kaashyapaH = Jaabaali, Kaashyapa; diirgha aayuH markaNDeyaH ca = long, lived one - one who has longevity, Markandeya, also; tathaa = likewise; R^iSiH kaatyaayanaH = sage, Kaatyaayana; ete dvijaaH = these, Brahmans; agre prayaantu = in forefront, let them travel; me syandanam yojayasva = my, royal-cariote, let it be yoked [with horses]; kaala atyayaH yathaa na syaat = time, lapse, as to how, will not, will be there; do it likewise; duutaa maam tvarayanti hi = messengers [of Janaka,] me, hastening, indeed.

"Vashishta, Vaamadeva, Jaabaali and Kaashyapa, and the long-lived Markandeya, and Sage Kaatyaayana... let these Brahmans travel in forefront... and let horses be yoked to my royal-cariote, and as the messengers of Janaka are hastening me arrange for the travel without time lapse..." Thus Dasharatha ordered. [1-69-4, 5]

Verse Locator

वचनात् च नरेन्द्रस्य सेना च चतुरंगिणी ।
राजानम् ऋषिभिः सार्धम् व्रजंतम् पृष्ठतो अन्वगात् ॥ १-६९-६

6. narendrasya vacanaat = the best king's, by the word of; caturangiNii = quadruple [opulence]; senaa = [some] army; R^iSibhiH saardham = with sages, as well; vrajanam = he who is going; raajaanam = after that king; pR^iSThataH = at rearward; anvagaat = followed.

On the word of that best king the fourfold opulence, and even the fourfold forces up to some extent followed rearward of the king who is going after the sages who are going afore of him. [1-69-6]

Verse Locator

गत्वा चतुर् अहम् मार्गम् विदेहान् अभ्युपेयिवान् ।
राजा तु जनकः श्रीमान् श्रुत्वा पूजाम् अकल्पयत् ॥ १-६९-७

7. catuH aham maargam gatvaa = four, day, route, on going; videhaan abhyupeyivaan [abhi upa eyu] = at Videha kingdom, reached nearby - reached fringes of Videha; raajaa shriimaan janakaH = king, illustrious Janaka; shrutvaa puujaam akalpayat = on hearing, [welcome] ceremonies, arranged.

Travelling on a four-day-route Dasharatha reached the fringes of Videha kingdom, and on hearing this, the illustrious king Janaka arranged for welcome ceremonies at the outskirts of the city. [1-69-7]

These formalities are still prevalent in marriage functions, in one way or the other, in India, esp. rural India. The bridegroom's party will be received at the outskirts of the bride's place, esp. if it were to be a village, then a small function / ceremony will be held laudatory to the bridegroom, and then they are invited into that place of bride like, 'meet a party halfway...' type protocol. This is other than baraat 'matrimonial pageantry...'

Verse Locator

ततो राजानम् आसाद्य वृद्धम् दशरथम् नृपम् ।
जनको मुदितो राजा हर्षम् च परमम् ययौ ॥ १-६९-८

8. tataH = then; raajaa muditaH janakaH = king, gladdened, Janaka nR^I pam raajaanam vR^iddham dasharatham = people's, paladin, king, senescent, towards Dasharatha; aasaadya = at on getting at; paramam harSam yayau = [a state of] ecstatic, elation, went into.

Then the king Janaka who is by far gladdened went into a state of ecstatic elation when he met the senescent king and paladin of people, namely Dasharatha, as the pace for the marriage celebrations is quickened because of the immediate arrival of Dasharatha. [1-69-8]

Verse Locator

उवाच वचनम् श्रेष्ठो नरश्रेष्ठम् मुदा अन्वितम् ।
स्वागतम् ते नरश्रेष्ठः दिष्ट्या प्राप्तो असि राघव ॥ १-६९-९
पुत्रयोः उभयोः प्रीतिम् लप्स्यसे वीर्यं निर्जिताम् ।

9, 10a. nara shreSThaH = best among men - Janaka; mudaa anvitam = glee, included [gleeful one]; nara shreSTham = to man, the best [born in foremost lineage of Raghu-s, Dasharatha, the legatee of Raghu]; shreSThaH vacanam uvaaca = best [commendable,] sentence, said; raaghava = oh, the legatee of Raghu; te su aagatam = to you, hearty, welcome; diSTyaa praaptaH asi = providentially, bechanced [you have come,] you are; ubhayoH putrayoH = from both, from sons; viirya nirjitaam = by valour, completely won; priitim lapsyase = delight, you get.

And the best one among men, king Janaka, gleefully said this commendable sentence to Dasharatha, the best legatee of Raghu, "oh, king, a hearty welcome to you. Oh, legatee of Ragu, your arrival to my city is just by my providence... you will now get delectation on seeing your sons who won accolades just by their valorousness in the act of raising and breaking Shiva's bow... [1-69-9, 10a]

Though Rama alone broke the bow of Shiva, both Rama and Lakshmana are said to have done it. This is a common unified laudation used for both of them, in view of their insuperable brotherhood, and such a sort of commingling both, for one person's action, can be heard often. For e.g., when Lakshmana misshapes Shuurpanakha, Rama is said to have done, and even both are said to have done that act.

Verse Locator

दिष्ट्या प्राप्तो महातेजा वसिष्ठो भगवान् ऋषिः ॥ १-६९-१०
सह सर्वैः द्विज श्रेष्ठैः देवैः इव शतक्रतुः ।

10b, 11a. mahaatejaa bhagavaan vasiSThaH R^iSiH = great-resplendent, godly, Vashishta, the sage; sarvaiH dvija shreShThaiH saha = with all, Brahmans, eminent ones, along with; devaiH shatakratuH iva = with gods, Indra [who had to perform 'shata' hundred 'kratu' Vedic-ritual s in his earlier human birth,] as with; diSTyaa praaptaH = providentially, bechanced - arrived here.

"Providentially bechanced is the arrival of this great-resplendent and godly sage Vashishta, who arrived here with all of these eminent Brahmans, like Indra himself with all gods... [1-69-10b, 11a]

Verse Locator

दिष्ट्या मे निर्जिता विघ्ना दिष्ट्या मे पूजितम् कुलम् ॥ १-६९-११

राघवैः सह संबन्धात् वीर्यं श्रेष्ठैः महात्मभिः ।

11b, 12a. viirya shreSThaiH = among valorous ones, the best ones; mahaatmabhiH raaghavaiH saha = with noble-souled ones, Raghava-s, with; sambandhaat = [owing to this] hymeneal engagement; diSTyaa me vighnaa nirjitaa = providentially, my, hindrances, are overcome; diSTyaa me kulam puujitam = providentially, my, lineage, is glorified.

"Providentially my hindrances are overcome by the arrival of godlike sages, and providentially my lineage too is gloried owing to this hymeneal engagement with noble-souled Raghava-s, who are the most valorous among all the valorous people... [1-69-11b, 12a]

Verse Locator

श्वः प्रभाते नरेन्द्र त्वम् सम्वर्तयितुम् अर्हसि ॥ १-६९-१२

यज्ञस्य अन्ते नरश्रेष्ठ विवाहम् ऋषि सत्तमैः ।

12b, 13b. nara shreSTha = among men, best in first-born-lineage [because you are born in first and foremost Ikshvaku dynasty, hence you are]; nara indra = oh, Indra of Indra-like kings [on earth]; shvaH prabhaate = tomorrow, morning; yaj~nasya ante = Vedic-ritual, at end of [at the culmination]; R^iSi sattamaiH [sammataam] = with Sages, best one's [conducted by, agreeable to for the time and date of marriage]; vivaaham tvam = marriage, you; sam vartayitum arhasi = to clearly initiate [about the talks, celebrations reg. marriage,] apt of you.

"Because you are born in first and foremost Ikshvaku dynasty, hence you are the Indra of Indra-like kings on earth... and hence, it will be apt of you to initiate the celebrations of marriage tomorrow, and the marriage itself after the culmination of the Vedic-ritual in three or four days, and the date and time for the marriage, that which is agreeable to the best sages can be decided, and you can get it performed on that date, through those great sages... [1-69-12b, 13a]

There is controversy about the marriage of Seetha with Rama, insofar as its categorisation. Whether it is one of the eight kinds or not, is a debated point. The eight kinds of marriages are braahma, daiva, praaajaapatya, aarSa, asura, gandharva, raakshasa, paishaaca and this topic can be discussed at a later time.

Verse Locator

तस्य तत् वचनम् श्रुत्वा ऋषि मध्ये नराधिपः ॥ १-६९-१३

वाक्यम् वाक्यविदाम् श्रेष्ठः प्रत्युवाच महीपतिम् ।

13b, 14a. vaakyam vaakya vidaam shreSThaH = sentence, sentence, among experts, the best [sententious one - Dasharatha]; nara adhipaH = people's king [Dasharatha]; tasya tat vacanam shrutvaa = his [Janaka's,] that, sentence, on hearing; R^iSi madhye = sages, amongst; mahiipatim = to king Janaka; prati uvaaca = replied.

On hearing that sentence of king Janaka the sententious king Dasharatha replied the king Janaka from amongst the sages. [1-69-13b, 14a]

Verse Locator

प्रतिग्रहो दातृ वशः श्रुतम् एतत् मया पुरा ॥ १-६९-१४

यथा वक्ष्यसि धर्मज्ञ तत् करिष्यामहे वयम् ।

14b, 15a. prati grahaH = in turn, taking [recipieny]; daatR^i = donor's [restitutor's]; vashaH = in control of [rests with]; etat puraa mayaa shrutam = all this, earlier, by me, heard; dharma j~na = oh, probity, knower of; yathaa [tvam] vakSyasi = as, [whatever you] say; tat vayam kariSyamahe = that, we, do.

"Recipieny rests with the restitutor... so I have heard earlier. Hence, whatever you say, for you are the knower of probity and nothing goes amiss in your astute thinking, that we will do... [1-

The word restitutor is used instead of 'donor' because Janaka is restoring the estranged divine pair to their togetherness in this mortal world. R. C. Dutt uses 'Gift betokens giver's bounty...' for this expression.

Verse Locator

तत् धर्मिष्ठम् यशस्यम् च वचनम् सत्य वादिनः ॥ १-६९-१५
श्रुत्वा विदेह अधिपतिः परम् विस्मयम् आगतः ।

15b, 16b. satya vaadinaH = truth [principles,] affirmer of - Dasharatha; dharmiSTham = agreeable to the principles of marriages; yashasyam ca = agreeable to familial glory; tat = that; vacanam = sentence; shrutvaa = on listening; videha adhipatiH = Videha, to king of; param vismayam aagataH = extremely, thrill [of joy,] came over.

On listening that sentence of that affirmer of principles, namely Dasharatha, that which is conformable to the principles of marriages and familial glory, a thrill of joy came over the king of Videha. [1-69-15b. 16a]

Usually the bridegroom's party will be stiff-necked at least till the marriage is over, which has become a nuisance practice in Indian marriages. Here Dasharatha is telling the opposite, by which his words are viewed as agreeable to righteousness of marriages etc., and for which Janaka is surprised.

Verse Locator

ततः सर्वे मुनि गणाः परस्पर समागमे ॥ १-६९-१६
हर्षेण महता युक्ताः ताम् निशाम् अवसन् सुखम् ।

16b, 17a. tataH = then; sarve muni gaNaaH = then, all, saint's, coalescences; paraH para = one, to one - each other - assemblages of sages from Vashishta's side with the assemblages of sages of Mithila; sam aagame = on foregathering; mahataa harSeNa yuktaaH = with extreme, rejoice, having; taam nishaam = that, darkness [night]; sukham avasan = happily, resided - they spent.

Then, on the foregathering of sages from Vashishta's side with the sages of Mithila all the sages have attained extreme joy and they spent that night happily. [1-69-16b, 17a]

Verse Locator

अथ रामो महातेजा लक्ष्मणेन समम् ययौ ॥ १-६९-१७
विश्वामित्रम् पुरस्कृत्य पितुः पादौ उपस्पृशन् ।

17b, 18a. atha raamaH mahaatejaa = then, Rama, most brilliant one; vishvaamitram puraskR^itya = Vishvamitra, keeping ahead; lakshmaNena = with Lakshmana; samam yayau = uniformly, proceeded [strutting in step with]; pituH paadau upaspR^ishan = father's, feet, to touch.

Then that most brilliant Rama, keeping Vishvamitra ahead, and strutting in step with Lakshmana, strutted to touch the feet of his father Dasharatha. [1-69-17]

Verse Locator

राजा च राघवौ पुत्रौ निशांय परिहर्षितः ॥ १-६९-१८
उवास परम प्रीतो जनकेन सुपूजितः ।

18b-19a. raajaa ca = king Dasharatha, also; putrau raaghavau = sons, Raghava-s [Rama and Lakshmana, here the epithet's subtext is 'the super medallists of Raghu's dynasty']; nishaamya pariharSitaH = on seeing, overly rejoiced; janakena supuujitaH = by Janaka, highly revered; parama priitaH uvaasa = highly, contented, resided [in Mithila].

On seeing his two sons, the super medallists in Raghu's dynasty, King Dasharatha is highly rejoiced and he resided in Mithila with a high contentment, for the reverence of Janaka is that high. [1-69-18]

The expression of 'medallists' to the word Raghava-s as above will look odd. So an explanation to this is furnished in the endnote.

Verse Locator

जनको अपि महातेजाः क्रिया धर्मेण तत्त्ववित् ।

यज्ञस्य च सुताभ्याम् च कृत्वा रात्रिम् उवास ह ॥ १-६९-१९

19. mahaatejaaH = great-resplendent one; tattva vit = essence of scriptures, knower of; janakaH api = Janaka, even; yaj~nasya ca = of Vedic-ritual [on hand,] also; sutaabhyaam ca = of two daughters, also; dharmeNa = according to scriptures; kriyaa = ritual acts; kR^itvaa = on making [on performing / initiating]; raatrim uvaasa ha = night, resided, indeed [went into the sleep of the just with his palm on chest.]

Even the great-resplendent Janaka on performing ritual acts according to scriptures for the Vedic-ritual on hand, and the preparatory rituals for handing out both of his daughters in marriage, went into the sleep of the just, with his palm on his chest. [1-69-19]

The marriages will be commenced with initial ceremonies called ankura aaropaNa aadi kriyaaH for an unhindered marriage function and for the harmonious family life of the newly wed.

Epithets in Ramayana

'The epithets in Ramayana will be extremely boring and tediously repeated statements...' this is when we see at them in an overall superficial and lexical view. But, to the grammarians, prosodists, aestheticians, and the like, they are a head-breaking headache. A lot of verbal warfare is concurrently going on, perhaps even now, as to which belongs to which expression. To cite an example, here the verse 1-69-18 uses just raaghavau 'a pair of Raghuva-s...' for Rama and Lakshmana, and it is no uncommon term to them. But, here this word suddenly assumes a different dimension and aestheticians say that word means 'the pair of brothers who are the decorations, embellishments, and the like, of Raghu's dynasty....' because they dared the bow of Shiva to the extent of its breakage, and by their bold feat they are victorious medallists. While the ancestors in Raghu-s dynasty are pro-gods in seeking Ganga to come to earth etc., this boy Rama has gone against that God, in breaking Shiva's bow. Gita Press' English version puts this as 'the ornaments of Raghu's race...' and R. C. Dutt's poetic version has 'Honoured by the saintly Janak, greeted by his children bold / where the 'boldness' is as explained above. And this 'ornaments' or 'bold boys' or 'medallists' cannot be found in the verse, lexically.

There are many who are baffled and bored at these boring and baffling overused epithets and there are enumerations also, as to how many are increased in Aranya Kanda compared to Ayodhya Kanda etc. In Aranya, for e.g., Seetha is variously called as Janaki, alias Vaidehi, alias Mithila... etc., and this chapter can throw some light, or make a difference between an alias and an epithet, on those that available in Aranya, as those epithets in Aranya bear a link with these few chapters. Even then, it will be inconclusive, as nowhere listed are these epithets or their allusions in their true colour. It is unclear for non-Sanskrit readers, even to vernacular Indians, to know as to how many epithets are truly and correctly translatable, without the assistance of ancient commentaries. Even in those commentaries, there are many epithets that are left out, as those commentators were more bothered to their own tenets like 'Rama is god... Rama is human... Rama is the dharma... Rama is Shiva...' etc., than these epithets. And we are presenting as far as we could muster up information about them. Hence, before the total extinction of Sanskrit grammarians and aestheticians, it is necessary to decode these epithets in Ramayana, thus we humbly feel.

इति वाल्मीकि रामायणे आदि काव्ये बाल काण्डे एको न सप्ततितमः सर्गः

Thus, this is the 69th chapter in Bala Kanda of Valmiki Ramayana, the First Epic poem of India.

Book I : Bala Kanda - The Youthful Majesties

Chapter [Sarga] 70 Verses converted to UTF-8, Oct 09

Introduction

Ikshvaku's bloodline is narrated as custom demands to enquire into the bridegroom's lineage. Vashishta narrates this to Janaka and his brother Kushadhvaja, who is also summoned to participate in the wedding celebrations, and who later has to offer his two daughters to Bharata and Shatrughna. This listing and eulogising ancestors is an adjunctive custom in Indian marriages. Nowadays it is limited to cite only three preceding generations, instead of narrating from the first, since nobody holds his family tree, ready at hand.

Verse Locator

ततः प्रभाते जनकः कृत कर्मा महर्षिभिः ।

उवाच वाक्यम् वाक्यज्ञः शतानन्दम् पुरोहितम् ॥ १-७०-१

1. tataH prabhaate = then, in [next] morning; maha rSibhiH = through sages; kR^ita karmaa = having performed, liturgies; vaakyaj~naH = sentence, knower of [articulator]; janakaH = Janaka; purohitam shataanandam = to Shataananda, the [royal] priest; vaakyam uvaaca = sentence, said.

Then on the next day morning after getting the ritual liturgies performed through sages, he that articulator Janaka articulated this to sage Shataananda, the royal priest. [1-70-1]

Verse Locator

भ्राता मम महातेजा यवीयान् अतिधार्मिकः ।

कुशध्वज इति ख्यातः पुरीम् अध्यवसत् शुभाम् ॥ १-७०-२

वार्या फलक पर्यन्ताम् पिबन् इक्षुमतीम् नदीम् ।

सांकाश्याम् पुण्य संकाशाम् विमानम् इव पुष्पकम् ॥ १-७०-३

2, 3. ati dhaarmikaH = highly, self-righteousness; kushadhvaja iti khyataH = Kushadhvaja, thus, renowned as; mahaatejaa = highly brilliant one; mama yaviiyaan bhraataa = my, younger, brother; ikSumatiim = River Ikshumati [with sugar-cane juice like waters]; nadiim = of River Ikshumati; piban = drinking [supping]; vaaryaa phalaka paryantaam = in water [of moats,] staked trident [bastions,] all around; shubhaam = auspicious; puNya sankashaam = holiness, equal to - a holy city; saankaashyaam = Saankaasya named city; puriim = in such city; puSpakam vimaanam iva = Pushpaka, aircraft, like; adhyavasat = presides over [he is ruling from.]

"My younger brother renowned thus as Kushadhvaja, a highly self-righteous one and a highly brilliant one is ruling from the auspicious and holy city named Saankaasya, which city is surrounded by River Ikshumati as a natural moat, in which moat bastions of tridents are staked all around... and my brother presides over that city as if he is sitting in the Pushpaka aircraft of richly-rich god Kubera, and as though supping the sugarcane juice-like waters of River Ikshumati... [1-70-2, 3]

The words vaaryaa phalaka paryantaam also mean 'that city is surrounded by the plantation of citrus grapefruits that are famous for health keeping.

Verse Locator

तम् अहम् द्रष्टुम् इच्छामि यज्ञ गोप्ता स मे मतः ।
प्रीतिम् सो अपि महातेजा इमाम् भोक्ता मया सह ॥ १-७०-४

4. aham tam draSTum icChaami = I, him, to see, I wish; saH me yaj~na goptaa mataH = he, my, Vedic-ritual's, protector- benefactor, agreed to be - he is nominated as supplier of all paraphernalia to the ritual; mahaa tejaa saH api = highly brilliant one, he, even; mayaa saha imaam priitim bhoktaa = me, along with, this [marriage,] joyousness of, will be rejoicer.

"And I wish to see him, as he is the nominated benefactor of this Vedic-ritual of mine, and he too shall become a rejoicer in partaking the joyousness of this marriage... " So said Janaka to Shataananda. [1-70-4]

Kushadhvaja supplied whole lot of paraphernalia for this Vedic-ritual of Janaka from his auspicious city Saankaasya, and hence he is the benefactor of the ritual.

Verse Locator

एवम् उक्तो तु वचने शतानंदस्य संनिधौ ।
आगताः केचिद् अव्यग्रा जनकः तान् समादिशत् ॥ १-७०-५

5. shata anandasya sannidhau = Shataananda, in presence of; evam vacane ukte sati = that way, words [enunciation,] after saying [on asseverating,] while being so; a vyagraa = not, flustering [alacritous envoys]; kecit aagataaH = some [envoys,] have come; janakaH taan samaadishat = Janaka, them, ordered.

That way when Janaka asseverated that enunciation in the presence of Shataananda, Shataananda in turn ordered and summoned envoys, and then some alacritous envoys have come, whom Janaka ordered to proceed to his brother. [1-70-5]

Verse Locator

शासनात् तु नरेन्द्रस्य प्रययुः शीघ्र वाजिभिः ।
समानेतुम् नरव्याघ्रम् विष्णुम् इन्द्र आज्ञया यथा ॥ १-७०-६

6. narendrasya shaasanaat tu = by king's, order, just by; indra aaj~nayaa viSNum yathaa = Indra, by order of, Vishnu, as with - to fetch Vishnu as per Indra's order; naravyaaghram samaanetum = manly-tiger [Kushadhvaja]; to fetch; shiighra vaajibhiH prayayuH = [those envoys that] have speedy, horses, travelled.

By the order of the king those envoys who have speedy horses have travelled on to city Saankaasya speedily, to lead forth that manly-tiger Kushadhvaja that speedily, which is as good as fetching Vishnu by order of Indra. [1-70-6]

Verse Locator

संकास्याम् ते समागंय ददृशुः च कुश्वजम् ।
न्यवेदयन् यथा वृत्तम् जनकस्य च चिन्तितम् ॥ १-७०-७

7. te = those envoys; samkaasyaam samaagamya = in Saankaasya city, on arriving; kushdhvajam dadR^ishuH ca = Kushadhvaja, they have seen, also; yathaa vR^ittam = as has, happened; and; janakasya cintitam ca = Janaka's, thought of [point of view,] even; nyavedayan = reported.

On arriving in city Saankaasya those envoys have seen king Kushadhvaja and on submitting what has happened to the king about Rama's breaking of Shiva's bow, and they have also submitted the point of view of Janaka regarding marriages of four daughters. [1-70-7]

The viewpoint of Janaka is to offset the problem of marriages of both the daughters of his brother Kushadhvaja. Dasharatha has four sons and Janaka presaged a quadruple alliance with him, where Janaka has two daughters and his brother Kushadhvaja has two.

Verse Locator

तद् वृत्तम् नृपतिः श्रुत्वा दूत श्रेष्ठैः महा जवैः ।
आज्ञया तु नरेन्द्रस्य आजगाम कुशध्वजः ॥ १-७०-८

8. nR^ipatiH kushadhvajaH = king, Kushadhvaja; mahaa javaiH = through great, speeded [of praiseworthy speed]; duuta shreSThaiH = from envoys, worthy ones; tat vR^ittam shrutvaa = that, event, on hearing; narendrasya aaj~nayaa aajagaama = by king Janaka's, order, came forth [to Mithila.]

On hearing that event from the worthy envoys whose speed is praiseworthy, king Kushadhvaja came right away to Mithila by the order of king Janaka. [1-70-8]

Verse Locator

स ददर्श महात्मानम् जनकम् धर्म वत्सलम् ।
सो अभिवाद्य शतानंदम् जनकम् च अति धार्मिकम् ॥ १-७०-९
राज अर्हम् परमम् दिव्यम् आसनम् च अध्यरोहत ।

9, 10a. saH = he Kushadhvaja; dharma vatsalam = towards duty [of an elder brother,] a compassionate one - one who is helping as an elder brother; mahaatmaanam janakam = noble souled [insightful,] Janaka; dadarsha = has seen [addressed himself]; saH = he Kushadhvaja; shataanandam = [firstly] to Shataananda; and; ati dhaarmikam = highly, righteous [fondly, affectionate brother]; janakam ca = [next] to Janaka, also; abhivaadya = on reverencing; raaja arham = for king, befitting; paramam divyam aasanam ca = highly, divine [majestic,] on seat, also; adhyarohata [adhi aa rohat] = mounted upon [sat upon.]

Kushadhvaja addressed himself to the insightful one and a compassionate person in the duty of an elder brother, namely Janaka, and on reverencing sage Shataananda firstly, next he has revered his fondly affectionate brother Janaka, and then he sat upon a majestic seat, that which is befitting to kings. [1-70-9, 10a]

Verse Locator

उपविष्टौ उभौ तौ तु भ्रातरौ अमित ओजसौ ॥ १-७०-१०
प्रेषयामासतुः वीरौ मन्त्रि श्रेष्ठम् सुदामनम् ।

10b, 11a. a mita ojasau = of un, limited, self-refulgence; tau viirau = those two, valorous [distinguished brothers for their righteous acts]; ubhau bhraatarau = both, brothers; upaviSTau = while seated [having assumed high seats]; mantri shreSTham sudaamanam = minister, distinguished one, Sudaamana; preSayaamaasatuH = started to send.

Both the brothers of unlimited self-refulgence having assumed their high seats, they who are distinguished for their righteous acts have started to send Sudaamana, the distinguished minister. [1-70-10b, 11a]

Verse Locator

गच्छ मन्त्रि पते शीघ्रम् इक्ष्वाकम् अमित प्रभम् ॥ १-७०-११
आत्मजैः सह दुर्धर्षम् आनयस्व स मन्त्रिणम् ।

11b, 12a. mantri pate = oh, minister, husband / chief [plenipotentiary]; shiighram = immediately; amita prabham = to one with - un, limited, resplendence; ikSvaakam = to

Ikshvaku's [legatee of, Dasharatha]; gacCha = you go; dur dharSam = un, assailable [invincible king Dasharatha]; sa mantriNam = who will be - with, ministers [Vedic celebrants]; aatmajaiH saha = with his sons; aanayasva = lead him forth [hither.]

"Oh, minister plenipotentiary, Sudaamana, you please proceed immediately to king Dasharatha, the legatee of Ikshvaku-s with illimitable resplendence, and let that invincible king Dasharatha be led hither along with his sons and along with his Vedic-celebrants..." Thus Janaka ordered Sudaamana, the minister. [1-70-11b, 12a]

Verse Locator

औपकार्याम् स गत्वा तु रघूणाम् कुल वर्धनम् ॥ १-७०-१२
ददर्श शिरसा च एनम् अभिवाद्य इदम् अब्रवीत् ।

12b, 13a. saH = he Sudaamana; aupakaaryaam = to visitatorial-palace; gatvaa = on going; raghuuNaam kula vardhanam = of Raghu's, heritage, promoter of - Dasharatha; dadarsha = seen [appeared before]; enam shirasaa abhivaadya ca = him, with head [head-bent, bow down] on hailing, also; idam abraviit = this, said.

Accordingly Sudaamana has gone to the visitatorial-palace of the promoter of Raghu's heritage, namely Dasharatha, and he said this on appearing before that king duly bowing down and hailing the king. [1-70-12b, 13a]

Verse Locator

अयोध्या अधिपते वीर वैदेहो मिथिला अधिपः ॥ १-७०-१३
स त्वाम् द्रष्टुम् व्यवसितः स उपाध्याय पुरोहितम् ।

13b-14a. viira = oh, valiant one; ayodhyaa adhipate = oh, Ayodhya', sovereign; mithilaa adhipaH = Mithila's, sovereign; saH vaidehaH = he, the king of Videha heritage - Janaka; sa upaadhyaya purohitam = with [your] mentors, royal-priest; tvaam draSTum vyavasitaH = you, to see [seeking an audience,] poised for.

"Oh, valiant king, oh, sovereign of Ayodhya, his highness the sovereign of Mithila from the heritage of Videha kings is poised for seeking an audience with your highness, along with your highness' royal-priest Vashishta and other mentors..." The minister Sudaamana said so to Dasharatha. [1-70-13b, 14a]

Verse Locator

मन्त्रि श्रेष्ठ वचः श्रुत्वा राजा स ऋषि गणः तदा ॥ १-७०-१४
स बन्धुः अगमत् तत्र जनको यत्र वर्तते ।

14b, 15a. tadaa = then; raajaa = king Dasharatha; mantri shreSTha vacaH shrutvaa = minister, best one's, words, on hearing; sa R^iSi gaNaH = , with, sage's, assemblages; sa bandhuH = with, kinsmen; janakaH yatra vartate = Janaka, where, is available; tatra = there; agamat = came.

On hearing that best minister's words, then king Dasharatha came to the place where Janaka is available, along with his kinsmen and the assemblages of sages. [1-70-14b, 15a]

Verse Locator

राजा च मन्त्रि सहितः स उपाध्यायः स बांधवः ॥ १-७०-१५
वाक्यम् वाक्य विदाम् श्रेष्ठो वैदेहम् इदम् अब्रवीत् ।

15b, 16a. mantri sahitaH = ministers, along with; sa upaadhyayaH = with [amongst,] mentors; sa baandhavaH = with, kinsfolk; vaakya vidaam shreSThaH = sentence, experts in making, the best [sententious king Dasharatha]; raajaa = king Dasharatha; vaideham idam vaakyam abraviit = to king from the lineage of Videha, this, sentence, said.

That sententious king Dasharatha said this to the king from the lineage of Videha kings, Janaka, who is with his mentors, kinsfolk, and ministers. [1-70-15b, 16a]

Verse Locator

विदितम् ते महाराज इक्ष्वाकु कुल दैवतम् ॥ १-७०-१६
वक्ता सर्वेषु कृत्येषु वसिष्ठो भगवान् ऋषिः ।

16b,17a. mahaaraaja = oh, exalted king Janaka; bhagavaan R^iSiH vasiSThaH = godly, sage, Vashishta; ikSvaaku kula daivatam = Ikshvaku, for bloodline, godlike; sarveSu kR^ityeSu = in all, the works [affairs]; vaktaa = speaker [our internuncio]; te viditam = to you, known, [you already appreciate.]

"Oh, exalted king Janaka, you already appreciate that this godly sage Vashishta is godlike to the bloodline of Ikshvaku-s, and in all affairs he is our internuncio... [1-70-16b, 17a]

Verse Locator

विश्वामित्र अभ्यनुज्ञातः सह सर्वैः महर्षिभिः ॥ १-७०-१७
एष वक्ष्यति धर्मात्मा वसिष्ठो मे यथा क्रमम् ।
तूष्णीम् भूते दशरथे वसिष्ठो भगवान् ऋषिः ॥ १-७०-१८
उवाच वाक्यम् वाक्यज्ञो वैदेहम् स पुरोधसाम् ।

17b, 18, 19a. sarvaiH maharSibhiH saha = all, great sages, along with; vishvaamitra abhi anu j~naataH = by Vishvamitra, duly assented; dharmaatmaa eSa vasiSThaH = virtue-souled [equanimous,] this, Vashishta; yathaa kramam = as per, lineage; me = of mine [my bloodline]; vakSyatihe = will narrate about; dasharathe = by Dasharatha; tuuSNiim bhuute = silent, on becoming - when took pause; vaakya j~naH = sententious sage; vasiSThaH bhagavaan R^iSiH = Vashishta, godly, sage; sa purodhasaam = with, [his] men of the cloth; vaideham vaakyam uvaaca = to Videha king, sentence, said.

"Should an assent be given by Sage Vishvamitra, along with all the great sages present here, this equanimous Vashishta will narrate about my bloodline, lineally..." And, to the nod of Vishvamitra Dasharatha become reticent, and then the godly and sententious sage Vashishta who is along with his men of the cloth said these sentences to the king of Videha, namely Janaka. [1-70-17b, 18, 19a]

Verse Locator

अव्यक्त प्रभवो ब्रह्मा शाश्वतो नित्य अव्ययः ॥ १-७०-१९
तस्मात् मरीचिः संजज्ञे मरीचिः कश्यपः सुतः ।
विवस्वान् कश्यपात् जज्ञे मनुर् वैवस्वतः स्मृतः ॥ १-७०-२०

19b, 20. a+vyakta = un, provable; prabhavaH = emanated from; shaashvataH = timeless; nitya = changeless; a vyayaH = perishless; such a; brahmaa = Brahma - is there; tasmaat mariiciH sanjaj~ne = from, that [Being, Brahma,] Mariichi, is begotten; mariiceH kashyapaH sutaH = of Mariichi, Kaashyapa, is the son; kashyapaat = from Kaashyapa; vivasvaan = Vivasvaan [The Sun]; jaj~ne = is begotten; vaivasvataH = from Vaivasvat [from Sun]; manuH smR^itaH = = Manu, is said to be the son.

"The Unprovable emanated the timeless, changeless and perishless Brahma, and from that Being, namely Brahma, Mariichi is begotten, and Kaashyapa is the son of Mariichi, and the Sun is begotten from Kaashyapa, and Manu is said to be the son of the Sun... [1-70-19b, 20]

The avyakta is the 'Unmanifest' of advaita tenet. Here it an 'Unprovable' entity since it cannot be proved by pramaana-s 'source of knowledge' like pratyaksha, anumana, tarka, aagama... 'perception, inference, logic, scriptures...' and because Vishnu cannot be deduced by these sources of knowledge, Vishnu Himself becomes the avyakta. And from the viewpoint of mythology, Ramayana has no place for a 'featureless Absolute...' nir guNa brahma of advaita, because Valmiki's initial questions to Narada include ko guNavaan, and thus He is sa guNa brahma. Hence avykta or aakaasha, a kaasha, 'minus, leeway...' all-pervading...' is Vishnu, the 'Unprovable'.

This aakaasha is the often repeated expression in Upanishad-s, telling it to be the aatma, Absolute, abiding in each individual jiiva aatma, Individual Soul. aakaasho ha vai naama ruupayoH nirvahitaaH te yad antara tad brahma tad amR^itam sa aatmaa - chaandogya - 8-14 | ko he vaaNyatkaH praaNaat ya eSha aakaasha aanando na syaat - taittiriya - 7 anuvaaka | aakaashor arthaantaratvaadivyaapadeshaat - 1-3-41 | dahara uttarebhyaH - 1-3-14 - brahma suutra ; 'who is he to be able to balance himself if this aakaasha is not to be there...' Taittiriya; 'that which makes the names and forms is within you alone as your innermost inner-space, that alone is deathless...' Chanandogya; 'akaasha [is Absolute] because it is proclaimed to be something different etc., [from names and forms yet their revealer...]; 'the small [aakaasha] is Absolute because of subsequent texts [which give ample evidence of it...] Brahma Sutra. Hence, it is Vishnu.

Out of the three epithets to Brahma one is 'timeless' because He continues to be in two para artha-s, say 31, 10, 40, 00, 00, 00, 000 human years, without transmutation, yet He continues further. He is 'changeless' as his faculties or His divine being does not undergo any mutation or metamorphosis. He is 'perishless' during the above period and after, since Vishnu gave rise to Him. Up to here is ultramundane order of progeny and the mundane lineage is now continued.

Verse Locator

मनुः प्रजापतिः पूर्वम् इक्ष्वाकुः च मनोः सुतः ।
तम् इक्ष्वाकुम् अयोध्यायाम् राजानम् विद्धि पूर्वकम् ॥ १-७०-२१

21. manuH puurvam prajaapatiH = Manu is, earliest, Prajaapati; ikSvaakuH manoH sutaH = Ikshvaku is, Manu's, son; tam ikSvaakum = him, that Ikshvaku; ayodhyaayaam = in Ayodhya; puurvakam raajaanam viddhi = as earliest, king, know thus.

"Manu is the earliest Prajaapati and Ikshvaku is the son of Manu, and that Ikshvaku is the first king of Ayodhya... know thus... [1-70-21]

Verse Locator

इक्ष्वाकोः तु सुतः श्रीमान् कुक्षिः इति एव विश्रुतः ।
कुक्षेः अथ आत्मजः श्रीमान् विकुक्षिः उपपद्यत ॥ १-७०-२२

22. shriimaan kukSiH iti eva vishrutaH = legendary one, Kukshi, thus, only, renowned; ikSvaakoH sutaH = Ikshvaku's, son; atha = then; kukSeH = from Kukshi; shriimaan vikukshiH aatmajaH upapadyata = famous, Vikukshi, son - originated.

"The son of Ikshvaku is the legendary Kukshi, thus he is renowned, and the famous Vikukshi is the son of Kukshi... [1-70-22]

Verse Locator

विकुक्षेः तु महातेजा बाणः पुत्रः प्रतापवान् ।
बाणस्य तु महातेजा अनरण्यः प्रतापवान् ॥ १-७०-२३

23. mahaatejaa = most brilliant one; prataapavaan = courageous one; baaNaaH = Baana; vikuksheH putraH = Vikukshi's, son; mahaatejaa prataapavaan = highly refulgent, valiant; anaraNyaH = Anaranya is; baaNasya = Baana's [son.]

"From that most brilliant and courageous Vikukshi, Baana emerged as son, and the highly refulgent and valiant Anaranya is the son of Baana... [1-70-23]

Verse Locator

अनरण्यात् पृथुः जज्ञे त्रिशंकुः तु पृथोः सुतः ।
त्रिशङ्कोः अभवत् पुत्रो धुन्धुमारः महायशाः ॥ १-७०-२४

24. anaraNyaat pR^ithuH jaj~ne = from Anaranya, Pruthu, born; trishankuH tu pR^ithoH sutaH = Trishanku is, but, Pruthu's, son; trishankoH = from Trishanku; mahaayashaaH dhundhumaaraH putraH abhavat = highly renowned one, Dhundumaara, son, emerged as.

"Pruthu is the son of Anaranya, and Trishanku is Pruthu's son, and the highly renowned Dhundumaara happened to be the son of Trishanku... [1-70-24]

Verse Locator

धुन्धुमारात् महातेजा युवनाश्वो महारथः ।

युवनाश्व सुतः असीत् मान्धाता पृथिवी पतिः ॥ १-७०-२५

25. dhundhumaaraat = from Dhundumaara; mahaatejaa mahaarathaH yuvanaashvaH = highly glorious one, speediest charioteer, Yuvanaashva - is the son; pR^ithivii patiH = land, lord of - king; maandhaataa = Maandhaata; yuvanaashva sutaH asiit = Yuvanaashva's, son, emerged as.

"Dhundumaara begot a highly glorious and a speediest charioteer Yuvanaashva as son, and Maandhaata emerged as the son of Yuvanaashva... [1-70-25]

Verse Locator

मान्धातुः तु सुतः श्रीमान् सुसन्धिः उदपद्यत ।

सुसंधेः अपि पुत्रौ द्वौ ध्रुवसंधिः प्रसेनजित् ॥ १-७०-२६

26. maandhaatuH = to Maandhaata; susandhiH = one named Susandhi; shriimaan sutaH udapadyata = a highly noble, son, engendered; susandheH api = from Susandhi, even; dhruvasandhiH = Dhruvasandhi; prasenajit = Prasenajit; dvau putrau = two, sons - took birth.

"Maandhaata engendered the highly noble Susandhi as son, and even Susandhi engendered two sons, namely Dhruvasandhi and Prasenajit... [1-70-26]

Verse Locator

यशस्वी ध्रुवसंधेः तु भरतो नाम नामतः ।

भरतात् तु महातेजा असितो नाम जायत ॥ १-७०-२७

27. dhruvasandheH tu = from Dhruvasandhi, but; naamataH bharataH naama = by name, Bharata, named; yashasvii = an illustrious one - took birth; bharataat tu = from Bharata, but; mahaatejaa = highly effulgent one; asita naama jaayata = Asita, by name, is begotten.

"From Dhruvasandhi, an illustrious one named as Bharata is begotten, and Bharata begot a highly effulgent son named as Asita... [1-70-27]

Verse Locator

यस्य एते प्रति राजन उदपत्यन्त शात्रवः ।

हैहय तालजंघाः च शूराः च शशबिंदुः ॥ १-७०-२८

28. yasya = to which [Asita]; haihaya = Haihaya-s; taalajanghaaH ca = Taalajanghaa-s, also; shuuraaH shashabindvaH = valiant, Shashabindu-s; ete = these are; prati raajana = counter, kings [hostile kings]; shaatravaH udapatyanta = adversaries, resulted as.

"To which Asita, kings like Haihaya-s, Taalajanghaa-s, and the valiant Shashabindu-s have become adversaries and kings in hostility, he had to wage war with them... [1-70-28]

Verse Locator

तान् च स प्रति युद्धयन् वै युद्धे राजा प्रवासितः ।
हिमवन्तम् उपागंय भार्याभ्याम् सहितः तदा ॥ १-७०-२९

29. saH = he Asita; taan yuddhe = them, in war; prati yuddhyan = counter, attacking; pravaasitaH = exiled [dethroned]; raajaa = king Asita; tadaa = then; bhaaryaabhyaam sahitaH = two wives, along with; himavantam upaagamyaa = Himalayas, on reaching.

"While counterattacking those kings, Asita is dethroned in war and then he reached Himalayas along with his two wives... [1-70-29]

Verse Locator

असितो अल्प बलो राजा काल धर्मम् उपेयिवान् ।
द्वे च अस्य भार्ये गर्भिण्यै बभूवतुः इति श्रुति ॥ १-७०-३०
एका गर्भ विनाश अर्थम् सपत्नै सगरम् ददौ ।

30, 31a. raajaa asitaH = king, Asita; alpa balaH = with meagre, army; [staying on Himalayas]; kaala dharmam upeyivaan = Time's, onus, he drew nigh of - breathed his last; at that time; asya dve bhaarye garbhiNyai babhuuvatuH = his, two, wives, pregnant, they were; ekaa = one [of two wives]; garbha vinaasha artham = pregnancy, ruination [abortion,] purpose of; sa patnai sagaram dadau = to co-, wife, toxic [food,] gave; iti shruti = thus, we heard.

"Asita was with his meagre forces when he was in Himalayas, and there he drew nigh of his Time. At the time of his demise two of his wives were pregnant, and one of two wives gave toxic food to the co-wife for abortion... thus we heard... [1-70-30-31a]

Verse Locator

ततः शैलवरे रंये बभूव अभिरतो मुनिः ॥ १-७०-३१
भार्गव च्यवनो नाम हिमवंतम् उपाश्रितः ।

31b-32a. tataH = then; ramye shaila vare abhirataH = on mountain, best, beautiful, in fascination; bhaargava cyavanaH naama muniH = sage Bhrigu's [heir,] Cyavana, named, saint; himavantam upaashritaH babhuuva = on Himalayas, taking shelter, he was there.

"There was a saint named Cyavana, the heir of Sage Bhrigu, who in fascination with best and beautiful mountains then taking shelter on Himalayas. [1-70-31b, 32a]

Verse Locator

तत्र च एका महाभागा भार्गवम् देव वर्चसम् ॥ १-७०-३२
ववन्दे पद्म पत्राक्षी कांक्षन्ती सुतम् उत्तमम् ।

32b, 33a. mahaabhaagaa = highly fortunate one; padma patra akshii = lotus, petal, eyed one; [tayoH = of the two wives]; ekaa = one [from two wives of Asita]; uttamam sutam kaankshantii = a best, son, desirous of; tatra = there; deva varcasam bhaargavam vavande = godly, in glow, revered.

"One of the two wives of Asita, the lotus-petal eyed and highly fortunate one queen came there desirous of a best son, and revered the sage who is godly in his glow... [1-70-32b-33a]

Verse Locator

तम् ऋषिम् सा अभ्युपगंय कालिन्दी च अभ्यवादत् ॥ १-७०-३३
स ताम् अभ्यवदत् विप्रः पुत्र ईप्सुम् पुत्र जन्मनि ।

33b, 34a. saa kaalindii ca = she, that Kaalidi, also; tam R^iSim abhyupagamyā abhyavaadata = to him, that sage, on reaching nigh, revered; saH = he, that; vipraH = Brahman - the sage; taam = to her - who firstly arrived, who received poison; putra iipsum = son, who is desiring; putra janmani = in the matter of son's, birth; abhi avadat = towards, said.

"Another queen Kaalindi who administer food poison to her co-wife has also come to the sage, and she too revered him. That sage spoke to her who received poison from her co-wife regarding the birth of her son. [1-70-34]

There are variations in reading these lines. While some say that Kaalindi is one who 'gave' toxic food to her sister, while some others say that Kaalindi is the one who 'received' the poisoned food. Here taking the kaalindi ca 'Kaalindi also...' it is said that 'Kaalindi is she who has administered poison...' Since she is also pregnant, coupled with the guilt of poisoning, hence the use of ca, she too came to the sage.

Verse Locator

तव कुक्षौ महाभागे सु पुत्रः सु महाबलः ॥ १-७०-३४

महावीर्यो महातेजा अचिरात् संजनिष्यति ।

गरेण सहितः श्रीमान् मा शुचः कमलेक्षणे ॥ १-७०-३५

34b, 35. mahaabhaage = oh, highly fortunate lady; tava kukshau = in your, stomach [womb]; su mahaabalaH = very, highly mighty one; mahaaviiryaH mahaatejaa = highly vigorous, highly refulgent one; su putraH = a righteous, son - is there; shriimaan = that illustrious one; gareNa sahitaH = toxin, along with; aciraat samjaniSyati = soon, he takes birth; kamala iikshaNe = oh, lotus-petal eyed one; maa shucaH = need not, worry.

" 'Oh, highly fortunate lady, a very good son and a very mighty son is there in your womb. Soon you will give birth to a highly vigorous, highly refulgent son and that illustrious one will take birth with toxicity, but there is no need to worry...' So said Sage Cyavana to the queen of Asita who received the poison. [1-70-35]

Verse Locator

च्यवनम् च नमस्कृत्य राजपुत्री पतिव्रता ।

पत्या विरहिता तस्मात् पुत्रम् देवी व्यजायत ॥ १-७०-३६

36. raajaputrii pativrataa = king's, daughter, husband devout; patyaa virahitaa = husband, without [is no more]; devii = that lady; cyavanam namaskR^itya = to Sage Cyavana, on reverencing; tasmaat = thereby [by the boon of sage]; putram vyajaayata = son, gave birth to.

"On reverencing Sage Cyavana that husband devout princess whose husband is no more that lady gave birth to a son... [1-70-36]

Verse Locator

सपत्न्या तु गरः तस्यैः दत्तो गर्भ जिघांसया ।

सह तेन गरेण एव संजातः सगरोऽ अभवत् ॥ १-७०-३७

37. sapatnyaa = by co-wife; tasyaiH = to her; garbha jighaamsayaa = for womb, ruination [for abortion]; garaH dattaH = poison, given; tena gareNa saha samjaataH = with that, poison, along with, who took birth; hence he; sagaraH abhavat = Sagara, became.

"Because he took birth along with the poison administered to his mother by her co-wife, he became Sagara, the emperor..." [1-70-37]

Parable: When king Asita passed away his queen and this Sagara's mother wanted to commit self-immolation, but this Sage Cyavana dissuades her from it because she is pregnant, and takes her to his hermitage. When she gave birth to Sagara, Sage Cyavana rears up Sagara and teaches him all of the archery by according aagneya astra Fire-missile etc., kingcraft, and scriptures. On one occasion when Sagara asks for the details about his father, Cyavana had to tell all the legend of Asita and his conflicts with yavana-s, and shaka-s. Sagara becoming furious at Haihaya-s, Taalajanghaa-s, and the valiant Shashabindu-s, wars with them and drives them out of this country. While doing so, Sagara makes yavana-s tonsured, shaka-s or so-called Scythians, as half-tonsured, and paarada-s as shaggy haired ones, thus stripping of their Kshatriya-hood. Taking the nearness of name paarada to Persia, it is said that the kings repulsed by Sagara taken domicile in the Middle East and a aaryan or a aa riaan is Airan or present day Iran, and age-old are Indo-Iranian links. Further, the word Asia has its own nearness to the name of king Asita.

Verse Locator

सगरस्य अस्य असमंजः तु असमंजात् अथ अंशुमान् ।
दिलीपो अंशुमतः पुत्रो दिलीपस्य भगीरथः ॥ १-७०-३८

38. asya sagarasya asamanjaH = from that, Sagara, Asamnja; atha = then; asamanjaat amshumaan = from Asamanja, Amshuman; diliipaH amshumataH putraH = Diliipa, Amshuman's, son; diliipasya bhagiirathaH = of Diliipa, is Bhageeratha - is the son.

"From Sagara it is Asamanja and from Asamanja it is Amshuman, and from Amshuman it is Diliipa, and the son of Diliipa is Bhageeratha... [1-70-38]

Verse Locator

भगीरथात् ककुत्स्थः च ककुत्स्थस्य रघुः तथा ।
रघोः तु पुत्रः तेजस्वी प्रवृद्धः पुरुषादकः ॥ १-७०-३९
कल्माषपादो हि अभवत् तस्मात् जातः तु शङ्खणः ।

39, 40a. bhagiirathaat kakutsthaH ca = from Bhageeratha, Kakutstha, also; tathaa = thus; raghuH kakutsthasya = it is Raghu, from Kakutstha; tejasvii pravR^iddhaH = resplendent one, Pravridhha; raghoH putraH = Raghu's, son; he alone is; puruSa aadakaH = human flesh, eater; kalmaaSapaadaH hi abhavat = Kalmashapaada one, indeed, [Pravridhha] became; tasmaat sha~NkhaNaH jaataH = from him [Pravridhha,] Shankana, is born.

"From Bhageeratha it is Kakutstha, from Kakutstha it is Raghu, and Raghu's son is the great resplendent Pravridhha, who is reduced to a human flesh eater, and he is also known as Kalmashapaada... and from him, that Pravridhha, Shankana is born... [1-70-39, 40a]

This Pravridhha is really a great king in this lineage, but somewhat arrogant. So, at one time he was subjected to the fury of Vashishta and becomes a man-eating demon. But he too got his mystic powers. When he was trying to issue a counter-curse to Vashishta, by taking water into his hand, his wife Madayanti, being a husband devout wife dissuades him to not to counter all-powerful Vashishta. He on listening to his wife drops that water taken for cursing, onto his own feet. Then his accursed water blemished him via his feet. Hence, he is also termed as Kalmashapaada.

Verse Locator

सुदर्शनः शंखणस्य अग्निवर्णः सुदर्शनात् ॥ १-७०-४०
शीघ्रगः तु अग्निवर्णस्य शीघ्रगस्य मरुः सुतः ।
मरोः प्रशुश्रुकः तु आसीत् अंबरीषः प्रशुश्रुकात् ॥ १-७०-४१

40b, 41. shankhaNasya sudarshanaH = Shamkana's [son is,] Sudarshana; sudarshanaat agnivarNaH = from Sudarshana, it is AgnivarNa; agnivarNasya shiighragah = of AgnivarNa, Shiighraga; shiighragasya sutaH maruH = Shiighraga's, son, is Maru; maroH prashushrukaH = from Maru, it is Prashushruka; prashushrukaat ambariisaH aasiit = from Prashushruka, Ambariisha, it was - the son.

" Shankana's son is Sudarshana, and from Sudarshana it is AgnivarNa... And Shiighraga is the son of AgnivarNa, and Shiighraga's son is Maru and from Maru it is Prashushruka, and Ambariisha is the son of Prashushruka... [1-70-41]

Verse Locator

अंबरीषस्य पुत्रो अभूत् नहुषः च महीपतिः ।

नहुषस्य ययातिः तु नाभागः तु ययाति जः ॥ १-७०-४२

42. mahiipatiH nahuSaH = king, Nahusha; ambariiSasya putraH abhuut = Ambariisha's, son, was there; nahuSasya yayaatiH = Nahusha's [son is,] Yayaati; naabhaagaH yayaati jaH = Naabhaaga, from Yayaati, born.

"Ambariisha's son was Nahusha, the emperor and Yayaati is the son of Nahusha, but Naabhaaga is born to Yayaati... [1-70-42]

These names Nahusha and Yayaati also occur in other Puraana-s, indicating them in earlier eras to Ramayana period.

Verse Locator

नाभागस्य भभूव अज अजात् दशरथो अभवत् ।

अस्मात् दशरथात् जातौ भ्रातरौ राम लक्ष्मणौ ॥ १-७०-४३

43. naabhaagasya aja bhabhuuva = Naabhaaga's, Aja, became - son; ajaat dasharathaH abhavat = from Aja, Dasharatha, is manifest; asmaat dasharathaat = from him, from Dasharatha,; bhraatarau raama lakSmaNau jaatau = brothers, Rama, Lakshmana, are born.

"Aja was Naabhaaga's son and from Aja, this Dasharatha is manifest, and from him, from this Dasharatha, these brothers, Rama and Lakshmana are born... [1-70-43]

Verse Locator

आदि वंश विशुद्धानाम् राज्ञाम् परम धर्मिणाम् ।

इक्ष्वाकु कुल जातानाम् वीराणाम् सत्य वादिनाम् ॥ १-७०-४४

राम लक्ष्मणयोः अर्थे त्वत् सुते वरये नृप ।

सदृशाभ्याम् नरश्रेष्ठ सदृशे दातुम् अर्हसि ॥ १-७०-४५

44, 45. narashreSTha = oh, best one among men, oh, Janaka; nR^ipa = oh, king Janaka; aadi [aaditaH] = from the beginning; vamsha = dynastically [this bloodline]; vi shuddhaanaam = spotlessly immaculate [souls]; parama dharmiNaam = immensely, impeccable ones; viiraaNaam = for indomitable ones; satya vaadinaam = truth, advocates of - irreproachable ones; ikSvaaku kula jaataanaam = in Ikshvaaku bloodline, born in; raaj~naam = belonging to kings; raama lakSmaNayoH arthe = Rama, Lakshmana's, in respect of; tvat sute varaye = your, daughters, I espouse; sadR^ishaabhyaam sadR^ishe = to seemly [pair of brothers,] seemly daughters of yours; datum = to espouse to; arhasi = meetly of you.

"Oh, best one among men, Janaka, from the beginning this bloodline of Ikshvaaku-s is spotlessly immaculate, immensely impeccable, indomitable, and irreproachable, and in respect of these kings born in this line of blood, oh, king Janaka, I espouse that it will be meetly of you to offer your seemly daughters to this seemly pair of Rama and Lakshmana..." So said Vashishta to king Janaka. [1-70-44, 45]

इति वाल्मीकि रामायणे आदि काव्ये बाल काण्डे सप्ततितमः सर्गः

Thus, this is the 70th chapter in Bala Kanda of Valmiki Ramayana, the First Epic poem of India.

Book I : Bala Kanda - The Youthful Majesties

Chapter [Sarga] 71 Verses converted to UTF-8, Oct 09

Introduction

Janaka narrates his lineage while offering his daughters as brides to Rama and Lakshmana. In doing so, he elaborates more about his brother Kushadhvaja, whose daughters are the would-be-wives of Bharata and Shatrughna. They even fix the timings for marriage.

Verse Locator

एवम् ब्रुवाणम् जनकः प्रत्युवाच कृतांजलिः ।
श्रोतुम् अर्हसि भद्रम् ते कुलम् नः परिकीर्तितम् ॥ १-७१-१

1. evam bruvaaNam = this way, to him who is saying - to Vashishta; janakaH kR^itaanjaliH pratyuvaaca = Janaka, reverentially making palm-fold, in reply said; te bhadram = you be safe; parikiirtitam = distinguished; naH kulam = of our, lineage; shrotum arhasi = to listen, apt of you - all of you.

When sage Vashishta said that way, Janaka reverentially made palm fold and said this in reply, "oh, sage, let safeness betide you all... now, it will be apt of you all to listen to our distinguished lineage... [1-71-1]

Verse Locator

प्रदाने हि मुनि श्रेष्ठ कुलम् निरवशेषतः ।
वक्तव्यम् कुल जातेन तन् निबोध महामुने ॥ १-७१-२

2. muni shreSTha = oh, eminent sage; mahaamune = oh, great sage; kula jaatena = in [a particular noble] gens, born ones; pradaane = while offering [bride]; nir ava sheSataH = without, a little, remainder [completely, in entirety]; kulam vaktavyam hi = parentage, speakable - to be informed, isn't it; tat nibodha = thereby, let all be informed of our lineage.

"Oh, eminent sage Vashishta, he who is born in a particular noble gens has to inform about his parentage in its entirety, especially when he offers a bride... thereby oh, great sage, let all be informed of about our lineage... [1-71-2]

Verse Locator

राजा अभूत् त्रिषु लोकेषु विश्रुतः स्वेन कर्मणा ।
निमिः परम धर्मात्मा सर्व सत्त्ववताम् वरः ॥ १-७१-३

3. svena karmaNaa = by his own, accomplishments; triSu lokeSu vishrutaH = in triad, of worlds, renowned one; parama dharma aatmaa = uniquely, seraphic, souled one; sarva sattvavataam varaH = among all, stalwart [emperors,] best one; raajaa nimiH abhuut = emperor, Nimi, was there - once upon a time.

"Once there was an emperor Nimi, who was renowned in the triad of worlds by his own accomplishments, and who was uniquely seraphic-souled and a best one among all stalwart

तस्य पुत्रो मिथिः नाम जनको मिथि पुत्रकः ।

प्रथमो जनको नाम जनकात् अपि उदावसुः ॥ १-७१-४

4. mithiH naama = Mithi, named; tasya putraH = his, son; prathamaH janakaH naama = first, Janaka, by name [designated as]; mithi putrakaH janakaH = Mithi's, son, is Janaka; janakaat api udaavasuh = from Janaka, even, Udaavasuh - are born.

"And his son was named as Mithi, and Janaka was Mithi's son... the first one to be designated as Janaka... and even from that Janaka it is Udaavasuh who took birth... [1-71-4]

उदावसोः तु धर्मात्मा जातो वै नन्दिवर्धनः ।

नन्दिवर्धन पुत्रः तु सुकेतुः नाम नामतः ॥ १-७१-५

5. udaavasoH tu = from Udaavasuh, on his part; dharmaatmaa nandivardhanaH jaataH = noble souled, Nandivardhana, took birth; nandivardhana putraH tu = Nandivardhana's, son, but; naamataH suketuH naama = by name, Suketu, named one.

"From Udaavasuh it is noble souled Nandivardhana took birth, and Nandivardhana's son is named as Suketu, by his name... [1-71-5]

सुकेतोः अपि धर्मात्मा देवरातो महाबलः ।

देवरातस्य राजर्षेः बृहद्रथ इति स्मृतः ॥ १-७१-६

6. suketoH api = from Suketu, even; dharmaatmaa = virtue-souled one; mahaa balaH = highly powerful; devaraataH = Devaraata - is born; devaraatasya raajarSeH bR^ihadratha iti smR^iutaH = from Devaraata, kingly sage, Brihadratha, thus, heard - him to be his son.

"From Suketu the highly powerful and virtue-souled Devaraata is born, and from that kingly sage Devaraata, it is Brihadratha who took birth, thus we have heard... [1-71-6]

बृहद्रथस्य शूरो अभूत् महावीरः प्रतापवान् ।

महावीरस्य धृतिमान् सुधृतिः सत्य विक्रमः ॥ १-७१-७

7. bR^ihadrathasya = of Brihadratha; shuuraH prataapavaan mahaaviiraH abhuut = valiant one, highly brave, courageous one, Mahaaviira, became - took birth; mahaaviirasya = of Mahaavira; dhR^itimaan = bold one; satya vikramaH = truth, valiant; sudhR^itiH = Sudhriti - is the son.

"From Brihadratha it is the highly braving, courageous and valiant Mahaaviira has come, and the bold and truth-valiant Sudhriti from Mahaaviira... [1-71-7]

सुधृतेः अपि धर्मात्मा धृष्टकेतुः सु धार्मिकः ।

धृष्टकेतोः च राजर्षेः हर्यश्च इति विश्रुतः ॥ १-७१-८

8. sudhR^iteH api = from Sudhriti, even; dharmaatmaa = right-minded one; su dhaarmikaH = highly, generous one; dhR^iSTaketuH = it is Dhristaketu; raajarSeH dhR^iSTaketuH = from kingly sage, Dhristaketu; haryashva iti vishrutaH = Haryashva, thus, renowned - son is born.

"Form Sudhriti, the right-minded and highly generous Dhristaketu took birth, and from the kingly sage Dhristaketu it is highly renowned Haryashva is the son... [1-71-8]

Verse Locator

हर्यश्वस्य मरुः पुत्रो मरोः पुत्रः प्रतीन्धकः ।
प्रतीन्धकस्य धर्मात्मा राजा कीर्तिरथः सुतः ॥ १-७१-९

9. haryashvasya putraH maruH = Haryashva's, son is, Maru; maroH putraH pratiindhakaH = Maru's, son is, Pratiindhaka; pratiindhakasya sutaH = Pratiindhaka's, son is; dharmaatmaa = noble souled one; raajaa kiirtirathaH = king, Kiiriratha.

"Haryashva's son is Maru, and Maru's, son is Pratiindhaka, and the son of Pratiindhaka's is noble-souled king Kiirtiratha... [1-71-9]

Verse Locator

पुत्रः कीर्तिरथस्य अपि देवमीढ इति स्मृतः ।
देवमीढस्य विबुधो विबुधस्य महीध्रकः ॥ १-७१-१०

10. kiirtirathasya api putraH = of Kiirtiratha, even, son is; devamiiDha iti smR^itaH = Devamidha, thus, remembered; devamiiDhasya vibudho = of Devamiidha, Vibudha; vibudhasya mahiidhrakaH = Vibudha's, Mahiidraka.

"The son of Kiirtiratha is remembered as Devamiidha, and the son of Devamiidha is Vibudha, and Vibudha's son is Mahiidraka... [1-71-10]

Verse Locator

महीध्रक सुतो राजा कीर्तिरातो महाबलः ।
कीर्तिं रातस्य राजऋषेः महारोमा व्यजायत ॥ १-७१-११

11. mahaabalaH = great mighty one; raajaa kiirtiraataH = king, Kiirtiraata is; mahiidhraka sutaH = Mahiidraka's, son; raajaR^iSeH kiirtiraatasya = to sagely king, Kiirtiraata; mahaaromaa vyajaayata = Mahaaroma, born.

"Mahiidraka's son is the great mighty king Kiirtiraata, and the son born to sagely king Kiirtiraata is Mahaaroma... [1-71-11]

Verse Locator

महारोम्णः तु धर्मात्मा स्वर्णरोमा व्यजायत ।
स्वर्णरोम्णः तु राजर्षेः ह्रस्वरोमा व्यजायत ॥ १-७१-१२

12. mahaaromNaH tu = from Mahaaroma, but; dharmaatmaa = virtue-souled one; svarNaromaa vyajaayata = Swarnaroma, is born; raajarSeH svarNaromNaH tu = to kingly sage, Swarnaroma, on his part; hrasvaromaa vyajaayata = Hrasvaroma, is born.

"From Mahaaroma it is the virtue-souled Swarnaroma, and from kingly sage Swarnaroma it is Hrasvaroma... [1-71-12]

Verse Locator

तस्य पुत्र द्वयम् जज्ञे धर्मज्ञस्य महात्मनः ।
ज्येष्ठो अहम् अनुजो भ्राता मम वीरः कुशध्वज ॥ १-७१-१३

13. dharmaj~nasya tasya = that virtue, knower, from him; mahaatmanaH = noble-souled ones; putra dvayam jaj~ne = sons, a pair of, are born; aham jyeSThaH = I am, elder; viiraH kushadhvaja = brave one, Kushadhvaja is; mama = my; anu jaH = later, born [younger]; bhraataa = brother.

"Two sons are born to that knower of virtue and noble souled Hrasvaroma, I am the elder, and my younger brother is this brave Kushadhvaja... [1-71-13]

Verse Locator

माम् तु ज्येष्ठम् पिता राज्ये सो अभिषिच्य नराधिप ।
कुशध्वजम् समावेश्य भारम् मयि वनम् गतः ॥ १-७१-१४

14. pitaa saH naraadhipa = father, he, that king; jyeSTham maam = elder me; raajye abhiSicya = in kingdom, anointed; kushadhvajam bhaaram = Kushadhvaja's, burden [duty to look after]; mayi samaaveshya = in me, vesting; vanam gataH = to forests, departed.

"He that king and father of ours, Hrasvaroma, anointing me in kingdom as I am the elder, and vesting the duty of looking after Kushadhvaja in me, he departed to forests... [1-71-14]

Verse Locator

वृद्धे पितरि स्वर्य याते धर्मेण धुरम् आवहम् ।
भ्रातरम् देव संकाशम् स्नेहात् पश्यन् कुशध्वजम् ॥ १-७१-१५

15. vR^iddhe pitari svar yaate sati = aged, father, to heaven, on departure; bhraataram = brother; and; deva sankasham kushadhvajam = god, similar, Kushadhvaja - his upbringing; snehaat pashyanem = by friendship [with brotherliness,] while looking after; dharmeNa = righteously; dhuram = burden [of kingship]; aavaham = lugging around.

"On the departure of our aged father to heaven, I am looking after this godlike Kushadhvaja with brotherliness and lugging around the burden of this kingship... [1-71-15]

Verse Locator

कस्यचित् तु अथ कालस्य सांकाश्यात् अगमत् पुरात् ।
सुधन्वा वीर्यवान् राजा मिथिलाम् अवरोधकः ॥ १-७१-१६

16. atha = later; kasyacit tu kaalasya = sometime, but, after time; viiryavaan = valorous one; sudhanvaa raajaa = Sudhanva, a king; mithilaam avarodhakaH = Mithila, to beleaguer; saamkaashyaat puraat = from Saamkaasha, city; agamat = he came.

"Then after sometime, a valorous king named Sudhanva came beleaguering Mithila, from his city Saamkaasha... [1-71-16]

Verse Locator

स च मे प्रेषयामास शैवम् धनुः अनुत्तमम् ।
सीता कन्या च पद्माक्षी मह्यम् वै दीयताम् इति ॥ १-७१-१७

17. anuttamam shaivam dhanuH = unexcelled, Shiva's, bow; padmaakSii kanyaa siitaa ca = lotus-eyed, virgin, Seetha, along with; mahyam diiyataam = to me, be given; iti saH ca me preSayaamaasa = thus, he, even, me, started to urge.

" 'The unexcelled bow of Shiva shall be given to me, along with the lotus-eyed virgin, Seetha...' thus he started to urge me... [1-71-17]

Verse Locator

तस्य अप्रदानात् ब्रह्मर्षे युद्धम् आसीत् मया सह ।
स हतो अभिमुखो राजा सुधन्वा तु मया रणे ॥ १-७१-१८

18. brahmarSe = oh, Brahma-sage Vashishta; a pradaanaat = non, bestowal - for the reason of; tasya = to him; mayaa saha = me, with; yuddham aasiit = war, occurred; raNe abhimukhaH = in war, he who affronted; saH raajaa sudhanvaa tu = he, king, Sudhanva, on his part; mayaa hataH = by me, put to the sword.

"Oh, Brahma sage Vashishta, for the reason of my non-bestowal of bow or bride he warred with me, and when he affronted me in that war I have put that Sudhanva to the sword... [1-71-18]

Verse Locator

निहत्य तम् मुनिश्रेष्ठ सुधन्वानम् नराधिपम् ।
सांकाश्ये भ्रातरम् शूरम् अभ्यषिचम् कुशध्वजम् ॥ १-७१-१९

19. munishreSTha = oh, best sage; naraadhipam tam sudhanvaanam nihatya = lord of people, him, Sudhanva, on eliminating; bhraataram shuuram kushadhvajam = brother, valiant one, Kushadhvaja; saamkaashye abhyaSincam = in Saamkaasha, I have anointed.

"Oh, best sage Vashishta, on eliminating king Sudhanva, I have anointed my valiant brother Kushadhvaja in the kingdom of Saamkaasha... [1-71-19]

Verse Locator

कनीयान् एष मे भ्राता अहम् ज्येष्ठो महामुने ।
ददामि परम प्रीतो वध्वौ ते मुनिपुंगव ॥ १-७१-२०
सीताम् रामाय भद्रम् ते ऊर्मिलाम् लक्ष्मणाय वै ।

20, 21a. mahaamune = oh, best saint; eSa me kaniyaan bhraataa = he is, my, younger, brother; aham jyeSThaH = I am, elder; munipungava = oh, eminent-saint; parama priitaH = highly, gladdened; te vadvau dadaami = those, brides, I am bestowing; siitaam raamaaya = Seetha, for Rama; uurmilaam lakSmaNaaya vai = Urmila, for Lakshmana, for sure; te bhadram = to you - to all, let there be felicity,.

"Oh, best saint Vashishta, this is that younger brother of mine, and I am the elder. Oh, eminent-saint, I am bestowing those brides with a highly gladdened heart... Seetha for Rama, and Urmila for Lakshmana, let there be felicity for all... [1-71-20, 21a]

Verse Locator

वीर्यं शुल्काम् मम सुताम् सीताम् सुर सुत उपमाम् ॥ १-७१-२१
द्वितीयाम् ऊर्मिलाम् चैव त्रिः वदामि न संशयः ।
ददामि परम प्रीतो वध्वौ ते मुनिपुंगव ॥ १-७१-२२

21b, 22a. viirya shulkaam = bravery's, bounty; sura suta upamaam = divine Providence's, daughter, in simile; mama sutaam siitaam = my, daughter, Seetha; dvitiiyaam uurmilaam caiva = second one, Urmila, also thus; munipungava = oh, eminent-saint; triH vadaami = thrice, I reiterate; parama priitaH = highly, gladdened; te vadvau dadaami = those, brides, I am bestowing; samshayaH na = doubt, is not there.

"My daughter Seetha is the bounty for bravery and in simile she is the daughter of the divine Providence, and thus the second one Urmila too... oh, eminent-saint, with a highly gladdened heart I reiterate thrice while I bestow those brides, there is no doubt about it... [1-71-21b, 22a]

The thrice reiteration is the threefold commitment mano vaak kaaya karaNaaH i.e., 'the three instruments of communication, mind, voice, and body... so I endow the brides whole-heartedly, clear-articulately, and agileam-physically...' Here this verse is addressed to Vashishta, while other mms say that it is aimed at Dasharatha by placing words 'raghunandana' instead of 'munipungava.'

Verse Locator

राम लक्ष्मणयो राजन् गो दानम् कारयस्व ह ।

पितृ कार्यम् च भद्रम् ते ततो वैवाहिकम् कुरु ॥ १-७१-२३

22b, c, 23. raajan = oh, king Dasharatha; raama lakSmaNayaH = for Rama, Lakshmana; go daanam = cow, donation [lexically, but this is different and given in comment]; kaarayasva ha = make happen, indeed; pitR^i kaaryam ca = to manes, ritual, also [get it done]; tataH vaivaahikam kuru = afterwards, wedding celebrations, you make happen; te bhadram = all be blest.

"Oh, king Dasharatha, let the preceding ritual of samaavartna, be undertaken, and let manes be propitiated by the ritual, naandi shraadha, and afterwards you make happen the wedding celebrations ... thus, all will be blest... [1-71-22b, 23]

The wording go daana differs from the ordinary lexical meaning 'cow donation' as the word gaavaka means body hair and daana is releasing, or let-going, i.e., shaving. When the students return home after the studentship they will be admitted into household after some rituals like shaving off unnecessary hair, taking oil bath etc. gauH dvayoH tu rashmiH dR^ig baaNa svarja vajra ambu lomasu - naa naa - go daanam caula vat kaaryam shoDaaShe abde taducyate | In this there will be a real cow donation also to the teacher of that student, when the student sheds his hair, after the barber attends him. After shaving off the unwanted hair, then samaavartana is undertaken. The problem pointed out at this place is, that Rama or Lakshmana are born without vyanjana kesha unwanted hair, except head-hair, as Indian mytholoj~n will not give a hairy makeup to these four brothers. 'How then Janaka asked to undertake such ceremony, when discardable hair itself is not there...' is the objection. Whether they have hair or not, the ceremony has to go on.

Verse Locator

मघा हि अद्य महाबाहो तृतीये दिवसे प्रभो ।

फल्गुन्याम् उत्तरे राजन् तस्मिन् वैवाहिकम् कुरु ।

राम लक्ष्मणयोः अर्थे दानम् कार्यम् सुखोदयम् ॥ १-७१-२४

24. mahaabaaho = oh, great dextrous Dasharatha; prabho = oh, lord; adya maghaa hi = today, [ruling star is] Magha, isn't it; raajan = oh, king; tR^itiye divase = on third, day from today; phalgunyaam = in Phalguni [when star Phalguni comes]; tasmin uttare = in that, later part [Uttara phalguNi]; vaivaahikam kuru = wedding, you make happen; raama lakSmaNayoH = for Rama, Lakshmana; sukha udayam arthe = for wellbeing, invoking, for purpose of [wellbeing is the only ensuing factor]; daanam kaaryam = bounties, doable [be accorded generously.]

"Oh, great dextrous Dasharatha, the star ruling today is magha, isn't it... oh, lord, on the third from now, say day after tomorrow, when the star phaalguNi comes, in its later part, namely uttara phalugNi, you may make happen this wedding, and the bounties like go bhuu tila hiraNya aadi i.e., 'cows, lands, grains, gold etc., that ensue the wellbeing of Rama and Lakshmana, may be accorded to the eligible generously... [1-71-24]

These old people have meticulously calculated stars and their sidereal times for marriage, but being old, they have forgotten to print the date of wedding on wedding invitations or, at least said about it. Thereby the dating of Ramayana has become a problem, and dating with Ramayana prospered.

इति वाल्मीकि रामायणे आदि काव्ये बाल काण्डे एक सप्ततितमः सर्गः

Thus, this is the 71st chapter in Bala Kanda of Valmiki Ramayana, the First Epic poem of India.

Book I : Bala Kanda - The Youthful Majesties

Chapter [Sarga] 72 Verses converted to UTF-8, Oct 09

Introduction

Vishvamitra proposes the marriages of Bharata and Shatrughna with the two daughters of Kushadhvaja, the younger brother of Janaka. This being a welcome offer, Janaka accords his immediate consent. Then Dasharatha proceeds with the initiatory rituals for the bridegrooms and donates cows and riches.

Verse Locator

तम् उक्तवन्तम् वैदेहम् विश्वामित्रो महामुनिः ।
उवाच वचनम् वीरम् वसिष्ठ सहितो नृपम् ॥ १-७२-१

1. mahaamuniH vishvaamitraH = eminent-saint, Vishvamitra; vasiSTha sahitaH = Vashishta, together with; uktavantam = to one who said [about his lineage, Janaka]; viiram = valiant one; tam vaideham nR^ipam = to him, Videha, king - Janaka; uvaaca vacanam = said, words.

Then the eminent-saint Vishvamitra together with Vashishta said these words to Janaka, the valiant king of Videha, who has just said about his lineage. [1-72-1]

Verse Locator

अर्चिंत्यानि अप्रमेयाणि कुलानि नरपुंगव ।
इक्ष्वाकूणाम् विदेहानाम् न एषाम् तुल्यो अस्ति कश्चन ॥ १-७२-२

2. narapungava = oh, best one among men; ikSvaakuuNaam videhaanaam = of Ikshvaku-s, of Videha-s; kulaani = dynasties; a cintyaani = not, imaginably [admirable]; a prameyaani = not, measurably [distinguished]; eSaam tulyaH = to them - kings of dynasties, comparable king; kashcana = anyone; na asti = not, is there.

"The Ikshvaku-s and Videha-s are unimaginably admirable and immeasurably distinguished dynasties, oh, Janaka, the best one among all men, there is no single king comparable to one from these dynasties... [1-72-2]

Verse Locator

सदृशो धर्म संबन्धः सदृशो रूप संपदा ।
राम लक्ष्मणयो राजन् सीता च ऊर्मिलया सह ॥ १-७२-३

3. raajan = oh, king; uurmilayaa saha siitaa = Urmila, with, Seetha; raama lakSmaNayoH = to Rama, Lakshmana; this espousal is; sadR^ishaH = behovely; dharma sambandhaH = righteous, alliance [espousal for dynastical prestige]; ruupa sampadaa sadR^ishaH ca = by winsome, charms [of brides and bridegrooms,] befitting, even.

"Oh, king Janaka, these espousals of Seetha with Rama and Urmila with Lakshmana is behovely to each other's dynastical prestige and even it is befitting to the winsome charms of the

वक्तव्यम् च नर श्रेष्ठ श्रूयताम् वचनम् मम ।
भ्राता यवीयान् धर्मज्ञ एष राजा कुशध्वजः ॥ १-७२-४

4. nara shreSTha = oh, man, the best [grand sire, that being so]; mama vaktavyam ca = by me, mentionable [advisable,] also; vacanam shruuyataam = words, be heard; yaviiyaan bhraataa = younger, brother; eSa raajaa kushadhvajaH = this, king, Kushadhvaja; dharma j~naH = probity, at home in.

"Oh, grand sire, you may listen to my words of advise... this younger brother of yours, king Kushadhvaja, is at home in every kind of probity... [1-72-4]

अस्य धर्मात्मनो राजन् रूपेण अप्रतिमम् भुवि ।
सुता द्वयम् नरश्रेष्ठ पत्नि अर्थम् वरयामहे ॥ १-७२-५

5. raajan = oh, king; narashreSTha = oh, grand sire, Janaka; ruupeNa bhuvi a pratimam = by looks, in world, not, matchable [nonpareil]; asya dharmaatmanaH = of this, right-minded [Kushadhvaja's]; sutaa dvayam = daughters, pair of; patni artham varayaamahe = wife for the purpose of[to pair off with Bharata and Shatrughna,] we choose.

"Oh, king, the pair of daughters of this right-minded Kushadhvaja is nonpareil in comeliness in this world, hence, oh, grand sire, we choose to pair them off with Bharata and Shatrughna... [1-72-5]

भरतस्य कुमारस्य शत्रुघ्नस्य च धीमतः ।
वरयेम सुते राजन् तयोः अर्थे महात्मनोः ॥ १-७२-६

6. raajan = oh, king; kumaarasya = young man; bharatasya = for Bharata; dhiimataH shatrughnasya ca = smart, for Shatrughna, even; mahaatmanoH tayoH arthe = right-minded [honourable ones,] for their, sake; sute varayema = [brothers] daughters, we opt.

"Oh, king, for the sake of those two honourable boys, for that young man Bharata and for that smart man Shatrughna, we opt your brother's daughters... [1-72-6]

पुत्रा दशरथस्य इमे रूप यौवन शालिनः ।
लोक पाल समाः सर्वे देव तुल्य पराक्रमाः ॥ १-७२-७

7. ime dasharathasya putraaH = these, Dasharatha's [four] sons; sarve = all; ruupa yauvana shaalinaH = handsome, youthfulness, having; loka paala samaaH = world, rulers, equal to; deva tulya paraakramaaH = god [Vishnu's valour,] vie with, valorous ones.

"All these four sons of Dasharatha have handsomeness and youthfulness, and they are equal to the four rulers of the world from four quarters, and their valour vies with the valour of God Vishnu... [1-72-7]

उभयोः अपि राजेन्द्र संबन्धेन अनुबध्यताम् ।
इक्ष्वाकु कुलम् अव्यग्रम् भवतः पुण्य कर्मणः ॥ १-७२-८

8. raajendra = oh, best king; ikSvaaku [kulam] = Ikshvaku's, [is the impeccable dynasty]; puNya karmaNaH bhavataH [kulam] api = [having] pious, deeds, your [dynasty,] as well - is an immaculate one; ubhayoH = both,; kulam = dynasty; sambandhena avyagram anubadhyataam = by alliance [wed-locks], not, loosely [compactly,] let them be interlocked.

"Oh, best king, let both theses dynasties of yours, the impeccable dynasty of Ikshvaku-s and the immaculate dynasty of yours as well, be interlocked by these wedlock-s..." Thus Vishvamitra advised Janaka. [1-72-8]

Verse Locator

विश्वामित्र वचः श्रुत्वा वसिष्ठस्य मते तदा ।

जनकः प्रांजलिः वाक्यम् उवाच मुनिपुंगवौ ॥ १-७२-९

9. tadaa = then; vasiSThasya mate [sthivaa] = Vashishta's, concurrence [abiding with]; vishvaamitra vacaH shrutvaa = Vishvamitra's, words, on hearing; janakaH praanjaliH = Janaka, with adjoined palms[reverently]; munipungavau = to two eminent-saints - Vishvamitra and Vashishta; vaakyam uvaaca = sentence, said.

On hearing the words of Vishvamitra that have the concurrence of Vashishta then Janaka reverently said this to those two eminent-saints. [1-72-9]

Verse Locator

कुलम् धन्यम् इदम् मन्ये येषाम् तौ मुनिपुंगवौ ।

सदृशम् कुल संबन्धम् यत् आज्ञापयथः स्वयम् ॥ १-७२-१०

10. yeSaam = by which; [naH = for us]; sadR^isham = befitting; kula sambandham = dynastical, alliance; tau munipungavau = you two, eminent-saints; svayam = personally; yat = by which reason; aaj~naapayathaH = you order - you bid fair; such; idam = this dynasty; kulam dhanyam manye = dynasty [of mine,] highly honoured, I opine.

"By which reason you two eminent-saints personally bid fair to this befitting proposal, thereby I opine that my dynasty is highly honoured... [1-72-10]

Verse Locator

एवम् भवतु भद्रम् वः कुशध्वज सुते इमे ।

पत्न्यौ भजेताम् सहितौ शत्रुघ्न भरतौ उभौ ॥ १-७२-११

11. evam bhavatu = so, be it; vaH bhadram = you, be safe; ime kushadhvaja sute = these, Kushadhvaja's, daughters; sahitau = being together [brothers in perfect accord, paired brothers]; shatrughna bharatau = to Shatrughna Bharata; ubhau = two of them; patnyau bhajetaam = as wives, they devout themselves.

"So be it! Safe betides you all! Let the pair of Kushdhvaja's daughters, namely Maandavi, Shrutakiirti, devout themselves as a pair of wives to the paired brothers, namely Bharata and Shatrughna, respectively... [1-72-11]

Verse Locator

एक अह्ना राज पुत्रीणाम् चतसृणाम् महामुने ।

पाणीन् गृह्णन्तु चत्वारो राज पुत्रा महाबलाः ॥ १-७२-१२

12. mahaamune = oh, eminent-saint Vishvamitra; mahaabalaaH = great mighty [mettlesome]; catvaaraH raaja putraa = four, king's, sons; eka ahnaa = in one, daylight; catasR^INaam raaja putriiNaam = four of the, king's, daughters; paaNiin gR^ihNantu = hand, take into hand [i.e., marry the princesses, assume husband-ship.]

"Oh, eminent-saint Vishvamitra, let the palms of four princesses be taken in the palms of these four mettlesome princes in marriage, in the light of one day... [1-72-12]

Verse Locator

उत्तरे दिवसे ब्रह्मन् फल्गुनीभ्याम् मनीषिणः ।
वैवाहिकम् प्रशंसन्ति भगो यत्र प्रजापतिः ॥ १-७२-१३

13. brahman = oh, Brahman; phalguniibhyaam = in the day where both Phalguni stars are available; yatra = on which day; prajaapatiH bhagaH [devataa] = a deity for progeny, namely Bhaga [is the presiding deity]; uttare divase = later, day [later part of the day, or, when the star post-Phalguni is ruling]; vaivaahikam = for wedding [ceremonies on such a day]; maniiSiNaH = savants; prashamsanti = acclaim.

"Oh, Brahman, the savants acclaim that part of the day as the best for wedding ceremonies when both of the pre-Phalguni and post-Phalguni stars are available, and on such a time where post-Phalguni is ruling, for which Bhaga is the presiding deity for progeny..." So said Janaka to the marriage party. [1-72-13]

There is a lot of commentary from the viewpoint of astrology regarding these stars and days of this marriage. Some have said that uttare divase 'on best day...' phalguni= puurva phalguni 'pre-Phalguni... on the best day under pre-Phalguni star...' which usually does not happen, but it is also said to be correct by Maheshvara Tirtha, as the Moon will be in the 12th house at that time, so the marriage is agreeable... However the stars for best results of marriages are: rohiNii mR^igashiirShyaNi uttara phalgunii svaati iti vivaahasya nakShatraaNi | bodhaayana suutraaNi

Verse Locator

एवम् उक्त्वा वचः सौम्यम् प्रत्युत्थाय कृताञ्जलिः ।
उभौ मुनि वरौ राजा जनको वाक्यम् अब्रवीत् ॥ १-७२-१४

14. janakaH raajaa = Janaka, king; evam saumyam vacaH uktvaa = thus, gracious, words, on saying; prati utthaaya = in turn, getting up [from throne]; kR^itaanjaliH = reverently; ubhau muni varau = to both, saints, eminent; vaakyam abraviit = sentence, said.

On saying those gracious words thus, king Janaka got up from his throne and coming nigh of both of the eminent-saints, Vishvamitra and Vashishta, reverently said this sentence. [1-72-14]

Verse Locator

परो धर्मः कृतो मह्यम् शिष्यो अस्मि भवतोः सदा ।
इमानि आसन मुख्यानि आस्यताम् मुनिपुंगवौ ॥ १-७२-१५

15. mahyam paraH dharmaH kR^itaH = in my respect, excellent, kind deed [beau geste,] is done; sadaa bhavatoH shiSyasmi = for ever, of yours, proselyte, I am - I remain; munipungavau = oh, eminent-saints; imaani aasana mukhyaani = these, seats, important [thrones]; aasyataam = take a seat [preside over.]

"You two, oh, eminent-saints, have done an excellent generous act in my respect, thus I will ever remain your proselyte... you may please preside over these thrones, that of mine, my brother's, and that of Dasharatha... [1-72-15]

The kind deed done by the two sages, Vishvamitra and Vashishta, is fetching right husbands for his daughters, and for his brother's daughters, without flattening his own flatties. And this sitting on the three thrones is for assuming symbolic rulership on the three kingdoms, Ayodhya, Mithila, and Saamkaasya, in getting the marriages performed without a hitch.

Verse Locator

यथा दशरथस्य इयम् तथा अयोध्या पुरी मम ।

प्रभुत्वे न अस्ति सन्देहो यथा अहम् कर्तुम् अर्हथः ॥ १-७२-१६

16. iyam = this [city Mithila]; dasharathasya = Dasharatha's yathaa = as to how it [belongs to]; ayodhya purii mama tathaa = Ayodhya, city, to me, likewise [Ayodhya belongs to me]; prabhutve sandehaH na asti = in governance, doubt not, is there, [no need for hesitancy]; yathaa arham kartum arhathaH = as per, aptness, to make happen, apt of you.

"As to how this city Mithila appertains to Dasharatha, in the same way city of Ayodhya is mine... and there shall be no hesitancy for you two sages in governance on these three kingdoms, thus it will be apt of you to make the marriages happen as aptly as you can..." So said Janaka to the sages. [1-72-16]

Verse Locator

तथा ब्रुवति वैदेहे जनके रघु नंदनः ।

राजा दशरथो हृष्टः प्रत्युवाच मही पतिम् ॥ १-७२-१७

17. vaidehe janake = Videha's, Janaka; tathaa bruvati = in that way [in such a hobnobbing way,] while talking; raghu nandanaH raajaa dasharathaH hr^iStaH = Raghu's, legatee, king, Dasharatha, is gladdened; and; mahii patim pratyuvaaca = to king Janaka, replied.

The legatee of Raghu-s king Dasharatha is gladdened while the legatee of Videha is talking in such a hobnobbing way, and he replied king Janaka in this way. [1-72-17]

Verse Locator

युवाम् असंख्येय गुणौ भ्रातरौ मिथिलेश्वरौ ।

ऋषयो राज संघाः च भवद्भ्याम् अभिपूजिताः ॥ १-७२-१८

18. mithila iishvarau = oh, kings of Mithila [Kushadhvaja included]; bhraatarau = two brothers; yuvaam = you both; a sankhyeya = not, estimable; guNau = [good] manners; bhavadbhyaam = by you [are garnered, treasured]; R^iSayaH = sages; raaja sanghaaH ca = kings', coteries, also; abhipuujitaaH = revered.

"Oh, kings of Mithila, Janaka and Kushadhvaja, you two brothers have revered inestimable sages and coteries of kings, as such inestimable good manners are treasured in both of you... [1-72-18]

Annex: 'As said in good sayings like, 'good company and good discourse are the very sinews of virtue...' as such, your abilities in making these marriages happen will edge out our limited capabilities... and if we commit any mistake unwittingly, that may besmirch your unblemished personality, because for the first time I am marrying my sons, you shall pardon... by the way, you have performed many marriages, concluding that every bride is your own daughter-like, thus we hear... thus, your sitting complacently on intrusting all the works of marriages to us, is infeasible... so, you do all the works and we sit comfortably seeing the celebrations...'

Verse Locator

स्वस्ति प्राप्नुहि भद्रम् ते गमिष्यामः स्वम् आलयम् ।

श्राद्ध कर्माणि विधिवत् विधास्य इति च अब्रवीत् ॥ १-७२-१९

19. svasti praapnuhi = blessedness, gain [enjoy]; te bhadram = you be safe; svam aalayam gamiSyaamaH = to our, to visitatorial-palace, we depart; shraaddha karmaaNi = tributary, rituals of; vidhivat = customarily; vidhaasya [vidhaasyaami] = I will carry out; iti ca abraviit = thus, also, said.

"Enjoy that blessedness! Let safe betide you! We now depart to our visitatorial-palace, and we shall customarily carry out the tributary rituals..." Dasharatha said thus. [1-72-19]

तम् आपृष्ट्वा नर पतिम् राजा दशरथः तदा ।
मुनीन्द्रौ तौ पुरस्कृत्य जगाम आशु महायशाः ॥ १-७२-२०

20. tadaa = then; mahaayashaaH raajaa dasharathaH = highly renowned, king, Dasharatha; tam nara patim aapR^iSTvaa = him, sovereign [Janaka,] on seeking [leave of absence]; tau muniindrau puraskR^itya = both, eminent-saints, keeping afore; aashu jagaama = promptly, departed.

On seeking leave of absence from the sovereign of people, Janaka, that highly renowned king Dasharatha promptly departed from there, keeping both of the eminent-saints afore, namely Vishvamisra and Vashishta. [1-72-20]

Verse Locator

स गत्वा निलयम् राजा श्राद्धम् कृत्वा विधानतः ।
प्रभाते काल्यम् उत्थाय चक्रे गो दानम् उत्तमम् ॥ १-७२-२१

21. saH raajaa = he that, king Dasharatha; nilayam gatvaa = to visitatorial-palace, on going to; vidhaanataH shraaddham kR^itvaa = procedurally, tributary rituals, on undertaking; prabhaate = in [next] morning; utthaaya = on getting up; kaalyam = in opportune time; uttamam go daanam = in grand [way,] cow, donation [samaavartna, snaataka, initiatory rituals]; cakre = he carried out.

King Dasharatha on going to his visitatorial-palace has procedurally undertaken the tributary rituals, and on getting up in the next morning, he carried out the initiatory rituals of marriages, in a grand way, in which donation of cows is a part. [1-72-21]

Verse Locator

गवाम् शत सहस्रम् च ब्राह्मणेभ्यो नराधिपः ।
एक एकशो ददौ राजा पुत्रान् उद्दिश्य धर्मतः ॥ १-७२-२२

22. naraadhipaH raajaa = lord of people, king Dasharatha; putraan = for sons; eka ekashaH uddhishya = each, to each [of four sons,] intended for; braahmaNebhyaH = to Brahmans; gavaam = cows; shata sahasram ca = hundred, thousand, also; dharmataH dadau = righteously, he donated.

That lord of people king Dasharatha has righteously donated hundred thousand cows to Brahman-s, in the name of each of his four sons. [1-72-22]

Verse Locator

सुवर्णं शृंगयः संपन्नाः स वत्साः कांस्य दोहनाः ।
गवाम् शत सहस्राणि चत्वारि पुरुष ऋषभः ॥ १-७२-२३
वित्तम् अन्यत् च सु बहु द्विजेभ्यो रघु नंदनः ।
ददौ गो दानम् उद्दिश्य पुत्राणाम् पुत्र वत्सलः ॥ १-७२-२४

23-24. puruSa R^iSabhaH = man, the bullish [best one]; putra vatsalaH = sons, affectionate towards; raghu nandanaH = Raghu's, legatee; putraaNaam = sons'; go daanam uddishya = cow, donation, intended for; suvarNa shR^ingayaH = golden casing, horns; [su] sampannaaH = very abundant [milkers]; sa vatsaaH = with, calves; kaamsya dohanaaH = bell metal, with milking jugs; gavaam = cows; catvaari = four; shata sahasraaNi = hundred, thousands; anyat = other [kinds of]; su bahu vittam ca = very, many, assets, also; dvijebhyaH dadau = to Brahman-s, donated.

In that cow donation ceremony intended for his sons, he that best one among men and the one who is affectionate towards his sons, Dasharatha, the legatee of Raghu-s, has donated on behalf of each of his sons, four hundred thousand cows, that are abundant milkers, and that have golden casings on their horns, and that are with their calves, and along with milking jugs made with bell metal, and he even donated very many other kinds of assets to Brahmans. [1-72-23, 24]

Verse Locator

स सुतैः कृत गो दानैः वृतः सः नृपतिः तदा ।

लोक पालैः इव आभाति वृतः सौम्यः प्रजापतिः ॥ १-७२-२५

25. kR^ita go daanaiH = having performed, cow, donation [samaavartna, snaataka, initiatory ceremonies]; sa sutaiH vR^itaH = with, sons, encircling [amidst]; saH nR^ipatiH tadaa = he, king, then; loka paalaiH vR^itaH = world, administrators [four principle deities presiding over the four quarters of world,] encircled; saumyaH prajaapatiH iva = serene, mankind's, overlord [Brahma,] like; aabhaati = shone forth.

On performing the cow donations and samaavartna, snaataka, the initiatory ceremonies of his sons, as well, he that serene king Dasharatha who is amidst the quartet of his sons, shone forth like serene Brahma, who is quartet-faced, with the quartet of Veda-s, and who is the overlord of mankind, amidst the quartet of presiding deities in the quartet of the world. [1-72-25]

The 'unnecessarily' repeated word 'quartet' refers to dharma where its manifestation is with four horns, catvaarii shR^ingaa, trayo asya paadaa, dve shiirSe... 'dharma's horns is a quartet, three are its feet, two are its heads...' so on. When read together with 23, 24 verses, the bullish Dasharatha is said to have the quartet of bullhorn like sons, who are being readied to administer dharma in the world.

इति वाल्मीकि रामायणे आदि काव्ये बाल काण्डे द्वि सप्ततितमः सर्गः

Thus, this is the 72nd chapter in Bala Kanda of Valmiki Ramayana, the First Epic poem of India.

Book I : Bala Kanda - The Youthful Majesties

Chapter [Sarga] 73 Verses converted to UTF-8, Oct 09

siitaa raama kalyaaNa ghaTTam
The Marriage of Sheetha with Rama

Introduction

We need not wait for any invitation or wedding card or call for this marriage, as all are welcome, equally and individually. Let us go there straight, without any introductions and preliminaries.

Verse Locator

यस्मिन् तु दिवसे राजा चक्रे गो दानम् उत्तमम् ।
तस्मिन् तु दिवसे शूरो युधाजित् समुपेयिवान् ॥ १-७३-१

1. raajaa = king Dasharatha; yasmin divase uttamam go daanam cakre = on which, day, impressive, cow, donation [or, initiatory rituals,] made; tasmin tu divase = on that, but, day; shuuraH yudhaajit sam upeyivaan = valiant, Yuddhajit, turned up.

On which day the king Dasharatha made the impressive cow donations or, initiatory rites, on that day alone the valiant Yudhaajit turned up. [1-73-1]

Verse Locator

पुत्रः केकय राजस्य साक्षात् भरत मातुलः ।
दृष्ट्वा पृष्ट्वा च कुशलम् राजानम् इदम् अब्रवीत् ॥ १-७३-२

2. kekaya raajasya putraH = Kekaya, king's, son; saakSaat bharata maatulaH = direct, Bharata's, maternal uncle; that Yutaajit; raajaanam dR^iSTvaa = king Dasharatha, having seen; kushalam pR^iSTvaa = wellbeing, having asked; idam abraviit = to this, said.

Yudhaajit, the son of Kekaya king and the brother of Kaikeyi, thus the direct maternal uncle of Bharata, having seen and asked after the wellbeing of Dasharatha said this to him. [1-73-2]

Verse Locator

केकय अधिपती राजा स्नेहात् कुशलम् अब्रवीत् ।
येषाम् कुशलकामो असि तेषाम् संप्रति अनामयम् ॥ १-७३-३

3. kekaya adhipatii raajaa = Kekaya's, ruler, king; snehaat kushalam abraviit = friendlily [affectionately,] wellbeing, asked after; yeSaam = whose; kushala kaamaH asi = = wellbeing [of all,] interested, you are; teSaam = to them; samprati = presently; anaamayam = hale [and healthy.]

"The ruler and king of Kekaya, viz., my father and your father-in-law, has affectionately asked after the wellbeing of all, and in whose wellbeing you are interested at my place, they are all hale and healthy as of now... [1-73-3]

स्वसीयम् मम राजेन्द्र द्रष्टु कामो महीपतिः ।

तत् अर्थम् उपयातो अहम् अयोध्याम् रघुनन्दन ॥ १-७३-४

4. raghunandana = oh, Raghu's legatee; raajendra = oh, best king; mahiipatiH = lord of land [king of Kekaya, my father]; mama svasriyam = my, sister's son - my nephew - Kaikeyi's Bharata; draSTu kaamaH = to see, interested; tat artham = for, that reason; aham ayodhyaam upayaataH = I am, to Ayodhya, came nearby [sent to.]

"Oh, Raghu's legatee, oh, best king, my father and the king of Kekaya is interested to see my sister Kaikeyi's son, Bharata, and for that reason I am sent to Ayodhya... [1-73-4]

Verse Locator

श्रुत्वा तु अहम् अयोध्यायाम् विवाह अर्थम् तव आत्मजान् ।

मिथिलाम् उपयातान् तु त्वया सह महीपते ॥ १-७३-५

त्वरया अभुपयातो अहम् द्रष्टु कामः स्वसुः सुतम् ।

5, 6a. mahiipate = oh, lord of land; tava aatmajaan = your, son's; vivaaha artham = marriage, purpose of; tvayaa saha = with you, along; mithilaam upayaataan = to Mithila, went to; ayodhyaayaam aham shrutvaa tu = in Ayodhya, I have, heard, on my part; aham draSTu kaamaH = I, to see, wishing; svasuH sutam = sister's, son [Bharata]; tvarayaa abhupayaataH [abhi upa yaata] = promptly, travelled to here.

"Oh, lord of the land, in Ayodhya I have heard that you went to Mithila along with your sons for their marriages, and wishing to see my sister's son Bharata I promptly travelled here..." Thus Yudhaajit told Dasharatha. [1-73-5, 6a]

Is this entry of this maternal uncle of Bharata a forced one or does this have any bearing on the flow of epic... is a doubt, though not a question. Further he is saying 'my sister's son' i.e., Bharata alone, instead of 'all my nephews...' Whether this episode has a bearing on future events or not, one maama is entered in Indian epics, like this one and Shakuni maama in Maha Bharata.

Verse Locator

अथ राजा दशरथः प्रिय अतिथिम् उपस्थितम् ॥ १-७३-६

दृष्ट्वा परम सत्कारैः पूजार्हम् समपूजयत् ।

6b-7a. atha raajaa dasharathaH = then, king, Dasharatha; priya atithim upasthitam = adorable, guest, who arrived [in his presence]; dR^iSTvaa = on seeing about; puuja arham = for adoration, he who is merited - Yudhaajit; parama satkaaraiH = with full, observances; samapuujayat = well adored

Then king Dasharatha on seeing the adorable guest who arrived in his presence, and who is a merited one for adoration, Dasharatha adored Yudhaajit well, with full observances. [1-73-6b, 7a]

Verse Locator

ततः ताम् उषितो रात्रिम् सह पुत्रैः महात्मभिः ॥ १-७३-७

प्रभाते पुनः उत्थाय कृत्वा कर्माणि तत्त्ववित् ।

ऋषीन् तदा पुरस्कृत्य यज्ञ वाटम् उपागमत् ॥ १-७३-८

7b, 8. tataH = then; mahaaaatmabhiH putraiH saha = noble-minded, along with; taam raatrim uSitaH = that, night, on resting; tattvavit = duty-bound one Dasharatha; prabhaate punaH utthaaya = in morning, again, on getting up; karmaaNi kR^itvaa = [morning] observances, on performing; tadaa R^iSiin puraskR^itya = then, sages, keeping in forefront; yaj~na vaaTam upaagamat = to Vedic-ritual, hall, arrived.

Then on taking rest for that night along with his noble-minded sons, and again on getting up in the next morning, and on performing morning-observances as a duty-bound king, Dasharatha arrived at the hall of Vedic-ritual, keeping the sages in his forefront. [1-73-7b-8]

He arrived at the Vedic-ritual hall that he was frequenting for the last few days. Unless invited the bridegroom's party will not enter the marriage hall, and nowadays such an invitation includes a small function also, called vara puuja as every bridegroom will be looked up to as Vishnu, and the bride as Lakshmi. The marriage hall is constructed nearby this Vedic-ritual hall, thus it is to be assumed.

Verse Locator

युक्ते मुहूर्ते विजये सर्व आभरण भूषितैः ।
भ्रातृभिः सहितो रामः कृत कौतुक मंगलः ॥ १-७३-९
वसिष्ठम् पुरतः कृत्वा महर्षीन् अपरान् अपि ।

9-10a. yukte vijaye muhuurte = appropriate, Victory, opportune hour; sarva aabharaNa bhuuSitaiH = all, jewellery, adorned with; bhraatR^ibhiH sahitaH = brothers, together with; raamaH = Rama; kR^ita kautuka mangalaH = having performed, marriage-thread [tied to wrist - usually males do it - not mangala suutra], auspicious ceremony; vasiSTham = with Vashishta; aparaan api maharSiin = others, even, eminent-saint; purataH kR^itvaa = keeping, ahead; [upaagamat = reached his father Dasharatha.]

Rama arrived at his father together with all of his brothers, keeping sage Vashishta and other eminent-saint ahead of them, on an opportune and appropriate hour called 'Victory...' and all the bridegrooms are adorned with all kinds of jewellery appropriate for the wedding time, and all have performed the auspicious ceremony for marriage-thread, conducted prior to the marriage and, all have thread-bands tied around their wrists, as they all have performed an auspicious ceremony antecedent to marriage ceremony. [1-73-9, 10a]

The ceremony for the marriage thread, the sacred thread of marriage for knotting as a necklace of the bride, mangala suutra is nowadays mixed up with gauri puuja, and this gauri puuja took precedence of that ceremony, because gauri puuja, took its roots in the auxiliary Ramayana-s, where Seetha is said to have gone to Goddess Parvati's temple, prior to her marriage, to perform gauri puuja, pledging herself to Rama. The thread bands tied at the wrists of both the bride and bridegroom is as per wedding time vows, to bring them under the pledge of marriage, until its consummation. Indian marriages are time-oriented and every function has to happen on the appointed hour. Hence, the arrival of bridegrooms is also on an opportune hour, which astrologically brings forth success of that event. But some say that this auspicious hour Vijaya occurs in the early part of the day, where this marriage is occurring in the later part of day, hence this time is to be reckoned as one that acquires some victory later in the epic.

Brides are not the lone category of people destined to wear jewellery. But bridegrooms are also asked to wear golden ornaments, at least one, on such occasions. The metal gold is said to contain some effect by which a man or a woman will be benefited, health wise: mR^itaa dur luptam madhumat suvarNam dhanam jananam ruNam daarayiSunam... after all gold is gold.

Verse Locator

वशिष्टःओ भगवान् एत्य वैदेहम् इदम् अब्रवीत् ॥ १-७३-१०
राजा दशरथो राजन् कृत कौतुक मन्गलैः ।
पुत्रैः नर वर श्रेष्ठ दातारम् अभिकांक्षते ॥ १-७३-११

10b, 11. bhagavaan vashiSTHaH = godly, Vashishta; vaideham etya = to Videha king, on going to; idam abraviit = this, said [to Janaka]; nara vara shreSTha = oh, people, among best ones, best one; raajan = oh, king; raajaa dasharathaH = king, Dasharatha; kR^ita kautuka mangalaiH = having performed, marriage-thread, auspicious ceremony; putraiH = with such sons; daataaram abhikaankSate = for donor [of brides,] looking forward.

Then that godly sage Vashishta on going from Vedic-ritual hall to marriage hall said this to Janaka, "Oh, best one among best people, oh, king Janaka, having performed the auspicious

दातृ प्रतिग्रहीतृभ्याम् सर्व अर्थाः संभवन्ति हि ।
स्वधर्मम् प्रतिपद्यस्व कृत्वा वैवाह्यम् उत्तमम् ॥ १-७३-१२

12. sarva arthaaH [puruSaarthaH] = all, values of life; daatR^i prati grahiitR^ibhyaam = between benefactor, beneficiary; sambhavanti hi = will happen, isn't it; uttamam vaivaahyam kR^itvaa = best, marriage, on making happen; sva dharmam prati padyasva = your, devoir, in turn, you achieve.

"In marriages all the puruSaartha-s, the component values of life, namely rightness, riches, revelries, and results of final release will be occurring only if the benefactor and beneficiary meet, isn't it. Hence let king Dasharatha come, and then on actualising this best marriage you too will be doing your best devoir as royal priest... [1-73-12]

Hindu marriage is not a contractual obligation because it protracts over seven life cycles of that couple. Therefore, it is calculated correctly and celebrated sacredly.

इति उक्तः परम उदारो वसिष्ठेन महात्मना ।
प्रत्युवाच महातेजा वाक्यम् परम धर्मवित् ॥ १-७३-१३

13. maha aatmanaa vasiSThena iti uktaH = by right honourable, Vashishta, in this way, when said; parama udaaraH = unreservedly generous [Janaka]; mahaatejaa = definitely valiant; parama dharma vit = profound, probity, knower of - Janaka; vaakyaam pratyuvaaca = sentence, replied.

Janaka is not just a decidedly valiant king but he is the profound knower of probity also, besides being an unreservedly generous king, hence he has already made all arrangements, and when he is spoken in this way by Vashishta that king replied this sentence to that right honourable Vashishta. [1-73-13]

कः स्थितः प्रतिहारो मे कस्य आज्ञा संप्रतीक्ष्यते ।
स्व गृहे को विचारो अस्ति यथा राज्यम् इदम् तव ॥ १-७३-१४

14. me = my; prati haaraH = against [entry,] preventer [doorman]; kaH sthitaH = who, is there; kasya aaj~naa sam prati ikSyate = whose, for order, you [all] intently, towards, seeing [waiting with bated breath]; sva gR^ihe = in own, house; kaH vicaaraH asti = what, hesitancy, is there; idam raajyam tava yathaa = this, kingdom, yours, as good as.

"Who is that doorman that prevents your entry? Or, for whose orders you all await with a bated breath? Do you hesitate in your own house, or what? This kingdom is as good as yours... isn't so... [1-73-14]

These are neither questions nor surprises, but the usual retorts and repartees usually employed during wedding time by both parties, samdhi-s of northerners and sammandi-s, of southerners, i.e., the wedding parties. By these rebuttals and ripostes, both the parties come close with each other's family habits or with its members.

कृत कौतुक सर्वस्वा वेदि मूलम् उपागताः ।
मम कन्या मुनिश्रेष्ठ दीप्ता वह्नेः इव अर्चिषः ॥ १-७३-१५

15. munishreSTha = oh, eminent-saint; mama kanyaa = my, maids; sarvasvaa = absolutely; kR^ita kautuka [mangalaa] = having performed, marriage-thread, [auspicious ceremony]; diiptaa vahneH arcisaH iva = radiant, fire's, jets of flame, as with; vedi muulam = Altar of Ritual-fire, at its base -; upaagataaH = arrived near - they are already at the Fire-Altar.

"Oh, eminent-saint Vashishta, on absolutely performing the auspicious ceremony for the marriage-thread, and thereby tying thread-band at wrists my daughters have already arrived, and they are at the base of the Altar of Fire, like the irradiant jets of flames of radiant fire... [1-73-15]

Verse Locator

सद्यो अहम् त्वत् प्रतीक्षो अस्मि वेद्याम् अस्याम् प्रतिषितः ।
अविघ्नम् कुरुताम् राजा किम् अर्थम् हि विलम्ब्यते ॥ १-७३-१६

16. sadyaH [sajjaH] = already [ready]; aham = I am; asyaam vedyaam pratiShitaH = this one, at Altar, remaining; tvat pratiikSaH asmi = for you, waiting, I am; a vighnam = kurutaam = without deterrents of time, let him do [everything] - let this marriage be performed without the impediments owing to bad times of the day - varja tithi; raajaa kim artham vilambyate hi = king, for what, reason, dawdling, indeed.

"I am already ready and awaiting for you remaining at this Altar of Fire. Let everything be done indeed without any deterrents. What for the king Dasharatha is dawdling..." So said Janaka to Vashishta. [1-73-16]

And Vashishta reported this to Dasharatha, and Dasharatha and his coterie then started a wedding-walk, which usually will be dillydallying, inching and poking along, very leisurely. Even today this custom, not custom exactly, the habit of 'wedding-walks' is there and a baraat 'pageant of bridegroom's party' covers two furlong distance in two hours, or even more, keeping the bride's party on tenterhooks.

Verse Locator

तत् वाक्यम् जनकेन उक्तम् श्रुत्वा दशरथः तदा ।
प्रवेशयामास सुतान् सर्वान् ऋषि गणान् अपि ॥ १-७३-१७

17. tadaa = then; dasharathaH = Dasharatha; janakena uktam tat vaakyam shrutvaa = by Janaka, said, that, sentence, on hearing; sutaan = sons; sarvaan R^iSi gaNaan api = all of the, sages, assemblages, even; pravesahayaamaasa = started to enter - the marriage hall.

On hearing that sentence of Janaka, then Dasharatha started towards marriage hall, and then he started to enter his sons one by one, four in all, into marriage hall along with all of the assemblages of sages. [1-73-17]

Verse Locator

ततो राजा विदेहानाम् वशिष्ठम् इदम् अब्रवीत् ।
कारयस्व ऋषे सर्वान् ऋषिभिः सह धार्मिक ॥ १-७३-१८
रामस्य लोक रामस्य क्रियाम् वैवाहिकीम् प्रभो ।

18, 19a. tataH = then; videhaanaam raajaa = of Videha bloodline, king [Janaka]; vashiSTham = to Vashishta; idam abraviit = this way, said; dhaarmika = oh, knower of punctilios; R^iSe = oh, Brahma-sage; prabho = oh, masterly sage; R^iSibhiH saha = sages, along with; loka raamasya = world, rejoicer; raamasya = Rama's; vaivaahikiim kriyaam = marriage oriented, works; sarvaan kaarayasva = all, make happen.

Then that king from Videha bloodline, Janaka, said in this way to Vashishta, "Oh, the knower of punctilios, oh, Brahma-sage, oh, masterly sage, along with other sages you make happen all of the marriage ceremonies of Rama, the rejoicer of the world..." Thus Janaka spoke to Vashishta. [1-73-18, 19a]

तथा इति उक्त्वा तु जनकम् वशिष्टःओ भगवान् ऋषिः ॥ १-७३-१९

विश्वामित्रम् पुरस्कृत्य शतानन्दम् च धार्मिकम् ।

प्रपा मध्ये तु विधिवत् वेदीम् कृत्वा महातपाः ॥ १-७३-२०

अलम् चकार ताम् वेदीम् गन्ध पुष्पैः समन्ततः ।

सुवर्ण पालिकाभिः च चित्र कुम्भैः च स अंकुरैः ॥ १-७३-२१

अंकुर आढ्यैः शरावैः च धूप पात्रैः स धूपकैः ।

शंख पात्रैः श्रुवैः सुग्भिः पात्रैः अर्घ्यादि पूजितैः ॥ १-७३-२२

लाज पूर्णैः च पात्रीभिः रक्षितैः अपि संस्कृतैः ।

19b, 20, 21, 22, 23a. bhagavaan mahaatapaaH vashiSTHaH R^iSiH = godly, sage of great asceticism, Vashishta, sage; janakam = to Janaka; tathaa iti uktvaa = so be it, thus, on saying; dhaarmikam vishvaamitram = virtuous one, Vishvamitra; shataanandam ca = sage Shataananda, also; puraskR^itya = keeping ahead; prapaa = cool-thatched manorial-shed; madhye = in mid-point of that shed; vidhivat vediim kR^itvaa = procedurally, Altar of Fire, on arranging; gandha puSpaiH = with sandal paste, flowers; suvarNa paalikaabhiH ca = with golden, concave-lids, also; sa ankuraiH = with sprigs; [Chidra = with holes - pots with holes to let water out] citra kumbhaiH ca = with variously coloured, pots / handy vessels, also; ankura aaDhyaiH = sprigs, full of; sharaavaiH ca = concave earthen-lids, also; sa dhuupakaiH dhuupa paatraiH = with, fumes, incense, censers; shankha paatraiH = conch-shell, vessels; shruvaiH = with short-handled scoops; srugbhiH = long-handled scoops; arghya aadi puujitaiH [puuritaiH] = oblatory [liquid items,] and others, sanctified [filled with]; paatraiH = with such vessels; laaja puurNaiH paatriibhiH = toasted rice flakes, filled with, with vessels; samskR^itaiH akshitaiH api = well treated [with turmeric powder,] with sacred rice [vessels filled with]; taam vediim = that, Altar of Fire; samantataH = all over; alam = easily / decorations; cakaara = made - sanctified.

Thus said, that godly sage Vashishta on saying, "so be it," to Janaka, embarked on arranging Altar of Fire keeping sage Vishvamitra and the virtuous sage Shataananda afore of him, and that sage with great asceticism, Vashishta, has arranged an Altar of Fire in the midpoint of the cool-thatched manorial-marriage-shed, decorating it with sandal paste and flowers. Then he promptly sanctified variously coloured handy vessels, and lid-like concave earthen vessels, which are full with just sprouted sprigs, and he sanctified even other golden vessels, censers with fumes of incenses, conch-shell like vessels, and short handled wooden scoops for scooping oblatory items from vessels for putting it in long-handled scoops, and long-handled wooden scoops to drop those oblatory items into Ritual-fire, and vessels filled with oblatory items like ghee, water, milk etc., and vessels filled with toasted rice-flakes and vessels filled with holy yellow-rice duly treated with turmeric, and he sanctified all articles of wedding ceremony by sprinkling holy-yellow-rice, as a kind of dry-ablution. [1-73-19b, 20, 21, 22, 23a]

These are some of the usual paraphernalia for marriage ceremony even now. The sprouting sprigs are symbolic for the prospective sprigs from this marriage, and rice-flakes for the abundance of livelihood of the couple. Usually the concave lid like vessels will be filled with black cotton soil, and on them nine varieties of grain nava dhaanya will be sprinkled to obtain sprigs. Later they are to be kept sacred for some days, watering daily, and then can be implanted in earth, if they survive. There are hosts of shops specialised to sell these items and the shopkeeper firstly asks for information 'for bride's side or for bridegroom's side?' And if we say, 'we are from bride's side' a long-list is presented, [while bridegroom's side will have a shorter list of items,] and then the shopkeeper mercifully asks 'how much is the dowry?' If we say this much or that much, he will present a Victorian model push-close pull-open velvet bag. If we exclaim 'what for is this, priest has not listed this' then he politely says, 'the priests of these days are unaware of customs and the dowry is to be put in that velvet bag and then given, as a royal presentation...' And if we say 'we are drained out by the dowry, wherefrom we give royal presentations...' then he will spew fire on us saying 'you spend so much on dowry, can't you purchase its velvet bag...' and thereafter a sermon follows about the dying Indian culture at the onslaught of westernisation, while he starts throwing the packets of nava dhaanya etc., as though he is giving alms to the beggar. Though Janaka has not purchased such a bag of dowry, he has some more problems with this marriage. A discussion on this is there at later part. Here the sprouted sprigs are the sprouting avengers on the evil, called Ravana.

Verse Locator

दर्भैः समैः समास्तीर्य विधिवत् मंत्र पुरस्कृतम् ॥ १-७३-२३
अग्निम् आधाय तम् वेद्याम् विधि मंत्र पूर्वकम् ।
जुहाव अग्नौ महातेजा वशिष्ठो मुनिपुंगव ॥ १-७३-२४

23b, 24. mahaatejaa = great resplendent; munipungava = eminent-saint; vashiSThaH = Vashishta; samaiH = even-sized; darbhahiH = with sacred grass; vidhivat = customarily; mantra puurvakam = with Vedic-chants, synchronising with; sam aastiirya = neatly, overlaid; vidhi mantra puraskR^itam = reverently, Vedic-hymns, preceding [in tune]; tam vedyaam = on that, Altar of Fire; agnim aadhaaya = fire, on taking [preparing with two sticks, arani]; agnau juhaava = in Altar of Fire, effused oblatinal liquids.

Then that great resplendent and eminent-saint Vashishta neatly overlaid even-sized sacred grass on that Altar of Fire synchronising with Vedic-chants, and on preparing Ritual-fire by rubbing two wooden sticks, called araNi, he placed that fire in the pit of Altar, which is aflame now, and then reverently and in tune with the Vedic-hymns he effused oblatinal liquids into that Altar of Fire, with short-handled and long-handled wooden scoops. [1-73-23b, 24]

Verse Locator

ततः सीताम् समानीय सर्व आभरण भूषिताम् ।
समक्षम् अग्नेः संस्थाप्य राघव अभिमुखे तदा ॥ १-७३-२५
अब्रवीत् जनको राजा कौसल्य आनंद वर्धनम् ।

25, 26a. tataH = then; raajaa janakaH = king, Janaka; sarva aabharaNa bhuSitaam = all, jewellery, decorated with; siitaam samaaniiya = Seetha, leading forth; agneH samaksham = of Fire [Altar of Fire,] before; raaghava abhi mukhe = Raghava, towards, face [face to face, en face]; samsthaapya = on positioning; tadaa = then; kausalya aananda vardhanam = to Kausalya's, rejoice, enhancer [to Rama]; abraviit = addressed.

Then that king Janaka led forth Seetha, who by now is decorated with every variety of bridal jewellery, and on positioning her en face Raghava in the presence of Altar of Fire, then Janaka addressed Rama who is the enhancer of his mother Kausalya's rejoice. [1-73-25, 26a]

By the way, where is this Kausalya? Does Rama enrich her happiness without bringing her to his marriage? We have not heard of her or of other queens or hosts of his other wives, for the last three, four days. Has she come, at all? - Yes, she has come and she is physically present - is the argument of some, basing on Valmiki's style of unrecorded accounts on trivial, or matter of fact scenes. They are implied and implicit. Dasharatha has performed some cow donations, religious functions etc., which he is not supposed to do without his wife at his side. These ladies are implicitly included in the first verse of sixty-ninth chapter: sa upaadhyayaH sa baandhavaH 'with, teachers, with relatives...' and Dasharatha has no near relatives, not exactly relatives, but family, other than his queens and sons. So, they all are in 'et cetera... and others' cadre at present. Other way round, it is said in Kshatriya-s only male members will go and get the bride, which has no reasonable or tenable import, as far as marriages are concerned, and where every marriage concerns only with womenfolk and their panoply.

Seetha is said to have all bridal jewellery, which is not odd or particular to this corner of globe. But it is oddish and exotic jewellery if the bride is from well-to-do family or from royal family. Though not all, some of the jewellery items that are almost extinct now are listed here. siimanta pralamba a pendant clipped at back of head, dangle through the central parting of head-hair, onto the crown of head, with nine-gem-stud locket; shiroja suuci diamond studded hair pins on either side of head above ears; naasa aabharanam a round nasal ring; naasa bhuSaNam single or a pair of nine-gems studded nasal ornament; karNa aabharaNa, taaTanka, karNika various kinds of earrings with dangling cups, to which trinket bells dangle; shata yaSTika hundred stringed pearl necklace; anukanThii, muktaavalii, graiveyikam and many other kinds of necklaces; mekhala three finger width golden cincture, studded with nine-gems, and with fine golden chains dangling like festoons; saptakii seven stringed girdle string, where the strings dangle onto hip, with expanding festoons; keyuuram bicep-lets; kankaNam bracelets and bangles from wrist half way up forearm; maNi manjiira, tulaa koTi, paada angada ankle-let with kinkiNii trinket bell-globules; cuuDaa maNi a circular jewel at bun of hair from which a gold sheet dangles till the end of braid, on which all zodiac signs are engraved. At the top, on the left and right of this cuuDaa maNi ornaments in the shape of sun and moon are pinned into jhair, and at the end of braid three / five gold cups studded with hair like strands upa kaca will be dangling. This set of braid's ornamentation is said to receive the solar energy to whole of the spine. So goes on and on the list of ornaments, to the delight of the girl wearing them and to the delight of the goldsmith making them.

Here there are five Raghava-s and only one kausalya aananda vardhana i.e., Rama. Then poet should have simply said 'Rama' instead of 'Raghava' but there are many Rama-s, Parashu Rama, and Bala Rama and suchlike, and on such calling as 'Rama...' Parashu Rama, who is scheduled to enter after marriage, may perhaps enter now, in a faux pas. Then the poet should have said dasharatha aatmajam . Then, who will be that single soul from among the four boys of Dasharatha to come forward. And if all the four hear the calling, as 'oh, Raghava' all will reply in chorus "ok, it is I..." then what will happen? Avoiding all these irksome situations, the poet gave this stage-direction to Janaka that he should aim at the son of Kausalya, with a subtext, 'you are mothered by some human female, whereas my daughter is motherless, rather un-mothered, a yonij non-foetal is her origination, hence it is apt of you to not to belittle her, anytime and anywhere... and you have to keep faith with her, since she outshines in outperforming your task in this so-called incarnation...'

Verse Locator

इयम् सीता मम सुता सह धर्म चरी तव ॥ १-७३-२६
प्रतीच्छ च एनाम् भद्रम् ते पाणिम् गृह्णीष्व पाणिना ।

26b, 27a. iyam = this; siitaa = Seetha; mama = my; sutaa = daughter; saha = along with / in unison with; dharma = duty; carii = acquits herself of; tava = your; pratiicCha enaam = in turn, you wish for [back, take, wishfully take her back] her; ca = also bhadram te = safe betides you; paaNim = palm; gR^ihNiiSva = take into; paaNinaa = [your] palm.

"This is Seetha, my daughter, she acquits herself in whatever duty you undertake. Take her wishfully, let safeness betide you, take her palm into your palm..." [1-73-26b, 27a] iyam= this [or, here]; siitaa= Seetha [stands]; mama sutaa= my, daughter [fair]; tava= thy; saha dharma carii = to share, the duties of life; pratiicCha enaam= take from [father,] her [as bride]; ca= also; te bhadram = bliss betide! you; paaNim gR^ihNiiSva paaNinaa= hand, join, [into your] hand.

Or

Here Sita stands, my daughter fair, / The duties of thy life to share. / Take from her father, take thy bride, / Join hand to hand, and bliss betide! / - Ralph T. H. Griffith

The above is very a convenient and readymade gist of that verse. But the three pronouns in the first stanza iyam, mama, tava 'this, mine, yours' are supposed to play havoc in deciphering the latent meaning of this verse. Let us look at some of them.

Seetha is very much there in the front of Rama, and Janaka might have shown her and told "take her..." Why this iyam i.e., "this" It is explained as below:

Janaka: This and this alone is Seetha, the unique, exceptional and earmarked one for you... do not confuse yourself by looking at Urmila, Maandavi and Shrutakiirti they are for your brothers

Rama: Why she alone is earmarked for me?

Janaka: Because she is 'Seetha '

Rama: What, you mean a furrow, or a sillion...

[Sillion is an old word for furrow, not found in dictionaries, but used by poet Hopkins in his 'The Windhover' ' sheer plod makes plough down sillion /]

Janaka: Yes, everything comes out of earth... from coal to gold, flora to fauna, rivers to ridges everything.... a morsel of food comes from a handful of mud in this mortal world.... your being, becoming and belonging in, are manifest only because of that earth and earth enables you to live on her without seeking any requital or reciprocation and earth is the symbol of enduring toleration, though you dig, dung or dredge it.... hence, Seetha is the symbol for mortal truth, and mortally tolerant womanhood and you people want to know the Unknown in the skies, but do not wish to know what that is right under your feet... vedaa aham etam puruSham mahaantam aaditya varNam tamasaH parastaat | if the Supreme Person beyond darkness is knowable, and sages like Vishvamitra know you and tell that you are some Super Soul aham vedmi mahaatmaanaam raamam satya paraakramam - bala 19-14 likewise you shall know iyam siitaa, for she is somebody to match you... have you not mugged up Veda-s, Upanishad-s

Rama: Why not every bit of it... you name, it I tell it

Janaka: How does the fifth mantra of eighth topic in Chaandogya Upanishad reads?

Adi Shankara's commentary: There are three letters that denote the Absolute sa, ta, yam; and the syllable ii on sat is for easy pronunciation. The letter sa indicates immortality and the word ta mortality, and the syllable yam conditions and bridges both the above ' Ramanuja comment: The letter sat is immortality and the letter ti is mortality and yam conditions both, hence sattiyam is indicative of Spiritedness and non-spiritedness ' Madhvaacaarya says: sat, delivered immortal souls; ti yet to be delivered bounded souls; yam both the delivered and bounded souls.

Janaka: Seetha is that yam the conjunctive, conditioner, bridge between the mortal and immortal, setu - eSa setu iti vidharaNa the presiding deity of catana acetana dynamic, static beings. oh, Rama, it is said in Vishnu Puraana that Seetha is your lookalike, minus your sky-blue complexion, raaghavatve bhavet siitaa... It is said in yet another scripture, yatha mayaa jagat vyaaptam - sva ruupeNa svabhaavataH | tayaa vyaaptam idam vishvam niyantrii ca tathaa iishvarii | 'as to how I am all pervading, likewise She, Goddess Lakshmi, is all pervading and the controller of the universe ' and if you want to establish yourself as the protector of this world, you have to take this and this Seetha alone, as she is the cause for the desired effect of yours and, she is from Mother Earth ratna garbha and you are a sapphirine boy from a mother, and a sapphire shines only if it is studded in earth-given gold anargham api maaNikyam hema aashrayam apekshate otherwise you, your incarnation, your epic, your mission, why one or two, everything concerning you will be futile, and you have to return to your milky abode empty handed, and here on earth, every house breeds one or more Ravana-s

Rama: How am I to conclude 'this' as 'that...' I mean Goddess Lakshmi

Janaka: Certain aspects are to be inferred because they are unmanifest. Fire on the mountain is unmanifest but smoke is manifest, hence fire is inferred. So also, ayam iishvarii is manifest as iyam this girl... from siitaa furrow, sillion, a narrow trench in ground made by ploughshare... as a small seed manifests into a gigantic banyan tree, and from this the nature of her non-foetal birth, it is to be inferred likewise, and only because of it she is someone above mortals. Because you have come as a mortal she has to take birth as a mortal, as an inseparable entity of yours

Rama: Then why can't she fall from sky or from other planet?

Janaka: She cannot. Your connection with this earth is age-old and you love it. Because you love earth, she has to emerge from earth, a lovely act for you.

Rama: Then why mama sutaa... she can be fostered in any orphanage

Janaka: Not so. An auspicious thing or being requires a sanctum sanctorum... Mithila is one such... and Videha-s are not just kings of this part of land, but they are priests of pious or holy things like the bow of Shiva. You know the naming of vi deha... it is not 'without bodies...' but transcending bodily affairs Thus she chose this as her background and as she presented herself to me as baby girl, I have look upon her as mama sutaa 'my daughter ' And many, many kings sought her hand in marriage, but I refused and they warred with me, whereby I had to call for the forces of gods to counterattack the enemy forces; perhaps, you might not have heard that humans can summon gods; thus gods are at my disposal; a prayer of mine brings them here, either for a war or for a ritual So, do not take me or my daughter Seetha, iyam siitaa mama sutaa as some ignoramus and insignificant dullards

Rama: Then why you want me to take back, as though she belonged to me for eons, but lost in a journey

Janaka: Yes, she is yours from ages unknown; I cannot donate her in kanyaa daana 'bestowal of bride ' because your marriage is eternal. But you two have arrived here in human forms, so conduct yourselves in conformity with human customs.... that is why I tell pratiicCha enaaam ' take her back, wishfully ' for that saying of mine get no anger on me; bhadram te 'let safeness betide' you; by this act of yours paaNim gR^ihNiSva paaNinaa ' you take her palm into your palm ' that which is customary in human paaNi grahaNa mahotsava 'wedding ceremony ' ; by the way, you always keep your consort in your heart hR^idaya kamala do not do such things as long as you are on earth for your incarnation will be disclosed.... just take her hand and let not this heavenly discourse be leaked out... lest Ravana may come to know that you are not human and it will be impossible for you to eliminate that evil, thereby

Likewise, let us, the readers of rAmAtyaNa, keep this info about Rama un disclosed to Ravana, if any of us meet Ravana by chance....

And we now proceed to the human level import of this verse.

Janaka: 'iyam "this girl" who has --
- mugdhamanoharamanoj~namohanaatmakasukumaarasoundaryalaavaNyaadau--- a beauty par excellence [and par probmatique beauty as well, for Ravana alone has got more words to extol her beauty, as in Ch. 46 Aranya];

Or

so, iyam "this one" is about whom you have heard from day one in the hermitage of Siddha, i.e., when you started towards Mithila;

Or

hence, iyam "this one alone" is that girl who is on your psyche from the minute you broke that Shiva's bow, and whom you are envisioning praasaade praade ca pathi pathi ca saa pR^iShTataH saa purataH 'on verandas of multistoried buildings and in window ledges, on this street and that street, before you, behind you ' during these days of your stay in Mithila....

Rama: No, No, No, you are wrong... I did not aim at any girl when aiming to lift that old bow... sorry for your unilateral conclusion...

Janaka: No, my dear boy, the condition I stipulated before your touching that bow is bilateral... I clearly said that my daughter belongs to one who can lift that bow... you were quick enough to grab the girl, rather than the bow... and in that hastiness you even broke that bow... had you declined the girl, you should have declined to lift the bow, also... so, iyam siita was the only intention of yours when lifting that bow...

Rama; Maybe.. but we want high-born, high-bred girls --- not fatherless, motherless, birthless orphans

Janaka: You seem to be a doubting Thomas... that's why I said mama sutaa 'my daughter ' when it is said mahataa tapasaa raama... ' by high degree ascetic Dasharatha obtained Rama.. what does it mean? So also, I too obtained and fostered this girl with much better ascetic [than your father], and even protected her from warring factions [only to give back to you]; bythe way, the environ of Mithila itself is of utmost sanctity and piety... if we are to be lowly subjects, why your guru Vishvamitra brought you here, that too by foot don't think that you are taking this girl for your personal enjoyment, but it is for a caculated purpose... this girl meets that purpose and her wifhood, as well.... hence I said saha dharma carii tava ' she will be in toe with your duties' tava dharma saha carii ' whatever is your duty that duty become hers too '.

Or

Rama: Somehow there appears some cacoethes confusion from you, from all the sages, from my father and mothers, even Janaka: Nothing of that sort is there... if you wish heartily then only you take her... I have not said siitaam dadaami 'I am donating Seetha ' but I said pratiicCha enaam 'take her, take her back ' or else, she will exit as she came and unfulfilled will be your mission... it is up to you to decide.... no compulsion whatsoever...

Rama: Then, let her take hold of my arrow and walk with me round the Altar of Fire, because, for Kshatriya-s that is the custom...

Janaka: I know, I know, but this marriage does not fit into any of the eight kinds of marriage prescribed for humans... hence I carefully said paaNim gR^ihNiiSva paaNinaa ' take her palm into your palm '

The types of ancient marriages as laid down by scriptures are eight kinds. 1] braahmya: inviting a celibate scholar after completion of his Vedic studies, and offering a bride with due ceremony; 2] daiva: offering a bride to a ritwij when he is conducting a Vedic-ritual; 3] aarSa: giving the bride after donating a cow and ox for the success of Vedic-ritual; 4] praaajaapatya: offering a bride without seeking anything from the bridegroom, to follow the course of dharma; 5] asura: giving ample money to bride's party or to bride and marrying her at costs; 6] gandharva: man and woman falling in love and marrying on their own, just out of lust and bodily pleasures; 7] raakshasa: if a bride or bride's part do not agree, by maltreating, torturing and terrorising them, and thereby seizing the bride; 8] paishaacika: while the girl is asleep, or making her drunk, or unconscious and then molesting her, by which she becomes a 'can't but' bride - a worst kind of marriage.

eteShu aShTasu vivaaheshu ayam vivaaho na ko api bhavitum arhati - tat ukta lakShaNa a bhaavaat | tathaa hi - na taavat braahmyaH iti - aahuuya daana a bhaavaat | na api daivaH - kShatriyasya aartivijya a sambhavat | na aarSha - kanyaa pitro go mithuna go daana a bhaavaat | na api praaajaapatyaH - viirya shulka iti kathanaat | na api aasuraH - kanyaa pituH dravya daana a bhaavaat | na api gaandharvaH paraspara anuraageNa samsarga a bhaavaat | na api raakShasaH - chedan hanana aadinaa prasahya kanya haraNa a bhaavaat | na api paishaaciH - sva apapramaada anyatam avasthaa a yuktayaaH | tasmaat katamo ayam vivaaha iti cet - saha dharma carii tava - iti uktyaa praaajaapatya eva vivaahaH - dk

And when none of the eight is unsuitable for Seetha's wedding it is brought under the fourth praaajaapatya - because saha dharmam carati iti praaajaapatya - aashvalaayana | samyoga mantraH praaajaapatye saha dharmam caryataam - gautama | saha dharmama carataam iti praaajaapatyam - bodhaayana | But here something is sought from the bridegroom, in the name of lifting the bow. But that is negated saying the 'seeking' is the seeking of material assets, not valour or bravery. It is namesake, and even the nomenclature that Seetha is the bounty for valour viirya shulkais a namesake; kShatriyeShu viirya vara eva shreShTatvaat taadR^ishaya kanyaam pradaatum viirya parishodhanam kR^itam iti shulka iti kathanaat shulka shabda aupacaarikaH | dk Hence this marriage is for implementation of righteousness and it is treated as extramundane and celebrated every year.

Rama: This marriage does not fit into any category! Then why this marriage at all!

Janaka: To be in tune with this world's tradition... however, this marriage technically comes under the category of praaajaa patya

Rama: So, you adjusted the rule books... then why me, let her take my hand...

Janaka: The enjoyer has to grab the object of enjoyment, not vice versa... take her now and bhadram te and 'be blest '

--o)0(o--

Next, Janaka is asking the bridegroom like a poor Indian father to take a poor and motherless bride Seetha.

Janaka: iyam - 'this' girl is a simple match to you who broke the bow of Shiva; siitaa 'born in furrow' a motherless girl, hence, kindly be merciful towards her;

mama sutaa 'my daughter' rather, a poor fellow's daughter; where I have always been engaged in rituals and ceremonies, thereby I may not have brought her up properly, and thereby if she does talk rashly or behave oddly, like an ill-bred girl, kindly tolerate and correct her;

saha dhrma carii iva where iva is 'like' just take her like your 'custom-bound consort' and let her be useful in ceremonies and rituals, though not for pleasure trips and excursions';

pratiicCha enaam 'take her' where the bridegrooms usually woo, court and date girls, send many messages to her parents asking for that girl in marriage; but, this girl being an uncommon one, I am begging you to take her;

paaNim gR^ihNiiSva paaNinaa you take her hand as she is hesitating to take your hand, for your hand is strong enough to break an unbreakable bow, she is fearing to take your hand, lest her arm too will be broken;

bhadram te 'be blest' when you honour our appeal

--o)0(o--

And there are many, many more shades of meanings derived from this verse, but all culminate to say - 'you two are made for each other'

Verse Locator

पतिव्रता महभागा छाय इव अनुगता सदा ॥ १-७३-२७

इति उक्त्वा प्राक्षिपत् राजा मंत्र पूतम् जलम् तदा ।

27b, 28a. mahabhaagaa = prosperous [Seetha will be]; pati vrataa = husband, devout; sadaa Chaaya iva = always, shadow, like; anugataa = follow [you]; iti uktvaa = thus, saying; raajaa = king; tadaa = then; mantra puutam jalam = hymn, sanctified, water; praakshipat = poured forth.

"She who is prosperous and husband-devout, will always be abiding you like your own shadow..." So saying that king Janaka then poured forth water into the palms of Rama, which is sanctified with hymns. [1-73-27b, 28a]

Pouring water at the time of donation into the donee's hand symbolises the free flowing will of the donor. The 'shadow' expresses nitya sambandhatva 'ever related entity...' Or, a trace of His liilaa vibhuuti, maaya. Though they are living separately so far, that farness is now washed off by this holy water.

Verse Locator

साधु साधु इति देवानाम् ऋषीणाम् वदताम् तदा ॥ १-७३-२८

देव दुंदुभि निर्घोषः पुष्प वर्षम् महान् अभूत् ।

28b, 29a. tadaa = then; saadhu saadhu iti = nice, fine, thus; vadataam = while saying [exclaiming]; devaanaam R^iSiiNaam = [sounds] of gods, sages; deva dundubhi nirghoSah = heavenly, drums, drumming; mahaan puSpa varSam abhuut = great, flower, showers, occurred.

Then there occurred great flower-showers from firmament, while sages and gods staying in firmament have exclaimed, "nice... fine..." to the drumbeats of heavenly drums. [1-3-28b, 29a]

What happened to these gods when boyish Rama eliminated Tataka and others? Are they any lesser feats than this marriage? And why this drumming and showering flowers and blessings, when it is 'just' a human's marriage? Now the cause for the effect is conjoined to Rama to effectuate their plea to Brahma. If the entire arsenal given by Vishvamitra is set-aside for a moment, the 'present' now presented by Janaka is the ultimate weapon for the use against Ravana. aprameyam hi tat tejo yasya saa janaka aatmajaa 'unlimited is the energy, to whom Janaka's daughter belongs...' Rama is the instrumental cause in eliminating Ravana, whereas Seetha is the efficient cause for it. Lanka is ruined by Seetha, through Hanuma with the help of Fire-god, but not by Rama, or all of the monkeys put together. And Rama eliminates the half-dead Ravana. There are some more flower-showers and drumbeats and dances, later.

Verse Locator

एवम् दत्त्वा सुताम् सीताम् मंत्र उदक पुरस्कृताम् ॥ १-७३-२९
अब्रवीत् जनको राजा हर्षेण अभिपरिप्लुत ।

29b, 30a. janakaH raajaa = Janaka, the king; evam = in that way; mantra udaka puraskR^itaam = hymn, water, she who is sanctified with; sutaam siitaam dattvaa = his daughter, Seetha, on handing over; harSeNa = by enthusiasm; abhi pari pluta = completely, overly, flooded [overwhelmed]; abraviit = said [this.]

On handing over his daughter Seetha who is duly sanctified with sanctified waters, King Janaka is completely overwhelmed with exhilaration for the successful performance of his bit as a father and he said this. [1-73-29b, 30a]

Verse Locator

लक्ष्मण आगच्छ भद्रम् ते ऊर्मिलाम् उद्यताम् मया ॥ १-७३-३०
प्रतीच्छ पाणिम् गृह्णीष्व मा भूत् कालस्य पर्ययः ।

30b, 31a. lakSmaNa aagacCha = Lakshmana, come on; mayaa udyataam = by me decided to be [- to be given to you]; uurmilaam = Urmila; pratiicCha = you take - or, say yes; paaNim gR^ihNiiSva = [her] palm, you take; kaalasya paryayaH maa bhuut = time's, lapse, let not, be there; te bhadram = you be safe.

"Come on, Lakshmana, safe betides you... say yes to Urmila, the one who is decided by me to be given to you... take her palm into yours... lapse not the time... [1-73-30b, 31a]

When Bharata is the elder of Lakshmana, how Lakshmana is called now... is a lingering doubt. That rule 'the elder brother's marriage is first...' does not apply if the brothers are from co-wives: pitR^ivya putre saapatne para naariiShu teShu vaa | vivaaha daana yajnaadau parivedo na duuShaNam | | 'the elderliness among the sons of father's brothers or mothers co-wives, or other sons from other wives, do not count in their marriages, donation ceremonies, of Vedic-rituals... an younger one can be called first on such occasions...'

Verse Locator

तम् एवम् उक्त्वा जनको भरतम् च अभ्यभाषत ॥ १-७३-३१
गृहाण पाणिम् माण्डव्याः पाणिना रघुनन्दन ।

31b-32a. janakaH tam evam uktvaa = Janaka, to him [to Lakshmana,] that way, having said; bharatam ca abhyabhaaSata = to Bharata, also, addressed; raghunandana = oh, the delight of Raghu-s - Bharata; paaNinaa = by palm; maaNDavyaaH paaNim = Maandavi's, palm; gR^ihaaNa = take.

Janaka having said to Lakshmana that way, he also addressed Bharata, "Oh, Bharata, the delight of Raghu-s, take Maandavi's palm into your palm... [1-73-31b-32a]

Verse Locator

शत्रुघ्नम् च अपि धर्मात्मा अब्रवीत् मिथिलेश्वरः ॥ १-७३-३२
श्रुतकीर्तेः महाबाहो पाणिम् गृह्णीष्व पाणिना ।

32b, 33a. dharmaatmaa = honourable [Janaka]; mithila iishvaraH = Mithila's, king - Janaka; shatrughnam ca api = to Shatrughna, also, even; abraviit = said; mahaabaahuH = oh, dextrous [Shatrughna]; paaNinaa = with your palm; shrutakiirteHpaaNim gR^ihNiiSva = Shrutakiirti's, palm, you take.

That honourable king of Mithila even said to Shatrughna, "oh, dextrous Shatrughna, take the palm of Shrutakiirti into yours... [1-73-32b, 33a]

Verse Locator

सर्वे भवन्तः सौयाः च सर्वे सुचरित व्रताः ॥ १-७३-३३

पत्नीभिः सन्तु काकुत्स्था मा भूत् कालस्य पर्ययः ।

33b, 34a. kaakutsthaaH = oh, Rama, Lakshmana, Bharata, Shatrughna [brothers]; bhavantaH sarve = you, all; saumyaaH ca = tender-hearted, also; sarve su carita vrataaH = all, well, behaved, well-intentioned ones; patniibhiH santu = with wives, you be [a happy married life to you all]; maa bhuut kaalasya paryayaH = not, there be, time's, lapse.

"Oh, Rama, Lakshmana, Bharata, Shatrughna ... you all are tender-hearted, well-behaved and well-intentioned brothers from Kakutstha lineage... without lapse of time take up other ceremonies..." So said Janaka to bridegrooms. [1-73-33b, 34a]

Verse Locator

जनकस्य वचः श्रुत्वा पाणीन् पाणिभिः अस्पृशन् ॥ १-७३-३४

चत्वारः ते चतसृणाम् वसिष्ठस्य मते स्थिताः ।

34b, 35a. te catvaaraH = those [bridegrooms,] [all] four of them; janakasya vacaH shrutvaa = Janaka's, words, on hearing; vasiSThasya mate sthitaH = in Vashishta's, opinion [in orchestration of marriage,] abiding; paaNibhiH = with palms; catasR^INaam = of [all] four [brides]; paaNiin = palms; aspr^ishan = touched - taken into their palms - all are palminpalmed.

All the four bridegrooms are palminpalmed with all the four brides, paying heed to Janaka's words, and abiding in Vashishta's orchestration of Vedic hymns and procedures. [1-73-34b, 35a]

The word 'palminpalmed' may look oddish, but it is in fashion with the verb 'arminarmed' invented by poet Roger McGhou.

Verse Locator

अग्निम् प्रदक्षिणम् कृत्वा वेदिम् राजानम् एव च ॥ १-७३-३५

ऋषीन् चैव महात्मानः सह भार्या रघु उद्वहाः ।

यथा उक्तेन तथा चक्रुः विवाहम् विधि पूर्वकम् ॥ १-७३-३६

35b, 36. mahaatmaanaH = great souled [bridegrooms]; raghu udvahaH = Raghu, those who emerged from - four brothers; saha bhaaryaa = with, wives; agnim = to Ritual-fire; vedim = to Altar of Fire; raajaanam eva ca = king Janaka, also, that way; R^iSiin caiva = to sages, also thus; pradakSiNam = circumambulations; kR^itvaa = on performing; tathaa = thus; yathaa uktena = as, said [directed by Vashishta]; vidhi puurvakam = custom, consistent with; vivaaham = marriage; cakruH = thus, performed [the deeds of ritual]; [they are wed.]

On performing circumambulations along with their wives around the Ritual-fire, and around the Altar of Fire, and that way, around king Janaka, the awarder of wives, and around sages as well for they conducted the marriages well, those great-souled bridegrooms that have emerged from Raghu's dynasty on performing further deeds of ritual consistent with custom as directed by Vashishta, they are all wed. [1-73-35b, 36]

Firstly Vashishta enkindled the holy fire and offered oblations in it for the wellbeing of Rama and his brothers, say the bridegrooms. Next, another round of enkindling of holy fire took place in which Rama and brothers have offered marriage time oblations. After accepting the palms of brides, they made circumambulations, and then each couple established its own ritual fire and offered oblations into it. Then each couple had obliterated rice-flakes into the fire, and again performed circumambulations to that Ritual-fire, respectively. Thus, the marriage is not a handshake like one-minute affair, as they all shall be before fire, daylong.

Verse Locator

पुष्पवृष्टिर्महत्यासीदन्तरिक्षात्सुभास्वरा ।
दिव्यदुन्दुभिनिर्घोषैर्गीतवादित्रनिःस्वनैः ॥ - यद्वा -
पुष्प वृष्टिः महति आसीत् अन्तरिक्षात् सु भास्वरा ।
दिव्य दुन्दुभि निर्घोषैः गीत वादित्र निःस्वनैः ॥ १-७३-३७
ननृतुः च अप्सरः संघा गन्धर्वाः च जगुः कलम् ।
विवाहे रघु मुख्यानाम् तद् अद्भुतम् अदृश्यत ॥ १-७३-३८

37. raghu mukhyaanaam vivaahē = of Raghu's decedents, celebrated ones, in marriage; antarikSaāt = from firmament; su bhaasvaraa = highly, dazzling; mahati puSpa vR^iSTiH aasiit = rich, flower, shower, is there [occurred]; divya dundubhi nirghoSaiH = with divine, drums, drumbeats; giita vaaditra niHsvanaiH = with vocal, instrumental, tuneful [music]; apsaraH sanghaa nanR^ituH = apsara, promenades of, danced; gandharvaaH ca kalam jaguH = gandharva-s, even, tunefully, sang; tat adbhutam adR^ishyata = that, charming spectacle, appeared.

There occurred rich and highly dazzling flower showers from firmament, and that ambience is filled with the drumbeats of divine drums and with vocal and instrumental music, and promenades of apsara-s danced, and even the gandharva-s sang tunefully, and because it is the marriage of celebrated bridegrooms from Raghu's dynasty, such a charming spectacle is envisioned.. [1-73-37, 38]

Verse Locator

ईदृशे वर्तमाने तु तूर्य उद्घुष्ट निनादिते ।
त्रिः अग्निम् ते परिक्रम्य ऊहुः भार्या महौजसः ॥ १-७३-३९

39. iidR^ishe = this kind of; tuurya udghuSTa ninaadite = trumpet, by trumpeting, reverberating [harmonious music of dance, vocal and instrumental]; vartamaane = in ongoingness mahaujasaH = highly resplendent ones; te = those brothers; triH = thrice; agnim pari kramya = to fire, circumambulated; bhaaryaaH uuhuH = wives, married.

In this kind of ongoingness of harmonious music of vocal, instrumental and that of dancers, those great resplendent brothers married their wives on circumambulating the Ritual-fire thrice. [1-73-39]

Verse Locator

अथ उपकार्याम् जग्मुः ते स दारा रघुनन्दनाः ।
राजा अपि अनुययौ पश्यन् स ऋषि संघः स बान्धवः ॥ १-७३-४०

40. atha = then; te raghunandanaaH = those, Raghu's, legatees; sa daaraa = with, wives; upakaaryaam jagmuH = to visitatorial-palace, went to; raajaa api = king Dasharatha, even; sa R^iSi sanghaH = with, sages, assemblages; sa baandhavaH = with, kinfolks; pashyan = with all eyes for; anuyayau = went after.

Then those legatees of Raghu went to their visitatorial-palace with their wives, followed by king Dasharatha along with the assemblages of sages, kinfolks, queens and wives included, and Dasharatha feasted his eyes on sons and daughter-in-laws. [1-73-40]

इति वाल्मीकि रामायणे आदि काव्ये बाल काण्डे त्रि सप्ततितमः सर्गः

Thus, this is the 73rd chapter in Bala Kanda of Valmiki Ramayana, the First Epic poem of India.

Book I : Bala Kanda - The Youthful Majesties

Chapter [Sarga] 74 Verses converted to UTF-8, Oct 09

Introduction

Parashu Rama confronts the wedding party that is returning to Ayodhya from Mithila. On his very entry, the atmosphere becomes pell-mell and a whirlwind ensues. Expecting some problem from this Parashu Rama, the sages like Vashishta and others starts to receive him in a peaceable manner. Not caring anyone around Parashu Rama starts a dialogue with Dasharatha Rama.

Verse Locator

अथ रात्र्याम् व्यतीतायाम् विश्वामित्रो महामुनिः ।
आपृष्ट्वा तौ च राजानौ जगाम उत्तर पर्वतम् ॥ १-७४-१

1. atha raatryaam vyatiitaayaam [satyaam] = then, night, elapse [is becoming true]; mahaamuniH vishvaamitraH = eminent-saint, Vishvamitra; raajaanau = [all] kings; tau ca = both - Rama and Lakshmana, also; aapR^iSTvaa = on asking [leave of absence]; uttara parvatam jagaama = to northern, mountains [Himalayas,] set out.

When that night is elapsing into the wee hours of next day, then the eminent-saint Vishvamitra on asking for the leave of absence from those kings, Dasharatha and Janaka, and from both Rama and Lakshmana, he set out to northern mountains, namely Himalayas. [1-74-1]

Verse Locator

विश्वामित्रो गते राजा वैदेहम् मिथिला अधिपम् ।
आपृष्ट्व इव जगाम आशु राजा दशरथः पुरीम् ॥ १-७४-२

2. vishvaamitraH gate = Vishvamitra, on departure of; raajaa dasharathaH = the ruler to the delight of people, Dasharatha; mithilaa adhipam = Mithila's, king; vaideham = one who outvies bodily affairs - Janaka; aa pR^iSTva iva = on asking [leave of absence]; raajaa = king Dasharatha; aashu puriim jagaama = promptly, for city Ayodhya, set forth.

When Vishvamitra departed that ruler to the delight of people, namely Dasharatha, on asking leave of absence with king Janaka who outvies bodily affairs, promptly set forth for the city of Ayodhya. [1-74-2]

Verse Locator

अथ राजा विदेहानाम् ददौ कन्या धनम् बहु ।
गवाम् शत सहस्राणि बहूनि मिथिलेश्वरः ॥ १-७४-३
कंबलानाम् च मुख्यानाम् क्षौमान् कोटि अंबराणि च ।
हस्ति अश्व रथ पादातम् दिव्य रूपम् स्वलंकृतम् ॥ १-७४-४
ददौ कन्या शतम् तासाम् दासी दासम् अनुत्तमम् ।

3, 4, 5a. atha = then; mithileshvaraH = Mithila's, king; raajaa videhaanaam = king, from Videha lineage; bahu = innumerable; kanyaa dhanam = girl's [patrimonial,] riches; dadau = gave; gavaam bahuuni = cows, umpteen; shata sahasraaNi mukhyaanaam kambalaanaam ca = hundred, thousands [millions of,] excellent ones, shawls, also; kSaumaan koTi ambaraaNi ca = silk, crores of, dresses, also; hasti ashva ratha paadaatam = elephants, horses, chariots, foot soldiers; divya ruupam svalankR^itam = divinely, in mien, highly decorated; anuttamam = unexcelled ones; daasii daasam = chambermaids, handmaidens; kanyaa shatam = girls, hundreds of; taasaam = to them [to brides]; dadau = [Janaka] gave.

Then that king Janaka of Mithila, the one from Videha lineage, gave innumerable patrimonial riches. He has also given umpteen number of cows, millions of excellent shawls and silk dresses, and elephants, horses, chariots, foot soldiers, besides hundreds of highly decorated girls, divine in their mien, as unexcelled chambermaids and handmaidens to the brides. [1-74-3, 4, 5a]

Verse Locator

हिरण्यस्य सुवर्णस्य मुक्तानाम् विद्रुमस्य च ॥ १-७४-५

ददौ राजा सुसंहृष्टः कन्या धनम् अनुत्तमम् ।

5b, 6a. raajaa = king Janaka; su samhR^iSTaH = very highly gladdened; hiraNyasya = of gold; suvarNasya = of silver; muktaanaam = of pearls; vidrumasya ca = red corals, even; anuttamam = beau idéal; kanyaa dhanam = bridal, riches; dadau = he gave.

King Janaka gave beau idéal bridal riches in gold, silver, pearls and corals even, for he is very highly gladdened as Seetha's marriage came true. [1-74-5b, 6a]

Verse Locator

दत्त्वा बहु विधम् राजा समनुज्ञाप्य पार्थिवम् ॥ १-७४-६

प्रविवेश स्व निलयम् मिथिलाम् मिथिलेश्वरः ।

6b, 7a. mithileshvaraH = Mithila's, sovereign; raajaa = king Janaka; bahu vidham dattvaa = many, kinds [of gifts,] having given; paarthivam = king Dasharatha; samanuj~naapya = on making Dasharatha to bid adieu; sva nilayam = his own, dwelling city; mithilaam pravivesha = in Mithila, he entered.

Having given many kinds of bridal gifts and having accompanied his daughters for a distance, then having received a bid adieu from Dasharatha, that sovereign of Mithila, Janaka, re-entered is own palace in Mithila. [1-74-6, 7a]

It is customary to follow the wedding party up to the outskirts of village or town. In the meantime, there will be two or three hugs of mother and the bride, shedding two or three litres of tears, while the father of the bride secretly wipes his own moist eyes, and the like. Because, this despatch of the bride is considered as another life to her, for she cannot come to her father's house as and when she wants. Even if she comes, she has to return to her husband's place at some point of time, because from now onward 'that' house has become 'her' house. In this particular case of Seetha, she does not come to Mithila after this episode and even when Rama abandons her she goes into the womb of her mother, Mother Earth, but not to Mithila. So let us leave Janaka and his queen as they have the satisfaction in marrying their daughter, whose marriage itself is problematical so far, and when that has happened, now some sort of dissatisfaction has cropped up, in leaving her off with some forest ranger, called Rama.

Verse Locator

राजा अपि अयोध्या अधिपतिः सह पुत्रैः महात्मभिः ॥ १-७४-७

ऋषीन् सर्वान् पुरस्कृत्य जगाम स बल अनुगः ।

7b, 8a. ayodhyaa adhipatiH raajaa api = Ayodhya's, sovereign, king Dasharatha, even mahaa aatmabhiH putraiH saha = with noble-souled, sons, along with; sarvaan R^iSiin puraskR^itya = all sages, keeping in fore; sa bala anugaH = with, forces, following; jagaama = proceeded.

Even the king Dasharatha, the sovereign of Ayodhya proceeded with his noble-souled sons, keeping all the sages in the fore, while his forces followed him. [1-74-7b, 8a]

Verse Locator

गच्छन्तम् तु नरव्याघ्रम् स ऋषि संघम् स राघवम् ॥ १-७४-८
घोराः तु पक्षिणो वाचो व्याहरन्ति समन्ततः ।

8b, 9a. sa R^iSi sangham = with, sages, assemblages; sa raaghavam = with [young] Raghava-s - Rama, Lakshmana, Bharata, Shatrughna; gacChantam = who is going - Dasharatha; naravyaaghram = at that tigerly-man [facing Dasharatha]; samantataH = from all around; pakSiNaH ghoraH vaacaH vyaaharanti = birds, with horrible, voice, started to screech.

But while going with the assemblages of sages and with young Raghava-s, namely Rama, Lakshmana, Bharata, Shatrughna, the sky-bound birds started to screech with startling voice from all around facing that tigerly-man Dasharatha. [1-74-8b, 9a]

Verse Locator

भौमाः चैव मृगाः सर्वे गच्छन्ति स्म प्रदक्षिणम् ॥ १-७४-९
तान् दृष्ट्वा राज शार्दूलो वसिष्ठम् पर्यपृच्छत ।

9b, 10a. bhaumaaH = concerning earth; caiva = also thus; sarve mR^igaaH = all, animals; pradakSiNam gacChanti sma = leftward, going, they are; taan dR^iSTvaa = them, on seeing; raja shaarduulaH = king, the tiger; vasiSTham paryapR^icChata = with Vashishta, particularly asked.

Also thus, all of the earth bound animals are going his leftward, and on seeing this, albeit he is a tigerly king he is perplexed, and particularly asked Vashishta. [1-74-9b, 10a]

Verse Locator

असौयाः पक्षिणो घोरा मृगाः च अपि प्रदक्षिणाः ॥ १-७४-१०
किम् इदम् हृदय उत्कंपि मनो मम विषीदति ।

10b, 11a. ghora [vaacaH] = startling [voicing]; pakSiNaH = bird's; a saumyaaH = not, gentle [not favourable, unpropitious]; mR^igaaH ca api pradakSiNaH = animals, also, even, going leftward [propitious]; hR^idaya ut kampi = heart, to up, beating [with one's heart in one's mouth, throbbing up]; idam kim = this is, what [why so?]; mama manaH viSiidati = my, heart, is sinking [throbbing down].

"Unpropitious is the startling voicing of birds, whereby my heart is throbbing down... and propitious is the leftward going of the animals, thereby my heart is throbbing up... why so?" [1-74-10b, 11a]

Verse Locator

राज्ञो दशरथस्य एतत् श्रुत्वा वाक्यम् महान् ऋषिः ॥ १-७४-११
उवाच मधुराम् वाणीम् श्रूयताम् अस्य यत् फलम् ।

11b, 12a. mahaan R^iSiH = great [instinctual,] sage; raaj~naH dasharathasya = of king, Dasharatha; etat shrutvaa = all [that is said,] on hearing; madhuraam vaaNiim vaakyaam uvaaca = in a soothing, voice, [this] sentence, said; asya yat phalam = its [auguries',] which, result is there; [tat = that]; shruuyataam = I will let you hear.

On hearing all that is said by king Dasharatha, the instinctual sage Vashishta said this sentence in a soothing voice, "I will tell apart the result of these auguries... [1-74-11b, 12a]

Verse Locator

उपस्थितम् भयम् घोरम् दिव्यम् पक्षि मुखात् च्युतम् ॥ १-७४-१२

मृगाः प्रशमयन्ति एते संतापः त्यज्यताम् अयम् ।

12b, 13a. pakSi mukhaat cyutam = bird's, from mouths, fallen [shrieks voiced, foretokening]; divyam = providential; ghoram bhayam = perilous, trepidation; upa sthitam = [indicate it as] forthcoming; ete mR^igaaH prashamayanti = these, animals' [behaviour,] mitigable [betokening as]; ayam santaapaH tyajyataam = this, consternation, be forsaken.

"The shrieks voiced by the birds are foretokening the forthcoming providential and perilous trepidation, but the behaviour of these animals is betokening it as mitigable... hence, let this consternation be forsaken... [1-74-12b, 13a]

Verse Locator

तेषाम् संवदताम् तत्र वायुः प्रादुर् बभूव ह ॥ १-७४-१३

कंपयन् मेदिनीम् सर्वाम् पातयन् च महान् द्रुमान् ।

13b, 14a. teSaam = among them; samvadataam = while discussing; tatra = there; mediniim kampayan = earth, [as though] to shake; sarvaan mahaan drumaan paatayan = all, gigantic, trees, to fell [shattering]; vaayuH praadur babhuuva ha = [whirl] wind, started to whirl, indeed.

While they are discussing among themselves, a whirlwind started to whirligig there, as though to shake the earth and shatter all gigantic trees. [1-74-13b, 14a]

Verse Locator

तमसा संवृतः सूर्यः सर्वे न वेदिषुर् दिशः ॥ १-७४-१४

भस्मना च आवृतम् सर्वम् सम्मूढम् इव तत् बलम् ।

14b, 15a. suuryaH tamasaa samvR^itaH = sun, by murkiness, is enshrouded; sarve dishaH na vediSuH = all, quarters, not, aware; tat sarvam balam = that, all, army - of Dasharatha; bhasmanaa aavR^itam = by ash [simoom, sandstorm,] is enwrapped; sammuuDham iva = ensorcelled, as though - it became.

Murkiness enshrouded the sun, thus everyone is unaware of quarters, a sandstorm enwrapped that army, by which it has become as though ensorcelled. [1-74-14b, 15a]

Verse Locator

वसिष्ठ ऋषयः च अन्ये राजा च ससुतः तदा ॥ १-७४-१५

स संज्ञा इव तत्र आसन् सर्वम् अन्यत् विचेतनम् ।

15b, 16a. tadaa = then; vasiSTha = Vashishta; anye R^iSayaH ca = other, sages, also; sa sutaH = with, sons; raajaa ca = king, also; sa sanj~naa iva = with, animation, as though; tatra aasan = there, they are; anyat sarvam vi cetanam = every other one, everything, is without, animation.

Then Vashishta and the other sages, the king Dasharatha along with his sons remained there with animation, and everything and every other one available there has become inanimate. [1-74-15b, 16a]

Verse Locator

तस्मिन् तमसि घोरे तु भस्म छन्न इव सा चमूः ॥ १-७४-१६

ददर्श भीम संकाशम् जटा मण्डल धारिणम् ।

भार्गवम् जमदग्ने अयम् राजा राज विमर्दनम् ॥ १-७४-१७

कैलासम् इव दुर्धर्षम् काल अग्निम् इव दुःसहम् ।
ज्वलन्तम् इव तेजोभिः दुर् निरीक्ष्यम् पृथक् जनैः ॥ १-७४-१८
स्कन्धे च आसज्य परशुम् धनुः विद्युत् गण उपमम् ।
प्रगृह्य शरम् उग्रम् च त्रि पुर घ्नम् यथा शिवम् ॥ १-७४-१९

16b, 17, 18, 19. tasmin ghore tamasi = in that, catastrophic, darkness; bhasma Channa iva = by ashes [sand,] muffled up, as though; saa camuuH = that, military; bhiima samkaasham = calamitous, in looks; jaTaa maNDala dhaariNam = tufted, matted-hair, wearing; raajaa raaja vimardanam = he [who is,] king, of kings, subjugator of; kailaasam iva durdharSam = Mt. Kailash, like, unassailable one; kaala agnim iva duHsaham = epoch-end, fire, like, unbearable one; tejobhiH jvalantam iva = with his own radiance, irradiant, like; pR^ithak janaiH dur niriikSyam = by common, people, one impossible, to gaze at; parashum skandhe aasajya = axe, on shoulder, clinching; vidyut gaNa upamam = electric discharges, groups, in simile to; dhanuH = bow - bow of Vishnu; ugram sharam pragR^ihya ca = terrible [electrocuting one,] arrow, clasping, also; tri pura ghnam shivam yathaa = triple, cities, devastator, Shiva, as with; ayam jamadagne bhaargavam dadarsha = him, sage Jamadagni's, Bhaargava, they all have seen.

In that catastrophic darkness, that sand-muffled military of king Dasharatha has seen the son of Sage Jamadagni, namely Bhaargava Rama, the subjugator of kings of kings. He appeared calamitous in his look by wearing tufty matted and unruly head-hair, an unassailable one like Mt. Kailash, an unbearable one like the Epoch-End-Fire, irradiant with his own radiance, hence imperceivable for commoners, and such as he is, he clinched an axe on his right shoulder and clasped a bow in his left hand, that in simile is like a congeries of electroluminescence, and handling an arrow which is as if ready to electrocute, and he vied in his overall look with the devastator of triple cities, namely God Shiva. [1-74-16b, 17, 18, 19]

Verse Locator

तम् दृष्ट्वा भीम संकाशम् ज्वलन्तम् इव पावकम् ।
वसिष्ठ प्रमुखा विप्रा जप होम परायणाः ॥ १-७४-२०
संगता मुनयः सर्वे संजजल्पुः अथो मिथः ।

20, 21a. bhiima samkaasham = peril, similar [perilous in his propensity]; jvalantam paavakam iva = flaming, Ritual-fire, as with; tam dR^iSTvaa = him, on seeing; japa homa paraayaNaaH vipraaH = meditation, fire-oblation, practisers of, Brahman-s; vasiSTha pramukhaa = Vashishta, other prominent ones; sarve munayaH sangataa = all of the, sages, coming together; athaH mithaH = up and down; samjajalpuH = started to susurrate.

On seeing him who is perilous in his propensity and flaming like the Ritual-fire, Vashishta and the other prominent Brahman-s who are the practisers of meditation and fire-oblations have come together and started to susurrate, up and down. [1-74-20, 21a]

Verse Locator

कच्चित् पितृ वध अमर्षी क्षत्रम् न उत्सादयिष्यति ॥ १-७४-२१
पूर्वम् क्षत्र वधम् कृत्वा गत मन्युः गत ज्वरः ।
क्षत्रस्य उत्सादनम् भूयो न खलु अस्य चिकीर्षितम् ॥ १-७४-२२

21b-22. pitR^i vadha amarSii = father's, murder, envenomed by; kSatram na utsaadayiSyati kaccit = Kshatriya race, not, going to eradicate [now,] will he be - or what; puurvam kSatra vadham kR^itvaa = previously, Kshatriya-s, on eliminating; gata manyuH = gone [abated,] is his anger; gata jvaraH = gone [alleviated,] is his frenzy; bhuuyaH = again; kSatrasya utsaadanam = Kshatriya, for elimination; asya na cikiirSitam khalu = his, not, intended [action,] really.

"Will he eradicate the race of Kshatriya-s even now as he was once envenomed by the murder of his father, or what... abated is his anger and alleviated is his frenzy previously when he eliminated Kshatriya-s... but is he really intending to eliminate Kshatriya-s once again, or what?" Thus, those Brahmans talked among themselves. [1-74-21b, 22]

An account of Parashu Rama's elimination of Kshatriya clans is given in endnote.

Verse Locator

एवम् उक्त्वा अर्घ्यम् आदाय भार्गवम् भीम दर्शनम् ।
ऋषयो राम राम इति मधुरम् वाक्यम् अब्रुवन् ॥ १-७४-२३

23. RⁱSayaH = sages; evam uktvaa = thus, saying [after susurrus]; arghyam aadaaya = oblatinal water, on taking; bhiima darshanam bhaargavam = a visitation, in his look, towards Bhaargava Rama; raama raama = oh, Rama, oh, Rama; iti madhuram vaakyam abruvan = thus, sweetly [benignly,] sentence [lines of greetings,] while speaking - they approached.

After their susurrus the sages have approached him, who in his very look is like a visitation, with oblatinal water and addressed him with benign words of greeting like, "oh, Rama, oh, Bhaargava Rama..." [1-74-23]

Verse Locator

प्रतिगृह्य तु ताम् पूजाम् ऋषि दत्ताम् प्रतापवान् ।
रामम् दाशरथिम् रामो जामदग्न्यो अभ्यभाषत ॥ १-७४-२४

24. prataapavaan = inexorable one; jaamadagnyaH raamaH = of Jamadagni, Rama; RⁱSi dattaam = sage, given by; taam puujaam pratigRⁱhya = that, deference, on receiving; daasharathim raamam abhyabhaaSata = of Dasharatha, to Rama, started to talk.

On receiving the deference paid by the sage Vashishta, that inexorable Rama of Jamadagni started to talk to Rama of Dasharatha. [1-74-24]

parashu rAma

This Parashu Rama or Bhaargava Rama is believed as the sixth incarnation of Vishnu on earth, prior to Dasharatha Rama. The word parashu 'an axe...' is prefixed to this Rama because he wields a merciless axe. His father was sage Jamadagni and mother Renuka. This Jamadagni is the son of Sage Riciika, a Brahman, and he married Satyavati, the sister of Vishvamitra, a Kshatriya. On certain occasion Jamadagni doubting his wife Renuka's infidelity orders this Parashu Rama to behead her, which he promptly does, but Bhaargava Rama requests his father to bring her back to life. Sage Jamadagni agrees and brings her back to life. This is a kind of entrance test to Parashu Rama, and if he can ruthlessly kill his own mother he does not hesitate to kill any, in future.

During their time, the kings were cruel and homicide was rampant to achieve the desires of the throne, however ruthless it might be. On another occasion when the sons of one Kaartviiryaarjuna sacrifice Sage Jamadagni as a sacrificial human, this Parashu Rama is frenziedly infuriated and starts eliminating all of the enthroned Kshatriya bloodlines on earth. That way he roves over the earth for thirty seven times eliminating Kshatriya-s. He even cuts off the foetuses in wombs of their queens, in order to stop the menacing progeny and offers the blood of the foetus as oblation. And that blood became five streams called shamanta pancaka. Bhaargava or Parashu Rama practises insurmountable asceticism and appeases God Shiva, and thus acquires divine weaponry. He is indomitable in archery and nothing is unknown to him in the art of archery. Yet, he resorts to an axe to behead cruel kings, physically and personally, without depending up on a distant shooting arrow. He is ciranjiivi 'long living being...' Later when peace is established on earth, this Parashu Rama retires to penance but re-entered here to have a glimpse of Dasharatha Rama. And the purpose and import of his entry at this place, is recorded in later chapters.

इति वाल्मीकि रामायणे आदि काव्ये बाल काण्डे चतुः सप्ततितमः सर्गः

Thus, this is the 74th chapter in Bala Kanda of Valmiki Ramayana, the First Epic poem of India.

Book I : Bala Kanda - The Youthful Majesties

Chapter [Sarga] 75

Introduction

The visitant Parashu Rama narrates the legends of bows of Vishnu and Shiva to Rama. Unheeded of the request of Dasharatha to spare his sons, Parashu Rama addresses Dasharatha Rama directly and asks him to take an aim with the longbow of Vishnu, and if Dasharatha Rama is capable to do so, Parashu Rama says that he will give a duel to him.

Verse Locator

राम दाशरथे वीर वीर्यम् ते श्रूयते अद्भुतम् ।
धनुषो भेदनम् चैव निखिलेन मया श्रुतम् ॥ १-७५-१

1. daasharathe raama = oh, Dasharatha's, Rama,; viira = oh, valiant one; te viiryam adbhutam shruuyate = your, valour, as sensational, being heard [being bruited about]; dhanuSaH bhedanam caiva = bow's [of Shiva,] smashing, also thus - other things [about your eliminating Tataka]; nikhilena mayaa shrutam = thoroughly, by me, heard.

"Oh, valiant Rama of Dasharatha, your valour is bruited as a sensational valour, and sensational is your smashing of Shiva's bow, also thus I have thoroughly heard about your others deeds like elimination of Tataka et cetera... [1-75-1]

Verse Locator

तत् अद्भुतम् अचिंत्यम् च भेदनम् धनुषः तथा ।
तत् श्रुत्वा अहम् अनुप्राप्तो धनुर् गृह्य अपरम् शुभम् ॥ १-७५-२

2. tathaa = that way; dhanuSaH tat bhedanam = bow's, that, smashing; adbhutam = wondrous; a cintyam ca = un, imaginable, even; tat shrutvaa = that [news,] on hearing; aham = I have; aparam shubham dhanuH gR^ihya = another, transcending [outranking,] bow. on taking; anu praaptaH = I happened on [you.]

"That way, smashing of that particular bow of Shiva is wondrous and even unimaginable... on hearing that alone I happened upon you, bringing another outranking bow... [1-75-2]

Verse Locator

तत् इदम् घोर संकाशम् जामदग्न्यम् महत् धनुः ।
पूरयस्व शरेण एव स्व बलम् दर्शयस्व च ॥ १-७५-३

3. ghora samkaasham = catastrophic, in its aspect - bow; jaamadagnyam = [received through Sage] Jamadagni; tat = that; idam = this alone; mahat = great [fateful]; dhanuH = bow; shareNa eva puurayasva = with arrow, that way, flex [bowstring up to ear]; sva balam darshayasva = own, capability, show yourself.

"This alone is that catastrophic bow received through Sage Jamadagni... flex it with an arrow on bowstring stretching up to your ear, and in that way show your capability... [1-75-3]

Verse Locator

तत् अहम् ते बलम् दृष्ट्वा धनुषो अपि अस्य पूरणे ।
द्वंद्व युद्धम् प्रदास्यामि वीर्यं श्लाघ्यम् अहम् तव ॥ १-७५-४

4. tat = thereby; aham = I will; asya dhanuSaH puuraNe = with this, bow's, in taking aim; te balam dR^iSTvaa = your, strength, on seeing [on examining]; viirya shlaaghyam = [if your] valour, is deserving; aham tava = I will, to you; dvandva yuddham pradaasyaami = duel, in combat, I give.

"Thereby, on examining your strength in your taking aim with this bow, and should you be deservedly valorous, I will give you a combative duel..." So said Parashu Rama to Dasharatha Rama. [1-75-4]

Pt. Satya Vrat cites this in his book 'The Ramayana - A Linguistic Study... 'As in English, we speak of uddha daanam - giving a fight to the enemy - in Sanskrit, too...' it is giving a duel.

Verse Locator

तस्य तत् वचनम् श्रुत्वा राजा दशरथः तदा ।
विषण्ण वदनो दीनः प्राञ्जलिः वाक्यम् अब्रवीत् ॥ १-७५-५

5. tadaa = then; raajaa dasharathaH = king, Dasharatha; tasya tat vacanam shrutvaa = his [Bhaargava Rama,] that, sentence, on hearing; viSaNNa vadanaH = becoming downcast, faced; diinaH = pitiable one; praanjaliH vaakyam abraviit = with adjoined-palms, sentence, said.

On hearing that sentence of Bhaargava Rama, then king Dasharatha became a pitiable one, and with a downcast face and adjoined palms said this. [1-75-5]

Verse Locator

क्षत्र रोषात् प्रशांतः त्वम् ब्राह्मणः च महातपाः ।
बालानाम् मम पुत्राणाम् अभयम् दातुम् अर्हसि ॥ १-७५-६

6. kSatra roSaat prashaantaH = on Kshatriya-s, from animosity, appeased you are; braahmaNaH = Brahman; mahaatapaaH = one with high [inviolable] asceticism; such as you are; tvam = you; baalaanaam mama putraaNaam = youngsters, my, sons; a bhayam daatum arhasi = no, fear [aegis,] to award, apt of you.

"Aren't you a Brahman with inviolable asceticism, and whose rancour on Kshatriya-s has calmed down long back. Why this hostility again. It'll be apt of you to award aegis to my sons, for they are yet youngsters... [1-75-6]

Vividly: 'peace is primary for Brahman-s... though that was once disturbed in you, you redeemed it after your eradicating the then ruthless Kshatriya-s... thus your rancour was appeased then... and you too peacefully retired for inviolable asceticism and acquired still higher bliss by them... do you now wish to violate your own intrinsic nature of peacefulness being a blissful one, being an all-knower, being an elderly Brahman, that too on mere boys...

Verse Locator

भार्गवाणाम् कुले जातः स्वाध्याय व्रत शालिनाम् ।
सहस्राक्षे प्रतिज्ञाय शस्त्रम् प्रक्ष्द इप्तवान् असि ॥ १-७५-७

7. svaadhyaaya vrata shaalinaam = self-study [of Vedas,] vows [self-principled,] conduct themselves; bhaargavaaNaam kule jaataH = in such Bhaargava-s, bloodline, you are born; sahasraakSe pratij~naaya = to Thousand-eyed Indra, on promising; shastram = weapon [wielding]; pra kshiptavaan asi = readily, discarded, you have.

"Aren't you from the bloodline of Bhaargava-s who always conduct themselves in self-study of Vedas and self-principled ways... haven't you readily discarded weapon-wielding on your promise to Thousand-eyed Indra... [1-75-7]

Annex: 'how can you abnegate your own promise of astra sanyaasa 'reclusion from weaponry...' by wielding a weapon now, and thus becoming yourself a self-critical personality, and thus making the entire Brahman-hood as a self-contradictory classis...

Verse Locator

स त्वम् धर्मं परो भूत्वा काश्यपाय वसुंधराम् ।
दत्त्वा वनम् उपागंय महेन्द्र कृत केतनः ॥ १-७५-८

8. saH tvam = such as you were, you; dharma paraH bhuutvaa = probity, dedicatee of, on becoming; kaashyapaaya vasundharaam dattvaa = to Kashyapa, planet earth, on giving away; vanam upaagamya = forests on repairing to; Mahendra = Mt. Mahendra; kR^ita = making; ketanaH = made residence [flagged on.]

"Such as you were, you on becoming a dedicatee to probity, haven't you given the planet earth to Kashyapa and haven't you repaired to forests, and haven't you flagged yourself on Mt. Mahendra... [1-75-8]

Annex: 'if so, is this for showing the flag or else is it for keeping the flag flying... in anyway, is it inapt of you to eliminate the progeny of your own donee... Kashyapa... and if you say that 'I don't kill you all nonentities, but my target is this Rama...' then my reply will be like this...

Verse Locator

मम सर्वं विनाशाय संप्राप्तः त्वम् महामुने ।
न च एकस्मिन् हते रामे सर्वे जीवामहे वयम् ॥ १-७५-९

9. mahaa mune = oh, insurmountable sage; tvam mama sarva vinaashaaya = you, for my, total, ruination; sampraaptaH = chanced upon me; ekasmin raame hate = only one, Rama is, eliminated; vayam sarve na jiivaamahe = we, all, not, going to live.

"Or, oh, insurmountable sage, have you chanced upon us for a total annihilation of ours... when Rama is singularised and eliminated, nay-said that we all will be living..." Thus Dasharatha had gone on appealing in his love for his sons. [1-75-9]

Annex: 'should you leave off Rama and eliminate rest of us all, Rama will not live... or, if you leave all of us and eliminate Rama alone, we all don't live... anyway it is an 'anywise' annihilation of ours... for I am still living for this Rama, and Rama alone...'

Verse Locator

ब्रुवति एवम् दशरथे जामदग्न्यः प्रतापवान् ।
अनादृत्य तु तत् वाक्यम् रामम् एव अभ्यभाषत ॥ १-७५-१०

10. dasharathe evam bruvati = by Dasharatha, that way, while speaking; prataapavaan jaamadagnyaH = intransigent one, Jamadagni's [son, Bhaargava Rama]; tat vaakyam = that, [merciful] words [of Dasharatha]; an aadR^itya tu = un, caring for; raamam eva abhyabhaaSata = to Rama, alone, addressed.

While Dasharatha is speaking in that way that intransigent Bhaargava Rama of Sage Jamadagni uncaring for those merciful words of Dasharatha addressed Rama of Dasharatha alone. [1-75-10]

Verse Locator

इमे द्वे धनुषी श्रेष्ठे दिव्ये लोक अभिपूजिते ।
दृढे बलवती मुख्ये सुकृते विश्वकर्मणा ॥ १-७५-११

11. ime dve = these, two; dhanuSii = longbows; shreSThe = unsurpassed ones; divye loka abhipuujite = unearthly [well designed by gods,] by worlds, well-worshipped; dR^iDhe balavatii = sturdy, strong; mukhye = important ones [among all bows]; vishvakarmaNaa = by Vishvakarma, the Divine Architect; su kR^ite = well crafted.

"These are the two strong and sturdy unsurpassed longbows, well-designed by gods and well-crafted by Vishvakarma, the Divine Architect, and these are very important among all bows and well-worshipped by all worlds... one broken in your, and the other in my hand... [1-75-11]

Verse Locator

अनिसृष्टम् सुरैः एकम् त्र्यम्बकाय युयुत्सवे ।
त्रिपुर घ्नम् नरश्रेष्ठ भग्नम् काकुत्स्थ यत् त्वया ॥ १-७५-१२

12. narashreSTha = oh, best among men; kaakutstha = Kakutstha; yat = which [bow]; tvayaa bhagnam = by you, broken; [that = that one]; yuyutsave = restive [for a combat]; tryambakaaya = for Trymbaka, for Shiva; suraiH anisR^iSTam = by gods, given; tripura ghnam = [that bow alone is] Tripura Demon, annihilator; ekam = one [of the two.]

"Oh, best one among men, out of the two longbows gods gave one to restive Trymbaka, God Shiva for a combat with demon Tripura, and oh, Kakutstha, that bow alone is the annihilator of Tripura, the demon... and you have broken that alone... [1-75-12]

Verse Locator

इदम् द्वितीयम् दुर्धर्षम् विष्णोर् दत्तम् सुरोत्तमैः ।
तत् इदम् वैष्णवम् राम धनुः पर पुरम् जयम् ॥ १-७५-१३
समान सारम् काकुत्स्थ रौद्रेण धनुषा तु इदम् ।

13, 14a. durdharSam = indestructible; idam = this is; dvitiiyam = second one; sura uttamaiH = by gods, the choicest; viSNoH dattam = to Vishnu, it is given; kaakutstha = oh, Kakutstha; raama = Rama; para puram jayam = other's [enemy's] citadels, conqueror of; tat idam = that one is, this; vaiSNavam dhanuH = Vishnu, longbow [bow named after Vishnu]; idam raudreNa dhanuSaa samaana saaram = this one has, with Rudra's, longbow, identical, in essence [efficacy.]

"This is the second one and the choicest gods gave this to Vishnu, thereby this is named after Him as 'Vishnu's bow...' this is an indestructible and enemy-citadel conquering longbow... and this is identical in its efficacy with Rudra's longbow... [1-75-13, 14a]

Verse Locator

तदा तु देवताः सर्वाः पृच्छन्ति स्म पितामहम् ॥ १-७५-१४
शिति कण्ठस्य विष्णोः च बल अबल निरीक्षया ।
अभिप्रायम् तु विज्ञाय देवतानाम् पितामहः ॥ १-७५-१५
विरोधम् जनयामास तयोः सत्यवताम् वरः ।

14b, 16a. tadaa = then [once]; sarvaaH devataaH = all, gods; shiti kaNThasya = blue, throated god Shiva's; viSNoH ca = of Vishnu, and; bala a bala = [about] powerfulness, less, powerfulness; niriikSayaa = to see [to estimate]; pitaa maham pR^icChanti sma = Grandparent, asking, they were; satyavataam varaH = among truthfulness adherers, the best one; pitaamahaH = Grandparent; devataanaam abhipraayam vij~naaya = of gods, intent, on inferring; tayoh = among those two [Vishnu - Shiva]; virodham = adversity; janayaamaasa = started to create.

"Once, all the gods were asking the Grandparent, Brahma, as to who is powerful and who is less powerful among the blue-throated Shiva and Vishnu... but the Grandparent Brahma on inferring the intent of gods started to create adversity among those two, Shiva and Vishnu, for the Grandparent is the best adherer of truthfulness, as truth cannot be demonstrated on hearsay evidence... [1-75-14b, 15, 16a]

Legend: Brahma thought that it would better to enact a drama to cleanse the one-sided mentalities of these lesser gods. So, he started to write the script, and himself becoming the writer-director of that drama. That script is hereunder.

Brahma: Mahadeva, who is the destroyer of Tripura, or say triple-citadels?

Shiva: Why? It is me, of course...

Brahma: Why do you boast that way of yourself? It is the long-arrow of your longbow, isn't it?

Shiva: Yes of course...

Brahma: Then Vishnu was presiding deity of that long-bow... isn't t?

Shiva: Yes, it is he, but I shot it from my bow... basically, is this a confusion, or, are you playing any part of Narada...

Brahma: Not so, the other day Vishnu was telling that he alone did that master task...

Shiva: How can it be! In the triple of doer-deed-instrument, instrument cannot become the doer... has his language gone topsy-turvy, noun is becoming verb and verb is lost to adjective and...

Brahma: Ok, Ok... we do not care much for grammar as we care more for communication, grammar is paNini's headache... but what he said is that he alone did it... not you...

Shiva: Then why I am called... why that longbow is given to me... you should have got it done by Vishnu... why calling me... you have unnecessarily spoiled my dance program...

Brahma: Not that... I said what he said... let's not quarrel among ourselves...

Shiva: I not only quarrel but wage war, if it comes to my interests and my devotees' interest... how many times I have not done so...

Brahma: That is what Vishnu was telling... every time you give a boon to every demon, and involve yourself in enmeshment, and Vishnu has come to come and rescue... have he forgotten the episode of bhasmaasura... thus Vishnu is saying and asking...

Shiva: Now I don't tolerate... I will take him to task...

Exit Shiva - Enter Vishnu. Brahma reverses the above dialogue and says that to Vishnu

Vishnu: No, No, highly objectionable... I will take him to task... I will take him to task...

Exit All. War Started.

विरोधे तु महत् युद्धम् अभवत् रोम हर्षणम् ॥ १-७५-१६

शिति कण्ठस्य विष्णोः च परस्पर जय एषिणोः ।

16b, 17a. virodhe tu = in animosity, but; paraspara jaya eSiNoH = each to each, victory, aspiring [for himself]; shiti kaNThasya = blue, throated Shiva's; viSNoH ca = of Vishnu, also; roma harSaNam = hair, raising one; mahat yuddham abhavat = fierce, war, became [occurred.]

"Owing to their animosity then occurred a fierce and hair-raising war among Shiva and Vishnu, as each aspired victory for himself... [1-75-16b, 17a]

Verse Locator

तदा तु जृम्भितम् शैवम् धनुः भीम पराक्रमम् ॥ १-७५-१७

हुम् कारेण महादेवः स्तम्भितो अथ त्रिलोचनः ।

17b, 18a. tadaa = then; hum kaareNa = by 'hum', sound [of Vishnu]; bhiima paraakramam shaivam dhanuH = ruinously, overpowering, Shiva's, longbow; jR^imbhitam = yawned [fatigued, broken]; atha trilocanaH mahaadevaH = then, triple-eyed, Mahadeva; stambhitaH = motionless [frozen.]

"By the 'hum' sound of Vishnu that ruinously overpowering longbow of Shiva is broken, and the triple-eyed God, Mahadeva, is frozen... [1-75-17b, 18a]

The bow is jR^imbhitam broken by the hum in dissent of Vishnu - Govindaraja. And Maheshvara Tiirtha says that the bow as well as Shiva are rendered jaDa motionless. There are many legends on this shiva garva bhanga 'deflation of Shiva's pride' and some info about is given in endnote.

Verse Locator

देवैः तदा समागंय स ऋषि सन्धैः स चारणैः ॥ १-७५-१८

याचितौ प्रशमम् तत्र जग्मतुः तौ सुर उत्तमौ ।

18b, 19b. tadaa = then; sa R^iSi sanghaiH sa caaraNaiH = with, sages', assemblages, with, carana-s; devaiH = by gods; tatra = there [in that matter of wielding authority]; samaagamya = coming together; yaacitau = both Shiva and Vishnu - are appealed; tau = those two [Shiva, Vishnu]; sura uttamau = gods, superior among; prashamam = appeasement; jagmatuH = went into [state of amity.]

"Then gods along with the assemblages of sages and celestial carana-s have come together and appealed to those two for appeasement in the matter of wielding authority, and then those two superior gods, Shiva and Vishnu, went into a state of amity... [1-75-18b, 19a]

Verse Locator

जृम्भितम् तत् धनुः दृष्ट्वा शैवम् विष्णु पराक्रमैः ॥ १-७५-१९

अधिकम् मेनिरे विष्णुम् देवाः स ऋषि गणाः तदा ।

19b, 20a. viSnu paraakramaiH = by Vishnu's, mettlesomeness; jR^imbhitam = rendered inert; tat shaivam dhanuH dR^iSTvaa = that, Shiva's, bow, on seeing; tadaa sa R^iSi gaNaaH devaaH = then on, with, sages', assemblages, gods; viSNum adhikam menire = Vishnu, as paramount, they deemed.

"On seeing the bow of Shiva rendered inert by the mettlesomeness of Vishnu, from then on the gods along with the assemblages of sages deemed Vishnu to be the paramount... [1-75-19b, 20a]

Verse Locator

धनू रुद्रः तु संक्रुद्धो विदेहेषु महायशाः ॥ १-७५-२०

देवरातस्य राज ऋषेः ददौ हस्ते स सायकम् ।

20b-21a. samkruddhaH = with indignation; mahaayashaaH rudraH tu = celebrated, Rudra, on his part; videheSu = among Videha [kings]; sa saayakam dhanuu = with, arrow, longbow; raaja R^iSeH = to Kingly, sage; devaraatasya haste dadau = in Devaraata's, hand, handed over.

"That celebrated Rudra on his part with indignation has handed over that longbow, which is already fitted with unloosened arrow, to the sagely king among Videha kings, namely Devaraata... [1-75-20b, 21a]

This longbow of Shiva is reported as given after the devastation of the ritual of Daksha Prajaapati, the father of Sati and the father-in-law of Shiva as said at 1-66-9: dakSa yaj~na vadhe puurvam dhanuH aayamyaa viiryavaan | This ritual of Daksha is a composite of many problems. Shiva neither as god nor as the son-in-law of Daksha is invited to that ritual, Shiva's consort Sati self-immolates herself in the her father's ritual, Viira Bhadra and other deputies of Shiva depredate that ritual, and this shiva keshava yuddha 'duelling of Shiva and Vishnu...' happens... all to show - a single person's disinterestedness ruins even a holy marriage. Here Daksha was uninterested to give his daughter Sati in marriage to Shiva.

Verse Locator

इदम् च वैष्णवम् राम धनुः पर पुरम् जयम् ॥ १-७५-२१

ऋचीके भार्गवे प्रादात् विष्णुः स न्यासम् उत्तमम् ।

21b, 22a. raama = oh, Rama; saH viSNuH = he, that Vishnu; para puram jayam = enemy, citadel, conquering; idam vaiSNavam dhanuH = this, Vishnu's, longbow; bhaargave = of Bhrigu; R^iciike = to Riciika [son of Bhrigu]; uttamam nyaasam praadaat = best [trustworthy,] as trust, handed over.

"Oh, Rama, this alone is that enemy-citadel conquering longbow of Vishnu, and Vishnu handed over this to Sage Riciika, the son of Bhrigu, as a trustworthy trust... [1-75-21b, 22a]

Verse Locator

ऋचीकः तु महातेजाः पुत्रस्य अप्रतिकर्मणः ॥ १-७५-२२

पितुः मम ददौ दिव्यम् जमदग्नेः महात्मनः ।

22b-23a. mahaatejaaH R^iciikaH tu = great resplendent, Riciika, on his part; putrasya = to his son; a prati karmaNaH = of un, matchable, deeds; mahaatmanaH = to great souled one; mama pituH jamadagneH = to my, father, Jamadagni; divyam = [this] divine [bow]; dadau = handed over.

"That great-resplendent Sage Riciika on his part has handed over this divine bow to his son with unmatched deeds of religious merit, who is my father Sage Jamadagni... [1-75-22b, 23a]

The word of Jamadagni means 'one who is born in Ritual-fire and having fire as his anima...' jaajamadya jajaane aham jajahii ha jajaayiSii | jamadagniH iti khyaatam tato maa viddhi shobhane | | where the word jajaamanta is 'those who devour oblations repeatedly and at a single time in Vedic-rituals, namely gods; jamu - bhakshane so I am jajihi because I sprang up from Ritual-fire... and when the first syllable in ja jaamat is dropped it remained as jamat and when combined with fire jamat agni it shortened after dropping matup pratyaya to become jamadagni so oh, lady know me as one born and having Ritual-fire... or, Vedic-ritual itself..'

Verse Locator

न्यस्त शस्त्रे पितरि मे तपो बल समन्विते ॥ १-७५-२३

अर्जुनो विदधे मृत्युम् प्राकृताम् बुद्धिम् आस्थितः ।

23b, 24a. tapaH bala samanvite = asceticism, power, [though] having; me pitari = my, father; nyasta shastre = one who has cast away, weapon [isolated from arsenal - astra sanyaas]; arjunaH = Arjuna, or, Kaartviiya Arjuna [not to be confounded with Arjuna of Maha Bharata]; praakR^itaam buddhim aasthitaH = primitive [barbarous,] mentality, adhering to; mR^ityum vidadhe = death, imposed [subjected to.]

"Adhering to a barbarous mentality Kaartviiya Arjuna put my father to death, when the ascetically powerful father of mine has isolated himself from arsenal... [1-75-23b, 24a]

Verse Locator

वधम् अप्रतिरूपम् तु पितुः श्रुत्वा सु दारुणम् ।
क्षत्रम् उत्सादयन् रोषात् जातम् जातम् अनेकशः ॥ १-७५-२४
पृथिवीम् च अखिलाम् प्राप्य काश्यपाय महात्मने ।
यज्ञस्य अन्ते तदा राम दक्षिणाम् पुण्य कर्मणे ॥ १-७५-२५
दत्त्वा महेन्द्र निलयः तपो बल समन्वितः ।

24b, c, 25, 26a. raama = oh, Rama; a prati ruupam = not, similar, in form [type, unregenerate]; su daaruNam = highly, gruesome; pituH vadham shrutvaa = father's, murder, on hearing; roSaata = with rancour; jaatam jaatam = newborn, as newborn - as and when born; kSatram = Kshatriya-s; an ekashaH = not, for one time; utsaadayana = extirpating [Kshatriya lineages]; akhilaam pR^ithiviim praapya = in entirety, planet earth, on getting [under my control]; yaj~nasya ante = Vedic-ritual, at the end of; mahaatmane = to the divine-souled one; puNya karmaNe = of pious, observances; kaashyapaaya = to Sage Kashyapa; dakSiNaam dattvaa = as ritualistic-generosity, on giving; tadaa = then; tapaH bala samanvitaH = asceticism, powers of, conjoined [with me]; mahendra nilayaH = Mt. Mahendra, indweller [I am at present.]

"Oh, Rama, on hearing the unregenerate and highly perfidious murdering of my father, I rancorously extirpated Kshatriya-s as and when they are born, that too not for one time, but I did so for thirty-seven times going around the earth... and on getting the entire earth under my control I performed Vedic-ritual, and at the end of that Vedic-ritual, I gave all that earth to sage Kashyapa, a sage with divine soul and with pious observances, as a ritualistic-generosity... and I am at present on Mt. Mahendra practising asceticism and thus conjoined are the powers of asceticism in me... [1-75-24b, c, 25, 26a]

Verse Locator

श्रुत्वा तु धनुषो भेदम् ततो अहम् द्रुतम् आगतः ॥ १-७५-२६
तत् एवम् वैष्णवम् राम पितृ पैतामहम् महत् ।
क्षत्र धर्मम् पुरस् कृत्य गृह्णीष्व धनुर् उत्तमम् ॥ १-७५-२७

26b, 27. raama = oh, Rama; tat = that; dhanuSaH bhedam = longbow's, breakage; shrutvaa = on hearing; aham tataH drutam aagataH = I, therefore, quickly, came; kSatra dharmam = Kshatriya-hood, fealty to; puraH kR^itya = afore, keeping [in view]; evam = likewise [like the wielding of Shiva's bow]; pitr^i paitaamaham = father, forefathers [passed on]; mahat = supernatural; uttamam = superlative one; vaiSNavam dhanuH gR^ihNiiSva = of Vishnu, longbow, you take, you handle.

"On hearing about the breakage of Shiva's longbow, then I promptly came here. Thereby, oh, Rama, wield this supernatural and superlative longbow of Vishnu, which is passed on to me from my forefathers and my father. Keep your fealty to Kshatriya-hood in view, and wield this as you have wielded Shiva's longbow... [1-75-26b, 27]

Verse Locator

27. kaakutstha = oh, Kakutstha; ghanuH shreSThe = with longbow, supramundane one; para puram jayam sharam = enemy, citadels, conquering, arrow; yojayasva = you join; shaktaH asi yadi = capable, you are, if; tataH = thereafter; dvandvam daasyaami te = a duel, I give, to you;.

"Take an aim with an arrow that conquers enemy's citadels fixing it on this supramundane longbow... and oh, Kakutstha, should you be capable of it, thereafter I will give you a duel... [1-75-27]

The odds between Vishnu and Shiva

This is a long drawn bloody quarrel between the two sects of vaiSNavism Vishnu faith and shaivism Shiva faith, over centuries. Here it is doubtlessly expressed in the epic that Vishnu is superior to Shiva. anena shivaat viShNoH utkarShaH pratipaaditam - ayam eva arthaH | dk 'by this Vishnu is proposed to be superior to Shiva...' but it does not mean 'every time or everlastingly...' Insofar as the incarnations are concerned, it is Vishnu, but not Shiva. In philosophy, both are one and in theology, they are separate. sR^iShTi sthiti anta kaaraNaat brahma vishNu shivaatmikaam | sa sanj~naam yaati bhagavaan eka eva janaardanaH | | vishNu puraaNa api cet samaram praapya bhaviShyasi maam adhikaH | bhaarata - droNa parva ekam eva advitiiyam brahma - sat eva saumaya idam agram assiit - sarvam khalvidam brahma - brahmaa vaa idam agra assiit - hiraNya garbha samavartata agre - antar bahiH ca tat sarvam vyaapya naaraayaNa sthitaH - eka eva rudro na dvitiiyaaya tasthe - ekam sad vipraa bnaudhaa vadanti ekam santam bahudhaa kalpayanti - abedha shruti where the last one is 'when there is only one Absolute wise men and poets create many of his forms...' to explain in ordinary parlance, that too through Puraana-s. This is because of the complexity of Vedas. In fact, Vedas do not tell anything straightaway 'this god, that is god...' but asks us, rather intuitively, to infer ourselves about the nature of god, according to our own IQ. And to be precise, Vedic gods are different from Puranic gods and Veda holds on to one Brahman, or The Absolute. The Rain-god, Fire-god, Indra et al are the instrumental gods in knowing that Absolute. The content of Vedas is just like the complexity of complex video game of present day. The more you play you either get yourself addicted to it, or shun it, or get demented by it.

Vedas go on saying pure truths in plain terms like: sham naH suurya urucakShu udaitu sham nshcatasraH pradiipto bhavantu | sham naH dhruvayo bhavantu naH sindhavaH shamu san santi aapaH | | R^igveda 7-35-8 - 'Bless that the sun, with extensive radiance, Rises for peace. May the four quarters of horizon, Be auspicious for peace and harmony...' What is so great about the sun or his radiance? If we persist in asking why this is said like that, then a dozen other quotes will be brought in to explain the idea behind it. Again another hymn: sahasra shiirShaa puruShaH sahasraakSha sahasra paat | R^igved 10-90-1 - 'He has thousands of heads, He has thousands of eyes...' It would be ridiculous to think of a god with thousands of heads and thousands of eyes, but if it is explained 'He has thousands of heads, to think about mankind, and he has thousands of eyes to watch over the good and bad deeds of mankind... it may be meaningful. Max Muller has this to say about the study of Vedas:

Of course, this learning of Vedas by heart is carried on under a strict discipline; it is, in fact, considered as a sacred duty. A native friend of mine... tells me that a boy, who is to be brought up as a student of Rig Veda, has to spend about eight years in the house of his teacher. He has to learn ten books: first, the hymns of Rig ved; then a prose treatise on sacrifices, called the braahmaNa; then the so-called Forest book or aranyaka; then the rules of domestic ceremonies; and lastly, six treatises on pronunciation, grammar, etymology, metre, astronomy, and ceremonial...' India can it what teach us, by Max Muller - a recent republication of Penguin.

All the above is for no practical utility in these days, except for an enquiry into that 'Brahman.' So also there is a probability for phonetic problem uccaraNa doSa in Vedas which causes pratyaa vaaya a boomeranging bad effect. If we wish to chant its hymn 'oh, Indra, slay my enemies...' and if a diphthong or a diagraph is mispronounced it becomes 'Oh, Indra, kill me, instead of my enemies...' and it is said to happen that way yad bhaavam tad bhavati... Unless they are practised for a life time, they are un-understandable, hence they are set aside and Puraana-s are brought in their place. Further, the effect of Vedas is said to be declining according to yuga dharma era theory... What that was available in satya yuga a period where the conflict was only between god and man, for e.g., the legend of Hrishcandra and his truth speaking, which stands tested by almost all gods, but that truthfulness is lessened in treat yuga Ramayana's period, where the conflict was between man and demons, which dharma is further lessened in dvaapara yuga period of Maha Bharata, where the conflict is among one's own brothers, and that much dharma of that period is almost extinct in kali yuga which is obvious, from the known history of India, where the conflicts are going on between man and man - husband and wife, father and son, neighbour and neighbour, and so on.

This is on par with the four-legged dharma, The Holy Bull, nandi loosing its legs one after the other and now you will see that Bull in any sculpture with half raised right foreleg, where other three went under its belly.

So Puraana-s are evolved to throw some light on what Vedas have to say, of course with some religious overtones. Elsewhere we have detailed about Puraana-s of them Shiva and Vishnu Puraana-s are though prominent, but their adherers quarrel tooth and nail about the superiority of Shiva or Vishnu. In Vishnu Puraana many instances of coalescence of Vishnu with Shiva are narrated tvat vaakya gauravaat etat mayaa cakram nivartitam | tvayaa yat abhayam dattam tat dattam akhilam mayaa - Krishna says to Shiva at the time of eliminating a demon called Baana Asura, 'As you say I have taken back my disc, and if you give a boon I deem all that is given by me...' So many instances can be quoted like this. But here Parashu Rama has no intention to kill Dasharatha Rama, as said in Padma Puraana: rarakSha bhagavaan - bhaargava raamaH - ekam ikShvaakostu mahaa kulam | maataamahasya anvayatvaat reNukaa vacanaat tathaa | 'that god Bhaargava Rama safeguarded one great dynasty of Ikshvaku-s, for they are related to his grandmother, besides at the request of Renuka Devi, his mother...' So, god Bhaargava Rama is a nepotist and saved Dasharatha Rama. Not so, Bhaargava Rama is neither a nepotist nor a god to be worshipped. He is not worshipped because his incarnation is not a full incarnation of Vishnu as Dasharatha Rama. Only the wrathful impetuosity of Vishnu is incarnated like Bhaargava Rama to perform butchery and even infanticide. bhaargavo ati dR^iptaH prasiddhaH tadaaniim ca krodha andha iti sva kShatriya vadhaat upratam shastra sannyaasam ca parityajya capala iti viditaH 'Bhaargava Rama is a highly impudent personality and blinded by his wrath, thus to eliminate his own Kshatriya-s [namely his own relatives, Dasharatha and his sons; again the caste system is peeping in, isn't it!] On overstepping his pledge of renunciation of weaponry, he came... hence his actions are faltering...' appayaa diikshita, a shaivaite. He came here to perform certain unsaid action, which we will see in next episode.

Verse Locator

इति वाल्मीकि रामायणे आदि काव्ये बाल काण्डे पंच सप्ततितमः सर्गः

Thus, this is the 75th chapter in Bala Kanda of Valmiki Ramayana, the First Epic poem of India.

Book I : Bala Kanda - The Youthful Majesties

Chapter [Sarga] 76 Verses converted to UTF-8, Oct 09

Introduction

Rama takes aim with Vishnu's longbow and asks Parashu Rama to choose the target to release the arrow, as arrow of that bow cannot go astray. Parashu Rama opts for elimination of his ascetic merit and heavenly realms thereby. Rama releases the bow annihilating that merit and after that, Parashu Rama retreats into oblivion.

Verse Locator

श्रुत्वा तत् जामदग्न्यस्य वाक्यम् दाशरथिः तदा ।
गौरवात् यंत्रित कथः पितू रामम् अथ अब्रवीत् ॥ १-७६-१

1. tadaa = then; daasharathiH = Dasharatha's Rama; jaamadagnyasya = Rama of Jamadagni; tat vaakyam shrutvaa = that, sentence, on hearing; pituu gauravaat = to father, owing respect to; yantrita kathaH = controlled, saying [courtly-tongued]; atha raamam abraviit = then, to Rama of Jamadagni, said.

On hearing that sentence of Rama of Jamadagni, then Rama of Dasharatha said this to him in a courtly owing to the presence of his father Dasharatha. [1-76-1]

Verse Locator

कृतवान् अस्मि यत् कर्म श्रुतवान् असि भार्गव ।
अनुरुन्ध्यामहे ब्रह्मन् पितुर् आनृण्यम् आस्थितः ॥ १-७६-२

2. bhaargava = oh, Bhaargava; yat karma = whatsoever, endeavour; kR^itavaan asi = undertaken [strived for,] you have; shrutavaan asmi = heard of them, I have; brahman = oh, Brahman; pituH = father; a nR^iNyam = without [free from,] indebtedness; aasthitaH = obtained [you have achieved]; anurundhyaamahe = we appreciate you.

"Oh, Bhaargava Rama, whatsoever endeavour you have strived for freeing yourself from the indebtedness towards your father, I have heard of them, and oh, Brahman, we appreciate for your achieving that freeness from your paternal debt, but... [1-76-2]

Verse Locator

वीर्य हीनम् इव अशक्तम् क्षत्र धर्मेण भार्गव ।
अवजानासि मे तेजः पश्य मे अद्य पराक्रमम् ॥ १-७६-३

3. bhaargava = oh, Bhaargava Rama; viirya hiinam iva = valour, inferior [timorous,] as though; kSatra dharmeNa = by Kshatriya, duty [Kshatriya-hood]; a shaktam = not, capable [to handle the bow]; ava jaanaasi = lowly, you deem [demean me]; adya = now; me = my; tejaH = sprightliness; para aakramam = my, conquering [spiritedness]; pashya = you see.

"Oh, Bhaargava Rama, demeaning me as though I am timorous, hence incapable to handle the bow, and hence I am an ignoble one for Kshatriya-hood, is meaningless... come on, now you may see my spiritedness and sprightliness..." So said Rama to Bhaargava. [1-76-3]

Up to here both these Rama-s are in close quarters with other few present there. After this dialogue, they have moved a little away from the throng and facing each other as true combatants. A swordsman or an archer needs an arm-length, or sword-length or bow-length, at the least, to swagger his weapon. This place is to be assumed as an isolated place and no one is seeing or listening. This scene has an analogy in Maha Bharata when Krishna teaches Bhagavad Gita to Arjuna. There, it is said, that Krishna froze the time to teach all the eighteen chapters, and none among two sides of warring factions are aware of Krishna, his teachings, or of Arjuna, excepting Sanjaya, who is placed at a distant place and has seen all with his wisdom-eye. Here we have to borrow that wisdom-eye of Sanjaya and see at these two Rama-s and their actions. When their episode is over the mist cast around them, rather on our eyes, will be cleared, when Rama returns to his father. This is said in later verses. Further more, all the people available there are rendered unconscious at the arrival of Bhaargava Rama, and a few like Dasharatha, Vashishta, Rama's brothers are with senses. So, even if they hear and see this scene, those listeners or seers do no harm in revealing Rama's godhood to world, or in particular to Ravana.

Verse Locator

इति उक्त्वा राघवः क्रुद्धो भार्गवस्य वर आयुधम् ।

शरम् च प्रतिजग्राह हस्तात् लघु पराक्रमः ॥ १-७६-४

4. laghu para aakramaH = nimbly, others, conquering one [nimble-handed vanquisher of opponents]; raaghavaH = Raghava; kruddhaH = in high dudgeon; iti uktvaa = thus, speaking; bhaargavasya hastaat = Bhaargava Rama's, from hand; vara aayudham = estimable, weapon [longbow of Vishnu]; sharam ca = arrow, also; prati jagraaha = towards himself, taken [expropriated.]

Raghava, the nimble-handed vanquisher of his opponents, speaking thus in high dudgeon expropriated that estimable weapon, namely the longbow of Vishnu, from the hand of Bhaargava Rama, along with the long-arrow that is already fitted on it... [1-76-4]

"and, along the same lines Rama also said to have extricated the essential nature of Bhaargava..." The above said 'distancing' of these two Rama-s has another purpose. Rama has certain innate nature of making his observers enchanted by his very personality. Even Ravana looks at him adoringly in the war scene. This apart, his hand has certain ability to extricate the innate nature of others, should he lay his hand on them. We rarely see him touching or patting others, except for Seetha, Lakshmana, Hanuma, and say a squirrel etc. So, it is believed that, Rama has now expropriated the essential nature of Vishnu from Bhaargava Rama, while snatching the bow from his hands. For this Padma Puraana says: iti uktvaa devii vaiShNavyaa shaktyaa tad gataayaa saha | jagraaha vaiShNavam caapam vinayena ca liilayaa || 'oh, Devi Parvati, saying so Rama took away the Vishnu's anima from Bhaargava Rama, along with bow of Vishnu, sportily and obediently, too...' Thus, Rama of Dasharatha bade goodbye to his earlier incarnation, Parashu Rama, as two swords cannot be in one sheath.

Verse Locator

आरोप्य स धनू रामः शरम् सज्यम् चकार ह ।

जामदग्न्यम् ततो रामम् रामः क्रुद्धो अब्रवीत् इदम् ॥ १-७६-५

5. saH raamaH = he, that Rama; dhanuu aaropya = longbow, on lifting up; sharam sajyam = arrow, arranged on bowstring; cakaara ha = did it [took aim,] indeed; tataH raamaH kruddhaH = then, Rama, irefully; jaamadagnyam raamam = to Jamadagni's, Rama; idam abraviit = this, said.

On lifting up the bow that is already fitted with an arrow on bowstring, then Rama started to take aim with it, but being indecisive about the target, then Rama of Dasharatha irefully said this to Rama of Jamagadni. [1-76-5]

Verse Locator

ब्राह्मणो असि इति पूज्यो मे विश्वामित्र कृतेन च ।

तस्मात् शक्तो न ते राम मोक्तुम् प्राण हरम् शरम् ॥ १-७६-६

6. raama = oh, Rama of Bhaargava; braahmaNaH asi = Brahmana, you are; iti = by this reason [even if, you are killable]; vishvaamitra kR^itena ca = Vishvamitra, owing to [your relationship,] also; me puujyaH = to me, venerable; asmaat = thereby; te praaNa haram sharam = your, life, removing [exterminating,] arrow; moktum = to release; na shaktaH = not, capable [disinclined to.]

"Oh, Rama of Bhaargava, even if you are a Brahman you are eliminable, but because of your relationship with Vishvamitra, and because you are a venerable one for me, I am disinclined to release this arrow that exterminates your life... [1-76-6]

Bhaargava-s are Brahman-s and a Brahman cannot be killed braahmaNo na hantavya then how Rama is prepared to eliminate a Brahman, subjecting himself to the sin called 'Brahman killing...' brahma hatyaa paataka... There is no sin in eliminating a Brahman who is weaponed and warring. tathaa ca bhaarate raaja dharme kR^iShNam prati bhiiShmaH - pitruun pitaamahaan pitryam guruun sambandhi baandhavaan | mithyaa pravR^ittaan yaH sa~Nkhye nihanyaa dharma eva saH | | Maha Bharata, shananti parva. 'It is no sin to eliminated fathers, grandfathers, teachers, and the like [even if they are Brahman-s,] for they are under an illusion, called war...' So said Bhiishma to Krishna and thereby Panadava-s have eliminated Drona, Kripa, Ashvaddhaama and suchlike weaponed Brahman-s in war, but not in peace. There are many more such sayings of Bhiishma. Here Parashu Rama said that he will give a duel to Rama, hence he is no more a Brahman when he raises a weapon. And he is a blood relation of Vishvamitra, and that corner of mercy is not allowing Rama to release the arrow on Parashu Rama.

Verse Locator

इमाम् वा त्वत् गतिम् राम तपो बल समार्जितान् ।
लोकान् अप्रतिमान् वा अपि हनिष्यामि यत् इच्छसि ॥ १-७६-७

7. raama = oh, Bhaargava Rama; imam = this; tvat gatim vaa = either, your, motility [at the speed of mind, cf., verse 15]; tapaH bala samaarjitaan = by asceticism, power of, earned; a pratimaan lokaan = un, paralleled, worlds [realms of heavens]; vaa api = or, even; haniSyami = I wish to eliminate; yat icChasi = whichever, you wish.

"Oh, Bhaargava Rama, either this motility of yours at the speed of your mind, or even those unparalleled realms of heavens which you have earned by the power of your asceticism, I will eliminate whichever you wish... [1-76-7]

Verse Locator

न हि अयम् वैष्णवो दिव्यः शरः पर पुरंजयः ।
मोघः पतति वीर्येण बल दर्प विनाशनः ॥ १-७६-८

8. para puram jayaH = others', citadels, conqueror; viiryeNa = [by its] mettle; bala darpa vinaashanaH = vigour, vainglory, vanquisher; divyaH = one took birth in divine worlds - arrow; ayam vaiSNaVaH sharaH = this, Vishnu's, divine, arrow; moghaH = wastefully; na patati hi = not, falls through, isn't it.

"This Vishnu's divine arrow is the conqueror of opponents' citadels, and a vanquisher of their vigour and vainglory, and it will not fall through wastefully... isn't it!" So said archer Rama to axeman Rama. [1-76-8]

The debate on the superiority of Vishnu or Shiva may have its own mythological import, but as far as Ramayana is considered, the eulogy for Vishnu's longbow is intended to suggest the all-powerful capacity of Vishnu in eliminating demons and to lead the epic to its own goal. Dharmaakuutam has to say this: prakR^ite - adhikam menire vishNum - iti raamaayaNa vacanam tu agre kartavya sakala raakShasa vadha hetu bhuuta vaiShNava dhanShaH praashasta pratipaadana param j~nyeyam | Hence the mythological quarrels have no place in Ramayana.

Verse Locator

वर आयुध धरम् रामम् द्रष्टुम् स ऋषि गणाः सुराः ।
पितामहम् पुरस्कृत्य समेताः तत्र सर्वशः ॥ १-७६-९

9. vara aayudha dharam = extraordinary, weapon [longbow of Vishnu,] wielder; raamam = at Rama; draSTum = to see; sa R^iSi gaNaaH = with, sages', assemblages; suraaH = gods; pitaamaham puraskR^itya = Grandparent, keeping afore; sarvashaH = all of the; gandharva apsarasaH caiva = gandharva-s, apsara-s, also thus; siddha caaraNa kinnaraaH = siddha-s, caaranaa-s, kinnaraa-s; yakSa = yaksha-s; raakshasa = sprites; naagaaH = reptilian beings; ca = also; tat mahat adbhutam = that, extremely, amazing [event]; draSTum = to see; tatra = to there; sametaaH = came together - they forgathered.

Gods together with the assemblages of sages have come keeping the Grandparent Brahma at their fore, likewise the gandharva-s, apsara-s, siddha-s, caarana-s, kinnaraa-s, yaksha-s, sprites and reptilian beings have also come to see Rama who is now wielding the extraordinary longbow of Vishnu, and extremely amazing event that is going to ensue. [1-76-9, 10]

The 'amazing event' is not the handing over or taking over of longbow, but it is the transference of the essential nature of Bhaargava Rama to Dasharatha Rama. Nrisimha Puraana has this: tataH parashu raamasya dehaat nirgatasya vaiShNavam | pashyataam sarva devaanaam tejo raamam upaavishat ||

Verse Locator

जडी कृते तदा लोके रामे वर धनुर् धरे ।

निर्वीर्यो जामदग्न्यो असौ रमो रामम् उदैक्षत ॥ १-७६-११

11. tadaa = then; raame = Rama; vara [shara] dhanuH dhare = best [inscrutable,] longbow [with arrow,] while becoming a wielder [when ready to take aim with it]; loke jaDii kR^ite = world, insentient, while being rendered as; asau jaamadagnyaH ramaH = he that, Jamadagni's, Rama; nir viiryaH = less, of vigour; raamam = at Rama; ut aikSata = up, stared.

Then, when Rama is ready to take aim with the arrow on that inscrutable longbow, and when the worlds are being rendered as insentient, then that Rama of Jamadagni is rendered vigourless and he stared up at Rama of Dasharatha. [1-76-11]

Vividly: When the aura of Vishnu available in Bhaargava Rama has entered Dasharatha Rama through that inscrutable longbow of Vishnu, Dasharatha Rama's aura dazzled like that of Vishnu, and that dazzlement of Vishnu's aura threw the world in a daze, and then that aura-less, thus vigourless Bhaargava Rama has nothing to do except to stare at Vishnu-like Rama, with upraised eyes.

Verse Locator

तेजोभिः हत वीर्यत्वात् जामदग्न्यो जडी कृतः ।

रामम् कमल पत्र अक्षम् मन्दम् मन्दम् उवाच ह ॥ १-७६-१२

12. tejaH = by radiance [of Rama]; abhi hata viiryatvaat = completely, marred, with such vitality; jaDii kR^itaH jaamadagnyaH = callous, made as, Jamadagni's Rama; kamala patra akSam = to lotus, petal, eyed one; raamam = to Rama; mandam mandam = slowly, softly; uvaaca ha- spoke, indeed.

Rama of Jamadagni is calloused as his vitality is subdued by the radiance of that lotus-petal eyed Rama of Dasharatha, and he spoke to Rama of Dasharatha, slowly and softly. [1-76-12]

Verse Locator

काश्यपाय मया दत्ता यदा पूर्वम् वसुंधरा ।

विषये मे न वस्तव्यम् इति माम् काश्यपो अब्रवीत् ॥ १-७६-१३

13. puurvam = once; vasundharaa = entire earth; yadaa = when; maya = by me; kaashyapaaya = for Kashyapa; dattaa = was donated; me viSaye = in my, domain; na

vastavyam = not, inhabitable; iti kaashyapaH maam abraviit = thus, Kashyapa, to me, told.

"Once, when I donated entire earth to Sage Kashyapa, Kashyapa told me 'uninhabitable is my domain, viz., this earth for you...' thus... [1-76-13]

A donor cannot enjoy a gift anymore, once donated to the donee. And if the donor still clings around that donation, it does not come under the true definition of 'donation.' Hence, Parashu Rama is asked to depart from this world. Hence he has gone to the ethereal mountain called Mt. Mahendra.

Verse Locator

सो अहम् गुरु वचः कुर्वन् पृथिव्याम् न वसे निशाम् ।
तदा प्रभृति काकुत्स्थ कृता मे काश्यपस्य ह ॥ १-७६-१४

14. saH aham = such as I was, I; guru vacaH kurvan = my mentor's, order, to do [observance]; tadaa prabhR^iti = then, afterwards; pR^ithivyaam = on earth; nishaam = during nights; na vase = not, I stay [spend]; kaakutstha = oh, Kakutstha Rama; [pratij~naa = promise]; kR^itaa me = made over by me; kaashyapasya ha = for Kashyapa, indeed.

"Such as I was, in my observance of my mentor Kashyapa's order I do not spend nights on this earth from then afterwards, oh, Kakutstha Rama, as I made over this earth for Kashyapa, indeed... [1-76-14]

Verse Locator

तम् इमाम् मत् गतिम् वीर हन्तुम् न अर्हसि राघव ।
मनो जवम् गमिष्यामि महेन्द्रम् पर्वत उत्तमम् ॥ १-७६-१५

15. viira = oh, valiant one; raaghava = oh, Raghava; tam [tat] = thereby; imam = this; mat gatim = my, motility; hantum na arhasi = to impair, not, apt of you; manaH javam = with cerebation, speed of; parvata uttamam mahendram = to mountain, par excellent one, to Mt. Mahendra; gamiSyami = I will depart.

"Thereby oh, valiant one, it will be inapt of you to impair this motility of mine, oh, Raghava, I will depart with the speed of cerebation to Mt. Mahendra, a par excellent mountain... [1-76-15]

Verse Locator

लोकाः तु अप्रतिमा राम निर्जिताः तपसा मया ।
जहि तान् शर मुख्येन मा भूत् कालस्य पर्ययः ॥ १-७६-१६

16. raama = oh, Rama; maya apratimaa lokaaH = by me, matchless, realms [of heaven]; tapasaa nirjitaH = by asceticism, triumphed over; taan shara mukhyena jahi = them, with arrow, important [irreversible one,] you hash up; kaalasya paryayaH maa bhuut = time's, lag, let no, be there.

"But I triumphed over matchless realms of heavens with my asceticism, oh, Rama, you may hash them up with that irreversible arrow... let there be no time-lag... [1-76-16]

Verse Locator

अक्षय्यम् मधु हन्तारम् जानामि त्वाम् सुरेश्वरम् ।
धनुषो अस्य परामर्शात् स्वस्ति ते अस्तु परंतप ॥ १-७६-१७

17. asya = that particular one; dhanuSaH = bow; paraamarshaat = touch of handling [thereby, your touch of nature]; tvaam = you; a kSanyam = not, mutable; sura iishvaram = gods, god of; madhu hantaaram = Madhu, the demon, as exterminator of; jaanaami = I realize; parantapa = oh, enemy-inflamer; svasti te astu = blessedness, to you, betides.

"I have realized your touch of nature as that of the Immutable Supreme Being, God of Gods, the Exterminator of the demon Madhu, namely Vishnu, by the touch of your handling that bow...

एते सुर गणाः सर्वे निरीक्षन्ते समागताः ।
त्वाम् अप्रतिम कर्माणम् अप्रतिद्वन्द्वम् आहवे ॥ १-७६-१८

18. samaagataaH = collectively came; ete sarve sura gaNaaH = these, all, gods', assemblages of; a pratima karmaaNam = un, equalled, one having achievements; a prati dvandvam aahave = no, counter, dueller, in conflicts; tvaam = you; niriikSante = they are beholding.

"All of these gods who have come collectively are beholding you and your next move, for you are an unequalled one in you achievements and to whom there is no counter-dueller in conflicts... [1-76-18]

Parashu Rama is hastening up Dasharatha Rama to finish business quickly, otherwise the nature of Rama and his incarnation will publicized, not by these two Rama-s, but the game watching gods. If these spectators stay for a long time in sky, some airborne demon will let the cat out of the bag.

न च इयम् तव काकुत्स्थ व्रीडा भवितुम् अर्हति ।
त्वया त्रैलोक्य नाथेन यत् अहम् विमुखी कृतः ॥ १-७६-१९

19. kaakutstha = oh, Kakutstha; trailokya naathena = triad of worlds', lord of; tvayaa = by you [such as you are]; tava = by you; aham = I am; yat = by which [reason]; vi mukhii kR^itaH = down, face, made as; iyam = this [act of disgrace]; vriiDaa = disgrace; bhavitum = to become; na ca arhati = not, also, apropos.

"Oh, Kakutstha Rama, you are the lord of the triad of worlds, such as you are, you faced me down, and it is malapropos to say that this is a disgrace to me... [1-76-19]

शरम् अप्रतिमम् राम मोक्तुम् अर्हसि सु व्रत ।
शर मोक्षे गमिष्यामि महेन्द्रम् पर्वतोत्तमम् ॥ १-७६-२०

20. su vrata = oh, one with ethical, commitments - committed to clear out demons; raama = oh, Rama; apratimam sharam moktum arhasi = unsurpassed, arrow, to unloose, apt of you; shara mokSe = arrow, when unloosened; parvata uttamam mahendram gamiSyami = mountain, ethereal, to Mt. Mahendra, I will go.

"It will be apt of you to unloose that unsurpassed arrow, oh, Rama, as you have ethical commitment to wipe out demons as I wiped out menacing kings, and should you unloosen that arrow now I wish to depart to the ethereal mountain Mt. Mahendra, a point of no return for me..." So said Parashu Rama to Dasharatha Rama. [1-76-20]

तथा ब्रुवति रामे तु जामदग्न्ये प्रतापवान् ।
रामो दाशरथिः श्रीमान् चिक्षेप शरम् उत्तमम् ॥ १-७६-२१

21. jaamadagnye raame tu = of Jamadagni, by Rama, on his part; tathaa bruvati = that way, while speaking; prataapavaan = venturesome one; shriimaan daasharathiH raamaH = blessed one, Dasharatha's, Rama; uttamam sharam cikSepa = nonpareil, arrow, shot off.

While Rama of Jamadagni is speaking that way, that venturesome and blessed Rama of Dasharatha shot off that nonpareil arrow from that longbow of Vishnu. [1-76-21]

स हतान् दृश्य रामेण स्वान् लोकान् तपसा आर्जितान् ।
जामदग्न्यो जगाम आशु महेन्द्रम् पर्वतोत्तमम् ॥ १-७६-२२

22. saH jaamadagnyaH = he, of Jamadagni; tapasaa aarjitaan = by asceticism, acquired; svaan lokaan = all, realms of heavens; raameNa hataan = by Rama, shot-blasted; dR^ishya = having seen; aashu parvata uttamam mahendram jagaama = in a trice, to heavenly, mountain, to Mahendra, went away [vanished.]

On seeing all of his realms of heavens are shot-blasted by Rama of Dasharatha, Rama of Jamadagni vanished in a trice to Mt. Mahendra, the heavenly mountain. [1-76-22]

Rather, ready to depart... as he is given some more role-play in next verses.

Verse Locator

ततो वि तिमिराः सर्वा दिशा च उपदिशः तथा ।
सुराः स ऋषि गणाः रामम् प्रशशंसुः उदायुधम् ॥ १-७६-२३

23. tataH = then; sarvaa dishaa = all, directions; tathaa = likewise; upa dishaH ca = intermediary, directions; vi timiraaH = without [dissipated,] darkness; sa R^iSi gaNaaH suraaH = with, sages', assemblages, gods; ud aayudham = one with upraised, weapon; raamam prashashamsuH = Rama, extolled.

Then dissipated is the darkness in all the divisions and likewise in all the subdivisions of compass, and the gods with the assemblages of sages extolled Rama, in whose hands the longbow is upraised. [1-76-23]

Please refer the endnote about this longbow and how it is passed on to Janaka's dynasty.

Verse Locator

रामम् दाशरथिम् रामो जामदग्न्यः प्रशस्य च ।
ततः प्रदक्षिणी कृत्य जगाम आत्म गतिम् प्रभुः ॥ १-७६-२४

24. prabhuH = efficient one, [dab hand at axe]; jaamadagnyaH raamaH = Jamadagni, Rama of; daasharathim raamam prashasya = Dasharatha's, Rama, on acclaiming; tataH pradakSiNii kR^itya = then, circumambulations, on making; aatma gatim jagaama = on his own, way, went away.

Then that dab hand at axe, Rama of Jamadagni, on acclaiming, and even on making circumambulations to Rama of Dasharatha, went on his own way into oblivion. [1-76-24]

Longbows of Shiva and Vishnu

The bestowal of Shiva's bow to the dynasty of Janaka is said variously at various places. In the hermitage Vishvamitra it is said that the bow is given in Vedic-ritual taddhi puurvam narashreSTha dattam sadasi daivataiH | 1-31-8 In the previous chapter it is said that the bow is given in the hand of Devaraata devaraatasya raaja R^iSeH dadau haste sa saayakam | 1-75-20 And earlier it is said to be given in Daksha's ritual dakSa yaj~na vadhe puurvam dhanuH aayamy viiryaavaan | 1-66-9 Seetha says about this to ascetic Lady Anasuya that Rain-god gave this to Janaka's dynasty mahaayaj~ne tadaa tasya varuNena mahaatmanaa | dattam dhanur varam priityaa tuuNii ca akSayya saayakau Ayodhya II-118. These statements, though not self-contradictory, and though they create a little confusion, they all are correct. When Daksha's Vedic-ritual is devastated, Shiva wanted to throw back the useless bow, that was worsted by Vishnu's bow, on the face of gods. But gods fearing for the ire of Shiva requested Shiva to give that bow to Devaraata, on their behalf. Shiva gave it to Devaraata as a trust, through Rain-god Varuna, but Shiva did not bequeath it. Later Janaka on appeasing gods in Vedic-ritual asked them to leave the bow once for all in Janaka Dynasty. Gods have agreed to it. And Rama broke it.

Now Dasharatha Rama gives back the other bow of Vishnu brought by Parashu Rama to the same Rain-god Varuna, who is present there at both Rama-s, in the thin air, when the environ is enshrouded by certain darkness, and when Rama is last seen with that upraised longbow at 1-76-23, and just before darkness is dissipated, Rama gives that bow to Rain-god, according to the first verse in next chapter.

Well known is Krishna's showing his Cosmic Form vishva ruupa to Arjuna, while teaching Bhagavad Gita in Maha Bharata. But that Bharata records Rama's display of His Cosmic form to Parashu Rama, only at this juncture. In Ch. 89 of anushaashanika parva of Maha Bharata it is said in detail as: pashya maam svena ruupeNa cakShuH te vitaraami aham | tato raama shariire vai raama pashyati bhaargavaH | aadityaan pavamaanaan rudraan saadhyaan ca sa marud gaNaana | pitaro hutaashanaH caiva nakShatraaNi grahaaH tathaa | and a long account follows on this. But this has not been amplified or explained in other texts, due to unknown reasons. However, it is not part of Valmiki Ramayana.

इति वाल्मीकि रामायणे आदि काव्ये बाल काण्डे षट् सप्ततितमः सर्गः

Thus, this is the 76th chapter in Bala Kanda of Valmiki Ramayana, the First Epic poem of India.

Book I : Bala Kanda - The Youthful Majesties

Chapter [Sarga] 77 Verses converted to UTF-8, Oct 09

Introduction

The wedding party arrives at Ayodhya on the exit of Parashu Rama. Yudhaajit, the maternal uncle of Bharata, who came before marriages, now takes Bharata and Shatrughna to his kingdom. Rama and Lakshmana from then on are engaged in the welfare works of their subjects, at the behest of their father. Rama and Seetha will then enter the threshold of their blissful married life.

Verse Locator

गते रामे प्रशांत आत्मा रामो दाशरथिः धनुः ।
वरुणाय अप्रमेयाय ददौ हस्ते महायशाः ॥ १-७७-१

1. raame gate = of Rama of Jamadagni, on the departure of; prashaanta aatmaa daasharathiH raamaH = quietened, at heart, Dasharatha, Rama of; mahaayashaaH = most glorious one, Rama; dhanuH = longbow of Vishnu; aprameyaaya varuNaaya = to unequalled one, to Rain-god; haste dadau = in hand, gave.

On the departure of Rama of Jamadagni, that most glorious Rama of Dasharatha is quietened at heart, and he gave away that longbow of Vishnu into the hand of inimitable Rain-god. [1-77-1]

On this longbow and its giving to god of Rain, some discussion is incorporated in the earlier chapter.

Verse Locator

अभिवाद्य ततो रामो वसिष्ठ प्रमुखान् ऋषीन् ।
पितरम् विह्वलम् दृष्ट्वा प्रोवाच रघुनंदनः ॥ १-७७-२

2. tataH = then; raghu nandanaH = Raghu's delight; raamaH = Rama; vasiSTha pramukhaan R^iSiin = to Vashishta, important, sages; abhivaadya = paying respects; vihvalam pitaram dR^iSTvaa = agitated, father, on seeing; provaaca [pra uvaaca] = well, said - placatingly addressed.

On paying respects to sage Vashishta and to the other important sages, Rama, the delight of Raghu's lineage, placatingly addressed his agitated father Dasharatha. [1-77-2]

Verse Locator

जामदग्न्यो गतो रामः प्रयातु चतुर् अग्निणी ।
अयोध्या अभिमुखी सेना त्वया नाथेन पालिता ॥ १-७७-३

3. jaamadagnyaH raamaH gataH = Jamadagni, Rama of, gone away [gone on his way]; naathena = as its lord; tvayaa paalitaH = by you, governed [under your wardship]; catur angaNii senaa = fourfold [army / and marriage convoy]; ayodhyaH abhimukhii prayaatu = towards, Ayodhya, let it move on.

"Rama of Jamadagni has gone on his way, you may now order the army under your wardship, for which you are the lord, to move on towards Ayodhya..." So said Rama to his father. [1-77-3]

Verse Locator

रामस्य वचनम् श्रुत्वा राजा दशरथः सुतम् ।
बाहुभ्याम् संपरिष्वज्य मूर्ध्नि उपाग्राय राघवम् ॥ १-७७-४
गतो राम इति श्रुत्वा हृष्टः प्रमुदितो नृपः ।
पुनर्जातम् तदा मेने पुत्रम् आत्मानम् एव च ॥ १-७७-५

4, 5. raajaa dasharathaH = king, Dasharatha; raamasya vacanam shrutvaa = Rama's, sentence, on hearing; sutam raaghavam baahubhyaam sampariSvajya = son, Raghava, with both arms, hugged; muurdhni upaaghraaya = forehead, kissed; raamaH = Parashu Rama; gataH iti shrutvaa = gone away, thus, to hear; hR^iSTaH = gladdened; pramuditaH = [further] highly gladdened; nR^ipaH = king; tadaa = then; putram = son [sons]; aatmaanam = he himself; punaH jaatam = again, born; mene = presumed - presumed to have taken a rebirth.

On hearing the words of Rama king Dasharatha hugged his son with both of his arms, and kissed on the forehead of Raghava, and king Dasharatha is gladdened to listen about the departure of Parashu Rama, and then he is further gladdened in deeming that he and his sons took a rebirth. [1-77-4, 5]

Verse Locator

चोदयामास ताम् सेनाम् जगाम आशु ततः पुरीम् ।
पताका ध्वजिनीम् रंयाम् तूर्य उद् घुष्ट निनादिताम् ॥ १-७७-६
सिक्त राज पथा रंयाम् प्रकीर्ण कुसुम उत्कराम् ।
राज प्रवेश सुमुखैः पौरैः मंगल पाणिभिः ॥ १-७७-७
संपूर्णाम् प्राविशत् राजा जन ओघैः समलंकृताम् ।

6, 7, 8a. raajaa = king; taam senaam codayaamaasa = that, legion, ordered to move ahead; tataH = later; pataakaa dhvajiniim = which has banners, bannerettes - flags; ramyaam = beautiful one; tuurya ud ghuSTa ninaaditaam = bugle-horns, high, sounding, reverberated with; sikta raaja pathaa = wetted, royal, with highways; prakiirNa kusuma utkaraam = bestrewn, with flowers, bunches of; raaja pravesha sumukhaiH = by king's, entry, glee-faced; mangala paaNibhiH pauraiH = welcoming kits, in their hands, with urbanites; sampuurNaam = replete with; jana oghaiH sam alamkR^itaam = by people, swarms of, well-decorated; ramyaam puriim jagaama = into such exhilarating, city Ayodhya, went to; and; aashu praavishat = quickly entered.

Then the King Dasharatha ordered that legion to move ahead, and then they all went towards delightful city Ayodhya, whose royal highways are wetted with water, sprinkled with bunches of flowers, decorated with banners and bannerettes up above them, and reverberating with high sounding bugle-horns. Further, those highways are replete with urbanites welcomers who are handling welcoming kits which are golden handy-crates or plates in which lit camphor, fragrant incenses, vermilion powder, flowers to shower on the incomers are arranged, and those highways are well-decorated with throngs of people who are glee-faced at their king's re-entry, and into such an exhilarating city Ayodhya king Dasharatha and his retinue entered. [1-77-7, 8a]

Verse Locator

पौरैः प्रति उद्गतो दूरम् द्विजैः च पुर वासिभिः ॥ १-७७-८
पुत्रैः अनुगतः श्रीमान् श्रीमद्भिः च महायशाः ।
प्रविवेश गृहम् राजा हिमवत् सदृशम् प्रियम् ॥ १-७७-९

8b, 9. pauraiH = by citizenry; pura vaasibhiH dvijaiH ca = city, dwelling, Brahman-s, also; duuram = from a distance; prati ud gataH = towards, oppositely, going [people came to receive the king]; shriimadbhiH putraiH ca = illustrious, with sons, also; anugataH = followed by; shriimaan mahaayashaaH raajaa = phenomenal, praiseworthy, king; himavat sadR^isham = Himalayan [lofty and lordly palazzos,] like; priyam gR^iham = happy, house and home; pravivesha = entered.

When the citizenry and city-dwelling Brahman-s have received him from a distance, that illustrious king Dasharatha followed by his phenomenal and praiseworthy sons then entered his happy house and home, which is like the lofty and lordly Himalayan palazzo. [1-77-8b, 9]

'King entered the house...' is not just an entrance of a character into a scene, but it entails a lot of ceremony called gR^iha pravesha 'entering into householder-hood, the second stage of life gaarhapatya dharma out of the four stages of living, 1] celibate scholar, 2] householder, 3] repairing to forest or sageship, 4] final release, moksha. paaNi grahaNa anantarm kriyamaaNo gR^iha praveshaH - dk where ceremonies go on for hours together.

Verse Locator

ननन्द स्वजनैः राजा गृहे कामैः सुपूजितः ।
कौसल्या च सुमित्रा च कैकेयी च सुमध्यमा ॥ १-७७-१०
वधू प्रतिग्रहे युक्ता याः च अन्या राज योषितः ।

10, 11a. raajaa = king; gR^ihe = in palace; kaamaiH su puujitaH = by ambitions, well, revered [when his long cherished ambitions have come true]; sva janaiH nananda = own, people, [king is] overjoyed; kausalyaa ca = Kausalya, also; sumitraa ca = Sumitra, also; su madhyamaa = good, at middle [well-waisted]; kaikeyii ca = Kaikeyi, also; yaaH anyaa raaja yoSitaH = which of those, other, king's, wives - are there, they; vadhuu pratigrahe yuktaaH = brides, in receiving, engaged in; - nanaduH = overjoyed.

In palace king Dasharatha is overjoyed when he is surrounded with his own inmates of palace-chambers, and when his long cherished ambitions have come true, while his queens, Kausalya, Sumitra, and slender waisted Kaikeyi and other wives are overjoyed in the functions of receiving the four brides. [1-77-10]

Again this 'receiving bride' is an elaborate variety of fun and games of womenfolk will take place, at which place there is almost no entry to men. For example, name telling. An Indian bride, or the later time wife is supposed to not to call her husband by his name. It is a sacred taboo, and her addressing shall be in genderless, person-less, and numberless hooting, cooing or calling like e jii - o jii - emanDii - ennango - shuniye so on. To cite one such ceremony it is 'naming game.' Here the bride is compelled to tell the name of her husband, and she will be hesitating to do so, because of her newness to this house or to her husband. After some teasing attempts, she mutters her husband's name, and then only she will be admitted into certain chamber or room. But dwindling are these games, and dampening is that fun, in these days of readymade marriages. Then why Dasharatha shall be overjoyed at these womanly functions, they do all those womanish things... because, Dasharatha wanted his palace to be in festivity, with just one son. But four are forced on him and they too obtained four brides in one go, hence fourfold is his happiness. It may be observed that Kaikeyi is the lone queen with 'beauty' as her attribute, and the problem with her is seeded here alone, saying that enchantment of Dasharatha towards her outweighs his affection to Rama, later.

Verse Locator

ततः सीताम् महाभागाम् ऊर्मिलाम् च यशस्विनीम् ॥ १-७७-११
कुशध्वज सुते च उभे जगूहः नृप योषितः ।

11b-12a. tataH = then; nR^ipa yoSitaH = kings, wives [womenfolk]; mahaa bhaagaam siitaam = highly propitious, Seetha; yashasviniim uurmilaam ca = highly fortunate, Urmila, also; ubhe sute ca Kushadhvaja = both, daughters, also, of Kushadhvaja; jagR^ihuH = received [welcomed.]

Then the womenfolk of the king welcomed the highly propitious Seetha and the highly fortunate Urmila too, along with both the daughters of Kushadhvaja, namely Maandavi and

मंगल आलापनैः होमैः शोभिताः क्षौम वाससः ॥ १-७७-१२
देवत आयतनानि आशु सर्वाः ताः प्रत्यपूजयन् ।

12b-13a. taaH sarvaaH = they, all - brides and bridegrooms; shobhitaH = shining forth; kSauma vaasasaH = in silks, clad; mangala aalaapanaiH = with benedictory, chanting [of Vedic hymns]; homaiH = with Ritual-fire; aashu = promptly; devataa aayatanaani prati apuujayan = god, sanctums, they have worshipped.

All of the brides and bridegrooms clad in silks promptly worshipped the gods in sanctums to the benedictory chanting of Vedic hymns and Ritual-fires, thus they shone forth like the tongues of Holy Fires of Vedic Altars. [1-77-12b, 13a]

These young couples by themselves are radiant, and they are now clad in radiant silks that glitter wavily like the tongues of fire, and the Ritual-fire s are already there flaring wavily, to the weave-like chanting of Vedic benedictions. With all these waving, flaring, glaring the couples too appeared as the humanly Ritual-fires before the wood burnt Vedic Ritual-fires.

अभिवाद्य अभिवाद्यान् च सर्वा राज सुताः तदा ॥ १-७७-१३
रेमिरे मुदिताः सर्वा भर्तृभिः सहिता रहः ।

13b, 14a. tadaa = then; sarvaa raaja sutaaH = all, king's, daughters - princesses; abhivaadyaan abhivaadya ca = those who are respect worthy, on paying respects to them, also; rahaH = in sequestered [palace-chambers]; bhartR^ibhiH sahitaH = husbands, along with; muditaH sarvaa = gladdened, all; remire = luxuriated in.

Then all the princesses paid respects to all of the respectable ones, and they luxuriated in sequestered palace-chambers along with their husbands. [1-77-13b, 14a]

This 'paying respects to respectable elders' is but one line. In reality, the torsos of those that pay respects will be put to test, because they have to 'pay' by bending and touching the feet of elders, each time to each, paada abhivandana, pai lagoo . And if the girls are from jeans or pants culture, [because days have gone,] they will be fresh and new to bridal sari, which itself will be a weight to carry. And many times we see the young brides falling on the blessing couple because her bridal sari gets entangled in the toes of the bride, and she is not yet ready to manage it. So goes on this parade until their backs are broken.

कृत दाराः कृत अस्त्राः च स धनाः स सुहृत् जनाः ॥ १-७७-१४
शुश्रूषमाणाः पितरम् वर्तयन्ति नरर्षभाः ।

14b, 15a. nararSabhaaH [kumaaraaH] = men, the best - bridegrooms; kR^ita daaraaH = made [come to pass] marriages; kR^ita astraH ca = made [accomplished,] in weaponry, also; sa dhanaaH = with, riches; sa suhR^it janaaH = with, good hearted, people [around]; pitaram = father; shushruuSamaaNaaH = assisting; vartayanti = occupied themselves - in welfare of kingdom.

And those best men among men, Rama, Lakshmana, Bharata, Shatrughna, who are by now accomplished persons in weaponry and whose marriages have also come to pass, occupied themselves in the welfare of kingdom while assisting their father and moving around with good hearted people. [1-77-14b, 15a]

कस्यचित् अथ कालस्य राजा दशरथः सुतम् ॥ १-७७-१५

भरतम् कैकेयी पुत्रम् अब्रवीत् रघुनन्दन ।

15b, 16a. atha kasyacit kaalasya = then, after some, time; raghunndana = Rahu's legatee; raajaa dasharadhaH = king, Dasharatha; kaikeyii putram = to Kaikeyi's, son; sutam = to [his own] son; bharatam = to Bharata; abraviit = spoke.

Then after sometime that king Dasharatha, the legatee of Raghu-s, spoke to his and Kaikeyi's son, Bharata. [1-77-15b, 16a]

Verse Locator

अयम् केकय राजस्य पुत्रो वसति पुत्रक ॥ १-७७-१६

त्वाम् नेतुम् आगतो वीरो युधाजित् मातुलः तव ।

16b, 17a. putraka = oh, son; tvaam netum = you, to take; aagataH = came [here]; kekeya raajasya putraH = Kekaya, king's, son; viiraH = valiant one; tava maatulaH = your, maternal uncle; ayam yudhaajit = this, Yudhaajit; vasati = is staying behind.

"This is your maternal uncle and the son of king of Kekaya, and this valiant Yudhaajit came here to take you to Kekaya province, and he is staying behind because of your marriage..." thus Dasharatha bade farewell to Bharata suggesting that Bharata may now go with Yudhaajit. [1-77-16b, 17a]

Verse Locator

श्रुत्वा दशरथस्य एतत् भरतः कैकेयि सुतः ॥ १-७७-१७

गमनाय अभिचक्राम शत्रुघ्न सहितः तदा ।

17b, 18a. kaikeyi sutaH bharataH = Kaikeyi's, son, Bharata; dasharathasya etat shrutvaa = Dasharatha's, all that [opinion,] on hearing; tadaa = then; shatrughna sahitaH = Shatrughna, along with; gamanaaya abhicakraama = to travel, readied himself.

On hearing the opinion of Dasharatha, Bharata, the son of Kaikeyi, then readied himself to travel along with Shatrughna to Kekaya province. [1-77-17b, 18a]

Verse Locator

आपृच्छ पितरम् शूरो रामम् च अक्लिष्ट कर्मणम् ॥ १-७७-१८

मातृः च अपि नरश्रेष्ठ शत्रुघ्न सहितो ययौ ।

18b, 19a. shuuraH = valiant one Bharata; pitaram = from father; a kliSTa karmaNam = without, complexities, doer of deeds [uncomplicatedly dextrous in deeds]; raamam ca = from, Rama; maatR^IH ca api = from mothers, also, even; aapR^icChya = on asking leave; narashreSTa = best one among men Bharata; shatrughna sahitaH yayau = Shatrughna, along with, travelled.

That valiant and best one among men Bharata on asking leave from his father, from Rama, an uncomplicatedly dextrous one in undertaking deeds, and even from his mothers, Kaikeyi, Sumitra, and Kausalya, travelled on along with Shatrughna. [1-77-18b, 19a]

Verse Locator

युधाजित् प्राप्य भरतम् स शत्रुघ्नम् प्रहर्षितः ॥ १-७७-१९

स्व पुरम् प्रविवेशत् वीरः पिता तस्य तुतोष ह ।

19b-20a. praapya bharatam shatrughnam = on clinching, Bharata, Shatrughna; yudhaajit = Yudhaajit; praharSitaH = is highly gladdened; saH viiraH = he, that, valiant one; sva puram praviveshat = his own, city, entered; tasya pitaa tutoSa ha = his, father, highly rejoiced, indeed.

Yudhaajit on clinching not only Bharata, but Shatrughna also, that valiant one is highly gladdened and entered his own city, indeed to the high rejoice of his father, King of Kekaya. [1-77-19b, 20a]

Verse Locator

गते च भरते रामो लक्ष्मणः च महाबलः ॥ १-७७-२०

पितरम् देव संकाशम् पूजयामासतुः तदा ।

20b, 21b. tadaa = then; bharate gate = Bharata, after departure of; mahaabalaH = great mighty Rama [here: masterly proficient Rama]; raamaH lakshmaNaH ca = Rama, Lakshmana, also; deva sankasham = god, like [godly]; pitaram = father; puujayaamaasatuH = started to worship [square with.]

After the departure of Bharata, then the masterly proficient Rama along with Lakshmana started to square with the plans and programs of of his godly father for an ideal-sovereignty. [1-77-20b, 21a]

Verse Locator

पितुः आज्ञाम् पुरस्कृत्य पौर कार्याणि सर्वशः ॥ १-७७-२१

चकार रामः सर्वाणि प्रियाणि च हितानि च ।

मातृभ्यो मातृ कार्याणि कृत्वा परम यन्त्रितः ॥ १-७७-२२

गुरूणाम् गुरु कार्याणि काले काले अन्ववैक्षत ।

21b, 22-23a. raamaH = Rama; pituH aaj~naam puraskR^itya = father's, directives, keeping afore [in view]; sarvaaNi = all of the; priyaaNi ca = agreeable, also; hitaani ca = advantageous, also; paura kaaryaaNi = people's [welfare,] activities; sarvashaH cakaara = in entirety, undertook; parama yantritaH = in highly, self-disciplined manner; maatR^ibhyaH maatR^i kaaryaaNi = for mothers, mother's, activities [to humour motherly affection]; guruuNaam guru kaaryaaNi = to educators, educational, activities; kR^itvaa = on accomplishing; kaale kaale = from time, to time [timely]; anvavaikshata = on examining carefully.

Rama keeping his father's directives in view undertook welfare activities for the people that are agreeable and even advantageous to them, and in the entirety of those activities, and he undertook activities to humour motherly affection with his mothers, and educational activities with educators, and in a highly self-disciplined manner he used to review them carefully from time to time. [1-77-22b, 22, 23a]

Verse Locator

एवम् दशरथः प्रीतो ब्राह्मणा नैगमाः तथा ॥ १-७७-२३

रामस्य शील वृत्तेन सर्वम् विषय वासिनः ।

तेषाम् अति यशा लोके रामः सत्य पराक्रमः ॥ १-७७-२४

स्वयम्भूः इव भूतानाम् बभूव गुणवत्तरः ।

23b, 24-25a. evam = that way; raamasya = of Rama; shiila vR^ittena = deportment, comportment; dasharathaH priitaH = Dasharatha, is pleased; braahmaNaa tathaa naigamaaH = Brahman-s, likewise, urbanites; sarvam viSaya vaasinaH [priitaH] = in entire, kingdom, indwellers, [are pleased]; loke = in world; ati yashaa = who has high, distinction; guNavat taraH = by hallmarks, higher [in degree, de haut en bas]; satya paraakramaH = truthfulness, being vanquishing point [being vantage point]; raamaH = Rama; teSaam = for them [for subjects of kingdom]; bhuutaanaam = among living beings; svayam bhuuH iva = self, born Brahma, as with; babhuuva = became [manifested.]

That way Dasharatha is pleased with the deportment and comportment of Rama, likewise the Brahman-s and urbanites, and even all of the indwellers in the entire kingdom are pleased, and he who has high distinction, his truthfulness alone is his vantage point, and whose hallmarks are of higher degree, that Rama has manifested himself to those subjects in the kingdom, and even to all of the living beings in the world, as the Self-Created Brahma. [1-77-23b, 24, 25a]

Verse Locator

रामः च सीतया सार्धम् विजहार बहून् ऋतून् ॥ १-७७-२५
मनस्वी तद् गतमानस्य तस्या हृदि समर्पितः ।

25b-26a. manasvii raamaH ca = hearty, Rama, also; tat gatamaanasya = her [alone,] one who permeated [into her heart]; tasyaaH hR^idi sam arpitaH = in her, in heart, well, dedicated [ensconce in her heart]; siitayaa saardham = Seetha, along with; bahuun R^ituun vijahaara = for many, seasons, disported.

Also, that hearty Rama who permeated into the heart of Seetha is ensconced in Seetha's heart alone, and he disported for many seasons along with Seetha. [1-77-25b, 26a]

The other mms use raamaH tu instead of raamaH ca where this tu says a difference. Then, 'Rama is busy in welfare and other works of state, tu 'but' he is also impassioned for Seetha. And he is manasvii 'hearty one' warm, friendly, spirited etc., are his dispositions for kingdom, people, governmental works tu 'but' he is that 'hearty' for Seetha... Hence tad gataH - tasyaam gataH 'he pervaded her psyche, hence casketed in her heart... In the other mms it will be tasyaaH hR^idi nityam samarpitaH 'heart of Seetha is 'always' dedicated to Rama... and that word nityam 'always, eternal, everlasting...' couple. So, they may be a couple from time immemorial tu 'but' they are as good as a fresh and fervent young couple... bahuun R^ituun 'for many, many seasons to come...' he is disporting with Seetha. Why tell seasons when there is calculated calendar with years, decades, and centuries... Not so... their disporting is according to seasons, with seasonal environ, with a seasonable togetherness... vijahaara is grammatically a parasmai padi then the fruition goes to the subject, and subject of the verse is Rama, so he alone is the enjoyer and insatiate is his enjoyment with Seetha, even during and after bahuun R^ituun many, and many seasons. niravadhika paraspara baddha anuraaga abhivR^iddhi 'an endless, mutual, conjugal, impassion and its enrichment - the self-content bliss of monogamy.

Verse Locator

प्रिया तु सीता रामस्य दाराः पितृ कृता इति ॥ १-७७-२६
गुणात् रूप गुणात् च अपि प्रीतिः भूयो अभिवर्धते ।

26b, 27a. siitaa tu = Seetha is, on her part; pitR^i kR^itaa daaraaH = by father [Dasharatha,] made [assented to,] wife; iti = thus [on becoming a wife]; raamasya priyaa = Rama's, beloved one; guNaat = by her own virtues; ruupa guNaat ca api = comeliness, by virtue of, also, even; priitiH = desirableness - loveliness; bhuuyaH abhivardhate = furthermore, burgeoning in him.

Seetha has become the beloved of Rama as she is wedded with the assent of his father Dasharatha, further Rama's love for Seetha burgeoned by virtue of Seetha's own virtues and loveliness. [1-77-26b, 27a]

Here the good old saying ati ruupavatii siitaa - ati muurkhaaH ca raavaNa 'Seetha is the greatest beauty, Ravana is the highest pigheaded demon...' may be remembered. He loved her for his father's voice / Had given her and approved the choice: / He loved her for each charm she wore / And her sweet virtues more and more. - Griffith.

Verse Locator

तस्याः च भर्ता द्विगुणम् हृदये परिवर्तते ॥ १-७७-२७
अन्तर् गतम् अपि व्यक्तम् आख्याति हृदयम् हृदा ।

27b, 28a. bhartaa ca = husband Rama, even; tasyaaH hR^idaye = in her, heart; dvi guNam parivartate = two, fold [twice as good,] made his mark; hR^idayam antar gatam api = in heart, interior of, went into [thoughts in heart of hearts]; hR^idaa vyaktam aakhyaati = by heart, clearly, [both] converse.

Even Rama as her husband made his mark in Seetha's heart twice as good, and they both used to clearly converse about their thoughts in their heart of hearts, just by their hearts. [1-77-27b, 28a]

Verse Locator

तस्य भूयो विशेषेण मैथिली जनक आत्मजा ।
देवताभिः समा रूपे सीता श्रीः इव रूपिणी ॥ १-७७-२८

28b-c. ruupe devataabhiH samaa = in mien, goddess', identical with; ruupiNii shriiH iva = personified, Goddess Lakshmi, like; [or, shrII iva ruupiNii = prosperity, as though, personified, reshaped] maithilii = one from Mithila province [a holy land, hence she is Holy]; janaka aatmajaa = Janaka's, soul-born, [daughter of the loftiest sagacious king Janaka]; siitaa = Seetha; bhuuyaH = much [indubitably]; [sahaja guNa gaNa] visheSeNa = [natural, traits, heaps of] characteristics; tasya = in his [Rama's]; [hR^idaye parivartate = in heart, meandering, rather rejoicing.]

In her mien Seetha is identical with goddesses, and she is like personified Goddess Lakshmi, thus she is the reshaped Divine Prosperity, and as she hails from Holy Mithila she shall be held Holy, and since she is the daughter of Janaka, a loftiest sagacious and invincible king, she is sagely and stately, besides being shapely, and she with all these heaps of natural traits and characteristics, Seetha is rejoicing the heart of Rama. [1-77-28b, c]

Verse Locator

तया स राज ऋषि सुतो अभिकामया
समेयिवान् उत्तम राज कन्यया ।
अतीव रामः शुशुभे मुदा अन्वितो
विभुः श्रिया विष्णुः इव अमर ईश्वरः ॥ १-७७-२९

29. raaja R^iSi sutaH = king, sagely, son of [Dasharatha]; saH raamaH = such as he is, Rama; abhikaamayaa [abhiraamayaa] = passionately [she who makes delight]; uttama raaja kanyayaa = with best [irreproachable,] king's, daughter; sameyivaan = conjugated / together with; tayaa = with her; shriyaa = with Goddess Lakshmi; amara iishvaraH = gods', god of; vibhuH = The Efficient Cause; viSNuH iva = Vishnu, like; mudaa anvitaH = elation, combined with; atiiva shushubhe = much [enthusiastically,] shone forth.

When passionately conjugated with such a princess from the irreproachable king Janaka, Rama, the son of sagely king Dasharatha, has enthusiastically shone forth like the God of Gods and the Efficient Cause, namely Vishnu, when He is together with Goddess Lakshmi. [1-77-29]

The 'son of king' suggests that Rama as a prospective king has no paucity for any items of enjoyment. The best 'princess' suggests that Seetha is no less than him, but now her prosperity edges on that of Rama, because she has Rama as her husband. And how will be their mutual affection and love? Many more pages can be written on it, but insufficiently, and perhaps inefficiently. This stanza from a romantic work maalatii maadhaviyam will say how such a love would be: liinena prati bimbite iva likhite utkiirNa ruupeva ca | pratyupteva ca vajra lepa ghaTite iva antar nikhaate iva ca | saa naH cetasi kiilitena vishikhaiH ceto bhuvaH pancabhiH | cintaa santati tantu jaalena nibiDa syuute iva lagnaa priyaa | 'my darling is immersed in my heart as sugar merges in milk, as the Red oleander reflects in a prism, as a portrait painted on canvas, as a picture carved on a stone tablet, as a gem studded in a ring, as bedaubed skin-cream, and as though the five darts of Love-god are nailed fixedly, [which darts usually will be in a touch-and-go fashion,] and as though stringed with thought-strings of my heartstrings, that are the halters with fastness...'

इति वाल्मीकि रामायणे आदि काव्ये बाल काण्डे सप्त सप्ततितमः सर्गः

Thus, this is the 77th, and conclusive chapter of Bala Kanda of Valmiki Ramayana, the First Epic poem of India.

sarve janaaH sukhino bhavantu

All be Blest

Book Two - Ayodhya Kanda

Caveat 1: In this UTF version of Ayodhya kANDa proofreading is not yet done properly; uploaded to examine the experimental transposal of fonts to UTF-8 encoding.

Caveat 2: Some paragraphs in pratipadArtha and tAtparya sections will appear in RED colour, which has no special meaning, but color tags have overspread them while transposing to UTF fonts.

These will be corrected soon. Please bear with us...

Contents [only a few files, upto 70 sargas, are uploaded sofar]

1 : Rama, The Hero	sarga/chapter
2 : Dasaratha's Desire	sarga/chapter
3 : Preparing for the Ceremony	sarga/chapter
4 : Dasaratha's Premonition	sarga/chapter
5 : Festivities in Ayodhya	sarga/chapter
6 : Joy of a city	sarga/chapter
7 : The wicked Manthara	sarga/chapter
8 : Manthara's sinful words	sarga/chapter
9 : Manthara's success in poisoning Kaikeyi's mind	sarga/chapter
10 : Kaikeyi enters the house of wrath	sarga/chapter
11 : Kaikeyi's evil boons	sarga/chapter
12 : Dasaratha's reaction and Kaikeyi's adamant nature	sarga/chapter
13 : Dasaratha's grief and anguish	sarga/chapter
14 : The night passes	sarga/chapter
15 : Sumantra arrives at Sri Rama's chambers	sarga/chapter
16 : Jubilant city of Ayodhya	sarga/chapter
17 : Rama's arrival at royal court	sarga/chapter
18 : Kaikeyi's harsh words	sarga/chapter
19 : Rama decides to leave for forest	sarga/chapter
20 : Kausalya's grief	sarga/chapter
21 : Rama consoles angry Lakshmana	sarga/chapter
22 : Rama tries to pacify Lakshmana further	sarga/chapter
23 : Lakshmana's angry words	sarga/chapter

24 : Rama obtains Kausalya's permission	sarga/chapter
25 : Kausalya bids farewell to Rama	sarga/chapter
26 : Rama lets Seetha know of King's wish	sarga/chapter
27 : Seetha's wish to go to forest along with Rama	sarga/chapter
28 : Rama warns Seetha of difficulties of staying in forest	sarga/chapter
29 : Seetha's insistence on going to the forest	sarga/chapter
30 : Rama agrees to take Seetha to the forest	sarga/chapter
31 : Lakshmana too is permitted to go to the forest	sarga/chapter
32 : Rama distributes his wealth to Rishis	sarga/chapter
33 : Rama pays respects to his father at departure	sarga/chapter
34 : Rama consoles Dasaratha	sarga/chapter
35 :Sumantra Rails at Kaikeyi	sarga/chapter
36 : Siddhartha tries to persuade Kaikeyi	sarga/chapter
37 : Kaikeyi offers tree bark to Seetha to wear	sarga/chapter
38 : Dasaratha is enraged	sarga/chapter
39 : Rama seeks blessings of his mother	sarga/chapter
40 : Rama's departure from Ayodhya	sarga/chapter
41 : The Grief	sarga/chapter
42 : Dasaratha feels dejected	sarga/chapter
43 : Lamentation of Kausalya	sarga/chapter
44 : Sumitra assuages Kausalya's grief	sarga/chapter
45 : Rama requests the citizens to return to Ayodhya	sarga/chapter
46 : Rama passes the night on the banks of Tamasa river.	sarga/chapter
47 : The people of Ayodhya begin to rebuke themselves	sarga/chapter
48: Rama's departure for the forest	sarga/chapter
49 : Rama crossed three rivers	sarga/chapter
50 : Rama bids farewell to his birth-place	sarga/chapter
51 : Guha requests Lakshmana to take rest	sarga/chapter
52 : Guha gets a boat ready	sarga/chapter
53 : Rama tries to send Lakshmana back to Ayodhya	sarga/chapter
54 : The hermitage of Bharadwaja	sarga/chapter
55 : Sage Bharadwaja informs the route of Chitrakuta	sarga/chapter
56 : The Chitrakuta Mountain	sarga/chapter
57 : Sumantra drives back to Ayodhya	sarga/chapter
58 : Sumantra delivers the messages of Rama	sarga/chapter
59 : Dasaratha falls unconscious	sarga/chapter

60 : Sumantra was unable to console Kausalya	sarga/chapter
61 : Kausalya rebukes Dasaratha for his evil act	sarga/chapter
62 : King Dasaratha loses consciousness	sarga/chapter
63 : Dasaratha narrates his sin to Kausalya	sarga/chapter
64 : Dasaratha continued to narrate to Kausalya	sarga/chapter
65 : Dasaratha passes away	sarga/chapter
66 : Kausalya reproaches Kaikeyi	sarga/chapter
67 : Brahmins urge Vasishta to select a youth to be the king	sarga/chapter
68 : Vasishta instructs messengers to call Bharata and	sarga/chapter
69 : Bharata experiences a bad dream	sarga/chapter
70 : The messengers enter the city of Rajagriha	sarga/chapter
71 : Bharata reaches the city of Ayodhya	sarga/chapter
72 : Kaikeyi informs Bharata about the death of Dasaratha	sarga/chapter
73 : Bharata reproaches Kaikeyi in many ways	sarga/chapter
74 : Bharata then promises that he would bring Rama back	sarga/chapter
75 : Bharata and Satrughna go to Kausalya's palace	sarga/chapter
76 : Advice of Vasishta to Bharata	sarga/chapter
77 : Bharata and Shatrughna grieve on cremation ground	sarga/chapter
78 : Shatrughna seizes Manthara and threatens to punish her	sarga/chapter
79 : The king-makers request Bharata to take over Ayodhya	sarga/chapter
80: Construction of a high-way from Ayodhya to River Ganga	sarga/chapter
81: Bharata with Shatrughna enters the assembly	sarga/chapter
82: Bharata refuses to rob the throne from Rama.	sarga/chapter
83: Bharata goes to see Rama	sarga/chapter
84: Guha welcomes Bharata with drink of honey and meat	sarga/chapter
85: Bharata thanks Guha for his hospitality	sarga/chapter
86: Guha narrates Bharata about Rama's stay	sarga/chapter
87: Guha reports further details of Rama	sarga/chapter
88: Bharata approaches the foot of Angudi tree	sarga/chapter
89: Bharata asks Guha to to ferry them across the river by boats.	sarga/chapter
90: Bharata proceeds to see Bharadwaja	sarga/chapter
91: Bharadwaja arranges a befitting hospitality to Bharata.	sarga/chapter
92: Bharata approaches Bharadwaja	sarga/chapter
93: Bharata and his army reach Chitrakuta mountain	sarga/chapter
94: Rama shows the captivating scenery of Chitrakuta to Seetha	sarga/chapter
95: Rama and Seetha spend some time at Mandakini River	sarga/chapter

96: Rama hears a gigantic clamour of an army	sarga/chapter
97: Rama pacifies Lakshmana, who is angry with Bharata	sarga/chapter
98: Bharata continues his search for Rama's hermitage	sarga/chapter
99: Bharata beholds Rama's hermitage and approaches it	sarga/chapter
100: Rama enquires his father's welfare with Bharata	sarga/chapter
101: Bharata informs Rama about Dasaratha's death	sarga/chapter
102: Bharata requests Rama to come to Ayodhya	sarga/chapter
103: Rama fainted away, after hearing the news of his father's	sarga/chapter
104: Vasishta advances to the hermitage of Rama.	sarga/chapter
105: Bharata requests Rama to accept the kingdom	sarga/chapter
106: Bharata gives many reasons to Rama to accept the throne	sarga/chapter
107: Rama tells Bharata about Dasaratha's promise of kingdom	sarga/chapter
108: Jabali tries to persuade Rama to accept the Kingdom	sarga/chapter
109: Rama refutes the atheistic arguments of Jabali	sarga/chapter
110: Vasishta gives details of the creation of the world to Sri	sarga/chapter
111: Vashishta urges Rama to grant the prayer of Bharata	sarga/chapter
112: The sages requests Bharata to accept Rama's words	sarga/chapter
113: Keeping Rama's sandals on his head, Bharata ascends his	sarga/chapter
114: Bharata enters Ayodhya city	sarga/chapter
115: Bharata expresses his desire to proceed to Nandigrama	sarga/chapter
116: Rama notices anxiety among the sages who live in the	sarga/chapter
117: Rama decides to leave Chitrakuta Mountain	sarga/chapter
118: Anasuya instructs Seetha on the role of a devoted wife	sarga/chapter
119: Seetha shows the gifts of Anasuya to Rama.	sarga/chapter

Here concludes the second book Ayodhya Kanda, in Valmiki Ramayanam.

Book II : Ayodhya Kanda - Book Of Ayodhya

Chapter[Sarga] 1

Verses converted to UTF-8, Nov 09

Introduction

Valmiki describes the innumerable virtues of Sree Rama in this sarga. Dasaratha wants to coronate Rama as the crown prince with the approval of all his people. With this end in mind, he invites various citizens, important people from all cities and villages in his kingdom.

Verse Locator

गच्छता मातुलकुलं भरतेन तदाऽनघः ।
शत्रुघ्नो नित्यशत्रुघ्नो नीतः प्रीतिपुरस्कृतः ॥ २-१-१

1. shatrughnaH = Satrughna; anaghaH = who has no sins; nitya shatrughnaH = he who always annihilated his enemies; neetaH = was taken; priiti puraskR^ithaH = with love; bharathena = by Bharatha; gachchhathaa = while going; tadaa = then; maatulakulam = to the maternal uncle's house.

Bharatha, while going to his maternal uncle's house, has taken his brother Satrughna (he who has no sins and who annihilates his enemies) along with him with love.

Verse Locator

स तत्र न्यवसद्भ्रात्रा सह सत्कारसत्कृतः ।
मातुलेनाश्वपतिना पुत्रस्नेहेन लालितः ॥ २-१-२

2. satkaara satkR^ithaH = treated with good hospitality; putra snehena = with paternal love; asvathinaa = lord of cavalry; maathulena = his maternal uncle; saH = that Bharatha; bhratraa saH = with his brother; nyavasat = stayed; tatra = there.

Treated with good hospitality and paternal love by his maternal uncle, Yudhajit, who was a lord of cavalry, Bharatha stayed with his brother there.

Verse Locator

तत्रापि निवसन्तौ तौ तर्प्यमाणौ च कामतः ।
भ्रातरौ स्मरतां वीरौ वृद्धं दसरथं नृपम् ॥ २-१-३

3. viirau = those heroes; bhraatarau = both the brothers; nivasanthau = staying; tatra = there; tarpyamaaNachaapi = though satisfied by; kaamathaH = all the wants; smarathaaM = were remembering; dasaratham nR^ipam = the king Dasaratha.

Those heroes of valour Bharatha and Satrughna, though staying there enjoying all the comforts, were remembering their age old father.

Verse Locator

राजापि तौ महातेजाः सस्मार प्रोषितौ सुतौ ।

उभौ भरतशत्रुघ्नौ महेन्द्रवरुणोपमौ ॥ २-१-४

4. mahaa tejaaH = Mighty; raajaapi = king (Dasaratha); also; sasmaara = was remembering; sutau = his sons; bharata shatrughnau ubhau = both Bharatha and Satrughna; proshhitau = who were out of state; mahendra varunopamau = (and who were) equivalent to Indra and Varuna.

The mighty Dasaratha was also often remembering his sons Bharatha and Satrughna who were out of his state and who were equivalent to Indra and Varuna.

Verse Locator

सर्व एव तु तस्येष्ट श्रुत्वारः पुरुषर्षभाः ।

स्वशरीराद्विनिर्वृत्ताश्चत्वार इव बाहवः ॥ २-१-५

5. tasya = that Dasaratha; isTaaH = was loving; chatvaaraH = his four sons; purushharshhabhaaH = best among men; chatvaaraH baahavaH = like four hands; sarve evatu = all of them; nirvR^ittaaH = emerging; svashariiraat = out of his own body.

Dasaratha was bestowing his equal love to all his four sons who were best among men, as though they were his four hands emerging out of his own body.

Verse Locator

तेषामपि महातेजा रामो रतिकरः पितुः ।

स्वयम्भूरिव भूतानां बभूव गुणवत्तरः ॥ २-१-६

6. raamaH = Rama; svayambhuuriva = like the Brahma; bhuutaanaaM = among all the living beings; guNavattaraH = the most virtuous; teshhaamapi = among those brothers; mahaatejaH = the mightiest; ratikaraH babhuuva = was a source of joy; pituH = for his father.

Rama, like the Brahma among all the living beings, the most virtuous among those brothers and the mightiest was a great source of joy for his father.

Verse Locator

स हि देवै रुदीर्णस्य रावणस्य वधार्थिभिः ।

अर्थितो मानुषे लोके जज्ञे विष्णुः सनातनः ॥ २-१-७

7. saH = That Rama; sanaatanaH = the eternal; vishhnuH = Vishnu; jajjNehi = was born; maanushhe loke = on the earth; arthita = as urged by; devaihi = gods; vadhaarthishihi = to kill; udiirNasya raavaNasya = the egoistic Ravana.

That Rama - was He not the eternal Vishnu who was born on earth as prayed by celestials to kill the egoistic Ravana?

Verse Locator

कौसल्या शुशुभे पुत्रेणामिततेजसा ।

यथा वरेण देवानामदितिर्वज्रपाणिना ॥ २-१-८

8. aditiryathaa = like Adithi; vajrapaaNinaa = by Indra; devaanaaM vareNa = the best among celestials; kausalyaa = Kausalya; shushubhe = was shone by; putreNa = her son; amitatejasaa = the mighty.

Like Adithi by Indra, best among the celestials, Kausalya shone by her son Rama, the mighty.

स हि रूपोपपन्नश्च वीर्यवाननसूयकः ।
भूमावनुपमः सूनूर्णैर्धशरथोपमः ॥ २-१-९

9. saH = Rama; ruupopapannaH cha = having beautiful form; viiryavaan = a hero of valor; anasuuyakaH = without envy; gunaiH = by virtues; dasarathopamaH = like Dasaratha; anupamaH = an incomparable; suunuhu hi = son indeed; bhuumau = on earth.

Rama was beautiful in form, a hero of valor and without envy. By virtues, he was like Dasaratha. In this way, he was an incomparable son on earth.

Verse Locator

स च नित्यं प्रशान्तात्मा मृदुपूर्वं तु भाषते ।
उच्यमानोऽपि परुषं नोत्तरं प्रतिपद्यते ॥ २-१-१०

10. saH = that Rama; nityam = always; prashaantaatmaa = with a peaceful mind; bhaashhate = talked; mR^idupuurvakaM = softly; uttaram na prapadyate = he did not respond to; parushhaM = hard words; uchyamaanaha api = spoken by others.

That Rama was always peaceful in mind and spoke softly. He did not react to the hard words spoken by others.

Verse Locator

कथंचिदुपकारेण कृतेनै केन तुष्यति ।
न स्मरत्यपकाराणां शतमप्यात्मवत्तया ॥ २-१-११

11. saH = That Rama; aatmavattayaa = because of his good bent of mind; tushhyati = feels glad; kathaMchit = even by ; aikena = one; upakaareNa = good thing; kR^itena = done; na smarati = (but) does not mind; satamapi = even a hundred; apakaaraaNaam = bad things.

That Rama, because of his good bent of mind, feels glad even by whatever way a good thing is done to him. He does not remember any number of bad things done to him.

Verse Locator

शीलवृद्धैर्ज्ञानवृद्धैर्वयोवृद्धैश्च सज्जनैः ।
कथयन्नास्त वै नित्य मस्त्रयोग्यान्तरेष्वपि ॥ २-१-१२

12. astrayoga antareshhvapi = Even during intervals while practising archery; nityam = always; kathayannaasta = used to converse with; shiilavR^iddhai = elders by conduct; jJNaanavR^iddhai = elders by wisdom; vayovR^iddhai = elders by age (or); sajjanaiH = with good people.

Whenever he finds some time even while practising archery, Rama used to converse with elderly people, elder by way of conduct or wisdom or age or with good-natured people.

Verse Locator

बुद्धिमान् मधुराभाषी पूर्वभाषी प्रियंवदः ।
वीर्यवान्न च वीर्येण महता स्वेन विस्मितः ॥ २-१-१३

13. buddhimaan = wise man; madhurabhaashhii = sweet conversationalist; puurvabhaashhii = one who initiated a talk; priyaMvadaH = whose speech was compassionate; viiryavaan = person with valor; na cha vismitaH = not arrogant of; svena = his own; mahataa = great; viiryeNa = valor.

Rama was a wise man. He used to speak sweetly. He was the first man to initiate a talk. His speech was compassionate. He was valorous. But he was not arrogant of his mighty valor.

Verse Locator

न चानृतकथो विद्वान् वृद्धानां प्रतिपूजकः ।
अनुरक्तः प्रजाभिश्च प्रजाश्चाप्यनुरज्यते ॥ २-१-१४

14. na cha = not; anR^itakathaH = speaking untruth; vidvaan = all knowing person; pratipuujakaH = Receptive and worshipful to; vR^idhaanaam = elders; anuraktaH = being loved; prajaabhi = by people; anurajyate = loving; prajaashchapi = also the people.

He did not speak untruth. He was all knowing. He used to be receptive and worshipful to the elders. People used to love him and he used to love the people.

Verse Locator

सानुक्रोशो जितक्रोधो ब्राह्मणप्रतिपूजकः ।
दीनानुकम्पी धर्मज्ज्ज्ञो नित्यं प्रग्रहवान् शुचिः ॥ २-१-१५

15. saanukroshaH = had compassion; jitakrodhaH = conquered anger; braahmana pratipuujakaH = receptive and worshipful to the wise; diinaanukampii = had mercy towards the meek; dharmajNaH = knew what was to be done; nityam pragrahavaan = Had always self control; suchiH = was clean (in conduct).

He had compassion. He conquered anger. He used to be receptive and worshipful to the wise. He had mercy towards the meek. He knew what was to be done. He had always self-control. He was clean (in conduct).

Verse Locator

कुलोचितमतिः क्षात्रं धर्मं स्वं बहुमन्यते ।
मन्यते परया कीर्त्य महत्स्वर्गफलं ततः ॥ २-१-१६

16. kulochitamatiH = attitude suitable for his social rank; bahumanyate = giving due respect to; kshaatraM dharmam = righteousness of warrior-class; manyate = thought; tataha = by following that righteousness; parayaa kiirtya = by great fame; mahat = great; swargaphalam = fruit of heaven.

That Rama, having an attitude suitable for his social rank, giving due respect to righteousness of warrior-class, believed that by following the righteousness he would attain great fame and through it the fruit of heaven.

Verse Locator

नाश्रेयसि रतो विद्वान्न विरुद्धकथारुचिः ।
उत्तरोत्तरयुक्तौ च वक्ता वाचस्पति र्यथा ॥ २-१-१७

17. na rataH = not interested(in); ashreyasi = actions not beneficial; vidvaan = scholar; Na viruddhakathaaruchiH = no taste in tales opposing righteousness; vaachaspatiryathaa = like brihaspathi; uttarottarayuktau = in showing series of strategies; vaktaa = a fluent speaker.

Rama was not interested in actions, which were not beneficial. He was a scholar. He had no taste in tales opposing righteousness. Like v❖chaspatti, his eloquent speech contained a series of strategies for action.

Verse Locator

अरोगस्तरुणो वाग्मी वपुष्मान् देशकालवित् ।
लोके पुरुषसारज्ञस्साधुरेको विनिर्मितः ॥ २-१-१८

18. arogaH = without disease; taruNaH = young man; vaagmii = speaker; vapushhmaan = person with a good body; deshakaalavit = knew time and place; purushhasaarajJNaH = could grasp the essence of men; ekaH = the one; saadhuH = gentleman; vinirmitaH = created; loke = on earth.

Rama was a young man without any disease. He was a good speaker. He had a good body. He knew both time and place. He could grasp the essence of men. He was the one gentleman born on earth.

Verse Locator

स तु सेष्ठैर्गुणैर्युक्तः प्रजानां पार्थिवात्मजः ।
बहिश्चर इव प्राणो बभूव गुणतः प्रियः ॥ २-१-१९

19. prajaanaam = To people; priyaH = loving; saH = that; paarthivaatmajaH = prince; shreshhThaiH = with good; guNaiH = virtues; yuktaH = contained; babhuuva = existed; praanaH aiva = like spirit; bahishcharaH = moving outside; guNataH = by virtues.

People loved the virtuous prince Rama and treated him as their spirit moving outside.

Verse Locator

सम्यग्विद्याव्रतस्नातो यथावत्साङ्गवेदवित् ।
इष्वस्रे च पितुः श्रेष्ठो बभूव भरताग्रजः ॥ २-१-२०

20. vidyaavratasnaataH = after bathing in the discipline of education; samyak = properly; saaN^gavedavit = After knowing archery; yathaavat = as prescribed; bharataagrajaH = elder brother of Bharatha (Rama); babhuuva = was; shreshhThaH = better than; pituH = father; ishhvastre = in archery.

After completing his education properly, Rama, after knowing the science of archery as prescribed, was better than his father in the use of bow and arrows.

Verse Locator

कल्याणाभिजनः साधुरदीनः सत्यवागृजुः ।
वृद्धैरभिविनीतश्च द्विजैर्धर्मार्थदर्शिभिः ॥ २-१-२१

21. kalyaanaabhijanaH = having born in a good clan; saadhuH = gentleman; adiinaH = not a feeble man; satyavaak = speaker of truth; R^ijuH = straightforward man; abhiviniitaH = properly trained by; vR^iddhaiH = elderly; dvijaiH = wisemen; dharmartha darshibhiH = who realized righteousness.

Rama, having born in a good clan, was gentle minded. He was not feeble. He spoke truth. He was straightforward. He was properly trained by elderly wise men that knew righteousness.

Verse Locator

धर्मकामार्थतत्त्वज्ञः स्मृतिमान् प्रतिभानवान् ।
लौकिके समयाचारे कृतकल्पो विशारदः ॥ २-१-२२

22. dharma kaamaartha tattvajnaH = one who knew the real form of desire; wealth and righteousness; smR^itimaan = one who had a good power of memory; pratibhaanavaan = one who had a spontaneous wisdom to respond; vishaaradaH = one who had skill; kR^itakalpaH = one who had created arrangement of; samayaachaare = customs useful at that time; laukike = for the society.

Rama knew the real form of desire, wealth and righteousness. He had a good memory power. He had a spontaneous wisdom. He had skills in arranging customs useful to society prevalent at that time.

Verse Locator

निभृतः संवृताकारो गुप्तमन्त्रः सहायवान् ।
अमोघक्रोधहर्षश्च त्यागसंयमकालवित् ॥ २-१-२३

23. nibhR^itaH = Humble man; saMvR^itaakaaraH = Had an enclosed form; gupta mantraH = kept thoughts to himself; sahaayavaan = helped others; amogha krodha harshhashcha = his anger and pleasure not wasteful; tyagasaMyama kaalavit = knew the timing of giving and non-giving.

Rama was humble. He did not let his feelings appear outwardly. He kept his thoughts to himself. He helped others. His anger and pleasure were not wasteful. He knew when to give and when not to give.

Verse Locator

दृढभक्तिः स्थिरप्रज्ञो नासद्ग्राही न दुर्वचाः ।
निस्तन्द्रिरप्रमत्तश्च स्वदोषपरदोषवित् ॥ २-१-२४

24. dR^idha bhaktiH = had a firm devotion; sthira prajJNaH = had steadfast mind; aasadgraahii = was not stubborn; na durvachaaH = not speaking evil words; nistandriH = had no idleness; apramattaH = was alert; svadoshahaparadoshhavit = and recognized his own errors and those of others.

Rama had a firm devotion and steadfast mind. He was not stubborn nor did he speak evil words. He was free from idleness and was ever alert. He recognized his own errors and those of others.

Verse Locator

शास्त्रज्ञश्च कृतज्ञश्च पुरुषान्तरकोविदः ।
यः प्रग्रहानुग्रहयोर्यथान्यायं विचक्षणः ॥ २-१-२५

25. shaastrajJNaH cha = He knew sciences; kR^itajJNaH cha = knew their practice; purushhaantarakovidah = understood differences among men; yathaanyaayam = as per justice; vichakshaNaH = discriminator of; pragrahaanugrahayoH = punishment and protection.

Rama knew the theory and practice of sciences. He understood the differences among men. He could judiciously discriminate whom to protect and whom to punish.

Verse Locator

सत्संग्रहप्रग्रहणे स्थानविन्निग्रहस्य च ।
आयकर्मण्युपायज्ञः संदृष्टव्ययकर्मवित् ॥ २-१-२६

26. satsaMgrahapragrahaNe = identifying the good and protecting them; sthaanavit = knew the people; nigrahasya cha = to be reprimanded; upaayajJNaH = knew the ways and means of; aaya karmaNi = getting income; sandR^ishhTa vyaya karmavit = knew the system of spending as mentioned in sastra.

He identified good men and protected them. He knew the people worthy of reprimand. He knew the ways and means of getting income as well as the system of spending, as perceived by economic sciences.

Verse Locator

श्रेष्ठं शास्त्रसमूहेषु प्राप्तो व्यामिश्रकेषु च ।
अर्थधर्मौ च संगृह्य सुखतन्त्रो न चालसः ॥ २-१-२७

27. praaptaH = obtained; shraishhThyam = great skill; shaastrasamuuveshu = in groups of sciences; vyaamishrakeshhu cha = and in their subsidiaries; sukhatantraH = Interested in enjoying comforts; saMgR^ihya = after understanding; artha dharmau = economic realities; na alasaH = and never remained inactive.

Rama could obtain great skill in the groups of sciences along with their subsidiaries. He was interested in enjoying comforts only after understanding the economic realities. He never remained inactive.

Verse Locator

वैहारिकाणां शिल्पानां विज्ञातार्थविभागवित् ।
आरोहे विनये चैव युक्तोवारणवाजिनाम् ॥ २-१-२८

28. vijJNaataa = acquainted with; shilpaanaam = fine arts; vaihaarikaaNaam = useful in entertainment; arthavibhaagavit = knew how to distribute wealth; yuktaH = efficient in; aarohe = in riding; vinaye = in taming; vaaraNavaajinaam = elephants and horses.

Rama was acquainted with the fine arts useful for entertainment. He knew how to distribute the wealth. He was efficient in riding and taming of elephants and horses.

Verse Locator

धनुर्वेदविदां श्रेष्ठो लोकेऽतिरथसंमतः ।
अभियाता प्रहर्ता च सेनानयविशारदः ॥ २-१-२९

29. shreshhThaH = best of persons; dhanur veda vidaam = knowing the science of archery; athirathasaMmataH = appreciated by the champions of archery; senaa nayavishaaradaH = Attained skills in moving the army properly; abhiyaataa = facing the enemies; prahartaa cha = (He) used to kill them.

Rama was the best of persons knowing the science of archery in the world; and was well appreciated by the champions of archery. He attained skills in marshalling the army. He faced and killed the enemies in battle.

Verse Locator

अप्रधृष्यश्च संग्रामे क्रुद्धैरपि सुरासुरैः ।
अनसूयो जितक्रोधो न दृप्तो न च मत्सरी ।
न चावमन्ता भूतानां न च कालवशानुगः ॥ २-१-३०

30. kruddhaiH = enraged; suraasurair api = even by suras and asuras; apradhR^ishhyaH = (He) could not be defeated; saMgraame = in battle; anasuuyaH = had no jealousy; jitakrodhaH = conquered anger; na dR^iptaH = Had no arrogance; na matsarii cha = Had no envy; na cha avamantaa = not humiliated; bhuutaanaam = living beings; na kaala vashaanugaH cha = had not surrendered to time.

Even enraged celestials and demons could not defeat Rama in battle. He had no jealousy. He conquered anger. He had no arrogance and envy. He had not humiliated any living being. He had not surrendered to time.

Verse Locator

एवं श्रेष्ठगुणैर्युक्तः प्रजानां पार्थिवात्मजः ।
संमतस्त्रिषु लोकेषुवसुधायाः क्षमागुणैः ॥ २-१-३१

31. paarthivaatmajaH = That prince Rama; evam shreshhThagunaiH = with these good virtues; yuktaH = fair; prajaanaam = to the people; saMmataH = was agreeable; trishhu lokeshhu = to the three worlds; kshamaa guNaiH = virtue of forgiveness; vasudhaayaaH = (comparable) to the earth; budhya = By wisdom; bR^ihaspate = to brihaspathi; viiryeNa = by valour; shachiipate = to devendra; tulyaH = (He was) equal.

That Prince Rama, with these good virtues, was fair to the people. He was agreeable to the three worlds. By patience and the related virtues, he was equal to earth, by wisdom to Brihaspathi and by valor to Devendra.

Verse Locator

तथा सर्वप्रजाकान्तैः प्रीतिसंजननैः पितुः ॥ २-१-३२
गुणैर्विरुचे रामो दीप्तः सूर्य इवांशुभिः ।

32. raamaH = Rama; guNaiH = by virtues; sarva prajaakaantaiH = which are enlightening to all the people; priitisamjananaiH = which are source of liking; rituH = to his father; viruruche = was shining; suurya eva = like the sun; diiptaH = shining; aMshubhiH = by the rays.

Rama, by his virtues, was a source of happiness to all the people and a spring of joy to his father. As the sun shines with his rays, Rama was shining, thus, with his virtues.

Verse Locator

तमेवंव्रतसंपन्नमप्रधृष्यपराक्रमम् ॥ २-१-३३
लोकपालोपमं नाथमकामयत मेदिनी ।

33. medinii = the Earth; akaamayata = wished; tam = Rama; naatham = (to be) the lord; evaM vrathasaMpannam = as he was adorned with disciplined life; apradhR^ishhya paraakramam = having undefeatable valor; lokapaalopamam = equal to the universal lords like Indra.

The earth wished Rama to be her Lord as he was adorned with self-control and norms of behavior bearing undefeatable valor equal to that of universal lords like Indra.

Verse Locator

एतैस्तु बहुभिर्युक्तं गुणैरनुपमैः सुतम् ॥ २-१-३४
दृष्ट्वा दशरथो राजा चक्रे चिन्तां परंतपः ।

34. raajaa = King dasaratha; paraMtapah = who annihilates enemies; chakre = constructed; chintaaM = thoughts; dR^ishhTvaa = after observing; sutam = the son; bahubhiH = (having) many; anupamaiH = incomparable; etaiH = these; guNaiH = virtues.

Dasaratha, who annihilates enemies, started thinking as follows after observing his son with his many incomparable virtues.

Verse Locator

अथ राज्ञो बभूवैवं वृद्धस्य चिरजीविनः ॥ २-१-३५
प्रीतिरेषा कथं रामो राजा स्यान्मयि जीवति ।

35. atha = thereafter; chiranjiivinaH = long living; vR^idhasya = aged; raajJNaH = Dasaratha; evam babhuuva = thus thought; katham syaat = how will; raamaH = Rama (become); raajaa = king; maya jiivati = while I am alive; eshhaa priitiH = (shall I enjoy) this happiness.

The long living and aged Dasaratha thought: "Will Rama become king while I am still alive? Shall I enjoy that happiness?"

Verse Locator

एषा ह्यस्य परा प्रीतिर्हृदि संपरिवर्तते ॥ २-१-३६
कदा नाम सुतं द्रक्ष्याम्यभिषिक्तमहं प्रियम् ।

36. eshhaa paraa = this great; priithiH = loving thought; saMparivartatehi = was ringing; hR^idi = in his heart; naama = when; drakshyaami = shall I see; priyam sutam = beloved son Rama; abhishhiktam = crowned as king.

A great loving thought was ringing in his mind that when he would be able to see his beloved son Rama crowned as a king.

Verse Locator

वृद्धिकामो हि लोकस्य सर्वभूतानुकम्पनः ॥ २-१-३७
मत्तः प्रियतरो लोके पर्जन्य इव वृष्टिमान् ।

37. loka = In the country; mattaH = Better than me; priyataraH hi = (he is) better liked; vR^ishhTimaan = raining; parjanyaH iva = like cloud; vR^iddhi kaamaH = desires development of; lokasya = world; sarvabhuuta anukampanaH = has equal compassion towards all living creatures.

"Is not Rama, as a raining cloud to the earth, better liked by people than me, as he desires the development of the world and has equal compassion towards all living beings."

Verse Locator

यमशक्रसमो वीर्ये बृहस्पतिसमो मतौ ॥ २-१-३८
महीधरसमो धृत्यां मत्तश्च गुणवत्तरः ।

38. viirye = In valour; yama sakra samaH = equal to Yama and Indra; matau = in wisdom; bR^ihaspati samaH = equal to Bruhaspati; dhR^ityaam = in courage; mahiidhara samaH = equal to mountain; guNavattaraH = better virtues; mattaH cha = than me.

"Rama is equal to Yama and Devendra in valor, to Brihaspati in wisdom and to a mountain in courage. He is more virtuous than me."

Verse Locator

महीमहमिमां कृत्स्नामधितिष्ठन्तमात्मजम् ॥ २-१-३९
अनेन वयसा दृष्ट्वा यथा स्वर्गमवाप्नुयाम् ।

39. yathaa = How; aham = I; avaapnuyaam = attain; svargam = heaven; dR^ishhTvaa = after seeing; anena vayasaa = in this age; aatmajaam = my son; adhitishhThantam = ruling; kR^itsnaam = the entire; imaam mahiim = this Earth.

"Shall I attain heaven, after seeing in this age, my son ruling the entire earth?"

Verse Locator

इत्येतै विविधै स्तैस्तै रन्यपार्थिवदुर्लभैः ॥ २-१-४०
शिष्टैरपरिमेयैश्छ लोके लोकोत्तरैर्गुणैः ।
तं समीक्ष्य महाराजो युक्तं समुदितैः शुभैः ॥ २-१-४१
निश्चित्य सचिवैः सार्धं युवराजममन्यत ।

40;41. iti = this way; vividhaiH = various; anya paarthiva durlabhaiH = Not at all seen in other kings; taistaiH = those and those; ethaiH = these virtues; loke = in the world; aparimeyaiH = which can not be counted; lokottaraiH = Best in the world; samuditaiH = gathered at one place; shubhaiH = auspicious; yuktaM = containing; shishhTaiH = the remaining; guNaiH = virtues; samiikshya = seeing; tam = that Rama; mahaaraajaH = king of Dasaratha; sachivaiH saardhaM = along with ministers; nishchitya = decided; yuvaraajam = as prince; amanyata = thought.

Rama had many other virtues beyond hitherto stated virtues not to be seen in other kings. His virtues cannot be counted and they are the best in the world. Seeing that type of virtuous Rama, Dasaratha along with his ministers, decided to make Rama the prince.

Verse Locator

दिव्यन्तरिक्षे भूमौ च घोरमुत्पातजं भयम् ॥ २-१-४२
संचक्षेऽथ मेधावी शरीरे चात्मनो जराम् ।

42. atha = thereafter; medhaavii = the wise Dasaratha; aachachakshe = said; ghoram = great; bhayam = alarm; divi = in heaven; antarikshe = in space; bhuumau cha = in earth; utpaadajam = comet like things; aatmanaH = his; shariire = body; jaraam cha = getting aged.

The wise Dasaratha said that there was sign of a great alarm being forecast because of comet like things found in earth heaven and the sky. He also told the ministers that his body was getting aged.

Verse Locator

पूर्णचन्द्राननस्याथ शोकापनुदमात्मनः ॥ २-१-४३
लोके रामस्य बुबुधे संप्रियत्वं महात्मनः ।

43. bubudhe = (He) recognised; raamasya = Rama; puurNachandraananasya = one who has a face like a full moon; mahaatmanaH = great wise man; loke saMpriyatvaM = liked by the people; athaH = and; aatmanaH shokaapanudam = will remove his worry.

He recognized that if Rama were crowned as king, he would not have worries as Rama had beautiful face as a full moon; was a great wise man; and was liked by the people.

Verse Locator

आत्मनश्च प्रजानां च श्रेयसे च प्रियेण च ॥ २-१-४४
प्राप्तकालेन धर्मात्मा भक्त्या त्वरितवान् नृपः ।

44. dharmaatma = the righteous; nR^ipaH = King Dasaratha; priyeNa cha = to his liking; tvaritavaan = was hurried; bhaktyaa = with interest; sreyaase cha = beneficial to; aatmanashcha = his own self (and); prajaanaam cha = people; praaptakaalena = time has come.

The righteous Dasaratha was hurried with concern in the coronation of Rama as it is for his own benefit and for the benefit of people. Because it is as per his liking and also as the appropriate time has come.

Verse Locator

नानानगरवास्तव्यान् पृथग्जानपदानपि ॥ २-१-४५
समानिनाय मेदिन्याः प्रधानान् पृथिवीपतीन् ।

45. naanaa nagaravaastavyaan = those residing in various cities; jaanapadaanapi = those residing in villages; pradhaanaan = principal officers; medinyaaH = of lands; pR^ithiviipatiin = kings; pR^ithak = separately; samaaninaaya = called for.

Dasaratha called for other kings and officers staying in various cities and villages in his kingdom separately.

Verse Locator

न तु केकयराजानं जनकं वा नराधिपः ॥ २-१-४६
त्वरया चानयामास पश्चात्तौ श्रोष्यतः प्रियम् ।

46. tvarayaa = By hurry; naraadhipaH = the king; anayaame = did not call for; kekayaraajaanaM = the king of kekaya; janakaM vaa = or Janaka; tau = both of them; shroshhyataH = could hear; priyam = the good news; pashchaat = afterwards.

The hurried Dasaratha did not call for the king Kekaya, the maternal uncle of Bharatha or the King Janaka as he thought they both could hear the good news even afterwards.

Verse Locator

तान्वेश्मनानाभरणैर्यथार्हं प्रतिपूजितान् ॥ २-१-४७
ददर्शालंकृतो राजा प्रजापतिरिव प्रजाः ।

47. raajaa = The king; prathipuujitaan = presented; taan = all of them; veshmanaanaabharaNaiH = houses and various jewelry; yathaarhaM = suitably; alaMkR^itaH = adorned himself; dadarsha = looked them; prajaapatiH = (like) lord Brahma; prajaaH iva = as children.

The king Dasaratha presented them suitably with houses and jewelry. Duly adorned himself, he looked after them in the manner Lord Brahma looks after his children.

Verse Locator

अथोपविष्टे नृपतौ तस्मिन् परबलार्दने ॥ २-१-४८
ततः प्रविविशुः शेष राजानो लोकसम्मताः ।

48. atha = There afterwards; sheshhaaH = the remaining; rajaanaH = kings; lokasammataaH = loved by the people; pravivishuH = entered; tataH = after; nR^ipatau = the king; parabalaardhane = who annihilates the opponent's army; upavishhTe = occupied his seat.

All the invited kings, duly liked by their people, entered the assembly after the king Dasaratha , who annihilates the opponent's army, occupied his seat.

Verse Locator

अथ राजवितीर्णेषु विविधेष्व्वासनेषु च ॥ २-१-४९
राजानमेवाभिमुखा निषेदुर्नियता नृपाः ।

49. atha = There afterwards; nR^ipaaH = those kings; nishheduH = sat; vividheshhu = in various; aasaneshhu = seats; raajavitiirneshhu = allotted by king; abhimukheH = facing towards; raajaanameva = the said king; niyataH = as per rules.

The kings thus entered, occupied their various seats allotted to them by the king, by facing toward the king as per the prescribed rules.

Verse Locator

स लब्धमानैर्विनयान्वितैर्नृपैः ।
पुरालयै र्जानपदैश्च मानवैः ।

उपोपविष्टैर्नृतो बभौ ।

सहस्रचक्षुर्भगवानिवामरैः ॥ २-१-५०

50. vR^itaH = surrounded by; labdhamaanaiH = Respected; vinayaanvitaiH = humble; upopavishhTaiH = closely sat; nR^ipaiH = kings; maanvaiH = the officers of; puraalayaiH = cities; jaanapadaiH = villagers; saH = that king Dasaratha; babhau = shone; bhagavaan sahasrachakshuriva = like lord Indra; amaraiH = surrounded by celestials.

Surrounded by the respected and humble kings sitting closely to him as well as the important heads of cities and villages, king Dasaratha shone like lord Devendra surrounded by celestials.

॥ इति श्रीमद्रामायणे अयोध्यकाण्डे प्रथम सर्गः ॥

Thus completes 1st Chapter of Ayodhya Kanda of the glorious Ramayana of Valmiki, the work of a sage and the oldest epic.

Book II : Ayodhya Kanda - Book Of Ayodhya

Chapter[Sarga] 2 Verses converted to UTF-8, Nov 09

Introduction

Dasaratha mentions his desire about coronation of Rama before the assembly of people. All people in the assembly unanimously and delightfully accept it while describing all of Rama's virtues.

Verse Locator

ततः परिषदं सर्वमामन्त्र्य वसुधाधिपः ।
हितमुद्धर्षणं चैवमुवाच प्रथितं वचः ॥ २-२-१

1. tataH = There afterwards; vasudhaadhipaH = king Dasaratha; evam = thus; uvaacha = spoke; hitam = beneficial; uddharshhaNam = pleasing; prathitaM = famous ; vachaH = words; amantrya = (to) invited; sarvam = whole; parishhadam = court.

Addressing invited gathering in the court, Dasaratha spoke in friendly, pleasing and clear terms.

Verse Locator

दुन्धुभिस्वनकल्पेन गम्भीरेणानुनादिना ।
स्वरेण महता राजा जीमूत इव नादयन् ॥ २-२-२
राजलक्षणयुक्तेन कान्तेनानुपमेन च ।
उवाच रसयुक्तेन स्वरेण नृपतिर्नृपान् ॥ २-२-३

2;3. nR^ipati = The lord of men; raajaa = king Dasaratha; uvaacha = addressed; nR^ipaan = the rulers; dundubhi svana kalpena = like the sound of a kettle drum; gambhiireNa = resounding; mahataa = great; svareNa = by sound; jiimuutaH iva = like cloud; naadayan = making sound; raaja lakshana yuktena = marked with characteristics of kings; kaantena = splendid; svareNa = with voice; anupamena cha = without comparison; rasayuktena = containing sweetness .

In a loud voice resembling that of a kettle-drum, resounding the air like a thundering cloud and in a sweet splendid and incomparable voice endowed with the characteristics of a king's voice, King Dasaratha the lord of men spoke to the kings as follows:

Verse Locator

विदितं भवतामेतद्यथा मे राज्यमुत्तमम् ।
पूर्वकैर्मम राजेन्द्रैस्सुतवत् परिपालितम् ॥ २-२-४

4. viditaM = It is well known; yathaa = how; me = my; uttamam = best; raajyam = kingdom; paripaalitam = was protected by; mama = my; puurvakaiH = ancestral; rajendraiH = kings; sutavat = like son.

"It is well known that my excellent kingdom was ruled by my ancestral kings as if it were their son."

Verse Locator

सोऽहमिक्ष्वाकुभिः सर्वैर्नरेन्द्रैः परिपालितम् ।
श्रेयसा योक्तुकामोऽस्मि सुखार्हमखिलं जगत् ॥ २-२-५

5. saH = that; aham = I; yoktu kaamah asmi = am having desire; akhilam = entire; jagat = world; paripaalitam = protected by; sarvaiH = various; ikshvaakubhiH = descendants of ikshvaaku; narendraiH = kings; yoktu shreyasaa = be bestowed with goodness; sukhaarham = suitable for happiness.

"I have a desire that this entire land which was protected by the descendents of Ikshvaaku dynasty, be bestowed with goodness and the resultant happiness."

Verse Locator

मयाप्याचरितं पूर्वेः पन्थानमनुगच्छता ।
प्रजा नित्यमनिद्रेण यथाशक्त्यभिरक्षिताः ॥ २-२-६

6. aacharitam = followed by; panthaanam = path; anugachchhata = followed by; puurvaiH = ancestors; mayaapi = by me also; nityam = always; prajaaH = people; abhirakshitaH = were protected ; anidreNa = with alertness; yathaashakti = within my own ability.

"Following the path established by my ancestors, I have always protected my people with alertness and to the best of my ability."

Verse Locator

इदं शरीरं कृत्स्नस्य लोकस्य चरता हितम् ।
पाण्डुरस्यातपत्रस्य छायायां जरितं मया ॥ २-२-७

7. mayaa = by me; charitaa = being conducted; hitham = for the benefit; kR^itsnasya = of all ; lokasya = of the people; idam shariiram = this body; jaritam = became worn out; chchhaayaayaaM = under the shadow; paandurasya atapatrasya = of white umbrella.

"In conducting the kingdom for benefit of the entire people, my body became impaired under shade of the white umbrella."

Verse Locator

प्राप्य वर्षसहस्राणि बहू न्यायूषि जीवतः ।
जीर्णस्यास्य शरीरस्य विश्रान्ति मभिरोचये ॥ २-२-८

8. asya = this; shariirasya = body; praapya = got; jiivataH = living; bahuuni = many; varshha sahasraaNi = thousands of years; aayuuMshhi = of age; abhirochaye = I desire; vishraantim = rest.

"This body has been living for many thousands of years. Hence I desire rest."

Verse Locator

राजप्रभावजुष्टाम् हि दुर्वहामजितेन्द्रियैः ।
परिश्रान्तोऽस्मि लोकस्य गुर्वी धर्मधुरं वहन् ॥ २-२-९

9. gurviim = great; lokasya = worldly; dharmadhuraM = weight of righteousness; raaja prabhaava justaam = serviced by regal power; durvahaam = could not be carried by; ajitendriyaiH = those who have not defeated senses; asmi parishraantaH = I am tired; vahan = of carrying.

"This burden of worldly righteousness is very heavy. This can be sustained only by royal power with qualities like courage and valor. A person who has no control of senses can not carry this burden. I have become tired while carrying this burden of righteousness. "

Verse Locator

सोऽहं विश्रममिच्छामि पुत्रं कृत्वा प्रजाहिते ।
सन्निकृष्टानिमान् सर्वाननुमान्य द्विजर्षभान् ॥ २-२-१०

10. saH aham = (That) I; ichchhaami = desire; vishramam = to rest; anumaanya = getting consent (of); sarvaan = all; imaan = these; dvijarshhabhaan = best of Brahmans; sannikR^ishhTaan = close at hand; kR^itvaa = keeping; putram = son; prajaahite = for the benefit of people.

"I desire to take rest, entrusting the rule to my son for the benefit of the people, after obtaining consent from all those best Brahmans who are close to me."

Verse Locator

अनुजातो हि मां सर्वैर्गुणैर्ज्येष्ठो ममात्मजः ।
पुरन्दरसमो वीर्ये रामः परपुरंजयः ॥ २-२-११

11 Mama = my; jyesTha aatmajaH = eldest son; raamaH = Rama; purandara samaH = equal to Devendra; viirye = in valor; parapuraMjayaH = conqueror of cities of foes; anujaataH hi = born along with; mamaiH = my; sarvaiH = entire; guNaiH = qualities.

"My eldest son Rama is equal to Devendra in valor. He is the conqueror of cities of enemies. He is equal to me in all qualities."

Verse Locator

तं चन्द्रमिव पुष्येण युक्तं धर्मभृतां वरम् ।
यौवराज्ये नियोक्तास्मि प्रीतः पुरुषपुङ्गवम् ॥ २-२-१२

12. priitaH = Joyfully; niyoktaasmi = I shall appoint; tam = that Rama; chandramiva = like moon; yuktam = together; pushhyena = with pushya star; varam = best; dharmabR^itaam = among protectors of righteousness; purushapuN^gavam = excellent man; yauvaraajye = to the realm of prince.

"Joyfully, I shall appoint Rama, who shines like the moon together with Pushya star, who is the best among the protectors of righteousness and who is an excellent man, to the realm of prince."

Verse Locator

अनुरूपः स वै नाथो लक्ष्मीवान् लक्ष्मणाग्रजः ।
त्रैलोक्यमपि नाथेन येन स्यान्नाथवत्तरम् ॥ २-२-१३

13. lakshmaNaagrajaH = Brother of Lakshmana (Rama); naathena = as lord; yena = by whom; trailokyamapi = even the three worlds; syaat = will have; naathavattaram = the best master; saH = That; lakshmivaan = glorious; anuruupaH = fitting; naathaH vai = Lord.

"If Rama becomes the lord, the three worlds also will have the best master. He is a glorious man. That Rama is the only fittest lord for the kingdom."

Verse Locator

अनेन श्रेयसा सद्यः सम्योज्यैवमिमां महीम् ।
गतक्लेशो भविष्यामि सुते तस्मिन्निवेश्य वै ॥ २-२-१४

14. niveshya = By keeping; imaam = this; maheem = earth to; tasmin = that; sute = son Rama; evam = thus; sadyaH = immediately; samyojya = arranged; shreyasaa = with good; bhavishyaami = I shall become; gataklesaH = devoid of difficulties.

"By entrusting this kingdom to Rama, I shall be thus doing an immediate good and shall be devoid of difficulties."

Verse Locator

यदीदम् मेऽनुरूपार्थं मया साधु सुमन्त्रितम् ।
भवन्तो मेऽनुमन्यन्तां कथं वा करवाण्यहम् ॥ २-२-१५

15. mayaa = by me; sumantritam = well thought of; me = my; idam = this word; bhavantaH = you; anumanyataaM = give consent; me = to me; anuruupaartham yadi = if it is befitting; saadhu = good; katham vaa = How else; aham = I; karavaani = shall do.

"I am telling this after lot of thinking. Give consent to me if you feel this to be good and befitting. How else shall I do it?"

Verse Locator

यद्यप्येषा मम प्रीतिर्हितमन्यद्विचिन्त्यताम् ।
अन्या मद्यस्थचिन्ता हि विमर्दाभ्यधिकोदया ॥ २-२-१६

16. esha = this; mama = my; priitiH = desire; yadyapi = yet; vichintyaam = let there be thinking; anyat = any other; hitam = beneficial way; madhyastha chintaH = Thinking by neutral people; anyaa = distinctive; vimardaabhyadhikodayaa = well developed through grinding (of opposing views).

"This is my desire. Yet, let there be thinking on any other beneficial way. Thinking by impartial neutral people will be distinctive and well developed through grinding of opposing views."

Verse Locator

इति बृवन्तं मुदिताः प्रत्यनन्दन् नृपा नृपम् ।
वृष्टिमन्तं महामेघं नर्दन्त इव बर्हिणः ॥ २-२-१७

17. muditaH = Delighted; nR^ipaaH = kings; pratyanandan = complimented; nR^ipam = king Dasaratha; iti bR^ivantaM = so speaking; barhiNaH iva = like peacocks; nardantaH = make sound; vR^ishhTimantaM = raining; mahaameghaM = great cloud.

Those delighted kings complimented king Dasaratha so speaking with a loud applause as the peacocks cry in delight when they see the raining great cloud.

Verse Locator

स्निग्धोऽनुनादी सम्जज्ञे तत्र हर्षसमीरितः ।
जनौघोद्घुष्टसन्नादो विमानं कम्पयन्निव ॥ २-२-१८

18. vimaanam = That building; kampayanniva = appeared trembling; snigdhaH = sweet; anunaadii = reverberating sound; sanjaGYe = created; janaughodghushhTa sannaadaH = uproaring sound by the gathering of people; tatra = there; harsha samiiritaH = done with delight .

That building appeared trembling by the sweet and reverberating sound made by the gathering of people there with their fond uproar.

Verse Locator

तस्य धर्मार्थविदुषो भावमाज्ञाय सर्वशः ।
ब्राह्मणा जनमुख्याश्च पौरजानपदैः सह ॥ २-२-१९
समेत्य मन्त्रयित्वा तु समतागतबुद्धयः ।
ऊचुश्च मनसा ज्ञात्वा वृद्धं दशरथं नृपम् ॥ २-२-२०

19;20. aaGYaaya = understanding; sarvashaH = by all means; bhaavam = opinion; tasya = of Dasaratha; dharmarthavidushhaH = who knows holy and worldly matters; paura jaanapadaiH saha = the urban and rural citizens including; braahmaNaaH = brahmanas; jana mukhyaH cha = and other important people; mantrayittva = thought; sametya = together; GYaatvaa = comprehended; manasaa = by mind; samataagata buddhayaH = came to consensus; uuchuH = spoke to; vR^iddham = aged; dasaratham nR^ipam = King Dasaratha.

After understanding the opinion of King Dasaratha, who knew the holy and worldly matters, the Brahmanas, important people, urban and rural citizens came to a consensus after discussing together and told the aged king as follows.

Verse Locator

अनेकवर्षसाहस्रो वृद्धस्त्वमसि पार्थिव ।
स रामं युवराजानमभिषिञ्चस्व पार्थिवम् ॥ २-२-२१

21. paarthiva = oh king; tvam asi = you are; vR^iddhastva = elderly person; aneka varshha saahasraH = having many thousands of years; saH = that you; abhishhinchasva = inaugurate; raamam = Rama; paarthivam = ruling; yuvaraajanam = prince.

"Oh king! You are an elderly person with thousands of years of age. Hence, inaugurate Rama as the ruling prince."

Verse Locator

इच्छामो हि महाबाहुं रघुवीरं महाबलम् ।
गजेन महता यान्तं रामं छत्रावृताननम् ॥ २-२-२२

22. ichchaamaH hi = we desire; raamam = Rama; mahaabaahum = who has long arms; raghuviiram = hero born in clan of Raghu; mahaabalam = having great might; chhatraavR^ithaananam = his face covered by white umbrella; yaantam = going; mahataa gajena = by great elephant.

"All of us want to see Rama, with long arms, the hero with great might born in the clan of Raghu, his face protected by a white umbrella, moving on a great elephant."

Verse Locator

इति तद्वचनं श्रुत्वा राजा तेषां मनःप्रियम् ।
अजानन्निव जिज्ञासुरिदं वचनमब्रवीत् ॥ २-२-२३

23. iti = thus; raajaa = king Dasaratha; shrutvaa = after hearing; tadvachanam = their sentence; abraviit = spoke; idam = this; vachanam = sentence; ajaananniva = as though he did not know; teshhaaM = their; manaH priyam = pleasing mind; jiGYaasuH = desirous of knowing.

King Dasaratha, after hearing their words, spoke as follows as though he did not know their mind earlier and sought to know their true intention.

Verse Locator

श्रुत्वैव वचनं यन्मे राघवं पतिमिच्छथ ।

राजानः संशयोऽयं मे तदिदं ब्रूत तत्त्वतः ॥ २-२-२४

24. raajaanaH = Oh kings; ayam = this; samshayaH = doubt; me = to me; yat = why; ichchhatha = (you) want; raaghavam = Rama; pathim = as king; shruttvaiva = after hearing; me = my; vachanam = sentence; bruuta = inform; tat idam = the present matter; tattvataH = truly.

"Oh kings, I have a doubt as to why you want Raghava to be the king immediately after hearing my words. Inform your real opinion in this matter."

Verse Locator

कथं नु मयि धर्मेण पृथिवीमनुशासति ।

भवन्तो द्रष्टुमिच्छन्ति युवराजं ममात्मजम् ॥ २-२-२५

25. katham nu = how; bhavantaH = you; Ichchhanti = desire; drashhTum = to see; mama = my; aatmajam = son; yuvaraajam = as prince; mayi anushaasati = when I am ruling; pR^ithiveem = the earth; dharmeNa = with righteousness.

"Why do you desire to see my son as the prince, when I am ruling this earth with righteousness?"

Verse Locator

ते तमूचुर्महात्मानं पौरजानपदैः सह ।

बहवो नृप कल्याणा गुणाः पुत्रस्य सन्ति ते ॥ २-२-२६

26. te = those kings; paurajanaiH saha = along with urban and rural citizens; uuchuH = spoke; tam = about him; mahaatmaanam = the great soul; nR^ipaH = Oh king; te = your; putrasya = son; santi = has; bahavaH = many; kalyaaNaH = auspicious; guNaaH = virtues.

Those kings together with urban and rural citizens after hearing those words spoke to the great soul Dasaratha as follows: "Oh king! Your son Rama has many auspicious virtues".

Verse Locator

गुणान् गुणवतो देव देवकल्पस्य धीमतः ।

प्रियानानन्ददान् कृत्स्नान् प्रवक्ष्यामोऽद्यतान् शृणु ॥ २-२-२७

27. deva = Oh king; adya = now; vakshyaami = (we shall) tell; kR^itsnaan = various; guNaan = virtues; dhiimataH = of your wise son; shR^iNu = listen; devakalpasya = equal to celestials; guNavataH = virtuous; priyaan = liked by all; aanandadaan = give happiness.

"Oh king! We shall tell you now the various virtues of your wise son, listen to them. His qualities are equal to those of celestials. They are liked by all. They give happiness to all."

Verse Locator

दिव्यैर्गुणैः शक्रसमो रामः सत्यपराक्रमः ।

इक्ष्वाकुभ्योऽपि सर्वेभ्यो ह्यतिरिक्तो विशांपते ॥ २-२-२८

28. vishaaMpate = Oh lord of the people!; raamaH = Rama; shakra samaH = equal to Devendra; divyaiH = in heavenly; guNaiH = qualities; satya paraakramaH = having a true valor; atiriktaH = greater than; sarvebhyo api = all; ikshvaakubhyaH = kings of Ikshvaaku clan.

"Oh king! Rama is equal to Devendra in heavenly qualities. He has true valor. He is greater than all the kings born in Ikshvaaku clan."

Verse Locator

रामः सत्पुरुषो लोके सत्यधर्मपरायणः ।
साक्षाद्रामाद्विनिर्वृत्तो धर्मश्चापि श्रिया सह ॥ २-२-२९

29. raamaH = Rama; satpurushhaH = is good person; loka = in the world; satyadharmaparaayaNaH = interested in truth and righteousness; raamaat = By Rama alone; dharmaH cha api = Dharma; shriyaa saha = along with wealth; vinirvR^ittaH = arranged; saakshaat = without separation.

"Rama is the world renowned gentleman. He is keenly interested in truth and righteousness. Only Rama can make both righteousness and wealth combine without separation."

Verse Locator

प्रजासुखत्वे चन्द्रस्य वसुधायाः क्षमागुणैः ।
बुद्ध्या बृहस्पतेस्तुल्यो वीर्ये साक्षाच्छचीपतेः ॥ २-२-३०

30. tulyaH = equal to; chandrasya = moon; prajaasukhatve = in making people happy; vasudhaayaH = earth; kshamaaguNaiH = in the quality of forgiveness; bR^ihaspateH = Brihaspati; buddhyaa = by wisdom; saakshaat = actually; shachiipateH = to Devendra; viirye = in valour.

"He is equal to moon in making the people happy; equal to the earth in the quality of forgiveness; equal to Brihaspati in wisdom and verily to Devendra in valour."

Verse Locator

धर्मज्ञः सत्यसन्धश्च शीलवाननसूयकः ।
क्षान्तः सान्त्वयिता श्लक्ष्णः कृतज्ञो विजितेन्द्रियः ॥ २-२-३१

31. dharmaGYaH = knows righteousness; satyasandhaH = is true to his word; shiilavaan = Has good character; anasuuyakaH = has no envy; kshaantaH = has patience; saantvayitaa = consoles those in troubles; shlakshaH = speaks good words; kR^itaGYaH = has gratitude; vijitendriyaH = has controlled the senses.

"Rama knows all righteousness. He is true to his word and has good character. He has no envy. He has patience. He consoles those who are in troubles. He speaks good words. He has gratitude. He keeps senses under control."

Verse Locator

मृदुश्च स्थिरचित्तश्च सदा भव्योऽनसूयकः ।
प्रियवादी च भूतानाम् सत्यवादी च राघवः ॥ २-२-३२
बहुश्रुतानां वृद्धानां ब्राह्मणानामुपासिता ।
तेना स्येहातुला कीर्तिर्यशस्तेजश्च वर्धते ॥ २-२-३३

32;33. raaghavaH = Rama; mR^iduH cha = soft natured; sthira chittaH cha = stable minded; sadaa = always; bhaavyaH = auspicious man; anasuuyakaH = who has no envy; priyavaadii = speaks delightfully; bhutaanaam = to living beings; satyavaadii cha = speaks truthfully; upaasitaa = worshipper; vR^iddhaanaam braahmaNaanaam = to aged brahmanas; bahushrutaanaam = endowed with knowledge of many sciences; tenaa = by that; asya = his; atulaa = incomparable; kiirtiH = name; yashaH = glory; tejascha = splendor; vardhate = growing; iha = in this world.

"Rama is soft natured; has stable mind, always an auspicious man, and has no envy. He speaks truthful and loving words to all living beings. He worships aged Brahmans endued with the knowledge of various sciences. By that, his name, glory and splendor are growing in this world."

Verse Locator

देवासुरमनुष्याणां सर्वास्त्रेषु विशारदः ।
सम्यग्विद्याव्रतस्नातो यथवत्साङ्गवेदवित् ॥ २-२-३४

34. vishaaradaH = efficient man; sarvaastreshhu = in various weapons; devaasuramanushhyaaNaaM = known to celestials; demons and men; vidyavrata snaanaH = took bath in the vow of studies; yathaavat = systematically; saaN^gavedavit = learnt branches of vedas.

"He is skilled in the use of various weapons known to celestials, demons and men. He has duly concluded his vow of studying the various sciences and has systematically learnt all the Vedas along with its branches. *"

* Branches of Vedas: - (six in number): 1.Siksha or phonetics 2.Vyakarana or Grammar 3. Chandas or Prosody 4. Nirukta or Etymology 5. Jyautisha or Astronomy 6. Kalpa or the branch of knowledge prescribing the ritual and giving rules for the ceremonial or sacrificial acts.

Verse Locator

गान्धर्वे च भुवि श्रेष्ठो बभूव भरताग्रजः ।
कल्याणाभिजनः साधुरदीनात्मा महामतिः ॥ २-२-३५

35. bharataagrajaH = Bharatha's elder brother; Rama; babhuuva = became; shreshhThaH = the best; gaandharve = in music; kalyaaNaabhijanaH = one who has the best relatives; saadhuH = gentlman; adiinaatma = one who is not weak in mind; mahaamatiH = one who has great wisdom.

"Rama is best in the world in the art of music. He has best relatives. He is gentle. He is not weak in mind. He has great wisdom."

Verse Locator

द्विजैरभिविनीतश्च श्रेष्ठैर्धर्मार्थनैपुणैः ।
यदा व्रजति संग्रामं ग्रामार्थे नगरस्य वा ॥ २-२-३६
गत्वा सौमित्रिसहितो नाविजित्य निवर्तते ।

36. abhiviniitaH = trained in all matters; shreshhThaiH dvijaiH = from the best of Brahmans; dharmaartha nipuNaiH = skilled in the art of righteousness and in the science of political economy; gramaarthe = for village; nagarasyavaa = or for town; yadaa = while; vrajati = moving; saMgraamam = for a battle; gatvaa = (Rama) goes; saumitri sahitaH = along with Lakshmana; na nivartate = does not return; avijitya = without victory.

"Rama was trained in all matters from the best of Brahmans skilled in the art of righteousness and in the science of political economy. If it is necessary to go to a battle to protect a village or a city, Rama goes with Lakshmana and returns home only after obtaining victory."

Verse Locator

संग्रामात्पुनरागम्य कुङ्जरेण रथेन वा ॥ २-२-३७
पौरान् स्वजनवन्नित्यम् कुशलं परिपृच्छति ।

पुत्रेष्वग्निषु दारेषु प्रेष्यशिष्यगणेषु च ॥ २-२-३८

निखिलेनानुपूर्व्याच्च पिता पुत्रानिवौरसान् ।

37;38. punaH aagatya = After returning; sangraamaat = from battle; kuN^jareNa = on elephant; rathena vaa = or chariot; paripR^ichchhati = inquires; kushalam = well being of; pauraan = citizens; svajanavat = like relatives; pitaa = father; aurasaan putraaniva = like to their hereditary sons; putreshhu = about sons; agnishhu = about the fire; daareshhu = about the wives; preshya sishhyagaNeshhu cha = about the servants and the disciples; nityam = always; nikhilena = completely; anupuurvyaachcha = and as per due order.

"After returning from battle, Rama goes to citizens on an elephant or a chariot and inquires about their well being as though they were his own kinsmen, like a father does to his sons. He asks about their wives and children, about the sacred fires, about their servants and students, always completely as per the due order."

Verse Locator

शुश्रूषन्ते च वः शिष्याः कचित्कर्मसु दंशिताः ॥ २-२-३९

इति नः पुरुषव्याघ्रः सदा रामोऽभिभाषते ।

39. raamaH = Rama; purushavyaaghraH = the best among men; sadaa = always; abhibhaashhate = speaks; naH = to us; iti = thus; vaH = your; shishhyaH = disciples; shushruushhante = serving; daMshitaH = keenly; karmasu = in actions.

"Rama the best among men always asks us 'Are your disciples serving you by keenly performing their actions?' "

Verse Locator

व्यसनेषु मनुष्याणां भृशं भवति दुःखितः ॥ २-२-४०

उत्सवेषु च सर्वेषु पितेव परितुष्यति ।

40. bhR^isham duHkitaH bhavati = feels very sad; vyasaneshhu = in troubles; manushhyeshhu = of men; paritushhyati = feels delighted; sarveshhu = in all; utsaveshhu = celebrations; piteva = like father.

"Rama feels very sad towards afflictions of men; and feels delighted in all functions celebrated by people on the occasions of child birth and the like, just as their own father does."

Verse Locator

सत्यवादी महेश्वासो वृद्धसेवी जितेन्द्रियः ॥ २-२-४१

स्मितपूर्वाभिभाषी च धर्मं सर्वात्मना श्रितः ।

41. satyavaadii = speaker of only truth; maheshvaasaH = He who is having great bow; vR^iddhasevii = he who serves elders; jitendriyaH = he whose senses are defeated; smita puurvaabhibhaashhii cha = he who smiles before speaking; dharmaM shritaH = He who takes shelter of righteousness; sarvaatmanaa = in all ways.

"Rama speaks only truth. He is a great hero. He serves elders. He kept the senses under control. Rama, who talks smilingly, protects righteousness in all ways."

Verse Locator

सम्यग्योक्ता श्रेयसां च न विगृह्य कथारुचिः ॥ २-२-४२

उत्तरोत्तरयुक्तौ च वक्ता वाचस्पतिर्यथा ।

42. yokta shreyasaam = procurer of benefits; samyak = in good manner; na kathaaruchiH = not interested in talks; vigR^ihya = by quarreling; vaktaa = orator; vaachaspatiryathaa = like Brihaspati; uttarottarayuktau cha = by replies and rejoinders.

"Rama duly procures beneficent deeds. He is not interested in wrangling talks. He is an orator like Brihaspati by his replies and rejoinders."

Verse Locator

सुभूरायतताम्राक्षहस्साक्षाद्विष्णुरिव स्वयम् ॥ २-२-४३

रामो लोकाभिरामोऽयं शौर्यवीर्यपराक्रमैः ।

43. ayam = this; raamaH = Rama; lokaabhiraamaH = who enchants the world; subhruuH = with beautiful eyebrows; aayata taamraakshhaH = with broad and red eyes; svayam = himself; saakshhaat = absolutely; vishhnuH iva = like Vishnu; shaurya viirya paraakramaiH = in strength; heroism and valour.

"Rama, who enchants the world, has beautiful eyebrows. He has red and broad eyes. He is absolutely like the God Vishnu himself in strength, heroism and valour."

Verse Locator

प्रजापालनतत्त्वज्ञो न रागोपहतेन्द्रियः ॥ २-२-४४

शक्तस्त्रैलोक्यमप्येको भोक्तुं किं नु महीमिमाम् ।

44. prajaapaalana tattvaGYaH = knew the ins and outs of public administration; na raagopahatendriyaH = senses not hit by passion; shaktyaH = capable of; bhoktum = enjoying; trailokyamapi = even three worlds; ekaH = alone; kiM nu = why to speak of; imaam = this; mahiim = earth.

"He knew the ins and outs of public administration. His senses are not afflicted by passion. He is capable of administering not only earth, but also the three worlds."

Verse Locator

नाऽस्य क्रोधः प्रसादश्च निरर्थोऽस्ति कदाचन ॥ २-२-४५

हन्त्येव नियमाद्व्यानवध्ये च न कुप्यति ।

45. asya = his; krodhaH = anger; prasaadashcha = and mercy; kadaachana = at anytime; naasti = not; nirarthakaH = useless; hantyeva = kills certainly; vadhyaan = worthy of slaying; niyamaat = as per rules; na kupyati = not enraged at; avadye = those not worthy of slaying.

"Rama's anger or mercy is not arbitrary at any time. He kills those who are to be slain as per rules. He is not angered at the innocent."

Verse Locator

युनक्त्यर्थैः प्रहृष्टश्च तमसौ यत्र तुष्यति ॥ २-२-४६

शान्तैः सर्वप्रजाकान्तैः प्रीतिसंजननैर्नृणाम् ।

गुणैर्विरुरुचे रामो दीप्तः सूर्य इवांशुभिः ॥ २-२-४७

46; 47. asau = this Rama; yunakti = bestows; arthaiH = wealth; tam = to those; yatra = with whom; tushhyati = he is satisfied; suuryaH iva = as the sun; diiptaH = shines; amshubhiH = by his rays; raamaH = Rama; viruruche = shone; guNaiH = by qualities; shaantaiH = which are peaceful; sarvaprajaakaantaiH = which are enchanting to the entire people; priitijananaiH = which create delight; nR^iNaam = to humans.

"He gladly bestows wealth to those with whom he is satisfied. As the sun shines by his rays, Rama shines by his qualities that are peaceful, which are enchanting and delightful to men."

तमेवंगुणसम्पन्नं रामं सत्यपराक्रमम् ।
लोकपालोपमं नाथमकामयत मेदिनी ॥ २-२-४८

48. medinii = the earth; akaamayata = desires; raamaM = Rama; evam guNa sampannam = who is endowed with this wealth of virtues; satyaparaakramam = who has true valour; lokapaalopamaM = equal to presiding deities like Devendra; naatham = as the lord.

"All people desire Rama, who is endowed with this wealth of qualities, who has true valour, who is equal to presiding deities like Devendra, to be their lord."

Verse Locator

वत्सः श्रेयसि जातस्ते दिष्ट्यासौ तव राघव ।
दिष्ट्या पुत्रगुणैर्युक्तो मारीच इव काश्यपः ॥ २-२-४९

49. raaghava = oh king Dasaratha; asau = this Rama; jaataH = is born; te = to you; vatsaH = as son; tava dishhTyaa = by your fortune; yuktaH putraguNaiH = having virtues befitting a son; kaashyapaH iva = like kaasyapa; maariichaH = the son of Mareechi.

"Oh king Dasaratha! Rama is born to you as a son, because of your good fortune, for the welfare of this world. He has all the virtues befitting of a son, like Kasyapa, the son of Marichi."

Verse Locator

बलमारोग्यमायुश्च रामस्य विदितात्मनः ।
देवासुरमनुष्येषु सगन्धर्वोरगेषु च ॥ २-२-५०
आशंसते जनः सर्वो राष्ट्रे पुरवरे तथा ।
आभ्यन्तरश्च बाह्यश्च पौरजानपदो जनः ॥ २-२-५१

50;51. sarvaH janaH = all the people; raashhTre = in the state; tathaa = and; puravare = those in the capital; abhyantaraH cha = those in nearby places; baahyashcha = and; paurajaanapadaH janaH = rural and urban people; aashaMsate = desire; raamasya = of Rama; viditaatmanaH = having reputed nature; devaasuramanushhyeshhu = in celestials; demons and men; sagandharvorageshhucha = including divine singers and serpents; balam = strength; aarogyam = health; aayushcha = and long life.

"All people in the state including those in the capital as well as those in the nearby and in the far off places, pray for long life, health and strength of Rama of reputed nature."

Verse Locator

स्त्रियो वृद्धास्तरुण्यश्च सायं प्रातः समाहिताः ।
सर्वान् देवान् नमस्यन्ति रामस्यार्थं यशस्विनः ॥ २-२-५२

52. vR^iddhaaH = aged; tarunyashcha = and youthful; striyaH = women; namasyanti = are praying; saayaM = evening; praataH = morning; sarvaan = all; devaan = celestials; samahitaaH = with stable mind; arthe = for the benefit ; yashasvina = renowned; raamasya = of Rama.

"Both young and aged women are praying with a stable mind each morning and evening to all celestials, for the benefit of renowned Rama."

Verse Locator

तेषामायाचितं देव त्वत्प्रसादा त्समृद्धयताम् ।
राममिन्दीवरश्यामं सर्वशत्रुनिर्बहणम् ॥ २-२-५३

53. raajothama = oh best of the kings; deva = king Dasaratha; pashyaamaH = we shall see; raamaM = Rama; indiivarashyaamaM = who is having the complexion of black lotus; sarvashatrunibarhaNam = who annihilates all the enemies; tava = your; aatmajam = son; yauvaraajyastham = adorned with princely kingdom; aayaachitam = prayer; teshhaam = of those people; samR^iddhyaam = be fruitful; tvatprasaadaat = by your grace.

"Oh best of kings, Dasaratha ! We shall see Rama adorned with princely kingdom. Your son Rama has the complexion of a black lotus flower and annihilates all his enemies. Let the wish of the people be fulfilled by your grace."

Verse Locator

तं देवदेवोपममात्मजं ते ।
सर्वस्य लोकस्य हिते निविष्टम् ।
हिताय नः क्षिप्रमुदारजुष्टं ।
मुदाभिषेक्तुम् वरद त्व मर्हसि ॥ २-२-५४

54. varada = Oh ; fulfiller of desires; Dasaratha!; naH hitaaya = for our benefit; tvam = you; arhasi = are fit; kshhipram = immediately; mudaa = gladly; abhishhiktum = to inaugurate; tam = that; te aatmajaM = your son Rama; devadevopamaM = equal to the god of gods; Vishnu; nivishhTam = who is interested; hite = in the benefit of; sarvasya = the entire; lokasya = world; udaarajushhTaM = who is possessing the best of virtues.

"Oh fulfiller of people's desires, Dasaratha! For our benefit, you gladly and immediately inaugurate your son Rama, who is equal to Vishnu, who is interested in the welfare of the entire world and who is possessing the best of virtues."

॥ इति श्रीमद्रामायणे अयोध्यकाण्डे द्वितीय सर्गः ॥

Thus completes 2nd Chapter of Ayodhya Kanda of the glorious Ramayana of Valmiki, the work of a sage and the oldest epic.

Book II : Ayodhya Kanda - Book Of Ayodhya

Chapter[Sarga] 3 Verses converted to UTF-8, Nov 09

Introduction

Dasaratha, glad after hearing the words of assembled people, requests Vasishta and Vamadeva to start arrangements for the anointing ceremony of Rama. Vasishta and Vamadeva order the officers present there to make all arrangements, describing them in detail. Dasaratha then orders Sumantra to bring Rama to the assembly. After letting Rama know of his desire, Dasaratha then advises Rama on how to rule the kingdom for the benefit of the people.

Verse Locator

तेषामञ्जलिपद्मानि प्रगृहीतानि सर्वशः ।
प्रतिगृह्याब्रवीद्राजा तेभ्यः प्रियहितं वचः ॥ २-३-१

1. raajaa = King (Dasaratha); pragR^ihiitaani = obtained; teshhaam = their; aJNjalipadmaani = salutation (with folded hands) resembling lotus buds; sarvashaH = by all means; pratigR^ihyaa = accepted (that); abraviit = (and) spoke; tebhyaH = to them; priyahitam = pleasing and good; vachaH = sentence.

King Dasaratha, accepted their salutations with folded hands resembling lotus buds and spoke good and agreeable words to them as follows:-

Verse Locator

अहोऽस्मि परमप्रीतः प्रभावश्चातुलो मम ।
यन्मे ज्येष्ठं प्रियं पुत्रं यौवराज्यस्थ मिच्छथ ॥ २-३-२

2. aho = Oh!; yat ichchhatha = why you desire; me = my; jyeshhTham = elder; priyam = beloved; putram = son; yauvaraajyastham = as prince; paramapriitaH asmi = (for that)I am very pleased; mama = my; prabhaavashcha = fortune is also; atulaH = without comparision.

"Oh! I am very much pleased and incomparable is my fortune in that you desire my beloved elder son to be anointed as prince. "

Verse Locator

इति प्रत्यर्च्य तान् राजा ब्राह्मणानिद मब्रवीत् ।
वसिष्ठं वामदेवं च तेषामेवोपशृण्वताम् ॥ २-३-३

3. raajaa = King Dasaratha; iti = thus; pratyarchya = respected; taan = them; abraviit = spoke; idam = this (sentence); teshhaam upashR^iNvataam eva = while they were listening; vasishhTham = to Vasishta; VaamadevaM cha = Vaamadeva and; braahmaNaan = other brahmanas.

King Dasaratha, thus duly returning the honor done by them, spoke while they were listening, to Vasishta, Vamadeva and other Brahmanas as follows:

Verse Locator

चैत्रः श्रीमानयं मासः पुण्यः पुष्पितकाननः ।
यौवराज्याय रामस्य सर्वमेवोपकल्प्यताम् ॥ २-३-४
राज्ञस्तूपरते वाक्ये जनघोषो महानभूत् ।

4. "ayam = this; chaitraH maasaH = month of Chaitra; pushhpitakaananaH = has flowering forests; shriimaan = glorious; puNyaH = auspicious; sarvam eva upakalpyataam = let all arrangements be made (for anointment of Rama as prince)"; uparate = while completing; raajJNaH = the king's; vaakye = words; abhuut = there was; mahaan = great; janaghoshhaH = uproar (due to applause) from people.

"This is the glorious and auspicious month of Chaitra, in which the forests bloom with flowers. Let all arrangements be made for the coronation of Rama as prince." While these words of the king were being completed, there was a great delightful uproar of the people.

Verse Locator

शनैस्तस्मिन् प्रशान्ते च जनघोषे जनाधिपः ॥ २-३-५
वसिष्ठं मुनिशार्दूलं राजा वचनमब्रवीत् ।

5. tasmin = that; janaghoshhe = uproar of people; shanaiH = gradually; prashaante = subsided; janaadhipaH = lord of the people; raajaa = King Dasaratha; abraviit = spoke; vachanam = these words; vasishhTham = to Vasista; munishaarduulam = the best of sages.

When their applause gradually subsided, King Dasaratha spoke the following words to the best of sages, Vasishta.

Verse Locator

अभिषेकाय रामस्य यत्कर्म सपरिच्छदम् ॥ २-३-६
तदद्य भगवन् सर्वमाज्ञापयितुं मर्हसि ।

6. bhagavan = Oh divine Vasishta!; arhasi = you are suitable; adya = now; aajJNaapayitum = to order for; sarvam = all; tat karma yat = the traditional ceremonial which (needs) to be done; saporichchhadam = including the accessories (that are needed); abhishhekaaya raamasya = for the anointing ceremony of Rama.

"Oh Divine Vasishta! Be pleased to order now for the traditional ceremonial that is to be done and various accessories needed for the anointing ceremony of Rama."

Verse Locator

तच्छ्रुत्वा भूमिपालस्य वसिष्ठो द्विजसत्तमः ॥ २-३-७
आदिदेशाग्रतो राज्ञः स्थितान् युक्तान् कृताञ्जलीन् ।

7. vasishhThaH = Vasishta; dvijasattamaH = the best of brahmanas; shrutvaa = heard; tat = that (sentence); bhuumipaalasya = of king Dasaratha; aadidesha = ordered; yuktaan = the officers; sthitaan = who were there; kR^itaaJNjaliin = with folded hands; agrataH = before; raajJNaH = the king.

Vasishta, the best of Brahmans, hearing the words of king Dasaratha, ordered the officers who stood there with folded hands before the king, as follows: -

Verse Locator

सुवर्णादीनि रत्नानि बलीन् सर्वौषधीरपि ॥ २-३-८
शुक्लमाल्यांश्च लाजांश्च पृथक्च मधुसर्पिषी ।

अहतानि च वासांसि रथं सर्वयुधान्यपि ॥ २-३-९

चतुरङ्गबलं चैव गजं च शुभलक्षणम् ।

चामरव्यजने श्वेते ध्वजं छत्रं च पाण्डुरम् ॥ २-३-१०

शतं च शातकुम्भानां कुम्भानामग्निवर्चसाम् ।

हिरण्यशृङ्गमृषभं समग्रं व्याघ्रचर्म च ॥ २-३-११

उपस्थापयत प्रातरग्न्यगारं महीपतेः ।

8;9;10;11. upasthaapayata = gather; agnyagaaram = in the sacred fire house; mahiipate = of the king; praataH = at dawn; suvarNaadiini = gold and the like; ratnaani = diamonds; baliin = things needed to perform pooja (worship); sarvaushhadhiH api = various herbs; shuklamaalyaan cha = white floral garlands; laajaan cha = corn; madhusarpishhii = honey and clarified butter; pR^ithak = separately; ahataani vaasaaMsi cha = new clothes; ratham = chariot; sarvaayudhaanyapi = all weapons; chaturaN^gabalaMcha iva = the four divisions of army; gajam cha = elephant; shubhalakshaNam = with good signs; shvete = white; chaamaravyajane = fans made from the skin of an animal called chamari; dhvajam = pillar (or) staff; paaNDuram = white; chhatraM cha = umbrella; shataM cha = one hundred; shaatakumbhaanaam = golden hued; kumbhaanaam = pots; agnivarchasaam = brilliant like fire; R^ishhabham = bull; hiraNyashR^iN^gam = with golden horns; samagram = complete; vyaaghracharma cha = tiger skin.

"Gather the following in the sacred fire house of the king at dawn: gold and the like, diamonds, things needed to perform worship, various herbs, white floral garlands, corn, honey and clarified butter in separate vessels, new clothes, chariot, all weapons, the four divisions of army, an elephant with auspicious signs, white fan, flag staff, white umbrella, one hundred golden pots with brilliant shine, bull with gilded horns and a complete tiger skin".

Verse Locator

यच्चान्यत्किञ्चिदेष्टव्यं तत्सर्वमुपकल्प्यताम् । २-३-१२

अस्तःपुरस्य द्वाराणि सर्वस्य नगरस्य च ।

चन्दनस्रग्भिरर्च्यन्तां धूपैश्च घ्राणहारिभिः ॥ २-३-१३

12;13. anyat = (if) other; yat cha kiJNchit = even small thing; eshhTavyam = is required; upakalpyataam tat sarvam = let all of it be arranged; dvaaraaNi = doorways; antaHpurasya = of royal palace; sarvasya nagarasya cha = of entire city also; archyantaam = be worshipped; chandanasragbhiH = with sandal paste and floral garlands; ghraaNahaaribhiH = attractive smelling; dhuupaiH = incense.

"If any other small things are required, arrange for all of them. Let the doorways of the royal palace and those of the entire city be worshipped with sandalwood paste, floral garlands and good smelling incense."

Verse Locator

प्रशस्तमन्नं गुणवद्धिक्षीरोपसेचनम् ।

द्विजानां शतसाहस्रे यत्प्रकाममलं भवेत् ॥ २-३-१४

14. prashastam = fine; annam = rice; guNavat = of good quality; dadhi kshiiropasechanam = with yoghurt and milk; prakaamam = completely; alaM bhavet = sufficient for; shatasaahasre = one hundred thousand; dvijaanaam = brahmanaas.

"Let fine rice of good quality with milk and yogurt, fully sufficient for one hundred thousand Brahmins be arranged."

Verse Locator

सत्कृत्य द्विजमुख्यानां श्वः प्रभाते प्रदीयताम् ।

घृतं दधि च लाजाश्च दक्षिणाश्चापि पुष्कलाः ॥ २-३-१५

15. pradiiyataam = let (that rice) be given; satkR^itya = with respect; shvaH = tomorrow; prabhaate = at dawn; dvijamukhyaanaam = to important Brahmins; ghR^itam = (along with) clarified butter; dadhi cha = yoghurt; laajaaH cha = corn and; pushhkalaaH = lot of; dakshiNaashchaapi = gifts also.

"Let that rice be given with due respect to important Brahmins tomorrow at dawn; along with clarified butter, yogurt, corn, and lot of gifts."

Verse Locator

सूर्येऽभ्युदितमात्रे श्वो भविता स्वस्तिवाचनम् ।

ब्राह्मणाश्च निमन्त्र्यन्तां कल्प्यन्तामासनानि च ॥ २-३-१६

16. bhavita = there will be; svastivaachanam = chorus invoking well being of all; shvaH = tomorrow; abhyuditamaatre = soon after the rise of; suurye = sun; braahmaNaaH cha = brahmanas; nimantryantaam = be summoned; aasanaani cha = and seats; kalpyantaam = be arranged.

"There will be an invocation for the well being of all, tomorrow at sun rise. Let brahmanas be invited and suitable seats be arranged for them."

Verse Locator

आबध्यन्तां पताकाश्च राजमार्गश्च सिच्यताम् ।

सर्वे च ताळावचरा गणिकाश्च स्वलंकृताः ॥ २-३-१७

कक्ष्यां द्वितीयामासाद्य तिष्ठन्तु नृपवेश्मनः ।

17. pataakaaH cha aabadhyantaam = let flags be hung; raajamaargaH cha sichyataaM cha = let royal roads be made wet; sarve = (let)all; svalaMkR^itaaH = well dressed; taaLaavacharaaH = musicians; gaNikaaH cha = dancers; aasaadya = get; dvitiiyaam = second; kakshyaam = enclosure; nR^ipaveshmanaH = of royal palace; tishhThantu = to stay.

"Let the flags be hung and the royal highways be sprinkled with water. Let well dressed dancers and musicians wait in second enclosure in the royal compound."

Verse Locator

देवायतनचैत्येषु सान्नभक्षाः सदक्षिणाः ॥ २-३-१८

उपस्थापयितव्याः स्युर्माल्ययोग्याः पृथक् पृथक् ।

18. devaayatanachaityeshhu = in temples and at road junctions; yogyaaH = deserving people; upasthaapayitavyaaH syuH = be gathered; saanna = with rice; bhakshaaH = eatables; sadakshiNaaH = with presents; maalya = garlands; pR^ithak pR^ithak = separately.

"As worshipping is to be done in temples and at road junctions, let some deserving people gather there with rice, eatables, presents and garlands separately."

Verse Locator

दीर्घासिबद्धा योधाश्च सन्नद्धा मृष्टवाससः ॥ २-३-१९

महाराजाङ्गणं सर्वे प्रविशन्तु महोदयम् ।

19. sarve = (let) all the; yodhaashcha = warriors also; pravishastu = enter; mahodayam = well developed; mahaaraajaaN^gaNam = front yard of royal palace; diirghaasibaddhaaH = wearing long swords; sannaddhaaH = wearing armors; mR^ishhTavaasasaH = wearing washed clothes.

"Let all the warriors enter the well developed front yard of the royal palace with long swords, armors and clean clothing."

Verse Locator

एवं व्यादिश्य विप्रौ तौ क्रियास्तत्र सुनिष्ठितौ ॥ २-३-२०

चक्रतुश्चैव यच्छेषं पार्थिवाय निवेद्य च ।

20. tau = those; viprau = wisemen - Vasishta and Vamadeva; sunishhThitau = with good attention; evam = thus; vyaadishya = ordered; kriyaaH = things to be done; tatra = there; nivedya cha = informed; paarthivaaya = the king Dasaratha; chakratuH cha eva = also performed; yat sheshham = (those things) that remained.

Those wise men Vasishta and Vamadeva attentively ordered for all those things to be done there, informed that to king Dasaratha and performed the remaining things also.

Verse Locator

कृतमित्येव चाब्रूतामभिगम्य जगत्पतिम् ॥ २-३-२१

यथोक्तवचनं प्रीतौ हर्षयुक्तौ द्विजर्षभौ ।

21. priitau = satisfied; harshhayuktau = with pleasure; dvijarshhabhau = the best of brahmanas; Vasishta and Vamadeva; abhigamya = approached; jagatpatim = king Dasaratha - the lord of world; abruutaam = and told him; kR^itamityeva = that all had been done; yathoktavachanam = as per his words.

Pleased and satisfied with the arrangements made Vasishta and Vamadeva approached king Dasaratha and told him that all had been done according to his words.

Verse Locator

ततः सुमन्त्रं द्युतिमान् राजा वचनमब्रवीत् ॥ २-३-२२

रामः कृतात्मा भवता शीघ्रमानीयतामिति ।

22. tataH = afterwards; dyutimaan = radiant; raajaa = king Dasaratha; abraviit = spoke; iti = thus; sumantram = to Sumantra; vachanam = these words; raamaH = Rama; kR^itaatmaa = who has a disciplined intellect; aniiyataam = be brought; bhavataa = by you; shiighram = immediately.

Afterwards, Dasaratha spoke to Sumantra "Let Rama, who has a disciplined intellect, be brought by you immediately."

Verse Locator

स तथेति प्रतिज्ञाय सुमन्त्रो राजशासनात् ॥ २-३-२३

रामं तत्रानयांचक्रे रथेन रथिनां वरम् ।

23. saH = that; sumantraH = Sumantra; pratijjNaaya = spoke; tathaa iti = that would be done accordingly; aanayaaMchakre = brought; raamam = Rama; varam = the best among; rathinaaM = charioteers; tatra = there; rathena = in a chariot; raaja shaasanaat = as commanded by the king.

As commanded by the king, Sumantra brought there, Rama, the best of charioteers, in a chariot.

Verse Locator

अथ तत्र समासीनास्तदा दशरथं नृपम् ॥ २-३-२४
 प्राच्योदीच्याः प्रतीच्याश्च दाक्षिणात्याश्च भूमिपाः ।
 म्लेच्छाश्चार्याश्च ये चान्ये वने शैलान्तवासिनः ॥ २-३-२५
 उपासाञ्चक्रीरे सर्वे तं देवा इव वासवम् ।

24;25. atha = afterwards (after Sumantra left); bhuumipaaH = kings; praachyodiichyaaH = belonging to east; north; pratiichyaaH cha = and belonging to west; daakshiNaatyaaH cha = and belonging to south; mlechchhaaH cha = those belonging to the country of Mlechha; aryaaH cha = and belonging to the country of AryaaVarta; vane = in forest areas; anye = others; ye = who are; shailaantavaasinaH = staying in hilly areas; sarve = all; samaasiinaaH = sat; tatra = there; tadaa = then; upaasaaJNchakrire = attended on; tam = that; dasaratham nrR^ipam = king Dasaratha; vaasavamiva = as to Devendra; devaaH = by celestials.

Afterwards the kings belonging to east, west, north, south as well as those belonging to Mlechha kingdom, Aryaa Vartha kingdom and those ruling in hill and forest areas sat there and attended on King Dasaratha as celestials attended on Devendra.

Verse Locator

तेषां मध्ये स राजर्षिर्मरुतामिव वासवः ॥ २-३-२६
 प्रासादस्थो रथगतं ददर्शयान्त मात्मजम् ।

26. saH = that; raajarshhiH = the sage and the king Dasaratha; madhye = in the midst; teshhaaM = of them; vaasavaH = like Devendra; maruthaam = in the midst of celestials; dadarsha = saw; praasaadasthaH = staying in the palace; aatmajam = his son Rama; aayaantam = arriving; rathagatham = in a chariot.

The sage king Dasaratha, sitting in the midst of those kings like Devendra in the middle of the celestials, saw from the palace itself, his son Rama arriving in a chariot.

Verse Locator

गन्धर्वराजप्रतिमं लोके विख्यातपौरुषम् ॥ २-३-२७
 दीर्घ बाहुं महसत्त्वं मत्तमातङ्गगामिनम् ।
 चन्द्रकान्ताननं राममतीव प्रियदर्शनम् ॥ २-३-२८
 रूपौदार्यगुणैः पुंसां दृष्टिचित्तापहारिणम् ।
 घर्माभितप्ताः पर्जन्यं ह्लादयन्तमिव प्रजाः ॥ २-३-२९
 न ततर्प समायान्तं पश्यमानो नराधिपः ।

27;28;29. gandharva raaja pratimam = equal to king of Gandharvas; vikhyaata paurushham = has famous valiance; loke = in the world; diirgha baahum = has long arms; mahaasattvam = has great strength; mattamaataN^ga gaaminam = has a gait like that of a vigorous elephant; chandrakaantaananam = has enchanting face like the moon; atiiva = very; priyadarshanam = pleasant to behold; ruupaudaaryaguNaiH = with looks (and his) magnanimity (and) virtues; dr^ishhTi chittaapahaarakam = (he had) stolen the eyes and minds; pumsaam = of men; naraadhipaH = king Dasaratha; na tatarpa = was not satiated; pashyamaanaH = in seeing; raamam = Rama; samayaantam = coming; parjanyaam iva = like cloud; hlaadayantam = gladdening; prajaaH = to people; gharmaabhitaptaaH = scorched by summer heat.

Rama was as beautiful as the king of Gandharvas. His valiance was world famous. He had great strength and walked like a vigorous elephant. He had long arms, and with his enchanting face, he looked like the moon. He stole the eyes and minds of the people by his looks, generosity and virtues. King Dasaratha was thus not satiated enough in seeing Rama, coming like a cloud that gladdens people by relieving them from the scorching summer heat.

Verse Locator

अवतार्य सुमन्त्रस्तं राघवं स्यन्दनोत्तमात् ॥ २-३-३०
पितुः समीपं गच्छन्तं प्राञ्जलिः पृष्ठतोऽन्वगात् ।

30. sumantraH = Sumantra; avataarya tam raaghavam = helped that Rama to alight; syandanottamaat = from the excellent chariot; praaJNjaliH = (and) with folded hands; anvagaat = followed; pR^ishhThataH = behind; gachchhantam = (Rama) going; samiipam = close to; pituH = his father.

Sumantra helped Rama to get down from the excellent chariot and with folded hands followed behind Rama, who approached his father.

Verse Locator

स तं कैलासशृङ्गाभं प्रासादं नरपुङ्गवः ॥ २-३-३१
आरुरोह नृपं द्रष्टुं सह सूतेन राघवः ।

31. saH = that; raaghavaH = Rama; narapuN^gavaH = the best among men; aaruroha = ascended; tam = that; praasaadam = palace; kailaasa shR^iN^gaabham = which is equal to Mount Kailaasa; suutena saha = along with the driver of chariot; drashhTum = to see; nR^ipam = the king Dasaratha.

Rama, the best among men, ascended the steps of the palace, which resembled Mount Kailaasa, along with Sumantra, to see the king Dasaratha.

Verse Locator

स प्राञ्जलिरभिप्रेत्य प्रणतः पितुरन्तिके ॥ २-३-३२
नाम स्वं श्रावयन् रामो ववन्धे चरणौ पितुः ।

32. saH = that; raamaH = Rama; praaJN^jaliH = with folded hands; abhipretya = approached; antike = nearer to; pituH = his father; praNataH = bowed down; shraavayan = mentioning; svam = his own; naama = name; vavande = offered obeisance; pituH = (to) his father's; charaNau = feet.

Rama with folded hands approached his father, bowed down mentioning his own name and offered salutations to his father's feet.

Verse Locator

तं दृष्ट्वा प्रणतं पार्श्वे कृताञ्जलिपुटं नृपः ॥ २-३-३३
गृह्णाञ्जलौ समाकृष्य सस्वजे प्रियमात्मजम् ।

33. nR^ipaH = king Dasaratha; gR^ihya = caught; anjalau = by his joined hands; tam = that; priyam = beloved; aatmajam = son; praNatam = who was (standing) humbly; paarshve = by his side; kR^itaanjalipuTam = with folded hands; samaakR^ishhya = drew him nearer and; sasvaje = embraced.

King Dasaratha took into his embrace that beloved son who was standing humbly beside him with folded hands.

Verse Locator

तस्मै चाभ्युदितं दिव्यं मणिकाञ्चनभूषितं ॥ २-३-३४
दिदेश राजा रुचिरं रामाय परमासनम् ।

34. raajaa = king Dasaratha; didesha = gave; tasmai raamaaya = for that Rama; paramaasanam = great throne; abhyuditam = which is high; divyam = excellent; ruchiram = beautiful; maNikaanchana bhuushhitam = decorated with gold and diamonds.

King Dasaratha gave Rama a great throne, which was high, excellent and beautiful, decorated with gold and diamonds.

Verse Locator

तदासनवरं प्राप्य व्यदीपयत राघवः ॥ २-३-३५

स्वयेव प्रभया मेरुमुदये विमलो रविः ।

35. raaghavaH = Rama; praapya = got; tat = that; aasanavaram = great throne; vyadiipayata = (and) caused it to shine; svayaa = with his own; prabhayaa = brightness; merumiva = as to Meru Mountain; udaye = in the morning; vimalaH = by spot less; raviH = sun.

Rama, occupying that great throne, caused it to shine with his own brightness, just as the spotless sun in the morning causes Meru mountain to shine with brilliance.

Verse Locator

तेन विभ्राजता तत्र सा सभाभिव्यरोचत ॥ २-३-३६

विमलग्रहनक्षत्रा शारदी द्यौरिवेन्दुना ।

36. tatra = there; tena = by that Rama; vibhbraajataa = shining; saa = that; sabhaa = assembly; abhivvyarochata = shone more; inudunaa iva = as by the moon; shaaradii = the autumn; dyauH = sky; vimalagrahanakshatraa = with the dimless planets and stars.

Rama by his brilliance made that assembly to shine, just as the moon shines the clear autumnal sky, with the dimless stars and planets.

Verse Locator

तं पश्यमानो नृपति स्तुतोओष प्रियमात्मजम् ॥ २-३-३७

अलङ्कृतमिवात्मानमादर्शतलसंस्थितम् ।

37. nR^ipaH = king Dasaratha; tutoshha = was delighted; pasyamaanaH = seeing; tam = that; priyam = beloved; aatmajam = son; aatmanamiva = as seeing oneself; alankR^itam = adorned; aadarshatalasamsthitam = in a mirror.

King Dasaratha was as delighted in seeing his beloved son, as one delights in seeing oneself adorned, in a mirror.

Verse Locator

स तं सस्मितमाभाष्य पुत्रं पुत्रवतां वरः ॥ २-३-३८

उवाचेदं वचो राजा देवेन्द्रमिव काश्यपः ।

38. saH = that; raaja = king Dasaratha; varaH = best; putravataam = among those who have sons; sasmitam = smilingly; aabhaashhya = conversed with; tam = that; putram = son; uvaacha = spoke; idam = these; vachaH = words; devendramiva = as to Devendra; kaasyapaH = (by) kaasyapa.

King Dasaratha, the best among those who have sons, smilingly conversed with his son, and addressed Rama as follows, as Kasyapa does to (his eldest son) Devendra (the ruler of gods).

Verse Locator

ज्येष्ठायामसि मे पत्न्यां सदृश्यां सदृशः सुतः ॥ २-३-३९

उत्पन्नस्त्वं गुणश्रेष्ठो मम रामात्मजः प्रियः ।

39. raama = oh; Rama! tvam = you; asi = are; sadR^ishaH = worthy; sutaH = son; utpannaH = born; me = to my; sadR^ishyaam = worthy; jyeshhThaayaam = elder; patnyaam = wife; guNashreshhThaH = being excellent in virtues; priyaH = (you are) beloved; aatmajaH = son; mama = to me.

"Oh Rama! You are an exemplary son born to my exemplary elder wife. Being excellent in virtues, you are beloved son to me."

Verse Locator

यतस्त्वया प्रजाश्चेमाः स्वगुणैरनुरज्जिताः ॥ २-३-४०

तस्मात्त्वं पुष्ययोगेन यौवराज्यमवाप्नुहि ।

40. yataH = Why; tvayaa = by you; imaaH = these; prajaaH = people; anuraJNjitaH = were cherished; svaguNaiH = by your good qualities; tasmaat = for that reason; tvam = you; avaapnuhi = get; yauvaraajyam = princely kingdom; pushhyayogena = on the day of Pushyami (when the moon appears in conjunction with the constellation Pushya).

"O, Rama! As you with your good qualities cherished these people, you get the princely kingdom on the day of Pushyami star (when the moon appears in conjunction with the constellation Pushya).."

Verse Locator

कामतस्त्वं प्रकृत्यैव विनीतो गुणवानसि ॥ २-३-४१

गुणवत्यपि तु स्नेहात्पुत्र वक्ष्यामि ते हितम् ।

41. putra = Oh; son!; prakR^ityaiva = by nature; tvam asi = you are; kaamataH = very much; viniitaH = humble; guNavaan = virtuous man; guNavatyapi = even if virtuous; because of my; snehaat = friendship; vakshyaami = I can tell; te = to you; hitam = good (words).

"Oh, son! By nature, you are very humble and virtuous. Even then, because of my friendship with you, I can tell you this for your benefit."

Verse Locator

भूयो विनयमास्थाय भव नित्यं जितेन्द्रियः ॥ २-३-४२

कामक्रोधसमुत्थानि त्यजेथा व्यसनानि च ।

42. aasthaaya = try to; bhava = become; bhuuyaH = (even) more; vinayam = humble; nityam = always; jitendriyaH = (remain as) one who has victory over senses; tyajethaaH = leave; vyasanaani cha = bad habits; kaamakrodha samutthaani = born of desire and wrath.

"Be even more humble and always keep the senses under control. Leave the bad habits born out of desire and wrath."

Verse Locator

परोक्षया वर्तमानो वृत्त्या प्रत्यक्षया तथा ॥ २-३-४३

अमात्यप्रभृतीः सर्वाः प्रकृतीश्चानुरज्जय ।

43. vR^ityaa = By conduct; parokshayaa = indirectly; tathaa = and; vartamaanaH = operating; pratyakshayaa = directly; anuraJNjaya = keep happy; amaatya prabhR^itiiH = (people) like ministers and others.

"Through direct and indirect means, keep ministers and others happy."

Verse Locator

कोष्ठागारायुधागारैः कृत्वा सन्नि चयान् बहून् ॥ २-३-४४

तुष्टानुरक्तप्रकृतिर्यः पालयति मेदिनीम् ।

तस्य नन्दन्ति मित्राणि लब्ध्वाऽमृतमिवाऽमराः ॥ २-३-४५

तस्मात्त्वमपि चात्मानं नियम्यैवं समाचर ।

44;45. amaraaH iva = like celestials; labdhvaa = (who were happy after) obtaining; amR^itam = the nectar; tasya = his; mitraaNi = friends; nandanti = are delighted with him; yaH = who; paalayati = rules; mediniim = the earth; kR^itvaa = by making; bahuun = many; sannichayaan = good storage; koshhThaagaraayudhaagaaraiH = with granaries and armories; tushhTaanuraktaprakR^itiH = with delightful and happy people; tasmaat = hence; tvamapi = you too; aatmaanam = (your)self; samaachara = act; evam = like this.

"Like the celestials becoming happy after obtaining the nectar, friends of a king (ruler of earth) are delighted when he fills the granaries and armories to the brim, making the common people delightful and happy. Hence, you too act like this."

Verse Locator

तच्छ्रुत्वा सुहृदस्तस्य रामस्य प्रियकारिणः ॥ २-३-४६

त्वरिताः शीघ्रमभ्येत्य कौसल्यायै न्यवेदयन् ।

46. tasya = that; raamasya = Rama's; suhR^idaH = friends; shrutvaa = after hearing; tat = that; tvarिताH = hurriedly; priyakaariNaH = intending to do good; shiighram = immediately; abhyetya = came; kausalyaayai = to Kausalya; nyavedayan = (and) informed (her of the good news).

The well -wishers of Rama, after hearing those words, intending to do good to Kausalya, immediately came to her and informed the matter to her.

Verse Locator

सा हिरण्यं च गाश्चैव रत्नानि विविधानि च ॥ २-३-४७

व्यादिदेश प्रियाख्येभ्यः कौसल्या प्रमदोत्तमा ।

47. pramadottamaa = the best among women; saa = that; kausalyaa = Kausalya; vyaadidesha = gave away; hiraNyaM cha = gold; gaaH chaiva = cows and; vividhaani = different types of; ratnaanicha = diamonds also; priyaakhyebhyaH = to those who informed the good news.

The best among women, Kausalya gave away gold, cows and different types of diamonds to those who informed her good news.

Verse Locator

अथाभिवाद्य राजानं रथमारुह्य राघवः ॥ २-३-४८

ययौ स्वं द्युतिमद्देश्म जनौघैः प्रतिपूजितः ।

48. atha = afterwards; raaghavaH = Rama; abhivaadya = saluted; raajaanam = to king Dasaratha; aaruhya = (and) alighted; ratham = the chariot; yayau = (and) went; svam veshma = for his house; dyutimat = (which was) splendid; pratipuujitaH = after being worshipped; janaughaiH = by the crowds.

Rama, after offering salutations to king Dasaratha, ascended the chariot and went to his splendid house after being worshipped by the crowds on the way.

ते चापि पौरा नृपतेर्वचस्त ।
 च्छ्रुत्वा तदा लाभमिवेष्टमाशु ।
 नरेन्द्रमामन्त्र्य गृहाणि गत्वा ।
 देवान् समानर्चुरतिप्रहृष्टाः ॥ २-३-४९

49. tadaa = then; te = those; pauraashchaapi = citizens also; shrutvaa = listened (to); tat = those; vachaH = words; nR^ipateH = of the king; ishham laabhamiva = seeing their dearest wish gratified;; ati prahR^ishhTaaH = became very happy; amantrya = took leave; nareMdram = of king Dasaratha; aashu = immediately; samaanarchuH = worshipped; devaan = the gods; gatvaa = going; gR^ihaaNi = to their houses.

Having heard those words of the king, seeing their dearest wish gratified, the citizens took leave of the King Dasaratha and returned to their homes full of joy, in order to give thanks and render homage to the Gods.

॥ इत्यार्षे श्रीमद्वाल्मीकिरामायणे आदिकाव्ये अयोध्यकाण्डे तृतीय सर्गः ॥

Thus completes 3rd Chapter of Ayodhya Kanda of the glorious Ramayana of Valmiki, the work of a sage and the oldest epic.

Book II : Ayodhya Kanda - Book Of Ayodhya

Chapter[Sarga] 4 Verses converted to UTF-8, Nov 09

Introduction

Dasaratha decides to coronate Rama as the prince the next day. He asks Sumantra to bring Rama to his presence once again. After Rama arrives, Dasaratha expresses to Rama his desire to anoint Rama as a prince the very next day. He cites various bad dreams and inauspicious signs as the reason for his haste. Rama thus informed by his father, goes to his mother's house and informs her of the good news. Kausalya becomes delighted at the news and gives Rama her blessings.

Verse Locator

गतेष्वथ नृपो भूयः पौरेषु सह मन्त्रिभिः ।
मन्त्रयुत्वा ततश्चक्रे निश्चयज्ञः स निश्चयम् ॥ २-४-१
श्व एव पुष्यो भविता श्वोऽभिषेच्यस्तु मे सुतः ।
रामो राजीवताम्राक्षो यौवराज्य इति प्रभुः ॥ २-४-२

1;2. atha = after; paureshhu = citizens; gateshhu satsu = had been leaving; nR^ipaH = king Dasaratha; nishchayaGYaH = (who is an excellent) decision maker; prabhuH = (and who is) efficient; bhuuyaH = again; mantrayitvaa = conferred; mantribhiH saha = with ministers; chakre = made; nishchayam = decision; iti = thus; shvaH eva = tomorrow only; bhavita = will be; pushhyaH = Pushya constellation; me sutaH = my son; raamaH = Rama; raajiivataamraakshaH = who has eyes like red lotus; abhishechyaH = can be anointed; yauvaraajye = for princely hood; shvaH = tomorrow.

After the citizens left, Dasaratha who was efficient in taking decisions pertaining to place and time of ceremonies, again conferred with the ministers and decided thus: "Tomorrow will be a day when the constellation of Pushya would be in the ascendant. My son Rama, who has eyes like red lotus, can be crowned as a prince tomorrow".

Verse Locator

अथान्तर्गृहमासाद्य राजा दशरथस्तदा ।
सूतमामन्त्रयामास रामं पुनरिहानय ॥ २-४-३

3. atha = Afterwards; raajaa dasarathaH = king Dasaratha; aasaadya = got (into); antargR^iham = inner palace; tadaa = (and) then; amantrayaamaasa = ordered; suutam = the charioteer Sumantra; aanaya = bring; raamam = Rama; punaH = again; iha = here.

Thereafter, king Dasaratha entered the inner palace and then ordered Sumantra thus, "Bring Rama again here".

Verse Locator

प्रतिगृह्य स तद्वाक्यं सूतः पुनरुपाययौ ।

रामस्य भवनं शीघ्रं राममानयितुं पुनः ॥ २-४-४

4. pratigR^ihya = Receiving; tat = those; vaakyam = words; saH = that; suutaH = charioteer Sumantra; punaH = again; upaayayau = got (to); raamasya = Rama's; bhavanam = house; sheeghram = immediately; aanayitum = to bring; raamam = Rama; punaH = once more.

Obeying the king's words, Sumantra went to Rama's house immediately to bring Rama once again.

Verse Locator

द्वाःस्थैरावेदितं तस्य रामायागमनं पुनः ।

श्रुत्वैव चापि रामस्तं प्राप्तं शङ्कान्वितोऽभवत् ॥ २-४-५

5. tasya = His; aagamanam = arrival; punaH = again; aaveditam = was informed; raamaaya = to Rama; dvaaH sthaiH = by doorkeepers; shrutvaa cha api eva = and as soon as Rama heard; tam = his (Sumantra's); praaptam = arrival; raamaH = Rama; shaN^kaanvitaH abhavat = became doubtful (about the reason for his arrival again.)

The doorkeepers informed Rama that Sumantra had come again. Hearing that, Rama was uncertain as to the reason for Sumantra's arrival again.

Verse Locator

प्रवेश्य चैनं त्वरितं रामो वचन मब्रवीत् ।

यदागमनकृत्यं ते भूयस्तद्भ्रुह्यशेषतः ॥ २-४-६

6. raamaH = Rama; tvaritam = soon; praveshya enam cha = allowed him to enter and; abraviit = spoke; vachanam = (these) words; bruuhi = tell; asheshataH = completely; tat = that; yat = for what; te aagamana kR^ityam = purpose is your arrival.

Rama immediately allowed Sumantra inside and spoke these words to him: "Tell me completely the purpose of your arrival again."

Verse Locator

तमुवाच ततः सूतो राजा त्वां द्रष्टु मिच्छति ।

श्रुत्वा प्रमाणमत्र त्वं गमनायेतराय वा ॥ २-४-७

7. tataH shrutvaa = After hearing that; suutaH = the charioteer Sumantra; uvaacha = spoke; tam = to him; raajaa = king Dasaratha; ichchhati = wants to; drashhTum = see; tvaam = you; tvam = you; pramaaNam = decide (in your mind); atra = in this; gamanaaya = to go; vaa itaraaya = or otherwise.

Hearing those words, Sumantra said: "King Dasaratha wants to see you. Decide yourself in this matter whether to proceed to your father or otherwise".

Verse Locator

इति सूतवचः श्रुत्वा रामोऽथ त्वरयान्वितः ।

प्रययौ राजभवनं पुनर्द्रष्टुं नरेश्वरम् ॥ २-४-८

8. raamaH = Rama; shrutvaa = hearing; iti = thus; suutavachaH = the word of charioteer Sumantra; tvarayaa anvitaH = with swiftness; atha = thereafter; prayayau = went; raajabhavanam = to royal palace; drashhTum = to see; nareshvaram = Lord of people Dasaratha; punaH = again.

Rama, after hearing Sumantra's words, started immediately and went to the royal palace to see king Dasaratha, the Lord of people, again.

Verse Locator

तं श्रुत्वा समनुप्राप्तं रामं दशरथो नृपः ।
प्रवेशयामास गृहं विवक्षुः प्रियमुत्तमम् ॥ २-४-९

9. shrutvaa = hearing; tam = that; raamam = Rama; samanupraaptam = has arrived; dasaratha nR^ipaH = king Dasaratha; praveshayaamaasa = allowed him to enter; gR^iham = the house; vivakshuH = to tell; uttamam = excellent; priyam = affectionate (word).

Hearing Rama to have arrived, king Dasaratha allowed him to come into the house, to tell him an excellent and affectionate word.

Verse Locator

प्रविशन्नेप च श्रीमान् राघवो भवनं पितुः ।
ददर्श पितरं दूरात् प्रणिपत्य कृताञ्जलिः ॥ २-४-१०

10. shriimaan = the glorious; raaghavaH = Rama (lit. scion of Raghu); pravishanneva = soon after entering; pituH = father's; bhavanam = house; dadarsha = saw; pitaram = (his) father; duuraat = from a distance; praNipatya = (and) fell prostrate before him; kR^itaanJNjaliH = with joined palms.

The glorious Rama, soon after entering his father's house, saw his father from a distance and fell prostrate before him in an act of submission, with his palms joined together.

Verse Locator

प्रणमन्तं समुत्थाप्य तं परिष्वज्य भूमिपः ।
प्रदिश्य चास्मै रुचिरमासनं पुनरब्रवीत् ॥ २-४-११

11. bhuumipaH = king Dasaratha (lit. lord of earth); samutthaapya = lifted; tam = him; praNamantam = who was lying prostrate; parishhvajya = embraced; pradishya cha = and offered; ruchiram = (a) beautiful; aasanam = seat; asmai = to him; abraviit = (and) spoke; punaH = again.

Dasaratha lifted Rama up and took him into his embrace. Then, he offered a beautiful seat to Rama and spoke to him as follows:

Verse Locator

राम वृद्धोऽस्मि दीर्घायुर्भुक्ता भोगा मयेप्सिताः ।
अन्वद्भिः क्रतुश्तैस्तथेष्टं भूरिदक्षिणैः ॥ २-४-१२

12. raama = Oh Rama; diirghaayuH = (having) lived long; vR^iddhaH asmi = I have become aged; bhogaaH = luxuries; iipsitaH = desired; mayaa = by me; bhuktaaH = have been enjoyed; ishhTaM = holy ceremonies (have been performed); kratushataiH = (through) hundreds of sacrifices; annavadbhiH = (comprising) of food; bhuuridakshiNaiH = (and) of lots of fees (given away to priests performing the sacrifices).

"Oh Rama, I have now become aged after living for a long period. I enjoyed all the luxuries in life, as I desired. I propitiated Gods by performing hundreds of sacrifices, in which food and lots of fees were given away to the officiating priests. "

Verse Locator

जातमिष्टमपत्यं मे त्वमद्यानुपमं भुवि ।
दत्तमिष्टमधीतं च मया पुरुषसत्तम ॥ २-४-१३

13. purushhasattama = The best of men; Rama!; adya = now; tvam = you; jaatam = are born; me = to me; anupamam = as an incomparable; ishhTam = (and) beloved; apatyam = child; bhuvi = in the world; dattam = (donations) have been given; ishhTam = holy sacrifices (have been performed); adhiitam cha = and (Vedas and other holy scriptures have been) studied; mayaa = by me.

"O Rama, the best of men! You are now born to me as without an equal on earth and as my beloved child. I had given away lots of donations, I had performed holy rites and I have also studied Vedas and other Holy Scriptures during my life time."

Verse Locator

अनुभूतानि चेष्टानि मया वीर सुखान्यपि ।
देवर्षिपितृविप्राणामनृणोऽस्मि तथात्मनः ॥ २-४-१४

14. viira = Oh; gallant one!; sukhaanyapi = comforts also; anubhuutaam = have been enjoyed; mayaa = by me; ishhTaami = as desired by me; anR^iNaH asmi = (thus) I am without any debts; devarshhi pitR^i vipraaNaam = to celestials; sages; ancestors; brahmanas; tatha = and; aatmanaH = to myself.

"Oh gallant Rama! I also enjoyed all the comforts, as I desired. Thus I am relieved of all debts to the celestials (by performing holy sacrifices), to the sages (by studying Vedas etc.), to my ancestors (by begetting you), to the Brahmans (by giving away donations and food) and to myself (by enjoying all comforts as I desired)."

Verse Locator

न किञ्चिन्म कर्तव्यं तवान्यत्राभिषेचनात् ।
अतो युत्त्वामहं ब्रूयां तन्मे त्वं कर्तुमर्हसि ॥ २-४-१५

15. mama = to me; na kiJNchit = no other; kartavyam = duty; tava abhishhechanaat avyatra = other than anointing you for the crown; ataH = Hence; tvam = you; arhasi = are fit; kartum = to do; tat = that; me = to me; yat = what; aham = I; bruuyaam = tell; tvaam = you.

"I have no duty other than to anoint you for the crown. Hence, do what I tell you."

Verse Locator

अद्य प्रकृतयः सर्वास्त्वामिच्छन्ति नराधिपम् ।
अतस्त्वां युवराजानमभिषेक्ष्यामि पुत्रक ॥ २-४-१६

16. adya = Now; sarvaaH = all; prakR^itayaH = the people; ichchhanti = want; tvaam = you; naraadhipam = as king; putraka = oh; son!; ataH = hence; abhishhekshyaami = can install; tvaam = you; yuvarajaanam = as prince.

"Now all the people want you to be the king. Hence, I can install you as prince."

Verse Locator

अपि चाद्याशुभान् राम स्वप्ने पश्यामि दारुणान् ।
सनिर्घाता दिवोल्का च परतीह महास्वना ॥ २-४-१७

17. raama = Oh! Rama; api cha = and; adya = now; pashyaami = I am seeing; daaruNaan = fearful; ashubhaan = (and) inauspicious; svapne = dreams; iha = here; sanirghaataa = thunderous; ulkaa = comet; patati = is falling; mahaasvanaa = with great sound; divaa = during day time.

"Oh, Rama! It is not only the people's desire, but also these days I am getting fearful and inauspicious dreams. Here, thunderous comets are falling with great sound, during day time."

Verse Locator

अवष्टब्धं च मे राम नक्षत्रं दारुणैर्ग्रहैः ।
आवेदयन्ति दैवज्ञावः सूर्याङ्गारकराहुभिः ॥ २-४-१८

18. raama = oh! Rama; daivajnaaH = astrologers; aavedayanti = are informing (that); daaruNaiH = fearful; grahaiH = planets; suuryaaN^gaarakaraahubhiH = like sun; Mars and Rahu; avashhTabdham = are encroaching; me = my; nakshatram = natal star.

"Oh, Rama! Astrologers are informing me that fearful planets like Sun, Mars and Rahu are encroaching my birth star."

Verse Locator

प्रायेण हि निमित्तानामीदृशानां समुद्भवे ।
राजा हि मृत्युमाप्नोति घोरं वापदमृच्छति ॥ २-४-१९

19. iidR^ishaanaam = such; nimittaanaam = signs; samudbhave = whenever produced (then); raajaa = king; praayeNa hi = generally; aapnoti = will get; mR^ityum = death; vaa = or; R^ichchhati = will get; ghoram = fearful; aapadam = accident.

"Whenever such inauspicious signs are produced, the king generally will get either death or a fearful accident."

Verse Locator

तद्यावदेव मे चेतो न विमुञ्चति राघव ।
तावदेवाभिषिञ्चस्व चला हि प्राणिनां मतिः ॥ २-४-२०

20. raaghava = O Rama!; tat = that is why; yaavadeva = while; me = my; chetaH = mind; na vimuJNchati = does not leave (or change); taavadeva = before then; abhishhiJNchasva = get anointed to crown; chalaahi = Is it not unstable; matiH = the mind; praaniNaam = of human beings?

"Oh, Rama! Hence, before my mind gets changed, get you anointed to the crown. Are not the minds of men unstable?"

Verse Locator

अद्य चन्द्रोभ्युपगतः पुष्यात्पूर्वं पुनर्वसू ।
श्वः पुष्ययोगं नियतं वक्ष्यन्ते दैवचिन्तकाः ॥ २-४-२१

21. adya = today; chandraH = the moon; abhyupagataH = is getting; punarvasuu = the star of punarvasu; puurvam = earlier to; pushhyaat = the star of pushyami; daivachintakaaH = astrologers; vakshyante = inform that; svaH = tomorrow; pushhyayogam = when the moon joins pushyami star; niyatam = can be fixed (for coronation ceremony).

"Today, the moon is entering the constellation known as Punarvasu which comes before Pushyami star. The astrologers inform that the coronation ceremony can be fixed for tomorrow, when the moon joins Pushyami star."

Verse Locator

ततः पुष्येऽभिषिञ्चस्व मनस्त्वरयतीव माम् ।
श्वस्त्वाहमभिषेक्ष्यामि यौवराज्ये परंतप ॥ २-४-२२

22. tataH = hence; abhishhiJNchasva = get anointed for the crown; pushhye = on pushyami star; manaH = my mind; tvarayatiiva = is hastening; maam = me; paraMtapa = oh! Annihilator of enemies; aham = I; abhishhekshyaami = shall anoint; tvaa = you; yauva raajye = for princely kingdom; svaH = tomorrow.

"Hence, get anointed for the crown on the day of Pushyami star. My mind is urging me as it were to expedite things. O, annihilator of the enemies! I shall anoint you for the princely kingdom tomorrow."

Verse Locator

तस्मात्त्वयादप्रभृति निशेयं नियतात्मना ।
सह वध्वोपवस्तव्या दर्भप्रस्तरशायिना ॥ २-४-२३

23. tasmaat = That is why; niyataatmanaa = with self control; tvayaa = by you; vadhvaa saha = along with Seetha; the daughter in law; iyam = this; nishaa = night; upavastavyaa = can be fasted; adyaprabhR^iti = from now onwards; darbhaprastara shaayinaa = slept on a mat of Kusha grass.

"That is why, with self control, you along with your wife should observe fast for this night from now onwards, and sleep on a couch made of Kusha grass."

Verse Locator

सुहृदश्चाप्रमत्तास्त्वां रक्षन्त्वद्य समन्ततः ।
भवन्ति बहुविघ्नानि कार्याण्येवंविधानि हि ॥ २-४-२४

24. evam vidhaani = such type of; kaaryaaNi = functions; bhavanti hi = are having; bahu vighnaani = many obstacles; adya = today; suhR^idashcha = your friends also; rakshantu = let guard; tvaam = you; apramathaaH = vigilantly; samantataH = from all directions.

"Generally, there are many obstacles for such type of functions. Hence, your friends should guard you vigilantly from all directions."

Verse Locator

विप्रोषितश्च भरतो यावदेव पुरादितः ।
तावदेवाभिषेकस्ते प्राप्तकालो मतो मम ॥ २-४-२५

25. taavadeva = within such time; te = your; abhishhekaH = coronation ceremony; praaptakaalaH = should occur; yaavadeva = before which time; bharataH = Bharata; viproshhitaH = is distant from ; itaH = this; puraat = city; mataH mama = this is my opinion.

"It is my opinion that your coronation function should occur, while Bharata is away from the city."

Verse Locator

कामं खलु सतां वृत्ते भ्राता ते भरतः स्थितः ।
ज्येष्ठनुवर्ती धर्मात्मा सानुक्रोशो जितेन्द्रियः ॥ २-४-२६

26. te = your; bhraataa = brother; bharataH = Bharata; jyeshhThaanuvartii = goes according to the eldest; dharmaatmaa = (being a) righteous man; saanukroshaH = compassionate person; jitendriyaH = one who controlled senses; sthitaH = stays; kaamam = verily; sataaM vR^ithe = in the path of good people.

"Bharata, your brother, goes according to his eldest brother. He is righteous, compassionate and has the senses under control. He verily follows the path of good people."

Verse Locator

किन्तु चित्तं मनुष्याणामनित्यमिति मे मतिः ।

सतां च धर्मनित्यानां कृतशोभि च राघव ॥ २-४-२७

27. raaghava = Oh! Rama; me = my; matiH = opinion (is that); chittam = mind; manushhyaanaam = of men; anityam iti = is inconstant; kintu = but; dharmanityaanaam = the ever righteous; sataam cha = endowed with goodness; kR^ita shobhi = may act unexpectedly on impulse.

"Oh, Rama! It is my opinion that minds of men are inconstant. But the ever righteous, endowed with goodness, sometimes may act unexpectedly on impulse."

Verse Locator

इत्युक्तः सोऽभ्यनुज्ञातः श्वोभाविन्यभिषेचने ।

व्रजेति रामः पितरमभिवाद्याभ्ययाद्गृहम् ॥ २-४-२८

28. iti = thus; uktaH = told; abhishhechane = about the coronation ceremony; bhaavini = to happen; svaH = tomorrow; abhyaanujNaataH = and having been permitted; vraja iti = to go; saH = that; raamaH = Rama; abhivaadya = offered salutations; pitaram = to father; abhyayaat = went; gR^iham = to house.

Dasaratha, after telling in this way about the ensuing coronation ceremony scheduled for the next day, permitted Rama to depart. Rama offered his salutations to his father and went to his house.

Verse Locator

प्रविश्य चात्मनो वेश्म राजोद्धिष्टेऽभिषेचने ।

तत्क्षणेन च निर्गम्य मातुर्न्तःपुरं ययौ ॥ २-४-२९

29. uddishhTe = After having been decided; abhishhechane = about coronation ceremony; raajNa = by the king Dasaratha; pravishya = (Rama) entered; aatmanaH = his; veshma = house; tatksaH = and immediately; nirgamy = started (and); yayau = went; maatuH antaH puram = (his) mother's queenly palace.

After hearing the decision of Dasaratha regarding coronation ceremony, Rama entered his house and by starting immediately, went to his mother's queenly house.

Verse Locator

तत्र तां प्रवणामेव मातरं क्षौमवासिनीम् ।

वाग्यतां देवतागारे ददर्शयाचर्तीं श्रियम् ॥ २-४-३०

30. tatra = there; devataagaare = in the worshipping place; dadarshaa = saw; taam = that; maataram = mother; pravaNaameva = who is in meditation; kshaumavaasinii = who is wearing silk clothes; vaagyataam = in a silent way; ayaachatiim = who is praying; shriyam = goddess Lakshmi.

There, in the queen's worshipping place, Rama saw Kausalya silently in meditation, wearing silk clothes and praying to goddess Lakshmi.

Verse Locator

प्रागेव चागता तत्र सुमित्रा लक्ष्मण स्तदा ।

सीता चानायिता श्रुत्वा प्रियं रामाभिषेचनम् ॥ २-४-३१

31. shrutvaa = hearing; priyam = the good news; raamaabhishhechanam = of Rama's coronation ceremony; sumitraa = Sumitra; lakshmanaH = (and) Lakshmana; aagathaa = came; praageva = even before; siitaa cha = Seetha also; aanaayita = was brought.

Hearing the good news of the coronation ceremony of Rama, Sumitra and Lakshmana came there even before Seetha was brought.

Verse Locator

तस्मिन् काले हि कौसल्या तस्थावामीलितेक्षणा ।
सुमित्रयान्वास्यमाना सीतया लक्ष्मणेन च ॥ २-४-३२

32. tasmin kaale = at that time; kausalya = Kausalya; tasthau = was having; amiilitekshaNa = closed eyes; anvaasyamaanaa = being attended closely ; sumitrayaa = by Sumitra; siitayaa = by Seetha; lakshmaNena cha = and by Lakshmana.

At that time, Kausalya closed her eyes and was in meditation. Along with her, Sumitra, Lakshmana and Seetha were sitting nearby.

Verse Locator

श्रुत्वा पुष्येण पुत्रस्य यौवराज्याभिषेचनम् ।
प्राणायामेन पुरुषं ध्यायमाना जनार्दनम् ॥ २-४-३३

33. shrutvaa = Hearing; yauvaraajyaabhishhechanam = anointment ceremony for the princely kingdom; putrasya = of (her) son; pushhyeNa = on the day of pushyami star; praaNaayaamena = with controlled breath; dhyaayamaana = was meditating; purushham = lord; janaardanam = Vishnu.

Hearing that her son will be anointed for the princely kingdom on the day of Pushyami star, Kausalya with controlled breath, was meditating on lord Vishnu.

Verse Locator

तथा सनियमामेव सोऽभिगम्याभिवाद्य च ।
उवाच वचनं रामो हर्ष्यस्तामिदं तदा ॥ २-४-३४

34. saH = that; raamaH = Rama; abhigamya = approached; tathaa = such; saniyamaameva = pious observing mother; abhivaadyacha = and offered salutation; tadaa = then; uvaacha = spoke; idam = these; vachanam = words; taam harshhayan = making her delighted.

Rama approached his mother, even while she was engaged in pious observance, offered salutation and spoke the following words making her delighted.

Verse Locator

अम्ब पित्रा नियुक्तोऽस्मि प्रजापालनकर्मणि ।
भविता श्वोऽभिषेको मे यथा मि शासनं पितुः ॥ २-४-३५

35. amba = oh! Mother!; niyuktaH asmi = I am appointed; pitra = by father; prajaapaalana karmaNi = for the act of ruling the people; yathaa = as per; saasanam = order; me pituH = of my father; bhavitaa = there will be; me = my; abhishekaH = anointment ceremony; swaH = tomorrow.

"Oh, mother! My father ordered that I should rule the people. As per his orders, there will be anointing ceremony to me tomorrow."

Verse Locator

सीतया प्युपवस्तव्या रजनीयं मया सह ।
एवमृत्विगुणाध्यायैस्सह मामुक्तवान् पिता ॥ २-४-३६

36. siitayaapi = by Seetha too; mayaa saha = along with me; iyam = this; rajanii = night; upavastavyaa = can be observed fast; pitaa = father; R^itvigupaadhyaayaiH saha = together with preceptors and teachers; uktavaan = spoke; evam = this; maam = to me.

"Seetha too, along with me should observe fast this whole night. The father together with preceptors and teachers said this to me."

Verse Locator

यानि यान्यत्र योग्यानि श्वो भाविन्यभिषेचने ।
तानि मे मङ्गळान्यद्य वैदेह्याश्चैव कारय ॥ २-४-३७

37. yaani yaani = whatever; maN^gaLaani = auspicious rites; yogaani = suitable; abhishhechane = in anointment ceremony; bhaavini = to occur; svaH = tomorrow; taanikaaraya = get those things done; me = to me; vaidehyaaH chaiva = and to Seetha; adya = today.

"Have all the auspicious rites that are required for the ensuing tomorrow's anointment ceremony, performed to me and to Seetha today."

Verse Locator

एतच्छ्रुत्वा तु कौसल्या चिरकालाभिकाङ्क्षितम् ।
हर्षाष्पकलं वाक्यमिदं राम मभाषत ॥ २-४-३८

38. shrutvaa = Hearing; etat = this news of anointment ceremony; chirakaalaabhikaan^kshitam = which was being desired for a long time; kausalyaa tu = Kausalya; abhaashhata = spoke; raamam = to Rama; idam = these; kalam = sweet sounding; vaakyam = words; harshhabaashhpa = with tears of joy.

Hearing the news of anointment ceremony, which was being desired by her for a long time, Kausalya spoke to Rama the following sweet words with tears of joy in her eyes.

Verse Locator

वत्स राम चिरं जीव हतास्ते परिपन्थिनः ।
ज्ञातीन्मे त्वं श्रियायुक्तः सुमित्रायाश्च नन्दय ॥ २-४-३९

39. vatsa = oh; child!; raama = Rama; jiiva = live; chiraM = long; te = your; paripanthinaH = enemies; hataaH = are destroyed; tvam = you; shriyaa = by your glory; nandaya = make happy; jjNaatiin = cousins; me = of mine; sumitraayaaH cha = and of Sumitra.

"Oh, child Rama! You live a long life! Let your enemies be destroyed! Let the cousins of mine and of Sumitra be made happy by your glory."

Verse Locator

कल्याणे बत नक्षत्रे मयि जातोऽसि पुत्रक ।
येन त्वया दशरथो गुणैराराधितः पिता ॥ २-४-४०

40. putraka = o; little son! bata = how much joy! jaataH asi = you were born; mayi = in me; kalyaaNe nakshatre = on a day of an auspicious star; yena = by which; pitaa = father; dasarathaH = Dasaratha; aaraadhitaH = was made delightful; tvayaa = by your; guNaiH = virtues.

"O, my little son! You were born to me on a day of an auspicious star. That is why, your father king Dasaratha was propitiated by your virtues."

Verse Locator

अमोघं बत मे क्षान्तं पुरुषे पुष्करेक्षणे ।

येयमिक्ष्वाकुराज्यश्रीः पुत्र त्वां संश्रयिष्यति ॥ २-४-४१

41. putra = O; son!; me = my; kshaantam = austerity with endurance; pushhkarekshaNe = to lotus eyed; purushhe = lord Vishnu; amogham = has not gone waste; bata = how much joy! yaa = which; iyam = this one; ikshvaaku raajyashriH = the glorious kingdom of Ikshvaku dynasty; saMshrayishhyati = is seeking refuge; tvaam = in you.

"O, son! My worship to the lotus eyed Lord Vishnu with endurance has become fruitful. Hence, this glorious kingdom of Ikshvaku dynasty is going to embrace you."

Verse Locator

इत्येवमुक्तो मात्रेदं रामो भ्रातरमब्रवीत् ।

प्राञ्जलिं प्रह्वमासीनमभिवीक्ष्य स्मयन्निव ॥ २-४-४२

42. raamaH = Rama; uktaH = who was spoken to; ityevam = thus; maatraa = by mother; abhiviikshya = saw; bhraataram = brother Lakshmana; aasiinam = siitting; prahvam = humbly; praaJNjalim = with folded palms; abraviit = spoke; smayanniva = smilingly; idam = these words.

Rama, after hearing the words spoken by his mother, saw his brother Lakshmana who was sitting humbly nearby with joined palms and spoke to him smilingly as follows:

Verse Locator

लक्ष्मणेमां माया सार्धं प्रशाधि त्वं वसुन्धराम् ।

द्वितीयं मेऽन्तरात्मानं त्वामियं श्रीरुपस्थिता ॥ २-४-४३

43. lakshmaNa = O; Lakshmana! tvam = you; prashaadhi = rule; imaam = this; vasundharaam = earth; mayaa saardham = together with me; iyam = this; shriiH = glorious kingdom; upasthitaa = reached; tvaam = you; me = my; dvitiiyam = second; antaraatmaanam = conscience.

"O, Lakshmana! You rule this earth together with me. This glorious kingdom has reached you, who are my second conscience."

Verse Locator

सौमित्रे भुङ्क्ष्व भोगां स्त्वमिष्टान् राज्यफलानि च ।

जीवितं च हि राज्यं च त्वदर्थमभिकामये ॥ २-४-४४

44. saumitre = O; Laksmana! tvam = you; bhuN^kshva = enjoy; bhogaan = the benefits; raajyaphalaanicha = and fruits of kingdom; ishhTaan = as desired; abhikaamaye hi = I desire; jiivitaM cha = life; raajyaM cha = and kingdom; tvadartham = for you only.

"O, Lakshmana! You enjoy the benefits as desired by you and the fruits of kingdom. I desire to live and even to rule the kingdom but for you."

Verse Locator

इत्युक्त्वा लक्ष्मणं रामो मातरावभिवाद्य च ।

अभ्यनुज्ञाप्य सीतां च जगाम स्वं निवेशम् ॥ २-४-४५

45. raamaH = Rama; uktvaa = spoke; iti = thus; lakshmaNam = to Lakshmana; abhivaadya cha = offered salutations; maatarau = to both the mothers; abhyanujJNaapya siitaam cha = got Seetha to obtain permission and; jagaama = went; svam nivesanam = to his house.

Rama, after speaking thus to Lakshmana, offered salutations to both the mothers, got Seetha to obtain permission from them and went to his house along with Seetha.

॥ इत्यार्षे श्रीमद् रामायणे आदिकाव्ये अयोध्य कान्दे चतुर्थः सर्गः ॥

Thus completes 4th Chapter of Ayodhya Kanda of the glorious Ramayana of Valmiki, the work of a sage and the oldest epic.

Book II : Ayodhya Kanda - Book Of Ayodhya

Chapter[Sarga] 5 Verses converted to UTF-8, Nov 09

Introduction

On the wish of King Dasaratha, Vasishta goes to Rama's palace and asks him to perform fast that night along with Seetha. Vasishta returns to Dasaratha's palace and informs him about this. On the way to the king's palace Vasishta observes the festive atmosphere in Ayodhya anticipating Rama's coronation the next day.

Verse Locator

सन्दिश्य रामं नृपतिः श्वोभाविन्यभिषेचने ।
पुरोहितं समाहूय वसिष्ठमिदमब्रवीत् ॥ २-५-१

1. sandishya = after sending; raamam = Rama; nR^ipatiH = king Dasaratha; samaahuuya = called for; purohitam = the family priest; vasishhTham = Vasishta; abraviit = (and) spoke; idam = these words; bhaavini = about the ensuing; abhishhechane = anointment; svaH = tomorrow

After Rama left, king Dasaratha called for his family priest Vasishta and spoke to him as follows about the ensuing anointment ceremony of the next day.

Verse Locator

गच्छोपवासं काकुत्थसं कारयाद्य तपोधन ।
श्रीयशोराज्यलाभाय वध्वा सह यतव्रतम् ॥ २-५-२

2. tapodhana = O; great sage Vasishta! gachchha = go; yatavratam kaakutthsam = to the avowed Rama; vadhvaa saha = who is with daughter in law Seetha; adya = today; kaaraya = to make them perform; upavaasam = fasting; sriiyashoraajya laabhaaya = for obtaining prosperity; glory and sovereignty.

"O, great sage Vasishta! Please go to the avowed Rama and Seetha today to make them perform fasting for obtaining prosperity, glory and sovereignty."

Verse Locator

तथेति च स राजानमुक्त्वा वेदविदां वरः ।
स्वयं वसिष्ठो भगवान् ययौ रामनिवेशनम् ॥ २-५-३
उपवासयितुं रामं मन्त्रवन्मन्त्रकोविदः ।
ब्राह्मं रथवरं युक्तमास्थाय सुदृधव्रतः ॥ २-५-४

3; 4. saH = that; vasishhThaH = Vasishta; vedavidaam varaH = who is the best of knowers of Veda; mantrakovidaH = who is expert in mantras; sudR^idhavrataH = who is firm in austerities; bhagavaan = who is divine; uktvaa = spoke; raajaanam = to king Dasaratha; tathaa iti = "Let that be it."; svayam = personally; yayau = went; raamaniveshanam = to Rama's house; aasthaaya = alighting; rathavaram = the best chariot; uktam = which was ready; braahmam = which was well suited for Brahman; upavaasayitum = to get the fasting performed; raamam = by Rama; mantravat = a knower of mantras.

Vasista, who is the best of knowers of Veda, who is expert in mantras, who is firm in austerities and who is divine, said to Dasaratha : "I agree to it" and personally went to Rama's house on a chariot which was ready and quite suitable for a Brahman; so as to advise Rama to undertake a fast (with mantras) performed by Rama, a knower of mantras.

Verse Locator

स रामभवनं प्रप्य पाण्डुराभ्रघनप्रभम् ।
तिस्रः कक्ष्या र्थेनैव विवेश मुनिसत्तमः ॥ २-५-५

5. saH = That; munisattamaH = best of the sages; praapya = got; raama bhavanam = to Rama's house; paaNDuraabhraghanaprabham = which was radiant like a dense white cloud; vivesha = entered; tisraH = the three; kakshyaaH = gateways; rathaanaiva = by chariot itself.

That great sage reached Rama's house, which was radiant like a dense white cloud and entered the three gateways of the house by the chariot itself.

Verse Locator

तमागतमृषिं रामस्त्वरन्निव ससंभ्रमः ।
मानयिष्यन् स मानार्हं निश्चक्राम निवेशनात् ॥ २-५-६

6. maanayishhyan = to respect; manaarham = the honourable; R^ishhim = sage; aagatam = who arrived; saH = that; raamaH = Rama; nishchakraama = started; niveshanaat = out of the house; tvaranniva = quickly; sasaMbhramaH = and hurriedly.

To respect the honorable sage, who arrived, Rama came quickly and hurriedly out of the house.

Verse Locator

अभ्येत्य त्वरमाणश्च रथाभ्याशं मनीषिणः ।
ततोऽवतारयामास परिगृह्य रथात्स्वयम् ॥ २-५-७

7. tvaramaaNaH = quickly; abhyetya = got; rathaabhyaasham = nearer to chariot; maniishhiNaH = of the intelligent Vasishta; svayam parigR^ihya = and by personally holding his hand; avataarayaamaasa = helped him to alight; tataH rathaat = from that chariot.

Rama quickly got nearer to Vasishta's chariot and personally helped him to alight from the chariot.

Verse Locator

सचैनं प्रश्रितं दृष्ट्वा सं भाष्याभिप्रसाद्य च ।
प्रियार्हं हर्षयन् राममित्युवाच पुरोहितः ॥ २-५-८

8. saH = that; purohitaH cha = family priest also; dR^ishhTvaa = seeing; enam = this; priyaarham = lovable; prashritaM = and humble; ramaM = Rama; uvaacha = spoke; iti = this; abhiprasaadya cha = bringing cheerfulness; harshayan = and happiness to him; sambhaashya = by uttering (the following) words

That family priest Vasishta seeing that lovable and humble Rama, spoke the following words, bringing cheerfulness and happiness to him:

Verse Locator

प्रसन्नस्ते पिता राम यौवराज्यमवाप्स्यसि ।

उपवासं भवानद्य करोतु सह सीतया ॥ २-५-९

9. raama = O; Rama! pitaa = your father; prasannaH = is delighted; te = in your matter; avaapsyasi = you will be getting; yauvaraajyam = princely kingdom; bhavaan = you; saha siita = along with Seetha; upavaasaM karothu = do fasting; adya = today.

"O, Rama! Your father is delighted with you. You will be getting the princely kingdom. Hence, you and Seetha perform fasting today."

Verse Locator

प्रातस्त्वामभिषेक्ता हि यौवराज्ये नराधिपः ।

पिता दशरथः प्रीत्या ययातिं नहुषो यथा ॥ २-५-१०

10. pitaa = your father; naraadhipaH = lord of people (king) ; dasharathaH = Dasaratha; abhishhektaa hi = is anointing; tvaam = you; priityaa = affectionately; yauvaraajye = for the princely kingdom; praataH = tomorrow at dawn; yayaatiM yathaa = as to yayati; nahushhaH = the king Nahusha.

"Your father; King Dasaratha is anointing you affectionately for the princely kingdom tomorrow at dawn; even as king Nahusha has done to Yayati".

Verse Locator

इत्युक्त्वा स तदा राम मुपवासं यतव्रतम् ।

मन्त्रवत् कारयामास वैदेह्या सहितं मुनिः ॥ २-५-११

11. saH = that; muniH = sage Vasishtha; iti = thus; uktvaa = spoke; tadaa = then; mantravat = with mantras; kaarayaamaasa = made; yatavratam = the avowed; raamam = Rama; vaidehyaa sahitam = together with Seetha; upavaasam = to fast.

Vasistha thus spoke to Rama and enjoined him to undertake a vow of fasting together with Seetha, in the accompaniment of mantras.

Verse Locator

ततो यथावद्रामेण स राज्ञो गुरुरर्चितः ।

अभ्यनुज्ञाप्य काकुत्थसं ययौ रामनिवेशनात् ॥ २-५-१२

12. tataH = thereafter; raajJNnaH = Royal; guruH = priest; saH = that Vasista; architaH = being worshipped; yathaavat = suitably; raameNa = by Rama; abhyannjJNaapya = took permission; kaakutthsam = from Rama; yayau = and went; raamaniveshanaat = from Rama's house.

Thereafter, Rama worshipped the royal priest Vasistha suitably. Vasistha then got Rama's permission and left his house.

Verse Locator

सुहृद्भिस्तत्र रामोऽपि सहासीनः प्रियंवदैः ।

सभाजितो विवेशाथ ताननुज्ञाप्य सर्वशः ॥ २-५-१३

13. raamo api = Rama also; aasiinaH = sat; tatra = there; saha priyaMvadaiH = by affectionately talkingwith; suhR^idbhiH = friends; atha = then; sabhaajitaH = being congratulated; taan = by them; sarvashaH = in all ways; vivesha = entered(his palace); anujJNaapya = after making them to permit.

Rama spent some time by delightedly talking with friends and having been congratulated by them in various ways went into his palace after taking leave of them.

Verse Locator

हृष्टनारीनरयुतं रामवेश्म तदा बबौ ।
यथा मत्तद्विजगणं प्रपुल्लनलिनं सरः ॥ २-५-१४

14. tadaa = then; raamaveshma = Rama's house; babhau = was shining; hR^ishhTanaariinarayutam = with delighted men and women; sarah yathaa = as lake; mattadvijagaNam = with intoxicated group of birds; prapullanalinam = and with opened lotuses.

Then, Rama's house was shining, as brilliantly with delighted men and women, as a lake filled with opened lotuses and visited by innumerable happy birds.

Verse Locator

स राजभवनप्रख्यात्तस्माद्रामनिवेशनात् ।
निर्गत्य ददृशे मार्गं वसिष्ठो जनसंवृतम् ॥ २-५-१५

15. saH = that; vasishhTaH = Vasistha; nirgatya = leaving; raamaniveshanaat = Rama's house; raajabhavana prakhyaat = equal to royal palace; dadR^ishe = saw; maargam = the way; janasaMvR^itam = filled with people.

Vasishta, leaving Rama's house, which seemed like the royal palace, saw the way filled with people.

Verse Locator

बृन्दबृन्दैरयोध्यायां राजमार्गाः समन्ततः ।
बभूवुरभिसंबाधाः कुतूहलजनैर्वृताः ॥ २-५-१६

16. samantataH = in the entire; raajamaargaaH = royal roads; ayodhyaayaam = in Ayodhya; bR^indabR^indaiH = groups and groups of ; kutuuhala janaiH = delighted people; vritaaH = gathered around; abhisambaadhaaH babhuuvuH = and made the roads congested.

All the royal highways in the city of Ayodhya were filled with groups and groups of delighted people and became congested.

Verse Locator

जनबृन्दोर्मिसंघर्षहर्षस्वनवतस्तदा ।
बभूव राजमार्गस्य सागरस्येव निस्वनः ॥ २-५-१७

17. tadaa = then; raajamaargasya = in the king's road; janabR^indormi saMgharshha harshha svanavataH = the sound created by the commotion of the people with their rejoicing; combined with their moving in waves ; babhuuva nisvanaH = was resounding; saagarasyeva = like an ocean.

Then, on the royal road, the resonance created by the rush of the people, moving hither and thither like waves, combined with their rejoicing, resounded like the roar of an ocean.

Verse Locator

सिक्तसंमृष्टरथ्या हि तदहर्वनमालिनी ।
आसीदयोध्या नगरी समुच्छ्रितगृहध्वजा ॥ २-५-१८

18. tadahaH = On that day; ayodhyaH nagarii = the city of Ayodhya; aasiit = became; sikta samR^ishhTa rathyaa hi = one with the roads cleaned and sprinkled with water; vanamaalini = with rows of trees; samuchchrita gR^ihadhvajaa = (and) one that has houses hoisted with flags.

On that day, in the city of Ayodhya, all the roads were cleaned and sprinkled with water. There were rows of trees on both sides of the roads and flags hoisted on houses.

Verse Locator

तदा ह्ययोध्यानिलयः सस्त्रीबालाबलो जनः ।
रामाभिषेकमाकाञ्क्षन्नाकाण्डदुदयं रवेः ॥ २-५-१९

19. tadaa = then; janaH = the people; ayodhyaH nilayaH = residing in Ayodhya; sa strii baala abalaH = including women; children and the old aged; aakaaNkshat = were longing; udayam raveH = for sun rise; aakaaNkshan = wishing; raamaabhishhekam = for anointment ceremony of Rama.

Then, the people of Ayodhya including children, women and the old-aged were waiting for sunrise, wishing the anointment ceremony of Rama to happen.

Verse Locator

प्रजालङ्कारभूतं च जनस्यानन्दवर्धनम् ।
उत्सुकोऽभूज्जनो द्रष्टुं तमयोध्यामहोत्सवम् ॥ २-५-२०

20. janaH = people; abhuut = are; utsukaH = enthusiastic; drashhTum = to see; tam = that; ayodhyaH mahotsavam = Ayodhya's great function; prajaalaN^kaarabhuutam = which was decorative to the community; aanandavardhanam = and which would bring forward increased joy.

In Ayodhya, people were enthusiastic to see the great public function, which was decorative to the community and which would bring forward an increased joy.

Verse Locator

एवं तं जनसंबाधं राजमार्गं पुरोहितः ।
व्यूहन्निव जनौघं तं शनैराजकुलं ययौ ॥ २-५-२१

21. purohitaH = The family priest Vasista; evam = thus; tam raajamaargam = (seeing) that king's way; janasaMbaadham = being overcrowded with people; yayau = got to; raajakulam = the royal palace; shanaiH = slowly; vyuuhanniva = as if separating; tam janaugham = that crowd.

Vasishta, thus seeing the king's way being overcrowded with people, reached the royal palace slowly by forcing a passage through that crowd.

Verse Locator

सिताभ्रशिखरप्रख्यं प्रासादमधिरुह्य सः ।
समीयाय नरेन्द्रेण शक्रेणैव बृहस्पतिः ॥ २-५-२२

22. saH = He; adhiruhya = ascended; praasaadam = the royal palace; sitaabhra shikhara prakhyam = which resembled the top of a mountain enclosed by white cloud; samiiyaaya = met; narendreNa = king Dasaratha; shakreNeva bR^ihaspatiH = like bhR^ihaspati meeting Devendra.

He walked up the royal palace, which was akin to the top of a mountain enclosed by a white cloud and met king Dasaratha in the manner Brihaspati met Devendra.

Verse Locator

तमागतमभिप्रेक्ष्य हित्वा राजासनं नृपः ।

पप्रच्छ स च तस्मै तत्कृतमित्यभ्यवेदयत् ॥ २-५-२३

23. nR^ipaH = king Dasaratha; abhiprekshya = seeing; tam = him; aagatam = who came; hitvaa = left; raajaasanam = the throne; paprachchha = and asked; saH cha = he (Vasistha) also; abhyavedayat = informed; tasmai = to him (to Dasaratha); iti = that; tat = it; kR^itam = was done.

Seeing Vasistha had returned, King Dasaratha alighted from his throne and asked him with regard to his mission. Vasistha informed him that it was accomplished.

Verse Locator

तेन चैव तदा तुल्यं सहासीनाः सभासदः ।

आसनेभ्यः समुत्तस्थुः पूजयन्तः पुरोहितम् ॥ २-५-२४

24. tadaa = then; sabhaasadaH = members of assembly; saha aasiinaaH = who were sitting along with (Dasaratha); samuttasthuH = raised; aasanebhyaH = from seats; puujayantaH = by respecting; purohitam = the family priest (Vasistha); tena tulyameva = as king Dasaratha did.

The members of assembly who were sitting along with the king till then, raised in obeisance to Vasistha from their seats, following the example of the king.

Verse Locator

गुरुणा त्वभ्यनुज्ञातो मनिजौघं विसृज्य तम् ।

विवेशान्तःपुरं राजा सिंहो गिरिगुहामिव ॥ २-५-२५

25. raajaa = King Dasaratha; abhyanujjNyaataH = after being permitted by; guruNaa = the priest Vasistha; visR^ijya = left; tam = that; manujaugham = assembly of men; vivesha = and entered; antaH puram = the palace; giriguhaamiva = as into a mountain cave; siMhaH = a lion.

King Dasaratha, after obtaining permission from Vasistha, left that assembly of men and entered his palace as a lion enters a mountain cave.

Verse Locator

तमग्र्यवेष्रमदाजनाकुलं ।

महेन्द्रवेश्मप्रतिमं निवेशनम् ।

विदीपयंश्चारु विवेश पार्थिवः ।

शशीव तारागणसंकुलं नभः ॥ २-५-२६

26. paarthivaH = King Dasaratha; vivesha = entered; tam niveshanam = that palace; agravesha pramadaa janaakulam = filled with women in top dress and form; mahendra vesma pratimam = like the house of Devendra; vidiipayan = causing it to shine; shashiiva = as the moon; chaaru nabhaH = to beautiful sky; taaraagaNa saMkulam = filled with groups of stars.

That palace with women in top dress and form was like the palace of Devendra. By the entering of King Dasaratha, the palace became more radiant, just as the moon radiates a beautiful sky with its stars.

॥ इत्यार्षे श्रीमद्रामायने आदिकाव्ये अयोध्यकान्दे पञ्चम सर्गः ॥

Thus completes 5th Chapter of Ayodhya Kanda of the glorious Ramayana of Valmiki, the work of a sage and the oldest epic.

Book II : Ayodhya Kanda - Book Of Ayodhya

Chapter[Sarga] 6 Verses converted to UTF-8, Nov 09

Introduction

In this chapter Valmiki narrates various rituals undertaken by Rama the crown prince, along with his wife Seetha, on the eve of his anointment ceremony. The festivities in Ayodhya, the happiness of the people with King Dasaratha's decision to anoint Rama are also described here. Also, people from different directions arrive in Ayodhya to be there on the grand occasion.

Verse Locator

गते पुरोहिते रामः स्नातो नियतमानसः ।

सह पत्न्या विशालाक्ष्या नारायणमुपागमत् ॥ २-६-१

1. purohite = (After) the family priest; gate = left; raamaH = Rama; snaataH = took bath; upaagamat = (and) meditated; naaraayaNam = on Narayana; niyatamaanasaH = with undistracted mind; saha = along with; vishaalaakshyaa = the wide eyed; patnyaa = wife (Seetha).

After Vasistha left, Rama took bath and meditated on Lord Narayana with undistracted mind along with his wide-eyed wife, Seetha.

Verse Locator

प्रगृह्य शिरसा पात्रं हविषो विधिवत्तदा ।

महते दैवतायज्यं जुहाव ज्वलितानले ॥ २-६-२

2. tadaa = then; pragR^ihya = taking; paatram = vessel; havisho = of clarified butter; sirasaa = on head; vidhivat = as per ordinance of the scriptures; juhova = (Rama) offered; mahate daivataaya = to the great lord Vishnu; aajyam = the clarified butter; jvalitaanale = (by dropping it) into blazing fire.

Taking the vessel with clarified butter on his head as per scriptures, he offered to Lord Vishnu the clarified butter, by dropping it into the blazing fire.

Verse Locator

शेषं च हविषस्तस्य प्राश्याशास्यात्मनः प्रियम् ।

ध्यायन्नारायणं देवं स्वास्तीर्णे कुशसंस्तरे ॥ २-६-३

वाग्यतः सह वैदेह्या भूत्वा नियतमानसः ।

श्रीमत्यायतने विष्णोः शिष्ये नरवरात्मजः ॥ २-६-४

3; 4. naravaraatmajaH = The prince Rama; aashaasya = desiring; aatmanaH = his own; priyam = good; praashya cha = ate; sesham = remainder; tasya havishaH = of that clarified butter; dhyaayan = meditating; devam = on Lord; naaraayaNam = Narayana; bhuutvaa = becoming; vaagyataH = one of restrained speech; niyatamaanasaH = with regulated mind; sishye = slept; vaidehyaa saH = along with Seetha; svaastiirNe = on properly laid; kusha saMstare = bed of Kusa grass; shriimati aayatane = in a splendid temple; vishhNoH = of Lord Vishnu.

Rama ate the remainder of clarified butter after finishing the sacrifice, which he performed for his own good, silently meditated on Lord Narayana with controlled mind and slept along with Seetha on a properly laid bed of Kusa grass in a splendid temple of Lord Vishnu. *

* The learned commentators point out that the deity referred to here is no other than Lord Ranganatha, who had been worshipped by a long line of rulers of Ayodhya as their chosen deity in a separate shrine built within the precincts of the royal palace. We are told at length in the Patala Khanda of Padma Purana how Rama so kindly handed over the image to Vibhishana; through whom it reached Srirangam (near Tiruchirapally) in South India; where it exists even to this day and is held in the highest reverence by the Vaishnavas and other devotees all over India.

Verse Locator

एकयामावशिष्टायां रात्र्यां प्रतिविबुध्य सः ।

अलङ्कारविधिं कृत्स्नं कारयामास वेश्मनः ॥ २-६-५

5. saH = He; prativibudhya = woke up; ekayaama avashishhTaayaam = with three hours of night yet remaining; kaarayaamaasa = (and) made done; kR^itsnam = entire; alankaaravidhim = required decoration; veshmanaH = of the house .

Rama woke up three hours before dawn and caused to complete the entire decoration of the house.

Verse Locator

तत्र शृण्वन् सुखा वाचः सूतमागधवन्दिनाम् ।

पूर्वा सन्ध्यामुपासीनो जजाप यतमानसः ॥ २-६-६

6. tatra = there; sR^iNvan = listening to; sukhaaH = gladdening; vaachaH = verses; suutamaagadha vandinaam = of professional reciters like Suta; Maagadha and Vandi; upaasiinaH = worshipping; puurvaam sandhyaam = the early sunrise(on Gayatri); jajaapa = meditated ; yata maanasaH = with undistracted mind.

Listening to the pleasing verses of professional reciters, he worshipped the early sunrise and meditated on Gayatri* with an undistracted mind.

* Gayatri is an ancient meter of twenty-four syllables as a triplet of eight syllables each (Rigveda iii-62-10: - tat savitur varenyam bhargo devasya dhimahi dhiyo yo nah prachodayat) addressed to Savitri or the Sun as generator. Gayatri personified is considered as the mother of the first three classes viz. priestly class, warrior - class and the trader-class in their capacity of twice born.

Verse Locator

तुष्टाव प्रणतश्चैव शिरसा मधुसूदनम् ।

विमलक्षौमसंवीतो वाचयामास च द्विजान् ॥ २-६-७

7. tushhTaava = (He) praised; madhusuudhanam = Lord Vishnu; praNataH = by bowing; shirasaa = the head; vimalakshouma samviitaH = by wearing pure silk clothes; vaachayaamaasa = got valedictory text recited by; dvijaan = Brahmans.

He praised Lord Vishnu by bowing his head before Him. By wearing pure silk clothes, he got valedictory text recited by Brahmans.

Verse Locator

तेषां पुण्याहघोषोऽथ गम्भीरमधुरस्तदा ।

अयोध्यां पूरयामास तूर्यघोषानुनादितः ॥ २-६-८

8. atha = thereafter; teshaam = their; gambhiira madhura = deep and sweet; puNyaaha ghoshhaH = valedictory sound; tuuryaghoshaanunaaditaH = united with sound of musical instruments; puurayaamaasa = filled; ayodhyaam = Ayodhya; tadaa = then.

Their deep and sweet chorus of the valedictory, united with the accompanying musical instruments, then filled the city of Ayodhya.

Verse Locator

कृतोपवासं तु तदा वैदेह्या सह राघवम् ।
अयोध्यानिलयः श्रुत्वा सर्वः प्रमुदितो जनः ॥ २-६-९

9. tadaa = then; sarvaH = all; ayodhyaanilayaH janaH = the people residing in Ayodhya; pramuditaH = were delighted; shrutvaa = after hearing about; kR^itopavaasam = the fast done by; raaghavam = Rama; vaidehyaa saha = along with Seetha.

All the people residing in Ayodhya were delighted when they heard that Rama and Seetha had observed fast for the ensuing anointment ceremony.

Verse Locator

ततः पौरजनः सर्वः श्रुत्वा रामाभिषेचनम् ।
प्रभातां रजनीं दृष्ट्वा चक्रे शोभयितुं पुरीम् ॥ २-६-१०

10. tataH = thereafter; sarvaH = all; paurajanaH = the citizens; chakre = made; shobhayitum = decoration; puriim = to the town; shrutvaa = after hearing; raama abhishhechanam = about anointment ceremony of Rama; dR^ishhTvaa = after seeing; rajaniim = the night; prabhaataam = becoming dawn.

All the citizens decorated the town for coronation function of Rama, soon before sunrise.

Verse Locator

सिताभ्रशिखराभेषु देवतायतनेषु च ।
इ॥ चतुष्पथेषु रथ्यासु चैत्येष्वटाल केषु च ॥ २-६-११
नानापण्यसमृद्धेषु वणिजामापणेषु च ।
कुटुम्बिनां समृद्धेषु श्रीमत्सु भवनेषु च ॥ २-६-१२
सभासु चैव सर्वासु वृक्षेष्वालक्षितेषु च ।
ध्वजाः समुच्छ्रिताश्चित्राः पताकाश्चाभवंस्तदा ॥ २-६-१३

11; 12; 13. dhvajaaH = banners and; chitraaH = colorful; pataakaaH cha = flags; samuchchhritaH = were hoisted; tadaa = then; devataayataneshhu = in temples; sitaabhra shikharaabheshhu = which looked shiningly like the lining of a cloud; chatushhpatheshhu = at road junctions; rathyaasu = in streets; chaityeshhu = on big trees situated in temple-compounds; aTTaalakeshhu cha = from watching towers in city gates; aapaNeshhu cha = on shops; vaNiJaam = of merchants; naanaapaNya samR^iddheshhu = with a lot of saleable goods; bhavaneshhu cha = on buldings of; samR^iddheshhu shriimatsu = very rich; kuTumbinaam = family-persons; sarvaasu = on all; sabhaasu = assembly halls; aalakshiteshu = on all-visible; vR^iksheshhu = trees.

Banners and colorful flags were hoisted on temples, which looked brilliantly like the silver lining of cloud, at road junctions, in streets, on big trees situated in temple compounds, from watching towers at city gates, on shops of wealthy merchants, on buildings of rich family persons, on all assembly halls and all visible trees.

Verse Locator

नटनर्तकसंघानां गायकानां च गायताम् ।

मनःकर्णसुखा वाचः शुश्रुवुश्च ततस्ततः ॥ २-६-१४

14. tatastataH = from there and there; vaachaH = voices; manaH karNasukhaaH = pleasing to the minds and ears; shushruvuH = were heard; naTa nartaka saMghaanaam = from groups of actors and dancers; gaayakaanaam cha = and of singers; gaayataam = singing.

From different sides, actors were showing their talents, dancers were performing dance. Singers were singing and sweet voices were heard, pleasing the minds and ears.

Verse Locator

रामाभिषेकयुक्ताश्च कथाश्चकुर्मिथो जनाः ।

रामाभिषेके संप्रप्ते चत्वरेषु गृहेषु च ॥ २-६-१५

15. raamaabhishheke = (with) Rama's anointment ceremony; sampraapte = approaching; janaaH = people; chakruH = made; mithaH = mutual; kathaaH = conversations; raamaabhishhekayuktaaH = about Rama's anointment ceremony; chatvareshhu = in road junctions; gR^iheshhu cha = and in houses.

With Rama's anointment ceremony approaching, people were engaged in mutual conversations in their houses and at road junctions, about the ceremony.

Verse Locator

बाला अपि क्रीडमाना गृ हद्वारेषु संघशः ।

रामाभिषवसंयुक्ताश्चकुरेवं मिथः कथाः ॥ २-६-१६

16. evam = thus; baalaaH api = even children; kreeDamaanaaH = playing; saMghashaH = in groups; gR^ihadvareshhu = before gateways of houses; chakruH = made; kathaaH = narrations; raamaabhishhava saMyuktaaH = concerning Rama's anointment ceremony; mithaH = mutually.

Even children playing together before gateways of houses were telling each other, narratives of Rama's anointment ceremony.

Verse Locator

कृतपुष्पोपहारश्च धूपगन्धाधिवासितः ।

राजमार्गः कृतः श्रीमान् पौरै रामाभिषेचने ॥ २-६-१७

17. pauraiH = citizens; kR^itaH = made; raajamaargaH = king's road; shriimaan = splendid; kR^ita pushhpopahaarashcha = by making a sprinkle of flowers; dhuupagandhaadhivaasitaH = and by making it good smelling from incense and perfumes; raamaabhishhechane = on the occasion of Rama's anointment ceremony.

The citizens made king's road splendid, by sprinkling flowers on it and by making it good smelling with burning of incense and perfumes, on the occasion of Rama's anointment ceremony.

Verse Locator

प्रकाशकरणार्थं च निशागमनशङ्कया ।

दीपवृक्षां स्तथाचक्रु रनुर्यसु सर्वशः ॥ २-६-१८

18. tathaa = and; anu = after (such decoration); nishaagamana shankayaa = on doubt of arrival of night; chakruH = (they) arranged; deepavR^ikshaan = lamps in the shape of trees; sarvaH rathyaasu = in all the streets; prakaashakaraNaartham = for the purpose of illumination.

On a doubt of approach of night on completion of the ceremony, they arranged lamps in the shape of trees to illuminate all the streets.

Verse Locator

अलङ्कारं पुरस्त्यवं कृत्वा तत्पुरवासिनः ।
आकाङ्क्षमाणा रामस्य यौवराज्याभिषेचनम् ॥ २-६-१९
समेत्य संघशः सर्वे चत्वरेषु सभासु च ।
कथयन्तो मिथस्तत्र प्रशशंसुर्जनाधिपम् ॥ २-६-२०

19; 20. sarve = all; tat puravaasinaH = the residents of that city; evam = thus; kR^itvaa = having made; alaN^kaaraM = decoration; purasya = of the city; aakaaN^kshamaaNaaH = desiring; raamasya = Rama's; yauvaraajyaabhishhechanam = anointment as prince; sanghashaH = gathered; sametya = together; chatvareshhu = in road junctions; sabhaasucha = and in assembly halls; mithaH = mutually; kathayantaH = talking about it; tatra = there; prashashamsuH = praised; janaadhipam = king Dasaratha.

All the citizens residing in Ayodhya, having thus decorated the city desiring Rama's coronation, gathered together in groups at road junctions and in assembly halls, mutually talking about this matter there and praising king Dasaratha.

Verse Locator

अहोओ महात्मा राजायमिक्ष्वाकुकुलनन्दनः ।
ज्ञात्वा यो वृद्ध मात्मानं रामं राज्येऽभिषेक्ष्यति ॥ २-६-२१

21. aho = O!; yaH = which king; jJNaatvaa = having known; aatmaanaam = himself; vR^iddham = as aged; abhishhekshyati = is going to anoint; raamam = Rama; raajye = for kingdom; ayam = (such) this; raajaa = king Dasaratha; ikshvaaku kulanandanaH = who delights Ikshvaaku dynasty; mahaatmaa = has a great mind.

"O! This king Dasaratha, who delights Ikshvaaku dynasty, having known himself that he became aged, is going to anoint Rama for the kingdom. What a great man he is!"

Verse Locator

सर्वेऽप्यनुगृहीताः स्म यन्नो रामो महीपतिः ।
चिराय भविता गोप्ता दृष्टलोकपरावरः ॥ २-६-२२

22. yat = because; raamaH = Rama; dR^ishhTa loka paraavaraH = has seen the totality of the world; mahiipatiH = he as king; bhavitaa = is going to become; goptaa = protector; naH = to us; chiraaya = for a long period; sarve api = all of us; anugR^ihiitaaH sma = have become gifted people.

"Rama; who has seen the totality of the world is going to become our protector for long. We have all been blessed by king Dasaratha."

Verse Locator

आनुद्धतमना विद्वान् धर्मात्मा भ्रातृवत्सलः ।
यथा च भ्रातृषु स्निग्धस्तथास्मास्वपि राघवः ॥ २-६-२३

23. raamaH = Rama; aanuddhata manaaH = who has no arrogance in his mind; vidvaan = learned man; dharmaatmaa = righteous man; bhraatR^ivatsalaH = who has love towards brothers; yathaa = so; snigdhaH = compassionate person; tathaa = as; asmaasvapi = also to us.

"Rama is modest, knowledgeable and righteous. He is as compassionate to us as to his brothers."

चिरं जीवतु धर्मात्मा राजा दशरथोऽनघः ।
यत्प्रसादेनाभिषिक्तं रामं द्रक्ष्यामहे वयम् ॥ २-६-२४

24. yatprasaadena = by whose blessing; drakshyaamahe = we are seeing; raamam = Rama; abhishhiktam = being anointed; dasharathaH raajaa = such king Dasaratha; dharmaatmaa = who is righteous; anaghaH = who is faultless; jeevatu = let him live; chiram = for long period.

"Let the faultless and righteous king Dasaratha live long! Due to his blessings, we are going to see Rama as being anointed for the kingdom."

Verse Locator

एवंविधं कथयतां पौराणां शुश्रुवुस्तदा ।
दिग्भ्योऽपि श्रुतवृत्तान्ताः प्राप्ताजानपदा नराः ॥ २-६-२५

25. jaanapadaaH = villagers; praaptaa = who came; digbhyaH api = from different directions also; shR^ita vR^ittaantaaH = after hearing the news; tadaa = then; shushruvuH = listened to; pauraaNaam = citizens; evam vidham = thus; kathayataam = narrating.

The villagers, who came from different directions after hearing the news of coronation ceremony of Rama, listened to the narration of the citizens of Ayodhya.

Verse Locator

ते तु दिग्भ्यः पुरीं प्राप्ता द्रष्टुं रामाभिषेचनम् ।
रामस्य पूरयामासुः पुरीं जानपदा जनाः ॥ २-६-२६

26. raamasya = Rama's; puriim = city of Ayodhya; puurayaamasuH = was filled with; te = those; janaaH = people; jaanapadaaH = residing in villages; praaptaaH = who came; digbhyaH = from various directions; puram = to the city; drashhTum = to see; raamaabhishhechanam = Rama's anointment ceremony.

The city of Ayodhya was filled with villagers who came from different directions to see the anointment ceremony of Rama.

Verse Locator

जनौघै स्तैर्विसर्पद्भिः शुश्रुवे तत्र निस्वनः ।
पर्वसूदीर्णवेगस्य सागरस्येव निस्वनः ॥ २-६-२७

27. nisvanaH = The noise; shushruve = was heard; taiH janaughaiH = by groups of those people; visarpadbhiH = while moving; tatra = there; nisvanaH iva = as the roaring ; udirNa vegasya saagarasya = of an impetuous ocean; parvasu = on full moon days.

The noise in the city was heard by the groups of those people, while moving here and there, as the roaring of an impetuous ocean on full moon days.

Verse Locator

ततस्तदिन्द्रक्षयसन्निभं पुरं ।
दिदृक्षुभिर्जानपदै रुपागतैः ।
समन्ततः सस्वनमाकुलं बभौ ।
समुद्रयादोभि रिवार्णवोदकम् ॥ २-६-२८

28. tat = that; puram = city of Ayodhya; indrakshaya sannibham = equal to the residence of Indra (Amaravati); tataH = then; aakulam = disturbed; sasvanam = with sound; samantataH = all over; jaanapadaiH = by villagers; upaagataiH = who came; didR^ikshubhiH = with desire to see; babhau = shone; aarNavodakam = like ocean water; samudrayaadbhiH = filled with sea-animals.

That city of Ayodhya equal to the residence of the celestial god Indra, disturbed with the sound being made all over by the villagers who came with the desire to see the ceremony, shone like a roaring ocean filled with sea animals.

॥ इत्यार्षे श्रीमद्रामायणे आदिकाव्ये अयोध्यकाण्डे षष्ठः सर्गः ॥

Thus completes 6th Chapter of Ayodhya Kanda of the glorious Ramayana of Valmiki, the work of a sage and the oldest epic.

Book II : Ayodhya Kanda - Book Of Ayodhya

Chapter[Sarga] 7 Verses converted to UTF-8, Nov 09

Introduction

Manthara feels very sad after hearing about anointment of Rama for the princely kingdom. She tells Kaikeyi about the coronation of Rama. Kaikeyi becomes delighted and gives Manthara one of her jewels.

Verse Locator

ज्ञातिदासी यतो जाता कैकेय्या तु सहोषिता ।
प्रासादं चन्द्रसङ्काशमारुरोह यदृच्छया ॥ २-७-१

1. GYaatidaasi = housemaid of relatives (Manthara); yataH jaataa = since her birth; ushhitaa = residing; kaikeyyaa saha = with Kaikeyi; yadR^ichchhayaa = by chance; aaruroha = ascended; praasaadam = the balcony of palace; chandrasa~Nkaasham = which resembled the full moon.

Manthara, a housemaid who was residing with Kaikeyi since her birth, accidentally ascended the balcony of Kaikeyi's white palace, which resembled the full moon.

Verse Locator

सिक्तराजपथां कृत्स्नां प्रकीर्णकुसुमोत्कराम् ।
अयोध्यां मन्थरा तस्मात्प्रासादादन्ववैक्षत ॥ २-७-२

2. mantharaa = Manthara; praasaadaat = from that balcony; anvavaikshata = saw; tasmaat = that; kR^itsnaam = entire; ayodhyaam = Ayodhya; siktaraajapathaam = the principal roads being sprinkled with water; prakiirNakusumotkaraam = and strewn with heaps of flowers.

Manthara, from that balcony, saw the entire city of Ayodhya, with all its principal roads being sprinkled with water and strewn with heaps of flowers.

Verse Locator

पताकाभिर्वरार्हाभिर्ध्वजैश्च समलङ्कृताम् ।
वृतां चंदपथैश्चापि शिरःस्नातजनैर्वृताम् ॥ २-७-३
माल्यमोदकहस्तैश्च द्विजेन्द्रैरभिनादिताम् ।
शुक्लदेवगृहद्वारां सर्ववादित्रनिस्वनाम् ॥ २-७-४
संप्रहृष्टजनाकीर्णां ब्रह्मघोषाभिनादिताम् ।
प्रहृष्टवरहस्त्यश्वां संप्रणर्धितगोवृशाम् ॥ २-७-५
प्रहृष्टमुदितैः पौरैरुच्चि तद्वजमालिनीम् ।
अयोध्यां वन्थरा तस्मात्प्रासादादन्ववैक्षत ॥ २-७-६

3;4;5;6Mantharaa = Manthara; anvavaikshataa = saw; tasmaat praasaadaat = from that balcony; ayodhyaam = the city of Ayodhya; varaarHaabhiH = which was an excellent one; samalaN^kR^itaam = decorated by; pataakaabhiH = flags; dhvajaishcha = and by buntings; vR^itaam = consisting of; chaMda pathaiH cha api = well laid out pathways; vR^itaam = consisting of; shiraH snaata janaiH = people who had head bath; abhinaaditaam = and resounding with; dvijendraiH = brahmins; maalya modaka hastaiH = with flowers and sweets in their hands; shukla deva gR^iha dvaaraam = (consisting of) temples with white doorways; sarva vaaditra nisvanaam = resonating with sounds from various musical instruments; saMprahR^ishhTa janaakiirNaam = filled with happy people; brahmaghoshha abhinaaditaam = resonating with Vedic chants; prahR^ishhTa vara hastyashvaam = with overjoyed elephants and horses; saMpraNardita govR^ishhaam = with roaring bulls and cows; prahR^ishhTamuditaiH = with greatly overjoyed; pauraiH = citizens; uchchhrita dhvaja maaliniim = and decked with rows of tall flags .

Manthara further saw from that balcony the city decorated with the best of flags and banners. The roads were cleared for uninterrupted traffic. All the people took head-bath. Brahmans with flowers and sweets in their hands were chanting Mantras. The gateways of temples were white washed. There were sounds of all musical instruments. The city was filled with rejoicing people and resounding chant of Vedas. The elephants and horses were also merry. The bulls were making roaring noise. The highly delighted citizens hoisted rows of flags on their housetops.

Verse Locator

प्रहर्षोत्फुल्लनयनां पाण्डुरक्षौमवासिनीम् ।
अविदूरे स्थितां दृष्ट्वा धात्रीं पप्रच्छ मन्थरा ॥ २-७-७

7. mantharaa = Manthara; dR^ishhTvaa = seeing; dhaatriim = a house maid; praharshhotphullanayanaam = with bright delighted eyes; paaNDurakshaumavaasiniim = wearing white silk clothes; sthitaam = staying; aviduure = nearby; paprachchha = and asked(as follows):

Manthara asked a house maid with bright pleasing eyes and wearing white silk clothes standing nearby, as follows: -

Verse Locator

उत्तमेनाभिसंयुक्ता हर्षेणार्थपरा सती ।
राममाता धनं किं नु जनेभ्यः संप्रयच्छति । २-७-८

8. kim nu saMprayachchhati = why Kausalya is giving away; dhanam = money; janebhyaH = to people; uttamena = most; harsheNa abhisamyukta = delightfully; arthaparaasatii = (though) she is badly lured of money.

"Why is Kausalya giving away money to people so delightfully today in charity, eventhough she is badly lured of money?"

Verse Locator

अतिमात्रप्रहर्षोऽयं किं जनस्य च शंस मे ।
कारयिष्यति किं वापि संप्रहृष्टो महीपतिः ॥ २-७-९

9. kim = why; ayam = this; atimaatra praharshaH = great rejoicing; janasya = of people ?; mahiipatiH = (Is) king Dasaratha; samprahR^ishhTa = duly pleased; kimvaapi kaarayishyati vaa = getting done any act? shamsa = tell; me = me.

"Why are people so happy today? Is the king duly pleased with something, doing any great act? Tell me."

Verse Locator

विदीर्यमाणा हर्षेण धात्री तु परया मुदा ।
आचक्षेऽथ कुब्जायै भूयसीं राघवश्रियम् ॥ २-७-१०

10. dhaatrii tu = that house maid; vidiiryamaaNaa = bursting; harsheNa = with joy; atha = thereafter; aachachakshe = told; kubjaayai = the hunch backed Manthara; paramayaa mudaa = with great gladness; bhuuyasiim raghavashriyam = about the great honor to be conferred on Rama.

That housemaid, bursting with joy, told Manthara in a great gladdening tone about the great honor to be conferred upon Rama.

Verse Locator

श्वः पुष्येण जितक्रोधं यौवराज्येन राघवम् ।
राजा दशरथो राममभिषेचयितानघम् ॥ २-७-११

11. svaH = tommorow; pushyeNa = on the day of Pushyami star; raajaa dasarathaH = king Dasaratha; abhishechayitaa = is going to anoint; anagham = faultless; raamam = Rama; raaghavam = who was born in Raghu clan; yauvaraajyena = for the princely kingdom.

"Tomorrow on the day of Pushyami star, king Dasaratha is going to anoint the fault-less Rama for the princely kingdom."

Verse Locator

धात्र्यास्तु वचनं श्रुत्वा कुब्जा क्षिप्रममर्षिता ।
कैलासशिखराकारात्प्रासादादवरोहत ॥ २-७-१२

12. shrutvaa = after hearing; vachanam = words; dhaatryaa = of the maid; kubjaa = the hunch backed Manthara; kshipram = quickly; amarshhitaa = with anger; avarohata = stepped down; praasaadaat = from roof of the palace.

After hearing the words of that maid, Manthara quickly with wrath walked down from the roof of the palace, which was in the shape of mount Kailasa.

Verse Locator

सा दह्यमाना कोपेन मनथरा पापदर्शिनी ।
शयनामेत्य कैकेयीमिदं वचन मब्रवीत् ॥ २-७-१३

13. saa = that; mantharaa = Manthara; paapa darshinii = who has sinful thought; dahyamaanaa = burning; kopena = with anger; etya = approached; kaikeyiim = Kaikeyi; shayaanaam = who was lying on bed; abraviit = and spoke; idam = these; vachanam = words.

Manthara of sinful thought; burning with anger, approached Kaikeyi who was lying on a bed and spoke these words:

Verse Locator

उत्तिष्ठ मूढे किं शेषे भयं त्वामभिवर्तते ।
उपप्लुतमघौघेन किमात्मानं न बुध्यसे ॥ २-७-१४

14. muuDhe = O; fool! uttishTha = get up; kim = why; sheshhe = sleeping? bhayam = dreadful situation; abhivartate = is befalling; tvaa = you; upaplutam = are submerged by; aghaughena = flood of troubles; kim = why (are you); na budhyase = not knowing; aatmaanam = yourself?

"O, fool! Get up. Why are you sleeping? A dreadful situation is befalling you. A flood of troubles submerges you. Why are you not knowing this yourself?"

Verse Locator

अनिष्टे सुभगाकारे सौभग्येन विकत्थसे ।
चलं हि तव सौभाग्यं नद्याः स्रोत इवोष्णगे ॥२-७-१५॥

15. subhakaagaare = you; who appear to be beloved to your husband! anishhTe = (but) who is not liked by your husband! vikatthase = (you) boast; saubhaagyena = of fortune; tava = your; saubhaagyam = fortune; chalam hi = is unsteady; srotaH iva = like a stream; nadeyaaH = of river; ushhNage = in summer.

"Oh, Kaikeyi ! You appear to be a beloved wife for your husband, but in reality he does not like you. You boast of your fortune. Like the flow of a stream in summer; your fortune is unsteady".

Verse Locator

एवमुक्ता तु कैकेयी रुष्टया परुषं वचः ।
कुब्जया पापदर्शिन्या विषादमगमत्परम् ॥ २-७-१६॥

16. kaikeyii = Kaikeyi; agamat = got; param = too much; vishhaadam = sadness; uktaa = after being spoken; parushham = of hard; vachaH = words; evam = thus; rushhTayaa = with anger; kubjayaa = by Manthara; paapadarshinayaa = of sinful thoughts

Kaikeyi was very much worried after hearing hard words spoken with anger by Manthara of sinful thoughts.

Verse Locator

कैकेयि त्वब्रवीत्कुभां कच्चित्क्षेमं न मनथरे ।
विषण्णवदनां हि त्वां लक्षये भृ शदुःखिताम् ॥ २-७-१७॥

17. kaikeyii tu = Kaikeyi; abraviit = spoke; kubjaam = to the hunch backed; manthare = O; Manthara ! kshhemam na kachchit = (you are feeling) not safe or what ? lakshaye hi = I am seeing; tvaam = you; bhR^ishaduHkhitaam = being very sorrowful; vishhaNNavadanaam = with a worried face.

Kaikeyi asked the hunch-backed Manthara as follows; "O, Manthara! Are you not safe? You appear to be very sorrowful with your worried face".

Verse Locator

मन्थरा तु वचः श्रुत्वा कैकेय्या मधुराक्षरम् ।
उवाच क्रोधसंयुक्ता वाक्यं वाक्यविशारदा ॥ २-७-१८॥

18. srutvaa = after hearing; kaikeyyaaH vachaH = Kaikeyi's words; madhuraaksharam = with sweet words; mantharaa tu = Manthara; vaakyavishaaradaa = who was an expert in talking; uvaacha = spoke; vaakyam = these words; krodhasamyuktaaH = with anger.

After hearing Kaikeyi's sweet words, Manthara who was an expert in talking, spoke with anger.

Verse Locator

सा विषण्णतरा भूत्वा कुब्जा तस्या हितैषिणी ।
विषदयन्ती प्रोवाच भेदयन्ती च राघवम् ॥ २-७-१९॥

19. saa = that; kubjaa = Manthara; tasyaaH hitaishhiNii = wishing Kaikeyi's welfare; vishhaadayantii = making her sorrowful; bheda yantii cha = and to create hostility; raaghavam = with Rama; provaacha = said (as follows).

That Manthara, who was full of cunning, feigning to be seeking Kaikeyi's welfare, appeared more worried, and making Kaikeyi sorrowful, spoke the following, to create hostility between Rama and Kaikeyi.

Verse Locator

अक्षय्यं सुमहदेवि प्रवृत्तं द्वद्विनाशनम् ।
रामं दशरथो राजा यौवराज्येऽभिषेक्ष्यति ॥ २-७-२०

20. devi = Oh; Queen! akshhayyam = an unending; sumahat = great; tvadvinaashanam = ruin to you; pravR^ittam = has encircled; raajaa = king; dasharathaH = Dasaratha; abhishhekshyati = is anointing; raamam = Rama; yauvaraajye = for princely kingdom.

"Oh, queen! An unending great ruin has encircled you. King Dasaratha is going to anoint Rama for the princely kingdom".

Verse Locator

सास्यगाधे भये मग्ना दुःखशोकसमन्विता ।
दह्यमानाऽ नलेनेव त्वद्वितार्थमिहागता ॥ २-७-२१

21. saa asmi = that myself; magnaa = is immersed; agaadhe = in bottomless pit; bhaye = of fear; duHkha shoka samanvitaa = with pain and sorrow; dahyamaanena = (I am) burning; analena = as if by fire; aagataa = came; iha = here; tvaddhitaartham = for your sake.

"I am immersed in a bottomless pit of fear. I am in distress and my mind is burning as if by fire. I hastened here to seek you out."

Verse Locator

तव दुःखेन कैकेयि मम दुःखं महद्भवेत् ।
त्वद्बुद्धौ मम वृद्धिश्च भवेदत्र न संशयः ॥ २-७-२२

22. kaikeyi = O; Kaikeyi; tava duHkena = by your grief; mahat = great; duHkham = grief; bhavena = happens; mama = to me; tvadvR^iddhau = your prosperity; bhavet = becomes; vR^iddhishcha = prosperity; mama = to me; na = no ; saMshayaH = doubt; atra = about this.

"Kaikeyi! If Rama becomes king, his son will become king after him. Thus, Bharata's name itself will be removed from the royal clan."

Verse Locator

नराधिपकुले जाता महिषी त्वं महीपतेः ।
उग्रत्वं राजधर्माणां कथं देवि न बुध्यसे ॥ २-७-२३

23. devi = Oh; queen! jaataa = having born; naraadhipakule = in royal family; mahishhii = being wife; mahiipate = of a king; katham = why; na buddhyase = not knowing; ugratvam = cruelty; raajadharmaaNam = in kingly duties.

"Oh, Kaikeyi! Having born in a royal family and being an emperor's wife, how is it that you are not knowing about the cruelty in kingly duties?"

Verse Locator

धर्मवादी शठो भर्ता श्लक्ष्णवादी च दारुणः ।

शुद्धभावे न जानीषे तेनैवमतिसन्धिता ॥ २-७-२४

24. bhartaa = your husband; dharma vaadii = talks of righteousness; shaThaH = but does harm secretly; shlakshhNa vaadii = talks sweetly; daaruNaH cha = but is a cruel man; shuddhabhaave = O; the clean minded! najaaniishhe = you are not able to know; atisandhitaa = that you are cheated; tena = by him; evam = thus.

"Your husband talks about righteousness, but does harm secretly. He says sweet words but behaves cruelly. Because of your clean thinking; you are not able to know that he is cheating you thus."

Verse Locator

उपस्थितं पयुज्जानस्त्वयि सान्त्वमनर्थकम् ।

अर्थेनैवाद्य ते भर्ता कौसल्यां योजयिष्यति ॥ २-७-२५

25. te bhartaa = your husband; upasthitaH = approaches you; prayuJNjaanaH = employs; anarthakam = useless; saantvam = good words; tvayi = in your instance; adya = today; yojayishhyati = he bestows; arthena = benefit to; kausalyameva = only Kausalya.

"Your husband approaches you and talks good words, which are useless. But he passes on benefit today to Kausalya only."

Verse Locator

अपवाह्य स दुष्टात्मा भरतं तव बन्धुषु ।

काल्यं स्थापयिता रामं राज्ये निहतकण्टके ॥ २-७-२६

26. dushhTaatamaa = the evil minded; saH = he; apavaahya = sent; bharatam = Bharata; tava bandhushhu = to his relatives; kalye = at dawn; sthaapayitaa = is going to install; ramam = Rama; raajye = in kingdom; nihatakaNTake = without hindrance.

"The evil minded Dasaratha sent Bharata to the house of his relatives and at dawn, is going to install Rama on the throne without hindrance."

Verse Locator

शत्रुः पतिप्रवादेन मात्रेव हितकाम्यया ।

आशीविष इवाङ्केन बाले परिधृतस्त्वया ॥ २-७-२७

27. baale = O; childish one! maatrevaa = like mother; hitakaamyayaa = being wished well being; tvayaa = by you; aashiivishhaH ankeneva = like a poisonous serpent in your bosom; shatruH = enemy; paridhR^itaH = being worn; patipravaadena = with husband's name.

"O, childish one! Like a mother, you wish for his well being. But he is an enemy, and is called husband for a namesake. He is like a poisonous serpent in your bosom."

Verse Locator

यथा हि कुर्यात्सर्पो वा शत्रुर्वा प्रत्युपेक्षितः ।

राज्ञा दशरथेनाद्य सपुत्रा त्वं तथा कृता ॥ २-७-२८

28. tvam = you; saputraa = along with your son; kR^itaa = have been done; raaJNaa dasarathena = by king Dasaratha; adya = today; yathaa tathaa kurvaat = as does; pratyupekshitaH = neglected; sarpo vaa = serpent or; shatruruvaa = an enemy

"King Dasaratha has acted towards you and your son today in the same way as an enemy or a serpent would behave if ignored."

पापेनानृतसान्त्वेन बाले नित्यं सुखोचिते ।
रामं स्थापयता राज्ये सानुबन्धा हता ह्यसि ॥ २-७-२९

29. baale = O; childish one! nityasukhochite = you; who are ever deserving of ease; anR^ita saantvena = with his untruthful sweet words; sthaapayitaa = by installing; raamam = Rama; raajye = in kingdom; saanubandhaa = you along with your child; asihi hataa = are being hit; paapena = by the sinful king.

"O, stupid one! With his untruthful sweet words to you, who are ever deserving of ease, the evil minded king is installing Rama on the throne and is thus ruining you along with your son."

Verse Locator

सा प्राप्तकालं कैकेयि क्षिप्रं कुरु हितं तव ।
त्रायस्व पुत्रमात्मानं मां च विस्मयदर्शने ॥ २-७-३०

30. kaikeyi = O; Kaikeyi! vismaya darshane = you; with amazing beauty! saa = that you; kuru = do; hitam = required action; praaptakaalam = appropriate to the time; kshipram = immediately; traayasva = save; aatmaanam = yourself; putram = your son; maam cha = and me.

"O, Kaikeyi, of amazing beauty! You have to take timely action immediately, so as to save yourself, your son and me too."

Verse Locator

मन्थराया वचः श्रुत्वा शयनात्स शुभानना ।
उत्तस्थौ हर्षसंपूर्णा चन्द्रलेखेव शारदी ॥ २-७-३१

31. shayanaa = lying in bed; saa = that; shubhaananaa = beautiful faced Kaikeyi; shrutvaa = hearing; mantharaayaaH = Manthara's; vachaH = words; harshhasampuurNaa = full of delight; uttasthau = rose(from the coach); chandralekheva = as crescent moon; shaaradii = in autumn.

Hearing Manthara's words, that Kaikeyi of charming countenance who was lying in bed, rose from her coach full of delight like unto the crescent moon in autumn.

Verse Locator

अतीव सा तु संहृष्टा कैकेयी विस्मयान्विता ।
एकमाभरणं तस्यै कुब्जायै प्रददौ शुभम् ॥ २-७-३२

32. saa kaikeyii = that Kaikeyi; atiiva = much; santushhTaa = delighted; vismayaanvitaa = with surprise; dadau = gave; ekam = one; shubham = graceful; aabharaNam = jewel; tasyai = to that; kubjaayai = hunch backed Manthara.

That Kaikeyi in the midst of her astonishment and joy gave a graceful jewel to the hunch-backed Manthara.

Verse Locator

दत्त्वा त्वाभरणं तस्यै कुब्जायै प्रमदोत्तमा ।
कैकेयी मन्थरां हृष्टा पुनरेवाब्रवीदिदम् ॥ २-७-३३

33. kaikeyi = Kaikeyi; pramadottamaa = the best among women; datvaa = gave; aabharaNam = a jewel; tasyai kubjaayai = to that hunch backed one; dR^istvaa = saw; mantharaam = Manthara; abraviit = spoke; idam = these words; punaH eva = again.

Kaikeyi, the best among women, gave a jewel to Manthara and spoke to her as follows:

Verse Locator

इदं तु मन्थरे मह्यमाख्यासि परमं प्रियम् ।
एतन्मे प्रियमाख्यातुः किं वा भूयः करोमि ते ॥ २-७-३४

34. manthare = O; Manthara! aakhyaasi = you informed; idam = this; paramam = much; priyam = delightful news; mahyam = to me; kim vaa = what; bhuuyaH = additional (favour); karomi = can I do; te = for you; aakhyaatuH = who informed; etat = such; priyam = good (news); me = to me.

"Oh, Manthara! You informed much gladdening news to me. What else can I do for you, who informed such a good news?"

Verse Locator

रामे वा भरते वाहं विशेषं नोपलक्षये ।
तस्मात्तुष्टास्मि यद्राजा रामं राज्येऽभिषेक्ष्यति ॥ २-७-३५

35. aham = I; na upalakshaye = do not see; visheshham = difference; raamevaa = in either Rama; bharatevaa = or Bharata; asmaat = that is why; tushhTaasmi = I am happy; yat = for; raajaa = king; abhishekshyati = anointing; ramam = Rama; raajye = in kingdom.

"I do not see any difference between Rama and Bharata. That is why, I am happy that Rama is being anointed for crown by the king."

Verse Locator

न मे परम् किञ्चि दितस्त्वयापि न ।
प्रियं प्रियार्हे सुवचम् वचो परम् ।
तथा ह्यवोचस्त्वमतः प्रियोत्तरं ।
वरं वरं ते प्रददामि तं वृणु ॥ २-७-३६

36. priyaarhe = O; Manthara; who are eligible to be delighted! na kinchit = No other; param = greater; itaH = than this; me = to me; na suvacham = cannot be told easily; param = greater; priyam = lovely; vachaH = words; tvayaapi = by you also; tvam = you; avochaH hi = informed; tathaa = thus; priyottaram = the best of loving news; ataH = for this reason; pradadaami = I shall give; param = good; varam = boon; te = to you; vR^iNu = ask for; tam = it.

"O, Manthara! You do merit every favor. I have no other pleasant news than this. Hence, you cannot ever again inform a better loving news than this. I shall give you a good boon. Ask for it!"

॥ इत्यार्षे श्रीमद्रामायने आदिकाव्ये अयोध्यकान्दे शस्तः सर्गः ॥

Thus completes 7th Chapter of Ayodhya Kanda of the glorious Ramayana of Valmiki, the work of a sage and the oldest epic.

Book II : Ayodhya Kanda - Book Of Ayodhya

Chapter[Sarga] 8 Verses converted to UTF-8, Nov 09

Introduction

Manthara with her wicked thoughts tries to convince Kaikeyi of the possible misfortune that could occur to Kaikeyi and her family if Sri Rama becomes the King. Although Kaikeyi's initial reaction is to praise Rama's qualities; her mind is slowly but surely poisoned by Manathara's sinful words.

Verse Locator

मन्थरा त्वभ्यसूयैनामुत्सृज्याभरणं च तत्
उवाचेदं ततो वाक्यं कोपदुःखसमन्विता ॥ २-८-१

1. mantharaatu = but Manthara; abhyasuuya = became indignant; enaam = with her; utsR^ijya = cast down; tat = that; aabharanam = ornament; tataH = afterwards; kopaduHkhasamanvitaa = with anger and pain; uvaacha = spoke; idam = these words.

Manthara, becoming indignant with Kaikeyi, threw down the ornament given to her and with anger and distress spoke the following words:

Verse Locator

हर्ष किमिदमस्थाने कृतवत्यसि बालिशे ।
शोकसागरमध्यस्थमात्मानं नावबुध्यसे ॥ २-८-२

2. baalishe = O; foolish one! naavabudhyase = not knowing; aatmaanam = about you; shokasaagara madhyastam = who are in the midst of an ocean of trouble; kim idam = what is it; kR^itavatii asi = you are doing; harshham = (in making) delight; asthaane = of an ill suited matter.

"O, foolish one! Not knowing that you are in the midst of an ocean of trouble, what is it that you are so delighted about, in a matter to be grieved?"

Verse Locator

मनसा प्रहसामि त्वां देवि दुःखार्थिता सती ।
यच्छोचितव्ये हृष्टासि प्राप्येदं व्यसनं महत् ॥ २-८-३

3. devi = O; queen! duH.khaarditaasatii = stricken with grief; prahasaami = I laugh; manasaa = mentally; tvaam = at you; yat = for; hrishhTaa asi = you are rejoicing; praapya = after getting; idam = this; mahat = great; vyasanam = calamity; shochitavye = which is to be grieved.

"Oh, queen! Though stricken with grief, I mentally laugh at you in that you are rejoicing at the time when a great calamity is befalling you."

Verse Locator

शोचामि दुर्मतित्वं ते का हि प्राज्ञा प्रहर्षयेत् ।

अरे: सपत्नीपुत्रस्य वृद्धिं मृत्युमिवागताम् ॥ २-८-४

4. shochaami = I lament over; te = your; durmatitvam = ill-considered mind; kaa praaGyaa = which intelligent woman; praharshhayet = gets delighted; vR^iddhim = over prosperity; sapatniiputrasya = of stepson; areH = who is an enemy; mR^ityumiva = (just as rejoicing) over death; aagataam = which has befallen.

"I am lamenting over your foolish mind. Does any intelligent woman feel happy over the prosperity of a stepson who is considered an enemy? Does it not amount to praising a befalling death?"

Verse Locator

भरतादेव रामस्य राज्यसाधारणाद्भयम् ।

तद्विचिन्त्य विषण्णास्मि भय भीताद्धि जायते ॥ २-८-५

5. raamasya = To Rama; bhayam = (there is) fear; bharataadeva = from Bharata; raajyasaadhaaraNaat = who has equal right to kingdom; vichintya = In thinking over; tat = that (matter); vishhaNNa asmi = I am sorrowful; bhayam = Fear; jaayate hi = begets from; bhiitaat = those who fear (us).

"Rama has a fear about Bharata because Bharata has equal rights over the kingdom. In thinking about this matter, I am getting anguished. Do we not get disasters from those who are afraid of us?"

Verse Locator

लक्ष्मणो हि महेष्वासो रामं सर्वात्मना गतः ।

शत्रुघ्नश्चापि भरतं काकुत्स्थं लक्ष्मणो यथा ॥ २-८-६

6. lakshmaNaH = Lakshmana; maheshhvaasaH = having mighty bow; gataH = joined; raamam = Rama; sarvaatmanaa = with all his heart; shatrughnaH cha api = Satrughna also; bharatam = (is faithful) to Bharata; kaakutsam yathaa = as to Rama; lakshmaNaH = Lakshmana.

"Lakshmana, wielding a great bow, joined Rama with all his heart. Shatrughna is as faithful to Bharata as Lakshmana to Rama".

Verse Locator

प्रत्यासन्नक्रमेणापि भरतस्तैव भामिनि ।

राज्यक्रमो विप्रकृष्टस्तयोस्तावत्कनीयसोः ॥ २-८-७

7. bhaamini = Kaikeyi!; pratyaasanna krameNaapi = In line with proximity of birth; raajyakramaH = the lineage of kingdom; bharatasyaiva = is to Bharata only; tayoH taavat = to the extent of other two (Lakshmana and Satrughna); kaniiyasoH = who are younger; viprakR^ishhTaH = it is far away.

"Oh Kaikeyi! In line with even the proximity of birth; the claim to the throne of Bharata alone can be pressed, that of Lakshmana and Satrughna who are younger is out of question."

Verse Locator

विदुषः क्षत्रचारित्रे प्राज्ञस्य प्राप्तकारिणः ।

भयात्प्रवेपे रामस्य चिन्तयन्ती तवात्मजम् ॥ २-८-८

8. vidushhaH = (Rama is a)learned man; praaGyasya = efficient; kshhaatrachaaritre = in politics; praapta kaariNaH = he who acts appropriately and in time; bhayaat = fearing (such Rama); pravepe = I am shaken; chintayantii = to be thinking; aatmajam = of your son.

"Rama is a learned man and a political statesman. His actions are timely and appropriate. When thinking of your son's calamity to be resulted from Rama, I get shaken with fear".

Verse Locator

सुभगा खलु कौसल्या यस्याः पुत्रोऽभिषेक्ष्यते ।
यौवराज्येन महता श्वः पुष्येण द्विजोत्तमैः ॥ २-८-९

9. kausalyaa = Kausalya; subhagaakhalu = is having good fortune; yasyaaH = that Kausalya's; putraH = son; svaH = tomorrow; pushyeNa = on the day of Pushyami star; abhishhekshhyate = is going to be anointed; mahataa yauvaraajyena = for great princely kingdom; dvijottamai = by the best of Brahmanas.

"Kausalya is very fortunate. Brahmanas are going to anoint her son for the great princely kingdom tomorrow on the day of Pushyami star".

Verse Locator

प्राप्तां सुमहतीं प्रीतिं प्रतीतां तां हतद्विषम् ।
उपस्थास्यसि कौसल्यां दासीवत्त्वं कृताञ्जलिः ॥ २-८-१०

10. kR^itaanjaliH = with folded arms; daasiivat = as a maid servant; tvam = you; upasthaasyasi = will serve; taam kausalyaam = that Kausalya; praaptaam = who gets; sumahatiim = very great; priitim = happiness; pratiitaam = famous; hatadvishham = annihilator of enemies.

"With folded arms, as a maid-servant, you have to serve that Kausalya who having reached great prosperity, in the height of joy, will dispose of her adversaries (in the person of Bharata and yourself)".

Verse Locator

एवम् चेत्त्वं सहास्माभिस्तस्याः प्रेष्य भविष्यसि ।
पुत्रश्च तव रामस्य प्रेष्यभावं गमिष्यति ॥ २-८-११

11. evam = thus; tvam bhavishhyasi yadi = if you become; preshhyaa = servant maid; tasyaaH = to her; asmaabhiH saha = along with us; tava = your; putrashcha = son also; gamishhyati = will get; preshhyabhaavam = servitude; raamasya = of Rama.

"Thus, if you become Kausalya's servant-maid along with us, your son Bharata will be Rama's attendant."

Verse Locator

हृष्टाः खलु भविष्यन्ति रामस्य परमाः स्त्रियः ।
अप्रहृष्टा भविष्यन्ति स्नुषास्ते भरतक्षये ॥ २-८-१२

12. raamasya = Rama's; paramaastriyaH = great wives; bhavantikhalu = will become; hR^ishTaaH = delighted; te = your; snushhaaH = daughters-in-law; bhavishhyanti = will become; aprahR^isTaaH = unhappy; bharata kshhaye = of Bharata's weak position.

"Rama's wives will get delighted. Your daughters-in-law will be unhappy because of Bharata's waning position."

Comment: The words 'Rama's wives' here do not indicate that Rama had multiple wives. Manathara refers to a possible future where Rama being a King would marry other women. It was a norm then for a king to have more than one wife.

Verse Locator

तां दृष्ट्वा परमप्रीतां ब्रुवन्तीं मन्थरां ततः ।
रामस्यैव गुणान् देवी कैकेयि प्रशशंस ह ॥ २-८-१३

13. tataH = afterwards; dR^ishhTvaa = seeing; taam = that; mantharaaam = manthara; bruvantiim = thus talking; param = much; apriitaam = distasteful word; kaikeyii = Kaikeyi; prashashamsaH = praised; raamasya guNena = Rama's virtues.

Hearing Manthara speak thus in many distasteful words, Kaikeyi began to extol Rama's virtues, saying: -

Verse Locator

धर्मज्ञो गुरुभिर्दान्तः कृतज्ञ सत्यवाक्चुचि ।
रामो राज्ञः सुतो ज्येष्ठो यौवराज्यमतोऽर्हति ॥ २-८-१४

14. raamaH = Rama; dharmaGyaH = knows righteousness; daantaH = trained by; gurubhiH = elders; kR^itajJNyaH = one who has gratitude; satyavaak = speaker of truth; suchiH = clean in conduct; jyeshhTaH = elder; sutaH = son; raajJNaH = of king Dasaratha; ataH = hence; arhati = eligible; youvaraajyam = for princely kingdom.

"Rama knows all righteousness. Elders trained him. He has a proper gratitude. He speaks truth. He has a clean conduct. He is the eldest son of king Dasaratha and hence eligible for the kingdom."

Verse Locator

भ्रातृ^ऊन्भृत्यांश्च दीर्घायुः पितृवत्पालयिष्यति ।
संतप्यसे कथं कुब्जे श्रुत्वा रामाभिषेचनम् ॥ २-८-१५

15. diirghaayuH = the long living Rama; paalayishhyati = will protect; bhraatroom = brothers; bhR^ityaamshcha = and servants; pitR^ivat = like father; kubje = O; the hunch-backed one! katham = how; santapyase = are you pained; shrutvaa = after hearing; raamaabhishechanam = Rama's anointment.

"The long living Rama will protect his brothers and servants like a father. O, the hunch backed one! Why are you so pained on hearing about Rama's coronation?"

Verse Locator

भरतश्चापि रामस्य ध्रुवं वर्षशतात्परम् ।
पितृपैतामहं राज्यमवाप्ता पुरुषर्षभः ॥ २-८-१६

16. param = after; varshhashataat = one hundred years; purushharshhabhaH = the best among men; bharatashchaapi = Bharata also; avaaptaa = will get; raamasya = Rama's; raajyam = kingdom; pitR^ipaitaamaham = which belongs to (his) father and forefathers.

"After Rama's rule for one hundred years, Bharata the best among men will certainly replace Rama on his father's throne, which is that of his ancestors."

Verse Locator

सा त्वमभ्युदये प्राप्ते वर्तमाने च मन्थरे ।
भविष्यति च कल्याणे किमर्थं परितप्यसे ॥ २-८-१७

17. manthare = O; Manthara! praapte = (When we) got; abhyudaye = an occasion for rejoicing; vartamaanecha = as at present ; kalyaaNe = and when a festive occasion; bhavishhyati = is to come off in future (too in the form of Bharata's installation; no matter even if it comes after a hundred years); kimartham = why; saa tvam = that you; paritapyase = feel agonized like this as though burning (with jealousy)?

"Oh, Manthara! When we got an occasion for rejoicing as at present and when a festive occasion is to come off in future (too in the form of Bharata's installation, no matter even if it comes after a hundred years), why do you feel agonized like this as though burning (with jealousy)?"

Verse Locator

यथा ने भरतो मान्यस्तथा भूयोऽपि राघावः ।
कौसल्यातोऽरिक्तं च सो हि शुश्रूषते हि माम् ॥ २-८-१८

18. me = to me; bharataH = Bharata; yathaa = how; maanyaH = fit to be loved; tathaa = like that; raaghavaH = Rama also; bhuuyaH api = and even more; saH = he; anushushruushhate hi = doing service; atiriktam = more; maam = to me; kausalyaataH = than Kausalya.

"For me, Rama is as lovable as Bharata and even more. Is he not doing more service to me than to Kausalya?"

Verse Locator

राज्यं यदि हि रामस्य भरतस्यापि तत्तदा ।
मन्यते हि यथात्मानं तथा भ्रातृ^१कुंश्च राघवः ॥ २-८-१९

19. raajyam = kingdom; yadi raamasya = if it is of Rama; tadaa = then; tat = that; bharatasyaapi hi = is of Bharata also; raaghavaH = Rama; manyate = thinks about; bhraatR¹iMshcha = his brothers; yathaa tathaa = on par with; aatmaanam = his own self.

"If Rama has kingdom then Bharata has it as well. Rama esteems his brothers just as his own self."

Verse Locator

कैकेयीवचनं श्रुत्वा मन्थरा भृशदुःखिता ।
दीर्घमुष्णं निःश्वस्य कैकेयीमिदमब्रवीत् ॥ २-८-२०

20. mantharaa = Manthara; shrutvaa = after hearing; kaikeyii vachanam = Kaikeyi's words; bhrisha duH.khitaa = felt very sad; niHshvasya = and sighing; diirgham = long; ushhNam cha = and hot; abraviit = spoke; idam = these words; Kaikeyiim = to Kaikeyi.

Manthara, after hearing Kaikeyi's words, felt very sad and after a long and hot sigh, spoke to her the following words:

Verse Locator

अनर्थदर्शिनी मौख्यान्नात्मानमवबुध्यसे ।
शोकव्यसनविस्तीर्णे मज्जन्ती दुःखसागरे ॥ २-८-२१

21. majjantii = (You are getting) immersed; duHkhasaagare = in an ocean of sorrow; shoka vyasana vistirNe = filled with misery and danger; mourkhyaat = Due to stupidity; anarthadarshinii = (you are) not seeing the truth; na avabudhyase = not knowing; aatmaanam = yourself.

"On one side, you are getting immersed in an ocean of sorrow filled with misery and danger. But due to stupidity, you are not able to perceive the truth and you fail to assess your real position."

Verse Locator

भविता राघवो राजा राघवस्यानु यः सुतः ।
राजवंशान्तु कैकेयि भरतः परिहास्यते ॥ २-८-२२

22. kaikeyi = O; Kaikeyi! raaghavaH = Rama; bhavitaH = will become; raajaa = king; raaghavasya anu = after Rama; yaH = whoever; sutaH = the son is (he becomes the king); bharataH tu = but Bharata; parihaasyate = will be removed; raajavaMshaat = from the royal clan.

"O, Kaikeyi! If Rama becomes the king, his son will become the king after him in succession. Thus, Bharata's name itself will be removed from the royal clan."

Verse Locator

न हि राज्ञः सुताः सर्वे राज्ये तिष्ठन्ति भामिनि ।
स्थाप्यमानेषु सर्वेषु सुमहाननयो भवेत् ॥ २-८-२३

23. bhaamini = O; Kaikeyi! sarve = all; sutaaH = sons; raajJNyaH = of a king; natishhTantiH = will not be installed; raajye = for kingdom; sarveshhu sthaapyamaaneshhu = If all are installed; bhavet = there will be; sumahaan = a great; anayaH = lawlessness.

"O, Kaikeyi! All the sons of a king will not be crowned for a kingdom. If all are installed, there will be a great lawlessness."

Verse Locator

तस्माज्ज्येष्ठे हि कैकेयि राज्यतन्त्राणि पार्थिवाः ।
स्थापयन्त्यनवद्याङ्गि गुणवत्स्वतरेष्वपि ॥ २-८-२४

24. kaikeyi = O; Kaikeyi! anavadyaaN^gi = who has deformless body-parts; tasmaat = that is why; paarthivaaH = kings; sthaapayanti = install; jyeshhTe = eldest son; itareshhvapi = eventhough others; guNavatsu = may be full of virtues; raajyatantraaNi = to kingly affairs.

"Therefore, kings, O, Kaikeyi of faultless limbs, install their eldest son, eventhough others may be full of virtues, as their successor to the throne."

Verse Locator

असावत्यन्तनिर्भग्न स्तवपुत्रो भविष्यति ।
अनाथवत्सुखेभ्यश्च राजवंशाच्च वत्सले ॥ २-८-२५

25. vatsale = O; affectionate one! tava = your; asou = this; putraH = son; bhavishhayati = will become; atyanta nirbhagnaH = a complete loser; sukhebhyaH cha = from comforts; raajavamshaachcha = and even from royal clan; anaathavat = like an orphan.

"Oh, Kaikeyi the affectionate one! Your son will be completely distant from comforts and even from the royal clan; like an orphan."

Verse Locator

साहं त्वदर्थे संप्राप्ता त्वं तु मां नावबुध्यसे ।
सपत्निवृद्धौ या मे त्वं प्रदेयं दातुमिच्चिसि ॥ २-८-२६

26. saa aham = That I; sampraapta = came; tvadarthe = for your sake; tvam tu = but you; naavabudhyase = are not understanding; maam = me; yaa = that; tvam = you; ichchhasi = wish; daatum = to give; me = me; pradeyam = a present; sapatni vridhdhou = when there is prosperity for step-wife.

"I came here in your interests. But you have not understood me. You think it fit to give me a present when your step-wife is getting prospered."

Verse Locator

ध्रुवं तु भरतं रामः प्राप्य राज्यमकण्टकम् ।
देशान्तरं वासयिता लोकान्तरमथापि व ॥ २-८-२७

27. raamaH = Rama; praapya = after getting; raajyam = kingdom; akaNTakam = without hindrance; nayitaa = will send; bharatam = Bharata; deshaantaram vaasayitaa vaa = either to some other country; athaapivaa = or otherwise; lokaantaram = to some other world; dhruvam = this is certain.

"Rama, ascending the throne without hindrance, will either send away Bharata to some other country or have him put to death. This is certain."

Verse Locator

बाल एव हि मातुल्यं भरतो नायितस्त्वया ।
सन्निकर्षाच्च सौहार्दं जायते स्थावरेष्वपि ॥ २-८-२८

28. bharataH = Bharata; naayitaH hi = was sent; baalaH eva = in his childhood itself; maatulyam = to his maternal uncle's house; tvayaa = by you; sannikarshhaat = by being nearer; souhaardam = friendship; jaayate = is created; sthaavareshhvapi = even on inanimate things.

"You sent Bharata to his maternal uncle's house even in his childhood. By being nearer, love is born even on inanimate objects. By sending Bharata to a distant place, you made Dasaratha to have no affection towards him."

Verse Locator

भरतस्यानुवशगः शत्रुघ्नोऽपि समं गतः ।
लक्ष्मणो हि यथा रामं तथासौ भरतं गतः ॥ २-८-२९

29. shatrughno.api = Shatrughna also; anuvashagaH = was drawn; bharatsya = towards Bharata; gataH = and went; samam = along with him; yathaa = how; lakshmaNaH = Lakshmana; gataH = joined with; raamam = Rama; tathaa = like that; asou = this (Shatrughna); bharatam = with Bharata.

"Shatrughna was drawn towards Bharata and went along with him. Just as Lakshmana joined Rama, Shatrughna joined Bharata."

Comment: Sage Valmiki might be implying here that if Shatrughna were to be present then at Ayodhya, he would have tried for the prosperity of Bharata.

Verse Locator

श्रूयते हि द्रुमः कश्चिच्चेत्तव्यो वनजीविभिः ।
सन्निकर्षादिषीकाभिर्मो चितः परमाद्भयात् ॥ २-८-३०

30. shruuyate hi = it is heard that; kashchit = certain; drumaH = tree; chhettavyaH = which is to be cut; vanajiivibhiH = by people living in forest; mochitaH = was relieved; paramaat bhayaat = of (this) great danger; ishhiikaabhiH sannikarshhaat = by proximity to Ishhiika grass.

"We hear that a tree marked down for felling by foresters, when covered by thorny Ishhiika grass, is saved from this great danger of cutting. So also, Dasaratha might have supported Bharata if he was staying near to him in Ayodhya."

Verse Locator

गोप्ता हि रामं सौमित्रिर्लक्ष्मणं चापि राघवः ।

अश्विनोरिव सौभ्रात्रं तयोर्लोकेषु विश्रुतम् ॥ २-८-३१

31. soumitriH = Lakshmana; goptaahi = will protect; raamam = Rama; raaghavaH = Rama; lakshmaNaM chaapi = (will protect) Lakshmana also; tayoH = their; soubhraatram eva = brotherly love; vishrutam = is famous; lokeshhu = in the world; asvinoH = as that of Aswinis.

"Lakshmana protects Rama. Rama protects Lakshmana. Their brotherly love is as famous as that of Aswini celestials."

Verse Locator

तस्मान्न लक्ष्मणे रामः पापं किञ्चित्करिष्यति ।

रामस्तु भरते पापं कुर्यादिति न संशयः ॥ २-८-३२

32. tasmaat = Hence; raamaH = Rama; nakarishyati = will not do; kiJNchit = any little; paapam = sin; lakshmaNe = to Lakshmana; bharate tu = but to Bharata; raamaH = Rama; kuryaat = will do; paapam = a sinful act; iti = in this; nasamshayaH = there is no doubt.

"Hence, Rama will not do a sinful act of killing Lakshmana. However there is no doubt that he will do so in the case of Bharata."

Verse Locator

तस्माद्राजगृहादेव वनं गच्छतु ते सुतः ।

एतद्धि रोचते मह्यं भृशं चापि हितं तव ॥ २-८-३३

33. tasmaat = Hence; etat = this; rochate hi = is wished; mahyam = by me; te sutaH = (that) your son; gachhatu = goes; vanam = to forest; raajagR^ihaadeva = from royal palace (of his uncle) itself; bhR^isham = (This is) very much; hitam = beneficial; tavaapicha = to you also.

"Hence, I feel that it is better for your son to go to forest directly from his uncle's house. This is good for you too."

Verse Locator

एवं ते ज्ञातिपक्षस्य श्रेयश्चैव भविष्यति ।

यदि चेद्भरतो धर्मात्पित्र्यं राज्यमवाप्स्यति ॥ २-८-३४

34. bharataH avaapsyati yadi = If Bharata gets; raajyam = kingdom; pitryam = of his father; dharmaat = as per law; bhavishhyati = it will become; shreyaH = beneficial; te = to you; jNyaatipakshhasya chaiva = and to your side of relatives; evam chet = if it happens thus.

"If Bharata gets his father's kingdom as per law, it will be beneficial to you and your side of relatives."

Verse Locator

स ते सुखोचितो बालो रामस्य सहजो रिपुः ।

समृद्धार्थस्य नष्टार्थो जीविष्यति कथं वशे ॥ २-८-३५

35. te = your; saH = that; baalaH = child; sukhochitaH = who is habituated to comforts; raamasya sahajaH ripuH = is Rama's natural enemy ; katham = how; nasTaarthaH = Bharatha; who failed to achieve purpose; jiivishhyati = will live; vashe = under control; samR^iddhaarthasya = of Rama whose flourishing object has been realized?

"Your youthful son, habituated to comforts, is a natural enemy to Rama. How can Bharatha who failed to achieve his purpose live under control of Rama; whose flourishing object has been realised?"

अभिद्रुतमिवारण्ये सिंहेन गजयूथपम् ।
प्रच्छाद्यमानं रामेण भरतं त्रातुमर्हसि ॥ २-८-३६

36. traatum arhasi = you ought to protect; bharatam = Bharata; prachchhaadyamaanam = who is being wrapped up; raameNa = by Rama; gajayuudhapam iva = as a leading elephant; abhidrutam = being chased; siMhena = by a lion; araNye = in forest.

"Rama is chasing and bringing down Bharata as a lion chases an elephant-king in forest. You ought to protect Bharata."

Verse Locator

दर्पान्निराकृता पूर्व त्वया सौभाग्यवत्तया ।
राममाता सपत्नी ते कथं वैरं न शातयेत् ॥ २-८-३७

37. puurvam = previously; niraakR^itaa = being disrepected; darpaat = with arrogance; tvayaa = by you; soubhaagyavathayaa = as you were fortunate; katham = how; raamamaataa = Rama's mother (Kausalya); te = your; sapatnii = rival wife; na shaatayet = will not revenge; vairam = for that animosity?

"Previously, you treated Kausalya with disrespect due to arrogance that you were fortunate. Will not such Kausalya, your rival wife, revenge for that animosity?"

Verse Locator

यदा हि रामः पृथिवीमवाप्स्यति ।
प्रभूतरत्नाकरशैलपत्तनाम् ।
तदा गमिष्यस्यशुभं पराभवं ।
सहैव दीना भरतेन भामिनि ॥ २-८-३८

38. bhaamini = O; Kaikeyi! yadaa = when; raamaH = Rama; avaapsyati = gets; pR^ithiviim = this earth; prabhuuta ratnaakara shaila paattanaam = holding great ocean; mountains and towns; tadaa = then; bharatena sahaiva = along with Bharata; gamishhyasi = you will get; ashubham = bad; diinaa = pitiable; paraabhavam = ignominy.

"O, Kaikeyi! The day Rama becomes lord of this earth with its great oceans, mountains and towns; that day you and your Bharata will get a bad and pitiable position of ignominy."

Verse Locator

यदा हि रामः पृथिवीमवाप्स्यति ।
ध्रुवं प्रणष्टो भरतो भविष्यति ।
अतो हि संचिन्तय राज्यमात्मजे ।
पस्य चैवाद्य विवासकारणम् ॥ २-८-३९

39. yadaahi = when; raamaH = Rama; avaapsyasi = gets; pR^ithiviim = the earth; bharataH = Bharata; bhavishhyati = will become; dhruvam = certainly; praNashhTaH = ruined; ataH = hence; saMchintaya = think of; raajyam = kingdom; aatmaje = to your son; vivaasakaaraNam = and causing exile; parasya = to your enemy; Rama.

"When Rama gets power of the kingdom Bharata will certainly get ruined. Hence, think of a solution to get your son Bharata the kingdom and to send Rama, your enemy, to exile."

॥ इत्यार्षे श्रीमद्रामायणे आदिकाव्ये अयोध्याकाण्डे अष्ठमः सर्गः ॥

Thus completes 8th Chapter of Ayodhya Kanda of the glorious Ramayana of Valmiki, the work of a sage and the oldest epic.

Book II : Ayodhya Kanda - Book Of Ayodhya

Chapter[Sarga] 9

Verses converted to UTF-8, Nov 09

Introduction

This chapter describes Manthara's success in turning Kaikeyi's mind away from good towards evil.

Verse Locator

एवमुक्ता तु कैकेयी कोपेन ज्वलितानना ।
दीर्घमुष्टम् विनिःश्वस्य मन्थरामिदम् अब्रवीत् ॥ ९-२-१

1. uktaa = having been spoken; evam = thus; kaikeyii = Kaikeyi; jvalita aananaa = having a burning face; kopena = with anger; viniHshvasya = sighed; diirgham = lengthily; ushhNam = heatedly; abraviit = spoke; idam = these words; mantharaam = to Manthara.

After hearing those words, Kaikeyi with her face burning with anger, had a long and hot sigh and spoke to Manthara as follows:

Verse Locator

अद्य राममितः क्षिप्रं वनं प्रस्थापयाम्यहम् ।
यौवराज्ये च भरतं क्षिप्रमेवाभिषेचये ॥ ९-२-२

2. adya = now; aham = I; prasthaapayaami raamam = shall make Rama to travel; kshhipram = quickly; vanam = to forest; itaH = from here; abhishhechayaami bharatam = I shall also get Bharata anointed; youvaraajye = for princely kingdom; kshhiprameva = even quickly.

"Now itself, I shall send Rama quickly to forest. I shall get Bharata anointed for princely kingdom immediately."

Verse Locator

इदं त्विदानीं संपश्य केनोपायेन मन्थरे ।
भरतः प्राप्नुयाद्राज्यं न तु रामः कथंचन ॥ ९-२-३

3. manthara = O Manthara! kena upaayena = what is the means by which; bharataH = Bharata; praapuuyaat = will get; raajyam = kingdom; raamaH tu = but Rama; na = (will) not (get); kathamechana = by any method; sampasya = see; idam = this; idaaniim = now.

"O Manthara! What is the means by which Bharata will get the kingdom but Rama will not get it by any method. Think about it now."

Verse Locator

एवमुक्ता तया देव्या मन्थरा पापदर्शिनी ।
रामार्थमुपहिंसन्ती कैकेयीमिदमब्रवीत् ॥ ९-२-४

4. uktaa = after being spoken; evam = thus; devyaa = by the queen Kaikeyi; mantharaa = Manthara; paapadarshinii = the sinful thinker; abraviit = spoke; idam = these words; kaikeyiim = to Kaikeyi; upahimsantii = destroying; ramartham = Rama's benefit.

After hearing her words, the sinful thinking Manthara, spoke thus to Kaikeyi to destroy Rama's benefit of kingdom.

Verse Locator

हन्तेदानीं प्रवक्ष्यामि कैकेयि श्रूयतां च मे ।
यथा ते भरतो राज्यं पुत्रः प्राप्स्यति केवलम् ॥ ९-२-५

5. kaikeyi = O Kaikeyi! hanta = (I am) very glad! pravakshhyaami = I will tell; yathaa = how; te putraH = your son; bharataH = Bharata; kevalam = only; praapsyati = will get; raajyam = kingdom; me shruuyataamcha = let I be listened.

"O Kaikeyi! I am very glad. I shall tell you the means by which your son Bharata only will get the kingdom. Listen to it!"

Verse Locator

किं न स्मरसि कैकेयि स्मरन्ती वा निगूहसे ।
यदुच्यमानमात्मार्थं मत्तस्त्वं श्रोतुमिच्छसि ॥ ९-२-६

6. kaikeyi = O Kaikeyi! tvam yat ichchhati = you are desiring; shrotam = to hear; mattaH = from me; uchyamaanam = the thing to be stated; aatmaanam = for your benefit; na smarasi kim = are you not remembering it; smarantii = though remembering; niguuhase vaa = (are you) hiding?

"Oh, Kaikeyi! You desire to hear from me the means for your benefit. Have you forgotten about it or are you hiding, even if you have remembered it?"

Verse Locator

मयोच्यमानं यदि ते श्रोतुं च्छन्दो विलासिनि ।
श्रूयतामभिधास्यामि श्रुत्वा चैतद् विधीयताम् ॥ ९-२-७

7. vilaasini = o lady full of charms! chhandaH yadi = If it is desired; te = by you; shrotum = to hear; uchyamaanam = telling mayaa = by me; abhidhaasyaami = I shall tell you; shruuyataam = let it be heard; shrutvaa = after hearing; vidhiyataam etad cha = let it be acted upon also.

"O the lady of charms, Kaikeyi! If you desire to hear this from my mouth, I shall tell you. Listen to me. Let it be acted upon after listening to me."

Verse Locator

श्रुत्वैवं वचनं तस्या मन्थरायास्तु कैकयि ।
किंचिदुत्थाय शयनात्स्वास्तीर्णादिदमब्रवीत् ॥ ९-२-८

8. shruttvaiva = after hearing; evam = these; vachanam = words; mantharaayaaH = of Manthara; kaikeyii = Kaikeyi; utthaaya = rose; kiJNchit = a little; svaastiirNaat shayanaat = from well laid bed; abraviit = and spoke; idam = these words.

After hearing Manthara's words, Kaikeyi slightly rose from the well-laid bed and spoke the following :

Verse Locator

कथय त्वं ममोपायं केनोपायेन मन्थरे ।

भरतः प्राप्नुयाद्रज्यं न तु रामः कथंचन ॥ ९-२-९

9. manthare = o Manthara! tvam = you; kathaya = tell; mama = me; kena upaayena = by what means; bharataH = Bharata; praapnuyaat = will get; raajyam = kingdom; raamaH tu = but Rama; na = (will) not (get); kathamchana = by any count; upaayam = that trick.

"O Manthara! Tell me the trick by which Bharata will get the kingdom and Rama will not get it under any circumstances."

Verse Locator

एवमुक्ता तया देव्या मन्थरा पापदर्शिनी ।

रामार्थमुपहिंसन्ती कुब्जा वचनमब्रवीत् ॥ ९-२-१०

10. uktaa = after being spoken; evam = thus; tayaa devyaa = by that queen Kaikeyi; kubjaa = the hunch backed; mantharaa = Manthara; paapadarshinii = the sinful thinker; abraviit = spoke; vachanam = these words; upahimsantiim = to destroy; raamaartham = Rama's benefit.

After hearing Kaikeyi's words, the sinful thinking, hunch backed Manthara, spoke thus, with an intention to destroy Rama's benefit of kingdom.

Verse Locator

तव दैवासुरे युद्धे सहराजर्षिभिः पतिः ।

अगच्छत्वामुपादाय देवराजस्य साह्यकृत् ॥ ९-२-११

दिशमास्थाय वै देवि दक्षिणां दण्डकान् प्रति ।

वैजयन्तमिति क्यातं पुरं यत्र तिमिध्वजः ॥ ९-२-१२

11;12. devi = O queen! yuddhe = in a battle; devaasure = between celestials and demons tava patiH = your husband; upaadaaya = taking; tvaam = you; raajarshhibhiH saha = along with holy kings; agachchhat = went; saahyakR^iti = to help; devaraajasya = king Devendra; puram = to the city; khyaatam = famously; vaijayantamiti = called Vaijayanta; yatra = where; timidhvajaH = Timidhvaja (resided); aasthaaya = getting into; dakshhiNaam disham = southern direction; daNdakaan prati = towards forest of Dandaka.

"O Queen! Once upon a time, when there was a battle between celestials and demons, your husband Dasaratha went along with you and other holy kings to help Indra in battle, to a famous city called Vaijayata in which the demon Timidhvaja lived in a southern direction in the forest of Dandaka."

Verse Locator

स शम्बर इति ख्यातः शतमायो महासुरः ।

ददौ शक्रस्य संग्रामं देवसङ्घैरनिर्जितः ॥ ९-२-१३

13. saH mahaasuraH = That great demon; khyaataH = famous; shambaraH = as shambara; shatamaayaH = who had several magic effects; anarjitaH = not being defeated; devasanghaiH = by celestial groups; dadau = gave; sangraamam = battle; shakrasya = to Devendra.

"That great demon famously called shambara, who had several magic effects, defeated all the celestials and conferred battle upon Devendra."

Verse Locator

तस्मिन् महति संग्रामे पुरुषान् क्षतविक्षतान् ।
रात्रौ प्रसुप्तान् घ्नन्ति स्म तरसासाद्य राक्षसाः ॥ ९-२-१४

14. tasmin mahati sangraame = in that great battle; raakshhasaaH = demons; aasaadya = approached; tarasaa = by force; ghnantisma = and killed; purushaan = men; kshhatavikshhataan = who were beaten by arrows; prasuptaan = and those sleeping; raatrau = in the night.

"In that great battle, demons approached and forcefully killed men who were injured by arrows and also those who were sleeping at night."

Comment : It is not a virtuous practice according to scriptures, to kill injured people and defenceless people sleeping at night. Demons do not follow such scriptures.

Verse Locator

तत्राकरोन्महायुद्धं राजा दशरथ स्तदा ।
असुरैश्च महाबाहुः शस्त्रैश्च शकलीकृतः ॥ ९-२-१५

15. tadaa = then; dasharathaH raajaa = king Dasaratha; akarot = created; mahaayuddham = great battle; tatra = there; mahaabaahuH = the long armed Dasaratha; shakaliiR^itaH cha = was made into pieces; shastraiaH = with weapons; asuraiH cha = by demons.

"Then, king Dasaratha fought a great battle there. With their weapons, demons made into pieces the long armed Dasaratha."

Verse Locator

अपवाह्य त्वया देवि संग्रामान्नष्टचेतनः ।
तत्रपि विक्षतः शस्त्रैः पतिस्ते रक्षितस्त्वया ॥ ९-२-१६

16. devi = O queen! nashhTa chetanaH = Dasaratha; who became unconscious; rakshhitaH = was saved; tvayaa = by you; apavaahya = by taking him away; sangraamaat = from battle field; tatraapi = there also; te patiH = your husband; vikshhataH = who was beaten; shastraiH = by weapons; rakshhitaH = was saved; tvayaa = by you.

"O Queen! You saved the life of your unconscious husband by taking him away from the battle field. There also, you again saved him, when beaten by demons with their weapons."

Verse Locator

तुष्टेन तेन दत्तौ ते द्वौ वरौ शुभदर्शने ।
सत्वयोक्तः पतिर्देवि यदेच्छेयं तदा वरौ ॥ ९-२-१७
गृह्णीयामिति तत्तन तथेत्युक्तं महात्मना ।

17. shubhadarshane = O Kaikeyi with auspicious appearance! tushhTena = after getting delighted; tena = by him; dattau = were given; te = to you; dvou = two; varau = boons; saH patiH = that husband; uktaH = was told; tvayaa = by you; gR^ihNiiyaam iti = that I shall take; varau = boons; yadaa tadaa = as and when; ichchheyam = desired by me; uktam = said; tena mahaatmanaa = by that great souled Dasaratha; tathaa iti = let it be; tat = that.

"O Kaikeyi with auspicious appearance! Getting delighted, he gave two boons to you. Then, you said, " I shall ask you whenever I require them". He then agreed to it."

Verse Locator

अनभिज्ञा ह्यहं देवि त्वयैव कथिता पुरा ॥ ९-२-१८

कथैषा तव तु स्नेहान्मनसा धार्यते मया ।

रामाभिषेकसंभारान्निगृह्य विनिवर्तय ॥ ९-२-१९

18;19. devi = o queen! aham = I; anabhiNJyaahi = do not know anything about this matter; puraa = previously; eshhaa kathaa = this story; kathitaa = was told; tvayaiva = by you only; dhaaryate = being kept; mayaa = by me; manasaa = in mind; snehaat tu = due to friendship; vinivartaya = stop; raamaabhishheka sambhaaraan = arrangements of Rama's anointment; nigR^ihya = by force.

"O Queen! I do not know what had happened there. You yourself told this story previously to me. I am keeping this in my mind because of my friendship with you. Hence, you have to stop, by force, the arrangements being made for Rama's coronation."

Verse Locator

तौ वरौ याच भर्तारं भरतस्याभिषेचनम् ।

प्रव्राजनं तु रामस्य त्वं वर्षाणि चतुर्दश ॥ ९-२-२०

20. tvam = you; yaacha = ask; bhartaaram = your husband; tau = those (two); varau = boons; bharatasya = Bharata's abhishhechanam = anointment (and); raamasya = Rama's; pravraajanam = sending to exile; chaturdasha varshhaaNi = for fourteen years.

"You ask your husband as two boons, anointing Bharata for princely kingdom and sending Rama to exile for fourteen years."

Verse Locator

चतुर्दश हि वर्षाणिरामे प्रव्राजिते वनम् ।

प्रजाभावगतस्नेहः स्थिरः पुत्रो भविष्यति ॥ ९-२-२१

21. pravraajite = if you send; raame = Rama; chaturdashavarshhaaNi = for fourteen years; vanam = to forest; putraH = your son; prajaabhaavagatasnehaH = will get intimate association in the people's hearts; sthiraH bhavishhyati = and will become stable.

If you send Rama to forest for fourteen years, your son Bharata will get intimate association in the hearts of the people and will get stabilised in kingdom.

Verse Locator

क्रोधागारं प्रविश्याद्य कृद्धेवाश्वपतेः सुते ।

शेष्वानन्तर्हितायां त्वं भूमौ मलिनवासिनी ॥ ९-२-२२

22. asvapetH sute = oh; Kaikeyi the daughter of Asvapati! adya = now; pravishya = enter; krodhaagaaram = the room of wrath; dR^iddheva = as if angry; sheshhva = and lie down; bhuumau = on floor; anantarhitaayaam = without any spread; malinavaasinii = and wearing soiled clothes.

Oh, kaikeyi! Now, enter the room of wrath as if angry with him and lie down on floor without any spread underneath and wearing soiled clothes.

Verse Locator

मास्मैनं प्रत्युदीक्षेथा माचैन मभिभाषथाः ।

रुदन्ती चापि तं दृष्ट्वा जगत्यां शोकलालसा ॥ ९-२-२३

23. dR^ishhTvaa = after seeing; tam = that Dasaratha; shokalaalasaa = be sorrowful; rudantii = and by weeping; maasma pratyudiikshhethaaH = do not look face to face; enam = at him; maachaiva abhibhaashhataaH = nor talk; face to face; enam = to him.

As soon as you see Dasaratha, be sorrowful and keep on weeping, without looking at him and without talking to him face to face.

Verse Locator

दयिता त्वं सदा भर्तुर्त्र मे नास्ति संशयः ।

त्वत्कृते स महाराजो विशेदपि हुताशनम् ॥ ९-२-२४

24. tvam = you; sadaa = always; dayitaa = dear one; bhartuH = to husband; naasti = no; samsayaH = doubt; me = to me; atra = about this; saH mahaaraajaH = that king; vishedapi = will even enter; hutaashanam = fire; tvatkR^ite = for your sake.

You are always dear to your husband. I have no doubt about it. King Dasaratha will even jump into a fire for your sake.

Verse Locator

न त्वां क्रोधयितुं शक्तेन क्रुद्धां प्रत्युदीक्षितुम्।

तव प्रियार्थं राजा हि प्राणानपि परित्यजेत् ॥ ९-२-२५

25. raajaa = the king na shaktaH = is not capable; tvaam krodhayitum = of making you angry; na = not able; diikshhitum = to see; kruddhaam = you with anger; parityajet hi = he will give up; praaNaanapi = even life; tava priyaartham = for your love.

The king is not capable of making you angry. He is not even able to see you with anger. He will give up his life for your love.

Verse Locator

न ह्यतिक्रमितुं शक्तस्तव वाक्यं महीपतिः ।

मन्दस्वभावे बुद्ध्यस्व सौभाग्यबलमात्मनः ॥ ९-२-२६

26. manda svabhaave = oh; foolish one! mahiipatiH = king; nashaktaH hi = will not transgress; tava = your; vaakyam = words; buddhyastva = you know; aatmanaH = your; saubhaagya balam = abundant strength.

Oh, foolish one! The king will not be able to transgress your word. You realise your abundant strength.

Verse Locator

मणिमुक्तं सुवर्णानि रत्नानि विविधानि च ।

दद्याद्धशरथो राजा मा स्म तेषु मनः कृथाः ॥ ९-२-२७

27. dasharathaH raajaa = king Dasaratha; dadyaat = may give; maNi muktam = diamonds; pearls; suvarNaami = gold; vividhaani = various; ratnaanicha = precious stones; maakRithaaH = do not keep; manaH = mind; teshhu = in them.

King Dasaratha may offer you diamonds, pearls, gold and various other precious stones. Do not care for them.

Verse Locator

यौ तौ दैवासुरे युद्धे वरौ दशरथोऽददात् ।

तौ स्मारय महाभागे सोऽर्थो मात्वामतिक्रमेत् ॥ ९-२-२८

28. mahaabhaage = oh Kaikeyi; the great fortunate one! smaaraya - remind; dasarathaH = Dasaratha; daivaasurayuddhe = in battle between celestials; and demons; you - which; tau = those famous; varau = boons; adadaat = were given; tau = those boons; arthaH - benefit; maatikramet = not to cross. tva; = you.

Oh, Kaikeyi, the great fortunate! you remind Dasaratha of those boons given by him to you in that battle between celestials and demons. See that your benefit does not get thwarted.

Verse Locator

यदा तु ते वरं दद्यात्स्वयमुत्थाप्य राघवः ।
व्यवस्थाप्य महाराजं तमिमं वृणुया वरम् ॥ ९-२-२९

29. yadaa = when; raaghavaH = Dasaratha; svayam = himself; utthaapya = will raise you from the floor; dadyaat = and give; te = you; varam = the boon; mahaarajam vyavasthaapya = after making the king steady; vriNuyaaH = ask; imam varam = this boon.

Dasaratha himself will raise you from the floor and offer you the boon. Thus , after making him steady, you ask for this boon.

Verse Locator

रामं प्रव्राजयारण्ये नव वर्षाणि पञ्च च ।
भरतः क्रियतां राजा पृथिव्याः पार्थिवर्षभ ॥ ९-२-३०

30. paarthivarshhabha = oh; king! pravraajaya = send to exile; raamam = Rama; aranye = in forest; nava panchacha varshhaaNi = for fourteen years; bharataH kriyataam = let Bharata be made; raajaa = as king; prithivyaaH = to this earth.

"Oh, king! send Rama to forest for fourteen years. Let Bharata be made as king of this earth".

Verse Locator

चतुर्दश हि वर्षाणि रामे प्रव्राजिते वन्म् ।
रूढश्च कृतमूलश्च शेषं स्थास्यति ते सुतः ॥ ९-२-३१

31. raamaH = Rama; pravraajite = having been sent; vanam - to forest; chaturdashavarshhaaNi = for fourteen years; te sutaH = your son; ruudhaH cha = will stand firmly; kritamuulaH cha = having laid roots and ; sthaasyati = will stay; sheshhaM = for remaining period.

Rama having been sent to forest for fourteen years, your son will stand firmly, having laid his roots and will stay in power for the remaining period.

Verse Locator

रामप्रव्राजनं चैव देवि याचस्व तं वरम् ।
एवं सिद्ध्यन्ति पुत्रस्य सर्वार्थास्तव भामिनि ॥ ९-२-३२

32. devi = oh; queen! yaachasva = ask; tam = him; raamapravraajanamChaiva = of sending Rama to forest also; varam = as a boom; evam = thus; tava = your; putrasya = son's; sarvaarthaH = all benefits; siddhyanti = will be accomplished.

Oh, Kaikeyi! Ask Dasaratha of sending Rama to forest also as a boon. Thus, your son will accomplish all the desired benefits.

Verse Locator

एवं प्रव्राजितश्चैव रामोऽरामो भविष्यति ।
भरतश्च हतामित्रस्तव राजा भविष्यति ॥ ९-२-३३

33. evam = thus; pravraajitaH = by sending to exile; raamaH = Rama; bhavishhyati = will become; araamaH = not amiable to people; tava = your; bharatascha = Bharata; bhavishhyati = will become; raajaa = king; hataamitrascha = the enemies having been annihilated.

Thus , by sending Rama to exile, he will not become amiable to people. Your Bharata will become king, after the enemies having been annihilated.

Verse Locator

येन कालेन रामश्च वनात्प्रत्यागमिष्यति ।
तेन कालेन पुत्रस्ते कृतमूलो भविष्यति ॥ ९-२-३४
सुगृहीतमनुष्यश्च सुहृद्भिः सार्धमात्मवान् ।

34. yena kaalena = by which time; raamaH cha = Rama; pratyagamishhyati = returns; vanaat = from forest; tena kaalena = by that time; te = your; aatmavaan = wise; putraH = son; sugR^ihiita manushhyaH = having drawn people to his fold; suhridbhiH = and friends also; bhavishhyati = will become; kR^itamuulaH = one by whom roots are established.

When Rama returns from forest, your wise son will accumulate friends and draw people to his fold, thus establishing roots himself.

Verse Locator

प्राप्तकालं नु मन्येऽहं राजानं वीतसाध्वसा ॥ ९-२-३५
रामाभिषेकसंकल्पान्निगृह्य विनिवर्तय ।

35. manye = I think; praptakaalam tu = that it is the appropriate time; te = to you; viita saadhvasaa = after bequeathing fear; nigrihya = and by insistence; raajaanam vimivartaya = make the king turn aside; raamaabhishheka sankalpaat = his desire to anoint Rama.

This is the appropriate time for you. Be fearless and by your insistence, make the king turn aside his effort to anoint Rama.

Verse Locator

अनर्थमर्थरूपेण ग्राहिता सा ततस्तया ॥ ९-२-३६
हृष्टा प्रतीता कैकेयी मन्थरामिदमब्रवीत् ।

36. saa kaikeyii = that kaikeyi; grahitaa = having been taught; anartham = unworthy matter; artharuupeNa = in the form of a worthy matter; tayaa = by that Manthara; tataH = afterwards; hR^isTaa = having delighted; pratiitaa = and understood; abraviit = spoke; mantharaam = to Manthara; idam = these words.

Kaikeyi, being brain-washed an unworthy matter as the most worthy matter by Manthara, accepted her well and having delighted, spoke to her as follows:-

Verse Locator

सा हि वाक्येन कुब्जायाः किशोरीवोत्पथं गता ।
कैकेयी विस्मयं प्राप्ता परं परमदर्शना ॥ ९-२-३७

37. saa kaikeyi = That Kaikeyi; paramadarshanaa = the good natured; param vismayam gataa = was very much surprised; vaakyena = by words of; kubjaayaaH = the hunch backed Manthara; kishoriiva = and like a small girl; gataa = got; utpatham = into a wrong path.

Though of right thinking in nature, Kaikeyi was very much surprised to hear Manthara's words and like a small girl, got into a wrong path.

Verse Locator

कुब्जे त्वां नाभिजानामि श्रेष्ठां श्रेष्ठभिधायिनीम् ।
पृथिव्यामसि कुब्जानामुत्तमा बुद्धिनिर्णये ॥ ९-२-३८

38. kubje = oh; Manthara the hunch backed! naabhijaanaami = I have not recognised; tvaam = you; shreshhTaam = as the best; shreshhTaabhidhayiniim = in telling good things; uttamaasi = you are the best; kubjaanaam = among the hunch backed; pR^ithivyaam = on earth; buddhinishchaye = in deciding intellectually.

Oh, Manthara! You are telling very good things. Till now, I have not recognised you as this good. You are the best among the hunch-backed on this earth in making intellectual decisions.

Verse Locator

त्वमेव तु ममार्थेषु नित्ययुक्ता हितैषिणी ॥ ९-२-३९
नाहं समवबुद्धयेयं कुब्जे राजश्रिकीर्षितम् ।

39. kubje = oh; Manthara; tvameva = you only; nityayuktaa = are always interested; mama = in my; artheshhu = well being; hitaishhiNii = and wishing my benefit; aham = I; nasamavabuddhyeyam = would not have been aware of; raaGyaH = kings's; chikiirshhitam = intending action.

Oh, Manthara! you always show interest in my well being and wish for my benefit. But for you, I would not have been aware of the king's intentions.

Verse Locator

सन्ति दुःसंस्थिताः कुब्जा वक्राः परमदारुणाः ॥ ९-२-४०
त्वं पद्ममिव वातेन सन्नता प्रियदर्शना ।

40. santi = there are kubjaaH = hunch backed persons; duH.samsthitaaH = those with bad body construction; vakraaH = crooked ones; paramadaaruNaaH = extremely dreadful; tvam = you; priyadarshanaaH = appear lovely; padmamiva = like lotus; samnataa = bent; vatena = by breeze.

There are so many hunch backed persons in the world. Their bodily construction is very bad. They are crooked and dreadful. But you appear lovely, as a lotus flower bent by breeze.

Verse Locator

उरस्तेऽभिनिविष्टं वै यावत् स्कन्धात्समुन्नतम् ॥ ९-२-४१
अधस्ताच्चोदरं शातं सुनाभमिव लज्जितम् ।

41. te uraH = your chest; abhinivisTam = appears equally on both sides; samunnatam = and in lofty; yaavatskandaat = upto the shoulders; adhastaat = below it is; sunaabham = good moved; udaramcha = stomach; shaatam = is lean; lajjitam iva = as though it is shy.

Your chest is appearing equally on both sides and is loftily extended unto the shoulder. Below it is the stomach with an excellent navel, which is lean as though it is shy of seeing the loftiness of chest.

Verse Locator

परिपूर्णं तु जघनं सुपीनौ च पयोधरौ ॥ ९-२-४२
विमलेन्दुसमं वक्त्रमहो राजसि मन्थरे ।

42. manthare = oh; Manthara! paripurunam = with perfect; jaghanam = hips; supiinou = with well rounded; payodharou = chest; vaktram = face; vimalendu samam = equal to untainted moon; aho = her; raajasi = shining you are!

Oh, Manthara! with perfect hips and well rounded breasts and with your face like an untainted moon you are shining well.

Verse Locator

जघनं तव निर्घुष्टं रशनादामशोभितम् ॥ ९-२-४३
जडघे भ्इशमुपन्यस्ते पादौ चाप्यायतावुभौ ।

43. tava = your; jaghanam = waist; rashanaa daama shobhitam = shining with golden belt; nirghusTam = is making sound; jaN^ghe = leg muscles; bhR^isham = very well; upanyaste = rounded up; ubhou = both; paadou cha = feet also; aayatou = are long.

Oh, Manthara! your waist decorated with golden belt is making sound. Your leg-muscles are well rounded and your feet are tall.

Verse Locator

त्वमायताभ्यां सक्थिभ्यां मन्थरे क्षौमवासिनी ।
अग्रतो मम गच्छन्ती राजहंसेव भाससे ॥ ९-२-४४

44. manthare = oh; Manthara! tvam = you; raajase = are splendid; raajahamsiiva = like a royal swan; gachchhantii = walking; agrataH = in front; mama = of me; aayataabhyaam = with long; sakthibhyaam = thighs; kshouma vaasinii = wearing silk saree.

Oh, Manthara! you are splendid like a royal swan walking before me, with long thighs are wearing a silk sari.

Verse Locator

आसन्याः शम्बरे मायाः सहस्रमसुराधिपे ॥ ९-२-४५
सर्वास्त्वयि निविष्टास्ता भूयश्चान्याः सहस्रशः ।

45. yaaH = which; sahasram maayaaH = thousand magic effects aasan = lying; shambare = in shambara; asuraadhipte = the lord of demons; taaH sarvaaH = all those; bhuuyaH = and further; sahasrashaH = thousands of anyaashcha = others nivisTaaH = are lying; tvayi = in you.

In addition to all those thousand magic effects lying in shambara, the lord of demons, another further thousands of magic effects are lying in you.

Verse Locator

तवेदं स्थगु यद्दीर्घं रथघोणमिवायतम् ॥ ९-२-४६
मतयः क्षत्रविद्याश्च मायाश्चात्र वसन्ति ते ।

46. yat = which; tava = your; idam = this; diirgham = long; sthagu = hunch; aayatam rathaghaNamiva = looking like long apex of a chariot; atra = in it; vasanti = are dwelling; te = your; matayaH = thoughts; kshhatraavidyaaH cha = royal arts; mayaaH cha = and magic effects.

In your long hunch, which looks like an apex of a chariot, are dwelling your various thoughts, royal arts and magic effects.

Verse Locator

अत्रते प्रतिमोक्ष्यामि मालां कुब्जे हिरण्मयीम् ॥ ९-२-४७
अभिषिक्ते च भरते राघवे च वनं गते ।

47. kubje = oh; Manthara! raagahave = Rama; gate = goes to; vanam = forest; bharate cha = and Bharata; abhishikte = gets anointed; pratimokshyaami = adore; atra = this huch back; maalaam = with garland; hiraNmayiim = made of gold.

Oh Manthara! When Rama goes to forest and Bharata gets kingdom, I shall adore this hunch back with a golden garland.

Verse Locator

जात्येन च सुवर्णेन सुविष्टप्तेन मन्थरे ॥ ९-२-४८
लब्धार्था च प्रतीता च लेपयिष्यामि ते स्थगु ।

48. manthara = oh; Manthara! labdaarthaacha = after getting the benefit; pratiitaacha = and having delighted lapayishhyaami = I shall anoint; te sthagu = your hunch back; suvisTaptena = with well refined; suvarNena = gold; jaatyena = of good class.

Oh, Manthara! After accomplishing the benefit desired by me, I shall, with delight, get your hunch back anointed with well refined gold of good quality.

Verse Locator

मुखे च तिलकं चित्रं जातरूपमयं शुभम् ॥ ९-२-४९
कारयिष्यामि ते कुब्जे शुभान्यभरणानि च।

49.kubje = oh; Manthara! kaarayishhyaami = I shall get made; shubhaani = beautiful;aabharaNaamicha = ornaments; te mukhe = and for your face; shubham = auspicious; tilakam = dots; chitram = of variety; jaataruupamayam = in pure gold.

Oh, Manthara! I shall get beautiful ornaments made and for your forehead auspicious dots of variety done of pure gold.

Verse Locator

परिधाय शुभे वस्त्रे देवतेव चरिष्यसि ॥ ९-२-५०
चंद्रमाह्वयमानेन मुखेनाप्रतिमानना।
गमिष्यसि गतिं मुख्यांगर्वयन्ती द्विषज्जने ॥ ९-२-५१

50;51. charishhyasi = you will be moving around; devateva = like an angel; paridhaaya = wearing; subhe = beautiful; vastre = clothes; gamishhyasi = you will get; mukhyaam = important; gatim = position; dvishhajane = amidst adversaries; garvayantii = with pride; mukhena = with face; apratimaananaa = incomparably; aahvayamaanena = competing with; chandram = moon.

You will be moving around like an angel, wearing beautiful clothes. You will achieve an important position in the eyes of your adversaries with pride and with your face, incomparably competing with moon.

Verse Locator

तवापि कुब्जायाः सर्वाभरणभूषिताः ।
पादौ परिचरिष्यन्ति यथैव त्वं सदा मम ॥ ९-२-५२

52. kubjaaH = the hunch backed women; sarvaabharanNa bhushhitaah = adorned with all ornaments; sadaa = always; paricharashhyanti = will do service; tava paadou api = at your feet also; yathaiva = as how; kibjaayaaH = as hunch backed; tvam = you; mama = to me.

The hunch backed women, adorned with all ornaments, will always do service, at your feet, as how as hunch-backed women, adorned with all ornaments, will always do service at your feet, as how as hunch-backed you are doing it to me.

Verse Locator

इति प्रशस्यमाना सा कैकेयीमिदमब्रवीत् ।

शयानां शयने शुभ्रे वेद्यामग्निशिखामिव ॥ ९-२-५३

53.saa = that Manthara; iti = in this way; prashasyamaanaa = being praised; abraviit = spoke; idam = these words; kaikeyiim = to Kaikeyim shaanaam = who was lying; shubhre shayane = in a clean couch; agni sihaamiva = like a flame of fire; vedyaam = in a sacrificial altar.

Manthara in this way being praised spoke these words to Kaikeyi, who was lying in a clean couch like a flame of fire upon the sacrificial altar.

Verse Locator

गतोदके सेतुबन्दो न कल्याणि विधीयते ।

उत्तिष्ठ कुरु कल्याणं राजानमसुदर्शय ॥ ९-२-५४

54. kalyaNi = Oh Kaikeyi; the auspicious one! gatodake = in a place where water has flown out; stubandhaH = constructing a dam; navidhiyate = is not made; uttisTa = rise; kuru = do; kalyaaNam = the auspicious act; anudarshaya = show your influence; raajaanam = to king.

Oh, Kaikeyi the auspicious one! When water has already flown out, there is no use constructing a dam. Now rise and do this purposeful action. Show your influence to the king.

Verse Locator

तथा प्रोत्साहिता देवी गता मन्थरया सह ।

क्रोधागारं विशालाक्षी सौभाग्यमदगर्विता ॥ ९-२-५५

अनेकशतसाहस्रं मुक्ताहारं वराङ्गना ।

अवमुच्य वराराणि शुभान्याभरणानि च ॥ ९-२-५६

ततो हेमोपमा तत्र कुब्जावाक्यवशंगता ।

संविश्य भूमौ कैकेयी मन्थरामिदमब्रवीत् ॥ ९-२-५७

55;56;57. kubjaavaakyavashamgataa = by surrendering to the words of the hunch backed Manthara; tathaa = thus; protsaahitaa = having been encouraged; kaikeyii = Kaikeyi; vishalaakshhii = who was having wide eyes; soubhaagyamadagarvitaa = who was proud of intoxicating beauty; varaaN^ganaa = a gifted woman; devii = a queen; avamuchya = removed; muktaahaaram = pearl necklace; anekashatasaahasram = worth in lacs varaarhaNi = greatly valued; shubbaani = auspicious; aabharaNaani = ornaments; gatvaa = entered; krodhaagaaram = chamber of wrath; mantharayaapaha = along with Manthara; tataH = afterwards; savishya = lied; bhumou = on the floor; tatra = there; hemopamaa = like gold; abraviit = spoke; mantharaam = to Manthara; idam = these words.

By surrendering to the words of Manthara and having been thus encouraged by her, Kaikeyi who was of wide eyes, who was proud of her intoxicating beauty, who was a gifted woman and a queen, removed pearl necklace worth in lacs and other great valuable auspicious ornaments from her body, entered the chamber of wrath along with Manthara, lied on the floor there like a golden wire and spoke to Manthara as follows:

Verse Locator

इह वा मां मृतां कुब्जे णृपायावेदयिष्यसि ।

वनं तु राघवे प्राप्तेभरतः प्राप्स्यति क्षितिम् ॥ ९-२-५८

58. kubje = oh; Manthara! raaghava = Rama; praapte = having reached; vanamtu = forest; bharataH = Bharata; praapsyasi = shall get; kshhitim = the earth; vaa = or ese; aavedayishhyasi = inform; nR^ipaaya = king Dasaratha; maam = about me; mR^itaam maam = as dead person; iha = here.

"After Rama's going to the forest, Bharata shall get the kingdom. Or else, you inform the king that I died here itself".

Verse Locator

न सुवर्णेन मे ह्यर्थो न रत्नैर्न च भूषणैः ।
एष मे जीवितस्यान्तो रामो यद्यभिषिच्यते ॥ ९-२-५९

59.suvarNena = gold; na arthaH = is of no use; me = to me; na = nor; ratnaiH = diamonds; na = nor; bhuushhaNaiH cha = ornaments; ramaH abhishhichyate yadi = If Rama gets anointed for kingdom; eshaH = that itself; antaH = is end; me jiivitasya = of my life.

Neither gold nor diamonds nor ornaments are of any use to me. on which day Rama gets anointed for the kingdom, the same day it will be the end of my life.

Verse Locator

अथो पुनस्तां महिषीं महीक्षितो ।
वचोभिरत्यर्थं महापराक्रमैः ।
उवाच कुब्जा भरतस्य मातरं ।
हितं वचो राममुपेत्य चाहितम् ॥ ९-२-६०

60. atho = afterwards; kubjaa = Manthara; punaH = again; uvaacha = spoke; taam bharatasya maataram = to that mother of Bharata; mahishhiim = and wife; mahiikshhitaH = of king; vachobhiH = who was talking; atyarthamahaaparakramaiH = very seriously; vachaH = the words; hitam = whcih are beneficial to her; ahitam = but not beneficial; raamam upetya = in relation to Rama.

Afterwards, that Manthara again spoke to the seriously talking mother of Bharata that is Kaikeyi the following words which were beneficial to her and not beneficial in relation to Rama.

Verse Locator

प्रपत्स्यते राज्यमिदं हि राघवो ।
यदि ध्रुवं त्वं स सुता च तप्स्यसे ।
अतो हि कल्याणि यतस्व तत्तथा ।
यथा सुतस्ते भरतोऽभिषेक्ष्यते ॥ ९-२-६१

61. raaghavaH prapatsyate yadi = If Rama gets; idam = this; raajyam = kingdom; tvam = you; sasutaa = along with your son; tapsyase = get destroyed; dhruvam = it is certain; kalyaaNi = oh; the auspicious one! ataH = hence; yathaa = in what way; te sutaH = your son; bharataH = Bharata; abhishhekshhyate = will get anointed ; yatasva = try; tathaa = in that way; tat = that action.

If Rama becomes king, you and your son will be destroyed. Oh, Kaikeyi of auspicious qualities! Hence you try for coronation of your son, Bharata

Verse Locator

तथातिविद्धा महिषि तु कुब्जया ।
समाहता वागिषुभिर्मुहुर्मुहुः ।
विधाय हस्तौ हृदयेऽतिविस्मिता ।
श्शंस कुब्जां कुपिता पुनः पुनः ॥ ९-२-६२

62. samaahataa = having hit; tathaa = thus; vaagishhubhiH = by arrows of words; kubjayaa = by the hunch backed Manthara; muhurmuH = again and again; mahishhii = Kaikeyi; viddhaa = felt sad; kupitaa = angry; ativismitaa = was very much surprised; vidhaaya = keeping; hastou = hands; hR^idaye = on heart; shamshasa = praised; kubjaam = the hunch backed one; punaH punaH = again and again.

Having thus hit by arrows of words employed by Manthara again and again, Kaikeyi felt sad, was angry with the king, by keeping hands on her heart, was surprised with the cleverness of Manthara and praised her time and again.

Verse Locator

यमस्य वा मां विषयं गतामितो ।
निशाम्य कुब्जे प्रतिवेदयिष्यसि ।
वनं गते वा सुचिराय राघवे ।
समृद्धकामो भरतो भविष्यति ॥ ९-२-६३

63. kubje = oh; Manthara; pratedayishhyasivaa = either you have to inform; nishaamya = having seen; maam = me; gataam = going; yamasya vishayam = to the world of death; itaH = from here; bharataH bhavishhyativaa = or Bharata becomes; samR^iddha kaamaH = fulfiller of desire; raaghava gate = when Rama left for ; vanam = forest.

If Rama does not go to forest from here, I do not long for any mattresses or garlands or sandal paste or eye-liner or drink or food or even the loaf here.

Verse Locator

अहं हि वै नास्तरणानि न स्रजो ।
न चन्दनं नाञ्जनपानभोजनम् ।
न किञ्चिदिच्छामि न चेह जीवितं ।
न चेदितो गच्छति राघवो वनम् ॥ ९-२-६४

64. raaghavaH na gachchhatichet = If Rama does not go to forest; itaH = from here; aham = I; na ichchhaami = do not desire for; kinchit = any; aastaraNaami = mattresses; na = nor; chandanam = sandal paste; na = nor; anjanam = eye-liner; na = nor; paana bhojanam = drink or food; na = nor; jiivitamcha = life even.

If Rama does not go to forest from here, I do not long for any mattresses or garlands or sandal paste or eye-liner or drink or food or even the life here.

Verse Locator

अथैतदुक्त्वा वचनं सुदारुणं ।
न्धाय सर्वाभरणानि भामिनी ।
असंवृतामास्तरणेन मेदिनीं ।
तदाधिशिष्ये पतितेव किन्नरी ॥ ९-२-६५

65. bhaminii = that Kaikeyi; uktvaa = uttering; etat vachanam = these words; sudaaruNam = which are cruel; atta = afterwards; nidhaaya = removing and keeping at one place; sarvaabharaNaani = all ornaments; tadaa = then; adhishishye = lied down; mediniim = on floor; asamvritaam = uncovered; aastaraNena = by mattress; patitua kinnarii iva = like a fallen angel called kinnara.

Kaikeyi, thus uttering cruel words, having removed all ornaments, lied on the floor without a mattress like a fallen angel.

उदीर्णसंरम्भतमोवृतानना ।
तदावमुक्तोत्तममूल्यभूषणा ।
नरेन्द्रपत्नी विमना बभूव सा ।
तमोवृता द्यौरिव मग्नतारका ॥ ९-२-६६

66.saa = Kaikeyi; narendra patnii = wife of the king; avanuktottamamuulya bhuushaNaa; having removed valued ornaments; udiirNasamrambhatamovR^itaananaa = having her face covered by the darkness of extreme anger; vimanaaH = with depressed mind; babhuuva = was; dyouriva = like sky; magnataarakaa = with missing stars; tamovR^itaa = surrounded by gloom.

Kaikeyi, having removed all adornments, having her face covered by the darkness of extreme anger and with her depressed mind, looked like a starless sky in a gloomy night.

॥ इत्यार्षे सिमद्रामयणे आदिकाव्ये अयोध्य काण्डे नवम सर्गः ॥

Thus completes the ninth sarga of Ayodhya Kanda of Srimad Ramayana.

Book II : Ayodhya Kanda - Book Of Ayodhya

Chapter[Sarga] 10

Verses converted to UTF-8, Nov 09

Introduction

In this chapter, Kaikeyi enters the house of wrath. Dasaratha tries to pacify her anger.

Verse Locator

विदर्शिता यदा देवी कुब्जया पापया भृशम् ।
तदा शेते स्म सा भूमौ दिग्धविद्धेव किन्नरी ॥ २-१०-१

1. yadaa = when; vidarshitaa = being wrongly preached; kubjayaa = by the hunch backed manthara; bhR^isham paapayaa = who was the most sinful person; tadaa = then; saa devii = that kaikeyi; shetesma = lied down; bhumau = on floor; kinnariiva = like a kinnara woman; digdhaviddhaa = beaten by poisoned arrow.

Having been thus wrongly preached by that sinful Manthara. Kaikeyi lied down on the floor as a Kinnara woman beaten by a poisoned arrow.

Verse Locator

निश्चित्य मनसा कृत्यम् सा सम्यगिति भामिनी ।
मन्थरायै श्रः सर्वमाच्चक्षे विचक्षणा ॥ २-१०-२

2. saa bhaaminii = that lady; vichakshhaNaa = skilful; nishchitya = after deciding; samyak = well; manasaa = in mind; iti = thus; kR^ityam = what ought to be done; aachachakshae = said; sarvam = all; mantharaayai = to Manthara; shanaiH = slowly.

The skilful Kaikeyi, after deciding in mind what ought to be done told it all slowly to Manthara.

Verse Locator

सा दीना निश्चयं कृत्वा मन्थरावाक्यमोहिता ।
नागकन्येव निःस्वस्य दीर्घमुष्णं च भामिनी ॥ २-१०-३
मुहूर्तं चिन्तयामास मार्गमात्मसुखावहम् ।

3. mantharaavaakyamohitaa = stupefied by the words of Manthara; saa bhaaminii = that Kaikeyi; diina = became dejected; nishchayam kR^itvaa = made firm resolution; niHshvasya = sighed; diirgham = deeply; ushhNamcha = and warmly; naagakanyeva = like maiden-serpant; chintayaamaasa = thought; muhuurtam = for a moment; maargam = about the way; aatmasukhaavaham = which can lead to her happiness.

Being stupefied by the words of Manthara, that Kaikeyi became dejected, made firm resolve, with deep and warm sigh, like a maiden-serpent and thought for that moment about the ways which can lead to her happiness.

Verse Locator

सा सुहृच्चार्थकामा च तं निशम्य सुनिश्चयम् ॥ २-१०-४

बभूव परमप्रीता सिद्धिं प्राप्येव मन्थरा ।

4. saa mantharaa = that Manthara; suhR^ichcha = who is desirous of getting benefit; nishamya = heard; tam sunishchayam = of that firm resolution; babhuuva = became; paramapriitaa = very much pleased; prapyeva = as if achieved; siddhim = success.

Manthara, who is Kaikeyi's companion and who is desirous of getting benefit, heard of Kaikeyi's firm resolve and became very much pleased as if she achieved success.

Verse Locator

अथ सा रुषिता देवी सम्यक्कृत्वा विनिश्चयम् ॥ २-१०-५

संविवेशाबला भूमौ निवेश्य भृकुटिं मुखे ।

5. atha = afterwards; saa abala = that lady; devii = the queen; rushhitaa = being angry; samyak = well; kR^itvaa = made; vinishchayam = determination; savivesha = lied down; bhuumau = on floor; niveshya = keeping; bhrukutim = eyebrows contracted; mukhe = in face.

Kaikeyi, being angry and well determined, lied down on the floor with eye brows, knitted in her face.

Verse Locator

ततश्चित्राणि माल्यानि दिव्यान्याभरणानि च ॥ २-१०-६

अपविद्धानि कैकेय्या तानि भूमिं प्रपेदिरे ।

